

CANADA'S PRISONER
JUST TALK OR PAY

Court of Appeals Issues
Judgment in Case of
R. C. Miller.
MUST ACCOUNT
FOR THE $41,000

Statement that Diamond
Light and Heating Company's Money was Spent for "Sundries"
Does Not Satisfy Montreal Judges.

Montreal, Que., May 19.—R. C. Miller, Canada's state prisoner, was presented with an alternative by the court of appeals today, that he may either give an accounting for the $41,000, which he claims to have paid in order to secure government business or he will have to make good this amount to the Diamond Light and Heating Company—the concern of which he was president. This was the majority ruling of the court. Mr. Justice Gervais, however, strongly dissented from the finding of his colleagues.

Mr. Justice Tremblay, who handed down the judgment to the above effect in the name of his colleagues, spoke without notes, and in a lengthy review of the case, maintained that the general term "sundries" as used by Mr. Miller in explaining the destination of the amount, involved, was wholly insufficient and that hence it was incumbent upon him to give a detailed accounting of what had been done with the money he had received from the officers of the company with a view of securing government business.

Lower Court Upheld.
His Lordship also upheld the ruling of the lower court, calling upon Miller to give an accounting of the $1,800 alleged to have been paid to a Mr. Fraser, at the time an official of the government, while the finding of Mr. Justice Hutchinson, in the court of first instance, demanding that Miller also settle an account of $300 for rent of office he occupied on the premises of the Diamond Light Company, while he was president of the concern was also upheld. On the latter point, His Lordship held that Miller had utilized the office space not only for the business of the Diamond Light company, but also for his own business. In regard to the item concerning payment of rent, Miller had been made to Mr. Fraser, Mr. Justice Cross dissented from the majority ruling.

The Minority Ruling.
In the ruling dissenting all along the line from the finding of his colleagues, Mr. Justice Gervais, in summarizing his views, maintained that the accounting which had been given by Miller was sufficient. In the case of disbursements made in advancing the interests of a company His Lordship considered that a general statement of the manner in which such disbursements had been made was sufficient. Otherwise any director of a company would never be free from the liability of suit being taken against him or his heirs, to force a detailed accounting of disbursements made in the interests of a company. His Lordship considered that the proper way for the Diamond Light and Heating Company to have proceeded, would have been by way of an action "en rectification de compte."
For these reasons he was of the opinion that the ruling of Mr. Justice Hutchinson, in the court of first instance should be reversed.

Scott Died From Any Other Causes.

Vancouver, B. C., May 19.—Positive denial of the death of Capt. E. E. Scott, the South Polar hero, and his four brave companions was due to any other cause than simply starvation, is given by C. S. Wright, of Toronto, the only Canadian representative in the ill-fated Scott expedition and the leader of the search party which made the tragic discovery of the bodies of the four men, Frank Bonham, of Sydney, Australia, another of the roller party that discovered the present resting place where Scott and his companions passed to a heroic death, arrived in the city yesterday from San Francisco, having rescued the frozen gate city from Australia last Thursday and came on direct here.

Halifax, N. S., May 19.—Another day has passed without a wheel turning on the Halifax Street Railway. It was expected that at the meeting of the controllers this afternoon the company would send in a new reply to the city's request that they agree to arbitration of the trouble, but at that hour word came that the company were still considering a reply and this would not be ready till nine o'clock tomorrow morning and that in the meantime no attempt would be made to operate cars.

On the latter point, His Lordship held that Miller had utilized the office space not only for the business of the Diamond Light company, but also for his own business. In regard to the item concerning payment of rent, Miller had been made to Mr. Fraser, Mr. Justice Cross dissented from the majority ruling.

Official Denial of Report that Britain Seeks to Have Militant
Suffragist Expelled from France.

London, May 19.—It is officially denied that any steps have been taken by the British government to secure the expulsion from France of Miss Christabel Pankhurst, the militant suffragette. "There is no division in the ranks of the women's social and political union," was Miss Naylor's disclaimer uttered at the weekly meeting today of the militant suffragettes. She made this statement as a reply to the reports of a revolt among the members of the militant society which have spread widely. She continued:
"We are going to tie over the present crisis. We are not to be suppressed by intimidation. If the intimidators are nice we women must show that we are not to be suppressed by the newspaper ourselves."
Miss Naylor, referring to the daily bomb attacks, declared that most of these "monkey tricks" were the work of boys.

RUN DOWN BY AUTO.
London, Ont., May 19.—Wilfred Lepler, aged 9 years, was this afternoon run down by an automobile driven by Allan Hale. Mr. Hale had started to pass an approaching team, when the lad darted out from behind the wagon. The boy's skull was fractured.

PREMIER BORDEN RECEIVES
GREAT WELCOME IN TORONTO;
10,000 PEOPLE AT MEETING

Splendid Demonstration Effectually
Shows How Premier is Enshrined
In Affections of Canadians.

Forceful Addresses by Hon. Mr. Borden, Hon. J. D. Hazen, Hon. L. P. Pelletier and Sir James P. Whitney — Premier Deals with Naval Bill and Passes Strong Hint to Senate.

Special to The Standard.
Arenas, Toronto, Ont., May 19.—Premier Borden received a royal welcome in Toronto tonight, and ten thousand people packed the large arena and acclaimed the principles of the Conservative party which were enunciated in a brilliant speech by the man who has fought so doggedly and patiently for them during the past months. He was accompanied by Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries; Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Postmaster General, as representing Quebec province, and who received a splendid ovation, and Sir James P. Whitney, Premier of Ontario.
Though the meeting was timed for eight o'clock the torchlight procession and crowds which lined the streets from the Queen's Hotel to the Arenas, prevented the Premier and his colleagues from arriving until half an hour later.

A Mighty Ovation.
The Premier's entrance brought forth a war of cheers and the fluttering of hundreds of miniature United States flags were perched on rafters and on every corner of vantage and long lines of people waited outside but could not gain an entrance. At seven fifteen there was not a vacant seat.
A noticeable feature of the manner in which the Premier has worked his way into the affection of the people was seen in the cheering which greeted every mention of Mr. Borden's name by the different speakers.

Sir James Whitney, the first speaker, paid him a notable tribute, and when the Premier rose he was the recipient of a welcome seldom accorded to a public man. For ten minutes the crowd of men and women stood and cheered, and sang to the strains of the "Maple Leaf" and "Rule Britannia," mingled with cheers, and the Premier's face lighted up with pleasure as he smiled his acknowledgments.

Premier in Splendid Form.
The Premier was in excellent form and with clenched fist and squared shoulders he drove his points home. The presence of a force of Liberals was noticeable as Sir James Whitney mentioned the name of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Cheers broke out in one part of the arena but were drowned in counter cheers for Borden. The speeches were short and the party was able to leave for the Capital the same night.

Both Hon. Mr. Hazen and Hon. Mr. Pelletier received a splendid welcome and the breezy eloquent periods of the Marine Minister and the logical utterances of the Postmaster General were loudly applauded.
Premier Borden's speech was a masterly piece of oratory and he had the vast crowd responding to his periods all the time.

Hearty Welcome for Mr. Hazen.
Hon. Mr. Hazen received a hearty welcome. He dwelt upon the inspiration derived from being present at such a large meeting to pay tribute to the Premier. Mr. Hazen's reference to the defeat of Reciprocity brought forth loud cheering. He referred to the Taft-Roosevelt correspondence, stating that it simply meant the endeavor to make Canada "an adjunct" of the United States. He stated that the Democratic revision of the tariff gave Canada everything to be obtained by Reciprocity.

Mr. Hazen denied that the policy of Canada was one of periodic contribution, and paid a tribute to Premier Borden for his consistency on the question of naval defence.

The Prime Minister opened with the statement that the privileges enjoyed by Canada today were entirely due to the fact that for the past century and a half Great Britain had been predominant on the high seas and that the condition of the whole Empire was the same today. He stated that the future as well as a century and a half ago inasmuch that her very existence depended entirely on naval supremacy.

Canada in Naval Defence.
Tracing the history of the Conservative party's attitude toward the participation of Canada in naval defence the Prime Minister said:
"In 1910 I moved in the House of Commons a resolution that Canada should place at the disposal of the admiralty two battleships or armoured cruisers of the most powerful type. In November of the same year I declared that if returned to power we would seek directly from the British government, and especially from the admiralty, definite information as to the needs of the Empire in naval defence and that if satisfied of need we would appeal to parliament, and if necessary, to the people, for immediate and effective aid. In the campaign of 1911, I made the same declaration. No government in Great Britain ever had a more specific and direct mandate for its administration to perform this manifest duty."

The Admiralty's Answer.
"We went to London, we conferred with the British government, we consulted the authorities of the Admiralty, we received information of an exceedingly grave character, which, in part, had been made public in the memorandum on the general naval defence of the Admiralty a plain unvarnished statement as to the actual conditions and the actual needs of the Empire, and especially the conditions and especially the needs of the Empire, which we could give at the present time, not to be measured in ships or money."

As Mr. Churchill expressed it, any action on the part of Canada to increase the power and mobility of the Imperial Navy and thus widen the margin of our common safety, would be recognized everywhere as a most significant witness to the United Kingdom's integrity, and to the renewed resolve of the overseas Dominions to take their part in maintaining the strength of the Empire, and to the defence of the world.
In further response to our inquiry they answered without hesitation, and after prolonged consideration of all the circumstances, that any aid which Canada might bring should include the provision of a certain number of the largest and strongest ships of war which science can build or money supply.
Obstruction Scored.
Dealing with Sir Wilfrid Laurier's attitude and the obstructionist tactics of the opposition in parliament, the Prime Minister continued: "How did he meet our proposals? Not by any real desire to aid in meeting adequately conditions of gravity and urgency, but by a speech of the same controversial character as that with which he had introduced his own naval proposals in 1910. While the map of Europe was being transformed by modern time, he was ready to give us guarantees of universal peace as if he were the mouthpiece of all the chancellors of the world.
While so great a conflict was even being waged in Europe that no man could measure the gravity of impending developments which, even within the past month have imperiled the peace of the world, he thought it consistent with duty to prattle of bygone debates, to move indefinitely and impracticable amendments and to commit his party to the same policy of indefinite delay and evasion which he has met every effort to bring about any real co-operation by the King's Dominion."
"I speak not without warrant in this regard. In 1902, in 1907 and 1911 at any and every imperial conference he has maintained the same recalcitrant and reactionary attitude against the Secretary and Ambassador of the Japanese Empire."
The negotiations between the two governments are now expected to proceed in regular fashion without further reference to what takes place in California. It is assumed that several days may elapse before the next step is taken.

CALIFORNIA
MAKES LAND
BILL A LAW

Japan Considers Measure Discriminatory and Offensive.

GOVERNOR IGNORES
PRESIDENT'S ADVICE

Secretary Bryan and Japanese
Ambassador Hold Lengthy Conference in Washington
—Result Kept Secret.

Sacramento, Calif., May 19.—California's land bill became the law of the state today. Against the protests of President Wilson, and his personal envoy, Secretary of State Bryan, Gov. Johnson signed the bill, and ninety days after the adjournment of the legislature, on Aug. 19, the act becomes operative. Meanwhile complications national and sectional beset the bill. Overshadowing all is the outcome of the negotiations now in progress between this country and Japan, which has interpreted the act as discriminatory and offensive.
Within California itself the act has encountered triple hostility, which may delay its activity until November 1, 1914. Democrats opposed state legislation at this time as a matter of party regularity. Nevertheless, so plain to them seems to be the demand for the bill that after exhausting all parliamentary tactics, the Senate gave but one adverse Democratic vote, and the Assembly but two.
Japanese Press Incensed.
Tokyo, May 19.—A section of the press bitterly denounces Governor Johnson's reply to President Wilson, as libelous and unjust, declaring that it is strongly anti-Japanese and that Governor Johnson is seeking to evade his own responsibility under cover of the national law.
Bryan and China Confer.
Washington, May 19.—Secretary Bryan, late today, handed Ambassador China the reply of the United States government to the Japanese protest against the California land legislation. The ambassador immediately cabled it to Tokyo.
When the answer had been delivered the secretary and the ambassador conferred earnestly for an hour regarding the general aspect of the problem which they are trying to solve. Of course, the opinions expressed were tentative, as the ambassador felt that he must be guided entirely by the directions of the foreign office at Tokyo, and he could only surmise what might be the attitude of the officials at home. Meanwhile it was understood that both the Japanese protest and the state department's answer would be withheld from publication for the present at least, on the ground that it would be injudicious to submit the delicate questions at issue to heated discussion in the newspapers, and possibly at mass meetings.

The negotiations between the two governments are now expected to proceed in regular fashion without further reference to what takes place in California. It is assumed that several days may elapse before the next step is taken.

Geneva.

Special to The Standard.
Ottawa, Ont., May 19.—The House of Commons today presented a supplementary estimate of public works in Antigonish, N. S., during a bye-election campaign.

Late in the evening an amendment to the supply motion on the subject of these estimates and their publication, was declared lost on division and the votes of the Department of Agriculture were taken up. The attendance was slim all day.
Tomorrow the House resumes consideration of the Bank Act, and on Wednesday will go on with the budget debate. Tomorrow also, the supplementary estimates for the year will be brought down by the House of Finance. It is expected that these supplementary estimates will include some fairly generous appropriations and that the total will exceed the twenty million mark. The estimates already before the House amount to $179,152,244.

SCOTT ACT

New Officer Gets Busy in St.
Stephen—J. W. Montgomery
Dead—Many Years in Dry Goods Business Here.

Special to The Standard.
St. Stephen, May 19.—John W. Montgomery, who was formerly in business in St. John but has conducted a small dry goods business in St. Stephen for the past few years, died this afternoon at his boarding house in Calais, after a brief illness of heart trouble. He was seventy-eight years of age and is survived by his widow who has been his companion while here. The remains will be taken by the Shore Line tomorrow afternoon to Dipper Harbor for interment.

At the last meeting of the town council, on recommendation of the police committee, the marshal and Scott Act inspector were dismissed because of failure to enforce that act, and John E. Gibson, who had at one time served a brief term in the penitentiary for a term of eight years, was appointed in his stead.
Saturday evening the new officer personally visited four of the bar rooms in the town and apparently found things not to his liking, for today papers for various offences against the Scott Act were served on those connected with two of the places. While in the case of another a search and seizure process was put into execution and the bar, said to be the most elaborate furnished in the town was cleaned out and its contents carted to the local jail. It is believed that this is not the end of the new order of things, and further developments are awaited with some degree of curiosity.

The minister of finance showed the house how bounties had produced very beneficial results. The important steel industry at Sydney had been developed with their aid. Reasonable protection was necessary for Canadian industries.

Protection vs. Free Trade.
The discussion developed during the afternoon into a general debate on protection versus free trade. W. B. Northrup of East Hastings, attacked the argument advanced in the morning by Dr. Clark in favor of free trade with England as an example. Mr. Northrup presented statistics showing that wages in England were far below Canadian levels, the highest average wages, those in the shipbuilding industry, being only 33 shillings a week. Frank Oliver opposed the proposed extension and argued that it was not a continuation of the Liberal bounty which was granted as a temporary measure. Wheat farmers had been told that if wheat farming did not pay they should go into mixed farming. He would suggest to the lead miners that if lead mining did not pay after 15 years they should go into gold mining. (Laughter.)

U. S. TORPEDO BOAT
STRUCK BY TORPEDO

Newport, R. I., May 19.—The torpedo boat Vesuvius was struck by one of its own torpedoes late today and was beached on Pope Island, Narragansett Bay, when the lives of those on board seemed imperilled by the waters which rushed in through a two inch hole astern.
Late tonight the Vesuvius worked herself off the beach, and proceeded to the torpedo station, under her own steam.

E. K. GANONG DIES SUDDENLY.
Moncton, N. B., May 19.—E. K. Ganong died very suddenly at his boarding house in this city about 9:30 this evening. He had eaten a hearty supper which brought on acute indigestion, and heart failure resulted. Deceased was an adherent of the Baptist church, who was formerly a Baptist minister, had been engaged for late years canvassing for different newspapers. His family reside at Long Point, King's County, N. B.

HOUSE HAD DREARY
SESSION YESTERDAY

Consideration of Extension of Lead Bounties
—Public Works in Antigonish
Again Aired in House—Agricultural Estimates Discussed

Special to The Standard.
Ottawa, Ont., May 19.—The House of Commons today presented a supplementary estimate of public works in Antigonish, N. S., during a bye-election campaign.

Late in the evening an amendment to the supply motion on the subject of these estimates and their publication, was declared lost on division and the votes of the Department of Agriculture were taken up. The attendance was slim all day.
Tomorrow the House resumes consideration of the Bank Act, and on Wednesday will go on with the budget debate. Tomorrow also, the supplementary estimates for the year will be brought down by the House of Finance. It is expected that these supplementary estimates will include some fairly generous appropriations and that the total will exceed the twenty million mark. The estimates already before the House amount to $179,152,244.

It was announced when the budget was brought down that the total of all estimated expenditures would be close to two hundred million dollars. This may include the railway subsidies. Further it will be necessary for the purchase of Grand Trunk Pacific guaranteed bonds (the Jokers agreement bounty) at the rate of about one million dollars per month, and for progress payments on the three dredged-out locks which Canada is to give to the Imperial navy.

The House spent several hours in consideration of the Finance Minister's resolution extending the bounty for another five years up to the amount of the money left unexpended of the original fixed total.

R. F. Green of Kootenay, replying to the leader of the opposition, presented figures showing that the lead production had grown from 9,945 tons in 1903, before there was a bounty, to 22,000 tons in 1912. Mr. Green advocated a commission to investigate the mining and marketing of silver lead ores.

F. B. Carvell saw no reason for bounties and Dr. Clark characterized as "legalized mendicancy" those seeking bounties.

J. H. Burnham looked upon bounties as immoral. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, on the other hand, regarded a bounty in this instance as desirable and favored the appointment of a commission to look into the industry.

The minister of finance showed the house how bounties had produced very beneficial results. The important steel industry at Sydney had been developed with their aid. Reasonable protection was necessary for Canadian industries.

Protection vs. Free Trade.
The discussion developed during the afternoon into a general debate on protection versus free trade. W. B. Northrup of East Hastings, attacked the argument advanced in the morning by Dr. Clark in favor of free trade with England as an example. Mr. Northrup presented statistics showing that wages in England were far below Canadian levels, the highest average wages, those in the shipbuilding industry, being only 33 shillings a week. Frank Oliver opposed the proposed extension and argued that it was not a continuation of the Liberal bounty which was granted as a temporary measure. Wheat farmers had been told that if wheat farming did not pay they should go into mixed farming. He would suggest to the lead miners that if lead mining did not pay after 15 years they should go into gold mining. (Laughter.)

R. B. Bennett said that he remembered the petition in response to which the lead bounty had been first granted. These petitions had been signed by the farmers of Alberta to whom the increased labor population at the mines meant a larger market for their dairy and farm products.

Mr. Oliver denied that the farmers of his province benefited from the bounty. One of his arguments was that the price of oats had gone down.

J. H. Burnham of Peterboro, announced that he had introduced moving an amendment to the bounty resolution but had been dissuaded by the arguments of Mr. Oliver. (Laughter.)
The resolution was then adopted and the bill introduced.

A NARROW-MINDED PROTEST.

A resolution of protest, ridiculous on the face of it, against the nomination of Mr. Walter H. Page as United States Ambassador to Great Britain was introduced last week by a member of the Executive Committee, at a meeting of the London Trades Council, on the strength of a letter written from the Allied Trades Council of Greater New York, and signed, "Charles L. Conway, Secretary of the National Brotherhood of Bookbinders." After describing Mr. Page as a member of the firm of Doubleday, Page & Company, the letter says: "This concern is bitterly opposed to organized labor. The only department that forced recognition from the union standpoint was the bookbinding, but they are now on strike, being forced out as the policy of the firm is to replace them with boys." The letter concludes by asking all "the organized labor of the United Kingdom to assist us in giving this matter the widest publicity, and also to file a protest to our Government on its selection, and a protest to your own Government for its acceptance of this man."

It is satisfactory to note that reproduction of this appeal has been prompt and effective. Mr. Peter J. Brady, secretary of the Allied Printing Trades Council of New York, which apparently is being confounded with the "Allied Trades Council," states in the New York Post that his organization had nothing to do with the protest against Mr. Page, and did not share in its feeling, and that the National Brotherhood of Bookbinders is an organization which was expelled from the Allied Printing Trades Council some years ago for violent, or at any rate, non-union conduct. This Brotherhood, he explained, has no standing with the American Federation of Labor, and by its radical policy places itself more in a class with the Industrial Workers of the World. "The Allied Printing Trades Council has no animus against Mr. Page," he added, "in spite of the fact that he was a member of a non-union establishment."

Mr. Page, who is now on his way to England, is not likely to suffer any embarrassment from this agitation, which is typical of the campaign methods of the I. W. W., an organization which has been repudiated by all the better class labor unions in the Republic. It is true the extreme members of the labor party of Great Britain have protested to Sir Edward Grey against the recognition of Mr. Page, on the ground that he has proved himself by his writing an opponent to union labor and as such is repugnant to them, but they appear to forget that Sir Edward Grey is a statesman whose duty and pleasure it will be to welcome the Democratic representative of the United States without drawing any distinctions as to whether or not he supports union labor. The repudiation by the Allied Printing Trades Council of this narrow-minded protest is a significant lesson to the extremists. What the union labor of Great Britain can further do to manifest hostility to Mr. Page is not clear, "but," as the Boston Transcript remarks, "perhaps they will resolve as one man not to appear at receptions given at the American Embassy," which for Mr. Page would be a blessing in disguise.

PLACING RESPONSIBILITY.

For sixteen years Sir Wilfrid Laurier was Prime Minister of Canada. It was known from the beginning that the success of the Liberal party was due to the personality of the Leader. His picturesque quality seized the imagination of the country. None knew this more certainly than Sir Wilfrid himself. While Conservatives of 1897-1909 were dubbing Mr. Tarte the Master of the Administration, the Premier was proving day in and day out that he was in complete control of the Cabinet and of the Liberal party in general. Reviewing the decline of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's prestige consequent on the recent obstruction, the Toronto News justly points out that seldom has a political leader in any British country attained to such unquestioned supremacy. No hostile wing of the party ever was formed to press its views upon him or to force him into any course of action he did not approve. The beginnings of such rings of disaffection were always recognized and crushed. Mr. Blair, for instance, left the Cabinet with unparalleled swiftness.

Not only did Sir Wilfrid control his party but he controlled Parliament. Not in his majority alone was his strength. It was also in his masterful temper and in his habit of suppressing rising merit in the Opposition by a lofty Bonapartism which had a chilling effect. He was beaten in 1911 on an issue he himself had chosen. There was no doubt of his defeat. It was signal and crushing. Since that time the attitude of the Liberal party in Parliament has been resentful. Its temper from the beginning has been venomous. The sub-leaders have developed a reckless contempt for the decades of Parliamentary warfare, and have exploited mere partisanship to a nauseating degree.

The responsibility for this condition does not rest upon Mr. Pugsley, Mr. Lemieux or Mr. Sydney Fisher, upon Dr. Michael Clark or Mr. Mackenzie King. Although they are able abettors, Sir Wilfrid Laurier has the same old grip on his party. He is the undoubted leader. All that has taken place must have had his hearty approval. If not, it would not have happened. If the lesser personages of the party have shown violence and ill-temper, they are merely echoing the deep seated anger of their leader.

And this leads to the conclusion that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a poor loser. He is in the position of the centre fielder who runs all the way to the plate to tell the umpire that he ought to be in an asylum for the blind. But that is not all. One "kick" is not sufficient. He actually protests the game and wants it played over. No game can be fair, he believes, that he does not win. So he dashes his fielding glove on the grass, jumps up and down in rage, and numbers umpire, opposing team, spectators and even bleacher-boys among the transgressors.

Anyone can be cheerful when he wins. The grace of losing well is more rare. No suspicion of that wholesome quality is found in the Right Honorable Privy Councillor who directs a vituperative and mendacious Opposition.

THE CASE OF GUATEMALA.

In the year 1885 the Republic of Guatemala floated $10,000,000 of bonds on the London market, guaranteeing the interest by a special coffee tax. The interest was paid for just three years, then Guatemala defaulted, and, since that date, the British bondholders have had to whistle for their money. The United States acted as an intermediary for a good many years and persuaded the British Government not to be hard on Guatemala, mainly because of Guatemala's repeated promises to raise a new loan and pay the old one. But nothing was done. Finally President Taft grew weary of the Guatemalan delays and said in his message to Congress last December that if the Guatemalan government did not come to time "it may become impossible for the Government of the United States to escape its obligations in connection with such measures as may become necessary to enact justice to legitimate foreign claims."

This was one of the problems bequeathed to Mr. Woodrow Wilson's Administration. The situation was somewhat delicate. Guatemala clearly ought to pay her debts; but, admitting that, how far could Great Britain go in the matter of collection? If the Munro Doctrine was with anything, no territory could be taken nor could troops be marched to the national treasury, which was probably empty, anyway. And yet the United States could not endorse a nation of bond defaulters. The question furnished a neat puzzle in honesty, diplomacy and the square deal.

As events have proved the British Government having lost all patience with Guatemala, now fifteen years in default, did not lose any sleep over the effects of the Munro Doctrine. They knew from long experience the value of a battleship with guns trained and waiting off a debtor's chief port. In the past this method has had a most stimulating effect and it has proved equally persuasive in the case of Guatemala. The result has been magical. President Cabrera has ordered the setting aside of $1 from every $1.50 collected as a tax on every quintal of coffee exported from the country. That money, he promises, will go toward payment of the long overdue interest. The value of the Munro Doctrine is still in doubt.

CANOEES AND FOOLS.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer at times is also given to plain speaking and in a recent issue gave some excellent advice on the closely associated subjects, "Canoes and fools." This advice is well worth quoting for not a season passes but we hear of accidents in these shell-like craft which with a little common sense might often be avoided. It is not too early, says the Plain Dealer, to talk about the canoe fool. He emerges from hibernation as soon as the ice is out of the rivers, and begins to get himself drowned at once. He keeps it up all summer, and compels the newspapers to record obituaries of his achievements.

All canoeists are not canoe fools. The man who knows how to canoe, and also knows how to swim, is by no means a fool. He can enjoy one of the most delightful of sports, and grow brown and healthy and add years to his life.

The fool is the fellow who takes out a canoe because it looks like an easy way to show off. He is doubly a fool if he does not know how to swim. And he is worse than a fool if he imposes on others his inexperience and egotism. He is a dangerous fellow, who deserves abatement.

There are two good canoeing don'ts. Don't try to saddle a canoe unless you have been thoroughly instructed and unless you are a good swimmer. Disregard of this don't leads to involuntary suicide. And don't coax a friend to place trust in your inexperience. This means homicide, and places you beyond human sympathy after you are yourself half drowned.

In brief, have a little common sense.

HISTORIC DAYS IN CANADA

GEORGE J. ROMANES.

George John Romanes, one of the greatest biologists of the last century, was born in Kingston, Ont., sixty-five years ago today. Educated at Cambridge, he early made a reputation as an investigator in the fields of biology and psychology, and attracted the attention and friendship of Charles Darwin and other great scientists who were then engaged in the creation of a new heaven and a new earth. His important works include "A Candid Examination of Theism," in which he announced his disbelief in the theory of intelligent design, or a creative deity; "Scientific Evidence for Evolution," a masterly presentation of the evolution theory; "Mental Evolution in Man," and "Mental Evolution in Animals." Romanes died at Oxford, where he had founded the Romanes lectures, just three days after his forty-sixth birthday, and was sincerely mourned by the scientific world.

HER PROTEST.

FIRST THINGS

NEGRO MINSTRELSY.

The first actor to win fame by impersonation of negro characters was Thomas D. Rice, who was born in New York 105 years ago today. Rice was the highest paid actor of his time, and his success was such that he soon had a host of imitators, and thus became a founder of negro minstrelsy. Rice's success was due to his amusement on both sides of the Atlantic. Rice made his first appearance in a blackface role while playing small parts in a Louisville theatre. His imitation of an aged and comical negro slave called "Jim Crow" scored a hit, and the character was adapted to a farce in which Rice played before enthusiastic audiences throughout the United States, Canada and England. In the latter country he was the theatrical sensation of the period, and "Maestro" Rice, as he was called, was a great success. Including Macready, played to small houses during Rice's stay in London.

Rice married an English girl, the daughter of Sir Johnstone, a theatrical manager. From about 1830, when Rice inaugurated negro minstrelsy, until 1859, the greatest actor of his time, and the favorite of the popular period of that type of amusement, and since then it has gradually declined.

THE PASSING DAY

JOHN STUART MILL.

John Stuart Mill, the great English political economist, was born 107 years ago today, and his memory will be honored by the suffrages, since he was the author of the first bill for giving women the ballot ever introduced in the British Parliament. Incidentally, it was on Mill's birthday, May 20, 1867, that this measure came to a vote, and was negatived by 136 against 72. The great philosopher took a prominent part in the organization, in 1868, of the National Society for Women's Suffrage. Who the observance of Mill's birthday in London will take the form of placing flowers on his tomb, or blowing up the Houses of Parliament with dynamite, has not yet developed in the news columns. Mill has been dead for forty years, and since then many statescraft and cunning in dealing with the crafty politicians of Cuba, and withholding them from acts that might lead to a final and definite intervention by the United States. The new President was educated in the United States, at Cornell, and speaks English as perfectly as the Spanish tongue of his native land. As an engineer he was employed for some time on the Nicaragua canal. He was one of the most devoted and able officers of the Cuban army in the war for freedom, and thus acquired his title of general. After the war he became the manager of the tremendous Chaparral estate, including vast cane fields and sugar mills, one of the largest enterprises of its kind in the world. Over the thousands of workmen ruled as a benevolent despot, keeping order with an iron hand, with the result that the property became immensely profitable. He is expected to adopt the same methods in his management of the affairs of the government.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

CUBA'S NEW PRESIDENT.

Elected by the Conservatives to the highest office in the island republic, General Mario G. Menocal will today succeed Jose M. Gomez as president of Cuba and will take up his residence in the ancient palace where Spanish governors-general once ruled in state—the palace from which came "Dutch" Weyler's orders to imprison and kill. Gen. Menocal is admittedly a man of great ability, and he will need all his statecraft and cunning in dealing with the crafty politicians of Cuba, and withholding them from acts that might lead to a final and definite intervention by the United States.

EVERYBODY COUNTING THE ALLURING CIRCLES

Standard's Puzzle Contest Appeals to Young and Old Alike.

Although only a few days since the announcement of The Standard's big puzzle contest hundreds of people, both young and old, in the city of St. John and surrounding territory, to modernize the old saying of "burning midnight oil," are now making the "meters hump" in a new field of endeavor.

If they succeed—and those who are the most alert and accurate will—there are seventy good prizes, ranging from $7.00 to $200 to be awarded among them according to the conditions of the competition.

And then don't try to unravel any Sherlock Holmes mystery, give the age of Ann, or tell why a hen crosses the road, to earn the prizes.

The problem is one that readily becomes fascinating. A study that makes the young and old think quickly. No mystery. Just a human interest game that tests the brain, the patience and ambition of the hundreds who are now trying circle by circle to derive into its solution.

This problem contains no trick, catch or chance. Time, accuracy, aptness, patience and study supply the requirements to reach a solution.

A chart of the puzzle appears in each issue of The Standard, and the problem is simply to count the number of circles appearing in this chart. Each circle is complete and intersects or touches one or more circles.

Any person may send a subscription to The Standard for not less than $1.00, or not more than $5.00, according to the table which appears elsewhere, and will be entitled to one solution. Or a person may send in five solutions to the full limit of a one-year subscription if they so desire.

The first prize is $100 in gold, and a cash prize amounting to 40 times the amount paid by the winner on subscription to The Standard under the terms of the contest. Thus this prize may be worth $300.

The merry race in St. John and nearby towns which will be active participation in this problem will end Saturday, June 14.

If you have not counted the circles get in the game. You have about a month. Merely subscribe for The Standard and you become a contestant. Old and new subscribers have an equal chance.

Somebody will get the prizes. There are 70 of them worth $1,250 in gold. Why not win one of them?

ESCAPE INJURY WHEN HORSE GOES OVER BANK

Peculiar Driving Accident in Fairville—Horse Runs Away and Occupants Hurlled Down 40 Foot Embankment.

The few pedestrians who were in the vicinity of the Provincial Hospital about 8 o'clock last evening stood aghast expecting some serious and perhaps fatal results when a spirited horse, becoming frightened, dashed along the edge of the road and carried the occupants of the wagon over a forty-foot embankment, striking the side of the track near the Simms' factory, the carriage was smashed to pieces, and the animal cut up and injured so badly it will probably have to be killed.

While the horse and carriage received considerable damage, the occupants of the team escaped without injury. Witnesses of the accident, and even those in the carriage when the leap over the embankment was made, say that their escape was miraculous.

Shortly before eight o'clock a young horse, recently purchased by A. C. Smith & Co. of the West End, was being driven across the suspension bridge towards Carleton, by Walter McLeod. With Mr. McLeod was Joseph Carleton, bookkeeper for the A. C. Smith company.

The horse, which is but a colt, was driven across the bridge and, when opposite the Provincial Hospital, took fright at a passing electric car. He reared and, making a sudden bolt, broke one of the shafts of the carriage, which tended to increase his fright and he then raced madly along the edge of the road, the driver being unable to control him.

Both occupants of the buggy foresaw the danger that awaited them, but an attempt to halt the animal or make a safe leap from the rig was useless.

When near Simms' factory the horse turned to the right and continuing furiously in his course, tore through a picket fence, and leaped over the embankment with the driver and Mr. Carleton still clinging tightly to the sides of the carriage.

When the animal finally brought up at the track side, near Simms' factory, he was cut up and bruised considerably about the body, but no bones were broken. When the colt was brought to his feet, however, he showed signs of internal injury.

The carriage was completely ruined and the remnants left in a heap at the foot of the hill.

The injured horse was led to Brownell's stables and Dr. Johnson was communicated with. The effects of the injuries became serious and the animal, unable to proceed, was carted to the company's stables on Union street, West End, where medical assistance was given it.

The horse, which has been in the possession of A. C. Smith & Co. not more than six weeks, was, it is understood, a valuable one.

In conversation with a Standard reporter last evening Mr. Carleton said that the leap over the embankment was made so suddenly that he did not have time to realize his position and he could not relate how he and the driver got out of the carriage, or how injuries were at all avoided.

FINE PROGRAMME AT NICKEL YESTERDAY

Pleasing Rural Melodrama and Edison Talking Pictures Bright Features—Large Crowds Enjoyed Show.

The headline in the picture portion was "The Midnight Bell," a story of rural life. The story is in two reels; the author is Charles H. Hoyt who wrote "A Bunch of Keys." This announcement is in itself a guarantee of something out of the ordinary, and the pleasing melodrama shown on the screen yesterday is typical of Hoyt's style. The characters depicted in the story are decidedly humorous; not caricatures, nor does the author make buffoons of them. There is the town sheriff, pompous, all important; the squire and the spinster. Scenes characteristic of the country town are shown true to life, all interwoven into a charming story. The picture is a delightfully refreshing one and won instant approval.

Then there are the Edison talking pictures. The programme of the "walkies" consists of a brief story, "Dick the Highwayman," and as was the case last week, the pictures made a hit with the audience.

There were two other comedy sketches which conclude the picture programme.

The musical features were of an exceptionally high order of merit. Miss Blaisdell sang Zolieski's "I Love You." Although she has already created a favorable impression with Nickel patrons, her rendition of this charming number won for her fresh laurels, and it is doubtful if since her first appearance here her pleasing voice has been heard to better advantage.

Louis Ritzius in "The Indifferent Mariner," sang to pleasing effect. Altogether yesterday's programme was of particular worth and greatly enjoyed. The same programme will be offered today.

In Honor of the Loyalists.

A royal salute of 21 guns was fired at 12 o'clock yesterday from Dorchester Battery, No. 2 Company, Third Regiment C. A., under the command of Maj. McGowan. The salute was fired in honor of the anniversary of the landing of the United Empire Loyalists at St. John and was postponed until yesterday, May 18th, falling upon Sunday.

Nerves on Edge Every Sound Annoys

Weak, worn-out nerves keep one in a constant state of irritability and excitement. The eyes are sensitive to light, and every noise jars on the over-taxed nerves. If children are about they are a constant source of annoyance and irritation. Every door seems to slam, and a little extra excitement or exertion leads to wakeful nights, nervous headache or indigestion. In this condition women are likely to be hysterical, and suffer greatly at regular periods. The nerves must be nourished back to vigor by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Can You Count?

$1,250 IN GOLD SEVENTY PRIZES THE ST. JOHN STANDARD'S BIG PUZZLE CONTEST

No Trick or Chance Involved. Only Accuracy and Patience Required. Old and New Subscribers Can Enter. Note Carefully the Plan of Dividend Prizes.

HOW TO ENTER

This contest is restricted to people residing in the Province of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. A payment on subscription to The St. John Standard of from $1.00 to $5.00 entitles the contestant to submit a solution of the puzzle. The amount of money paid in will cover the subscription price for the paper according to the regular rates whether the rate be for city delivery or by mail.

AS MANY DIFFERENT SOLUTIONS MAY BE SUBMITTED AS THE CONTESTANT WISHS MAKING AN ADDITIONAL PAYMENT WITH EACH ONE, BUT NOT MORE THAN $5.00 CAN BE PAID WITH ANY ONE SOLUTION.

It is not necessary to pay the same amount with each solution if more than one be submitted.

As the main prizes have an added value according to what is paid in on subscription with the winning solution, contestants should familiarize themselves with the DIVIDEND schedule before entering their subscription and solutions.

Remit by check, money order, registered letter or in 1 or 2-cent stamps. Whatever is paid, whether one or a number of solutions, will apply on a continuous subscription to The Standard.

Solutions unaccompanied by cash subscription will not be registered. This contest is open to both old and new subscribers within the territory designated.

DECIDING TIES

In case there are ties, as many prizes will be reserved as there are contestants tied before any prizes are awarded for less correct solutions. For instance, if ten people tie on the correct solution, they would receive the first ten prizes, and those having the next nearest correct answers would receive the remaining prizes.

If there should be more ties than there are prizes offered a second puzzle will be presented. No money will have to accompany the solution of the second puzzle. The second puzzle will be graded as follows: The first puzzle will be presented to those that have tied. The second and third puzzles will be used only in case of ties. Their purpose will be merely to decide ties, so that in the event there is a tie, the prizes can be awarded without having to divide them or without resorting to chance.

However, only three puzzles will be presented, and in the seemingly impossible event of still another tie, the prizes will be equally divided. If there are no ties, there will be only one puzzle.

AS TO DIVIDEND PRIZES. Same will be divided between those who have the correct or nearest correct answers. ALL DIVIDEND prizes will be divided pro rata according to the amount paid in by the winner.

For example, if there are two contestants who tie having the correct or nearest correct answer, they will divide the first and second prizes of $100.00 and $75.00, giving them $57.50 each, and will also be entitled to DIVIDEND prizes, which is forty times the amount paid in for the first prize and twenty times the amount paid in on the second prize, the two tying will then be entitled to divide sixty times the amount they have paid in, making thirty times the amount paid in on their subscription.

Now, if one paid $2.00 and the other paid in $5.00, the one paying in $2.00 would receive thirty times the amount paid in or $60.00 as his DIVIDEND prize, while the one paying in $5.00 would also receive thirty times the amount paid in, or $150.00 as a DIVIDEND prize.

This same rule and example will be followed throughout in the awarding of prizes in case of ties.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

By Carrier in St. John— Two Months $1.00 Three Months 1.50 Six Months 2.75 Nine Months 4.00 Twelve Months 5.00 By Mail— Four Months $1.00 Six Months 1.50 Nine Months 2.75 Twelve Months 5.00 Weekly Standard by Mail Only— Twelve Months $1.00

Count the Circles

THE PROBLEM

The problem is to count the circles. Every circle is complete and intersects or touches one or more other circles. There are no parts of circles or shams or deceptions of any sort in the puzzle. In the event that no one counts the exact number the prizes will be awarded for the nearest correct solutions. Accuracy and patience are the main requisites for arriving at the correct or nearest correct count. Those who display these qualifications to the best advantage will solve the puzzle best.

SPECIAL ATTENTION

Eastern Car Company

starts building cars in two weeks

From a telegram received over our own private wires to New Glasgow we have very favorable reports concerning the construction progress of the Eastern Car Company's plant there. General Manager Douglas states that running tests have been made of most of the machinery already installed and that he expects to commence building cars within two weeks.

Delivery of 250 cars out of the total order of 2,000 ordered by the Grand Trunk Railway is looked for by the end of August. Everything appears ready for a successful start of this healthy young company.

Appropos of this we refer your attention today to this Company's 8 p. c. Bonds, which are unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company. Double the security is therefore afforded by this guarantee and the assets of the Eastern Car Company. We quote the Bonds in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000 to yield 5.85 p. c. DECLINE IN THE CLOSING STOCK

MONTREAL MARKET

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
New York, May 19.—The market opened higher, but weakness soon developed in the Prisco issues, and this weakness was so severe as to cause some selling throughout the general list, under which stocks declined fractionally along the line. Prisco second preferred itself broke five points with corresponding weakness in other issues and sympathetic decline in Rock Island. In the second hour the tendency of the market was sharply upward, with the Prisco issues leading the way. The market closed with a net gain for the day of 1.4 points. On the New York rally the price after breaking through 226 in the forenoon, was as high as 237 7/8 in the late afternoon.

Apart from C. P. R., the only active stocks to display a firmer tone were Hillcrest common, which achieved a new high of 45 1/2, an advance of 2 1/2 over the previous high record, and Cement Common at 29 1/4, an advance of 1/4, as compared with 29 1/2 on Saturday. Power weakened three-quarters to 220, but there was good absorption at that level, upwards of four hundred shares changing hands without further change in price. Brazilian was left to drift and worked three-quarters lower to 34 1/2, closing offered at that price with 94 bid. Richelleu 112 3/4, Toronto Rails at 143 1/4 and Cement Common at 29 1/4, each showed a loss of one-quarter point. Twin City and Tuckett's fell back one-half to 103 1/2, and 52 1/2, respectively. Iron was heavy and unchanged at 48 3/4. Canners at 75 and McKay Common declined one to 82.

In the Parville court yesterday morning George Allan and Thomas Green, of Milford appeared before Magistrate Allingham to answer a charge of holding up and threatening to do bodily harm to a man named Burns. They pleaded guilty to the charge and were compelled to produce bonds as a surety that they would keep the peace. J. A. Barry appeared for the defendants and Daniel Mullin, K. C., for the plaintiff.

FALLS FROM BALLOON TO DEATH

Berlin, May 19.—A woman making a trip in a Swiss balloon met a terrible death near Munich on Sunday. When the balloon was close enough to the ground for the occupants to alight one of the aeronauts fell out and the balloon shot upward. The woman had begun to climb out of the car and as the balloon ascended, she was unable to get back into it. The car was swaying to and fro and the other aeronaut grabbed the woman and tried to pull her back to safety, but was unable to do so. He held on, nevertheless, until the balloon had reached a height of 600 feet, when his strength gave out and the woman fell.

PROSPECTUS OF PROPOSED

Weeks Silver Black Fox Company, Ltd.

Head Office at North Tryon, P. E. I.

Capital Stock

The Company will be Capitalized at $100,000.00, divided into 1,000 shares of $100.00 each.

The Foxes

There have been secured five pairs of 1913 pups guaranteed choicest selection of the Dalton-Tuplin strain. This stock needs no further comment as they are the world's best.

Terms of the Company

The promoters of the Weeks Silver Black Fox Company have so much faith in the future of the Fox industry and in the stock they have purchased, that they guarantee ten pups from the five pair during the breeding season of 1914, and for every pup short of this number they will forfeit $5,000.00. This practically means a guarantee of upwards of 50 (fifty) per cent. for the first year. Taking into consideration the present price of 1913 pups and the fact that the five pairs are placed on the market at but $20,000.00 a pair, it will readily be seen that this company offers the most lucrative investment made this year in the fox industry.

An-Up-to-Date Ranch

Mr. Hedley B. Weeks has purchased the beautiful farm property of Mr. George H. Callbeck, North Tryon, where the most approved ranch will be erected which is now under construction. This property is favored with the handsomest hardwood grove in Prince County and is most suitably adapted for a Fox farm. All modern burglar-proof alarms will be installed and a day and night watchman, with the protection of tested man-trailing blood hounds, will always guard the ranch.

Estimated Financial Returns

From the five pairs there should be fifteen pups. At present prices this would mean a net profit of about $80,000.00 to the investors after deducting all ranching expenses.

No Organization Expenses

All the expenses incurred in the formation of this company, viz—the organization, including building of ranch, advertising, printing and all other incidentals will be paid by the promoters.

Applications for Stock

Applications for stock can be made to Hedley B. Weeks, Victoria Hotel, St. John, or to any of the Directors. Payments: 10 p. c. of the subscribed amount must accompany application.

CLOSING LETTER DOW JONES CO'S

ON COTTON MARKET

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
New York, May 19.—The weather map was considered very favorable this morning as it showed clear and warm weather following beneficial showers of last week with a prospect for scattering showers during today or tomorrow. Liverpool was influenced by the favorable weather and was 2 to 3 points lower than due. The local market, however, after opening steady at a decline of 2 to 4 points, showed the same perplexing firmness that it has recently exhibited in the face of bearish news. The shorts seem to be quietly trying to cover. As the market worked higher early sellers became warmed and a few stop orders were uncovered. Nell Bros., of Montgomery, say the crop is getting a favorable start. Reports of the Atlantic Compress Co. dated May 15 or 16 just before the recent beneficial showers read rather unfavorably as a result of the dry weather and low temperatures in Georgia and Alabama but reported good cultivation and plentiful labor. The weekly weather report should be encouraging.

LIVE TOPICS OF SPORT AT HOME AND ABROAD

AMERICAN, NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE RESULTS

AMERICAN LEAGUE. Cleveland 4, Washington 1.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 19.—Pitcher Falkenberg won his eighth straight victory today at the expense of Washington, the score being 4 to 1. An error of judgment by First Baseman Johnston, who put a base runner out at first when he might have cut off Williams at the plate in the eighth inning, deprived Falkenberg of a shut-out. Cashion was wild and ineffective in the first inning. Jackson killed a triple for McBride by a shoe-string catch. The score: Cleveland, 4; Washington, 1. Batteries: Falkenberg and Carsch; Cashion, Engel, Boehling, Ainsmith and Williams.

National League. Philadelphia 17, Brooklyn 7. St. Louis 14, Chicago 15. Boston 10, Chicago 1.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 19.—Joe Wood, the "smoke ball" star pitcher of the world champions, had the locals at bay today and Chicago lost the opening game of the series, 17 to 7, after eight innings of play. The game was called on account of darkness at that time. The score: Philadelphia, 17; Brooklyn, 7. Batteries: Wood and Nunamaker; Scott, Smith, Clotte and Easley.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE. Rochester, N. Y., May 19.—Rochester slugged the ball for fifteen safeties this afternoon and had no difficulty in annexing a ten to two victory over the Newark Indians. The hustlers pulled off a triple play in the sixth inning, Simmons capturing Myers' liner for a toss to Martin and a relay to Schmidt that killed off W. Zimmerman and Delton. The score: Rochester, 10; Newark, 2. Batteries: Hughes and Williams; Barger and Mcarty.

SPORTOGRAPHY BY "GRAVY"

Thirteen years in the ring is the record of Willie Lewis, the New York middleweight, who will celebrate his twenty-ninth birthday tomorrow. Willie is now a permanent resident of gay Paris, and has opened a third parlor in the City of Light, where he is esteemed as one of the greatest of boxers. Willie had the good fortune to get in on the boxing game in Paris when it was new to that city, and his long experience enabled him to display a stock of pugilistic wares that were a revelation to the French fans. On this side of the pond Lewis has never ranked better than a second rate, but he was a star in Paris. Now that the Frenchmen have developed some talent of their own, Willie is not such a stellar attraction, but he is still honored as one of the fathers of boxing in France. Last February Willie was decisively defeated in a twenty-round bout by Adrian Dupont, one of his former pupils, who does his scrapping under the Hibernian moniker of Hogan. It was predicted at the time that Lewis was all in as a boxer, but a month later he took on Marcel Moreau, the French middleweight, and won easily. Willie was in superb form and easily evaded Moreau's savage attacks. By this victory Lewis restored his tarnished reputation as the idol of Parisian fight fans and fannesses.

Willie Lewis is 29 Years Old Tomorrow, and has been Thirteen Years a Boxer

He does not support such an allegation, for he has won forty-three battles by the knockout route. Among his victims have been Jowey Smith, Sailor Burke, Honey Melody, Jack Costello, Curley Watson and Jeff Thorne. He has been defeated by Carpenter, the French middleweight; Hilliard Lang, the Canadian; Frank Klaus, Stanley Ketchel and Billy Page. He has fought four battles with Harry Lewis, the American middleweight, all of them ending in draw decisions. Willie's last important bout on this side was with Mike Gibbons, who knocked him out in the second round.

MURDERER EXECUTED

Ossining, N. Y., May 19.—John Mulroney, who was to have been put to death as a murderer on March 17th, but won a sixty days' reprieve by declaring in a personal appeal to the governor that he was going to his death as a martyr of criminal justice, was executed at Sing Sing prison early today. "Happy Jack" as he was known to his comrades, wore to the last the smile that had won him his nickname, and called back to the other inmates of the death cells a cheerful "goodbye." Mulroney was the son of a New York police officer, Becker, the former New York police lieutenant, and the gunner involved with him in the Rosenthal murder were among the thirteen who answered the call of duty to the gallows. The murder of which "Happy Jack" was convicted was that of Patrick McBrean, known as "Paddy, the priest," a New York saloon keeper.

Lecture on Labrador. "Life on the Labrador" was the title of an interesting lecture delivered last evening before a congregation in Portland Methodist church by Rev. Wilfred Gaetz, Rev. Henry Pierce, pastor of the church, presiding during the evening. The speaker treated his subject in an interesting manner, dealing with the manner, customs and modes of living of the inhabitants of that territory, and gave his audience a splendid idea of the conditions which may be found existing on the coast of Labrador. The story of the people of Labrador told by Rev. Mr. Gaetz was true to life, and drawn from his own observation while among them.

RESULTS MIGHT HAVE BEEN MORE SERIOUS

Boys Amusing Themselves with Rifle Hit Another Lad — His Injury was Only Slight.

As Roy McLaughlin, a boy of about 15 years of age, was walking along the Ketepec road yesterday afternoon, something hit him in the hip and sent a stinging pain through him. Almost instantly he heard the cough of a rifle, and concluding he had been shot, he cried out for help. Some people on the road held him up and found there was blood on his trousers leg and also a hole in the cloth. For a time it was feared he had been seriously wounded, but he was able to walk to his home, and when Dr. J. H. Allingham of Patville was summoned and an examination made it was found that the bullet had merely clipped a bit of flesh out of the left hip.

It appears that young McLaughlin was shot by one of the boys who have been at a camp on the Ketepec road and amusing themselves by shooting and prominently with a 22 calibre rifle. When they realized that they had hit young McLaughlin they took fright and hearing a gasolin boat nearby started off on the river.

To-morrow evening "Faust" will be rendered.

CLUBS UNITE TO OBSERVE LOYALIST ANNIVERSARY

Commemorative Gathering in Keith's, Last Evening, Proved Highly Enjoyable Affair — Patriotic Addresses a Strong Feature — Archdeacon Raymond Speaker of Evening.

Loyalist Day was commemorated in a right loyal manner by the Women's Canadian Club, the Men's Canadian Club, the Daughters of the Empire and the Loyalist Society last evening, when their members gathered to the number of about two hundred and fifty, in the Nickel Theatre Assembly rooms and celebrated the occasion in a fitting manner. Addresses appropriate to the occasion were delivered by His Worship Mayor Frink, Rev. Archdeacon Raymond, D. R. Jack and a short address by D. J. Seely, president of the Loyalist Society. The addresses told in an inspiring manner of the courage, suffering and fortitude of the Loyalists, and of the lesson in patriotism to the Empire, which their action taught. D. R. Jack, historian of the Loyalist Society, presided.

The Women's Canadian Club was officially represented by Mrs. E. A. Smith, the Men's Canadian Club by Rev. G. A. Kuhring; Daughters of the Empire by Miss MacMillan, and the Loyalist Society by D. J. Seely. On the platform were D. R. Jack, Mayor Frink, Clarence Ward and D. J. Seely. A happy incident of the evening, and one which met with deserved applause, was the action of D. R. Jack, who, seeing Clarence Ward in the audience, personally conducted him to the platform, the Mayor graciously yielding his seat to the local historian. Mrs. George McA. Blizard, regent of the Daughters of the Empire, was unable to be present and officially represent that society, Miss MacMillan being present in that capacity.

On the reception committee were Mrs. E. A. Smith, Rev. G. A. Kuhring and J. D. Seely. The St. John Boys' Orchestra was in attendance and was heard in a splendid programme of musical numbers. During the evening the Misses Knight and Mrs. A. Pierce Crockett rendered in trio "When Coming Through the Rye" in a most acceptable manner, hearty applause being accorded them. The Last Rose of Summer and "Prink to Me Only with Thine Eyes" were sung as encores. David Pidgeon also assisted in the musical programme and secured rendered, "O Canada," all present joining in the chorus, while a Union Jack was thrown on the curtain.

At the close of the first part of the programme refreshments were served. Mrs. John McAvoy and Mrs. G. A. Smith presiding at the supper tables. The refreshments were under the care of the Women's Canadian Club, Mrs. David McLellan being in charge, assisted by Mrs. D. P. Chisholm and Mrs. G. A. Kuhring. After luncheon the floor was cleared and a short programme of dancing, in which all took part, was much enjoyed.

The Address of Welcome.

The programme was opened with the playing of God Save the King by the orchestra, all present standing. Mr. Jack then read the address of welcome and after speaking of the pleasure it gave him to see such a number present, extended a hearty welcome and hoped that all would enjoy an excellent time. He stated that the Loyalist records since the American revolution were being compiled in the London audit office and he was glad to say they were almost completed. Ven. Archdeacon Raymond had been appointed a member of the Manuscripts Commission for New Brunswick and doubtless will assist the work in every manner.

In concluding, Mr. Jack spoke of the fact that the rock at the corner of Beek street and Market Square from which the early settlers watched the landing of the Loyalists was being removed and advised all to go and see it for the last time. After expressing regret at the absence of Rev. Dr. MacVicar, who was unable to address the meeting owing to the illness of his wife, he urged all to do their utmost for the uplifting of the community and brought his address to a close by speaking of the bright future of Canada.

Loyalist Day Enthusiasm.

The next speaker was Mayor Frink, who, in opening, expressed his pleasure at being present and of addressing those assembled. Loyalist Day enthusiasm is evident in the words, he said, "I remember when a boy getting up early in the morning and, with thousands of others, walking to Fort Howe to witness the firing of the salute, and to join in the cheering.

"We forget at times," he said, "the struggle through which the Loyalists passed after leaving their comfortable homes in the United States, and coming to St. John, then a wilderness. This, to my mind, was true loyalty to the King and Crown. (Applause.)" "I notice that many of the foremost men of these days are not justly remembered, and their portraits cannot be seen in any public place. Perhaps your clubs should do this for the city, but it should be done. A picture of George IV. should be added to the collection."

More Friendliness Needed. There should be a greater degree of friendliness between the dividers of the Anglo-Saxon race in America, and a stronger feeling for peace should animate the people. The Loyalists should assist in this step. In the United States a few years ago, I received strong proof of the growing friendliness, when, meeting an old American man of war captain, who told me of the work done by the United crews of British and United States warships in China. I feel assured that the hand of Divine Providence is guiding the destiny of this country, and I am sure it will do so until the end. (Lapplause.)

Archdeacon Raymond.

The chairman then introduced Rev. Archdeacon Raymond, the speaker of the evening, who after expressing his regret for the absence of Rev. J. H. MacVicar, went on to state that he wished to make his position clear with regard to the union of the United States and Canada. Canada looks to the United States to improve, the morals of that country especially, before a union is possible.

ed States and Canada. Canada looks to the United States to improve, the morals of that country especially, before a union is possible. The union will come, but only along the broad lines of national development. "I am strongly opposed to annexation," he said, "and I am sure that the old Loyalist blood flames up at the suggestion. This may seem narrow but I believe that the hand of God's providence is guarding the destiny of the nation."

Continuing he said I have always had an honest admiration for George III. Through the long wars this king set a great example to his people by his pure morals and home life. His descendants, alas, did not do so. He was true to his desire to promote the union of the Empire.

Use your imagination, said the speaker, and see the terrible sufferings and strong fortitude of the loyalists. It is a great thing to be the descendants of such a people. Much has been said of the expulsion of the Acadians. Their sufferings were not so compared with those of the loyalists, who for the most part were gentle people reared in comfort. The loyalist burial ground at Elmhurst is a silent but eloquent testimony of the loyalty of these people to the Empire. Those who have read the papers and records which have come down, rise from their perch with stronger feeling of loyalty to God and to the nation.

It honors everyone who honors self-sacrifice to meet together on this day and commemorate the landing of the Loyalists. Continuing, Rev. Archdeacon Raymond gave a vivid description of the voyage and suffering of the Loyalists. Their departure from the United States was spoken of and of the landing at the upper and lower coves here. The speaker stated that he was glad to see the reception tendered to John Ward as he was the descendant of John Ward, one of the greatest citizens of St. John. John Ward, when the Duke of Kent visited St. John, was presented to His Highness as a special honor.

The Loyalist City.

Very few people can tell why St. John is called the city of the Loyalists. It was named by Champlain on June 23, 1604, St. John the Baptist Day, when he sailed into the harbor. St. John was practically founded in one day and that was the occasion of the landing of the Loyalists. This city is the oldest on the Atlantic coast with one exception of St. Augustine, in Florida.

In concluding, Rev. Archdeacon Raymond urged all to live up to the high standards of their forefathers and keep the motto of the Loyalists, "Faithful to God and King alike." This address was much appreciated by all, hearty applause being tendered the speaker. One of the interesting features of the celebration were the views of old St. John shown by Walter H. Golding. These views showed in a clear manner the conditions of that time. The great fire was also illustrated and much applause greeted the pictures as they were thrown on the screen.

HIS VIEW OF THE WEST IS NOT SO ROSEATE

Alberta Farmer writes of Conditions as He Finds Them — Wants to Come East.

How would you like to do two men's work for twelve years and then find yourself worse off than when you started? E. Embery, a farmer at Pitcoo, some miles from Red Deer, in Sunny Alberta, says that has been his experience. In a letter to a friend in the city he describes conditions in Alberta in a way that should give anybody thinking of going west some doubts as to the wisdom of yielding to the lure of the prairie provinces. Writing on the morning of the 8th of May, he stated that it had been snowing for two days, that there was over a foot of soft snow on the ground, and that his stock would have to go hungry until the snow melted. The snow storm in May he added, would cause many thousands of dollars of loss to the planters. In spite of what the real estate boomers might say about the beauties of Alberta.

Speaking of his own experience, he said he had taken up a section in high hopes when he was forty years of age, and after 12 years of hard work he was worse off than when he started. What seems to have aroused his ire against the West is that not long ago he broke down under the strain, and has been in bad health. "I know many farmers out here working from 75 to 150 acres," he says, "who have to leave the farm and seek work elsewhere in order to support their families."

He adds that he would like to sell his farm and come East, as he is getting heartily tired of battling with the elements and trying to wrest a living from the soil, but feels loath to follow the example of many people and take in the new comers who don't know what kind of a proposition they are tackling.

APPLIES FOR CITY REWARD FOR FIREBUG

F. C. Gates Writes to Council Requesting Payment Of That $250.

COM. McLELLAN SAYS CITY IS NOT LIABLE

Until Firebug is Convicted—Petition Presented for Repeal of Building By-law — Other Matters Discussed.

At the meeting of the city council yesterday, F. C. Gates sent an application for the reward offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the firebug, and the Girls' Association applied for a grant of $600. The petition against the building by-law was referred to the common clerk to report on its legality. A motion was passed expressing the thanks of the city to Mrs. John Kerr for a number of volumes of the city accounts which belonged to the late Chief of the Fire Department, and which she has presented to the Mayor's office. In reference to the request of M. Connelly that the lower end of the C. P. R. wharf be replaced so as he could get on with his concrete work, it was decided to inform him that the matter was one for the Dominion Government to deal with, as the end of the wharf had been taken down at its request. Com. Agar was authorized to purchase a carload of calcium chloride at $12 per ton for use in sprinkling the streets. Com. Agar brought up the matter of having the Hansam street railway put the paving in Dock and Mill streets in proper condition, as required under their contract, and it was decided to notify the company to make the repairs at once.

The Building By-Law.

The common clerk read the petition asking for a repeal of the by-law prohibiting the erection of three story wooden buildings. Com. McLellan moved that the petition be referred to the common clerk to check the names and see if there were the required number on the petition; also that the common clerk be authorized to provide the common clerk with the necessary clerical assistance to go over the lists. This was carried. A communication was received from Country Life, of London, asking the city to advertise in its special edition of June 14th; rate $200 a page. The matter was referred to the Mayor, who said that many applications had come in for advertisements, and unless an appropriation was made, no more advertising could be done. E. T. C. Knowles wrote saying his clients Mrs. Margaret Smith and Miss Anna Sullivan wanted a renewal lease of Lot No. 452, Queen ward. This was referred to the commissioner of lands.

That $250 Reward.

A letter was received from F. C. Gates asking that the reward of $250 offered in connection with the incendiary fire be paid to him. "If the man was not convicted in the minds of some people, why was he not brought to trial?" queried the letter writer. Com. McLellan said the city would not be liable till the fire bug was convicted, and that it was not the city's fault that the man arrested on suspicion had been sent to the Asylum. He moved that the letter be referred to the Recorder, and this was adopted. A petition was received asking that Ashburn road be extended so as to connect with Robbsey avenue, and it was referred to Com. Agar. Com. McLellan—May I ask what has been done about the Marble Cove sewer.

Com. Wigmore said nothing definite had been done. He had a conference prepared, and would have a conference with A. M. Rowan and John Rowan in reference to the river way. The project had been held up because $5,000 was wanted for the right of way. Mr. Rowan has assured that a satisfactory agreement could be reached, and he hoped to be able to submit a complete report on the matter in a few days.

A Grant To Aid Girls.

Lillian J. M. Deinhardt sent in a letter describing the work of the Girls' Association, and asking for a civic grant. The Association wanted to open an employment bureau, and put advertisements in maritime papers, telling girls wanting to come to St. John to get in touch with the club. Employers would be charged the regular fee for applying help, but at first no charge would be made to the girls. A supervised employment bureau would be a great help to the business men, and would bring a superior class of girls here. The expenses of the association now were about $1,000 a year. They would need a grant of $500 to conduct the employment bureau, and $100 for advertising purposes. The matter will be taken up in committee. Council adjourned.
