COUNCIL MEETING ON TUESDAY EVENING

Routine Matters Mainly Before
 the Council.—List of Tax Defaulters to be Prepared

A meeting of the Town Council was held on Tuesday evening in the Council Chambers, His Worship Mayor Andrew presiding. There were also present, Councillors Patterson, Miller, Goss, McLean, Ellsworth, Quinn and Evans. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed. Communication was made from Mr. J. A. Benoit regarding the St. Pierre's recent letters to the Council. Letter ordered placed on file and the clerk instructed to obtain further information. Councillor Alexander entered the meeting. The following reports recommending payment of accounts were received and adopted:

Public Property & Streets	$447.39
Finance	15.52
Fire Protection	35.81
Electric Light	194.73
Public Charities	80.00
Water & Sewerage	135.91
Police & License	9.50

Councillor Ellsworth from the Assessment and Appeals Committee reported regarding the application of Belyea & Trueman for reduction of assessment and recommended that as the Assessors made an error in the number of lots owned by them, assessing them on 60 lots when they only really owned 42 lots, that their assessment be reduced from $12,000 to $8,400. Report was received and adopted. Annual Reports were received from the following departments and on motion were received and ordered to be printed in the year book, viz: Public Charities, Public Property and Streets, Fire Protection, Water and Sewerage, Police Report of Chief Hughes. His Worship reminded the Council that the ladies of the Women's Institute had a sum on hand for the purpose of providing trees for the streets in the town. This matter would come under the operation of the Education and Improvement Committee and Councillor McLean thought that Councillor Patterson would be the best man to handle this project. On motion Councillor Patterson and McLean were appointed a committee to look into the cost of trees and report back to Council.

The question was brought up in Council if it was the purpose of the Finance Committee to publish the names of defaulters this year. Nothing had yet been done in this matter and it was resolved to instruct the Town Treasurer to prepare a list of defaulters for the purposes of publication. On motion the clerk was instructed to reply to Mrs. Stewart, Montreal, that the town were not in a position to purchase the bonds recently offered for sale. After a question regarding defaulters had been asked by Councillor Goss, the Council adjourned.

NORTH SHORE CURLERS CONGREGATING HERE

Four Rinks From Each North
 Shore Club Curling Here
 This Week

Chatham, Newcastle, Bathurst and Dalhousie curlers are here in force today to participate in the play for the North Shore Trophy, which the Campbellton curlers won from Campbellton last season. Four rinks from each club must play. The first of the series started this morning, Campbellton and Dalhousie rinks playing in the first series. The local rink has been very tastefully decorated with flags of the Allies, bunting, etc., and the club rooms have been made bright and attractive. During the games the wives of the members are serving refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, cake and coffee, to players and visitors, and tonight, after the games, a banquet will be held in honor of the visiting curlers in the Oddfellows hall, at which one hundred and twenty-five covers will be laid. The games will be played morning, afternoon and evening, and the rink is open to visitors and citizens at all times, and all are invited to be present and watch the games. The first game of the series was started this morning between Dalhousie and Campbellton, and resulted as follows:

Dalhousie	Campbellton
Ben Bourque	A. McDonald
Sam Blanchard	J. T. Reid
F. A. Barbaric	Geo. F. Miles
D. T. Stewart	J. H. Wilson
Skip 10	Skip 19

As we go to press this afternoon, two more rinks of the Dalhousie-Campbellton series are being played and the Bathurst-Chatham series will start this evening.

WAR BULLETINS

The flag of Imperial Germany is to be hauled down today and the black flag of piracy hoisted in its stead. That is made plain by the announcement of Count Bernstorff, German Ambassador to the United States, that Germany proposes to enforce her proclamation of a war zone around the British Isles by sowing mines in British waters. This proves that she has little faith in establishing a blockade by submarines, and intends to blockade by planting mines, probably by setting them afloat by thousands to drift wherever the tides and currents may carry them. This means nothing short of discriminate murder on the greatest scale ever attempted in the history of marine warfare. A submarine attack may be postponed till after the crew of the attacking vessel warn the crew of the vessel attacked to leave their ship, but the mine strikes blindly at both neutral and belligerent, and destroys not only their ships, but the peaceful and unsuspecting sailors on board. London, Feb. 18th.—Canada's soldiers are hurried to fighting zone after safe arrival on continent. Statement was made in House of Commons by Mr. Tennant that up to end of January, there were 9,175 cases of frost bite among expeditionary forces. Zeppelin dirigible exploded on Wednesday over Danish Island of Francoe off the west coast of Jutland. British War office declares that allies have captured important German trenches. Enemy's attacks repulsed and several German officers are killed. Encouraging statement from Western war theatre. Nothing very definite from East but bitter fighting is reported from Berlin. Rome, Feb. 18th.—Many villages in Friuli region of the Italian Alps have disappeared from sight under snowfall of almost unprecedented extent for that locality. All of the mountain roads are impassable. On the high plateau of Fugazze on Austrian frontier snow is more than seven feet in depth. Copenhagen, Feb. 18th.—Wheat shortage in Germany was concealed until the last moment for fear of discouraging people. It is much greater than has hitherto been believed. Germany will only escape famine before next harvest by narrow margin.

GOOD RESPONSE TO RECRUITING CALL

Young Men Leave Here on Sunday Morning to Enlist in the 26th Battalion

It is a matter of congratulation that the spirit of patriotism still burns bright in the hearts of the young men in Restigouche. Already a number have volunteered for the new regiment of mounted infantry now being recruited, but for quick enlisting work, last week's happenings would be hard to beat. Last Friday at 11 a.m., Capt. A. T. LeBlanc received a wire from Major A. E. G. McKenzie, asking for ten good men for the second contingent at once. A bulletin was put up on the Graphic board at the Post Office, and by four in the afternoon, fourteen young men had applied to Capt. A. T. LeBlanc. These were examined and eleven accepted and sent on to St. John on Sunday morning's express, to join the 26th Battalion. Those who left on Sunday were:— James Gallant, Campbellton, Wm. Theriault, Dalhousie, Joseph Gallant, Campbellton, Joseph Gauthier, Dalhousie, John Arseneau, Campbellton, John Methot, Bonaventure, Wilfred Dechaine, Campbellton, John Vicaire, St. Anns de Restigouche, Etienne Poirier, Balmoral, Peter Ferlotte, Jacquet River, Morris Harkan, Campbellton. The young men from Dalhousie were in Campbellton at the time and enlisted here. Edmond Savoie of Dalhousie, who had also enlisted in Campbellton, left for St. John on the Thursday previous. There is not much need in saying anything about recruiting centres after the above is considered.

GOOD CARNIVAL HELD AT DALHOUSIE

Best of the Season Held on Tuesday Evening.—Some of the Dalhousie, N. B., 18th.—A very successful and what was considered the best Carnival of the season took place here on Tuesday night. There were a large number of spectators and about forty young people came down by special train from Campbellton. Mrs. Herbert Hocquard, as "Tipperary" received the ladies' prize, and a prize for the prettiest little girl's costume was awarded to Miss Dorothy Gallop, who represented "Bo-Peep". Some of the others who wore pretty and attractive costumes were:—Miss Alice Allain, The Banner Girl; Miss Bessie Delapay, Gypsy Maid; Miss Mary Lawlor, (Newcastle), British Officer; Miss Mary Methot, Japanese Girl; Miss Jean Simpson, The Allies; Miss Rinzier, Gypsy Queen; Miss Alma La-Billois, French Officer; Miss Minnie Shiverton, A Page; Miss Nettie Robinson, "Why"; Miss Cora Blanchard, A Little Page; Miss Beulah Gallop, Little Hay Maker; Miss Eileen Troy, and Miss Laura Franey, Buster Brown and Mary Jane; Miss Liza Wallace, A Highland Lassie; Miss Annie McInerney, Night; Miss Charlotte Barberie, A Little Peasant; Miss Violet McKay, and Miss Mattie Cook, Suffragettes. During the evening the Idies of St. Mary's Episcopal Church held a Bean Supper and were well patronized. The music for the Carnival was furnished by the young people's orchestra.

GASPE S. S. MATTER AGAIN BEFORE BOARD

Delegation Will Go to Ottawa
 Shortly to Press the Matter
 Before Parliament

The Gaspé S. S. service was again the matter of discussion at a meeting of the Board of Trade held last night, and an effort is to be made to have the semi-weekly service between Campbellton and Gaspé resumed this season. The meeting sanctioned the sending of a delegation to Ottawa to press this matter. A strong memorial has already been forwarded to the Department of Trade and Commerce in reference to this matter. The present company has made a proposition to the Board of Trade, which if successfully carried through, will mean a greatly improved service all along the coast.

(Chatham Gazette)
 Corp. Fred Alexander's many friends in Chatham as well as in other parts of the province will regret to hear that he had to leave the 1st Contingent in England on account of ill health and will return shortly to Canada. Mr. Alexander had shown much pluck and determination to get to the front with the contingent, but unfortunately was attacked by bronchitis while in England and this developed a former trouble in one of his lungs and as a result the doctors there would not let him go to the continent and he has been invalided home. His condition is not at all serious, his friends will be glad to learn, but the medical examiners would not consider work in the trenches. In the course of a cheerful letter sent home recently, Mr. Alexander stated that he might leave in a week or a month's time, he could not tell exactly. He sent along a recent copy of the Kaiser's will which is creating much merriment in England at the present time, and which is reproduced in another part of this issue.

FISHING MATTERS
UP IN THE HOUSE
Member for Bonaventure Interrogates Minister of Marine and Fisheries

Last Thursday Mr. Chas. Marcell, the member for Bonaventure took up in the House of Commons the matter of issuing licenses for the fishing of salmon in tidal waters. The question and Mr. Hazen's reply are given below.

Mr. CHARLES MARCELL: Mr. Speaker, will you allow me, on this motion, to ask a question of my hon. friend the Minister of Marine and Fisheries (Mr. Hazen) of some urgency to my constituency? I intended doing so yesterday, but the sudden adjournment of the House prevented me. It is regarding the issuing of licenses for salmon fishing in the tidal waters of Quebec. There is some doubt existing as to whether these licenses are to be issued by the provincial Government or by the Ottawa Government. Notices have appeared in the Canada Gazette, and I have received a number of letters on the point. I would ask the minister if he would kindly tell us how the matter stands.

Mr. HAZEN: I shall be very glad to give the information to my hon. friend from Bonaventure (Mr. Marcell). My hon. friend, with the courtesy which always distinguishes him, interrupted me yesterday when he would ask this question, and I had prepared a little statement so that the facts might be absolutely accurate. In 1898, in a reference known as the Fisheries Reference, to the Privy Council, a decision was given to the effect that whatever property interests in the fisheries were held by the different provinces prior to Confederation remained vested in them subsequent to it, but that the exclusive power to legislate or make regulations governing the conduct of the fisheries is vested in the Federal Government. As soon as that decision was given, or immediately afterwards, all the provinces claimed the fisheries, not only in the tidal as well as the non-tidal portions of all the rivers, but in the bays and in the three-mile limit as well. The officers of the department in Ottawa, however, contended that, while there was no question about the non-tidal fisheries being owned by the provinces, in tidal waters, no matter where situated, there is a public right of fishery controllable only by the Federal Government and Parliament.

At the time it was hoped that the outstanding question of jurisdiction in tidal waters could be settled amicably and all the provinces affected, except Quebec, agreed that pending a settlement of such question the Federal Government should continue to administer the fisheries in tidal waters as theretofore. It was finally arranged with Quebec that, pending such settlement, the jurisdiction of the fisheries on the south side of the river and gulf of St. Lawrence, and on the north side west of Point des Monts, would be handed over to the province, while the Federal Government would continue to administer the fisheries east of Point des Monts.

The negotiations with the provinces took much longer than was anticipated, and in 1908 British Columbia decided to act on the assumption that it possessed the property interests in the fisheries in tidal waters, and consequently started to require licenses from fishermen before they would be allowed to operate therein.

There were negotiations and finally a reference of certain questions to the court was agreed to with British Columbia, and these questions were so framed as to decide the matter in all the other sea-washed provinces. While the reference was with British Columbia, the other interested provinces, including Quebec, became intervenants. The Supreme Court upheld the contention of the Federal Government on every point and on appeal to the Privy Council the decision of the Supreme Court was fully sustained.

The decision of the Privy Council, in brief, is that there is in tidal waters, no matter where situated, a public right of fishery which is controllable only by the Federal Government.

Following this decision, the Department of the Naval Service took steps to assert the rights which they believed the Dominion possessed in so far as the control of fisheries in tidal waters was concerned and in consequence of this judgment of the Supreme Court and Privy Council the province of Quebec was requested to hand over to the Federal Government the administration of the tidal fisheries which had been handed over to it following the 1898 decision and pending a settlement of the question of right. Quebec declined to do so on the ground that as the reference was with British Columbia alone the judgment did not apply to that province, that Magna Charta does not apply in Quebec, and that there is no public right of fishery in the waters of Quebec. There was a good deal of correspondence between the department and the government at Quebec and it was pointed out in reply that while the issue was confined to British Columbia the Privy Council laid down certain principles of public law which apply to New Brunswick, Nova Scotia or Quebec equally as well as to British Columbia. During the course of the correspondence it was intimated in a letter written by the deputy minister to either the Deputy Minister of the Minister of Mines and Colonization in Quebec that if the province desired to enter into negotiations on the question we would be prepared to do so as we were acting under what we believed to be our absolute right under the law and we were willing to concede to Quebec the credit of doing the same thing. As the question must clearly be settled some way or other, we were willing to have a case stated and a further reference made to the courts so that there might be no further question about the matter and that the question should be settled as it must be settled one way or the other. We said that we were prepared to discuss the matter, but as there was no suggestion of favourable consideration of this course, the Federal Government decided that the only course open to it was to carry out the law as laid down by the Privy Council. Consequently, the department issued a notice stating that during the next fishing season licenses would be granted by the Federal Government to those who were fishing in tidal waters and intimated that any one fishing without such a license would be prosecuted and prevented from doing so. The Government of Quebec has issued a similar notice to the effect, I understand, that any one fishing in these waters must first obtain a license from the Province of Quebec. Our department, acting on what we believe to be the decision of the Privy Council—

Sir WILFRID LAURIER: In the case or the subsequent case?

Mr. HAZEN: The British Columbia case—acting on what we believe to be the decision of the Privy Council, which decision is applicable quite as much to Quebec as to British Columbia, and having also the strong opinion of the Department of Justice to the effect that it is the proper position to take, felt that it was our duty to assert the rights of the Dominion in these tidal waters. I feel, however, and prevented from doing so, that the matter is one in which the province of Quebec honestly maintains the position that it upholds at the present time and that the question will therefore have to be settled in the courts. If there is no agreement in the meantime, next year somebody will be fishing without a license from the Dominion Government, our officers will probably arrest him and have him fined and no doubt an appeal will go to the courts, or it may be taken up in another way through action by the Province of Quebec. It is not desirable that this matter should be left in a state of doubt and uncertainty and it is desirable that a stated case should be placed before the Privy Council as soon as possible. I am pleased to say that since this correspondence took place, within the last day or two, there has been some communication on the subject between the Attorney General of Quebec and the

(From the Gloucester Northern Light)
The Court House was the scene of a brilliant gathering of the youth and beauty of the County on last Tuesday night, when a County Ball, under the management of the local Patriotic Fund Society took place.

The Council Room was most effectively decorated with national emblems and presented an unusually attractive appearance. The gowns worn by the ladies were even more beautiful than usually seen at a function of this kind, making it impossible to give an adequate idea of their richness and beauty.

Music was furnished by McEachern's Orchestra, the programme consisting of twenty-four numbers with several extras, of all of which full advantage was taken.

The ladies of the executive committee of the Patriotic Society, acted as chaperons and had charge of the splendid collation which was served about midnight.

From a financial point of view the Ball was also a great success, the Committee's report reading as follows:—

FATAL ACCIDENT
AT RAILWAY YARD

Young Man Fell From Snow Train Last Thursday and Was Instantly Killed

A sad fatality occurred in the railway yard here Thursday evening, the victim being a young man named Fred Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith. The lad was employed as shoveller on a snow train. The train had hauled out of the yard and was returning, when it was brought to a sudden standstill, causing the unfortunate youth to lose his balance and fall between the cars, which passed over him, killing him almost instantly. Deceased was only 16 years of age. An inquest was held and the verdict of the coroner's jury was no blame attached to the railway employees.

CHATHAM GROWL

Chatham sent a strong hockey team to Campbellton on Friday for a friendly game with the boys of the North Shore town. The boys report a good time, but were none too well pleased at the unfair decisions handed out by Mr. Fraser, the referee. The score stood 9-4 in favor of Campbellton at finish of game—Gazette. "And it was ever thus."

HOCKEY AT FREDERICTON

The Ladies Hockey Club, after a most strenuous journey to Fredericton, were defeated by the ladies of Culture to the tune of 4 to 1, last Thursday evening. Revenge is sweet and the return game should be worth seeing here. We wonder what condition the Fredericton girls would be in if they had travelled from two o'clock in the morning till after six at night, and then went on the ice and played their match. How about it?

THE WAR TARIFF

In the House of Commons Friday, Finance Minister White announced an increase of 7 1/2 per cent, ad valorem in the general and intermediate schedules, and an increase of 5 per cent, ad valorem to the British preferential. The free list is practically wiped out. Every article heretofore free or dutiable is affected, with a half a dozen important exceptions.

Special War Revenue Tax.

The 'special war revenue tax', as it will be known, will include a tax of one per cent, annually upon the net circulation of banks to be computed and paid quarterly. One per cent, on the gross income of trust and loan companies. One per cent, on premiums received in Canada by all insurance associations except life, fraternal and marine companies, payments to be made quarterly.

For Telegraph and Cable Messages From-to-day the following taxes will be applied:

One cent on each telegraph or cable message originating in Canada, to be paid by the sender.

Five cents on each ticket costing over and not more than five dollars, and five cents for each additional five dollars or fraction of five dollars, on all railway and steamboat tickets to points in Canada, Newfoundland and the United States.

For each sleeping car berth sold in Canada ten cents tax and for each part of car seat ticket, five cents.

Upon steamship tickets to points other than in Canada, Newfoundland and the West Indies or the United States a tax of one dollar on each ticket costing over ten dollars, three dollars on tickets costing over thirty dollars, and five dollars on tickets costing over sixty dollars.

Stamp Taxes

The following stamp taxes are applied:

Two cents on each cheque, deposit receipt and bill of exchange, express order, post office order and bill of lading and upon each postal note a stamp tax of one cent.

Each letter or post card mailed in Canada must carry a war tax stamp of one cent.

Upon each package of proprietary or patent medicines and perfumery a stamp of one cent up to ten cents value, and one cent for each additional ten cents charges.

Non sparkling wines ten cents a quart.

Champagne and sparkling wines twenty-five cents a pint.

From the foregoing a revenue of $8,000,000 a year is expected.

There Will be no Income Tax

The increased customs charges are not to be applied to silk cambrics, velvets, ribbons, embroideries, wheat flour, tea, anthracite coal, Newfoundland fish, salt for curing fish, lines, twines, nets and hooks, reapers, mowers, binders, harvesters, binder twine, traction ditching machines, sugar, tobacco, newsprint paper, newspaper presses, type setters and casters.

Squid for bait and nicotine sulphate are added to the free list.

Annual revenue of $25,000,000 is expected from the increased duties.

SPRING RECRUITING

With regard to the war and recruiting, the Halifax Chronicle says:

Our own opinion still is that the war will not be of long duration. Further volunteers, we believe, can assure themselves of all the credit of being willing to serve their country's cause without anticipating the hardships and dangers which the pioneers of our forces have had to endure. For one thing the winter in France and Belgium is nearly over. Spring is already beginning. The first of March there, is almost as summer-like as the first of May in most parts of Canada.

Their early flowers begin to bloom by the middle of February. The present horrors of the trenches will largely have disappeared by the beginning of March. By the first of April, the roads and lands will have dried, and solidified. The trees will be coming into full leaf.

Now is the time, therefore, for free volunteering in Canada. A great and united effort, within a few weeks will become necessary for the driving of the Germans out of Belgium and France. After that probably only a comparatively short period of steady high pressure will be necessary to achieve complete success. When once the German forces have been flung back upon the Rhine, within their own territory, there is every reason to expect that the end of the war will speedily follow. Until the German people can be convinced that the Kaiser and the military caste surrounding him have been feeding them on falsehood and sustaining them with delusive hopes they will probably hold out. When once they have realized, by the carrying of the war into their own midst, how vain has been their faith there can be little doubt that they will rise in their might and put a speedy end to the war.

Indications are not lacking even now that the truth is beginning to dawn upon them. Let Canadians do all they can to contribute to their early and complete awakening from the hypnotic trance in which they have so long been kept by the criminal suggestions of their unscrupulous rulers.

THE WAR TAXES

The means by which Finance Minister White proposes to raise the money necessary to finance Canada in this time of stress are recognized by most people as the wisest that could be devised under the circumstances.

The country is faced with a shrinkage in revenue during the past year of about thirty-three million dollars, and the certainty of a larger decrease during the present year. The Government proposes the policy of continuing all public works already under way, but not entering on any new projects, so that the estimated expenditure for the year will fall not far short of what it was last year. This being the case, it is absolutely necessary that the revenue of the year be increased by approximately thirty-three million dollars, and this is just what the Finance Minister expects from his new war taxes and tariff increases.

The stamp taxes on cheques, bills of exchange, etc., will of course be annoying, the increased duties on most articles imported will seem heavy, and the war postage will mean a considerable drain on our pocket money, but we will be fortunate people indeed if the country's business can be conducted during the next year or two without a resort to more severe burdens, and there is no doubt that all the people will view the changes with a very satisfied eye.

There is one thing we should remember about the new taxes,—they are not expected to cover one cent of the expenditure, already amounting to $38,000,000 on the preparations made to do our share in the war. Parliament has voted the money, but it has been raised by a loan from the Imperial Government, which we or our children will some day have to pay, and has not been taken from revenue.

It would seem that our Government expects to be able to borrow from the Imperial Government all the money that will be needed for war expenditure while the war lasts, but when it is over, some way will have to be found for us to bear our own burden. Then business conditions will probably be improved and the necessary steps will be easier taken, as the markets of the world will again be open to us as they are not now.

Never has the medical profession declared so unequivocally against the drink evil, and for measures to eliminate it. During the past months words have been spoken, and action has been taken at the various medical association meetings, indicating that the doctors were preparing to throw themselves into the war against John Barleycorn. This rapidly growing sentiment found expression in the resolution passed by the Convention of Alienists and Neurologists of the United States which met in Chicago. The causes of the increasing number of cases of insanity were discussed, and the convention came to the conclusion that the leading cause of insanity was alcoholism which was held to be a positive factor, not only in filling hospitals for the insane, but also in crowding the prisons of the nation.

The convention urged upon physicians the responsibility for leading in the work of its eradication through education and legislation. While the alienists were holding their convention 1,403 of the 1,473 prisoners in Pennsylvania's eastern penitentiary signed a petition for state wide prohibition.

The petition is probably the strongest sociological argument ever made against the liquor traffic. Without a word or even a suggestion from Warden McKenty the prisoners signed their names. "It is unique, and the most manly document ever sent from a penal institution" was the terse comment of Warden McKenty. It is certainly a wonderful argument against the liquor traffic. It has been truly said "The liquor traffic is one of the greatest evils of the age", a constant menace to society. It has a most degrading effect upon the moral and physical condition of our race, has proved to be the leading incentive to crime, and is doing more to disqualify men for self government than all other influences combined. All other evils together will not destroy a tithe of the number of human lives, nor produce the moral degradation of society or the pauperism and crime in the community, if the destitution of families that will flow from liquor selling for the selfish end of private gain.

When the awful disaster of the going down of the Titanic with 1,503 persons was learned, every one was horror stricken. Yet the drink traffic carries down 1503 persons every eight days, with scarcely a comment in regard to it.

Some years ago, when a large theatre in one of the cities of the United States was burned and six hundred men, women and children were suffocated and roasted alive in one hour, hearts almost broke in sympathetic horror. Six hundred in one hour! Yet the saloons in that country murder six hundred every two days. Still the consciences of our nations sleep while, with ever increasing numbers, the awful procession moves on.

"GOOD-BYE, LADS."

Formidable Captain's Heroism.

"All the remainder of the Fleet scattered, but we stood by her till she went. We kept sweeping round in circles so as to make ourselves an awkward target to the submarine. The first time round we managed to get a line to a cutter, and got thirty-five hands out of her. The coxswain of the boat was a real good Britisher. He remained in the boat, calling to his crew to stand by him. He wanted to go back again for another boatload. He refused to come out until an officer went down and literally hauled him out, and he nearly cried because they wouldn't let him go back. What struck me most was the coolness of the captain of the Formidable. He stood there among the men, cheering them up and giving orders quite coolly. He was a 'white man.' The men had fallen in on the quarter-deck, smoking and quite orderly. The third and last time we steamed round we went right close to the Formidable, and endeavoured to get alongside her, but were unable to do so on account of the state of the sea. We laid off helpless to aid them, and at two minutes past six the poor old Formidable went down to Davy. The voice of the skipper could still be heard cheering up the men on the deck. Then we saw her settle down by the bows, heard the skipper yell out, 'Good-bye, lads. Every man for himself, and may God help you all.' His cool and calm voice seemed to reach miles. He was answered with a cheer from the men, and then—I am not ashamed to say that tears were in my eyes. Many others, too—the ship went to the bottom. The lads on the deck went down singing, 'Should Old Acquaintance be Forgotten?'"

When making fudge, always add the butter last, as it makes it very light and creamy.

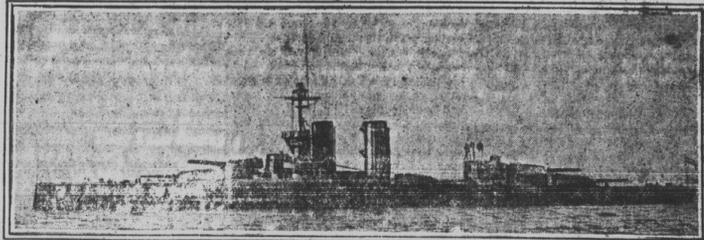

When making lemon pies use one grated potato to each pie instead of cornstarch, and you will find it quite delicious.

Always keep one needle threaded with white thread and one with black, and you will save many a stitch in time.

AUDACIOUS, THOUGHT SUNK, WAS SAVED AND TO REJOIN FLEET

THE AUDACIOUS

The Audacious, one of Great Britain's finest and most powerful battle ships of the superdreadnoughts, which was supposed to have been sunk in the North Sea, is reported to be safe in Belfast and will rejoin the guard fleet again. The mighty first line war vessel of the Royal Navy did not rise like Venus from the sea, as might be supposed from the reiterated reports of her destruction off the North Irish coast on October 27 last. In the light of the news received from England the Audacious, although badly crippled either by a German torpedo or mine, was not sunk. With her wounded hull bound in collision units and the gaping hole below the water line adequately plugged, she remained afloat and was safely guided into drydock, several hours in the wake of the Olympic, of the White Star Line, which put about in response to the battle ship's radio signal of distress. In conformity with the policy pursued by the British authorities regarding the disaster, however, no information relating to the re-commissioning of the Audacious will be published in the United Kingdom.

FATHER MIODOCHOWAJ LEDOCHOWSKI. Father Ledochowski is the newly elected General of the Society of Jesus in succession to Father Francis Xavier Werns. The election of Father Ledochowski, a Russian Pole, was the cause of much comment. Although the conclave for the election of the "Black Pope" was surrounded by the greatest secrecy, it is made to again transfer the supreme command of the society into Latin hands. The Spanish Father Martin was general of the Society of Jesus for many years under Pope Leo and Pope Pius X. When he was succeeded by Father Werns it was considered a great triumph for the German element.

$6,000 A DAY FROM PATRIOTIC FUND

Between Nine and Ten Thousand Soldiers' Families Are Being Assisted

How the five million dollar Canadian Patriotic Fund for the soldiers' wives is being raised and administered is explained in a comprehensive statement by Mr. H. B. Ames, honorary secretary of the fund. In his statement, which includes a record of the past five months, Mr. Ames says: "The breaking out of the great war has demonstrated, what no one ever doubted, that we in Canada are both a loyal and a generous people. Our loyalty has been shown by the ready response to the call for men to fight the Empire's battles, and our generosity has been demonstrated by the generous gifts to the various Patriotic funds."

Within a few days of the declaration of war, the British, French and Belgian Reservists left Canada to join the regiments of their respective countries. Many went on a few hours' notice.

Shortly afterwards Canada mobilized at Valcartier her first contingent of 33,000 men. Of these many had wives or dependents relying on them for support. Without hesitation all answered the call, taking it for granted, that if they risked their lives in our common defense, those who remained at home would care for their wives and children. Subsequent events have proved that this confidence was not misplaced. During August and September there sprung up, in all the principal centres throughout Canada, associations designed to care for dependents of the soldiers who went to the war. It was soon apparent, however, that there was great divergency of method among these organizations, also danger of overlapping in some places and neglect in others. Hence His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada, on the 26th of August issued a general appeal stating that a central Canadian Patriotic Fund had been formed at Ottawa, and asking that branches of this organization be formed in every city and town throughout the Dominion. This appeal met with ready response. The Act of Incorporation was passed by the War Parliament, and the new body given special duties and responsibilities. The movement has grown rapidly ever since.

By the end of 1914 the work of organization in respect of the National Fund had been in the main completed. Provincial branches had been formed and were operating satisfactorily in Nova Scotia, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia, and Prince Edward Island. Throughout Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick the city and county system had been inaugurated, each district dealing directly with the head office at Ottawa. These eastern branches, up to the middle of January, had sent in to the honorary treasurer of the fund, the Hon. W. T. White, about $2,350,000, while the total cash disbursements had amounted to about $550,000, leaving net cash resources available for future needs to the extent of $1,800,000. The several branches had collected further sums amounting to $400,000 which had been deposited at the capital of each province, and could be drawn upon only with the consent of the honorary treasurer of the National Fund. Furthermore, many communities are collecting one the instalment plan with a view to having a regular and a continuous source of revenue, and it is probable that before the calendar year of 1915 comes to an end the present receipts will have been doubled.

When money is raised by a branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund it is regarded as belonging to the corporation. It is usually transmitted as collected to the honorary treasurer. Each branch regularly sends to Ottawa a requisition for the estimated amount that will be required to meet the needs of the Relief Committee during the coming month, and when that amount has been expended, furnishes a detailed statement to the head office on a disbursement form with which it is supplied. In this way there is a continuous audit and it is always possible to determine how local relief committees are distributing their funds.

The Fund is not a charity. When the Empire is at war the duty of defence falls on every citizen. Each man should ask himself the question: Shall I fight or pay? Those who elect to fight and to risk their lives and health for the common cause are certainly doing their share. Those who remain at home and carry on business as usual, living comfortably, should assume the duty of making adequate provision for the soldiers' dependents. Be it remembered that the wife always has to give her consent before her husband can enlist. She knowingly faces the risk of becoming a widow or of having a disabled husband during the remainder of her life. As a widow she would receive a small Government pension, as the wife of a disabled soldier a still smaller annuity. She runs a great risk and should not require in addition to worry during the war about her daily bread. Formerly her husband or son was her breadwinner, today the Patriotic Fund simply takes his place and the pay envelope comes in regularly just the same.

It is hard to estimate the results which follow when the wives of the soldiers are being generously cared for throughout Canada. The men in

LIVING PORTRAITS OF OUR SOLDIERS

Unique Plan on Foot to Photograph the 26th Battalion at St. John

Through the activities of G. A. Margetts, St. John manager of the Universal Film Co., and W. H. Golding, of the Imperial Theatre, St. John, it is quite probable a "close-up" motion photograph of the 26th Battalion will be taken this week. The idea is to secure an intimate living portrait of an officer and man in our splendid ranks of volunteers, and not the usual "pre" or general view. To accomplish this unusual bit of picture-taking, the camera would have to be located at the centre of the street, and the soldiers march past it on either side, leaving a little lane in the centre. By this means every man's face would be recognizable and familiar to his friends and relatives, giving the 1,000-foot picture the "air" of individuality as well as that of a general review. The object of taking such a picture is to have it exhibited in every section of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island from which the volunteers come, so that relatives could have a glimpse of their brave lads at close range before they depart for the front. Furthermore, the film would be a valuable memento of the province's response to the Empire's call, and would in all probability find its way to the archives in Fredericton. If a telegram reaches St. John to-day from New York stating that the camera man is en route for St. John, an effort will be made to have Lieut. Governor Wood review his regiment during the photographing process. The whole scheme is a patriotic one and quite unique. It will cost close to $300, the expense to be borne by the young gentlemen back of it.

Col. McAvity has signified his willingness to lend every assistance in carrying out the details.

the trenches, receiving cheerful letters from home, will fight all the better in the knowledge that their dependents are well provided for. The woman who during her husband's absence, lives by this to maintain herself and children without anxiety, is the best recruiting agent that Canada can have, and we may need to exercise every influence if we are to keep our ranks full during a long war.

When one is travelling up and down the Dominion, meeting committees and discussing the details of the Patriotic Fund, one meets with many questions and some criticism. Probably you have those in your midst who have already voiced these ideas and it is well that you should be able to answer such persons.

There are those who allege that the Government should do this work, that it should pay the soldiers sufficiently to support their wives during their absence. To some extent the Government has already assumed a heavy responsibility towards the soldier's wives. In addition to giving the married soldier full pay, the wife or widowed mother also receives $20 per month by way of separation allowance. This will be, during 1915, equivalent to a Government subscription of $2,500,000. Moreover, a Governmental department cannot act as sympathetically as a local relief committee. After the Militia Department has given each beneficiary $20 per month, the Patriotic Fund adds the sum required to bring the family up to a decent and comfortable scale of living and private citizens whose hearts are in the work and whose business training causes them to adopt sound methods have been found to be most successful in administering this supplementary assistance.

At the present time it is estimated that between nine and ten thousand soldiers' families in various parts of Canada are being assisted from the Patriotic Fund. This involves a present expenditure of $6,000 per day. If the war continues and successive contingencies are called for, we may expect this demand to steadily increase. There is less danger of a surplus than of a call for renewed effort. At present we require $150,000 per month. This sum will shortly reach $200,000 and probably $250,000 per month before the end of the year. The National Committee will feel secure only so long as the monthly contributions coming in to the Central Fund are keeping pace with this monthly outgo.

From all appearances we are likely to have a long and terrible war. Canada is only beginning to send her contingents. The Prime Minister recently stated that no limit would be placed on the number of men that should go to the front. The Canadian contribution may reach 100,000 men or the number on overseas service may be even larger. We must, therefore, prepare for continuous help to the soldiers' dependents. Every part of Canada should share in carrying the common burden. Hence the work of organizing the Canadian Patriotic Fund must continue until there is not a town, village, hamlet or rural district in this entire Dominion which has not been asked and which has not responded to the call for help.

CHATHAM BOARD OF TRADE MAKES PROTEST

Against the Rotten Service Handed Out to Chatham by The I. C. R.

The railway service, or lack of service, was again discussed by the Board of Trade last week.

The attendance was small, owing to the fact, no doubt, that proper notice had not been given. Newspaper advertising of Board meetings has been dispensed with for some reason, and even postals which used to be mailed to remind members, and newspaper men of the date of meeting, have also apparently been done away with.

Mayor Tweedie spoke of seeing the passenger car for Loggieville, day after day, with several passengers on board standing for a half hour and longer in front of the Miramichi Foundry while the engine was engaged in shunting freight cars.

W. S. Loggie said it took two days to get freight to Blackville, Boiestown or Fredericton, as it was held up a day at Newcastle.

Mayor Tweedie said a traveller told him that the train stopped at Derby Junction while the conductor walked across the bridge and back.

Thos. Fitzpatrick—That's what they call the block system.

Some other discussion followed, in which R. Flanagan argued that if pressed strong enough, they would get the "Y" put in at Derby Junction.

Robert Murray condemned the business men of Chatham, and said they would rather curl than attend a meeting in their interests, such as this. The railway service is a gross outrage on the community, and is injurious to Nelson and Loggieville as well as to Chatham. We got our mail at 2.30 under the old system, and now we get it from 3.30 to 6. We could get our mail an hour or so sooner by stage from Newcastle, and I move that we memorialize the Postmaster General to send it down from there by train instead of by train.

Adopted.

It was argued by other speakers that Mr. Gutelius' policy was killing the town of Chatham.

J. L. Stewart said Chatham would never have prompt connection with the main line through Newcastle. It was impossible. They should agitate for a Y at Derby Junction and connection for the branch trains at that point. In the meantime, to lessen the inevitable delays at Newcastle, they should try to get a freight train between Loggieville and Newcastle.

The motion to appoint a delegation, to be selected by the President, was and, on motion of Mr. Murray, it was resolved to ask the President of the Commercial Travellers' Association to cooperate in the matter with the delegation.

If you ask any of the Hockey girls they will tell you that what is written above is not a whit too strong. Here is their experience. They waited at Campbellton station from 2 a.m. on Thursday morning till after four. They arrived at Newcastle 2 1/2 hours late and found the train for Fredericton gone, although it is supposed to wait to make connections with the Maritime. The rest of the day was spent travelling to Fredericton on a freight train, they arriving at their destination at 6.10 p.m. By a lucky chance one of the girls had a small box of sandwiches with her, sufficient to supply the needs of the girls in the party, and the train crew came down handily by supplying them with a welcome cup of tea even although they had to drink it out of tin dipers. The railway management certainly deserve all the hard things the girls are saying about it.

I. C. R. SOLDIERS DEMAND JUSTICE

Say Railway Management Has not Kept its Promise Made Before They Enlisted

A meeting of the I. C. R. employees who are members of the 26th Battalion was held at the armory, St. John last week. These men decided to ask Lieut. Colonel McAvity for an honorable discharge from the service unless the promises made by Mr. Gutelius, general manager of the I. C. R., in circular No. 16, regarding the enlistment of the I. C. R. men and were carried out.

The men say that in this circular it was agreed that I. C. R. employees who enlisted for active service should receive their I. C. R. pay while they were in the army, and should have their old positions on the railway when they return from the war.

At a previous meeting held at St. John a delegate was sent to Ottawa to interview Hon. F. Cochrane, minister of railways, in regard to this matter, and the men say that Hon. Mr. Cochrane told this delegate that while the married men might receive their pay, no single man would receive a cent, although a widowed mother or their relatives might receive part of the men's wages. The men say Mr. Cochrane ignored the Gutelius circular ar No. 16, and said very forcibly that he was not going to have his railway manned by a lot of cripples. The men recently sent a delegate to Moncton also, and they assert that Mr. Gutelius told this delegate that within a week he would be able to advise the I. C. R. men who had enlisted that they would receive their wages. They say that the week has gone by, but they have received no word from Mr. Gutelius. They expected a wire from him Jan. 27 but it did not come. The men insist that if the agreement contained in circular No. 16, is not carried out they have all been grossly deceived and should be entitled to honorable discharge. It is understood that the commanding officer agreed to take the matter up with Ottawa at once. At a meeting in Moncton the representatives decided to send the following message to each member of the Dominion Cabinet. "At a representative meeting of the Intercolonial shop and road employees, held at Moncton, February 5th, it was resolved that the Government be requested to see that the provisions of the general manager's circular, No. 16, as applying for employees enlisting for overseas service, be carried out in its entirety without further delay." -Leader.

THE BATTLE OFF THE FALKLAND ISLANDS

Meeting of vivid account of this historic Tuesday.

It is of special interest to Gloucester County readers, the Lieutenant is a brother of Gordon LeSecluer, who for five years lived at Caraquez and Lameque in the service of the Wm. Frung Co.

H.M.S. Invincible, at sea, making for Port Stanley, Thursday, Jan. 10th, 1914.

There is no doubt but that you will know full details of what I am about to tell you, long before you receive this. However, I am going to tell you, with the least detail as possible, exactly what has happened.

As you know by my last letter, we left England to revenge the loss of our ships the Good Hope and Monmouth, which had been sunk by the German squadron consisting of the Scharnhorst, Gneissau, Dresden, Leipzig and Nuremberg. These ships encountered and engaged our cruisers under the charge of Rear-Admiral Cradock—the Good Hope, Monmouth and Glasgow, and sank the first two in less than one hour, off Valparaiso, Chilean coast, South America, not seemingly even to trouble to save the survivors. All hands were lost. The Glasgow escaped.

Well, we were at the Orkneys, N. Scotland, at the time, and received orders that we were to proceed to the tropics to avenge them.

We changed Admirals, and Vice-Admiral Sturdee came on board and took command. During our heavy fight and preparations at Plymouth we lost no time, only staying there two days and coaling all night.

We left there on the 11th and finally reached St. Vincent, Cape Verde Isles, from which place I wrote you, I think.

We remained there only 24 hours, leaving again for the Albrachs Rocks, off the Brazilian coast, a lone rocky place totally uninhabited except for a lighthouse. There we coaled and met our collies. These were ordered to proceed for Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, near Cape Horn, South America, we leaving at the same time.

No news had yet reached us of the Germans. We at length arrived at Port Stanley on Monday, December 7th, having been one month practically at sea.

No news was received except that the German squadron was probably at Valparaiso. Another rumour said that they were making for the West Coast of Africa.

I went ashore at Port Stanley and had tea with the Chaplain, who had faintly been over meeting them. They had, however, had a wireless message from some unknown place warning them that the Germans were going to raid the islands on the Tuesday. This the Chaplain regarded as a huge joke. The old Canopus was inside the harbour, and was made into a veritable floating fortress, guarding the mouth of the harbour with her 12in. guns. Her crew was placing the shore into a defensive position, under the superintendence of the Capt. of Marines.

We prepared for coaling the next day, having over 1,500 tons to take in. At 5 a.m. on December 8th we commenced coaling along with the Inflexible, the cruisers Bristol, Glasgow and Kent having coaled before.

I was the officer of the watch. At 8 a.m. news came from the outposts on the heights of the Islands (all men of the Islands had formed an Island Volunteer Force) that the German cruisers were on the horizon 17 miles away and were approaching the island.

"I can assure you this was startling news, as they were the least expected, and I for one thought it was another 'mousetrap'." However, it soon became evident it was the truth, and we hurriedly threw everything—coal bags, barrows—back into the collier and she cast off.

We were prepared for action in record time. I've never seen a manoeuvre carried out so quickly from coal ship to fighting trim. Our fires were damped and we had no steam up, yet by 9.30 we were all under way all ships, and by 10 a.m. we sailed out of harbour in pursuit. The Canopus had previously fired seven rounds from her 12in. guns at the enemy, and this evidently somewhat startled and surprised them, keeping them at a distance.

We steamed out in this order: Invincible (Flagship), Inflexible, Cornwall, Kent, Carnarvon and the Bristol mines. These, composed our fleet opposed to the Germans mentioned above.

At 10.30 the enemy's ships appeared hull down on the horizon, like five streaks of black smoke, but it was evident we were overhauling them. Our ships were Inflexible were racing away from the other light cruisers of our fleet, leaving the next two (Cornwall and Kent) some way behind unable to keep up. We were doing then over 20 knots per hour. Away on our port beam was the little Bristol-gallop keeping level with us, and also the Carnarvon.

It then became a stern chase as the enemy were doing their utmost to escape, steaming dead away from us in a S.S.E. direction. Nevertheless, we still crept up, keeping on their port quarter for fear of their dropping mines, the danger which our Admiral was fully alive to.

At 12.30 p.m. the range was about 20,000 yards and their hulls were beginning to become distinct, also their funnels.

At 1.50 the range was about 10 miles or 17,000 yards. The Inflexible then began to fire her 4in. guns to pick up the range. At 2.5 p.m. the action began in earnest, and we engaged the Flagship Scharnhorst, the Inflexible taking the Gneissau, and our lighter cruisers engaging the enemy's light cruiser. In the fight I can then we must have drew off for a spell as we "checked fring."

I inquired what damage had been done, but could get no satisfactory reply.

We commenced again at 14,000 yards (about eight miles), closing in on the enemy, and the fun became fast and furious.

At 4 p.m. the turret trainer reported that the enemy had a heavy list to one side. I gazed through the telescope and saw her gradually heel over, till only her outline of her side and bottom were visible, the gun houses, fore top touching the sea. She remained like that about two seconds, then her stern sank in the water her bow raised in the air, and she slid beneath the waves. That was the last of one of Germany's proudest and best ships, the Scharnhorst.

I cannot describe the feelings of the men and myself just then; we felt like cheering like mad. Though we were nearly all deaf and our heads splitting from the tremendous firing and the fumes of cordite in the gun houses.

The respite only lasted a very short, only dimly describe what happened, as being officer of the marine turret I was inside the whole time firing the enemy was reported on fire. The men behaved just splendidly and I felt proud of them.

This was real fighting and no mistake. We could feel the enemy's shells strike our ship, making her tremble beneath our feet. However, we fired continuously for about one hour, not knowing what was going on, till we then received orders to engage the Gneissau. We began at about 15,000 yards, gradually closing. This ship fought yet better than the first and her shells could be heard screaming overhead, occasionally plunging into the ship and in the water. Her firing was marvellously good. One fell close to our turret, as we had a message through asking if we were alright. We replied, "Yes".

At 5 p.m. we were still fighting hard, though not so fast. The enemy appeared to be slackening her fire and we were drawing closer to her.

Our guns were now nearly red hot and the splashes of the water from the enemy's shells fell on the guns and formed steam, which prevented sometimes our chaps from firing. The smoke from one of our funnels was also a great nuisance. We must have been steaming at a tremendous speed during that period.

At 5.45 the range was about 9,000 yards and I could see the end was approaching. A short time after the enemy was reported on fire. At 6 o'clock we fired some of our last shots, some of them beauties, perfect hits on the waterline.

We received then the order to cease firing, but to stand by to recommence at once if necessary.

Of course, I could see nothing from where I was, but I again looked through the trainer's telescope and I saw the Gneissau heeling over like the other. She sank in about two minutes exactly in the same way as the other.

We had steamed far away from the others and we immediately rushed on deck and saw where survivors we could save. They could be seen plainly in the water, hundreds of the poor devils, clinging to bits of wood, hammocks, buoys, etc. We steamed as close to them as possible and lowered what boats we could. Most of them had been shot through and were unserviceable. We threw over lifebuoys, etc., and started to haul them over the side.

The Carnarvon and Inflexible also stood by and lowered boats. The water was icy cold and the poor wretches were half dead already and could not grasp anything. Many I saw floating by dead as a doornail with their legs and face in the water, their middle supported by a hammock or wood.

We stood by until no more could be seen, and immediately tended the saved and wrapped them in blankets and warm clothing. We saved of them. I never wish to see such a sight again. It was heartrending to hear their cries and moans for help, and we could do scarcely anything for them so quickly. They could be seen for one minute, the next they were gone, frozen by the cold.

The Inflexible saved 100, I believe. We then, seeing nothing more could be done, straightened up everything on the upper deck and proceeded on. It was then about 9 p.m. I then walked around the ship to see the damage, and I could scarcely believe my eyes. It was incredible, whole cabins simply blown away. Great holes in the ship's side and deck as big as a hot and cart. Great 4in guns simply cut in halves. One of our masts shot nearly away, and only standing by a shred. The wardroom was a picture, absolutely everything blown away, and the smallest book alashed or riddled, and a tremendous hole in the centre. The piano was knocked to atoms. The ship had been hit below the waterline, and we have taken in water in the bunkers, and have a great line on one side. The inside of the ship is a picture, I assure you, and the miracle and most marvellous of wonders, not one man killed or wounded on board. Not one. It's the most marvellous thing in creation, and passes my understanding.

How the ship could be knocked in such a state, riddled through and through, with over 1,000 men on board, and not a single casualty.

This is the second action the old Invincible has been in, and it was the same at Heligoland. Truly we are H.M.S. "Unwoundable" as well as Inflexible. Being flagship we bore the whole brunt of the fighting, and we came out scot free, owing to the Admiral's strategy of taking advantage of our superior speed and gun range, being able to hit the enemy without being scarcely in her range.

We received information that the little Glasgow had engaged Valparaiso by sinking the Leipzig, so on 2 p.m. yesterday we knew that three out of the five Germans were beneath the waves. Last night we again received news that the Kent had had a hard fight, and that the Nuremberg was sunk, so on the way to Port Stanley the German squadron only the Dresden had escaped, and we have chased her. She is still being chased; there's not much hope for her.

Yesterday we buried 15 of the Germans who were saved and had died through exposure and wounds, giving them full naval honours, and the Burial Service at sea, having a Marine firing party, etc. Those prisoners who cared could come up to see the last of their comrades as they were dropped over the side weighted with shot.

The prisoners on board now—60—are very comfortable, we are treating them very well. One officer who was saved, the doctor of the Gneissau said our firing was terrible and terrific. Out of 1,000 men on the Gneissau over 400 were killed by gun-fire; their heads, arms, legs and bodies simply cut and smashed to atoms, and their shells used to carry and blow up the whole deck and side of the ship at a time. It must have been the same on the Scharnhorst.

This has been the biggest and most important action of the war, as it liberates the whole world from the dread of the German squadron. Over 70 ships were out chasing them, and it's funny indeed how we had only arrived one day when they fell into our hands.

The officers (prisoners) say they had no idea that we were anywhere but in England, and that they had been to the east coast of America simply to pick up volunteers (besides her crew the Scharnhorst had 600 volunteers). With these the German squadron, they were sent to Port Stanley and used it as a base, fortifying the island and landing these volunteers. Had we been one day later, or had we delayed on our way, what a different thing might have happened. Instead of the Germans it would have been us under the waves, and we would have blundered into a hostile harbour ignorant of the fact and presence of the Germans, and simply all blown up by their ships and mines. However, luck again, and such was not the case.

Now, I've given you a brief account of what has occurred. Keep this letter. You can let the Jersey papers publish the account. It's absolutely correct. I do not know the casualties on board our other ships. I know the Kent has plenty, especially Marines. But for us, wonder of wonders, thank God we are all safe, and gave thanks.

FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN

As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Dispelled, Backache, Headaches and Dizziness.

Piqua, Ohio.—"I would be very grateful if I failed to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the praise it deserves, for I have taken it at different times and it always relieved me when other medicines failed, and when I hear a woman complain I always recommend it. Last winter I was attacked with a severe case of organic weakness. I had backache, pains in my hips and over my kidneys, headache, dizziness, lassitude, bad digestion, limbs ached and I was always tired. I was hardly able to do my housework. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on one other occasion, and it had helped me so I took it again and it has built me up, until now I feel like a new woman. You have my hearty consent to use my name and testimonial in any way and I hope it will benefit suffering women."—Mrs. ORPHEA TURNER, 421 S. Wayne St., Piqua, Ohio.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

giving after the action. We are making for Port Stanley to try and patch up our holes somehow and pump the water out.

The prisoners are going to be sent home on a collier, the Crown of Galicia. I hope I shan't be in charge. This mail will doubtless go by same boat. We will then probably make for Gibraltar or back home to dock and ammunition if necessary. I must now close, mother, as I've to write a report (officially) of the part of which I was in charge during the action.

This old ship has been in two actions of the war, both successfully, and there are five German ships I've seen sink. Now, I must close, thanking God I'm quite well, happy, though not exactly comfortable, having an old plank for a table.

There is a young cadet named Malet de Carteret on the Canopus in Port Stanley. I think we are the only two Jersey people in the fleet.

P.S.—Just received news from the King congratulating officers and men on our victory.

COUNCIL MEETING ON TUESDAY EVENING

Routine Matters Mainly Before
the Council.—List of Tax Defaulters to be Prepared

A meeting of the Town Council was held on Tuesday evening in the Council Chambers. His Worship Mayor Andrew presiding. There were also present, Councillors Patterson, Miller, Goss, McLean, Ellsworth, Quinn and Evans. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.
Communication read from Mr. J. A.
Benoit regarding Mr. St. Pierre's recent letters to the Council. Letter ordered placed on file and the clerk instructed to obtain further information.
Councillor Alexander entered the meeting.
The following report recommending payment of accounts were received and adopted:
Public Property & Streets $447.39
Finance 15.32
Fire Protection 35.81
Electric Light 194.73
Public Charities 80.00
Water & Sewerage 135.91
Police & License 9.50
Councillor Ellsworth from the Assessment and Appeals Committee reported regarding the application of Belyea & Trueman for reduction of assessment and recommended that the Assessors made an error in the number of lots owned by them, assessing them on 60 lots when they only really owned 42 lots, that their assessment be reduced from $12,000 to $8,400. Report was received and adopted.
Annual Reports were received from the following departments and on motion were received and ordered to be printed in the year book, viz: Public Charities, Public Property and Streets,
Fire Protection, Water and Sewerage,
Police Report of Chief Hughes.
His Worship reminded the Council that the ladies of the Women's Institute had a sum on hand for the purpose of providing trees for the streets in the town. This matter would come under the operation of the Education and Improvement Committee and Councillor McLean thought that Councillor Patterson would be the best man to handle this project. On motion Councillor Patterson and McLean were appointed a committee to look into the cost of trees and report back to Council.

The question was brought up in Council if it was the purpose of the Finance Committee to publish the names of defaulters this year. Nothing had yet been done in this matter and it was resolved to instruct the Town Treasurer to prepare a list of defaulters for the purposes of publication.
On motion the clerk was instructed to reply to Mrs. Stewart, Montreal, that the town were not in a position to purchase the bonds recently offered for sale.
After a question regarding defaulters had been asked by Councillor Goss, the Council adjourned.

CORP. F. ALEXANDER WILL RETURN HOME

Wet Weather in Salisbury Camp
Has Developed Former Throat Trouble

(Chatham Gazette)
Corp. Fred Alexander's many friends in Chatham as well as in other parts of the province will regret to hear that he had to leave the 1st Contingent in England on account of ill health and will return shortly to Canada. Mr. Alexander had shown much pluck and determination to get to the front with the contingent, but unfortunately was attacked by bronchitis while in England and this developed a former trouble in one of his lungs and as a result the doctors there would not let him go to the continent and he has been invalided home. His condition is not at all serious, his friends will be glad to learn, but the medical examiners would not consider work in the trenches.

In the course of a cheerful letter sent home recently, Mr. Alexander stated that he might leave in a week or a month's time, he could not tell exactly. He sent along a recent copy of the Kaiser's will which is creating much merriment in England at the present time, and which is reproduced in another part of this issue.

NORTH SHORE CURLERS CONGREGATING HERE

Four Rinks From Each North
Shore Club Curling Here
This Week

Chatham, Newcastle, Bathurst and Dalhousie curlers are here in force today to participate in the play for the North Shore Trophy, which the Campbellton curlers won from Campbellton last season. Four rinks from each club must play.
The first of the series started this morning, Campbellton and Dalhousie rinks playing in the first series.
The local rink has been very tastefully decorated with flags of the Allies, bunting, etc., and the club rooms have been made bright and attractive.
During the games the wives of the members are serving refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, cake and coffee, to players and visitors, and tonight, after the games, a banquet will be held in honor of the visiting curlers in the Oddfellows hall, at which one hundred and twenty-five covers will be laid.
The games will be played morning, afternoon and evening, and the rink is open to visitors and citizens at all times, and all are invited to be present and watch the games.
The first game of the series was played this morning between Dalhousie and Campbellton, and resulted as follows:
Dalhousie Campbellton
Ben Bourque A. McDonald
Sam Blanchard J. T. Reid
F. A. Barbare Geo. F. Myles
D. T. Stewart J. H. Wilson

As we go to press this afternoon, two more rinks of the Dalhousie-Campbellton series are being played and the Bathurst-Chatham series will start this evening.

WAR BULLETINS

The flag of Imperial Germany is to be hauled down today and the black flag of piracy hoisted in its stead.
That is made plain by the announcement of Count Bernstorff, German Ambassador to the United States, that Germany proposes to enforce her proclamation of a war zone around the British Isles by sowing mines in British waters. This proves that she has little faith in establishing a blockade by submarines, and intends to blockade by planting mines, probably by setting them afloat by thousands to drift wherever the tides and currents may carry them. This means nothing short of discriminate murder on the greatest scale ever attempted in the history of marine warfare. A submarine attack may be postponed till after the crew of the attacking vessel warn the crew of the vessel attacked to leave their ship, but the mine strikes blindly at both neutral and belligerent, and destroys not only their ships, but the peaceful and unsuspecting sailors on board.
London, Feb. 18th.—Canada's soldiers are hurried to fighting zone after safe arrival on continent. Statement was made in House of Commons by Mr. Tennant that up to end of January, there were 9,175 cases of frost bite among expeditionary forces.
Zeppelin dirigible exploded on Wednesday over Danish Island of Franoe off the west coast of Jutland.
British War office declares that allies have captured important German trenches. Enemy attacks repulsed and several German officers are killed.
Encouraging statement from Western war theatre. Nothing very definite from East but bitter fighting is reported from Berlin.
Rome, Feb. 18th.—Many villages in Friuli region of the Italian Alps have disappeared from sight under snowfall of almost unprecedented extent for that locality. All of the mountain roads are impassable. On the high plateau of Fugazze on Austrian frontier snow is more than seven feet in depth.
Copenhagen, Feb. 18th.—Wheat shortage in Germany was concealed until the last moment for fear of discouraging people. It is much greater than has hitherto been believed. Germany will only escape famine before next harvest by narrow margin.

GOOD RESPONSE TO RECRUITING CALL

Young Men Leave Here on Sunday Morning to Enlist in the 26th Battalion

It is a matter of congratulation that the spirit of patriotism still burns bright in the hearts of the young men in Restigouche. Already a number have volunteered for the new regiment of mounted infantry now being recruited, but for quick enlisting work, last week's happenings would be hard to beat. Last Friday at 11 a.m., Capt.
A. T. LeBlanc received a wire from Major A. E. G. McKenzie, asking for ten good men for the second contin-gent at once. A bulletin was put up on the Graphic board at the Post Office, and by four in the afternoon, fourteen young men had applied to Capt. A. T. LeBlanc. These were examined and eleven accepted and sent on to St. John on Sunday morning's express, to join the 26th Battalion.
Those who left on Sunday were:—
James Gallant, Campbellton,
Wm. Theriault, Dalhousie,
Joseph Gallant, Campbellton,
Joseph Gauthier, Dalhousie,
John Arseneau, Campbellton,
John Methot, Bonaventure, Wilfred Dechaine, Campbellton,
John Vicaire, St. Ann's de Restigouche,
Etienne Poirier, Balmoral,
Peter Perlotto, Jacques River,
Morris Harkan, Campbellton.
The young men from Dalhousie were in Campbellton at the time and enlisted here. Edmond Savoie of Dalhousie, who had also enlisted in Campbellton, left for St. John on the Thursday previous.
There is not much need in saying anything about recruiting centres after the above is considered.

PARIS, FEB. 18TH.—New offensive movement by allies now extends over the greater part of battle line and naval attacks have been delivered at half a dozen different places. Gains made by French in Champagne dis- trict are considered unusually import- ant because of nearness of French to German lines of communications just now. German prisoners in that por- tion of field were suffering from lack of food and exposure. Petrograd, Feb. 18.—On right bank of Vistula, fighting has been going on in almost the same localities with great ferocity in certain sections. No change in Bukovina. Buenos Ayres, Feb. 18th.—Four British steamers and British schooner of total tonnage of 11874 have been sunk off east coast of South America by German converted cruiser, Kron- prinz Wilhelm, which before the war was North German Lloyd liner. Ger- man cruiser Holger, which arrived last night, brought 314 persons, com- posing crews of destroyed ships.

The Gaspé S. S. service was again the matter of discussion at a meeting of the Board of Trade held last night, and an effort is to be made to have the semi-weekly service between Campbellton and Gaspé resumed this season.
The meeting sanctioned the sending of a delegation to Ottawa to press
this matter.
A strong memorial has already been forwarded to the Department of Trade and Commerce in reference to this matter.
The present company has made a proposition to the Board of Trade, which if successfully carried through,
will mean a greatly improved service

FISHING MATTERS

UP IN THE HOUSE

Member for Bonaventure Interrogates Minister of Marine and Fisheries

Last Thursday Mr. Chas. Marcell, the member for Bonaventure took up in the House of Commons the matter of issuing licenses for the fishing of salmon in tidal waters.

Mr. CHARLES MARCELL: Mr. Speaker, will you allow me, on this motion, to ask a question of my hon. friend the Minister of Marine and Fisheries (Mr. Hazen) of some urgency to my constituency?

Mr. HAZEN: I shall be very glad to give the information to my hon. friend from Bonaventure (Mr. Marcell). My hon. friend, with the courtesy which always distinguishes him, intimated to me yesterday that he would ask this question, and I had prepared a little statement so that the facts might be absolutely accurate.

In 1898, in a reference known as the Fisheries Reference, to the Privy Council, a decision was given to the effect that whatever property interests in the fisheries were held by the different provinces prior to Confederation remained vested in them subsequent to it.

At the time it was hoped that the outstanding question of jurisdiction in tidal waters could be settled amicably and all the provinces affected, except Quebec, agreed that pending a settlement of such question the Federal Government should continue to administer the fisheries in tidal waters.

The negotiations with the provinces took much longer than was anticipated, and in 1908 British Columbia decided to act on the assumption that it possessed the property interest in the fisheries in tidal waters, and consequently started to require licenses from fishermen before they would be allowed to operate therein.

There were negotiations and finally a reference of certain questions to the court was agreed to with British Columbia, and these questions were so framed as to decide the matter in all the other sea washed provinces.

The decision of the Privy Council, in brief, is that there is in tidal waters, no matter where situated, a public right of fishery which is controllable only by the Federal Government.

MIRACULOUS CURE OF ASTHMA

Suffered Terribly for 15 Years Until He Tried "Fruit-a-tives"

D. A. WHITE, Esq. 21 WALLACE AVE., TORONTO, Dec. 22nd. 1913.

"Having been a great sufferer from Asthma for a period of fifteen years (sometimes having to sit up at night for weeks at a time) I began the use of 'Fruit-a-tives'. These wonderful tablets relieved me of Indigestion, and through the continued use of same, I am no longer distressed with that terrible disease, Asthma, thanks to 'Fruit-a-tives' which are worth their weight in gold to anyone suffering as I did. I would heartily recommend them to all sufferers from Asthma, which I believe is caused or aggravated by Indigestion."

For Asthma, for Hay Fever, for any trouble caused by excessive nervousness due to Impure Blood, faulty Digestion or Constipation, take "Fruit-a-tives". 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

had been handed over to it following the 1898 decision and pending a settlement of the question of right. Quebec declined to do so on the ground that as the reference was with British Columbia alone the judgment did not apply to that province, that Magna Charta does not apply in Quebec, and that there is no public right of fishery in the waters of Quebec.

A good deal of correspondence between the department and the government at Quebec and it was pointed out in reply that while the issue was confined to British Columbia the Privy Council laid down certain principles of public law which apply to New Brunswick, Nova Scotia or Quebec equally as well as to British Columbia.

The negotiations with the provinces took much longer than was anticipated, and in 1908 British Columbia decided to act on the assumption that it possessed the property interest in the fisheries in tidal waters, and consequently started to require licenses from fishermen before they would be allowed to operate therein.

There were negotiations and finally a reference of certain questions to the court was agreed to with British Columbia, and these questions were so framed as to decide the matter in all the other sea washed provinces.

The decision of the Privy Council, in brief, is that there is in tidal waters, no matter where situated, a public right of fishery which is controllable only by the Federal Government.

Following this decision, the Department of the Naval Service took steps to assert the rights which they believed the Dominion possessed in so far as the control of fisheries in tidal waters was concerned and in consequence of this judgment of the Supreme Court and Privy Council the province of Quebec was requested to hand over to the Federal Government the administration of the tidal fisheries which

COUNTY PATRIOTIC BALL A GREAT SUCCESS

Large Number Attend and Report it the Most Enjoyable Social Event of the Season

(From the Gloucester Northern Light) The Court House was the scene of a brilliant gathering of the youth and beauty of the County on last Tuesday night, when a County Ball, under the management of the local Patriotic Fund Society took place.

The Council Room was most effectively decorated with national emblems and presented an unusually attractive appearance. The gowns worn by the ladies were even more beautiful than usually seen at a function of this kind, making it impossible to give an adequate idea of their richness and beauty.

Music was furnished by McEachern's Orchestra, the programme consisting of twenty-four numbers with several extras, of all of which full advantage was taken.

The ladies of the executive committee of the Patriotic Society, acted as chaperons and had charge of the splendid collation which was served about midnight.

From a financial point of view the Ball was also a great success, the Committee's report reading as follows:

Table with RECEIPTS and EXPENDITURES columns. RECEIPTS: 84 tickets & $2.00 = $168.00. EXPENDITURES: Orchestra 35.00, Printing 3.75, Sundry expenses 4.25 = $43.00.

Deceased was only 16 years of age.

THE "BEN CRUACHEN" KNOWN IN N. B., TORPEDOED (From the Gloucester Northern Light) One of the four British vessels sunk by German submarines in the Irish Sea a week ago was the "Ben Cruachen". This vessel has often been in Northern New Brunswick ports, and for eight years Capt. Thos. Loudon, now residing in this town, occupied the position of Chief Engineer on the ill-fated boat.

READY IN MARCH Ottawa, Feb. 15.—A misapprehension apparently exists as to operation of the new stamp taxes, and people already are posting letters with three cents postage and postal cards with two cents. The new stamps are not to be called for until about the middle of March. They are now being engraved. The color will be gold, with the picture of King George and the words "Inland Revenue War Tax." This stamp will be used on cheques, etc., but whether the same design will be utilized for letters or a special one be got up by the Post Office Department is not yet decided. The denominations will range from one to fifty cents.

THE WAR TARIFF

In the House of Commons Friday, Finance Minister White announced an increase of 7 1/2 per cent, ad valorem in the general and intermediate schedules, and an increase of 5 per cent, ad valorem to the British preferential.

Special War Revenue Tax.

The 'special war revenue tax', as it will be known, will include a tax of one per cent, annually upon the net circulation of banks to be computed and paid quarterly.

For Telegraph and Cable Messages From to-day the following taxes will be applied:

One cent on each telegraph or cable message originating in Canada, to be paid by the sender.

Five cents on each ticket costing over and not more than five dollars, and five cents for each additional five dollars or fraction of five dollars, on all railway and steamboat tickets to points in Canada, Newfoundland and the United States.

For each sleeping car berth sold in Canada ten cents tax and for each part of car seat ticket, five cents.

Upon steamship tickets to points other than in Canada, Newfoundland and the West Indies or the United States a tax of one dollar on each ticket costing over ten dollars, three dollars on tickets costing over thirty dollars, and five dollars on tickets costing over sixty dollars.

Stamp Taxes

The following stamp taxes are applied:

Two cents on each cheque, deposit receipt and bill of exchange, express order, post office order and bill of lading and upon each postal note a stamp tax of one cent.

Each letter or post card mailed in Canada must carry a war tax stamp of one cent.

Upon each package of proprietary or patent medicines and perfumery a stamp of one cent up to ten cents value, and one cent for each additional ten cents charges.

Non sparkling wines ten cents a quart.

Champagne and sparkling wines twenty-five cents a pint.

From the foregoing a revenue of $8,000,000 a year is expected.

There Will be no Income Tax

The increased customs charges are not to be applied to silk cambrics, velvets, ribbons, embroideries, wheat flour, tea, anthracite coal, Newfoundland fish, salt for curing fish, lines, twines, nets and hooks, reapers, mowers, binders, harvesters, binder twine, traction ditching machines, sugar, tobacco, ewaprint paper, newspaper presses, type setters and casters.

Squid for bait and nicotine sulphate are added to the free list.

Annual revenue of $25,000,000 is expected from the increased duties.

SPRING RECRUITING

With regard to the war and recruiting, the Halifax Chronicle says:

Our own opinion still is that the war will not be of long duration. Further volunteers, we believe, can assure themselves of all the credit of being willing to serve their country's cause without anticipating the hardships and dangers which the pioneers of our forces have had to endure.

solidified. The trees will be coming into full leaf.

Now is the time, therefore, for free volunteering in Canada. A great and united effort, within a few weeks will become necessary for the driving of the Germans out of Belgium and France. After that probably only a comparatively short period of steady high pressure will be necessary to achieve complete success.

Indications are not lacking even now that the truth is beginning to dawn upon them. Let Canadians do all they can to contribute to their early and complete awakening from the hypnotic trance in which they have so long been kept by the criminal suggestions of their unscrupulous rulers.

THE WAR TAXES

The means by which Finance Minister White proposes to raise the money necessary to finance Canada in this time of stress are recognized by most people as the wisest that could be devised under the circumstances.

The country is faced with a shrinkage in revenue during the past year of about thirty-three million dollars, and the certainty of a larger decrease during the present year. The Government proposes the policy of continuing all public works already under way, but not entering on any new projects, so that the estimated expenditure for the year will fall not far short of what it was last year.

The stamp taxes on cheques, bills of exchange, etc., will of course be annoying, the increased duties on most articles imported will seem heavy, and the war postage will mean a considerable drain on our pocket money, but we will be fortunate people indeed if the country's business can be conducted during the next year or two without a resort to more severe burdens, and there is no doubt that all the people will view the changes with a very satisfied eye.

There is one thing we should remember about the new taxes,—they are not expected to cover one cent of the expenditure, already amounting to $38,000,000 on the preparations made to do our share in the war. Parliament has voted the money, but it has been raised by a loan from the Imperial Government, which we or our children will some day have to pay, and has not been taken from revenue.

It would seem that our Government expects to be able to borrow from the Imperial Government all the money that will be needed for war expenditure while the war lasts, but when it is over, some way will have to be found for us to bear our own burden. Then business conditions will probably be improved and the necessary steps will be easier taken, as the markets of the world will again be open to us as they are not now.

Never has the medical profession declared so unequivocally against the drink evil, and for measures to eliminate it. During the past months words have been spoken, and action has been taken at the various medical association meetings, indicating that the doctors were preparing to throw themselves into the war against John Barleycorn.

The convention urged upon physicians the responsibility for leading in the work of its eradication through education and legislation. While the alienists were holding their convention 1,003 of the 1,478 prisoners in Pennsylvania's eastern penitentiary signed a petition for state wide prohibition.

The petition is probably the strongest sociological argument ever made against the liquor traffic. Without a word or even a suggestion from Warden McKenty the prisoners signed their names. "It is unique, and the most manly document ever sent from a penal institution" was the terse comment of Warden McKenty. It is certainly a wonderful argument against the liquor traffic.

When the awful disaster of the going down of the Titanic, with 1,503 persons was learned, every one was horror stricken. Yet the drink traffic carries down 1503 persons every eight days, with scarcely a comment in regard to it.

Some years ago, when a large theatre in one of the cities of the United States was burned and six hundred men, women and children were suffocated and roasted alive in one hour, hearts almost broke in sympathetic horror. Six hundred in one hour! Yet the saloons in that country murder six hundred every two days. Still the consciences of our nations sleep while, with ever increasing numbers, the awful procession moves on.

Formidable Captain's Heroism.

A seaman of the light cruiser Topaze sends (says the Daily Telegraph) a vivid description of the last moments of the battleships Formidable, which was torpedoed in the Channel. The Topaze was the last of a line of ships, and at ten minutes past two in the morning the bugle sounded "Action." Tumbling on deck, the writer saw that the Formidable had dropped out of the line and had a heavy list to starboard. At half-past two her boilers exploded, and all her lights went out.

"All the remainder of the Fleet scattered, but we stood by her till she went. We kept sweeping round in circles so as to make ourselves an awkward target to the submarine. The first time round we managed to get a line to a cutter, and got thirty-five hands out of her. The coxswain of the boat was a real good Britisher. He remained in the boat, calling to his crew to stand by him. He wanted to go back again for another boatload. He refused to come out until an officer went down and literally hauled him out, and he nearly cried because they wouldn't let him go back. What struck me most was the coolness of the captain of the Formidable. He stood there among the men, cheering them up and giving orders quite coolly. He was a 'white man.' The men had fallen in on the quarter-deck, smoking and quite orderly. The third and last time we steamed round we went right close to the Formidable, and endeavoured to get alongside her, but were unable to do so on account of the state of the sea. We laid off helpless to aid them, and at two minutes past six the poor old Formidable went down to Davy. The voice of the skipper could still be heard cheering up the men on the bows, heard the skipper yell out, 'Good-bye, lads. Every man for himself, and may God help you all.' His cool and calm voice seemed to reach miles. He was answered with a cheer from the men, and then—I am not ashamed to say that tears were in my eyes and in many others, too—the ship took the final plunge. The lads on her deck went down singing, "Should Auld Acquaintance be Forgot?"

FATHER WLADIMIR LEDOCZOWSKI Father Ledochowski is the newly elected General of the Society of Jesus. In succession to Father Francis Xavier Wernz. The election of Father Ledochowski, a Russian Pole, was the cause of much comment. $6,000 A DAY FROM PATRIOTIC FUND

How the five million dollar Canadian Patriotic Fund for the soldiers' wives is being raised and administered is explained in a comprehensive statement by Mr. H. B. Ames, honorary secretary of the fund. In his statement, which includes a record of the past five months, Mr. Ames says:

The breaking out of the great war has demonstrated, what no one ever doubted, that we in Canada are both a loyal and a generous people. Our loyalty has been shown by the ready response to the call for men to fight the Empire's battles, and our generosity has been demonstrated by the generous gifts to the various Patriotic funds.

Within a few days of the declaration of war, the British, French and Belgian Reservists left Canada to join the regiments of their respective countries. Many went on a few hours' notice.

Shortly afterwards Canada mobilized at Valcartier her first contingent of 33,000 men. Of these many had wives or dependents relying on them for support. Without hesitation all answered the call, taking it for granted, that if they risked their lives in our common defense, those who remained at home would care for their wives and children. Subsequent events have proved that this confidence was not misplaced. During August and September there sprung up, in all the principal centres throughout Canada, associations designed to care for dependents of the soldiers who went to the war. It was soon apparent, however, that there was great divergency of method among these organizations, also danger of overlapping in some places and neglect in others. Hence His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada, on the 26th of August issued a general appeal stating that a central Canadian Patriotic Fund had been formed at Ottawa, and asking that branches of this organization be formed in every city and town throughout the Dominion. This appeal met with ready response. The Act of Incorporation was passed by the War Parliament, and the new body given special duties and responsibilities. The movement has grown rapidly ever since.

By the end of 1914 the work of organization in respect of the National Fund had been in the main completed. Provincial branches had been formed and were operating satisfactorily in Nova Scotia, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia, and Prince Edward Island. Throughout Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick the city and county system had been inaugurated, each district dealing directly with the head office at Ottawa. These eastern branches, up to the middle of January, had sent in to the honorary treasurer of the fund, the Hon. W. T. White, about $2,350,000, while the total cash disbursements had amounted to about $550,000, leaving net cash resources available for future needs to the extent of $1,800,000. The several branches had collected further sums amounting to $400,000 which had been deposited at the capital of each province, and could be drawn upon only with the consent of the honorary treasurer of the National Fund. Furthermore, many communities are collecting one the instalment plan with a view to having a regular and a continuous source of revenue, and it is probable that before the calendar year of 1915 comes to an end the present receipts will have been doubled.

When money is raised by a branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund it is regarded as belonging to the corporation. It is usually transmitted as collected to the honorary treasurer. Each branch regularly sends to Ottawa a requisition for the estimated amount that will be required to meet the needs of the Relief Committee during the coming month, and when that amount has been expended, furnishes a detailed statement to the head office on a disbursement form with which it is supplied. In this way there is a continuous audit and it is always possible to determine how local relief committees are distributing their funds.

The Fund is not a charity. When the Empire is at war the duty of defence falls on every citizen. Each man should ask himself the question: Shall I fight or pay? Those who elect to fight and to risk their lives and health for the common cause are certainly doing their share. Those who remain at home and carry on business as usual, living comfortably, should assume the duty of making adequate provision for the soldiers' dependents. Be it remembered that the wife always has to give her consent before her husband can enlist. She knowingly faces the risk of becoming a widow or having a disabled husband during the remainder of her life. As a widow she would receive a small Government pension, as the wife of a disabled soldier a still smaller annuity. She runs a great risk and should not require in addition to worry during the war about her daily bread. Formerly her husband or son was her breadwinner, today the Patriotic Fund simply takes his place and the pay envelope comes in regularly just the same. It is hard to estimate the results which follow when the wives of the soldiers are being generously cared for throughout Canada. The men in

Unique Plan on Foot to Photograph the 26th Battalion at St. John

Through the activities of G. A. Margetts, St. John manager of the Universal Film Co., and W. H. Golding, of the Imperial Theatre, St. John, it is quite probable a "close-up" motion photograph of the 26th Battalion will be taken this week. The idea is to secure an intimate living portrait of every officer and man in our splendid body of volunteers, and not the usual distant or general view. To accomplish this unusual bit of picture-taking, the camera would have to be located in the centre of the street, and the soldiers march past it on either side, leaving a little line in the centre. By this means every man's face would be recognizable and familiar to his friends and relatives, giving the 1,000-foot picture the merit of individuality as well as that of a general review. The object of taking such a picture is to have it exhibited in every section of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island from which the volunteers come, so that relatives could have a glimpse of their brave lads at close range before they depart for the front. Furthermore, the film would be a valuable memento of the province's response to the Empire's call, and would in all probability find its way to the archives in Fredericton. If a telegram reaches St. John to-day from New York stating that the camera man is en route for St. John, an effort will be made to have Lieut. Governor Wood review his regiment during the photographing process. The whole scheme is a patriotic one and quite unique. It will cost close to $300, the expense to be borne by the young gentlemen back of it.

Col. McAvity has signified his willingness to lend every assistance in carrying out the details. the trenches, receiving cheerful letters from home, will fight all the better in the knowledge that their dependents are well provided for. The woman who during her husband's absence, lives comfortably, able to maintain herself in the best recruiting agent that Canada can have, and we may need to exercise every influence if we are to keep our ranks full during a long war. When one is travelling up and down the Dominion, meeting committees and discussing the details of the Patriotic Fund, one meets with many questions and some criticism. Probably you have those in your midst who have already voiced these ideas and it is well that you should be able to answer such persons. There are those who allege that the Government should do this work, that it should pay the soldiers sufficiently to support their wives during their absence. To some extent the Government has already assumed a heavy responsibility towards the soldier's wives. In addition to giving the married soldier full pay, the wife or widowed mother also receives $20 per month by way of separation allowance. This will be, during 1915, equivalent to a Government subscription of $2,500,000. Moreover, a Governmental department cannot act as sympathetically as a local relief committee. After the Militia Department has given each beneficiary $20 per month, the Patriotic Fund adds the sum required to bring the family up to a decent and comfortable scale of living and private citizens whose hearts are in the work and whose business training causes them to adopt sound methods have been found to be most successful in administering this supplementary assistance.

At the present time it is estimated that between nine and ten thousand soldiers' families in various parts of Canada are being assisted from the Patriotic Fund. This involves a present expenditure of $6,000 per day. If the war continues and successive contingencies are called for, we may expect this demand to steadily increase. There is less danger of a surplus than of a call for renewed effort. At present we require $150,000 per month. This sum will shortly reach $200,000 and probably $250,000 per month before the end of the year. The National Committee will feel secure only so long as the monthly contributions coming in to the Central Fund are keeping pace with this monthly outgo. From all appearances we are likely to have a long and terrible war. Canada is only beginning to send her contingents. The Prime Minister recently stated that no limit would be placed on the number of men that should go to the front. The Canadian contribution may reach 100,000 men or the number on overseas service may be even larger. We must, therefore, prepare for continuous help to the soldiers' dependents. Every part of Canada should share in carrying the common burden. Hence the work of organizing the Canadian Patriotic Fund must continue until there is not a town, village, hamlet or rural district in this entire Dominion which has not been asked and which has not responded to the call for help.

CHATHAM BOARD OF TRADE MAKES PROTEST

Against the Rotten Service Handed Out to Chatham by The I. C. R.

(Gazette) The railway service, or lack of service, was again discussed by the Board of Trade last week.

The attendance was small, owing to the fact, no doubt, that proper notice had not been given. Newspaper advertising of Board meetings has been dispensed with for some reason, and even postals which used to be mailed to remind members, and newspaper men of the date of meeting, have also apparently been done away with.

Mayor Tweedie spoke of seeing the passenger car for Loggieville, day after day, with several passengers on board, standing for a half hour and longer in front of the Miramichi Foundry while the engine was engaged in shunting freight cars. W. S. Loggie said it took two days to get freight to Blackville, Boiestown or Fredericton, as it was held up a day at Newcastle. Mayor Tweedie said a traveller told him that the train stopped at Derby Junction while the conductor walked across the bridge and back. Thos. Fitzpatrick—That's what they call the block system.

Some other discussion followed, in which R. Flanagan argued that if pressed strong enough, they would get the "Y" put in at Derby Junction. Robert Murray condemned the business men of Chatham, and said they would rather curl than attend a meeting in their interests, such as this. The railway service is a gross outrage on the community, and is injurious to Nelson and Loggieville as well as to Chatham. We got our mail at 2:30 under the old system, and now we get it from 3:30 to 6. We could get our mail an hour or so sooner by stage from Newcastle, and I move that we memorialize the Postmaster General to send it down from there by team instead of by train. Adopted.

It was argued by other speakers that Mr. Gutelius' policy was killing the town of Chatham.

J. L. Stewart said Chatham would never have prompt connection with the main line through Newcastle. It was impossible. They should agitate for a Y at Derby Junction and connection for the branch trains at that point. In the meantime, to lessen the inevitable delays at Newcastle, they should try to get a freight train between Loggieville and Newcastle.

The motion to appoint a delegation, to be selected by the President passed, and on motion of Mr. Murray, it was resolved to ask the President of the Commercial Travellers' Association to cooperate in the matter with the delegation.

If you ask any of the Hockey girls they will tell you that what is written above is not a whit too strong. Here is their experience. They waited at Campbellton station from 2 a.m. on Thursday morning till after four. They arrived at Newcastle 2 1/2 hours late and found the train for Fredericton gone, although it is supposed to wait to make connections with the Maritime. The rest of the day was spent travelling to Fredericton on a freight train, they arriving at their destination at 6.10 p.m. By a lucky chance one of the girls had a small box of sandwiches with her, sufficient to tide her over until the train crew came down handsomely by supplying them with a welcome cup of tea even although they had to drink it out of tin dipers. The railway management certainly deserve all the hard things the girls are saying about it.

I. C. R. SOLDIERS DEMAND JUSTICE

Say Railway Management Has not Kept its Promise Made Before They Enlisted

A meeting of the I. C. R. employees who are members of the 26th Battalion was held at the armory, St. John last week. These men decided to ask Lieut. Colonel McAvity for an honorable discharge from the service unless the promises made by Mr. Gutelius, general manager of the I. C. R., in circular No. 16, regarding the enlistment of the I. C. R. men and were carried out.

The men say that in this circular it was agreed that I. C. R. employees who enlisted for active service should receive their I. C. R. pay while they were in the army, and should have their old positions on the railway when they returned from the war.

It is said that there are more than 150 employees in the 26th battalion, including the Army Service Corps. At a previous meeting held at St. John a delegate was sent to Ottawa to interview Hon. F. Cochrane, minister of railways, in regard to this matter, and the men say that Hon. Mr. Cochrane told this delegate that while the married men might receive their pay, no single man would receive a cent, although a widowed mother or their relatives might receive part of the men's wages. The men say Mr. Cochrane ignored the Gutelius circular ar No. 16, and said very forcibly that he was not going to have his railway manned by a lot of cripples. The men recently sent a delegate to Moncton a-o, and they assert that Mr. Gutelius told this delegate that within a week he would be able to advise the I. C. R. men who had enlisted that they would receive their wages. They say that the week has gone by, but they have received no word from Mr. Gutelius. They expected a wire from him Jan. 27 but it did not come. The men insist that if the agreement contained in circular No. 16, is not carried out they have all been grossly deceived and should be entitled to honorable discharge. It is understood that the commanding officer agreed to take the matter up with Ottawa at once. At a meeting in Moncton the representatives decided to send the following message to each member of the Dominion Cabinet. "At a representative meeting of the intercolonial shop and road employees, held at Moncton, February 5th, it was resolved that the Government be requested to see that the provisions of the general manager's circular, No. 16, as applying for employees enlisting for overseas service, be carried out in its entirety without further delay." -Leader.

TOO MANY CHILDREN
are under-nourished, under-weight with pinched faces and poor blood; they do not complain but appetite lags, they have no ambition and do not progress.

Such children need the rich medicinal nourishment in Scott's Emulsion above everything else; its pure cod liver oil contains nature's own blood-forming, flesh-building fats which quickly show in rosy cheeks, better appetite, firm flesh and sturdy frames.

If your children are languid, tired when rising catch cold easily or find their studies difficult, give them Scott's Emulsion; it supplies the very food elements that their systems lack.

Scott's Emulsion contains no harmful drugs and is so good for growing children it's a pity to keep it from them.

THE NAVAL BATTLE OFF THE FALKLAND ISLANDS

The following vivid account of this historic fight tells the whole story.

The tale of one of the greatest British naval victories of the present war, in the words of Lieut. LeSeigneur of H. M. S. Invincible is copied from "The Evening Post of Jersey, to which Lieut. LeSeigneur's mother's kindly gave the letter for publication. It is of especial interest to Gloucester County readers, as the Lieutenant is a brother of Gordon LeSeigneur, who for five years lived at Caraquez and Lameque in the service of the Wm. Fruing Co.

H.M.S. Invincible, at sea, making for Port Stanley, Thursday, Jan. 10th, 1914.

There is no doubt but that you will know full details of what I am about to tell you, long before you receive this. However, I am going to tell you, with the least detail as possible, exactly what has happened.

As you know by my last letter, we left England to revenge the loss of our ships the Good Hope and Monmouth, which had been sunk by the German squadron consisting of the Scharnhorst, Gneissau, Dresden, Leipzig and Nuremberg. These ships encountered and engaged our cruisers under the charge of Rear-Admiral Cradock—of the Good Hope, Monmouth and Glasgow, and sank the first two in less than one hour, off Valparaiso, Chilean coast, South America, not seemingly even to trouble to save the survivors. All hands were lost. The Glasgow escaped.

Well, we were at the Orkneys, N. Scotland, at the time, and received orders that we were to proceed to the tropics to avenge them. We changed Admirals, and Vice-Admiral Sturdee came on-board and took command. During our hasty retreat to the Brazils, Monmouth was lost, and she was sunk by the German ships. We left there on the 11th and finally reached St. Vincent, Cape Verde Isles, from which place I wrote you, I think.

We remained there only 24 hours, leaving again next at the Almirante coast, a lone rocky place totally uninhabited except for a lighthouse. There we coaled and met our colliers. These were ordered to proceed for Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, near Cape Horn, South America, we leaving at the same time.

No news had yet come from the Germans. We at length arrived at Port Stanley on Monday, December 7th, having been one month practically at sea.

No news was received except that the German squadron was present at Valparaiso. Her crew was said that they were making for the West Coast of Africa.

I went ashore at Port Stanley and had tea with the Chaplain, who had faint hopes of us ever meeting them. They had, however, had a wireless message from the Germans, placing them in the position of the Tuesday. This the Chaplain regarded as a huge joke. The old Canopus was inside the harbour and was made into a veritable floating fortress, guarding the mouth of the harbour with her 1916 guns. Her crew was placing the shore into a defensive position, under the superintendence of the Capt. of Marines.

We prepared for coaling the next day, having over 1,500 tons to come in. At 5 a.m. on December 8th we commenced coaling along with the Invincible, the Scharnhorst, Leipzig and Kent having coaled before.

I was the officer of the watch. At 8 a.m. news came from the outposts on the heights of the Islands (all men of the Islands had formed an Island Volunteer Force) that the German cruisers were on the horizon 17 miles away and were approaching the island.

I can assure you this was startling news, as they were the least expected, and I for one thought it was another "mousetrap". However, it soon became evident it was the truth, and we

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from your drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

We were prepared for action in record time. I've never seen a manoeuvre carried out so quickly from coal ship to fighting trim. Our fires were damped and we had no steam up, yet by 9.30 we were all under way, all ships, and by 10 a.m. we sailed out of harbour in pursuit. The Canopus had previously fired seven rounds from her 12 in. guns at the enemy, and this evidently somewhat startled and surprised them, keeping them at a distance. We steamed out in this order: Invincible (Flagship), Indeflexible, Cornwall, Kent, Carnarvon and the Bristol and Glasgow. These composed our fleet opposed to the Germans mentioned above.

At 10.30 the enemy's ships appeared hull down on the horizon, like five streaks of black smoke, but it was evident we were overhauling them. Our ships and the Indeflexible were racing away from the other light cruisers of our fleet, leaving the next two (Cornwall and Kent) some way behind unable to keep up. We were doing then over 20 knots per hour. Away on our port beam was the little Bristol gallantly keeping level with us, and also the Carnarvon.

It then became a stern chase as the enemy were doing their utmost to escape, steaming dead away from us in a S.E. direction. Nevertheless, we still kept up, keeping on their port quarter for fear of their dropping mines, a danger which our Admiral was fully alive to.

At 12.30 p.m. the range was about 20,000 yards and their hulls were beginning to become distinct, also their funnels.

At 1.50 the range was about 10 miles or 17,000 yards. The Indeflexible then began to fire her 4 in. guns to pick up the range. At 2.5 p.m. the action began in earnest, and we engaged the Flagship Scharnhorst, and our lighter cruisers engaging the enemy's light cruiser.

From this point in the fight I can then we must have dropped off for a spell as we "checked firing."

I enquired what damage had been done, but could get no satisfactory reply.

We commenced again at 14,000 yards (about eight miles), closing in on the enemy, and the fun became fast and furious.

At 4 p.m. the turret trainer reported that the enemy had a heavy list to one side. I gazed through the telescope and saw her gradually heel over, till only her outline of her side and bottom were visible, the masts therefore touching the sea. She remained like that about two seconds, then her stern sank in the water her bow raised in the air, and she slid beneath the waves till the sea closed over her. That was the last of one of Germany's proudest and best ships, the Scharnhorst.

I cannot describe the feelings of the men and myself just then; we felt like cheering like mad. Though we were nearly all deaf and our hearing softened through the tremendous firing and the fumes of cordite in the gun house.

The r.s.pite only lasted a very short one dimly describe what happened, as being officer of the marine turret I was inside the whole time firing the guns for our own ship. The more heaved just splendidly and I felt proud of them.

This was real fighting and no mistake. We could feel the enemy's shells strike our ship, making her tremble beneath our feet. However, we fired continuously for about one hour, not knowing what was going on time. We then received orders to engage the Gneissau. We began at about 15,000 yards, gradually closing. This ship fought yet better than the first and her shells could be heard screaming overhead, occasionally plunging into the ship and in the water. Her firing was marvellously good. One fell close to our turret, as we had a message through asking if we were alright. We replied, "Yes".

At 5 p.m. we were still fighting hard, though not so fast. The enemy appeared to be slackening her fire and we were drawing closer to her.

Our guns were now nearly red hot and the splashes of the water from the enemy's shells fell on the guns and formed steam, which prevented sometimes our chaps from firing. The smoke from one of our funnels was also a great nuisance. We must have been steaming at a tremendous speed during that period.

At 5.45 the range was about 9,000 yards and I could see the end was approaching. A short time after the enemy was reported on fire. At 6 o'clock we fired some of our last shots, some of them beautiful, perfect hits on the waterline.

We received then the order to cease firing, but to stand by to recommence at once if necessary.

Of course, I could see nothing from where I was, but I again looked through the trainer's telescope and I saw the Gneissau heeling over like the other. She sank in about two minutes exactly in the same way as the other.

We had steamed far away from the others and we immediately rushed on deck and saw what survivors we could save. They could be seen plainly in the water, hundreds of the poor devils, clinging to bits of wood, hammocks, bunks, etc. We steamed as close to them as possible and lowered what boats we could. Most of them had been shot through and were unseaworthy. We threw over lifebuoys, serviceable. We threw over lifebuoys, serviceable and started to haul them over the side.

The Carnarvon and Indeflexible also stood by and lowered boats. The water was ice cold and the poor wretches were half dead already and could not grasp anything. Many I saw floating by dead as a doornail with their legs and face in the water, their middle supported by a hammock or wood.

We stood by until no more could be seen, and immediately tended the saved with first aid, taking them down below and wrapping them in blankets and warm clothing. We saved 75 of them. I never wish to see such a sight again. It was heartrending to hear their cries and moans for help, and we could do scarcely anything for them so quickly. They could be seen for one minute, the next they were gone, frozen by the cold.

The Indeflexible saved 100, I believe. We then, seeing nothing more could be done, straightened up everything on the upper deck and proceeded on. It was then about 9 p.m. I then walked around the ship to see the damage, and I could scarcely believe my eyes. It was incredible, whole cabins simply blown away. Great holes in the ship's side and deck as big as a horse and cart. Great 4 in guns simply cut in halves. One of our masts shot nearly away, and only standing by a shred. The wardrobe was a picture, absolutely everything down to the smallest book slashed or riddled, and a tremendous hole in the centre. The piano was knocked to atoms. The ship had been hit below the waterline, and we have taken in water in the bunkers, and have a great list on one side. The inside of the ship is a picture. I assure you, and the miracle and most marvellous of wonders, not one man killed or wounded on board. Not one. It's the most marvellous thing in creation, and passes my understanding how the ship could be knocked in such a state, riddled through and through, with over 1,000 men on board, and not a single casualty.

This is the second action the old Invincible has been in, and it was the same at Heligoland. Truly we are H.M.S. "Unwoundable" as well as Invincible. Being flagship we bore the whole brunt of the fighting, and we came out scot free, owing to the Admiral's strategy of taking advantage of our superior speed and gun range, being able to hit the enemy without being scarcely in her range.

We received information that the little Glasgow had avenged Valparaiso by sinking the Leipzig, so up to 2 p.m. yesterday we knew that three out of the five Germans were beneath the waves. Last night we again received news that the Kent had had a hard fight, and that the Nuremberg was sunk, so out of the whole of the German squadron only the Dresden has escaped, and we have chased her. She is still being chased; there's not much hope for her.

Yesterday we buried 15 of the Germans who were saved and had died through exposure and wounds, giving them full naval honours and the Burial Service at sea, having a Marine firing party, etc. These prisoners who were the last of the last of the last of our comrades as they were dropped over the side weighted with shot.

The prisoners on board now—60—are very comfortable; we are treating them very well. One officer who was saved, the doctor of the Gneissau said our fire was terrible and terrific. Out of 1,000 men on the Gneissau over 500 were killed by gun-fire; their heads, arms, legs and bodies simply cut and smashed to atoms. Our shells used to carry and blow up the whole deck and side of the ship at a time. It must have been the same on the Scharnhorst.

This has been the biggest and most important action of the war, as it liberates the whole world and shipping from the dread of the German squadron. Over 70 ships were out chasing them, and it's funny indeed how we were able to capture Port Stanley and use it as a base, fortifying the island and landing these volunteers. Had we been one day later, or had we delayed on our way, what a different thing might have happened. Instead of Germans it would have been us under the fact and presence of the Germans, and simply all blown up by their ships and mines. However, luck again, and such was not the case.

Now, I've given you a brief account of what has occurred. Keep this letter. You can let the Jersey papers publish the account. It's absolutely correct. I do not know the casualties on board our other ships. I know the Kent has plenty, especially Marines. But for us, wonder of wonders, thank God we are all safe, and gave thanks.

FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN

As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Dispelled Backache, Headaches and Dizziness.

Piqua, Ohio.—"I would be very grateful if I failed to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the praise it deserves, for I have taken it at different times and it always relieved me when other medicines failed, and when I hear a woman complain I always recommend it. Last winter I was attacked with a severe case of organic weakness. I had backache, pains in my hips and over my kidneys, headache, dizziness, lassitude, had no energy, limbs ached and I was always tired. I was hardly able to do my household. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on one other occasion, and it had helped me so I took it again and it has built me up, until now I feel like a new woman. You have my hearty consent to use my name and testimonial in any way and I hope it will benefit suffering women."—Mrs. ORPHA TURKEL, 411 S. Wayne St., Piqua, Ohio.

Women who are suffering from these distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

giving after the action. We are making for Port Stanley to try and patch up our holes somehow and pump the water out.

The prisoners are going to be sent home on a collier, the Crown of Galicia. I hope I shan't be in charge. This mail will doubtless go by same boat. We will then probably make for Gibraltar back home to dock and ammunition if necessary. I must now close, mother, as I've to write a report (officially) of the part of which I was in charge during the action.

This old ship has been in two actions of the war, both successfully, and there are five German ships I've seen sink. Now, I must close, thanking God I'm quite well, happy, though not exactly comfortable, having an old plank for a table.

There is a young cadet named Malet de Carteret on the Canopus in Port Stanley. I think we are the only two Jersey people in the fleet.

P.S.—Just received news from the King congratulating officers and men on our victory.
