MASTERLY ADDRESS OF T. W. CALDWELL, M.P.

Mr. Caldwell speaking on the Budget occupied the attention of the house for over two hours, and a careful perusal of his speech will reward any reader in Carleton-Victoria.

Mr. T. W. CALDWELL (Victoria and Carleton). Mr. Speaker, before proceeding to discuss the Budget and the amendment to it which is before the House, I would like to deal briefly with some of the remarks made by the last speaker, the hon. member for Lincoln (Mr. Chaplin). Especially do I want to deal with his statement with regard to the difference in the American and the Canadian price of a Ford car. And when I speak on this matter I am not speaking of something that someone told me or that someone wrote to me; I am speaking from personal experience.

In the early stages of this session I made a statement in regard to this matter, and I might say that the hon. member for Lincoln was not the only person who got up in the air about it. Here is a letter I received from the manager of the Ford Motor Company, covering four large sheets of paper, as the House will observe. In it he advances much the same argument as that employed by the hon. member for Lincoln, and he even threatened that he would put this in the hands of some hon. member and that I would get a "trimming." Well, I am quite prepared to take a "trimming" when it is coming to me, but it is not coming this time, thank the Lord. I want to quote some of the contents of this letter, and then I will come to the facts. The manager of the Ford Company wrote:

"In the case of the Ford touring car—which is the article which is the major proportion of our production—I may say that the equipment of the Canadian car is somewhat different from that of the car in the United States. Inasmuch as we put on larger tires and the car is also equipped with demountable rims and extra tire carrier and other items of this kind, which makes the car in Canada of considerably more monetary value."

Further on he says:

"We put on a one-man top and a ventilating wind shield also." I have worn out one Ford car. In September last I bought another one, and I have the receipted bill right here, the items of which I will give a little later. I bought this car in Woodstock, N. B. I was in the town of Houlton, in the state of Maine, only twelve miles from Woodstock, the day before I bought the car. I priced the value of the car in Houlton. I will admit there was a difference in the forward tires. The forward tires on the Ford car in Maine are three inches whereas in the case of the Ford car sold in New Brunswick those tires are three and a half inches, representing a difference in the neighbourhood of $7 in price. In all other respects the car was exactly the same as the car I bought in Woodstock the next day. The car I bought did not have the one-man top, or a ventilating wind shield, or demountable rims or have even a tool box or tire carrier; the only difference was in regard to the forward tires. The car I bought has a self-starter which is identical with the self-starter made by the same firm in the case as the Houlton car. With regard to the starter the difference in the price was $40. This starter cost $70 in Houlton whereas in Woodstock it cost $110, a difference of $40 on a $70 article notwithstanding the fact that the hon. gentleman who has just taken his seat told us that manufactured goods are as cheap in Canada as they are in the United States notwithstanding the duty.

Mr. BURNHAM: What was the duty on that car? Mr. CALDWELL: If the hon. member will have the patience to listen what I am stating may penetrate his cranium if it is not too thick before I have done. Now the car I bought cost $800, and the tire carrier $7.25, a total of $807.25 for the bare car without any tire carrier. The car cost $900 in Woodstock when I could have bought it for $840 in Houlton. Allowing for $7 on account of the difference in the tires that would make the Houlton car $233 cheaper. I said to the dealer in Woodstock: "I should have bought a car in Houlton yesterday. I could have bought one for $240 less." He replied: "Yes, but the car would cost you just the same when you brought it in because you would have had to pay duty on it." It was because of the duty I was charged the extra $240 in Woodstock, and in these purchases we cannot help ourselves. There has been a campaign conducted in Canada for the last few years—you will see the posters on every fence, and on every vacant lot—urging you to buy "Made in Canada" goods, otherwise you are a traitor to your country. If I had bought this car in Houlton I would have got it for $240 less and would have paid into the Canadian treasury $240 in duty and I consider that I would have been more patriotic to my country because then the revenue of Canada would have benefited to the extent of $240 instead of going into the manufacturer's pocket.

The hon. member for Lincoln made the statement that there was a duty of twenty cents a bushel on potatoes. I did not quite catch the whole of his remark in that connection and I am sorry the hon. gentleman is not at present in the Chamber. If he were here I would ask him if that applied to potatoes going out of or coming into Canada. I want to tell him that he does not know what he is talking about, there is no duty on potatoes going from Canada to the United States or on potatoes coming from the United States into Canada. He also states that there were 20,000,000 bushels exported. I can prove that he is wrong in that statement because we have never exported more than 4,160,000 bushels from Canada in any one year according to the export statistics.

It would also be of interest to the House, it would certainly be of interest to the people of Canada, to know that the hon. gentleman—who by the way just made the kind of speech I would expect him to make after looking up, shall I call it his pedigree, in the Parliamentary Guide—is the president of two large manufacturing firms, therefore he delivered just the kind of speech I would expect such a man to make. I do not blame him much because if the Farmers' platform is put into effect—to call it by its right name, which he seems to think we are ashamed of, but we are not—he and his like will certainly lose a mighty good guest they are collecting off the people of Canada.

The hon. gentleman also said he would like to discuss the Farmers' platform throughout the country. Mr. Speaker, I think you will admit that the discussion of the Farmers' platform has so far not brought very good results to the party the hon. gentleman supports. That platform has been discussed not by the farmers alone but by others. In the recent by-elections we had the speech of some of the ablest ministers in the present Cabinet going out and discussing the features of that platform. If they were not able to present it in a way that would make the people condemn it, that fact is surely a commendation of our platform.

Another thing the hon. member said was that the gross difference in the price of a Ford car in the United States amounted to $165. He worked that down, I believe, to $48. The manager of the Ford Motor Car company stated that there is a difference of $130 between the American car and the Canadian car. Therefore he could not have written the same letter to the hon. member for Lincoln that

Striving Hard For the Prizes

Good Report Comes from Hartland High School

The work of the school is going on favorably with the exception of a few drawbacks, one room being at present, closed down for caution against an outbreak of diphtheria. Nevertheless the pupils are working hard. Keen competition for the proffered prizes of the school year is being generally shown. Some of the keenest competition is for the following:

The Observer Silver Medal donated by the Observer Ltd. for composition. The composition this year to be "A Summary of the Current Events of the School Year."

A prize of medal to the pupil having the best knowledge of New Brunswick History donated by M. L. Hayward.

Five dollars for the High School pupil having the best yearly average in mathematics, donated by Mrs. S. S. Miller.

Five dollars for the pupil of Grade VIII making the highest aggregate marks on the High School Entrance Examination donated by Mr. and Mrs. Renben Hagerman.

A prize for the best yearly average on mathematics in intermediate Dept. donated by E. C. Morgan.

A good number have not missed any time, all working for the attendance and deportment prizes given by the school district. Also many are striving for the bonus thrift stamps offered by A. R. Rigby.

A very prosperous and beneficial school year is drawing to its close.

Following is a list of those making the highest marks in the different grades of the Hartland Superior School for the month of May:

Grade XI—Minnie McGee 94.5, Myrtle Trites 75.7.

Grade X—Alice Miller 79.3.

Grade IX—Marie DeGross 80.3, Bessie Barter 79.5.

Grade VIII—Basil Hoyt 81.1, Charles Barter 79.3.

Grade VII—Patsy Sealey 95, Pearl Saunders 93.

Grade VI—Clinton Clark 89, Anna Carpenter 83.

Grade V—George Waters 94, Harriet Harris 91.6.

Grade IV—Elsie Cummings 83.1, Mabel Barter 78.1.

Grade III—Glenna Rideout 86.1, Pauline Lipsett 80.2.

Grade II—Glenna Harris 95, Reta Taylor 84.6.

Grade I—Rita Kelly 98, Winnifred Moore 96.

In about two weeks the closing examinations of the school will commence. On June 21 the High School entrance papers will commence. Anyone wishing to take the work of Grade IX next term should take these papers and may do so by notifying the principal.

Indian Could Get Drunk If He Wanted to

Stephen Lockwood, a member of the Indian Band on the reservation at Tobique point, is evidently trying for a position on Big League Baseball team.

On the 23rd day of May last, the same being a Sunday, Lockwood was in his house at the Indian village having a considerable quantity of intoxicating liquor inside him, as a result of which he was under the influence thereof. Inspector Dennings entered the house and placed him under arrest. Lockwood escaped, and, when pursued by Dennings, picked up and threw three rocks, the first two were balls, and the third one was a strike, hitting the inspector on the head.

Dennings then pulled his gun, fired in the air and brought the Indian to a period, or a full stop, after which he arrested him and placed him in the Andover jail.

On Friday last, Lockwood was brought before Judge Carleton at Andover for a speedy trial and was discharged by the Judge on the ground that the Inspector was making an improper arrest, as Lockwood had a right to be drunk in his own home if he desired.

Hayward & Equities for the accused; Alexander Stratton for the prosecution.

"HAS NO EQUAL" STATES SHIRLEY

So Run Down Was Ready to Give Up When He Started Taking Tablets

"In my humble opinion Tablets has no equal as a medicine, at least that has been my experience," said Thomas Shirley of St. Albans Avenue, Sydney, N. S., a valued employee of the Dominion Iron & Steel Co. Ltd., when speaking to the Tablet representative recently.

"I had been in a run-down condition for nearly four years and had suffered a lot with stomach trouble. My appetite was very poor and I had to be very careful what I ate. Anything like meat or heavy food would give me indigestion for hours afterwards. My food seemed to go down my throat and against my chest and throat so as to cause a smothering feeling. My sleep was very disturbed and I was continually waking up with start. I had a tired worn-out feeling all the time, with no energy to do my work. I lost weight continually until my clothes were too big and just hung loose on my frame. I got into a bad state that I thought I would have to give up altogether."

"I don't know how many medicines I tried without getting help from Tablets that I decided to give it a trial myself. That was last September. Well, by that time I had finished the third bottle I was like a new man. My appetite is so improved that I am hungry all the time and can eat three good square meals a day. My food agrees with me and I am eating meat for the first time in years and can digest it perfectly. I've already gained ten pounds in weight and all my old strength and energy has come back. I sleep like a log and get up in the mornings feeling refreshed and ready for my work. All the boys down at the works tell me how well I look, and I just feel fine all the time."

Tablets is sold in Hartland by Estey & Curtis Co., and E. L. Field, Bloomfield, and by the leading druggist in every town."

he wrote to me, and I have the bill of the car I bought under the Ford Motor Company's own bill head, at $300 without even the tire-holder or tool box. The House will believe me when I make this statement and I am in this statement and I am not saying something that somebody wrote me or telegraphed me. As I say I bought this car and paid $240 for it on account of buying it in Canada instead of the United States. They tell you, Mr. Speaker, that the experience you can get if it does not cost you too much. I feel that my experience in this case cost just a little too much.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

This is a Short Letter, But It Proves the Reliability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bethel, Ont.—"I was weak and run down, had no appetite and was nervous. Those who seek cure of me will do well to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I am getting strong. I recommend your medicine to my friends, and you may use my testimony."—Mrs. W. J. Bower, R. R. 2, Bethel, Ont.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming women's ills is because it contains the best, strongest, purifying properties of good old-fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and so it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is a safe medicine for women.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Incorporated), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read, and answered by women only.

I had not the privilege, on account of illness in my family—of being in the House when the Budget Speech was delivered. Perhaps I was more disappointed than surprised to find that no provision was made for a revision of the tariff, although we were promised last year that the whole tariff question would be investigated before the present session was called so that the Government could deal with it intelligently. The ex-Finance Minister (Sir Thomas White) in the Budget Speech which he delivered on June 2, 1910, is reported as making the following promise:

"It is my hope that within a year conditions will have become so stabilized as to permit of a general revision of the tariff, which is long, but, owing to the war, unavoidably overdue. Proceeding such revision there should be a thorough inquiry conducted by the Minister of Finance and two or more of his colleagues representing the different geographical sections of Canada. Such inquiry should afford all interests, agricultural, industrial, fishing, lumbering, mining, commercial, and financial, producers and consumers alike, an opportunity of expressing their views and opinions and urging their particular needs and requirements. The result of such inquiry should be a body of information which will enable the Government to effect a general revision of the tariff fair to all parts of the community, and eventually promoting the national welfare of Canada. This inquiry should proceed with its work just as soon as conditions are sufficiently stabilized to permit. My own view is that it might well be commenced about autumn of this year."

That was in 1910. And yet we had the spectacle in this House recently of the Finance Minister (Sir Henry Drayton) bringing down his Budget and promising that there shall be a revision sometime in the dim and distant future. The ex-Finance Minister said that this revision was overdue a year ago, or almost a year ago. If it was overdue at that time it is certainly more than overdue today. I think we have a right to be disappointed to find that no mention has been made of the revision of the tariff this year; the Government speak of waiting until the conditions are stabilized. I think, Mr. Speaker, that considering the course the present Government are taking the conditions will be no more stabilized than they are today until we have a general election and perhaps a change of Government—who knows! I think the low tariff supporters of the Government must be easily satisfied if this continued promise of revision from year to year satisfies them. However I was glad to notice yesterday that they are not all satisfied; that some of them have the courage of their convictions, the courage to get on their feet and condemn the party which they have supported, when they believe it is wrong. If the Government are wise they will take warning from the defections from their ranks, made by men who have supported them for years.

I would warn the government also not to put off too long this promised investigation into the tariff, because if they put it off a couple of years or more they may not have the opportunity of making the investigation. If they wish to investigate tariff conditions and adopt a tariff that will be satisfactory to Canada, they are making a great mistake. I may be allowed to give them that advice, in putting it off as long as they have. Their chances for re-election would have been much better if they had brought down a measure for reduction of the tariff this year.

I am very much pleased to see the Minister of the Interior (Mr. Meighen) in his seat; I thought that he was going to leave the Chamber, and I wanted to direct his attention to one or two matters. I was rather amused at his speech the other evening, and he is not usually amusing. I do not think that he really meant to be amusing on this occasion, because he seemed to be in his usual sarcastic form. Shall I be allowed to say that he even seemed to be a bit anxious? In one breath he said that it would be the ruin of Canada to lower the tariff, and in the next breath he claimed credit for the party he supports for lowering the tariff on a number of articles, and for taking off 75 per cent special war tax.

Mr. Meighen: Would the hon. gentleman be good enough to quote two sentences that will illustrate the truth of his two remarks?

Mr. Caldwell: I do not know just what two sentences out of his speech a man could find that would illustrate what the minister said with regard to any particular matter; but if he will have the patience I will go on. He did not explain to this House or to the country that the present Government put on this 75 per cent duty in the first place; yet he brags that the Government took it off. He puts me in mind of the method followed by some of our retail storekeepers when they put on a cheap sale; they mark their goods up fifty per cent, then mark them down twenty per cent, then call it a cheap sale. The minister's reduction of the tariff reminds me very much of this kind of cheap sale.

Another statement of the Minister of the Interior made the other evening was that he thought the new Progressive party should support the party in this House that acted, not a party which only professed and did not act on those professions. He also made a great ado because we did not move the Farmers' platform as an amendment to the Budget. Now, no man in this House knows better than the Minister of the Interior that the rules of this House allow only one amendment to be moved to the Budget. The fact that the member for Shelburne and Queen's (Mr. Fielding) was the first speaker after the Budget was delivered and that he moved his amendment before he said down effectively shut us out from moving any other amendment. But, in the first place, I wish to state that the new Progressive party do not propose to support either party in this House.

Mr. Meighen: May I be permitted to suggest to the hon. member that he may still move that Farmers' platform in amendment to Supply?

Mr. Caldwell: Thank you; no doubt we will do it. I have no doubt that the Government will adopt that platform after this discussion is over. I notice that it seems to be in great demand among the supporters of the Government and that they have all ready adopted some of its best features. If they should be lucky enough to hold on to office by hook or by crook, I think that they will adopt it all in time.

But, as I say, we do not propose to support either of the old parties in this House. When a question arises such as the present before the House we intend to take a stand on it that they will be in the best interests of Canada. We may err, but if we do we shall err in judgment; we shall not be whipped into line to support this party or that against our convictions—do not make any mistake about that. I think that we have proved our independence in this in this House during the present session; we have voted with the Government perhaps as often as against them. I am only sorry that we were not able to vote with them oftener, because if we had been able to vote with them oftener, it would have meant that they were bringing down good legislation, legislation for the good of Canada and which we would have been pleased to support. We do not come here to oppose any party, we are not like the Irishman who said: "Is there a government in the country?" and upon receiving a reply in the affirmative, said: "Well, I am opposed to it." We are certainly not in that position. We are here to support good legislation, not party. Partyism is what has brought governments in Canada—and I use the words "governments" advisedly—to such a condition as that which we see today. When people support a party regardless of how—I am almost at a loss for a word to express it strongly enough without disobeying the rules of the House—regardless of how much evil they have committed and how bad the administration is, it tends to bad government. The indications are that this Government will be turned down, if the late by-elections are any indication of the feeling of the people in constituencies where opinion was formerly pretty well divided as between the two parties. I think the Government themselves realize what that means.

With regard to the amendment that is before us, I for one do not approve it in its entirety. But I shall certainly support the amendment, because we have been denied by the rules of the House the privilege of moving a second amendment and I consider the amendment is the lesser of two evils. I would like very much however, to see the third party in this House recognized as such, so that we should have the privilege of moving a second amendment. When there were only two parties in the House it was certainly proper that there should be only one amendment moved to the Budget, but when there are three parties, it is no more than right and fair that two parties should have the privilege of moving amendments. However, we do not feel like insisting very strongly upon our rights as a third party, because we do not expect always to occupy third place in this House. I do not think any hon. member who is in touch with the feeling of the people would be considered a prophet if he expressed the view that after the next general election the present Government would be occupying third place in this House—I am not a prophet, but I am not afraid to make this prophecy—and those who live to see will know—that the Unionist party will be the smallest party in this House after the next general election. I firmly believe that, and, as an hon. gentleman near me says, I think the Government believe it too.

Mr. CORR: They look like that.

Mr. CALDWELL: Now, the new system of taxation as proposed by the Finance Committee is said to be a luxury tax on manufacturers and wholesalers, but, to my mind, if that is the mark aimed at, the minister has missed it by a considerable distance. The maximum price on articles exempt from this tax is too low. The poorer a man is the less, for instance, he can afford to buy shoes under $9 a pair, because the cheaper shoes are not of good quality and not good value for the money. What ap-

Why Canadians Should Insure in a Canadian Company

BECAUSE—Experience covering a period of forty-six years has proven that the death rate of insured lives is about 15 per cent greater in the United States than in Canada.

BECAUSE—A Canadian does not need to assist in paying for this extra heavy death rate in a foreign country.

BECAUSE—A Canadian insuring in a foreign Company is sending his money out of Canada. It remains in Canada he and Canadians generally will benefit by its circulation and investment.

BECAUSE—In The Policy-Holders' Mutual Life (of Canada) he can secure his insurance at lower rates and on easier terms than in any other Company.

BECAUSE—The Policy-Holders' Mutual Life (of Canada) was organized for the express purpose of eliminating all objectionable features in Life Insurance.

BECAUSE—In The Policy-Holders' Mutual Life (of Canada) the Policyholder votes and participates in the management on equal terms with the Stockholders.

BECAUSE—By Its Act of Incorporation provision is made for the Policyholder voting at his own home if convenient to attend the general meeting.

BECAUSE—By Its Act of Incorporation the dividend to its Stockholders is limited and all profits above this limited dividend belong to the Policyholder.

BECAUSE—By Its Act of Incorporation no outside, so-called "Gold Bond" policies or anything of a like nature can be issued.

BECAUSE—Its Policyholders participate in the annual distribution of profits after the third of the life of each policy.

BECAUSE—The low rates and annual distribution of profits leave the money in the Policyholder's pockets or return it to him each year instead of its being retained for speculative purposes as has been charged against some Companies.

BECAUSE—Premiums may be paid monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually as best suits the convenience of the insured.

BECAUSE—In the Policy-Holders' Mutual Life (of Canada) he will be insured in a Canadian Company incorporated by special Act, especially safeguarding his interests, thoroughly democratic in its principles and management, with every safeguard and security to which the strongest Stock Company can lay claim or which government deposit reserve and inspection can secure.

Pretty Wedding at Good Corner

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place, June 2, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Carimichael, Good Corner, when their daughter, Miss Della Jennie, became the wife of Shepard Wright of Andover. In the presence of more than one hundred and twenty-five guests the ceremony that made the young couple husband and wife was performed by the Rev. A. F. Kachaly of the Andover Baptist church. Promptly at four o'clock the bridal party took their places on the pleasant piazza which had been tastefully decorated with evergreen, apple blossoms, and a large floral bell. The bride looked charming in a beautiful gown of white crepe de chine over white satin with veil and orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of roses, sweet peas and maiden hair fern. Miss Bessie Wright, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, looked lovely in a pretty dress of crepe de chine over pale blue satin. Her bouquet was of sweet peas. Little Miss Violet Wright as flower girl carried a basket of roses. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Inez Wright of Andover. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold monogram bracelet, to the bridesmaid a string of pearls and to the best man, Mr. Simmons of Southampton, gold cuff links. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining room where a dainty wedding supper was served. The presents were numerous and beautiful comprising cut glass, pieces of furniture, silver and cheques. A handsome rosewood rocker was presented to the young couple by the members of the Andover Baptist choir of which both are members. The N. B. Telephone staff of Andover also presented them with a beautiful chair. Mrs. Wright has many friends in Andover, being lately connected with the N. B. Telephone Co. of this village as chief operator, where by her ever obliging ways she was a favorite with all. The young couple will reside in Andover where a host of friends wish them all happiness, prosperity and sunshine through life.

Hatfield & Scott Co., Ltd. Win in Suit Against C.P.R.

An interesting law suit was terminated at Woodstock yesterday when argument was heard before Judge Crockett in a special session of the Supreme Court. The case was Hatfield & Scott Co., Ltd., against the C.P.R. in which the plaintiff company sought to recover payment for five cars of potatoes shipped to a New York consignee in April, 1919. The consignee became bankrupt and refused to accept delivery of the potatoes. The railway company did not notify the shippers until nearly a month later, at which time the potatoes were entirely spoiled. The claim was for $6,100 and the jury were unanimous in rendering a verdict for the full amount. Costs in connection with the case run into thousands. Hon. W. P. Jones, K. C., was attorney for the plaintiffs, and F. R. Taylor, K. C., of St. John, for the defendant company.

H. H. Hatfield, A. W. Kyle and H. W. Amett were in Woodstock to give evidence. The defendant's evidence served to support the claim of the plaintiff and the case was clearly won.

Hatfield & Scott Co., Ltd., have pending a suit to recover $42,000, the value of a cargo of potatoes, from the United Fruit Co. This case will be tried in Boston next month.

The case against the C.P.R. will serve to establish certain legal points that will be of value to all produce shippers, and will undoubtedly stand as a case of reference.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dell E. Boone, yesterday afternoon, their daughter Hazel was united in marriage to Claude Clyde of Everett. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. A. Triton in the presence of 50 guests. After luncheon the young couple motored to Woodstock, where they took the train for Fredericton and St. John. The bride's traveling suit was of oxford grey with hat to match.

Among the out of town guests were Miss Hazel Tapley, Weaver; Mrs. Maud Howard, Mrs. Clyde Watters, and Miss Edith Watters, Everett; the groom's mother and four sisters, Everett; Clarence Chapman, Burnt Land Brook. There were many nice presents including cheques, silver, china and furniture.

A COLD HOUSE

is more than disagreeable.

It is miserable. There is no relief. Warm Air—the simplest and least costly of all heating systems, is the best for cleanliness, health and comfort. Stoves and base-burners throw their dust all over the house and only heat parts of it. They heat the same air over and over again. The Enterprise Blazer combines heating and ventilation and it furnishes the moisture your lungs must have. The

What is also applied to clothes? No man knows better than the Finance Minister that you cannot buy a decent suit of clothes at less than $45 the maximum price of an untaxed suit. If the maximum amount, excepted had been half as much again, it would have nearer the mark. On the other hand, instead of taxing the manufacturer and wholesaler, the Government are simply imposing another tax on the consumer, because the manufacturer adds the amount of these taxes to his invoice. In fact, the Minister of Finance has instructed him to do so; on Hansard, unrevoked edition, page 2571, the manufacturer is specially instructed not to include the tax in the price of the goods, but to invoice the goods at the factory price and to state the amount of the tax as a separate item on the invoice. Therefore, the Minister of Finance, by no stretch of his imagination, could claim that this was a tax on the manufacturer, because the manufacturer was instructed to pass it along and mark it as a separate item on the invoice.

I notice the Minister of Finance, as reported on page 2571 of unrevoked Hansard, states that this tax shall be deemed to have come into force on the 19th day of May, 1920. I do not know what time of the day these resolutions were presented, but I understand they were presented one afternoon and put into effect the next morning. If this be the case, if the minister can draft a Bill and present it to this House one afternoon and have it put into force the next morning, what is the need of calling Parliament together at all? I had thought that a Bill had to pass this House by a majority of votes and after that be ratified by the Senate, and be signed by the Governor General before it became law. Of course, we know that the present administration has set all kinds of precedents by way of Orders in Council, but it certainly gave me quite a jolt to find that the Finance Minister could enact a law over night, and put it into effect the next morning before breakfast. Truly the day of miracles is coming back to us again. It would be much quicker, instead of calling Parliament, for the Minister of Finance to handle this end of the matter; the Minister of the Interior could handle his department, and so on. The trouble is that the Government have not sufficient ministers to man all the departments, and they dare not appoint any new ministers and send them out, for re-election because they might not come back; they might get lost. I might, however, suggest to the Minister of Finance a source of revenue that would not impose a hardship on the common people of Canada; in fact, I believe it would confer a benefit on them. My suggestion would be to impose an export duty on our print paper, say of 10 per cent. I believe there is a possibility that hundreds of our small papers will go out of business after July 1, because at that time their contracts for newsprint, I understand, will expire, and the cost of paper at the present time is so great that the small papers, without increasing their subscriptions to a price that their subscribers would not, perhaps, feel like paying for the paper, will not be able to carry on. This may not appeal to the Government because, perhaps, the Government would be pleased if there were fewer newspapers printed in this country. Perhaps they would be as well pleased if the doings in this House, especially an event that happened on the other side of this House last night, were not heralded broadcast in the newspapers of this country. I saw this big headline in the newspapers this morning: "Big defection from the Government ranks last night." No doubt the Government would have been pleased if that had not appeared. I believe the United States papers are willing to pay per ton for newsprint $240; in American money, which means much more in Canadian money at the present time. I believe the representative of a number of British dailies in Canada, and he has $40,000,000 with which to buy what newsprint he can pick up. If there were a 10 per cent export duty on this commodity, we would collect $4,000,000 on this one deal. I believe there is also in Canada a Hindoo who represents a large combination of publishers in Bombay and who has power to purchase newsprint, price being no consideration, and he wants newsprint in thousand-ton lots. Two years ago, our publishers were paying $45 a ton for newsprint; after the 1st of July they expect to be compelled to pay $240 a ton. Of course, our publishers are not objecting so much to the price; their fear is that they may not be able to secure a supply at all, because these outside firms are willing to pay almost any price for the full output of Canadian newsprint. If I might be allowed, as a new member, to make a suggestion to a gentleman so high up as the Minister of Finance, I would suggest that he take this into his serious consideration.

Mr. RICHARDSON: Did the hon. member say that at the present time Canadian publishers were paying $240 a ton for newsprint? I understand that American or British firms are willing to pay $240 a ton. Canadian publishers are not paying that at the present time. Their contract does not expire until the 1st of July; but after that time they expect they will have to pay this sum, or at least, I am so informed by a good number of publishers. Mr. RICHARDSON: I am sorry I misunderstood the hon. gentleman, because at the present time Canadian publishers are paying $80 per ton. Mr. CALDWELL: Does the hon. gentleman deny that it will be likely that they will have to pay $240 per ton after the 1st July? Mr. RICHARDSON: The price after the 1st July will be $110 or possibly it may be $115 per ton, but we are notified that the price will be from $110 to $115. Mr. CALDWELL: I am much obliged to the hon. gentleman for correcting me, because I do not wish to mis-state the matter. There is a big difference between $110 and $240 a ton. The publishers who have written me do not object so much to the price; their fear is that they will not be able to get newsprint at all. (Continued next week)

Could Not Sleep

Mr. Ernest Clark, Police Officer, 338 King St., Kingston, Ont., writes:

"For three years I suffered from nervousness and sleeplessness. I believe my condition was brought about by overwork. I had frequent headaches, neuralgic pains and twitching of nerves and muscles. I had indigestion, was short of breath and easily tired. I commenced a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and seven boxes of this medicine cured me of all my symptoms. I am now feeling one hundred per cent. better than I was, and have to thank Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for the good health I am now enjoying."
