SUMMARY OF NEWS.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

On the morning of Saturday the 28th ult. a destructive fire broke out at Charlottetown, which consumed seven of the most useful and handsome buildings in the town.

The Islander says, that the buildings destroyed are, the dwelling house, workshop, warehouse, and stable of Mr. John Scott, who was burned out, on the same spot, four years ago, — part of a dwelling house used by Mr. John Le Page as a school room, J. W. Cairns, (the Globe Inn), his extensive smithy, machine manufactory, warehouses, and stables. Mr. John Hobbs' his dwelling house, warehouse, show room, cabinet manufactory, a house tenanted by Mr. Thomas Jacques, and some out buildings. Mrs. Hardy's dwelling house, and a tenanted house in the possession of Mrs. Foster. Mr. John Breen's stable burnt, and a tenanted dwelling house much damaged, caught on fire several times, one side of the roof destroyed, and other injuries to the lower part. A small house belonging to Mr. McKinnon, tenanted, was on fire in the roof, but was not much injured. Mr. Jacques lost nearly all his furniture.

The loss is estimated at not less than £3000. — The circumstance most to be regretted in the whole matter is, that not one penny was insured. The Mechanics (Messrs. Hobbs, Cairns, and Scott) who are the sufferers, are, without department to others, masters of their respective businesses. The machinery of the two former was very superior, extensive and valuable. They have lost their all, excepting what furniture was saved, after many years of trial and steady perseverance, and are now reduced, by the disposition of an inextinguishable Providence, in one short hour, to the point of starting, and have to begin the world afresh, with the additional burthen of large families.

EXTRAORDINARY CLOCK.—HEARD TO THE DISTANCE OF 300 MILES.—The various telegraph offices along the line from Cincinnati to Pittsburg, were thrown into some excitement last evening by an incessant and uniform ticking, which occurred in their various registers. It appears, that Professors Walker and Luck have connected an Astronomical Clock with the line, in such a manner that its beats were conveyed to Pittsburg, for determining longitude. That a clock going in Cincinnati should tick so loud as to be heard in Pittsburg or Philadelphia and along the intermediate line, at one and the same moment, is an item of "Natural Magic" which a few years ago could scarcely have been predicted. — [Cincinnati Times.]

FROM ST. DOMINGO.—We learn from Capt. Sadquimberg, of the Bremen brig, Auguste, from Port au Prince, 13th inst., that an expedition was about fitting out, to capture the Spanish part of St. Domingo. Capt. Sadquimberg, brought a proclamation of the President's, informing the people of Hayti that it is his intention to send an army against the Spanish part of the island, and to bring it again into the Republic. — [New York Journal of Commerce.]

The owners of the steamer, Guadalupe, are about to establish the following line of steamers: The Cerro and Frigate to navigate the Gulf, making two trips a month between Vera Cruz, Galveston, New Orleans, and Havana, and the Southern United States for Southern Europe. The Guadalupe to receive the correspondence and passengers at Havana and proceed to Porto Rico; three steamers of 1,200 tons, each to be purchased to run between that island and Cadiz, via the Canaries. This enterprise is to be aided by the Government, and is to go into operation forthwith.

POETRY.

Here is one of the sweetest little gems of poetry we ever remember to have read. Read it over and over again—does it not come over the spirit like the melody of a June rivulet?

AILEEN ASTHORE'S EMMA II

WRITTEN BY HERSELF.

Here in this little cave,
The prettiest nook of this most grassy vale,
All amid lilacs pale,
That turn
Their heads into my little vault and mould,
Stranger, I have made my grave.

I am not forgot;
A small hoarse stream murmurs close by my pillow,
And o'er me a green willow,
Doth weep,
Still questioning the air, "Why doth she sleep,
The girl, in this cold spot?"

Even the very winds
Come to my cave and sigh; they often bring
Rose leaves upon their wing
To strew
O'er my earth, and leaves of violet blue
In smooth, leaves of all kinds.

Fresh is my mossy bed;
The frequent ploy of the rock falls here
A sweet, cold, silent tear,
I've heard,
Sometime a wild and melancholy bird
Tie at my grave head.

Read the small tablet o'er
That holds mine epitaph upon its cheek of pearl:
"Here lies a simple girl,
Who died
Like a pale flower nipt in its sweet spring
tide,
Ere it had bloomed."—No more.

A GENTLE REPROOF.

One day, as Zachariah Hodgson, was going to his daily avocations after breakfast, he purchased a fine large codfish, and sent it home, with directions to his wife, to have it cooked for dinner. As no particular mode of cooking it was prescribed, the good woman well knew that, whether she boiled it or made it into a chowder, her husband would scold her when he came home. But she resolved to please him for once, if possible, and therefore cooked portions of it in different ways. She also, with some little difficulty, procured an amphibious animal from a brook back of the house, and plunged it into the pot. In due time her husband came home, some covered dishes were placed on the table, and, with a frowning, fault-finding look, the moody man commenced the conversation.

"Well, wife, did you get the fish I bought?"
"Yes, my dear."
"I should like to know how you have cooked it? I will let any thing that you have spoilt it for my eating. (Taking off the cover.)—I thought so. What in creation have you done to it? I would as lief eat a boiled frog as fry it. I would as lief eat a boiled frog as fry it. Why, my dear, I thought you loved me best, friend?"
"You didn't think any such thing—you know better—I never loved fried fish—why didn't you boil it?"
"My dear, the last time we had fresh fish, I told you I liked it best fried, and you said you liked it best fried. But I have boiled it."
So saying, she lifted a cover, and for the shoulders of the cod, nicely boiled, were neatly deposited in a dish, a sight of which would have made an epicure tremble, but which only added to the ill nature of her husband.

"A pretty high this!" exclaimed he. "Boiled fish! chaps and porridge! If you had not been one of the most stupid of womankind, you would have made it into a chowder!"
His patient wife, with a smile, immediately placed a green before him, containing an excellent chowder.

"My dear," said she, "I was resolved to please you. There is your favorite dish."

"Favorite dish indeed!" grumbled the discontented husband. "I dare say it is an unpalatable wishy-washy mess. I would rather have a boiled frog than the whole of it." This was a common expression of his, and had been anticipated by his wife, who, as soon as the preference was expressed, uncovered a large dish near her husband, and there was a large bull-frog, of portentous dimensions and pug-nacious aspect, stretched out at full length! Zachariah sprang from his chair, not a little frightened at the unexpected apparition!

"My dear," said his wife, in a kind, entreating tone, "I hope you will at length be able to make a dinner."

Zachariah could not stand this. His surly mood was finally overcome, and he burst into a hearty laugh. He acknowledged that his wife was right, and that he was wrong; and declared that she would never again have occasion to read him such another lesson; and he was as good as his word.

IT. The convivial Dick Rigby, once applied at the Post Office to know why some of his franks had been charged. The secretary replied, "We supposed, sir, they were not of your writing—the name is not the same." "Why, not precisely the same, but the truth is I happened to be a little tipsy when I wrote them." "Then, sir," said the secretary, "will you be so good in future as to write drunk, when you choose to make free?"

A gentleman, with his eagerness at the table, to answer a waiter some apple pie, owing to the knut slipping on the bottom of the dish, found his knuckles buried in the crust, where a wag, who sat just opposite him, very gravely observed, whilst he held his plate, "If I trouble you for a bit, while your hand's in."

EXALTATION.—It may seem perhaps a paradox to say that expectation is enjoyment. Nevertheless it is so on this earth. Fruition is for heaven. With the accomplishment of every desire there is so much of disappointment mingled that it cannot be really called enjoyment, for fancy always exercises itself upon the future; and when we obtain the thing we desire, we find that the reality for which we wished, the charms with which imagination decorated it are well-nigh gone. Did we but state the case to ourselves as it truly is, whenever we conceive any of the manifold desires which led us on from step to step through life, the proposition would be totally different from that which we forever put before our own mind, and we should make one step toward deceiving ourselves. We continually say, "If I could attain such an object, I should be quite contented." But what man ought to say to himself is, "I believe this or that acquisition would give me happiness." He would soon find that it did not do so; and the never-ceasing recurrence of the lesson might, in the end, teach him to ask what was the source of his disappointment? Was it that other circumstances in his own fate were so altered, even while he pursued the path of endeavor, as to render attainment no longer satisfactory?—was it that the object sought was intrinsically different when attained from that which he had reasonably believed it to be, which he had reasonably believed it to be, while pursuing it?—or was it that his fancy, while gilded with charms, set its own, and which he had voluntarily and blindly pursued, that he had not a much brighter and more excellent than it was? If these the answer you might be returned to all these questions, yet I fear the chief burden of deceit would rest on his imagination, and that man would find he would have made an epicure tremble, but which only added to the ill nature of her husband, hope and hope to cheat expectation,

FROM PAPERS BY THE BRITANNIA.

Liverpool, Nov. 18.

IRELAND.

We regret to say that in the south of Ireland there have been some few partial indications of a renewal of the political storm. The project of a rescue of the state prisoners has been meditated by some rash persons around Clonmel. On the 8th instant a body of about 1000 or 1500 men assembled about a mile and a half from that town and were being drilled by a student named O'Leary; it is alleged that they were about to advance on Clonmel when the police and military made their appearance, and the whole dispersed. Seventeen of them were, however, captured and were sent to prison. Three made attempts, after the lenity displayed by Government to all parties concerned in the late outbreak, only furnish fresh weapons to the enemies of rational liberty in Ireland. They are greatly to be deplored. The precautions of the Government have only been redoubled, and the state prisoners being transferred to Dublin, for the purpose of appearing upon the writ of error, will remove one of the great motives for disturbance in the south. This movement at Clonmel has not prevented the Government from discharging on bail numerous other prisoners in Dublin and in the provinces, a plain proof that the rash proceedings of a few reckless men about Cahir and Clonmel do not occasion any serious misgivings in the midst of the Executive authorities of any further breach of public tranquillity. It is, however, deeply to be deplored that the spirit of private revenge still larks unquenched in various localities in Ireland. A bailiff has been murdered near Limerick. Mr. Moore, the agent of Lord Annesley's estates in Cavan has been badly shot at from behind a hedge; and Mr. Daniel, a magistrate of Helston, in Westmeath, has been fired at in a similar mode.

These outrages have all had their origin from disputes of bad feeling arising from the occupation of the land; but in Mr. Moore's case, who called the tenantry together and reproached them for their inaccessibility, the crime seems to have been concocted by, and executed at the instigation of, men upon whom he had heaped innumerable personal favours. The legal proceedings in the Court of Queen's Bench, in the case "in error" of John Martin are being proceeded with by die in diem; the prisoner is lingering in confinement, while his more fortunate colleague J. F. Lalor, of Irish Felon notoriety, his health having induced the authorities to extend their indulgence to him, together with numerous prisoners who have been discharged. As heretofore, we have numerous reports about the ultimate fate of the appeal of Mr. Smith O'Brien and his fellow convicts; amongst others that the Attorney General of England has expressed an opinion that his trial and conviction were perfectly good and valid, and that there is no foundation for the appeal in error. Some faint and isolated efforts are being made to revive a Repeal movement, but the slender success which the "Rotary Parliament" project experienced shows that for the present these speculations upon the misery and ignorance of the people are not so readily embraced by them as heretofore.

So rapidly are the candidates for the vacant see of Down, Connor, and Dromore increasing, that it would be difficult to count them. The Limerick Chronicle adds to the number the Rev. Francis Brady, rector of Kilmahon, Cloyne (brother of the Lord Chancellor), and the Rev. Dr. Vignolles, Dean of Quercy, who had been for a long period Dean of the Chapel Royal, Dublin Castle.

COMMERCIAL.

A feeling of greater confidence begins to prevail among all classes of the mercantile community. Still the transactions in the Produce markets are being forced forward a smaller quantity of goods and notwithstanding the anxiety of proprietors to sell at the present low rates, the home trade only buy to meet actual requirements. The Cotton market is very steady, and during the last day or two has been somewhat buoyant. The transactions are to a fair extent, and prices have rather an upward tendency. The Grain markets are dull, and prices during the past week have been declining to some extent.

At Mark-lane on Monday, Flour sold at 27s. to 39s. 6d. per barrel, according to brand and quality. At the subsequent market, that held on the 17th inst., the trade was very languid, and, if anything, prices were in favour of the buyer.

LIVERPOOL TIMBER MARKET, Nov. 18.—Sales of 5 cargoes St. John Timber, 191, 19, 18, and 18, inches average, sold at 17, 17, 17, and 16, 1/2. Deals from £6 to £6 7s. 6d.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN MANCHESTER.—On the evening of the 15th inst., at about a quarter to ten o'clock, the Caythorpe Cotton-works situated in Albion-street, Manchester, were discovered to be on fire. The works are the property of Mr. J. Fernely, senr., and employ upwards of 800 hands. The fire commenced in Card room No. 5, but how it originated could not be discovered. No efforts could impede its progress, and in the short space of one hour and a-half the immense pile of buildings was one mass of ruins. The loss is variously estimated at from £30,000 to £50,000. The property was insured to the amount of £20,000.

The ships Burgundy and Atlantic were recently wrecked on the Long and Goodwin Sands. They were both from Bremen, with passengers. All on board the former vessel were saved, but for lives were lost from the latter—the master, two passengers, and a boy.

THE HERMANN STRAMER.—On her last voyage from New York to Southampton, the Hermann met with considerable damage. The cross-bar broke and in its descent smashed both sides levers. The consequence is that she is rendered, for a time, unfit for sea. Notice has been given to the effect that she will not sail on the 20th instant.

THE CHOLERA.

The total number of cases of cholera already reported from its first appearance, has now reached 1039 of which 532 have proved fatal, and 331 are still under treatment. During the last week the number of deaths reported in the metropolitan districts was 62; and, we think, judging from the daily reports at present, that the number this week will range about 60; although the daily returns since Monday show a decided improvement. On Monday the metropolitan cases amounted to 18, but on Tuesday they declined to six, one of which was fatal; and on Wednesday four, but three of which were fatal. The improved state of the weather may have contributed to the result. From the provinces the daily returns appear without any cases reported. But in Edinburgh the malady still prevails to some extent—the new cases are scarcely over 20 daily; the deaths are from 5 to 10 daily. Upon the whole we are inclined to hope that the disease has slightly lessened in violence, at any rate, it has not increased.

Considerable shipments of potatoes have lately been made from the Isle of Man to Liverpool.

There are already eight manufactories of woollen cloths, tweeds, and blanketing, in New South Wales and Port Phillip.

The copying telegraph has been tried from London to Slough; it is calculated it will transmit 400 letters per minute with a single wire.

Amongst the persons proclaimed outlaws at the Sheriff's Court, Middlesex, on the 9th inst. was Sir William Massey Stanley, Bart. at the suit of William Jones.

The London papers inform us that the Board of Ordnance is to be abolished by amalgamation with the Horse Guards. This will be some saving to the public.

Thursday was observed as a public holiday in Bristol, in order to celebrate the benefits conferred on the town by the transfer of the docks to the corporation, and the consequent abolition or great diminution of the dock dues.

At the late municipal election in Glasgow Mr. Jones Moir, grocer, and a member of the Chartist Convention, was returned by a considerable majority as councillor for the second ward, defeating Alexander Haig, Esq. M.P. for the city, and late Lord Provost.

Mr. Macaulay, the ex member for Edinburgh and Paymaster of the Forces, has been elected Lord Rector of Glasgow University, ousting his opponent the former Rector, Colonel Muir, M.P.

IMPORTANT FROM ROME.

The Debats contains the following:—"A letter which we have just received from Rome, dated the 6th instant, brings us very serious news: it talks of a movement among the pontifical troops in garrison in the marches on the Austrian frontier. From what has transpired, it appears that an attack has been made on the frontiers of Ferrara, which is still in the power of the Austrians, and there are also reports that the troops are in open revolt, and that a republic has been proclaimed. These are only rumours, but they are of a very alarming nature."

NEW BRUNSWICK CHURCH SOCIETY.

The annual Meeting of the St. Andrews Local committee of the above Society, was held in All Saints Church, on Tuesday last, when very few of the members attended, and the only business transacted was the appointment of a committee to collect the subscriptions for the ensuing year. It was announced that the Executive Committee had resolved to establish a small Depository of Books for sale, in this town, and that a number of miscellaneous works together with Bibles, Testaments, and Prayer books, had been received by the secretary, which he had consented to take charge of until a suitable place of deposit could be found. The following remarks taken from the St. John's Courier of the 18th November, are equally applicable to this Parish, and will it is to be hoped reach the hearts of the members of the Society here.

"The task devolved upon the committee for soliciting subscriptions, is by no means light or agreeable, and we earnestly hope that the members of the Church of England, in the Parish, will meet them with open heart and open hand. The times are hard and sad, and propitious for Subscriptions to any cause however good, but when the objects of this important Society are considered, we feel assured, that no sincere Churchman, will refuse to contribute according to his means. It is notorious that no denomination of Christians in these Colonies, contribute so little towards the support of the Clergy, as the Episcopalians, while no denomination comprises so large a proportion of the rich and wealthy. Whence this discreditable apathy among Churchmen? Is it that too much has been done for them by the venerable and benevolent Societies of the Mother Country, that the spoiled children they have become sluggish and incapable of exertion by themselves? Or is it that they are insensible to the duty and privilege of aiding in the great work of spreading Christ's kingdom upon earth? If so, they had better lay aside the name of Christians which they disavow by their coldness and neglect. We however hope better things and trust that a response will be made to the present call which will show to the world that Churchmen are not yet dead to the interests of their Church."

THE STANDARD.

IS PUBLISHED ON WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY MORNING BY A. W. SMITH.

THE STANDARD.

ST. ANDREWS, SATURDAY, DEC. 9, 1848.

Not having failed for the last 15 years to publish the Standard on the appointed day, and having been disappointed in obtaining printing paper in season, we have been obliged to use a very inferior article to-day, for which we beg the indulgence of our paying Subscribers. We trust an accident of this kind will not occur again, nor indeed would it have taken place now, had many who are indebted for three or four years, paid even their last year's subscription.

New Brunswick Almanac.—Our thanks are due to the Publishers, Messrs H. Chubb & Co., of St. John, for a copy of their Almanac for 1849. The work is much enlarged and improved, embracing a variety of scientific and useful matter, never before published. Under the superintendence of the Fredericton Athenæum, this publication has been got up in a style unsurpassed by any Almanac in America; and in order to place it within the reach of every one, is sold at the low price of 2s. 3d.

Britannia.

The Steamship Britannia, arrived at H. H. on Monday last, in 15 days from Liverpool. The news in a commercial or political point of view, is unimportant. An outline of the latest intelligence will be found in our columns.

The south of Ireland, is still unsettled. Some outrages have occurred.

The Continental news is unimportant. France is tranquil; Vienna has been reduced to subjection, and the leaders in the insurrection executed. Prussia is verging on a civil war.

The government informers and witnesses in the late trials in Ireland, arrived at New York last week, in the ship Harriet Newell, Captain E. Lockwood.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—We regret to state that, on Monday evening, as Mr. John Smith, eldest son of Thomas M. Smith, Esq. was going on board the barque Sophia lying at the wharf of the Hon. John Robertson, of which vessel he was Chief Officer, he accidentally fell from the ladder between the ship and wharf into the water. Immediate means were used to save him, but the body was not recovered until an hour had elapsed when life had become extinct. He was in the 57th year of his age. — Observer.

GREAT RUN AND NARROW ESCAPE.—The Portsmouth Journal says, that the British schooner Teizer, Capt. Harkinson, left Bear Island N. S. on Saturday night last, at 10 o'clock, and in the short time of twenty-eight hours was inside of Boon Island. At two o'clock, in a thick north-east storm, let go her anchor to leeward of Whale's Back-light, and rode out the gale. At the time the gale was so violent that the spray rose above Whale's Back-light-house. This is probably the first vessel that ever rode at anchor in that place in such a gale.

Mexico.—In the State of San Luis a revolutionary party, situated in the range of mountains known as La Sierra Gorda, and about 1500 strong calling themselves "Yankees," although not a single foreigner was among them, had resisted every attempt the government had made to dislodge them, and in their stronghold are impregnable, and determined to await the declaration of independence of La Sierra Madre, for which they are anxious.

FROM PAPERS BY THE B

The Privy Council have resolved that a further number of peerages will be conferred upon persons who have rendered distinguished services to the State. A list of the names of the persons to whom the resolution has been published.

From France we learn that the Government have decided to send a large number of troops to the Republic of the Rhine, to take place by the 15th of the month. The Government have also decided to send a large number of troops to the Republic of the Rhine, to take place by the 15th of the month.

The news from Germany is full of interest. In Vienna, the Government have decided to send a large number of troops to the Republic of the Rhine, to take place by the 15th of the month. The Government have also decided to send a large number of troops to the Republic of the Rhine, to take place by the 15th of the month.

The King of Prussia is very much displeased with the conduct of his brother, the King of Saxony, who has been found guilty of a long time. He has met the representatives of the Assembly against the proposal of Brandenburgh, by a proclamation of the King of Prussia. The Assembly, however, refused to obey the King's orders, and the King of Prussia has decided to send a large number of troops to the Republic of the Rhine, to take place by the 15th of the month.

These exciting events are the people

Singular Anecdote.—Two St. Peters had contracted a bit of a quarrel against each other of one happening to die, was twenty four hours after the R when the other was determined to revenge upon his adversary, of this man. To give a colour to the story, he proceeded to the corpse, with a view of inflicting violence upon it. The body from the coffin and held erect and then a severe flogging, with a view of inflicting the few blows had been inflicted, and the afflicted man ran off with the utmost precipitation, to the great terror of his relatives. At length, however, coming certain, they were reassured, and the state of the corpse was found to be such that it was not necessary to take any further action.
