From late English Papers.

A National Association has been formed in Dublin, to continue the agitation for what the Irish consider fair play.

Ireland appears to have sustained a great loss by the death of Mr. Under Secretary Drummond. The Examiner thus speaks of this gentleman—

We have never recorded the death of a public man with deeper regret than the untimely fate of Mr. Drummond, the Under-Secretary for Ireland. The public service could ill afford a loss like this; but it will most poignantly be felt in that part of the empire with the government of which he was connected, and over whose affairs he exercised an influence so powerful and so useful. Ireland has lost in Drummond more than great ministerial talents zealously applied to maintain the credit and efficiency of a liberal administration; she has lost an ardent friend, an enlightened benefactor, and an honest, able, dauntless advocate. As far as any tribute of popular feeling can assuage the pangs of private sorrow, the relatives of Mr. Drummond have this mournful consolation. The last honours paid to him remain prove the price-set upon his services not by a sect; nor by a party, but by a nation. It is sad to reflect that the first opportunity the Irish public had of manifesting their sense of Mr. Drummond's worth was the melancholy privilege of assisting at his funeral.

We perceive that it is the design of the people of Ireland to erect a monument over Mr. Drummond's ashes, to commemorate his name and services.

Lord John Russell has given notice of a Registration Bill for England, and we understand that if it is approved by the House it is his intention to construct a Bill for Ireland on the same principles. Both as a counter move to Lord Stanley's Bill for the destruction of the qualification in Ireland, and as a step in the amendment of our own electoral system, we rejoice at the proposed measures of Lord John Russell.

Mr. C. Lushington gave notice, that in committee on the Canada Bill he should move in addition to the clause restraining the crown from appointing any spiritual person to the legislative Council.

Important to Exporters of Spirits.—The Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury have granted to mix plantation rum with whisky in bond, for the purposes of stores, or for exportation. A large quantity is now in course of preparation in the vatting departments of several wholesale dealers.

It is understood that the first recommendation of the commission of enquiry into the bankrupt and insolvent laws, will be the immediate and total abolition of imprisonment for debt.

No less than 232 persons have been convicted of treason and sedition out of 290 committed.

New Patent for Trinity College.—The question of the celibacy of the fellows of the University College has been finally settled by the Queen. A royal patent has arrived, creating ten new fellowships, and entirely removing the restrictions upon marriage.

Father Matthew, the successful apostle of Temperance, has, it is said, consented to visit Manchester in Whitson week.

Mr. Morrison, the soi-disant hygienist, died at Paris on Sunday evening.

The Lord Advocate has communicated the heads of his intended Bill, for the settlement of the disputed Scotch Church question, to his friends in Edinburgh. It appears, he proposes to give the congregations a right of rejecting three Presbyteries in succession, without any reasons, and the subsequent ones only on reasons, which may be examined by the general Assembly.

A new mode of forming musket balls by machinery, instead of casting them, has been invented, and the process has been adopted by the Board of Ordnance, at Woolwich.

Sir John Franklin, the traveller, has resigned his office of Gov. General of Van Diemen's Land.

Railways in England.—An English paper states, that the number of miles of railway now completed and open, are 6931.2; expected to be completed this year, 6301.2; making 13232.4 miles in operation next New Year's Day. Remain to be completed, 413 miles. Railway Acts have been passed for 1726 miles. Amount of capital to be raised this year, £5,901,590, which is considerably less than the calls of last year.

Curious Phenomenon.—An English paper the Bath Gazette, says that the fall of the cliffs and upheavings of the bed of the sea, now reach from Whitland's Bay to Axmouth, a distance of many miles. This extraordinary phenomenon of nature forms the leading attraction of Lyme Regis, which is crowded daily with visitors, who flock from all parts to see this wonderful effect of one of nature's convulsions.

The Irish Corporations Bill had passed a second reading in the House of Lords.

The Irish Municipal Bill was read a second time in the House of Lords on Monday, by a majority of 131 to 82. The Duke of Wellington reserved his opposition to its details until it should be considered in committee. The complaint is that former enactments threw the power too exclusively into the hands of the Roman Catholic party. It is almost impossible to hit the medium, if the powers of election are finally placed in the hands of the Corporations. —Glasgow Herald.

The Standard abandons its Tory friends as beyond all hope of cure. "We are tired of lecturing conservatives; but we tell them once more, that they will not gain any thing by bribery. The curse of heaven is upon it—and what is accused of heaven never prospers, but in the hands of those whom Heaven, in its wisdom, permits for a season to work evil."

In the House of Commons, on the 14th, in answer to Sir B. Canning, Lord Palmerston stated that our relations with Persia were the same now as a twelve month ago. Negotiations are in progress for bringing about a settlement, but our interests in Persia are confined to a Charge d'Affaires, and to a Consul at Tabriz.

Murder of Lord William Russell.—This nobleman, aged 73 years, was found dead in his bed, with his throat cut, on the morning of the 6th of May. Suspicion has fallen upon his Lordship's valet, a Swiss named Curroisier, who has undergone several examinations. Whether he is the actual murderer, does not as yet appear, but circumstances have transpired which proved that Curroisier had been engaged in an extensive system of speculation from his Lordship. Much property had been missed at several times, and on the morning when the horrid deed was discovered, the house presented the appearance of having been entered by burglars, but no evidence has been shown to prove that this could have been the case. All the property missed at several times, had been found scattered about the house, and in parts of it to which none but the valet had access. The Times says:—"The excitement produced in high life by the dreadful event is almost unprecedented, and the feeling of apprehension for personal safety increases every hour, particularly among those of the nobility and gentry who live in comparative seclusion." On the afternoon of the day previous to his murder, while at Brooke's club-house, in St. James's street, the deceased met with the Earl of Errol, who addressing him said, "Ah, Russell, how are you?" His Lordship replied, "Errol, I am as well, but I am going to take a fresh lease of my life; little dreaming that ere the morrow dawned, he would be deprived of that life by the hand of an assassin."

The Duke of Wellington has supported in his place in the Lords, the conduct of the British Superintendent in China, Capt. Elliot. Earl Stanhope's motion disapproving of his policy has been abandoned in the Lords, and Mr. Palmer in the Commons, has abandoned a motion of which he had given notice, for declaring that the seizure of opium was not a sufficient cause of war.

House of Commons, May 13. The house sat for a short time, but did nothing except receive petitions, of which one was from Sheffield, signed by 16,000 inhabitants. It asked the house to address the crown to dismiss the ministers—to appoint others who would make universal suffrage a cabinet question—to put an end to long speeches—to exclude lawyers from the house—to frame a new code of laws, and abolish the old laws—to exclude heirs of peers from the House of Commons, and to pass an act of amnesty for all political offences.

Clergy Reserves.—The Law Officers of the Crown have reported that they are all agreed in opinion that "The Legislative Council & Assembly" of the Province of Upper Canada have exceeded their lawful authority in passing an act "To provide for the sale of the Clergy Reserves, and for the distribution of the proceeds thereof," in respect to both the enactments specified in your Lordship's question; and that any sale that has been or that may be under the second of these enactments will be contrary to the provisions of the 7th and 8th of George IV., and therefore void.

Business continued to improve in the manufacturing districts. Mr. P. Kelly, at the request of Mr. Maule, postponed his motion for leave to bring in a Bill to abolish capital punishment for all offences except high treason and murder. To continue the punishment of death for what the Judges call high treason, is as revolting an absurdity as continuing it for stealing twopenny.

On the motion of Mr. Thomas Duncombe, Messrs. Stockdale and Howard were ordered to be discharged. It was not resisted. The removal of the remains of Napoleon from St. Helena to Paris occupies the whole of the French Press of Wednesday. Marshals, Generals, Peers, Deputies, and Journalists, seem half wild with enthusiastic excitement. Sobbs and tears interrupted the Minister of the Interior when on Tuesday, he moved for a grant of a million of francs to defray the expenses of the translation of the remains of the Emperor, and for the erection of a tomb to his memory. We give here the speech of the Minister, in which a generous compliment is paid to the disinterested conduct of the British Cabinet on this occasion. We are proud to add that such a compliment is well merited by the Melbourne Cabinet. There was something nobly chivalrous in the promptitude with which so magnanimous a response was given to the first demand of the French nation by the mouth of the Citizen King.

"Gentlemen, The King has ordered his Royal Highness the Prince de Joinville to proceed with his frigate to Saint Helena—(great attention)—to obtain the last mortal remains of the Emperor Napoleon—(Great applause.) We now ask the means of receiving them in a worthy manner upon the soil of France, and of erecting the last tomb of Napoleon—(Loud acclamations.) The Government, anxious to accomplish a national duty, addressed itself to England, and requested to have the precious deposit which fortune had placed in her hands. The wish had hardly been expressed when it was complied with. These are the words of our magnanimous ally—"The Government of Her Britannic Majesty hopes that the promptitude of its reply will be regarded in France as a proof of its desire to efface the national animosities, which, during the life of the Emperor, armed England and France against each other. The Government of Her Britannic Majesty takes pleasure in believing that if such sentiments still exist in any quarter they will be buried in the tomb in which the ashes of Napoleon are about to be placed." England is right, Gentlemen, this noble restitution strengthens the bonds which unite us. She has effaced the painful recollections of the past. The time has arrived when the two nations should remember only their glory. The frigate charged with the mortal remains of Napoleon will arrive at the Seine, where they will be removed to another vessel, which will convey them to Paris. They will be deposited in the Invalides. A solemn ceremony—a grand religious and military pomp—will inaugurate the tomb which is to receive them forever. It is important, Gentlemen, to the majesty of such a sovereign, that this august sepulture should not be in a public place, in the midst of a noisy and inattentive crowd. It is proper that it should be in a silent and secret spot, which can be visited with awe by those who respect glory and genius, grandeur and misfortune. He was Emperor and King. He was the legitimate Sovereign of our country. With such a title he could be interred at St. Denis; but Napoleon must not have the ordinary sepulture of Kings.—(Hear.)—He must still reign and command in the building in which the soldiers of the country repose, and to which all who may be called upon to defend it, will go to draw their inspirations. His sword will be placed upon his tomb. Under the dome in the midst of the temple consecrated by religion to the God of Armies, art will raise a tomb worthy, if possible, of the name which is to be engraved upon it. In future, France, and France alone, will possess what remains of Napoleon. The grave, like the memory of Napoleon, will belong only to his country. The monarchy of 1793, is in fact, the only legitimate heir of all the sacrifices of which France is proud. It is longed, doubtless, to this monarchy, which we, the first to rally all the strength and conscience of the French Revolution, to reconcile all the wishes of the French Revolution, to raise and fearlessly to honour the statue and the tomb of a popular hero; for there is only one thing which it does not dread a comparison with glory—it is liberty."

Sighs and tears were the first audible responses given by the Deputies to this heart-stirring address. Afterwards they crowded around Ministers to congratulate them upon a measure so glorious to France. We share the enthusiasm of the French nation. But surely one frigate will not be thought sufficient to convey the remains of the hero of France from the rocky island of St. Helena. Such a treasure as the ashes of Napoleon are worth the conveyance of a fleet. Nor will the British Government, we trust, be content merely to give up the remains of the Emperor. The "age of chivalry" is not yet gone. Our gracious Queen, we hope, will be advised to depute some of the most distinguished in her service to accompany the ashes of the great conqueror to his resting-place in the bosom of his beloved France. Would that the health of the Duke of Wellington permitted him to undertake this great and noble task. He wants but this to load his brows with honours equal not only to the highest pitch of moral exaltation, but to the utmost extent of moral endurance. This is only wanting to his Grace's achievement of more than ever was achieved by Jewish, Gentile, or Christian warrior.—London Sun.

Her Majesty has given to His Royal Highness Prince Albert a regiment—the 11th light dragoons—already honoured by bearing the Prince's name.

We are glad to learn that the prospect of an extraordinary herring fishery in Lochline, and all round the coast of the West Highlands, never was so great in the memory of man than that of the present season. Large whales are daily seen chasing the herrings up Lochline and the other arms of the sea. The fishery is expected to commence immediately.—Glasgow Courier.

The month of April has passed it Gurnsey without a single shower. Indeed rain has not fallen in any appreciable quantity for 11 weeks. On Tuesday last, the thermometer in the sun rose to 110 degrees.

It is estimated that there are now 60,000 puncheons of whisky in Dublin, chiefly the property of large distillers, one of the most wealthy of which is now taking measures to break up his very extensive establishment.

Letters from Naples of the 4th say that the Alca had brought orders to the Generaux and the Marengo to return to Toulon. The English had not yet restored the prizes, which caused some agitation at Naples. At the date of this news the Duke de Montebello had not arrived at Naples.

Constantinople letters of the 22nd state that the failure of the Russian expedition, & other events, had convinced the Shah of Persia of the necessity of yielding sincerely to the remonstrances of England.

The Southern Flood. The Editors of the Journal of Commerce have been favored with the following extract of a letter, dated

Charleston, May 31, 1840. I have just heard from Augusta in relation to the flood; accounts of which no doubt will have reached you before this letter. The river is rapidly subsiding, and has fallen 16 feet this morning since 5 o'clock, when the east-leaf Horse Creek, 4 miles this side of Hamburg. It appears that the water spread over Augusta to the depth of 14 inches, and not feet, as the newspaper reports it. Most of the stores in Broad Street had from 5 to 8 inches water on their floors. There seem to have been but very few goods damaged in Augusta. In Hamburg, which was covered to the extent of 6 or 10 feet, the damage will be very great. No lives lost in either place, so far as we yet know. The crops on the river have been entirely destroyed, and the planters throughout this State and Georgia will suffer very much from the heavy rains washing up the Corn and Cotton. The loss of stock (cattle and hogs) in the swamp plantations will be very great. It is the greatest flood within the recollection of our oldest inhabitants. Indeed plantations that have been considered far beyond the reach of a flood, have been entirely covered. The greatest damage done in Augusta, was the wharves, Bridge, and the wharves. The wharves, endangering the safety of contiguous streets.

About one third of the Bridge was washed out. The loss of Cotton in Hamburg, it is said, will be to the extent of 1500 to 2000 bales. In Augusta it will not be so great, although the warehouse suffered very much. Petersburg boats passed through every part of Augusta, and were of great use in saving property. A house was seen to pass down the River with a child about 3 years of age standing in the door. The Child was taken off by some persons. Being so young, nothing could be learned from it. I look for full accounts tomorrow evening.

We are happy to learn that His Excellency the Gov. Gen. has assented to the immediate commencement of the permanent work on the Welland Canal. The dimensions of the locks are not yet decided on, but nothing less than twenty-four feet width, by one hundred and ten feet in length, has been proposed. A liberal sum has been authorized to procure materials, and the work will be prosecuted with vigour.—Montreal Courier.

The season for some time back has been remarkably dry, with a north-east wind, which however, died away yesterday at noon, and was succeeded by westerly breezes. Vegetation is suffering on high and light lands. The thermometer yesterday and to-day, in the afternoon, has been up to 80° in the shade, but it will probably soon be cooled by thunder showers. Altogether, the season, so far, has been favourable to the farmers in this district for getting through with their sowing work, and vegetation is now rather more forward than usual.

THE SEASON.—We are having what farmers term a very backward spring. There has been an unusual amount of cold rain, northerly winds, and cloudy weather, which has kept back vegetation, and operated against early sowing and planting. An auspicious change has at last taken place. Warmer nights and a bright sun have imparted new life to pale and drooping vegetables, and covered the earth flowers and luxuriant verdure.

Gentlemen from the West speak of crops as very promising, particularly winter wheat, the great staple of that fertile region. Six weeks will bring us to the first of July and the midst of a general and bountiful harvest. Bread stuffs must exceedingly cheap, unless there should be a greater demand than there is at this time any reason to expect.—Buffalo Com. Advertiser.

Some damage is done by fires in the woods, but at the present season it runs only on the dry leaves and does not destroy large standing timber.—Quebec Gazette.

Her Majesty's Ship Vestal, Capt. Carter, sailed from Halifax on Sunday last, for Picton. The Vestal is to be stationed at the Gulf of St. Lawrence for the protection of the Fisheries, &c. during the summer.

Halifax, May 27. We understand that the Lieutenant Governor has received a Despatch from Lord John Russell, intimating his regret that it has not been in his power to submit to Her Majesty the recent Address of the House of Assembly, forwarded for that purpose by the Speaker; the same having been transmitted without the intervention of His Excellency, and the proceeding being unusual, irregular, and inconvenient; and his Lordship considering it, therefore, his duty to assert, on behalf of Her Majesty's Representative in the Province, the strict adherence to those observances to which his station gives him an indisputable claim, and which cannot be disregarded without derogating from the respect due to his power and authority.

We are also informed that Her Majesty's Government has expressed its approval of His Excellency's determination not to assent to the Address of the House of Assembly for the change of the Members of the Executive Council collectively, without the previous sanction of Her Majesty, and has distinctly signified that His Excellency would not have acted in conformity with his instructions, by making, on his own authority, the change demanded by the House.—Royal Gazette.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMER UNICORN. LATEST NEWS.

By the politeness of our Mercantile friends we have received London papers to the 16th ult. brought by the Steamer UNICORN.

Britain. It is so pay a sum of money to ensure an acquiescence in her claims, in whole or in part, by the American Government.

The Unicorn arrived at Boston on Wednesday the 3d inst. making the passage from Halifax to Boston in 36 hours.

THE STEAM-SHIP UNICORN.—This fine vessel, which has hitherto been employed on the station between this port and Glasgow, is now lying in the Clarence half-time Dock, taking in her stores for her voyage to Halifax. She is the first of a series of vessels about to run regularly with letters and government despatches to and from our North American colonies, amongst which will be the new steamships Caledonia, Britannia, Acadia, (we believe,) and probably the Achilles,—all the property of the British North American Royal Mail Steam Packet Company. She is commanded by Capt. Douglas, a gentleman of experience, and has engines of three hundred horse power. The accommodations of the Unicorn are of the Glasgow steam-ships generally. Her saloon is spacious, and finished in the style of the days of "Good Queen Bess," in solid rosewood, with panels, or centre pieces, each of which is a Chinese work, on a bright green ground, in the finest Japan. The furniture corresponds, and the smaller cabins and sleeping-rooms are finished in corresponding style, and fitted with every possible convenience. The stock of provisions and liquors, consisting of live stock, fresh and preserved meat, choice wines and other liquors, fruit, preserves, &c., exceeds what we should have conceived necessary for an East India voyage, so that those on board who are fond of the good things of this life, will have rare doings of it. We understand the Unicorn will take out a considerable number of passengers. They will, we learn, embark at the Clarence pier-head at nine o'clock to-morrow morning, and the vessel will sail as soon after the London Mailbag is received on board.

The Brig Millicent from Hull for this Port Coal laden, consigned to J. Wilson, Esquire, went ashore on Moose Picca beach, near Mercha. Mr. Aymar one of the Port Wardens of this place, has proceeded to the assistance of the master.

The Admiral Lake, sailed from Dublin 1st May for this Port. Brig Duncan sailed from Sunderland for this Port in April. The Brig Gertrude passed up for St. Stephen—sold at Jamaica Lumbar for $18.

CANADA.—Lord Mountaschel, alluding to a vote by the House of Assembly of U. Canada of a sum of £250,000, to be raised by loan, for the purpose of public buildings, expressed a hope that government would consent to guarantee that loan.

Lord Duncannon said that there was no intention to guarantee any such loan.

Thursday May 14. The House of Lords was occupied during nearly the whole of its sitting, in hearing the speech of Sir Charles Wetherell, against the Irish Corporation Bill.

From China.—Accounts from Canton to the 24 of February, have been received by an arrival at New York. Mr. Gribble, on whose account Canton was blockaded by the British, having been released, the blockade was immediately raised. Mr. G. is stated to have been treated with unusual kindness by the Chinese authorities. It was expected by some that the other causes of dispute would yet be amicably arranged, although the Chinese were endeavouring to purchase vessels for the purpose of being sunk in the river to prevent the approach of the British naval force.

The Unicorn is the first of Mr. Cunard's line of Steam packets which has arrived. She is to be employed in the conveyance of H. M. Mails between Boston and Quebec. The passengers by the Unicorn have tendered to her gallant Commander Captain WALTER DOUGLAS their warmest acknowledgments of his skill and attention to his duty, and presented him with a piece of plate.

The Halifax Royal Gazette says—The Britannia, Steamer we learn, will bring the Mails of the 1st July, at which time Mr. Cunard will be prepared to carry into full effect all his engagements with Her Majesty's Government.

Grievance.—Much complaint has been made of late, by masters of Vessels arriving at this Port, in consequence of their crews running away—and not being able to procure hands to proceed on their return voyage there; in fact a vessel detained here for nearly 10 days. Is there no remedy for this growing evil?

METEOROLOGICAL REGISTER.—In this days paper will be found a correct table of the state of the weather for the week ending on Wednesday, which will be continued weekly. We tender our thanks to the Scientific friend who has kindly offered to furnish this useful record.

THE WEATHER. In the early part of the week we had copious showers of rain—Wednesday and Thursday were the warmest days this season, the thermometer stood at 72.1-2 Fahrenheit. We understand that the crops in the neighboring parishes are in a very forward state for the time of year.

ESSENCE OF SMOKE.

FORMERLY manufactured at the Chemical Works, Hampton, by Mr. G. Riley, now by the subscriber, who prepares it equal to its former merits. Its wonderful Antiseptic properties in the preservation of Meat and Fish, together with its economy, simplicity, and expedition in applying it, have caused it to become an indispensable article in every respectable family in the Province.

Beef, Pork, Mutton, Fish, &c. may be preserved for any length of time by simply washing them over with the Essence of Smoke; then hang them up to dry, if very large, repeat the process three times, allowing 24 hours to elapse between each washing. Shortly after, upon examination, it will be found that the Essence has penetrated through every part of their substance, imparting a most delicious flavour.

N.B.—Apply the Essence of Smoke to the meat or Fish, &c. while it is moist, as the liquid does not penetrate so effectually when the surfaces of those substances are dry.

The Curative properties of the Essence of Smoke are not less remarkable than those of its Antiseptic. It is now extensively used in the cure of the following Diseases and Accidents, which are incident to Horses and Cattle, viz. wounds, bruises, galling or chafing of the harness, swellings of every kind, sprains, sore backs, broken knees, wind galls, blood spavins, and inflammation of every description.

For the cure of these diseases it is applied warm rubbing it in well with the hand. From a gilt of half a pint taken internally cures inflammation of the lungs, stomach, bowels, &c.

Farmers, Peppercorns of coaches, cartmen and stage drivers would do well to have it constantly on hand in their stables.

Sold in every Town and Village in the Province by respectable Merchants and Traders, at 2d per Spilling per Gallon.

J. ELIOT.
Hampton, E. C. Nov. 7, 1839.

Sold by Mr. Thomas Sims, St. Andrews, Messrs J & J. Alexander, T. Walker & son, Messrs Peters & Tilley, G. Chidwick, J & J. Reed, and at the circulating library, St. John, by Mr. James F. Gale, Frederickton.
