Tomfoolery!

The Minstrel Shows of the Youthful Political Clubs

So Characterized by Rev. Walter Rigsby.

A Number of Thanksgiving Services.

To Be Happy is the Duty of All—Some Evils Existing in the Social Conditions of Canada—The Quality of True Peace —The Advantages of this Century Over Other Centuries.

There will probably be some divergence of opinion regarding the statement made yesterday morning by Rev. Walter Rigsby in the Queen's Avenue Methodist Church upon the social condition of Canada. The speaker touched briefly upon the temperance question, and gave it as his opinion that no one would have the temerity to assert that the country would not be greatly benefited by the cessation of the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors. The degeneracy of the theater in Canada, he thought, was lamentable, although they had not become so morbidly degraded as the sister homes of the art on the other side of the line. "There are two youthful political organizations in this city," said Mr.
Rigsby, "formed ostensibly to advance the well-being of the country. They indulge each season in amateur theatricals. Can they forward their object by indulging in such tomfoolery as this? I leave you to answer the question?"

Rev. Dr. Ansell also delivered an address on the duties of thanksgiving.
DUTY OF HAPPINESS.
The subject which Rev. W. J. Clark chose for his address to an audience in the Park Avenue Presbyterian Church yesterday morning—"The Duty of Happiness"— although not bearing directly upon the nature of the thanksgiving festival, was, nevertheless, quite appropriate. Happiness in the lives of most women and men is conducive to the development of thankfulness for such a blessing. Mr.
Clark holds that, aside from the tribulations and vicissitudes incident to almost all earthly careers, the life of man should be a happy one. God has provided five avenues for the securing of joyousness—the five senses—and through these avenues everyone should obtain happiness. The intellect, the family affections and religious persuasions also provide means of happiness.

CANADA'S NATIONAL POSITION.
Rev. Ira Smith did not deal with common-places in his address to a large audience in Talbot Street Baptist Church yesterday morning. After having described the wonderful natural resources of Canada, the extreme healthiness of its climate, he went on to speak of the hard times which had generally prevailed lately. The causes of this condition of affairs, he said, were many. One of these was the unnatural restrictions of trade. The huge monopolies were being established, which injure extremely injuriously to the country. The greed of employers—"grinding the faces of the poor"—was also a source of much injury to the land. Mr. Smith was very severe on employers who did not recompense them under their adequate for services rendered. The enlightened statesmen of Canada should, he thought do something to alleviate such injustice.

OUR COUNTRY'S MERCIES.
Memorial Church was yesterday morning the scene of an interesting service. Rev.
Canon Richardson and Rev. Wm. Shortt conducted the proceedings. Rev. Alexander Corbett, of Thorndale, preached from the words, "Let the people praise thee, O God, let all the people praise thee." He spoke of the manner in which praise predominated over every other feeling and sentiment in the Psalms. He then called attention to the singular mercies which Canada had enjoyed in freedom from pestilence and in the prevalence of temporal prosperity. The abundance of the harvest called for particular praise. Mr. Corbett pointed out that true praise did not consist merely in lip-service, but more imminently in heart-service. He concluded an excellent discourse by exhorting his hearers to do all in their power for their fellow-men. He urged upon them the claims of Huron College, to the work of which institution the collection of the day was being devoted.

THIS CENTURY VS. OTHER CENTURIES.
The Bishop of Huron delivered an effective and stirring discourse in St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday morning, basing his remarks upon the words, "How much owest thou unto my Lord." He spoke about the privileges and blessings which the people of the present century enjoyed over those who lived in primitive times, and in the middle ages. He referred to the present era as being one characterized by great discoveries, and the renaissance of literature.
The superiority of the dispensation of the Gospel over the dispensation of the Old Testament was aptly shown. Continuing, the bishop dilated upon national, family and personal blessings, and illustrated with felicity each point with a diversity of facts.
Gratitude for these things, he said, should be shown, not only by the lip but by the life. As a noticeable example of this quality in the life of a certain class, he called attention to the ancient druids, who, when they were about to erect a temple for religious purposes, carried stones from Wales to Salisbury plains. This building is standing, grand in its venerable age, at the present time.

OTHER SERVICES.
Services were held in a number of churches, including St. Andrew's (city) and St. George's, London West. At the former a large congregation assembled, and the pastor, Rev. J. A. Murray, delivered an appropriate discourse. At the latter, the rector of St. George's, Rev. G. B. Sage, officiated. The choral service, under the direction of the organist, Mrs. Milligan, was exceptionally good.

Here's to the maiden of haughty fifteen,
And here's to the widow of forty!
They have each reached a period in life when most females need assistance in riding them over the shoals which so often completely wreck their after lives.
In producing regularity and healthy action of the female organs, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription stands without a peer. At a time when nature gives them increased burdens, so many young girls have their health for life shattered. If you wish your daughter to miss those periodical, agonizing laches and dizzy headaches, languid and tired feelings, accompanied with rough, pimply skin and dull, heavy eyes, get her a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If you have reached the later period of danger and weakness, you will need a bottle, too. See wrapper on bottle for printed guarantee. Satisfaction given in every case of money returned.

SARNIA SUNBEAMS.

Cosy Quarters Being Prepared for the A. O. F.—The Curling Club's Annual Meeting—Insurance Rates Advanced.

The British Military Concert Company, who are a part of the contingent that attended the World's Fair, will give an exhibition in the town hall, Sarnia, on Saturday evening, Nov. 25.

On Sunday evening next, Nov. 26, Rev.
C. C. McLaughlin, will hold a temperance service in the Baptist Church, and will deliver a sermon on the duty of Christians in regard to the coming phlegmatic campaign.

There died at Sarnia on Sunday last, Celia E., beloved daughter of David Fitzgibbon, of the Depot Hotel. Her funeral took place on Tuesday, the 21st inst., to Lakewood Cemetery. She passed away at the early age of 23 years, much regretted.

On Sabbath next, 26th inst., the anniversary services of the Central Methodist Church here will be held. Rev. R. J.
Thorne, M.A., professor Alma College, St. Thomas, will preach morning and evening.

A local court of the A. O. F. is sitting up a hall for themselves over the Canadian office, and when furnished it will compare favorably with any society hall in the city.

This town has been quite free from Saturday night fires since the authorities saw fit to add about fifteen special policemen to the force on Saturday evenings.

There is some talk of establishing a home for aged and needy members of the Order of the Maccoches. As the membership is now 130,000, 50 cents each in 10-cent payments would amount to $65,000, enough to build and equip a fine home.

The celebrated lecturer, John R. Clark, will lecture in the schoolroom of the Central Methodist Church on Monday and Tuesday, the 27th and 28th inst. His subject will be "To and Fro in London" and "Gough in Dialect, Humor and Oratory."

On Monday evening the annual meeting of the Sarnia Curling Club and the Canadian company was held in the office at the rink.
James King, president, presided. The annual report was read, and showed the total cost of ground and new building to be $13,000. The meeting then adjourned to meet on Monday, Dec. 4, for the election of directors.

Mr. Wm. Ellis, Christina street, is going to make a visit to Old England, the place of his birth, on Dec. 1. Bon voyage.

An electric light firm from Chicago had a representative here this week trying to buy out the interest of the gas company and put in an electric plant to light our streets and for the use of our citizens. It is hoped they may be successful, as the town is very poorly lighted at present.

Dr. McLean, registrar of Lambton, has been appointed returning officer for the election, and M. Sullivan was act as clerk.
Clara Leckie, an accomplice in the express robbery here some time ago, has been committed for trial at the next assizes.

Ball has been accepted, the accused himself in $2,000 and Joseph Ellison $1,000.

The hall for the upland Rev. building is progressing rapidly, and will be ready for use in a couple of weeks.

On account of the many incendiary fires in Sarnia lately the insurance companies have notified their agents here that the rate of insurance will be doubled, being rated as Class "F," instead of Class "B" as heretofore. This is a serious matter to a good many citizens.

MINIATURE REBELLION.

SPOKANE ALDERMEN DISREGARD THE PEOPLES VOICE—Violence Threatened —Troops Called Out.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 23.—A number of extra police were sworn in here last night.
A large crowd of laboring men were parading the streets, and angry threats were heard on every corner. The crowd threatened to blow up several large buildings, including the Morning Review building.
The leaders say several prominent citizens will be tarred and feathered and ridden out of town on rails. The lives of several prominent men have been threatened. Late in the evening the military were called out.

The disturbance was caused by the issuing of an injunction forbidding the city officials from letting the contract to build the upriver waterworks at a cost of $500,000.

The people have twice voted on the proposition, and carried it by a vote of 4 to 1. The city was bonded to pay for the work, and the people now claim that banks and corporations control the city, and are using the money to loan at 5 per cent. per month.

At a mass meeting last night A. M. Cannon, the president, and Simon Oppenheimer were denounced as traitors and murderers, and it was insisted that the men here who control the 30,000 population must be gotten rid of to keep the people from starvation.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

Three Young Ladies Fatally Injured at Kenia, Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 23.—An express on the Little Miami route struck a carriage in the suburbs of Xenia, in which were three young ladies. Miss Annie Kelso and Miss Mary Madill were instantly killed, and Miss Eva Kelso so badly injured that she will die.

The $350,000 Premium Assured.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—The Ledger says the trial board of the cruiser Columbia has figured out the official speed to be 22.8 knots, and that the premium of $350,- 000 was assured.

New Line Between New York and Chicago.
CLEVELAND, Nov. 23.—A meeting of gentlemen interested in plans for the proposed electric car line between New York and Chicago was held at the residence of Dr. Joseph C. Anderson last night. Noting definite, however, was accomplished.
The estimated cost, in round numbers, will be $100,000,000.

—(FRANCIS BISMARCK.)

London, Friday, Nov. 24.

—The P. P. A. candidate in East Lambton has for the chief plank in his platform the abolition of the Golden Rule.

—Someone sends a report from Kingston that Principal Grant may enter Parliament as a McCarthyite. This is improbable. It is far more likely that he will take a nomination as a Grantite. He has much in common with the Liberals, if his letters to the Globe mean anything, but we see some advantage in his going to Ottawa as a free lance.

—D'Alton McCarthy says he is getting tired waiting for the opening of Cardwell, where he means to show how strongly his views are upheld in a Conservative hive.

The more the Administration hears of this kind of talk the further off do they postpone the date of giving Robert White,

M.P., the Montreal customs collectorship.

Winnipeg would never have been opened at this time if Hugh John Macdonald had not retired from Parliament utterly tired of public life.

—In the British House of Commons the remarkable fact was brought out that there are 400 derelict vessels in the gulf stream.

It is proposed that the British Government join that of the United States in blowing up the wrecks. That is a good idea. But there would be less menace to ocean navigation if the great powers did not permit these ocean wrecks to accumulate. Would it not be a good idea in time of peace to establish an ocean patrol of the warships of the various nations, the duties of which would be to rescue or aid the disabled or shipwrecked merchantmen, and send to the bottom every hopeless wreck come ashore?

It would be better for the men-of-war to be engaged in some such useful occupation than to be playing at war or loafing around the coasts.

—Sir Oliver Mowat had a very warm reception when he appeared at the annual meeting of the Liberal Association of Toronto the other evening. The Evening Telegram, which has generally opposed Sir Oliver, thus refers to him at the present time, under the heading of "Sir Oliver a Fighter".

—Wisdom and respect, which come to the great man with age, arm Sir Oliver Mowat as he girds himself for still another fight.

Ontario's Old Man seems to have all the strength which a youthful leader could exercise in the service of the party. He has the wisdom, not to say the craft and cunning, which experience has taught him.

He has the respect, also, which his years of distinguished and honest service have won from fellow-countrymen, without regard to political differences. A leader who combines youthful vigor with all the advantages of age is hard to beat. Ontario Griggs have a conqueror in their own Sir Oliver, and their prayer is "Long may he wave."

—Sir Oliver will be Liberal leader in Ontario as long as he lives, and his legion of friends will wish that his days may be long in the land. He is yet many years the junior of Britain's Grand Old Man, who still holds the fort at Westminster.

—A dispatch from Constantinople says that Judge Terrell, the United States

Minister, has just gained a notable diplomatic victory. For several years the number of female physicians in Turkey has been increasing, notwithstanding the fact that Turkish law refused to recognize them as legitimate practitioners. Foremost among them have been the American missionaries, who have repeatedly won the highest praise for their self-denying work.

They have, however, been greatly hampered by the fact that they could not secure regular Turkish diplomas, and the various foreign embassies have been very earnest in their efforts to gain for them official recognition. Hitherto they have failed entirely, but at last Turkish conservatism has yielded, and to the American Embassy belonged the honor of securing what neither

Russian, French, British, nor German Ambassadors could gain. This certainly is a triumph of which Christian people the world over will rejoice to learn. It is a fact that the missionary who understands the uses of medical remedies, and can heal the sick of body as well as point to a remedy for soul-sickness, has a much better opportunity to reach the homes and the hearts of all eastern peoples. This is especially the case with regard to women missionaries, and there-fore the guarantee of freedom to practice granted them in the great Turkish field is the most important item of missionary news that has come from the east in many a day.

DARED NOT MEET ROSS.

Those men in Forest and neighborhood who have been expressing their desire to meet and "heckle" Hon. Geo. W. Ross, Minister of Education, missed a first-class opportunity when they went under the barn on the occasion of the recent visit of that statesman.

Again and again, during the meeting at Forest on Tuesday night, either Mr. McCallum, Dr. Ovens, or any other opponent of the Government of Sir Oliver Mowat were challenged to come forward and rebut, if they could, the vigorous exposition of the policy of the Liberal chiefs. Here was the opportunity to face the Minister for which some of the orators of a previous meeting professed to be pining. Why did their courage ooze out of their finger ends the moment it was put to the test? Echo answers, Why? And why, if there was anything really objectionable in the Liberal platform, were not Messrs. Marter and Moncrieff ready to face the Minister, instead of being engaged in the impossible task of make-believe that a regular Conservative has been kept out of the contest because there has been no time to put him in the field?

This public shirking of the issues by the opponents of the Government, while sending runners up and down the side-lines to tell falsehoods intended to incite creed bigotry, is absolutely unworthy of decent citizens.

CONFESSIONS OF THE CAMPAIGN.

A remarkable case of conscience has just been brought under the notice of the public. There was a time when it was the common saying in the Ontario Legislature that Mr. Richard Tooley, the Conservative member for East Middlesex, slept enough during the session to entitle him to be known as the champion sleeper of his party. But the events of the last day or two demonstrate that he is no longer in the contest. Mr. Meredith, of Toronto, Mr. Marter, of Muskoka, Mr. Clancy, of Kent, have made public confession that they have been in a state of unconsciousness for many weeks past, and that they are scarcely yet awake—indeed, the report has it that Mr. Meredith, though implored to do so by his friends, is so helpless that he can neither write nor speak at this juncture!

It is a deplorable condition of affairs. These political leaders ask the public to believe that they have only just learned of the lamented death of Hugh Mackenzie, M. P. for East Lambton. They ask the public to believe that they never knew that the seat was vacant until Tuesday last, though Mr. Mackenzie's death was chronicled in every paper of the Province weeks ago. They ask to be credited with ignorance of all intention to hold a by-election to fill the seat until now, though public announcement of days and dates was made in every newspaper weeks ago! And they and their coadjutors in East Lambton try to keep a straight face while they say that their only reason for not putting a regular candidate in the field against the Liberal nominee is to be found in their helpless ignorance of the fact that an election was about to be held.

That practically is the story told on the platform at the Vawford convention of followers of Mr. Meredith, where it was followed that owing to the lateness of the hour the Conservative party would have no regular representative in the contest, and where the speeches generally were in favor of the party taking up the candidate who has been brought out by the P. P. A., with the tacit understanding that there should be no regular Conservative nominee.

Could confession of the weakness of Mr. Meredith's cause go further?

Why did the advisers of the East Lambton Conservative convention not tell the whole truth, as enunciated weeks ago by a well-known lieutenant of the Conservative leader in the Legislature? That gentleman then declared that the party would put up no candidate in East Lambton—that it intended to "try it on the dog" with the P. P. A. organization, and to test its strength before Mr. Meredith would declare what his platform would be.

In view of this intention to take advantage of an undercurrent of religious bigotry that self-seeking emissaries have been up and down the riding trying to foment, what honesty was there in Mr. Marter, Mr. Moncrieff and other leading Conservatives standing up and advising that no regular Conservative candidate should be put up because of the lateness of the time? We have knowledge that a little bit of theatricals was prearranged, and that it was resolved upon because Mr. Meredith and his friends had no faith that in a straight, above-board contest they could win the seat.

Dr. McKinnon's election will be a rebuke to those men, who, owing to their dark-lantern methods, have come to be dubbed "The Creepers." Their tactics should not have the countenance of any manly elector, be he Liberal or be he Conservative.

NOVELTIES IN READING.

"Good Humor" is the title of a book of excellent mirth-provoking pieces, selected from the best authors by Henry Frith Wood and for sale by James I. Anderson & Co., this city. Penn Publishing Company, Philadelphia. Price 30 cents.

"Shepp's World's Fair Photographed," is the title of a magnificent work of art issued by the Globe Bible Publishing Company, Chestnut street, Philadelphia. The collection of magnificent original photographs of every leading building on the grounds, the fountains, gardens and a hundred and one curiosities is by far the best issued. The binding is handsome and the letterpress most artistic. This work affords clear, vivid, realistic views of the great exposition. It will be a remembrance to those fortunate enough to have visited the great exposition, and to those who failed to do so it will afford the next best pleasure—a realization of its beauties by the aid of the best agencies at man's command. Its pictorial effects are really remarkable.

Rudyard Kipling has written a weird elephant story, in which Little Toomai, the elephant keeper, is taken by Kala Nag, his monstrous beast, to see the dance of the elephants in the jungle—the most wonderful moonlight revel of the East.

The Delineator for January commences a new volume, and is called the "Winter Holiday Number." It is an unusually attractive issue, the fashions being appropriate to the season, and the reading matter varied and interesting. One dollar a year. The Delineator Publishing Company of Toronto (limited).

Archdeacon Farrar lives in the very heart of London, under the shadow of Westminster Abbey and close to the Parliament buildings. In McClure's Magazine for December he chats most entertainingly about his life and work, and about the many famous people who have lived in his neighborhood. The article is illustrated with ten large drawings by the brilliant American artist, Arthur Jules Goodman.

The Illustrated Buffalo Express announces the conditions of its third annual contest for amateur photographers, with $125 in cash prizes. The amateurs of the country find the Express contests the fairest and most satisfactory of any, since the Express makes free reproductions of their work, and pays for all photographs used. The contest closes Dec. 15, and the awards will be announced in the Christmas Express.

"The Campers Out or The Right Path and the Wrong," by Edward Ellis. This is an exciting story of boy companions who make up their minds to go west and shoot Indians, and of the failure of the expedition to do so. Pleasant cover. Philadelphia: Penn Publishing Company. London: James I. Anderson.

Dr. George Macdonald is a sick man, but, nevertheless, a busy one. He has not been able to lecture or preach for many months, but he has nearly finished another novel. He is obliged to spend his winters in Italy.

"The Iron Casket Mystery" is a somewhat exciting tale about a number of boys. It is of good moral tone and would make an interesting Christmas gift for a wide-awake boy. It is nicely gotten up with an attractive cover, by Sydney Marlow. Philadelphia: Penn Publishing Company. London: James I. Anderson.

"Practical Synonymy" is a neat pocket volume, designed "to give skill in the choice and right use of words, and to afford variety and facility in expression," and is adapted for use in public and private schools. The author is John H. Bechtel, Philadelphia: Penn Publishing Company. London: J. I. Anderson.

There lies before us a witty and original collection of conundrums, riddles and puzzles by Dean Rivers, well calculated to help to pass dull winter evenings or rainy afternoons in bright and cheerful fashion. Philadelphia: Penn Publishing Company. London: J. I. Anderson.

"Quotations," compiled by Agnes H. Morton, is, as the authoress expresses it in the preface, "an evening of time. By their use one may in a single terse phrase explicate an idea that would otherwise have required to be amplified into several sentences of original composition." The binding of this little volume is neat and attractive. Philadelphia: Penn Publishing Company. London: J. I. Anderson.

"Shoemaker's Best Selections for Reading and Recitations" (No. 21) is a carefully selected little paper-covered edition of prose and poems for readers and elocutionists. Penn Publishing Company. J. I. Anderson, London.

WILY HETTY GREEN.

PECULIARITIES OF A WOMAN WORTH $60,000,000.

She is Old Fashioned in Appearance, Severely Plain in Dress, but the Personification of Shrewdness When Financial Transactions Are Involved.

Not a small part of the fame of Brooklyn can be laid to the credit of the remarkable woman who now lives and lives now within its borders—women who have taken rank and honor in almost every walk of life. It is a well known fact that a very large proportion of the real estate of the city is held in the names of women. It is not a widely known fact that the woman who is reputed to be the richest in the United States lives in the City of Churches and right in the classic section known as the heights too. Her wealth is variously estimated at from $40,000,000 to $60,000,000, and her name is Mrs. Hetty Green. Her name and personality are more familiar to Wall street than they are to Brooklyn society. That is because Mrs. Green has chosen to devote all her time to the manipulation of her fortune and has let society get along without her. Hetty Green at an Ithetonga ball would create a sensation indeed, but it is not likely that such an occasion will ever be recorded by society writers.

Hosts of people have brushed elbows with a shrewd and rather calm faced woman, apparently 50 years old, rather short, wearing a plain, old fashioned shawl and a bonnet so far beyond fashion's pale that no one would ever suspect it had been in it, even years ago. No body ever saw her with a dress which was not severely plain, and seldom has she been noticed when she did not carry an old style and worn black satchel. Her appearance would never cause the uninitiated to think that she was anything more extraordinary than an old fashioned woman of moderate means and simple tastes, who was on her way to the corner grocery or the bakery on the block below. Yet, if money is power, this same staid looking person is one of the most powerful human beings in the country.

In an old fashioned house on a corner in Pierpont street Mrs. Green and her daughter, Sylvia have lived for several years. The modest apartments they occupy are hired from a pleasant faced woman, who keeps the house and who has an admiration for Mrs. Green, which she does not conceal. The richest woman in the United States has a son, who has been spending some time in Florida seeking to improve his health. Mrs. Green has been a widow for many years, and her daughter is about 20 years old. Since the death of her husband, Sylvia has become a financial expert of unusual shrewdness. She has indicated by her actions that she has small faith in brokers, and that if she wants anything done the best way is to do it herself.

The weather beaten satchel has carried securities representing millions of dollars. It has knocked about New York and Brooklyn and other big financial centers with precious burdens, and Hetty Green has always had a tight grip on it. She does not believe in spending her money on things she does not want, and as she wants very little she spends but little. Her children and her fortune are the sole objects of her solicitude. Mrs. Green is said to be very anxious to have her daughter become one of the leading actors in the famous Four Hundred of Manhattan island. Something of an obstacle in the way of this is the daughter herself, according to report. Miss Green is credited with caring as little for the dazle and newspaper notoriety of a social career as her mother. She is a girl whose tastes are quiet and to whom dress is a matter of little consideration.

Mrs. Green, by way of a foundation for her daughter's social debut, some time ago settled a large sum of money on that young woman in government bonds. The amount is stated to be $5,000,000.

Incidents in the career of this remarkable woman have stamped her as a bold yet cautious operator in stocks and securities. When the financial panic of 1884 occurred, Mrs. Green had a large deposit in a firm of Canadian bankers named Cisco & Co. of New York. Information reached her that the bank was in an unsafe condition, and without waiting for her more she went to the institution and withdrew her entire deposit. The firm had no alternative, and after paying her her money was compelled to suspend and finally failed completely.

Hetty Green is the largest property owner in the city of Chicago. She holds title to block after block of land in the business section, and her son assists in looking after her interests there. For many years she lived in the western metropolis, and she spends much of her time there when away from Brooklyn.

Her characteristic bargain with ex-Judge Henry Hilton is fresh in the minds of financiers. The money which the judge wanted so badly is generally conceded to have been used in buying out the interest of his son, Henry G. Hilton, in the dry goods firms of Hilton, Hughes & Co. and Hilton Bros. He went to Mrs. Green, or his lawyers did, and made a request for a loan of $1,250,000 in cash. Mrs. Green was willing to lend, but insisted on having a mortgage on the marble palace at the corner of Broadway and Chambers street, New York, the Stewart building, which, with the land, is supposed to be worth $3,000,000. She would take no other security, and after a two months' search of the title the largest mortgage ever given on a single piece of property in New York was recorded. But Judge Hilton needed the money before the search had been concluded, and after he had placed in the hands of Hetty Green title deeds representing $15,000,000 worth of property she advanced him $800,000. And in addition to this the shrewd speculator forced him to sign a paper agreeing that she should hold the deeds until the mortgage was executed.

THE BRIDEGROOM FAINTED.

startling Scene at a Wedding held in Grand Army Hall, Elizabeth.

ELIZABETH, Nov. 23.—Mr. Nathan

Lubinsky, of Worcester, Mass., was married the other evening in Grand Army

Hall to Miss Sarah Rosenthal, a daughter of Morris Rosenthal, a business man of Wall street, this city. Rabbi Silverman had hardly pronounced the binding words that united the couple when the bridegroom fell forward and lay apparently dead at the feet of the bride.

The hall was filled with guests, and the screams of the women almost caused a panic. The bride fell swooning into the arms of the bridegroom. She quickly regained consciousness, while the bridegroom was carried into an adjoining room.

She could not be kept from him, and her grief was heartrending.

After several minutes Lubinsky opened his eyes and showed signs of returning consciousness, but it was a long time before he was able to arise and comfort the bride.

Then the festivities were begun again, but the merriment was only half-hearted.

Lubinsky is a hearty and strong young man, but he had fasted all day, and this, with the excitement of the event, caused him to faint.

At midnight the bride and bridegroom had entirely recovered from the incident, and they started for their future home in Worcester.

It is now asserted that the excitement which led to the fainting was caused by the refusal of the bridegroom to pay a fee to a woman who said she had introduced him to the bride. Relying she would not get her money, the aged match-maker demanded a settlement while the couple were yet at the altar. Lubinsky is proud, and the demand overwhelmed him.

IMPORTANT!

"Win a Crown and wear it." is a very good motto. HEINTZMAN & CO.

having worked for and obtained a reputation as first-class piano manufacturers, do not feel that they are called upon to share it with any other firm, was by fallacious argument try to make the public believe that the piano they make is just as "just" as

THE HEINTZMAN, or that it is like "Heintzman." The public and intending purchasers especially, are asked to bear in mind that there is only one

HEINTZMAN & CO. Piano. Our trade mark is registered, therefore do not be induced to buy a piano unless it bears the good old name of "Heintzman & Co." It is a safe guarantee that the piano bearing it is reliable in every particular. We have some new

Monday night.

—There were dances and parties in almost every section of the city on Thank-—A Pawtucket, R.I., dispatch the other day, printed in these columns, appealed for information of one Charles F. Kirby, of London, Ont. His brother in Birmingham, England, had seen a notice to that effect in a paper there. An ADVERTISER reporter has made inquiries and searched the death certificates in the City Hall, but that name does not appear in any of them. It is learned that Kirby sailed for England from Montreal the other day, and he is probably in Birmingham by this time. In Toronto he had $30,000, his savings during his everyday stay in this America.

Overcome by Gas.

Isaac Duffield, assistant foreman of the City Gas Company, was overcome by gas on Wednesday, and had a narrow escape from death. He was helping to put in a

He was carried to the sidewalk, and in about half an hour was in a position to be removed to his home on Thames street.

A Hare and Hound Chase.

The Y. M. C. A. boys' branch had a paper chase yesterday afternoon, in which over 50 followed the trail. Almost six miles were traversed. A start was made at Victoria bridge and the route lay through South London to the Cove. One of the hares was here overtaken. The other two continued on their way until they got to Clark's bridge. A supper was served in the association rooms. All enjoyed this portion of the programme, which had been thoughtfully provided by the boys' committee. The hare and hound chase, Frank

"The Christian ministry and the Holy Spirit"; "The dispensation of the Eternal Word in the absence of our blessed Lord";

"Holiness and service"; "Parochial visiting and the power of example";
