Reflections on Autumn.

By MARY E. HERBERT. "The voice said cry. And he said what shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the goodness thereof is as the flower of the field."

At a Missionary Meeting in Liverpool-road Chapel, the President of the Conference adverted to the subject of the Bishop of Oxford, in his Lordship's defence and vindication.

Kempt Circuit.

DEAR SIR,—Perhaps the little information respecting this circuit might not be without interest to some of your readers.

Christian Eloquence.

There have been days when the Church was a power in the world. We read of the heroic ages; they are praised by the old poets as the beautiful and distant ages when fact and myth enshrouded.

Educational Notice.

MANY irregularities have occurred in the proceedings of the Annual School Meetings, in consequence of imperfect knowledge and misunderstanding concerning the requirements of the law, and many serious errors in several Counties having failed to provide for the support of Schools.

Because I live ye shall live also,—and "whoever believes in me shall never die." Glorious truth, "Life and immortality brought down to us by the gospel."

The Worship of God.

The Christian religion is a system of faith and doctrine. It is a rule of life and practice. But it is also a worship. It has its appointed day, its place, its manner, for public adoration and homage to Almighty God.

REQUISITS.—Among the bequestments of the late Hon. Wm. A. Black, are included the following:—The Wesleyan Ministers' Support Fund $1000, for the Halifax Wesleyan Sabbath School $400, and for the Halifax Wesleyan Poor fund $300.

REVEREND CHANGES.—The Executive Council was in Session last week. It is rumored that the Hon. Financial Secretary has resigned, and that the vacancy is to be filled by Avar Long's, Esq., M.P.C. for Annapolis.

PICTURE RAILWAY.—Tenders for several sections of the Picture Railway have been accepted. The whole will be under contract forthwith.

THE GOVERNOR OF N. B.—Governor Gordon appears likely to forfeit his popularity in the latter Province, by his intemperate denunciation of New Brunswickers as traitors, because that the Mayor of Fredericton did not convict a man accused of attempts to induce soldiers to desert.

THE EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS AT SAVANNAH.—A letter from Port Royal in the New York Times, dated on the 14th inst., after describing the arrangements made for the exchange of ten thousand prisoners at Savannah, which was to commence on Wednesday last week, says:—

"Probably no event of the war has invested itself with interest for the public mind more than this proposed exchange. What father or mother in the loyal States, from the shores of the Atlantic, who has loved one in any of the prison pens of the South, is not today praying that he who is so dear may be among the number selected for release? What sister, or brother, or friend, in all the country, who has a relative or acquaintance in captivity, is not today anxiously gazing and earnestly longing that the particular soldier in whose hands he is held, and who is so dear to him, may be among the fortunate thousand? Ten thousand of our men to be released of the nearly thousand whom the rebels claim to be in their custody. There are hundreds of families in the North to-day in painful suspense, awaiting the time which shall decide whether they have drawn prize in this exchange lottery where five-sixths of the chances are against them. I grieve to say that in a short time this suspense will be over."

THE VIRGINIAN.—An official intelligence that Lieut. Col. Wither, on the 31st inst. captured and burned two armed United States soldiers in the Barren and Fawn—with a quantity of small arms, on Buffalo Shoals of the Big Sandy river. On the same day captured a large amount of military stores at Wellonsburg.

On Sunday morning last two hundred native Irishmen, who have been Federal prisoners in our hands for over twelve months past, reached Augusta, from Florence, S. C., and passed through on their way to join Hood's army.

The above mentioned prisoners were refused an exchange by the Yankee government, in consequence of their time having run out, and feeling that they had not been treated right by the said government, and with a view to revenge, took the Oath of Allegiance to the Confederate States, and were duly sworn into our army by a Captain at Florence, S. C.

RAIDS INTO MARYLAND BY GUERRILLAS.—A force of about forty rebels were discovered crossing from the Maryland side of the Potomac into Virginia, near Edward's ferry, having with them some fifteen or twenty horses and some cattle. They are supposed to have crossed during the night. The Provost Marshal of Montgomery county, as soon as he was informed of the matter, made inquiry, and is believed to have followed a concerted horse and cattle steaming movement into Maryland going on by Moby's and the Provost Marshal's. The troops were by Harry Giltner, who left a note pinned to the wall of a deserted building, announcing that this present raid was only a forerunner of what was to come.

From information received at Washington, it is believed that Early has been recalled, with his entire force from the valley, to send to Stearns by rail, and that about ten thousand more troops have been detached from Lee's army and sent South for the purpose of forming a force of about 30,000 men under Early, with the design of intercepting Sherman, should he attempt to approach the Atlantic coast.

European.

Lord Wodehouse, the newly appointed Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, arrived at Dublin on the 13th inst. He was welcomed by the Corporation; he also took the opportunity of pointing out to him some of the wrongs of Muller here presented to Sir G. Gray, Home Secretary. The result is not yet announced, but report says that the direct interference of Parliament in the execution on 14th, were progressing at Muller.

At the banquet of the new Lord Mayor of London, Lord Palmerston made a speech, in which, in referring to the bloody war in America, he stated that the contending parties would soon be vanquished, and that the result would be a settlement of the American question, and that the only bright side in it was the prospect of liberty to the African.

The Methodist Recorder says: Should the Confederates decide upon introducing their negroes into the army, supposing them to behave well, and not turn upon their masters, several results appear likely to follow. In the first place, the inequality in point of numbers between the contending parties will be redressed, and as a probable consequence, the war will be proportionally prolonged. In the second place, two new and important considerations will be introduced into the strife: the Federals will be forced to kill the very people whom they wish to befriend; and emancipated negroes on both sides will be bound to face to face to exterminate each other's ranks, and to inflict upon each other tortures such as history has never before witnessed.

In the third place, as a counterbalancing consideration, the cause of the rebellion will be rendered free through the success of the Northern arms, will be added as many scores of hundreds of thousands as may be set free by Southern policy; and this another considerable step will be gained towards the total extirpation of slavery. It is thus that small groups and bands of men, and shaking of earth and heaven, the infernal monster seems destined to expire.

It is a second letter the President protests against the outrage committed by the Federal steamer Washburn and the Consul's conduct therein, and breaks off all relations with the United States, and offers to release thirty slaves, under this correspondence several of the English Consuls relations their denunciations of the fish journal the Star says that, though the Federal accounts have not yet been received, there can be no doubt that the same violation of neutrality law has been committed, and it hopes the United States Government will repudiate the transaction, and offer to release thirty slaves, and wait for the capture of the Confederate vessels in the Gulf of Mexico, and we know nothing about the capture of the vessel, and we know nothing about the capture of the vessel, and we know nothing about the capture of the vessel.

The details of the hurricane at Calcutta are given. It appears that about every ten years or so of these Cyclonic visits this country. In 1842, and 1852 similar hurricanes occurred; but the recent one surpassed either in severity. Calcutta the worst city in the world, is now described as a mere wreck and out of the 220 magnificent vessels in the Hooghly, more than one half were destroyed. All the factories, mills and buildings beyond had been destroyed. The railways were gutted and torn up, and all the property in the district was no longer of military importance, and the country for miles around is wasted beyond the
