THE SITUATION.

The enemy has renewed his effort on the Flanders front, attacking the Allies in force on a small section in the Ypres area. The envelopment of the ridges is the manifest object and Haig reports that some front line trenches were entered at certain points. The movement is probably the prelude to the operations on a larger scale, and the French and British alike express renewed confidence that they can successfully withstand the strain.

British troops have entered Kirkuk, in Mesopotamia and the Turks offered no opposition.

In Washington, estimates were submitted to Congress of over $2,000,000,000 for a ship building program.

The political crisis in the Old Land continues at fever heat. It is generally believed that Lloyd George will weather the storm. One of the main features which has been disclosed is that a general feeling exists that it would not be wise to put the Asquith crowd into power again.

WELCOME HOME

It was characteristic of Lt.-Col. Genet that he should decline any public demonstration upon his return to Brantford. He has always been a man who has carried out the duties falling to his lot without any ostentation, and his decision in this particular was part and parcel of the fact that he has never looked for aggrandizement. Had he decided otherwise, he would have been the recipient of a public demonstration of a most marked and spontaneous nature.

Leaving this city at the head of the 58th Battalion, nearly three years ago, he has seen a tremendous amount of fighting on the Western front, and the universal testimony of officers and men alike is that from first to last he has enjoyed the highest respect and confidence of all—brave, resourceful and most careful in every way of those under him. The fact that he wears the D.S.O. is sufficient indication of what the Imperial authorities have thought of him, and it is also worthy of note that both his sons have won decorations for valor. It is understood that Col. Genet returns to Canada to accept a high military position. Brantfordites will unitedly join in wishing for himself, Mrs. Genet and the "Boys," continued health and success.

A GREAT CONCERN.

The Courier voices the common congratulations of Brantfordites upon the remarkably successful career of the Dominion Steel Products Company. In almost two years the concern has reached such dimensions that in a short time it will be the largest employer of skilled labor in the city. One thousand is the anticipated number of hands and it is needless to dwell upon the fact of what they and their families will mean to the community, more especially as a high rate of wages will be paid. Arising out of this volume of hands there has come the housing problem and it is a source of gratification to know that the company has taken hold of this phase of affairs with characteristic vigor. The details given elsewhere in this issue outline the project in full.

Mr. W. P. Kellett, the inspiring spirit of the Dominion Steel, Mr. W. S. Brewster and the others prominently associated with him have indeed, by their enterprise, added most materially to the industrial outlook of this community and they are deserving of every commendation for the comprehensive and efficient way in which they propose to handle the residence problem. The career of this company is certainly one which shows what enterprise and splendid business vision can accomplish.

LORD MILNER.

Though there has never been an imputation of disloyalty against Viscount Milner, the new secretary of state for war in the British cabinet, yet it is a curious fact that the man who now is directing the war office was born in Bonn, Germany, was largely educated in Germany and had a German mother. British in sentiment to the backbone, he nevertheless, brings to the task of waging war on Germany a knowledge of German methods and an admiration of certain phases of German thoroughness, which he may utilize against themselves.

Lord Milner has been described as "the finest flower of Oxford culture." Into his head and heart seem to have been poured the dominating ideas of both nations—Germany and England and if there is a man who can bring to England the capacity and thoroughness of the German government, and an military system, and at the same time can organize every ounce of the most genuine British resistance to German aggression, one would say that it is Milner.

He has been one of the sharpest critics of British slackness and muddling from the very beginning of the war, that public discussion has produced. He held up without ceasing the necessity of the consolidation, of the simplification of rule, and has crusaded like a political Ishmael against all forms of muddling. Lord Milner's central idea, that of the concentration of the whole power of the nation—not too much thinking of precedents and English habits of government and deliberation for the achievement of victory, is reflected in his own words comparing the army to a spearhead, which "to be driven home needs the whole weight of the spear behind it," that is, to say the solid and absolutely unhesitating force of the entire nation.

Milner's reputation is built up on a foundation of solid hard work and sound achievement. He began his climbing early, as a man who has to make his own way in the world ought to do. Educated for several years in Germany, he finished up his early studies by taking all the prizes there were to be had at King's college. He then matriculated at Oxford. Here he is said to have made a deep impression on Mr. Goschen in a university debate while Milner was still an undergraduate. Mr. Goschen is said to have remarked that Milner was the first undergraduate he ever heard talk like a statesman.

After leaving the university young Milner entered the field of journalism and associated himself with William T. Stead on the Pall Mall Gazette. He withdrew from that journal to become Mr. Goschen's private secretary, and in 1889 he entered the Egyptian service. In the Egyptian service he played an important part, and his book on Egypt was at once accepted as the standard vindication of the control which Great Britain has to establish over Egypt.

In 1892 he was appointed chairman of the board of inland revenue. He rose rapidly in public affairs and made friends with Sir William Vernon Harcourt, whose patronage did not hurt him. It was not until 1897 however that Milner had the opportunity to display his great talents as a statesman and administrator. In that year he was sent out to South Africa as her Britannic majesty's high commissioner and governor of the colony of the Cape of Good Hope. His big task was to conciliate the Boers and to smooth away the ruffles of dissatisfaction and discontent left by the South African War. How well he succeeded in the task has become a matter of history.

As a soothing lotion for hot heads and as an oil feather for jarring political machinery, the war secretary is unrivaled. Imperturbable, unemotional, and of the most winning manner, which always impresses him whom it is desired to impress, that all the Milnerian sympathy and interest is centered in him, he is a diplomat of the most insinuating kind. He is one of those men who seem to have a natural knack for "eating up work." He is always busy and never in a hurry. He makes it a habit to work not less than 12 hours a day. When he is in full harness in the public service, the first moment of leisure he can find to glance through the London papers is usually some time after midnight.

DEATH CALLS A PARIS RESIDENT

Miss Jennie E. Nelson Died Suddenly on Tuesday Morning

Paris, May 8.—(From our own correspondent)—Death came with striking suddenness to Miss Jennie E. Nelson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson, of Paris station, yesterday morning. Deceased was in her usual good health and was in the act of packing furniture, preparatory to moving, when she was stricken down, life being extinct before medical aid could be summoned. The late Miss Nelson was well and favorably known here, where she has resided all her life and for a number of years has owned and conducted a large millinery store. She was a faithful member of the Church of the Sacred Heart, and took an active interest in every department. She was also much interested in patriotic work, and just recently had organized a knitting club in connection with the R. C. church. Two sisters and two brothers are left to mourn the loss of a loving sister, namely, Mrs. O'Neill, Paris Station, and Miss Margaret at home, Patrick at Hamilton and Thomas of the G. T. R. at Brantford to whom the sympathy of the community will be extended in their sad and sudden bereavement. The funeral takes place on Friday morning from the family residence, corner of Spruce and Franklin Sts., to the Church of the Sacred Heart, then to the R. C. cemetery.

ASSAULT BY ENEMY ON FIVE MILE FRONT MAY BE PRELUDE TO RESUMPTION OF DRIVE

London, May 8.—What possibly may prove to be the prelude to the long-expected resumption of hostilities by the Germans on the western front is being played.

Southeast of Ypres, from the region of Voormezelle to La Clytte, the Germans have launched an attack against the British and French certain points over the five-mile battle front they have met with some success by penetrating front line trenches. Apparently, however, over the greater part of the field of combat they met with repulse.

As is usual, the enemy began the attack after a heavy preliminary bombardment. The ground gained is south of Dikrich, Leke and Ridge wood, around which places hard fighting was continuing at last accounts.

Apparent Objective.

The objective of the enemy seems to be to gain forward positions in this region in order still further to outflank Ypres on the southwest and press on towards Poperinghe.

OTHER PARIS NEWS

(From our own Correspondent) Paris, May 8.—At the monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year. President, Miss Alice Smith; Congregational, Miss Roberts; Methodist, Mrs. T. O. Apps; Presbyterian, Mrs. Richardson; Baptist, Miss Cuney; Anglican, Mrs. Dench; Secretary, Mrs. Wm. Springate; Treasurer, Ms. E. O. Apps.

Word was received in town this morning of the death of Mr. Thomas Treadwell, which occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Wylie, 144 Gladstone Ave, Hamilton, last evening. The remains will be taken to the funeral home for interment. The funeral will take place from the G. T. R. depot, upon the arrival of the 4.07 train, to Paris cemetery.

The glorious and patriotic spirit shown by the people of Paris in its answer to many appeals during the past four years has again been shown. This time the appeal is on behalf of the Y. M. C. A. overseas work. The objective was $3000, and by this afternoon $2000 had been subscribed, with a large number of canvasses still on their feet. The executive state that indications show that the $3000 will be met and probably passed. This appeal for the great work being carried on seems to touch everybody.

A pleasant event occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. Wickman, Banfield St., when the Junction Knitting Club and friends assembled to offer congratulations and assist in the celebration of the 40th anniversary of their wedding. A very enjoyable evening was spent in music and progressive euchre. Mrs. Crawford, on behalf of the Knitting club, presented Mrs. Wickman with a half dozen community silver coffee spoons, and Mrs. Wickman presented Mrs. Hilborn then presented Mr. Wickman with a box of cigars from the gentlemen of the party. A very dainty repast was served by the lady. The happy gathering was capped by singing "For they are jolly good fellows," and God Save the King, and all wishing Mr. and Mrs. Wickman many more happy years together.

Mrs. H. C. Barrows and Mrs. T. J. London have been spending a few days in Brantford. Mr. and Mrs. Wickman, Banfield St. Mrs. W. Hilborn and friends are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elliott.

MEN NEEDED MORE THAN FOOD TODAY

Sir Robert Borden Explains Reason for Cancellation of All Exemptions

By Courier Leased Wire Ottawa, May 9.—"If a scattered and broken remnant, overwhelmed because not reinforced, should return to Canada, it would profit little to tell them that while they were being decimated our production had been largely increased." In these words the Prime Minister, in a statement issued to-day sums up the situation at the front in its relation to the order-in-Council cancelling all exemptions of Class One men between 20 and 22 years of age, inclusive.

The statement reads: "Since the passing of the order-in-council of April 28th, 1918, empowering the governor in council to call our men of specified ages regardless of exemptions granted or claimed, numerous representations have been received by members of the government expressing the view that the proposed action will prejudicially effect production in certain industries such as the decreasing of agricultural production, the manufacture of munitions of war, in shipbuilding, in transportation and other similar activities that are important, if not essential for war purposes. The government weighed most carefully all these considerations before entering upon the policy above set forth. With a view of interfering as little as possible with production of providing men who would be most readily available and would be most efficient for reinforcing the Canadian army in France it was decided in the first instance to call out men from 20 to 22, both inclusive.

CHAPTER I. Bob Explains.

"What in the world made you so late?" I asked. "It didn't take you all this time to tell the house, did it?"

"No, not quite, although one can't sell a house in a minute, my dear." "What else did you do?"

"Why I took her up to Kendall's studio and he gave us some tea. I left them looking over the manuscript of her new book."

"I thought her book had been published." "One has! This is another, and the little I saw of it, I think it bids fair to be even better than her first one."

"I should think that you would have been ready to come home instead of going to John Kendall's."

"I wanted to see John. I am writing an article on real estate values now as compared to those some years ago, and I wished to consult him."

"You are writing a book?" I queried, surprised. "No, indeed! nothing as ambitious as that. John has taken over the Maps Magazine, and he asked me to write an article on real estate."

"Oh dear! I suppose John Kendall thought he would give you an excuse to spend your time with him! I liked a nice home, and good clothes; I would willingly have lived more economically if Bob would remain with me and give up his outside acquaintances."

after hearing and investigation with consequent appeals and all the loss of the resulting therefrom. "The enemy nations are throwing into this war their entire available man power which has been organized for this purpose during the past fifty years, and which is now concentrated upon the western battle front chiefly against the British forces which are under attack by an enormous superiority of numbers. In the midst of that terrific struggle the Canadian nation cannot discharge its duty unless its Government provides the certain means of speedy and sufficient reinforcements."

"The enemy nations will not await our convenience and their fierce on-set is not stayed by any consideration of hardship, loss or sorrow entailed upon us by their effort to dominate the world. Supreme effort and sacrifice are called for. If we fail in these we shall fall in all else."

Sir Robert Borden wired the Quebec board of trade that it is not intended to pass the Bankruptcy Act this session.

WAS TOO PAGER.

A good story is now going the rounds concerning a local young man whose order to serve king and country placed him in a decidedly embarrassing position. He had tried to enlist some time ago, and had been rejected because of defective eyesight; therefore, upon being called to the colors under the M.S. A., he determined to ensure his passing, and to this effect memorized the letters upon the eyesight chart. Presenting himself for examination, he read the letters off without a stumble, unaware of the fact that it was a wholly different chart with which he was being tested. The letters which he had memorized, in fact were so wide of the mark that he was detained by the authorities on an attempt of fraudulently attempting to evade military service. When he finally succeeded in clearing himself of that charge, by revealing the actual deficiency of his eyesight, he suffered the disappointment of being placed in class E.

BIG SUCCESS WAS SCORED

Under the Auspices of the Second Depot Battalion

Largest Audience at the Ground Given Enjoyable Evening

There was a large and delighted audience at the Grand Opera House last night when a most attractive program was presented, under the auspices of the 2nd Depot Battalion, 2nd C.O.R. The crowd numbered a goodly representation of officers and men.

Under the able direction of Bandmaster Chadwick, the band rendered several notable numbers. He has got together a splendid organization, thoroughly well balanced in the matter of reeds and brasses and the various selections were given a most artistic interpretation. The opening march, "Waveney," was given with great rhythm and all of the numbers throughout were characterized by exceptional tonal results. One of the most popular of the military fantasia, "Our Soldiers." It was a descriptive piece with the call to arms, preparing for war and the introduction of several military bands, concluding with "Rule Britannia," rousing those present to a great pitch of enthusiasm. "Reminiscences of Ireland" also came in for much deserved praise from the audience. Miss Florence McMullen proved herself to be a violinist of exceptional ability. She gets a splendid tone from the instrument and her technique is above the ordinary.

The Adanae Male Quartette were heard to exceedingly great advantage. Four fine and well blended voices have never been heard here. The members were also heard to great advantage in solo work. Jules Brazil is a consummate entertainer. He is original and uses the piano in his work in a most effective way. His witty offerings created great amusement and he found high favor with the crowd. Altogether a thoroughly enjoyable evening was afforded.

WILL INTRODUCE HOME RULE BILL SON, SAYS LAW

Trades Union and the Labor Party Appeal Against Irish Conscription

By Courier Leased Wire. London, May 9.—(Via Reuters' Ottawa agency)—Right Hon. A. Bonar Law announced in the House of Commons last night that he hoped the Home Rule Bill would be introduced before Whit Sunday.

A Strong Appeal. London, May 9.—A joint committee of the Union, Congress and the Labor Party has sent a strong appeal to the Government against enforcing conscription in Ireland. It says, in part:

"It must be clearly evident to the government that an attempt to enforce conscription would mean not only the shedding of blood of thousands of Irishmen, Englishmen and Scotchmen, but also the maintenance of a huge permanent army of occupation in Ireland. To-day, every soldier is needed on the western front, yet the government is proposing a course which will involve the withdrawal of hundreds of thousands of soldiers to engage in a civil war which will outrage the conscience of the civilized world. "Moreover Irishmen are scattered over the wide world—in America and in the Dominions of Great Britain itself—besides large numbers on the western front. The tragedy cannot be local or confined to Ireland. It may easily be the beginning of a world tragedy in which our last hopes of a fairer future will be extinguished. "With all these facts and terrible anticipations in mind, we confidently appeal to the government to take the necessary steps to avert the appalling disaster which now threatens."

London, May 9.—Two successful raids in the past week, with the capture of a few prisoners, and also several destructive artillery bombardments are recorded in an official statement issued last night on British operations on the Italian front. British aviators, it is added, since the last report have destroyed 17 hostile airplanes and lost none. Important military targets in the rear of the enemy were bombed effectively.

MAYOR OUTLINES CITY'S COAL PLANS

"No Recurrence of Last Year's Fuel Shortage," His Worship Promises

For the information of the public the Mayor has asked The Courier to explain that under the recent order of the Ontario Municipal Board the city is authorized to enter into the purchase and sale of coal and wood. The city is at present buying coal for storage purposes, but owing to the necessity of providing facilities for deliveries the city is not yet in a position to fill orders for the general public. A switch is being constructed into the West Brantford yards, and announcement will be made regarding deliveries just as soon as proper arrangements have been made. It is true that the Mayor has turned over a number of cars to factory employees and has arranged for the placing of a number of cars now on the way. About 600 tons are stored in the old Waterous property. This will be held for the purpose of supplying emergency cases in the colder months. The receipts of coal through the regular dealers up to the present are an improvement over last year, but as many of the dealers had booked orders for six or eight weeks ahead, there has been some difficulty in getting orders filled. As soon as these have been caught up with the public will not have any great difficulty in having their requirements taken care of. It is not to be expected that the city could launch into the coal business without providing proper facilities for the handling of cars, etc. It is desired that as little expense as possible should be incurred, as the construction of a switch will obviate the expense of teaming, and thus keep the price of coal down to a point where our people will not be overcharged. In the meantime the arrangements for handling wood are excellent, and the city has a big stock on hand and orders can be filled promptly through the agency of W. E. Hartman, next the Kerby House. The Mayor is desirous that every person who can possibly do so should burn wood during the summer months and thus conserve our coal for winter. If every home in the city would undertake to use a cord of wood in lieu of an equal quantity of coal it would prove a great factor in relieving any possible shortage during the coming winter.

of coal, but conditions in the coal region are very bad as to labor and there is no telling what difficulties we may have to overcome. This is a time when "selfishness" should be abolished and a broad spirit of mutual co-operation manifested. There is plenty of wood available. Let us all use it, and conserve our coal. Better to have an extra ton or two next winter than to have our people suffering.

I am in touch with all the local dealers except the Walsh Coal Co., and so far there has been no complaint of which I am aware. There was some misunderstanding in the minds of some people as to why the Standard Coal Co. were charging more than the other dealers. In fairness to this company, it may be stated that they are obliged to buy from the independent operators and thus pay from $1.00 to $1.75 more per ton for their coal. The consequence is that they have to charge more. The regulations, however, are very strict and all invoices are scrutinized by the Fuel Controller at Ottawa, and only a specified profit can be charged. My advice to the people is not to lay too much stress on the matter of 19c per ton extra. If we were to depend on the supplies received from the three companies we would be in a sorry plight, and were it not for a few independent sources of supply we would no doubt be paying much higher prices all round.

SIDELIGHTS ON CRISES

Continued from page one Rule Bill is presented in Parliament. The Daily Mail, although not withdrawing its support of the Government, says editorially that the Government have themselves partly to thank for the position in which they stand, having repeatedly shown timidity and weakness in dealing with high military and naval officers who have fallen at their posts. It is the fault of the Government to explain why General Maurice was removed from the War Office and whether he had a grudge to avenge.

Will Not Take Part. London, May 8.—The Irish Nationalists, according to The Daily News, decided officially Wednesday night not to participate in the proceedings in Parliament to-day. If this information is credible, a considerable majority in support of the Government in the event of a division would seem to be assured.

Lively Interest. London, May 9.—Irish Nationalist newspapers, says a despatch to The Times from Dublin, are taking the most lively interest in the Parliamentary crisis, the Nationalists obviously praying for a transfer of the Government to hands which would refuse to enforce conscription in Ireland.

The Freeman's Journal, it is added in describing the letter of Major-General Maurice as a ray of hope and says that unless the ministers can clear themselves, they must go or must divert the interest of the British public by a new sensation.

Shoemakers of the Canadian Consolidated Felt Company's plant at Kitchener walked out yesterday, the men alleging that they were dissatisfied with their scale of wages. St. Thomas Horticultural Society will ask the Duke of Devonshire to "christen" the Michigan Central Park, which has recently been beautified by the planting of trees.

Lemons Do Whiten! Try This on Face, Neck, Arms, Hands

The lemon juice massage indulged in once or twice each day means a little time and trouble, girls, but what of the splendid results? A skin bleached beautifully white, a complexion with the bloom of a peach, a softening of those lines of care; in fact, a skin eloquent of nature's purity and hands white, soft and full of charm.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to bleach the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quart pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure any fresh for months. When massaged daily into the face, neck, arms and hands it should naturally help to whiten, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin. Will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost, and the grocer has the lemons.

RAISE POULTRY IN BACK YARDS

Greater Egg and Hen Production Urged at Meeting Last Night CAPABLE SPEAKERS

"Produce More Poultry" was the slogan sounded in the Conservatory of Music Hall last evening, when a fair sized audience of local poultry raisers was addressed by J. S. Martin of Port Dover, world's champion breeder of White Wyandottes, and Robert Essex of Hamilton. The meeting, held under the auspices of the Brantford and Brant County Poultry and Pet Stock Association, was enthusiastic in tenor throughout, and sound principles for the backyard poultry keeping, as well as for more extensive undertakings, were laid before those present by speakers intimately acquainted through years of study and experience, with their subject.

"The opportunities offered by the poultry business after the war will be tremendous," was an argument forcefully brought forward by Mr. J. S. Martin in encouraging the entry of more citizens into the campaign. The warring nations of Europe had been depleted of their poultry, and were being stocked from the American continent. In the absence of Mayor MacBride, the chair was occupied by Ald. J. H. Clement, chairman of the Civic Fuel and Food Committee. While disclaiming any expert knowledge of the poultry business, Ald. Clement told of the manner in which poultry raising was becoming a day scientific study. After a few introductory remarks, he called upon J. S. Martin.

Of Port Dover, one of the most prominent poultry growers of Western Ontario, Mr. Martin spoke along lines of greater chicken production and backyard poultry keeping. To-day, there was a call for beef and pork to be raised on poultry farms to replace those by poultry and eggs. "Feed yourselves" was the slogan which should be adopted by all to-day, and the keeping of poultry as a practical means as any of increasing production. In the past, the keeping of poultry in city yards had been discouraged and placed under restrictions, which in view of the present situation had now been cancelled, and, the speaker believed, would never be re-enforced.

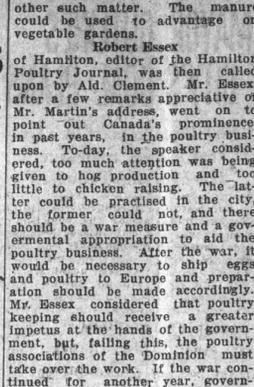

All over the country the price of poultry feed was rising at an alarming rate, and as a result there was a decrease in the number of hens kept on farms. People were becoming more particular, however, as to the quality of birds kept, and in view of the lesson of systematic raising, the speaker had in the past advocated action by the Government to ascertain the number of pullets kept in Ontario, as this class of birds produces the most eggs. Leg bands should be furnished by district representatives of the Department of Agriculture, and in this way the farmer could maintain accurate records of the number of pullets and one-year hens in his possession.

In backyard poultry raising, it would be found easier to produce eggs than hens, as it is impossible to raise many birds in a small space. A small flock of 10 or 15 birds would supply enough eggs for a good sized family. A hen lays on an average from 80 to 100 eggs in a year, but if well cared for in a backyard yard, it may produce many more. From ten to fifteen birds was a flock of the best size for the average man, or even a large family. Overcrowding must be avoided by thinning down the flock when necessary, the speaker declaring it a danger to be guarded against, as most poultry-bred hens had long ago been proven to be the best egg-producers. For the city backyard, generally a small area, one of the heavier breeds should be selected, for they can best stand confinement.

An expensive pen was a foolish investment at any time, a small, cheap coop and from five to six square feet of ground for each bird, was all that was necessary. The price of food might soar higher still, and the hens must be fed as economically as possible. Waste from the kitchen, notably peelings and other refuse material could be used. The hens would judge for themselves, and would not eat anything unwholesome. Not more than fifty per cent. soft food should be given, however, and the other fifty per cent. hard grain. The speaker had cut his feed bills in two by using vegetable tops, lawn clippings and other such substances. The pen should be whitewashed before the hens were placed in it as a protection against vermin.

The present prices of food did not permit of much profit from eggs, the forty cents a dozen, and the farmer, declared the speaker, suffered at the hands of the cold storage plants. There must be a fair ratio between the price of feed and the price of eggs, and he predicted a much higher price for the latter next winter, a potent reason why all should keep their own poultry. The war had given a decided impetus to poultry raising in Canada, and the situation to-day was due for improvement. An even greater development in the business would follow the war, and by commencing with a small flock the poultry fanciers would be repaid for more extensive production in a few years.

"It is up to those who are keeping hens to keep them properly, and with due regard to sanitation," declared Mr. Martin. The runs should be covered with dust, lime, sand or other such matter. The manure could be used to advantage on vegetable gardens.

HON. R. S. LAKE. The Lieutenant-Governor of Saskatchewan, who is in Toronto to attend the meeting of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Robert Essex of Hamilton, editor of the Hamilton Poultry Journal, was then called upon by Ald. Clement. Mr. Essex, after a few remarks appreciative of Mr. Martin's address, went on to point out Canada's prominence, in past years, in the poultry business. To-day, the speaker considered, too much attention was being given to egg production and too little to chicken raising. The latter could be practised in the city, the former could not, and there should be a war measure and a governmental appropriation to aid the poultry business. After the war, it would be necessary to ship eggs and poultry to Europe and preparation should be made accordingly. Mr. Essex considered that poultry should be raised in a greater impetus at the hands of the government, but, falling this, the poultry associations of the Dominion must take over the work. If the war continued for another year, governmental action would be imperative.

The poultry keepers of Canada and the U. S. the speaker declared, should be among the most industrious of them cared for their birds at the close of their regular day's work. The women could greatly aid in the care of poultry and lend assistance for another year, governmental action would be imperative. Those contemplating entry into the business should become members of their local poultry association, and would derive great benefit from the knowledge and experience of more experienced fellows would lay before them. The business was limited to no one class or profession of men, but was open to all. Egg production was advocated by Mr. Essex as the most profitable department of chicken raising. A rise in egg prices was bound to come shortly, and the present was the most advantageous time for any person interested to make a start in the business.

Trades and Labor Council Want Inquest Into Death of Miss Thompson

GO INTO ISAACS' CASE

Among a number of items of minor account, the suggestion that members of the I. L. P. be invited to send delegates to the T. and L. meetings received a lengthy discussion at the session of the latter body last evening. Being of the opinion that such a step would involve complications by mixing politics with labor, the delegates turned down the resolution.

Affiliation with the American Federation of Labor will be discussed at the next session of the T. and L. Other matters of interest were discussed, namely the Red Triangle fund. The organization committee was enlarged by appointing the entire council to act in this regard. The marketing committee and the committee on the Isaacs' case reported.

A Russian workman was present to tell the council his experiences with "the spirit of capital," and also spoke on matters of interest to labor delegates. That an invitation be extended to the I. L. P. to be represented at the T. and L. sessions was discussed pro and con. Several delegates contended that those forming the I. L. P. were not all trade unionists. On the other hand it was thought by some that such a step would tend to educate the non-unionists.

"We must get away from the old-time isolated unions," said Delegate Kyte, who asked for greater sympathy with unorganized labor. "The Trades," but where is the "labor?" asked Del. Noble.

In the constitution of the Trades and Labor Council, there is an article stating that delegates must be "wage-earners or journeymen in their calling." A motion to have this clause arranged so as to admit the I. L. P. to T. and L. meetings was turned down.

Three delegates were appointed to act as a "label" committee, to boost union goods manufactured in this city. Mr. Harry Harrop, on behalf of the Machinists' Union, asked that better seating arrangements be made for the annual congregational meeting of the Brant Avenue Methodist Church was held last evening with Rev. J. D. Fitzpatrick presiding. All the various departments reported a successful year's work. There have been 101 received into membership, 59 of them on profession of faith, and the total is now 610, an increase for the year of 76. 84 members of the congregation are enlisted. The financial returns were also very gratifying. $1750 has been raised for missions, and the total sum raised by the church for all purposes was $9500. The following were elected to the official board of representatives: Gilbert Brereton, W. B. Race, R. E. Ryerson, A. G. Hackett, Dr. Sauter, C. H. Tucker and Geo. A. Cole.

Sporting Comment

Dr. George J. Fisher of the U.S. war work council of the Y.M.C.A. who recently interviewed Christy Mathewson at Cincinnati, in regard to going to France, says Matty did not decline to go.

"In fairness, to Matty," said Dr. Fisher, "it should be stated emphatically that he never authorized the announcement from Cincinnati that he thought he could be of more service to the government by staying here than by going to France."

Gradually the spring hitters have been giving way for the old stars of the bat. Tris Speaker, Joe Jackson, Gandil, Sisler, Tamm, Rousch, and the others are forging ahead.

The work of Joe Wood, former star Red Sox hurler, in an outfield position with the Cleveland Indians and the case of "Stuffy" McInnis on third base for the Red Sox, have broken one of the time-honored rules of baseball.

Three major league players are making a comeback which is now believed to be real. When the season first started, the more skeptical fans thought it could not last.

Lee Makeo, formerly of the Federals and the New York Yankees, has been making a comeback with the Cincinnati Reds.

Steel Co. of Canada captured three straight games from Kerr and Goodwin on the Assembly Bowling Always last evening in easy fashion.

SIR SAM HAD CLASH WITH THE SPEAKER

Refused to be Called to Order; "Chloroform Used," He Charged

Ottawa, Ont., May 8.—A sharp clash between the speaker and Sir Sam Hughes marked the opening of this morning's proceedings in the House. Several times in succession Sir Sam was called to order and finally was threatened with "naming" if he did not obey the ruling of the chair.

The trouble arose over a motion which stands on the order paper providing that the House shall not sit to-morrow, Ascension Day. When the motion was reported Sir Robert Borden intimated that it was his intention to bring the matter up later after he had an opportunity of discussing it with the leader of the Opposition. There were two alternatives, he said, either parliament must prorogue not later than Saturday, the 18th, or there must be an adjournment till August 1st. There was no desire to curtail discussion, but unless prorogation could take place by the 18th it would be necessary for members to return to Sir Wilfrid: "Then the motion will be called again to-day."

"Oh, yes, if necessary," Sir Robert Borden replied.

At this point, Sir Sam Hughes entered the discussion. Referring to reports which had appeared in the press, Sir Sam asked if it was the intention of the Premier to proceed overseas with other members of the cabinet. He would also like to know for what purpose ministers were going there and why the business of the House should be held up. The statement that the Premier was not going, Sir Sam said, had appeared in the Prime Minister's "personal organ, The Ottawa Journal."

Sir Robert replied that it was intended to attend an Imperial war conference and he believed that ministers from other parts of the empire had already started. Correspondence so far that was not of a confidential nature would be brought down, and it was the intention of the Prime Minister to be present. Sir Borden further challenged the statement that the newspaper was his "personal organ."

Sir Sam proceeding with further remarks when he was called to order by the speaker. As Sir Sam did not immediately take his seat when the speaker rose, the speaker called him to order again. "The honorable gentleman must be amenable to the rules of the House," declared the speaker. "He is not in order in entering into a discussion."

Sir Sam rose again and declared that he had been charged with making a statement which was not true and that he was rising to a question of privilege. "The point I want to get to is this," Sir Sam went on. "Is Canada not going—"

"The honorable gentleman is out of order," the speaker replied.

"I am not out of order," retorted Sir Sam.

"The honorable gentleman is not in order," persisted the speaker as Sir Sam remained on his feet.

"I purpose to ask the question," Sir Sam continued. "With all due regard to the chloroform which is being applied here."

"Order, order," the speaker broke in again. "I must ask the honorable gentleman to resume his seat."

As Sir Sam sat down the speaker continued:

"If by using the word chloroform, the honorable gentleman is referring to the chair, I must ask him to retract the statement."

Sir Sam was continuing with his remarks when the speaker again interrupted. "If the honorable gentleman in using the word 'chloroform' is referring to the chair, I must ask him to withdraw his statement."

"I will not withdraw the statement," Sir Sam heatedly replied.

"The speaker," "If the honorable gentleman persists I shall name him."

"I will not withdraw the statement," Sir Sam replied. At this point, the premier interposed with the remark that there was no intention of charging Sir Sam Hughes with having stated an untruth and Sir Sam replied that he accepted the explanation.

Sir Sam then went on: "Is it not the prime minister's intention to discuss with this House and the country the questions which

ANARCHY IS INCREASING IN UKRAINE

German Overthrow of Government Causes Spread of Disorders

By Courier Leased Wire
London, May 9.—Anarchy is spreading throughout the Ukraine as a result of the German action in overthrowing the government and replacing it with another one, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen. There have been riots at several places, and during a serious outbreak in Kiev, a large number of persons were killed. An attempt was made to kill the Ukrainian premier, who, however, escaped with slight wounds. The Socialist Vorwärts of Berlin, the despatch adds, publishes an official Ukrainian statement regarding the events in Kiev on April 28. German soldiers entered the Rada at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, surrounded the members and shouted "hands up."

The president of the Rada, who protested, was thrown to the ground and other members were ill-treated. Examination of the members lasted four hours, and all documents were seized.

A protest, it is added, was handed to the German ambassador who promised to forward it to Berlin. He declared that the arrest of the members of the government had taken place without his knowledge.

Monarchy for Finland
London, May 9.—There seems little doubt that a monarchy will be proclaimed in Finland, says a Stockholm despatch to The Times, and that the German candidate Duke Adolph Frederick of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, uncle of the Crown princess of Germany, will be king.

A spirit of reaction has spread throughout the country, and the Finnish constitution, which was the most democratic in Europe is to be remodelled on more or less autocratic lines. The Socialists and Democrats are under the ban for having favored the rebellion. The natural reaction against all who, with the aid of Russian Bolshevik soldiers, created a reign of terror and anarchy is declared, is telling against those who still cling to principles of democratic freedom and who would vote for a republic.

Finland, The Times despatch continues, is still far from completely pacified. Desultory fighting with the rebels continues at many points.

Commandeer Clothing
Amsterdam, May 9.—The city of Berlin has been ordered to produce forthwith 40,000 complete second-hand suits for war workers, principally those engaged in railway and farming work. It is to be a voluntary order against a small payment, but warning is given that if the clothes are not forthcoming they will be taken by force. This applies especially to persons who have completely padlocked their wardrobes that their wardrobes are well stocked.

Monday was the first day for collection and depositors were opened for the purpose. There was a rush of people laden with old coats and trousers, who did not conceal their anxiety to get possession of a certificate handed "to voluntary contributors, exempting them from official inspection of their wardrobes. The results of the first day's contributions is said to warrant confidence that the required total will be reached easily.

THE POTATO PATCH
Every prospective gardener must concentrate on potatoes this year. The most suitable soil for the tubers is a rich, deep, friable, warm sandy loam with good natural drainage, a constant moderate supply of moisture and an adequate supply of decaying vegetable matter. The warm and best drained soils that can be obtained should be chosen for the early potatoes, and the late ones should be planted so that they will get the advantage of the heat from the surface soil.

May 15th is time enough to plant the potatoes, but in the meantime be preparing your soil. Get it as mellow as possible. While forking it over, add some stable manure. To obtain enough food to produce twenty or thirty bushels of tubers a small patch of ground must take up and evaporate through the leaves tons and tons of water. This water holds the plant food in solution. Your soil does not hold water, and it should be your task to make it do this. The more like a sponge you can make it the better, providing the water in it does not become stagnant. If you add plant food to a physically fit or sponge-like soil, good growth is bound to result. The value of stable manure is that it holds while in the soil, and supplies some food at the same time.

Music and Drama

Edith Storey and Viola Dana, are enthusiastic motorists and each is so proud of her ability to drive a car that they will hold a match race for the studio championship and a box of bon-bons.

Miss Dana, petite and girlish, is the proud owner of an open roadster, capable of blinding speed, while Miss Storey, tall and athletic, handles the wheel of a big high-powered limousine. John Collins, who is directing Miss Dana and Frank Reicher, director for Miss Storey, have volunteered to serve as officials at the test of speed between the two stars. Mr. Collins will be the starter and Mr. Reicher the timekeeper.

Negotiations are under way for the use of the Ascot auto race track in Los Angeles. So intense is the friendly rivalry between Miss Storey and Miss Dana that hundreds of people are planning to see the race. The stars are thinking of charging an entrance fee and turning the money over to some war charity. In her film career, extending over a period of years, Margaret Clark has interpreted many child roles, but she recently played one in real life which was neither pleasant nor profitable. She was stricken with mumps, and the Board of Health, not realizing that she was the great star in Paramount pictures, issued their edict refusing her admission to school for a period of time. Miss Clark recovered her health in time to do a portion of her Liberty Loan tour for the government and raised many thousands of dollars in subscriptions for the third loan.

When Ben Turpin, the well known cross-eyed comedian, was knocked out in a fight a short while ago, the first thing he said when he came to, was, "Where's a mirror? I want to see if my eyes are still crooked."

Ben explained that they got that way through his being hit on the head while in vaudeville, and a doctor told him that if he ever got another crack like that it might jar them back into shape.

Madge Kennedy wants to economize. She has been spending too much for clothes. Yet she argues that the public demands the latest and most elaborate gowns, made additionally costly in her case because she is obliged to wear clothes specially designed. What is the pigmy star to do? She realizes the need for war economy, yet how is she to accomplish it? Miss Kennedy is open to practical suggestions. Or, if she receives word from the "fans" that they do not demand so many dresses of her, she will act accordingly. She is serious and wants her problem solved.

John Datoe, about 60 years of age, was accidentally killed at the Delhi Canning Factory.

PARIS APACHES IN MANHATTAN

Confession of a White Slave Betrays Crime Chiefs in Gang

New York, May 9.—Following a raid made by the district attorney's detectives on an apartment in West Fifty-fifth street, resulting in the arrest of three men and two women, their names from District Attorney Swann and his assistant, Mr. Smith, a story of confession by a young French woman concerning the operation in the Tenderloin of a gang of twenty-five former Paris apaches, whose exploits are only a shade less colorful than those for which the Paris underworld is famous.

So much importance was attached to the young woman's story that detectives were sent out to search all night Tenderloin resorts for the man she has named as the leader of the band—at times a waiter in one of Fifth avenue's exclusive hotels, but when off duty a gunman and thug whose prey has been the pleasure seeking visitor to New York.

Visitors Are Victims. Many of the gang's members, the girl's father, were seen in French and Italian officers, sailors and soldiers visiting New York. They have been charmed to meet here men who spoke a language with which they were familiar. They were disillusioned when they found themselves, minus their wallets, in some dark hall, utterly unable to remember what had happened to them.

The girl who told the tale is one of those rounded up in the raids made in Tenderloin resorts.

She said that when the war started she was living with her parents in West Fifty-fifth street, and she was befriended from one point to another until last summer, when she came to America. With a few weeks she became a waitress at Narragansett Pier. There she met a Frenchman who was so charming that he won her consent to accompany him to New York.

Arrests Are Made. One day, a week afterward, he thrust a pistol in her face, she said, and told her that she would have to get on the street and make money for him. This took place when they were living together in an apartment in West Fifty-fifth street. She said she was sent to the West Fifty-fifth street address and was called from time to time by other members of the group to two houses, one in West One Hundred and sixteenth street and the other in West Ninety-sixth street.

After the young woman had told the story six detectives went to the house which she had named in West Fifty-fifth street and there in a flat arrested persons who gave the name of Charles Ceranto, Maria Ceranto, his wife, Marcello da Grande, Leon Barmouth, and Margaret Rogers. The men were locked up at headquarters a charge of violation of section No. 2846 of the penal law being entered. The women were taken to a police station.

The body of Alex. Anderson, executive of Brant township, who disappeared on April 21st, has been found in a stream near his farm.

Miss Bertha Miller, superintendent, and Miss Mary E. Stewart, assistant superintendent and head nurse of Anna Wood Hospital, St. Thomas, have resigned.

An increase in the size of the U. S. army is to be asked of Congress, and it is possible that the draft age limits will be widened.

LADY'S WAIST.

This attractive waist introduces a new effect in the novel treatment of the front edges. The material is cut in squares which lap over and button down the vest. Each square is trimmed with self-covered buttons. A narrow vest forms a youthful V-neck and closes at centre front. The waist is gathered at the shoulders to the edges of the back, which extend over in yoke effect. A very narrow collar corresponds to the deep cuffs on the sleeves. The long sleeves are gathered into these cuffs, but if preferred the shorter sleeves, having turned back cuffs, may be used.

The lady's waist pattern No. 8735 is cut in four sizes—36 to 42 inches bust measure. The 36 inch size requires 2 1/2 yards 30 inch, 2 1/2 yards 36 inch, or 1 1/2 yards 40 inch material.

To obtain this pattern, send 15 cents to The Courier, Brantford. Any two patterns for 25c.

WHY A CAT'S EYES SHINE

Invisible Rays Striking Retina Undergo Chemical Change

Not satisfied with the old explanation that cat's eyes glow in the dark because they catch and concentrate every little glimmer of light, that may be about scientific method, have been making experiments recently to make some other explanation for the eye glow when there is no light at all. This is true of most nocturnal creatures.

The first man to point to what seems to be the true reason was Prof. Bugnot, of Switzerland, who in 1913 suggested that perhaps invisible rays—such as the ultra-violet or infra-red—were transformed by some chemical action into visible rays at the instant of reflection from the eyes.

Now comes two Costa Rican professors, G. Michaud and J. F. Tristram, reporting their experiments from the effect of ultra-violet rays on the eyes of men and animals. They filtered a ray of sunlight through a special filter composed of a cell of Uviol glass containing a solution of copper sulphate and a film of nitrosodimethylamine, thus cutting off all the visible rays and allowing none but the invisible ultra-violet to enter a perfectly dark room.

In the room these rays were allowed to fall upon the eyes of a dog or a man who had been in the dark for fifteen minutes. The pupil immediately became sharply defined in luminous green against the violet black background of the iris.

This startling effect, they believe is caused by the pigmented iris absorbing the ultra-violet rays while one of the tissues inside the eyeball, perhaps the purple of the retina, fluoresces when they enter.

CYCLING HELPS BILLIARDIST

Pierre Maupome, the billiard wizard, attributes considerable of his success as a cue artist to the fact that he was a racing cyclist for many years. He believes that the cycling game gave him a sense of keen judgment and gave him needed nerve.

BUSHMAN IS BICYCLIST

Francis X. Bushman, the handsome film star, is an ardent bicycle rider. Before he became a screen celebrity, Bushman was a professional bicycle racer, and he still does a great deal of bicycling for pleasure between calls at the studio.

USING ALL OLD BICYCLES

Because there is an embargo on the importation of forms of motor vehicles into the United Kingdom, the demand for bicycles there is extraordinary. Even the scrap heaps have been searched for discarded wheels, and most everybody is using the health-giving and economical bicycle.

CYCLING AND WALKING

It is calculated that when a man walks a mile he takes 2,263 steps; but when he rides a bicycle with an average gear, he covers a mile with an equivalent of only 627 steps.

A significant feature of the Canadian bicycle situation of the present year is that a mixed bicycle club has been organized in Toronto. Membership in this club is open to both men and women who cycle, and it is the intention of the club to hold frequent Sunday runs a-wheel, bicycle picnics, and other pleasure events.

Frank Brown of Stratford, holds the time record for the Dunlop Road Race, having in 1913 smashed Joe Short's record of 55.30-4-5 which had stood since 1898. Brown's time was 54.47. This fact will be of interest to new aspirants for the "Annual" which will take place in the Fall.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., holds the honor of having had within its confines the first bicycle race in America in which a rider entered using J. B. Dunlop's invention—the pneumatic tire. The rider was Herbert E. Laurie.

Lou Bounsall, veteran wheelman and a prominent figure in the Dunlop Road Race in the 90's was a member of the winning team no less than four times. His son, Harold, is following in his father's footsteps as a successful pedal-pusher.

Rippling Rhymes

FRENCH NAMES.
I'd chant an ode to Joffre, with arrior and delight, but up there speaks a scoffler. "You don't pronounce it right," the name "abridit rhyme with 'suffer,' O poet short and fat, and you're a dippy duffer, or you'd be wise to that." I raise my voice so mellow, not peeved, nor in a huff; then speaks another fellow: "The French pronounce it 'Juff'." I see there's no use flirting with such a shaming name until I know for certain how to pronounce the same. And so I start a sonnet about the mighty Foch, whose name has laurels on it. I make it rhyme with "vok." That says, not posted neighbor. Your sonnet is a potch, and wasted is your labor—the hero's name is Foch." I fain would sing of Ypres, and also of Amiens, but will one rhyme with snipers and with 'other one with beans. I even balk at Paris, for fear I get it wrong, and such breaks so embarrass the man who trills a song. I'd like to sing of Calais a martial, stirring lay, but then, so help me Alice, I feel it is Calais Fair France, I'd like to bring you a wreath of deathless song! Oh, France, I'd like to sing you, but get the language wrong!

NEW STATE PLANNED

By Courier Leased Wire.
London, May 8.—The latest capitalist program in Austria, according to a despatch to The Daily Mail from Vienna, is to create a state which would include Silesia and the Slovene districts of Hungary with the capital at Olmutz. Vienna newspapers of Saturday received at The Hague, it is added, show that the internal situation in Austria-Hungary is greatly straining. The Socialist Arbeiter Zeitung, whose circulation in Germany has been stopped, declares that the government cannot be aware of actual conditions in Austria or otherwise it would not play with fire. It says that the adjournment of parliament screwed down the last safety valve at a moment when an explosion of popular feeling was likely to be provoked by the extreme economic situation.

WHOLESALE DEPORTATION.

By Courier Leased Wire.
Washington, May 3.—Wholesale deportations of the civilian population from the invaded districts of northern Italy have started again. The Italian embassy was advised today from Rome. Men and women between the ages 18 and 55 are the main objects. It added that outrages are committed against the women and families are purposely separated and the members scattered in different localities.
