Dreaming of Home.
It comes to me often in silence,
When the freight splatters low—
When the black uncertain shadows
Seem wreaths of long ago,
Always with a throb of heartache
That thrills each pulse vein,
Comes the quiet longing
For the peace of home again.

Granny Grimthorpe.
By Mrs. Conroy Carr.
I crouched down again under the hedge, and waited. An instinct told me that I might defeat some good purpose, and surely would never be forgiven myself if I were to be seen. The door of the tiny stable was pushed open. I could smell the breath of the cow in my face, and the dank odor of her bed of straw.
Then I heard the old voice 'shoo!' the beam to one side and, suddenly, the tiny wall of an infant and the crooning of a low voice in answer.
My heart leaped, for I knew the explanation of it all without more ado. 'Ye'd better eat a bit of hot porridge for the babe's sake,' pressed the old voice, gruffly.
'I've no stomach for food,' answered the girl, I thought with a touch of haughtiness.
'Is it past that stays ye?'
'Well, ye needn't be proud, burst forth the old voice in a minute, as if under an inward wrestling. 'Ye've welcome. I was rough, I'll allow, I can't bear to see a lass upon the road.'
'And do you think I am pleased to see these myself?' laughed the other.
But she laugh turned quickly to a sigh. There, I have but myself to thank for it! she concluded, sadly. 'I wouldn't listen to my mother's warning. I followed the desire of my heart and gave myself to one who had no fear of God in him. It killed her, and if I was forsaken of the man that wed me, atore the year was out, I have but got my deserts.'
The words ended in a dirial sobbing, and the old woman did not seem to stay it.
'So your mother is dead? Then ye may sing praise to the Lord for her! There's worse may befall, when children are tale to their upbringing, and that is to live and be ashamed of them.'

The voice was stern, yet I who knew it, knew that the sternness was but skin deep, and she smiled.
A choking came in my throat, and I clenched my teeth that I might make no sound; but to, presently, there was a sound within that would have drowned any that I should have made, for it was the sound of a deep and passionate voice, the voice of my dear old woman rising in eloquent petition to the Most High for the heartbroken daughter of another woman and weeping mother.
The words were true and conventional enough—words used in many an extempore prayer before it was the tone that tugged at the heart-strings. Here was no dead stringing together of well worn phrases, no affection of the contrite spirit and the broken heart; but a true and terrible pleading, the plea of a prayer that had often been made a prayer, that had often been made a prayer.

Kidney Suffering
Backache and tired feelings tell of weak kidney action—Prompt relief by Dr. A. W. CHASE'S KIDNEY AND LIVER PILLS.
There is no treatment for kidney diseases which will afford you relief so quickly as Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills, and none which will so certainly cure the most complicated forms of this disease.
There is a reason for this. Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills weaken the action of the liver and bowels as well as the kidneys and thereby afford a thorough cleansing and regulating of the excretory system.
Dr. E. J. Ayer, Kara, Dartmouth, Co., writes: 'I have offered a great deal of relief to many who were afflicted with kidney troubles and pains in the back and have tried a good many remedies without obtaining very much benefit. I wish to say, however, that I can heartily recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills as a special medicine as they have proved to be a great relief to me.'
Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills cure all cases of kidney troubles, such as backache, rheumatism, neuralgia, &c.

One of the latest prominent gentlemen to speak highly in Zam-Buk's favor is Mr. C. E. Sanford of Weston, Kings Co., N. S. Mr. Sanford is a Justice of the Peace for the County, and a member of the Board of School Commissioners. He is also Deacon of the Baptist Church in Berwick. Indeed it would be difficult to find a man more widely known and more highly respected. Here is his opinion of Zam-Buk. He says—
'I have never seen anything that gave me such satisfaction as Zam-Buk. I have had a lot of it for over 20 years. Sometimes I have had some very bad cases of Piles, but I have applied Zam-Buk and it has cured me in less than a week. I have used it for many years, and I have cured many of my patients with it. I can truly say that it is the best medicine for Piles I have ever used. It is very simple to use, and it is very pleasant to take. I have tried many other medicines, but none have given me such relief as Zam-Buk. I can truly say that it is the best medicine for Piles I have ever used.'

Old woman pushed into the background.
There is no fact more striking than the way modern life is pushing back the period of old age, says the Strand Magazine. Less than a century ago a man was old at forty. You have only to pick up Jane Austen's novels to find gentlemen of thirty-five described as middle aged. At sixty they were gambling in their dotage. And there is proof, old—that dear delightful benevolent old gentleman of forty-five!
Fifty years ago when a man reached the age of forty-five he grew a beard under his chin, bought himself a pair of drag gaiters and a white neckcloth and spoke with anxious concern of the rising generation whose manners were so different from those he had known as a young man. Nowadays the popular notion is illustrated by irrepresible youth is illustrated by wildly, but I dared say no more. 'I wish we could find her,' I repeated at last, thinking of nothing better. Then she turned, her lips were blue, and her face was white under the tan of years.

She sat down heavily beside the table—opposite to me; the little evil smelling cottage lamp was between us.
'If ye'll give me the paper I'll see what I can do.'
It was all I wanted.
I handed it to her with a glad heart; then rose, busied myself a few moments about the room, and went upstairs.
For a long time I listened; but there was no sound in the room below, and at last, alarmed lest the sudden hope might have been too much for her, I crept down into the garden and looked in at my own parlor windows.

She was still sitting where I had left her; but against the light of the lamp I could see the firm old profile raised; the lips were moving, the horny hands were folded, and once again I was ashamed as I stole away.
Yet still I could not put my hand to the door and look out at the gravel of the path.
'This time I did not even want to follow her to the barn. I knew what would happen there. I knew that, through tears for the lost daughter who was gone, she would fold the granddaughter who was found to her hungry old heart.
It was that half an hour she was back again. Her eyelids were red, but a subdued low-light shone from her sunken eyes.
'I'm loath to turn ye forth, miss,' she said, simply; 'but tomorrow I must have the bedroom I rented to you, Widow Drew, across the road has a fine pair o' rooms free, and she'll take ye on willing. A relative that I did not know of has come to the unawares, and I could not turn her away.'

'I should think not,' I cried delighted. 'I'll move willingly.'
'But maybe ye'll step across at eve to enjoy the flowers, added she shyly, and this was an enormous advance for granny.
So every evening at sundown I help to water the garden as of yore, while granny, on whom a new flower is now dependent, steps aside to rock the cradle till the young mother returns from work; and every night when the lamp is lit, I watch behind the blinds the shadow of a fair young head bent beside an old one over some homely task. Yet to the last Granny Grimthorpe remains secretarial and taciturn. What friendship I get I get shyly from the families eyes of her gentle granddaughter.
And when the day comes for me to leave the village, I know that the old woman will only nod to me, dour and senseless as on the day of my arrival, from beneath her crimson-wreathed porch.

But I shall always think of her as the flowers, placing them on the window-sill so that they may get the warm rays of the winter sun, covering them up in the garden from the early frosts, cherishing their last buds, and gathering their last blossoms, preparing a kindly bed where in their roots may be safe till the bursting of a spring which she may never see; and I shall remember in her the mother of whose passionate heart I had so moving a vision, and whose yearning tenderness, perhaps only the flowers know well.
THE END.

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., SEPT. 23, 1910

Our Local Government.

Very many citizens of this province are alive to the fact that before many months the present local government will be compelled to face the people again, and give an account of their stewardship.

Is there a single county in Nova Scotia satisfied with the record of our provincial government? Is there an elector in all this province, be he liberal or conservative, who can give one unselfish reason why the present government at Halifax should be continued in power.

When this government came into power, the capital debt of the province was less than $100,000, while today it is something like $9,000,000, and what is there to show for this expenditure. The annual revenue of the province is three times what it was when the present government came into power, and yet our roads and bridges receive but a pittance of what they formerly received.

The new Attorney General, Mr. MacLean, has announced that it is proposed to further increase the provincial indebtedness by some three or four million dollars, to improve the roads and bridges. Was there ever an appeal made to the electorate by this government without a similar swindle, or promised bribe. The roads of the country districts are not as good as they were thirty years ago, and the money is procured and is again promised for other purposes altogether.

The temperance question has been used as a football for balancing influences and for platform purposes. Cant and humbug, instead of sincerity and blunt honesty of purpose, has been the policy. The country is sick and tired of these managing politicians, who are concerned for the party and to continue in office. The people want a government that is efficient and honest, and consider that of far more consequence than political manoeuvring or the triumph of party with its attendant patronage.

This swindling has been going on for thirty years, and the people have a very small idea of what an extent they have been duped and blinded by this gigantic swindle. And further, it has been the policy of the government at Halifax to throw all possible financial obligations upon the towns and municipalities who are obliged to provide funds for the same by direct taxation, and we propose upon future occasions to direct the attention of our readers to some of the glaring hardships endured by our people for so many years, at the hands of this Halifax government.

The annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Liberal-Conservative Association, for the Election of Officers and Executive Committee, and the transaction of general business, will be held at the St. Julian dining-room Halifax Hotel, on Friday, September 30th, 1910, at 8 p.m.

Good Health for Baby at Very Little Cost.

Baby's Own Tablets only cost 25 cents a box. A box bought now may save baby's life. Summer complaints come suddenly, and carry away thousands of little ones every year. If the stomach and bowels are kept in order there is little danger from these troubles.

Turning on Grand Pre Dyke.

An event of much interest to our agricultural population is the annual turning on of cattle to crop the aftermath of the Grand Pre meadow after the hay and oats are garnered. Owners of dyke land are allowed, after a date fixed by the proprietors, usually about the middle of September to turn on cattle or sell their feed at the rate of one cow for three acres, an ox for four acres, and younger cattle in proportion.

Our streets last week were alive with these animals bound for these rich pastures, where they can remain till the first of November. Horses are allowed on the Cornwallis dykes, but they have not been allowed on the Grand Pre for six years, as their close cropping retards the next year's hay crop.

The Passing of Cooper.

The liberal convention of Queens which met at Liverpool last week dropped the curtain upon the public career of Rev. Mr. Cooper, M. L. A. It is true that the delegates went through the form of offering the nomination for candidature at the next provincial election to the sitting member but it was offered to him in much the same way that pie is offered the small boy when there is company and the pie supply is short.

While Mr. Cooper's public career at Halifax has not been very admirable, in his leaving of it there is a lesson that our public men should take well to heart.

When Mr. Cooper entered the legislature he had some very pronounced and advanced ideas concerning the temperance question. He was a prohibitionist. When, however, he got to Halifax he, no doubt, found that his convictions were out of harmony with his environment and would probably stand in the way of his advancement as a politician. He accordingly passed over his conscience to the temptations of the world.

The irony of the situation is that it is just this effort of his to raise himself in the esteem of his party leaders that is responsible for his undoing. His attitude upon the temperance question is just what made his candidature again in Queens county an impossibility. He stood manfully by his convictions and led the temperance forces even against his party leaders who would now have found him valuable to them, but instead he did their bidding, and because of it he is worthless.

Even though the advocacy of prohibition had meant his retirement from politics as he evidently feared it would do, yet he then would have a compensation which is not now his. He could have looked back upon his record with pride and he would have earned the admiration and respect even of those who differed with him, and posterity would have recognized his merit. How different is his position as it is. Mr. Cooper, the rejected of Queens will be remembered only with a smile, or as a warning to our public men to stand by their convictions.

Like another high church dignitary who failed in politics we can almost imagine Mr. Cooper admonishing his colleagues in this fashion:

Let's dry our eyes; and thus far hear me, Armstrong: And when I am forgotten, as I shall be, And sleep in dull, cold marble, where my message must be heard of, say I taught thee, say Whalley that once trod the ways of glory, And scolded all the depths and shoals of honor, Let all the gods then almost be thy country's, Thy God's and truth's, then if thou follow'st, O Armstrong, Thou fittest a blessed martyr, here the King And pyrites lead me in; There take an inventory of all I have, To the last penny, till the party's, My role And barrel of long forgotten sermons are all I dare now call my own. O Armstrong, Armstrong, Had I served my God with half the zeal I served my party He would not in mine age have left me asked to my enemies!

The September number of The Athletic World magazine has just reached this office. It is up-to-date sport affairs and illustrations it is strikingly stronger than the August issue, which created such a favorable impression as a Canadian athletic and outdoor periodical, covering all branches of sport in Canada, with a liberal number of sport happenings over the world generally.

THE FORMULA OF "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Is On The Outside Of Every Box For All The World To See

Every user of "Fruit-a-tives" knows exactly what is being taken. The formula of this famous fruit medicine is printed plainly on the outside of every box. We have stated many times—and now state clearly—that "Fruit-a-tives" is made of the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes, with valuable heart and nerve tonics and antiseptics.

The Band of the Royal Canadian Regiment at the Exhibition.

The Fortieth Annual Exhibition which opens at Halifax on the 28th inst. is an event in which every person in the Province of Nova Scotia is individually interested.

The property is owned conjointly by the province and city of Halifax, and is run in the interest of the farmer and manufacturer principally.

The time at which it is held may be considered by many who look at the amusement and city of Halifax, and is run in the interest of the farmer and manufacturer principally.

It is particularly pleasing to note that our people are beginning to take a deeper interest in the exhibition of the products of their province. This is manifested in the year in the entries that have just closed. The number of exhibitors this year will be in excess of any since the Dominion in 1906.

In the Manufacturers' Building more than sixty exhibits will be displayed besides which thirty or more Halifax Manufacturers will exhibit in the annex—Halifax Made Goods.

The Work Horse Parade in which more than three hundred horses are entered takes place on the opening day. The horse race which takes place every afternoon show from the entries received that this year's programme will be the best yet.

The Royal Canadian Band which made the "big hit" at the Toronto fair has been secured and will play before the grand stand every afternoon.

On the whole the prospects for a successful Fair has never been more promising in the fourteen years this Exhibition has been running.

Cheap rates will prevail on all lines, and accommodations is guaranteed for all who attend.

Early Hurt in Thresher

Presented by Dr. T. W. CHASE'S OINTMENT

Dr. C. Hopkins, St. George, Ont., writes: "I feel like shouting the praises of Dr. Chase's Ointment. While I was threshing, my son got badly hurt, he missed the sheaf and ran the end of the fork into my son's leg. He did not take much notice of it and in a day or two it got sore and very itchy and blood poison set in. We did not break out at another and kept on this way for three months. I thought of Dr. Chase's Ointment and in a week's time we noticed a wonderful change. By the use of three boxes he was completely cured and the wounds healed up. There has not been a sign of a spot on him since." Whether there is itching or irritation of the skin or a sore that refuses to heal you can apply Dr. Chase's Ointment with every assurance that the results will be prompt and satisfactory. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmond, Bates & Co., Toronto. Write for free copy Dr. Chase's Recipes.

Cleaned by the Way.

Bearers, the standard hair pomade, is made from the grease of the Canadian bear which has the heaviest coat of hair of any animal, goat or jar.

Typhoid fever has broken out in Campbellton, N. B., and about thirty cases are reported.

At the age of 50 people find that their strength is not what it used to be, and they frequently suffer from sudden exhaustion and weak heart action. To all such we recommend the invigorating tonic Ferronin, composed of fresh beef, Chateau de Iron and pure old Spanish Sherry Wine. Nothing could be more beneficial in such cases. $1.00 a bottle.

"Do you believe, doctor, that man is made of dust?" asked the student.

Fig—Talking about pugilism and laws, did you ever notice it?

Foggy—Ever notice what?

Fig—That there's no law to prohibit fighting in the state of matrimony.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unusual looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by Band's Drug Store.

"Pardon me, governor," began the street beggar.

"Certainly, dear fellow," answered the gentleman from Tennessee. "What are you guilty of?"

Teacher's Nerves.

Teachers often have the reputation of being cross when the trouble is with the nerves rather than the disposition. Mr. A. Hutchinson, Principal South River school, Lynchburg, N. S., writes: "I was nervous and worried, had indigestion and headache. Doctors failed me. Mr. Chase's 'Nerve Food' for I believe has entirely cured me. The old tension and hollow nerves are soon restored by this celebrated food cure."

Miss Passy is furious with that society reporter.

"Why so?"

"He published the announcement of her approaching wedding under the column headed 'Late Engagements'."

For rheumatism it is not necessary to go to the hot springs. Instead use "D. & L." Menthol Plaster and results will be satisfactory. 25c at druggists. Davis & Lawrence Co., manufacturers.

Neighbor—"Is anyone sick at your house, Johnny?"

Johnny—"Dad's still gonna be sick."

Neighbor—"Is he very sick?"

Johnny—"Not yet. The doctor only started to come this mornin'."

The Feet in Prison.

Fidelity impressed in the modern shoe the feet perspire and the skin is heated and irritated. It is in anything but a healthy condition. Corns and bunions are formed and itching becomes torture. Possibly you never thought of Dr. Chase's ointment in this connection but it brings wonderful relief and comfort almost instantly. Its soothing, healing effects are magical.

Applicant for Situation—"I've come about that job was advertised."

Employer—"Well, can you do the work?"

Applicant (in great alarm)—"Work! I thought it was a foreman you wanted!"

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by Band's Drug Store.

Professor—"To what class of maladies does insomnia belong?"

Bright Student—"Why—er—insomnia is a contagious disease."

Professor—"Where did you learn that?"

Bright Student—"From experience. When my neighbor's dog can't sleep at night I can't either."

Bobby—"Honest, is there twins at your house?"

Tommy—"Honest An' they're just alike."

"Faith, I see how it falls," said Pat; "but, there, there's nothin' to hinder!"

September Rod and Gun.

With the opening of the bird shooting season the September number of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont., gives a number of delightful stories dealing with days amongst the ducks, geese, woodcock, prairie chickens—experiences which causes many a thrill to sportsmen reading them. Numbers will be able to duplicate, in remembrance, many of these published experiences, and in this way live over again red letter times in their histories. Variety makes this production every lover of the outdoors, whatever his particular taste, receiving attention. The story of two young moose, one of a peacock, the efforts of an amateur to trap a bear, particulars of the American bison, the Alpine Club's last camp and some dog lore show the manner in which the magazine covers the wide variety of Canadian outdoor life. The verses in this number are excellent, and the Bohemian ring of 'Fish in a Good' will find an echo with many even of the most staid. 'My Little Fisherman' with his wonderful story of the monster that got away appeals to the sympathies of all, while the 'Evening Chorus' is equally good. The issue should be read with every shooting party.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S 25c

CATARRH POWDER

Fig—Talking about pugilism and laws, did you ever notice it?

Foggy—Ever notice what?

Fig—That there's no law to prohibit fighting in the state of matrimony.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unusual looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by Band's Drug Store.

"Pardon me, governor," began the street beggar.

"Certainly, dear fellow," answered the gentleman from Tennessee. "What are you guilty of?"

Teacher's Nerves.

Teachers often have the reputation of being cross when the trouble is with the nerves rather than the disposition. Mr. A. Hutchinson, Principal South River school, Lynchburg, N. S., writes: "I was nervous and worried, had indigestion and headache. Doctors failed me. Mr. Chase's 'Nerve Food' for I believe has entirely cured me. The old tension and hollow nerves are soon restored by this celebrated food cure."

Miss Passy is furious with that society reporter.

"Why so?"

"He published the announcement of her approaching wedding under the column headed 'Late Engagements'."

For rheumatism it is not necessary to go to the hot springs. Instead use "D. & L." Menthol Plaster and results will be satisfactory. 25c at druggists. Davis & Lawrence Co., manufacturers.

Neighbor—"Is anyone sick at your house, Johnny?"

Johnny—"Dad's still gonna be sick."

Neighbor—"Is he very sick?"

Johnny—"Not yet. The doctor only started to come this mornin'."

The Feet in Prison.

Fidelity impressed in the modern shoe the feet perspire and the skin is heated and irritated. It is in anything but a healthy condition. Corns and bunions are formed and itching becomes torture. Possibly you never thought of Dr. Chase's ointment in this connection but it brings wonderful relief and comfort almost instantly. Its soothing, healing effects are magical.

Applicant for Situation—"I've come about that job was advertised."

Employer—"Well, can you do the work?"

Applicant (in great alarm)—"Work! I thought it was a foreman you wanted!"

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by Band's Drug Store.

Professor—"To what class of maladies does insomnia belong?"

Bright Student—"Why—er—insomnia is a contagious disease."

Professor—"Where did you learn that?"

Bright Student—"From experience. When my neighbor's dog can't sleep at night I can't either."

Bobby—"Honest, is there twins at your house?"

Tommy—"Honest An' they're just alike."

Burns, bites, bruises and boils. Davis Menthol Salve will soothe and heal them all. 25 cents.

An Irishman who was visiting America for the first time was lost in admittance of the Niagara falls when a friend accosted him.

"Well, Pat, and what do you think of this? Isn't it a grand sight. There's nothing in the old country that comes up to it. See how it falls!"

"Faith, I see how it falls," said Pat; "but, there, there's nothin' to hinder!"

A Positive Cure For Rheumatism

For many years, both during Father Morrissey's lifetime and since he passed away, his No. 7 Tablets have been curing many of the worst cases of rheumatism in Eastern Canada.

During a lifetime it became the custom, when people could not get relief from other sources, to consult Father Morrissey, and few indeed did so in vain. His standard prescription came to be called and it can now be procured from any druggist or dealer in medicine.

Father Morrissey's No. 7 Tablets

No. 7 Tablets act directly on the kidneys, stimulating them so that they can remove from the blood all the Uric Acid, which causes the rheumatism. Two or three weeks' treatment cures ordinary cases, while with the worst chronic cases it seldom takes more than three or four boxes of No. 7 Tablets to thoroughly eradicate the rheumatism from the system.

During a severe case, right from the start, the sufferer gets relief from the torturing pains and aches.

We would be glad to refer you to one-time rheumatists, now well through taking Father Morrissey's No. 7 Tablets, 25c. a box—at your dealer's.

More men fall from fears than from foes.

The great test is, can we bear the little tests?

Many a man models his golden calf before a mirror.

Many mistake a sealed head for a sanctified heart.

He knows best his rights who sometimes gives them up.

One of the gravest faults is to be blind to the virtues of others.

It is always easier to talk of the divine plans than it is to do them.

It is better to learn to still the spirit within than the storm without.

No man gives the world more than he who puts a little better heart into it.

It's mighty hard being patient with a man who prates of his patience.

It's better to have things all wrong when you're right than to have things all right when you're wrong.

Henry F. Cope.

Don't waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment for twenty-five cents. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment is superior to any plaster for lame back, pain in the side and chest, and much cheaper. Sold by Band's Drug Store.

"I do wish," said Mrs. Stiles, "that you'd try to keep yourself right."

"But, my dear," protested her husband, "you're not so careful."

"I'm not. I'm certainly more careful of my clothes than you—"

"That's just it. You should be more careful of me."

Best Treatment for a Burn. Chamberlain's Salve should be kept in every household on account of its great value in the treatment of burns. It relieves the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a severe one, heals the parts without leaving a scar. This salve is also unequalled for chapped hands, sore nipples and diseases of the skin. Price 25 cents. For sale by Band's Drug Store.

A young gentleman of the colored persuasion had promised his girl a pair of long white gloves for a Christmas gift. Visiting a large department store, he at last found the counter where these goods were displayed, and, approaching rather hesitatingly, remarked, "Ah want a pair of gloves."

"How long do you want them?" inquired the business-like clerk.

"Ah doesn't want 'em to rent 'em; ah wants to buy 'em," replied the other, indignantly.

Good, Better or Best?

A VITAL DIFFERENCE IN BREADS

QUALITY you know is comparative. Just as much so in bread, as in woollen or linens.

If you make bread at all you naturally want it to be good—as good as, or better than your neighbor's.

But is your bread as good as it ought to be? Does it furnish its full quantum of health and strength? Is it nutritious as well as delicious?

Ordinary flour may make fairly good looking bread. But if you care for food value, for nutrition, for digestibility, for bone and muscle and blood building quality, you will want a flour rich in the highest quality of gluten.

"ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" is the finest flour in the world and makes the best bread in the world.

And it is just as good for Pastry as it is for Bread. It is the one flour which has proved an unqualified success for every household purpose. And its absolute uniformity guarantees you against failure—

ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR is made of Manitoba Red Eye Wheat, which is especially rich in high quality gluten.

It is scientifically milled in the most perfect manner. The samples are regularly subjected to the most exacting of all tests, the oven test, to insure uniformity.

"ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" always makes the finest and most nourishing bread, the lightest and most healthful pies, cakes, biscuits, muffins, rolls.

Order "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" at once. Don't delay. The sooner you commence using this finest of all flours the better for your family.

A Horrible Crime.

It is evident that there is nothing too low or mean for those engaged in the liquor traffic to engage in. They are bound to be revenged for the destruction of their business. Kidnaping, incendiarism and even murder. Under the above heading the following press despatch appeared in yesterday's daily papers, which shows to what extremes of lawlessness they will resort.

Aneta, N. D.—Citizens passing by Aneta Park in the middle of the town last night stared transfixed at a flaming figure, running through the streets, trailed by sheets of fire, out of which issued the terrifying shrieks of a burning boy.

Kenneth, the twelve-year-old son of Simon McKenzie, butcher, leader of the strong reform association here, while delivering meat for his father, had been met in the park by two men, who hurried him to the ground, poured oil from his own lantern over him and ignited it. The two men fled. The youth rolled over in the grass, leaping to his feet, screamed at the top of his voice in torture and rushed like a meteor through the street.

Possibly bore him to the ground and quenched the fire. The child had been, perhaps, fatally burned and was rushed to St. John's Hospital at Fargo.

On account of the prominence of Simon McKenzie in the fight being waged against the liquor element, the deed is ascribed to the hatred and threats of that class against him.

The city improvement association here has only been recently formed for the purpose of stopping the alleged blind pig and bootlegging business. The activity against the lawless element has reached its highest efficiency. It is believed that the men who committed the crime were under the influence of liquor. The latter is
