

GREENWICH NEWS

Tuesday evening, December 19th, a good number of the young people met with the teacher at the hall to decorate for the Christmas Concert to be held next evening by school children. Good work was done and the evening thoroughly enjoyed.

On Wednesday evening Miss Piper and pupils held the annual school concert, with Christmas tree. "A splendid concert and good order for so many little ones" was the general verdict of all present. There was a large audience and proceeds from admission fees amounted to a good sum. Mr. George Bishop acted the part of Santa Claus and was well enjoyed by the children. Jessie Bishop was the pianist for the evening.

Several from this place attended the High School concert in Wolfville, held in Opera House on Thursday evening. Every minute of the time being full of interest, "a great programme" was heard on all sides. Two of our girls, Marion and Jessie Bishop, took parts in the programme.

Olive Bishop, who was ill last week with tonsillitis, is now much improved. Rev. Z. L. Fash, who has friends in this community, has resigned his pastorate of the Baptist church in Fredericton, N. B. and accepted a call to the church in Summerland, B. C. The Baptist denomination of the Maritime Provinces thus loses one of their important pastors. Mr. Fash is a sister of Mr. Humphrey Bishop, of this place.

Mr. J. Elliott Smith, one of our residents and a most successful fruit grower, is up for congratulations, he having won two Bronze Medals at the Imperial Fruit Show, held at Crystal Place, London, England. Mr. Smith was recently presented with the medals.

The Community League will meet on Friday evening this week as usual, but the Radio concert has been postponed for a time owing to Mr. Haycock being unable to be present. The President, Mr. Hemmeon, will give his interesting lecture.

Miss Isabelle Hawley, who recently left for Boston, to visit her sister and to take her part in an interesting event, was married there to Mr. Frederick Baker, of Yarmouth, on the 18th instant. This was interesting news to Miss Hawley's friends in this place.

Miss Jessie Dodge, of Lunenburg, was recently married to Mr. Lynch, of Falmouth, and will make her home in that place. Miss Dodge is well known here and has the best wishes of friends.

Mr. Harris Forsythe left on the East bound express last Tuesday and upon his return on Friday evening, he was accompanied by his bride, he and Miss Viola Bowers, of Brooklyn, Hants Co., being married on Wednesday. Mrs. Forsythe is well known and esteemed in this community, having taught our school here two years ago, and will be welcomed as a resident of this place.

Miss Elsie Piper, our teacher, left on Saturday morning for her home in Beaver River, Yarmouth Co., to spend her holidays.

Miss Bessie McNeil, of Halifax, arrived on Saturday evening to visit her friend, Mrs. Fred Forsythe, for a short time.

Miss Betty Fenwick arrived home Saturday evening from Grand Pre, where she has spent several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schofield and two boys left Saturday morning for Digby, to visit at the home of Mrs. Schofield's sister, in the holiday season.

Mr. A. Burpee, whose home is near Fredericton, N. B., arrived on Saturday to visit his sister, Mrs. A. K. Forsythe.

Those out to church here on Sunday afternoon, enjoyed a splendid Christmas sermon by the Pastor, Rev. Mr. Hemmeon and the church tastefully and suitably decorated in the Christmas colours, looked well.

We regret to learn that Mr. Lorne Pudey's home had to be put under quarantine on Saturday evening, their little daughter Ruth being ill with diphtheria.

On Christmas Eve, at Woods Hospital, Port Williams, a little son arrived to Mr. and Mrs. Branton Merry—nee Charlens Pearson. Mrs. Merry has been staying at her home here the last few months. Christmas passed off quietly in our community. A few held the usual family dinner party, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bishop had as their guests on Christmas day, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Parker and Mr. and Mrs. William Burgess and families, of Woodville.

Mrs. Emma Harvey and son Alonzo spent Christmas day in Windsor, guests at the home of the former's daughter, Mrs. Ira Lohnes.

Miss Marion Bishop is visiting relatives in Woodville this week.

Mrs. Lee Bishop went to Windsor on Tuesday to visit a few days at the homes of her sisters there.

Dame rumour tells us we are soon to have another wedding in our community, or another couple of "newly-weds".

PROMINENT KINGS CO. MAN DEAD

Mr. J. W. Ryan, of Kentville, Passed Away on Friday Morning Last at His Home at Kentville

By the death of James William Ryan, which occurred at his home at Kentville on Friday morning last, that town lost one of its most popular and public spirited citizens and Kings county a resident well known and held in the highest esteem.

The deceased was born at Lower Canada on August 30th, 1846, and when a young man spent some years in Halifax. In the year 1880 he returned to Kentville and embarked in the dry goods business which he conducted for about forty years, during which his store, "The White Hall" on Main street was one of the most popular business establishments in the county.

Mr. Ryan was prominently associated in the business and social life of the town. At the first election of town officers, Feb. 1, 1887, he had the honor of being chosen as one of the councillors. Of the council elected at that time one member only survives, Thomas P. Callin, a prominent citizen of Kentville. On the occasion of the visit of His Excellency, Lord Stanley, then Governor-General of Canada, to Kentville in 1890, Mr. Ryan, as a member of the town council was one of the reception committee. He held the honored position of mayor of the town of Kentville four years 1894-1895, 1913-1914, and filled the office of town assessor very efficiently for a number of years.

He was very active in political life and contested Kings county in the interests of the Conservative Party in the federal election of 1904. At the time of his death he was honorary president of the Liberal Conservative Association. In religion he was a Catholic, a valued and consistent member of St. Joseph's, R. C. church, Kentville.

He organized the King's County Hussars, now the 6th Mounted Rifles, and commanded them for a number of years. During the war Col. Ryan was in charge of the internment camp in Halifax.

Mr. Ryan married Mary Josephine Rafuse, who passed away on the train while on a trip with Mr. Ryan, one of California, on July 4th, 1915. One daughter and five sons are left to mourn the loss of a well beloved and honored father.

Miss Eva Josephine, at home who tenderly cared for her father during his illness; Walter D'Arcy, Director Illuminating Engineering Laboratory, General Electric Co., New York; John Wilfred, manager Union Bank of Canada, St. John; Robert Holden, Illuminating Engineer, General Electric Co., Schenectady, New York; Winfield O'Donnald, efficiency expert, New York; Joseph Garnet, general manager Canada Nail and Wire Co. Ltd., St. John.

A very large circle of friends are also left to mourn the loss of one who was a general favorite, and most highly honored by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance.

RE-ELECTED MAYOR

Mayor Wilson, of Windsor, Ont., who has just been re-elected to the chief administrative office of the Border City.

The New Year

The New Year will come on the wings of the night
That watches the Old Year's passing in flight,
Old Year with its burden of laughter and pain,
Of sorrow and gladness, of sunshine and rain.
Of sin and forgiveness, of work and of rest,
Of days that were better and some that were best.

His record is written, the book has been sealed,
Till a day when its secrets will all be revealed.
But here is the New Year with banners unfurled
And courage undaunted to conquer the world.
Let's give him a chance, a square deal in the game.
That he may grow old with an untarnished name.

This New Year is ours to use as we may,
To make or to mar, as we live out each day.
Let's cherish new ideals and strive to forget
The mistakes that we've made, and the obstacles met.
No matter how rugged the pathway appears,
We can make a clean page in the Book of the Years.

—Margaret F. Forfar.

ACADIA GRADUATE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Dr. H. P. Whidden Appointed Chancellor of MacMaster University

The appointment of the Rev. Dr. H. P. Whidden to the Chancellorship of MacMaster University adds another name to the long and illustrious succession of Maritime Province educationists who have been chosen for University headship. Dr. Howard Primrose Whidden is a son of the late Hon. C. B. Whidden, of Antigonish, and brother of Councillor D. Graham Whidden, of Wolfville. He was born in Antigonish in 1871 and graduated in Arts from Acadia in 1891. He pursued post graduate studies in Boston, Toronto and Chicago. He received a doctor's degree in divinity from Denison University in 1906 and was made doctor of laws by MacMaster University in 1912. He was principal of Brandon College, Manitoba, for the past ten years and brought that institution up to a high state of efficiency. He is a man of fine culture and strong administrative gifts. He represented Brandon in the Federal Parliament during the late Union Government administration.

Should Dr. Whidden decide to accept the Chancellorship of MacMaster, he will be the third Acadia graduate to occupy that position, the late Dr. Theodore Harding Rand, first superintendent of Education for Nova Scotia, and Rev. O. C. S. Wallace, now of Baltimore, being the other two. A strong effort is now being made by the people of Hamilton, Ont. to have MacMaster move to that city and it is not unlikely that a policy of that kind may be announced in the near future.

LET US TALK OF CANADA

(From The Financial Post)

There would still seem to be a great need for intelligent publicity to tell those who may be thinking of migrating to Canada, something about the country. We may laugh at the idea that even educated people in Great Britain think that Canada is still a wilderness, but here is what a Toronto business man writes The Financial Post of a recent experience:

"I recently brought from England a governess for my two children. She is a highly educated young woman, having been a teacher in several very high-class ladies' schools in the Old Country and, in addition, had a business training, having occupied a post in one of the largest banks in Liverpool. She had a relative who had been in this country for several years and who visited the Old Country a year ago. The young lady in question had the desire to come to Canada for several years but was holding off owing to the influence and remarks of her confidantes and friends. The general expression of opinion was that if you want to go to the Colonies, go anywhere but to Canada—it is a terrible country. She finally decided to come, having a post in view here. She arrived in due course, and, needless to say, was surprised and delighted with what she found out here. Her impression was that we lived in small wooden houses, that the Indians roamed in their war-paint and costumes and that game could be had at our very doors. The disastrous fire in the North Country happened just shortly before she sailed. As the despatch was headed from Toronto she was informed that Toronto and the district was all burned up and there was no use in her coming. Little did she realize that the catastrophe was hundreds of miles north of here."

COMING MUSICAL EVENT

Many Halifax friends are looking forward with pleasure to welcoming Mrs. Margaret White Skill, of New York, who, it is announced, will accompany Miss Ruth Blaisdell Macdonald to Halifax on the occasion of this brilliant young singer's recital under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical Club on January 11th. Miss Macdonald is a daughter of Rev. Dr. J. H. Macdonald and Mrs. Macdonald, of Wolfville, and she has already won high distinction as a concert singer and an artist of rare promise. Mrs. Skill will be at the piano, and her friends will be glad to see her in the city. The Morning Chronicle, Dec. 27.

Miss Macdonald is making a brief concert tour singing in Sackville under the auspices of the Ladies' College Conservatory, in Halifax, and lastly in Wolfville on Jan. 12, where she will be warmly welcomed in her home town.

Mail to 1923

Last week we had the pleasure of wishing our many advertisers and readers a Merry Christmas, and from what can be learned that hope has been verified.

Now we once more make our bow and extend to our readers our best wishes for a Happy and Prosperous New Year. We may not be able to learn just as quickly whether this hope has been consummated, but all indications point to the dawn of a better era during the coming twelve months, not only throughout Canada, but also the whole world. True, we have not, and cannot attain perfection on this sphere, but international events at the present time tend toward the making of better conditions for all, and in the final analysis, the whole matter resolves itself into the personal element, and comes down to the fact that it is the individual that counts, as far as the future is concerned.

If we will all go forward in the coming months with at least a residue of the "Goodwill" brought about through the Christmas spirit, with the earnest intention of every one to "Do as he would be done by"; then we may look forward optimistically to a brighter and better year than we have ever known before. Let us remember that

There is so much good in the worst of us,
And so much bad in the best of us,
That it little behooves any of us,
To speak ill about the rest of us.

ADVERTISING

Says an Exchange: The occasional advertiser misses a good many opportunities. The constant gets all the benefits. Take the advice of all successful advertisers and every advertising agency in the world, and make your advertising constant.

Never stop advertising while you are in business—the advertiser who advertises constantly gets much better returns for his money, as advertising is cumulative, and when there is a slip the gap is not bridged over, but resuming advertising is like beginning again.

It is good business to increase your advertising at times but very unprofitable to discontinue your advertising as long as you are in business. Keep your advertisement of some size going every issue. Its your loss if you don't.

OUR COLLEGIATE ICEMEN

Never in the history of the colleges and universities of Canada, or of the United States, has there been so many young men enrolled.

This marked increase in the attendance at our colleges is due largely to the change of viewpoint of our educational institutions. Many cobwebs have been swept away.

Today the college means more than the accepted understanding of academic teaching. It means a broader vision of life and a greater understanding of the necessity for the thing worth while.

The college man today is to be found everywhere. He is at the head of a great banking institution, he is a chauffeur, he drives an ice wagon, he tills the soil, he appears in literature and ornaments the plumbing establishment.

Sometimes the unthinking criticize the college because its graduates may be found driving a milk wagon and the like. The answer, of course, is that if all milk wagon drivers were college men milk would be delivered more orderly and even our babyhood would be helped.

The greatness of the college does not lie in its being the gangway down which one may walk to the professions. Its worth is in giving to the country men who can thoroughly perform the duty of the hour.

The college is not the panacea for empty skulls. The best it can do is to equip the man who has something under his hat.

CLASS DISTINCTIONS IN YORKSHIRE

A stranger journeying to a far distant dale in Yorkshire proceeded at the railway terminus to engage a seat in the horse vehicle plying to its destination. Asked if he required a first, second or third class ticket, he took a first-class, though not a little mystified by the request. However, after a five-mile run on the level, the driver pulled up at the foot of a tremendously long, steep hill. "First-class passengers," he directed, "sit still; second second-class passengers get out and walk; third-class get out and push."—English Paper.

WHY BREAD HAS A CRUST

Why does a loaf of bread have a crust? When a mass of dough is baking in the oven the water in it turns to steam at 212 degrees Fahrenheit. After this it cannot get any hotter, but the outside of the loaf is not limited by the presence of water, and both the pan and the air in the oven get much hotter.

This converts the starch in the outer layer of dough into sugar, part of which is burnt to caramel. The latter gives the outside of the loaf its crust, and makes it quite different in appearance and flavor from the crumb inside.

MRS. "PUSSYFOOT" JOHNSON INTERVIEWED

Mrs. Johnson never sees her famous husband, except for two weeks in the year—a week in summer and a week in winter. The rest of the time he is traveling over the world, carrying on his work in connection with the World League against Alcohol.

"Aren't you afraid that he will meet with accidents?" inquired the Star Weekly in an interview with Mrs. Johnson recalling certain stormy passages in Mr. Johnson's interesting life.

"Frightened?" repeated Mrs. Johnson. "If I hadn't the will power to fight it I think I should die. I have been on trips with my husband, and have seen notices in the papers offering a reward for Pussyfoot Johnson, alive or dead. When he was special officer for the suppression of the liquor traffic among the Indians, I never knew, when he went out, whether he would ever come back to me again. It was there that I learned the spirit that I must stand it. He doesn't know the meaning of the word fear."

Since undertaking the work in which he is engaged at present, Mr. Johnson has traveled over all parts of the world. "I would like to go with him," said Mrs. Johnson wistfully. "for temperance is my greatest interest, as it is his. I am very anxious to broaden my knowledge of his work by traveling over the ground with him, but home duties have prevented me. I have been called the 'little unknown Mrs. Johnson.'"

Mr. Johnson is at present taking part in the New Zealand campaign. —Toronto Star.

WHAT THE DOCTOR SAID

"Do you know what you are eating?" said the doctor to the girl.

"An apple, of course."

"You are eating," said the doctor, "albumen, sugar, gum, malic acid, gallic acid, fibre water and phosphorus."

"I hope those things are good. They sound alarming."

"Nothing could be better. You ate, I observed, rather too much meat at dinner. The malic acid neutralizes the excess of chalky matter caused by too much meat, and thereby helps to keep you young. Apples are good for the complexion. Their acids drive out the noxious matter which causes skin eruptions. They are good for your brains, which those same noxious matters, if retained, render sluggish. Moreover, the acids of the apple diminish the acidity of the stomach that comes with some forms of indigestion. The phosphorus, of which apples contain a larger percentage than any other fruit or vegetable, renews the essential nervous matter of the brain and spinal column. Oh, the ancients were not wrong when they esteemed the apple the food of the gods—the magic renewer of youth. I think I will have an apple," concluded the doctor.

ODDS AND ENDS ABOUT NEW YEARS

The ancient Athenians began the new year in June.

In France the New Year is essentially the time for exchanging presents.

Gloves were once the favorite New Year's gift among the English people.

The ancient Romans made of New Year's Day a general holiday, with sacrifices to Janus of the Two Faces, and gifts and visits.

The peasants of Italy go about on New Year's eve in disguise. All sorts of practical jokes are in evidence, some of which not infrequently lead to hard knocks.

In parts of England in olden times the rural population believed that if a woman was the first person to enter the house on New Year's Day, the whole twelve months would be very unlucky.

Among the Japanese, New Year's Day, or "Kade Matsuri", is celebrated with great festivities. One of the brightest of the New Year's games is that of the Manzai, which means literally "long life to you."

In the Belgian city of Liege on New Year's Day, the workmen's children run about in bands from morning to night, ringing at the doors and begging the passerby to give them "Nul". The "Nul" are wafers, about the size of a large coin and stamped with the figure of a crucifix.

Up to and including the year 1751, the English year did not begin on January 1, as it does now, but on the Feast of the Annunciation, March 25. This was the more peculiar because Scotland had adopted the present New Year's Day a century and a half earlier—namely, in the year 1600.

The January issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, the opening number for 1923, sets a high standard for the subsequent issues to equal. This number is now on sale, and it should please every sportsman. An assortment of splendid features greets the reader. Bonnycastle Dale excels himself in his splendid contribution, "A Christmas Day's Duck Hunting" while "A Trip up the Taku River" is another article that is almost sure to please. Harry M. Moore, the gifted Canadian writer, has never written a better story than "Bones", which is another big attraction in this issue. The various departments, the diversity of features, the fine illustrations—all these help to make up a magazine of quality and excellence. "Rod and Gun in Canada" is published monthly at Woodstock, Ontario, by W. J. Taylor, Limited.

SUCH SERVICE—SUCH SERVICE

He went into a restaurant on Friday. "Have yez any stewed whale?" "No, sir," said the waiter. "Then bring me a beefsteak. The Lord knows I tried hard enough to get fish."

TO GET GOOD ENGINE SERVICE

Regular attention to the oil in your car's crank case will insure good service so far as the engine is concerned.

A new car or one recently overhauled, should get a new change of oil after its first 400 miles. Thereafter the oil may be renewed at every 1000-mile mark.

If there is sediment in the crank case, the case should be flushed with kerosene. After draining the kerosene, put in a pint of cylinder oil to clean out all the kerosene thoroughly.

The oil screen should be taken out and cleaned of all foreign matter. This is best done by shaking it in a pail of gasoline.

The crank case may also be cleaned inside and out at this time. Kerosene applied with a stiff brittle brush is the best cleaner.

In replacing the oil pan, be sure that the gasket is not broken. A new one ought to be put in for safety—shel-lacing one side and applying graphite and oil to the other.

Tighten the nuts of the crank case evenly so as not to leave oil piping space. All joints to oil piping should also be airtight, to prevent oil leakage.

Before starting the engine, it will be necessary to prime the oil pump. Remove the small plug and pour in about a pint of oil.

THE ANNUAL CAMP OF THE ALPINE CLUB OF CANADA

Mount Assiniboine in the Canadian Pacific Rockies

Going over a Glacier

On the way to the Alpine Club Camp, in the Palliser Pass.

THE Annual Camp of the Alpine Club of Canada held at Palliser Pass this summer, in the heart of the Canadian Rockies, has made history in this region for the year 1922. The site chosen was forty-five miles from Banff, the headquarters of this mountaineering club, in practically a new region, and quite unknown to the general public. The outlying camp at North Kananaaskis Pass, eight miles distant from the main camp, was in a district even more remote than the one in which the main camp was held, and, until this summer few parties had been in.

What the club accomplished this summer is on a par with its previous record, which has from the beginning done feats worthy of note; feats that have called the whole world's attention to the club. At the Alpine Congress of the Allied Nations, held at Monaco in May, 1920, the Alpine Club of Canada came second only to France in its exhibits.

The route to camp was via the Walking and Riding Tour Camps, Eau Claire, Fishing Camp and the Trail Centre from where this now well known route was left for the last lap of the three day trip, fourteen miles distant to Palliser Pass. Pack trains left Trail Centre (the transportation and mail centre) for Palliser Pass and Assiniboine daily, and from the main Alpine Club Camp to Kananaaskis Pass as often as parties wished to leave. The Alpine pack-train left Trail Centre for Banff, and from Mt. Assiniboine to Banff, four times a week, covering over one hundred miles. These camps of the Walking and Riding Tour which were used en route, are permanent camps of the Banff-Mt. Assiniboine Tour; the camps were comfortable and the meals excellent. Mr. Wheeler opened this district for those wishing an easy access into the heart of these great hills, at a moderate cost, and they are now a part of these hills—hills still in their virgin beauty, many miles from civilization.

The site of the camp was ideal. There were two lakes in the camp grounds, a stream and four water falls which tumbled hundreds of feet, adding considerably to the beauty of the meadows in which the tents were pitched. The setting for this village of tents—and there were many dozens—was delightful.

The dining tent was a huge affair. The kitchen tent was back of this; not far distant was the office tent. Behind this stood the Art Gallery—a tent where photographs of the camp and various mountain subjects of the previous year were exhibited. Prizes were awarded for the best in each class. The tea tent, a place of welcome to climbers after an ascent and in fact to all in camp, was near. Four o'clock was the social hour of the afternoon when the mountaineer's favorite beverage was served. The men's tents were not far from the lake, and the women's quarters were near the two waterfalls. A drying tent was in this section with a stove and wood pile, used for odd purposes. Still further on tents were pitched for the married couples. There were tents for the cooks, tents for the packers, tents for the handy boys who chopped wood and waited on table. A small interesting looking tent with a sign "Guides" outside took the place of the village blacksmith, only in this case mortals came to be shod when nails and spikes persistently came out of boots.

Truly a village these tents all made, a village whose curfew was the moon when high in the heavens—a village without a church, but where the infinite spoke from mountain summits, flowers and streams, a place where all was peace and harmony, for to be wholly one with Nature in a primeval spot, is to be at one with God. It seems a pity so few take advantage of an outing such as the Alpine Club of Canada affords.

More first ascents were made from camp this year than in any previous one, this on account of its being a new region. The first ascents were: Mount Queen Mary, Mount Birdwood, Mount Tipperary, Mount Smuts, Mount Maude, and Mount King Albert. There was also a trip of exploration in a region that was almost unknown.

These great hills of Canada that this mountaineering club holds their annual camp in, lure and continually call to those who have been in them once, to know these hills in to love them and return again as to a distant friend.

THE SMALL TOWN

I am the small town. Years ago I was newer and even bigger than today. There used to be a saw-mill, a chair factory and a place where they made barrels, but after a while they used all the timber around here and the people who worked in these establishments moved away.

Sometimes I get referred to as a village and when the old boys come back they look at me and say "Well, the old place doesn't seem to be going ahead much".

And I've even heard some men from the cities refer to me as unprogressive and lacking in enterprise.

I sometimes wish I could speak out loud and ask some of these men and some of these cities a few questions.

Of the men who used to live here I'd ask where they got their training, and their schooling and their good habits and ideas that made it possible for them to go way from me and take the best positions in the land.

Every time I look away at the cities all over the Dominion, and away off in United States, I can see the boys and girls I brought up. These cities keep on coming to me and beckoning to the boys I raise, and away they go. I've been supplying them with young men and women for years, and yet they turn around and call me unprogressive and lacking in enterprise.

Yes, I'm just a small town, but I boast, not loudly but well, that I've given the best of my life to others. I've done more for the cities than they have done for me.

And I intend to keep right on doing the best I can. I know how to raise boys and girls out in the fields, out in the open how to give them simple and honest lives, and how to train them for the great world outside.

But once in a while I'd appreciate a kind word and a bit of acknowledgment. I've done my best, and one doesn't care, after that, to be called unprogressive and backward.—A. R. K., in the London Advertiser.

HE ADVERTISED AND BUSINESS CLIMBED

"I am inspired to quote to you this verse," said a well known local merchant to a representative of The Herald:

"The lives of merchants all remind us We can make our business climb, Advertise and leave behind us Those who do not, every time."

Asked "What caused this sudden outburst?" he replied. "The cause of my 'inspiration', not an 'outburst', was the discovery that the cash at our store had climbed over 100 per cent. during October when we advertised, as compared with September when we did not advertise. October was the best month of the year with us and came near to being the banner month since we opened business". —Penticton Herald.

Hutchinson's new bus made its appearance at the end of last week and is much admired. The body was constructed at Wright's wood-working plant and is a fine piece of workmanship. The new street lighting equipment was completed last week and the system was inaugurated on Saturday evening. Shortly after the regular lights were switched on the new lights made their appearance and the improvement was readily appreciated by citizens and visitors to town during Christmas eve. While the new system is not all that was expected it is certainly a great advance in the matter of street lights.

Monday Night

On Wednesday evening the teachers and officers of the Methodist Sunday School, with the kind aid of friends in the congregation, gave the scholars a Christmas entertainment including tea and gifts of fruit and candy from a beautifully decorated Christmas tree. Many of the older ones supplemented the large number of boys and girls who attended and some of these entered heartily with the youngsters into their folk-games and songs. A most enjoyable time was spent and the party broke up after the distribution of prizes to a number of scholars for attendance during the year.

ONE REASON PAPER IS DEAR

Originally, and because of the apparently unlimited extent of the forests, paper mills were located with less reference to the forest than to available water-power, transportation, and market. Not until the forests were pushed back, until it became necessary to bring wood considerable distances by railway or by water, did the mills begin to consider the importance of their relation to a permanent supply of wood. The construction and operation of a mill involves a large capital outlay. It is figured roughly that it costs approximately $50,000 per daily ton of production to construct a modern paper mill. This large investment in plant is making it increasingly necessary to insure for the mill satisfactory supply of raw material. When pulpwood costs from fourteen to eighteen dollars a cord, it becomes a serious matter for the manufacturer to have to add from four to ten dollars a cord for freight. These very difficult problems making up the question of a permanent supply of raw materials for paper mills are causing many paper manufacturers to turn to the practice of forestry as the only solution of their problem of raw material.

GOOD BYE, HOOK AND EYE

The last hook and eye manufacturer in London has gone out of business. It is an eloquent illustration of the progress toward simplicity and convenience which woman's dress has made in the past few years. Even the "snapper" and the button are reported by the feminine fair to be going down into oblivion before the popular dress which slips on over the head.

An army of husbands hail the passing of the hook and eye and its pernicious associates with joy. No wife is a sweetheart of her "hooker-up". But no less does the vanishing of these small tyrants speak freedom for the woman—freedom from hours of petty sewing and delay in dressing.

One reason the woman of today has time to interest herself in the bigger topics which once lay within the male realm is that she can dress almost as swiftly as a man. Who can deny that the change is for the better?

YOUR NEWSPAPER

Aside from the number of single-track minds to be found in every community, the people generally appreciate and accord liberal support to the local newspaper—that intimate medium through which is mirrored each week the collective community activities.

Your home newspaper bridges the gap; its chronicles of local news and views complete a circuit of information impossible to be obtained through any other medium of human locomotion or mechanical device. It brings the local community as vividly to the fireside as the morning sun reveals the surrounding landscape. It is a human institution, and therefore is imperfect; but the courageous and sincere newspaper unalterably stands four-square for what it believes to be the ultimate good of its town and district and province and country.

Your home newspaper endeavors to radiate development in trade, health in the home, progress in civic affairs and goodwill in the intercourse between men. In the performance of its service it is bound to run counter to the views of some—often of many; but if it hews to the line the chips of respect will not remain uncounted.

Your newspaper, no matter what petty differences may arise, is the friend and advocate of every good citizen, although its paramount aim must obviously be the better destiny of the citizenship as a whole.

Men may come and men may go, but your newspaper remains on. It rejoices in your successes and grieves in your adversities. It tries to inspire hope and cheerfulness, and is the foe of hate, jealousy and fear. Its mission is operation; its function kinetoscopic; its service omnifarious. It welcomes suggestions and thrives on constructive criticism.

The more you make use of your newspaper, the more consistently you support it, the more its benefits will be revealed and the greater service it will be able to render for the increased prosperity of the field in which it labors. When you co-operate with your home newspaper you are but casting bread upon the waters of home progress.—Swift Current Herald.

THE SUNDAY LAW—WHAT? WHY?

The official title of our Sunday law is The Lord's Day Act. It is not an ancient statute. It is very modern, both in time and nature. It came into force March first, 1907. It was passed in 1906 by the Parliament of Canada after months of careful and thorough discussion by both Houses, and after dealing with every conceivable objection from the viewpoints of industry, business, pleasure, as well as from non-Christian and seventh-day Sabbatarian religion. The work was well done. Not a single amendment has been made to it since.

Its object was to conserve as a national heritage the weekly day of rest from toil, of industrial liberty and of opportunity for self-culture and worship. It does not aim to regulate the observance of the day in a religious way which must be voluntary, but simply to preserve the Day as the inalienable right to every person. The law of nature imperatively requires one day's rest in every seven in the interests of health, efficiency, and life to a normal age. It is not therefore imposed on human nature. It is written in our members. It is an inward law which we violate at our personal peril and at the sacrifice of national welfare.

It is a social law. It seeks to protect all workers in their liberty. It calls for the observance of the Golden Rule "Do unto others, as ye would that they should do unto you". It calls for the exercise of self-denial wherever this is necessary in order not to take away or menace our neighbor's right to his rest day.

It recognizes also that "the liberty of rest for each demands the law of rest for all". Rest for all must be compulsory in order that rest for each may be possible. There is no other way. Excepting only works of "necessity and mercy", all business, all buying and selling is forbidden. The same applies to all labour in one's own calling, or in any other line for gain. If men may work, greed will compel them to work. Even foods may not be sold on that day excepting only for consumption on the premises. Otherwise the baker and the grocer and their employees would be compelled to forego their rest day that others might be saved from having to think ahead and to purchase in advance what they will need on Sunday. So with the sale of news, tobacco, cigars, etc.

But what of pleasure? Why should we not be able to take such pleasure as we think wise on Sunday? The Sunday law of Canada does not forbid pleasure in itself in any form but only such pleasure as becomes a business and involves labour on the part of others, and therefore robbing these others of their rest-day, rights that we ourselves prize so highly. Golf is lawful, but not employing caddies. Ball for the mere fun of it is allowed, but not professional ball where an admission fee is charged and it is made a business. This is the Sunday law of Canada. In some of the Eastern Provinces the old Provincial laws forbid all "noisy games" but not the Lord's Day Act of Canada.

It is lawful to toboggan or sleigh ride down any hillside on Sunday, but not to operate municipal slides that involve the employment of labour for their operation. It is lawful to skate but not to run a commercial skating rink; to bathe but not to run bathing pavilions involving employment or service. Thus the principle of not robbing others of their rest day in order to permit our indulgence in pleasures or mere luxuries or conveniences runs throughout the law. Is it not reasonable? Is it not right? Is it not essential to the largest measure of rest-day liberty to the greatest number of people? Is it not fair and just to limit the liberty of some for the sake of the larger liberty of all?

The law also generously interprets "works of necessity and mercy". Conveying travellers and mails is permitted but not public excursions for pleasure, run for gain. The restaurant may operate but not the saloon or theatre or picture show, for these "unnecessarily" involve the labour of others. The druggist may sell medicines and appliances, for the relief of sickness and suffering, but only for this purpose, and he may not sell cigars, tobacco and other sundries that it is customary for druggists to handle.

When the object and underlying principles of this law are understood, no good citizen, no one who respects his neighbour's rights and society's welfare will either violate its provisions or complain of its restrictions. It is wholesome. It is liberty-conserving. It is worth while. It is essential to the general good.

WHAT DO YOU BUY FOR POULTRY

The average farmer and poultry man in Nova Scotia is purchasing feed from dealers who in turn import these feeds in carload lots from Ontario and Western Canada. During recent years a large number of feed companies have made provision for selling and supplying both high-grade grains and mixtures of low-grade screenings, etc., for poultry feed. These companies and their agents almost always try to sell the low-grade screenings and grains to poultrymen for "Hen feed". Thousands of dollars are annually lost by our Maritime Farmers in purchasing these low grade products for poultry feeding.

During the Short Course at the Agricultural College from January 3rd to 12th a complete review of the different brands of poultry feeds will be given and anyone attending the Course during these days will have no difficulty to distinguish between the high-grade poultry feeds and the low-grade and unsatisfactory kind.

Plan to attend this Short Course. Reduced rates on railways whether you attend for one day or for the whole course. Write to Truro for full information.

THE NEW YEAR

The year just closing means something different to most everybody. To some it has brought a great joy; to others a great sorrow; to many, both grief and joy in full measure. Many of us have gone along the regular uneventful path, filled with the happiness of love and work and the joy of everyday things, which, after all, is the best happiness.

To youth the New Year means a long, pleasure-filled evening and the writing of a new date on their letters. They look neither forward nor back. They make resolutions because it seems the correct thing for them to do. They keep them sometimes and it helps make them better men and women, but it is not a serious matter with them—just as is natural for youth.

Older folks involuntarily look back a bit on the even of a new year—not systematically, but with a general sweeping glance that usually makes them a bit uncomfortable at things left undone or failures to make good as they intended. Maybe there has been just one thing accomplished that gives them a little warm feeling round their hearts—maybe not. The great sorrow or great joy stands out with more meaning to them than to youth. 'Tis another milestone passed.

The New Year may not present very bright prospects to some, but these same older folks know that there is something better in store than what the immediate future seems to offer—know that unhappy things can't last—that they are pretty sure to lead to something greater and better—know that even if they can't understand the reason for sorrow and trouble that there is a reason—know it deep down within themselves, though outwardly they resent and rebel against fate. It is not blind faith or optimism that teaches this, but reason and knowledge of life.

Older folks know that the year is bound to bring happiness and relief to those who are now bearing sorrow and trouble.

Soldier Settlement and Irrigation

Irrigation is coming into its own in Western Canada. Pioneers of the older provinces began with an axe and an ox team and were skeptical of the farmers becoming their own rain makers. Now the irrigated districts such as the Okanagan Valley, British Columbia, not long since a desert, bloom like a rose through the vitalizing wealth of the waters of irrigation. A large acreage that is now being won from nature in the soldiers' settlement land in the Southern Okanagan—a 2,200 acre tract that is of national interest because of its strategic location and the engineering skill required to make it of service to the soldier settlers. A motor trip through the settlement revealed a country rich in scenic beauty, interesting in old land marks and marvellous in present activity of transforming a wilderness into a garden. It lies in a lovely valley, extending from Vaseux Lake to the International Boundary. The northern part of the settlement is 22 miles from Penticton.

(1) Intake gates and dam on Okanagan River. (2) Main canal, near Intake.

Water for the irrigation is supplied from the Okanagan river which, at point of diversion, is about three-quarters of a mile below Vaseux Lake and has a width of 200 feet. A concrete dam raises the surface of the water 8 feet. The system has been built in a very permanent way with concrete lined ditches which prevent seepage losses, concentration of mineral salts and water logging. The canal is 18 feet wide on top, five and a half feet deep and capacious enough to run a boat with a flow of 170 cubic feet per second. Eleven miles of the project is finished, 5 miles partly done and when finished, 22 miles of canal will be built to the Boundary. From the varying disposition of the topography, many engineering problems and difficulties arose—problems that were unique in engineering in America. Various experiments had to be resorted to which included the use of great wood stave pipes and riveted steel pipes, some 80 inches in diameter.

An example of the immensity of the task as well as of the engineering skill required is the construction of thirteen dunes in the nine miles from the intake to the cement pipe works. There will be about 1,200 acres of irrigable land in the first year and the land is being developed under the most favorable conditions with an ample supply of water. A plant for the manufacture of concrete pipes is one of the extensive industries of the settlement. Twelve miles of pipe will be built this season by 26 men, with an output of 650 feet of piping a day. A portion of the land was put on sale last spring and about 600 acres sold. The first orchard was planted by Percy Simpson, a returned soldier, belonging to the construction camp. The town of Oliver will be the administrative centre of the district. It is one of the few planned towns in Canada and is not being developed in a haphazard way with speculation in sub-divisions. The Government have placed on the market just what is needed, and this will be sold off before further land is open for sale. There are areas for a park, for a city hall, for a school, for various public buildings and space for all that is required for an up-to-date town.

The Oliver recreation grounds are across the river from the town, the present site of the big irrigation construction camp. The young men built a permanent recreation hall after being supplied with lumber and various requirements by the Government. An athletic association was formed and now the hall and the land is being developed under the most favorable conditions as a centre for concerts, dances, basketball and general sport. A demonstration plot has been established about five miles south of Oliver, on the main highway where 24 acres are now under cultivation with six acres in young trees which will be sold to the soldier settlers. Leaving Penticton, on our trip to Oliver, each instant beckoned to a fresh delight. Winding in among the hills, we sped around Dog Lake, steamer "York" on the shore, will be used by the Kettle Valley Railway, from Penticton to join with rail again at Okanagan Falls on the way to Oliver and the Boundary. Passing Vaseux Lake, through the stock raising country there was a wealth of beautiful scenery—the water lilies on the lake, the wild swans who make their home there all the year around, the overhanging rock on the motor road, all added to the beauty of the scene.

A point of interest was the big construction camp where we had dinner at the headquarters staff dining room. It is a regular settlement with even the hen and her little chickens a part of the scene. 811 men of the camp make their home here and it will be the place of the camp for the next two years. For the workmen there is an immense dining tent and 150 men are served at once.—C. G.

NEW RULE FOR GOAL-KEEPERS

The new rule for goal keepers adopted by the C. H. A. and which will probably be used in the Valley Hockey League this season reads as follows: The goalkeeper may stop the puck in any position or position he wishes, in his own territory, but shall not throw or hold it, and no other player of the defending side other than the goal keeper shall, during the play, be, sit, kneel or slide along the ice in the goalkeeper's territory.

SOMETHING ABOUT FUTURE SUPPLIES

A school boy whose awakened conscience and interest in the world as it is, mixed his arithmetic and geographic knowledge into a long list of interrogations that perplexed him. "What are we going to do for shingles and boards when the trees are all cut down?"

We thatched our roofs with straw before the shingles came. Because we have the shingles we now burn the straw. When the trees are all gone we will make a better shingle from the straw. Geologists tell us that there is coal enough to last through several centuries of time.

As our deserts have been brought to bloom, so will the mammoth isle of Australia flower, Africa will be gardenized. The lowlands of Himalayas will be farmed.

Soils are like people, they sometimes become sour; neither are very effective in doing what is expected of them. A sour soil will give weeds of many kinds, one ton of hay to the acre; a dose of limestone, nature's only remedy for sourness in soil, will soon banish the weeds and bring in the plants which make the farm profits.

Humus is much needed in our soils; how lime helps the humus supply and other lime problems will be explained at the Truro Short Course, Jan. 3-12 next. Reduced rates on all railroads whether you attend the whole course or for one day.

ROMANCE, MYSTERY, MURDER AND THRILLS IN "OUR MUTUAL FRIEND"

It seems almost elemental to state that the full enjoyment of any good picture comes from a close following of every detail of every scene from the introduction of the characters right down through the story to The End. And it is only after one has viewed a picture such as "Our Mutual Friend" that the real reason for such a remark is found.

"Our Mutual Friend", the screen version of Dickens' last and greatest novel, is said by many of the foremost critics of the country to be one of the most perfectly acted pictures ever released by any company.

The clarity with which each exciting episode explains itself in this simple visualization of a long story is a powerful tribute to the producers of "Our Mutual Friend".

It is a classic in character portrayal, wonderfully interesting as to story, simple, human and delightful, and yet comes under the head of "literature visualized". Truly here is a perfect "movie" from a "classic".

The following have our thanks for calendars received during the past week: Bank of Montreal, F. W. Barteaux.
