Farmers Appreciate Newcastle Flour Mill

The annual meeting of the directors of the Blackville and Derby Agricultural Society No. 8, was held last Saturday evening, Nov. 18, at the residence of the treasurer, F. D. Jardine, at Quarryville. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President, John Betts, Millerton
1st Vice Pres., Christopher Crocker, Millerton
2nd Vice Pres., Wm. T. Sauntry, Millerton.

Secretary, J. J. Clarke, Millerton
Treasurer, F. D. Jardine, Quarryville.
The president and first vice president were selected as delegates to the Farmers and Dairymen's Association meeting which will take place in Fredericton probably in March. The present membership of the society numbers 100 which is about the same as it was last year. The report of the auditors shows a credit balance of $529.55.

At the meeting an interesting discussion came up as to the relative merits as fertilizers, of basic slag and pulverized limestone. No conclusion in the matter was reached. President Betts favored basic slag and Dr. Wilson and Wm. Sauntry thought limestone the better fertilizer.

The meeting passed the following resolution: That this society express its appreciation of the enterprise of the Stothart Mercantile Co. Ltd. of Newcastle in establishing a first class flour mill which is proving such a boon to the farmers of the community.

Chatham Favors Issuing Bonds for Patriotic Fund

The East Northumberland Patriotic Fund which met in Chatham last night, took no action in regard to the proposed reduction in the maximum grants from the fund. The committee which conferred with the West Northumberland branch in Newcastle last Monday afternoon concerning joint action in the matter, was prepared to make its report, but owing to the pressure of other business which kept the meetings busy until late in the evening, the matter was postponed until the regular monthly meeting on Dec. 7.

The meeting took up the question of the method of raising the money required for the Patriotic Fund in Northumberland this year, which it is estimated will be $25,000, and decided unanimously that the money should be raised by the issue of bonds rather than by direct assessment against the ratepayers. A committee of five members was appointed to meet the West Northumberland branch with the object of securing the latter's co-operation in urging the bond method upon the county council at its annual meeting in January.

The question of the relative sums required from Restigouche and Northumberland counties was brought up in the form of a complaint from Restigouche that it is called upon for more than its share as compared with Northumberland. Hon. L. J. Tweedie stated he had telephoned Judge McLatchy, at Campbellton concerning the matter and that the latter was coming to Chatham tomorrow, (Friday) to discuss the question.

SALVAGE CORPS TO BE ORGANIZED

A Salvage Corps as an adjunct of the Newcastle Fire Department, will very likely be a reality within the near future. Fire Chief Dickson has the project in hand, and it is not improbable that the corps will be organized at a meeting to be held in connection with the matter in the firemen's rooms in the town hall next Wednesday evening, Nov. 23.

The purpose in forming a salvage corps in connection with the fire department, is to avoid the damage and destruction of household effects that occurs at nearly every fire because of the unintelligent and reckless manner in which such effects are handled by people who are bent upon getting them away from the fire. The story of the volunteer salvager who carries out a bed mattress and carefully puts it down, and then returns to the burning building and pitches crockery and glassware through the window to the ground below to be smashed, is somewhat shrewd, but it illustrates a thoughtlessness which is exemplified at almost every fire at which the removal of the contents of a building is left to volunteers who have had no training or experience in such work. The formation of a salvage corps would provide a body of men with special training and instruction in this class of work, and with a salvage corps always on hand at a fire it is certain that much damage which under ordinary conditions is inevitable when a fire breaks out would be prevented.

Fire Chief Dickson is gathering information relative to the organization and management of the proposed corps and already considerable interest in the project has been manifested by those who appreciate the valuable service which would be rendered

Another Pulp Mill For the Miramichi

N. B. Pulp & Paper Company Ltd. will Start to Build at Once at Millerton--Will Run
Night and Day

A new industry of considerable importance to Newcastle and the Miramichi is to be established at once by the New Brunswick Pulp and Paper Co., Ltd. who will begin building a pulp mill at Millerton immediately.

Arrangements for the construction of the mill were concluded this (Thursday) morning, and a construction engineer from Waterton, N. Y., will be on the site of the proposed mill within a few days ready to begin building operations. The mill will be built on the site of the old N. B. P. & P. Co.'s mill, which was destroyed by fire nearly two years ago. Construction work will be rushed with all possible speed, and it is expected the mill will be in operation by March, next year.

The plant will be in charge of Mr. J. D. Volkman, who has been working on the project for some time past, and through whose efforts the old company has been reorganized with the addition of large capital which assures the venture of success.

From fifty to sixty men will find steady employment at the mill, which will produce from fifteen to twenty tons of wood pulp per day. Orders for the output of the mill have been secured which will make it necessary to run night and day the year round. The company will be in the market at once for a thousand cords or more of pulpwood delivered on cars at its yards in Millerton.

Town Can't Get Electrical Pump

There seems to be small chance in the near future of Newcastle getting its electrical water pump with which it is proposed to supplant the present steam pump. On the recommendation of D. A. Jackson, electrical engineer, a year ago it was decided to make the proposed change with the object of saving about $1200 annually in cost of fuel. The order for the electrical pump was accordingly placed with the Canadian Allis-Chalmers Co., several months ago, but it has been impossible to get delivery to the order, and now Ald. A. H. McKay, chairman of the Water and Light Committee has been advised by the manufacturers that the engine can not be delivered "for many months to come," and it is suggested by them that the town procure the desired engine elsewhere, if it can do so. The reason for the Allis-Chalmers Company's inability to deliver the engine, Ald. McKay explains is to be found in the fact that they are overloaded with munition orders, and can not therefore, handle their regular class of work. It has not been decided what will be done in regard to placing the order with another firm.

Patriotic Fund Wants Secretary

The West Northumberland Patriotic Fund Executive met last Tuesday night, President J. R. Lawlor in the chair; R. A. N. Jarvis, secretary.

$15 a month was granted a family of which the oldest son is overseas and the father unable to work. The following were appointed a committee to further investigate the case: Messrs. Lawlor, Clarke and Creighton.

The Secretary pressed his resignation, to take effect at once as he had been forced to neglect his own work and could not afford to do so.

All regretted Mr. Jarvis's inability to continue the secretarial work.

Rev. Father Dixon thought that the Secretary should be paid for his services. It might be hard to get any one to do the work for nothing as the two secretaries had done to date.

Mr. Jarvis agreed to remain in office until next meeting.

Pres. C. J. Morrissey, W. A. Park, and R. C. Clark were appointed a committee to secure a secretary.

The minutes of the special meeting of the previous day were read and ordered incorporated in this Executive's minutes.

AGAINST REDUCING MAXIMUM GRANTS
A special meeting of West Northumberland Branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, was held in the Town hall on Monday afternoon to meet a delegation from East Northumberland Branch relative to the reducing of allowances paid to soldier's dependents about thirty per cent. Chief Magistrate Lawlor was chosen chairman.

After some discussion on the matter the following resolution was moved by R. A. N. Jarvis, seconded by R. Corry Clark and carried unanimously:

"Resolved that in the opinion of this committee that it is not desirable at the present time to make any reduction in allowances to soldier's dependents."

Town Council
Newcastle Town Council met on Thursday night. Present:—Mayor Fish and Ald. Mackay, McGrath, Scribner, Stables and Stuart.

The matter of contributing to the British Sailors' Relief Fund was further deferred.

It was also felt that Newcastle should have more than one representative in the County Council, in which the parishes have 26 and Chatham town 2.

A committee of three was appointed to draw up a resolution of congratulation to Sir Max Aitken on his new honors.

Several bills were passed. The Police Magistrate's report for six months ending Sept. 30th was received.

Ald. Stables reported that the title of the Fireward's to the well in Mrs. Craig's field with right of access thereto, was on record.

The full report which is crowded out of this issue of The Advocate will be published next week.

It is worthy of more than passing notice. The register has the distinction of being the largest of its kind in any Miramichi store, and the largest in any drug store in the province. It is fitted with 1044 account files, which are so arranged as to make any account almost instantly accessible. The account system operated in connection with the register is devised to eliminate errors in bookkeeping, and to keep an up to the minute record of the status of the account, showing at any time the exact amount due. Incidentally the register is a handsome piece of furniture which is a credit to the up-to-date store which contains it.

BETTER FOREST PROTECTION FOR N. B.

Canadian Forestry Journal
The New Brunswick Government is preparing plans for the reorganization of the whole forest protection system. That the provincial forest possessions of over 18,000 square miles merit the most modern and effective safeguards against fire goes without saying. The notion that forests can be left to take care of themselves has been abandoned by nearly every government on earth having authority over timber lands. Once the responsibility for forest protection is admitted, it behooves a government to build up the most economical and up-to-date patrol service. The maintenance of New Brunswick's forest industries depends absolutely upon the elimination of destructive fires. In 1912, before the slump in the lumber trade was under way, New Brunswick produced nearly $7,500,000 of lumber, shingles, pulpwood and lath, not counting fire wood, fence posts, etc. The New Brunswick Government receives an average of about $500,000 a year from forest operations and thousands of workmen owe their living to the same source. A very substantial part of the business of our merchants and manufacturers is accounted for by the actual wood harvest.

To those who wonder if New Brunswick can be freed from serious forest fires, it may be pointed out that a private association of Quebec Province, the St. Maurice Forest Protective Association, retreating two-thirds as much territory as the whole forest area of New Brunswick, have reduced forest fires to an extent hitherto regarded as impossible. This was "In my opinion, no other medicine in the world is so curative for Constipation and Indigestion as 'Fruit-a-lives'. I was a sufferer from these complaints for five years, and my sedentary occupation, music, brought about a kind of Intestinal Paralysis—with nasty Head-aches, belching gas, drowsiness after eating, and Pain in the back. I tried pills and medicines of physicians, but nothing helped me. Then I was induced to try 'Fruit-a-lives', and now for six months I have been entirely well. I advise any one who suffers from that horrible trouble—Chronic Constipation with the resultant indigestion, to try 'Fruit-a-lives', and you will be agreeably surprised at the great benefit you will receive". accomplished by good organization, close inspection of rangers and authority to regulate the clearing fires of settlers. New Brunswick has done much already in the way of forest protection and can enjoy similar immunity by taking similar measures. Lacking them, no Government can hope to preserve invaluable timber assets against the ravages of fire.

NOT TO BE "OSLERIZED"

Mr. Thos. Jeffrey sr., sixty years of age passed through an experience last Thursday afternoon which would test the vitality of a much younger man. When engaged in loading lumber upon a steamer lying at the Hickson wharf Mr. Jeffrey in walking up the gang plank lost his footing and fell between the wharf and the vessel into the water a distance of about twenty feet. His descent was such that his head against a projecting from the wharf and was stunned. Fellow workmen pulled him out of the ice cold water, and in a few moments Mr. Jeffrey was able to walk home. There he went to bed and Friday was back at work apparently none the worse for his bump and chilly dip of the previous day. Mr. Jeffrey declares he is no fit subject for "oslerization" yet his experience seems to prove his statement.

MISS WINIFRED KEIRSTEAD

A very sad death was that in Miramichi Hospital Sunday morning of Miss Winifred Keirstead, only daughter of Mr and Mrs Justus Keirstead of Scotch Ridge, Charlotte Co near St. Stephen. Miss Keirstead who lived in Hartland where she was a stenographer in the office of Eaty & Currie, left Hartland for Chatham to attend the Sunday School Convention. Although she was in poor health and took sick in Fredericton on her way, she persevered and reached Chatham. She had pneumonia, however, and on Thursday she was brought to the Miramichi hospital and a telegram was sent to her mother. The telegram did not reach its destination, but notice was sent to Rev. Dr. Goucher, Baptist minister, at St. Stephen, the young lady's former pastor, that she was in the hospital. Mrs. Keirstead understood her daughter was in Chatham, and instead of stopping in Newcastle Saturday night went on to Chatham and could not return to Newcastle before her daughter's death. The broken-hearted mother left Monday morning for St. Stephen where interment will be made. Deceased was a most enthusiastic and efficient church and Sunday school worker and in her zeal for her work she evidently overtaxed her strength. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her. She is survived by her parents and one brother Granville Keirstead, at home. Deceased was 26 years of age.

Interesting Letter from Harry Tozer

The following is a letter received from Harry Tozer of the Machine Gun Unit now in the trenches in France:
Oct. 27th, 1916
Dear Mother:—
Just received your welcome letter dated Oct. 5th. Will try and answer it. I received your cake last night and it was a dandy and it wasn't damaged a bit. That is the only way to send cakes. I cut it in twenty six pieces and we all ate together. The boys all thank you for it.

You wanted to know if I had been in the firing line. I have been in the line long enough to know all about it. It is just the same as anything else a fellow will get used to it and if he watches himself he has a pretty good chance. Of course if a fellow goes looking for a V. C. he has a poor head. But there are times when a fellow will get them. We have a lot of men wearing ribbons of this war.

I will never forget the first night I was in the trenches. It was the worst time we ever had since I came here. I was walking along the trench with some loaded belts for the gun, when a shell came and knocked me into the trench. There was about a foot of mud and water and I went in to that head first. There was so much mud on top of me that I had to try for about ten minutes before I could move. Then I had to walk around to see if I was hurt but I didn't get a scratch.

I was standing alone side of a fellow one day and it was a pretty warm minute. He said to me "We had better sit down, when a shell came and gave him a bad one in the eye. He may lose his eye I was knocked down by the same shell but not hurt.

Well I cannot tell you what part of France I am in so I will close for tonight.
Yours
HARRY

Sons of Temperance Meet at Douglastown

44th Quarterly Meeting a Successful One--Re-
Indorses N. B. Prohibition Act--Want
a Dominion Law

The 44th quarterly session of Kent-Northumberland District Division, Sons of Temperance, met in the Temperance Hall, Douglastown, on Friday afternoon, November 17th, the District Worthy Patriarch in the chair. The delegates present were: Harcourt Division--Rev R H Stuart, D W P. Newcastle--Ald H H Stuart, District Scribe; Misses Ella O'Donnell and Annie Russell. Douglastown--Harold C. Stohart, D W A. R H Jessamin, Misses Lillian Atkinson and Barbara Hutchison also the following visiting members--Kendall Wood, Chas. and Frank Johnston, David Sikes, Clarence McKenzie, Wm. Jessamin, Mrs. Wm. Wood, Mrs H T Atkinson and the Misses Flora MacKenzie, Bertha Atkinson, Mary Grey, Gladys Clark, Mary Hutchison and Zella Johnston.

Following officers were appointed: pro tem: C MacKenzie, Conductor; K Wood, Sentinel; Miss O'Donnell, Chaplain. The Chairman spoke of his attendance at the Temperance Council in Toronto, October 17th, when the Toronto Citizens Committee of 100 met with representatives of other Temperance bodies to discuss Dominion Prohibition. The Committee of 100 had previously determined to have Prohibition for Ontario and having gained it, they were now going after a law to stop interprovincial traffic in intoxicants. With this end in view, a conference in favor of Dominion wide Prohibition would meet in Ottawa on Dec. 12th proximo. Ontario prohibition was so far a great success. The only flaw was the allowance of importation of liquor from other provinces. This must be stopped. Good Temperance work was being done among the Divisions in this District.

The D W P's report was received and adopted.

Net gain during quarter 446 472

Several active Divisions--Bay du Vin, Black River, Bridge Redbank, Harcourt, Newcastle and Maple Glen--which are in good running order, had failed to report. Newcastle Division had lately resumed its regular meetings.

Temperance work once entirely in the hands of the secret Temperance organizations such as the Sons of Temperance and the Good Templars, was now being also done by the Dominion Alliance and Town Improvement Leagues and similar societies, directly inspired by the older orders. In the organization of the N. B. Temperance Federation, which had later developed into the N. B. branch of the Dominion Alliance, the Sons of Temperance had taken the first steps at the meeting of their semi-annual grand Division at Newcastle, in May, 1905, by appointing delegates to confer with the I. O. G. T. and other Temperance bodies re united action. Since last quarterly meeting the Temperance People of Northumberland County had at a very largely attended convention formed a County Alliance and declared in favor of Repeal of the Scott Act. Very successful public meetings had been held at Douglastown, Loggieville, Chatham, Redbank, Holtville, Backville, Newcastle, Renous, etc., all of which had declared for the new Prohibition Act. The latter was a good measure and he urged all friends of Temperance to vote for Repeal of the Scott Act.

The above report was received and referred to the Committee on the State of the Order.

Following committees were appointed:

State of the Order--H. H. Stuart, Misses O'Donnell and L. Atkinson, Frank Johnston and R H Jessamin.

Program--Charles Johnston, Misses Flora MacKenzie, Annie Russell and Barbara Hutchison and Mrs. Wm. Wood.

Report of the State of the Order
The following report on the State of the Order was adopted section by section and as a whole:

1--We find the Statistical reports correct.

2--We again heartily endorse the work of the N B Branch of the Dominion Alliance and pledge it and the Northumberland County Alliance our support in their endeavor to repeal the Scott Act in Northumberland County in order that the said County may be brought as soon as possible under the provisions of the N. B. Prohibition Act.

3--We further pledge our support to the movement in favor of a Dominion law to enable each province under prohibition to prevent the importation of liquor from other provinces and also to have as soon as possible a Prohibitory law for the whole Dominion.

4--We would urge upon every Division the supreme necessity of having a Band of Hope in its district or vicinity.

5--We would urge upon the Provincial Government that, in appointing the Chief Inspector under the N. B. Prohibition Act, they give the position to none but a tried and true Temperance man.

At the public meeting the speeches were of a very high order.

R. H. Jessamin

R. H. Jessamin gave an address of welcome. He was glad to have the District Division meet in Douglastown because of its stimulating effect upon the Temperance people of the place. The visitors were welcome. Douglastown had many historic associations. It was once a leading place of this County. It had sent out some of the best ships and some of the best men of the world--men that have been looked up to. The work of the Temperance people had not been in vain. They aim to uplift and reclaim--not pull down and demoralize. He trusted that the present meeting would have a good moral effect.

Rev. R. H. Stuart very cordially replied.

Rev. Alex. Pirih

Rev. Mr. Pirih, pastor of St. Mark's church, Douglastown said, in part, as follows:

There was no more important question at the present time than that of Temperance. What a wave of Temperance was sweeping over Canada! What was the cause of such a change coming over the nation the last two years?

The change was due to the faithful work of those who have worked so long and faithfully in the past and laid deep and broad foundations of Temperance. He remembered his father walking a long distance to attend a blue ribbon meeting. There had been no other recent movement so free from interested motives as that of Temperance. The Temperance people had worked along absolutely righteous lines. They had had no political pull--political influence had, if anything, been against them. Political grafters may now seek to get control of the movement. But he prayed that the Temperance people might maintain the high standard they had so far held. At the close of this war the British Empire would be the greatest of nations and it becomes us to be worthy of that high place. Canada will no longer be a mere portico to Britain's Empire building but an integral part of it. We are to bind together the scattered parts of the Empire into one compact whole. India must learn to trust us or we can't hold her. Australians and Canadians must be brothers. And the Empire must be sober. A drunken nation cannot stand. We are looking toward victory and then Peace. We are willing to pay the price--more men, more money--$5.00 a barrel more for flour. If the Peace is to be lasting there must be suppression of the liquor traffic, for the latter contains the germs of disorganization, demoralization and ruin.

In N. B. the government has done what it never did before--given us a Prohibition Law. It is for us to follow in the steps of the faithful workers gone before, to ensure not only victory but the right kind of Peace.

Excuse me!

"You may fire when ready, conductor."

The conductor's rage had cooled, and he stepped sidelong on the back with one hand, as he pulled the cord with the other. The train began to creep and tug and shift. The ding-dong of the bell floated merrily back as from a lofty steepie, and the clickety-click, clickety-click quickened and softened into a pleasant gossip, as the speed grew, and the way was so smooth for the wheels that they seemed to be spinning on rails of velvet.

WISE MAN--WEAR RUBBERS

Low Rubber Prices Make Possible Saving of Expensive Shoes--Many Will Wear Rubber Footgear Whenever Occasion Permits

The thrifty man or woman--those who are getting the most out of every dollar in these days of high prices--will find gratification in the fact that this year rubber footwear solves the question of how to remain well shod, in spite of high shoe prices. The wise buyer will purchase rubbers and overshoes this year to save the expensive shoes that he or she paid a dollar or so more for this season than last.

While everything else has advanced in price, rubber footwear has remained the same. In fact, rubber footwear would be cheaper this year than ever before were it not for the cost of all chemicals and the fabrics that are used in the manufacture. Even with these advances, rubber is the footwear for this winter and the wise ones will wear rubbers for economy.

EXCUSE ME! RUPERT HUGHES NOVELIZED FROM THE COMEDY OF THE SAME NAME. ILLUSTRATED FROM PHOTOGRAPHS OF THE PLAY AS PRODUCED BY HENRY W. SAVAGE.

And so they worked from each end of the car toward the middle. Their hands ran swiftly over bodies with a loathsome familiarity that could only be resented, not revenged. Their hands dived into pockets, and up sleeves, and into women's hair, everywhere that a jewel or a bill might be secreted. And always a rough growl or a swing of the revolver silenced any protest.

Their heinous fingers had hardly begun to ply, when the solemn stillness was broken by a chuckle and low hooot of laughter, a darkey's unctuous laughter. At such a place it was more shocking than at a funeral.

"What alls you?" was the nearest robber's demand. The porter tried to wipe his streaming eyes without lowering his hands, as he chuckled on: "I—just thought of sumsum funny."

"Funny!" was the universal groan. "I was just thinking," the porter sneezed, "what mighty poor pickings you-all are goin' to get out of me. Whilst if you had 'at wailed till I got to 'Drisco, I'd jest natched him nothin' money."

The robber relieved him of a few fimes and quarters and ordered him to turn round, but the black face whirled back as he heard from the other end of the car Wedgewood's indignant complaint: "I say, this is an outrage!"

"Ab, close your trap and turn round, or I'll—"
"The porter's smile died away. 'Good Lawd,' he stoted, 'they're goin' to skin that British lion! And I just wore myself out on him.'"

The far-reaching effect of the whole procedure was just beginning to dawn on the porter. This little run on the bank meant a period of financial stringency for him. He watched the hurrying hands a moment or two, then his wrath rose to terrible proportions: "Look here, man," he shouted at the robber, "ain't you-all goin' to leave these passengers nothin' a tall?"

And now another touch of light relieved the gloom. Kathleen was next in line, and she had been forcing her lips into their most attractive smile, and keeping her eyes wisely mellow, for the robber's benefit. Marjorie could not see the smile; she could only see that Kathleen was next. She whispered to Mallory:

"They'll get the bracelet! They'll get the bracelet!"
And Mallory could have danced with glee. But Kathleen leaned coquettishly toward the masked stranger, and threw all her art into her tone as she murmured:

"I'm sure you're too brave to take my things. I've always admired men with the courage of Claude Duval."
The robber was taken a trifle aback, but he growled: "I don't know the party you speak of—but cough up!"

"Listen to her," Marjorie whispered in horror; "she's flirting with the train-robber."
"What won't some women flirt with!" Mallory exclaimed.

The robber studied Kathleen a little more attentively, as he whipped off her necklace and her rings. She looked good to him, and so willing, that he muttered: "Say, lady, if you'll give me a kiss, I'll give you that diamond ring you got on."
"All right!" laughed Kathleen, with triumphant complaisance.

"My God!" Mallory groaned, "what won't some women do for a diamond!"
The robber bent close, and was just raising his mask to collect his ransom, when his confederate glanced his way, and knowing his susceptible nature, foresaw his intention, and shouted: "Stop it, Jake. You tend strictly to business, or I'll blow your nose off."

"Oh, all right," grumbled the reluctant gallant, as he drew the ring from her finger. "Sorry, miss, but I can't make the trade," and he added with an unwonted gentleness: "You can turn round now."
Kathleen was glad to hide the blushes of defeat, but Marjorie was still more bitterly disappointed. She whispered to Mallory: "He didn't get the bracelet, after all!"

CHAPTER XXXIX.
Wolves in the Fold.
Mallory's heart sank to its usual depth, but Marjorie had another of her inspirations. She started every body by suddenly beckoning and calling: "Excuse me, Mr. Robber. Come here, please."

This reminder sobered the weeping thief at once, and he went back to work ruthlessly. "Oh, all right, Jake, Sorry, ma'am, but business is business." And he dumped Mrs. Temple's trinkets into the satchel. It was too much for the little old lady's little old husband. He fairly shrieked:

"Young man, you're a damned scoundrel whose lot best argument I ever saw for hell-fire!"
Mrs. Temple's grief changed to horror at such a bolt from the blue: "Walter!" she gasped, "such language!"

But her husband answered in self-defense: "Even a minister has a right to swear once in his lifetime."
Mallory almost dropped in his tracks, and Marjorie keeled over on him, as he gasped: "Good Lord, Dr. Temple, you are a—minister?"

"Yes, my boy," the old man confessed, glad that the robbers had relieved him of his guilty secret along with the rest of his private properties. Mallory looked at the collapsing Marjorie and groaned: "And he was in the next berth all this time!"

The unmasking of the old fraud made a second sensation. Mrs. Fosdick called from far down the aisle: "Dr. Temple, you're not a detective!"
Mrs. Temple shouted back furiously: "How dare you say that!"

But Mrs. Fosdick was crying to her luscious-eyed mate: "Oh, Arthur, he's not a detective. Embrace me!"
And they embraced, while the robbers looked on aghast at the sudden oblivion into which the scene had focussed the attention on themselves again, however, with a ferocious: "Here, hands up!" But they did not see Mr. and Mrs. Fosdick steal a kiss behind their upraised arms, for the robber to whom the little fellow was gloating over his well-filled wallet. Mallory saw it go with fortitude, but noting a piece of legal paper, he said: "Say, old man, you don't want that marriage license, do you?"

The robber studied Kathleen a little more attentively, as he whipped off her necklace and her rings. She looked good to him, and so willing, that he muttered: "Say, lady, if you'll give me a kiss, I'll give you that diamond ring you got on."
"All right!" laughed Kathleen, with triumphant complaisance.

"My God!" Mallory groaned, "what won't some women do for a diamond!"
The robber bent close, and was just raising his mask to collect his ransom, when his confederate glanced his way, and knowing his susceptible nature, foresaw his intention, and shouted: "Stop it, Jake. You tend strictly to business, or I'll blow your nose off."

"Oh, all right," grumbled the reluctant gallant, as he drew the ring from her finger. "Sorry, miss, but I can't make the trade," and he added with an unwonted gentleness: "You can turn round now."

But Jake, who had chosen Mallory's left hand, roared: "Say, you cheated! All I got is this measly plain gold band."
"Oh, don't take that!" Marjorie gasped, clenching her hand.

Mallory's heart ached at the thought of this final sacrifice. He had the license, and the minister at last—and now the fends were going to carry off the wedding ring. He controlled himself with a desperate effort, and stooped to plead: "Say, old man, don't take that. That's not fair."
"Shut up both of you," Jake growled, and jabbed him again with the gun.

He gave the ring a jerk, but Marjorie, in the very face of the weapon, would not let go. She struggled and tugged, weeping and imploring: "Oh, don't, don't take that! It's my wedding ring."
"Agh, what do I care!" the ruffian snarled, and wrenched her finger so viciously that she gave a little cry of pain.

That broke Mallory's heart. With a wild, bellowing, "Damn you!" he hurled himself at the man, with only his bare hands for weapons.

CHAPTER XL.
A Hero in Spite of Himself.
Passion sent Mallory into the unequal fight with two armed and desperate outlaws. But reason had planned the way. He had been studying the robber's little figure, as if he were a villain was a war-map, studying his gestures, his way of turning, and how he held the revolver. He had noted that the man, as he frisked the passengers, did not keep his finger on the trigger, but on the guard.

Marjorie's little battle threw the desperado off his balance a trifle; as he recovered, Mallory struck him, and swept him on over against the back of a seat. At the same instant, Mallory's right hand went like lightning to the trigger guard, and gripped the fingers in a vise of steel, while he drove the man's elbow back against his side. Mallory's left hand meanwhile flung around his enemy's neck, and gave him a spinning fall that sent his left hand out for balance. It fell across the back of the seat, and Mallory plinked it with elbow and knee before he could escape.

All in the same crowded moment, his left knuckles jolted the man's chin in the air, and so bewildered him that his muscles relaxed enough for Mallory's right fingers to seize their prey. The trigger, and the gun at the other robber, and finally to get entire control of it.

The thing had happened in such a flash that the second outlaw could hardly believe his eyes. The shriek of the astonished passengers, and the grunts of Mallory's fight, as he crashed backward, woke him to the need for action. He caught his other gun from Ms holster, and made for a double volley, but there was nothing to aim at. Mallory was crouched in the seat above him, perfectly covered by a human shield.

Still, from force of habit and foolhardy luck, Bill aimed at Mallory's right eyebrow, just about Jake's right ear, and shouted his old motto: "Hands up, you!"
"Hands up yourself!" answered Mallory, and his victim, shuddering at the fierce look in his comrade's eyes, gasped: "For God's sake, don't shoot, Bill!"

"Hands up yourself!" answered Mallory, and his victim, shuddering at the fierce look in his comrade's eyes, gasped: "For God's sake, don't shoot, Bill!"

Even then the fellow stood his ground, and debated the issue, till Mallory threw such ringing determination into one last: "Hands up, or by God, I'll fire!" that he caved in, lifted his fingers from the triggers, turned the guns up, and slowly raised both hands above his head.

A profound "Ah!" of relief soured through the car, and Mallory, still keeping his eye on Bill, got down cautiously from the seat. The moment he released Jake's left hand, it darted to the right where his second gun was waiting. But before he could clutch the butt of it, Mallory jabbed the muzzle of his own revolver in the man's back, and growled: "Put 'em up!"

And the robber's left hand, which had been raised to his forehead, fell to his side, while Mallory's left hand lifted the revolver.

Mallory stood for a moment, breathing hard and a little incredulous at his own swift, sweet triumph. Then he made an effort to speak as if this sort of thing were quite common with him, as if he overpowered a pair of outlaws every morning before breakfast, but his voice cracked as he said, in a drawing-room tone:

WHEN YOU ADVERTISE YOU WANT RESULTS

That's What You Expect to Get when you do advertise and that's where we come in

No matter what paper you have tried, results are sure if you try The Union Advocate THE HOME PAPER OF NORTHUMBERLAND COUNTY

Results have been produced for hundreds of others who have tried our columns, and we can make good for you. There are two vital points in the advertising game. The first is to select the paper YOU KNOW has the largest circulation, and the second is to look after your advertising, changing your advts. at least twice a month in a weekly paper. The Union Advocate circulates to all corners of Northumberland County, which no other paper does, and is read by more people each week than any other paper. Is there any reason then why it should not be a better advertising medium than any other paper? If you have any doubts about the above, the subscription lists are open to interested bona-fide advertisers, why not investigate? Is it not worth your while? The Advocate has nothing to hide, and will be only too pleased to prove to advertisers the truth of the above statements. In these war times, particularly, advertisers want the very best possible results to be obtained from their advertising, and unless they use the paper that reaches the most people, they are not getting full value for the money they are spending each year. The Average Circulation of The Advocate each month is steadily increasing. DON'T FORGET THAT WE HAVE THE BEST JOB PRINTING plant in Northern New Brunswick, and can handle all kinds of Job work from a dodger to the very finest class of color and plain black printing. Every bit of work turned out of our office has that nice fine printed effect—no clumsy work, such as comes from poor presses and old rollers. The work is done by experienced hands and the proper touch and color is given to it. Samples sent to Canadian and American printers' journals of art have been most favorably commented on, which shows that work turned out from this office ranks with the best or it would not receive recognition at all. It goes to show further that only the best grades of stock are used. We are also prepared now to do a very fine class of EMBOSSING by which your letter heads, etc., are improved fully 100 per cent. Programs, cards and menus can alike be improved by a little touch of embossing, and the extra cost is not very great. Drop in and let us show you samples of our work. We are the only office in Northern New Brunswick that does this class of embossing.

You Take No Chances When you order work at this office. You can rest assured that you will receive the best of consideration, whether your order be large or small. We make no discrimination. Prices are the same to everybody, and stock is sent out every line of business is carried. Examine your supply and then let us hear from you.

DIPHTHERIA SCOTCHED
The diphtheria epidemic which prevails around McNamee's near Doaktown is now reported to be well in hand, and the quarantine which has been established is thought to be sufficiently strict to prevent any further spread of the disease. Councilor J. W. Vanderbeck, in his capacity of Health Officer has been looking after the matter, and after a visit to the epidemic locality on Tuesday of this week was of the opinion that the high danger mark had been reached. There have been seven cases developed within the last two months. It is understood that a difference of opinion as to whether the disease was quinzey or diphtheria when it first appeared, prevented as prompt action as should have been taken to suppress it, and it is said that considerable feeling has been aroused in the locality as a result of the faulty diagnosis of the disease at first.

NURSE ON LEAVE
Mrs. Capt. Dr. Fisher, nee Miss Nellie Claire McCurdy, a sister of Mr. E. A. McCurdy, passed through Newcastle on the Maritime Express Monday night, with her husband, enroute to the latter's home at London, Ont., where the couple will visit until January.
Mrs. Fisher, who will be remembered by many Newcastle people as a one-time resident of this town, until her recent marriage, was a nurse in France. She went overseas with the first Canadian contingent and has ministered to allied soldiers wounded in battle ever since. She was at La-touque, where the Germans approached the Allies hospitals so close that the artillery fire could be plainly heard.

Mrs. Fisher volunteered from Moose Jaw, Sask., where at the time she and her sisters, Misses Lily and Elizabeth McCurdy were conducting the Scotia Hospital which they established, and which is now being managed by the other two sisters. Before returning east, Mrs. Fisher will also visit Moose Jaw, Capt. and Mrs. Fisher expect to return to the front early next year. Capt. Fisher is a surgeon with one of the Canadian army medical corps.
