THE OPPOSITION AND ITS LEADER

Mr. Borden has obtained a respite, and a concession that when he goes it will be made as easy for him as possible. Such at least are said to be the terms of the arrangement. He is again asserting his right to rule the roost, and is the connecting link between the anti-reciprocity league and the party Mr. Borden is vainly trying to lead. For the time he remains in the place; but it is a respite, not a lull, as is named the man to succeed him in the nominal leadership. Mr. Hon. Robert Rogers of the Province of Manitoba is in Ottawa these days, with headquarters at the Russell House, and all his faculties about him; is very busily employed, whether in mending the disunion or aggravating it, and the Hon. Robert is not a man to reject a crown if it gets within reach. The position of Mr. Borden can hardly be more happy, and is certainly not more dignified than when his enemies were openly announcing his retirement. As well have the noose about one's neck as know that the hanging is only delayed for a moment because the executioners cannot settle upon who shall inherit the plunder—knowing of course, that once they have come to an understanding the deed of the performance will proceed with despatch.

Meantime outside the House the question of leadership is settled, has been for weeks. It is neither Mr. Borden, nor Mr. McBride, nor Mr. Rogers, nor Mr. Whitney, nor Mr. Roblin, who in the country are the anti-reciprocity forces. That man is Hon. Clifford Ross. From the time he spoke in Parliament, his place among the opponents of the Intercolonial Heating and Light Company bill was clear. There was only one place for him—at the front. Poor and feeble as the arguments against reciprocity are, the ex-minister of the Interior made the most of them. He marshalled all of them that had a semblance of soundness, in a fashion no one else had been able to do; and when they were exhausted and insignificant, he declined to risk himself on the flimsy fabric of misused sentiment and bad logic which the others seemed to think their firmest standing place. That speech settled Mr. Borden, and the future place of Mr. Sifton—if he is willing. The anti-reciprocity league turned to him as to Moses. He became the one point of rallying point of the forces of protection. About him these forces have been gathering as about their only hope. Of Mr. Borden they have no thought, save that he holds command of the House, and that he is a man whose talents they see very clearly do not include that subtle and all-governing quality of leadership. These men squabble as they please about who shall have the empty honor of occupying their foremost seat. But the direction and inspiration of the opposition forces has passed from their hands. So too, has the choice of who shall be the real leader of those forces. The man who heads the opposition movement in the country must in time come to lead it in Parliament—if he will accept the task. Will he?

MATTERS MUNICIPAL

The decision was reached by the council at Tuesday's meeting to purchase the block of property cornering upon the Swift Packing Plant for the purpose of establishing a union stock yard. The peculiar suitability of Edmonton as a stock center needs no demonstration. By the establishment of a properly equipped and efficiently conducted union stock yard its position as a stock center will be assured. When the history of the City of Kansas and other stock centers of the United States is recalled the benefits which must accrue to the city from the establishment of such a institution cannot be regarded as open to debate. Much useful work which will contribute to the desired end has already been accomplished by the Edmonton Exhibition Association. The work of the association in organizing the various provincial stock breeders' associations cannot fail to make Edmonton a centre of interest for the stockbreeders of the province. The erection of the huge stock pavilion in the Exhibition Park, which will be undertaken during the present year, will doubtless serve a similar purpose. The establishment of the union stock yard will crown the efforts of the association. The farmer who arrives in the city with a consignment of cattle will no longer be at the mercy of the first buyer. At the yards, which will be by the side of the tracks of the Grand Trunk Pacific, provision will be made for housing and rearing the cattle. There, for a small charge, the stock may be kept and fed until a suitable sale is effected. The buyers will have their agents at the spot, and the management of the stock yard will be directly or indirectly under the control of the city, the farmer will be assured of fair play. Whether the institution will be directly operated by the municipality is, of course, a matter which will have to be decided. The amount received by the City of Toronto last year for the lease of its stock yard was $54,000. That city is, however, at the present time negotiating with a view to resuming complete control.

That the establishment of yards here will be welcomed by the farmers is certain. Numerous suggestions regarding the spot, passed by the various organizations, have been forwarded to the council, and the Industrial committee report that since the decision was reached by the council to purchase a site, similar messages from individual farmers have been received daily. The bill, authorizing the expenditure will be submitted to the ratepayers, together with the other money bylaws, on April 24th.

The block of property which it is proposed to purchase comprises two hundred and thirty acres of the south half of section 2, township 52, range 2, M. The price for which it is offered is $15,000, or $500 per acre. The property, upon which an option was secured some time ago, is somewhat large, and would be difficult to dispose of, but it is stated by the Industrial committee that the purchase of any smaller portion would necessitate the payment of a higher price per acre than that for which the whole block can be obtained. It was stated by one of the aldermen at the last meeting of the council that there would be difficulty in disposing of a strip of sixty acres at a price considerably in advance of that which it is being purchased.

The proposal to call for an answer from the ratepayers on the 24th instant to the question whether it is desired to establish a municipal gas plant or to grant a franchise to a private corporation was rejected by the council at the regular meeting last Tuesday. The suggestion regarding the support of only two of the aldermen. By the majority it was held that in view of the fact that a form agreement with the International Heating and Light Company will be submitted with the money bylaws for the judgment of the ratepayers, the issue would be unduly complicated by the introduction of a vote on the question of municipal ownership. This question is, of course, implied in the request for approval of the agreement with the company. For the agreement it is claimed that its terms are as favorable to the consumer as any that could be negotiated with a private corporation. The aldermen who are in the majority contend, therefore, that if the agreement is rejected by the ratepayers, the action can be logically interpreted only as a declaration that gas is not needed or as a demand for a municipal plant.

As the need for gas is undoubted, the latter of the alternative interpretations would alone convey the verdict of the people in the event of the rejection of the agreement.

one synchronous motor-generator of 500 kw. output. For the proposed additions to the pumping plant he recommends one low lift centrifugal pump, driven by a high speed engine, a leading make, and capable of delivering 6,000,000 gallons per twenty-four hours, against a head of 80 feet; also one high lift centrifugal pump, driven by a steam turbine and capable of delivering 6,000,000 gallons per day against a head of 375 feet; also the immediate purchase and installation of two Babcock and Wilcox boilers of 500 hp. each, in the pump-house boiler room.

AN EVENT WORTH CELEBRATING

Preparations are well under way for the local coronation celebration. The occasion is one that may very well be commemorated in a public way and the committee having the matter in hand seem to be laying plans for a most successful and magnificent. It would be well if similar celebrations were held generally throughout the West. In the older parts of the Dominion certain people and newspapers who let themselves be right but whose heads are wrong have gotten into the way of looking at the subject of loyalty in a country when the subject of loyalty is mentioned. These profess themselves to experience an occasional shudder as they contemplate the vast numbers of people flocking from other lands to make homes on the prairies. If for nothing else it would be worth holding a patriotic jubilee once in a while just to calm the perturbation of our needlessly apprehensive friends in the eastern provinces.

At present, too, a number of good soldiers for a war in the mountains might have the effect of stopping the mouths of some men inside the House of Commons and outside it who are permanently and completely. The span of a long life measures the whole time since the wiping out of this old world and the introduction of the new. It will be long, but it will be completely adapted himself to the change that is not to be counted against him for a fault. The world is rapidly changing, and an opposition seat at Ottawa. There remains, of course, Mr. Bennett, king of facts of the Alberta opposition; but as the Calgary Herald points out, the fact that he is not Mr. Bennett's "corporation connections" would be rather a give-away. As for replacing the C. P. R. as a preliminary following that, he would be simply inviting hostilities. The prospect is, therefore, that he will be replaced by some one else. Judge Doherty entered parliament. He gave it to be understood in many places that he was to be replaced by some one else. He gave it to be understood in many places that he was to be replaced by some one else.

THE CANADIAN SPIRIT

The political destiny of Canada depends not upon its trade relations with the United States, but upon the attitude of its population. It is argued that while native Canadians and immigrants from the United States are equally patriotic and equally loyal to the Canadian flag, the latter are more likely to be assimilated into the Canadian population than the former. The Canadian spirit is the result of the assimilation of the immigrant population into the native Canadian population.

THE INDIANS

Again the annual report of the department refutes the common notion that the Canadian Indian is a disappearing figure; that like the Mound-builders his fathers succeeded and were probably slaughtered, he in turn is disappearing from the earth before the sweep of a civilization to which he is unaccustomed and for which he is unprepared. This melancholy view is no longer true at least of those aborigines who reside within the area covered by treaty with the Canadian Government and whose vital statistics are procurable. These are on the increase, and have been for several years. True, the gain is small, but it is a gain. As it does after a long period in which the deaths annually exceeded the births, it gives some reason to believe that the tide has turned definitely in the affairs of the Indian race. Last year the net increase was 397, which the report readily yields. The increase is not due to a decrease in the death rate, but to an increase in the birth rate. The death rate is still high, but it is not so high as it was a few years ago. The birth rate is now higher than it was a few years ago. The Indian population is now increasing, and this is a most encouraging sign.

EDMONTON BULLETIN THURSDAY, APRIL 20, 1911

It is strange when it is remembered that the ancestors of the Indian were within the limit of the present-day Canada, that the Indian is so often spoken of as a "foreigner." The Indian is a native of this continent, and his ancestors were here long before the discovery of America. The Indian is a native of this continent, and his ancestors were here long before the discovery of America.

Canada today is a part not only of the continent of America, but of the British Empire, and that is a position of privilege and opportunity. The British Empire, with its vast resources and its powerful navy, has always stood out strongly for two things—friendship and autonomy. HONORS EVEN

Mr. Borden is said to have decided to turn the tables on the malcontents. The lieutenant having failed to depose the general, the general is now to depose the lieutenant. Just where to get the new men he so badly needs, seems now to be the stickier. Mr. McBride and Mr. Whitney are thought to be the most likely to be chosen to replace Mr. Borden. Mr. Haultain has shown no disposition to lay aside the emoluments and honors of a premier for the sake of a seat in the House of Commons. SIR THOMAS ON HOME RULE

Will Not Undertake to Judge Between Different Conceptions. London, April 17.—Sir Thomas Slauhsnessy was entertained at the House of Commons last night by a group of Unionist members of Parliament. Sir Thomas is refusing to be interviewed for publication, but apparently he startled some of his Unionist friends last night by his ardent advocacy of Irish home rule.

Reviving P.W.A.

Springhill, N.S., April 14.—John Moffatt, grand secretary of the Provincial Workmen's Association, and S. B. MacNeil, grand master, are in Springhill reorganizing the old P.W.A. The P.W.A. was a factor in mining circles in Nova Scotia, they swept the province of the P.W.A. and gave up its charter. One reason for the reorganization of the Pioneer was its main line and the lines running north from Regina and Calgary had built. Then railway building had stopped. There was not at the time any reason why the C.P.R. should do other than cease operations. It had all the business in the country absolutely beyond peradventure. If people travelled they had to travel by the C.P.R. If they shipped, it was to be shipped by the C.P.R. The police in creation, could not have given the company a stronger or surer monopoly than it had for the time on the business of the West.

The Question at Issue in the Fight for Reciprocity Agreement.

(From Monday's Daily.) "This reciprocity agreement is not a question of a cent a bushel on wheat, or a half-cent on beef, but a question whether this country is going to be run by the people through the Liberal party or by the interests through the Opposition."

"BACK TO CANADA" BY THE HUNDRED

Canadian-Born Settlers From Dakota Flock Over Border—Most of Them Have Some Means—Sentiment and Business Bring Them Back Again.

North Portal, Sask., April 17.—In addition to the many settlers for whom the sun dawns on a new land on their arrival at North Portal, and over whom there flutters a strange flag as they enter the Government offices or the immigration hall, there are large numbers whom the dawn light welcomes home, and whose eyes light up at the sight of a flag which was familiar to them in former years.

"We are Canadians coming home," they explain simply to the immigration officials, and we are glad to be back again.

The majority of these are from the state of North Dakota and many have never become American citizens. The talents they took with them from their families, their work, and their savings, they have all brought back with them substantial sums of money and car loads of valuable effects.

"Is it the farmer? Decidedly not, for he has wheat and cattle to sell, and their families, their work, and household goods, and come with the avowed intention of never again returning. Probably the reason is satisfactory seasons in North Dakota may have something to do with this Canadian exodus, but patriotism and sentimental reasons are in nearly all cases coupled with the desire to better their positions on this side of the border.

Conciliation Board Should Work to That End, Says Mark Drummond. Calgary, April 17.—Mark Drummond, of Frank, who is neither miner nor prospector, but an expert on the question of the question as well or perhaps better than anyone else in this part of the country, believes that the board of conciliation should make a supreme effort to make a permanent agreement between the miners and the operators.

He believes that these little two do anything for the miners, and then out they come, disturbing business, disrupting the mining industry, and greatly injuring the prospects of the men. He thinks that nothing less than a settlement for five years should be made.

"I think that it can be done," said Mr. Drummond. "I believe that this board of conciliation should make a supreme effort to make a permanent agreement between the miners and the operators. It is not getting away too much. Mind you, there are only a few of them getting too much. Many of them, on the other hand, are not getting enough. The commission should start at the bottom and raise the price of the low-paid man and then scale upwards. The result would be that there would be an equitable scale, and the operators would find their expenditure increased very little, if at all, by the change. The wages of the majority of the men are not high enough. The wages of some few of the men are away too high. The commission should aim at a long agreement."

Bank of England Directors Elected—Fidelity Islands Paid by Rubber Committee.

London, April 17.—At the general court held at the Bank of England, the Exhibition Finance Committee and Place W. was elected governor, and Mr. Walter Cunliffe, of Messrs. L. S. & Co., vice-governor for the year ensuing.

The following directors were appointed: C. C. Arbuthnot, M. Compton, H. Brook, W. M. Campbell, C. Cokay, J. S. Gillott, C. H. Goshen, E. C. Grenfell, Sir E. A. Hambro, L. J. Hanbury, G. W. Henderson, W. D. Hoar, F. H. Jackson, O. E. Johnston, C. Lubbock, S. Morley, L. S. Norman and J. S. Norman. A. Provost, Lord Revelstoke, A. G. Sads, Man, H. A. Trotter, V. C. Vickers, and A. F. Wallace.

Referencing to the reciprocity agreement, Mr. Mitchell declared that he felt satisfied that although Canada was prospering greatly under present conditions, the increase in production under these same conditions might adversely affect this prosperity.

On the other hand, the United States with its 90,000,000 people would soon be consuming more than it could produce. The most profitable markets would then under the reciprocity agreement be open to the surplus products of Canadian soil.

As for the fruit interests, the growers as well as the producers ought to be considered. The people of Western Canada had as much right to secure cheaply the fruit grown in the Southern States as had the fruit growers of Ontario and elsewhere to secure good prices for their products.

Hon. Frank Oliver. Hon. Frank Oliver on rising to speak was given a rousing reception. He was dressed to address an audience which was so kindly disposed to him and in which he recognized many old friends, some even who had stood by him in the election fifteen years before, and in election previous to that.

Referring to the chairman's remarks on the present visit to the Edmonton constituency, Mr. Oliver said that the chairman, Mr. Oliver, had lived in Ottawa as long as he had and had glad to get away to the West for a short holiday. This statement provoked a great applause.

The question of lower taxes and bigger trade is the question of the day, declared Mr. Oliver, and the government of the day which Laurier stands for this principle in 1896 as it has ever since and does now.

He declared that he was a protectionist party and that his policy did not differ essentially from that of the opposition had been for long the cry of the opponents of the Government. But "the interests" could no longer hurt this cry at the Government.

BIG IRRIGATION WORK.

Southern Alberta Land Co. Rushing Operations—Will Irrigate Half Million Acres.

Winnipeg, April 15—Within thirty days the land in the irrigation project of the Southern Alberta Land Company near Suffield, Alberta, will be under the water of the Irrigation Canal. This is the official statement of A. M. Grace, chief engineer for the company, and confirms rumors which have been current for some time that the operations of the company this summer would exceed those of any preceding season. A force of one hundred men was despatched to the scene of the work Saturday last, and an additional force of one hundred men will be sent to the work. There are now three grading machines and 10 teams at the work, with a total of about 150 men. This is one of the most stupendous irrigation projects in the world. Below the ditch will serve almost that amount of land before reaching the company's land. The plan involves the conservation of so great a body of water that there will be a sufficient supply even without replenishing or a year to successfully irrigate all the land under the ditch. This vast project is being carried out by the Southern Alberta Land Company, which is being started into the lake and it is estimated that it will require 180 days before water for irrigation purposes will be carried along the full line of the ditch.

Though Badly Injured, Refuses to Divulge the Name of Her Assailant.

Calgary, April 18—Madeline Lee, formerly of Kelvington, Ont., was dangerously wounded last night by a knife thrust from an assailant whose identity she refuses to divulge to the police. The attack occurred at a lonely spot near the end of the car line, and this fact, coupled with the discovery of a sharp knife of peculiar pattern, leads to the conclusion that the crime was premeditated. The knife in question was new and not of a type usually carried as a pocket knife. The blade being fixed. This weapon was picked up near the place where the injured woman was found. This and a note found in Miss Lee's handbag, making an appointment with a "dear friend" for the evening are the only clues the police have, as the injured woman, though conscious, absolutely refuses to discuss the matter.

SEED WHEAT

As I have only a few bushels of Alaska wheat left, I am going to put the price down so that every farmer can secure half or one bushel, and grow his own seed for another year. I am willing to sell the balance of my stock at 4¢ per bushel or 4¢ per half bushel. If you wish to buy, please write to me at once, as I will send descriptive matter regarding it to any one who so desires. This wheat may be had from Dobay and Sage, 25 William St., or from my farm, the S. W. 1-4, 34-43-24, W. 4th. I am selling this somewhat cheaper than heretofore, but I wish to introduce it to every farmer as a wheat to grow on hundreds of acres of it this coming season.
