"Tell Him I Loathe Him."

CHAPTER XXXIV. The End of the Tragedy.

He uttered a cry like that of baffled animal: then summoning all his strength for one supreme effort, he fought his way against weakness to her side.

He fell exhausted upon his knees, his face buried in her bosom.

"Dear love," he whispered, "let me do one pure thing in my wretched wasted life. Wait for me, take me by the hand, and pray God to forgive me. Only a moment, darling, only a moment and I shall be ready! Wait! Wait! God, let it come! Let death come, and quickly, that I may join her, if only for one brief instant. Lord in heaven, am I worse than the thief on the cross? Have I sinned beyond forgiveness? I beseech Thee—pardon—for her sake—for her sake! Wait—my darling! Only a moment! Only a moment!"

They watched him turn, then they saw an expression of relief pass over the distorted features.

"It is over!" he gasped. "Are you there, Bebe? Take my hand, dear. God will not refuse me admission to paradise if you ask Him. I see you, dear. How deliciously cool your hand is upon my burning brow. You were so good to wait. I am ready!"

The last word was scarcely more than a gasp, but Virginia Beaufort upon her knees beside him understood.

She had taken the poor, unfortunate, sinful head from the dead bosom to her own, and held it there as gently as though he had been a tenderly loved brother.

She watched the breathing grow fainter, until at last it ceased altogether, then she motioned them to take him from her.

CHAPTER XXXV.
A Rift in the Clouds.

The beautiful, moonlit face of Soeur Mathilde was very pale and tremulous with emotion as she entered her little private office in connection with the hospital.

To her surprise a man came out of the shadow and extended his hand.

"Poor little woman," he said gently. "How tired you look. There is little resemblance between our regal Duchess of the old time and pale-faced, sad-eyed Soeur Mathilde. I am afraid it has been too much for you, dear?"

"Ah, no," she replied wearily. "But for my work I think I could not have lived through all this dreadful time. He pressed her hand affectionately. "Tell me of Childes' wife!" he whispered.

"She is dead! Oh, Charlie, I feel as though I were to blame for that poor child's fate! But for me she might now be well and happy with him. I alone am censurable, and—"

"Don't say that, Duchess!" he interrupted, tenderly placing her in a chair. "It was not your fault. There is a divinity that shapes our ends, rough hew them how they will, and that divinity has guarded you through all your sore trials, dear, bringing rest and peace at last. It is much better as it is, Duchess, and you must never doubt but that God knows best."

"But one is surely not to blame that from our finite standpoint one cannot always see it so," she cried, with suppressed passion. "I have no one to reproach but myself, Charlie, and I do not! I do not! My odious pride caused it all! I set myself up as a guide, and God has very bitterly punished me. But I should not speak sofly. "I believed that it was when I offered it to her, and very likely I should have gone on believing it to the end had not fate sent into my life the love that showed me how weak and insignificant the other was."

"Then you are not grieved?"

"No, dear, I am not in the least grieved.

"But she is so beautiful!"

"Not more so than another little girl who has shown me the tremendous mistake I might have made. Mignon, do you believe in the divine birth of love? Do you believe that the creation is perfect from inception? Or do you believe that like a life it must take time to develop, months or years to grow?"

She stood before him for a moment with downcast eyes, then slowly lifted them.

"I believe in the bursting of the bud into flower in a single night," she answered huskily.

"Darling!"

He caught her hands in his and held them closely.

"Tell me that your love is mine, Mignon," he whispered tenderly. "Say that you will make me the happiest man under heaven by promising that you will be my wife."

Quintard started. Perhaps it was the first time he had suspected such a thing himself. There was a look of unaffected surprise in his eyes—a sort of retrospective surprise.

His color came and went rapidly, but before his stammering answer could be completed, the door opened and Mignon Moreau entered.

He dropped Miss Beaufort's hands quickly. Mignon stopped in utmost confusion.

"I beg—your pardon," she stammered, her face growing painfully white. "I did not know—that is—I thought—"

She paused, unable to proceed. Miss Beaufort stepped forward and took the sweet, tremulous face between her hands.

"It is nothing, little one," she said gently. "Charlie and I are very old friends. I have no brother, you know, and he has taken the place of one."

She turned to Quintard with a quizzical smile and placed her hand upon his arm.

"I see," she said sofly. "God bless you and God speed."

Before he could detain her she had kissed Mignon upon the brow and passed noiselessly from the room.

Quintard looked at the now crimson girl in much embarrassment. It was the first time that he had understood himself. His heart was beating rapidly, somehow hindering his speech and interfering with articulation.

"I—Miss Beaufort was my fiancée, Miss Moreau," he exclaimed; "but she never loved me. The engagement was broken as you entered."

Again the sweet face grew white as gray ashes.

"I—am very—sorry for you!" she forced the numb lips to say.

"You need not be sorry, Mignon, for the love that I gave her was not the kind to satisfy a wife," he said

Badly Hurt In Thresher

Blood poison set in—Great suffering—Cure effected by DR. A. W. CHASE'S OINTMENT

Mrs. C. Hopkins, St. George, Ont., writes—"I feel like shouting the praises of Dr. Chase's Ointment. While threshing grain, my son got badly hurt. One of the men who was pitching sheaves, missed the sheaf and ran the prongs of the fork into my son's leg. He did not take much notice of it and in a day or two it got sore and very itchy and blood was running out. We did everything for it but it would heal one place and break out at another and kept on this way for three months.

"Finally I thought of Dr. Chase's Ointment and in a week's time we noticed a wonderful change. By the use of three boxes he was completely cured and the wound healed up. There has not been a sign of a spot on his skin since."

Whenever there is itching or irritation of the skin or a sore that refuses to heal you can apply Dr. Chase's Ointment with every assurance that the results will be prompt and satisfactory. Write for free copy of Dr. Chase's Recipes.

you like this, and I beg that you— "Hush, dear. You do not intend it, but you wound me. Do you think I am so little a man that I should wish to blind myself to the truth? You promised once that you would be my wife, Duchess, but you never told me that you loved me. I am going to ask you that question now, dear, and you must tell me the truth, for my sake, Virginia."

"Charlie!"

"There! I will not, dear. It was unkind, ungenerous of me. I am going to ask an unusual thing of you, Duchess, and I want you to understand and forgive me in advance."

"Is there anything for which I would not forgive you? You have been very good to me, Charlie."

The voice was suspiciously tremulous, the eyes curiously bright. Her hands held his nervously while a fluttering sigh escaped her.

He understood, and bent his side her, encircling her waist with his arm.

"Duchess," he said, carelessly, "you know that your happiness is the dearest thing upon earth to me, and because I am sure you would never be happy as my wife, I am going to ask you to take back the promise you gave me."

"Charlie!"

"Perhaps I am not altogether fair in putting it that way, and I want to be that to you always. If you had loved me, or if I ever could have hoped to win your love, I should never have given you up, and no man would ever have considered himself more blest, no man could have been happier, but you don't, and something has forced upon me the belief that my love for you has changed to the tenderest affection that a man could give his sister!"

She drew him toward her eagerly, and acting under an impulse of strongest gratitude she kissed him upon the lips.

The act told him more of her delight than any number of words could have done.

"I thought it would make you happier to have it so," he said tenderly, without an intimation of reproach.

"Yes!" she replied, looking at him earnestly. "There is no reason why there should be anything but perfect frankness between you and me, Charlie. I never could have been your wife, dear, with the image of another man in my heart. There is no chance that I shall ever forget him, however unhappy my love may be. It is the immortal part of us, Charlie. In telling me that your love for me has changed you relieve my heart of a terrible load, for now I know that your affection for me has always been that of a brother. I thank Heaven for it, dear. One of the hardest things for me to bear was the belief that you would suffer. But there is nothing but another love that could ever have made you understand that, dear. Will you not trust me as you would a sister? Will you not tell me who she is?"

Quintard started. Perhaps it was the first time he had suspected such a thing himself. There was a look of unaffected surprise in his eyes—a sort of retrospective surprise.

His color came and went rapidly, but before his stammering answer could be completed, the door opened and Mignon Moreau entered.

"Oh, Mr. Quintard, wait, wait!" she cried, with a note of misery in her pathetic voice. "You know too little of me to ask a question like that. You are great and noble, while I am only an ignorant girl who has picked up a little knowledge in a rambling, bohemian life while following the footsteps of a gambler whom I believed to be my father. Why, I cannot even read or write!"

"Do you think that makes you less dear to me? Do you think that your misfortunes, however great they might have been, could ever have changed my love?"

"But you do not know all yet. How can I tell you? My mother—"

"Yes, I know all about it, dear. If I had or had not it could not make no difference. You are going back to America, Mignon, where Eric Childes and Miss Beaufort will be your only friends. They will do all they can, but with your independence of spirit it will be very hard and lonely for you, sweetheart. Will you save yourself and me that? Will you make me the happiest man in the world, dear heart, by returning to America as my wife?"

"How generous you are."

"Not generous, love, but selfish in the extreme. It is because I love you, because without you life would be weary and miserable indeed, that I ask it. Answer me, dearest!"

"You know there can be but one answer to your question if you are quite sure that you are wise in asking it. What woman could decline the honor so great when her whole heart was already given?"

"My own!"

EDWIN MURRAY

Job Printing Executed!

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

A mother of two young girls under twenty writes to ask me if I do not think it wise for her to inspect her daughter's letters to men.

I can't tell her. I don't know the daughters. I hope it isn't.

But I can tell her one thing, and that is, if I were she, I would much rather inspect the men than the letters.

Inspecting letters is chaperonage and I don't believe in chaperonage. Or at least only as a last resort.

If you have daughters that you have reason to think cannot be trusted out of your sight, why you must chaperon them, of course.

But isn't it infinitely wiser to spend your life trying not to have that kind of daughter?

Conventional chaperonage is a system of watching that just naturally invites the victim to try to elude it. And however careful the system may be it is pretty likely that the girl who really wants to do wrong will "find a way."

Emerson says: "Build walls as high as you may, you cannot keep out temptation."

So it seems to me that the safest chaperonage a girl can possibly have is a bringing up amid ideals of conduct and expectations of her that will make wrong doing something not to be thought of, and give her that within herself which will successfully combat temptation.

Such an atmosphere will build an infinitely stronger wall between her and sin than any chaperonage.

But there is one way in which this atmosphere can be penetrated and that is by the persistent influence of the wrong kind of man.

That was what I was thinking of when I advised my friend to inspect the man rather than the letters.

The unwise mother, it seems to me, is not the one who fails to chaperon her daughter everywhere or know just where she is on every occasion, but she who fails to know just what kind of a man her daughter is with.

Bring your daughter up to think of wrong doing as something with which she could not possibly be associated. Impress upon her your trust in her and the obligation of honor which that imposes. Try not to put her in the way of unnecessarily great temptation. And above all, insist that every man with whom she is at all intimate shall be brought into the home. That you shall know something of his family and his past history, and that what you know shall meet your approval, and I don't believe you'll need to inspect your daughters' letters or chaperon her on every occasion.

Then there are merchants and clerks to be considered. The merchants have "tied up" a lot of money in new goods and are employing extra clerks. Those clerks must be kept "marching time" until say the last week of the Christmas season when they will be subjected to an unrealizable, strenuous, nerve-racking time of it just to show goods. WON'T YOU, as far as possible, TRY TO MAKE IT EASIER FOR THE CLERKS, BY BUYING EARLY?

And you, Mr. Merchant, it's time you got busy with your special Christmas sales. ADVERTISE THE LOWER PRICES YOU OFFER TO EARLY SHOPPERS. IT WILL PAY.

Now here's an opportunity where everyone can help. Will YOU help? Remember: Only a few weeks to Christmas. The earliest bird captures the fattest worms. SHOP EARLY. IT WILL PAY!—Ex.

Secret Sessions for Reciprocity.

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—There is no official news of yesterday afternoon's proceedings at the reciprocal conference, as it is announced that the first thing agreed upon on Saturday was that no individual party to the negotiations shall make a statement to the press. An official statement may come only in parliament.

There have been reports that the conference will take up the question of pulp wood and that John Morris, chairman of the paper committee of the American Publisher's Association, was in Ottawa to lay his views before the commissioners. There is nothing in the story and it is highly improbable that any reference to the provincial regulations on the export of pulp wood will be a matter of reference during the proceedings here. One of the things which may affect the paper parlors is the result of the state elections to-day. The American delegates will be affected in their views by the Democratic win. Their real work is to provide material for President Taft's message to Congress in December.

SEWING MACHINES—Great reduction November month only. To close large stock we are offering big reduction on Hand and Foot Machines November month. Call early, CHESLEY WOODS, 140 Water Street—nov.14.

Counterfeiter Caught.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 9.—Suspected of being one of a New York gang of counterfeiters who have been passing bogus quarter dollars in this city, Giuseppe Galucci, of New York, was arrested to-day after a struggle, by United States Secret Service agents, as he was about to board a train for New York in Board Street Station.

Matthew S. Griffin, Chief Federal agent here, and Tyrell, his assistant, accosted Galucci just as he was passing through the train gate. As Griffin grasped Galucci's arm the man thrust his other hand into his pocket and drew a revolver. Tyrell, close behind his chief, caught the suspect's wrist, and the two agents succeeded in disarming the prisoner, although he put up a fight. He was taken to the Central Station and will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Craig in the Federal Building to-morrow. When searched a package containing 120 of the bogus coins was found in his pocket.

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unfitted for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and elastic.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine organs, and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its marvellous merits.

It Makes Weak Women Strong. It Makes Sick Women Well. Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this non-secret remedy. It contains not a drop of alcohol and not a grain of habit-forming or injurious drugs. Is a pure glyceric extract of healing, native American roots.

Household Notes.

Dish cloths should be boiled every day in water to which has been added washing soda or a teaspoonful of kerosene.

To drive away red ants place sprigs of parsley wherever the ants are noticed. It should be renewed twice a week.

Finger marks and stains on porcelain, wood and window panes can be easily removed with coal oil on a clean cloth.

If fish are fried on a pancake griddle they will not stick and can be taken up without danger of their falling to pieces.

When too busy to bandage a small cut on the end of a finger, put a bit of clean linen upon it and then put on a thimble.

If a piece of wooden material is scorched, rub the spot with soft bread. When the scorch disappears, follow with a soft brush.

Not everyone knows that tan shoes can be dyed black. The cost is small and the result is that the shoes will serve through the winter.

If a sweater needs washing, try drying it on a coat hanger. It will not be so liable to stretch and will keep its shape much better.

A combination of onion juice and rum is a homely tonic for falling hair. Let two large onions remain over night in a pint of the spirit.

Lay in a supply of scrub-brush cloths for floors and cheese-cloth bags to slip on brooms and brushes to wipe down walls and wood-work.

New gloves which are being treasured against the time of being worn, should be wrapped in paraffin paper.

It will keep them from changing color.

A flannel dipped in spirits of ammonia is very good for removing the white spots on the dining room and kitchen table, caused by wet dishes.

Dish cloths may be kept odorless by having a solution of soda in a marmalade jar beside the sink and placing the cloths in this when they are not in use.

To keep blue clothes from fading, try adding bluing to the starch. They will retain their color better than if put in the bluing water and then starched.

An old-fashioned beef stew may be much improved by adding a cup of stuffed olives, a dash of paprika and a teaspoonful of minced parsley just before serving.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited, Gentlemen,—I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT on my vessel and in my family for years, and for the every day ills and accidents of life I consider it has no equal.

I would not start on a voyage without it, if it cost a dollar a bottle.

CAPT. F. R. DESJARDIN, Sch. 'Storke', St. Andre, Kamouraska.

Irish Party Fund.

New York, Nov. 9.—Before sailing on Saturday John E. Redmond, the leader of the Irish parliamentary party, who has been touring America in behalf of the Irish cause, said that he and the other Irish parliamentary visitors had received during their visit pledges of $150,000 in aid of the Irish cause, and expected $50,000 additional. This sum was twice raised by him on his trips here two years ago.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Invigorates

Only a Few Weeks To Christmas.

Our message to-day is a short one, but if followed it will help business and benefit in all directions. It is summed up, condensed, crystallized, epitomized in the two words "SHOP EARLY."

We want the suggestion to strike everybody "good and hard"—everybody, all ages and classes—everybody, buyers and sellers. Christmas is almost here—only a few weeks away. The merchants have been buying and selecting, and preparing for the buyers for months past. Many of them are already inviting patronage.

YOU know whom you intend making happy with your presents (if you don't you should), and by buying early you give your friend the advantage of choicest selection. You get "the best pick" for him or her. The early bird catches the worm. You have more comfort for yourself while shopping, and you make it easier for those who serve you to wait on you.

Last Christmas—did you doubtless remember—you delayed buying for some friend until Christmas Eve or the day before. Was the choice perfectly satisfactory? Was there not a secret regret that you had not selected earlier? Did you get any presents from a friend and then "kick yourself" for not having given more thought and more care to the selection YOU made for that friend? Now surely you won't let these misadventures occur again this year.

Then there are merchants and clerks to be considered. The merchants have "tied up" a lot of money in new goods and are employing extra clerks. Those clerks must be kept "marching time" until say the last week of the Christmas season when they will be subjected to an unrealizable, strenuous, nerve-racking time of it just to show goods. WON'T YOU, as far as possible, TRY TO MAKE IT EASIER FOR THE CLERKS, BY BUYING EARLY?

And you, Mr. Merchant, it's time you got busy with your special Christmas sales. ADVERTISE THE LOWER PRICES YOU OFFER TO EARLY SHOPPERS. IT WILL PAY.

Full of Interest

The meeting of the British Parliament to-morrow will be watched with the utmost interest on account of the statement it is expected Premier Asquith will make as to the progress made by the Constitutional Conference which has been sitting during the summer and fall. Rumors of all kinds are current, but apparently nothing authoritative has been reported. The announcement will have a determining influence on the immediate future of politics in the British Isles. It may lead to another general election. It may lead to another conference which will discuss the granting of Home Rule to Ireland by consent of both parties. Without a doubt politics in England are in a more interesting condition than they have been for many a day.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

To-day two drunks were each fined $1 or 5 days.

A disorderly was fined $2 or 7 days.

Another drunk was discharged.

A little girl was before court for stealing $10 from her uncle, residing in Boat House Lane. Most of the money was recovered, and as the child is young, Supr. Crimes interested himself in her behalf and she was sent to the S. A. Rescue Home.

A young chap taken in by the police, and held for safekeeping, was taken home by his father.

A carman was summoned by Head Const. Sheppard for cruelty to his horse on the 4th inst. The case was up a couple of weeks ago and was postponed to-day, when Dr. Campbell and Hugh Cole were examined. The hearing was further postponed at the request of Mr. Higgins for the defence.

Hon. Mr. Robinson's Address.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—In the News this morning there is a report of "Deaconess meeting" at Cowher Street Church. At this meeting the Hon. J. A. Robinson, not only was chairman, but also made an address which was especially interesting and instructive, reviewing the work and place of women in the church in Scriptural times, the early Christian ages, as well as in modern days, whether known as Sisters of Charity, Sisters of Mercy or Deaconesses, it mattered not, there was work that consecrated women alone could do—and women must do it. So eloquent was the address that it was suggested that it could be published it would be greatly appreciated.

A Million Pounds to be Given Away.

5,000 Begging Letters a Month.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie is not the only millionaire who has determined to "die poor." His bosom friend, Dr. D. K. Pearsons, of New York, who, after earning a modest livelihood as a medical practitioner, made two millions sterling by buying real estate and timber, has made a similar resolution. But he is finding it a difficult matter to get rid of his wealth, and even now, after giving away with a lavish hand for over twenty years, he finds that he still has a million pounds to dispose of. And as he is ninety years of age, it is quite possible that he will fall in his determination to die poor. The aged philanthropist, however, is firmly convinced that he will live to the age of 100, and that he will be able to get rid of his million of money in that time.

Certainly he does not lack suggestions from outside. Last month he received no fewer than 5,000 begging letters, mostly from worthless people. "There are beggars of all kinds," he says. "Mothers with daughters approaching the marriage age have sent me photographs, asking me to provide them with a marriage portion."

A Cool Request.

"One of the funniest was from a German burgomaster. It contained photographs of the German official, his wife, and twelve children, half of whom are daughters who are soon to be married. My income is only $215 a year," he wrote, "and I find it very difficult to maintain myself and family in the position which my office demands. Will you now bestow a 'dot' of £1,000 on each of my daughters, so that they can make suitable matches?"

Like Mr. Carnegie, Dr. Pearsons has given a great deal of money to education. Forty-seven colleges and institutes of learning are what he calls "his children," for he has no real offspring of his own. They are scattered throughout twenty-four States, and range from a seminary in New England, where he attended school as a boy, across to the Pacific University.

Gives Away "Savily."

His favourite institute is Berea, in Kentucky, to which he has given over $100,000, and he is at the present moment making arrangements to give another $100,000 to "Berean Institute," where he states "a country boy or girl can get a better education than at any other college in the States."

Dr. Pearsons has some original ideas about charity.

"I give my money away," he says, "in the same manner that I made it—savily." The beggar, adventurer, and swindler find little encouragement. Every request for a donation is thoroughly investigated, and if it is found to come from a needy and worthy institute, the purse-strings are opened freely, but otherwise no amount of pleading can get a single penny out of Dr. Pearsons.

He declares "that he has spent more sleepless nights in the twenty years since he has been giving away money than all the rest of his life," but adds that "he has had a bushel of fun." "Coffins were not meant to carry money in" is one of his sayings, two others being, "Always be your own executor" and "When people call me a stingy old Puritan I take my hat off to them and consider that I have been complimented."

Exit the Zouave.

The Picturesque Uniform Does Not Conform to Modern Ideas.

No more Zouaves! The most picturesque uniform in the French Army has been condemned by a War Department devoid of sentiment. In future the gallant "Zouzon" will not captivate the feminine eye with his saucy red fez, little bolero jacket, baggy red breeches and white gaiters. All this bravery is doomed because it is regarded by the "powers that be" as too impractical and expensive for modern war conditions. The collarless bolero "begins and ends too suddenly for health," so the transomrigged Zouave is to have a tunic of normal length of the cavalry pattern. He will also wear plain knickerbockers and gaiters, and his fez will be smaller, blue instead of red, while the size of the tassel will be reduced.

In ordering this change, the War Department has obviously not consulted the girls of France, who are indignant at the transformation of their favourite Zouaves into something like the ordinary lineeman.

have such a universal application and are so clearly illustrated that extended description is unnecessary. Their form is such they can be used for heating anything that can be placed on a flat hot surface, but it is important that the utensils used have a perfectly flat bottom for best results.

Recent improvements enable them to heat more quickly than earlier types

One Dose Makes Indigestion Go.

Heartburn, Gas, Headache and other stomach misery vanishes.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or you feel bloated after eating, and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour, undigested food and acid, heartburn, brash or a belching of gas, you can make up your mind that you need something to stop food fermentation and cure indigestion.

To make every bite of food you eat aid in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must rid your stomach of poisons, excessive acid and stomach gas, which sours your entire meal—interferes with digestion and causes so many sufferers of Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Bloating, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your case is no different—you are a stomach sufferer, though you may call it by some other name; your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapepsin will cost fifty cents at any Pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer five minutes after taking a single dose that Fermentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that a certain cure is waiting at any drug store the moment you decide to begin its use.

Pape's Diapepsin will regulate any out-of-order stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any fuss or discomfort, all of any kind of food you eat.

Cripples His Hobby.

Sir Wm. Treloar Looking Into Methods of Aiding Them—Former Lord Mayor of London is a Philanthropist and a Naturalist—Every Christmas He sends out Hundreds of Hampers for Poor Children—Queer Ways in Which He Received Contributions.

Sir William Treloar, Lord Mayor of London in 1906-7 and for many years a member of the corporation of London and sheriff of London, is paying a visit to Canada to observe the methods in vogue for the care of crippled children and other philanthropic objects for which he is well known. The former lord mayor is not only one of the richest but quite the tallest member of the aldermanic body. He stands six feet two in his socks. He is a very keen naturalist and has a splendid aviary in his Norwood home. His favorite is a cocotao named Cocky, and he rehearses his speeches to it. Sir William, who is a bit of a humorist, declares that the intelligent bird always laughs in the right places. An amusing simile was that which he gave at a recent meeting of the cage bird show when he said that the lord mayor, like the lizard canary, sheds his fine feathers at the end of a year.

Sir William Treloar believes in fresh air, and the fine house in which he lives at Norwood, formerly the property of Sims Reeves, the celebrated singer, stands as high as the dome of St. Paul's Cathedral. The late Dr. Spurgeon, who lived close by, used to declare that it was possible to taste the salt on the outside of his window panes when the wind was blowing from the channel. Sir William says that he has never sampled the flavor of the window panes himself, being content to take his neighbor's word for it.

In spite of his business ties in the city the lord mayor found time to travel considerably in Turkey, Palestine and Asia Minor. Every Christmas Sir William, in conjunction with the Ragged School union, sends out many hundreds of hampers containing food and toys for the maimed mites in whom he is interested, and it is worth noting that not one of these hampers is ever lost. The register of cripples is kept right up to date, and every hamper that leaves the guildhall has necessitated personal visitation and verification.

Sir William has had many curious contributions to his fund. One year a man sent a fifty pound note in an ordinary envelope, unfastened. His identity was never discovered, and he does not seem to have had any fear that this strangely made gift would go astray. Another sympathizer sends at regular intervals a couple of stamps, being unable to afford more at one time.

The S. S. Molino got here at 8 a.m. yesterday from Sydney after a run of 2 days with a coal cargo for the Reid Nfld. Co. This ship, like the Wasia, had dense fog almost all the voyage. After discharging she goes up to Manuels to load pebbles for the Atlantic Pebble Co., of New York.

Bright Future for South Africa.

London, Nov. 9.—The Duke of Connaught, in his speech at the official dinner at Government House, Cape Town, said he looked forward with hope and confidence to the happiness and prosperity of the great South African nation, its people filled with patriotism akin to the love which Britons in other countries—Canadians, Australians, New Zealanders—have for the countries of their birth; and, like them, with that wider patriotism which makes us all alike co-partners in the brotherhood of the British Empire.

You Waste Money

if you don't paint the strongest paint, the least-gallons paint, Devoe.

You waste from a tenth to all your money. The worst is worse than no paint at all; you may have been painting that.

An average paint isn't worth putting on if you get it free—you may have been painting that.

"Good paint" isn't worth putting on; for the best costs less—there are seven other paints, besides Devoe, not adulterated and full-measure; honest and good, but not best—you may have been painting that.

There is only one best: Devoe. It takes best care of a building, wears longest, and costs least money.

There are several paints, that make a good deal of fuss in the world. You may think we can't mean them; but we do. They are not the worst; some are worse but not worst; about middling.

You waste from a quarter to half your money if you paint them. You can do worse; you can waste it all; more too; you can damage your building.

What's the use of a paint that costs twice as much and wears half as long?

Paint half your job Devoe; paint the other half whatever you like. If Devoe doesn't take less gallons and cost less money, no pay.

Kept Promise to His Mother.

Followers of the turf will regret to hear that Mr. Harry Henderson, the celebrated local gentleman rider, has retired from the turf for good.

"I promised my mother I would retire if I won in Ottawa," he said, "therefore I am finished."

Mr. Henderson showed his superior horsemanship and cool head once more to the Governor-General Saturday. The game little rider won a 3 mile steeplechase in the rain by a nose in a hard drive, winning the Woods' Cup for the second time, or two years in succession. As the result, it has been decided by him that he will never face the flag with the silks on again.

Mr. Henderson first became known in 1865, when he won the Canadian Derby on Milton, 1 mile for 2 year olds in a field of 18 starters. He rode on the flat till 1903, then started to ride jumpers and broke his maiden in the first race through the field. On the famous horse King Top, at Saratoga, N.Y., he landed the horse a safe winner at 100 to 1, the longest price horse that ever won through the field. It became common for Mr. Henderson to win two races in an afternoon, and in 1907 he won three steeplechases in the same afternoon. This, up till then, had never been known in all records.

London, Nov. 8.—The situation in the South Wales coal fields, where 30,000 miners are on strike because of the employment of non-union men, became so threatening to-day that the local authorities applied for the services of British cavalry.

The Government ordered the 18th Hussars in readiness to support the police, who thus far have had the worst of it in their conflicts with the striking miners.

Globe Laundry at St. John, N.B., Almost Destroyed

St. John, N. B., Nov. 9.—The Globe Laundry, owned and operated by Vall Bros., was gutted by fire which broke out about 1.30 a.m. to-day. The buildings adjoining, owned by P. J. Gorman, butcher, and Anland Bros., Ltd., furniture dealers, and dwelling in the rear, owned by E. A. Hatchford were slightly damaged. Only the promptest work on the part of the firemen prevented the spread of the fire to the surrounding wooden buildings. Vall Bros. have arranged with other laundries to look after their business, and the others affected by the fire will commence repairs at once.

Vall Bros. estimate their loss at $15,000 to $20,000; insurance on buildings and machinery, $3,000, placed as follows: Norwich Union, $2,000; St. Paul, $1,250; Dominion, $2,000; Aetna, $1,000; German-American, $1,000; Rochester German, $750.

Insurance on Gorman's and Hatchford's and Anland buildings, and the latter's stock, on which the loss will not be great, was placed as follows: Home, $1,300; Commercial Union, $500; Fidelity Phoenix, $1,000; Norwich Union, $1,000; German American, $500; Guardian, $3,500; E. L. Jarvis, $2,200.

Yesterday's Parades.

Under the command of Lieut. Rendell the C. L. B. turned out in full force yesterday at 2.30 p.m. and marched to the Cathedral from the Armoury. Rev. Canon White preached the sermon which was instructive and helpful. The Lord Bishop pronounced the Benediction. The service was most impressive and the lads listened with close attention to the Chaplain's interesting discourse. The ranks were reformed after the service and the lads marched back to headquarters to the fine music of the band. In the procession were many of the old lads who turned up to celebrate the 19th anniversary.

HIGHLANDERS OUT.

The parade of the Newfoundland Highlanders under Lieut.-Col. McNeill yesterday to St. Andrew's Church was a successful event. The lads—about 70—in their kilts paraded to St. Andrew's in the morning where Rev. J. S. Sutherland preached an eloquent sermon which made a deep impression on the hearers. After service the Brigade returned to the Armoury by way of Theatre Hill, Adelaide Street, Water Street and King's Road. The pipers played stirring airs along the route. On reaching the Armoury Rev. Mr. Sutherland again addressed the boys and gave them good advice on the necessity of living up to the principles of their religion. It was announced that Corp. Ledingham's squad had won the shield.

Be Sober and Watch.

A very large attendance of members was present at the T. A. & B. Society's monthly meeting yesterday afternoon. Three applicants were admitted unanimously. The rev. Spiritual Director gave a short instructive discourse. After the routine business was disposed of, important legislation was gone into regarding the Club's management. It was decided to place it under a new directorate, composed of seven members to be elected annually, and to commence next month. This course was recommended by the Executive. It met with the approval of the members and it passed accordingly. The worthy President, Mr. Ellis, tabled a letter he had received from one of our city brokers, which was read by Mr. Coughlan. The writer asked the Society if they would be willing to sell the T. A. Hall and the land surrounding it. An answer was requested by Tuesday next. A long discussion followed in which several members took part. A three months' option on the property is asked for. No definite decision was arrived at by the Society. The Executive will have a special meeting in reference to the question during the week.

A vote of condolence was then moved and carried unanimously re the Regulus and Golden Arrow sufferers, and a collection will be taken up by the members during the coming weeks of the present month. At 6.30 an adjournment was taken.

The Regulus Enquiry.

The Marine Court of Enquiry held its final sitting in connection with the Regulus enquiry Saturday afternoon when the evidence of Mr. Boyd, Lloyd's Surveyor, and Mr. A. D. Brown were taken. The finding of the Court will be embodied in a report which will be forwarded to the Government, who will send it to the Board of Trade in England.

Local Made Goods.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Re "Shannahan's" article on local manufactures, especially when he mentions local soap and powder, I feel interested in same, and I think you will agree with me in saying that the brand of goods are clearly stamped and printed on our goods, therefore there ought not to be the slightest trouble in obtaining local soap and powder, unless there is a marked disinclination on the part of the assistant to sell same.

I will mention one fact which occurred to the writer while with a friend who was purchasing goods at one of the largest stores on Water Street. He asked the assistant for a certain brand of our toilet soap and was told that they had none in stock, and on my speaking to the buyer about it, the assistant was made to bring the soap from the top store and thus a sale was made.

I should think it would be to the shopkeepers interest if the assistants could be made to push local made goods, especially when they are equal both in price and quality to the imported article, thus helping to keep the money in circulation in the country.

Yours truly,
W. A. BROWN,
Supt. Standard Soap Factory,

Laid to Rest.

At 8.30 this morning the "Office for the Dead" was recited at the Catholic Cathedral for the eternal repose of the soul of Sister M. Thomas, O'Reilly, the chanters being Rt. Rev. Monsignor Roche and Rev. D. O'Callaghan. His Grace Archbishop Howley occupied the throne; the lessons were read by Rev. J. P. Eppy, Rev. T. J. Gough and His Grace the Archbishop. "Benedictus" beautifully harmonized, was most affecting. Solemn High Mass was then celebrated by Rt. Rev. Monsignor Roche, Rev. Frs. Gough and Pippy being deacon and sub-deacon; the chanters were Rev. D. O'Callaghan and Rev. P. P. Sheehan; in the Sanctuary were the Rev. J. J. McDermott and Rev. J. M. Greene. The final absolution was given at the catafalque by His Grace in cope and mitre. The funeral procession then formed:—cross-bearer and candle-bearers, school children, Children of Mary, Nuns, Acolytes, Priests, His Grace, coffin, William O'Reilly, Esq., Magistrate Placentia, brother, and other relatives and friends of the deceased nun; Rev. Bros. Cullane, Kennedy and Ennis of the Order of Christian Brothers also attended. As the funeral cortege moved slowly towards the cemetery the solemn strains of the "Miserere" chanted by the priests were borne on the air, at the graveside the last blessing was given by His Grace, after which the body of Sister M. Thomas was laid to rest beneath the shadow of her convent home. Her place in the Community is vacant, she is gone from those who loved her, but her spirit, as a guardian angel, is hovering near those whose hearts are saddened by her early death.

"If love and care could death prevent, Thy life had not so soon been spent; Life was desired, but God did see Eternal life was best for thee."

P. S. A.

The second service of the season of the P. S. A. movement was held yesterday afternoon. Mr. W. P. Lloyd gave an address on the training and education of children. Taking as his text P. S. A., he made them stand for "Play, Sleep and Air," and dwelt on those as factors in the development of the child, especially on the importance of play to physical, mental and moral development, and in storing in the child energy and power. The letters P. S. A. were also made to stand for Public Service Act the duty which the adult owes to the child to fit him for a higher plane of civilization.

Parents Must Be More Vigilant.

Inspector-General Sullivan Says Nothing Like Michael Case in Newfoundland.

Inspector-General Sullivan, Chief of the Police and Fire Departments of St. John's, Newfoundland, who has been here for the past week undergoing medical treatment, left yesterday for home. It is seventeen years since Chief Sullivan has visited Montreal before, and he noticed the wonderful strides which the city has made in that time.

"The Chief is a personal friend of ex-Chief Benoit, and it was under his supervision that the Newfoundland Chief studied the fire alarm system here, and had the same introduced at St. John's," Chief Sullivan has been a member of the Police Department for over forty years. He began as a constable and won his way to his present position, succeeding the late Inspector-General McGowan, who died at the Royal Victoria Hospital here two years ago. Chief Sullivan is the first native chief ever appointed to Newfoundland Police Department, the others coming from the Royal Irish Constabulary. The Chief says that Newfoundland at present is very prosperous, and the absence of crime is a thing to be noted with pleasure. Speaking to the Herald on the Michael case, he said that such terrible crimes as these are unknown in the ancient colony. He thought that more vigilance on the part of parents was needed in this city. Four weeks ago the Chief was stricken with a kind of paralysis, and was obliged to go to New York and then come to Montreal to consult specialists. Yesterday he left for home cured. Montreal Herald, Nov. 10.

Alexandra's Plans

To Take Prominent Part in Coronation Procession.

London, Nov. 7.—It is certain that Queen Alexandra means to take a prominent part in the coronation procession, as she did in the funeral cortege, though without precedent. She will appear as the figure next to importance to the reigning King. Queen Alexandra has conveyed her wishes to King George, who in turn will communicate them to the coronation authorities.

Even the Very Stones Cry Out.
(Gun Hill Speaks.)

From mountain head I look around
And see the green of Random Sound;
I see the valleys and the streams
As sights that only come in dreams.

My peak the first that greets the sun,
The last to glow when day is done;
In quietness I view it all,
And hear the echoes round me call.

But what is this disturbs my sight—
This double line of rails so bright?
They are already past White Rock,
And go as far as Henry Locke.

And can they think to get round me?
As sure as eggs some fun you'll see;
My sides are steep and straight and strong,
And can withstand e'en Mister Long.

And when they see my edge they're sick,
'Cept Mr. Noel, who takes his 'pick';
Go back, go back! where'er ye rove,
And plant your camp in Pimpen Cove.

Why can't they see, I don't agree?
I'm here to save the town, you see.
And for this station, it's too small—
Now, don't you think so, Mr. Hall?

And oh, Sir Morris, to my aid,
Do come to cash me with a spade.
Who'll speak to save her from the train?

PETITION NECESSARY.

A petition to the Premier requesting that the Spur Line be built has been circulated and largely signed by the business people of the town, and private citizens, regardless of party politics.

Personally we are sorry that a petition was deemed necessary, because we had, and still have as individuals and as a community, implicit confidence in the Premier as regards the redeeming of his pledges. The petition, however, was found to be necessary in order to prove to him that some person or persons had taken it upon themselves to speak for us and to misrepresent our views upon railway extension. We are in no way excited over this matter, nor do we wish to interfere with individual plans so far as the individual is concerned. We object, however, to individual advancement at the expense of loss to the community.—The Enterprise.

Shannahan Talks About the Pictures.

HE WANTS THE MAN AND A ROV.

"Did you hear the news," says Tucker, "why the Cadet Corps never came out at all in the pictures they took for the B. Show that never came off over on the 'other side'?"

"What pictures are you talking about," says Delaney, "sure I saw the pictures that were taken over in the 'College Grounds'."

"That's not the time I'm talking about," says Tucker, getting vexed. "What I mean is the time all the Brigades were up in St. George's Field; you see they all marched around and around four or five times, and when the pictures were shown by the machine not a solitary Cadet came out at all."

"That's a queer thing," said Mrs. Tucker, "how do you know they were up there at all, maybe they went in the wrong field. You know you got to be very careful when you start prating about these matters."

"Hold on," says Delaney, "I'm sure they were there, certainly I didn't see 'em, but 'Jackie,' that Tom's boy, my brother Tom's boy, he was there, for he told me himself he was there. Certainly, he says, he sometimes has a doubt as to whether he was 'all there,' but he's sure he was off, because he only got paid for five and a half days that week. Tom's boy says, in fact everyone says, the man never wound the machine when they were passing."

"Oh, I'll tell you," says Mrs. Tucker, "they were in the wrong field, that was a place where they were measuring land, and when they found out their mistake they hurried up to St. George's, but just as the band was approaching the job was all over."

"Look here," says Shannahan, "I'm listening to ye prating there this half hour and I want to tell you that if I had a boy and he went up there on parade to have his picture took, and if he walked around four times wearing out his boots, and afterwards told me he wasn't took, there might be enough of him left to salute, but he'd never do the goose step again in this world. It's a queer thing to me how this foreigner could make such a mistake, and not know it; but just think of a crowd of boys and Col. Greene and all the officers going up there to get taken and to be made a fool of. There would be wigs on the green by this time in my young days. Instead of sending for the rest of the tape we'd send for the man and the machine, and when the man would arrive we'd give him a fair and square show for his life. Certainly we wouldn't go as far as St. George's Field with him, then we'd pick out a man and fight him square and fair, and we'd be satisfied with the way 'twould finish, for that man would never use the other half of his return ticket. Enquiries in these cases ain't worth a hiddler's curse. There's nothing like a good square row to settle matters right.

Spanish Premier Has Laid Bare New Plot

Madrid, Nov. 7.—That a bribery fund of several millions of dollars has been raised to buy up army officers and betray the Monarchical Government into the hands of the Republicans became known to-day. Members of noble families who have been estranged from King Alfonso by their dislike for the English Queen have contributed liberally to this fund. The plot has been betrayed to Premier Canalejas, and several army officers who have accepted money were secretly arrested yesterday.

Men who at former times have been high in the Council and Government are fleeing from Spain, but the Premier has announced that he has received instructions to take any action that he may deem necessary to stamp out sedition.

Senor Santos, who was arrested on the charge that he offered a bribe to the commandant at Badajoz, is kept in close confinement. An effort will be made to force him to confess all the details and name the leaders in the plot.

"There has been a conspiracy formed to overthrow the kingdom," said Premier Canalejas to-day, "but we have nipped it in the bud and now all we have to do is to catch the plotters. The army is loyal, and with General Weyler in command there will be no difficulty in blocking any attempt to establish a Republic."

General Weyler, the "Butcher of Cuba," is in command of the district about Barcelona. Barcelona is looked upon as the hotbed of unrest, and General Weyler has been stationed there as the man most likely to strike terror into the hearts of the revolutionary forces.

A general strike will soon go into effect at Saragossa. This is considered a revolutionary plan. A strike already exists in Sabadell and rioting is going on there constantly. A number of persons have been injured. Troops have been sent to both towns.

A Valuable Find.

An Old Picture, Unearthed at Liverpool, Proves to be Worth Thousands.

A valuable picture believed to be a genuine Murillo, which has just come into the possession of a Liverpool Roman Catholic priest, has a remarkable history. It is a painting of the Madonnas, and has without doubt been in Liverpool for at least 150 years. It was for eighty years the property of an art and curio dealer living in what at that time was the Spanish quarter of Liverpool.

When the dealer died the son sold the picture to a friend, an Orangeman. When the religious riots were at their height in Liverpool he decided that he would not keep the picture in his house any longer, and it was again offered for sale.

Father Jeanrenaud, rector of the Roman Catholic Oratory of St. Philip Neri, hearing that the picture was to be sold, went to see it, and, impressed with its beauty, which was apparent in spite of its great age, made an offer and became the owner for a comparatively small sum.

The canvas was nailed to an old wooden frame, and was very much soiled. One day, while examining the picture, Father Jeanrenaud found the initials "E. B." cut on the back of the frame. The letters had obviously been put there many years ago, and thinking that the picture might be valuable, the priest invited an expert to see it. The gentleman after examining the canvas, came to the conclusion that it was a genuine Murillo, and Father Jeanrenaud formed the opinion that the initials on the frame were those of Bartholome Rastaban Murillo.

"In the opinion of a prominent artist the canvas is worth $10,000."

Neither Cook nor Peary

Copenhagen, Nov. 5.—Neither Cook nor Peary has a shadow of truth in their claims.

"No living explorer nor Esquimaux has been within one hundred miles of the North Pole."

This is the startling conclusion reached by Knud Rasmussen, say missionaries to Greenland, who have returned here. The missionaries, who are deemed religious and reliable, say too that they bring details of Rasmussen's cross-examination of the two Esquimaux, Ahwah and Eshushuk, upon whose testimony Dr. Cook relied for corroboration of his claim that he reached the North Pole.

After close questioning these two and other Esquimaux, Rasmussen is absolutely certain that the Pole is still unconquered.

Rasmussen, an experienced Arctic explorer, is the Danish Inspector of Greenland. His mother was an Esquimaux, his father a Dane. Whatever Rasmussen says about Arctic exploration is accepted with the greatest faith here. He was a partisan of Dr. Cook at one time. So if the missionaries quote him correctly his report will propen the entire Polar controversy.

Alaskan Frauds.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 4.—Federal indictments, charging conspiracy to defraud the Government of more than 20,000 acres of Alaskan coal lands, valued at $200,000,000, were returned by a Federal Grand Jury against Raymond Brown and Wm. L. Dunn, Spokane; Chas. M. Doughton, Seattle, former mayor Harry White, of Seattle, now living in Los Angeles; Chas. A. McKenzie, of Seattle, and Donald MacKenzie, of Washington, L. C. Seattle and Alaska.

The indictments charge that the six men had an agreement with the claimants, whereby they were to have a half interest in the claims.

Among those who were assignees of five or more of the claimants were former Governor John M. McGraw, of Washington, deceased; Governor Gillette, of California; Congressman McLachlan, of California; Henry T. Oxhard, President of the American Beet Sugar Company, and former Mayor Harry White, of Seattle.

Lodge of King Solomon's Temple.

(London Standard.)

After protracted negotiations it was decided recently to form a Freemasons' lodge, mainly of research, to meet at Jerusalem, and to be called "The Lodge of King Solomon's Temple." The members were to be drawn from all parts of the world. Owing to the political unrest in the East the promoters were advised to postpone the actual establishment of the lodge in Jerusalem for a few years and to meet meanwhile somewhere under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of England.

The promoters, after much deliberation, decided to have the new lodge consecrated in the province of Cheshire. The charter was granted last month by the Grand Lodge of England. Lord Egerton himself will perform the ceremony. The founders of the new lodge number eighty. Many of them are drawn from distant parts of the Empire.

Nutritive Hypophosphites.

When a person feels "blue"—"all tired out"—"doesn't feel like doing anything"—cannot concentrate his mind on his work—feels weak mentally and physically—doubts his powers—complains of trying appetite and sleeplessness—suffers from headaches—then his nervous system is run-down and demands a good up-building tonic. Nervous exhaustion is a modern disease, caused by too close attention to business, overwork, worry, devotion to trying family cares, overstudy, etc.

Nutritive Hypophosphites forms the best nerve and brain food known, and have restored thousands of sufferers to health. Large bottle, $1.00.

Compromise Reached, Says Dublin Report.

Dublin, Nov. 7.—The Evening Herald, a National organ, professes to have learned from an authoritative source that the members of the conference of the Government and the Opposition over constitutional questions have reached a compromise regarding the House of Lords, and that the Unionist leaders have agreed to support the Government until the latter has had full opportunity to frame a plan for the settlement of Irish matters.

Steamer Ashore on Labrador Coast.

Quebec, Nov. 8.—News was received here yesterday from Harrington Harbor, Labrador, that the coasting steamer General Wolfe, was driven ashore at that place during an easterly gale and sustained more or less damage. The engine room is making water.

The General Wolfe belongs to Messrs. Holiday Brothers, of this city, and parade between this and the north shore.

London, Nov. 8.—The Canadian Associated Press learns that the creation of an Empire club is being discussed in Government circles, but that it is likely that the idea will be deferred for discussion at the Imperial Conference.

A Big Offer.

In connection with the overture of a city broker to buy out the T. A. Hall and the ground on which it is built, the offer also has reference to that piece of land west of the Hall and owned by the Society, with the property on Henry Street and land near Kimberly Row. Mr. W. J. Ellis, the President of the Society, was first approached on the matter on Thursday last and was asked if the Society would dispose of the property. Mr. Ellis asked that the proposition be put in writing, and that he would submit it to the Society, which he did yesterday at the monthly meeting. We understand that there is a person here now acting for a foreign syndicate whose idea it is to purchase the T. A. Hall, the ground west of it, extending east to the lane just west of the Daily News' building, and up to Henry Street, taking in a square on which it is projected to build an opera house. These people will, we learn, spend $350,000 on the acquiring of the property and the erection of the structure, which will be of concrete. Though at yesterday's meeting of the T. A. Society the proposition made by the city broker was not entertained, it is believed that if it makes a definite offer for the property negotiations will be reopened.

Boys Ran Away.

Saturday afternoon two lads named Leo Kennedy and Gus Greene, of Bell Island, left the place unknown to their parents and caused them some anxiety. They were heard to say some time ago that they intended to go to Sydney, and when they did not show up at their homes Saturday night a search was made for them and it was found they left the place surreptitiously. Jno. Kennedy, father of Leo, with his two sons and his brother, Terence, left the island in a boat early yesterday morning and in coming to Portugal Cove had a hard time of it. Several times the boat was nearly swamped in the high sea running, and all were drenched by the waves. The boys, who were accompanied by the police of the disappearance of the boys and is now searching for them. Two answering to the description given of the lads were at Mr. Poole's restaurant Saturday night. Both will be arrested if discovered.

At the S. A. Citadel.

Col. Gaskin delivered an excellent address at the S. A. Citadel, New Gower Street, last night, taking his text from Exodus, "This is the finger of God." Every available space in the building was occupied and the audience sat entranced for the half hour, during which the Colonel gave his Boys Use Catapults.

Of late it has been noticed that certain boys around the city are using catapults, a very dangerous device, and the use of which should be prohibited. One night last week one of these hurled a large stone through the plate glass window in Mr. G. McCoubrey's tinmith store. The glass cost $40 and must be replaced by the Insurance Co.

Arrested For Larceny.

Saturday night Head Const. Sparrow arrested a little girl at her residence Boat House Lane, and brought her to the lock up. The girl is very young and was taken into custody for stealing the sum of $10 from a relative with whom she has resided.

Boy Had Fits For 6 Years

Druggist advised DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD—Cure complete and lasting. Mrs. J. D. Palmer, 38 Park St., Amsterdam, N. Y., writes: "When six years of age my boy began to have fits. They came on in the night. He would make strange noises, stiffen out, froth at mouth, face would twitch and sometimes turned purple. After the fit he could not talk. The family physician said all he could do was to keep them down some what. The second physician pronounced trouble Jeffersonian epilepsy, but could not cure him. He suffered for six years and before beginning the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food had three fits in about five days. Our druggist recommended Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food. He has taken seven boxes and has not had the symptom of a fit since. His color has greatly improved; he is not nervous and irritable like he used to be, and we consider his cure complete." Such results are only obtained by the use of the genuine Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food—not from imitations or substitutes. 50 cents a box, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its Forms can be Cured. It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden. Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at DR. F. STAFFORD & SON, Theatre Hill. Small size, 25 cents; postage 5c. extra; large size, 50 cents; postage 10c. extra. Mail orders must be accompanied by remittance.—oct 25, 1m.

Deaconess Movement.

A platform meeting to help on the Deaconess Movement took place last night in Gower Street Church. Mr. J. A. Robinson occupied the chair. Rev. Dr. Cowperthwaite conducted the preliminary exercises. The choir rendered a very beautiful anthem. Misses Rowell, Bowden and Vey rendered a delightful trio, and Miss Elsie Herder a charming solo. Mr. King presided at the organ and played a magnificent voluntary. The report read by Mr. Soper was of exceptional interest and most encouraging in its tone. Miss Hocken also delivered an address of deep interest which was listened to with close attention. She tendered thanks to Miss Foster on behalf of the congregation for the excellent work she had performed. In the morning Rev. J. W. Bartlett conducted the service and preached a very impressive sermon appropriate to the occasion.

Rabbits Thrown Away.

Saturday we referred to the fact that large numbers of partridge that were unfit for consumption had to be thrown away. The same applied last week to rabbits brought into the city. Many keep these animals, after killing them, for such a lengthy period that when brought to the city market they are not fit to be used. Some means should be devised to stop this destruction of good food also.

ALCOHOLISM.

At Cochrane St. Methodist Church last evening, the pastor, Rev. F. R. Matthews, B. A., preached a vigorous sermon on "Alcoholism," which was much appreciated by the large congregation present.

At George St. Church.

Mr. H. E. Cowan addressed a large gathering at George Street Church yesterday on "Temperance." He dealt with the subject in a practical and business like way and pointed out the mistakes that were wont to be made by well meaning temperance advocates. He appealed to the young men in particular and dwelt on the importance of individual work, and attacking the evil of intemperance in a business like manner. He did not believe that the Revenue would be adversely affected by having the liquor abolished. On the contrary he had no hesitation in expressing the opinion that the Revenue would be larger and what is of more importance we would be a happier and healthier people, better fed, clothed and educated. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Cowan at the conclusion. Mr. H. Courtenay sang a beautiful solo. It was announced that Rev. J. W. Bartlett would address the class next Sunday.

NEW HOSPITAL.—Work has begun on the foundation of the proposed hospital at Millertown. It will be equipped in the most up to date style and completed as soon as possible. It has been given by Mr. Kennedy Jones, manager of the Daily Mail.

CHARITABLE CONCERT.—Mr. Alfred H. Allan has been asked to arrange a popular concert in aid of the Regulus and Golden Arrow Fund. It will take place in the Methodist College Hall on Thursday night. It is hoped that most of the local artists will assist.

CARL E. RICHARD HERE.—The schor, Carl E. Richard, Hilton, master, arrived here at 1.30 p.m. yesterday from Mulgrave to J. & W. Pitts after a run of 4 days. The vessel had fine weather the first part of the voyage and afterwards much fog. She brought a full cargo of hay, oats, &c., 25 sheep and 101 head of cattle.

TYPHOID GONE.—The twenty-seven patients who were in hospital at Millertown have all been discharged, and all the bedding, clothing, etc., has been destroyed by Dr. Loomis. The people are hoping that they have seen the last of the disease. It is likely that the hospital, which was a temporary one, will also be burned down.

STOPPED SHORT

Taking Tonics, and Built up on Right Food.

The mistake is frequently made of trying to build up a worn-out nervous system on so-called tonics—drugs. New material from which to rebuild wasted nerve cells is what should be supplied, and this can be obtained only from proper food.

"Two years ago I found myself on the verge of a complete nervous collapse, due to overwork and study, and to illness in the family," writes a Wisconsin young mother.

"My friends became alarmed because I grew pale and thin and could not sleep nights. I took various tonics prescribed by various physicians, but their effects wore off shortly after I stopped taking them. My food did not seem to nourish me and I gained no flesh nor blood.

"Reading of Grape-Nuts I determined to stop the tonics and see what a change of diet would do. I ate Grape-Nuts four times a day, with cream and drank milk also, went to bed early after eating a dish of Grape-Nuts.

"In about two weeks I was sleeping soundly. In a short time gained 20 pounds in weight and felt like a different woman. My little daughter whom I was obliged to keep out of school last spring on account of chronic catarrh has changed from a thin, pale, nervous child to a rosy, healthy girl and has gone back to school this fall. "Grape-Nuts and fresh air were the only agents used to accomplish the happy results."

TRINIDAD, Nov. 12. Negro miners who have been engaged in carrying bodies of the men killed in the Delagua mine explosion from the wrecked workings are on strike to-day. They declare that they will no longer work for $2.25 a day, demanding an increase of $4. The strike has delayed the removal of the bodies from the mine and but two were taken out in the last 24 hours, bringing the total recovered to 71. According to Deputy Coroner Sipel, there are but 10 bodies in the mine.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Nov. 12. Madison Square Garden never looked more attractive than to-day. The great amphitheatre was beautifully decorated for the opening this afternoon of the 26th National Horse Show, marking as usual the initiation of the New York season. The society in set boxes, which circled the show are in the arena itself, where the thoroughbreds of the notables are put through their paces. There was promise of incessant activity from the moment the bugles sounded to late next Saturday night, when the exhibition closes. The entries exceed by 200 the previous best record.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. A stiff 20 knot wind came blustering out of the S.W. early to-day, making weather conditions only fairly favorable for the 50 mile aeroplane flight over the sea from the deck of the steamship Pennsylvania to Governor's Island. J. A. McCurdy, who essays the flying feat in a Curtiss aeroplane, expects to make aviation history by also carrying a pouch of mail by permission of the Federal Government. The launching platform, built on the after deck of the Pennsylvania, scheduled to sail at noon, was ready this morning, and the aeroplane was assembled and in working order. Fifty miles off shore the Pennsylvania will come to a stop and McCurdy in his machine will make the start from the launching platform. If necessary to obtain the needed wind pressure, the Pennsylvania's engines will be backed full speed into the breeze. Capt. Russ of the Pennsylvania says the steamship's stern way would make about 12 knots an hour. McCurdy is expected to fly from the steamship about 3 o'clock and land at Governor's Island an hour later.

Although it was announced McCurdy was to make the flight word came from him to-day that he would be unable to reach here in time from the south, and it was arranged to have J. C. Mare, another of the Curtiss aviators, essay the feat. 11 a.m. The wind velocity in this city was 25 miles an hour.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. After having seemingly defeated the peace proposition endorsed by the Express Company's employers and thus staved off a settlement of the strike, the Jersey City decision of the express men early to-day took action which gave renewed hope that all the men who have been out would be back at work again Monday morning.

Reputation of the peace agreement by the mass meeting of the New Jersey strikers in Jersey City last night was followed by the appointment of a committee to consider what further action should be taken. This committee resolved this afternoon that the peace terms be accepted. The disposition of the Jersey City strikers was to insist upon a closed shop and the absence of such a stipulation in the settlement agreement caused the turning down of the whole proposition. Among the older men however, different counsels seemed to prevail and it was believed to-day that their recommendation would be effective in securing final sanction of the agreement. Mayor Gaynor's firm stand on announcing that if the strikers rejected what he declared to be an honorable agreement, he would see to it that Express wagons were run in the city even if every one of them had to be manned with policemen, is thought to have had its effect in influencing to-day's move. Representatives of the companies believed that in any event the back bone of the strike movement had been broken by the disagreement among the New Jersey strikers.

Death of Mr. J. Moore.

Last night one of the oldest of our citizens passed away. His form has not been seen for many years on the streets as for the past ten years he has been confined to his room. Mr. Moore was a very old member of the British Society, and probably the oldest sailmaker in the city, as he served his time with the grandfather of Mr. C. H. Hutchings. There survives him his widow, one daughter, Mrs. E. L. Oak, and six sons. The funeral will take place to-morrow at the C. F. cemetery. To Mrs. Moore and family we extend our sympathy.
