WHEN LOVE Came Too Late.

CHAPTER XXI.

The Arenger.

She bit at her underlip till it showed a livid scar, and tore with one restless hand at the edge of her shawl.

"Suppose I'm not satisfied?" she said.

"Not satisfied!" he repeated. "Even you should be contented with your work, Bella!" and he smiled grimly. "Remember what I was when my evil fate threw me across your path, and think what I am now!"

She glanced up at him with a malicious sneer.

"Oh, you're sorry enough, I dare say," she said.

"Yes, I am sorry enough," he assented, sadly. "Sorry for you both. And now what will you do? Wait—for she had been about to answer furiously—"If you demand the rights our secret gives you, you know my reply, the course I shall adopt. It will cost me a great deal in shame and further suffering; but I shall not shrink from the cost; and you—what will you gain? Are you dead to all sense of shame? Yes, I suppose so. But there is something dear to you that you will lose—the money I give you to squander."

"Curse your money!" she hissed. "I can earn enough for myself. No; I want my revenge, and I'll have it. I want my rights, I want all the world to know what you are."

He inclined his head. "I see," he said, with grim resignation. "Go into the house and tell my man all that you care to tell him. Tomorrow you can make the whole story public," and he pointed to the open door.

She stood and looked at his calm face, still gnawing her lip. "And you, what are you going to do? Do you mean to try and give me the slip?"

"No," he replied; "I will leave you in possession, and go down to the village. You will find me there in the morning."

She did not even pretend to disbelieve him, but she hesitated and pondered, beating her foot on the gravel path with restless fury. "And you've made up your mind? You'd better think it over," she said, threateningly.

He looked at her. "I have thought it over, and my mind has been made up months, years ago," he said. "I always knew that you would not be satisfied until you had brought yourself and me to fur-

The Corn Aches
You apply a little Blue-jay plaster. The aches end instantly, and it never will return. You can prove that in one minute. A million women prove it every month. A corn will never pain again after Blue-jay once goes on it.

Monday

No Corn Pain
On Monday you won't know you have a corn. It is gently disappearing. You know that corn is done for. You know it won't come back. You may also know that soreness will not follow. For Blue-jay is as gentle as efficient.

Tuesday

The Corn is Gone
In 48 hours Blue-jay ends 91 corns in 100. The other 9 per cent are tough corns which need another application. Such has been the history of 70 million corns, since Blue-jay was invented. And any user will assure you that such results are certain. Prove that fact tonight.

How to avoid Operations

These Three Women Tell How They Escaped the Dreadful Ordeal of Surgical Operations.

Hospitals are great and necessary institutions, but they should be the last resort for women who suffer with ills peculiar to their sex. Many letters on file in the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., prove that a great number of women after they have been recommended to submit to an operation have been made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here are three such letters. All sick women should read them.

Marinette, Wis.—"I went to the doctor and he told me I must have an operation for a female trouble, and I hated to have it done as I had been married only a short time. I would have terrible pains and my hands and feet were cold all the time. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was cured, and I feel better in every way. I give you permission to publish my name because I am so thankful that I feel well again."

Mrs. ERNE BEINKE, Marinette, Wis.
Detroit, Mich.—"When I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was so run down with female troubles that I could not do anything, and our doctor said I would have to undergo an operation. I could hardly walk without help so when I read about the Vegetable Compound and what it had done for others I thought I would try it. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and used them according to directions. They helped me and today I am able to do all my work and I am well."

Mrs. THOS. DWYER, 989 Milwaukee Ave., East, Detroit, Mich.
Bellevue, Pa.—"I suffered more than tongue can tell with terrible bearing down pains and inflammation. I tried several doctors and they all told me the same story, that I never could get well without an operation and I just dreaded the thought of that. I also tried a good many other medicines that were recommended to me and none of them helped me until a friend advised me to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. The first bottle helped, I kept taking it and now I don't know what it is to be sick any more and I am picking up in weight. I am 20 years old and weigh 145 pounds. It will be the greatest pleasure to me if I can have the opportunity to recommend it to any other suffering woman."

MISS HELEN FROELICHER, 1923 Manhattan St., North Side, Bellevue, Pa.
If you would like special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

ther shame; that the time would come when you would find me, track me down, and adopt the course you are taking, and I am, therefore, prepared."

"You'd best think it over," she said, huskily. "I don't want to drive you too hard. Look here, I'll give you till to-morrow night; if you come to your senses by that time and decide that—that—the color came and went in her face—"we are to be friends, we needn't stay in England. I don't care where you go." Her voice faltered, and her dark eyes dropped under his calm, steady gaze. "If you'll be sensible, things might be all right between us even now."

He smiled grimly. "Yes, they might. Anyhow, I'll give you till to-morrow night. I'll be here at—she paused a moment—"at six o'clock."

"My answer will still be the same," he said, quietly. "But take the time, and reflect yourself; reflect well and wisely. I am immovable. But you know that."

"You'll sing a different tune to-morrow," she said, threateningly; and she walked toward the gate.

He held the lamp to light her and opened the gate courteously.

"Wait," he said. "Do you want money?"

She glanced at him, then kicked at a stone sulkily.

"I always want money," she retorted.

He put his hand in his pocket and took out a leather pocket-book.

"Take this," he said. "Do not look upon it as a bribe, please."

She snatched it from his hand with an oath, and her black eyes glittered with mingled covetousness and anger.

"I could have every penny you possessed, if I liked," she exclaimed, "and I will if—but wait till to-morrow," and, with a threatening gesture, she swept past him.

CHAPTER XXII.
The morning broke as brightly as even the most superstitious of brides could desire. Annie and Mary knocked softly at Olivia's door as the first bell rang, and Olivia opened the door herself, fully dressed in her plain morning-frock.

"Why, dear," they exclaimed, "up already, and dressed, too! We were afraid we should wake you."

do, dearest! Perhaps you would like to try your dress on again," coaxed-ly.

Olivia shook her head with another forced smile.

"I think not, Mary, dear. I'm afraid we are all rather tired of trying on the wedding garment."

"Oh, no, indeed we're not!" they exclaimed in chorus. "We like it. You can't tell how lovely you look in it, Olivia. I should like all the world to see you," said Annie, with a pensive sigh. "I wish I were a man and Mr. Bradstone."

"I wish you were," said Olivia, absently.

The girls laughed.

"What a strange speech for a bride-elect, Oly. But, oh, I wanted to ask you," said Mary, "is it true that Mr. Faradeane is not coming to the wedding? We only heard it from Aunt Amelia last night. She came into our room to look at our dresses."

Olivia was arranging some flowers which Bessie had brought up in her hand when she came to prepare the bath, and the two girls could not see her face or the swift and sudden quiver of her lips.

"No, he is not coming. He is engaged to-day," she said.

"How vexing!" exclaimed Mary. "I should have particularly liked him to have seen you. It's very disagreeable of him not to have put off his engagement; and it's not like him to be disagreeable, is it, dear?"

"No," said Olivia, in a dry voice. "Perhaps if you asked him—"

Olivia turned upon her with a flash in her lovely eyes, and the look of one tortured beyond endurance.

"How can you suggest such a thing!" she began; then, at the sight of the dismay on their faces, her voice softened and she forced a laugh. "You silly girls, you think everybody must think your goose is a swan, as you do! What does Mr. Faradeane care about weddings? All men hate them, and very sensibly, too."

"Oh, Oly! And he is such a great friend of yours!" said Mary, meekly.

"Is he?" said Olivia, with a laugh that sounded strangely in the girls' ears. "Well, all the more reason that we should spare him the infliction." She drew a long breath and turned to the window. "Let us go downstairs into the garden; it seems hot and stifling this morning," and she pushed the hair from her forehead with an impatient, weary gesture.

They went downstairs, the two girls feeling somehow chilled and perplexed, and found the house, as Mary had said, all alive. His lordship the bishop was in the garden discoursing on roses to the squire, who looked grave and pre-occupied, for he was thinking that in a few hours his choicest rose would be taken from him. Aunt Amelia, in a morning-robe of brilliant hue and Parisian fashion, was hopping about among the flower-beds, bestowing simpers and smiles upon all and sundry; and the stir and bustle of an unusual excitement seemed to pervade the air.

Olivia went up to her father, and kissed him with the tenderness which seemed to have deepened since her sacrifice, and with his arm round her waist, they were leading the way to breakfast, when a footman in the Bradstone livery rode up, and, touching his hat, delivered a box to Olivia.

Mary and Annie uttered an exclamation.

"Oh, do open it! It is only tied with a string."

"Allow me," said the bishop, benignly, and, removing the lid, he disclosed three bouquets.

One, the largest, was composed of rare, white blossoms, and had a gold bracelet round the stem, with "Olivia" inscribed in pearls. There were similar bracelets for the two girls, who fell to exclaiming, rapturously:

"Oh, they are too lovely, aren't they, dear? How kind of Mr. Bradstone! And all alike, too!" and they ran from one to the other to show their treasures.

"Extremely handsome," said the bishop, smiling. "Really, so generous a bridegroom deserves to be happy!"

Olivia said nothing for a moment; then, as if suddenly remembering, said:

Spring Suitings!

Have just opened our new Spring Suitings. We were fortunate in securing a splendid range of English Worsteds and Irish and Scotch Tweeds.

Notwithstanding the scarcity of the woollens and the drawbacks in freights, we are able to show as good a selection as before the war. The latest in cut, the best in make. Write for samples and self-measuring cards.

Incandescent Gas Lighting.

The remarkable economy of the incandescent gas lamp is by no means either its chief—or even an important—claim for popularity. It meets better than any other source of artificial light the requirements of ideal light.

In the color of the light produced it is far superior to any other illuminant in general and universal use. The investigations of acknowledged authorities indicate that for the approximation of artificial daylight the gas mantle has at least one and one-half times the value of the carbon-filament electric lamp.

This quality is highly desirable, indeed absolutely essential where the approximation of daylight color values is important. For lighting shops, displaying haberdashery, suitings, gowns, millinery, etc., the incandescent gas lamp is not even remotely approached by any other incandescent lamp.

Of all the manifold advantages of gas light, perhaps the most important is its favourable effect upon the eyes. The development of the incandescent electric lamp with its intense brilliant and glaring filament has been accompanied by hitherto unheard of prevalences of eye troubles and diseases which are forcing themselves upon the attention of the medical fraternity. This is resulting in a great appreciation of the soft mellow quality of gas light and is rapidly enlarging its field of use.—July 13, 1916.

NEIGHBORHOOD WOES.

My neighbor keeps a lot of bees, which much annoyance bring me, for when I sit beneath the trees, they come along and sting me. Another neighbor keeps a pup, which I'd like to hammer; all night it shakes the walk-in up, with most disgusting clamor; and when I try to do a bit of ground and lofty sleeping, that mangy how-wow throws a fit, its noisy vigils keeping. And still another neighbor owns a husky short-horn rooster, and one may hear its strident tones from Wahoo clear to Wooster. And when the pup, whose music chews, grows weary of its carols, the rooster springs a lot of noise—about a million barrels. Between the rooster and the bees, the concerts dog-and-catty, my mind is bagging at the knees—I fear I'm going batty. The life we live would be less raw, and peace would bless our labors, if Congress would produce a law abolishing all neighbors.

Everyday Etiquette.

"When I give a party for my daughter should I see that the girls have some of the boys see that they arrive home safely?" inquired Mrs. Matron.

"The boys most certainly should see that the girls at the party reach home safely, and the hostess should see to it that each girl is provided with an escort. If one is not, she should exercise her privilege and ask one of the boys to act as escort," answered her society friend.

Plaid or checked silks may be used for children's gumpies, to be worn with dark dresses.

Metal ornaments, wings and narrow ribbon are about all the millinery decoration we shall see this fall.

RUSSIA'S MOVEMENTS.

Since the bear has turned upon his pursuers, driven back and done some hunting on his own account, he has manifested a certain quality of silence and stealth of approach strangely bellying his accepted reputation for ungalumphousness. In fact we are not sure that the bear does not typify the great Empire when it is on the warpath. The almost mysterious powers of resistance of the retreating Russian army, the elements of it, seemed to be wanting; their miraculous return to strength, Brusiloff's lightning stroke at Austria, resembling nothing so much as the spring of a tiger; his clever and unexpected shifting of the attack to the place of least resistance; the hurricane victories of the Grand Duke in Armenia—all these were feats striking in themselves and remarkable for the quietness with which they were prepared. More than one nation has "found" itself in the test of war, and the world has discovered in Ivan quailies it had not before ascribed to him. A good instance of the Russian method of surprise, to which full credit has not been given, was exhibited lately in Armenia after the loss of Erzurum and in the face of a serious situation, the Turks mustered considerable forces and retook Mush, threatening to turn the left wing of the Russian army and paralyse its efforts. Believing themselves secure, they proceeded to fortify their position, when the Grand Duke called up reinforcements from heaven knows where and once more seized the town, undoing by a single stroke and in a single day the work of the Turks for weeks and leaving them in a worse position than before. Now that the Balkan theatre looms so large, Russia's plans are involved in not a little mystery, for it is apparent that she will play the part of protagonist in the drama about to be enacted there, and the world is waiting for an indication of what it will be.

For many days the Russian offensive had been stayed and inactive, before Romania made public the decision of which her great neighbour must have been cognisant for some time. The explanation that is generally given is that Russia is, and had been, massing a considerable army with the object of invading Bulgaria via Dobruja and the Black Sea. That may be true, but probably is—-but it is highly significant that Brusiloff is once more on the move against Lemberg. And not Lemberg alone, for he has scored a quick success at Vladimir Volynski, the southern approach to Kovel. Recently Von Bothmer fell back from Tarnopol to the line of the Zlota Lipa, which has now been the scene of a considerable Russian victory. The all-important Halicz is under heavy fire; if it falls the fate of Lemberg will hang by a thread. The time for the attack is opportune, with Romania keeping Austria more than busy south of the Carpathians.

Meanwhile Roumania's own campaign is interesting, to say the least of it. Her attention is turned for the moment almost wholly to Transylvania. If Russia gets fairly over the Carpathians, which is not likely until Lemberg is taken, we may expect the great Russo-Roumanian army to move obliquely, not so much west as south. Already Roumania is attacking Orsova, the point of junction of Austria, Serbia, Roumania and, we might almost say, Bulgaria. There her object is most certainly Serbia—the creation of the upper millstone which will grind in time against the lower one at Salonika.

This plan of campaign, immensely important and of huge proportions, probably explains her comparative neglect of her eastern border and the success of the Germans and Bulgarians in taking Turtukai. That, however, is a reverse, the importance of which must not be discounted. It seems to have been a brilliant surprise attack quite after the German method. It greatly strengthens the Bulgarian position, but it is doubtful if it will do more than temporarily. Russia's advancing legions should soon force their way past it, outflanking or isolating the invaders. But we have heard nothing definite yet about this army, and it is early to prophesy. The whole strategic situation of Bulgaria in particular, is interesting and peculiar, and will develop rapidly, and Russia may be expected to play the largest part in the development.

Iron Deposit at Portugal Cove

Surveyor M. James and his assistant have been for the past few days revising certain mining claims in the vicinity of Blasthole Ponds, Portugal Cove, St. John's East, where it is said large quantities of rich brown iron ore are to be secured a short distance below the surface. The belt is supposed to run parallel with the coast line for a distance of several miles north of the little village of Bauline. To one rowing down the coast in a small boat, deposits of the ore are plainly visible in the overhanging cliff. Experts say the ore would average between 58 and 60 per cent to the ton whereas Bell Island varies from 50 to 54, but owing to the formation of the surface being of a more difficult nature to bore and excavate, the cost of obtaining the ore would eat up a large percentage of the profits.

Cure Your Bad Cough by Breathing "Ca- tarrhozone."

You may dislike taking medicine—but coughs are best cured without medicine. The modern treatment is "Catarrhozone"—it isn't a drug—it's a healing vapor full of pine essences and healing balsams. It spreads over the surfaces that are weak and sore from coughing. Every spot that is congested is healed—irritation is soothed away, phlegm and secretions are cleaned out, and all symptoms of cold and Catarrh are cured. Nothing so quick, so sure, so pleasant as Catarrhozone. Beware of dangerous substitutes meant to deceive you for genuine Catarrhozone. All dealers sell Catarrhozone, large size which lasts two months price $1.00; small size 50c.; sample size, 25c.

Rounded Up.

Two seamen were arrested under warrant last night charged with desertion. Both of them shipped to go on the schr. Waterwitch a week ago, received advance money, and then took to the woods, evading the authorities in the meantime, and remained there until they became aware that the vessel had put to sea. During their sojourn in the wilderness they partook of berries and vegetables which were all the staples they had for four days, and were evidently none the worse of their "outing" when captured yesterday on Water Street by Constable J. Simmonds. This morning the deserters were arraigned before Judge Morris and, owing to the absence of prosecution, were let go.

Death Due to Heart Failure.

The remains of Mr. George Bursell, who was found dead in his bed yesterday afternoon at the Tremont Hotel, were removed from the morgue last evening to the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. Gladstone Tessier, whence the funeral will take place to-morrow. A post mortem held on the body by Dr. Campbell showed that heart failure was the cause of the man's death. Mr. Bursell was unmarried and is survived by two brothers and one sister.

God Knoweth Best.

The gates of life swing either way
 On noiseless hinges night and day.
 One enters through the open door;
 One leaveth to return no more.
 And which is happier, which more
 Lost.
 God knoweth best.

We greet with smiles the one who comes
 Like sunshine to our hearts and homes
 And reach out longing hands with tear
 To him who in his ripened years
 Goes gladly to his heavenly rest.
 God knoweth best.

He guards the gates. We need not dread
 The path these little feet must tread.
 Not fear for him who from our sight
 Passed through them to the realm of light.
 Both in His loving care we rest.
 God knoweth best.

Jensen's Lecture.

Owing to the number of requests that have been made that Pte. Phil Jensen should again lecture in this city on the Great War, the T. A. Hall has been secured for next Thursday evening, Sept. 14th, when at 8.30 p. m., he will with his usual fluency and vivid portrayal, show us a true picture of what the sons of Newfoundland amongst millions of others are facing at the present time that we may enjoy the absolute safety and comfort we are now experiencing, and in so doing we should realize vividly what that barrier of khaki-clad figures, that stretches across Europe from sea to sea is doing and suffering for us, that we may in the very few ways available, try to repay a little of the great debt we owe them.—adv.

GOES TO THE POOR HOUSE.—An old and worn out fisherman of Carbonear, who in his younger days was a successful fish killer but lost his life's savings some years ago through some unscrupulous investments that he was led into, was forced to seek admission to the Poor Asylum, where he was taken on arrival of the noon train to-day. The poor old man whose age is ten years beyond the allotted span, feels his position keenly. It is said that some of his immediate relatives are well to do, but refused to offer assistance.

Who Are Your Friends?

By RUTH CAMERON.

Portrait of a woman, likely Ruth Cameron.

"No," she said, "I am sorry to say I don't."

"I thought you liked her better than any girl in college."

The People They Play With.

"I did," she said. "And I still like her and admire her, but it's this way: She and her husband don't dance or play bridge, and we do both, and so we have fallen into the habit of playing around with people who do what we do."

How common an experience that is! Our most frequent companions are not the friends of our hearts. They are the people who live near us, the people who have an income sufficient to enable them to do the same sort of things we do, the people who like "to dance and play bridge."

Is it inevitable?

And isn't that natural, you may ask? Oh, yes, it's perfectly natural, and, I suppose, inevitable. The little things of life are so big in the aggregate.

But if we could somehow contrive to make the friends of our hearts into the friends of our daily living, might we not be happier? And if we could seek that end, as determinedly as we seek some minor end, might we not attain it?

Perhaps That's One Trouble With Modern Life.

Isn't that one thing the matter with our modern life? That we "play round with" acquaintances, instead of having friends?

Who knows? After all, perhaps long range friendship, is all most of us are capable of. Perhaps in the heat of close companionship the growths we think are true friendships would wither and die.

Perhaps, after all, we are happy thinking how much we might enjoy this friend or that if only we could

Your Boys and Girls.

Baby is a very important person and the young mother should know these few rules: Babies often contract bronchitis from being kept out when the chill mists are falling after sunset in Autumn and Winter.

The "hamel abdominal" bandage should not be discontinued till all the first teeth are out, and not then if the child suffers frequently from stomach trouble, in which case its use should not be discontinued at all. It should never be left off in cold weather, nor suddenly, but when giving it up should be torn away gradually bit by bit.

When a child loses weight (either baby or older child) it is a sign that something is wrong. The safest thing under such circumstances is to consult a doctor.

Florizel Arrives

Filled With Freight and Passengers—Schedule for Season Closes September 15th.

The Red Cross Liner Florizel, Captain W. Martin, arrived in port from New York and Halifax at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Owing to the delay in the handling of freight at Halifax the ship was late getting away from there. The run from the Nova Scotia port was made in 44 hours. She brought a full freight, including deck load and 100 passengers, including 77 round-trippers. The following passengers got off here:—

Wm. J. Mahoney, Miss Josephine Hynes, W. W. Willis, Miss E. Willis, M. Burke, Cyril Butler, Miss A. French, Miss L. Volsey, Miss E. Friggs, T. Hayward, D. McLeod, J. Mann, Miss Catherine Turpin.

TOURIST TRAFFIC.

The tourist traffic by the Red Cross steamers for this season will far exceed all previous seasons. There are seventy-seven round-trippers on the Florizel now, the lateness of the season notwithstanding, and we hear that the S. S. Stephano, leaving New York to-morrow for this port, is practically filled up with holidayers. The notable increase in the passenger trade by the Red Cross boats is attributable to the fact of the few American people crossing to European countries on account of the war.

SCHEDULE CLOSES.

The Stephano and Florizel will cease running on schedule time, that is making round trips fortnightly in the New York-Halifax-St. John's route on the 15th inst., to-morrow week, when the Florizel will be ready to sail from New York. After that date either steamer will take seven-teen days for the round trip, with an interval of ten days here between the arrivals of the steamers. Of course when the change is brought into effect the freight capacities of the ships is enlarged to enable them to carry more cargo than ordinarily and there-

Makes Hair Grow.

All drug stores sell SALVIA, and it is guaranteed to grow hair or money back.

The time to take care of your hair is when you have hair to take care of. If your hair is getting thin, gradually falling out, it cannot be long before the spot appears.

The greatest remedy to stop the hair from falling is SALVIA, the Great American Hair Grower, first discovered in England. SALVIA furnishes nourishment to the hair roots and acts so quickly that people are amazed.

And remember it destroys the Dandruff germ, the little pest that saps the life that should go to the hair from the roots.

SALVIA is sold by first-class druggists under a positive guarantee to cure Dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in ten days, or money back. A large bottle costs 50c. The word "SALVIA" on every bottle.

The Citizens' Committee

The Citizens' Committee met in the Board of Trade Rooms last night to discuss the new Municipal Bill. The Secretary of the Committee read a report submitted from the Secretary-Treasurer of the City Council showing the number of houses sewered and unsewered.

Twenty-six sections of the Bill were read, several being deferred. It was agreed that the section dealing with the purchase by tenants of land held under lease be accepted with the following amendments:— (1) that instead of 20 year purchase the number be the quotient of 100 divided by the current rate of interest; (2) that the powers of the Conciliation Board apply to new leases as well as to those already in force.

The proposal to make the person getting in water pay the whole cost and repairs of the branch service pipe, was voted down, but it was agreed the applicant for water should pay the cost beyond the street line. Should the branch or service pipe be more than 60 feet long the party in question should only pay for the surplus over 60 feet.

Section 120, a very important part of the Bill, dealing with turning off the water in the houses of persons six months in arrears to the Council for water rates will come up for discussion at the next meeting which is called for Sept. 18th.

Household Notes.

An appetizer of some sort is indispensable for luncheon or dinner in hot weather, and it may be a vegetable cocktail, a fruit soup or fruit cocktail.

Fruits can almost always be canned satisfactorily by cooking in the open kettle, but vegetables keep much better if put into jars first, then sealed and sterilized.

It is possible to make an excellent bread with breadcrumbs and graham flour. The crumbs, of course, should be dried thoroughly and ground in the food chopper.

Iron bedsteads can be very successfully cleaned by using a damp cloth and a little cooking soda. Soda is also very good to remove stains from the sink.

HAND-TO-HAND FIGHTING—ENEMY DRIVEN BACK.

LONDON, Sept. 7. (Official.) Under cover of darkness the enemy made a counter attack against our position in the Leuze Woods. After hours of hand fighting the enemy was driven back leaving two officers and 17 men prisoners in our hands. Fighting at Ghinchy continues. There has been considerable artillery activity on both sides during the night and this morning, the enemy using gas and incendiary shells. East of Neuville St. Vaast the enemy exploded mines yesterday evening. We carried out a very effective bombardment of the enemy's trenches west of Lens.

BRITISH OFFICIAL—SITUATION UNCHANGED.

LONDON, Sept. 7. A British official issued at midnight says that the general situation is unchanged. Our artillery disposed of enemy working parties east and southeast of Ghinchy. Between the Somme and Ancre the enemy's artillery was active during the day shelling the rear of our lines. Our artillery replied effectively and, assisted by aerial observations, successfully dealt with enemy batteries between Souchez and LaBassee Canal. Our artillery trench mortars bombarded the enemy's lines continuously northwest of Hillobeke. We effectively shelled the bridge-head on the Ypres Canal. Yesterday our machines bombed an important railway junction on the enemy's lines, causing great damage to the station and rolling stock. One of the enemy's aeroplanes was bombed, and one machine destroyed on the ground, another was damaged. Many other points of military importance were bombed. Some good work was done from low altitude location positions reached by our troops. Three hostile machines were wrecked and four others driven down in a damaged condition. Two of our machines are missing.

The powerful effort made by German troops to dislodge the French from the hospital farm on the Somme front was without success and the Germans were dispersed with heavy losses.

American Colonel Gives Free Advice To Rheumatics.

SAYS IT'S SHEER FOLLY FOR ANYONE TO SUFFER THESE DAYS.

Rheumatism can't be cured so long as your system is weak and run down. You must first build up and get strength to fight off the disease.

Ferrozone cures because it builds up, because it renews the blood and dissolves the Uric Acid and the poison that cause rheumatism.

It is proved right here that Ferrozone does cure.

Col. H. M. Russ, of Edwards, St. Lawrence Co., one of the fine old heroes of the Civil War, was completely restored by Ferrozone. Read his statement:

"I couldn't get around without a cane, and then only with difficulty."

"Rheumatism took complete control of my limbs."

"Suffering was more intense than hardships on the battlefield."

"When my doctor had done his best I got Ferrozone."

"Then came a quick change."

"Ferrozone gave me comfort at once, eased the pain and took the stiffness out of my muscles."

"I am well to-day. Ferrozone cured me completely. I can jump and run like I did forty years ago."

Be sensible about your case. If your present medicine is useless give it up.

Don't experiment again. Ferrozone is known on all sides to be a cure that does cure. Why not get a supply to-day. The sooner you begin Ferrozone the quicker you'll get well. Price 50c. per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from The Catarhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Used by the British Government as follows: Salonika—On the Struma front several raids were made by our patrols on enemy trenches and some prisoners were captured. The Royal Navy successfully shelled a battalion of enemy infantry, concentrated opposite Neocharie. In Eastern Greek Macedonia near Ormani, on the Doiran front, there was considerable artillery activity. Hostile guns, which were shelling Viadjeva, were silenced. We shot down an enemy aeroplane, which fell in flames into Lake Doiran.

RUSSIANS CROSS THE DVINA.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 7. On the northern part of the front, Russian troops crossed the Dvina in small forces and captured part of the German position.

TURKS REPULSED.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 7. The offensive movement undertaken by the Turks along the Euphrates, west of Erzerum in Turkish Armenia, is said by the War Office to-day to have been repulsed. In the region of Ormani, where stubborn fighting has been underway for some time, the Russians are driving the Turks from their strong mountain defences.

A BERLIN REPORT.

BERLIN, Sept. 7. More than 20,000 Roumanians were taken prisoners when the Bulgarian and German troops captured the Roumanian fortress of Turluaki, says an official statement issued to-day by the German army headquarters. The statement adds that more than 100 guns were taken. Turluaki, which has been evacuated by the Roumanian troops in the face of German-Bulgarian attacks, is one of a series of fortresses defending the Roumanian capital from the south. It is situated on the southern bank of the River Danube opposite Otanitsa, from which town a railroad runs to Bucharest. The German army headquarters staff announced on Wednesday that German-Bulgarian troops had stormed seven Turluaki works, including armoured battery positions.

AEROPLANE FACTORY DESTROYED.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. The Journal prints the following cable from London: The destruction of the large aeroplane factory at Adlerhof, near Berlin, is reported. Despatches received to-day from Copenhagen say that an explosion wrecked the structure, which then burned. Ten military aeroplanes were destroyed. No one was killed.

HEAVY LOSSES ON BOTH SIDES.

BUCHAREST, Sept. 7. The German-Bulgarian forces having received numerous reinforcements, continue to attack with great violence the Roumanian fortress of Turluaki, the garrison of the fortress ceaselessly counter attacking. The Roumanian statement adds that the loss on each side is very serious.

BRITISH AIR RAID.

LONDON, Sept. 7. A raid by British aeroplanes on the Turkish position at El Arish in the Sinai Peninsula, 90 miles east of the Suez, is reported.

WASHINGTON AND THE REVENUE BILL.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. Secretary Lansing said to-day that no protest had been made by any foreign government against the trade reprisal provisions in the revenue bill, although the legislation had been discussed informally with the British Ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice. The Ambassador conferred again to-day with Mr. Lansing. The American Embassy at London cabled to-day that the British Foreign Office will give special consideration to difficult cases where large amounts of tonnage are not involved. Negotiations with the department to secure the elimination of certain Americans from the Black List, are officially described here as not related to or a result of retaliatory legislation. They relate to individual negotiations.

TRADES UNION CONGRESS.

BIRMINGHAM, Sept. 7. Delegates from Canada and the United States this morning addressed the forty-eight Trades' Union Congress, representing nearly 2,000,000 working men now in session at Birmingham. Wm. D. Mahon, delegate to Congress from the American Federation of Labor, presented the standpoint of the States regarding a proposed Labor Peace Congress at the conclusion of the war. He said the States' Labor leaders asked only for the call to be sent out to the workers of the nations. They did not say they would not participate unless both Germans and the Allies were present. Delegate Simpson, Canadian, declared that Canada accepted the proposition and regretted the attitude of rejection of the workers of the mother country. The Congress gave an enthusiastic reception to the declaration that the workers of the States generally sympathized with the cause of the Entente Allies because they thought it represented right and liberty. At the business session the first resolution adopted was a protest against compulsory service. Then another resolution was adopted demanding that the clergy should not be exempted from military service.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

LONDON, Sept. 7. Figures given out by the British Board of Trade for the month of August show that imports during the month increased by 6,716,000 pounds while exports increased by 15,281,000 pounds.

AT THE CRESCENT.

A big variety programme of five pictures including a two reel Biograph is shown at the Crescent Picture Palace to-day. "His White Lie," a two reel emotional mystery drama with Gretchen Hartmann, Claire McDowell and Chas. H. Malles. "Dreamy Dud Lost at Sea," an Essanay Cartoon laugh. "The Miser's Heart," a Biograph made-drama with Wilfred Lucas and Robert Harron. "Aconita Indians, Pueblo, Mexico," a scenic and instructive picture. "Apple Butter," a Selig Bloom Center Comedy. Mr. Sam Rose, baritone, sings "Ireland Must be Heaven, My Mother Came From There," a new Irish ballad. Professor McCarthy presides at the piano and plays a new and classy musical programme. This is a great week-end show, take it in.

Hot Weather Philosophy.

In this hot weather it will make us feel a little more comfortable to think of cool things, like snow and ice. So, first let us remember that there is a wet season ahead, and after that the snows and frosts season. We shall have to be out in all kinds of weather, and the only way to enjoy life under all the different conditions is to be comfortably clad. For instance, if your feet are encased in nice, stylish, well-fitting Bear Brand Rubber Shoes, the state of the streets will not worry you in the slightest degree. Of course, nobody is buying rubber shoes just yet, but the time will soon come, and then, isn't it better to buy one good, well-fitting pair that will last you the greater part of the winter, rather than half-dozen pairs of shoddy shoes, that you will always find broken on the mornings that the slush is inches high?

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.
Bronze articles should be immersed in boiling water, then rubbed with a piece of flannel dipped in yellow soapsuds, then dried with a soft cloth and chamol.

It saves time in packing school lunches to do them always in the same place, with the lunch boxes, paraffin paper, sharp knife and paper napkins all close at hand.

When the vinegar cruet has become clouded, clean it by putting a teaspoonful of lye in it; let this remain for a few days, then wash out. It will be perfectly clean.

Fruit soups are made of sifted, stewed fruit thickened like cream soups with cornstarch, tapioca or arrow root and flavored to taste. They should be chilled before serving.

When colored clothing is stained with mud, let it dry and brush out all you can. Then apply a mixture of salt and flour; let it remain on, in a dry place for a day or two, then brush off.

Brown flour to thicken brown gravies can be made by putting a pint of flour in a Dutch oven with some coals under, and keep stirring constantly until it is dark brown, but not burnt.

The French have a great preference for plain salads of romaine, endive or chicory, as well as lettuce. Water-cress is another good relish. Cold beans, peas, fish or asparagus may each be served on lettuce leaves with a simple dressing.

Sometimes the strap which connects to the wheels of the sewing machine becomes stretched too long. To tighten it, slip it out of its groove and take off the piece of metal connecting the two ends by the aid of pliers, then cut off a trifle of the end of the strap and fasten together again.

ROYALTY UNDER WATER.

AMSTERDAM, To-day. Queen Wilhelmina of Holland enjoyed the experience of a plunge under water in a submarine. The Queen was present at the naval manoeuvres yesterday, according to the Nieuw Van Den Haag, aboard a submarine, which dived twice while Her Majesty was a passenger.

LONDON REVIEW.

LONDON, To-day. The infantry of the belligerents in the Somme region in France was inactive on Thursday except south of the river, where the French east of Denicourt captured elements of trenches from the Germans and brought forward their front more in alignment with the newly acquired trenches from the Germans and Berny-en-Santerre. To-day, however, saw a continuation of the violent bombardments which always precede attempts at fresh advances by the Entente Allies. In addition great aerial activity was shown by the French and British, aerial squadrons bombing points of vantage behind the German lines south of the Somme. So violent was the French artillery fire that under it the Germans were unable to make their customary counter attacks. According to Paris, the Germans are heavily shelling the French in the old first line of German trenches a mile in length between the Yaux Chapitre region and the town of Cheneux in the Verdun sector, which were taken by the French on Wednesday night. In Galicia the Russians are still actively in quest of Lemberg, keeping up their pressure against the Austro-Germans westward from the regions of Brzezany and Halicz. Near Brzezany the Russians have driven back the Teutons from fortified positions and advanced to the Naracusk river, a tributary of the Zlota Lipa, and at some points have crossed the stream. Near Halicz the railway line has been cut by the Russians, who are now heavily bombarding Halicz, which, although in flames, the forces of the Central Powers are still stubbornly defending. In Wednesday's fighting in the Halicz sector 5,645 officers and men of the Teutonic Allies were made prisoners. Both Berlin and Vienna admit retreats between the Zlota Lipa and the Dniester River, while Vienna concedes the retreat of Austrian forces before the Roumanians near Olah-To-Pilica. In eastern Transylvania 20 miles from the Roumanian border the retreat was made in the face of a threatened enveloping movement to the southeast. In the capture of the Turukal fortress the Germans and Bulgarians took more than 100 guns, according to Berlin. Bucharest says the fighting in this vicinity is great in violence and that the losses to both sides have been heavy. The Russians in Turkish Armenia near Ognott continue to drive the Turks from their strong mountain defences, according to Petrograd, and also have put down a Turkish offensive west of Erzincan. On the Macedonian front and in the Austro-Italian theatre fighting is still being done mainly by means of artillery.

EFFECTIVE FRENCH ARTILLERY.

PARIS, To-day. French artillery fire south of the Somme prevented the Germans from making counter attacks, according to an official issued by the war office at midnight. Some additional progress for the French troops also is recorded.

AUSTRIAN RETREAT.

VIENNA, To-day. Austrian troops have withdrawn before the threatening Roumanian envelopment of the heights west of Lepitz south of Dorna Watra, 20 miles west of the Roumanian border, says an official issued by the Austro-Hungarian General headquarters to-day.

SENSE FROM VON BETHMAN HOLLWEG.

LONDON, To-day. According to definite information reaching Bern from Germany, says a despatch to the wireless press, Dr. Von Bethman Hollweg, German Imperial Chancellor, upon being questioned at the August meeting of the Federal Council as to why he yielded to the demands of the States regarding the unrestricted torpedoing of ships on the high seas, replied that the value of the submarine was exaggerated by the adherents of wholesale torpedoing. He said insistence on an unrestricted submarine warfare would cause war between Germany and the States, and that the results of unlimited torpedoing would not justify such a policy. Elaborating this point, the Chancellor was quoted as saying that Germany could not effectually blockade England nor cut off England's food supplies.

SURRENDER OF TURKUKAL.

LONDON, To-day. In explanation of the capture of the Roumanian garrison at Turukal, a Sofia despatch received here by way of Copenhagen says the Roumanians were prevented from retiring across the Danube by the violent artillery fire of the attacking forces. It became a case of annihilation or surrender, and the garrison surrendered.

NEW YORK, To-day.

The subway elevated transportation lines on Manhattan Island are being operated to-day, although the officials admitted that the service of the surface lines of the New York railway company were seriously affected by the traction strike. The official Associated Associated Street Electric Railway employees who are conducting the strike conceded that the schedules of the subway and elevated lines were not seriously hampered, but reiterated that efforts will be made to induce the strike breakers and employees who have remained loyal to the Company to quit their posts.

ROUMANIANS TAKE ORSOVA.

LONDON, To-day. Roumanian troops occupied Orsova, an important Hungarian town in the Danube, according to a despatch to the Times from Bucharest to-day. An unofficial dispatch from Vienna on Wednesday announced that Orsova had been taken by Roumanians. Orsova is one of the principal ports on the Lower Danube, and has considerable commercial importance.

HINDENBURG MAY RETIRE HIS LINES.

LONDON, To-day. According to a Berne dispatch to the Morning Post Col. Madous, military writer of the Meuseur Neuar Dachrichtau, in an article indicates that Marshal Von Hindenburg, the new German chief of staff, will shortly retire the length of his front. The writer is convinced, he says, that the public will realize that "our new strategical" will be acting for the best, and he asked it to bear in mind that a clever move backward on one front may lead to victory on the other.

BRITISH AREOPLANE LOST.

LONDON, To-day. A British aeroplane was lost in a raid yesterday over St. Denis in Belgium, 30 miles southeast of Brussels. Yesterday afternoon naval areoplanes attacked an enemy aerodrome at St. Denis, says an unofficial statement issued here to-day. A large number of bombs were dropped with good effect, one of our machines failed to return. During the same afternoon a naval aeroplane successfully attacked and brought down in flames a hostile kite balloon near Ostend. The attack was carried out under anti-aircraft fire of the heaviest description but the pilot returned safely.

BUCHAREST IS WISE IN TIME.

BUCHAREST, To-day. The Roumanian Government is insisting German, Austrian and Turkish subjects in hotels and houses in centres where they would be placed in jeopardy by bombs dropped from areoplanes. This action is taken to prevent air raids.

GERMAN LINES GROWING THIN.

LONDON, To-day. News has reached here from Paris that Emperor William is visiting in person the terrible struggle on the Somme. He has seen the French advance to within two-thirds of a mile of Comblès and the German communication imperilled by General Michols drive, which resulted in the capture of two and half miles of railroad from Roye to Peronne. Heartened by the Emperor's presence fresh German troops have thrown their weight into the struggle in tremendous counter blows, which however have failed to wipe out the gains of the last ground. According to French official reports, this battle, the Kaiser is reported to have said, "is vitally important. You must spare no effort to hold on the enemy and die at your post rather than retreat. At the same time, the Emperor promised to send strong reinforcements to General Von Buelow, who has replaced General Von Gallwitz. The latter's headquarters were further north to command the army facing Arras. Von Buelow led the left wing of Von Hindenburg's Russian army in one of the new chief of staff first appointed in fulfillment of the Kaiser's orders. Fresh troops have been concentrated in a large force for the defence of Comblès, where the battle is raging at the highest pitch of fury. Other reinforcements south of the Somme, with the object of disengaging Chaules. General Von Heinzen, who still commands the Germans from the Aisne to the Champagne, had to supply these fresh divisions. General Joffre has thus achieved the enormously important result of offering the Germans to weaken their lines at various points on western front in order to meet the great Somme and Verdun drives, and since this is one of the cardinal aims of the whole Allied strategy the battle may be expected to flame up this month on the thinly massed section of the German lines. That is why from his headquarters at St. Quentin Von Buelow is employing all available reserves in the defence of Chaules.

A WARNING.

LONDON, To-day. The Times published a special article from a correspondent, described as a competent English observer with no prepossessions, on the present non-belligerent attitude of the Germans, also made an effort to regain the ground won by the French yesterday on the Verdun front between Yaux Chapitre and the southwest, west and east it has spread rapidly. Sinn Fein colors are worn; Sinn Fein flags are unfurled when opportunity occurs; Sinn Fein literature is published, and bought in quantities; Sinn Fein songs are written and sung; and portraits of rebels exhibited in every shop window, eliciting tributes from passers by. He would be blind indeed who sojourning an hour or two in most of the towns of the southwest or east of Ireland without being amazed at the profound feelings which have been stirred by the Dublin executions. Their feelings may be unparadise from any equitable point of view, but that they must exist to the verge of a dangerous passion is a fact which it would be folly to ignore.

REPORTED BULGARIAN MUTINY.

NEW YORK, To-day. The Twelfth and Thirteenth Regiments, it is added, were overwhelmed by the Serbians near Ostrovo.

VIOLENT FIGHTING IN MACEDONIA.

PARIS, To-day. Violent artillery fighting is underway on the front in Greek Macedonia, the War Office announced to-day. The principal engagements are in progress on the Struma front in the region of Mount Beles and in the vicinity of Lake Doiran.

GERMAN ATTACKS REPULSED.

PARIS, To-day. The German attacks were made in strong force on the front between Bern and Chaules, south of the Somme. Fighting was especially heavy between Vermandovillers and Chaules. The Germans preceded their infantry assaults with intense bombardments. The Germans also made an effort to regain the ground won by the French yesterday on the Verdun front between Yaux Chapitre and the southwest, west and east it has spread rapidly. Sinn Fein colors are worn; Sinn Fein flags are unfurled when opportunity occurs; Sinn Fein literature is published, and bought in quantities; Sinn Fein songs are written and sung; and portraits of rebels exhibited in every shop window, eliciting tributes from passers by. Freak Catch Made By Woman Angler

Big Codfish Swallows Hooked Salmon and Both are Haul'd In.

The best fish story of the season, corroborated as an actual fact by Mr. F. R. Burns, who witnessed the catch, occurred at Savary Island a few days ago, when Mrs. Spillbury landed a 41 pound ling cod and a 14 pound salmon, both on the same trolling hook. Photographs of the unusual piscatorial feat were taken by Miss Burpee, a Vancouver school teacher. According to Mr. Burns, the two ladies were trolling from a row boat, when Mrs. Spillbury hooked a 14 pound salmon. While she was hauling it in, the codfish happened along and swallowed the hook which protruded through the gullet of the smaller fish. Mrs. Spillbury had no trouble in hauling the salmon halfway to the boat, but when the codfish tackled the smaller victim there was such a tugging at the end of the line that Mrs. Spillbury had to call for assistance. Mr. Burns was fishing nearby and witnessed the entire incident, he says.
