The wheat crop of our great Canadian Northwest is an immense one, but the speculators in the Chicago wheat pits are not buying so recklessly as last year, consequently the prices will not reach the same level. The quotations are now fairly twenty-five per cent. lower than at this time last year, and though the market is active the increase will be slight. Dollar wheat will likely go into the farmer's history in connection with the good times of '97, when young Lester kept the price up at the expense of his millions. The crop in Ontario and Europe is quite as short as last season, and Canada will be drawn on largely to supply the deficiency, but the American surplus will be more than sufficient to supply European needs, and no marked advance in prices will likely result from the demands of this market.

The case of the universal peace proposal has proved an attractive one to many of the European governments, and they will send delegates to St. Petersburg in November to test the practicability of the scheme. The past conduct has been such that little confidence is placed in her sincerity, throughout Anglo-Saxondom generally. However, if the conference assembly, who shall say that a better international understanding may not be arrived at.

Queen Victoria has returned to his rank in the British army, Col. Frank Rhodes, brother of Cecil Rhodes, who was dismissed from the services for the participation in the armed raid into the Transvaal led by Dr. Jameson in December, 1895. Col. Rhodes was wounded at the battle of Omdurman while acting as correspondent of the London Times.

A bill will be submitted to the German Reichstag this year providing for the imprisonment of labor of anyone seeking to prevent workmen who are willing to work from pursuing their vocation, and also providing for the punishment of those who even incite them to strike.

The Cape Colony elections are now over, and the result is a small majority for the Afrikaner Bond party, of two or three. The Progressives have contested five elections, however, and should they gain the seats the balance of power will be in their favor.

The promoters of the movement for bringing about the annexation of Jamaica to the United States, having failed to secure popular support because of the other proposals, are now agitating for admission to the Canadian Dominion.

The United States commissioner of internal revenue has resolved a former ruling that stamp duty should not be levied on Canada and used upon vessels sailing from United States ports need not pay the revenue tax.

Leisure.

Maury, McKay and Hyde are kept very busy these days with their thrashing machine, from early morn till late at night. They have just received a consignment of corn and will now turn their attention to making that into meal. Their thrashing process has been away to Toronto for cleaning and the country can look out for superior corn meal now.

Labor day was duly observed by the closing of the schools and places of business, and the people assembled en masse in a large picnic on the grounds of Mr. John Hanson. There were about one hundred and fifty get together, and in real old fashioned picnic style went in for a good time. Various games were instituted, and the children, those who were fond of the light fantastic could enjoy themselves to their heart's content on a large platform erected with an awning of boughs. Mr. Seth Giesler, of Grandville, was on hand with his violin, and in his own usual happy style discoursed sweet music to the joyous crowd. About 8 o'clock in the evening the crowd repaired to their respective homes, satisfied that they had done honor to the holiday.

Mr. Harry Harsh returned to Acadia, Tuesday, much recruited by his holiday rest. Harry did the work last year. In a class of eighty he stood third, and he has no doubt he will do equally as well if not better this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Haddock, who started taking orders for a patent map frame, invented by Mr. Oliver Goldsmith, took over two hundred orders after being out only a week. We wish them every success in their business, and hope they will be able to do a large business.

Mr. Stephen Haddock, who has been under the doctor's hands, is now around again. Mr. Valentine Matthews, who has had considerable anxiety about a swelling upon his neck, had it lanced last week by Dr. Anderson, and the doctor says that nothing but glandular trouble and nothing serious will come from it.

Mr. W. P. Baker and family left for their home in Arlington, Mass., last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Baker, of Lowell, Mass., are present visiting his many relatives and friends in this place.

The Agricultural Outlook in Nova Scotia.

By J. E. Hopkins, Dairy and Cattle, N.S. In this age of automation, especially in agriculture, it might be of interest to the farmers of Nova Scotia to know what the outlook is for the future. The outlook is not so bright as it once was, but it is not so dark as it is now. The outlook is not so bright as it once was, but it is not so dark as it is now.

Why He Didn't Bid Up. THE FLIGHT OF A MAN WHO WAS A WEEK...

As the contest waxed violently energetic, Burns reached for his pocketbook. His fingers ran down and down into the pocket...

This gentleman informs me that he has had a pocketbook containing the sum of $200. He offers a reward of $10 for its return.

"I'll give twenty," he said in a voice in the corner.

"Thirty," cried another.

"Fifty," he said in a determined tone from the red-whiskered man.

"That was beyond what I could afford," says Burns, "and so I came away and left them bidding on it."

The Heat Cure. Medical journals occasionally take up the subject of treatment by means of heat.

Dr. Lyman Abbott on Books. Almost all families have books; few families have a library.

People who are the victims of sensitive teeth that tremble and acquire cavities readily may do much toward checking this dental decay by the use of a simple remedy.

Clear Ice May be Dangerous. One of the hardest things to convince most people of is that which looks to be clear, tinged the may contain germs.

Agricultural.

How to Use Waste Bones. The bones of fish and fowl, and the large and small pieces of bones which are brought with butchering and mutton, constitute the very best food for fruit trees and grapevines.

Dr. James Law reports an interesting case of poisoning by lead, which is recently being used in the form of a paint for the treatment of nervous disorder, in a herd from Ontario. The animal, a cow, was fed with a mixture of lead and other ingredients.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure you.

Never wash the dairy utensils at the well, for such a practice is sure to pollute the water.

Do not let the cows drink too much milk during late autumn, for it will take the winter to get them back to a full flow.

In some cases buttermilk is held in filthy vessels in the creamery, and in these still worse at the farm. When this product undergoes a putrefactive fermentation, it should not be used even for pig feeding.

Many factorymen wonder why their cheese is better than is that made in the home. The reason is that the milk is practically the same at both places.

Mr. E. H. Wood tells, in the Jersey Bulletin, what she would do to make poor butter. What she would do is to give it place in her creamery. The lady says: "I am not aware that I ever made any poor butter, and for nearly a score of years, butter from my hands has brought high prices."

Choosing a Location. The master a poultry man can get his adopted market, where he disposes of his fresh eggs, poultry, etc., the better, for obvious reasons.

Experience recently made have shown that eggs are rendered highly unsalable by being kept in bins, owing to the strong taste of salt imparted to them.

People engaged in farm work devote themselves very often by thinking that there is no need of regarding sanitary conditions so long as they have the pure air and fresh breezes of the country, and frequently people are found living in the midst of the most insubstantial conditions and with wretchedly filthy surroundings.

Scratches, high winds, salt rains, dry spells and other diseases due to impure blood are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Slow Piano Practice.

This is a title subject, but one that needs the most persistent attention. The object of all practice is to establish that reflex action of the muscles known as musical automation. This is best secured by practicing a difficult passage a great many times at so slow a tempo that there is time for deliberate thought in advance of the muscular action.
