COATS V. MERRICK THREAD COMPANY .- Irre spective of the technical questions of trademark, defendants have no right to dress their goods up in such a manner as to deceive an intending purchaser and induce him to believe he is buying those of the plaintiffs', finds the Supreme Court of the United States. Rival manufacturers may lawfully compete for the patronage of the public, but they have no right by imitative devices to beguile the public into buying wares under the impression they are buying those of their rival. Where other n anufacturers had by long practice and with the acquiescence of the plaintiffs acquired the right to make use of the black and gold label on spool thread, defendants by using such label with proper distinctive marks are not guilty of infringing plaintiff's rights. Neither the words "Best Six Cord" nor "200 yds." are capable of exclusive appropriation, as they are descriptive and indicative only of quality and length of the thread. Plaintiff's right to the use of the embossed periphery expired with their patent obtained therefor, and the public thereafter had the same right to make use of it as if it had never been patented, Numerals used for the purpose of imparting information are not susceptible of exclusive appropriation as a trade-mark, but are the common property of all mankind. Manufacturers of thread who submitted to the imitation of their spool thread without protest for twelve years, have waived their right to relief. Where manufacturers of thread had a right to make use of the embossed numeral in the periphery, their union of the two devices upon the same spool head, both being originally designed to be used in conjunction, cannot be made the basis of a suit.

In Re EDDYSTONE MARINE INSURANCE COM-PANY.—The above-named company was established in 1887 as a marine insurance company. and for some time all the shares were in the hands of a few members; but in 1888 it was determined to increase the capital of the company and to invite the public to take shares. At the same time it was proposed to issue a certain number of paid-up shares, to be distributed between the original directors and shareholders, sixteen in all, as a bonus for having developed the business. Resolutions were accordingly passed and confirmed at general meetings of the company giving effect to this arrangement. Before, however, these resolutions were confirmed, the directors, acting under the advice of their broker, executed and registered, in accordance with the Companies Act, an agreement in which it was stated that the company had agreed to issue 300 fully paid-up shares to the shareholders in consideration of the services rendered, and expenses incurred by them in the formation of the company, and the establishment of its business. After the registration of this agreement, the shares were issued; but the company did not prove successful, and was ordered to be wound up, and the liquidator placed all the original shareholders on the list of contributories in respect of these shares. Lindley, L. J., said that he agreed that everything had been done honestly and bona fide; but he did not think that what was done could be sup ported under the provisions of the Acts of Parliament. It was clear, on the evidence, that there was nothing in the nature of payment for the shares which were issued as fully paid-up, the reference in the contract to the services of the allottees being merely illusory. The shares were simply a present to the shareholders. This was contrary to the Acts regulating companies. Under the Companies Act. a shareholder was bound to contribute to the debts of the company in proportion to his shares; but his liability was confined to the amount remaining unpaid on his shares. The appellants had paid nothing, and were therefore liable for the whole nominal amount of the shares allotted to them.

BENTICK V. LONDON JOINT STOCK BANK .-Stock brokers were employed by a client to make for him from time to time on the London Stock Exchange speculative purchases and sales of stock shares and bonds. The brokers furnished him with money to enable him to pay for the purchases, and he authorized them to hold the purchased stocks, shares and bonds as security for their advances and also to repledge them. The brokers had a loan account with their bankers, with whom they deposited stock shares and bonds belonging to various clients en bloc, as security for the bankers' advances. The bank allowed the brokers to withdraw the deposited securities from time to time, as they required them, upon their depositing others of equal value. Ultimately the brokers became defaulters on the stock exchange and were adjudicated bankrupts. At the date of the default there were in the hands of the bank various stocks and shares and also some bonds payable to bearer, which the brokers had purchased for the client. The stocks and shares were transferable by deed in the ordinary way, and they had all been transferred to, and were registered in, the names of trustees for the bank. Some of the transfers were made by the client himself, some by the brokers, and some by third parties. Those which were made by the client were expressed to be for a nominal consideration; the others were expressed to be for full value. The bonds passed by delivery on the stock exchange, and were always there treated as negotiable. The client claimed to be entitled to redeem the securities on paying to the bank the amount which was due from himself to the brokers; the bank claimed to hold the securities until payment of a larger amount which was due them from the brokers. The client asserted that the authority which he had given to the brokers to repledge his securities authorized them to do so only for an amount not exceeding what was due from himself to them. There was evidence that the majority of transactions on the stock exchange when the purchaser of securities does not pay for them at once, is carried on upon a system known as "Contango," or "Continuation," under which the person who provides the purchase money becomes the owner of the purchased stock or shares, he entering into a contemporaneous contract with the purchaser to sell him at a future day (generally the next account day" on the stock exchange) an equal amount of similar stock or shares at the original price increased by a charge called the "contango." North, J., held upon the evidence especially having regard to that relating to the "contango" system, that there was nothing to lead the bank to suppose that the stocks and shares which were transferred to their trustees were not the brokers' own property; and that the bank must therefore be treated as bona fide holders for value without notice and their legal title could not be impeached, and that consequently the client could not redeem without paying the amount which was due from the brokers to the bank; and also that as to the stocks and shares of which the client had himself executed translers, he was estopped from denying that the brokers had authority to pledge them to the bank for their full value. This follows the decision of the Privy Council in London and Ontario Loan Co v. Duggan.

ME. GEO. A. STIMSON, investment broker, Toronto, has purchased \$10,000 village of Merritton High School Debentures, and \$7,000 town of Newmarket bonds. We understand he purchased these bonds to yield in the neighborhood of  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. This is considered a very good price, considering the present stringency in the money market.

THE Brantford Courier says : It is stated en good authority that the Waterous Engine Works Co. will not accept a $15,000 hopus from the city. They do not like the idea of a free gift of this sort. The conditions for building a larger factory and employing more hands will depend upon the city buying the present works, which are valued at $50,000.

MR. ARCH. CAMPBELL has more than completed his contract with the municipality of Toronto Junction, and has thus placed its regidents under an obligation to him. His agreement called for a 300-barrel flouring mill, and he has erected one capable of producing double that quantity of flour per day. The building for the mill is 50 by 75 feet, five stories high, and is placed at the junction of the two railways, a situation which affords the best shipping facilities. An elevator with a capacity of 120,000 bushels has been erected. This, too, is double the size and capacity of the one the agreement called for. Its dimensions are 40 by 60 feet, and about 100 feet high. It is scarcely necessary to add that Mr. Campbell's mill is fully equipped in every department with only the most approved modern machinery, and is capable of competing with any mill on this continent. Unfortunately there is but little encouragement for millers this season, owing to the condition of the grain market.

Some changes will be made in the staff of the Napanee Paper Mfg. Co.; the expenses will be reduced to a minimum sum, and they will not liquidate as stated. On the contrary, arrangements are being made that will enable the company to continue business as formerly, notwithstanding the keen competition that exists.

THE firm of Dupuis & Co., general merchants, at St. Roch des Aulnais, Que., have required recently to have a meeting of their creditors in Quebec, at which a proposition was made that 50 cents on the dollar should be accepted. The business is a very old one, in which Mr. D. made money in former days. He retired a short time ago in favor of a nephew named  ${f E}$ Fafard, who apparently was waylaid and robbed at Levis several weeks ago, and whose case was much discussed in the Quebec newspapers under the heading of the "Levis Mystery." August returns show a decline in Canada's total foreign trade. The exports show an increase of $234,000 over last year. There is an increase of nearly $400,000 in fish and a decline in lumber, live stock and agricultural products. The imports, however, fell off by $2,317,000 compared with last year, and it is just as well they did.

J. H. PATRY, a Quebec hardware merchant, is offering his creditors 50 cents on the dollar, liabilities being about $12,000. He is reported to have made an arrangement with his creditors some ten or a dozen years ago. Latterly he had received, it appears, more or less patronage from the Mercier Government, and the withdrawal of this is thought to have affected his business considerably.

TORONTO.

In Vancouver, B.C., the new office of the Bank of Montreal is occupied. A local journal says it is among the prettiest and best appointed in the whole of Canada. The wood finishings are all of carved oak, while the metal work is dark bronze. "In brief, it is a perfect banking house, worthy the great institution to which it belongs, the city in which it is erected and the efficient and obliging manager, Mr. C. Sweeny, and his affable staff of assistants."

IT appears that no less than 42 miles of street car track have been laid in Montreal this year. The gross earnings of the Montreal Street Railway from Oct. 1st, last year, to Sept. 30th, 1893, were $750,754.16, or $186,-357.38 more than the previous year. The number of paid fares was 17,177,952, against 11,631,386 collected during the previous year, and the number of "transfers" 5,094,113. The power-house on William street is now well under way. The engine-house is 235 feet long by 87 wide. When finished, it will contain six 600 horse power engines and twelve 200-kilo Watt generators. The Witness says next year new lines will be built on William street, Commissioners, Guy, Sherbrooke, east of Amherst, Frontenac and Delorimier avenue.

THE Montreal failures for the week, not elsewhere noted, are as follows: J. E. Gravel, grocer, is reported absent, and a petition has been made to the court to call a meeting of his creditors.—C. Lanthier, doing a suburban dry goods business at Point St. Charles, has got into deep water through over-stocking, and has had to assign. J. B. C. Larin, saloon keeper, has assigned, owing $2,300.-E. B. Blanchard & Co., dealing in tins and hardware, have failed after a very brief career, the present firm only dating from last March, at which date Mr. B., having failed in his own name with liabilities of $6,400, resumed under the above style, using the name of one Valiquet as the registered partner. Present liabilities are $2,853.

A more instant and gratifying success than that of the Niagara Falls Park and River Railway could not well be anticipated. We are told by the manager, Mr. W. A. Grant, that it has carried this season 354,000 passengers without any serious casualty. On one day, July 19th, no less than 17,000 passengers were carried over it. men are at it now, and the track is to be ready for next summer's work. As Mr. Langmuir, president of the Park Commissioners, said on the last excursion, we may be proud of this delightful highway to the greatest of Nature's wonders, for it has been conceived by Canadians, planned by Canadian engineers, and built by Canadian capitalists.

We have known D. McMaster, stationer at Sarnia, for thirty years, but never knew him to be successful in making much money. His first failure was just nine years ago, when his stock was sold. He then made another start, and about a year afterward compromised at 33 per cent. cash. Now he is endeavoring to arrange another compromise.—Gilman & Barnes, Windsor, who had a pleasure resort at Fighting Island, with plenty of liquor, complain that this season is the worst they have had, and now they are compelled to assign. In 1885 H. Oliver started business as a confectioner in Paris, Ont., but never made any money, and now assigns. --- Johann Innes, a tailor in Rockwood, has assigned, and his stock, amounting to about $5,000, will be sold by the assignee next week. The creditors of Robin Bros., dealers in stationery in Mit chell, are asked to accept 65 per cent. of their claims.---In March, 1888, Gilbert McEachern became tired of farming at Bolsover, and traded his farm for a general stock of goods. Having no business training and some very undesirable habits, it is not surprising that he should assign.—D. B. Whitehead, carpenter at Delhi, has also assigned.—Last autumn, J. B. Davies, general storekeeper in Norman, arranged a compromise at 75 per cent. on his liabilities of $7,500. Since then about ten writs have been issued against him, and no doubt he must soon consult his creditors again.

THE SITUATION.

As the tariff enquiry now being made by Ministers is carried on in private, the public is dependent for a knowledge of what is said or done to irregular leakages, which, if secrecy be enjoined, are in the nature of violations of confidence. Some account of these conferences always finds its way into print, and the difficulty is to know what is authentic and what is the work of imagination. If what was said on these occasions bound the Government to make Particular changes in the tariff, the motive for secrecy would be laudable, but even then it would be impossible to prevent the facts leaking out. But as nothing is said by Ministers to persons whose evidence is taken that can bind any one to any particular change in the tariff, the attempt to enforce secrecy would be difficult to justify, especially as it cannot be made effective. Either the real facts leak out, or a false Version of what was done obtains currency; and in either case the loss is greater than the gain. But as the mode of investigation begun, so it continues, and more or less uncertainty of what advice is given or opinions expressed clouds the atmosphere.

A deputation of the Winnipeg Board of Trade is alleged to have made a demand for a reduction in the tariff on all articles needed by the settler. The figures, which include agricultural implements, are put at 15 to 17½ per cent. A recommendation of this kind is the counterpart of protection to manufacturers; and is based on the theory that special consideration is due to tarmers, as distinguished from the rest of the community. What the rate of duties should be, even on the principle of a revenue tariff, must depend upon the whole amount which it is necessary to raise; duties on particular articles admitted to be properly subject for taxation involve a consideration and comparison of the whole decide. He may have intended merely to manufactories dependent upon steam power to have been made is that the Government should have placed in its hands a weapon which would be strong enough to put down Combinations injurious to the commonweal. As the avowed policy of the Government is opposed to injurious Combinations, there ought to be some means of enfercing it; and none would be so likely to prove effective as that suggested: the withdrawal of the duty under shelter of which the Combine is enabled artificially to raise prices. Some such remedy as this is the natural complement of the declared policy of the Government.

Cattle exported from Norway to Great Britain, like those of Canada, were recently under schedule, as a precaution against the admission of disease. The Board of Agriculture becoming convinced that Norwegian cattle were free from disease, the embargo against them has been removed. There is a disposition to draw from this fact the consoling hope that Canada's turn may come next. But, meanwhile, it is desirable to make the most of the situation, as it exists to-day. The necessity of slaughtering Canadian cattle on arrival may not greatly lessen the number sent over; but it does lead to the killing of cattle which are not in a condition to bring a good price for beef. The best sent over recently have been bringing only eight shillings and sixpence per stone. The loss comes in here, and is traceable to imperfect feeding. Free corn would here tell greatly in favor of the Canadian farmer. But whether it be got or not, it is obviously good policy to send over only well fed

An officer in the secret service of Great Britain is the authority of the Pall Mall Gazette for the statement that the Clan-na-Gael is being reorganized under Patrick Egan and Patrick Ford, and that a new system of outrage is to be set on foot under pretence of avenging the rejection of the Home Rule bill by the House of Lords. La Caron is pointed to as the probable author of the warning. Of late, Irish American contributions to the fund that kept Irish agitators in meat, drink, and clothing have been few, and the belief is said to prevail in certain quarters that the most effective means of bringing in increased revenue from this source is a policy of activity, dynamite and murder. With the Fenian element all things are possible. Canada having been the scene of one Fenian raid, cannot hear rumors of this kind without wishing that they may be unfounded, mingled with the feeling that it is part of wisdom to guard against any possible act of secret violence.

Sir John Thompson's reference to the Manitoba School Question may be taken to mean that he does not wish to have to deal with it in Parliament. He is of opinion that Parliament will not be called upon to settle it. The Supreme Court may decide that Parliament has no duties in the matter; but it is impossible for the Minister to be certain, in advance, that it will so does not refuse to appear before the Supreme Court; but she takes the ground that she is not called upon to argue the case. The Court thinks otherwise, and acts upon a provision of law which empowers the Court to name counsel to argue the case on behalf of the Province. The Court thinks it has a right to the benefit of hearing counsel on that side. If it has the right of naming the counsel, the exercise of that right is not open to question, and it cannot fairly be said that its selection is misplaced, when it falls upon one of the ablest members of the bar. If there is something anomalous in the mode of the appointment, there is an antecedent anomaly in the Province, while putting on appearance, being unwilling to argue. The one anomaly naturally results from the other.

Uncertainty as to the fate in Congress of the proposed unconditional repeal of the Sherman silver law deepened at Washington in the early part of the week. Stories of compromise as a substitute were in the air, but they were vague and uncertain. The possibility of Congress adjourning without doing anything found entrance to men's minds. The whole situation was one of uncertainty. The President had been sounded on the question of compromise: according to one statement, he replied, "Compromise is surrender "; according to another, he indicated that, if unconditional repeal were found impossible, he might agree to sign some compromise bill. This latter story is improbable; the President would not be likely to do anything to encourage doubtful senators to look on compromise as the second choice of the President before unconditional repeal had been rejected. On Wednesday it was announced that the senator in charge of the repeal bill would refuse to assent to an adjournment till a vote was taken, which meant the beginning of a contest of endurance.

Queensland refused to contribute a subsidy in aid of the Canadian Australian line of steamers, and Mr. Huddart is anxious that Queensland should not get the benefit of the line, but that the Fiji Islands should have the port of call instead of Brisbane. The consent of the Government of Canada to this change is asked.

There has been a decrease in the exports from Canada to Great Britain, during the last nine months, of over 17 per cent., though the imports thence showed an increase of 8 per cent. The figures are those of the British Board of Trade. The decline embraced a large number of articles: wheat, butter, cheese, eggs, fish, cattle, sheep, bacon, hams. The theory that the British market would absorb more of our productions while the McKinley tariff lasted, has not been borne out.

There is reason to believe that the strike of the coal miners in England is practically at an end, and not before time. Great suffering had been endured by the families of the striking miners. In another way, scale. Another recommendation reported express his moral conviction. Manitoba had suffered almost as much, all of them and some of them having been obliged to cease operations; and if the war had been continued a little longer the workmen in these establishments would have felt the pinch of want. The efforts of the mayors of three cities have had the effect of composing the difference between the workmen and the operators of the mines. The strike has been one of the most disastrous for both sides to be found in the annals of industry. Some days ago the resolution had been reached to send 2,500 tons of coal from Canada to England for the use of steam vessels. A regular coal trade from Sydney, Cape Breton, would probably have been possible with coal at $12 in England; but the difficulty in such cases is, that coal may be in demand there when a cargo is shipped, and the demand might be supplied before the arrival of the vessel.

EQUIVALENT TARIFFS.

Before the tariff re-adjustment which is now under discussion in the United States and Canada, is brought about, we shall probably hear much, by way of comparison, about the tariffs of the two countries. Should Sir John Thompson adhere to his declared resolution, to give the Canadians, in workshop and in field, the same advantages which are available in the United States, it is clear that the tariffs of the two countries must approximate to one another in the scale of duties; and as the United States are likely to be ready for readjustment before we are, it will be our fate to follow in her wake. This is what seems probable from the present state of the tariff discussion in the two countries. In the United States, the Democrats are pledged to a policy of Free Trade, towards which, however, it is not probable that they will be able to move very near in a short time. But when we hear, on this side, that the Americans will give to Canada nothing in the way of tariff relaxation, for which she does not get an equivalent, we seem to be listening to orators who are unaware of the theoretical tariff victory which a party contest has given to the dominant political party in the Republic. The time has come when tariff readjustment, in that country, is being considered from a free trade point of view, and without regard to other countries. Would free wool be a benefit to the United States? That is the simple question, as to this article, and it is likely to be answered entirely from the American standpoint, and irrespective of the effect which free wool might produce on other countries. And so it will be all through the list. How far it will be possible to go in the reduction of duties, the needs of revenue being taken into account, is a question on which necessity may control or modify theory. The practice of looking for equivalents was the adjunct of a policy directly contrary to that which the Democrats have embraced; and it is an anachronism to argue that the United nothing to other countries by design may Company, for example, might try this judicial department has been authorized by their tariff for their own sole benefit.

Canada has not yet got out of the old rut in which equivalents are sought; and Sir John Thompson is willing to reciprocate tariff reduction by following the legislative example which may be set in Washington. This policy will make our tariff in no inconsiderable degree dependent upon what may be done at Washington. The independent policy which we are taught to expect from the United States will be robust and self-contained; ours, if it follow the model erected there, will be imitative and dependent. This comes of hankering after equivalents when the day of equivalents has passed.

Equivalent tariffs do not imply that the articles taxed will attain the same level of price in the two countries. The duties, whatever they may be, stand in the way of prices reaching a uniform level in the two countries. A duty of twenty per cent. is so much added to the imported article; and unless the foreign article can be produced at so much less cost, the difference must come out of profit, or even this moderate duty will have the effect of prohibition. Various accidental circumstances may affect the operation of the rule, but the rule remains inexorable. An American or a Canadian manufacturer may, under certain circumstances, be willing to sacrifice all profit in order to realize in a foreign market; he may, in a conceivable case, be ready and anxious to realize even at a loss. But when this happens, there is a departure from the ordinary rules of business; the conditions are exceptional and could never be made general, though the fact that it is never possible to foresee when they will become operative makes them all the more embarrassing as an element of competition between the two countries. There is such a thing as a sacrifice market, to which resort is had occasionally, in a fitful way, and at uncertain and irregular times, as a means of getting rid of surplus stocks, which through new invention or change of fashion are not likely to be in demand in the country that produced them. That there is a point beyond which goods will not be sacrificed in a foreign market, the experience of the late commercial and monetary crisis in the United States shows at a time when holders of stocks were most anxious to realize, Canada was not resorted to as a sacrifice market to any appreciable extent. This new experience was due in part to the general restriction, which extended in a minor degree to this side of the line, but in a greater degree to the Canadian duties. The value of this incident lies in the disclosure that the sacrifice market is one which will not be availed of under all circumstances; that resort to it will under certain conditions not be made even under the greatest temptation to realize. There is one conceivable exception to this rule: a great combination aiming at practical monopoly might use its familiar weapon of an occasional sacrifice price as a means of bringing rivals, who States will grant nothing for which they live on the other side of the international are not to get a return; that they will cede boundary, to its feet. The Standard Oil ecutive authority, except so far as the having had to pay enormous prices for coal be true, but they are pledged to reduce game. Commercial war makes an exception to all economic laws, and as war it must be dealt with by the rules of war.

From equivalent tariffs, the mind naturally turns to equivalent prices; though, as already noticed, the equality of tariffs does not imply equality of prices. When prices are nominally equal, qualities and values may vary, and in this way the seeming equality may be unreal Things which bear the same name, and are alike in appearance, may have a difference in length of service and of life which nobody but an expert, and perhaps not even an expert, could detect. The history of the manufacture, including the quality of material, would require to be known before equality of value could be assumed. In the absence of such information, a mere comparison of prices would be a very uncertain guide.

From the interrogation of farmers, in the tariff enquiry set on foot by the Government, it is clear that, as a class, they cannot be regarded as free traders. Like the manufacturers, most of them follow their own interest, or what they believe to be their interest. Some favor a duty on pork, others oppose it; some want free corn, others want corn kept out by a tax in favor of small grains. But, whether they take one side or the other, they arrive at their conclusions in the very unscientific way of regarding only their own interests. Of course, the party element plays a part, even among farmers; and when this happeas, it is difficult to say where individual opinion ends and party opinion begins. As an element in the tariff question, party is destined to make a considerable figure. The fact that the Opposition, as a party, favors Free Trade, will tell in favor of a reduced tariff, unless party spirit on one side awakens party spirit on the other, in which case a tendency to equalize the party forces would become operative.

FOREIGNER'S RIGHTS OF CITIZEN-SHIP IN THE LAND OF ADOPTION.

The judgment of the Supreme Court of the United States in the action of Fong Yue-Ting against the United States is very interesting as defining the powers of a nation to forbid the entrance of foreigners. It is substantially as under:

Every sovereign nation has the power to forbid the entrance of foreigners within its dominions, or to admit them only in such cases and upon such conditions as it may see fit to prescribe. The right of a nation to expel or deport foreigners who have been naturalized or taken any steps toward becoming citizens of the country, is as absolute and unqualified as the right to prohibit and prevent their entrance into the country. The United States are a sovereign and independent nation, vested with the entire control of international relations and with all the powers of government necessary to maintain that control and to make it effective. The power to exclude or expel aliens is invested in the political departments of the government, and is to be regulated by treaty or by Act of Congress, and to be executed by the ex-treaty or by statute, or is required by the paramount law of the Constitution to intervene. The provisions of an Act of Congress passed in the exercise of its constitutional authority must be upheld by the courts, even in contravention of an earlier treaty. Chinese laborers residing in the United States continue to be aliens, and remain subject to the power of Congress to expel them or to order them to be removed and deported from the country whenever in its judgment their removal is necessary or expedient for the public interest. Sections of the Act of 1892, which provide a system of registration and identification of Chinese laborers, require them to obtain certificates of residence, and if they do not do so within a year, to be deported from the United States, and the rules of the Secretary of the Treasury as to the proof of residence and as to recording the certificate are valid.

Under the Act of 1892 it is the duty of the collector to grant a Chinese laborer a certificate upon the proof of the requisite facts; the want of a certificate is only prima facie evidence of his not being entitled to remain in the United States, which he can rebut by proof of his inability to procure one, and by a creditable white witness of his required residence. The provisions of the Act of 1892, which puts the burden of proof upon a Chinese laborer of rebutting the presumption arising from his having no certificate, as well as the requirement of proof by at least one creditable white witness that he was a resident of the United States at the time of the passage of this Act, is within the acknowledged power of every legislature to prescribe the evidence in the courts of its own government. The proceedings before a United States judge, as provided for in the Act of 1892, is in no proper sense a trial and sentence for a crime of offence, and the provisions of the Constitution securing the right of trial by jury, and prohibiting unreasonable searches and seizures, and cruel and unusual punishments, have no application. The question whether and upon what conditions Chinese laborers shall be permitted to remain within the United States being one to be determined by the political departments of the government, the judicial department cannot properly express an opinion upon the wisdom, the policy or the justice of the measures enacted by Congress in the exercise of the powers confided to it by the Constitution over this subject.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

Accounts from different cities agree that the volume of trade in this line is very well maintained, in spite of a great deal that is heard about lack of employment and hard times. The clear and balmy weather thus far in October has interfered with the sale of heavy goods for winter uses, but the sorting trade has kept up well. While there has been more or less of hesitancy about the buying of staple cottons or Canadian woollens by retailers, on account of the way these goods have been pushed and cut and hammered by different wholesale houses, yet there has usually been no lack of promptness on the We find no fault with this, because it may in larger numbers too, and sheep to a con-part of the retail men to take hold of the new fall dress stuffs or other materials of which fashion is the arbiter. Remittances might certainly be improved. There is in a number of districts a decided lack of ready money.

So far as can be learned about the fashions for the approaching year, they tend towards the adoption of plain colors in all lines of dress goods. Velvets and velveteens are among the articles which main. tain their vogue, and the prices are strongly maintained. In silks, too, there appears to be a tendency to higher prices, though nothing like the previous year's extent of advance is likely. We hear also that repeat orders for linen goods and jute goods have been declined at old prices. There is a distinct, though not a large advance in these. With the exceptions mentioned, there is, we believe, no change in values of imported goods, and the European markets are for the most part quiet. In domestic products, cotton or woollen, values are unchanged at the mills. We gather that Canadian woollen mills continue to be as a rule well employed. Mill men have been able to buy of late large blocks of foreign wool, sent into Canada by American dealers, almost at their own prices. This, while affording a grand chance for manufacturers, is the reverse of advantageous meanwhile for the regular wool importers. Indeed they state that business has rarely been so dull with them.

WHAT ARE WE TO DO ABOUT IT?

"It is quite true that credit is too cheap, as you keep on telling us from time to time,"-so writes to the MONETARY TIMES a subscriber from his country store in Western Ontario,--" but you blame us storekeepers too much for it. The butcher and baker give credit as well as we do; the blacksmith credits the farmer for horseshoeing, the saddler waits on him for pay for his harness, the tinsmith for his milkpans; the tavern keeper has his chalk marks, or whatever marks he keeps for 'tick'; the doctor is not able to collect his bills more than once a year. Even the printer gives credit for his paper. So what are we to do about it? Is nobody to blame but us?"

What our correspondent says cannot be denied, and his words are not without interest and point. And it serves to enforce the lesson that there is too much credit all along the line. We should be a more economical people, beyond a doubt, if we were compelled to pay cash for what we bought. True, we should not buy so much; but one cause of the trouble to so many retail dealers or tradesmen of all sorts is that by reason of getting merchandise so easily on credit many of their customers buy more than they can afford. The stationer in a town sells daily papers, magazines-for which he has to pay in a week or a month -and books on credit to people of small incomes, who, if they had to pay cash, would be content to go to a library for their books. The founder or the field implement man sells machines to the farmer Toronto were much larger in September on one, two or even three years' credit. last year. Horses were sent to the States be a blessing, as it is certainly a convenience, to a struggling farmer. But along comes a piano or a cabinet-organ maker and induces, by means of instalment payments, a man to buy one of these instruments "on easy terms," who is so poor that he cannot pay the interest on the mortgage of his farm. And this is extravagance for such a man.

But our subscriber must not suppose that we have always and everywhere blamed the country storekeeper only for excessive credit. The MONETARY TIMES has tried to fasten upon bankers, importers, manufacturers, their share of blame for the excess of credit in this country. And in an article entitled "Free and Easy Buying on Credit," we said: "It is a dangerous policy, a bad policy, and one which has too many imitators in our midst, that of running little bills for every conceivable thing that a man wants, or fancies that he wants. Let the trader and every other prudent man learn to say "No" to his artificial needs which clamor for indulgence. Let him resolve to owe no man anything, but to pay as he goes. By so doing he will cultivate the simple and manly virtues of frugality and thrift, and will avoid the pitfalls of debt and disgrace.

TORONTO TRADE FIGURES.

The imports at Toronto were greater last month ($1,795,921) than in September, 1892, but the exports were less, making the aggregate inward and joutward trade of the month $1,988,819, as compared with $2,050,517 in the same period of the previous year. Dry goods showed a slightly increased import, metal goods a decline. Books, paper goods, leather, jewellery also a decline. The import of glass and glass. ware takes quite a jump upward. There is no material change in other dutiable articles of import. Free goods were of the value of $397,369, some $16,000 less.

THE SEPTEMBER FIRE LOSS.

The fire loss of the United States and Canada during September, says the New York Bulletin, amounts to no less than $10,508,700. How serious an increase this is over the total for September, 1892, will be seen from the following table, which shows the increase of fire loss during the first nine months of 1893, as compared with the same period in 1892:-

	1892.	1993.

The losses of the first nine months of 1893 are over twenty five per cent. greater in the aggregate than those for the same period in 1892, and at this ratio the record for the whole year threatens to prove very discouraging. During September there were 208 fires of a greater destructiveness than $10 000 each. The losses may be class fied as follows :-

LAND OWNERS IN MONTREAL.

An impression having arisen that real estate in the city of Montreal had got, or was getting. into the hands of but few persons, the Mayor caused a statement to be prepared showing how many actual owners of land there were in the city. This list shows that the land of Montreal is not by any means in the hands of a few capitalists. The number of proprietors of real estate in each ward is given as follows :-East, 343; Centre, 243; West, 362; St. Ann's, 2,302; St. Antoine, 5,055; St. Lawrence, 2,103; St. Louis, 2,364; St. James, 2,773; St. Mary's, 8,045; Hochelaga, 5,156; St. Jean Baptiste, 3,087; and St. Gabriel, 1,724. The total number of owners is thus 28,557, or one in every seven of the inhabitants, nearly. The showing is a remarkable one, and we are glad to find our chief city in so great proportion a city of land owners. The Mayor seems to be quite justified in concluding that the workingmen of Montreal have as fair chances of owning property as those in any other city of the some size in America.

IMPROVEMENTS IN HAMILTON.

A number of fine business blocks have been erected during the present year in the city of Hamilton, and with its plenitude of trees, the leafage of which is changing color, the city is just now looking its very prettiest. Among the largest and most prominent new structures are the new buildings of Woods, Vallance & Co., wholesale hardware merchants. They are on King William and Huston streets. The main building extends 105 feet on King William street and 80 feet on Huston street, and has four floors and basement. The second one, in the rear of the old building on King street, is 150 feet deep on King William street, having two floors and basement. Both basements are of stone, and the entire building is ornamented with stone. Plate glass windows light every floor, and goods are so arranged on second and third floors that every compartment has its own windows at both ends. The appointments of the interior, both for offices and ware-rooms are complete. The old building of the firm on King street will be used, we are told, for retail business only.

Another new building, or rather a large addition to the old one, is that of Messrs. Burrow, Stewart & Milne, foundrymen. The buildings now occupy the space between two streets, extending all the way from John to Huston streets. They are of brick, ornamented with stone, and consist of four floors and basement, with a next tower which adds to the appearance of the whole. The offices and show rooms, which are lighted with plate glass windows, are now being fitted up with all modern conveniences, and the show room promises to be one of the finest of the kind in Canada.

A fire destroyed a considerable part of the old brewery belonging to the Grant-Lottridge Brewing Co., on Bay st. This has now been rebuilt, and a handsome building, greatly extended, meets the eye. It is supplied with new machinery and other appliances for the business of brewing. The improvement over the old premises is marked.

The chemical works of F. F. Dally Co have been lately removed to premises formerly occaried by the Williams Company stove foundry. These have undergone considerab e alteration, and additions have been made suitable to meet the wants of their business.

The Traders' Bank has removed its Hamilton (flices to the building formerly occupied by the Bank of Hamilton on King street. The interior has been remodelled and now appears to contain many modern improvements. The exterior has also been improved and made much more attractive.

NOTES FROM LONDON.

All through September, and even earlier, our Mr. Oliver has been visiting cities, towns and villages in Western Ontario, and he finds much to interest him, as his letters testify. Writing from London some days ago, he said: "I must say that London maintains its reputation for new industries, new buildings and improvements. Nor is she behind her sister cities in making exhibition of the productions of her fertile neighborhood. The fair recently held there equalled, if it did not surpass, any previous one in London in the display of cattle, root crops and cereals. And in manufactures she made an excellent record on that occasion. For example, such firms as the McClary Manu. facturing Co., the McCormick Manufacturing Co., John Campbell, B. J. Nash & Co., D. S. first year of its reconstruction.

Perrin & Co., and many others surpassed their former reputation in the various displays of their respective wares. Additions to, or improvements of various buildings, both in and around the city, too, are notable. The Mc-Clary Manufacturing Co. has purchased and fitted up that large building adjoining them, known as the Couzens' Hotel, as offices and show rooms, and this, with the various blocks used by this company for manufacturing purposes, makes now one of the largest establishments of the kind in the Dominion. The McCormick building, too, on Dundas street, presents quite an altered appearance with its late improvements.

PETERBORO AND THE ELECTRIC WORKS.

A special train on Wednesday last conveyed to Peterboro some two score gentlemen connected with the commercial and financial interests of Toronto. The main object of the trip was to afford the guests an opportunity of seeing the premises of the General Electric Company in that town. But the mayor and corporation of Peterboro embraced the occasion to enable the visitors to drive about that busy place—soon to be a city—and see the Central Bridge Works, the Hamilton & Sons' Foundry, the new flouring mill, the woollen mills, Mathews' pork-packing works, the Peterboro Lock Works and other important industries. The extent and activity of these factories is most gratifying; and it is a feature of special interest that the Bridge Works are now engaged on an important contract for the Rochester Water Works.

It is not too much to say that the party, some of whom had never been in Peterboro before, received a genuine surprise when they visited the yards and works of the General Electric Company. These cover an area of 271 acres. The buildings are some thirty in number, the dimensions of the largest, of brick, being 280 feet by 100. And the employees are numbered by hundreds. The company, whose officers and stockholders are mainly Canadians, has for its president Mr. W. R. Brock; for first vice president, Mr. H. P. Dwight, and for the second vice-president and general manager, Mr. Frederic Nicholls; the secretary, Mr. W. S. Andrews. The machinery and appliances of the concern resemble the great electrical works at Schenectady or Lynn. They are adapted to turn out and are steadily producing Edison dynamos, street car motors, switches, insulated electric wires for outside or interior work, electric cables and the thousand connections and devices used in the various modern applications of electricity to lighting, heating and carriage.

Judging from the contracts already on hand, the skilled labor and appliances available on the spot, and looking forward to the development of electricity in many directions which must be expected in Canada, there is a prosperous future before this company. When some forty-two miles of electric street railway have been constructed in one year in Montreal, more than eighty miles in less than two years in Toronto, and when our towns and villages are adopting electric lights, to say nothing of the many industrial works which cannot long be without the services of this agent, so mysterious and yet steadily becoming so familiar, it is safe to predict that the General Electric will become ere long one of the greatest industrial works in the Dominion. Its earning power has been amply demonstrated in the

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH CO.

The annual meeting of the Western Union Telegraph Company was held on Wednesday, October 11th. The annual report was submitted by Gen. Eckert, the president, for the year ended June 30th, 1893. It showed the result of the year's business to have been as follows: Revenue, $24,978,442.96; expenses, $17,482,405.68; profits, $7,496,037.28. There were six vacancies upon the board of direction to be filled, caused by the death of Messrs. Norvin Green, the late president, Messrs. Jay Gould, Henry Weaver, and F. L. Ames, and the resignation of Messrs. Sidney Shepard and Erastus Wiman, who declined re-election. The stockholders elected the following gentlemen to replace those resigned or deceased: Messrs. John Jacob Astor, Oliver Ames, Geo. Bliss, Louis Fitzgerald, C. Sidney Shepards and J. B. Van Every. The remaining members of the old board were re-elected.

One of the directors whose death is here noted, Mr. Weaver, was, if we do not mistake, an Englishman, connected with Atlantic Cable interests. Among the new members of the board Mr. Astor, Mr. Ames, Mr. Bliss, are well known. Mr. C. S. Shepard is a relative, we understand, of the Sidney Shepard, of Mexico, N.Y., who was one of the largest shareholders in the company. Of Mr. Van Every, so long auditor of the Western Union, and acting vice-president, it may fairly be said that he deserves his position upon the board of direction not only because of ability and long service in various capacities, but because his knowledge of the company's affairs is so thorough. Mr. Van Every, though not a Canadian born, is the son of Canadian parents, who resided, we believe, not far from Hamilton. Ontario.

THE MOLSONS BANK.

The business of the Molsons Bank for its thirty-seventh year shows a good scale of earning, though not so great, by nearly three per cent., as that of last year, which was unusual. Of the net earnings, which amounted to about 11 per cent., 8 was divided and 21 placed to Rest, which fund is now $1,200,000. The hoped-for bonus of 1 per cent. given to shareholders a year ago was this year withheld, doubtless from prudential motives. The totals of assets and liabilities shown in the report indicate some restriction of business. Deposits being lessened-the decline being relatively greatest in those without interest-current discounts were curtailed, while call loans, Canadian and other securities show some increase. Having closed the branch at St. Hyacinthe during the year, one was opened at Ottawa, which we should think offered better opportunities for business than the other.

The remark of Mr. John Crawford at the meeting, upon the excellent record of Canadian banks in recent years, if somewhat trite, cannot be termed ill deserved. Our system of banking, as exemplified in its results during a time of almost world-wide financial difficulty, has given our neighbors in the United States and the people of the Australian colonies something to think about. Both peoples may find, and we shall be surprised if they do not find in it, features to copy in any reconstruction of their methods of banking. The president took an unusually vigorous stand against the proposal, so often made, that banks should state, gross or in detail, their losses during the year. There are good reasons why such a course should not be adopted.

LONDON & CANADIAN LOAN AND AGENCY CO., LIMITED.

This company has reached its twentieth year. Its mortgage loans now approach four millions of dollars; it owns offices and buildings in Toronto and Winnipeg valued at $120,000, and other real estate held meantime, at $98,000; its municipal and other debentures held amount to $492,000, and it has $165,000 in loans on call or short date, besides a considerable sum in cash. The total of assets is thus $4,851,000. Capital stock paid in and reserved earnings amount to $1,105,000, debentures and certificates outstanding $3,665,000, other liabilities, say $81,000.

The earnings are not as great this year as last, but it pays 8 per cent. dividend and municipal tax thereon, carries to Reserve Fund $15,000, and to revenue account $5,870. Remark is made by the directors upon the difficulty they found recently in selecting safe investments at good rates. And the fact that they only accepted $575,000 out of $2,394,-000 offered, illustrates this. Nor could they accept further moneys which their Scottish agents offered to send them. In default of desirable loans, the company increased its holding of municipal and other debentures. The London and Canadian has found interest payments well met in Ontario, and from Manitoba it has received a larger amount of interest this year than in any previous year of its history.

THE WORLD'S FAIR OUT OF DEBT.

Credit for enterprise and novelty must be given the Chicago Inter-Ocean. Two or three times each week the regular daily issue is accompanied by an illustrated supplement printed in colors. That of Monday last depicts a gratifying circumstance. On the first page, F. W. Peck, chairman of the finance committee of the World's Fair, is shown handing a cheque for $1,333,350 to John J. Mitchell (trustee for the bondholders), being full payment of the $5,000,000 of World's Fair bonds. The Exposition is thus out of debt beyond what it owes stockholders. After this the surplus receipts will no doubt be disbursed among the original subscribers to the fund. Monday last being the 22nd anniversary of the burning of Chicago, another page of the supplement shows "the burning of the old city our dads built," Mrs. O'Leary, her cow, and the lamp that was kicked over, thereby starting the fire. Also a view of the city just before and after the great conflagration, and another view of it as it stands to-day, admired by the world and the pride of the nation. In addition to all this is the regular issue of twenty-four pages. These broad sheets contain numerous illustrations and a quantity of descriptive and historical matter in reference to the great fire of 1871. Likewise a forecast of what was likely to transpire at the White City on Chicago day. One can have some idea of the rapid growth of the city when it is remembered that at the time of the fire its population numbered 300,000. The Inter. Ocean says that the figures now reach 1,500,000, "or five times what it then was." The paid admissions at the World's Fair on Monday reached 713,646, and it was nearly morning before all the people were able to get transportation from the "White City."

—The freight traffic by rail across the Detroit River for the year ending July 1st, 1893, was:—East bound cars, 244,844, west bound, 239,679; total, 484,563.

THE TEXTILE INDUSTRIES.

The woollen factory of J. C. Dalgleish, Ottawa, had a slight touch of fire recently.

A large stone addition is being made to the dye house of the Auburn woollen mill at Peterboro. Ont.

Present estimates of the cotton crop of 1893-94 make it about 7,500,000 bales.

The St. Croix cotton mills, St. Stephen, N.B., have started up in full, and, it is announced, will not be shut down again this season.

The Peterboro woollen mills are working overtime. An addition 40 x 40 feet and three stories in height has been built, while additional machinery has increased the capacity of the mills.

All the machinery in McClymont & Co.'s old woollen mill at Ottawa has been bought by Messrs. Hamelin & Ayers, Lachute, Que. They are building an addition to their mill, preparatory to moving the machines to Lachute.

The annual outing of the employees of the Auburn Woollen Company, of Peterboro, Ont., was held recently at Cobourg. About three hundred of the employees, with their families and friends, took part in the excursion.

At Magog, Que., the Dominion Cotton Company has just completed extensive improvements in its surroundings, including new offices, several artistic cottages for the "bosses," and generally improving their property to the amount of $80,000.

Improvements in the Guelph Knitting Mill are being made. Messrs. A. Galbraith & Co. are putting a new thirty horse-power boiler, a complete dye plant and a new extractor in their mills. The fittings have been completed for the heating of the entire building by steam.

Messrs. J. A. Gowdy & Son, manufacturers of reeds and harness, are introducing into woollen mills a new style of reed, which is giving the best of satisfaction. In the place of narrow thick wire for dents, they are putting in a very wide thin dent, which gives about onethird more space for the warp, yet the reed is much stronger on account of the wide wire. It can readily be seen that by leaving more space, the friction on the warp is reduced, and the warp will not be as liable to break because of less friction, while the weaving is much easier.—Manufacturer.

An exhibition of an electric cutting machine was given the other day at H. Shorey & Co.'s cutting rooms, in Montreal. This is an instrument that will cut fabrics of every description, of many thicknesses, with remarkable rapidity. It will cut the finest of linen as easily as it does coarser goods, and it will cut through thicknesses of three and one-half inches. It weighs only 35 lbs., but contains more than four and a-half miles of wire in it. It can be operated on any incandescent circuit, and can be easily operated. A special cable is not required. It is the intention of Capt. Gunn, the projector, to establish a factory for the purpose of manufacturing the machine.

Mr. G. Whitfield Naylor, of the firm of Olden, Naylor, Loyd & Co., Limited, Kidderminster, has now his headquarters in Montreal, where he will have charge of his firm's agency at that point. "O., N., L. & Co.," remarks the Carpet Trade Journal, are popular carpet manufacturers and do a first-class Canadian trade.

The Toronto Carpet Manufacturing Co. have added Imperatrix axminster to their striking exhibit in the Canadian Section, Manufactures Hall, Chicago Fair, and will ask an award thereon. Their heavy-weight extra super should take high award and the Imperatrix likewise.

"Writing from the textile department of the Yorkshire College," remarks the London Times, "Mr. Robert Beaumont says: It would be nothing less than a suicidal policy for us to close our eyes to the progress which has been made in every species of textile work by the American craftsman. With him no task is considered impossible, and he is fully convinced that it is only a matter of time and the Britisher will be forced out of the field. We learn from the textiles at the Chicago Exposition that there is a more formidable source of disaster threatening this country's trade in woven materials with the American continent than that of injurious tariffs, one which involves improved methods of fabrication, better designing and more artistic workmanship than have hitherto been observed in the textures produced in the United States and Canada."

DRY GOODS NOTES.

A great demand has been recently made upon the wholesale houses for brown serges. A shade between a golden brown and a midbrown has met with special favor.

Writing of dresses in Paris the correspondent of the Drapers' Record says: "Moire and satin is seen mixed with cloth and also woollen goods. A new and very elegant novelty is the sleeve of two tissues, that is to say, a robe of blue serge, of which the top and bottom part of the sleeve is in black satin, and the centre part of serge; the whole filled in with embroidery and galons."

A recent attraction in the window of a dry goods house in Bucyrus, Ohio, was an imitation of the "Ferris Wheel," making a feature in a hosiery display, and constructed of hosiery boxes mounted between two carriage wheels.

In gentleman's unlined kid gloves, tans in both light and dark shades, with a spear-pointed back, are a new feature among the Toronto trade.

This season it would appear that in woollen and knitted gloves for gentleman's use, black is to be the favorite color.

The Dry Goods Economist has the following about gloves:

The favored colors this year are dark blue, myrtle, olive, and reseda green, plum, Bordeaux shades, golden-brown, English red, gray, modes and tans. In long goods considerable activity is perceptible, although it is earlier than usual.

Silk-plated gloves with ribbed tops, made from fine quality cashmere yarn, are finished to all appearance equal to a pure silk, and are especially adapted to fall and winter wear. They are seen in all the staple shades, with silk and Paris points to match.

Silk evening gloves in plain delicate tints, with medallions and butterflies inserted on the wrist in self and contrasting colors, are effective, and are in single, double, or triple effects.

Glove skins of fine quality will be difficult to produre, as a result of disease brought about by the severe frosts of last winter, which is destroying lambs in Spain, Italy, and Asia Minor, while in Arabia scarcity of raw material is due to the prevalence of cholera. Business with the latter country is practically at a standstill, owing to the strict enforcement of quarantine regulations.

Ladies' fur capes are longer this year than last. As material, Alaska sable, with its imitations, will be popular in many parts of Canada, while wool seal is also in demand.

The styles of men's neckwear for the coming season are now pretty well known. Bows, large and small, are to be worn. In New York bows are very popular, those tied by the wearer are preferred by the stylish. four-in-hand ties displayed in Toronto houses are narrower than those of last year, while knots on the other hand are wider. In New York, the latest thing in four in hands is an unusually narrow width, not more than two inches. The wide-apron, flowing end four-inhand there seems now to be at the height of its popularity. The material must be rich and of a certain degree of weight, so that the folds may retain their fullness and not lie flat to the shirt front of the wearer. In dress, larger bows are worn; those perfectly plain appear to have the preference.

ITEMS FOR GROCERS.

Mr. B. Winnifrith, for many years a prominent grocer of Hamilton, has been appointed storekeeper at the Toronto asylum.

The following officers have been elected by the Grocers' Association of Montreal: President, John Johnston; vice-president, O. Ricard; honorary secretary, B. Connaughton; treasurer, J. O. Levesque; directors, S. Demers, John Scanlan, T. Gauthier, V. Raby, A. D. Fraser, and J. E. Manning; secretary, Peter Gannon.

Tetsmosuki Yamaguchi, representing a committee of the Central Tea Association, of Japan, has been in Toronto for the purpose of gaining information as to the standard of teas this year in comparison to that of former seasons.

Messrs. Wilson Bros., wholesale grocers, in Viotoria, B.C., have opened a branch in Vancouver. They intend carrying a general stock of staple goods.

The latest converts to the cash system in Woodstock are Messrs. Thornton & Son, a grocery firm.

The first salmon ship to leave Victoria, B.C., for England this season, carried 38,800 cases valued at $201,875.

Large quantities of silver hake are being taken by hook and line in St. John, N.B., harbor. Thousands of them are also stranded on the shores after every fall of the tide. The quantity is unprecedented.

The shipment of oysters from Summerside last Saturday was 538 bbls.

It is estimated that the crop of lima beans in California this season will amount to fully 1,300 car-loads. Late advices state that prices at primary points have advanced to $2.10 to $2.20 per 100 lbs. f. o. b., under covering of "short" sales made early in the season.

Of raisins, the California Grocer says: "Drying is progressing favorably in the producing sections, the clear, warm weather of the past week having been very favorable. The demand is about moderate, and prices are fully maintained on the basis established at the opening of the season."

The first direct fruit vessel from the Mediterranean to Montreal, the "Avlona," has arrived rather earlier than expected, having arrived on Wednesday in the St. Lawrence, and is, we understand, discharging cargo today in Montreal. She brings 52,000 boxes of Valencia raisins and a quantity of nuts, wines, &c.

It is said that the Minister of Agriculture, after investigation of the representatives of leading merchants to the effect that the importation of dried fruits from Mediterranean ports involves no danger of the introduction of cholera, has signified his intention of recommending to council the advisability of removing the order of prohibition.

The prospects are, the Columbian remarks, that the cranberry crop will be light this fall, though it is rather early yet to speak definitely. The Indians say several up-river marshes, which usually yield abundantly, will give very light returns this year. On the Delta and Lulu Island the yield will not be much below the average.

The British Columbia halibut fishing schooners have commenced their season's work, in which they are making a later beginning than the vessels on the American side. The value of last year's halibut catch is set down in the Dominion report at $67,875, a total which, says an exchange from that province, there ought to be little difficulty in passing this season, though there is still far too little energy shown in developing our deep sea fisheries.

The largest creamery in the world is at St. Albans, Mass. The capacity is 22,000 pounds per day, and in it are 14 large revolving churns, capable of holding two hogsheads of cream each.

Current estimates calculate upon a beet root crop of about the same size as last year, and suggest a probable increase of the cane crops to extent of 250,000 to 300,000 tons. The domestic crop will be the first to appear, and at present its general prospects are quite promising.

The new sugar refinery at Berthier, Que., surely opens under good auspices. An account of the opening ceremonies says: The Archbishop was received at the station by the clergy, mayor and councillors, and with his attendants was driven to the beet root refinery, followed by thousands. An address was presented by Mr. V. Allard, M.P.P., at the works. Then followed a benediction of the beet root sugar works, which was replied to by the Rev. Mr. Champeaux, cure of Berthier, encouraging the farmer to help the beet sugar industry. The machinery was then started and examined by thousands of visitors, after which an adjournment was made to the banquet room, which was suitably decorated for the occasion.

TARRAGONA ALMONDS.

This year the crop of Tarragona almonds will probably be one of the largest on record. Foreign growers and shippers, in an endeavor to secure contracts, caused values to drop to a point before unheard of in the history of the trade. During the height of the depression the price quoted by cable to this side, says the Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin, was the equivalent of about six cents per pound laid down, which, with a duty of 5 cents per pound added, brought the actual cost to the importer 11 cents." Confidence, however, has been restored, and bad weather for curing having set in, prices have reached a more normal level. The quotation of the Toronto wholesale trade for Tarragona almonds now stands at 14½0. per pound.

—The Sailors' Union of the Pacific Coast has made an order for a reduction in wages from $40 to $35 per month on sailing vessels, which has been the principal object of contention.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY PARA-GRAPHS.

Hurlbut's "Author's Linen" steadily maintains its popularity as a writing paper, and it has become quite the "fad" to use this beautiful paper with the artistic water-marked portrait of a favorite American author, either Whittier, Longfellow, Emerson or Bryant.

A duplicating device the merits of which are well known is the Edison Mimeograph. This is a perfect instrument for duplicating typewriting, handwriting, plans, drawings, etc.

Among the new books of the month is one by Erastus Wiman, with the title, "Chances of Success, Episodes and Observations in the Life of a Busy Man." It is very likely to be not only entertaining but instructive, and will awaken curiosity; for Mr. Wiman has had unusual opportunity to observe the changes and chances of trade, and may now be disposed to moralize upon them.

Gillott's pens have attained and maintained a well-earned celebrity, says Geyer's Stationer, and the name as applied to a steel pen is a guarantee of excellence in quality of material temper, durability, smoothness of writing, etc. These pens are made in every style, size and degree of point. The display made by Joseph Gillott & Sons, at the Columbian fair is a most excellent one.

DON'T ANSWER THAT LETTER On shabby Note Paper.

Such is the kind of advertisement that is suggested for a stationer by Printers' Ink, as being calculated to strike the eye of the man who is thinking about buying letter paper, as well as the man who is not. It is very true that many merchants use wretchedly cheapand-nasty paper for their letters and for their accounts. And many of them appear to grudge having their business paper or envelopes decently printed. This is a mistake. And stationers should be able to advise country dealers against such mistaken economy.

A report issued by Miss Wilson, the librarian of the Sherbrooke Loan Library, shows that 1,045 books were loaned during the month of August last. These are classified as under: -Fiction, 910 books; history, 40; general Works, 33; literature, 23; useful arts, 9; natural science, 9; philosophy, 8; fine arts, 7; sociology, 4; religion, 1; philology, 1; total, 1,045 books. Thus no less than 87 per cent. of the books taken by Sherbrooke readers from the library were works of fiction; 3.8 per cent. historical, 3.1 per cent. general, and so on downward through natural science, philosophy and the fine arts, until religious works are reached. One dozen volumes only on the subjects of useful arts, sociology and religion were lent. And this in Sherbrooke! We used to think it strange that the Mechanics' Institute library of such a Scotch and Presbyterian town as Galt dealt so largely in fiction and so little in books of a more solid character. But Galt did better, from a dominie's point of view, than this Still let us not be too severe. Sherbrooke may improve. It may be that the summer reading only of her people is of the light and fanciful kind, and that the more sombre months of autumn and winter will show a resort to weightier mind food. After all, 13 per cent. of works of history, biography, science and art is not, in the experience of librarians nowadays, a bad showing. It seems unhappily true that the novel and the newspaper form the reading of most people.

The present signs of American journalism are very encouraging, says the New York Sun.

The force of mere humbug and senseless shouting appears to be dying out, and an era of intelligence and reason is coming in. The tricks of lotteries, sham charities, coupons to determine whether one police captain is handsomer than another, and all the rest of the long array of mountebank advertising devices. which have nothing whatever to do with making a newspaper, are bound to go out of

In a publication of the Christian Endeavor Union, entitled The Golden Rule, Mr. John Willis Baer has the following sensible paragraph which those who propose writing for the press should read: "It is said that not one skilled writer in fifty knows how to write a good report of a meeting, or how to get up good manuscript. I once heard Caleb Cobweb say in regard to preparing manuscript: 'Always use black ink, firm paper, lots of space between the lines, plain writing. Use but one side of the paper; punctuate, and punctuate carefully. If you erase a word, erase it. Do not allow it to linger in the manuscript half dead and half alive, to trouble the printers. When tempted to use contractions, do not use them. Do not roll the manuscript; the man who rolls his manuscript deserves to be rolled in feathers, previously having been dipped in tar. Do not begin too near the top of the page, so that the editor may write his own title over the article."

NEW JOURNALS IN NEW DISTRICTS.

The Post Office authorities have delivered to us, perhaps because we approach most nearly in name to the trade journal which the stranger addressed in order to get an exchange, The Herald, of Abilene, Texas, dated October 2nd. This curious little sheet consists of four pages, each 5½ by 7½ inches, and the whole thing, spread out, would about equal in size one page of an Ontario Blue Book. It has despatches dated 22nd September from Washington and Boston; announces that " Prof. T. A. Bledsoe paid last week for a year's subscription to this paper, 25 cents"; has an advertisement of Roy Bradley, who deals in stamps, and "solicits your patronage"; acquaints the public that "Mr. Boman was elected alderman last Monday," and concludes a column-as long as a lead pencil-of locals with the original caution: "Brown patronizes the boys; the boys should patronize Brown."

Volume I., Number 12, of the Slocan Prospector comes to us from the mining district of New Denver, British Columbia, being published by W. D. Pratt, apparently every Tuesday, at $3 per annum. It is a good sized sheet, four pages, each 14 x 21, well printed, and has seven columns of advertisements, a good many of which concern mines and miners. Here is a specimen :--

THE MOCKING BIRD MINERAL CLAIM.—To Frank Mallory, of Spokane, Washington: Take notice, that on Nov. 22, 1893, at the Recorder's office, New Denver, B.C., your interest in this claim will be sold by public auction to pay the sum of $25.62, being your share sment work done by me, unless, etc., etc. Signed, BERT SQUIRE.

But one always expects the newspaper editorials of new places in the west to be spicy, and those of the Prospector do not disappoint us in this respect. We quote a paragraph:

"The Canadian customs officer at the boundary on Kootenay river should cultivate less sputter and more common sense. He reminds us of Vanderbilt's son-in-law, whom the old commodore described as being more kinds of a damphool at the same time than any one else he ever knew.

page, taken out of a column which bears the fantastic and metaphoric heading: "A sprinkle of Local Items dropped from the Passing Cloud. This shower precedes the Soaking Deluge of Happenings that breaks loose in the other columns." The first drop has reference to a man who was summoned for assaulting an officer:

Don't "sass" an officer. Ore shipments are increasing. Business is good at Three Forks.
There is Winter in the Sloom House. Several light snowfalls on the mountains. The "Little Daisy" will give a golden tinge to the camp.

Good ore has been found in the Franklyn.

It is E. C. Carpenter's pet.
We doubt whether there is a better opening in British Columbia for a bank than in Ne Denver.

From the number of fine bars just completed, and others in course of construction, it is evident that the outlook for the local whisky market is good.

THE FIRST BABY.—The first birth in New

The First Bary.—The first birth in New Denver occurred last Saturday. It is a boy, and calls Mr. and Mrs. Shannon papa and mamma. May he live to be mayor of the city when we have a population of 50,000 people. Davenport & Co., of Portland, Or., owners of the Dardanelles, have twelve or fourteen men employed taking out ore for shipment. The ore shipped from this mine last year went over 350 ounces in silver.

At lest the sale of the Silver King (a mine

At last the sale of the Silver King [a mine in the Nelson District] to a wealthy Scotch company has been completed, and an engineer in the employ of the purchasers will soon visit the mine for the purpose of deciding on improvements to be made preparatory to working it.

It only remains to be added, in case our readers are curious to know where New Denver is, that it is in the Slocan district, and that the Slocan silver mining district lies upon the east side of Lake Slocan, which is a beautiful sheet of water, from one to two miles wide and about thirty miles long. It is set in the midst of the Selkirk range of mountains and is about equally distant from Arrow lake -a widening of the Columbia river-and Kootenay lake—an estuary of the Kootenay river, which is the principal branch of the Columbia river in British Columbia.

New Denver is the centre of a new and rich silver mining section. "All the mines are near it. It is a new town, just started, and already has large hotels that would be a credit to a city of ten thousand inhabitants, stores, shops, factories, sawmills, etc., but it needs many new enterprises." The Prospector adds that "Over a thousand tons of ore will be shipped from the Washington this fall. The Idaho, Mountain Chief, Mountain Boomer and half-a dozen others are contributing. The estimate of the combined output is three thousand tons, or three times that of last year."

BOOKS RECEIVED.

Very dainty coloring indeed is that of the attractive lithographs of cottages in the east and west, published in the Architects & Builders' supplement to the Scientific American for October. There are also illustrations in plain black and white of numbers of others in this well-known journal, including an Italian country house and the workingman's model home at the N. Y. State exhibit in the Chicago Fair. The number is otherwise interesting SUPERIOR, Wisconsin .- Such is the title of an illustrated pamphlet of 150 pages, with maps, perspective views, and lithographs of a place which illustrates in a remarkable way the sudden growth of some western towns. And here are some dewdrops from the front This place, at the extreme west end of Lake Superior, had in 1854 a population of 2,500, and after the panic year, 1857, the people drew away, and "there were not left in the entire county of Douglas 600 people. Of these the war of the rebellion drew away more than half, and the city slept for twenty years." However, in the spring of 1880 John H. Hammond appeared and worked up a "boom," the place took new life, a big company built coal wharves, railway approaches, mills, elevators, and now the west end of the city alone, we are told, contains 25,000 people. The capital stock of the Land & River Improvement Co., founded in 1883, was $700,000. The property of this company is now estimated worth $17,500,000. The number of vessels arrived and cleared at Superior last year was 1,940, with an aggregate tonnage of 2,496,000 tons.

INSURANCE NOTES.

A St. John paper stated last week that a well-known insurance agent in Halifax, Mr. Stephen Tobin, had been removed from the position of agent of the Queen Insurance Company in that city. The reason for this step has not been made known. No one is disposed to attribute wrong doing to Mr. Tobin, but there is ground for the belief that he is behind in his accounts to a considerable sum. The over-draft is said to extend over a number of years. Mr. Tobin has not been about the Queen office since last month. We learn from the Halifax Chronicle of the 7th instant that Mr. E. F. Doyle has resigned the agency of the Imperial Insurance Co., limited, to take the position of assistant resident secretary of the Queen Insurance Co. in that city. Mr. J. F. Kenny has been appointed general agent of the "Imperial" in his stead.

Announcement is made by the Union Mutual Life Insurance Company directors that they have unanimously made a re-organization of the official staff of the company, to take effect 1st November next, as under: Fred E. Richards, president; Josiah H. Drummond, solicitor; Arthur L. Bates, vice president; J. Frank Lang, secretary: Samuel S. Boyden, actuary, and assistant secretary; Thomas A. Foster, medical director. Mr. Bates has also been elected a director to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the former president. The gentleman chosen to succeed the able and much lamented John E. Dewitt is the Hon. Fred E. Richards, president of the Portland National Bank, and formerly State Bank examiner, a director of the company since 1881. He has served ever since as a member of the finance committee, and taken an active part in the management of the business of the company. The other gentlemen have also been many years with the company.

A meeting of the accident assurance com panies of Canada was held lately in Montreal At this meeting there were introduced and adopted a number of needed reforms. We sion of time from his creditors. Not being understand that a permanent organization was able to carry out its terms he proposes a com-effected, and the minimum for $1,000 was fixed at $5, the commission to agents remaining at 25 per cent. A penalty of $500 will be imposed upon members for any infringement of the rules and regulations. These reforms will come into effect after Nov. 1st.

ADDITIONAL SUMMARY.

M. E. BROUGHTON & Co., general storekeepers, Arden, Man., were slow in meeting their payments and a meeting of creditors has been called. An explanation showed circumstances which they could not control; this was deemed satisfactory and an extension of one year granted. The firm show a good surplus.-The bailiff has closed the grocery store of Montgomery & Co., Brandon.—An extension of eighteen months has been granted Corbett & Co., dealers in clothing, etc., at Winnipeg. The firm owe $15,000 and have a nominal surplus of $7,000. - Last autumn Wm. Lindsay, grocer at Hamiota, got into trouble and transferred the business to his wife. Since then she has got behind in her payments, and when sued she assigns.——Another failure is that of T. A. Warrnken, agent for implements at Morden. Several writs have been issued against him, and it is evident that he has been slow pay. --- At Vancouver, D. A. Matheson, logger, finds that judgments of $3,000 have accumulated during the past three weeks. Besides this his plant is mortgaged, and now he assigns.

THE book debts of Cooper & Smith, wholesale boot and shoe dealers in Toronto, have been assigned to E. R. C. Clarkson and the stock will be sold to-day .-- A compromise has been made with the creditors of E. W. Cole, liquor dealer here, who pays 65 per cent. of his claims. -- In December, 1888, the firm of Livingston & Johnson, wholesale clothiers, dissolved, Mr. L. M. Livingston retiring with about $100,000 assets. Of this sum nearly $60,000 was invested in the Campbell block, Toronto Junction. This, with other somewhat similar investments, has completely crippled him, and now he assigns to E. R. C. Clarkson. Mrs. J. Saurin McMurray also assigns to the same party.---Another coal dealer in trouble is F. H. Thompson, who has been sued for $32,000 by the Ontario Coal Company, and now assigns. Unsecured creditors need not expect a dividend. —L. C. Callaghan & Co. succeeded to the old business of J. W. Tenner & Co. after their failure last May, they assuming in the purchase a mortgage held by John Macdonald & Co., which is now being foreclosed .-- The Williamson Book Co. are now offering their creditors 50 per cent.

THREE years ago A. B. Barron started a planing mill at Mitchell, but could not make any money. Realizing this fact, he endeavored to make a sale of the property. Not finding a buyer, his only resort was to assign, which he has done.——In Dec., 1888, R. Wilson, a harnessmaker, at Norwood, assigned with liabilities of $1,000. This was compromised for $350. Notwithstanding the apparent surplus this gave him, he has not been successful; the chief reason of his trouble is personal neglect of business. He again assigns. --- Grant & Shipley succeeded the firm of Gunn & Grant, in the spring of 1889, as general storekeepers, at Ailsa Craig. They were supposed to be doing fairly well, but now assign to W. A. Campbell, with liabilities of $7,600. Their oreditors will meet on Tuesday next.

A short time ago John F. Wear, cigar manufacturer at Windsor, obtained an extenpromise.—A year ago or more Theodore Bourassa removed his small stock of groceries from Dover South into Chatham, but says that he has not made any money; although in August last he claimed to have a surplus of $4,000 or $5,000, he now assigns.—G. & R. Burns, clothiers in London, are in trouble and offering creditors 50 per cent. on liabilities in the neighborhood of $30,000.---Jonathan Ellis, who has a knitting mill in Port Dover and Janesville, Wisconsin, is involved in the latter place and the business there has been attached.

-According to a decision granted by Judge Mnir in Hamilton a few days ago, in the case of Rolph v. Crooker, it is of the first importance that merchants should know something about the quality of seed they sell. In a suit to recover $48 damages, on account of a mistake made by the defendant in supplying rape seed to (the plaintiff instead of turnip seed, the defendant alleged that he had purchased the seed for turnip seed from a firm in Hamilton, but the judge did not think that exonerated him, and gave judgment for $27 for the plaintiff. This was based on an estimate of 300 bushels of turnips at nine cents a bushel. It is said the farmers in the vicinity of Waterdown lost nearly $900 by purchasing this seed. This is said to be a test case.

-The trans-Atlantic shipments of cheese from Montreal this season have not as yet reached the proportions of 1892. Last week was a heavy one. A single Bristol steamer took 43,000 boxes, and the week's exports were 16,900 boxes, while the total for the season reached 1,192,000 boxes, while in the corresponding week of last year there were 81,400 boxes shipped, and in the whole season 1,340,000 boxes. There is now only a difference of an eighth of a cent [per pound between best Quebec and best Ontario cheese in the Montreal market.

-A branch of the Bank of Montreal is being opened at Deseronto, Ont. This, we understand, is under the management of Mr. F. J. Rogers, lately manager of the same bank at Almonte.

-In the article on "Gambling in Stocks," published in last week's issue, the name of the broker employed to purchase shares for Mr. Ostigny was wrongly printed Lacoste. The broker's name is Forget.

The Molsons Bank, Montreal, 3rd October, 1893.

The president formally moved the adoption of the report, at the same time inviting the shareholders present to make any remarks, if they desired to do so.

The motion was seconded by Mr. R. W. Shepherd, vice-president.
Mr. John Crawford asked a number of questions, which were subsequently replied to by the president. In the course of some lengthy observations, he said that looking back at the business of the banks of this country, Canadians had reason to felicitate themselves upon the excellent record which had been scored. He thought that the record which our banks generally had made throughout the Dominion had been very satisfactory. This state of affairs he attributed to the conservative policy adopted by Canadian banks, a policy which had brought about a feeling of confidence on the part of the shareholders as well as on the part of the public He believed that without such confidence no bank could be successful, for no bank could afford to disregard the confidence of the public.

The President—If nobody else wishes to say anything, I will endeavor to reply to some en-quiries. The first question was one having reference to the bonus. When we have had exceptionally good years we have given a bonus. exceptionally good years we have given a bonus, when we have not made so much we have not given any. Last year our earnings were larger than this, and one was given; the earnings of this year not being so large, it has been omitted. We have, however, paid a dividend of 8 per cent., which, I think, should be reasonably satisfactory to the shareholders. We have earned 11 per cent it is true, and we have not from that the shareholders. We have earned 11 per cent. it is true, and we have put from that amount $50,000 to our Rest account, making amount $50,000 to our rees account, making it $1,200,000; and we have added $10,000 to the rebate on current notes discounted, making it $60,000, and it may probably be added to from time to time, if it is thought advisable. The possession of a Rest account means funds kept there for safety against any unusually bad times, and I think it is a great benefit; it bad times, and I think it is a great benefit; it gives stability, for the shareholders see, instead of merely the paid-up capital, that they have something to fall back upon, and it has, in many instances, been of great value to banks that have had it. There was never any promise made during the four years that I have been president of this board, nor by any previous president, that we would state what the losses have been during the year. If any good reason can be shown for such a step I would like to know it. I have never heard an argument advanced showing the smallest percentage of reason why it should be done. What good would it do? I have asked that question, and I never got an answer. We have made ample provision for bad and doubtful debts. We would like to see a larger number of our friends present, but if they are satisfied that there is nothing to complain of and stay away, I think no objection can be made. Every man is master of his own time, and if he has confidence, or want of confidence he will stay away or attend accordingly. That, I think, may account for the indifference of shareholders in attending annual meetings.

The motion for the adoption of the report was then unanimously agreed to.

Mr. W. D. McLaren moved :-

"That the thanks of the shareholders are due and are hereby tendered to the president, vice-president and directors of the bank for their attention to its interests during the year just closed."

This was seconded by Mr. D. Crawford, and unanimously concurred in.

The President—On behalf of myself and the directors, I thank you. We have endeavored to the best of our ability to make the bank successful, and I hope in the future, as in the past, we shall not be disappointed in that

At a subsequent meeting of the directors Mr. J. H R. Molson was re-elected president, and Mr. R. W. Shepherd vice-president.

THE LONDON AND CANADIAN LOAN AND AGENCY COMPANY, LIMITED.

The twentieth annual meeting of the above The twentieth annual meeting of the above company was held at the company's offices, 103 Bay street, Toronto, on Wednesday, 11th inst., the President, Sir W. P. Howland, in the chair. Among those present were the following: Col. Sir Carimir S. Gzowski, Rev. Dr. Warden (Montreal), Rev. Dr. Moffatt, Dr. Larratt W. Smith, Q.C., Col. Sweny, and Messrs. T. R. Wadsworth, C. E. Hooper, John Scott, C. S. Gzowski, Donald Mackay, David Higgins, David MoGee, R. D. Moffatt, M.D., Higgins, David McGee, R. D. Moffatt, M.D., Jacob Moerschfelder, George Robinson, E. J. Hobson, Frank Arnoldi, Q.C., and O. A. Howland. The following report was submitted to the meeting and duly adopted:

REPORT.

The directors beg to submit to the shareholders the twentieth annual report of the company, together with relative accounts to the 31st August, 1893.

Applications for loans were received during the year to the amount of $2,394,772, on pre-perty estimated as worth $4,769,971; and loans were approved and effected to the extent of $575,725.60, on property valued by the company's own appraisers at $1,183,723.

The debentures and certificates of the company issued and renewed during the year amounted to $736,846.59, making a net increase of $181,045.93 since last report.

The revenue account, after all in-terest and charges have been deducted and all ascertained losses written off, shows a balance

.$77.829 01

There remains a balance of.....$20,870 24 Of which $15,000 has been added to the company's "Reserve Fund" and $5,870.24 is carried forward at the credit of "Revenue Account" to next year.

During the greater part of the year just ended your directors had considerable difficulty in selecting safe investments at remunerative rates, and in consequence ceased which our active agents in Edinburgh had been sending us. The indications point to a stiffening of rates and our prospects of securing desirable mortgage loans during the coming year are improved.

An increase of $115,823.82 will be noticed in the item of municipal and other negotiable debentures, your directors having taken advantage of the general stringancy in the money markets to use the company's surplus funds awaiting investment in purchasing of funds awaiting investment in purchasing at favorable rates some choice securities of this

Payment of interest on mortgages in Ontario has been fairly well met, and is nearly up to the average, notwithstanding that the very low prices for farm produce which have ruled during the year disposed the farmers to hold for higher figures. company has received payment of a larger amount of interest from that province this year than any previous year of its history.

As usual, all ascertained losses have been written off. The amount has been considerably augmented by the irrecoverable costs in an important lawsuit, which had to be easied to the Privy Council, where the company's position was upheld. The importance to investors, loan companies and banks of the principles involved in this decision cannot be over-estimated. over-estimated.

The Manikuba crop of this season has been safely harvested, and the quality of the wheat crop is generally good. In some districts the yield has been light, but the general average has been satisfactory. AUDITORS' CERTIFICATE.

To the President and Directors of the London and Canadian Loan and Agency Company,

Gentlemen,—We have completed the annual audit of the books and accounts of the company for the year ending 31st August, 1893, and have found them correct, and the cash bal-ances to agree with the bankers' books.

We have also examined the company's statement of "Assets and Liabilities" and "Revenue Account," have compared them with the ledger balances and found them correct.

The mortgages, debentures, and other securities have been carefully examined. They agree with the schedule submitted to us, and with their respective entries in the ledger.

The "Loans on call or short date on debentures and securities" have been valued at their respective market prices, and we find that the amounts advanced on them are amply

TOO MUCH CREDIT ALL ROUND.

Editor MONETARY TIMES:

SIR,—You pretty often tell the country storekeeper that he gives too much credit. I have read many a good sermon in the pages of THE MONETARY TIMES on this subject.

I don't know as you have got to the root of the matter, though. It seems to me that you want to go a little further. If nobody but the storekeeper gave credit, we could find it easier to refuse credit to our customers. But we are in the current of the stream, and it seems as though we have to go with it. I am not sure whether the cure of the trouble ought to begin with those behind us or those ahead of us.

But I confess I don't hardly see how the retail storekeeper can cure it.

It is quite true that credit is too cheap, as you keep on telling us from time to time, but you blame us storekeepers too much for it, I think. The butcher and the baker give credit as well as we do; the blacksmith credits the farmer for horse-shoeing, the saddler waits on him for pay for his harness, the tinsmith for his milk-pans, the tavern-keeper has his chalk marks or whatever marks he keeps for "tick;" marks or whatever marks he keeps for "tick;" the doctor is not able to collect his bills more than once a year. Even the printer gives oredit for his paper. So what are we to do about it? Is nobody to blame but us?

THE CANADIAN HOG CROP.

Advices from the chief hog sections west and north of Toronto state that owing to the profitable nature of hog raising last season, farmers are paying especial attention to this industry, having raised large quantities, which will come upon the market during the coming will come upon the market during the coming winter. Owing to the low prices of corn, farmers say there is more money in turning it into pork than selling it. Fat hogs were, no doubt, the best paying product that the farmer had last year, and if it does not prove so this year, it will not be because of a shortage in the crop. There are potentialities in Canada for hog production which cannot be accurately ganged, and there is little doubt that in this gauged, and there is little doubt that in this respect, as well as in butter and cheese, and corn and eggs, she has a bright future. At present she has not had too much encouragement to proceed from the mother country.— National Provisioner.

PRICES FOR SERMONS.

Much has been said of the practice of buying Much has been said of the practice of buying and selling sermons, a practice, by the way, of no very special novelty. Just before Toplady was about to be ordained, Osborne, the bookseller, the friend of Johnson, offered to supply him with a stock of original sound sermons for a trifle. "I would sooner buy second-hand clothes," was the reply. "Don't be offended," said Osborne, "I have sold many to a bishop." The price of sermons, as of all else, has varied with the times. In 1540 a Bishop of Llandaff received from the churchwardens of St. Margaret's, Westminster, for a sermon on the Annunciation, a pike, price 2s. 4d., a gallon of wine, 8d., and boat hire—in all 3s. 4d.

—During the eight months ending August, 1892, the United States bought in England over 588,600 yards of carpet, valued at $424,448. For the corresponding period of the present year 397,600 yards were imported, the value of which was $331,356. In the matter of exports the year of 1892 showed a considerable increase over 1891, but unless a material increase in the English carpet trade takes place during the next three months, 1893 is likely to show the smallest importation of British carpets that the United States has made for a long time. long time.

—A few days ago a car marked "perishable goods" passed over the M. C. R. with a freight train going west. Four men, armed with Winchester rifles, were in the car guarding $450,000 in gold that was shipped from New York. Way bills for goods which the car was supposed to contain were properly made out, and none of the train hands had any suspicion of the neat scheme the railroad people were working. people were working.

—Nearly the entire catch of the Victoria sealing fleet will be offered for sale in London at the sales there this month. Aside from the small number of contracts made before the vessels left port, very few skins changed hands on the coast. There were no skins left on the market effectives and prices should nature. on the coast. There were no skins left on the market after last year, and prices should naturally be good, but the future of the industry furnishes the element of uncertainty.

—The exports of gypsum during the quarter ended September 30th, says the Windsor, N.S., Tribune, amounted to 47,411 tons, of which 38,846 were from Windsor and 8,565 from Cheverie. The total value of exports to the United States from this consular district during the quarter exceeded $140,000, from Windsor alone more than $50.000. sor alone more than $50,000.

METALS AND HARDWARE .- Trading in these lines is just of a moderate, not to say quiet character. Cable quotations of Scotch war character. Cable quotations of Scotch war rants continue about even at 42/3d., and makers' prices are precisely the same as last week. Local quotations for iron are practi-cally unchanged, and little interest seems to be evinced in the state of the market; it is thought prices of domestic brands would be shaded for a fair lot. Wool.—Importers say that business has of late been unusually dull. It is reported that 9,000 bales Australian wool was offered on American account at the London sales, which closed last Saturday at pretty steady figures, due to the comparatively small quantity put up and the good continental demand. A few small sales of Cape are reported here at 14 to 15½c. No Natal in stock here, and very little Australian; outside a little scoured at 31c. DRY Goods.—Trade has been good, but the continued warm weather has delayed the movement of heavier goods. Values on the whole are steady. In the silk market buyers are commencing to place their orders for next spring. Prices show advancing tendencies, but dealers do not expect any such marked change in prices as occurred last year. Brown serges are scarce, those between a golden brown and a mid-brown being in special de-mand. The market is also none too well supplied with velveteens and braids.

It would appear that the tendency to do away with middle men has the tendency to do away with middle men has had the effect of creating great variations in prices throughout the country. GROCERIES -Trade with Toronto wholesale GROCERIES—Trade with Toronto wholesale grooery houses has been fairly active during the week. New currants have arrived and are now on sale; we quote: Provincial, 4 to 4$0.; Filiatras, 5 to 5$\frac{1}{2}c.$; Patras, 5$\frac{1}{2}to 6c.$; Vostizz, 7 to 7$\frac{1}{2}o.$ These prices are much lower than those of last year. But little or none of the old fruit remains on hand. As the preserving season draws towards a close the demand for sugars becomes less active and a smaller quantity has been moved this and a smaller quantity has been moved this week. Refiners are still behind in their orders, but the scarcity, it is expected, will not last long. Syrups and molasses find an increased movement. Teas are moving fairly well; the demand is a general one and hard to well; the demand is a general one and hard to specialize; some extra fine Moyune and Young Hyson teas have been placed on the market. An increased enquiry for canned goods is taking place; values are unchanged; contradictory reports reach us concerning the season's pack; the general impression, however, is that the pack of some vegetables has been rather on the light side.

HIDES AND SKINS .- There is no change in hides: dealers continue to pay 40. for green, while cured are selling readily at 440. per lb. Calfskins remain quiet. In sheepskins, the recent advance is maintained; city skins sell readily; offerings from the country are unusually larger; dealers here have received supplies from the United States, and so fewer haves have here in the country. supplies from the United States, and so fewer buyers have been in the country; as a result stocks there have accumulated. Tallow is scarcer; prices are firm with an upward tendency, dealers paying 5c., and asking 5\frac{3}{2}c. per lb.; the movement for the most part, however, consists of small lots.

Leather.—Values are steady. With country jobbers trade in Spanish soles is good; manufacturers, however, are making limited demands; some shipments have gone forward to England. A fair call for slaughter exists; heavy weights are most in demand. There is neavy weights are most in demand. There is little or no enquiry for upper leather; tanners are not making much since lighter and fancy leathers in calf and buff are replacing this stock. A fair amount of business is being done in hemlock calf. Some shipments of splits have been sent to England.

Provisions.—A fair, seasonable trade is doing. An active demand for good butter exists, while receipts are limited; large rolls are while receipts are limited; large rolls are commencing to come in and sell at 190. per lb. Cheese is firmer, quoted at 11 to 11½0. per lb.; the local demand is good. Higher prices are paid for eggs, which stand quoted at 16 to 17c. But little is doing in dried and evaporated apples. The hop market stands in a peculiar position, views of buyers and sellers being apart; growers are asking 17 to 20c.; buyers had expected to take the crop at 15 to 16c., and so few or no transactions have taken 16c., and so few or no transactions have taken

Wool.—We can see no change in the situation. The foreign demand for fleece is almost nil, while the local mills are taking but small quantities. Values throughout remain steady. quantities. Values throughout remain steady. Dealers look forward with interest to proposed combing, 17 to 18c.; clothing, 20c.; pulled, combing, 17 to 18c.; super, 20 to 21c.; extra, 24 to 261c. per lb.

BRITISH MARKETS.

Messrs. J. Lewenz & Hauser's London tea letter of 29th Sept., says:—The country trade has again this week been active, and the offerings at the Indian and Ceylon sales were taken ings at the Indian and Ceylon sales were taken very readily, at fully last week's enhanced rates. But the enquiry for export has not been quite so good as before. Among Indian teas, Darjeelings and Assams showed some improvement in quality, and Ceylons also were again fairly satisfactory. Arrivals of China tea showed no particular increase in the proportion of common redleaf Congou, but common blackleaf was in rather better supply. common blackleaf was in rather better supply, while Oolongs and also green teas have come forward more freely. Of Java teas there were no new offerings.

At auction the catalogues contained the following totals for the week:— China teas, 9,663 packages, viz.: 3,071 Congou and Schg., 4,075 scented and Oolong, and 2,517 green. Indian teas, 43,284 packages. Ceylon teas, 19,810 packages.

Comparisons Challenged.

In a pamphlet recently issued the Canada Life makes a comparison of "Expenses to income," but emits to say that the income credited to the Great-West Life only iccludes premiums on less than its first three months' business, and that the expenses named include the whole organisation expenses and cost of supplies as well as the ordinary expenses.

A comparative ratio, interesting particularly to new insurants, is published in "The Life Insurance Policy-holders Pocket Index" for 1898, issued by the "Spectator" Company of New York. It gives the following figures under head of "Expenses and tars to new business": Canada Life, 5.33%. The Great-West Life, 1.54%, and under same head, after allowing for care of old business, Canada Life, 9.73%. These figures are taken from sworn statements to Canadian Government.

If the Canada Life will consent to open its books to an impartial competent actuary to make comparisons with the results attained by the Great-West Life for a similar period, all the expenses of such a report will be paid by this company, including the expenses of publishing it in all the leading papers.

Embraces some of the most desirable features in Life Insurance, maturing as it does in full at death, or age 65, or at period when reserve and surplus combined shall amount to the sum assured. It is without restriction as regards residence, travel or occupation, is indisputable after the first year, and is the most convenient form of accumulation for old age ever devised.

LOCAL AGENTS AND ADJUSTERS.

Whenever a man who sustains a loss, be it small or great, shall be compelled to bear a portion of that loss, and understands that proposition when he secures his policy, then proposition when he secures his policy, then will the incendiary hesitate, and the honest man made to be careful. But this is a subject that properly falls within the province of the manager. It is said that "honesty is the best policy," but that fact, so far as we are concerned, may depend very largely upon the condition of the fire and policy departments. The efforts of the ablest adjusters are taxed to the utmost to reduce values to a cash basis, and often he is powerless to prevent the perpetration of fraud upon his companies. Men who supposedly would never apply the torch, often in case of damage losses, do not hesitate to try and enrich themselves at the expense of the companies. As in law and medicine, so with us. No one can be thoroughly expert in all branches of our business, and if proper results are to be obtained in the future, it will be when losses are handled by the professional adjuster, and careful and thorough investiga-tion given to each. For the practice of send-ing a large number of adjusters upon a loss where much time and attention are required, as is often the case, the companies are alone to blame, as this matter rests entirely in their Apart from the question of expense, which is necessarily great, a few must always do, as they always have done, the work, but it may be doubted if companies will ever make any radical change in this custom. I do not believe the local agent should ever be called upon to adjust losses, for it is hard for a man to serve two masters and satisfy both. It is difficult for him to reconcile his obligations to his customers with his duty to his companies.

—H. C. Stuart, before N. W. Ins. Association.

MEMOIR OF MR. W. S. B. WOOLHOUSE.

The lives of few men present so sharp a contrast between the theoretical and the practical as the very remarkable career which, as tical as the very remarkable career which, as we briefly announced last week, has been brought to a close by the death, at the advanced age of eighty-four, of Mr. Wesley Stoker Barker Woolhouse. As a mathematician Mr. Woolhouse leaves behind him a reputation limited only by the restrictions of the special department of science to which during the greater part of his life he devoted his unquestioned abilities; as an actuary, including in the term the various qualifications cluding in the term the various qualifications which go to make up an all-round insurance man, he leaves at the best a doubtful record. Singularly skilled in what we may call the theology of actuarial science, singularly defi-cient in the knowledge of its ethics, Mr. Woolhouse will be remembered as a man whom actuarial research could ill afford to have spared, and at the same time as one in whose career actuarial practice has to deplore some of the most indelible blots on its escutcheon. Regarding the science of life assurance almost as a religion—if we may judge from the zeal with which he devoted himself to its service he broke, perhaps, more of the commandments which it enjoins upon its professors than any man of the century. Such being the peculiar constitution of his mind—its strength and its weakness—we shall not be tempted to dwell upon his practical connection with insurance business, and in the brief remarks that follow refer rather to his purely scientific achieve-ments. An eminent mathematician Woolhouse undoubtedly was; a great one he might have been if chance had not turned aside his footsteps into the insurance world he was so little qualified to adorn -London Insurance Record.

ELECTROLYSIS.

Attention is called by the executive committee of the Underwriters' Electric Association to ground return wires of single trolley railways and their deteriorating effect on metallic substances through electrolysis. They say:—

This seems to be a subject deserving of a great deal of thought and attention on the part of underwriters. The destruction of water mains and other metallic substances in the ground is undoubtedly being accomplished in many places where trolley railroads are used. It is, of course, something that would seldom be brought to notice, until the work was completed, and the water main gives way perhaps just at the time when extra pressure is needed for fire-department purposes.

That work of deterioration is progressing has been definitely proved in a number of places. It was perhaps first prominently brought to the attention of street railroad men in the city of Boston, and the West End Street Railway Co. has expended thousands of dollars, and much time and thought, in providing against this trouble to the best of its ability, and it is believed that it has been largely overcome in this place.—Monitor.

THE SILVER PURCHASES BROUGHT THE PANIC.

The Monetary Times, Canada, a journal always sensible and dispassionate, declares that by the repeal of the silver-purchase law, effected virtually by the overwhelmingly large vote in the House of Representatives, the change to a better state of things became visible at once, not only in depressed and endangered United States trade and commerce, but in business of all kinds the world over. It seems strange that any one should have deemed prolonged purchases good for mine owners, miners, or any one except by the ruin of three-fourths of our people first, as a means of bringing in a Mexican condition of money, could make us supreme in trade and comfort a generation hence, when gold had left us and sound paper and silver came to par, having no competitor and few users, and a dead and stagnant level attained. The silver purchases have proved an oppressive tax right along, helping to bring on a panic ultimately by this very tax, a monstrous, unproductive, exhausting tax on the great majority of the States, and the injury, disappointment, and depression wont to come arose out of the bursting of the corner run to favor the process of the oppressive tax referred to. It is over, and with it is gone flat paper, the curse of all nations heretofore.—Rand-McNally Bankers' Monthly.

A FEW REMARKS ON CREDIT.

Always bear in mind that in trusting a man you are doing him a favor, and at the time a bill is due you have just as good a right to request him to settle as he has to request you to get the job done on time in the first place. Always set a time when a bill shall be paid. Indefinite credit is the worst of all evils. The more prompt a man can be made to pay the better customer he becomes. If a man proves to be poor pay, unreliable, etc., do not continue to accept his orders, thinking otherwise to offend him, but make some polite excuse that you are unable to do the work.

Never credit on the strength of personal acquaintance alone. A man may have a hearty grip, a winning smile, and tender conscience of a Young Men's Christian Association secretary, and yet never dream that your payroll comes around regularly on Saturday. He may have an eye of tender blue and wear the finest clothes; you may see the corner of a half-used check book sticking out of his pocket, and yet —never pay his bills. To summarize: When asked for credit, always investigate the man's previous standing, and get your information from the people who trusted him before. Always bear in mind: "The best criterion as to how a man will pay his bills is the way he has paid them."

Study this subject, and you will realize before you are too old to profit by it the value of cash on hand—the ghostlike, unreal, visionary value of book accounts.

THE ENDOWMENT ORDERS.

The endowment order craze by which so many persons in the Eastern States and in these lower provinces were swindled appears to have reached its end. The greater number of the orders have been wound up, to the great regret of the officers, who were the only beneficiaries. Within the last few weeks an object lesson in this mode of swindling people was given in Lowell, Mass., where the court official to whom was referred the case of certificate holders against the broken endowment order known as the Annual Friend, made his report of findings on the evidence taken before him. His report showed that the supreme officers took unduly large sums for salaries. The sureties on their bonds were worthless. Some of the officers bought up certificates in their private capacity for $40 each, and voted themselves $100 on each out of the treasury. In this way thousands of dollars disappeared. The referee found that Samuel Smith got $8,500 as salary; Haskell P. Staples got $14,000; James T. Wall over $12,000; Hubert P. Marr, $14,000; ex-Mayor Crawford of Lawrence got $8,000, but returned $2,000. He further found that Smith was entitled to $1,730; Wall, $2,800; Staples, $3,611; Marr, $3,611. He says that all in excess of these amounts taken by the ex-supreme officers must be returned to the order for the benefit of the certificate holders. In addition to his salary account, Staples overdrew his account $1,390.76. While these officers were thus pocketing the money with which they were entrusted, the gullible persons who had joined the order were living in the happy assurance that the investments they had made would in the course of a year be doubled in value. A sad feature of the endowment order swindle was, that the money taken came principally from industrious poor people, who were deluded by the prospect of fabulous profits, and who put the few dollars they possessed in the hands of the schemers. A regrettable fact, too, was that few of the persons concerned in the business met with the punishment they deserved at the hands of the law.—St. John Globe.

THE SUPPLY OF GOLD AND SILVER.

The acting director of the United States Mint, Mr. Preston, has prepared a table of the monetary systems and the approximate stocks of money in the aggregate and per capita in the principal countries of the world. This table shows that the aggregate stock of gold is $3,582,605,000; the aggregate stock of silver is $5,042,700,000, and the aggregate uncovered paper is $2,635,873,000. —A Victoria, B.C., exchange in a recent issue says: Several large shipments of seal-skins are being made over the C. P. R. and Allan line to London. This morning Hall, Goepel & Co. shipped a carload, as did Turner, Beeton & Co, and to morrow morning R. P. Rithet & Co. will forward three and one-half carloads.

—Many a man has been stumped when asked what is electricity. The next time the question is poked at you, answer that it is a commodity, for it is now manufactured and sold just like any other commercial product. All the conditions and cost of its production are like those of creamery butter or beef and mutton. It can be sent to a purchaser over a wire or in a storage battery, and delivered in quantity wanted with the same precision as calioo dress passes over a yard stick. It is a mysterious article and potent with force, but it is a commodity.
