ADVISES LAYING IN STOCK OF COAL

Head of Local Company Discusses Situation Brought About by Strike.

That the present deadlock between the miners and operators in the U. S. presented a very complex situation, and that there seemed to be no signs on the surface intimating an early settlement, was stated today by H. N. Stetson, president of the Consumers Coal Co. Asked about the supply of American anthracite in the city, Mr. Stetson produced a letter from the department of customs, Ottawa, showing imports into Saint John for the year ended March 31, 1925, of 48,449 tons, whereas only 28,859 tons, or a little over half, had come in from March 31 to October 1, 1925. This, he said, looked like a big shortage, as there seemed little chance of any more coming in if the strike lasted much longer, unless possibly some of the smaller sizes which have been unsaleable in the last two years at the mines, and if people were depending on this class of coal, he thought many would be disappointed.

CLEARED IN COURT BUT GUN IS KEPT

"Lying and Lurking" Charge is Explained Before Police Magistrate.

Leo Hannah and Roy White, were today charged with lying and lurking in Rock street. They were arrested as a result of a complaint of a woman who became frightened at their actions last evening. Policeman Killen testified that he met a woman with a baby in her arms in City Road who asked him to investigate the actions of two men behind her house. He watched the men and not been controlled to any extent. He seized this man and took hold of the other, who was Hannah. The latter, he said, endeavored to reach his hip pocket with his hand. The witness found an unloaded revolver in that pocket. He then placed both men under arrest. White asserted he was looking for a wrist watch he had lost. Hannah told him he was helping White search and that he was taking the gun to have it repaired. A man vouching for the good character of one of the defendants. The woman said she had returned home and noticed the light flashing and became frightened. She said that she had heard one man remark "That's her." Since then, she said, she had found out one of the men was keeping company with a friend of hers and she thought they might have mistaken her for the other young woman. Magistrate Henderson said that since they told a straightforward story which had not been contradicted to any extent, he would allow them to go. He declared, however, that the revolver would be forfeited.

Florida Real Estate Man Here Sees Field for Tourists

Suggests Wide Advertising to Make Good Things Better Known in U. S.

Isaac T. Cook, of St. Louis, president of Isaac T. Cook & Co. Inc., large real estate and development firm of that city, was in the city last night following a tour of parts of Nova Scotia with Mrs. Cook and their little daughter.

Speaking of his visit here, Mr. Cook declared that the Maritimes, with a little patience and a little more advertising behind them, would some day find themselves rediscovered in the same way in which Florida was recently rediscovered as a tourist's Mecca.

He came to Yarmouth with his wife and daughter in search of a rest following a particularly arduous period of business. From Yarmouth they motored to Truro and then went to Cape Breton. Speaking of the scenery on the way, Mr. Cook said last night that he had never seen anything like the riot of color presented in the leaves of the trees on the way.

He also commented highly on the hospitality of the people met, declaring they had been royally treated even by perfect strangers.

A SUMMER RESORT. In speaking of the tourist possibilities of this country, Mr. Cook suggested that he might interest himself in buying up land near some of the beautiful rivers and lakes of the Maritimes and in developing them into places where people from Florida, where he is president of a company building a city, would be able to spend from one to four or five months for a change of climate.

This is Mr. Cook's second visit to the Maritimes. In 1907 he landed in Yarmouth and walked from there to Digby with a friend, coming across the Bay of Fundy to Saint John. While in the city, he said last night, he purchased a Scottish fishing line from the late Charles Baillie and this time he visited the shop in order to get another like it and a set of sea flies. The line bought 18 years ago had been used many times, he said, and there was still a piece of it he had for bass fishing.

TOURIST TRAVEL. He and his family were the guests of Captain McKinnon, of the Prince George, on an automobile tour about Yarmouth when they landed there on Sept. 30. He had always regarded Yarmouth as a place of very little interest, he said, but on seeing it, he discovered it was beautiful.

Mr. Cook was highly enthusiastic about the prospects of great tourist travel to the Maritimes. He pointed to the parallel case of Florida. A year ago that state had less than 1,000,000 people. Now it had risen to about 2,000,000 and he believed it would have 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 in four or five years more.

The war had stopped travel to places farther away, such as California and Europe, he said, and the people of the eastern United States had started going to Florida. The result was that they had continued going there after the war from preference.

With its increasing number of permanent residents he thought a great many would seek some cooler climate for a portion of the year for the sake of their health and as a change. The

POLICE SEEK; CAMERA FINDS HER

White San Francisco police are hunting Mrs. Barbetta Hammell, former owner of a smart shop, who is charged with passing a worthless check, she and her two children are hiding in a tent near the city. There a newspaper photographer found her, as the picture above shows, but he refused to reveal her hiding place. In place of fashionable gowns, Mrs. Hammell is now wearing overalls. She says she needs only $1,000 to solve her check difficulties, but police state the amount is nearer $100,000.

Maritimes-provided a wonderful place to accomplish these purposes, he declared.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook and daughter will leave today for Quebec and Montreal before returning home. While here they were at the Admiral Beatty Hotel.

The fair is nearing a close. Ticket sellers and all others are urged to redouble their efforts during the next few days and then make prompt returns. UNANIMOUS CALL TO ST. MATTHEW'S

Rev. Dr. J. A. Morison Invited to Pastorate—Presbytery to Meet Next Week.

The congregation of St. Matthew's church at a largely attended congregational meeting last night extended a unanimous call to Rev. Dr. J. A. Morison. Not only did every member present heartily concur in the decision, but every one stood to mark their enthusiastic support of the motion. Rev. R. Moorhead Legate, interim moderator of the congregation, presided at the meeting. The call will come before a special meeting of the Saint John Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church of Canada on Wednesday of next week. Dr. Morison has been in charge of the St. Matthew's church since the last minister, Rev. J. W. Britton, left to take up his duties as minister in a Nova Scotia church.

Antigonish Boys Also Hear Lecture Course Given by W. R. Walsh.

William R. Walsh, news editor of the Telegraph journal, returned last night from Antigonish where he gave a course of lectures on journalism to the students of the upper classes at St. Francis Xavier University and Mount St. Bernard Convent and also coached the football team.

The college men publish a weekly paper, The Xaverian, of which a New Brunswick boy, Patrick O'Neill, of Moncton, is editor-in-chief, and James Nugent, of Saint John, business manager. In addition to his lectures, which were attended by the sophomores, juniors and seniors, Mr. Walsh had frequent conferences with the editorial staff of The Xaverian and assisted them in publishing the first issue this year.

The rugby squad Mr. Walsh, who captained the St. F. X. team in 1912, contains many new men with only three of last year's Maritime champions. The squad is perhaps under the average in weight for St. F. X., but includes several fast men. The team should give a good account of itself when it gets rightly under way and becomes more familiar with the game, he says.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Dependable Help to Mothers

Port Greville, N. S.—"I took your medicine for a terrible pain in my side and for weakness and headaches. I seemed to bloat all over, too, and my feet and hands were the worst. I am the mother of four children and I am nursing my baby—the first one of four I could nurse. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before the baby's birth, so you can see how much it helped me. I cannot praise it too highly for what it has done for me. I took all kinds of medicine, but the Vegetable Compound is the only one that has helped me for any length of time. I recommend it to any one with troubles like mine and you may use my letter for a testimonial."—Mrs. ROBERT McCULLLET, Port Greville, Nova Scotia.

Before and after childbirth the mother will find Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a blessing.

Many, many letters are received giving the same sort of experience as is given in this letter. Not only is the mother benefited, but these good results pass on to the child.

No harmful drugs are used in the preparation of this medicine—just roots and herbs—and it can be taken in safety by the nursing mother.

86 out of every 100 women reported benefit from it in a recent canvass among women users of this medicine.

Lascivious Dance Ban Still Stands

QUEBEC, Oct. 12.—The decree that the late Cardinal Beign established, putting a ban upon lascivious dances, still exists, declared Monsignor Laguerre, parish priest of St. Roch's, yesterday, in delivering a sermon upon dancing.

Monsignor Laguerre said that a belief existed that since the death of His Eminence Cardinal Beign the ban was no longer effective. But such was not the case, for the decree was still in force throughout the whole of Canada.

The dances that came under the ban included: The camel trot, the bunny hng, the check to check and the shimmy.

SHOWS THREE WAYS IN PASTRY MAKING

Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor Gives Demonstration at Women's Institute Meeting.

A practical demonstration of three ways of making pastry, given by Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor was one of the specially appreciated features of the meeting of the Saint John Women's Institute yesterday afternoon in the Health Centre. Mrs. T. N. Vincent, president, was in the chair and there was a good attendance of members. Two new members were welcomed.

Mrs. J. J. McDermott gave a five-minute paper on Lloyd George, as the programme called for a paper on an outstanding public man. Mrs. McDermott's paper called forth much complimentary comment.

Arrangements were made for assisting with the Health Centre tag day on Oct. 27 by forming a committee to take charge of the banks. Mrs. Vincent, who is one of the governors of the Health Centre and convener of the tag day, spoke of the benefits that the Health Centre has been to the community and referred specially to the great kindness of the dentists in giving their services daily to conduct the dental clinic.

Mrs. Richard Hooper informed the meeting that because of the new freight rate on holly this Christmas Canadian holly from the west would be on sale here. In other years United States holly had been imported. The members undertook to buy the native holly in preference to the imported article.

The Spirit of Leadership

FOR leadership, for knowledge, for wealth, or for sheer glory of achievement, Britons have penetrated the furthest parts of the earth. But no place is so remote that ENO's "Fruit Salt" does not reach it. All over the world Britons unite in the time-proved practice of drinking ENO first thing every morning. ENO promotes inner cleanliness in the way intended by Nature. For sheer goodness, purity, pleasant taste and safety, ENO's "Fruit Salt" has no parallel. It is indisputably the leader.

ENO contains no flavouring matter, no sugar, no purgative mineral salts. It is mild and gentle in action and unlike some of the drastic aperients, does not form an undesirable habit, but can be taken at any time with perfect safety by young and old alike.

FREIGHT RATES.

Mr. F. C. Cornell, the expert engaged to prepare the Maritime's case with respect to freight rates for presentation to the Board of Railway Commissioners, has completed his preliminary work with the assistance of a strong committee of Maritime business men and has forwarded to the Commission a statement of the basis of Maritime claims.

That because of the peculiar geographical position, limited markets, scattered population and nature of our products, the Commission should give special attention to transportation rates for and from the Maritime Provinces in order that we may participate equally in the general growth and prosperity of the Dominion;

INSTEAD of having their photographs taken, some women are having masks made of their faces in the studio of Mr. Charles Herman, the French sculptor. He has made over 16,000 of them.

When Mr. Herman was a little boy, he related, he played about in the Parisian workshop of Rodin, the famous sculptor. The first mask he ever made was of the face of the little girl who came to clean the tools. Rodin inspired him to make a figure of Christ, which has brought him fame.

"In London," he said, "this figure was seen by several South Americans, who prophesied that if I took it to Buenos Ayres I would be a millionaire in two months! But I never got there."

"I showed my figure all over Brazil. It became famous, and I couldn't get away. I worked in bronze and marble as well as in plaster and petrified rubber. In the fighting during the revolution over there, my five buildings were destroyed."

In his early days Mr. Herman made several masks of Liszt, and one of Richard Wagner, which he still treasures. One of the latest celebrities to have a mask made of their features is Miss Beatrice Lillie (Lady Peel).

"The process I have invented for making the masks," he confided, "remembers face massage. I have a mixture of gypsum, chloride of calcium, and ether over the face, and when I am at work I continue to talk so that my clients forget their surroundings and look natural. Afterwards I lay on the plaster and melt off the first mixture. I can then make as many copies of the face as I wish in a special kind of Brazilian wax."

"Oh, yes," replied the employer, without glancing up from a letter he was reading.

"Well, hurry up and kiss me, then," was the startling rejoinder; "I want to get to work."

RUSSIA, GERMANY SIGN TRADE PACT

Is First Soviet Agreement With Capitalistic Country—Bordering States Unaffected.

MOSCOW, Oct. 12.—A trade treaty between Soviet Russia and Germany has been concluded on the principle of most favored nation treatment. The privileges granted by Germany to the entire countries under the Versailles Treaty will not, however, be taken as a basis, nor will the privileges Russia has granted the bordering states. The treaty is based on the principles of the Rapallo agreement. Its significance, prominent government officials say, rests on the fact that this is the first Soviet agreement with a capitalistic country which fully solves the problem of economic relations between countries with such different economic systems.

ARE GRANTED THREE MONTHS FOR REPLY

Chicago and Illinois to Answer Charge on Michigan Water Diversion.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The Supreme Court of the United States has ruled that Chicago and the State of Illinois, may have until January 4, next, to make answer in the proceedings begun by Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio and Pennsylvania, to prevent diversion of water for drainage purposes from Lake Michigan. Chicago and the State of Illinois had asked for six months to answer in the proceedings and the fact that the court gave them less than three, is taken to indicate that the court is not disposed to allow the matter to drag along. Further, the court has ruled that the proceedings begun by the complainants, may be carried on. Michigan is soon expected to file its separate suit in which it is said the state will take the stand that Congress cannot authorize diversion for drainage purposes.

Should Two Engagements Be Broken in Order That One Couple Be Happy?—Weighing the Faults and Virtues of a Possible Husband.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a girl of 22, engaged to a wonderful man. I thought I loved him, but recently I have met another man who has made me realize that I never loved my fiancé at all—that all I gave him was a friendly liking that is as different from love as alcohol is from cream.

Strangely enough, this other man was also engaged, and he, too, finds that what he thought was love was just friendship, and that I married the woman he cares for, his predestined mate.

What shall we do? Shall we break the engagements to those who have trusted us and who love us, and marry each other? Or shall we sacrifice our love and marry those to whom we are betrothed? WORRIED LOVERS.

ANSWER:

Break your engagements and marry the one you love. There is no question about that being the right thing to do under the circumstances. For there is no hell worse than that of an unequal marriage, in which one party loves and the other is cold and indifferent, and you have no right to drag a fellow creature into that.

DOROTHY DIX.

So I say, if you are on the very steps of the altar and realize that your feelings have changed, and that you no longer care for the one that you are about to swear to love as long as life lasts, it is better to turn back than to go on and prejudice your soul by taking a vow that it is impossible for you to keep.

In olden times, it used to be considered the heroic thing for disillusioned men and women to go on and marry the ones to whom they were betrothed, no matter how distasteful their fiancés had become to them nor how much they had come to care for some one else. This was considered a noble gesture and furnished the theme of innumerable pathetic novels and poems.

For no man or woman can keep up the pretense of being in love for a lifetime. No man or woman is so stupid as not to know when a wife or husband is indifferent and when he or she is endured instead of cherished. And of all intolerable positions under the sun, the worst is that of the unwanted wife or husband who has been married for pity.

A broken engagement may not be a pretty thing, but it is not the horror that a wretched life is no ruined home in it, no orphaned little children, no scandal and no shame. The wounds are surface ones that soon heal, but an unhappy marriage with an unloved man or woman scars the very soul.

So don't hesitate about breaking an engagement if you have ceased to love the one you are betrothed to and have come to love somebody else. Let all concerned thank God that you found out about your change of feeling in time. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a girl of 16, and have a boy friend who begs me to marry him in two years' time. His good points are: Truthfulness, good looks, ambitious, has saved some money, has plenty of friends, my parents approve of him.

His bad points are: He is three inches shorter than I; does not want me to go to college; does not want me to get nice to other boys; jealous; quick tempered; always wants to be kissing; seldom agrees with me about anything; cannot dance; cannot talk to other girls; will not take me to places where I would have a good time; monopolizes me too much; has not the line the boys of today need. MAIDEN.

What do you think of him?

ANSWER:

Not much. From your summary of his qualities, it seems to me that his faults far outweigh his virtues, and that he is selfish, inconsiderate of you, argumentative and dictatorial. He does not want you to study and improve yourself or to go about and enjoy yourself, and he would make the sort of husband who thinks it is enough happiness for any woman just to be married to him and make him comfortable.

But, my dear little girl, don't think of tying yourself down at 16, or even 18, to any man. At that age you have no real idea of what kind of a husband you will want when you are 21 or 22 than you have what kind of a hat you will want, and the sort that you pick out when you are 18 you wouldn't have then on a bet. Let me follow your own formula and say:

The points in favor of an early marriage are:

The idea that it is romantic; the fun and fuss of a wedding; showing off your engagement ring; the gratification of a childish dream.

The points against it are:

Losing all your playtime for life. Having to stay home and keep house, when you want to be running around with the other boys and girls. Cooking, cleaning, babies. The certainty that your taste will change, and that you will get tired of the boy you marry. The danger of meeting some man when you are grown with whom you will fall in love.

It doesn't pay, my dear. Don't do it. DOROTHY DIX. (Copyright by Public Ledger Company.)

Trinity Y. W. Guild Resumes Meetings

Trinity Church Young Women's Guild opened its new season last night and the members attended services in the church before the business meeting. Rev. C. Gordon Lawrence, pastor, conducted the service and gave a short address. Miss Dorothy Robinson, president, was in the chair for the business meeting and welcomed the members.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting on Oct. 26, and it was planned that at the annual meeting the Guild would endow a day in the Pickett Memorial Fund in memory of the late Mrs. Anne Orr, who had been the faithful Dorcas secretary of the Guild for several years. It was decided to add a tea and sale later in the season if the date was not fixed.

Reports of a busy month of nursing care were received at the meeting of the directors of the Victorian Order of Nurses held yesterday afternoon in the Health Centre with L. W. Simms, president, in the chair. A new arrangement has been put in force for the calling of the nurse on night duty since the V. O. nurses are not living in residence. The new plan of having the nurses' registry receive all night calls is working out admirably.

DAILY MOVIE SERVICE Jack Holt Regains Popularity

By RUSSELL J. BIRDWELL. HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 12.—As the big, honest gentlemen of the great open spaces, Jack Holt has found a forte for himself. For a while the cinema gods who were controlling the destiny of Jack found fit to place him in such namby-pamby parts that he began slipping from the popularity that had been his. Now that they have changed their film tactics Jack has again mounted the pedestal of public favor. Holt, by his continuous playing in western roles, and especially those of Zane Grey's creation, has now become thoroughly identified with the "land of sagebrush."

"I like this out-of-door stuff," says Jack. "I am primarily of the open existence, any way. One can be a great deal more natural, garbed in the riggings of a cow-boy or a gent of the wide plains."

"The only thing I dislike about these western pictures is that location trips keep me away from home too much. I've almost turned out to be a traveling salesman. Last year I was away from my wife more than seven months altogether."

"That kind of work in the movies is just as bad as playing in vaudeville or in stock companies under one-night stand conditions."

Jack's most recent picture is "Wild Horse Mesa," from a Zane Grey novel in which Billie Dove plays opposite him. Famous Players-Lasky Company is releasing the movie.

Science Builds $70,000 Dam Just To Destroy It

By DAVID DIETZ. A SPECIAL committee of the Engineering Foundation, a national organization with headquarters at New York, is to be in charge of the work. Leading engineers of America and Europe as well as government engineers from the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation, the states of California and Oregon and the cities of San Francisco and Los Angeles will co-operate in the work. The dam is to be built upon a foundation of solid rock. It will be seven feet thick at the base and two feet thick at the top. The dam will first be built to a height of 60 feet. Tests will then be carried on for a year. Delicate measuring instruments, fully tested for accuracy at the U. S. Bureau of Standards, will be used to determine the stresses and strains in the dam and any movements of the dam under such strain. Many of these measuring instruments are being specially designed for the work. At the end of the year, the height of the dam will be increased by steps until the 100-foot height is finally reached. The place where the dam is being built is a rugged rocky gorge. This location was picked so that a sudden breaking of the dam during the tests would do no damage to inhabited or cultivated territory.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON. MISTER BUNNY HEARS A SHOT. Mister Bunny reached down into his pocket and got the money for the gasoline and he popped into the garage and having a bottle of pop into the bargain, he suddenly jumped about two feet. The reason that he jumped was because when Nancy opened the bottle it went "pop." Mister Bunny almost jumped over his own ears. "What's the matter?" laughed Nancy. "Mister Bunny looked sheepish. ARRANGEMENTS FOR DRIVE MADE

Red Cross Society Completes Plans for Appeal in the City

Men's Canvass is Set Over Until After Election—Organizations Give Support.

Final arrangements for the Saint John Red Cross drive for members and funds, which will take place on Thursday of this week in conjunction with the province wide campaign of the society, were completed yesterday at a meeting of the local executive presided over by Mrs. I. F. Longley. Pledges of support from various organizations in the city and encouraging reports of the progress already made in the campaign were received. It was decided to defer the men's canvass of the business section of the city until after the election.

Mrs. Heber Vroom was elected third vice-president and Mrs. Walter Hall was elected secretary.

A report from the New Brunswick provincial division of the Society's last meeting was read and the Health Centre appeal for assistance on Tag Day, October 27, was received. It was decided to assist in tagging for the Health Centre.

REPORTS HEARD.

Reports of preparations for the meeting to be addressed by Miss Jean E. Browne, dominion director of Junior Red Cross on Oct. 26, were given by Miss Ethel Hazen Jarvis.

Mrs. J. H. Duddy, convenor for the house to house canvass reported district canvases as follows: West Saint John, Mrs. W. E. Morley; Fairville and Lancaster, Mollie Le Roy and Miss M. O'Brien; North End, Mrs. J. D. Mahery; Victoria ward, Miss F. Stetson; Wellington ward, Mrs. W. Downie and Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson; Kings ward, Mrs. L. Isaacs; Queens, Mrs. F. Girvan; Dukes, Mrs. L. Conlon; Prince, convenor from headquarters; East Saint John, Mrs. C. Stephens.

PROVIDE MOTORS.

The motors are to be provided by Miss Stetson, Miss Ryan, Miss Auld and Mrs. James F. Robertson, Mrs. W. W. White, Mrs. Thomas Bell and Mrs. C. Jarvis.

Preparations for the canvass were said to be well in hand although more workers were still required.

Stress was laid on the fact that in the canvass any contribution would be welcomed although only $1 entitled to annual membership.

Miss Stetson reported for the men's canvass of the business section that it was considered inadvisable to put the canvass through before the election. R. G. Wright, treasurer, advocated forming a finance committee after the election and going ahead with a systematic financial campaign. The men were said to be much interested and quite willing to make the drive at a more opportune time.

Mrs. Margaret Lawrence reported as publicly convenor of letters sent out to societies, arrangements lantern slides, and of pupil notes for store window display, theatre given. The posters to be used were shown at the meeting.

Letters brought pledges of support from the Saint John north subdivision C. W. Le Alexandra, I. O. D. E. and Windsor I. O. D. E. Contributions from I. O. D. E. chapters were pledged to the society as follows: Royal Standard, $25; De Montis, $50; Brunswick, $25; and Fundy $10, totalling $110. These generous offers were very gratefully acknowledged. A vote of thanks was moved by Miss Stetson and seconded by Mrs. A. Morrison and carried unanimously.

Amazing New Feature gives these smart silk and wool socks 3 to 4 times greater wear...

A new principle in hosiery knitting has just been discovered. It prolongs the life of man's hose 3 to 4 times. Hosiery experts took seventeen months to perfect it. More than 500 tests prove its effectiveness.

Now you can get smart silk and wool socks that will outwear 3 or 4 pairs of the ordinary kind. At no extra cost. To silk and wool comfort, long wear has been added. You get the softness, the warmth of fine silk and wool, plus long service.

This unique feature is called Ex Toe. It is found only in Holeproof Hose.

The idea is a simple one—remarkable in its simplicity. Remarkable too in its revolutionary effect upon hosiery knitting. Experiments prove that 9 socks out of 10 wear out first at the toe. So a new plan has been developed for putting extra reinforcement in the toe. Designers have built and perfected wonderful new machines.

Ex Toe is the result. It conceals extra reinforcement at the point of greatest wear. No heavy, cumbersome thickness. No bunching. No discomfort. You can't see the added strength. Can't feel it. You only know it's there by the extra wear Ex Toe Hosiery gives.

In the interest of economy try these new hose. For the sake of your wife or mother, try them. Save darning. Give your smart, stylish, comfortable socks, too.

Ask for Ex Toe by name and be sure you get it. Sold by leading men's stores almost everywhere. Buy a few pairs today. Just see how far they'll go.

There was a revival of Washington hopes in the fourth when Joe Harris, smasher of his third run of the series into the left field stands, tied the score, but the National League broke through in the steady confidence and skillfulness with which he checked most of the threats of his formidable foe.

JURY DECLARES AUTOS SHOULD NOT HAVE TO DIM

Calls For Amendment to Law With Headlights Standardized

KEEBLE BLAMELESS IN ROAD FATALITY

Verdict Puts Onus on Unknown Driver of Other Car

At the concluding session of Coroner Dr. William Warwick's inquest into the death of Charles T. Hayter, struck with an automobile, driven by George Keeble, on October 2, the jury blamed the unknown driver of another automobile, exonerated Mr. Keeble and expressed the opinion that the dimming law is "absolutely dangerous and confusing." It is recommended, that dimming be not required but that auto lights be standardized.

TEXT OF FINDING.

"It is the opinion of the jury that these injuries were received by being struck by an automobile, the driver of which had taken all due precaution and had conformed with the requirements of the road law but was prevented from seeing Mr. Hayter because of being temporarily blinded by the glaring headlights of an unknown approaching car, the driver of which we hold responsible for the accident."

"From evidence received, and from practical experience, we consider that the law requiring the dimming of headlights is absolutely dangerous and confusing, and we strongly recommend that this law be amended, and that drivers be not required to dim but that headlights shall be of a standard candle power and focus."

ADDITIONAL WITNESSES

The witnesses examined last evening were a lad, Glendon Arthurs, Colin McDonald, Leopold Kadman, Fred Brennan, Charles Stevens, Charles E. Stevens, Mrs. Arthurs and Mrs. Kirtley. Some of the evidence adduced by these witnesses was corroborative of statements made the Monday night session of the court, dealing with distances, the finding of the injured man, conversation that took place and a description of the conditions of auto lighting, the curvature of the road, etc.

DEFINITE EVIDENCE

A factor in fixing whatever blame there might have been for the accident upon the unknown driver, who dashed past Keeble's car, was given by the 15-year-old Arthurs lad whose testimony had to do with the location of Keeble's car immediately after the accident and after when Keeble was forced to move it a considerable distance to relieve road congestion which followed the mishap. The identical original position of the car after Mr. Hayter was struck by a familiar pathway and other landmarks. This point was stressed by the crown officer to ascertain if the Keeble car had been speeding when it struck the aged victim.

GREAT INTEREST

During the inquiry residents and officials evinced the liveliest interest. Arguments brought forth concerning auto lighting. The Motor Vehicle Law, has been amended in some points dealing with speed and distance since its passage a few years ago, but there has been no move made to alter its lighting regulations. Therefore it was said the verdict brought in last night might call attention to the wide diversity of opinion said to exist on this question of glaring and dimming lights.

THE LIGHTING QUESTION

The Motor Vehicle Law demands the dimming of lights, while many motorists who are observing that law claim to be doing so at a decided risk to their safety. The argument is that two full lights illuminate the whole roadway whilst one glaring light and one dimmed light impairs the vision of one driver and leaves him with a darkened road to negotiate. A Westfield resident who has just returned after an auto tour of five American states says he was not required to dim his lights at any time during his journey until he crossed the New Brunswick border on the return trip.

Call Comes Here For 2 Moncton Boys

The boys were both said to be wearing light suits. The detectives are requested to hold the boys for their parents if found.

AUTO CASE.

A fine of $5 was imposed on Abraham Garson for permitting his automobile to stand longer than allowed by law also for having no front or rear lights burning and his car parked on the wrong side of Summer street from 8:45 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on Oct. 12. Policeman Bettie made the report. Mr. Garson said that, owing to the illness of his child, he had rushed home and forgotten his car. The magistrate said that he would only impose a small fine in view of the circumstances.

During the evening Joseph London, on behalf of the company, presented to Mrs. Fuller an electric iron and Mr. Fuller with a merchaum pipe. Detective Bidson brought the defendant to the city last evening from Fredericton, where he was arrested on the expiration of a four month sentence in the York County jail for theft.

LEADING MAN HAS SHOULDER BROKEN

Edward Cullen Goes Through Opera House Performance Under Difficulties.

Edward Cullen, leading man for the F. James Carroll Players, fractured one of the bones in his shoulder in an accident on the stage of the Opera House just before the performance commenced last evening. In spite of the fact that he was suffering considerably from this and from bruises sustained in the mishap, Mr. Cullen played throughout the performance which, being a farce, required a considerable amount of activity in its presentation. It was announced this morning at the Opera House that he would continue to perform throughout the week, although his shoulder would be kept in splints.

CHAINS GIVEN WAY

The accident occurred when Mr. Cullen fell from a large electric fixture in the center of the stage. The fixture was supported by four chains and in the latter part of the play the leading man is expected to climb up on it while, with him unnoted, a light takes place underneath. In testing the fixture before the performance last night two of the chains broke, and Mr. Cullen fell to the stage, some ten or twelve feet below.

After the performance last evening he was taken to the Saint John Infirmary where this morning an X-ray photograph disclosed the fractured bone. Mr. Cullen is now under the care of Doctors G. A. B. Adly and Dr. S. H. McDonald, the latter having given him first aid treatment immediately after the accident.

The audience last night was aware that the leading man was playing under difficulties, as his arm hung by his side during the whole show, and his grit in proceeding with the performance, which he carried out in excellent fashion, drew hearty applause from the spectators.

WORK ABOUT DONE

Restoration of W. C. T. U. Fountain at Head of Rodney Street, West End.

Commissioner Frink said this morning that work on the restoration of the W. C. T. U. fountain in West Saint John, at the head of Rodney street, has been about completed and it was his intention to place on the top of the fountain an ornamental lighting standard. The basin, he said, had been lowered about 14 inches to prevent the pole of a double team from coming in contact with the stone and breaking it. In the restoration there will be placed under the fountain a concrete chamber so that repairs to the water pipes might be made readily if needed. The Public Works Department is now paving the north side of King street, West Saint John, from Union street to Market Square and doing quite a lot of repair work to the sidewalks in various parts of the city.

You Should Paint This Fall

To protect your property completely from the ravages of winter, use Hand and Ring Pure Prepared Paint this Fall—NOW. Neglect to use paint and varnish at the right time causes heavy loss to property—loss through expensive repairs, which need not have been necessary had paint and varnish been used.

The proverb "A Stitch in Time Saves Nine" is particularly true of paint, and we would like to prove this fact that
