The Governor's Speech

The main features contained in the Governor's Speech in both branches of the Legislature, delivered on Wednesday, were as follows:—Reference to the war and the part Newfoundland is playing in connection with it, a measure to provide financial assistance towards the maintenance of those who suffer partial or total disablement while on active service, or to the dependents of those who lose their lives while so engaged; the trade and commerce of our country and the high prices obtained for our commodities; the unfavorable outlook of the wool industry, and the good outlook before our people for a profitable prosecution of the cod and other fisheries the coming summer.

The references to the Revenue shows a deficit for the past fiscal year, and for the current fiscal year an even greater shortage is apprehended. The $500,000 cash reserve will be used to make up the shortage. The estimates for the coming year have been prepared to meet only indispensable requirements.

Reference is also made to the visit of the Duke of Cornwall; the visit of the Royal Commission; the Report of Mr. Duff, the fishery expert; of Prof. Dunstan, the head of the Imperial Institute in London; of the Joint Committee of both branches of the Legislature appointed at the spring session last year to investigate fishery problems of pressing importance; of the Commission appointed to enquire into the circumstances attending the death of members of the crew of the S. S. Southern Cross and her whole crew, etc.

Reference is also made to negotiations now taking place between the Government and a corporation which proposes to establish in this Island and on Labrador an industry of exceptional magnitude.

General Booth's Secret

"When I was in London," said Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, in a recent sermon, "I received word that if I was at the Salvation Army Headquarters at 10 o'clock sharp I might meet General Booth. I hurriedly made my way there, for he was to leave for the Continent in a very few minutes.

"When I looked back his face and saw him brush back his hair from his brow, heard him speak of the trials and conflicts and the victories, I said: 'General Booth, tell me what has been the secret of your success all the way through.'

"He hesitated a second, and I saw the tears come into his eyes and steal down his cheeks, and then he said: 'I will tell you the secret. God has had all there was of me. There have been men with greater brains than I, men with greater opportunities; but from the day I got the

Sealing News

A message from the Eagle received on Tuesday night was a little encouraging. Capt. Bishop reported for 5,500 seals for the day, 1,500 of which were on board and 4,000 landed. The seals are supposed to be plentiful. Florio reports ship practically jammed all day and could not get seals killed. Ice conditions are the worst ever seen. The Adventure and Bellaventure were still jammed, but prospects for seals were good if they got clear. No encouraging reports have been received from the Gulf, and the Bonaventure has not been heard from lately.

It is thought the Bonaventure's chances for a good trip are good. Some of the Atlantic steamers got free from the ice this week.

Matron Powell and the Plaindealer

In an editorial in last week's issue of the Plaindealer a story is published regarding the action of Miss Powell, Matron at the General Hospital, St. John's, in ordering Miss Gearie to remove from her breast a piece of green ribbon which she was wearing on St. Patrick's Day. The article contains a number of statements regarding "ignorant bigotry," etc., which seems to us to be uncalled for. Such statements have not been uncommon in a certain section of the St. John's press for the past two or three years.

We hold no brief for Miss Powell. In fact we don't know the lady. Neither do we know anything definite about the matter to which the Plaindealer refers. On the face of it we can only surmise that Miss Powell must have had some reason for ordering Miss Gearie to remove the offending bit of ribbon.

Is there not a rule in connection with the General Hospital—a public institution—which forbids the wearing of green, orange, blue or any other color by nurses or other employees while on duty?

We do not know if this is the case, but we surmise that there must be some rule or regulation in reference to the wearing of colors or Miss Powell would not have acted as she did.

There is, we understand, a regulation re the wearing of ribbon, badges, etc., in connection with our soldiers and sailors, and it was enforced in St. John's recently.

Further comment is reserved until we learn more about the matter.

Amatite Roofing!

You'll Never Need a Paint Brush.

When you lay Amatite on the roof you're through with it. You don't have to paint it every year to keep it from leaking. It has a real mineral surface which does not need painting. Most of the old-fashioned, 'smooth surfaced' or Rubber Roofing, which requires painting, costs more than Amatite and you have all the extra cost of paint. It looks as if you were now to give your roof an occasional coating in the future. But do you realize that in 1913 you must paint it, and in 1915 you must paint it, and in 1917 you must paint it, and in 1919—that far-away year—you must still be painting that confounded old Rubber Roof. Why, a new Amatite Roof will cost less than the paint alone. Send us for free samples and booklet explaining all about it. Ask your dealer for Amatite Roofing.

The Lord Will Give Peace in Due Season

From the hearts and homes of many; From the countless thousands slain, There comes a cry of anguish, Of sore distress and pain, For many a wounded soldier On the battlefield lies cold, More blood is shed around us Than ever we are told.

From many a sunless hotel; From many a garret here Accends the wail of mortals Who languish in despair; The war has wrecked the husband; The fathers they are slain Of peace and joy and comfort Not any doth remain.

Where mothers hearts are breaking, Where children cry for bread; Where Home's dear charms have perished, And Hope's sweet voice has fled, Where life is slowly ebbing, From hearts once bright and gay We hear the cry of anguish Around us every day.

And shall the broken-hearted To us appeal in vain? Shall we do naught to help them To break the awful chain? We who are taught of Jesus, Shall we not make some effort This dreadful wound to heal, —Mrs. Wm. HEDDERSON.

Letters from Our Naval Reservists

Ralph Norman, Country Road, Royal Naval Barracks, Chatham, March 11, 1915.

Dear Mother,—Just a few lines to let you know I am well. I am in good health after my long passage. We left St. John's Feb. 4th, and of course you know we had a short trip, having to return to St. John's owing to the ice blockade.

We left again within a week, and after getting out at a thousand miles to sea, the ship (the Mongolian) began to leak badly and we had to run for Halifax. The water was up to the stoke hole, and when the ship would roll, the trimmers would be to their ankles in water. They were two days, like this. It all depended on the pumps. If they gave out we were gone. If it had been rough we would have had a poor chance. But thank God we got to port alright on Sunday afternoon and left again after tea on the Scandinavian and we had a fine time across. We had 1,000 passengers on board.

I was butcher all the time. We reached Liverpool Tuesday morning and then travelled by train. We are on board ship until the barracks is cleaned. They have had fever there. I suppose we are going to get some dill now. There are hundreds of naval men over here waiting around, no ships being available to place them on. They are expecting the war to be over soon. Men are working in the dockyards night and day trying to get ships ready.

get a pay day to-morrow I shall write more. I am still trusting in God, and I know while I continue to do that I will be alright. We are divided up in three divisions, 37 in a division. Az Mercer is at Portsmouth. I am with Arthur Andrews and the two Battens. I will say good-bye.

RALPH NORMAN.

The Retreat to the Marne

(The Times History of the War)

The judgment of a foreigner—especially a hostile foreigner—is very frequently the judgment of posterity, and after ages will doubtless repeat that of a member of the German General Staff, who was conversing one day with a Dane in the September of 1914. He was referring to the battles of Mons and Landrecies-Le Catsean. "The English," he said, "have prepared a surprise for us in this war, especially in the battles in North France."

The Englishman is cool, indifferent to danger, and to the dispensations of Providence. He stays where he is commanded. He shoots magnificently, extraordinarily well. He is good at bayonet attack, . . . and it is during these bayonet attacks when luck is against him that he is at his very best. His endurance and marksmanship make him an opponent of high rank. It is the English we try to hit hardest in this war.

After we had broken through the French positions on the Belgian frontier and had got Joffre's army on the move towards the south the German Army's advance appeared to be checked. It was General French's army that had stayed the retreat. We ordered the English lines to be stormed. Our troops dashed into them with fixed bayonets, but our efforts to drive the English back were in vain. They are very good at resisting a bayonet attack. The English are strong people, athletic, and well developed. So we decided to shoot them down, but we found that they aimed remarkably well. 'Every bullet found its billet,' as they say.

We ordered our best shots to tackle them, but the result was not in our favour. Then we got all our artillery at work that could be spared against them. We swept the English positions with a rain of shells—a regular bombardment. When the firing ceased I expected to find the English had fled. The English artillery cannot be compared with ours or the French, and we soon silenced it. We had not heard from the English for an hour.

But how can I describe our astonishment? Beyond the shell-swept zone we saw English soldiers' heads moving again as soon as the coast was clear. The English are a cool lot! We had to assault again and again, but in vain. We were in fact repulsed after having literally surrounded them. Their perseverance and pluck had gained their just reward. The retirement could now be carried out in an orderly way. All risk of catastrophe to the retreating army was averted.

Even the sight of the wounded surprised and commanded our respect. They lay so still and scarcely ever complained.

Newfoundland Notice to Mariners

Burnt Islands District of Burgeo-South West Coast

Latitude 47° 38' 40" N. Longitude 58° 53' 00" W. Notice is hereby given that two Red Lights have been placed on Great Burn Island for the guidance of fishing craft of that harbour. Structures—Wood, square in plan with sloping sides, 15 feet high from base to centre of light. Colour—Both towers painted with two red and two white horizontal bands, lanterns white. Remarks—Lights will be put in operation during month of January, 1915, without further notice. N. B.—Burnt Islands Harbour affords good and sheltered anchorage for vessels of moderate size, but even with a small vessel no stranger should attempt to enter without a pilot, for the channels are not easily distinguished from seaward, and the numerous rocks give but little room for manoeuvring. They cost only $1.00 a copy. It will be the best investment you have ever made. Read what the Rev. F. B. Meyer, B. A., of London, England, has to say regarding these books: "The questions which are dealt with in the 'Self and Sex Series' of books are always being asked and if the answer is not forthcoming from pure and wise lips it will be obtained through vicious and empirical channels. I therefore greatly commend this series of books, which are written lucidly and purely, and will afford the necessary information without pandering to unholy and sensual passions. I should like to see a wide and judicious distribution of this literature among Christian circles."

WAR NEWS

April 6th—Secretary Harcourt wires that Russian offensive in Carpathians is developing successfully, and Thursday Russians captured 100 officers, 7,000 men and 10 machine guns. Also British Foreign Office understands there has been much improvement in treatment of British prisoners at Ruhleben camp in Germany during the past week, where previously, according to complaints, prisoners were grossly ill-treated. Patrolog message says Russians are sweeping Austrians out of Carpathian Passes and that measures for the invasion of Hungary and march on Budapest are being rapidly arranged. Washington official says the American government disputes the right of Britain and France to maintain embargo against American shipping, and declares that America will require full reparation for every act which under international law constitutes the violation of neutral rights. London reports Glasgow steamer Olivine and Russian barque Hennes were submerged Sunday off Isle of Wight, crews being rescued by British destroyer, and Genoa wires that Italian steamer Luigi Parada, from Baltimore for Genoa coal-laden, was also submerged, which report has caused great sensation in Italy. Paris reports that among the so-called Bulgarian irregulars killed, wounded or captured during recent raid in the Serbian territory, were many Turks and Austrians. Private John Fox, son of Lady Morris, Laurie Bain, of Reid Co.'s civil engineering staff, Hubert Herder, son of proprietor Evening Telegram, and Gerald Harvey, partner in A. J. Harvey's firm, St. John's, who went forward with the first Newfoundland Regiment, have been appointed Lieutenants in that force.

High Time to Awake Out of Sleep

At a large and representative gathering of Orangemen at Grand Bank, a very lively and animated discussion took place in regard to the great loss of life in the past, owing to the want of oversight, lack of life-saving instruments, presence of mind, etc. It was shown how that men have fallen overboard and sunk, because nothing available could be thrown to them. Something near to the man at the wheel thrown overboard would have kept them afloat while the vessel was being brought around and a boat was being launched to save them. It was thought that all banking, coastal and other fishing boats should be compelled by law to carry one or more life-saving appliances, which the man at the wheel or on the lookout could immediately throw into the water, which would give the endangered man a chance of his life by keeping him afloat until his rescuers came to his help. Instances were cited in our hearing when life could have been saved by such a cheap and simple arrangement, and in the absence of that convenience life was lost.

What is the good of a Magisterial Enquiry and an "as per usual" verdict of "accidental death." The whole thing is highly ridiculous and supremely farcical, for it is only a matter of form that does not prevent the recurrence of a similar accident and the same verdict reiterated. "For what is man more than sheep or goat?" says Tannyson, and the Great Teacher says, "Man is more than a sheep." Surely this small equipment would not add much to the equipment of a boat or schooner! I don't think the men who have made such splendid profits out of the fisheries could be charged with holding the lives of the men who are making their fortunes in light estimation. "Per adventure it was an everlight." From humanitarian, economic and all other considerations within the region of common sense, and in the name of all the lives lost, and the sacrifices of our small Colony, we think it high time that somebody should bear themselves and become in more than a name "The Fishermen's Friend."—Daily News Correspondent.

Brothers-in-Arms

The Guernsey Weekly Press contains the photographs of three "Brothers-in-Arms," Chief Engine Room Artificer Morley Stenlake, R.N., Private (Res.) W. D. Stenlake, of the Newfoundland Regiment, and Private H. Stenlake, R.A.M.C. A letter from their mother to a friend in St. John's has kindly been shown to us. It is a beautiful expression of a noble mother's British heart. Referring to the young Methodist Probationer she says, "It was a surprise at first to know he had offered himself to King and Country, but he said to me, 'What is the use of a conscience, if we are not guided by it? If God spares him to come through safely, he will be far better fitted for his work by the experience, and I would not, dare not, hold him back in a time of crisis like this.' Mr. and Mrs. Stenlake's eldest son is on H.M.S. Galatea, while the younger, Harold, has been at the front since early in November. It is men and women like the Stenlake family who have made and will preserve the Empire. All honour to them, whether in Britain, Newfoundland, Guernsey or elsewhere. God bless the British mother!—Daily News.

Seats Needed for Public Building

The auditorium of the new Bay Roberts public building will not be complete until it is furnished with proper seats. The seats or forms used in the old courthouse should never have been moved to the new building. We consider such seating accommodation an insult to the people of this community and scarcely suitable for a backwoods schoolhouse. They are not by any means in keeping with the building. The seats there would not be tolerated at all by the people of some places we know. Seats with backs to them should be placed there, and sufficient of them to accommodate 400 or 500 people. When a meeting is held only about 100 or 150 people can be provided with seating accommodation. It is no excuse to say that certain people who sometimes use the building abuse it, and hence the present seats are good enough for them. Let rules regarding spitting, smoking, etc., be made and strictly enforced, and in a short time there will be no further trouble along these lines. The habit of spitting or smoking in a public hall is abominable, and should not be tolerated. Those in charge of such places must enforce the rules, and they should receive the support of every good citizen. If it is true that the Agricultural Society at a recent meeting decided to allow smoking while meetings are being conducted, it certainly is no credit to the membership. Anyway, the building should be properly treated, and every man, woman and child must be compelled to respect the rules relating to it. This would be a very good time for the Government to arrange with a few men to make suitable seats or benches for employment. They don't want charity, but they would welcome a chance to earn a few dollars.

How to Get Peace

It was, we think, an Irishman who was reported to have said that he wanted peace, and wanted it so much that he was prepared to fight for it. During the past ten years Germany has been talking peace and preparing for war. The kind of peace she wanted must have been that only to be found in a graveyard.

Saving the Poor Horse

At the railway station a nice old lady left the train and got into a cab. The cabman said, "Give me your bag, lady, I'll put it on top of the cab." "No, indeed!" answered the dear old lady, "that poor horse has enough to pull. I'll just hold it on my lap."

A Strong Road

The ferro-cement pavement, which is of French origin and has been under test some years, is claimed to be both dustless and the strongest and most durable road service yet made. The road coating is prepared by mixing ordinary cement sand mortar with grease-free iron threads or shavings produced by a special machine, and with proper care a perfectly homogeneous mixture is obtained. Ordinary road-waste shavings do not give good results on account of their lack of uniformity.—Royal Gazette.

Timber Limits

Additional applications for timber limits appear in the Royal Gazette of March 30th: Charles Cron, Hr. Grace, asks for 750 square miles, more or less, at Mak-kovick, Labrador; Mike L. Parrell, St. John's, wants only 300 miles, more or less, at Kaipokok and Mok-kovik Bay, Labrador; Wm. J. Kenny, St. John's, applies for 500 square miles at Big River, St. John's Bay; Robert Dave, Bay Roberts, applies for 800 square miles, more or less, inland from White Bear Arm; Wm. Campbell, St. John's, asks for 350 miles at Kaipokok Bay, Belle Isle Straits Pulp & Lumber Co., St. John's, wants a license to cut timber on Labrador, the number of miles is not mentioned; J. W. Penney, St. John's, asks for 500 square miles, more or less, at White Bear Arm.

This is 'the people's heritage,' and as we said last week, if there is any exploiting of our timber lands to be done, and any money to be made out of them, the Government should do it in the interests of the revenue of the country, which is abnormally low at present.

Letter from a Naval Reservist

From Lorenzo Roberts, Country Road H. M. S. Motagus, No. 2 Mess, Care of G. P. O., London, March 12, 1915.

Dear Mother,—I received your letter and was very glad to hear from you. Well, I am in the best of health. I suppose father is at the icefields by now. We heard of a sealing steamer going down with over 400 men on her. I don't know what time this war will cease. I expect it will last a long time. It was very sad about those Newfoundlanders who went down in the Viknor, Clan McNaughton and the Bayona.

We are in port now for a while. I don't know what time we will be going out. I will be sending you my photo soon. Give my love to all friends. I must close now as we are not supposed to say anything about what we are doing. So good-bye, from your loving son, LORENZO ROBERTS.

It is a good plan in darning stockings to hold the darning wool for a minute or two over the spout of a kettle of boiling water. This shrinks the wool, and when the stockings are washed there is no fear of matted pads shrinking and so tearing away from surrounding parts, so that the stockings last much longer.

The W. P. A. Sociable

The sociable held by the Bay Roberts Women's Patriotic Assn. on Monday night proved to be a success. Quite a number of citizens were present as well as people from nearby towns. The program was confined to a patriotic speech on 'The beginning and progress of the war,' by Rev. E. L. Pike, and a few remarks by Rev. C. W. Hollands, of Carbonear. Other items of a musical and vocal nature were arranged for but failed in the delivery. The chairman read the report of money collected and goods made and sent to St. John's, which was very gratifying. Tea was served, and ice-cream and candy were for sale. A feature of the evening was the presentation by the W. P. A. of a pair of socks each to three of our volunteers who were present, viz: Malcolm Bradbury, Robert Butler and Albert Roberts. The affair closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Letter from a Naval Reservist

From Lorenzo Roberts, Country Road H. M. S. Motagus, No. 2 Mess, Care of G. P. O., London, March 12, 1915.

Dear Mother,—I received your letter and was very glad to hear from you. Well, I am in the best of health. I suppose father is at the icefields by now. We heard of a sealing steamer going down with over 400 men on her. I don't know what time this war will cease. I expect it will last a long time. It was very sad about those Newfoundlanders who went down in the Viknor, Clan McNaughton and the Bayona.

We are in port now for a while. I don't know what time we will be going out. I will be sending you my photo soon. Give my love to all friends. I must close now as we are not supposed to say anything about what we are doing. So good-bye, from your loving son, LORENZO ROBERTS.

Sealing News

The Atlantic sealing steamers got free from the ice Tuesday night, but at this writing there are no reports of seals being taken. The S. S. Seafarer arrived at Channel from the Gulf on Saturday with 160 seals. She reports the Bonaventure with 24,000 seals and 300 flags missing.

It is a good plan in darning stockings to hold the darning wool for a minute or two over the spout of a kettle of boiling water. This shrinks the wool, and when the stockings are washed there is no fear of matted pads shrinking and so tearing away from surrounding parts, so that the stockings last much longer.

The Legislature opened for the despatch of business on Wednesday afternoon. The Opposition includes 6 Liberals, 8 Unionists and 1 Independent, Mr. A. B. Morine. There are 21 members on the Government side of the House. An interesting and lively session is expected.

The members of the Newfoundland Regiment, now stationed at Edinburgh, are subscribing to a fund which is being raised for the purpose of making a presentation to Archbishop-elect Roche on the occasion of his consecration this summer. The sum of $500 has already been raised. All classes and creeds of the Regiment are said to be subscribing to the fund.

INDIGESTION FOR FOUR YEARS

Woman of Coley's Pt. Almost Gave up Hope of Getting Better

Cured by Arctic Indigestion Cure.

Coley's Point, Jan. 28, 1915.

A. I. C. Medicine Co. Dear Sirs—I want to tell you of the wonderful good your A.I.C. has done me. I have had indigestion for three or four years. Sometimes I felt better and sometimes worse, until this last six months. I got so bad I could not keep down anything I ate. My food would seem like a hard lump in my stomach, and I would be almost distracted with pain until it came up. At last I could not even keep down a drop of water. I grew weaker every day. It was impossible for me to do any work. I had tried different medicines but none did me any good. In fact, I had almost given up getting any better when I obtained a half-pint bottle of your medicine to give it a trial, and it done me so much good I got another bottle. I cannot speak too highly of it, for I believe it saved my life. Yours truly,

MRS. ELIAH GOONNEY.
