AGRICULTURE

Vegetables and Their Sprays—The Use of Bordeaux Mixture and Paris Green—No Danger in Eating Plants Treated With These Remedies.

What is new in sprays? Not much and yet everything is new. We sometimes fail to realize the newness of spray science.

Bordeaux mixture and Paris green, the oldest of our sprays, date back only a few years.

Such mixtures as these were abundant enough, but it was not until 1888 that they appeared unmistakable evidence, based upon experiment, that a substance had been found which was specific against the grape mildew and other fungous diseases.

The following from Dr. Lederman is of essential interest. In southwestern France, the maritime department of Gironde, is situated the city of Bordeaux.

Such mixtures as these were abundant enough, but it was not until 1888 that they appeared unmistakable evidence, based upon experiment, that a substance had been found which was specific against the grape mildew and other fungous diseases.

FINANCE MINISTER WHITE PAINED

H. F. Gadsby Describes the Unfeeling Way in Which Some Grit and Tory Members Advocated Safeguarding the Savings of the People Entrusted to the Care of the Banks.

BY H. F. GADSBY (Special to The Telegraph and Toronto Star)

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—Few people read Parliament through if it obliged. It is too lofty for the average mind and the words are too long.

Its technical language daunted the speaker after lunch. The subject was mystery to everybody except the mandarins of finance.

But things have changed in the last few years. The bank whereon the wild time grows is the Ontario Bank and they have taken to reading the Bank Act for themselves with the result that they have found a lot of faults in the venerable document.

When we ask men to spray the garden, we are always met by the objection: "Spraying is all right, but we shall never think later we intend to eat." When the case of potatoes is cited, which already is being sprayed, we are again told that this is different, for the potatoes are underground, while only the top is touched by the spray.

And now the counsel's brow was sad, and the counsel's speech was slow. And dandy looked he at the wall and darkly at the foe.

Well that's the way the finance minister looked. The lines of care etched themselves on his forehead. These men seemed to read their book as well as Tom White who was brought up to it.

PANIC IN THE THEATRE COSTS TWO LIVES

Eleven Others Badly Injured

Boy's Cry of Fire Caused Wild Stampede in New York "Movie"

Two Women Victims Trampled to Death in Narrow Exit—Four Perished in Sacramento Apartment House Blaze—Savannah Has a $1,500,000 Blaze.

New York, Feb. 2.—A boy's cry of "Fire" and the smoke from an exploded reel of a motion picture machine in an east side theatre tonight resulted in a panic among the audience of 400 persons and a rush for the exits in which two women were killed and eleven others were badly injured.

The panic occurred in one of the most densely populated sections of the east side and the thousands who poured into East Houston street in front of the theatre and rushed to the doors added to the confusion and to the number of injured.

The two women, who have not been identified, were trampled to death in the crush of the crowd to reach the doors. The operator of the theatre was killed by the flames of the burning film and the flames did not spread beyond the fire proof case in which he worked. With the exception of one man who escaped through the main vestibule and that most of the injured were found. The two women who were killed were picked up in the main section of the theatre, where they had been trampled under foot.

Fire Commissioner Johnson arrived at the theatre soon after it had been cleared. It is stated he declared that there were 80 similar theatres in Greater New York where conditions were equally perilous. He said, however, that theatre owners had complied with every ordinance governing such places.

Four Die in Sacramento Fire.

Sacramento, Feb. 2.—Four persons are known to be dead in a fire which broke out in hospitals suffering from burns or broken bones, and the search for bodies continues tonight in the ruins of the St. Nicholas apartment house, which was destroyed by fire early today. An explosion of fumes of oil escaping from a defective burner in the basement started the flames, which quickly enveloped the building.

Fatally Injured.

Arnold Protzman, engineer, back broken. Dunn and Protzman jumped from the windows as did many others. Dunn was an artist of considerable repute. He had drawn a number of covers designed by magazines and weeklies of national circulation. The property loss is about $70,000.

$1,500,000 Savannah Blaze.

Savannah, Ga., Feb. 2.—Damage estimated at $1,500,000, resulted early today from a fire of unknown origin which swept the Savannah river front for two blocks, destroying the wharves of the Merchant & Mines Transportation Company, several warehouses and business structures, and the planters rice mill.

Pugsley, Carvell, and Foster

(Canadian Courier.)

Big Frank Carvell, the tall, stony New Brunswick lawyer, whose eyes were light and always wants to be where she shot and shell is thick, is credited with turning the retort courteous in the most gallant fashion at one of the recent social functions at the Capital. The fighting man from Carleton, according to the story, arrived somewhat late. His name was announced to one of the "ladies of the set" who was assisting in the duties of receiving.

"Mr. Carvell," the Minister's wife exclaimed in clear tones which carried almost the length of the room. "You are surely not that bad man whom we all hate?"

The member bowed with Chesterfieldian deference. "Madam," he responded promptly, in the same resonant baritone which has so often hurled anathemas across the Commons chamber, "I pay a heavier penalty than I thought for doing my duty."

It is not very often that anyone scores off Hon. George E. Foster in reported, but no one enjoyed better than the clever Minister of Trade and Commerce the interchange which occurred between himself and the Hon. Dr. Pugsley in the House when the West-end trade agreement was under discussion one evening recently. Dr. Pugsley was plying questions. Mr. Foster was parrying in his brightest and subtlest manner. Finally the former, momentarily overlooking the rule of the House which requires members to address all their remarks to the Speaker and through him to their fellow members, seized an opportunity for the alert Minister to send him to order. "The right honorable member for St. John," began Mr. Foster, when the laugh of the members called the attention to the fact that he had unduly honored his opponent. He joined in the laugh, observing, "I do not know why I addressed the gentleman as the right honorable member for St. John. But he got no further. "Ah," interrupted Dr. Pugsley in his silkiest tones, "that was because the honorable Minister recognized that was right."

MORE FACTS ABOUT ROADS

Some Observations the Good Roads People Ought Not to Overlook.

To the Editor of The Telegraph:

Sir,—Will you permit me again to trespass upon your space to discuss some matters brought up by the good roads convention.

In the country we are looking forward to the day when we can enjoy permanent roads in the same I enjoy them in the city are hoping for more well paved permanent streets, and I read with great interest the comprehensive plan of trunk highways proposed by the St. John Good Roads Association and adopted by the provincial meeting.

In Ontario they have made a start upon such permanent roadways. There the municipalities and the province make it their policy to cover the cost, and the property that is mainly benefited by the road improvement is also called upon to assist. The reports of this work, as written by Mr. Campbell (now Deputy Minister of Railways), who was then in charge of the work, are most interesting and instructive. They are amply illustrated and show the road as it was and as it is after the permanent work. The stone crushers, the road rollers and all the labor saving machinery, are illustrated and a very comprehensive idea of the magnitude of the work is given.

Among other things an idea of the cost is set forth. This varies, of course, with the character of the district the road passes through, but if my memory serves me I have sent my report to a friend, the expense of permanent roads ranged from $1,000 to $3,000 per mile. I think $2,000 would be a low average for construction.

Let us for a moment see what two trunk roads through the principal cities of the province—St. John and Fredericton, and St. John and Moncton—would cost. The distance by the existing highway would be about 185 miles and the cost at $2,000 per mile, $370,000. The annual interest charge, to say nothing of sinking fund, would be 4 per cent, or nearly $15,000. The cost of upkeep is something that of course cannot be determined, although the Ontario Highway Improvement Commission does not doubt give a fair idea of it.

But has any one taken the trouble to learn from the different parishes through which these roads pass, and from the government just what money is now spent on the roads? I believe that the money now spent or wasted upon these main roads would startle the good roads associations.

I can readily understand why some sections of the province, not touched by the proposed trunk roads, should object to the expenditure of all of the federal grant for this purpose, and those who are patriotic and earnest in this permanent road movement should see that it would not be politic to arouse the antagonism of those districts who would not be benefited at all by the roads proposed. However, there could not be any objection to a part of such a grant being expended to assist permanent work.

We must not, in my opinion, undertake too much at once. We can, with the assistance of the province and the municipalities, make a start upon permanent roads. There or will be soon. We receive of $10,000 a year from auto tax and there is no reasonable doubt that when the motor is used more for business purposes, this amount will be increased very considerably.

Why not appropriate this to pay interest upon a permanent road bond issue? The province could well afford to add such a small amount, and the municipalities which the road passes could raise more money (provided there was legislation) by taxing the property benefited by the improvement, a small increase upon the present rate.

I understand from what Mr. Tennant said, that the auto owners would be willing to pay more too. That might be true of the West-end, but the permanent roads, but an auto owner in Chipman or Boiestown might not care to have his tax increased for a purpose that would not benefit him. These, however, are minor things that can be met when the occasion arises.

The legislature meets in two weeks, and no time can be lost there to be anything done this year in the direction of permanent roads or in amending the present road law. There must be authority in law for much that is proposed, else we will stand still and argue for another year or two. It will necessarily take months to make any change in the existing system, but if the proposals of the Good Roads Association meet with the approval of the government, some energetic work will be needed to accomplish anything at the approaching session.

I do not, however, think that permanent roads present any insurmountable difficulties. We can easily finance a sum sufficient to make a start—to build these two roads between the principal commercial centres in the province—and I have not the slightest doubt but that the experience in Ontario will be the experience in New Brunswick, that just as soon as the people in other sections of the province see and realize the benefits of good permanent roads, they will be eager to co-operate, ready to assist to bring about similar construction in their own localities.

And if everybody is willing to help, what danger is there of failure?

Thanking you again, Mr. Editor, for your space, I am,

Yours, etc.,

BORDEN'S LIBERAL BUT AFTER FORTNIGHT'S REST

Contributions Are to Be Permanent

W. F. McLean So Announces It and Premier Does Not Deny It—Liberal Members Score Tories' Cowardly Policy of Giving Dreadnoughts Without Men—Mr. Turgeon Declares the Scheme a Blow at Canada's Aspirations.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—After being in dry dock for two weeks the Borden navy policy was floated out today into the house of commons for examination. It is just a fortnight since the emergency grant was passed upon parliament. Today four members of the opposition were liberal and the other an Independent Conservative.

Emanuel Devlin, the first speaker, roared at the Tories that would send empty ships to the empire's battle line.

Dr. Beland, Liberal, declared that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the face of the greatest opposition, had covered the province of Quebec to the support of naval aid.

"It is a permanent policy—the beginning of a permanent policy, a vote of money and a declaration of faith." Thus spoke W. F. McLean, the Conservative member for South York of the Borden proposal. "We can't withdraw from what we are doing now. What was done in the future must be based on what we are doing now," he continued.

"So we are to continue contributions permanently?" inquired Mr. MacDonald, of Elgin.

"Speak for yourself," responded the South York man.

Wants a Say in Empire's Affairs.

"I say that the whole thing is converted into a permanent policy. We're in it now to stay. This talk about a temporary measure based on emergency—that has no right to be—is part of a permanent policy enabling us to have a say in the affairs of empire."

"Very interesting," commented Mr. McCreary, of Saskatchewan. "And very frank," supplemented Dr. Michael Clark, of Red Deer.

The far-reaching resolution of Sir Wilfrid Laurier converts the whole thing to a permanent policy, continued Mr. McLean, while Premier Borden continued to sit silent. "Because it's a permanent policy," he said, "I'd like to see the two parties run together."

"They were abreast in 1909," suggested Mr. Lemieux.

"I'd like to see the development of a permanent policy," continued Mr. McLean, "and the creation of a sea-power by Canada on this continent and the development of a shipbuilding industry." "I'd like to see a declaration on this point."

"Why not ask your government for one?" suggested Mr. Pardee.

"This policy," continued the South York member, "is a permanent policy. It makes us share responsibility for the peace of Europe. We may send a message to the powers of Europe that they've got to clean up their troubles and they have peace. We can say to Great Britain now that we have entered upon a policy of assisting you in your defence it's your duty to go and clean up the mess which we have here. We can say to the powers of Europe: 'Clear up the situation; the democracy of Canada demands it.' Because of this vote we can get up in this house and say this today."

The German "Peril."

"I come to the most touching question of all," proceeded Mr. McLean. "That of the expansion of the German empire. We are embarked on the most dangerous and therefore embarked on European problems. The Germans have a right to come into the sun. They have a right to march or sail into it, and they have the right to take their place in the world. We can say to the powers of Europe: 'Clear up the situation; the democracy of Canada demands it.' Because of this vote we can get up in this house and say this today."

Favors Canadian Navy, Too.

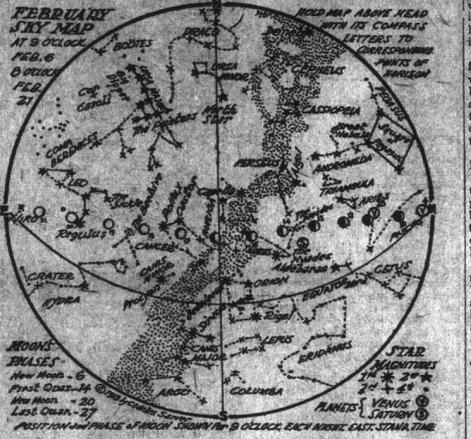

Mr. McLean said he believed in a Canadian navy also. Canada could build, man and maintain a navy and could become one of the greatest shipbuilding countries in the world. "A Canadian navy is no bugaboo to me," he declared. "I spoke in favor of it in 1909 and I have not changed my mind. I hope that the policy of the government will develop along that line."

He was willing to adopt a policy of conscription if such were necessary.

Mr. McLean concluded by urging the need of a permanent fund for the construction of dreadnoughts could be linked with an organization of a Canadian navy. The United voice of British Columbia was raised in support of the proposal.

"There has been a good deal of stumbling on both sides," said he. "It is not thirty-five millions; it is not dreadnoughts."

The Heavens in February

The splendid constellations of January are still to be seen in the evening sky during the month of February excepting a few which were then low in the west. The Great Square of Pegasus in the conspicuous figure in the western sky, which is otherwise unusually barren in aspect, does not drop from the roster of first magnitude stars as the months end, but Arcturus is due to reappear in her throne. The most brilliant belt in the heavens stretches overhead almost north and south, following the stream of the Milky Way. In the north are Cassiopeia in her throne; Perseus, with the wonderful variable star Algol; and tent-shaped Auriga. Southward are Gemini (Two Twins), Taurus (The Bull) and The Dogs, Greater and Lesser.

In the east the zodiacal constellation Virgo is beginning to show above the horizon. Loo is now well up in the sky, a constellation clearly marked because of the figures of the sickle and triangle which it contains. Hydra rears its head almost halfway to the zenith and Crater is coming into view on the back of the great Sea Serpent. Coma Berenices (Berenice's Hair) in the northeast is beautiful in the field of the opera glass.

Saturn and Venus are still the only naked eye planets in the evening skies. The position of Venus is shown for the evenings of the 4th and 28th. Venus will be near the moon on the evening of the 10th, and their conjunction always furnishes a beautiful spectacle.

BAD ACCIDENT AT DOUGLASTOWN

Three Men Injured by Explosion, One May Lose His Sight, the Others Less Seriously Hurt.

Newcastle, Feb. 1.—A very bad accident occurred in the blacksmith shop of the Douglastown mill Thursday afternoon. David Gulliver, engineer; James McCoeh, the mill blacksmith, and James Simpson were trying to take a piston rod out of a piece of the engine of a boat which Mr. Gulliver was fixing up. They had successfully extracted the other rod in the forenoon. This one they heated in the forge, not knowing that it was partly hollow and that there was some water in it. It exploded, and he was thrown back and the other rod and the hot ashes were discharged right into his eye and face. The forge was swept perfectly clear of ashes. When picked up by Mr. McCoeh, after the debris was wiped off the eye, just discerned daylight through one eye. Both eyes closed now and the exact amount of injury cannot be told for a few days. His face is terribly burned. Mr. Simpson, who was also standing near the forge, occupied with a few burns on the face and throat. Mr. Gulliver, who was working the bellows, was struck on the side by the flying rod and the hot metal, but the rod did not strike fair, but glanced off. It was almost miraculous that the pieces of iron in which buried themselves in the walls, did not strike the men. Mr. Gulliver is very sore, but not badly bruised at all. Mr. McCoeh's injuries are most serious, as fears are entertained for his sight.

THE LANCASTER WATER RATES DISCUSSED

Saturday, Feb. 1.

The Lancaster Water Commission met yesterday and discussed matters in connection with the new water rate for Lancaster which is to go into force at once. The new rate is 50 per cent higher than the city rate. The question was before the commission several weeks ago and the order was passed that the rates be increased in accordance with the act giving the city authority to supply and purchase of Lancaster with water and assess for it.

At the meeting yesterday the members of the commission argued the matter. The members from the county were in favor of having the rate raised, but the members from Lancaster with water and assess for it.

E. N. RHODES FOR THE CABINET?

Member for Cumberland Said to Be Borden's Choice for Solicitor General.

Montreal, Feb. 1.—The maritime provinces may be awarded a cabinet plum soon by the appointment of Edgar N. Rhodes, member for Cumberland, N. S., to the position of solicitor general, according to an Ottawa despatch to the Herald today.

Mr. Rhodes, says the despatch, is Premier Borden's present choice for the position, which has been vacant since the present government came into power, and it is believed that the appointment will be made at an early date.

There is considerable objection to the appointment from various aspirants, among them being Cyril Boyce, of Alberton, who has had ambitions for the position for many months. Whether these objections will have the effect of upsetting the prime minister's present choice of Mr. Rhodes remains to be seen, but he is an Ontario already has the home share of government office, so that it is believed that the member from the premier's own province will, in all likelihood, be appointed.

Mr. Rhodes was elected to the House of Commons in 1908 and re-elected in 1911. He is a member of the board of directors of Acadia University, and a director of the Canada Rolling Stock Company, of the Amherst Boat and Shoe Company, and of the Atlantic Auto Company, Ltd.

THE LATE J. DE LANCEY ROBINSON

BY D. R. JACK

The death of J. de Lancey Robinson took place suddenly at his home at Fredericton, on Friday, Jan. 31. He was a man of quiet and retiring disposition, but yet well known to many persons, particularly to those of Loyalist descent. Concerning the Loyalists and their times he was a veritable encyclopedia. There was probably not a Loyalist of any prominence who settled within the confines of the province of New Brunswick concerning whom he could not, off hand, give some interesting information.

Mr. Robinson was born at Pine Grove, Douglas, York county, on June 19, 1841. He was the youngest son of Lieut.-Col. John Robinson, of the Tenth Regiment of Foot, and of Eliza Maria, daughter of Col. Anthony Allaire, of the Queen's Rangers, an officer greatly distinguished in the war of the American revolution.

His only surviving brother is Thomas Barclay Robinson, of St. John.

Mr. Robinson was educated at Fredericton, but never took up any business or profession. Upon the death of his father he continued to reside for many years upon the family estate until upon the destruction of the homestead by fire, he removed to Fredericton, where he has since resided.

On Oct. 10, 1864, Mr. Robinson was married to Susan White Hubbard, daughter of W. D. W. Hubbard of St. John (N. B.), a granddaughter of James Peters, of Ashcroft, and grand niece of the Hon. Attorney-General Peters, of New Brunswick. By her he had five children, as follows:

1. Frances Eliza, who married Arthur W. Carr of New York, and who is well known in St. John, having spent several summers with her family in the vicinity of the city.
2. Mary de Lancey, wife of George Young Dibble, a prominent business man of Fredericton, of Loyalist descent, who died when about four years of age.
3. Susan Phillips Dudley, died when about four years of age.
4. Francis de Lancey, unmarried, a well known architect of New York.
5. Cortlandt Allaire, unmarried, manager of the Bank of British North America, Union street, St. John (N. B.).

The history of this branch of the Robinson family is most interesting, containing as it does the names of many men distinguished in the Peninsular War, the American Revolution, and other military engagements. Its well authenticated history begins in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, and the family genealogy, for a copy of which the writer is indebted to John Morris Robinson Esquire, banker, late of St. John, traces the family history step by step down to American pre-revolutionary times, including among its distinguished members "His Excellency the Right Reverend Father in God, John, Lord Bishop of London," as the quaint designation of nearly two centuries ago has it, John Robinson, D. D., the first ecclesiastical statesman of the Reformation to hold the office of Lord Privy Seal, being also an Ambassador and First Plenipotentiary at the Congress of Utrecht; hence the title of "His Excellency."

The first member of the American branch of this family was the Hon. John Robinson, of Virginia, who was governor, or president, as he was then styled, of the colony on the retirement of Governor Geoch.

He was followed by Colonel Beverly Robinson, of New York, who married Susanna, daughter of Frederick Phillips, who owned an immense landed estate on the Hudson river. By this connection Mr. Robinson became immensely rich, and when the revolutionary controversy commenced, he was living upon that portion of the Phillips

REAL ESTATE

An important real estate transaction was put through yesterday when T. Collins and H. H. Mott became the owners of the Three Baptist Seminary at St. Martins, a fine three story building, with concrete basement. The building is well known to many about the city and anyone who has ever visited the pretty little township will remember it as an imposing, nicely fitted structure, well suited for the purpose for which it was erected, and easily converted into a modern hotel, or other such purpose.

It was built some years ago and used as a seminary conducted under the proprietorship of the late Rev. Mr. Hoppe, who owned it. Recently it has not been used as such, however, but has been taken care of by a caretaker who occupied some of the rooms. The late Captain Masters, who lived in the building of the seminary at the time when the idea was projected, gave a grant of $20,000 towards it, with about 100 acres of land, and at the time it was erected, the cost in total was about $46,000. Today it is said the same building could not be put up for less than twice that sum.

The building has been owned of late by the North America Life Assurance Co., and it was from them that T. Collins and H. H. Mott purchased it. The structure is splendidly fitted with large class rooms, dormitories, and nicely furnished suites. There is a possibility that it may again be used as a seminary or college.

The following transfers are recorded: David N. John to Wm. Fox, property at Lancaster. A. H. Chipman to U. J. Robertson, property at Simons. David Neville, executor to J.
