

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS. PREMIUMS. CLUBS!

In order to secure as many new subscribers to THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE as possible during the month of January...

We will send THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE for one year to Clubs at the following rates, the papers to be sent to separate addresses or to bundles to one address...

For Clubs of five, $4.50; ten, 8.00; fifteen, 11.50; twenty, 15.00.

These Clubs may be made up of old and new subscribers, and the each one $1.00 order, must accompany the names of the subscribers, and the each one $1.00 order, must accompany the names of the subscribers...

A FINE SILVER HUNTING CASE WATER COSTING $25.

To the agents who send the second, third and fourth largest lists we will send a silver case water costing $15.00, $10.00, and $5.00, respectively.

Agents who intend competing for the prizes will please inform us, and an account will be kept with each in order that a fair decision may be made at the expiration of the time named.

For sample copies of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE, and such information as may be desired, address M. McLEOD, 51 Prince Wm. street.

Weekly Tribune WITH SUPPLEMENT.

ST. JOHN, N. B., FEB. 3, 1874.

Spikes—Free for International Group.

A week ago, wherever a group of men stood, "spikes for the Intercolonial" formed the topic of conversation. Spikes in the morning, spikes at noon, spikes in the evening—towards spikes. Several circular references have also appeared in different papers about spikes, including two letters from Collector Ruel. Now we don't consider it fair to keep the mass of our readers ignorant of anything to which reference is made in the press, and we know that all of those outside of business circles are unacquainted as to what the spikes scandal is. After having been so thoroughly deluged with Pacific scandal the people may be supposed to be anxious for a little St. John scandal by way of change. Mr. Ruel's second letter, in regard to a matter which he refers to as though the particular subject had already been published, is accompanied by a letter to himself from Mr. Norris Best, in which Mr. Best speaks of having informed THE TRIBUNE that the spike entry of the Messrs. Burpee was all right, etc. We take this opportunity to explain this scandal so far as our references to it in the papers may no longer be Greek to the general reader.

Mr. Best, week before last, discovered, or thought he discovered, a Burpee man's nest at the Custom House, and gave us a detailed account of it. His story was this: "At the Custom House, Wednesday, I saw an entry of I. & F. Burpee & Co., 13862—marked free, and asked what that meant. The clerk showed me an invoice, on one of Burpee's forms, of 50 kegs of spikes, valued at $197, and marked 'Free' for International mail. I knew the spikes could not have cost but $4 a keg, $190 in all, and saw that fraud was intended. I made enquiries and learned that I could not buy goods in my own name, have them consigned to myself, receive them, and have them passed through the Intercolonial by I. & F. Burpee & Co. Even though to the goods should be handed over to the Intercolonial, the fraudulent invoices at the Custom House showed that the Burpees intended to get about fifty per cent profit out of the Government. When McAvity or Kennedy imported anything for the Intercolonial it was on a special order, in the exact quantity required, and the original invoice came direct to the Custom House. The importer got 5 per cent commission on this invoice, and Mr. Watson passed the goods, by order of the Receiver General, through the Custom House. The importer never had possession of the goods, and never had it in his power to defraud the Government with a false invoice. Next day I called on the Collector and informed him of the facts. He sent for the original invoice of entry 13862. It was not in the Custom House. Then he sent for Mr. Burpee and Mr. Watson, and said he had known nothing of it and would probe the matter to the bottom. Watson came to me afterwards and told me it was all right, that the goods had been handed over to the Intercolonial, and showed me a bill of them—30 kegs of spikes $127, with 10 per cent off for difference of exchange. This bill was dated a day after the entry was passed, showing that the goods had been in the actual possession of the Burpees for one day. Mr. Best told this story without any request for secrecy. He placed the story and his name at our disposal. He had written out the beginning of it, and the editor took notes of the whole. From the written fragment and the notes the above has been written out. The editor

Declaration Day.

Sherriff Harding, at 11 o'clock a. m. Saturday, opened his court. After announcing the returns from the various wards and parishes, he declared the Hon. Isaac Burpee and A. L. Palmer, Esq., elected to represent the City and County, and J. S. Bates DeVeber, Esq., to represent the City. Hon. Isaac Burpee said this was the third time he had stood before the people to thank them for electing him to the honor of representing them in the Legislature. He had passed had passed and personally unpleasant. Great efforts had been made to injure him, but his moral character to live them out. The voice of the people throughout the Dominion had shown that the course of the Government in dissolving Parliament was approved. The result is a blow at corruption (hear, hear, and laughter), and at the idea that large capitalists should for their own ends corrupt the country (laughter). He hoped a short time to see the election law which would effectively prevent any possibility of corruption. (Grins and winks.) His past was before them, and in the future he would endeavor to work for the best interests of the city, the Province and the Dominion generally.

A. L. Palmer, Esq., said this was only the second time he had come before the people to thank them for electing him. He could not say how low he felt of the high honor they had done him. The canvass to him had been nothing but a pleasure. He thought five years too long a life for one Parliament. He would not be elected in winter, as it is too much like hard work. With none of the candidates had any unpleasant relations. It was pleasant for him to speak of this election, and he could say that no undue pressure had been brought to bear by him to influence voters. When in his place in Parliament he could honestly say that he had not spent one single dollar illegally. That was more than he could say of any other candidate. He hoped his honorable colleague could say the same thing, though to be sure, there were more times that day than seemed absolutely necessary. For a new election law he would have voting compulsory, and even would have the old Liberal reform party—be owed the election. The question of Confederation and equal rights for the law to all, in measure broken up old party lines, led in the Parliament at Ottawa this class—the great working class—met rate. The legislation of the country must give liberty and equality before the law to all, in person, property, and religion. On the question of annexation there had been some. He believed that there was not one in this city whose breast did not beat with pride when he thought of his country, and he would have voted with our neighbors in a patriotic. For the success of the American Government he hoped, and the more friendly the relations between the two Governments the better for both. The next five years would be his, and he believed, by trying times, and that is one reason why he would wish the sessions of Parliament were shorter, shorter than the long ones of the British Empire. He hoped all things would turn out as Mr. Burpee predicted, but from the signs of the times he was inclined to doubt it. He would appeal to the Hon. Minister of Customs to make the law to all, in person, property, and religion. If there was nothing else against the Government he would point to that and say that this great "Reform" party had done for the people. There certainly is need of reform, but he did not want to see any party attempt to usurp the place of the great Liberal party. (Cheers.) If the Pacific Scandal had a long history, it is a half-century ago for two years and a half—it has made those who were to become leaders—then God bless the Pacific Scandal. (Loud cheers.) If it has converted all those hostile Grits into the friends of the Government, it is a great day for the people. He would like to see a reformer, but he did not want to see any party attempt to usurp the place of the great Liberal party. (Cheers.) If the Pacific Scandal had a long history, it is a half-century ago for two years and a half—it has made those who were to become leaders—then God bless the Pacific Scandal. (Loud cheers.) If it has converted all those hostile Grits into the friends of the Government, it is a great day for the people.

King's and Charlotte.

The election in King's, Sherriff Harding, in the defeat of the candidate who pledged himself to support the unrevoked policy of the present Government, and expressed his readiness to allow Ontario to become as large as she pleased. The old member, one of those whose efforts led to secure New Brunswick the additional $150,000 a year, has been returned, as he deserved to be returned. We have not said one word against the re-election of any old member, and we rejoice at the return of every one of them, no matter what his attitude towards the Government. They deserve to be returned. Their defeat would be a disgrace. We hope to see Charlotte follow the example of the other counties, and return the old member. We know that an unpunished combination of foreign influences has done one of the favorite phrases of a distinguished Charlotte County schoolmaster is arrayed against him, and that the contest is a doubtful one, but we hope old Charlotte will not prove ungrateful to one who has served her so well. A party of United States soldiers, by defeating themselves from an attack made by a large force of Indians, used mountain boviziers landed to the backs of the Indians. The Indians faced the fire fearlessly, and charged bravely up the hill. After one or two rounds one of the bullets was thrown down by the recoil of the gun, and rolled down the hill upon the advancing savages. The Indians turned and ran away. One of their chiefs was subsequently captured, and asked for an explanation of the sudden panic that seized his forces. He replied: "We didn't think the bullets would work, as they didn't hit anything, but when you began to fire whole jacksacks at us we couldn't stand it." Now, wouldn't it be so much about the Charlotte County contest if a man of my brains were pitted against Mr. McLeod, but when this Gilmour is rolled from the Government position, we think it right to protest against his pretensions. We hope the progressive and sensible electors of Charlotte will not be as demoralized as the Indians were at the appearance of the same kind of an animal.

Announcement made some days ago, by a Nova Scotia county paper, of the fall of the Newfoundland Government, was, evidently, a people work, as the Halifax Observer has a dispatch from St. John's, bearing the same date as our own (Jan. 30), announcing the change. The suckers of the Anti-devil-fish may have clung to office till Thursday or Friday last, with the Macdonald-Tilly Government was abandoned by the Intercolonial Union; we hope the present Government will prove equal to the work.

Customs duties collected at the port of St. John during the month of January, 1874, were $28,948.29; in January, 1873, $24,614.67.

Monetary Tidings.

Mr. Estor: I witnessed quite a little scene the other evening. Mr. Fred Burpee, brother of the Hon. Isaac Burpee, charged upon a gentleman that in the previous election he had not voted for Isaac, although at the time he represented him. The reply was— "Whoever said so is a liar, and you are a liar if you repeat it." "Well, even if you did, you have no influence." "Well, your brother, Mr. Isaac Burpee, did not think so, for at his first election he gave me $500 to spend in Queen's Ward, and what I did not spend he returned to him, which is more than some did."

The party of Parity are telling tales on one another, and these may yet reveal where the $10,000 were spent, that captured Mr. Isaac Burpee into power in the first contest, and the second $10,000, which secured him the victory on Wednesday last.

The distinguished American statesman whom Dickens so picturesquely described as kindly forwarding a pamphlet of his speeches to Queen Victoria is quite outdone by the Cranberry Growers' Association of New Jersey. This ambitious society has inaugurated itself by sending to that royal lady two whole packages of cranberries—expressage paid, doubtless—and also several recipes for the preparation of the same in the American method. This is the sort of thing calculated to enrich and dignify the friendly relations between two noble nations, to blend their interests and cultivate good feeling generally. To the common language and the common literature is now added a bond of union in the form of the tart and agreeable cranberry, contributed by Columbia with a generous disregard of a usual prejudice against an article of Government.

General Court.

His Honor Judge Wetmore opened court this morning. He directed the clerk to summon a jury to be present on Tuesday, March 30, at the adjourned session of the court. At that time he would commence with the next case on the docket, and continue as far as he would be able to sit until the Easter term of the court, if the lawyers were ready with their business. No case would be made a remanet unless for some good reason, but if applying for trial would be struck off the docket. This decision of Judge Wetmore will keep him on the bench steadily for one month, and will likely clear a good many cases of the docket.

A Broken Leg.

Two countrymen named Earle and Toner got into a scuffle yesterday afternoon near the Fountain House, King's Square. The result was that Toner got his leg broken between the ankle and knee. He was sent to the Public Hospital.

CITY POLICE COURT.

Errolly was fined $100 for drunkenness, and the record of his name was put in the Municipal Council. Benjamin Horton, who was at the station for protection, was fined $10 for being drunk yesterday.

King's County Election.

The interest in the election in King's was considerable in the city on Saturday. About the time the returns were expected the telegraph office was crowded with persons anxious to know the result. The returns came in slowly, but the first showed Mr. Donville to be leading, and with the exception of three parishes, he led all through. The following are the returns: DONVILLE, MCGHEE, ROSEY, HAMILTON, ST. JOHN, WELLSFIELD, No. 1, No. 2, SUSSEX, KINGSTON, LITHAM, HAMILTON, No. 2, HAVLOCK, KATE.

Majority for Donville 288.

Mr. Donville spent the day in Sussex and came to the city by the 8.30 train. At the different Stations large crowds had collected who greeted him with cheers. On his arrival in the city he was met by a large party of friends with the Band. He was seen seated in a four-wheeled sleigh and driven to his residence, where the Band played several selections, and a large number called to pay their respects. Later in the evening Mr. Donville was escorted to the "Queen's Hotel," where his friends entertained him at supper. The spread was a good one, and reflecting credit on Mr. Ross, the caterer, and was enjoyed by all present, many of whom had just returned from King's, and had been so excited about the election that they had forgotten to eat anything during the day. The Hon. Mr. Willis, who presided, proposed "the Queen," which was duly honored. "Then came" the Monday morning, two representatives from Nova Scotia, and two from Englishmen. They were all in good spirits.

Four persons sought protection from the cold between Saturday and Sunday morning. Two represented Nova Scotia, and two from Englishmen. They were all in good spirits.

Old Hugh McCormack sought protection from the cold, and was sent to the Alms House.

Margaret Boyle went on a spree yesterday afternoon attending a funeral. She was arrested by the police on being found in a public house, and was committed to the Alms House for two months, being an old offender.

Michael Jones, yesterday afternoon, was charged with assault on John Chirley. The offence was proven, and a fine of $10 imposed.

Four persons sought protection from the cold between Saturday and Sunday morning. Two represented Nova Scotia, and two from Englishmen. They were all in good spirits.

Dr. A. J. McAvity, yesterday afternoon, was charged with assault on John Chirley. The offence was proven, and a fine of $10 imposed.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

German St. Baptist Church.

The congregations in the Y. M. C. A. hall, occupied Sunday, by the German Street Baptist Church, were large. In the morning the Rev. G. M. W. Carey preached a sermon with special reference to the fire which had injured his church. A resolution of sympathy from the Baptist Church in Fredericton was read. The evening service was also largely attended, and being somewhat protracted, interfered with the usual union prayer meeting. There was a large number of people waiting on the sidewalk to enter, when the congregation were dismissed. In future the services will be over at 7.30, more.

Two countrymen named Earle and Toner got into a scuffle yesterday afternoon near the Fountain House, King's Square. The result was that Toner got his leg broken between the ankle and knee. He was sent to the Public Hospital.

CITY POLICE COURT.

Errolly was fined $100 for drunkenness, and the record of his name was put in the Municipal Council. Benjamin Horton, who was at the station for protection, was fined $10 for being drunk yesterday.

King's County Election.

The interest in the election in King's was considerable in the city on Saturday. About the time the returns were expected the telegraph office was crowded with persons anxious to know the result. The returns came in slowly, but the first showed Mr. Donville to be leading, and with the exception of three parishes, he led all through. The following are the returns: DONVILLE, MCGHEE, ROSEY, HAMILTON, ST. JOHN, WELLSFIELD, No. 1, No. 2, SUSSEX, KINGSTON, LITHAM, HAMILTON, No. 2, HAVLOCK, KATE.

Majority for Donville 288.

Mr. Donville spent the day in Sussex and came to the city by the 8.30 train. At the different Stations large crowds had collected who greeted him with cheers. On his arrival in the city he was met by a large party of friends with the Band. He was seen seated in a four-wheeled sleigh and driven to his residence, where the Band played several selections, and a large number called to pay their respects. Later in the evening Mr. Donville was escorted to the "Queen's Hotel," where his friends entertained him at supper. The spread was a good one, and reflecting credit on Mr. Ross, the caterer, and was enjoyed by all present, many of whom had just returned from King's, and had been so excited about the election that they had forgotten to eat anything during the day. The Hon. Mr. Willis, who presided, proposed "the Queen," which was duly honored. "Then came" the Monday morning, two representatives from Nova Scotia, and two from Englishmen. They were all in good spirits.

Four persons sought protection from the cold between Saturday and Sunday morning. Two represented Nova Scotia, and two from Englishmen. They were all in good spirits.

Old Hugh McCormack sought protection from the cold, and was sent to the Alms House.

Margaret Boyle went on a spree yesterday afternoon attending a funeral. She was arrested by the police on being found in a public house, and was committed to the Alms House for two months, being an old offender.

Michael Jones, yesterday afternoon, was charged with assault on John Chirley. The offence was proven, and a fine of $10 imposed.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Samuel Barr was the next one called. He denied being drunk and put several questions to the jury, which were answered by the witness. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Robert Fox was not left off easily, and the charge was proved. He was fined $10 and costs, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more, and had to give a bill for $200 more.

Three Criminals Strangled.

A triple execution took place within the walls of the Gloucester Gaol, in England, recently, one of the victims being a young woman named Ann Barry, who had been found guilty of poisoning a number of small children by administering strychnine to them. Her companions on the scaffold were a man named Bailey, who was one of the woman's accomplices, and Charles Bart, who recently shot his sweetheart after she had refused to marry him. The prisoners were executed by Anderson, the amateur hangman, who is a medical man and does the business for the love of the thing, handing the axe to Calcraft. The conduct of the prisoners after their condemnation was quite consistent with the serious position in which they were placed. Bailey was an Atheist, and formerly preacher over an Atheistical Society in Gloucester, but in the prospect of death he saw reason to alter his views, and willingly listened to the spiritual advice of the chaplain. The proceedings on the scaffold occupied only a few minutes, and all the prisoners died quickly, the woman only exhibiting signs of suffering. All prayed ardently, and the woman from time to time turned to those around her. She and Bailey made a full confession of their guilt, and acknowledged the justice of their sentence, but they did not get a carriage for the very last. On leaving the dock, after the passing of the sentence, Bailey put his finger to his mouth, which the woman took as a sign of secrecy, and she faithfully adhered to it, saying to any inquiring soul she knew whether Bailey had made a confession, and it was not until she was told that Bailey had stated everything that she admitted her complicity in the crime.

A Terrible Hide on the Ice.

Three men named A. Rose, Henry Von Wagner, and Joseph Giroix, living in the vicinity of the works of the Niagara River Iron Company, went out upon the river some time before moon yesterday on a shooting excursion, as is supposed. The party brought a seal boat laden with provisions, and the boat was captured by a sudden squall. The men were thrown out, but managed to gain a footing on the ice, which was being rapidly borne down the river. As soon as the three men were discovered on the ice nearby in front of the works already mentioned, their pitiful cries for help attracted a great many people to the shore. The crowd was so large with every one found themselves absolutely powerless to render aid. The ice was running with relentless swiftness, and the rescue of the men seemed to admit of no delay. The greatest excitement prevailed and the unfortunate trio were considered doomed. In this extremity a man was suddenly detached from the iron works for the Grand Island Ferry tug A.S., and the summons for help Capt. Adams Hartman responded with alacrity. His boat had nearly finished for a mile's travel, and he could not have anticipated for her anything but a severe struggle with the swift current, the heavy ice and the gale that had set in, but he resolved upon prompt action and went as quickly as possible to the rescue. He rescued the men down the river, but before he could reach the spot upon which they drifted one of the party, Joseph Giroix fell into the angry waters and was seen no more. The other two were rescued a short distance from the shore, and when taken off were badly frozen and completely exhausted. They could not have maintained their position many minutes longer, and altogether they must have been for nearly three hours in the very face of death. The fortunate Giroix leaves a wife to mourn his untimely taking off.

WEATHER REPORTED.

By E. E. HILLMAN. You let me search the paper, dear, That speaks upon the weather, To tell you if you're rain to fear, Or if the questionable air, Will give us no fish days together.

Why should I vex myself in vain, Or bother you, my dear Lavinia, With all his tangled cloudy sky, Or "rain of wind and rain," And "partial clearing in Virginia?"

You are the ruler

SOMEWHERE

BY MISS JULIA C. DORR. How can I come to pray for thee? Somewhere in God's great universe thou art today. Can He not reach thee with his tender care? Can He not hear thee when thou prayest?

What matters it to him who holds within the hollow of his hand all worlds, all space, that thou art dead with earthly pain and sin? Somewhere within his sun thou hast a place! Somewhere thou livest, and hast need of him: Somewhere thy soul sees higher heights to climb.

And somewhere, still, there may be valleys dim that thou must pass to reach his hills sublime. Then all the more, because thou canst not hear, poor human words of blessing, will I pray, O Lord, have mercy, God most true, when I pray, in his great universe that art today!

NOTES AND NEWS

The Iowa Legislature finally organized last Friday, the 16th being broken by the refusal of several members to vote. Caleb Bracy, about 25 years old, justice of a district school in Quincy, Mass., has been arrested for an atrocious outrage on a little girl of 9 years, pupil of the school.

A Halifax servant girl, while running down stairs stepped on the family cat and was perfoliated to the bottom. She dislocated her shoulder, but did not hurt the cat.

The E. & N. Y. Railway Co. contemplates keeping the supplies for both portions of their road at Vancorbos, and propose building a large storehouse at that place the coming summer.

A lot of the largest lobsters ever taken in Nova Scotia were displayed at the Halifax Fish Market this week. The largest measured 2 feet 8 inches from tip to tip of its claws, and weighed 84 pounds.

Mr. Charles E. Barbridge, of Cambridge died suddenly in that town on Saturday forenoon. Mr. John Werner, a Pole, formerly largely interested in gold mining, fell in a fit in Halifax last Saturday and died at 11 Sunday.

Robbers taking advantage of the fog of Saturday to board and rob a ship at Hunter's Point, New York, a lively fire was opened and kept up between them and the merchant police. One robber was shot and killed and a policeman shot in the arm.

A man named Bradley, of Forestville, Penn., was murdered Friday night by a man named Farrell. Bradley was eating supper when he was shot by Farrell, who afterwards cut the body in two and threw the remains into an attic hole of a deep mine near the spot. Mrs. Bradley gave the alarm and the murderer was arrested at Mineville. The cause of the murder is unknown.

A Washington letter writer gossips freely about the President's daughter. He says it is whispered that she is about to marry an Englishman—second cousin of a baronet—whom she met on shipboard, and who applied for her hand and was refused. Now she is said to be dead and he gets the entail, and looks a great deal handsomer. So they say she came back and married him with a good deal in it, and this time is accepted.

A Chicago despatch says the total packing of hogs at about four hundred places, to date, is 4,400,000 head, estimated at $2,800,000. The estimated decrease is 175,000,000 lbs. in the aggregate weight. The decrease in the production of hams, shoulders and sides is estimated at 16,000,000 lbs. The falling off in the yield of lard is estimated at 46,000,000 lbs., which is equivalent to 148,000 hogs.

In Galveston, Texas, Saturday morning in the Criminal Court the case of the State against J. B. Helm for the murder of John Ferguson was called, and owing to the non-arrival of witnesses the proceedings were delayed. John Ferguson, the son of the murdered man, appeared in approaching the prisoner and presenting a pistol at Helm's breast, compelling him almost instantly. Young Ferguson was arrested.

Mrs. Dr. Guthrie, who claims to be a daughter of the celebrated Henry Wright, was heard before the Senate Committee on Judiciary last Saturday, in opposition to the enfranchisement of women in the District of Columbia and elsewhere. She held that the ballot in the hands of women would demoralize society, undermine the State and tend to distract from the war qualities of her sex, and consequently destroy woman's usefulness as a mother, wife and citizen.

Last Friday, the captain of a coasting schooner that arrived here reported that the previous night he witnessed the phenomenon. The man must have been an Englishman, as he expressed himself in that language. He said the sister of Whalley has paid the fine imposed upon the latter by Chief Justice Cockburn.

Leicester Square has been presented to the city of London and it is to be converted into an ornamental park. Prince Leopold and Princess Beatrice, Queen's youngest children, were on the Queen on the 7th inst. by the Bishop of Winchester.

A New Orleans paper boasts that that city can produce to the square yard more young men who part their hair in the middle, wear canes and hilly air, and receive the best education than any other city of its size.

Many ludicrous incidents occurred at the Parker House, Boston, at the recent annual convention of the National Association of Firemen. One of the most amusing was the case of a fireman who had been stuffed with cigars, and forgot what she did with her jewels and diamonds.

The people of Peoria, Ill., were greatly excited the other day to find concealed there in a large-beer car a quantity of nitro-glycerine, enough, the local papers say, to send the whole town to destruction on the shortest notice. The whole person charged with the concealing of it was on trial, an adventurous thief stole the explosive compound, and got away with it.

There are four women decorated with the French Cross of the Legion of Honor in Nova Scotia. Madame De Rosa Bonheur, the painter; Madame De la Roche, the Convent of the Sisters of the Holy Spirit; Lady Pitt-Rivers, for her devotion to the wounded during the Franco-Prussian war; and Miss Berna Hooper, of Havre, for founding a hospital.

Thomas Bailey Aldrich paid a visit to the shoddies in his "wise." One is thought to find that the most exclusive folks have frequently passed their mansions in selling tea and West India goods in some of the quietest streets. This is an immoral thing in itself, but it is entirely logical in these people to be so intolerant of the same in others who have not yet disposed of their stock.

A Maine Benedict was recently identified by a letter of his wife's obliging friends while she administered a comforting to him. Which may to some extent account for the reluctance of male New Englanders to enter into the holy estate of matrimony.

Persons subject to disease of the heart will hereafter, we should suppose, be obliged to expose themselves to the shocks and jolts of the Russian boats. One of New York's respected merchants, Mr. W. S. Wilson, died on Monday last of an aneurism of the heart, which he had contracted in the service of the Russian Government.

The Boston Transcript says the Massachusetts Legislature will soon be plunged into a sea of troubles, and founder about considerably in the effort to do something that will please the Russian boats. One of the people respecting the present obnoxious and arbitrary prohibitory statutes.

Livezey is a good enough name; but when he belongs to a doctor and apothecary who kills people by "mistakes" in putting up prescriptions, it is unaccountably higher than the Russian boats. One of New Jersey has brought a verdict against a Dr. Livezey for substituting cyanide for the medicine he had prescribed. It was a simple error, perhaps, but then it was the death of one James A. Grant.

Hotel elevators are convenient when they are not. The Russian boats, which are also convenient when they are not, are shown by the casualty at the Gibson House, Cincinnati, Monday, when the elevator fell from the top of the building, and opened through a window which should never have been there, literally burying the occupants. The elevator should be suggestive to all who have these modern conveniences on their premises.

The February number of West's Household Magazine is really a work of art that can be furnished for only one dollar a year; considering the cost and the quality of the paper, it is a very good bargain. The magazine is a work of art that can be furnished for only one dollar a year; considering the cost and the quality of the paper, it is a very good bargain.

A letter from New York, dated Friday last, says: Not only the times, but the weather, seems out of joint. That is, the character of the weather is not what it should be. The weather is not what it should be. The weather is not what it should be. The weather is not what it should be.

Quite an excitement has been produced on the south side of Long Island, N. Y., by the fact coming out that President Grant has recently purchased one of the finest farms on Long Island. It is said to be the celebrated watering place of the Island and Islip. The day view is finer than that at Long Beach. For fishing, sailing, oystering, and the rugged pursuits that make a seaside watering place, this farm is unsurpassed. Near it is Belmont's celebrated stables, where he rears and trains his stud. Not far away is the country residence of Governor Dix, a neighbor and friend of the President. A dozen other eminent men well known in commerce and trade have their homes in this locality. The purchase has given a great impetus to real estate in the immediate locality.

The N. Y. Tribune says that meetings are held nightly in the smaller halls on the east side of the city, and Internationalists and discontented workmen listen to speeches which are often violent. One of the leaders at a meeting held in Avenue

Nine, a few evenings ago, said that they could count on 15,000 well-dressed men, and that many of those were attached to the German regiments in the National Guard. It is known that an order was issued to the police a short time ago to keep a close watch on churches and other public buildings. It is asserted that at some of the east side halls companies of Internationalists are drilled by competent officers, and that the leaders assert that unless the rights of the working people are respected they will use their arms.

The Mayor of Chicago is accused of swearing. It would be a good thing if all public officers would pay better attention to their oaths. A hog was killed in Vermont last week which had eaten twenty-five two-inch nails and other iron. His squealing was regarded as ironical.

Over 600 squirrels, 300 rabbits, 46 muscoons and foxes are known to have been taken within the limits of the town of Salem, Mass., during the past season. A woman at Fort Laramie has sued a paper for saying that she has murdered three husbands, and that she is now on her way to the gallows. The paper has been ordered to pay her $500 for libel.

An unhappy Wisconsin maiden is complaining of a breach of promise case, and in one of the letters produced on the trial she declared that she had shed tears enough to run a grist mill. A Hollander recently paid $800 for a divorce without publicity in Milwaukee, only to discover when the money was paid that his wife was dead.

At Bombay, the great cotton port of British India, ships have to unload into lighters, half a mile from shore. This is a very inconvenient mode to be done away with. The most appalling case of deafness that we ever came across outside of an asylum was that of an old lady who lives just across the street from a navy-yard. The other day, they fired a salute to the Prince of Wales, and she was observed to start and listen as the last gun was fired, and then exclaimed, "Come on!"

A school teacher in Boston, knowing that one of the Committee proposed to visit her class composed of young Misses, and to examine them in reading, took to the streets and hid her class. One of the forty selections made thirty-eight were of poetry and the rest of the class of the tragic style.

Since the year 1840, it is computed that upwards of sixteen thousand voyages have been made across the Atlantic by the various steamship lines. The number of 1875, eight steam passenger packets plying between New York and Havre, and the Ville de Havre are the first, and the Ville de Havre are the first, and the Ville de Havre are the first.

The new secret Parisian handkerchief has three on a lot corner of linen, and is about twelve inches square. In the four corners is a simple tail embroidered in white, and the brown square is edged with a green border. The combination is very curious, but exceedingly handsome and effective. Of course the new secret Parisian handkerchief has three on a lot corner of linen, and is about twelve inches square.

English society is looking forward to the arrival of the Russian boats, and his new Russian wife, Grand Duchess Maria, in the hope that they will calm the idea. The Queen's retirement, and the idea that possesses the Prince of Wales, induces him to keep within the shadow of the throne, and to make even the "season" rather dull. The Duke of Edinburgh, who would not accept Prince Bismarck's fashions, is said to be social in his disposition.

The late Prussian Queen Dowager bequeathed all her property to the Emperor, with the exception of the art treasures collected by the late King Frederick William IV. The Emperor is requested to continue all payments which Her Majesty was bound to make to the Emperor's creditors, and to redeem all contributions to charitable institutions, and to pay the salaries of the Emperor's officials. The Emperor is requested to continue all payments which Her Majesty was bound to make to the Emperor's creditors, and to redeem all contributions to charitable institutions.

A few days ago the particulars of the burning of a house at Wadsetta, Kan., and the death thereof one McNutt were published. It now appears that McNutt and his partner, Winer, with the wife of the former, entered into a conspiracy to cheat an insurance company. They got a $6,000 policy on McNutt's life, in favor of his wife, and then they set fire to the house, and the wife was killed. The insurance company was cheated out of $6,000.

Benoni Howell, styled a New England Quaker millwright, was convicted in New York, Thursday, of procuring the engraving of a counterfeit revenue plate. He was first tried in 1873, but the jury disagreed. His second trial began on the 16th instant, and occupied seven days. Howell cast the plate for forging the stamps into the sea near Princess Bay. An overseer picked it up accidentally with his rake, and the evidence rested almost entirely upon this singular recovery of the counterfeit plate, which was the main evidence against him, and caused his conviction.

The prisoner is fifty years old, and the maximum punishment for European forgery is imprisonment, and $10,000 fine. His present loss has cost the Government over $25,000. There is much of heavy and artistic evidence in the February number of the Atlantic. A dozen beautiful pictures embellish its pages, more than half of which were painted by Mr. J. V. Cory has a splendid full-page picture of "Antelope-Hunting on the Plains." Mr. John Howe has a series of five pictures of the lovely region of the famous Juniata River in Pennsylvania; no finer series of pictures of American scenery has ever been published. Mr. John S. Davis contributes a characteristic sketch of the village "Verdewell." An idle Dig, which is two miles long, as well as being graceful in pose and composition. Spetch has a fine picture of Scotch greyhounds, and a scene of the open fire-place. The other illustrations are a large and handsome picture of a young girl, and a picture of a young girl, and a picture of a young girl.

A ludicrous case of mistaken identity occurred in Montreal recently through the unfortunate resemblance of two young gentlemen. One of them was recently married, and the other is still a bachelor. The married person went to a dinner party, while the unmarried one went to a convivial entertainment, and was mistaken for the married one. The married person was arrested for bigamy, and the unmarried one was arrested for adultery.

The Rochester Chronicle says that the judges of the best judges of men. We'll go further and put up stamps that they are the best judges of vinegar. Martin F. Tupper—author of "Proverbial Philosophy"—the much laughed-at poet, has been granted a pension of $600 per annum by Queen Victoria.

Some of the new collars intended for young ladies who are weary of the Killikie collars, and their own collars, are a new kind of collar, and their own collars, are a new kind of collar, and their own collars, are a new kind of collar.

Albert Victor, eldest son of the Prince of Wales, is ten years old. The fact is long enough to see the little fellow married. The succession to the throne does not appear to be in any danger from the Prince of Wales.

Several of the Paris churches were crowded at mass time on the 10th inst., the anniversary of the death of Napoleon. In the principal churches of Rome, at the request of the Cardinal Bonaopace, 500 masses were said for the repose of the soul of the late Emperor.

The most appalling case of deafness that we ever came across outside of an asylum was that of an old lady who lives just across the street from a navy-yard. The other day, they fired a salute to the Prince of Wales, and she was observed to start and listen as the last gun was fired, and then exclaimed, "Come on!"

A Philadelphia mother with four small children were discovered last night in a house without fire, and the mother was found dead. The police are looking for the man who provided the matches for the fire. The mother was found dead, and the children were found in a state of shock.

A Philadelphia mother with four small children were discovered last night in a house without fire, and the mother was found dead. The police are looking for the man who provided the matches for the fire. The mother was found dead, and the children were found in a state of shock.

A Philadelphia mother with four small children were discovered last night in a house without fire, and the mother was found dead. The police are looking for the man who provided the matches for the fire. The mother was found dead, and the children were found in a state of shock.

A Philadelphia mother with four small children were discovered last night in a house without fire, and the mother was found dead. The police are looking for the man who provided the matches for the fire. The mother was found dead, and the children were found in a state of shock.

A Philadelphia mother with four small children were discovered last night in a house without fire, and the mother was found dead. The police are looking for the man who provided the matches for the fire. The mother was found dead, and the children were found in a state of shock.

A Philadelphia mother with four small children were discovered last night in a house without fire, and the mother was found dead. The police are looking for the man who provided the matches for the fire. The mother was found dead, and the children were found in a state of shock.

A Philadelphia mother with four small children were discovered last night in a house without fire, and the mother was found dead. The police are looking for the man who provided the matches for the fire. The mother was found dead, and the children were found in a state of shock.

A Philadelphia mother with four small children were discovered last night in a house without fire, and the mother was found dead. The police are looking for the man who provided the matches for the fire. The mother was found dead, and the children were found in a state of shock.

ways convenient to devote the brightest windows to their occupancy. If kept on the ledges, they are in danger of being chipped on a frosty night; and it is a tax to be compelled to move the heavy pots away time the thermometer drops. A flower of some sort that can be readily moved from window to window is, therefore, a necessity. The old-fashioned wooden ones are clumsy, heavy, and take up too much room. The modern wire frames are pretty and light; but one of moderate size costs ten or twelve dollars, which is a great deal to put in the stand when we wish to put it in the flowers.

We saw something, the other day, that seemed to serve both economy and convenience. A box three feet long, a foot and a half wide across the bottom, and eighteen inches deep, is made of common pine. The sides flare outward, so that the box is wider at the top than at the bottom. The sides flare outward, so that the box is wider at the top than at the bottom. The sides flare outward, so that the box is wider at the top than at the bottom.

The top of the box is nearly even with the window-sill, and the whole is constructed, it may either be painted in colors, or stained dark brown, to match the furniture wood. The inside of the box is better preserved from decay, if lined with zinc or tin; but it will last, possibly two seasons, without any lining at all. Over the bottom is spread a three-inch layer of bits of broken wood, and on this is set a double row of pots, or as many as will stand evenly on the surface. Then a thick layer of sand is poured over the broken pieces, and the rest of the space filled up with earth till it is even with the top of the box. In the bed thus formed, bulbs and slips are planted between the pots, and vines are started.

When the latter are well under way, wires, on which the vines twist, are fastened diagonally from corner to corner, forming a beautiful green arch over what seems to be a bed taken bodily from the garden. Somewhat like hanging baskets, or an ivy growing in a tub, is hung from where the wires cross in the arch, and the plants are trained up them, and the rest of the space filled up with earth till it is even with the top of the box. In the bed thus formed, bulbs and slips are planted between the pots, and vines are started.

When the latter are well under way, wires, on which the vines twist, are fastened diagonally from corner to corner, forming a beautiful green arch over what seems to be a bed taken bodily from the garden. Somewhat like hanging baskets, or an ivy growing in a tub, is hung from where the wires cross in the arch, and the plants are trained up them, and the rest of the space filled up with earth till it is even with the top of the box. In the bed thus formed, bulbs and slips are planted between the pots, and vines are started.

When the latter are well under way, wires, on which the vines twist, are fastened diagonally from corner to corner, forming a beautiful green arch over what seems to be a bed taken bodily from the garden. Somewhat like hanging baskets, or an ivy growing in a tub, is hung from where the wires cross in the arch, and the plants are trained up them, and the rest of the space filled up with earth till it is even with the top of the box. In the bed thus formed, bulbs and slips are planted between the pots, and vines are started.

When the latter are well under way, wires, on which the vines twist, are fastened diagonally from corner to corner, forming a beautiful green arch over what seems to be a bed taken bodily from the garden. Somewhat like hanging baskets, or an ivy growing in a tub, is hung from where the wires cross in the arch, and the plants are trained up them, and the rest of the space filled up with earth till it is even with the top of the box. In the bed thus formed, bulbs and slips are planted between the pots, and vines are started.

When the latter are well under way, wires, on which the vines twist, are fastened diagonally from corner to corner, forming a beautiful green arch over what seems to be a bed taken bodily from the garden. Somewhat like hanging baskets, or an ivy growing in a tub, is hung from where the wires cross in the arch, and the plants are trained up them, and the rest of the space filled up with earth till it is even with the top of the box. In the bed thus formed, bulbs and slips are planted between the pots, and vines are started.

When the latter are well under way, wires, on which the vines twist, are fastened diagonally from corner to corner, forming a beautiful green arch over what seems to be a bed taken bodily from the garden. Somewhat like hanging baskets, or an ivy growing in a tub, is hung from where the wires cross in the arch, and the plants are trained up them, and the rest of the space filled up with earth till it is even with the top of the box. In the bed thus formed, bulbs and slips are planted between the pots, and vines are started.

When the latter are well under way, wires, on which the vines twist, are fastened diagonally from corner to corner, forming a beautiful green arch over what seems to be a bed taken bodily from the garden. Somewhat like hanging baskets, or an ivy growing in a tub, is hung from where the wires cross in the arch, and the plants are trained up them, and the rest of the space filled up with earth till it is even with the top of the box. In the bed thus formed, bulbs and slips are planted between the pots, and vines are started.

When the latter are well under way, wires, on which the vines twist, are fastened diagonally from corner to corner, forming a beautiful green arch over what seems to be a bed taken bodily from the garden. Somewhat like hanging baskets, or an ivy growing in a tub, is hung from where the wires cross in the arch, and the plants are trained up them, and the rest of the space filled up with earth till it is even with the top of the box. In the bed thus formed, bulbs and slips are planted between the pots, and vines are started.

When the latter are well under way, wires, on which the vines twist, are fastened diagonally from corner to corner, forming a beautiful green arch over what seems to be a bed taken bodily from the garden. Somewhat like hanging baskets, or an ivy growing in a tub, is hung from where the wires cross in the arch, and the plants are trained up them, and the rest of the space filled up with earth till it is even with the top of the box. In the bed thus formed, bulbs and slips are planted between the pots, and vines are started.

When the latter are well under way, wires, on which the vines twist, are fastened diagonally from corner to corner, forming a beautiful green arch over what seems to be a bed taken bodily from the garden. Somewhat like hanging baskets, or an ivy growing in a tub, is hung from where the wires cross in the arch, and the plants are trained up them, and the rest of the space filled up with earth till it is even with the top of the box. In the bed thus formed, bulbs and slips are planted between the pots, and vines are started.

When the latter are well under way, wires, on which the vines twist, are fastened diagonally from corner to corner, forming a beautiful green arch over what seems to be a bed taken bodily from the garden. Somewhat like hanging baskets, or an ivy growing in a tub, is hung from where the wires cross in the arch, and the plants are trained up them, and the rest of the space filled up with earth till it is even with the top of the box. In the bed thus formed, bulbs and slips are planted between the pots, and vines are started.

When the latter are well under way, wires, on which the vines twist, are fastened diagonally from corner to corner, forming a beautiful green arch over what seems to be a bed taken bodily from the garden. Somewhat like hanging baskets, or an ivy growing in a tub, is hung from where the wires cross in the arch, and the plants are trained up them, and the rest of the space filled up with earth till it is even with the top of the box. In the bed thus formed, bulbs and slips are planted between the pots, and vines are started.

in England establishes its claim to a position in the brotherhood which has been officially joined. We think it is a fitting appointment in every way. Mr. Huntington has richly earned his spurs. In view of his having joined the Government, it is suggested that it should be called "The Mining Speculation Ministry." We know of no more suitable name by which to call this collection of castaway politicians.—Toronto Mail.

Shipping Notes. Yacht on Fire.—The bark Golden Fleete reports that on her passage out from New York to Barbadoes, on the 30th December, in lat. 33.21, lon. 62.25, passed a vessel on fire and almost burned to the water's edge. The name "White Cox, Yarmouth, Nova Scotia," was written on the stern, which was out of the water. Both masts were gone so that her rig could not be determined. She had been abandoned, and had apparently been burning some time.

The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The brig Mariner, Smith, master, of Halifax, N. S., arrived at Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged.

The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The brig Mariner, Smith, master, of Halifax, N. S., arrived at Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged.

The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The brig Mariner, Smith, master, of Halifax, N. S., arrived at Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged.

The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The brig Mariner, Smith, master, of Halifax, N. S., arrived at Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged.

The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The brig Mariner, Smith, master, of Halifax, N. S., arrived at Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged.

The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The brig Mariner, Smith, master, of Halifax, N. S., arrived at Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged.

The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The brig Mariner, Smith, master, of Halifax, N. S., arrived at Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged.

The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The brig Mariner, Smith, master, of Halifax, N. S., arrived at Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged.

The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The brig Mariner, Smith, master, of Halifax, N. S., arrived at Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged.

The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The brig Mariner, Smith, master, of Halifax, N. S., arrived at Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged.

The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The brig Mariner, Smith, master, of Halifax, N. S., arrived at Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged.

The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The brig Mariner, Smith, master, of Halifax, N. S., arrived at Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged.

The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The brig Mariner, Smith, master, of Halifax, N. S., arrived at Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged. The bark Corwin, Hoar, master, hence for London, arrived in Fenella Roads, on the 14th inst., waterlogged.

Exercise; An Illustration. BY EDWARD E. HALL. Two friends in a canoe in the Moccasin Channel. A sudden squall of wind upsets the boat. Before they can right her, she fills with water, and sinks; and the two men are swimming for their lives. "Ah, well!" says one of them to the other, "it is a long pull to the shore; but the water is warm, and we are strong. We will hold by each other, and we will not let go." "No," says his friend, "I have lost my breath already; each wave that strikes us knocks it from my body. If you reach the shore, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you.

Now, what is the difference between the contest at once, and resign himself to what people call his fate, while the boat is still on her beam ends, and the water is as warm as the other? "It is a long pull to the shore; but the water is warm, and we are strong. We will hold by each other, and we will not let go." "No," says his friend, "I have lost my breath already; each wave that strikes us knocks it from my body. If you reach the shore, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you.

Now, what is the difference between the contest at once, and resign himself to what people call his fate, while the boat is still on her beam ends, and the water is as warm as the other? "It is a long pull to the shore; but the water is warm, and we are strong. We will hold by each other, and we will not let go." "No," says his friend, "I have lost my breath already; each wave that strikes us knocks it from my body. If you reach the shore, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you.

Now, what is the difference between the contest at once, and resign himself to what people call his fate, while the boat is still on her beam ends, and the water is as warm as the other? "It is a long pull to the shore; but the water is warm, and we are strong. We will hold by each other, and we will not let go." "No," says his friend, "I have lost my breath already; each wave that strikes us knocks it from my body. If you reach the shore, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you.

Now, what is the difference between the contest at once, and resign himself to what people call his fate, while the boat is still on her beam ends, and the water is as warm as the other? "It is a long pull to the shore; but the water is warm, and we are strong. We will hold by each other, and we will not let go." "No," says his friend, "I have lost my breath already; each wave that strikes us knocks it from my body. If you reach the shore, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you.

Now, what is the difference between the contest at once, and resign himself to what people call his fate, while the boat is still on her beam ends, and the water is as warm as the other? "It is a long pull to the shore; but the water is warm, and we are strong. We will hold by each other, and we will not let go." "No," says his friend, "I have lost my breath already; each wave that strikes us knocks it from my body. If you reach the shore, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you.

Now, what is the difference between the contest at once, and resign himself to what people call his fate, while the boat is still on her beam ends, and the water is as warm as the other? "It is a long pull to the shore; but the water is warm, and we are strong. We will hold by each other, and we will not let go." "No," says his friend, "I have lost my breath already; each wave that strikes us knocks it from my body. If you reach the shore, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you.

Now, what is the difference between the contest at once, and resign himself to what people call his fate, while the boat is still on her beam ends, and the water is as warm as the other? "It is a long pull to the shore; but the water is warm, and we are strong. We will hold by each other, and we will not let go." "No," says his friend, "I have lost my breath already; each wave that strikes us knocks it from my body. If you reach the shore, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you.

Now, what is the difference between the contest at once, and resign himself to what people call his fate, while the boat is still on her beam ends, and the water is as warm as the other? "It is a long pull to the shore; but the water is warm, and we are strong. We will hold by each other, and we will not let go." "No," says his friend, "I have lost my breath already; each wave that strikes us knocks it from my body. If you reach the shore, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you.

Now, what is the difference between the contest at once, and resign himself to what people call his fate, while the boat is still on her beam ends, and the water is as warm as the other? "It is a long pull to the shore; but the water is warm, and we are strong. We will hold by each other, and we will not let go." "No," says his friend, "I have lost my breath already; each wave that strikes us knocks it from my body. If you reach the shore, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you. If you do not, I will hold on to you.

<

