CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Senna, and other purgatives. It is pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays Fermentations. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Cures, Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves Constipation, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. It does not harm the system, and it is good for the stomach and bowels."

Dr. G. C. Osborn, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real value of this medicine, and use Castoria in preference to all other purgatives which are so strong, and so liable to cause vomiting, and thus, by forcing opium, produce vomiting, and other harmful effects. I have seen many children, thereby suffering from constipation, and I have seen many children, thereby suffering from constipation, and I have seen many children, thereby suffering from constipation."

Dr. J. F. Thompson, Oswego, Ar.

THE DEAR LITTLE WIFE AT HOME.

The dear little wife at home John, With ever so much to do, Stitches to set, and holes to let, And so many thoughts of you— The beautiful household fairy, Filling your heart with light; Whatever you need to do, John, Go cheerily home to-night.

For though you are worn and weary, You needn't be cross or curt; There are words like larks to gentle hearts There are looks that wound and hurt, With the key in the lock at home, John, Drop troubles out of sight, To the dear little wife who is waiting Go cheerily home to-night.

You know she will come to meet you, A smile on her sunny face; And your wee little girl, as pure as a pearl Will be there in her childish grace: And the boy his father's prize, John, With eyes so brave and bright; To the wife and child to the peace, John, Go cheerily home to-night.

What thought the temper try you, Though the shafts of adverse fate May burst near, and the sky be drear, And the legend fortune wait? Voice passing rich slowly, Let the laughing fairs take flight, With the faith that wins success, John, Go cheerily home to-night.

CHURCH MESSENGER.

G. W. COX.

For the past five or six years I have been troubled with Dyspepsia. In the winter of '92 I was completely "run up," so much so that I tried three doctors without receiving any benefit from their treatment. I tried other dyspepsia medicines without success.

During that period of trial and experiment I was so poorly that I could not work steadily for one half hour at a time without going to my home and lying down.

At last I went to W. E. Thistle's drug store to get something to relieve me, and he recommended GRODGE'S SYRUP.

I have taken two bottles and am now COMPLETELY CURED. I feel like a new man; I can eat or drink anything and enjoy my food. I have recommended you to my friends. I cannot say too much in its favor. Yours truly,

G. W. COX.

P. S.—I am confident that Grodger's Syrup will cure any case of Dyspepsia it is properly used. Others who suffer as I should know of the intrinsic merit of our remedy. For some time I have felt my duty to write you and let you know what two bottles of your medicine have done for me. This statement is to be used as you think best. It is true every particular, as my friends can testify.—G. W. COX.

detention under charge of murder in the first degree until the March term of court opens at Grandburg. While the evidence is wholly circumstantial, it is so strong that the police are convinced that the right man has been found. That he had accessories before the murder is also reasonable to believe.

Freshman Durrill has also been placed under arrest as an accessory to the crime. Darrell can prove a strong alibi on that night, but his intense and outspoken animosity towards Sullivan is well known. It is generally understood that he was Johnson's adviser during the latter's suit against Sullivan. Durrill has frequently and freely expressed his opinion that Sullivan had only a short time to live, and that he would be killed with backshot before the year was out. On his evidence Durrill languishes in jail at Grandburg as an accessory.

COULDN'T GET WORK AND SOUGHT DEATH

The Boston papers of Saturday tell a pathetic story of the suicide of George J. Woodman, who was found dead on a street in Boston common. He had killed himself with cyanide of potassium. In the pocket of the dead man was a letter to his wife, Mrs. Phoebe Woodman (a pleasant appearing Nova Scotia woman) about 40 years of age, residing at 22 Denature street East Boston. The letter was largely personal, reciting the facts of his immediate past, telling her how he had vainly sought such work as he could do, without success; how terribly he had suffered with the pain in his head; exploring the fact that he had been obliged to depend upon her for his livelihood, mourning over the pleasant home he had lost now that he had none, and describing his anxiety to be at peace and free from suffering. The letter was lovingly mournful in tone and expressed much grief that the writer could not alleviate the sorrow of his faithful helpmate, but rather add to them.

Mrs. Woodman told the authorities that he had broken up their home and she had gone to service to earn money to help supply her husband with food.

TWO HUNDRED INDIANS STARVED TO DEATH IN FAR OFF LABRADOR.

Quebec, Nov. 22.—A private letter received here from Messrs. Low and Eaton, of the Geological Survey of Canada, who left last June via Lake St. John and Mistassini for Ungava bay, near the extreme northern limit of the Labrador peninsula, conveys the startling intelligence that some 200 Nasapeen and Montagnais Indians were starved to death last winter in Northern Labrador. It is not known definitely how the letter came from Ungava bay. It was received at Lake St. John by Mr. Cummins, who sent extracts only from it to a friend in town. It is probable that it came via England, however, and reached there by the Hudson bay vessel that annually plies to Ungava bay and Hudson Strait. The expedition, headed by Mr. Low, reached Ungava at the end of August, after an exceedingly perilous and difficult journey through the interior of Labrador, which lasted about two months. They expected to winter at Fort Climo, situated on the Kossak river, but were compelled to push on to Esquimaux bay in consequence of a shortage of supplies at Fort Climo. This is attributed to the distress in which the Indians were found last winter, the officials claiming to have distributed to each of them as reached the fort, after fully two years stock of the fort's provisions.

Next spring in order to resume their explorations, Messrs. Low and Eaton will have to retrace their steps to Ungava. The destitution of last winter amongst the Indians is due to the almost entire failure of the caribou hunt last autumn. Usually at the approach of winter these animals come from the interior towards the coast in enormous herds and hundreds are often killed in a single day and their flesh frozen in winter use. The Indians there have scarcely anything else to look to for the means of subsistence.
