LOSS ESTIMATED CLOSE TO $200,000

Sacred Heart School and Home at Van Buren Are Destroyed

St. Leonards, Feb. 8.—Incendiarism is strongly suspected as the origin of a fire which early yesterday destroyed the large Sacred Heart school and the convent of the Sisters of Mercy of the Good Samaritan at Van Buren, directly across the St. John river from St. Leonards. No lives were lost, but the Sisters who teach in the school just had time to escape before the flames spread throughout their residence. The financial loss is estimated at nearly $200,000. The Sisters lost most all of their belongings. The property was owned by the Bishop of Portland as corporation sole, whose jurisdiction extends all along the western and northern banks of the St. John.

It was about 2:30 a.m. when the flames were discovered and the alarm called the firemen and the citizens to the scene. The Sacred School building was then enveloped in flames and the great exertions of the department could not save the fine edifice, which was reduced to ashes, being literally burned to the ground.

From the school building the flames leaped to the residence of the Sisters of Mercy and 16 inmates of the house were obliged to make a hasty departure. From neither building was it possible to remove any amount of the furnishings. The residence was practically destroyed, but a small portion of the wall remaining in place and this will probably have to be torn down.

The Sacred Heart school was a large two-story brick building of modern construction, finely equipped and with accommodations for some 400 pupils, who did not reside in the building. The residence of the Sisters of Mercy was a three-story brick building erected about five years ago.

The janitor of the school building declares that it was securely locked when he left it, but the first firemen found the door open and the building was in every part and with a peculiar white flame which may indicate the use of some combustible. The heating apparatus, the only source of a possible fire, was well protected. The county officials started an investigation today.

The school building was originally the Good Shepherd convent. Separated by a space of about 15 feet was the new convent, a nearly new three-story brick building occupied by 16 Sisters of Mercy, nearly all teachers in the school. The town has several other school buildings and it is believed that the pupils of the burned building can be cared for at least in part time sessions.

The school building was projected by Father Moreau, who went to Van Buren in 1889 and completed under the pastorate of Fr. Jamison.

The new convent was built about five years ago under the pastorate of Fr. Rulquin.

INTERESTING DEBATE

Last evening there was an interesting debate in the vestry of the Baptist church between two teams chosen from the Barrens class. The problem was "Resolved: That the export of Canadian Pulp Wood should be prohibited." The negative side was led by Gage Montgomery, who had the able assistance of F. A. Alton and F. W. Allen. The negatives were captured by M. L. Hayward, whose assistants were Clyde Gulliver and J. Sterling King. The debate was very spirited and resulted in the victory for the affirmative side by points 15 to 9. The judges were Dr. Belyea, P. H. Boyer and Mrs. Bert Watters.

Mrs. Ransford Rourke returned on Monday from Portland where she has been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Paskhurst.

FARMERS STILL IN POLITICS

Dear Sir:
I notice an article on the front page of your valued paper which reads in part—

"It is thought also that the question of the farmers in politics as a separate party will be considered. It is quite generally understood that the United Farmers in this County, now represented by Messrs. Smith, Tracey, and Burlock, will not put candidates in the field in the Provincial election but that they will again nominate T. W. Caldwell, M. P., for the Federal House. In the local election, the two old parties will probably line up as in years gone by."

Now Mr. Editor I have no idea as to who the author of the above may be, but I cannot help but think that he has endeavored purposefully to create a wrong impression as to the political feeling in Carleton county.

In the first place the first paragraph is an exact reproduction of an advertisement that appears on another page of your paper, while the second paragraph has been conjured up from some of the dark recesses of the writer's mind and in this case it is possible that the wish is father to the thought, and by taking the second paragraph on to the first, or on to the copy of our advertisement, he evidently seeks to convey the impression that the United Farmers had decided not to contest the next provincial election.

Now, Mr. Editor, while there has been no formal declaration by a convention of the United Farmers on the above question, nor is the present convention called for this purpose, nor as a political convention, but as the notice implies, is called for the purpose of organization along commercial lines, I find by taking to the electors from the various sections of the county that there is general satisfaction with our present representatives in the Provincial House, and I believe that not only are the Farmers desirous of running them over again, but I believe we can elect them with increased majorities in the next election.

T. W. CALDWELL.

Mr. Editor:

In The Observer of Feb. 6 under the heading "May Decide on Political Action" the following statement is made: "It is quite well understood the United Farmers will abandon Provincial politics." That the readers of The Observer may get the truth of the matter I would say the Progressives of Carleton will not only nominate their three men for the local but intend to elect them. Undoubtedly the same will occur in the Federal.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS AND NO INSURANCE

W. G. Briggs Woodworking Factory
Destroyed Sunday Morning.

Between two and three o'clock on Sunday morning the well-equipped woodworking factory of W. G. Briggs, at Bristol, together with the adjacent buildings, was totally destroyed by fire which occurred from an unknown source.

The mill had been in successful operation for a number of years and besides being a source of profit for the owner was a convenience to a large community. It was operated by water power.

Mr. Briggs thinks he will rebuild at once and be ready for the summer business. He carried absolutely no insurance.

MAINE AND N. B. RACING DATES

National Secretary W. H. Goucher
Guest of Woodstock President

Woodstock, Feb. 7.—The banquet given by the Woodstock Driving Club to the Stewards of the Maine and New Brunswick Circuit was held this evening in G. W. V. A. hall, and was largely attended, representatives from Presque Isle, Fort Fairfield, Houlton, Fredericton, Edmundston and Woodstock. W. H. Goucher, secretary of the National Trotting Association, was present, coming from Portland for the occasion. Mayor J. R. Brown presided with W. H. Goucher on right and A. R. Fairbanks, secretary of the N. B. and Maine Circuit on his left.

The following toasts were proposed and responded to:

The King—God Save the King.

The Woodstock orchestra furnished excellent music.

W. H. Goucher dealt with the horse from its earliest date. He dealt exhaustively with the breeding of the pacing and trotting horse down to the present day. He said Maine and New Brunswick circuit was very highly thought of by the National Association.

The Fredericton representative intimated that it was the intention of Fredericton to buy a free-for-all.

During the banquet a trio of bag pipe players appeared and rendered a selection that greatly enthused the crowd. They would not respond to an encore but mysteriously made their exit.

The catering was done by the G. W. V. A. and many compliments were handed them for the excellent manner in which this important feature was carried out.

At the business meeting held this afternoon and evening the following officers were elected:

The three new horses bought in Boston by the Woodstock Driving Club arrived here yesterday and made their appearance in the streets today in charge of Fred Cameron. Northern Night, the 2-year-old trotter, by Northern Man, was greatly admired and is a handsome and promising looking horse.

Forbes Worthy, by Arworthy, another 2-year-old and Hillsboro Peter, 7 years old, by Peter the Great, also attracted much favorable attention.

In sad but loving memory of our darling son, Harry E. Hayward, who was called to his heavenly home on Feb. 14, 1922.

Just two years ago you left us.
How we miss your dear sweet face!
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.
You're not forgotten, Harry, dear,
Nor ever will you be
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.

"VICKS IS BEST FOR CROUP"

So Declares Mother of Twin Babies

Mrs. Frank Cox, R. R. No. 2, Mountain Grove, Ontario, says: "My twin babies aged twenty-one months were seized with convulsion and croup. They were so choked up that I did not know what to do. Finally I rubbed their chest and throats with Vicks VapoRub and applied hot flannels. This immediately relieved the spasms. I also had the babies inhale the vapors from a tin cup and they grew quiet and slept. Vicks is the best croup remedy ever in this house." If the child seems croupy, apply Vicks over throat and chest at bedtime. In severe cases heat a thin cup, drop in a teaspoonful of Vicks and as it melts hold the cup so vapors can be inhaled.

Vicks is a salve that acts like a plaster and a vapor lamp at the same time. It is absorbed and inhaled. This makes Vicks the ideal treatment for children's cold troubles: It avoids so much internal dosing. Just as good, too, for grown-ups' colds, and for cuts, burns, bruises, sores, stings and skin itchings.

At all drug stores, 50c a jar. For free test size package write Vicks Chemical Co., 344 St. Paul St., W., Montreal, P. Q.

Though Vicks is new in Canada it has a remarkable sale in the States. Over 17 million jars used yearly.

THINK THIS OVER— THEN TRADE AT HOME

One half of the world does not know how the other half lives as may be seen from an incident which took place in this section last week, during the extremely cold spell which was prevalent all over the East.

A widow woman purchased a cook stove from an out of town dealer to be paid for on the installment plan, she had paid all but ten dollars on the stove, when an agent of the concern appeared and demanded the balance, the stove being all she had to heat the home and keep herself and her eight children warm, the agent was persistent and told the woman that unless the balance was paid, that he would take the stove, she remonstrated with him, promising the balance as soon as she could earn it but to no avail and the representative proceeded to take what he claimed belonged to his concern, by process of law, sending a deputy sheriff with a replevin writ to take the stove; finally in desperation she appealed to a friend and the town authorities and finally succeeded in getting together thirty dollars, which was the amount after the "costs" for the sheriff and the process of law were added, and the woman finally obtained possession of the stove, but the cost to her was much more than a better stove would have been had she purchased the same at home, and had she done business with a local concern, which would have been more human, than the out of town concern who knew nothing except money.

Moral: Do business at home with people you know.—Houlton Times.

THE HOME PAPER IN VERSE

A Rhyme on the Country Weekly Published in Promotion of Home Paper Week, February 2-8

Every country editor who is worthy the name wants to help in every movement for the good of the community. Yet he must draw a line at times between legitimate news and editorial support, and advertising which should be paid for. Frequently his attitude is misunderstood. Particularly perplexing to the editor is the matter handed him for printing which by no stretch of the imagination can be considered of benefit to the community, but is rather intended to promote individual or commercial enterprises. Once in a while even a layman, however, seems to get the point of view of the editor. These lines by Bob Adams called "Bitter-Sweet," seem almost to have been written especially for "home paper week."

The editor sat in his sanctum, and an angry man was he, For a fellow had brought a column of stuff and wanted it printed free. A column of stuff that advertised and boosted his private game;

But he hadn't the heart to loosen up good greenbacks for the same. And the patient editor said at last, although he seldom swore, He's be double-danged if he's be stung as often times before.

"You make me sad, you make me mad, you make me good and weary, I'll print you nothing free by gad, but a nice obituary."

The editor sat in his sanctum at the end of a perfect day, For six subscribers had brought hard cash their honest dues to pay.

And a man had stopped to praise the paper and say with a pleasant smile, "It ranks with the library, school and church in making the town worth while."

From day to day in every way, it better grows and better; The way you've worked for a playground park has made my boy your debtor."

The editor sat in his sanctum, encouraged and elated; His head was bald and his bunions galled, but he felt appreciated.

THE ROAD TO CAMPBELLTON

In regard to the Highway which it is proposed to build between Madawaska County and Campbellton, and which it has been reported that some Government Officials are in favor of terminating at this end at St. Leonard, we should like to hear a pronouncement from the Government as to whether this is correct or not.

It would seem from what the Observer could gather that there are a great many reasons why the road should be built direct to Edmundston.

First and foremost, because Edmundston is the County town, the largest centre of population, an industrial centre, the terminal of the C. P. Railway, the Temiscouata Railway, the B. & A. Railway and a Division of the Canadian National Railway.

Secondly, because the Edmundston-Campbellton Route would go through a more populous territory, Kedgewick and adjoining towns.

Thirdly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Fourthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Fifthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Sixthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Seventhly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Eighthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Ninthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Tenthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Eleventhly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Twelfthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Thirteenthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Fourteenthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Fifteenthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Sixteenthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Seventeenthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Eighteenthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Nineteenthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Twentiethly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Twenty-firstly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Twenty-secondly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Twenty-thirdly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Twenty-fourthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Twenty-fifthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

Twenty-sixthly, because the route would be a more direct one to the coast than the present route via St. John.

SEVEN YEARS OF TORTURE

Headaches and indigestion Ended By "Fruit-a-lives"

The Marvellous Fruit Medicine

Like thousands and thousands of other sufferers, Mr. Albert Varner of Buckingham, P.Q., tried many remedies and went to doctors and specialists; but nothing did him any good.

Finally a friend advised him to try "Fruit-a-lives"—now he is well. As he says in a letter:

"For seven years, I suffered terribly from Headaches and Indigestion. I had belching gas, bitter stuff would come up in my mouth, often vomiting, and was terribly constipated. I took Fruit-a-lives and this grand fruit medicine made me well."

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At dealers or sent by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

A substitute film "The Love Gambler," on Wednesday evening came fully up to expectations, with John Gilbert and Carmel Myers in the leading roles. The picture had a pronounced tang of the West about it, which made it most enticing. Our hero had two most difficult tasks, in taming a wild horse and a wild woman. Needless to add the latter feat was much more strenuous. On Saturday evening Gladys Walton was at her very best in "The Gospel," a picture showing as a moral the results, arising from the cheap slander of petty lying tongues. A fine line of gayety girl shapes were shown in "The High Kickers," a good comedy. Many are anticipating the screen version of Hall Caine's wonderful novel "The Christian" on Wednesday evening.

The W. M. S. Societies of the Baptist and Methodist Churches met in concert at the home of Mrs. Burton Clark on Thursday evening. After the ordinary routine of service and business, refreshments were served and all present spent a pleasant social hour.

Miss Alice Niles entertained the young lady members of the sewing club at her home on Thursday evening. The gentle maidens are much enthused over their lectures in the modern sewing methods. Big brother will always have buttons now to fasten his suspenders to.

A good, snappy game of basketball resulting in a score of 17 to 14 in favor of the home team, was played in the gymnasium on Friday evening, between the high school teams of Centreville and Bridgewater.

Two twenty minute halves were played, and the total absence of all rough stuff throughout the periods was most marked. The teams lined up as follows:

Centreville Niles
Clark Peppers
Peppers Jameson
Douglas Farley
White Smith
Niles Green
John Gallagher gave his services as referee in a most satisfactory and impartial manner. Following the game a high school dance was held in the Opera House for the pleasure of the visitors.

CARLETON ELECTRIC WINS

Last week the full Board of Directors of the Carleton Electric Co. had a hearing before the Public Utilities Commission in St. John and they were able to re-present their case, which the week before had been adjudicated in a manner that left the Carleton Electric Co. literally without a leg to stand on. The original ruling left the company with absolutely no chance to break even in the operation of their business, but in fairness to the Public Utilities Commission it must be said that they did not quite grasp the situation as it was first presented to them.

On February 8 the Board laid down a new ruling covering the case of the Carleton Electric Co. in which they granted the original application of 3 cents for power and 4½ cents for light in the matter of selling current to Woodstock Power Co. With this matter satisfactorily settled the Carleton Electric Co. can now go forward to meet the further opposition of the short-sighted gentlemen who apparently are eager to gain only cheap notoriety, which if persisted in will eventually blast any hope they may have held for a public career. If the rumors that reach the industries of Carleton county have growing political aspirations and has been inculcated with the "hydro at cost" bug, apparently unaware that of all political enterprises "hydro-at-cost" will prove the most disastrous, and any attempt to show himself a public benefactor by tearing down and decrying the enterprise of others shows that the man was small bore when he first emerged from the shell. It only takes one with half an eye and the most ordinary perception to know that to buck the Carleton Electric Co. for the purpose of gaining support in the county will win very slight sympathy. Fully 15,000 of Carleton's population are proud of Carleton Electric.

There is still an endeavor to block the enterprise operating at Woodstock. The town is still pumping water with a gasoline engine in combination with electricity and when all the facts come out Woodstock rate-payers will find themselves in a maze of wonderment. So far as the town is concerned the Woodstock Co. is making nothing at all in handling electricity and while Carleton Company sells at exactly twice the price they pay for the power there is a very considerable line loss and a hundred thousand dollar equipment to be maintained.

The Carleton Electric Co. is to be congratulated on their victory over the opposing forces, and the Public Utilities has created for itself in Carleton county, if not in the town of Woodstock, a new respect for its fairness in judgment.

SEEKING AID FOR FARMERS

A delegation, consisting of T. W. Caldwell, M. P. of Florenceville, Rev. C. J. McLaughlin and Frank McLaughlin of Debec, D. W. Pickett, M. L. A., of Andover, Geo. Warnock, M. L. A., of Grand Falls, met the Provincial Government on Feb. 5 to ask that the Government appoint a Commission with authority to call a meeting of all farmers who are financially embarrassed, and their creditors, with a view to getting some arrangement made between them that will enable the farmers to carry on and pay their creditors pro rata, as soon as they are able, without fear of some one creditor getting a judgment against them and attacking their crop before it is harvested, or seizing their teams and machinery and sacrificing them by a forced sale, thus putting the farmer out of business and at the same time not realizing very much from the sale towards paying his debts.

Unless some thing is done along this line we stand to lose a goodly number of our farming population the coming spring, and the men who are thus being forced out of the country are not the drones, but are the men who were the big producers, and who, due to circumstances over which they had no control, have made a debt of their farming operations for the last three years, and the more he was doing the further he went in debt.

While the Government did not give a definite promise to comply with the request, the Premier admitted that he was favorably impressed with the proposition.

Mr. Caldwell pointed out to them that in view of the fact that our Governments were spending large sums of money on immigration it was only a matter of good business to make every effort to retain our own native born people, who are so far superior to the ordinary immigrant.

FARMERS STILL IN POLITICS

An item from the Daily Telegraph-Journal republished in The Observer last week concerned the attitude of the farmers towards politics and brings forth a rather belligerent letter from T. W. Caldwell, M. P., and another from N. F. Phillips. The article in question was lifted from the columns of the Telegraph unchanged and apparently had been received from their regular Woodstock correspondent. It had been published without prejudice as one of the news items of the day so far as The Observer was concerned.

It is interesting to note that the farmers party in New Brunswick feel that their accomplishments in the local house are sufficient to warrant their continuing to "save the country"—for themselves.

FREE PUBLICITY

(Bridgetown Monitor)

Free Publicity is a matter to which we very seldom refer, but it is not amiss to say a few words once in a while to create a clear understanding on the matter.

Practically every paper wishes to lend its support to all movements for the public good and is willing to go as far in these regards according to means and ability as the average citizen, maybe a little farther.

Apart altogether from considerations of these kinds are other things which develop into complete nuisances.

Every week, practically every newspaper published in Canada receives through the mails propaganda more or less lengthy. This stuff is prepared at considerable cost from the expense of writing, printing and mailing it, right down to the time it reaches the weekly newspaper, which, it is hoped, will undertake the expense of having it put into type and issued gratis. The material sent may be propaganda for or against Church Union, it may be in the form of a story designed to advertise free of cost some particular preparation or manufactured articles. In fact there is no limit to what it may be. The amount received by the Monitor every week would almost completely fill the paper with reading matter after a sort. Almost needless to say, it finds an immediate berth in the waste paper basket. Still it is ceaselessly ground out and sent all over the country on the possible chance of being used—and some of it does get by.

The publisher who uses it at all except as paid advertising only serves to confirm a portion of the public in ideas such as this: "Oh well, the paper has got to be filled up, 'anyway'." They forget that in many cases it is not a question of what shall be put in, but a question of what shall be left out. The white space of the paper is the base on which the publisher pays his staff, his taxes, the general running expenses of his business, and furnishes for himself and family. If he has any, the means of existence. Space is his stock in trade. Free publicity seekers have no more right to this space gratis than they have to expect a merchant to give away articles from his store, on the ground that he has to get clear of them anyway. This is conceded generally by intelligent and thoughtful people. If the publisher does not take a firm stand on matters upon which his ability to exist depends so much the worse for him.

There are a few other phases of this question to which we will refer in some future issue.

BREEZY ITEMS FROM BUSY BATH

Man Meets Serious Accident—A Call for New Industries—Many Newsworthy Items

Last week Andrew Sparks, who is employed on M. G. Keenan's farm at Kilfoll, met with a painful accident. He had just returned from a neighboring farmer's with a load of straw, and when he had entered the yard fell from the load to the ground, breaking several ribs. He is a man of advanced years, but notwithstanding, is progressing favorably. After the accident, he was removed to the home of his brother, Frank Sparks of this town, but has since returned to his work on the farm.

Now that electric power is available Bath offers a fine opening for some progressive man or group of men to erect and operate a woodworking factory, roller mill and such, with profit to themselves and the community at large. Good sites are available for water power as well.

The radio-bug is at work, two new high-powered receiving sets having been installed by John T. Commings, of the Hartland Electric Co., during the past week, one in the residence of C. E. Gallagher; another in the home of Alfred Giberson.

Mah Jong, the ancient Chinese game, has also entered into the social life of the town. Miss Margaret Lynch on Monday evening entertained several friends. Needless to say all present were keenly interested in the game, and no doubt many more sets will be in evidence in the near future.

Chas. Gallagher was in St. John on business during the past week.

Messrs. Ritchie and Moore, electricians, returned to their homes, Eastport, Me., on Friday last.

Prof. Taylor has returned to town and is conducting a moving picture show at the Elite Theatre every Monday and Friday evening.

Mr. Teddie, of Hartland, who conducted motion pictures at Hartland, Centreville and Bath, has dropped Bath from his circuit. Mr. Teddie conducted a movie show every Friday evening.

George Larlee and George Clark, electricians, of Edmundston and Perth respectively, returned to their homes on Friday.

M. Donohoe and daughter Miss Mae Donohoe of Johnville, were called to Cork, York county, on Friday last, to attend the funeral of Mr. Donohoe's brother, the late Thomas Donohoe.

The Hospital Aid, meet at the home of Mrs. S. McDonald on Thursday last. The monthly whist conducted by the ladies of St. Joseph Church was held on last Wednesday evening at the home of Miss M. Gallagher. A most enjoyable evening was enjoyed by all those present.

The produce market during the past week remained unchanged, although far more produce and lumber has been on the move than at any other time this year. The prices paid were as follows: Potatoes $2, hay, No. 1, $11, eggs 40c, butter, 35c.

James Lister left on Saturday to spend a week with friends in Listerville.
A Valentine Supper is to be held on Thursday afternoon by the members of the hospital aid at The Willow Inn. As it is being held for such a worthy cause it should be well attended and besides it is the aim of the members to see that every person attending shall have his appetite well attended to.

This year of our Lord, 1924 A.D., is an unusual year. Why? because it is leap year. This month, likewise is an uncommon month. It is the odd month of any year, but it is uncommonly odd this year for it boasts of an extra lease of life, an extra 24 hours being added thereto. The month of February since the 3rd century has been eagerly looked forward to, by many an anxious maid, both old and young, and to the husbandless ones in particular. Thursday the 14th, St. Valentine's Day is anxiously looked forward to, for then the fair-ax has an unfair advantage over the poor, thick-skulled so called sterner sex. They have, particularly so this year, for custom grants "ladies choice" one year in four. Cupid is now on the rampage; his dart, is dipped in poison of exceeding strength. It pierces the often morally, the hearts of many a gallant youth. Sometimes it is withdrawn leaving a gaping wound, an acid burn, that is slow to heal. May this year, however, be an exceptional one in this respect. May the feast of the Lupercalia, as this period was known to the ancient Romans, see many casualties. May the hearts however be pierced with the deadly-potion of love and not with hatred.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazing brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 25 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil).
The inventor, J. M. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month. 15-23.

DEATH OF MISS GERTRUDE RAYMOND BRINGS SORROW

The town was shocked and saddened when on Sunday the announcement came of the death of Miss Gertrude Raymond, who on Friday was taken for treatment to Fisher Memorial Hospital. THE PULPWOOD EMBARGO

Personal abuse directed at me by American interests and some of their Canadian supporters in connection with my efforts in behalf of forest protection for the Canadian people disturbs me not in the least—in fact, it amuses me. I accept it as a tribute to the cause of conservation. When you have no case, abuse the opposing counsel has long been an axiom among lawyers and it is equally applicable to this case. It is my good fortune to be in a position where I need ask for nothing, want nothing and would accept nothing. I am only too happy to remain a plain, private citizen. Insofar as an embargo affecting me in any way financially is concerned, as is frequently charged through ignorance or malice, I will simply repeat what I have said before—that the making of money has no interest for me whatever. My one interest in life is to expand wisely a fund which I have set apart for the work that I have taken up in the interest of the country that gave me birth. This work has become my principal object in life, and I trust that I shall be spared to accomplish the reforms that I have begun. If not, then I have made provision for the campaign to be carried on by my successors.

I trust this simple explanation will relieve those selfish interested critics of any further anxiety as to my financial interest in my efforts to bring about forest conservation in Canada. Some critics affect to be influenced in their views by the welfare of the farmer and the settler. They say an embargo on pulpwood will affect the price the farmer will receive for this commodity. It will. But the price will be affected upwards and not downwards. (Conditions with regard to pulpwood prices and markets prevailing in the past ill have no bearing on prices and conditions for the future. With the large increase in demand in Canada and the enormous losses suffered recently through forest fires, insects, fungi and wind, some Canadian pulp mills have already exhausted the wood supply on their own watersheds. The home demand is increasing every day. It will soon greatly exceed anything ever experienced in the past, and a famine in pulpwood will ensue. So far as the Province of New Brunswick, where much of this criticism originates, is concerned, two more seasons like 1923 will pretty well put that province out of business as a source of pulpwood.

Out of more than a million cords of wood now exported, not more than five of six hundred thousand are derived from farmers and settlers' lots. Since it would require only five new mills with a daily capacity of one hundred tons each to absorb this amount of wood, and since more than twenty new mills are projected if the embargo is put into effect it is puerile for anyone to say that the farmers' market for pulpwood would be jeopardized by an embargo. On the contrary it would be very greatly improved. My sympathy is entirely with the small woodlot owner who in many cases, with his father before him, has been protecting his trees from fire and other devastating agencies for from perhaps fifty to one hundred years. Personally, I would like to see pulpwood prices much higher than they are today, as it would encourage conservation. It makes little difference to the pulp and paper manufacturers how much they have to pay for wood provided they all pay the same. All the manufacturers that I have interviewed on the subject state that they are perfectly willing to pay as much for their wood as the American mills. If necessary, as has been pointed out by Sir Lomer Gouin, the price can be regulated by the Government, or through a farmers' co-operative selling agency—as recently suggested by me. And as in this latter case the farmers would select their own selling agents, I fail to see how there would be any opportunity afforded for graft as one critic has suggested. This method would be similar to the Grain Growers' Voluntary Wheat Pool in the West and the Farmers' Potato Pool in the State of Maine.

In the past the pulpwood buyer has undoubtedly had the advantage but with a pulpwood shortage imminent the seller is now or soon will be in the saddle. If he does not obtain a fair price for his wood it will be his own fault, especially with all of the safeguards mentioned in view. It may be open to argument whether the present pulpwood supply in Canada would justify the erection of the projected twenty new mills, or even half that number, but there will be enough to absorb all the wood now exported and for which the Canadian people are today receiving only a very small part of its value as compared to what it could yield if manufactured here.

The present temporary surplus in the supply of pulpwood is due to the effort of limit-holders to salvage trees killed by the budworm and later to save some of the half-burnt wood left after the disastrous fires of the past season. This will quickly come to an end as the swarms of beetles and borers that are now busily destroying what remains of these dead trees will render further efforts along this line impossible. Just as soon as the operators begin cutting in the green wood again, prices will begin to soar and the farmer and settler will have no reason to complain. Furthermore, the fact that under present conditions, Canada has less than ten years' supply of pulpwood for the industries even now dependent thereon makes it certain that there will be ample domestic competition for all the wood available and at prices very much higher than those now prevailing.

Miss Mann of Cabano has been visiting friends here for the past couple of weeks.

The Five and Ten Bridge Club met at Mrs. Fournier's this week, the prize winner being Mrs. T. L. Landers.

Miss Girouard of Moncton is the new Pianist at the Casino Theatre and is delighting the patrons of the Theatre with her splendid playing.

Great crowds of people have been attending the sale at Hammond's store this week to take advantage of the great bargains to be obtained there. Seldom have such bargains been before the public of Edmundston, and the people have been quick to recognize it.

Miss Jeanne LaPorte entertained at a theatre party and dance last Friday evening in honor of Miss Eva LeBlanc who just returned from Ottawa. Among those present were Miss LeBlanc, the Misses Helen and Grace Stevens, Miss Audrey Rideout, Miss Elsie Pelletier, Miss Elsa Rice, Richard Murphy, Cecil Matheson, E. E. Stevenson, Bert Rice, Dr. Fred Hebert, Martin Hall, and George LaPorte.

"Better and Better" is the verdict of the lovers of good pictures in regard to the pictures now being shown in the Star Theatre. In an interview recently with one of the owners of the Star, a representative of the Observer was told something in regard to the program arranged for the coming months. No expense has been spared in securing the very best films for the Film Fans of Edmundston. And in this well ventilated comfortable Theatre pictures can be seen under the pleasantest circumstances and inspires comment such as we heard, "Better and Better."

UNION OF CANADIAN MUNICIPALITIES

The story of "The Union of Canadian Municipalities," which appears in the current issue of "The Municipal Review of Canada," makes interesting reading, as it describes how the Union was formed in 1901, and the valuable service it has given, in protecting the rights of Municipalities from utility companies in the last twenty years. The article is written by Harry Bragg, who has followed the course of the Union since 1905, when he established their official organ and who has materially contributed to its success.

In addition to this interesting story, which appears in Supplement form, as Chapter 2, of Municipal Who's Who of Canada, there is an article by E. W. Beatty, President, Canadian Pacific Railway, on "Municipal Immigration," and also an interesting message on the same subject, by Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Immigration. There are also several particularly interesting articles on "Municipal Finance," including one by J. W. Mitchell, President, Bond Dealers Association of Canada.

Through such a class of articles the exchange of ideas will prove helpful to our Municipal men, for like the subject of Taxation, "The Municipal Review" is certainly choosing its editorial matter with great discernment. The importance of Municipal work is brought out very strongly in each issue, and there is no doubt "The Municipal Review" is accomplishing a great deal for the national welfare, by means of the Municipal Institutions of this country.

We consider the last two Reviews the best ever published. Especially valuable is the Senior now running on the Mayors of Canada. If those interested and responsible for conducting the affairs of a town keep in touch with the affairs of the country, and abreast of the times through "The Municipal Review," their work will be greatly enhanced and far more valuable. Editor Observer.

WEAK, RUN DOWN AND AILING

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Brought Relief When Other Medicines Failed

Port Mann, B. C.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I was tired and run-down. I had headaches and no appetite and was troubled for two years with sleeplessness. I tried many medicines, but nothing did me any real good. While I was living in Washington I was recommended by a stranger to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am stronger and feel fine since then and am able to do my housework. I am willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. C. GREAVES, Port Mann, B. C.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mrs. Ephraim Clark, who died July 6, 1922.

Dear one, thou hast left us,
Left us on earth to mourn.
Oh, it is God who has bereft us,
He can all our sorrow heal.

Some may think that we've forgotten
When at times they see us smile,
But they little know the sorrow
That the smile holds all the while.

We could not wish her back again
To suffer here below,
But, oh! it seems so lonely
No matter where we go.

Yet again we hope to meet her
When the days of life is fled,
And in heaven once more greet her
Where no farewell tears are shed.

Ephraim Clark and Family.

LEONARD ROURKE

The community of Bath was again saddened on Jan. 30 when Leonard Rourke, a well known resident of that place, died very suddenly. The deceased had been in apparently good health up until the time of his death and went to bed with seemingly a headache. His sister, Mrs. Second, going several times to his bed, finally decided it was more than a natural sleep and called Dr. Somerville who pronounced it paralysis. He was 70 years old and leaves to mourn their loss, three brothers and four sisters. All were able to attend the funeral which was held on Friday afternoon in the Primitive Baptist church of that place, conducted by Rev. P. J. Quigg of Woodstock, assisted by Rev. G. A. Giberson, with interment in the cemetery near by.

Strange to say the writer five years ago on that date buried an older brother. The family have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

Apply ZAM-BUK at night and the pain goes.

Whether your chilblains be on the toes, fingers, nose or ears, nothing else will soothe and heal the itching, inflamed or broken places so quickly as Zam-Buk.

Owing to its refined, herbal character Zam-Buk soaks through the tiny pores, deep into the tissues, to stimulate healthy activity of the skin. Zam-Buk enables it to throw off poisonous secretions that are impeding the functions.

Mrs. A. J. Underhill, of Kalkine, Minn., writes: "For many winters my chilblains were so bad that I could not wear shoes for days together."

"To my great delight Zam-Buk gave the lasting relief which I had previously sought in vain. Whenever my feet feel in the least sore a little Zam-Buk soon puts them right. I have also found it a soothing remedy for chapped hands, coldcracks, etc." Get a box to-day!

The Healthful Walk

WHAT is more pleasant and exhilarating than a brisk walk in the crisp, fresh air.

You breathe deeply. The blood is purified. The circulation is quickened. The bloom comes to the cheeks and you feel fine.

The vital organs are put in fine condition by walking and many ailments can be relieved mainly because the liver action is aroused.

And yet we do not walk.

It is so much easier to ride in an auto or street car that walking is becoming a lost art.

Since we do not take the necessary exercise to keep the liver active and the bowels regular it becomes necessary to resort to other means.

The most popular family regulator is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, for by use of this medicine once or twice a week you can be sure of the healthful action of liver, kidneys and bowels.

Our greatest danger in this age of sedentary habits is from overeating and neglecting to pay attention to the regularity of these eliminating organs.

Most of our ills come from this condition. For proof of this statement you need only enquire at the hospitals where there is always a rush of appendicitis and liver and kidney cases after the holiday season and during the winter months when we use so much artificial food and live cooped up in houses from which fresh air is carefully excluded.

You will notice that while the price of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has been increased to 35 cents, the box now contains 35 pills instead of 25 as formerly.

Likewise Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is 60 cents a box of 60 pills, instead of 50 cents a box for 50 pills. Edmanston, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.
