

HUSBAND CHARGED WITH THE MURDER

Coroner's Jury at Oshawa Renders Verdict Accusing Bateman.

MANY THREATS MADE
Evidence Went to Show That the Couple Had Frequently Quarrelled.

Oshawa, Sept. 12.—A verdict of murder on the part of John Bateman was brought in by the coroner's jury at the inquest tonight touching the death of his wife, Sarah, who was found dead on the floor of her house at Cedarvale at seven o'clock on the morning of Sept. 5, with the bed-clothes on fire.

Evidence was given by Mrs. Colborne, who lived in the same house, that the old man had several times said he was going to burn up the house and do away with his wife, because she would not give him $500 which he had spent on fixing up the house. The house belonged to Mrs. Bateman.

The Tragedy.
On the morning of the tragedy Mrs. Kaales, another occupant of the house, said that she heard Mrs. Bateman scream, "Oh, my bones! oh, my bones!" and at the same time heard a body fall on the floor. She told Mrs. Colborne, who went outside and looked in at the window of the Batemans' apartment and saw Mr. Bateman standing with his face against the pane glaring out wildly. The two women tried to get in the door, but failed. All was dark inside, because the shutters were closed and smoke was beginning to obscure the scene.

One of the women went down the street and summoned the neighbors to help break in and put out the fire, and on her way back she met Bateman going for the milk for his breakfast. When he got back there was a crowd and they told him his house was on fire. He said he could not see any fire, and went around to his door. No the way he met Mrs. Colborne, who accused him of killing his wife, and setting fire to the house. He turned abruptly and went back to the town, and shortly afterwards turned up at the police station.

In the meantime a constable had broken into the house and he found Mrs. Bateman on the floor beside the bed. Her legs were slightly charred and the bed was covered with a sharp weapon, evidently a hatchet. There were eight fractures of the skull, the base of the skull at the back being beaten right away.

Pair Had Quarrelled.
Bateman was not a drinking man, but ever since he had married his wife as the result of an advertisement they had quarrelled. He had been bound over to keep the peace about three years ago.

Bateman was the first witness called at the afternoon session. His counsel, perceiving that he was in a bad way, as soon as Crown Attorney Farwell, of Lindsay, began to ask him questions, the lawyer interrupted and refused to let his client answer. Farwell kept asking him questions for over a quarter of an hour, and each time the counsel for the witness warned his client to answer. Only once did the old man slip, and that was when he said that he had not received any injuries in the quarrel with his wife.

The verdict was brought in just before midnight after a session which had lasted from 10 o'clock in the morning. Coroner D. S. Hoig presided at the inquest, which was in the Temperance Hall at Cedarvale.

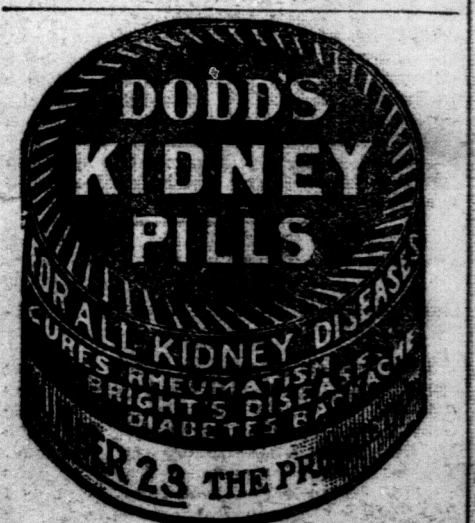

THREE CHURCHES CONFERENCE ORGANIC UNION

Appeal Made to Bring About Union in Some Official Way at Once.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—An appeal of Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational Churches in Eastern and Western Canada for some official way to bring about union immediately, was brought together yesterday in Toronto a special committee of all three denominations. The gathering, which was most representative of all the churches involved, was held in the Methodist Mission rooms. The Presbyterian General Assembly, the Congregational Union and the Methodist General Conference special committee sent many of their leading clergymen to meet and discuss fully and take action regarded as a very definite step along the lines of organic union of the three churches.

Union in the West.
It was reported to the meeting yesterday, with a good deal of pride, of the existence in western Canada of seven or eight churches made up of Presbyterians, Methodists and Congregationalists, who have united as one body, taking the proposed basis of organic union as their foundation. This was done chiefly in places where it was necessary to start new churches. The plan worked out quite successfully.

The chief argument used in favor of the one-church principle is that it does away with rivalry and saves that expense. The request of these churches in the west for the appointment of a body to have joint overtures was followed by the meeting held yesterday. All the churches mentioned are self-supporting, so there will be no special financial demand made upon the governing bodies of the three churches designated.

Rev. Dr. Carman, general superintendent of the Methodist Church, was appointed to the chair, and Rev. Dr. Ramsay was made secretary. After earnest discussion and consideration of the matters involved, the committee, in order to secure further information, adjourned to meet in Toronto on Sept. 13.

PROVISIONAL ACCEPTANCE OF U. S. INVITATION

Britain Can Withdraw at Any Time From Participation at Frisco Fair.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The British Government has left the way open so that should its dissatisfaction over the Panama Canal legislation continue it can refuse to participate in the canal exposition at San Francisco in 1915, it was learned here today.

The acceptance of the President's invitation to participate in the exposition has been accepted only provisionally by Great Britain, so that it may at any time announce a decision not to take part in the celebration of the opening, without breaking any pledges. There is little expectation here, however, that the British Government will choose to retaliate in such a manner.

Great Britain's "provisional" participation was announced by the State Department today in a list of eighteen nations which have accepted invitations to exhibit at the San Francisco fair. The other nations mentioned are Bolivia, Canada, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominica, Ecuador, Haiti, France, Guatemala, Honduras, Japan, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Salvador and Uruguay.

MONTREAL NEXT YEAR

Mr. Joseph Marks, of London, Was Elected to the Executive.

Quebec, Sept. 12.—Election of officers and the selection of next year's place of meeting was the business of this afternoon's session of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress. There was no night session, the evening being given up to a dinner tendered by the local council to the visiting delegates.

President Waters had no opposition for re-election, Samuel Glocking, of Toronto, declining nomination. The other officers elected were: Vice-president, Fred W. Bancroft, Toronto; secretary-treasurer, P. M. Draper, Executive committee—Nova Scotia—J. Brooks, Col. J. N. Woodwin, Truro; B. V. Fisher, Inverness, New Brunswick—H. Campbell, St. John; P. D. Ayer, Moncton; L. McKelvie, Moncton; H. Taylor, Brandon; H. Strang, Winnipeg; Saskatchewan—J. Somerville, Moose Jaw; G. H. Martin, Regina; fraternal delegate to the Federation of Labor, John Bruce, Toronto; fraternal delegate to British Trades Union Congress, P. M. Draper, Ottawa.

Vice-President—Nova Scotia, John J. Fox, Halifax; New Brunswick, J. L. Shugrue, Quebec; J. B. Foster, Ontario, Joseph Gibbons, Toronto; P. E. L. left to provincial executive, Manitoba, R. A. Rigg, Winnipeg; Saskatchewan, MacAllister, Moose Jaw; Alberta and British Columbia each have a federation.

Montreal secured the meeting of the congress for next year, beating St. John by the close vote of 98 to 96.

Fair Treatment Assured.
The following letter was received by Acting Secretary Simpson today and read to the congress: "Office of Minister of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, Sept. 11, 1912. "Dear Sir—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your telegram of Sept. 10, to refer to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, and its treatment of employees. It is, and will be, the aim of the Government to secure, as far as possible, fair treatment for the employees of public service companies in receipt of Government aid, and we are still hoping that the difficulties heretofore existing in the Grand Trunk Pacific will be satisfactorily adjusted."

"Very truly yours, "FRANK COCHRANE." The convention will likely get through its business by tomorrow night.

HAULTAIN MAY GO TO SASKATCHEWAN BENCH

Rumor That He Is Slated to Succeed Chief Justice Wetmore.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—The department of justice has under consideration the resignation of Chief Justice Wetmore of Regina, who has been connected with the judiciary in Saskatchewan and the territories since his arrival in the West from New Brunswick in 1887. Chief Justice Wetmore has held his present position since 1905, when the autonomy bill creating the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan was passed. He has expressed his desire to retire from the bench. It is understood that Justice Wetmore's resignation has not yet been formally accepted, but it is considered probable that he will retain the position until after the new year. In the meantime, however, the name of Hon. F. W. G. Haultain is being consistently boosted for this position. The disaster which occurred to the forces of Mr. Haultain as leader of the Opposition in Saskatchewan, at the elections of July 11 has caused Conservatives to look around for another leader. Mr. Haultain, however, must be provided for before he will retire from his post as leader of the Saskatchewan O. J.

DON'T EXPECT STRIKE BUT READY TO FIGHT

C. P. R. Operators Keenly Interested in Conference Now Under Way at Montreal

C. P. R. telegraph operators all through this district are awaiting with the keenest interest the results of a conference that is being held in Montreal between their representatives and officials of the company in regard to securing increased wages to the extent of 10 per cent, and a reduction in hours from 12 to 10.

Operators seen by The Advertiser this afternoon declared that while they do not anticipate a strike, the men everywhere are ready to go out unless some satisfactory arrangement is completed. In case of a walkout there are eighteen men here, twelve dispatchers and six regular operators, who will be affected. If a strike were called, 2,000 men would go out.

"Messrs. McCaughy, of Monro road, and G. D. Robertson, of Toronto, are handling the case for all the men in this district," said an operator to The Advertiser. "We think that we are perfectly justified in asking for an increase and also for standard hours. The operations across the line have regular hours, and there is no reason in the world why we shouldn't have them. There have been several conferences, but so far they have been without results. We think, however, that something will be done shortly, and that the whole thing will be settled amicably."

A PAPAL LETTER

Roman Catholic Pontiff Sends Message to Eucharistic Congress.

[Canadian Press.]
Vienna, Sept. 12.—Both the early services and the sectional debates held at the Cathedral of St. Stephens this morning in connection with the Twenty-third Eucharistic Congress were largely attended by the members of the congress and by the general public.

Emperor Francis Joseph, under whose protection the congress is being held, and the other members of the imperial family, received communion today in the Homburg Church. The papal letter brought by Cardinal Van Rossum to Vienna thanked the organizers of the Eucharistic Congress unstintingly, praising the efforts of Francis Joseph and the members of the imperial house, and wished the congress a brilliant success.

The Pope called special attention to the need for care lest the least they be led astray by deceitful teachings and temptations of the flesh.

The Pontiff, in conclusion, conferred the apostolic blessing for the conference, the Emperor and the imperial house.

Cardinal Franz Nagl, archbishop of Vienna, in the course of his speech, said that the congress should be devoid of political character, and should be purely an ecclesiastical celebration. The city, with its vast number of visitors, and its gaily-decorated streets, presents an animated appearance. The feeding and housing of such an immense host is no easy task. The citizens of Vienna have responded generously to the appeal of the church and are entertaining great numbers of strangers, but it was necessary to put up several thousands in the schools and other public buildings.

FARMERS ARE BUSY

Two-Thirds of the Crop Around Gorrie Has Been Saved.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Teeswater, Sept. 12.—The fine weather of the last few days has been taken full advantage of by farmers in this district. Fully two-thirds of the crop has been gathered in, and by the end of the week the harvest will be practically through. Threshing has started and the yield is reported to be above the average.

Mr. Wm. Sharpin, of Arnprior, and his bride, were visitors here recently. Mr. Sharpin was formerly editor of the Gorrie Vidette.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Morren, of London, visited the old home here recently.

STRICKEN SUDDENLY.

LONDON, FRIDAY, SEPT. 13.

McBRIDE WITH LAURIER ON THE NAVY.

Sir Richard McBride, the Conservative Premier of British Columbia, says he regards the German war scare as "an exceedingly unfortunate and ill-considered exploitation." Exploitation is the word. It implies, and Sir Richard no doubt meant it to imply, that the German scare has been trumped up for a purpose. To a correspondent of the Toronto Globe he said:

"It was my good fortune to visit Germany not long ago and learn for myself the spirit of friendliness which prevails both in official circles and among the people themselves. I feel satisfied that sanity and true statesmanship will dominate the councils of both countries, and feel confident that the German Emperor, under these conditions, will, in a manner consistent with dignity, reach an understanding with the mother country."

Sir Richard favors an expansion of the Laurier plan, which, he says, was begun on too small a scale. Of course, it was too small to suit the British Columbians who demanded a complete fleet unit, Dreadnought and all, but in other parts of the country the Government was bitterly assailed with the charge of extravagance. Even Mr. Borden declared that the project was "too costly for an experiment." The Government would have undoubtedly provided a fleet unit but for the problem of defending two coasts. Instead of one Dreadnought it was decided to spend the money upon fast cruisers, to be divided equally between the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard. A Dreadnought would be added to each squadron when the country could better afford it, and when the naval establishment had been firmly founded. As the Canadian Courier says, an outlay of $40,000,000 was not an unworthy beginning for a navy destined to grow. Sir Richard McBride is in too much of a hurry, but Canadians who live on the Pacific coast may be excused for regarding the yellow peril as more real than the German peril. Sir Richard at any rate has the proper conception of Canadian naval policy. It is Laurier's conception, too, and it was Borden's conception in 1908. The Prime Minister will have to re-embrace it willingly. He is warned by his British Columbia lieutenant that it is not to be sidetracked by the German "excitation."

THE STRANGLING OF PERSIA.

Mr. Morgan Shuster, the American expert, whose brilliant efforts for the financial and political regeneration of Persia were nullified by Russian intervention, has produced a history of his year of office in "The Strangling of Persia."

Mr. Shuster shows (1) that he and his American staff could and would have succeeded in bringing the finances and consequently the whole internal administration into order, had Russia permitted him to succeed, and (2) that Russia was resolved on all costs to prevent reform. The book is a smashing arraignment of Russian duplicity and of subservient though unwilling co-operation of the British foreign office in bringing the new Persia to ruin.

Sir Edward Grey and some of his colleagues have become so obsessed with the idea of thwarting or isolating Germany that they must bend every foreign negotiation to that end. The triple entente was built up against Germany. England has been made to careen and hug the bear's neck in the hope of keeping it faithful to its obligations. The agreement of Russia and Great Britain in 1907 to exercise a joint benevolent surveillance over the new constitutional regime in Persia was acclaimed at the time as the tombstone of Anglo-Russian ill-will, the end of covert hostility in mid-Asia, and the beginning of mutual understanding and respect. In itself the convention was praiseworthy. Both powers agreed not to allow one another to intervene in Persia on the pretext of safeguarding their interests. The British Government promised "to assure for ever the independence of Persia."

The convention, then, as a peace-maker between England and Russia, and as a guarantee of Persian independence was all very well. But how has it been kept? Mr. Shuster shows how. For fear of antagonizing Russia and driving her into the arms of Germany, Sir Edward Grey has broken Britain's pledge, in allowing Russia to make an armed intervention, to occupy North Persia, with troops as she did Manchuria before Japan drove her out at the bayonet point, to expel Mr. Shuster because he was succeeding in building up Persia, and to crush the Medjlis (Parliament).

There are now signs that Great Britain is to take one step more in this descent from honor. The London Times, a sort of organ of the foreign office, advises that Persia be now partitioned between the two powers and pacified by a military occupation.

For one thing, this would entail on Great Britain a vast expenditure, a renewal of Russo-phobia and perpetual alarms in an acuter form than ever before, and a standing menace to India. It would strengthen the agitation for conscription in order to provide the force to confront Russia on the long Persian marches. But all this is not the worst of it. Great Britain's honor is at stake and her ancient glory as the protector of weak, oppressed peoples.

Great Britain has been dragged long enough after the devil car of Russian intrigue. Mr. Shuster insinuates that if she goes any farther she will cease to be regarded as a first rate power. That is a bitter thing for a Briton to hear. But it is too bad that the mother of parliaments and mistress of the seas should have to tag after the murderer of Poland and Finland to the new outrage upon Persia, to fawn upon a more than doubtful ally of this sort, and to play into the Czar's hands at the cost of her own safety and honor. If Sir Edward Grey tries to force his party and his country into partitioning Persia, there probably will be an uprising of the Liberal members, even if it means the wreck of the Asquith Government and the postponement of needed domestic reforms for many a day.

There is still a chance to stop the disintegration of Persia. Russia should be held up to her promise to withdraw her troops. The Medjlis should be restored, and if Russia will not have Mr. Shuster, there are other honest men in the two hemispheres who may take up the work which was forced to lay down. No power really trusts or loves the Russian autocracy. It is not rich, it needs the money of Paris and London. England can hold a club over Russia without fighting her, and for all her help against Germany is worth, it is England's business to stop her Persian advance right now.

Such in brief is a summary of the arguments of Sir Edward Grey's Liberal critics in and out of parliament, supported by the London Daily News, the Manchester Guardian, and the London Nation. The springs of British diplomacy are hidden. Perhaps if they could be revealed Sir Edward Grey could make a better public defence than he offers at present.

THAT TORONTO MELON.

"The London Advertiser asks who earned the million dollars it estimates to be the value of the Normal School grounds on Church street. It believes that it is only half the truth to say that the rise in value is due to the growth of the city. The whole country, particularly the whole province, has contributed to make Toronto what it is. This is only clouding the issue. The whole country, it might be said, has contributed to make London what it is, and therefore to give The Advertiser any value that attaches to it."

—Toronto World.

Isn't the World clouding the issue itself? A Toronto civic committee having decided to ask the Government to hand over the school grounds to the municipality. The Advertiser raised the objection that the Government was entitled, as the trustee of the people, to a share of the increment of value caused by the city's growth, since this growth had been contributed to by the whole country. The World does not combat this argument. It replies with the truism that "the whole country has contributed to make London what it is, and therefore to give The Advertiser any value that attaches to it." This is not disputed, but it does not meet the point of the article in The Advertiser upon which the World comments—that there should be a tax on the increment of land values, the yield to be divided equally between the municipalities and the provincial treasury. This is a principle of the British financial system, introduced by the budget of 1909.

The case would be on a different footing if the Government chose to hand over the Toronto Normal School grounds to the city for park purposes. A park in Toronto would be as much the possession of non-residents as of residents if they chose to "sit among the flowers" as the World invites The Advertiser to do. The British budget recognizes this by exempting from the increment tax land converted to public uses. The World has not answered The Advertiser's contention.

The weather this year seems to have been bad for everything but the Western Fair.

The Provincial Government would abolish the barroom buzzer. The Opposition would abolish the barroom.

It is reported that Parliament will not meet till January. What about the German scare in the interval? Will it keep?

Mr. Haultain, the Opposition leader in Saskatchewan, is slated for a chief justiceship. On the bench he will not be able to advocate two sides of a case.

The Ontario Government will establish a university course in agriculture. By and bye the special needs of agriculture may get into the public school curriculum.

There is talk of the Canadian immigration department deporting the militant suffragettes of Britain who are on the way to Canada. Do Canadian officials really think they can be kept out of the country if they are determined to break in?

A federal system for Great Britain, involving several local legislatures, for England, is advocated by the First Lord of the Admiralty. This division of labor will have to come, or the House of Commons will break down.

through sheer weight of parish business.

Winston Churchill complains of the "uncivilized antics" of suffragettes who mobbed him. It was Churchill who retorted on a feminine interrupter: "Madame, I won't be heckled." But the women will not be beaten by phrases, or Winston would be an easy victor.

BOSTON PROTESTS.
[Boston Post.]
Sir William Ramsay visits Boston and Washington the most beautiful cities in America. Washington may be content to be tied for first place, but Boston protests.

Washington is a city planned to order; Boston has sprung from a seed cast by chance upon a rock-bound shore. Washington is a city of symmetrical streets, with scientifically planned pleasure grounds and avenues; Boston's streets run wild, picturesquely crooked and interspersed with unpromised parks. Washington has a Congress that talks; Boston has a mayor who sings. Washington is the political focus of the nation; but Boston is the hub of the universe.

Sir William owes Dame Boston an apology.

MR. BORDEN IMPROVING.
[Hamilton Times.]
At his reception in Ottawa yesterday Mr. Borden said, in the course of his speech: "And that the great and the good of the Liberal party in Canada are as devoted and as loyal to the empire as any of us. Though sometimes our views may conflict, we are all true and loyal Canadians. Mr. Borden did not talk that way last September. Nor did he say as much, as far as we know, when he was over in England."

IT CAME BACK.
[Springfield Republican.]
The straw hat, at least, has been able to come back.

A HELPFUL SUGGESTION.
[Judge.]
"Yes," said Blossie, "when I got home there they were—twins. I was simply paralyzed! We've named one of them Anna Eliza, but we're up a tree for a name for the other."

FROM THE PAST.
[Athens.]
One Pampelus, being asked his opinion of the Boeotians, who were gluttons, replied: "Their conversation is just what that of pots would be if they had a voice, namely, how much each holds."

HOW'S THIS, ADAM?
[Montreal Herald.]
Somebody in the know tells the Herald it takes as long to clean up the electric milk machines as it would to milk the cows by hand. Hon. Adam Beck forgot to mention this. Perhaps he always lets the hired man do the cleaning.

SIR WILFRID IS NEEDED.
[Weekly Sun.]
Sir Wilfrid Laurier having deferred his visit to the Northwest so that the people may not be disturbed at getting in advice crops, his friends would advise him not to go West till next summer. He is too precious an asset of his party to subject him to the dangers of a winter tour on the stump in the Northwest.

DOES THIS SOUND LIKE PROVIN-CIALISM?
[Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Marquette.]

In Quebec it is easy to talk of the inability of a nation. But Canada is not British Columbia at one end of the Dominion and the Maritime Provinces at the other. Should a country like Canada, absolutely without protection?

THAT SILVER TONGUE.
[Toronto Star.]
Sir Wilfrid Laurier will visit Cobalt, the great silver camp, which, however, is not the place he got his silver tongue from.

ADAMIRATION FOR CANADIAN NERVE.
[Cincinnati Inquirer.]

In the comparison of the numbers of millions of population our country is so far ahead of what we carry in relation to the figures are never used in relation to the respective advancement. We think not up there as upon the magic dome of the opening of a new country. And those who have had opportunity to observe our neighbors in Alberta and British Columbia, have been doing things in a few years past to satisfy our pride in them as neighbors and relatives. They show vigor, enterprise, daring and the nerve for great expenditures.

SECOND NATURE.

[Judge.]
Many things in this world seem very strange to us until we know why they are done.

"Why do you look under the bed at night?" asked a woman who was visiting a friend.

"You'd never guess," was the reply: "but, since my husband has taken to motoring, I often find that he has crawled underneath."

FROM THE PAST.

[Athens.]
One Pampelus, being asked his opinion of the Boeotians, who were gluttons, replied: "Their conversation is just what that of pots would be if they had a voice, namely, how much each holds."

STEAD NEARLY JOINED SALVATION ARMY.

[London Daily News and Leader.]
Mr. Henry Stead, son of the late Mr. W. T. Stead, speaking at the Browning Settlement in Walworth yesterday, made two interesting disclosures regarding his father and the Salvation Army.

"My father," he said, "admitted that he had often been tempted to leave his work and join the Salvation Army, and he had no hesitation in saying that he had not met half a dozen men whom he could class with General Booth. He described the work of the army as a miracle."

"At the close of 'Darkest England,' the General befriended the great assistance of one who, though not in the army, was a great sympathizer with it. Now that both my father and the General have passed away, a confidence is broken by my telling you that my father's was the trenchant pen that the General acknowledged."

Hundreds of people yesterday visited the house at St. Pancras, where the General was born, and at Broad Street Wesley Chapel, Nottingham, where he was converted, a Salvationist officer conducted a special service.

THE SCARED ONE.

[Meggsendorfer Blatter.]
Aunt—Last night before retiring I looked under the bed as usual, and really found a man there.

Niece—I suppose you screamed for help?

Aunt—No; he did.

The Western Fair is for the farmers and the farmers are for the Western Fair.

What chance has the white man against a race that will permit the world to throw baseballs at its bare head?

Campbell Becher tells this one: Two men were standing near the big pumpkin exhibit.

"Haven't you got any big ones this year, John?" asked the first.

"Yes," replied John. "I have. But when I wanted my farm hands to bring 'em in they struck, saying that they weren't hired for safe movers."

One of the trick riders at the Fair was watching the jumping contest. "I wouldn't risk my neck like that for anything," she said. A few minutes before she had been galloping about a ring, astride two big gray beauties, doing all manner of feats regarded by other people as hazardous.

And not a soul blew out the gas during the whole week.

But there were a lot of shirts that buttoned up the back in town.

But anyway it was the fairest Fair we ever had.

So long as the Western Fair has the goodwill of the farmers it will not be excelled by any exhibition.

A Detroit correspondent sends to a few lines the program of the Master Butchers of America, held in Detroit the week of Aug. 12. Among other things it has to say is the following:

Do you want to take a trip abroad? Hundreds of convention visitors come to Detroit that have never been outside the United States. Here it is easy. Go to take a steamer sailing south, and in just six minutes you are in Great Britain, the land ruled over by King George. Windsor, Canada, is across the river opposite Detroit.

A suffragette mailed herself to Premier Asquith. Some of her less militant sisters will accuse her of trying to make herself.

Fifty-three aviators killed since the first of January. Almost safe for the promoters to advertise: "We guarantee to kill one birdman every day."

Murrah for Uncle Tom!
[Ailsa Craig Banner.]

"Uncle Tom" Hindmarsh believes in patting the country like Canada. He had his horse shod in town last week.

Congratulations, Mr. Banner Man!
[Ailsa Craig Banner.]

Now that the Banner editor is married, what will Dr. Hamilton do for a companion? We could make a good suggestion, but refrain. The doctor is bigger than us.

Strong Editorials Explained.
[Ridgeway Dominion.]

A wandering skunk made his home for a couple of days in the immediate vicinity of the Record office at Windsor. A colored citizen removed the animal, but the skunk made his presence felt in a manner that nearly demoralized the print shop and caused visitors to hold their breaths. The editors in the Record were unusually strong last week.

Catching Cold on the Outside.
[Ridgeway Dominion.]

A citizen of a certain town (not to be mentioned) was out for an evening with friends, and, on returning, found the house locked, so he decided to sleep outside. In the morning, on getting up, his wife opened the bedroom window to air the room. Not having quite recovered from the cold of the preceding evening, the citizen yelled: "Shut that window, do you want me to catch my death of cold?"

FIRE ON THE WAKAMI.

Montreal, Sept. 13.—A fire broke out this morning in the Wakami, belonging to the New Zealand Shipping Company. The flames originated in the hold, where a quantity of paper had been stored. Two firemen, George Leduc and Arthur Rich, were suffocated, and were gotten out of the hold of the vessel with difficulty. The cause of the fire is not known. The damage, which was confined to the cargo, is estimated at $125,000 or $14,000.

ROUGH ON ATLANTIC.

Montreal, Sept. 13.—All the incoming liners yesterday reported that the weather on the Atlantic during the past ten days has been the roughest since November, 1911. Not only have high seas been running, but fog, rain and cold have had to be contended against.

The competition in Chester Whites, a popular breed on the farm, was very keen. Three well-known breeders, D. McCoury, Bornhold, W. E. Wright & Son, Glanworth, and James Page, Tyrconnell, all showing some fine animals. Mr. Wright won a majority of the first prizes, although the other exhibitors made him step for the ribbons. These hogs were an exceptionally fine lot.

In Tamworth, Dr. Douglas & Sons, Mitchell, took all the prizes. The red hog is a good hog for the farmer, and the exhibit of the Douglas family was much admired.

The Famous Flatts.
The reputation of D. C. Flatt & Sons, of Hamilton, importers and breeders of Yorkshires, is known all over America, and it is taken for granted that when they exhibit the lion's share of the prizes go to them. This has happened here, the firm grabbing all the ribbons, and have some very fine animals on exhibition.

The Berkshire classes provided the keenest competition of any of the

TWO MAIDS AND A MAN.

By Beatrice Fairfax.

[Copyright: 1912.]

"Love," says Francesco Petrarch, "is the crowning grace of humanity, the holiest rite of the soul, the golden link which binds us to duty and truth, the redeeming principle that chiefly reconciles the heart to life and is prophetic of eternal good."

Love, in the opinion of the writer of the following letter, is such a trifling thing that one can give it up for a few dollars and cents and never regret the bargain.

Sometimes one has to be deprived to learn appreciation. This man thinks little of love. He will cherish it beyond all things when he has put it forever beyond his reach.

He writes: "I am twenty-four, and have for eight years been a sweetheart with a girl in Austria. I have been in this country five years, and had promised her to return to Austria the coming fall and marry her and bring her to this country."

"Three months ago I met a young girl who thinks a great deal of me. She is the daughter of a very wealthy real estate man and her parents have taken a great liking to me. If I would marry this girl (and I am sure she would not reject me), I would see my way clear. On the one side is the real love and on the other side the money. I do not know what to do. If I marry the first girl I will have to worry about the future, as I am making only $22 a week and have no chance of bettering myself, although my position is a steady one. If I married the second girl I would not worry about the future at all."

NO FUTURE.

That is true; you wouldn't. And the reason is there wouldn't be any future. Any man who marries for money hasn't as much future as the man on the way to the gallows.

You say you get only $22 a week. Men have married and saved money on much less, and have known happiness all the way.

You say you have no chance of bettering yourself. You are demeaning yourself. Any man who is honest, reliable, faithful and has ambition and ability can better himself. It is a case of not wanting to rise, if he remains at the bottom. You have every chance for advancement. That remains with yourself. A girl who has been true to you eight years will be just the incentive you now lack.

There might be worry with a wife and a small income, but the worry that is built about love is not such a heavy affliction. It is the worry that hedges around indifference or dislike that frets and galls.

You are a free man now. Would you be a free man if you married for money?

I hope you have pride in your good name. Will you continue to have pride in it when you have broken faith with a sweetheart of eight years' standing? I am sure the second girl would not accept a name so tarnished if she knew it.

Go back to Austria as you have promised, and be thankful that with so much treachery in the world, the fates were kind in giving you a woman who is true.

Marry her, love her, cherish her, and never let her know that for a moment you were so base as to think of trading off love for money. There may be cares, worries and deprivations, but love will attend. "There is no joy like the joy of love." Wealth brings nothing to equal it.

Caught at the Fair

Scraps of Conversation Gathered During the Week.

"I feel cheated. Mary got three souvenirs more than me."

"Some silly young folks were giggling and talking around us. We could scarcely hear the band."

"Isn't that piano man perfectly well? He was trying to flirt with me. Wonder if he's married?"

(At the fancy work exhibit: masculine voice, sotto voce) — "Yes, I suppose we are to be stranded here for an hour. How stupid!"

"Let's go and get a glass of buttermilk."

"Nothing in here but cabbages and onions. Come on to the art building. It's more aesthetic."

"Willie, if you run away from papa again, we'll leave you at home next fair time."

"There's Mary Johnston and her new beau. Look, she's just to me. See, they're holding hands."

"Aren't they going to milk cows by electricity?"

(Family party, lunching beneath a tree). Mother—"Oh, dear, I forgot to put mustard on the ham sandwiches." Small Son—"Well, never mind. There's lots of icing on this chocolate cake."

"Those folks haven't come to see the Fair at all. They just want to gossip with their friends."

"Wonder if I were to look sweet at this man if he'd give me a peach?"

"Mother, I want a pony like Little Lulu."

"I am going around here to get one of those Advertiser dictionaries."

"Why did the artist paint this girl as having green hair?"

"No use losing your temper in a crowd. You'll get through the Midway much quicker by being good-natured."

Fashion's Fancies

Belted coats are very much in evidence. In many instances the belt extends only in the back section, but the actual belted-in model is also seen. Belts used are of leather, of velvet, or of the material itself.

The width of the new skirt averages about 2 1/4 yards.

The use of the wide girle gives the effect of the heightened waistline, but most of the new dresses are cut with the normal waistline.

Seven-eighths and three-quarter length coats are favorite late summer wraps.

Colored stripes one inch in width alternating with white will be one of the high novelties in fall silks.

Metal is the dominant note in the new trimmings.

Touches of oriental embroidery are being used with good effect on children's wraps.

Summer evening wraps are being made with flowered linings.

To intensify the use of button trimmings, cloings and tabs are introduced in the new gowns.

Dresden silks with all their exquisite colorings have been revived, naturally, with the panther drape.

With tailored suits moderate sized hats in vivid colors are the thing. Emerald green, Prussian blue, cerise, purple and fire red are the favorite colors.

Flowered materials of the old-fashioned type are in high favor for young girls who fancy the fashions of their great-grandmother's time.

A NOVELTY FOR CHILDREN.

The craze for little contrasting coats has extended to children's garments, and one like the above was noticed among the latest designs.

The skirt and waist were of bright Scotch plaid, combined with plain material. The coat was of navy blue serge with white facings and glass buttons. A belt of enamelled leather was worn.

below will be found suitable. Sometimes cooks vary the salad by chopping celery or walnuts fine and substituting for the egg. Shredded lettuce makes a nice garnish instead of the parsley.

2. One tablespoon flour, one egg, one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon of sugar, one-half teaspoon vinegar; one-half teaspoon sweet milk or cream; one-half teaspoon mustard; pepper and salt to taste; beat the egg, sugar, pepper and salt together, moisten the flour and mustard in the milk, and add with the butter, then lastly the vinegar, pouring this in gently and beating steadily all the time, or the dressing may curdle. Place over the fire and boil until smooth and creamy. When cold this may be found rather stiff, and for many many salads a little whipped cream makes a delicious addition.

3. You will need an astringent lotion to correct the enlarged pores. Try this: Witch-hazel, three-quarters ounce; tincture of benzoin, one-quarter ounce; spirits of wine, one-half ounce; rosewater, two ounces. Put the tincture of benzoin into an eight-ounce bottle, with the spirits of wine; add the other ingredients, previously mixed, and shake slightly. Apply this wash with a sponge night and morning.

4. Sprinkle powdered magnesia over and after an hour or so shake out thoroughly.

5. Please see answer to School Girl.

6. Leave the juice on all night. If it proves too harsh four your skin, dilute it with water.

7. It is very neat, legible and graceful.

It's a Pleasure.

Dear Miss Grey: Could you please tell me what to do with my hair? It is thin and short and very greasy. I wash it about every two weeks but it does not help it very much. My hair is very fine. 2. How would you introduce two girl friends? A boy friend and a girl friend? When I am introducing I prefer saying: Mary Smith to Miss Smith. Is it wrong to do so? I thank you for your trouble in bothering with my tiresome questions.

A.—1. I feel sure that a treatment of this shampoo lotion would help your hair; get it mixed at a drug store: Cologne 1 ounce, tincture of green soap 1/2 ounce, borax 1/4 ounce, alcohol 2 ounces. Apply this mixture with a small brush to the roots of the hair, then shampoo with fingers thoroughly. This will cleanse the scalp, and by bringing the blood to the minute vessels that nourish, proves of great benefit. Be sure and rinse the hair thoroughly afterwards through several waters. 2. I agree with you, School Girl, that it is better to use the Christian name when introducing girl friends of your own age, and the same applies to boys as well. One "Mister-ed" and "Miss-ed" soon enough. And don't be afraid to ask questions of me. Come again with any of your perplexities.

A WOMAN'S BANK.

The Mutual Bank for Self-Supporting Women in Berlin is said to be the only bank in the world owned and run by women exclusively for women. It was established in 1910 with a capital of about $25,000. The board of control is made up of four women and there are seven women clerks.

IN THIS FALL'S MILLINERY STYLES

Either consciously or unconsciously, the Paris milliners who determine this trend of the styles have actually considered the people who are to wear the hats, and have created for the most part sane, sensible, wearable styles. In other words, the styles have reached that point where there is a stylish hat to suit every style of beauty. Even in Paris very few freak shapes were shown, while both large and small shapes of simple, graceful, definite outline, hold sway. Feathers, wings, etc., will be extensively used, while ornaments of all kinds will be the trimmer's mainstay.

Our Millinery Department is now showing the fall's latest styles. Fish Sandwiches

Oftentimes children come from homes where fish is an invariable rule on Friday; consequently, on this day they are always sure they will have for lunch just bread and butter sandwiches. Bread and butter sandwiches are very delicate if made properly. The bread must be forty-eight hours old, the butter spread evenly on a loaf before the slices are cut and put together, after which the crusts are all cut off with a sharp knife.

However, one grows rather tired of knowing that every Friday one must lunch on bread and butter, and a fish sandwich will often prove very acceptable.

A tablespoonful of canned salmon, which perhaps the mother is going to make into a loaf for the Friday evening dinner, can be picked fine and to it added three drops of Worcester's sauce and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of chopped sweet pepper. This will make two sandwiches, size of an ordinary loaf of white bread.

White bread can be spread with white cold fish mixed with either salad dressing or a little lemon juice. Sardines give white bread sandwiches a relish and prove a pleasant change.

The fish should be picked up fine and mixed with hard boiled egg, and a little salad dressing or even a little lemon juice if one does not have salad dressing made.

Five Peach Recipes

In an article on fruit preserving, in Good Housekeeping, five ways are described of putting up peaches, quoted below:

Preserved Whole Peaches—Fill a wire basket with peaches, plunge them into boiling water for two minutes and then the skins will come off easily. Then drop the fruit into cold water in order to keep the color. For nine pounds of fruit use nine pounds of granulated sugar and one pint of water. Put the sugar and water together and when it boils, skim it. When the syrup is boiling, drop the peaches, a few at a time, into the syrup. Cook them gently for 19 minutes, then put them into jars and fill the

THE PROGRESSIVE DRUGGISTS.

Jars with the strained syrup. Seal the jars at once. Preserving the peaches whole, with stones left in, gives them a rich flavor.

Preserved Halved Peaches—Clingstone peaches are the best. Pare and cut them in halves. Remove the stones and cook the stones in water for 20 minutes. Use the water for making syrup in which the peaches are to be cooked. For preserving, use as many pounds of sugar as there are pounds of fruit and one cupful of water to each pound of sugar. Boil the sugar and water until the syrup is clear, then drop in a few peaches at a time, until they are all cooked. Put into jars which have been sterilized and seal them while they are hot.

Sweet Pickled Peaches—To seven pounds of peaches allow three and three-quarters pounds of white sugar, one quart of vinegar, two ounces of cloves and two ounces of stick cinnamon. Peel the peaches and insert one or two cloves in each. Boil the sugar and vinegar with several sticks of cinnamon, for five minutes, then put in the peaches. When the fruit is tender, remove it carefully from the syrup and put it in jars. Boil the syrup, reducing it nearly half, and pour it over the peaches in the jars.

Spiced Peaches—For six pounds of fruit use three pounds of granulated sugar and one pint of vinegar. Into each peach insert two cloves. Put into the sugar and vinegar one ounce of stick cinnamon (which should be in a cheese-cloth bag) and boil. When the mixture is boiling hot place the fruit in it and cook until it is tender. Put it into jars and seal at once. Remove the skins the same way as for preserved whole peaches.

Peach Marmalade—When preserving peaches, it is a good plan to make peach marmalade at the same time, using all of the inferior fruit and the skin. The proportions are three-fourths of the weight of fruit in sugar, and half a pint of water to each pound of sugar. Make a syrup of the sugar and water and add the peaches cut in small pieces. Boil until this is thick for about three-quarters of an hour. Put in jars of tumblers.

WITH THE SUFFRAGISTS.

The Queen of Holland has received a petition signed by 28,000 men asking that the suffrage be given to women. This monster petition is the work of the Netherlands Men's League for Woman Suffrage, though many of the signatures are said to be those of non-members. It is a protest against the constitutional revision committee for not giving the Dutch women equal rights with the men.

In Iceland the suffragists seem pretty sure of victory, though the measure giving votes to women has not yet passed the Althingi the second time. There is said to be no opposition to the bill, though the suffrage leaders from Reykjavik, the capital, are travelling over Iceland by steamboat or horseback to make sure that the population even in the remote villages and farms are instructed. Self-supporting spinners and widows have had the municipal suffrage in Iceland since 1882. In 1909 it was extended to all taxpaying women. The present measure, which was introduced the last part of last year, provides for full suffrage for all women.

SIDE LIGHTS ON MANY SPORTSEARLE POWELL BURNS UP
BUSH LEAGUE IN THE SOUTH

Former London First Baseman Plays Under an Assumed Name and Is Sensation of League—Made a Double, Triple and Home Run in One Game.

[BY JINX.]

Earle Powell, the best first baseman in the Canadian League during the season just ended, who was suspended by the London club in the middle of the season, has been burning up a bush league in the Southern States since his departure from this city. The writer received a letter from Powell a couple of days ago, in which he incloses a clipping of a box score of a game in which he played. In that game, which was a 12-inning affair, Powell made three hits, a double, a triple, and a home run, and his playing was the feature of the contest. He is not playing under the name of Powell, but is known as Long. In fifteen games he averaged two hits a game, getting eight doubles and a couple of triples. He is playing second base and is the sensation of the league.

It is not likely that Powell will ever return to London. He claims he is a free agent and the local directors do not deny it. He will likely play in the New York State League next season.

BENNY SPEER IS NURSING A BADLY SWOLLEN FINGER TODAY AS A RESULT OF GETTING A FOUL TIP ON THE HAND IN A GAME AT SIMCOE YESTERDAY. SAMMY SMITH WAS ON THE MOUND FOR SIMCOE, WITH SPEER BEHIND THE BAT. ERNIE DINSMORE WAS PLAYING SHORTSTOP. THE GAME WAS ONE OF THE SUDDEN-DEATH KIND, BUT SIMCOE'S IMPORTED BATTERY FAILED TO REGISTER A WIN. SPEER'S INJURY CAME AT A CRITICAL TIME AND HE WAS FORCED TO RETIRE. THE CATCHER THAT TOOK HIS PLACE WAS NOT USED TO SUCH SITUATIONS AS SAMMY Serves up, and the result was that the opposing team won out.

OTTAWA LEFT OUT OF O.R.F.U. SCHEDULE

Senior Group Was Drawn Up Last Evening With Four Teams Represented at Meeting.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—At the schedule meeting of the O. R. F. U., held at the King Edward Hotel last night, the schedule for the senior series was drawn up. Ottawa, who, it was expected, would be represented by Fred Chittick, was not included in the schedule on account of the Ottawa man not being present. The union should have a good year, and although an Ottawa team would have strengthened the union greatly, the officers anticipated a successful season. The schedule:

Oct. 12—Parkdale at Alerts; T. A. A. C. at T. R. and A. A. C.

TRAP SHOOTERS
BREAK RECORDS

Two of Them Smashed at Denver Tournament.

[Canadian Press.]
Denver, Colo., Sept. 12.—Two world's records were broken at the Denver trap shooters' convention at Overland Park yesterday. In the handicap shoot, W. E. Crosby, of O'Fallon, Ill., established a new record for a score from the 23-yard handicap by breaking 98 inanimate targets out of 100.

William Ridley, an amateur, from Iowa, established a new world's record for an inter-state association association tournament in shooting at two targets flung from a trap simultaneously. Ridley broke 96 targets out of fifty pairs.

Sammy Smith has received a letter from Andy Kyle, who is in New York at present, with the Cincinnati Reds. Kyle was purchased by Cincinnati from Akron, and he may be given a chance to appear in one of the games against the Giants.

That the season just past was a successful one financially was admitted by one of the local directors in a conversation with The Advertiser a couple of days ago. The six owners of the franchise are well satisfied with the financial end of it, and an effort will be made next season to give London the strongest team in the league.

According to one of the directors, Frank Bowerman ran the club into a lot of expense by bringing a lot of useless players to the city for a few days and then letting them go again. The London club tried out more players than any other club in the league, with the exception of Peterboro, and the expense was a costly one. Of the players that reported in the spring only two of them remain—Bierbauer and Hynes. The others were all signed up after training had started.

His Business Interests in Calgary Are of Far Greater Importance So Bout Is Called Off.

AUSTRALIAN PROMOTER SEEKING JACK JOHNSON

Sixty Thousand Dollars Awaits Negro Champion in Australia If He Will Go Back.

[Canadian Press.]
San Francisco, Sept. 12.—Twelve thousand pounds sterling in purses, approximately $60,000, is awaiting in Australia for Jack Johnson, the negro champion heavyweight, if he will go after it.

This word was brought today on the arrival of W. G. J. Kelly, agent for Hugh McIntosh, the Australian fight promoter. Kelly is on his way to meet Johnson in Chicago and until he learned of the death of Mrs. Johnson was confident of taking Mr. Johnson back with him.

The gross sum is split into three purses. For a fight between Johnson and Sam Langford, McIntosh offers $30,000. For a fight with Sam McVey he will give $15,000, and a like sum for a fight with Joe Jeanette.

WINNING OF PENNANTS HAS BECOME A HABIT FOR THIS TRIO OF GREAT NATIONAL LEAGUE CLUB MANAGERS

FRANK LEROY CHANCE, FRED CLARKE, JOHN "MUGGSY" MCGRAW.

The National League boasts of a pennant syndicate—John ("Muggsy") McGraw, Frank Leroy Chance and Fred Clarke—have had a corner on the league championships for the last eleven years, and McGraw or Chance will land the bunting again this year.

In 1901 Fred Clarke won with Pittsburgh and repeated in 1902 and 1903. In 1904 and 1905 McGraw's Giants led the procession. Chance and his Cubs won three in a row in 1906, 1907, and 1908.

Then in 1909 Clarke's Pirates forged ahead and had a slice of the world's series money. The Giants are out in front now, with a short lead, and the odds favor them to win a fourth flag and make the triangle even all around with four pennants for each manager.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—Kelley and Bransfield matched side-winders yesterday and Kelley won by a score of 10 to 3. Lush and Matters were the duellists. The score:

Toronto, 10; Montreal, 3.
Rochester, 10; Buffalo, 3.

Rochester, 9; Buffalo, 2.

BIRDS WON TWO.

Baltimore, Sept. 12.—Baltimore got sweet revenge on Joe McGinnity's Tigers today by winning both games of a double-header. Barger proved an easy proposition for the Birds in the first game. The second game was a pitchers' duel, by Lee and McGinnity and Lee, in which the former came out first best. The scores:

BRANTFORD CLUB WELL SATISFIED

A Few Hundred Dollars Behind, But Franchise Will Be Retained For Next Season.

Brantford, Sept. 12.—There is no question about Brantford's future in the Canadian Baseball League. This city is now regarded as one of the best drawing members of the circuit. Although bad weather has this year put a crimp in the gate receipts on several important occasions, financially the Brantford club will finish only a few hundred dollars behind, but there is no kick registered, because this year the present franchise owner, T. J. Nelson, secured the club a year ago at a very nominal figure. At the present time it would require big money to secure the Brantford franchise. Brantford fans want a pennant-winner, and President Nelson has given the assurance that Brantford will be there next year.

HE COMES UP SMILING

A Comedy Novel
By CHARLES SHERMAN

Copyright, 1912, The Bobbs-Merrill Company.

The Watermelon shook his head as he slowly pulled a greenback from the bunch he held. "I want you two to go to that lake, get as much of the lake as you can give 'em to the poor devil."

"Don't be a fool," advised James. "He's all right. Nothing will happen to him."

"I know, but I keep thinking of him. He can afford to lose what he is going to lose, but all the same, he's cold and tired."

"Aw, don't go and do that," pleaded Mike. "He'll have you arrested—"

"I ain't going to be around here; besides, no one would think of looking for me with the swell bunch I'm going with."

"Maybe not," admitted James gravely. "But there's always the danger that some cop will have brains. And he's bound to get away tonight, all right, and have the bulls on you the minute he does. You had better take all the time you can to get away and don't try to shorten it none."

The Watermelon slowly unwound another bill and nodded. "I know, but I'm sorry for him. A few hours won't make much difference. He hasn't the slightest idea who swiped his clothes. He'll think some tramp did, and that the feller is getting out of the country by cross-cut and as fast as he can. Don't you see? No one will look for me with the general and Bartlett. I'm going to have a week of fun."

"Maybe," said James gloomily. "Hardly, if you give that bloke his clothes before you need 'em."

The Watermelon waved the statement aside. "We are going to leave about five," said he. "They are waiting for me now. It will take you a bit of a walk to find the place. I put the clothes in an empty log near a pile of rocks at the foot of three tall pines, standing together about ten yards from the lake. You can't help but find it. Give him the clothes and this check book and fountain pen. I can't use them, and you two won't get away with them, 'cause Mike's a coward and James has too much sense."

"You're a damn fool," said James shortly.

"He's all right," argued Mike, meaning the man in the forest shades. "What can hurt him?"

"I know, but he's mighty uncomfortable. Can't sit down, maybe, and there may be flies and mosquitoes." "He's just 'Naw," protested Mike. "He's just

LOST VITALITY

Caused by Kidney, Stomach and Bowel Disorders

St. John, N. B., Sept. 13, 1911.—My brother was a great sufferer from kidney, stomach and bowel troubles and was given up by two doctors. He was advised to try your Fig Pills, which he did, and after taking five boxes was completely restored to health and is better today than he has been for years. You can't recommend Fig Pills too highly.

...you meant no insult to me professor. The stranger waved the question aside. "Get me some clothes and I'll give you some money."

"What money?" asked James. "I'll send you some. I am rich. My car is in the town. Maybe you saw it. I was coming through the woods to the hotel to get a tow up, for I was out of gasoline, when I saw the lake. It was early and I thought I would take a swim. Maybe you saw my car by the side of the road?"

"I didn't see no car," said Mike. "Did you come by the road?"

"Yes, yes; that's where I left it. The damned thief has probably gone off with my car, too."

"Then he couldn't be a tramp," said James judiciously. "Tramps don't know nothing about motor cars."

"Maybe he took it up to the hotel," said Mike, cheerfully helpful.

The stranger shook his head. "No, he wouldn't do that. He would get out of the country as fast as he could," suggested James tentatively.

He could easily get some from the hotel, it was early when he stole my clothes. And James realized with relief that the youth before him was, in his own eyes, always right, and advice wholly superfluous.

"I saw a big red car," said Mike, "down the road a bit, over the other side of the village, going south. But maybe your car wasn't red."

"Yes, yes, it was," cried the stranger. "What was the make? Could you tell?"

"A Thomas car."

"Ah, my car. Get me something to put on and I'll make it worth your while. I'm William Hargrave Hatcher. Maybe you have heard about me in yesterday's papers?"

And the poor, shivering, naked wretch drew himself up proudly and smiled with much composure and advice.

"I," said Mike, tapping himself on his breast, "am George V. of England."

"No, no," protested the stranger. "I'm not fooling. Get me some clothes and come with me to the nearest telegraph office and I'll show you the money."

"How much," asked Mike, "will you give me?"

"Ten dollars."

"For a suit of clothes?" Mike's fat red face depicted his horror.

"Apiece," declared the unhappy youth. "Apiece, Mike, said Mike, turning inquiringly to his companion.

"Make it thirty," said James, "and we may be able to help you."

"All right, thirty apiece. Get me the clothes."

"You might write us each a check," suggested James, and drew forth the pen and check book.

"For innocence?" groaned Mike, "commend me to me loving comrade, James."

"The stranger's eyes glittered as he recognized his book and pen. He glanced from one ragged specimen before him to the other, from James's crafty face to Mike's sly visage, but he said nothing, merely took the pen and book.

"Your names?" he asked, opening the book and resting it against a tree for support.

SUFFRAGETTE INVADERS MAY BE UNDESIRABLES

A Possibility That Immigration
Regulations May Bar
Them.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Is a militant suffragette an undesirable citizen within the meaning of the law? The suggestion that the warlike suffragettes, from England, be barred out of Canada under the terms of the regulation regarding undesirables has been made to the department of the interior, and the belief seems to prevail that the regulations would apply. The suggestion has special reference to the threatened invasion of votes-for-women leaders from across the ocean; and the fact that sundry of these ladies have served time in jail, and that their mission is the introduction of law-breaking methods into Canada would, it is urged, be sufficient to justify their exclusion.

The department, of course, will not be called upon to decide the point until the suffragettes themselves decide whether or not they are coming.

PEARSON—MARTIN

Pretty Wedding Was Solemnized at Bride's Home in Ingersoll.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, Sept. 12.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Pearson, corner of William and Mutual streets, was the scene of a very pretty wedding yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when their second daughter, Bernice Evelyn, was united in holy matrimony to August Donald Martin, of Calgary, formerly of the Traders' Bank staff, Ingersoll.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Alfred Bright in the presence of only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride looked charming in white champagne, veiled with shadow lace, and carrying a bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley. She was given away by her father, as the wedding march was sweetly played by Miss Bessie McDonald. The maid of honor was Miss Lillian Pearson, sister of the bride, who wore pale blue tulle skirt and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

CHURCHILL HAS PLAN FOR PROVINCIAL GOVT

Declares Irish Home Rule Is Forerunner of a Genuine System of Government in All Four Countries of the United Kingdom.

Dundee, Sept. 12. — In a speech here today, Winston Churchill outlined a system of federation for Great Britain.

He said that England alone was too large for a single Parliament, which would be strong as an Imperial Parliament, and conflict of opinion would be disastrous. He suggested that England should be broken up into provinces, such as Lancashire, Yorkshire, Midlands, and London, and pointed out that the United States conducted its business through a larger number of Parliaments in proportion to population than if there were ten or twelve parliaments in the United Kingdom.

The British Government, said the First Lord of the Admiralty, intended Irish home rule to be the forerunner of a genuine system of self-government in all four countries of the kingdom.

TOOK WRONG BOTTLE AND DRANK POISON

Little Teeswater Lad Had a Very Close Call for Being Killed.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Teeswater, Sept. 12. — The young son of Mrs. A. Watson narrowly escaped a tragic death yesterday. The lad wanted an empty bottle, and going to the medicine cabinet to look for one, made a serious mistake by trying the contents of one, and swallowed a big dose of iodine.

His mother at once administered antidotes, and worked with him for an hour until the danger was past. Between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey discovered that their house was on fire. An alarm was given, and the fire brigade succeeded in saving most of the building. It seems some fire had been smoldering all night when the chimney caught. There is no insurance, as the policy had run out only a few days before.

GORRIE PASTOR IS GOING TO WINGHAM

Hibbert, pastor of the Methodist Church here, has been invited by the Wingham quarterly board to become their pastor after next conference. Mr. Hibbert has accepted the invitation, subject to the action of the stationing committee.

Mrs. James Shera has returned from Toronto.

Mr. Robert Ashton and wife attended the Western Fair in London.

A number of local young people were at Fordwich recently attending the Anglican tea meeting.

Rev. Mr. Farr, of Byth, was a visitor here recently.

Dr. and Mrs. Stewart, of Belgrave, were visitors at Mr. James Leech's.

BOOMING WHEATLEY

Splendid Concrete Wharf Is Being Built to Handle Traffic.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Wheatley, Sept. 12. — Wheatley is to be a Government lake port and will have one of the best harbors on the Canadian side.

A concrete wharf costing between $35,000 and $40,000 is now under construction, and crabs, which were towed to Wheatley from Rondeau, are being filled with rock and sunk for the initial piers.

The new wharf will, it is expected, prove of much benefit to Lake Erie fishing tugs, and it is also hoped to see one of the passenger lines call. Vessels under 16 feet draft will be able to land at the new wharf.

BADLY BEATEN

Molders Mistook Traveller for Strike-Breaker and Attacked Him.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Windsor, Sept. 12. — Mistaking him for a strike-breaker, a gang of striking molders at the Michigan Steel Casting Co.'s plant in Detroit set upon and terribly punished Joseph J. Gawley, of Windsor, yesterday afternoon. Gawley, who is a travelling salesman, had just left the offices of the Castings Company when he was knocked down and pounded unmercifully. His nose was broken, and he suffered several long deep cuts in the face, and was beaten over the back.

His wounds were dressed by a physician, and he was taken home. None of the assailants were arrested.

STRONGER CHURCHES TO AID THE WEAKER

Amherstburg Baptist Association is in Convention in This City.

The 72nd annual convention of the Amherstburg Baptist Association is being held this week in Cullis Hall. About 50 delegates are present from the fourteen churches of the association, which includes all the territory from Toronto to Amherstburg.

The meetings so far have been marked with enthusiasm, and the reports of the various committees have been accepted as most encouraging. A special interest is being taken by the stronger churches in behalf of the weaker ones. Financial aid is to be given them, and the pastors of the larger churches will visit more frequently the smaller congregations.

The vice-moderator, Rev. R. L. Brady, of Detroit, during the course of his address on Thursday, said that their denomination possessed the strongest set of pastors at the present time ever in the history of the association.

In the opening session Thursday, Rev. J. C. Nicholas, B. D., the local pastor, welcomed the visitors to the convention and this was responded to by Deacon Dorsey, of St. Catharines.

In the afternoon Pastor Nicholas read a paper based on the relation of church and state. This was followed by a most inspiring address by Moderator E. E. Thompson, of Windsor, and it presented a most sanguine outlook for the future.

At this morning's session Rev. R. L. Knight, B. A., a recent McMaster honor graduate, read a paper on the subject, "Baptists and Missions," in which he outlined the work being done by their church in the mission field.

This afternoon and evening the regular Sunday school session of the convention is being held, and on Sunday the visiting clergy will occupy the pulpits of the city churches.

The following are the names of the visiting clergy, many of whom are also acting as delegates: Rev. C. L. Wells, of Amherstburg; Rev. E. E. Thompson, of Windsor; Rev. S. E. Ellison, of Sandwich; Rev. T. H. Morris, of Chatham; Rev. S. L. McDonald, of Toronto; Rev. W. Viney and Rev. J. A. Dorsey, of St. Catharines; Rev. J. D. Hullert, of Amherstburg; Rev. A. Feary, of Exton; Rev. R. L. Brady, of Detroit; and Rev. S. H. Browne, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

TWO MEN KILLED AND WIFE OF ONE SUICIDES

Level Crossing Accident at Quebec Village Cause of Triple Tragedy.

[Canadian Press.] Trois Pistoles, Que., Sept. 12. — Two men, Alfred Gagnon and Arsene Ouellette, were killed on the Intercolonial Railway today, and the wife of Ouellette committed suicide when the body of her husband was taken home.

The men were out driving, and their rig was struck on a level crossing. Gagnon and Ouellette were terribly mutilated.

When Ouellette's body was taken to his home his wife looked at it and then, rushing shrieking into a back room, stabbed herself in the throat with a table knife.

The Ouellettes had only been married a short time.

JEWISH NEW YEAR IS BEING OBSERVED

Special Celebrations Will Continue For Some Days.

Local Hebrews are today celebrating the first day of the New Year 5673. The special celebrations in connection with the New Year commenced on Thursday at sunset, and will continue for some days. Special religious services held in the local synagogues today were largely attended, and the rabbis conducted the usual rites. All places of business are closed.

DOMESTIC SERVANT CLEARED OF CHARGE

Magistrate Believes She Secured the Money From Husband.

Edith Willis, a domestic, who was charged by a down-town merchant with the theft of $13, was discharged in the police court this morning by Magistrate Judd. The evidence for the prosecution did not sustain the charge, the information having been laid solely on the fact that the woman was known to have had $5 in her possession, with which she made a payment on a ring at a local jeweler's.

Henry Willis, the woman's husband, who is a farm laborer near Thamesford, was a witness in court, and he testified that he had given his wife the $5 with which she had purchased the ring. He offered to produce witnesses who could bear him out. This was not deemed necessary by the magistrate, the evidence against the woman being of so light a nature that he dismissed the case.

CREATE A COURSE

IN AGRICULTURE

A New Degree Established in Three of the Provincial Universities.

COURSE IS FOUR YEARS

Holders of Certificated Will Be Qualified to Teach in High Schools.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—In an effort to raise the standard of agricultural pursuits, the Provincial Government has effected an important change by providing new combined courses in agriculture and science at Toronto, Queen's and McMaster Universities. These will be provided next session, and will necessitate two years' study at any one of the three mentioned seats of learning, and two years at the O. A. C., and upon graduation the student obtains the degree of B. Sc. Agr.

Government's Statement.

The statement proceeds: "Five years ago the departments of education and agriculture jointly adopted for the country a scheme of agricultural education, under which graduates of the Ontario Agricultural College are appointed to assist and direct the high and continuation schools, and the collegiate institutes. In discharging the former duty, as representatives of the department of agriculture, the appointees have been eminently successful, but they are usually unable to discharge satisfactorily their duties as teachers in the secondary schools, partly owing to the pressure and importance of their duties as representatives of the department of agriculture, and partly owing to the difficulties connected with arranging for their classes in the timetable of the schools. Experience has, accordingly, shown that in order to secure for the subject of agriculture the same general education as the other subjects, it is necessary that the teacher must be a regular member of the school staff. For some years, however, not all the time of such teacher would be taken up with classes in agriculture, and accordingly, at the request of the Minister of Education, the Universities of Toronto, Queen's and McMaster have established the new degree of bachelor of science in agriculture (B. Sc. Agr.), the course for which covers four years, the first two being taken at the universities, and the last two at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. These courses provide for the general education, as well as a special knowledge of both science and agriculture. The foregoing courses will be provided next session at the universities and the colleges, and students in attendance at the university who have already completed the two years' course prescribed, may enter the college as soon as it opens in October. After a year's professional study, which will give them the facilities of education, the holder of the new degree, B. Sc. Agr., will be granted a specialist's certificate in both science and agriculture, which will qualify him to teach both science and agriculture in a high or continuation school or a collegiate institute. Under the new scheme the county representative will continue to discharge his duties as such, and, in addition, conduct under the school board concerned, classes for farmers and farmers' sons throughout the country, while the holder of the new specialist's certificate will teach science and agriculture in a high or continuation school or a collegiate institute. Gives a Scholarship. With a view to furthering the success of the scheme, the Government will give, at the end of each of the two years taken at the Ontario Agricultural organizations have ever been heard in London.

The school children of the city attended in large numbers. It was the first holiday of the fair, and was taken advantage of to the fullest extent. The stands were filled with them, and they informed the directors how to run the show, particularly when the attractions were not presented as rapidly as they thought should be. "Hurry up, old chap," resounded everywhere.

The midway was a great attraction to them, and few sideshows escaped their attention. When they thought they were cheated, the ticket-taker was told just what kind of a man he was.

The evening performance was largely attended. All the stands, both covered and open, were crowded to the fullest capacity, not a single seat being vacant. This is the first time this has happened in many years.

Few Minor Accidents.

The accidents were few in number, and of the most minor nature. The crowd was orderly and well behaved.

The races were keenly contested. The fast pace and trot was won by Wick Brino, C. H. Mabey's good horse. He had to step fast to beat Flora Mac, who when she behaved, showed much speed.

The other race was not finished, three horses taking heats. Progress Bars, Uri Pierce's good mare, had a pair, while Brown Axellion and Otto Bars took one each. It will be finished today. The drivers of these nags should have been fined good and plenty, as start after start was delayed by them.

The results of the races were as follows:

2:18 pace and 2:12 trot—Wick Brino, C. H. Mabey, 2 1 5 1 1; Flora Mac, J. McColl, 1 5 1 2 2; Nellie Mac, J. Boyd, London, 4 4 2 3 3; The Parson, Charles Palmer, 5 2 3 4 5; Star Points, W. Collins, London, 3 3 4 5 4; Time—2:19½, 2:19, 2:24½, 2:22, 2:26½.

2:25 trot—Unfinished. Progress Bars, Uri Pierce, Fairbridge, 1 2 1 4; Brown Axellion, J. J. Harkness, Belmont, 2 1 2 2; C. C. Bars, J. Graham, Ferguson, 5 4 3 1; Wood Points, J. Dawe, Belmont, 3 4 5 3; Mr. Templeton, S. E. Towner, Hillsgreen, 4 5 4 5; Time—2:26½, 2:25, 2:25, 2:27½.

In the whippet handicap, Blue Prince, from scratch, won first money in 12½ seconds. Date of May, 13 yards handicap was second. It was a keenly contested race, Blue Prince overhauling the field a few feet from the wire.

FRACTURED HIS SKULL. [Special to The Advertiser.] Palmerston, Sept. 12.—Jack Wilford, a G. T. R. callboy, while climbing over a car, fell from a passing freight. His skull was fractured and his back badly injured. He is in a critical condition.

GIBSON UNDER ARREST

New York Lawyer Charged With Killing Woman Client.

[Canadian Press.] New York, Sept. 12.—Burton W. Gibson, the New York lawyer, whose client, Rosa Menschik Szabo, lost her life while boating with him on Greenwood Lake, N. Y., on July 16, was taken into custody today by Deputy Sheriff de Graaf, of Orange County, on a warrant charging Gibson with murder in the first degree. Gibson was arrested at his office. It was announced that they would start for Middletown at 11:30 o'clock.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

LARGE SHIPMENT OF PLUMS AND GRAPES

Prices Are Slightly Easier; Farmers Are Too Busy to Bring in Produce.

The only sales on the market today were in the fruit offerings, of which large shipments had been received by the fruit dealers. Grapes, peaches and plums were the largest individual offerings of the day, and each were slightly lower in price than previously this season.

Plums were sold at prices ranging from 40c to 50c per bushel, and grapes were 50c cheaper per bushel than they were on Thursday. The prices of peaches were from 25c to 50c for a six-quart basket and from 90c to 1.50 for an eleven-quart basket.

The reason that the attendance was so small today was due to the wet weather of last week, which delayed the farmers in their harvest and also to the fact that this being Fair week the farmers lost one day in attending the exhibition and consequently are one day's work further behind.

CALL BLACKLISTS

list was simply the employers' boycott.

James Simpson, Toronto, did not think the abolition of the blacklist would necessarily react on the workmen, but conceded that perhaps the whole question had better be considered more fully by the executive before taking any action, and the congress adopted this course.

The Eight-Hour Day.

The usual arguments were used in advocating the extension of the eight-hour day until it became universal.

Delegates Moore, secretary of the Carpenters' Union, added strength to the debate, when he urged the members to make haste slowly, and merely pass the resolution asking for legislation from the Dominion Parliament, making an eight-hour day in the building trades. He pointed out that many trades were not ready for the eight-hour day, and to try to make a universal law might be to defeat the measure, and lose ground instead of making headway.

Harmony Disturbed.

The harmony and goodwill which has prevailed at the sessions of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress was rudely disturbed shortly before noon today.

The resolution of Delegates Rolis, of Hamilton, that the congress confine itself to legislative matters, and discontinue spending its members' money on organizers, precipitated a discussion which threatened at times to become violent.

TWO GREAT DOGS IN BATTLE ROYAL
 Ben Lewis' Landsdowne Ruler and W. J. Clark's London V. Pair of Great Setters.

LOCAL DOG TOP-NOTCHER
 But the Other One Won For His Beauty—Canine Exhibition Places Everyone.

The dog show proved to be one of the best features of the Fair, and daily attracted large crowds. The quality of the exhibits was much better than usual, and the entry list was much larger.

The show was particularly strong in field dogs. In these classes, Ben Lewis' Landsdowne, Pa. W. J. Clark, London; A. E. Thoroughgood, Toronto; Mrs. Chas. Waters, St. Thomas had fine strings, and there was always a battle for the honors.

One of the closest fights was in the English setter class, between Ben Lewis' Landsdowne Ruler, a champion at a score of shows, and W. J. Clark's London V. The latter is a wonderful field dog, and excelled in this feature of the work. Ruler is a typical bench dog, and after a long deliberation was given the prize over the London dog. Ruler's beautiful head was what decided the award.

The original London, ancestor of Mr. Clark's dog was the most famous dog in America, and won every prize at the big shows. He was owned by Mr. J. W. Humpidge, of this city.

Landsdowne Lena, another of Ben Lewis' string, won three firsts in the bitch classes.

In the Pointer exhibit, E. B. Chase's string, exhibited by Ben Lewis, won a majority of the awards. In the puppy class, Mrs. Waters' Yucupa, a splendid specimen, won first. Her good dog Oke was third to Lewis' pair. He will do better. Mrs. Waters' pair won well in the bitch classes.

Ben Lewis' string, won three firsts in the bitch classes.

Nice Name for a Bloodhound. There was but one bloodhound, Dr. H. A. Stevenson's Peter Pan, and he of course won all the money. He is a pretty fair specimen of the breed, too.

F. A. Stewart's Lady Wolfram and F. R. Ambrose's Carlo were the only St. Bernards exhibited, and as there was no competition they were given all the awards.

John Sherlock won practically all the prizes in the Russian Wolfhound classes, his dogs being particularly fine animals.

Ben Lewis had a big string of Greyhounds on exhibition, and took everything in sight. All were exceptionally good animals.

The London Hunt Club showed some fine English Foxhounds, Blenheim being a particularly good specimen. All the prizes went to the club.

In the American Foxhound class, Tony Vita's Bosco proved to be a good sort of dog and won without much difficulty. R. Imrie's Queenie showed up well.

In Irish setters the awards were distributed between A. E. Thoroughgood, Toronto, who won in the novice classes, with Karamay Tim, J. C. Hannah, who won the limit dogs with Montrose Paddy Tonar, and Ben Lewis who won in the bitches with Landsdowne Ruler.

John Tomlinson, of Woodstock, was the big exhibitor in cocker spaniels, winning well with Champion Speculator, Edna, Brownie and other high-class dogs.

Standard Dachshunds. Win. In Beagles, Ben Lewis practically swept the boards, as did W. S. J. Saunders, of this city, with his fine Dachshunds.

The Collies were a particularly fine exhibit. John McCormick showed a four-time winner in Otterburn Dial, a magnificent collie, bred by Dr. Ford in the class for other than sables.

St. Thomas, owned by Frank Shaw, St. Thomas, was a beauty. Col. R. McEwen exhibited a bitch, Farbold Palmleaf, a fine collie, which won handsomely. Dr. Ford had another handsome black bitch in Otterburn Overture.

Mrs. R. J. M. Webb, Petrolia, won easily with her sheep dog, Finn. He had a fine competition, too, and was not in the best of condition, but he is a very superior dog, winning in spite of these handicaps.

In Airedale Terriers, Peter Pawden, of Ridgeway, swept the boards. He exhibited a wonderful dog in imported Caerphilly Marvel, and he had no trouble whatever in winning in the company. Pawden's other dogs were of high quality, too.

class to himself, showing some very fine dogs.

In Boston Terriers, F. N. Turville, London, exhibited a beauty in Reville, winning in the open classes with him.

W. A. Little, Toronto, won the same class for dogs under 17 pounds, with Ted Shongo, a particularly good Boston. Ben Lewis won two first and a special with the bitch Philmont Pansy, a beauty, while M. A. Smith, Toronto, scored, with Kenilworth Dolly Logan, a splendid bitch.

The Winnipeg dog, Madison Monarch, swept the classes for smooth-haired fox terriers, for dogs, while Mrs. Frank Westbury's Princess Patch was as good among the bitches. The latter is a very fine puppy.

Pomeranians From Hamilton.
 Mrs. O'Rourke, Hamilton, exhibited some very fine Pomeranians. She won a number of prizes with them. Mrs. Herd, of Toronto, won well with Kelvin, a fine novice.

Mrs. H. E. Shortt, 24 Evergreen avenue, this city, swept the boards for Maltese terriers. These fluffy little rascals are popular with the women and children, and Mrs. Shortt's fine puppies were quite an attraction. They will win in any kind of company.

George Henry won everything in the poodle classes.

In whippets, there were many entries. Ben Lewis, Landsdowne, Pa. White & Lake, Toronto, and H. Pinkerton, Toronto, having fine exhibits. The prizes were evenly distributed among them.

Altogether it was a fine show, and

[Special to The Advertiser.]
 Sarnia, Sept. 13.—Doctor McCullough, chairman of the provincial board of health, paid a visit to Sarnia yesterday, and addressed a special meeting of the town council and the local board of health, concerning the removal of the waterworks to Point Edward.

The doctor stated that the plans and specifications for the removal of the plant must first be approved by the provincial board of health.

The two most important features of Dr. McCullough's address came as a surprise to many.

He intimated that it was not absolutely necessary for the council to submit the bylaw to the people for approval, and furthermore should the by-law be defeated at the polls, the provincial board of health possesses the power to remove the waterworks to the Point, and change the cost thereof to the corporation.

 Novel Plan of School Officer to Make Lad Stop Playing Hookey.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
 Sarnia, Sept. 13.—Now that school is again in session, the list of juvenile truants grows steadily, and the truant officer is a busy man. The warm weather and the lure of the open makes a strong appeal to the small boy, and the temptation to play hookey is often overwhelming.

Robert Scroogie, the 9-year-old boy, whose persistent and successful efforts to escape the confinement of the schoolroom last spring brought him into the limelight of publicity, is again the prize juvenile delinquent.

Robert has attended school for just one day since the opening semester, and was located by the truant officer a couple of days ago at 8 o'clock in the evening, perched in the croch of a tree calmly puffing a cigarette.

In order to keep him from running around the streets, he has been dressed in girl's clothes, the idea having so far met with success.
