COAL MINERS AGREE TO ARBITRATE WAGES DISPUTE

U. S. SOFT COAL MINERS ACCEPT SECRETARY WILSON'S PROPOSAL TO ARBITRATE WAGES QUESTION

John L. Lewis, Acting President of the Mine Workers, Announces That Proposition Submitted Has Been Approved Without Qualification—Means There Is No Possibility Now of Strike Being Resumed.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 15.—Acceptance without qualification by the mine workers of Secretary of Labor Wilson's proposal for negotiation of a nation-wide wage scale agreement was announced at the conference today by John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America.

ONE, POSSIBLY TWO, SHIPS LOST IN THE STORM ON SUPERIOR

The H. E. Runnels Breaks Up On Rocks.

CREW IS RESCUED

Ore Carrier John Owen Also Thought To Have Foundered.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Nov. 14.—One steamer, the H. E. Runnels, is known to have been lost, and another, as yet unidentified, is believed by marine men here to have foundered in the storm that has been raging over Lake Superior for three days.

The Runnels, after battling her way through the gale off Grand Marais all last night, grounded early today and pounded to pieces shortly after the crew of seventeen had been rescued by means of a life line.

The second vessel is believed to be the John Owen, an ore carrier, which has not been sighted since Wednesday. So far as known here tonight all other steamers have been accounted for.

Officers of the Wilpen, which arrived today, reported sighting wreckage ten miles off Manitou Light yesterday. Because of the high sea and the blinding snowstorm they were unable to identify the wreckage, they reported. According to their story, however, they made out an overturned lifeboat, a portion of a wrecked pilot-house, and what appeared to be the body of a man held up by a life preserver.

Others Saw Nothing.

Other vessels passing that way report that they sighted no wreckage, but this may be due to the heavy snowfalls and the fact that the wind had driven the wreckage out of their course.

Little can be accomplished in the way of a search for the Owen until the storm abates. The vessel was in command of Capt. George B. Benham and carried a crew of twenty.

The steamer Replogle arrived here today after narrowly escaping disaster in the high gale. She was forced to hug the shore for two days by the mountainous waves. In the light of their own experiences officers declared it was quite possible that the Owen, because of her comparativ lightness, had been unable to ride the high seas.

Although a number of steamers have arrived here in the last few weeks covered with ice and considerably battered, the Runnels and Owen are the only ones lost this season in "the graveyard of the lakes."

CHICAGO LIFE-SAVER SHOWS HEROISM IN DIRECTING RESCUE

SAULTE STE. MARIE, Nov. 14.—Keeper John Anderson of the Chicago life-saving station is the hero of the marine men on the great lakes tonight. The story of his heroism in taking charge of the rescue work of the wrecked steamer M. E. Runnels, which was pounded to pieces on the shores of Lake Superior near Grand Marais, is one that will go down in the history of life-saving work on Lake Superior.

When the Runnels was dashed ashore this morning in a mountainous sea it found the Grand Marais life-saving crew without a leader, due to the illness of Keeper Benjamin Truesdale. John Anderson was in Grand Marais aboard the United States submarine chaser E-438. Immediately he took charge of the rescue work.

The seventeen men comprising the crew of the Runnels were helpless with a sea rolling over the vessel and everything coated with great layers of ice. The ship struck the reefs at about 7 o'clock this morning, and began to break up almost immediately. Anderson put the crew of the E-438 on duty with the coast guardmen, rigged up the bench apparatus and with a single shot sent a line over the wrecked vessel. A breeches buoy was sent to the ship, but it froze solidly to the cable and could not be used.

Giant seas smashed over the piers, and the rescuers were freezing, but a thirty-foot surfboat was rigged out, and with Anderson in charge and handling the steering oar, made four trips out and back, taking off everyone of the crew.

Anderson was the only man who was not lashed to his seat in the surfboat. He was swept overboard three times, but each time managed to crawl back into the tiny craft and continue his work of rescue.

MARINE MEN BELIEVE THAT STEAMER OWEN IS SAFE IN HARBOR

Efforts To Locate Missing Vessel Have Been Unsuccessful.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Nov. 15.—As the hours passed without word from the lake steamer John Owen, marine men here clung to the hope today that the ore carrier had put into one of the numerous harbors between the Soo and Keweenaw point and outridden the storm that for three days has lashed Lake Superior into a sea of mountainous waves accompanied by a blinding snowstorm.

Most land communication lines were paralyzed but all points reached by the coastguards reported the Owen had not been sighted. Vessels on the lake were searching for her by wireless, while they kept a sharp watch for wreckage. Surf boats from the Eagle Harbor coastguard station were dispatched to Manitou Island this morning in an attempt to locate and identify wreckage reported in that vicinity by the steamer Wilpen.

The Owen carried a crew of twenty, and was last sighted Wednesday.

Fear of Floating Mines Held Back Fishing Vessels

Several Dutch Ships Searching For Missing Sailors.

Amsterdam, Nov. 15.—As a result of recent shipping casualties due to floating mines in the North Sea, sailors of the Dutch fishing fleet at Ymuiden have decided not to sail from ports until they learn the fate of three boats which, according to unconfirmed advices, recently struck mines and went to the bottom with all their crews.

Several Dutch ships are still searching for 22 persons of the crew of the steamer Zaan, which was sunk by a mine last Sunday.

His Sweet Tooth Wins Wife Decree

Demand for Frosted Cake and Pie Breaks Up Home.

Adrian, Mich., Nov. 14. — Frosted cakes, pies and a hobby that led him to spend more than his share of the family cash for guns, brought a state of dissatisfaction in the home life of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schuler. Mrs. Schuler told Judge Hart Friday in her suit for divorce. She said that her husband insisted upon having a piece of frosted cake and a half pie in his dinner pail every day, and that if the cake did not happen to be frosted he wouldn't look at it."

Mr. Schuler, however, hadn't kept up with the high cost of frosting, and his wife asserted that she was allowed only $15 every two weeks with which to satisfy his sweet tooth and at the same time run the house and buy clothes for herself and child.

The husband filed a cross bill, but it was dismissed and the court awarded the decree to Mrs. Schuler.

SUPREME COUNCIL DISCUSSES AWARDING OF TANK STEAMERS

Paris, Nov. 15.—The supreme council yesterday discussed disposition of four oil tank steamers which are in German ports, and which have been the subject of much controversy, in which the supreme council was involved.

Nine of these steamers belonged to German subsidiary companies of the Standard Oil Company before the beginning of the war, but were sold to German companies in a transaction which the American custodian of enemy property questioned. Pending a settlement of the matter through judicial proceedings, the American peace delegation desires to have these tankers operated either by German or American crews for two round trips to the United States in order to supply German industries with oil. The European allies say this solution of the matter is impossible as far as German crews are concerned, as Germans should not be allowed to operate ships before there is a complete ratification of the peace treaty. These allies desire the ships allocated to Britain, Belgium and France in order to give employment to sailors of those nations who are out of work. No decision has been reached in the premises.

JOINT CONTROL OF BRITISH RAILWAYS ALMOST CERTAIN

Proposal To Establish Railway Labor Board Is Submitted.

London, Nov. 15.—It is understood that the executive of the National Union of Railwaymen has virtually agreed to accept the government's proposal that railwaymen take membership in committee management for the railways, and that joint control of the railways is a certainty of the immediate future.

Meanwhile the Daily Mail's labor correspondent says that the railway workers have secured very momentous concessions, which justifies him in believing that peace in the railroad industry is definitely in sight.

The future management of the railways, according to this writer, will be in the hands of a joint managing committee now under the ministery of transport, to which the railway unions will appoint two representatives. It is further proposed to establish a railway labor board, consisting of four representatives of the railway managers, four union appointees and four "railway users."

PARIS GRIPPED BY EARLIEST BLIZZARD EVER EXPERIENCED

Transportation Facilities Are Crippled by Severe Storm.

Paris, Nov. 15.—A blizzard struck the Paris region last night. Six to ten inches of snow fell and the storm continues with unabated violence. The central markets are practically deserted, surface tramcars and taxi-cab services have been tied up, and trains from the provinces are arriving hours late. Some trains from the north have been stalled altogether. All overland telegraphic communication with Spain has been interrupted.

This is the earliest blizzard on record in Paris, adding greatly to the discomfort and misery from lack of coal and transportation difficulties.

HALF A MILLION PERSONS IN CAUCASUS REGION WILL STARVE UNLESS RELIEF COMES SOON

No Harvest, Cattle, Clothing or Medicine in Devastated Area—People Living a Terrible Existence—Food Supplies Will Only Last Until December—Thousands in Bread Lines.

Paris, Nov. 15.—Half a million persons will starve in the Caucasus this winter unless immediate relief be provided, in the opinion of William N. Haskel, allied high commissioner in Armenia, who left Paris last night for Tiflis, after having conferred with delegates to the peace conference for the past two weeks. One million Russian Armenians and 300,000 Turkish Armenians are now living a terrible existence in the Armenian republic, he says.

There will be no harvest this year; there are no cattle; houses have been destroyed, and there is neither medicine nor clothing, according to Col. Haskel, who says the homeless families are living in desperate poverty.

"The food program of the inter-allied relief committee, headed by Herbert C. Hoover, is finished," adds the commissioner, "and the last supply of foodstuffs furnished by that organization and the committees for relief in the near East will be exhausted in December.

"Twenty thousand orphans are totally supported in 49 orphanages. Eighteen hundred beds are provided in hospitals. We have maintained bread lines and soup kitchens, which have supported countless thousands. In Alexandropolis, alone, 12,000 under-nourished children gathered into compounds by Armenian officials, and we take care of as many as possible.

During my visit of inspection I saw 23 children carted out of one compound dead. We rescued the remainder.

I. W. W. MEMBERS ARE BEING ROUNDED UP ALL ALONG THE COAST

U. S. Authorities Determined To Stamp Out Radical Element.

MANY ARE JAILED

Headquarters of Men of Bolsheviki Tendencies Are Searched for Evidence.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 15.—Raids on Industrial Workers of the World and other radical organizations, begun as the result of the killing of four former service men at Centralia, Wash., last Tuesday, continued during the night up and down the Pacific coast, and as a result scores of additional prisoners were in custody today.

Some of them face charges of criminal syndicalism, some of inciting to riot and others of vagrancy. Three persons, alleged members of the radical order, sustained injuries in one raid, which necessitated their removal to a hospital.

At Los Angeles a number of former service men, said to be mainly members of the American Legion, broke into I. W. W. headquarters, cut and bruised with clubs three men, and wrecked the place before the police could respond to a riot call. In San Francisco the "People's Institute" and I. W. W. headquarters were raided by the police and nine men held in default of $1,000 bonds on charges of vagrancy.

These raids followed receipt of information, the police said, that school children were visiting the People's Institute and obtaining radical literature, which they carried home. All I. W. W. members, says the police captain conducting the raid, must leave San Francisco or go to jail.

LADY ASTOR CASTS HER VOTE EARLY

Plymouth, England, Nov. 15.—Lady Astor, who is a candidate for member of parliament, was one of the first women to vote after the opening of the polls here today. There is great activity throughout the division.

The balloting came after a fortnight of intense electioneering in the constituency, but it will be nearly a fortnight more before it becomes possible for those today claiming the victory for their respective favorites among the three candidates to be sure of the outcome, as the result will not be announced until November 28. The delay is necessary because of the number of absent voters, largely men serving with the colors abroad.

The clear, crisp weather which prevailed today augured a heavy ballot.

VICTORY LOAN WILL GO BEYOND HALF MILLION MARK, IS OPINION HELD BY CAMPAIGN LEADERS

Three Hundred and Six Places in Ontario Have Now Won the Prince of Wales' Honor Flag—Several Firms Who Subscribed Heavily At Opening of Campaign Increase Their Subscriptions.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Confidence that the half billion mark will have been passed in the Victory Loan campaign when subscriptions close tonight, is expressed at Loan headquarters here. The latest returns give the total for all Canada as $478,795,778, but this does not cover any of the provinces to date, Ontario's figures being up to only Friday night, Quebec, up to Thursday night, and the rest of the country to Wednesday night.

The Dominion special subscriptions committee points out, also, that many firms that had subscribed early in the campaign have made a further subscription. Yesterday, for instance, the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company, which early in the campaign subscribed $5,000,000, yesterday contributed a further $1,000,000.

The number of places in Ontario, which have won the Prince of Wales honor flag is now 306, sixty-three having been added to the list Friday. Three more units have joined the ranks of the millionaire class. These are: Prince Edward, with $1,011,000; East York, with $1,010,300, and Carleton, with $1,006,050. A subscription of $500,000 from the Western Canada Flour mills is announced.

The newspaper chapels have assisted the strikers by donating ten per cent of their wages for seven weeks since the vacation originated.

ST. JOHN LONGSHOREMEN DEMAND ADVANCE OF 20 CENTS PER HOUR

Conference Held Between Shipping Representatives and Men.

St. John, N. B., Nov. 14.—An advance of twenty cents an hour in wages is demanded by the longshoremen of the port of St. John for the coming winter. A conference was held between the representatives of the shipping federation this afternoon, at which the shipping interests were represented by Thomas Robb of Montreal and Capt. John T. Walsh, manager of the C. P. O. S., with the local steamship agents also present. As a counter-offer, the steamer men suggested 85 cents an hour and this proposal was discussed at a meeting of the longshoremen this evening. At the close of the meeting officials of the union declined to announce their decision, until it had been communicated to the supporting federations. The coal handlers who now receive 75 cents an hour, also were asking for higher wages, and this demand also is being discussed by the interests involved.

Prayer Meeting Held To Prepare For Gipsy Smith

Congregations of Central Churches Held Special Union Services in Salvation Army Hall.

A large number of members of the different congregations of the churches in the central part of the city attended the union prayer meeting held in the Salvation Army Hall Friday evening as a preparation service for Gipsy Smith, the world famous evangelist, who comes to London on November 17 for two weeks.

Rev. Thomas S. Roy of Talbot Street Baptist Church conducted a short singsong of some of the best known hymns. Rev. T. S. McCullough of the Social Service Council gave a sermon on the "Power of Prayer." Prayer, he said, had accomplished much, as might be seen if one studied the Old and New Testament.

He referred to Gipsy Smith as one of God's greatest ministers, and he hoped many would be brought to the house of prayer through the evangelistic campaign. Rev. D. C. MacGregor, Rev. R. G. Peever and others also offered special prayers for the coming of Gipsy Smith that he might do great things for the citizens of London by showing them the right way to walk through life.

DRAWING TO FIND VICTORY LOAN PRIZE NUMBERS TONIGHT

Primary Selection First—Final Choice of Numbers Monday.

President George M. Reid and executive officers had under advisement at a meeting last night the development of an absolutely fair method of drawing the lucky numbers in the $1,500 prize competition.

Purchasers of Victory bonds are advised that they must make application for their numbers at Victory Loan headquarters not later than 10 p.m. tonight. All who purchase between now and the close of the campaign will receive their numbers at the time the purchase is made.

All bond salesmen in possession of numbered cards must return to headquarters all numbers not issued to subscribers not later than 11:45 tonight.

Primary Drawing First.

A primary drawing will then be made—three numbers being drawn from the first thousand issued, three from the second thousand, three from the third thousand, and so on. In this manner a fair and even distribution of prizes through the whole list of numbers will be secured.

Monday at noon the primary numbers will be placed in a receptacle and fifteen will be drawn. The first will be the winner of the $500 (first prize), the second the winner of the $250 (second prize), the third the winner of the $100 (third prize), the fourth the winner of the $100 (fourth prize), and the next eleven will be winners of prizes of $50 each.

These winning numbers will be published officially in Monday evening's newspapers.

Must Claim Prizes.

The holders of the lucky numbers must claim the prizes at Victory Loan headquarters, York and Richmond streets, not later than 6 p.m. Wednesday, November 19, presenting their numbered cards.

Every possible precaution has been taken to prevent the issuance of duplicate numbers, but should it happen that any of the prizes is claimed by more than one, there will be another drawing between the claimants for the prize in dispute.

The winners having been thus determined, the prizes will be paid over at once.

VETERANS TO ENTER MUNICIPAL POLITICS WITH SOLID FRONT

Veterans of the war will make their presence felt in municipal politics in this city on News Year's Day next if the movement begun last night is carried to its completion.

Committees of the Great War Veterans' Association and the Army and Navy Veterans met at the G.W.V.A. building and discussed co-operation in city elections. The G.W.V.A. proposed forming committees of five men from both organizations to look after municipal affairs as they affect the returned soldier.

This plan made a favorable impression on the Army and Navy Veterans and they will recommend this course when their organization meets Tuesday next.

It is also probable that the Grand Army of Canada will join with the other soldiers' organizations in backing candidates who are favorable to veterans.

Gratuity to Veteran Who Served 3 Years, Partly in France, $420; To Stenographers at Home, $334

Returned Man Draws Comparison To Show Why Warriors Should Get More—Shows Pay of Girls Is Much Better All the Time.

A local returned soldier, bitter in his condemnation of the recent government action in turning down increases of war service gratuity for overseas veterans, has prepared an interesting statement in which bonuses granted by the powers that be to female stenographers employed at Wolseley Barracks here are compared with gratuities awarded front line trench pioneers. The figures obtained by him with respect to the bonuses are official, and not only apply to female stenographers of Military District No. 1, but to young women employed at similar duties in various military centres throughout the Dominion, the rate of bonus being struck; at Ottawa.

Under the amended war service gratuity regulations, a former soldier who served "in an actual theatre of the war," and whose period of service in the Canadian expeditionary force, totals three years or more, receives six months' gratuity at a rate of $70 a month, which totals $420. In contrast to this, one local stenographer employed at military headquarters here has received over $334 in bonuses, while two others employed in similar capacity have received over $331. The stenographers referred to were not engaged until some time after the outbreak of war, and hence their period of service totals about four years, or approximately the period served by thousands of veterans of the trenches who received $420.

Many Payments.

The bonuses are made up as follows: Paid by order-in-council, December 12, 1918, $112.50; paid by order-in-council, same date, $75; war bonus paid March 25, 1919, $25; provisional allowance, same date, $37.50; provisional allowance and bonus, July 16, 1919, $62.50, and cost of living bonus, September 25 last, $21.50. Further allowances of similar nature have been paid throughout Canada since the date last mentioned, but records of them are not available for publication. However, the total bonuses recorded above are $334.

The female stenographers employed at district headquarters are under the Civil Service Commission, senior girls receiving $85 per month approximately, while the majority receive $2.60 per day for seven days in the week, which salary, in the opinion of the criticising veteran, is a fair living wage at least, much better than stenographers usually receive in local offices. The bonuses are in addition to regular pay received under the above schedule.

Working Hours.

Working hours for the female stenographers are from 9 to 5 o'clock with two hours for lunch, Sunday the offices are closed, but pay goes on uninterrupted, while in the summer months, Saturday brings a half-holiday, and during the remainder of the year a half-holiday is granted on alternate Saturdays, for which period pay continues. In addition to the above time off, girls serving one year or more are granted two weeks' holidays with pay.

The veteran critic draws attention to the fact that to be eligible for the $420 war service gratuity he served three years in the ranks, part of which time was spent at the front, and pay received during his entire service was at the rate of $1.10 per day for seven days in the week, on duty 24 hours daily, provided that services were required. Difference between the two wages amounts to $1.50 per day, with the Government servant on the light end of the pay sheet employed in hazardous duty in danger of serious wounds or instant death continually during the majority of his service.

His Holidays.

The lucky soldier received a ten-day furlough every six months, provided that his battalion was not too busily engaged winning the war. There were no Saturday half-holidays or two weeks' vacation in the summer, but it was usually two weeks up the line, under shell fire. Military discipline prevailed at all times, and Tommy Atkins did not quit work promptly at five each night, and proceed home to a warm dinner, with a trip to the theatre following, and a cosy bed to which he could retire as he willed. His clothing and rations were provided, of course, but he had one suit for every day, while he did not select his meals a la carte. No doubt the provision allowance granted the stenographers was for rations.

The soldier with the data does not claim that all stenographers employed at military centres in Canada received bonuses totalling over $300. This amount was paid only to those young women whose period of service corresponded to that of the three locals above mentioned. The difference between their "gratuity" and the maximum paid single returned heroes amounts to less than $90.

While not in favor of $2,000 gratuity for Class "A" button veterans, the complaining veteran informed The Advertiser, that in his opinion when bonuses are being granted so promiscuously by the Dominion Government which called on all voters to "back up the men who will back the soldiers at the front," the backing should be forthcoming in increased war service gratuities with a little practical appreciation shown in return for the beguiled soldier vote, if not for patriotic motives in re-establishing returned Canadian heroes.

FINE PROGRAM WILL BE GIVEN THURSDAY NIGHT

Thomas Martin's Chopin Recital Arouses Much Interest.

It is with great interest that the people of London are looking forward to the Chopin recital to be given in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium next Thursday evening by Thomas Martin, well-known pianist of this city. Mr. Martin has arranged his program with great thought, aiming to give the greatest amount of pleasure as well as the most accurate interpretation of the work of the great master. Speaking of this program, a press notice says:

"As to program building alone, Mr. Martin's arrangement of Chopin numbers was a great success. The grave preludes and mazurkas of the first part led to a series of lighter movements—the Nocturne, Fantasie, Valse, Larghetto and Barcarolle—the dreamy, the vivacious, the poetic; and these yielded in turn to a group which depicted the loftiest of human emotions, love of country, of child and of the departed—the Etude 'Revolution,' Berceuse and Funeral March culminating in the sublime Grand Polonaise in A Flat Major." This program will be given Thursday night.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

STRONG FOR S. A. ARMY.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Being a returned soldier, I can vouch for the invaluable aid the Salvation Army has tendered the soldiers, and think that all comrades will agree with me.

One incident that goes to show the soldiers' respect for the army occurred at Witley camp, when the Salvation Army huts were unmolested.

I feel safe in saying the Salvation Army will receive due consideration and help of the veterans.

And, as a returned man, I wish to express to you my thanks for your appreciative editorial in Thursday's issue.

S.A.C. Report Says Out-of-Doors Work Is Quite Plentiful

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—Latest reports from all employment offices of the information and service branch of the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment show that there is considerable opportunity for employment for large numbers of men in the bush, at mining and lumber centres.

During the week 2,505 ex-members of the forces were found employment. This brings the total placements to date at 95,819, being 95.1 per cent of the applications made to the information and service branch.

In the lumber camps better meats and accommodation are being provided for the workers than in past years, and wages are higher.

Nova Scotia and New Brunswick are asking for men for outdoor work.

Returned men who are skilled workers would find opportunities throughout Ontario, particularly in Kitchener, where the factories are reported to be short in their output, owing to the lack of sufficient workers.

Mark's Low Value Makes Quotations Most Attractive

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Present rates of exchange between Germany and Argentina have resulted in greatly strengthening competition with American exporters, an official dispatch received here today said.

Although German goods are quoted at prices ranging from 10 to 600 per cent above the pre-war prices, the exchange value of the German mark, it is reported, is so low that even at these prices the goods cost the Argentine purchaser less than the pre-war cost.

German representatives are not promising immediate delivery, it is said, but are promising to ship at the earliest opportunity, and Argentine importers are buying marks at the present rate to hold until the arrival of the goods.

CANADIAN MARKETS

MONTREAL.

Changes for the week are made for molasses, in one quarter. A new advance of 5c per gallon is made effective. Sugar is unchanged, but very firm and the tendencies are of a firming nature. Clay pipes are marked up 20c per box. Moth balls are down from 16c to 12-15c. Canary seed is down 2c per pound to 18c. George Washington coffee is reduced in price to $4.45, $8.40 and $13.10 per case. Bi-carbonate of soda is marked down from $4.50 to $4.10 per 112 pound keg. Klim Milk in bulk is up 2c to 29-31c per pound, as to quantity. Menier chocolate is marked up in one quarter, present prices being quoted by this jobber at 83-85c, while Fry's breakfast cocoa is up 2c per pound to 50c. Galvanized tubs are marked up. Norwegian sardines are marked down. Split peas are higher. Nuts are high and firm. Some arrivals of dried fruits are reported, but the shipments to this market have been slow in some instances. The tea and coffee markets are very firm and tea stocks are much lower than usual. Allspice and cloves are marked up. One line of cornflakes—London—is up this week to $4.25 and others are firming. Cutting of prices has continued on rolled oats. The flour market is very firm and one source says that an advance is not improbable. Onions are marked up this week. Barrel appies of the best grades are high in price. Oranges and lemons are likely to be lower.

TORONTO.

Continued strength in practically all grocery commodities, with declines conspicuous by their absence, marks the trade this week. In fact price changes are few and the markets generally are strong and steady. Refiners state that there are indications of better supplies of sugar and that in the course of another week the movement should be decidedly better. Prices hold at the recent advance and are very strong on the basis of $11.46 per cwt., Toronto delivery. Advices from Barbadoes and West Indies point to higher quotations on new molasses. Advances, it is stated, will amount to from 20 to 30 cents per gallon. Packaged goods are steady, with an active demand. Split peas in bulk have jumped to 8 cents per pound. Rices are very firm and tapioca is holding at 15 cents per pound. An advance of 5 cents per pound on Indian and Ceylon teas on primary markets is reported. Spot prices are very strong but unchanged. Coffees are still light in supply, but there have been no changes in quotations on this market. Evaporated apples are very firm in price, at from 22 to 23 cents per pound. Shipments of apricots and prunes are not yet available for this market. Thompson's seedless raisins are very scarce on the coast, and stocks in some houses here have been depleted. Prices are now quoted around 21 cents per pound.

Few changes are reported in produce lines. Pork and pork products are steady at the lower levels. Cheese and eggs are strong figures, and butter shows further advances. Receipts of poultry are heavy just now, and there is a very active demand for the same.

WINNIPEG.

There is a very firm feeling in many lines of grocery products noted this week. Sugar is still very scarce, and the situation shows no immediate sign of improvement. Coffee is still advancing, and higher prices are noted in white and black pepper, cloves and French cream of tartar. Corn syrup is also expected to advance in the near future. Fruit and vegetables are selling well at practically unchanged prices. Beans and rice are very firm.

In the produce lines there is little change noted in hogs, but bacon, especially back bacon, is scarce and slightly higher. Butter, eggs and lard are in very short supply and prices are holding very firm as a result.

HAVE YOU GOT "MANDY?"

"Mandy" is one of the new Victrola Records for October obtainable in the Victrola Parlors of Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Co., Limited, 242 Dundas street, London. It is a halting, eccentric, ragtime rhythm, of a kind that puts a curious little catch in your walk when you hear it on the street. It is by Irving Berlin, and is one of the successes of Ziegfeld Follies of 1919. It and "Breeze" and "Our Yesterdays" are three of the several new vocal records that you will want to have. b

HAVE YOU SCROFULA?

Now Said To Be as Often Acquired as Inherited.

It is generally and chiefly indicated by eruptions and sores, but in many cases it enlarges the glands of the neck, affects the internal organs, especially the lungs, and if neglected may develop into consumption.

It causes many troubles, and is aggravated by impure air, unwholesome food, bad water, too much heat or cold, and want of proper exercise.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the medicine that has been used with so much satisfaction by three generations, is wonderfully successful in the treatment of scrofula. Give it a trial.

If a cathartic or laxative is needed, take Hood's Pills—there is nothing better for biliousness or constipation.

FINANCIAL WEEKLY REVIEW.

London, Nov. 15.—Recent unheeded warnings of the federal reserve bank and other financial interests against unrestrained operations in the stock market culminated this week in one of the most drastic reversals and liquidating movements since the close of the war.

Speculative shares broke one to fifty points, losses in several conspicuous cases being far in excess of that range. Call money rose to 20 per cent, a rate unprecedented since the panic of 1907, and the money market was swept literally bare of time funds.

Taking the market's lowest quotations as a basis of reckoning, much if not all of the substantial advance recorded in the bull markets of September and October was swept away, and millions of dollars in "paper profits" evaporated into thin air.

The decline was assisted by a confident and aggressive short interest, which sought out the more vulnerable spots in the list, with disastrous results to numerous pools and other professional interests. The net result left the technical situation much improved, however, standard stocks passing from weak to strong hands while successful brokers' loans suffered material curtailment.

Partial readjustment of the market occurred later on buying of rails, especially seasoned shares, in the belief that events at Washington are assuming form favorable to that branch of the list.

AMERICAN BUYERS FORCING UP PRICE OF POTATOES HERE

Crop Failure Over Border, So Ontario Visited.

Owing to the activities of American buyers, London householders will have to pay more for their potatoes than was thought earlier in the season, when the statement was made by various wholesalers that potatoes would sell from $1.50 to $1.75 per bag. However, the crop over the border was more or less a failure, and with potatoes on the decline here, they bought heavily of the famous Caradoc "spuds" and are still buying.

Up Goes Price.

It is reported that when the Americans first invaded the market the price was from $1.65 to $1.75 a bag in carload lots. The latest price quoted from Caradoc way is $2.15 to $2.25 in quantities f.o.b.

On the market today the price hovered around $2.25 to $2.30 a bag with prospects of higher prices according to the farmers, who declare that the country is fast being drained of the available tuber supply.

Late Ones Best.

The early potato crop was a miserable failure, and although the early-late crop was very light, the second late crop did well locally, while in other parts of Ontario the crop was poor. The west had a good supply, but early frosts froze a great portion of them.

"The Americans are all right, but why in blazes don't they grow their own potatoes instead of coming over here and offering the farmers big prices," said one disgruntled restaurant keeper today, who apparently has waited too long to get in his winter supply.

LOCAL NEWS

Chester Glass and his sister, Miss Eva Glass of New York, are spending a few days in the city on their way to St. Catharines. He is a cousin of S. Frank Glass, M. P., and a son of the late David Glass, a former mayor of London.

TWO ACTIONS TRIED. — Two actions were tried by Mr. Justice Lennox this morning in the weekly high court at the county buildings, but the session was not a long one.

ROLLING DICE ON STREET.—For being disorderly by rolling dice on the street, Stanley Addley, a soldier, was fined $2 and costs in police court this morning. He was not able to pay the fine and so went to jail for three days.

HEATS ALL TRAINS.—All passenger trains, which are allowed to stand on the G. T. R. tracks between Talbot and York streets now, are steam heated from the big new boilers installed. This prevents coaches from getting cold while waiting without an engine.

WELCOME TO VETERANS.—Court Forest City, A. O. F., is making big preparations to welcome its returned soldier members on Tuesday next. Several high court officers will be present and some of the best musical talent in the city will take part in the program.

MEN'S MASS MEETING.—At 4:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon a mass meeting for men will be held in Y. M. C. A. auditorium, when an address on the world's brotherhood movement will be delivered by Controller McCarthy of Toronto. In the evening Mr. McCarthy will deliver an address in Askin Street Methodist Church.

PRECEPTORY ELECTION.—Richard Coeur de Lion Preceptory, No. 4, of the Knights Templar, held its election for 1920 Friday night. Sir Knight F. E. Harley was elected presiding preceptor, and Sir Knights Joseph McDougall, constable; Nelson Walsh, marshal; N. Abbott, sub-marshal; A. Carrothers, chaplain; C. W. McGuire, treasurer; H. J. Bennet, registrar.

REAL ESTATE ACTIVE. — Great activity in real estate sales in the annexed district is evident from the report of the county registry office. From June 18 until November 10 there were 187 transfers of property. These included sales from E. Leonard & Sons to the Grand Trunk Railway for the extension of its yards, and sales for the city's industrial area.

INTERESTING SERIES.—A special series of Sunday evening sermons have been arranged by Rev. A. C. Bingham of the Egerton Street Baptist Church. These promise to be interesting, and will last until the Sunday before Christmas. "How to Choose a Partner for Life," "The Model Husband and the Model Wife," "Divorce, the Eenemy of the Home" and "Going Home for Christmas," are some of the titles of the sermons he will preach upon.

ESCAPED PRISONER CAUGHT.—Information regarding the capture in Woodstock of an escaped prisoner, in the jail uniform, has been received by Deputy Sheriff B. Watterworth, with a query as to whether the man was previously an inmate of the county jail here. The only description sent is that the prisoner is a Russian of 50 years of age, and 5 feet 3 inches in height. Governor James Carter stated that he knew nothing of the man.

SUNDAY NIGHT CONCERTS. — A committee to arrange for Sunday night concerts was appointed by the 33rd Comrades' Club at its regular meeting in the G. W. V. A. rooms Friday night. Capt. H. Mercer was appointed chairman, and authorized to arrange for special musical talent. A committee was also appointed to arrange for a series of card parties throughout the winter, with Q.-M. Sergt. W. Adams as chairman.

COMES BEFORE SQUIRE.—Arthur Johnston, the young man of 20 years, who was arrested on Thursday evening and confined to the jail as being insane, and who has not, according to his varying statements, a permanent place of abode, will be arraigned before Squire W. H. Chittick this afternoon in the county buildings. Johnston, when questioned by jail authorities, has claimed to belong to several localities, among which are Westminster, Dorchester and London Townships. His latest answer this morning, was that he hailed from near Woodstock.

DIPHTHERIA STILL LEADS.—There are 48 cases of communicable disease in the city according to the report issued by the medical health officer for the week ending November 9. Of these 17 are diphtheria and 13 whooping cough. The hospital is caring for six cases of diphtheria, one of scarlet fever and two of typhoid fever. There are two other cases of scarlet fever in the city, and one of typhoid, being cared for at home, as well as four of chickenpox, five of measles, one of mumps, and two diphtheria suspects.

CONFESSES DESERTION.—Trial by district court-martial has been dispensed with by order of Brig.-Gen. H. A. Panet, the G. O. C. of this military district, in the case of Pte. Herbert Schell, a deserter from the 11th Battalion of the C. E. F., who has signed a confession of having been guilty of the offence. The soldier will suffer the same forfeitures and deductions from pay as if he had been tried and convicted of the offence by court-martial. Following Schell's surrender to the authorities, an order appeared in the district orders which posts him to the No. 1 District Depot.

LONDON LIKELY TO REACH TEN MILLION MARK

This Sum Expected To Be Passed by Today's Subscriptions.

FOURTH OBJECTIVE SET

Within $76,000 of Third Objective, When Returns Counted Friday.

London has once more made a splendid leap forward in the Victory Loan campaign, and has already reached her third objective of $9,300,000. Great confidence was entertained last evening at the headquarters that the $10,000,000 mark would be reached and perhaps passed today. Yesterday subscriptions amounting to $400,000 were received from 1,075 applications, and with one special subscription for $25,000 raised the grand total to $9,224,100, which is almost $2,000,000 more than the original objective. The total number of applications to date is 7,520.

The special subscription was received from the Canadian Oil Company by Salesman A. H. Green. Another large application during the day was that of $5,000 from George Hiscox.

Over $30,000 worth of bonds were sold in the headquarters building alone yesterday, and a large amount of the payments were made in cash. F. H. Butler sold bonds for $12,750 in the building, while H. Baptie sold a similar amount. There was such a rush of applicants at certain times during the day that the two salesmen were forced to ask for the assistance of several other salesmen.

London Leading Ottawa.

Information received from Ottawa Victory Loan headquarters last evening stated that the day's collection there amounted to $9,224,900, and great jubilation was expressed by the local organizers because of the fact that London has beaten that amount by $200.

Robinson, Little & Co. at present have the largest number of crests obtained in the city to be placed upon their honor flag, but the Sherlock-Manning Company are fighting hard for the initial position, that establishment having won twelve crests for their flag. Over $30,000 has been subscribed to date by the Sherlock-Manning Company, which is 400 per cent of the payroll objective.

The amount has been contributed by 55 per cent of the company's employes, and the unusually high percentage is the result, principally, of the private prize competition, similar to those being operated by the Victory Loan executive, which is being run by the company. The directors have offered to place a prize of $50 in the competition every time the employees subscribe $500. Last evening the company competition "thermometer" showed that eight of the $50 prizes had to be added to the prize list, and great enthusiasm on the part of the piano workers was the result.

Victory Loan special street car will be operated again today upon the principal streets. It is reported that good results are being obtained by this medium.

Headquarters Enthusiastic.

George M. Reid received a telegram of congratulation from G. H. Wood of the provincial headquarters in Toronto yesterday which stated: "Hurrah for London! If we had your organization under your leadership in every unit in Ontario this province would raise a half billion alone. You and your men have the thanks of our executive for your simply splendid support." Mr. Reid said, while addressing the salesmen, that London's success was largely due to the splendid efforts of the publicity staff and to the good publicity schemes it had advanced.

With the slogan of "Ten Million or More" thoroughly infused into the salesmen's systems, the following results have been made by the individual team workers:

P. B. Fetherley, $46,350; A. H. Green, $25,600; Capt. Morrow, $15,750; W. Prime, $15,400; P. Bartlett, $11,250; Capt. P. D. Ball, $12,500; Capt. McGuffin, $14,350; McDonald, $9,050; S. Atkinson, $9,000; W. J. Gray, $8,650; D. Logan, $7,400; R. A. Anderson, $6,750; Capt. Gerald, $6,400; P. Pocock, $6,000; H. E. McDonald, $5,250; C. B. Francis, $4,700; Capt. Lowry, $5,800; C. Walker, $5,000; C. V. Lang, $6,600; Capt. Tennant, $4,000; C. Laur, $3,250; Capt. Snow, $3,200; J. Hussey, $3,000; J. E. Roberts, $3,350.

COUNCIL WILL HAVE PLENTY OF BUSINESS IN ITS DYING DAYS

Tremendous Amount of Work Facing Committees.

The dying days of the 1919 city council are going to be busy ones. Present prospects are that there will be meetings of the various committees and subcommittees every night until final arrangements have been made for the election on January 1.

The city council will hold its regular meeting Monday night. No. 2 committee will hold a special meeting Tuesday night to consider several matters and prepare bylaws for submission to the people. Wednesday afternoon will see a special meeting of No. 1 committee for the same purpose. The public utilities commission's regular meeting comes Thursday afternoon, but it is likely that city business will demand a special meeting that night also.

City Clerk S. Baker says that anywhere from a dozen to twenty bylaws may be submitted to the people. This means hard work in the clerical department. The city solicitor and the city clerk also will be busy drawing up the bylaws in their technical form. The law requires that bylaws be advertised at least three weeks before submission to the people.

SMOKER AND CONCERT FOR RETURNED SOLDIERS

Veterans Entertained at St. James' Anglican Church.

The returned soldiers of St. James' Anglican Church to the number of fifty were entertained by members of the congregation last night to a smoker and concert in the Sunday school rooms. The musical selections were heartily encored, while the various games played created a lot of amusement.

A short talk was given by Capt. (Rev.) F. Hirst, while addresses of welcome were given by the rector, Rev. Leslie Armitage, E. J. Dawson, R. E. David and C. B. Edwards, and were replied to by Thomas Willis, Arnold Dillon and Major Lambe.

Later in the evening a men's club was formed, and a committee appointed to report on the organization work in two weeks. Reference was made by the men to the nursing sisters of the congregation, and as a result the following nursing sisters, members of the church, each received a large box of chocolates today: Miss Frances Collyer, Miss Amice Crowder, Miss Eva Boyden and Mrs. Lambe (nee Sabine).

It's yours, it's mine, it's everybody's. Waft.

HOLE CHOPPED IN ROOF OF CAR ON G. T. R. AND LIQUOR STOLEN

One whole case and several bottles of whiskey were found missing when a freight car arrived in the city over the Grand Trunk, with a hole chopped through the roof. The remainder of the shipment of 120 cases was found strewn about the car.

The theft was discovered early this morning, when two Grand Trunk detectives were sent to guard the car while it stood in the east end yards.

The car was intact when it left Walkerville last night, so it is thought by the detectives that the act was perpetrated while the shipment was en route. The whiskey was consigned to the Government liquor store in this city.

HERE IS AN OPPORTUNITY TO HELP IMPERIAL VETERAN WHO HAS COME TO CANADA WITH ALL HIS FAMILY

Appeal Made To Supply Furniture in Order That Home May Be Started in London.

Just lately there have come into the city penniless from England a discharged imperial soldier, his wife and six children under 15 years of age. This man was in Canada when the war broke out and immediately went overseas as a reservist, joining the King's Royal Rifles, with which regiment he served in France. Now that he has been discharged, he has returned to Canada, bringing his family with him, but in doing so, his funds have been entirely exhausted, and at the present time his wife and family are being housed at League House, King street, because the man is unable to furnish a home. Although the man and his 15-year-old son secured employment a few hours after their arrival in the city, the income thus secured will do no more than provide for rent, fuel and food, for some months to come, and the family wishes to get into a home of its own, as it can be supported much more cheaply in this way.

Home Wanted.

The soldiers' aid commission has taken up the matter and is now seeking for a suitable home. The question of furniture is, however, the chief difficulty, as the man is in no financial condition to make an outlay for furniture yet. The commission feels that there are many homes in the city where there is a surplus of furniture which might be devoted to the furnishing of this returned soldier's home. The necessary articles are, of course, a stove, beds, table and chairs, but other useful articles of furniture would be also acceptable. The commission makes a plea to the citizens of London on behalf of this family, which, if not helped, will undoubtedly go from bad to worse.

Just a Little Help.

The commission feels that if a little help is given now, the whole family will be on its feet in a short time. When a home is secured the wife intends to go out working also and help financial matters along.

Those having furniture to give should communicate with the soldiers' aid commission, who will call for it and see that it is given to the family concerned.

BUILDING FIGURES CERTAIN TO EXCEED $2,000,000 MARK

Only Lack $50,000 With Big Permits Coming.

London's building figures for 1919 are now less than $50,000 from the two million dollar mark. Permits issued today bring the total for this month so far to $37,300. The total for previous months of the year is $1,914,010, which with this month's figures, makes a grand total of $1,951,310. Several big building permits are expected, among them one for the medical school, so that there is not the slightest doubt that the city's building for the year will exceed two million dollars.

New partitions are to be placed in the Iroquois Hotel, owned by J. McDonald, at a cost of $500.

FARMERS NOT LIKELY TO BE INCLUDED IN LABOR CONVENTIONS

Washington, Nov. 15.—With recognition of the general principle of the 48-hour week, the special committee of the international labor conference will now have before it cases of exceptions.

It has already been announced that the committee has rejected the labor proposal to make the convention applicable to commercial establishments. The proposal has been made that farmers be included. The committee had not reached a decision on this point, but it is generally expected that farm workers will be excluded. The convention will therefore apply to industrial establishments only. As is usually the case in statutes or agreements limiting hours of labor there will be special provision for abnormal circumstances. Some of the smaller countries like Greece, are asking for special consideration in view of their backward industrial development.

Santa Claus Here and Kiddies Adore Him Through Glass

Happy, Excited Youngsters Crowd Around His Window.

Santa Claus has come to town! He was actually here in London this morning busy at work in his toy shop. Hundreds of kiddies thronged about the big window to watch him as he lovingly handled his toys, putting a head on a doll here and attaching a wheel to a kiddie car there.

"Oh see the great big teddy bear!" exclaimed one small child, while Santa immediately held it up for his inspection. Another tot with nose pressed close to the pane, refused to move even at the most strenuous requests from his mother. Finally, her face relaxing into an indulgent smile, she gave up the task, and left him to look, while she made purchases in nearby stores.

All morning the crowd of children swarmed around the window, making a huge semi-circular mass extending out even into the road, and what a happy, excited crowd it was!

GIRL GUIDES' BRANCH FOR DUNDAS CENTRE

The intermediate girls of Dundas Centre Methodist Sunday School, with their teachers, inaugurated a Corps of Canadian Girls in Training in the schoolroom last evening when many of the young ladies were present.

The drawing up of plans and detailing of work for the future occupied most of the time and the outlook is good. The election of officers for the year was held and resulted in the following being chosen: President, Miss Eleanor Grant; vice-president, Miss Gertrude Cahill; secretary, Miss Margaret Cowley; treasurer, Miss Elsie Crocker, and pianist, Miss Ida Smith. The teachers form the executive.

The Canadian Girls in Training of this Sunday school will meet on the second and fourth Friday evenings of each month and new recruits will be made welcome.

LINEMAN GUILTY OF THEFT OF WHISKEY FOUND NEAR TRACKS

Took It Away Instead of Reporting.

REMANDED FOR SENTENCE

Declares He Did Not Think the Amount Sufficient To Worry About.

Cecil Kurth, a Canadian Pacific Railway lineman, was found guilty in police court this morning of stealing six bottles of whiskey, valued at $15, from the railroad, and was remanded a week for sentence.

On Thursday, while the line crew was at work, the foreman, a Mr. MacDonald, had discovered several cases of whiskey lying along the track, and putting them on a handcar took them to the authorities at London. A little later Kurth found the six bottles and hid them.

Ormond F. Gallizeau, a C. P. R. constable and investigator, had come to the boarding car in which Kurth was staying. This was about 1 o'clock on Friday. Kurth was asleep. The car was searched, but no liquor found. As a consequence of information given him by City Detectives Harry Down and Robert Egelton, he went to the prisoner's boardinghouse, 370 Adelaide street, this city, at 9 o'clock in the evening. The two city detectives were there. The three waited until 11 o'clock when Kurth arrived home. The liquor was found in a suitcase in the house.

All three detectives swore that he had told them that he found it on the C. P. R. tracks.

Kurth thought that he had said that he found the bottles scattered for 50 yards along the ditch of a road which crosses the tracks near Crumlin. He had put them in a suitcase and hid it in some brush. He also said that he had put the bottles in his locker in the car. Then at noon on Friday he had met a farmer who drove him to town in an auto.

When asked by Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop why he did not report his find as the foreman had done, he said that they were only odd bottles, and he did not think it was necessary.

"You're not going to suggest that odd bottles of whiskey are of no consequence, are you?" asked Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon.

Mr. McKillop asked him if he hadn't told the detectives that he had found the liquor along the tracks.

"You're making me out a liar," remarked the prisoner.

"Well, don't you think that you deserve that term?" asked the crown attorney.

ASKING INFORMATION ON MOTHERS' PENSION NEED

Information regarding the need of mothers' pensions is being sought by the Ontario Government through the local branch of the Children's Aid Society. Forms have been sent to be filled out and returned.

"The Ontario Government is conducting an investigation re the need of allowances for mothers of children who for various reasons are not able to give these children adequate care on account of lack of money," a letter to the society reads. "In this class we believe there are certain cases where the mother has been deserted by the father, where the father is incapacitated through illness or accident; where the mother is unmarried, and the children's support is consequently left to her."

IMPORTANT APPEAL AT REVISION COURT

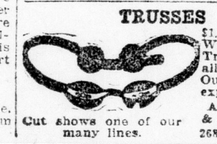

Request That Bakery Tax Be Taken From Separate Schools.

An important case of assessment of school taxes came before the court of revision Friday when an appeal was made to have the taxes of a large bakery transferred from the separate schools to the public schools.

One member of the firm, a Protestant, married a Catholic. The taxes of the bakery were assessed to the separate schools in his name as occupant of the property.

Dr. R. S. Weir appealed on the ground that in cases of this nature the disposition of the taxes must be settled by a vote of the company's directorate. It is likely that the taxes will be divided. The place is assessed for about $10,000.

DISTILLERS WIN KENTUCKY CASE

Federal Judge Restrains U. S. Officers From Halting Whiskey Sale.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 14.—Judge Walter Evans, in federal district court, today for the second time held in effect war-time prohibition unconstitutional, sustained an attack upon the constitutionality of the Volstead enforcement act, and granted an injunction restraining Elwood Hamilton, collector of internal revenue for Kentucky, and District Attorney W. V. Gregory from interfering with the sale by two Louisville distillers of their "floor stock" of tax-paid whisky.

The Government immediately took an appeal to the United States circuit court at Cincinnati and announced its intention of asking the higher court for a writ of supersedeas which would have the effect of staying the injunction.

In the interval, the way is open, it was said, for Wright and Taylor and Brown and Forman, plaintiffs in the action, to dispose of their floor stocks of whiskey without interference by the federal authorities in Kentucky. They were quoted as having said, however, they were undecided ton the course to pursue in view of the fact that constitutionality of war-time prohibition had not been decided by the supreme court of the United States.

OVERHEATED IRON IS CAUSE OF $60,000 FIRE AT HAMILTON

Blaze Originates in Tailor Shop in Lennox Building.

Hamilton, Nov. 14.—Damage to the amount of about $60,000 was done early this morning by fire and water to the John Lennox Building, 18 to 22 King street east, Richard Babb's tailoring business in the same building is a complete loss. The fire is believed to have originated from an overheated pressing iron in the tailor shop. Babb's loss will run up to $20,000, with only $4,000 insurance. The Lennox loss of $40,000 is fully covered by insurance.

Recommends Internal Bathing for Piles and Constipation.

If people who suffer from constipation, piles and the many ills resulting from accumulated waste in the intestines would realize what the J. B. L. Cascade is doing for thousands of people who are being daily restored to perfect health by its use, there would be a J. B. L. Cascade in every Canadian home.

Mr. E. Nighswander, of Green River, Ont., writes: "I purchased a J. B. L. Cascade from you about ten months ago and consider it the best money I ever invested. For years I have been troubled with constipation, ulcers in the bowels and piles, which all the money I spent on medicines and doctors only relieved temporarily. My J. B. L. Cascade has completely cured these troubles, and I feel it a duty I owe to my fellowmen to indorse the Cascade in the very highest terms. No amount of money could estimate the value it has been to me. No home should be without one.

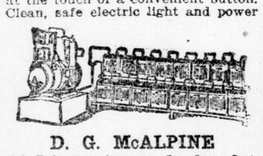

The J. B. L. Cascade is the only perfected invention for internal bathing. Keeps the system sweet and clean, cures constipation, headaches, rheumatism, and keeps you fit at all times. It is shown and explained at Standard Drug, Limited.

SOME FREIGHTERS MAKE FINAL TRIP

Frigid Weather and Cargo Scarcity Ending Season.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 14. — Many freighters that were out in the storm on the upper lakes lost from 18 to 30 hours. Not all the boats have been heard from yet, but it is expected they will show up as the weather was bad in spots today.

Duluth reported tonight that there were no arrivals at the port since 5 p.m. November 10 boats of the upbound fleet had been forced to seek shelter from the northwest gale on Lake Superior Tuesday and Wednesday. Ore is badly frozen at the head of Lake Superior and with zero weather predicted for tonight, there will be considerable delay. Unless the weather moderates in the next two days it is not likely many ships will be sent back for ore after this week.

Little shifting can be done, and freighters at the other end of the route will have to wait for ore as there is not enough grain moving to cut any figure. There is no improvement in sight in the grain trade, and some boats may have trouble getting down-bound cargoes unless there is a decided change in the weather.

The freight market is dull in all lines, with offerings of tonnage liberal at both ends of the route. The indications are that Canadian ships will take the bulk of the grain sent forward from Fort William. As the movement from American ports will be light, many boats will have to quit after this trip as capacity has been taken for about all the ore that will be mined.

Restriction of slag for Canadian ports has been lifted, and steamers that take cargoes will be given the usual supply of fuel. Coal is not coming forward freely, and it is not likely there will be much improvement for a number of days. The railroads had 5,071 cars at the lake front Wednesday morning and 1,456 cars in transit. The docks dumped 1,075 cars Tuesday.

U. S. OUT $14,418,000 BY HANDLING WIRES

Burleson Reports Federal Loss On Operation of Phone and Telegraph Systems.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—War-time operation if telephone and telegraph systems of the country cost the Federal Government $14,418,237, according to a report by Postmaster-General Burleson transmitted to Congress today by President Wilson. The sum represents the difference between the net earnings of the companies taken over and the representation guaranteed by the Government.

No figures as to the operation of the cable systems, which were under federal control six months, were given, Mr. Burleson explaining that the reports from the companies had not yet been received. Any profits from the operation of these companies would reduce the total Government deficit, Mr. Burleson noted.

Total net earnings of the telephone and telegraph lines during federal courts were reported as $70,387,532, while the compensation assured was $83,055,769.

The total deficit included an estimated $3,000,000 for settlement of future claims. Small independent companies operated by the Government reported a surplus of $57,428.

The Government claim against the Postal Telegraph and Cable Company was listed at $2,123,392. "If the unadjusted claims of the Government against the MacKay (Postal) companies be taken into consideration," said Mr. Burleson, "the estimated obligations of the Government would be substantially reduced."

CAR REPAIRMEN TO BENEFIT MOST BY LATEST AGREEMENT

New Arrangement With Shopmen Stands For One Year.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—The new agreement arrived at between the Canadian Railway Board and representatives of the Shopmen's Union provides that men engaged in locomotive work are to receive an increase of four cents per hour and men in car repair shops an increase of nine cents an hour. The differences in the increases is due to the fact that the repair shopmen claimed that under the old agreement they had not received as liberal treatment as their co-workers. Changes in hours of labor, particularly, affect men in the shops where heavy work is carried on. These men, under the old agreement, worked eight and one-half hours a day five days a week, and four and one-half hours on Saturday, forty-seven in all. Under the new agreement they work a forty-four hour week, eight hours for five days and four for Saturday. The hours of the men in the roundhouse remain at eight hours a day, six days a week. The agreement stands for one year from November 1, 1919, but the men will get the new wage terms as from May 1, 1919, when negotiations with the war board began.

PRINCE STRONGLY URGES CAMPAIGN AGAINST DISEASE

Is First to Purchase Red Cross Christmas Seals in U. S.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Before going to Annapolis today to inspect the naval academy the Prince of Wales purchased 100 Red Cross Christmas seals from Adrienne Mayer, the 5-year-old health crusader, who was recently decorated by General Pershing for making a perfect score in the children's health crusade against disease. The sale was the first made this year, and the prince promised to use the seals on his personal letters.

Startling facts on public health conditions were shown by the medical examination of millions of men during the war," said the prince in making the purchase. "These facts have demonstrated clearly the necessity of attacking harder than ever such menaces as tuberculosis. I am sure this world wide work has the approval of every thoughtful person.

"The seals really represent the ounce of prevention. I wish the campaign all success."

The prince made the trip to Annapolis by train, accompanied by his suite, and the American officials attached to his party. Before leaving he called on Mrs. Marshall, wife of the vice-president.

After inspecting the academy and reviewing the cadets, the prince will return here, and will leave tonight for a southern resort for a stay of several

BULGARIA DEMANDS EX-KING FOR TRIAL

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Bulgaria has demanded the extradition of former King Ferdinand for trial on the charge of forcing Bulgaria into the war, the war office announced today. In addition Bulgaria demands that ex-Premier Radoslavoff and 200 other former state officials, many of whom already are under arrest, be brought to trial.

Ferdinand abdicated and fled from Bulgaria after the collapse of the central powers. He was reported living in Switzerland in the colony of deposed kings. Former Premier Radoslavoff was in power in Sofia in 1914, when the war began. He was a Germanophile and worked to line up Bulgaria on the side of Germany.

SIR THOMAS WHITE'S MOTHER DIED FRIDAY

Toronto, Nov. 14.—Mrs. Elizabeth Nichols has passed away at the residence here of her son, Sir Thomas White.

The late Mrs. Nichols was in her 84th year. She was born in Omagh County, Tyrone, Ireland, in 1836, of sturdy Presbyterian stock, her father being one of the North of Ireland Grahams and her mother being a Fleming.

While quite young, she married James White, and in 1859 she and her husband sailed for Canada, settling as farmers in Halton County, where they had relatives. Mr. White died in 1869, and subsequently Mrs. White became the wife of Thomas Nichols of Hamilton.

Following the death of Mr. Nichols some years later, the deceased resided for the most part with her daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) George Mason at Oakville.

Five children survive. They are: Sir Thomas White of Toronto, Mrs. (Dr.) J. A. McNiven of Acton, Mrs. (Rev.) George Mason of Oakville, Mr. M. E. Nichols, director of public information, Ottawa, and Mrs. Wm. Ainslee of Comber, Ont.

THIRTEEN-YEAR-OLD BOY SUICIDES FOR LOVE OF A 14-YEAR-OLD GIRL

London, Nov. 11.—Harold Ellison, aged 13, killed himself at Liverpool because his 14-year-old sweetheart didn't love him.

"He was a boy for girls," said Ernest Firth, aged 12, at the inquest. "He often told me he would take some poison because a girl did not like him. In the winter he threatened to drown himself, only the water was too cold.

"He showed me a small brown jar, saying it contained rat poison. 'I am going to take it for the sake of a girl because she does not love me,' he told me. He put some poison on the cork and licked it off. Half an hour later he ate some more.

"Next day Harold refused food and went to bed. Three days later he told his father he had taken poison. The jar was almost empty. He died two days later. The girl was 14 years old."

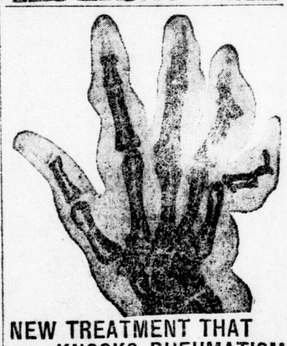

The answer of most fat people is that constant dieting is hard, continual exercise is tiresome, exhaustive—then, too, it might be harmful to force the weight down. That was the old-fashioned idea. Today in Marmola Prescription Tablets all these difficulties are overcome. Just a pleasant, harmless little tablet after each meal and at bedtime causes fat to vanish. This modern method is absolutely harmless entails no dieting or exercise and has the added advantage of cheapness. A large case of safe Marmola Prescription Tablets is sold by druggists at $1. Or, if preferable, can be obtained by sending price direct to Marmola Co., 864 Woodward Av., Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this you have no excuse for being too fat, but can reduce two, three or four pounds a week without fear of any bad after-effects whatever.

NEW TREATMENT THAT KNOCKS RHEUMATISM

A 75c BOX FREE TO ANY SUFFERER

Up in Syracuse, N. Y., a treatment for rheumatism has been found that hundreds of users say is a wonder, reporting cases that seem little short of miraculous. Just a few treatments even in the very worst cases seem to accomplish wonders even after other remedies have failed entirely. It seems to neutralize the uric acid and lime salt deposits in the blood, driving all the poisonous clogging waste from the system. Soreness, pain, stiffness, swelling just seem to melt away and vanish.

The treatment first introduced by Mr. Delano is so good that its owner wants everybody who suffers from rheumatism or who has a friend so afflicted, to get a free 75c package from him to prove just what it will do in every case before a penny is spent. Mr. Delano says: "To prove that the Delano treatment will positively overcome rheumatism, no matter how severe, stubborn or long standing the case, and even after all other treatments have failed, I will, if you have never previously used the treatment, send you a full size 75c package free, if you will just cut out this notice and send it with your name and address with 10c to help pay postage and distribution expense to me personally." About Your Own Vigor Sent Free To Men

MR. READER:

Here is something I have to offer you absolutely for nothing—a little private book of special information about the legitimate uses and unnatural abuses of manly vigor; about the preservation of manly strength, and its possible self-restoration; an illustrated pocket compendium of 8,000 words, 72 pages, and 30 half-tone photographic reproductions—which I am very pleased to send by mail, absolutely free of charge, in a plain, sealed envelope, to any man, young or elderly, single or married, who writes for it.

Over a million of these books have been thus sent to applicants all over the world since my free offer first appeared. Publishers are charging as much as $2 for books on sex subjects, while my book is free. Therefore, reader, if you would like a great fund of inside information relating directly to the subject of manly vigor, all put in perfectly plain, easy-to-read language, with many hints that you can surely apply to your own self, no matter how strong you may be, or how nervous or run-down you may be—if you want to know the facts about this particular subject, given to you without a single scare, then fill in the coupon below, send to me and receive my book, sealed, by return mail. In one part of this little publication I describe a mechanical invention of my own, which I call the SANDEN vitalizer, something you wear at night as an aid to the restoration of lost or waning strength; but you are not expected to get one of these appliances unless you decide for yourself that you want one. The book is complete, and there is absolutely nothing you are required to buy or pay, either now or in the future. Therefore, please send your name and address today. SANDEN, Author.

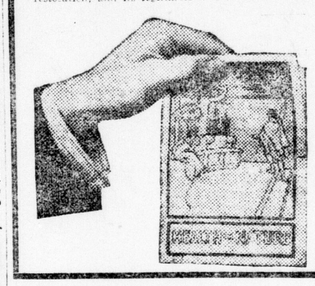

MANHOOD WINS IN ALL WALKS OF LIFE.

MANHOOD! The quality which rules the world today. My friend, there never was a time in the history of the human race when real, sturdy manhood, manly vigor and manly courage counted for as much as they do now, this very minute. No matter what your years, whether you are 20 or 60, you must be either entirely in the race or out of it. It is brutally the fellow who proves up the strongest in this human strength that forges to the front, while weaklings stand aside; it is he also who is in most demand and most sought after by women and men in his community, simply because he radiates that marvelous magnetic influence which only an abundant vigor and rugged, manly health can radiate. I believe any man can hope to completely develop or restore this same vigor of manly strength, no matter what his past follies may have been, provided he is willing to REALLY MAKE THE EFFORT, and provided, of course, he is not weighted down by extreme old age or is not mentally diseased. To my mind, the goal of the one who wants more vigor is perfectly plain, but it is a road that any man MUST travel if he attains the highest ideals in respect to his own manhood. See information in my free book.

As to the SANDEN Vitalizer, previously mentioned, will say it is a little mechanical appliance, weighing but a few ounces, which you wear at night. This Vitalizer generates and sends forth a certain soft, penetrating force which I call Vitality. It apparently drives this Vitality into your nerves, glands, muscles and organs as you sleep. It is quieting to the nervous system—or, at least, so users say. Men write that it takes pain out of the back and restores vitality in 60 days. Remember, the general information of the free book is independent of the Vitalizer, and you are not expected to get one of these little appliances unless you want to. You can write me later as to that if you so desire. With several attachments, my Vitalizer is used by women as well as men for stomach, liver, bowel, bladder disorders, etc. If you live in or near this city, I should be most pleased to have you call in person at my new office, where you may examine the Vitalizer free of charge. Satisfaction guaranteed in every case. Or if inconvenient to call, do not fail to write for the free booklet.

TO GET FREE BOOK PLEASE USE COUPON

If you live too far to call, or if you cannot call, please fill in the coupon below, and send it. You will receive free, sealed, by return mail, our 72-page illustrated book containing 8,000 words, a complete compendium of useful information for men, young or elderly, single or married, who want the truth about the subject of vital strength, its preservation, its possible self-restoration, and its legitimate uses and wanton abuses. Doctor Tells How to Detect Harmful Effects of Tobacco

Try These SIMPLE TESTS

New York.—Doctor Conner, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, says: Many men who smoke, chew or snuff incessantly, and who are seemingly healthy, are suffering from progressive organic ailments. Thousands of them would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco, and thousands would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco. The chief habit-forming principle of tobacco is nicotine, a deadly poison, which when absorbed by the system slowly affects the nerves, membranes, tissues and vital organs of the body. The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances. One will be afflicted with general debility, others with catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will-power, mental confusion, etc. Others may suffer from heart disease, bronchial trouble, hardening of the arteries, tuberculosis, blindness, or even cancer or the common affliction known as tobacco heart. If you use tobacco in any form you can easily detect the harmful effects by making the following simple tests: Read aloud one full page from a book. If in the course of reading your voice becomes muffled, hoarse and indistinct, and you must frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by catarrh, and it may be the beginning of more serious trouble. Next, in the morning before taking your usual smoke walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace, then stop. If you find that you are out of breath, your heart beat is forced, trembling or irregular, you may be a victim of functional or organic heart trouble. If you feel that you must smoke, chew or snuff to quiet your nerves you are a slave to the tobacco habit, and are positively poisoning yourself with the deadly drug, nicotine. In either case you have just two alternatives—keep on with the self-poisoning process, irrespective of the dangers, and suffer the consequences, or give up the habit and escape the dangers. You can overcome the craving and stop the habit in a very short time by using the following inexpensive formula: Go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol tablets, take one tablet after each meal, and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco, the craving will have left you. With the nicotine poison out of your system your general health will quickly improve.

Note.—When asked about Nicotol tablets one of our leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit; away ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol tablets are sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists. (1)

LORD CHELMSFORD, Viceroy of India, who announces the intention of the Indian Government to create a permanent chamber of Indian princes as a consulting body.

FIRST RESERVIST TO LEAVE FOR GREECE RETURNS TO LONDON

Andrew Kondaks Also Saw Service in British Navy.

Andrew Kondaks, the first Greek reservist to leave London when the call to arms came from his native land in October, 1915, is back in London again, having been discharged from the British army in the east in September of this year. Mr. Kondaks, who was in charge of the Alps upstairs dining-room at the time he left London, has come back after his four years in the army to resume charge of the cafe.

He was discharged from the Venizelos army in 1916 after nine months' service, and joined the British navy, being assigned to the H.M.S. Edgar as interpreter. He left the navy for the British secret service and served in Athens and Salonica, where he remained until discharged.

"You must have some good stories to tell. What is the best one?" asked The Advertiser.

Came Back Triple.

"My best story? That's easy," replied Mr. Kondaks, who held the rank of sergeant-major while serving with the British. "Well, I went away from here single, and I came back triple," and with this he drew a picture from his pocket, showing himself, his wife and baby.

"The Greeks would sooner fight in conjunction with the British than the French and Italians, because they were better fellows in every way," said Mr. Kondaks. "I remember in March, 1918, on the Struma front when the British got the king-pin German aviator of the east. This fellow had been doing a lot of damage, getting 32 balloons and aeroplanes, and sent us notice that he would get all the balloons we cared to send up.

"The British sent up a specially prepared balloon containing some kind of special gas and a basketful of explosives. Mr. German came buzzing along and took a shot, but that's all he ever did. There was a terrific explosion, and his machine turned on him and crashed to the ground. The Germans sent a flag and flowers for his funeral."

Blew Up Submarine.

Mr. Khodaks also told of a submarine that had been destroying shipping near the Tinos Island. It was finally blown up after it was discovered that a lead pipe running from a monastery on the island had been supplying the submarine with gasoline and oil. The British made all the monks prisoners and blew up their monastery. Mr. Kondaks was living at the monastery for a time and helped bring the monks to justice.

The people of Greece were surprised at the energy displayed by the British troops in building roads and making their camps comfortable. The British also introduced the latest farm machinery, which was sold to the Greek Government after the war was over.

Rev. J. McGillivray May Accept Call to St. Thomas Pastorate

Call Has Been Extended to Him to Fill Vacancy in Knox Church.

A call has been extended to Rev. J. McGillivray, who returned from overseas some time ago, to accept the pastorate of Knox Church, St. Thomas. It was announced at the afternoon session of the London Presbytery yesterday that no definite word had been received as to whether or not Mr. McGillivray will accept. Should he do so, the induction will take place in that church on Thursday evening, Dec. 4. Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae will preside. Rev. A. L. Carr of West Lorne, formerly of the military Y.M.C.A. of this city, will preach the sermon. Rev. James Anthony of Fingal will address the minister and Rev. T. A. Symington of London will address the people.

The discussion of the pastorates west of London to Muncey and Hyde Park was continued from the morning session, and it was decided to have delegates appear from these pastorates at an adjourned meeting, to be held on the first Friday in December.

Rev. W. R. McIntosh was appointed chairman of the group workers of the forward movement in this city in the place of Rev. James McKay, who resigned. Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae closed the session in prayer.

Says Tobacco Perils Britain; Habit Growing

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, Nov. 14.—"The nation that smokes perishes," declares R. P. Moncrief, honorary statistician to the British Anti-Tobacco and Anti-Narcotic League of Manchester.

In the year 1917, he says, the British people smoked 152,215,700 pounds of tobacco, costing the smokers approximately $197,690,000. Pipes and other appliances came to $22,684,000, making a total for the year of more than $520,000,000.

The following year the amount increased to 164,838,500 pounds smoked, valued at $668,765,500, with pipes and appliances costing $23,309,500.

"If the women of the nation become habitual smokers—as they are rapidly doing—what effect will it have on the future generation?" the writer asks. The query is answered by the late Sir W. B. Richardson as follows: "If a community of youths of both sexes, whose progenitors were finely formed and powerful, were to be trained to the early practice of smoking and if marriage were to be confined to the smokers, an apparently new and a physically inferior race of men and women would be bred."

Mr. Moncrieff calls on the medical profession to face "this formidable danger to the nation and warn women especially as to the injurious effects of tobacco smoking."

Canadian Finance Company Opens London Office.

Announcement is made that the Canadian Finance Company has opened offices in Room 304, Dominion Savings Building, and have secured the services of Frank E. Osborn as manager.

Mr. Osborn, who is resigning his position as manager of the London Security Company, but will continue to handle all business of the London Security Company at Room 304, Dominion Savings Building, until such time as a successor is appointed.

During the past year, Mr. Osborn has established a very large bond and stock business as well as being most successful in promoting and bringing to London the big Loews Theatre, an enterprise that will satisfy the wants of the city in the entertainment line for years to come, as well as advertise London very extensively as an up-to-date city. Mr. Osborn as manager of the Canadian Finance Company will undertake to promote and build a $200,000 theatre in Kitchener for the Independent Theatres of Ontario, Limited, a theatre company with a large financial backing, who are confining their efforts to theatres in the smaller cities.

Mr. Osborn has also been approached in regard to the promotion of a large hotel in London, and states that as soon as the public are satisfied that successful management of a large hotel can be secured, just so soon will the proposition be launched.

We wish the Canadian Finance Company every success.—Advt.

ADJUST ASSESSMENTS.—Several claimed errors in assessments were adjusted by the court of revision which sat at the city hall on Friday afternoon. All were minor cases.

POISONED BY GAS.—George Tustin, 91½ Mount Pleasant avenue, his wife and four children were almost asphyxiated in their home recently by escaping coal gas. They are still ill from the effects of the poison. Only the work of Mr. Tustin saved the family. He was aroused by the odor, and after opening the door, wakened his wife and carried the children to the fresh air. The baby, who is just recovering from diphtheria, was removed to the hospital. It is expected to recover. The father is an officer in the Grand Army of Canada and served in France with an Imperial army unit.

15,000,000 VICTIMS CLAIMED BY "FLU" IN THE PAST YEAR

Epidemic Killed Off One Per Cent of the World's Population.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14—In a paper read here before the vital statistics section of the American Public Health Association, Drs. Frankel and Dublin of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, said that the influenza epidemic of last fall and winter caused the highest mortality among the wage workers of the country and the least among those of higher economic strata. They estimated that throughout the world practically 1 per cent of the total population, or about 15,000,000 people, died as a result of the epidemic.

The victims were, for the most part, persons in young adult life, the fathers and mothers of the present generation. No one can yet attempt to forecast what the effect of this calamity will be on the future population of the world in the number of orphans, in the smaller number of children who will be born and in the reduction in the number of effective workers on the farm, in the factory and in the office. They said that the epidemic was more disastrous in causing loss of life than the great war.

In a group of 31 life insurance companies, between October, 1918, and the end of March, 1919, more than $120,000,000 was disbursed in claims paid due to influenza and pneumonia. These represent nearly 48 per cent of the total claims paid in this period. The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company alone paid more than 120,000 deaths claims for nearly $28,000,000 because of influenza or pneumonia deaths. Including the disbursements of the war risk insurance bureau, the estimated total loss to America life insurance resulting from the epidemic was well above $250,000,000.

According to the statistics quoted by the speakers, this epidemic seemed to be different in many essential respects from other influenzas on record. Most of the deaths occurred among persons between the ages of 15 and 40 years, with a maximum incidence at about age 30; secondly, the white race in the United States seemed to be affected much more severely than the colored; third, the epidemic was much more severe in character in the coast cities of the United States, especially along the Atlantic seaboard, and became much milder in its destructive effect among the inland cities.

The epidemic was responsible also for an increase of 16 per cent in the death rate of tuberculosis, an increase of 300 per cent for diseases connected with childbirth and 21 per cent for heart diseases.

The writers concluded that from the health statistics available to them, there did not seem to be any present focus of influenza in the United States and Canada; nor did they view with alarm the immediate prospect of the health situation. There did not seem to be any indications that the epidemic would return to the United States with the same disastrous force of the invasion of last fall.

It was urged that persons who had been attacked by influenza or pneumonia, during the first invasion, consult frequently with their family physicians in order that any disorders of the heart, kidneys or lungs, following influenza, might be corrected in due time.

SOME ASPECTS OF CITY PROGRESS.

The advances made in higher education in London during 1919 have been outstanding, and have born out the prediction that was made by friends of the Western University, that with the conclusion of the war it would be found to have both permanency and prominence in the educational work of the province. The building up of a university is a long and heavy task, but much depends upon the way in which the work is begun. It is not given to many universities in their early days to have such generous provision made for growth as marked the University of Chicago, or Cornell, or Johns Hopkins, where, in each case, a wealthy founder gave the initiative to work that has since grown continent-wide in its influence. The history of most universities is that of a struggling youth, succeeded by a struggling maturity, as the result of the demands that are always greater in extent than the means of fulfilling them. As a result of the war, however, there is probably more disposition than there ever was in the past to regard higher education as the right of every boy or girl, and consequently a new responsibility has been thrown upon the community and the state to see that such provision for higher education is made.

The increased attendance in all university departments this year is a feature that has resulted in hurrying on the plans of the board of governors for permanent buildings for the several departments. It is expected that a year from now the medical college will be in its new quarters. Is it too much to hope for, that at that time, ground will already be broken for the first of the arts department's buildings on the fine site to the north of the city? Within the next few years London is going to add a number of new educational buildings, of which we will have reason to be proud. For, in addition to the arts buildings, there will also be under way before long the new buildings for L'Assumption College and for the college work of the Ursuline Sisters, while nearby on Sunshine Park there will be erected the new St. Peter's Seminary, which has been the dream of Bishop Fallon ever since he came to London—a dream which he is now making a reality.

When large and important colleges like L'Assumption and the Ursuline College link up their future with London and with Western there is clear indication that this city is becoming the recognized educational centre of Western Ontario and that is a position that the city may well covet. London as a city has not been behindhand in educational matters coming under her own control. We have built up in this city public schools that are not excelled in the province; we have a technical school that will take its place more and more in the future in the city's educational scheme; we have provided first-class public library facilities and we have shown our faith in the future of the university by practical aid. And all of this has been done while we have been doing the thousand and one other things that are part of civic life. There has been an even development all around which will count for much in making London a yet greater city. Last Sunday of the forty people whose names were read out as new members of a city church fully half were from outside points. People are coming to London because living conditions here are what they should be, and where living conditions are right business conditions will usually be found satisfactory as well. If London's business record for the last five years were examined it would be found that few if any cities in Canada could equal it for steady progress and stability. We can be a great business city, we can be a great producing and distributing centre, we can be a great educational centre, and we will be all of those things in the most satisfactory way when they keep pace with one another, heart and mind and hand working as one.

CONFUSION OVER PROHIBITION.

The mind of the public has become badly muddled as to the liquor situation, owing to the passing of the new legislation during the closing hours of the Dominion Parliament. The Government, upon the refusal of the Senate to sanction the extension of the war-time prohibition order-in-council for a year after the proclamation of peace, put through legislation to amend the Canadian temperance act. Under the conditions of this measure any provincial legislature can ask the Federal Government to take a referendum as to whether or not the importation shall be permitted. If the vote, which requires a bare majority, favors a ban on importation, then the Federal Government will forbid it and will declare that liquor sold within the confines of the province must be for sacramental or medicinal purposes. Furthermore, legislation framed with the object of making the province bone-dry, is contained in the Doherty act. This act makes it a criminal offence to manufacture within the province, or import it if the liquor laws of the province are violated.

The interesting point now is as to whether before the Ontario Legislature secures a referendum there will be a wet spell, which would follow the removal of war-time prohibition. The minister of justice says the date of the proclamation of peace is very uncertain. It might be a month hence or twelve months. Mr. Drury, however, should as soon as possible start the machinery for bringing on the plebiscite, which must precede an appeal to the Federal Government to establish a bone-dry province. In this he will undoubtedly have the support of the people. Ontario does not desire a wet interval.

PACIFIC FLEETS.

Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, one of the greatest British sailors of modern times, is visiting this country and later in the month will confer with the Government in regard to a permanent naval policy for Canada. Admiral Jellicoe is, of course, acting in an advisory capacity only, but his brilliant record made in all branches of the British navy, will give to his suggestions a special importance and significance. Before coming to Canada he conferred with the Governments of Australia and New Zealand, proposing that these dominions cooperate with the British Government, by contributing thirty per cent of a Pacific fleet. Evidently the Imperial Government is convinced that the Pacific is to be one of the centres of interest of the world in the next generation, and that strong concentration of fleets in Pacific waters is necessary in the best interests of the Empire. Canada is especially interested in this matter. Unquestionably this country is on the verge of a stupendous trade development across the Pacific, and this will mean that our western coast ports, and the vessels which will radiate from them must be given the fullest protection. While Great Britain is on the best of terms with Japan, the fact that that Government has started a naval building program, involving expenditure of $824,000,000 in eight years, can scarcely be ignored, as our existence depends upon the strength and efficiency of the navy. The best guarantee for continued good relations in the Far East will be a powerful British fleet on a constant patrol of the Pacific.

It is worthy of note that Admiral Jellicoe's idea of overseas navies is largely that of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, a policy that was repealed by the Borden-Bourassa alliance.

DISTORTING THE FACTS.

A writer in the Ladies' Home Journal says it required England three years to get 2,000,000 men into France, while the United States got as many men there in half the time. True enough, and had it not been for British transports and the protection provided by the British navy the Americans would not be there yet. And nothing is said of the vast armies England sent to the Balkans, Egypt, Africa and Mesopotamia, nor the vast force she organized for defense. Our good friends and valiant allies across the line performed marvels in organizing a great army and sending it promptly overseas, but compared to the stupendous war activities of England in all parts of the globe, the achievements of the American army and navy, splendid though they were, appear trivial.

The Journal, too, declares that the Central Powers won the war for four years, less ten days, and then Marshal Foch "with the United States troops in the van guard" won his way to victory in 115 days. That "van guard," as we all know was a section of one front where Foch started his drive, and gallantly did the Americans attend to their share of the fighting, but we have it from the word of Marshal Foch himself, that it was the hammer blows of the British armies that decided the war in the Allies' favor; that and their matchless courage and steadfastness during the years when the allied armies were on the defensive. The Journal's statements are distortions of the facts, which no intelligent or fair-minded American would accept.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

American public opinion undermined the miners.

With eggs a dollar a dozen, folks who talk familiarly of egg-nogs are either millionaires, or putting on a lot of "side."

If there was ever any doubt as to the I. W. W. being representatives of Leninism in America, it has been dispelled by the Centralia murders.

The Christian Guardian is to be congratulated over the beautiful edition it has put out, commemorative of the paper's ninetieth birthday.

Those soft coal miners proved they were real Americans by obeying the Government's order to go back to work. Now it is up to the United States Government to make it clear the miners are living in America.

CANDLES THAT BURN.

[Aline Kilmer in New York American.]

Candles that burn for a November birthday,
Wreathed round with asters and with goldenrod,
As you go upward in your radiant dying,
Carry my prayers to God.

Tell Him she is so small and so rebellious,
Tell Him her words are music on her lips,
Tell Him I love her in her wayward beauty,
Down to her finger-tips.

Ask Him to keep her brave and true and lovely,
Vivid and happy, gay as she is now;
Ask Him to let no shadow touch her beauty,
No sorrow mar her brow.

All the sweet Saints that came for her baptizing,
Tell them I pray them to be always near;
Ask them to keep her little feet from stumbling,
Her gallant heart from fear.

Candles that burn for a November birthday,
Set round with asters and with goldenrod,
As you go upward in your radiant dying,
Carry my prayer to God.

POLICE SCIENCE.

[Westminster Gazette.]

Germany is suffering just now from a crime wave among other things. So bad have things become that opera-goers who have paid a hundred marks each for their tickets are asked for a deposit on the nickeled knives and forks they use in eating their sandwiches before they are handed to them over the buffet; and in a Czecho-Slovakian village the fire engine house of wood was stolen for fuel. Only last week an attempt was made to steal an express train, and I am told that it would have succeeded had not the driver lost his nerve at the last moment. With commendable foresight the German Government has decided to provide a university training for the detective branches of the police, and chairs of "Police Science" have been established at Leipzig and Frankfort. At Frankfort, Dr. Popp, a noted analytical chemist, who has for years worked on "Sherlock Holmes" lines, has been appointed to the chair. His previous services to the German criminal courts should stand him in good stead in training the budding "Hawkshaws" of Germany.

Fuller Bunk says: When some fellows go out to look for an opening they merely succeed in finding themselves in a hole.

SEA FOAM.

[Blanche Elizabeth Wade in N. Y. Evening Post.]

There was an old man with a raft,
Who remarked: "Though my friends think me daft,
I would cross the great sea,
But I cannot, ah me!
For I don't know the fore from the aft!"

And a second old man with a scow
Said: "I wish I could really tell how
I could stop the commotion
Of the too-restless ocean,
I would cross were it not for that How!"

There was likewise a man who said "Who
Can I get to cross in my canoe?
I would willingly go
With a comrade or so,
But the question that puzzles is Who?"

Said another man with a yacht:
"I am sorry I cannot tell what
I should do in a gale,
If I met a huge whale,
I'll stay home since I don't like that What!"

There was also a man who said "If
One could go out to sea in a skiff,
There's no reason I know
Why a man should not go;
And I'd go were it not for that Iff"

And another old man with a punt
Said: "You know it is really no stunt
To cross over the deep
If a close watch you keep;
And some day I will go or I won't."

THE BRAVE KENT TO BE SOLD.

[London Paper.]

The battle-riven ensign of H. M. S. Kent, which was a gift to the vessel from the County of Kent, hangs in Canterbury Cathedral. But the brave cruiser that carried the flag victoriously in action will see England no more.

Her hard work during the war has left her "crocked up." So the Admiralty has brought home her crew, paid off the Kent at Hong Kong, and is going to sell her.

The Kent is fifteen years old. In the war she served under Admiral Jellicoe, and won enduring fame by her behavior in the Falklands fight. Her task was to run down the light cruiser Nurnberg. The Kent was slow as speed is accounted these days, and her coal supply was getting low. To eke out this her captain ordered all carpenter's stores to be turned into fuel.

The Kent went into action with her upper decks filled with men hard at work sawing up targets and other timbers and passing the pieces to the stokeholds. Every scrap of timber aboard her would have gone on the fires had the engagement lasted long enough to make such a sacrifice necessary. The Kent made 25 knots—the highest speed she had ever attained—and overhauled her enemy, whom she sank.

After the Falklands, the Kent joined in the three months' chase of the Dresden, whom she followed for thousands of miles. In the end the Dresden was caught and destroyed at Juan Fernandez—Robinson Crusoe's island.

SIXTY YEARS FIGHTING COAL MINE FIRE.

Just think that while there is a coal miners' strike on, and a shortage of coal is developing, there is a fire in one of the largest mines of this continent, consuming coal by the million tons. Occasionally someone with a vivid imagination has tried to picture what a fire in a great coal mine would be like, with immense heat and fumes being generated through crater mouths, but the nearest he usually came is a reproduction of a volcano effect. However hot as may be the bowels of the earth in this particular coal mine, the fire is not at all spectacular in results. It has plodded its weary way for nearly sixty years, and is going strong yet, like a lusty infant. This burning coal mine is between Summit Hill, one of the oldest towns of Carbon County, Pennsylvania, and Coaldale, 129 miles from New York. Engineers have fought the fire in vain for years, and it seems as if it will go on and on until one of the richest coal deposits in the world is turned to dead cinders. Nothing in the wrecking and devastating of the surface of Northern France could surpass the great desolation being caused by this fire.

Started in First Mine.

The fire started on a February morning in 1856. A miner entering Slope No. 1 of the Lehigh Coal Company's mine stopped to warm his chilled fingers at a fire burning in a heap of rubbish. That fire ignited the coal, and before it was discovered had made great headway. This pit was in the first coal mine to be opened, and the first pit to be dug. The slope was sunk in 1847, on the side of the Mammoth vein, which was 50 feet thick and dipping at an angle of 25 degrees. Officials of the mine insist that the fire was of incendiary origin, but whatever the cause, they have been unremitting in their efforts to stop the fire. The latest scheme is that of building a great tunnel ahead of where it is progressing, thus cutting off the connection. The same idea is followed in limiting the area of a forest fire. In 1860, the year after the fire started, it was decided to make a cut at a point 3,500 feet, or half a mile, from the place where the fire was, but this did not stop it. In 1861 the company strove to drive an open cut into the blazing main. Eight thousand dollars was spent. Next year, thirteen thousand; the following year, eighteen thousand, and similar sums in other years. In 1865 the fight was abandoned. The fire seemed to be making no progress in 1866, and in 1867 seemed to be dying out.

Opened a Draft For It.

In 1882, what is known as the Davies slope was sunk by a man named Davies. In 1895 the eastern gangway of this cut was extended to a point where it broke into a fire that had been smoldering all these years. This opening gave a vent, and allowed a draft to the fire, and it blazed up rapidly. The shaft and headings were sealed, water was pumped from a mile distant, in ten and twelve inch pipes, holes were drilled directly over the fire, and the water poured in. But the pump could not be used much for months, owing to a drought, and culm was shipped in and flushed into the burning area through these holes. In 1895 a plan was adopted to fill the holes entirely with culm, to shut off the air and smother the fire. Culm is used generally to fill up the stopes of anthracite mines, replacing the millions of tons taken out. But in 1900 the company found the fire still making headway and spreading rapidly to the west. Pumps of larger capacity were provided, and another lake or two was poured in.

Big Drilling Program.

But it was then winter, and the culm froze in the transit of the cars on which it was loaded, and two plants had to be erected to provide hot water to thaw the culm. In 1901 57 six-inch holes were drilled a combined length of 6,414 feet into the old workings. The following year 22 holes were drilled, and in 1903 58 six-inch holes. In this year 28,000 tons of culm were flushed into the burning area. Drilling and flushing continued until 1908, when 708 holes had been drilled. But the filling up of the open spaces did not stop the fire. It had advanced to within 100 feet of No. 2 slope, the main outlet, and was moving at an alarming rate. Millions of tons were being consumed, and the Lansford basin, another great body of coal, was being approached. At the outcrop the sandstone above the vein was red hot for a distance of 30 feet from the vein, which was a seething mass. More big schemes to get water and to cut off the fire by new tunnels were developed, and by December, 1909, $470,000 had been spent. But as the fire still spread, a railroad was constructed to the outcrop, and the vein was flushed full of culm to block it entirely at this point.

Another Big Cut.

Between 1912 and 1915 another great open cut was made, six feet wide, through the whole great mass of coal, and this was filled with clay and water. Immense steam shovels were at work, and millions of tons were taken out. In August, 1915, steam was discovered coming out of the far side of the clay and water barrier, and the company drilled there. The temperature ranged from 60 to 240 degrees. Water was put into the drill holes at the rate of 1,160 gallons a minute, and 39 days were occupied with flooding operations. Altogether about 150,000,000 gallons of water have been pumped into the mine. So far, the fire seemingly has not broken through the great clay barrier, and it is planned to build a brick screen in it, if necessary, to allow of removing the coal on the side. But the fire is still there, and the officials wonder if their grandchildren will still be fighting it.

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

A SLEEPING BEAUTY.

"Hallo, Muggins!" Johnny Deeds shouted from the road. The figure in the rocking chair upon the Martin porch did not lift his eyes from the book in hand. Johnny hallooed again—again his answer was the silence of unconsciousness—clearly Louise Martin did not mean to admit that she had ever responded to the name of Muggins. Johnny grinned cheerfully, and scuttered up the winding walk, to pause at the steps, doff his hat, and say with an elaborate obeisance: "Is the—ah! ahem—lady of the house at home?"

"Not to—vagabonds," the rocking chair's occupant returned tranquilly, its eyes still down. Next minute two warm hands fell over them—the head holding them was drawn gently back and a kiss planted upon a pair of soft red lips.

"That's how you wake a sleeping beauty, isn't it?" Johnny asked guilelessly. Louise had risen and faced him, a furious scarlet flooding her cheeks. She dared not speak—if she did, she would either laugh or cry. Either meant triumph for Johnny, the lawless—she knew of old his capacity to torment her. Silently she turned to go inside—then Johnny caught both her hands, and sat her down, not very gently, saying: "No, you don't! Not in this company. What ails you, anyway, Mug? Used to be the best sort of sport, you did."

"You mean—I was a barbarian, the same as you." Louise burst out. "Well, I have learned better manners. Unless you can do the same—please keep away from here!"

"H—m! Is that a true word—or just make-up?" Johnny asked, the least shade of seriousness creeping into his face. Louise glared at him. "Will you never grow up?" she stormed. "You know, you must understand, my position here in my uncle's house. His wife is the very properest person—with a leaning to wild ways under the rose. If she had heard you say 'Muggins' I should never have been anything else to her—of course, in strict privacy, she makes Uncle Ben think her a sort of grown-up Snow White. Already she hates me, because I see through her. If she knew anything of those mad, happy old days when we were play-fellows, thinking and knowing no evil, she would have a whip ready to her hand, and would use it to put me through my paces."

"She shan't know, girl. I'm willing to kick myself a mile!" Johnny exploded. "I ought to have thought—of course, the neighbors know something—of the dual personality of the new Mrs. Benjamin Martin. Still, I honestly didn't dream of making you trouble. Forgive me all my impertinence and let me know if I can help you in any way."

"Only in—a very hard way—for me," Louise said, sighing. "That is, by staying away until—be sure I'm not here for always. Uncle says Martin blood forbids my working. I have another notion as to that—I'd rather scrub floors for a living than stay here much longer."

"You need not stay a day—remember?" Johnny began significantly. Louise looked over his head, flushing deeply. "Don't let's think of impossibilities," she said, but sighed as she said it. Johnny laid a brotherly hand on her shoulder, asking: "Haven't you got over anything?" In reply she could only shake her head and turn away, biting her lips.

Johnny strode up and down the porch, his face dark, his brow deeply furrowed. Thus Mrs. Martin came upon him and smiled unpleasantly as she glanced from one to another of the pair. So did the man in her wake, who was by appearance neither young nor old, good nor bad, but tremendously well-groomed and well-tailored, as redolent, indeed, of affluence as the perfectly appointed car which had brought him and his hostess. At sight of him Louise hurried away, to be recalled imperiously, then bidden in a velvet voice please to order tea and serve it. Johnny must stay, for it, of course—a balanced party was so much pleasanter. Moreover, he had been so long in coming over, he must be specially well treated in hope of a return. All this coolngly, avid eyes the while measuring his six foot one of vigorous young manhood, his handsome, tanned face and vital close-cropped curls. Mrs. Martin, fair, forty, languishing, approved all of them thoroughly—all the more that he made her escort, Franklin Ware, seem so faded and meagre. She looked at Johnny, indeed, with much the same gloating expression that Ware gave to Louise. Johnny saw and shivered—not for him, self, but for the prospect before Louise.

He got no private word with her, though he lingered to the last allowable moment. He could not even watch over her. Mrs. Benjamin was too wholly bent on his captivation. But he had a sense that she was suffering deeply from the glances and compliments of Ware. Small need for Mrs. Benjamin to say, as she did when she went half-way down the walk with him: "Matters are arranging themselves so beautifully. We shall have a wedding before we know it. Louise will make the most beautiful bride in the world."

He galloped away, ready to swear at life and things. If only Louise would forget that cursed Melville and marry her faithful Johnny all things would come right. He was sure she did not love the real Melville, but rather an image she called by his name and set up in her heart's inner shrine. "She really is a Sleeping Beauty," he said to his heart, reverting to the happy audacity whose memory made him tingle. "Once she waked up, she'd have to know life and things. My business is to wake her. I wonder how I shall do it."

After three days of pondering he hit upon something that made him cry aloud: "The very thing." Then write a letter, hasty but full of details. After he had dispatched it to a distant address he gave his whole mind and time to haunting the Martin establishment, bent on knowing all that passed regarding his beloved. There was need of his constant vigilance. Franklin Ware was a desperate wooer, and ably seconded by Mrs. Benjamin, who, of course, brought her husband to seeing with her eyes.

Therefore he said seriously to Louise, that with no wish to constrain her inclination, he felt bound to say she would both please and relieve him by providing for herself so finely. Franklin Ware was not, to be sure, in his first youth—he had, moreover, had a harvest of very wild oats. To offset that, he was rich, well born, possessed of a standing that gave his wife entree everywhere—and eager to make her the most magnificent settlements. Furthermore—here Uncle Benjamin half sighed—he himself could do no more for his brother's only daughter than give her a home and maintenance while he lived. All he had was well tied up beyond diversion in any direction. And it would pain him deeply to think either of leaving his niece unprovided for, or to have her go to work. In the name of the blood he begged her to save him such discomfort—she listened shivering—not ever what was said, but left unsaid, namely, that Uncle Ben might be now a millionaire, if he had not years back voluntarily paid huge sums to clear his brother of debt, and keep the family name spotless. Then, too, so long as the brother lived, he had been generous in help to him, who was the soul of improvident kindliness. Louise felt to the marrow of her bones all she owed the good narrow man, too fine-bred to recall benefits bestowed. It seemed to her she must obey him—or die. Death, indeed, seemed her only refuge—she could not think of accepting Johnny with all her heart belonging to Melville.

Then when she was most distraught came Melville's letter—brief and blurred as though written in mad haste. "Johnny writes me you have great prospects—if you will accept them," it said. "My dear girl, don't be a fool. Accept the goods the gods provide—and thus justify the admiring friendship of "Hastily and heartily yours,

"ARTHUR MELVILLE."

Johnny saw her read it—not for naught had he studied postal schedules and haunted the carrier's route. As she crushed the sheet within a shaking hand, he touched her shoulder gently, saying:

"Honey—trust yourself to me! Even if I can't ever make you love me, it will be—better than—the other inevitable thing."

"I can't! I am too ashamed. To think I—oh, no decent man ought ever to look at me!" Louise cried hotly; then with a sob gave him the letter. When he had read it he turned to see her sitting with bowed head, face hidden in her hands, and trembling all over. "I believe you have saved me—from—the very worst," she said. "If you will have me—" breaking off there and drooping lower still.

He married her next day—to the scandal of Mrs. Benjamin. Time's whirligig indeed brings revenge. Before the honeymoon waned Louise hid her face in his shoulder to say, happily, "I was in a trance, Johnny, dear! How in the world did you care enough to wake me?"

"Oh, I have a taste for sleeping beauties," Johnny answered, tweaking her ear—but with eyes that misted a little in spite of him.

SMARTNESS IN BLACK

New Notes in Fashion and How Jet and Crepe Meteor Are Used to Emphasize Charming Effects.

By Mme. Frances, Famous Creator of Fashions, N. Y. City.

Black, black, black! Never was the exquisite becomingness of black more obvious than in the beautiful models so popular for street and afternoon wear. The super-suppleness that gives to crepe meteor it wonderful drape qualities is exhibited in afternoon gowns embellished with jet and the new straw embroidery that so much resembles jet. The threads of fine satiny straw are run on black meteor and velvet with a charmingly new note, usually in parallel lines or in the "darned" stitch.

Crepe meteor also lends itself to effective embroidery that is a combination of chenille and dull wooden beads that resemble jet. The high lustre of chenille finds its most effective contrast in wood beads and with the semi-sheen of crepe meteor as a background, there is little left to be desired of loveliness.

The Place of Fur.

The reddish brown tones of Kolinsky and sable squirrel find a happy background in black; and velvet, crepe meteor, charmeuse and duvetyne are effectively trimmed in narrow lines of fur, which lends itself perfectly to the edge of the short kimono sleeves, adapted from the fashion launched by Paris and featured with such insistency by the Frenchwomen of the stage and thaute monde.

For a street suit, black duvetyne is the fabric de luxe. There is a new duvetyne with a pile almost as deep as old-fashioned plush. No fabric could be lovelier than this material, which seems to be an offspring of velvet and suede. Duvetyne is combined with satin in the lines that on this side we call "middy," for lack of a better name. The straight line blouse, reaching well to the hips, and there being attached to a contrasting fabric or to a skirt of its own material, is the most popular silhouette of the moment for general wear. The waistline is usually held in at the natural curve of the body by a narrow tie belt, or one of jet if that trimming is employed with a degree of profusion on the gown.

Bugles in Favor.

Bugles have returned to favor. So if you have any of this old-fashioned trimming tucked away in the garret or cedar chest by all means bring it out and combine it with black net on an evening gown or with meteor or duvetyne on an afternoon or street dress. Jet is always worn—will always be worn, no doubt, but at the moment it is especially in the limelight, which it reflects so beautifully, because the most beautiful—and I may whisper—the most expansive evening gowns are elaborately trimmed with jet and bugles. Celluloid jet has been brought to a state of perfection, with such exactitude of imitation, that the cut jet so difficult to obtain is giving way to the more modern product, undreamed of by the famous old jet makers of Whitby.

Evening wraps of every line are elaborately embellished with jet. Frequently the borders on the cape-like mantles will be solidly or openly embroidered with jet to a depth of 27 inches or more. Jet is also combined with gold or silver threads in effectively elaborate embroideries.

The Return of Black Net.

The most successful of the black evening gowns are chiffon velvet, net or meteor. Chiffon velvet depends mostly on the lovelinss of its folds for trimming. To over-elaborate velvet is as great a sin against good taste and artistic sense as "gilding the lily." Silver is an effective trimming for the black velvet evening gown, and rhinestones may be used on the bodice if the restraining hand of moderation guides the lines of the "diamants."

Black net enjoys a return to favor because of its gracious contribution to the Velasquez silhouette, which, though extremely smart at the moment, is not sufficiently becoming to all women to be universally adopted as a fashion. Its effect will be felt in the bouffant skirt of versatile drape that manages to achieve fulness at the hipline and flatness back and front.

Three-Piece Costumes.

A three-piece model is an ideal street costume for the woman with open purse strings or for her whi must look to the debit side of the ledger. Because of its economic virtues and its elastic properties for any and all wear, except formal evening functions, there is no garment in a woman's wardrobe that can take the place of a well-designed, three-piece suit.

A pretty three-piece model combines duvetyne with charmeuse satin. The bodice of black charmeuse satin shows the straight-line silhoutte, mentioned above. It is given its own distinction by a triangular vest of duvetyne that reverses the triangle line as usually seen in gilets and places the apex at the neck and the base at the lower edge.

The neck and sleeves are edged with a fold of duvetyne. The skirt shows originality in its festoons of jet bugles, and the belt is a shoestring affair of black duvetyne.

The coat that may accompany this gown is a smart box model with a panel back and straight front, whose trimmings depends upon the perfection of needlework found in the closely set bound button holes that run on one side, and in the duvetyne-covered buttons that run on the other.

The New Turbans.

The modish hat breathes all that is new in turbans. Duvetyne just begs to be draped, you know, and here it has its wish. The trimming? Why, black paradise, of course!

The charm of chenille and wooden bead embroidery finds an ideal background in the softly youthful line of a model that shows a kimono blouse, short-sleved, you see, and straight gathered skirt. Red-brown fur outlines the wide armholes and furnishes the narrow belt. A black velvet picture hat is trimmed with a wealth of ostrich feathers.

An afternoon gown of black velvet possesses delightfully youthful qualities, contributed mostly by a guimpe of white mousseline de sole and Val lace. The blouse does an unusual thing in the "cut outs" on the sides above the girdle line. The girdle is cut in one with the bodice. Through these "cut outs" show the dainty underblouse and below the girdle appears a little full peplum.

Lines of parallel trimmings on the skirt are made of narrow "threads" of satin straw. The neck is also embroidered with this new "fils." The hat is an elaborate coquettish affair of velvet and narrow black lace.

Black Dinner Gowns.

A dinner gown is of black net, embroidered with black paillettes. It shows the distended hipline, accented by brown fur. The sheath of black charmeuse satin appears in the front as a vest and the narrow belt of satin finds an interesting way of crossing in the front and again crossing in the back.

The full skirt is embroidered with black jet. The sleeves of this gown show the short line that appears on so many afternoon frocks, and indeed this dress may be used as either an afternoon or theatre dress.

With this model is worn, "sheer black silk stockings and black satin slippers," you will say. Not at all! Brown satin slippers and brown stockings—very, very dark brown. Sheer smoked grey stocking are worn with many of the black gowns. This shade gives the impression of a very thin black stocking.

You will like my black gowns, I know, and they have the advantage of being becoming to both the young girl and the matron.

The Fashion Forecast

The short vamp French slippers with straps or bows across the instep, instead of being only a threat, are now a fashion. "Petite" is the word for your feet clad in these dainty soullers. You must "get used to them," for they will be much worn for afternoon and evening and insist upon appearing on Fifth avenue in the broad open daylight.

To All Cubists and Futurists

The fault may be mine. I admit it at once,
I'm an old-fashioned fogey, a Philistine dunce;
But although you may think me an absolute ass,
I am certain that green is the color of grass.
It really is.

The sky might be better if purple and black,
Or a replica, say, of our own Union Jack;
Or striped like a zebra, or covered with spots,
Or, roughly, the tint of unsound apricots.
But it isn't.

The wall of a house, you may take it from me,
Is commonly straight, like the back of a D;
The tower of a church is most usually found
With its base undeniably fixed to the ground.
I assure you it is.

The face of a man may be handsome or plain,
It may look sagacious, it may look inane;
But it never consists of an eyebrow alone,
Or a nose by itself, or a tooth on its own.
Simply never.

I am sure that you live unimpeachable lives,
In respectable homes with adorable wives;
Every one of you may be a God-fearing saint,
You are odious only because you will paint.
Pray don't.

A WAYFARER.

MAKING-UP IS AN ART, AND IT SHOULD NOT BE DONE IN A HURRY

Different Colored Eyes Require Different Make-Ups.

"Women should realize that it is a great mistake to make up the lips in a hurry, as it is usually done. A wrong shade is often used, and is just put on in a thoughtless way, neglecting the shape of the mouth entirely. There is just as much expression about the mouth as about the eyes. Therefore do not spoil the expression of the mouth, and don't try to change it, unless it must be done for the stage. As a make-up use pink and not red. Red or vermilion is something necessary on the stage when the lights are very dense. When the mouth is a little too large one can wipe out the corners of the mouth with face grease and only make up with red the centre part. Take care not to make it too small, because it would look like a red spot. These suggestions apply only to make-up for the stage. For daylight lips must be softly accentuated with pink following the shape of the mouth, but not quite to the edge. This will make the lips more delicate and far prettier.

Making Up the Eyes.

"The make-up of the eyes is just as important for daylight as for the stage. It is an art in itself, because the effect of size and expression in the eyes depends on the way they are made up. Even the color effect can be changed slightly; for instance, grey eyes with a tiny bit of green and brown in them when made up with dark brown and a soft blue, the color of the apple of the eye, changes to a pronounced hazel, and sometimes they seem to be brown. Dark eyes must be touched just a little on the eyelids with dark brown spread out with the finger in a soft line. This is for daylight. Don't put any paint under the eye, but if the eye has an oval shape, accentuate it. The best way to do this is to make a soft line with the pencil and smooth it out with the finger, then make up the eyelashes with a tiny brush in the usual way. Don't use any blue for dark eyes. For the stage dark eyes should be made up in the same way, but more or less accentuated, depending on the size of the hall and the brilliancy of the lights.

Different Make-ups for Eyes.

"Blue and grey eyes should be made up differently from dark ones. For blue eyes one should use for daylight a very soft black, a black that spreads out very easily, and it should only be used for the eyelashes. Don't put any black on the eyelids of the blue or grey eyes, even for the stage. Put only blue on the upper eyelid, well spread out, the lower part a tiny bit darker than the upper, and the black only for the lashes and eyebrows. But the eyebrows of grey and blue eyes should be very narrow, just a thin arch.

"Never use blue for daylight make-up. With hazel eyes the eyelids are slightly darkened with brown. This gives a glance that the French call, "Un regard velout'—a 'velvet glance.'

"Never make up in public. This is very bad taste. Even using powder in public is questionable. Much of a woman's charm must be lost if we lose a sense of mystery as to how she produces it. Particularly reprehensible is a public lip stick. Lips made up in that way, without infinite pains and the closest examination, are certain to reveal the paint, and to reveal the paint is to kill all beauty of effect."

WOODBURY W. I.

The Woodbury Women's Institute held a very interesting meeting at the home of Rev. H. Monsinger, Princeton, where about thirty members were in attendance. The president, Mrs. Radloff, opened the proceedings.

Each member answered the roll call by giving a short suggestion for making Christmas gifts.

Mrs. Staples contributed a song, accompanied by Mrs. J. O. Reid, and Miss R. Thompson, principal of the Woodbury school, gave a talk on domestic science and hot lunches for pupils in rural schools.

ARVA W. M. S.

The W. M. S. held their annual quilting bee, when over fifty women were present. During the afternoon Miss Hawkins's Sunday school class assembled and presented her with a beautiful cut glass bowl on the eve of her departure for London.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Attention, Sensible Sisters!

Please, Miss Grey, would you tell me if it's necessary to reply to a wedding announcement? I would like to hear some sensible women express their views on community kitchens. I think it's a very poor housekeeper who would not want a kitchen in her own house.

SUBSCRIBER.

P. S.—Also should a present be given, or is it a matter of choice?

Ans.—I should like awfully well to have some views expressed about the community kitchen plan and its practicability. I'm glad Subscriber mentioned the subject, as it gives evidence that our women are thinking of and considering these modern ideas. Sensible sisters, speak up.

Re your queries, Subscriber, you may either send the bride a gift with your card attached, or you may write her a cordial note expressing best wishes for her happiness; if you wish you may do both, and then, when she is receiving company in her new home, call on her and leave your cards.

No Place Like It.

Dear Miss Grey,—Seeing so much about the stocking-foot pattern in your column I thought I would write and ask for it. I live on the farm and think there is no place like it, considering the price of things. This being my first letter to your Mail-Box I will draw it to a close. With best wishes.

SUNSHINE.

Ans.—The pattern is already yours—or at least it ought to be—as I mailed it promptly. So you like the farm. Well it ought to be nice with plenty of "Sunshine" around! I always like to hear folks speak well of the place in which they live; if they cannot do that it's high time to either improve things or move out!

Maybe He's Sorry Too.

Dear Miss Grey,—I saw in the paper the other day where one of the Mail-Boxites wanted "Miss Edith Helps Things Along," son am sending it today. I have been sorry the Editor Man can't even find space for "Revelations of a Wife" for a couple of days, for that is what I always look for first. I have a good comic recitation, "Miss Prim's Christmas Shopping." I could copy it if anyone cares for it.

I must get to work now, or dinner will not be ready. With best wishes to the Mail-Box,

ERICUM.

Ans.—Thank you, Ericum Robina had already been supplied, but I am filing your copy for future use, as it may be asked for again. No doubt there will be requests for your recitation, so please keep it handy.

As to the editor not finding space, please don't blame him. Perhaps he's sorry too, but when there's so much copy to go into a certain space, something has to be left over, and what's the poor man to do?

An Eczema Trouble.

Dear Miss Grey,—I wonder if you or any of our readers could send a cure for dry eczema. I have a spot on my face, and at times it gets very red and itchy. I have tried doctors and a number of other things, but nothing has done it any good. I should be very much pleased to find a cure.

I would also like a good recipe for citron preserves. I like them thick and firm. I did some with plenty of sugar, but they were thin and soft. Would be pleased to know how to do them, and oblige.

AUNT MARGARET.

Ans.—Get a piece of wood of the white oak tree, and burn to ashes; make lye of the ashes, then strain and add a little salt and mutton fat or tallow, and rub on whenever the eczema is bothersome. This method was advised by a reader as being a "sure cure" for eczema. Another formula calls for a few drops of carbolic acid mixed with a small quantity of mutton fat or tallow, or even with ordinary lard, and some add a bit of sulphur to this.

For the citrons preserve, here is a recipe supplied by Farmer's Wife, and recommended as being "fit for a king": Pare citron and remove seeds. Cut into pieces about an inch square, and cover with granulated sugar, one bowl of sugar to three of citrons, and let stand over night. In the morning add one lemon to about four quarts of the fruit. First squeeze out the juice and in a separate dish mince or cut into very fine pieces the peel, add to the fruit and boil until tender. Pour in the lemon juice and stir well. Put into sterilized sealers, and you have citrons fit for a king.

Pieces for Christmas.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you kindly send me the stocking-foot pattern? I have so much darning to do I think it would help me out along that line. I wonder if someone could supply me with some Christmas songs and recitations? I have kiddies going to school and they are always asking for pieces and they seem so hard to get. Thanking you for your trouble, MARGARET.

Ans.—I have kept Margaret's address on fyle, and will be more than pleased if someone can help her in the matter of pieces for Christmastide entertainments. In the meantime a foot pattern is mailed to Margaret.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Marie Orendorff of 838 King street has returned home after a pleasant visit to her aunt and uncle, Mrs. and Mrs. John A. Birmingham, Pasadena, Cal.

Mrs. J. Patterson, Gadshill, and Mrs. A. Meade, Blenheim, have been elected to the executive of the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario, Mrs. Patterson being one of the vice-presidents.

Mrs. H. A. Boomer will hold her annual drawing-room sale in aid of the Local Council of Women funds on Wednesday, November 26, instead of later in the year as had been originally arranged.

The assembly hall at the Ontario Hospital was filled with gay young people last evening when the Nightingale Club of this city were the hostesses of a most enjoyable dance. This club of young girls has been most active during the war period, raising a great portion of their patriotic funds by the holding of dances. Last night the dance was in aid of a fund to buy woolen gloves for the soldiers at Byron Sanatorium.

A peep into the Western U. gym last evening would have disclosed a throng of about 150 dancers garbed in every manner of costume conceivable, moving about beneath a canopy of purple and white bunting, the University colors. The masquerade was given by the year '22, and of course turned out an overwhelming success, for of course it is an acceded fact that sophomores can do nothing wrong. Orchestral music was provided for the occasion, and a dainty buffet luncheon served. Dr. and Mrs. Sherwood Fox, Dr. and Mrs. Neville and Dr. and Mrs. Shanks lent their gracious patronage to the affair, which had been arranged under the supervision of a most efficient committee including Mr. Bateson, president of the year, Mr. Walnwright, Miss Mary Granger, Miss Burdon and Miss E. Wilkie.

Last evening Col. W. G. Coles and Mrs. Coles entertained at "The Kennels," giving a most enjoyable dance for their daughters, Miss Isobel, Marion and Kathleen.

The spacious rooms were lovely with large pink and yellow 'mums, amid the cosy glow of grate fires. Mrs. Coles was handsome in a gown of white satin with overdress of net embroidered in green and gold. Miss Isobel wore a lovely gown of turquoise blue satin, while Miss Marion appeared in a pretty frock of grey satin with touches of cerise and silver. Miss Kathleen looked pretty and girlish in pale blue satin with overdress of pale blue and white minon.

On the wings of delightful dance music, played by the Harold Skinner Orchestra, about one hundred young people danced away the evening. At the midnight hour a buffet luncheon was served.

Perhaps the merriest and prettiest social event which took place yesterday afternoon, was that held in honor of little Miss Grace Shuttleworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Shuttleworth, Princess avenue, on the occasion of her sixth birthday. Nearly fifty children were gathered together for the occasion, the rooms having been made gay for the occasion with softly glowing yellow candles and quantities of yellow 'mums.

Of course, the chief event of the party was the cutting of the birthday cake, which centered the large table, about which a great portion of the tiny guests were seated for supper. Bright, big eyes looked out of fifty small faces full of delight when the gorgeous spectacle aglow with candles presented itself. And soon fifty eager mouths were searching for booty in the shape of buttons, rings and so forth.

After a thoroughly happy time, and many uproarious games the gathering of little folks broke up about 4 o'clock.

CLARK—BOWEY.

A pretty wedding took place at the Trivitt Memorial Church, Exeter, at high noon on Tuesday, when Frances Louise, Bowey, daughter of Mr. A. Bowey, was united in marriage to Kenneth George Clark of London, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Mr. Ashlyn A. Trumper. After a dainty wedding breakfast they left for Buffalo and other eastern points. On their return, they will reside in London.

DOYLE—MYERS.

Our Lady of Help Church, Wallaceburg, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Wednesday morning, when Ella, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Myers, Chatham Township, became the bride of Peter L. Doyle of Raleigh Township, Rev. Father J. Brennan performing the ceremony.

The bride wore a pretty suit of brown broadcloth trimmed with beaver and beaver muff to match, and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses. Miss Alice Doyle, sister of the groom, made a charming bridesmaid in a navy blue suit and corsage bouquet of Sunset roses.

The groom's gift to the bride was a sunburst of pearls, to the bridesmaid a pearl and onyx ring, and to the best man, Mr. Morley Myers, brother of the bride, a pair of gold initial cuff links.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where guests to the number of 45 sat down to tables beautifully decorated in pink and white. Among the presents, handsome and numerous, were several checks.

The happy couple motored to Chatham, taking the 5:20 train to Niagara Falls and Buffalo. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm, concession 9, Raleigh Township.

ANDERSON—BROWN.

A pretty wedding took place in Woodstock on Armistice Day at 6:30 o'clock, when Gulnivere Brown, elder daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Brown, became the bride of Hugh Anderson, son of Mrs. Robert Anderson of Caledonia. The Rev. Mr. Gaetz, pastor of the Central Methodist Church, officiated in the presence of about sixty guests. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very pretty in her wedding gown of white silk with pearl and silver trimmings. She wore the customary bridal veil with wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a lovely bouquet of Sweetheart roses, and violets. Mrs. A. T. Lang of Caledonia, sister of the groom, and incidentally a bride of a week, was matron of honor. She wore a handsome pink georgette gown and carried Ophelia roses. Tracey Brown of Toronto Dental College, brother of the bride and recently returned from overseas, was best man. Little Miss Mary Aird of Montreal, cousin of the bride, acted as flower girl, looking very charming in a dainty frock of white net over pink silk. During the signing of the register, Miss Dorothy Edgington of Woodstock sang "Until."

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left on a motor trip to Detroit and other western cities. They will reside at Cranston, the groom's farm near Caledonia. The bride was one of the most popular young women in Woodstock, and previous to her wedding was tendered four delightful showers.

LORNE AVE. CLUB PLANS BIG MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

A meeting of the Lorne Avenue Mothers' Club took place on Thursday evening, when a big membership drive was planned. It was also decided that the club should hold a rummage sale on November 27 and 28, the proceeds to be expended on a victrola for the club. Mrs. E. Sharpe presided over the meeting and Mrs. McMillan delighted those present with a vocal solo.

HE LAUGHS BEST.

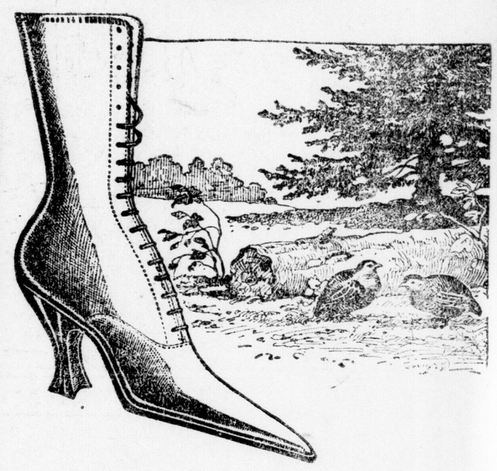

That Wanton Cupid said to me,
"I've locked your heart, I have," said he,
"I've locked your heart and lost the key—
I've lost the key, I have," he cried,
"And Love to you must be denied."
Oh, wonder maid, he had not lied.
But I laughed back with very glee.
At what that imp had done to me;
He'd locked my heart and lost the key
I laughed, although he had not lied—
Dear girl, he'd locked you up inside.

DONIE BUSH WISHES TO CONCLUDE CAREER IN RANKS OF TIGERS

Veteran Detroit Shortstop Does Not Wish To Be Traded.

DETROIT, Nov. 14.—Any animosity that Donie Bush might have felt toward Frank J. Navin, president of the Detroit baseball club, or the fans who support the Tigers, when trouble over salary matters came to a head between the local magnate and the midget shortstop last spring evidently has fled out of the little Hoosier's mind.

Tortured then by what he deemed unfair treatment at the hands of the Tigers' management, and at the time expressing a wish to be traded unless the club met his demands, Donie now abhors the thought of leaving the fold of the Jungaleers before his days in the major leagues are numbered.

Indirectly, Bush wrote Dell Clark recently, the Bengal shortstop heard of the proposed deal that involved him in a trade with Everett Scott of the Red Sox, and Donie sought some measure of confirmation of the report from his pal here.

What Donie Says.

"If it is for the best interests of the Tigers," wrote Donie, "then well and good. But I would much prefer to end my major league days where I started them."

From the tone of Bush's letter it would seem that nothing definite had been done to bring about the trade that would transplant Donie in a Boston uniform and bring Scott here to cover the territory between the keystone and semi-final bases.

But there can be no doubts of Bush's sincereness to remain with the club that brought him up from the bushes, a juvenile wonder to startle the baseball world. Next to his home, Indianapolis, where Donie was born and reared, there is no place the midget likes as well as he does Detroit.

When Bush and Navin went to the mat over the figures quoted in the shortstop's contract that called for his services during the season of 1919 Donie expressed a desire to be traded if the Detroit club president felt that the sum asked by the midget did not meet with Navin's approval. That he didn't mean it, his wish now proves.

WORLD'S CHAMPION PRIZE-FIGHTER

JACK DEMPSEY, who announces his willingness to meet the winner of the Beckett-Carpentier bout for $100,000 and the championship of the world.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Jimmy Wilde, the wonderful English boxer, will probably box for the first time in this country at Milwaukee on Thanksgiving Day (Nov. 27), afternoon. His opponent will be Joe Burman, the crack Chicago bantam. The Briton will also box Benny Vogel in the West.

These two bouts are all that he will take part in before he boxes for the International Sporting Club in this city. He is supposed to have an agreement with the club that he will not box east of Chicago before the bout here.

No opponent has been selected for Wilde in his local debut. Joe Lynch, Pal Moore and Pete Herman are the leading trio, with the chances favoring the first-named right now, because he is a local boy, and also because it was their fifteen-round battle in London that caused lots of talk the boxing world over.

Jimmy is being lionized here. He hasn't a minute to himself in his hotel. The phone keeps up a constant ring, while he receives bundles of mail from all sections. Telegrams galore are received by him.

FREAK PITCHING IS LIKELY TO GO, SAYS PRESIDENT HEYDLER

Is On Rules Committee, and His Assertion Is Probably Forecast of Coming Action.

New York, Nov. 14.—Changes in baseball rules to curb freak pitching in the major leagues will probably be made when the joint rules committee of the two leagues get together next month, according to an opinion expressed by President John A. Heydler of the National League yesterday. On the national rules committee, besides Mr. Heydler, are William Veeck of the Chicago club, and Barney Dreyfuss of Pittsburg. These three members will meet three members of the American League to take action on freak pitching some time during the annual meetings of the major leagues next month.

"I believe the spitball should be abolished," said Mr. Heydler yesterday, "and, if it is possible, I think the rubbing of the ball on the uniform and the aid of paraffine should also be prohibited. The rules committees of both leagues have been requested to meet at the suggestion of President Johnson of the American League to devise some rules to curb the freak deliveries of the pitchers."

Many suggestions have already been made by baseball men, but before the committee takes action it will hear the expert advice of umpires, managers and others actively connected with the game. It has been suggested that the pitcher be prohibited from rubbing the ball on any part of his uniform. This would stop the use of wax of any kind employed to shine one side of the ball. It has also been suggested that the pitcher be prohibited from moistening the ball in any way.

President Heydler expressed the opinion that something more than a fine would be necessary as a penalty to stop these practices. It has been suggested that, in the event of a pitcher being caught by the umpire using an illegal delivery the batsman be given a base on balls. This penalty probably would be too radical, but the illegally pitched ball might be called a ball as an additional penalty to a fine.

As the judges of illegal deliveries will be the umpires, it has also been suggested that the pitchers be permitted to go south next spring earlier than usual in company with the umpires, who could supervise the practice of the fingers and instruct them to avoid the deliveries which would be regarded as illegal.

In the American Association, where the spitball was barred last season, it was found that the fine of $25 did not entirely eliminate the delivery, for a pitcher, at a critical moment, would often be willing to pay that amount to strike a batsman out with the trick delivery. So, in order to enforce the rule, it is likely that an additional penalty will be enforced by the major leagues.

The members of the Giants have already started to send in their contracts. Arthur Nehf, Fred Toney and Mike Gonzales have signed up for next season. Wilbert Hubbell, the pitcher, who was with Toronto last season, has also signed.

Manager Miller Huggins, who has been here for several days arranging for the training trip of the Yankees next spring, went back to his home in Cincinnati last night. It is likely that Huggins will decide on Jacksonville, Fla., for a training camp, as the club was satisfied with the place last season. Walter Pipp, the Yankee first baseman, and his bride, were visitors at the Yankee office yesterday. Pipp is going to Cuba on his wedding trip, and expects to play ball in Havana this winter.

FOOTBALL

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The second of the season's eastern football classics will be played in New Haven tomorrow, when Yale and Princeton meet, but football enthusiasm will not be confined to this contest alone. Several other gridiron struggles will share interest with the Tiger-Eli battle, and will have equal bearing upon the final ranking of the teams of the section.

While both Princeton and Yale enter their annual conflict with one or more defeats on their 1919 records, these reversals have been forgotten in the intensity of their rivalry. In fact, the decisive defeats administered to Princeton by Colgate and West Virginia are believed by many football followers to have worked the remarkable change in the playing form, which enabled the Tigers to force Harvard to a supreme last-minute rally to tie last Saturday's contest.

With her strongest line-up available, backed by the lessons learned in the slashing play of the last month, Princeton will prove a trying opponent for the Blue. Yale still has the greater objective ahead in the Harvard contest, while at her back is the none too impressive record of five victories over Springfield, North Carolina, Tufts, Maryland and Brown.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Football will reach a climax in the west tomorrow, with chief interest divided among the struggle between the undefeated Ohio State eleven and Wisconsin at Madison, the Michigan-Illinois contest at Urbana, and the clash between Chicago and Iowa at Chicago. Northwestern and Indiana will take the field at Evanston, in the other western conference game, but this contest will have little bearing on the championship, as both teams are hopelessly out of the running.

CHAIRMAN OF MINOR LEAGUE COMMITTEE TALKS WITH MAJORS

Efforts Being Made To Restore Relations With Big Leagues.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—J. C. Ewing of San Francisco, chairman of the minor league commission to restore relations with the major leagues, conferred "informally" here today with August Herrmann, chairman of the National commission, and John Heydler, president of the National League. Heydler maintained that Ewing's committee should hold a meeting and "decide on some tentative plan for submission to the major leagues." Both Herrmann and Heydler, however, expressed satisfaction over the action taken by the minor leagues at their annual meeting in Springfield, and believe it will lead to the "former harmonious relations between the majors and minors."

Ewing favors representation for the minors on the National commission in future relations between the majors and minors. He said the committee of which he is head, is composed of Dave Fultz of the New International League, Thomas Hickey of the American Association, Joseph D. Martin of the Southern Association, A. L. Tearney of the Three-I League, J. W. Morse of the Texas League, John Hanlon of the Western League, and John E. Farrell, secretary of the National Association.

August Herrmann said he would return to Cincinnati tomorrow. He expressed regret that "the failure of Ban Johnson to get to New York prevented a meeting of the National commission."

SPORT JABS

Sarnia and Petrolea teams will battle at Tecumseh Park this afternoon for district intermediate O.R.F.U. honors in a sudden death game, the winners to play Dundas. A good game is promised and rooters for both squads will accompany their huskies to this city. At an early hour this morning the identity of officials chosen for the game were unknown to the district O.R.F.U. convener, it being left to the teams participating to agree on referee and umpire.

University of Toronto senior and intermediate rugby teams will play McGill at Montreal today in inter-collegiate fixtures. The former outfit was defeated on Nov. 1 at Toronto 14 to 3 by McGill, but after gruelling practices since that time a reversal in form is predicted today.

By virtue of their dual win over Western intermediates, both here and in Toronto, after disposing of St. Michael's intermediate fourteen, the Toronto Varsity intermediates stack up against McGill today in a final for Intercollegiate honors.

Lionel Shoebottom, a well-known local athlete who used to cavort about with the Collegiate rugby crew here, will play on the Toronto senior scrimmage line today. Shoebottom is attending the School of Practical Science at Varsity after returning from overseas, and is regarded as one of the fastest runners and neatest tacklers on the Toronto line.

Toronto Capitals and T. R. and A. A. will clash at Varsity Stadium, Toronto, this afternoon, the championship of the senior O.R.F.U. depending upon the game. Capitals and Argonauts will also play today in an intermediate O. R.F.U. fixture.

Chris. Fitzgerald, a popular former Londoner, one-time sporting editor of the New York Sun, and now steward of the Havana race track, who numbers in this city a host of friends, was in London for a few days this week renewing acquaintances. Chris is one of the best-known authorities and cleanest sportsman on the continent.

One-fifth of the gate receipts minus expenses of today's Sarnia-Petrolea intermediate fixture at Tecumseh Park will be claimed by the O.R.F.U., according to Secretary Hewitson of the above organization. While the union is entitled by constitution to one-fifth of the profits, this sum is not usually collected from junior or intermediate groups, owing to financial difficulties encountered by respective teams, but Secretary Hewitson claims that the union needs the money this time.

PLAY CHAMPIONSHIP BILLIARD TOURNAMENT

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14—Hugh Heal of Toledo, and Byron Gillette of Buffalo, met in the first game of today's three-cushion billiard championship tournament. Heal winning 50 to 26 in 69 innings.

Pierre Maupome of Milwaukee, won from Jess Lean of Cincinnati, 50 to 42 in 79 innings, in the second game of today's card.

GALT RUGBY TEAM IS BANQUETTED BY GIRLS

GALT, Nov. 14.—At the collegiate tonight the members of the rugby team, who made such a fine showing in the recent inter-scholastic series, were banquetted by the senior girls of the school. The young ladies did themselves proud in the spread they provided. A feature of the evening was the presentation of a club bag to Coach Glad, made by the members of the team in appreciation of his efforts on their behalf and to whom credit is due for the fine showing of the club.

DEMPSEY NOT CHASED BY CHALLENGERS FOR WORLD BOXING TITLE

Contrary To Custom Boxing Aspirants Do Not Worry Champion.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—"It is a funny thing to see the manager of the heavyweight champion of the world running about the country begging some one to fight him," Jack Kearns, pilot of Jack Dempsey, is quoted by Charles F. Mathisor in the New York Sun.

"I got into this city the other day and at once asked several promoters if they could arrange a match for the champion with some good heavyweight. I first sought Dave MacKay of Newark, then I spoke to Dave Driscoll of Jersey City, and then to Jack Curley. Did either of them say he would put on a bout with Dempsey in one of the corners? He did not.

"Furthermore, I told the promoters to pick an opponent from the best of the heavyweight class in America—Brennan, Levinsky, Miske, Meehan or any one they could get to fight the titleholder. Each of the promoters said he would consider the matter, and there it ended.

"I will make this assertion: There never was a heavyweight champion in the history of pugilism who was not smothered with challenges the day after winning the title. Dempsey beat Willard last July, and up to date there has not been a single challenge, not a bona fide offer from any promoter. No, Dempsey does not say the other heavies are afraid of him, but it is peculiar to say the least."

URGES U. S. DEPORT FOREIGN SLACKERS

Rev. Dr. Cochran Warns of Men Who Evaded War Duty.

Detroit, Nov. 12.—Rev. Joseph W. Cochran, pastor of Woodward Avenue Presbyterian Church, told his Sunday evening congregation that foreigners who evaded military service in the United States army during the war should be deported. Further discussing the general problem presented by the foreigner, Dr. Cochran said the attitude of Americans would have to become more sympathetic if aliens are ever to be truly Americanized.

"We are in an inflamed state of mind toward the foreigners," said the speaker. "Enemy and slacker aliens have us aroused to a fierce anger, and now we are fighting the plottings of the revolutionary alien. There are scattered through our land 2,000 'first paper aliens'—men who, at the outbreak of the war, renounced their rights to become American citizens for the price of exemption from military service.

"Is there any reason why such aliens should not be deported?" Then, turning to America's treatment of the foreigner, Dr. Cochran said:

"Before we can do much Americanization we should Americanize ourselves. The immigrant today can learn little of value and much of harm from those elements of our American life with which he is in closest contact.

"There must be a new attitude of helpfulness, sympathy, understanding and brotherly love on the part of American forces seeking to naturalize the foreigner before we can see much change in his present attitude to our free institutions."

BOLSHEVIK OFFICERS FORCE REDS ON BY THREAT OF SHOOTING

Their Morale and That of Kolchak's Men Are Both Weak.

VLADIVOSTOK, Thursday, Nov. 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Scenes of the greatest confusion in Omsk are reported in dispatches from that city. The government departments, the families of officers, and the wealthy residents of the city are hurrying their departure, and a procession of carriages, carts, and automobiles is streaming over the two-mile stretch of road from the city to the railway station.

It is reported that Admiral Kolchak, head of the All-Russian Government, attended a mass meeting in Omsk on November 1, for the purpose of organizing volunteers into a defence army. In a fiery, patriotic speech Admiral Kolchak stated that Omsk could never pass into the hands of the enemy. He declared that is Omsk were taken all the work accomplished in the hope of restoring Russia would have gone for naught.

A Second Appeal.

On the afternoon of November 4, the dispatches from Omsk say, Admiral Kolchak made a second appeal to the peasants and soldiers, reminding them that he had already promised the convening of an assembly and distribution of the land. He declared that personally he was ready to have elections, and the land distributed immediately.

Omsk is considered as being more important from a political than from a military viewpoint, but it is expected that the city will be defended and held with all the forces it is possible for the All-Russian Government to muster.

The present Bolshevik offensive was launched in the middle of ~~October~~, after a fresh Bolshevik division was reported to have arrived in the vicinity of Kurgan from the Archangel front, the Reds' forces at Kurgan being swung on to the Troitsk-Petropavlovsk wagon road. The Siberians holding the road consisted only of cavalry and Cossacks, who failed to stand their ground. The left wing of the front was thus bent back and the entire army forced to retreat.

The morale of both forces is reported weak, but the Reds have been driven on, it is declared, their own officers standing behind the fighting line to shoot all stragglers.

LARGEST BATTLESHIP LAUNCHED IN JAPAN

Tokio, Nov. 14. — The 40,000-ton battleship, Nagato, largest warship yet built in Japan, and said to be the largest fighting ship in the world, was launched from the naval dockyard at Kure on November 9. However, it is understood here that the American navy has projected dreadnoughts that will be even larger than the Nagato.

The Japanese leviathan will be armed with 16-inch guns, having a range of 40 miles and her engines are expected to develop a speed of 25 knots. She will carry several airplanes and will be armed with anti-aircraft guns.

Building of the huge vessel has been delayed by the scarcety of workers and changes in the plan of construction as a result of lessons from the Jutland battle.

When the Nagato is completed, building of the Kaga, her sister ship will be commenced.

FAMOUS NIGHT-LIFE CAFES RAIDED BY POLICE IN BERLIN

Fifty-One Cabarets Was Officials, Limit For One Night.

Berlin, Nov. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Fifty-one of the more notorious of Berlin's famous, or infamous, night-life cafes and cabarets, where all closing regulations were ignored, electric lights were burned until morning, and scenes of drunkenness were enacted, were raided recently by the new safety police and squads of the old force. Countless arrests were made. The proprietors of 60 other cafes were notified that their turn was coming. There were so many that all could not be raided in one evening.

The bands were playing, and all was joyous, when one lone police officer in plain clothes entered each of the 51 resorts. At first he was greeted with laughter, but when the exits were closed most of the patrons and many of the managers dived for the cellars, where they were easily rounded up. As fast as they could be herded together they were placed on motor trucks guarded by police or soldiers and taken to the police stations.

The scenes were exciting, as women became hysterical, and men offered huge sums of money for their release.

It was a variegated throng that was gathered at the police station and finally at police headquarters at the Alexander Square. Some tried to laugh the affair away, others were angry, and all seemed to be ashamed at being caught. The throng included not only a number of illicit traders and their women friends, but several socially well-known people as well. The police announce the raids will continue.

With the raids the authorities have, incidentally, accomplished a lessening of the illicit trade in food, for the cabarets and cafes and gambling clubs were the prime offenders, and boldly offered either free meals or meals at ridiculously low prices to prospective customers.

WIFE OF LLOYD GEORGE SPEAKS FOR LADY ASTOR

PLYMOUTH, Eng., Nov., 14.—Mrs. Lloyd George, wife of the premier, appeared in Plymouth today in the interest of Lady Astor's candidacy for Parliament. Mrs. Lloyd George spoke at two meetings in behalf of the woman candidate.

One of the meetings addressed by Mrs. Lloyd George is characterized as having developed the worst attempt by hecklers to silence speakers in the whole campaign. Mrs. Lloyd George, when she obtained a hearing, warmly endorsed the candidancy of Lady Astor, first, she said, because a few women in Parliament nowadays was most advisable, and second because she was convinced that nobody could discharge such duties more thoroughly than Lady Astor.

BRITISH CONSIDER 24-HOUR TIME PLAN

London, Nov. 14.—A committee has been appointed by the government to report on the advisability of adopting the 24-hour method of expressing time, which was put into effect about twelve years ago in Western Canada, and which is said to have many advocates in the United States. Italy for a long time has used the system, and it is extensively employed on the continent for railway, postal and telegraph purposes. Astronomers always use it.

O is the starting point of the 24-hour method, representing midnight. The hours are then counted as on the ordinary clock face up to 12. After that 13 take the place of 1, 14 of 2, and so on up to 23, and the reappearance of zero.

WOMAN PLAYED BIG PART IN RAILWAY STRIKE IN LONDON

London, Nov. 14.—One of the most interesting figures brought into the limelight of publicity during England's great railway strike was Miss E. M. Hopwood, now called "the woman who fed London."

Miss Hopwood was secretary to a large commercial firm in the north of England, and her business ability was so well recognized that when the ministry of food was organized, she was called to the service of the Government. She scored such success in her emergency war-work that she was appointed at the beginning of the railway strike as food distribution officer for the whole metropolitan area.

She has an energetic manner that is a source of inspiration to her staff. During the strike she worked steadily from eight in the morning until ten at night, taking her meals in her office.

MANY STUDENTS AT CAMBRIDGE MARRIED

Cambridge, Eng., Nov. 14.—Never in the history of Cambridge University have the authorities faced such a situation as confronts them this year. There are 1,000 more undergraduates than in 1913 and a large number of them are married.

Hundreds of them are completing courses begun before the war. During the five-year interim many have married and come back to college, in many instances, with one or two youngsters It is a task for Cambridge to care for 5,000 students and the addition of so many wives and children has aggravated the crowded conditions of the town.

While married students are not uncommon in any university, it is stated that never has so large a percentage of the student body been married men.

There will be two royal undergraduates this year—Prince Albert and Prince Henry.

LI HUNG CHANG'S CHINESE ART WORKS TO GO TO SWEDEN

Stockholm, Nov. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—The unique collection of Chinese works of art made by the late Li Hung Chang, one time viceroy of China, which for years collectors tried vainly to acquire, has finally been bought by a Swedish syndicate and a valuable part of it has been given to the National Museum here by the purchasers. German museums were negotiating for the collection when the war put an end to their plans. The purchase price is understood to have been more than a million Krone (nominally about $280,000), but the intrinsic value of the collection is incalculable.

Li Hung Chang died in 1901. He had a collection of works of art larger than anything of its kind in the empire. It included numerous old paintings, bronzes of great worth and ancient ceramics. The bronzes date from a time before Christ, and the paintings were done from the tenth to the twelfth centuries.

The collection is in Shanghai, where it has been packed and stored.

D. W. GRIFFITH'S PEACE VERSION OF "HEARTS OF THE WORLD," SHOWING AT MAJESTIC ON MON., TUES. AND WED.

Noted Producer Keeps Abreast of Times by Issuing Revised Version of "Hearts of World" With Dorothy Gish Comedy Feature Parts of Picture—New Edition Full of Fun, Humor, Happiness of First Peace Days—At the Majestic Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Only.

AT THE MAJESTIC

TODAY — (Continuous Performances Daily.) — (Big Double Matinee.)—Pauline Frederick in "Bonds of Love." Mary Pickford in "Johanna Enlists." Fox Sunshine comedy, "Wild Waves and Angry Women." Screen magazine of famous movie stars. Pathe Revue, Canadian News, Ditmars' Wonderful Books of Nature, Prof. Kekoa and twelve artists in big Hawaiian act.

MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY ONLY AT REGULAR PRICES D. W. Griffith's greatest masterpiece, the peace version of "Hearts of the World." Pictures of the Prince of Wales' tour of Western Ontario and his visit to London. Many extra attractions.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY—Madge Kennedy in "Strictly Confidential."

David Wark Griffith, whose fame ranks him as an artist equal to the old masters, whose genius has produced the greatest sensations known to filmdom, whose masterpieces have thrilled countless millions, has kept abreast with the times by issuing a new version of "Hearts of the World," wherein the League of Nations is visualized, and the necessity for stopping all armed strife powerfully supported. The revised "Hearts of the World" will be presented at the Majestic Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, four shows running continuously and at regular prices for the first time in Canada.

The revised version of "Hearts of the World" is being presented at the Geo. M. Cohen Theatre, New York, at present, being the third offering in the Griffith repertory season, and its popularity bids fair to outrival the success of any of his former productions.

Pictures of Peace.

Whereas the old picture of "Hearts of the World" was a picture of the terrible struggle on the fields of France and Belgium, of sorrow and suffering, and broken hearts, which carried on heroically until a final decisive victory, the new version is a picture of sunshine, of humor, of the first happy days of peace. In the first edition, Lillian Gish and Robert Harron had the most important characters, picturing the pathetic romance of a soldier of France and his sweetheart. In the second, the new edition, Dorothy Gish has the leading part; her humor is paramount, and her romance with Monsieur Cuckoo provides unnumbered laughs, as this queer pair smile and frolic their way just as heroically through the terrible years of darkness into the blinding sunshine of the first wonderful days of peace.

Just as the "Hearts of the World" is Griffith's greatest achievement, so is the role of "The Little Disturber," the greatest character Dorothy Gish has ever portrayed. Never has her roguish smile, the twinkling eyes, and queer, comical prankiness shown forth to better effect. Although 120,000 feet of film were taken for the first edition of "Hearts of the World," only 13,000 appeared in the first picture, the remaining footage, being of many comedy scenes of Dorothy Gish, many scenes of the brighter side of the great war, little comedy touches which were picked up here and there as the ideas were suggested, to be saved for such time as Mr. Griffith could use them. All these have been put into the new edition, and many of the sorrowful parts and war scenes taken out. Mr. Griffith recognized the fact that to make the new version of "Hearts of the World" a popular success, the brighter side of the war only must be touched on, that at present people wish to think of the fine heroism the many lovely romances and the happy days of a world at peace, which followed the signing of the armistice.and so he has made the "Little Disturber's" and Monsieur Cuckoo's humorous romance the main theme of this practically new picture.

To those who saw the old "Hearts of the World," and to those who missed it, the new picture will be a great revelation of the genius of the greatest of all directors. Presented with a specially written musical score by an augmented orchestra, the new "Hearts of the World" will sweep the country wide with a great wave of enthusiasm.

Madge Kennedy, charming little beauty, at the Majestic Thursday, Friday and Saturday, next week, in her new romantic comedy of dukes, butlers and chorus girls "Strictly Confidential."

MADGE KENNEDY IN 'STRICKLY CONFIDENTIAL' NEXT THURS., FRI., SAT.

Madge Kennedy finds a role dear to her heart in her latest release. The central situation finds her the fun-loving wife of a titled Englishman surrounded on one hand by her former associates of the music halls, and on the other by her husband's friends, and herself restrained by the masterly hand of one of her uncles, the head butler of Bantock Hall. "Strictly Confidential" will be shown at the Majestic Thursday, Friday and Saturday next week.

In the story, which was originally written by the English humorist, Jerome K. Jerome, Fanny O'Gorman, a member of a band of strolling English players, is the descendant of a long line of servants of the Bantocks. She is finally won by the head of the household, but not before her own family make things so unpleasant for her that she confesses she has "too much wonderful family."

Miss Kennedy's spontaneous humor has never been seen to better advantage. In the scene where Bantock makes love to her in a simple little arbor, he tries to fumble for her hand; but she divines his purpose and naively hands him a twig. Again, in his love-making, Bantock (John Bowers), who is an artist, sits down at his drawing board to sketch the object of his devotion, who retaliates by adding a figure to that which he has drawn.

When she at length tells her husband of her lineage, expecting him to exile her, he is silent, but takes her to the portrait of the first Lady Bantock, with the announcement that her ladyship was a butcher's daughter.

Prince's Visit to London Is Shown in Film at the Majestic

Showing Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Majestic will be the pictures of the Prince of Wales' visit to London, and his tour of Western Ontario. The Majestic has secured the exclusive rights to this film in this city, and takes pleasure in announcing that one of the most interesting pictures (to people of this city) will be shown at every performance the first three days only of next week. The huge crowds of welcome, the arrival of the prince, his visits to the different parts of the city, every interesting incident that happened during the day is shown on the screen. Come and see your friends and yourself in the movies.

WORLD'S GREATEST FILM STARS ARE ON BILL AT MAJESTIC THIS AFTERNOON

Mary Pickford and Pauline Frederick, Special Five-Reel Feature.

Presented at the Majestic on today's big double matinee will be a program of interesting film and vaudeville attractions. There will be special picturer for the children, and special pictures for the grown-ups. Performances start at 2:15, and run continuously.

Pauline Federick's new big picture will be first on the program. It is named "Bonds of Love," and is the wonderful story of the romance of the second Mrs. Cabot, and her love for her young stepson. "Bonds of Love" is a thrilling story of mystery, adventure and love, the settings laid in and around the famous Island of Catalina, showing the wonderful harbors, the yachts and the beautiful homes of the millionaires in this exclusive colony.

Mary Pickford Also.

Mary Pickford in "Johanna Enlists" will be the second feature attraction. Of all the pictures that Mary has made, none shine with greater humor, sunshine and happiness than "Johanna Enlists." This picture was taken with Mary's own regiment, and the laughter and love in the picture keep you in tense expectation every minute to see what is to happen next.

Other Famous Stars.

Just think of seeing Douglas Fairbanks, Geraldine Farrar, Bessie Love, William S. Hart, Ben Turpin and Charles Ray all in one picture, with Thomas Ince directing. In the very interesting Screen News at the Majestic today, you see all these stars, with interesting little views of their off-stage life, their hobbies, their homes and families. The Fox Sunshine comedy is a "scream"—that is the only adequate way of describing it. Every situation is a laugh, every character in the picture brings a smile to your lips, and as the action takes place on one of the great amusement beaches of California, there are many comic scenes of the water and the bathing girls.

Hawaiian Act.

The Hawaiian act of Professor Kekoa and his twelve artists is a very beautiful offering. Presented under the auspices of the Hamilton Gault Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, the proceeds will go toward the proposed Sick Children's Hospital. The musical numbers, the songs and the dancing are really very fine, and take exceptionally well with the audiences.

MAJESTIC SCREEN NOTES.

Think of a three-ring circus, with elephants, camels, clowns, giraffes, and all the funny and queer things that go to make a circus, which Barnum & Bailey or Ringling Brothers would be proud of. That is Mabel Normand's new picture. "The Jinx," which is said to be one of the best comedy productions of the season, full of new exciting, uproariously, funny full of new situations, and with startling story."

Clara Kimball Young.

It is quite a while since we have seen Clara Kimball Young in a really excellent picture. But Clara has only been biding her time. Clara has formed a new company, and intends to make only two pictures each year. Her first production, which is "The Eyes of Youth," is a startling story of society life. The critics who have renewed the picture at its trade showing in New York are amazed at the marvelous beauty of the production, and its gripping story. Those who know are predicting a nation-wide success for this picture, stating it to be one of the few really great productions of the year.

ASSERTS LABOR WILL RULE U. S.

John Fitzpatrick, Steel Strike Chief, So Declares Before Detroiters.

Detroit, Nov. 11.—Announcement of a solid labor party to be organized in Chicago, November 22, "to take over the operation of the government of the United States," made Sunday evening in the Larned street armory by John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the national steel strikers' committee, was received with a storm of cheering, whistling and stamping from an audience of labor men that packed the building to the doors.

Chairman Fitzpatrick and William Z. Foster, secretary of the national steel strikers' committee, came to Detroit to "tell the truth" about the steel strike against, and in the plants of, the United States Steel Corporation, as Mr. Fitzpatrick expressed it.

Date Set, November 22.

It was at the close of his address that Mr. Fitzpatrick spoke of the new party. He had been heaping anathema upon the corporation, ridiculing its war service, and condemning its strike-breaking measures, when he said as a conclusion: "This corporation is not going to run the Government of the United States. Labor will take over the operation of the Government.

"There is no difference between the Republican and Democratic parties. A new party will be organized in Chicago on November 22, a labor party, that will be pitted against both the old-line parties."

The applause greeting this announcement overtopped all former demonstrations.

Mr. Fitzpatrick warned the workers that the steel strike, with 350,000 workers out, would determine the fate of organized labor. If it failed, he said, corporations would continue the battle against labor until organization had been defeated, but if the strikers won the cause of labor was safe. He accused Judge Gary of the steel corporation of denying the authority of the Government when he refused to accede to President Wilson's request that the corporation meet in conference with the strike committee.

Mr. Foster confined his address almost entirely to his experiences in Johnstown, where he was denied the right to address the strikers by a committee of citizens which met him in the street and escorted him to the railroad station before he had a chance to visit the Labor Temple.

Mr. Foster also appealed to the workers for their moral and financial support, which appeal resulted in a collection amounting to $1,478. A large force of police was on hand, and there was no disorder. At the opening of the meeting request was made for the "Marseillaise," which was played by the band, while every person in the hall stood.

The Alluring Fox Sunshine Girls, who appear in the two-reel comedy, "Wild Waves and Angry Women," at the Majestic today.

Dorothy Gish, who is starred in D. W. Griffith's new peace version of "Hearts of the World" at the Majestic three days only, and at regular prices. Four shows daily, starting at 2:15 o'clock. The greatest musical score the theatre has ever presented accompanies this production. This production will be shown on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Weather Doesn't Count

When You Equip Your Ford with a

Ustus Limousette

Whether it rains or snows, you can sit in your Ford car in solid comfort.

No changes in the standard Ford equipment are necessary. The Limousette is simply a new practical addition which is vastly superior, in every way, to side curtains.

Easily and Quickly Installed

The initial installation is easily made in an hour's time. In attaching the Limousette there is no altering or mutilating of your present top necessary.

Ease of Access and Exit

Everyone knows what a nuisance the ordinary side curtain is when one wishes to enter or leave the car. Either the curtain must be unbuttoned and afterwards rebuttoned, or else the individual tries to crawl in under it, losing his hat and his temper in the effort, and possibly damaging curtain or fasteners in the mixup. Contrast with this the Limousette way of merely rolling the side pieces up at a touch, out of sight, and returning them to the closed position as quickly. If an open car is desired it can be had instantly by raising the four side pieces which slide up out of sight and danger. Again contrast with this the old way of stopping, taking off curtains, folding them up and putting them away, possibly to be needed an hour later when the reverse operation is necessary.

After attachment it becomes a permanent part of the car and adjustments for weather conditions, ventilation or exit are accomplished by the side pieces being raised or lowered on spring rollers. This can be done very quickly and, when raised, makes the car entirely open and easy to enter or leave. These rolling side members can be operated readily either from the inside or outside of the car.

If, for any reason, it is desired to detach the Limousette, it can be readily removed, folded and placed under the seat. It folds into a bundle 31½ inches over all. It weighs only 30 pounds.

If your dealer can't supply you, write or call on our nearest house for literature and prices.

Paid Out in 1918

AN amount of money that the human mind cannot grasp, was paid out by the insurance organizations of the United States and Canada in the year 1918. This sum includes $190,000,000 paid by the American Government to the families of soldiers and sailors who fell in the war.

"An adequate amount of insurance," says the New York Insurance Press, "is now considered a matter of course, not only for the protection of families, but also for the protection and preservation of business enterprises."

The great value of life insurance companies was clearly shown during the course of the influenza epidemic, which cost Canadian and American companies $93,000,000.

Among the companies contributing to the relief of the people in that time of trial the Mutual Life of Canada was conspicuous in this country, about three-quarters of a million being disbursed by us in excess of the normal losses.

There is little reason, therefore, for wonder that this Company has received so many applications for insurance, the amount of business written this year being double that received in 1918.

NAZIMOVA IN "THE RED LANTERN" AT GRAND
LAST TIME TODAY—SAM LIEBERT AND COMPANY
THE HEADLINE VAUDEVILLE ATTRACTION

PLAYING THE GRAND.

TODAY, 2:15 AND 7:30—Nazimova, in "The Red Lantern"; vaudeville, Sam Liebert and company, Walter J. Hayes, Gilmore and Lemoyne, Allan and Layman, Collier and Dewalde.

MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY, 2:15 AND 7:30 DAILY—Mabel Normand, in "Mickey"; vaudeville, McKay' Scotch Revue, Shelton Brooks and company, Charles A. Loder and company, Le Rue and Dupre, Innes Bros.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY—Gallo English Opera Company. Thursday and Saturday evenings, 8:15, "The Mikado." Friday evening, 8:15, "The Chimes of Normandy." Saturday matinee, 2:30, "H. M. S. Pinafore."

COMING THREE DAYS, COMMENCING NOV. 27—The Dumbells in "Biff, Bing, Bang."

NAZIMOVA LAST TIME TODAY

The ability of Mme. Alla Nazimova to sink her own individuality in a part that she plays before the camera becomes more and more marked as time goes on. In "The Red Lantern," to be shown at the Grand for the last time today, she has a double role, appearing as Blanche Sackville, an English girl, and her half-sister Mahlee, a Chinese outcast. When playing Mahlee, Nazimova succeeds in making herself look so thoroughly mongolian that it becomes hard to realize that the same woman is impersonating the vivacious English girl. It is a piece of real acting, as the details of the characterization as well as the makeup differ completely.

SAM LIEBERT AND COMPANY AND FOUR OTHER BIG ACTS

The headline feature of the vaudeville program today is Sam Liebert and his clever company, presenting Aaron Hoffman's well-known comedy playlet, "The End of the World."

"Vaudeville a la Carte," is the title of a pleasing singing, talking and musical novelty offered by Gilmore and Lemoyne.

Collier and Dewalde have a roller skating act that reminds us of the time when "Kid Gates" was popular.

Walter J. Hayes, who styles himself "The Musical Stationmaster," offers several pleasing numbers on a variety of instruments.

Allen and Layman in an original line of comedy talk, complete this excellent bill.

"MICKEY," THE SCREEN'S GREATEST SENSATION PLAYS A RETURN ENGAGEMENT AT THE GRAND MON., TUES. AND WED.

"Mickey," the much heralded and most widely advertised picture in all the world, which played a full week at the Grand several months ago, and which played to capacity audiences for sixteen weeks at the Grand Opera House, Toronto, returns to the Grand Monday for a limited engagement of three days, owing to the many requests received by the management that it be brought back. "Mickey" is a little mountain girl, whose adventures makes a photodrama that breathes the very sunshine of life. It is a remarkable production in many ways, and not the least of these is the rare dramatic ability displayed by Mabel Normand. She brings tears to the eyes at one moment, and has her audience roaring with laughter at the next. In addition she performs stunts that would put in the background many of the stars who have won fame through their ability to inject thrills into a film production. There is a racing scene that is said to have anything of a similar character beaten a furlong, while the fight between the hero and the villian is one of the most realistic battles yet screened. In the contest Mickey is seen hanging from the roof of a house, while the combatants in their violent struggle wreck the building. It is a scene that never fails to arouse the enthusiasm of the spectators, and is one of many adventures of this great picture that brings forth rounds of applause. "Mickey" is a picture that you will want to see over and over again.

Remember "Mickey" will remain at the Grand for three days only, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. It will be presented with its beautiful musical settings and the usual program of vaudeville at the regular prices. Do not fail to see "Mickey" this time.

Miss Madge Westcott, the popular soprano, will sing "Mickey" at each performance during the engagement.

McKAY'S SCOTCH REVUE THE HEADLINE VAUDEVILLE ATTRACTION AT GRAND MON., TUES., WED.

McKay's Scotch Revue has been secured to head the splendid vaudeville bill to be presented at the Grand Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. McKay's Scotch Revue is a versatile company of lads and lassies that furnish a diverting wholesome entertainment. The kind that warms the cockles o' a Scotchman's heart and pleases everybody else. One big feature of the act is the Bagpipe and Drum Band, in which the entire company join and play everything from Scotch airs to ragtime. LeRue and Dupre are two Parisian artists who have selected sand as a medium of their pictorial expression. With the sand dried by the process of an oven so that there is no color combination that cannot be produced, a series of famous canvasses are depicted. This is done with lightning rapidity so that in the few minutes they occupy the stage, four large pictures are made.

Shelton Brooks, the popular song writer, assisted by Horace George, the Jazz Clarionetist, will be another feature of importance. In the ranks of colored comedians Brooks is very high. Assisted by Horace George, he is offering a compound of fun and song.

Charles A. Loder, the character comedian, and his excellent supporting company, will bring a decidedly popular farce comedy entitled, "The Night Doctor." Loder is great, while the other members of the company afford him good support.

GALLO ENGLISH OPERA CO. IN REVIVALS OF FAMOUS COMIC OPERAS AT GRAND THURS., FRI. AND SAT.

To the many lovers of the good old-fashioned, simon-pure comic opera, which for some years past has seemed to have fallen into a state of coma, so far as the American stage is concerned, the published announcement of a few days ago that the Gallo English Opera Company, direct from its very successful metropolitan engagement at the Shubert Theatre, New York, would be seen here for a short engagement of three nights at the Grand Opera House, starting Thursday, with matinee Saturday, presenting as the first offering William S. Gilbert and Sir Arthur Sullivan's immortal masterpiece, "The Mikado," comes as a most welcome one.

"The Mikado," which, as above stated, has been selected for the opening bill, being sung on Thursday and Saturday nights, probably ranks as the most popular comic opera of all time. Following the "Mikado," on Friday evening will be presented Robert Planquette's famous "The Chimes of Normandy"; on Saturday matinee, Gilbert and Sullivan's nautical absurdity, "H. M. S. Pinafore" will be rendered. All performances will be under the skilled baton of Max Bendix, and no effort will be spared to make these the very finest performances of light opera this city has ever known. Seat sale opens Tuesday morning.

WHO WILL BE MARY PICKFORD'S LEADING MAN? $2500.00 XX PRIZES! FOR THE BEST ANSWERS.

Do You Know These Five Actors' Names?

1. Plain Rachelich 2. Learn a Lass 3. Jet Black Rig 4. Sell Raw Hip 5. In for a Bad Glass Uk

CANADA'S own and beloved Mary Pickford is about to produce one of the greatest moving picture plays of her career. It is a story abounding in love and humour, pathos and happiness.

Miss Pickford's big problem now is to select a capable actor who will be suitable as her leading man in this great production. She can pick from all the greatest moving picture actors of the world, but her selection must narrow down to the five favorite movie actors whose pictures are shown above. How to Send in Your Solution

Use one side of the paper only, and put your name and address (stating whether Miss, Mrs., Mr. or Master) in the upper right-hand corner. If you wish to write anything but your answers, use a separate sheet of paper.

Miss Mary Pickford, as Honorary Judge and three independent judges, having no connection whatever with this firm, will award the prizes, and the answer gaining 250 points will take first prize.

You will get 20 points for every name solved correctly, and 40 points will be given for general neatness, punctuation and spelling; 10 points for hand writing, and 100 points for fulfilling the conditions of the contest. Contestants must agree to abide by the decision of the judges. The contest will close at 5 p.m., May 31st, 1920, immediately after which the answers will be judged and prizes awarded.

Solve this Puzzle!

FOR Johnny's birthday his mother presented him with a dandy rifle, and Johnny took the four targets that came with the rifle and went out to the back yard to try his skill. Shortly after, his mother came on to satisfy herself that Johnny knew how to use his gun. Upon examining the targets showing all the holes made by the bullets, and being a quick-thinking woman, she exclaimed: "Why, Johnny, what a good shot you are—and do you know that you have made every target spell a word? Can you tell me what each target spells?"

Can YOU Puzzle It Out?

Johnny couldn't, so his mother told him HOW TO DO IT. Each target spells a word. Each circle of each target shows a number of bullet holes, as you can see by the targets, and each circle represents a letter. The number of holes indicates the position of that letter in the alphabet. For instance: "A" would be represented by one hole, "B" by two holes, "C" by three holes, and so on.

After you have worked out all the letters that are represented in each word, you will find that they are not in their proper order. Put them into their proper order to spell out correctly the names of the four things wanted.

In order to help you, we will tell you that the letter represented by the middle circle of first target is "A," because "A" is the first letter of the alphabet. This is not an easy puzzle, but with perseverance you can work it out—and the prizes are worth trying for.

Copy your answer upon a plain white sheet of paper as neatly as you can, because neatness, spelling, handwriting and punctuation count if more than one answer is correct. Put your name and address in the top right-hand corner of the paper. If you have to write a letter, or show anything else, put it upon a separate sheet of paper. We will write as soon as your answer is received and tell you if your solution is correct, and also send you a complete illustrated list of the grand prizes that you can win.

THE PRIZES:

"Irish Flag" Removed From DeValera's Car At Veterans' Request

NO INFORMATION YET AS TO WHEN G. T. R. AGREEMENT READY

Will Have To Be Submitted To Cabinet Before Going To Shareholders.

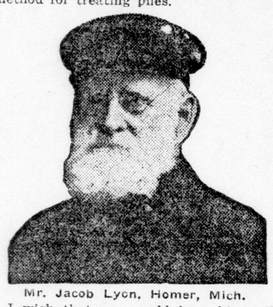

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—With a large number of cabinet ministers absent from the capital, there is a lull in Government circles which will probably prevail until about the middle of next week. The return of Sir George Foster, acting premier, from the West may result in renewed activity and some important business may be taken up by the cabinet. It is expected that Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, will reach Ottawa tomorrow or Sunday.

There is no further information as to when the agreement between the Government and the G. T. R., which is now being prepared, will be ready for submission to the shareholders. Hon. Arthur Meighen, who piloted the G. T. R. bill through the Commons, is out of town, but will probably be back early next week. The long experience of Sir Henry Drayton in railway matters will prove invaluable in the drafting of the agreement, which will have to be submitted to the cabinet before being presented to Sir Alfred Smithers, who will take it to England. The appointment of a commission of ministers to investigate the tariff will probably be dealt with by the ministers of finance shortly after his return.

Yours truly,

HEALTH OFFICIALS WARN THE PUBLIC

In view of Existence of 'Flu They Advise Prompt Treatment of Every Case of Cold.

When the 'flu epidemic swept the country last year it was generally agreed by medical men that there would be a recurrence of the attack this winter. So far it has not swept with the violence of last year, but there is hardly any large community in which it is not present to some degree.

In view of the ever present danger of the disease breaking out health authorities are everywhere advising the public to observe extraordinary precautions. One of their first advices is to treat all cases of colds as dangerous, the conditions in such cases being similar to those in the first stages of 'flu.

For the treatment of colds there is no preparation equal to Grip Fix, which may be secured at any drug store. It is not a patent medicine but a treatment which would be approved by your family physician. The drugs it contains are stated on every box and cover just the drugs needed in such cases. Grip Fix is not a new preparation as it has been in use for many years doing wonderful work during last year's 'flu epidemic. It comes in convenient capsule form and when buying it be sure to get Reid's Grip Fix as there is nothing "just as good." It is for 35 cents per box, and is worth its price over and over when a cold appears. On sale at all druggists.

VICTORY LOAN IS TWO-THIRDS OVER ITS GOAL

All Workers Will Put Forth Special Effort On the Final Day.

STILL INCOMPLETE

Total of $478,795,800 Represents Only a Partial Return.

TORONTO, Nov. 14.—Canada today rolled up a total of $37,739,250 for the Victory Loan, making the grand total to date $478,795,800. A great spurt will be put forward all over the Dominion tomorrow, for it is often the last burst of speed that wins a race, and the canvassers all over are putting the finish on their campaign.

The totals as announced at midnight tonight by W. S. Hodgens do not cover all the provinces to date, only Ontario having turned in figures to Friday night. Quebec and Montreal are reported to Thursday night, and the remaining provinces give returns to Wednesday night. By provinces the results are as follows:

Ontario, (including Toronto)	$272,547,950
British Columbia	22,090,550

In the province, excluding Toronto, 347 honor banners have been won to date by employes of industrial institutions. This compares favorably with the number of banners captured at corresponding date last campaign, when 173 were awarded. In addition to the banners, over 800 crests have been given out up to a late hour tonight.

The units that entered the millionaire class tonight are: Prince Edward County, $1,011,000; East York, $1,010,300, and Carlton, $1,006,050.

The new units that attained their combined objectives tonight were Renfrew, East Middlesex, West Middlesex, Nipissing, Prince Edward County, Halton, South Essex, Elgin, Lennox and Addington.

Women Did Wonders.

Toronto's total is $4,716,050 for today, making a grand total of $105,909,350 for the Victory Loan campaign. The women have done wondrous things in the few days they have been at it, and the day's total of $507,050 from 3,821 applications brings the women's total to date to $1,937,050 from 14,860 subscribers.

The various educational institutions in Toronto have responded generously to the loan, but none more so than St. Andrew's College, which is credited with having taken out bonds to the value of $70,000. The University of Toronto School has also made a wonderful showing, winning an honor flag and a crest. One of the pupils subscribed to the extent of $1,500. U. T. S. purchased to date $20,000. Varsity students and staffs are expected to reach the $75,000 mark before the campaign is completed.

Honor flags were won today by Imperial Varnish & Oil Company, whose seventy employes bought bonds totalling $10,000, and the Counter Costume Company is entitled to eight crests, ninety per cent of the personnel subscribing for $13,400, representing 28 per cent of the payroll.

Add this to potato mixture and make into croquettes. Beat the second egg, adding a little cold water. Roll the croquettes in bread crumbs, dip into the beaten egg, and then in bread crumbs again. Fry in deep hot fat and drain.

WITH CEREALS.

Leftover cream of wheat, wheatena, oatmeal, cornmeal or other cereal is excellent if mixed with half the quantity of Sweetheart Peanut Butter, turned into bread pan, allowed to cool, then sliced and dipped in egg and cracker crumbs and fried in hot fat. Serve with maple syrup.

½ cup SWEETHEART Peanut Butter.
4 tablespoons sour milk.

Cream together the butter and peanut butter, add sugar, beaten egg, milk and raisins, rolled oats, lastly, the flour sifted with salt, baking powder and soda. Mix well and drop by spoonfuls on a well-greased pan about 3 inches part. Bake in moderate oven until brown.

This recipe makes a bread as delicious as any of the expensive breads, but at less cost and with considerably less work, as it eliminates the time required to prepare the nuts.

Beat until fluffy, turn into a glass dish or individual dishes. Serve cold with stiffly whipped cream, sweetened and flavored with a few drops of vanilla.

PIE.

Put on top of the pie and brown in a warm oven.

CHEER THE EX-KAISER

Demonstration Said To Be Breach of Martial Law Conditions.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Pan-German students today refused to permit Field Marshal von Hindenburg to enter the Reichstag building to testify before the sub-committee which is investigating war responsibilities, and forced the field marshal's chauffeur to return with the former commander-in-chief of the German forces to his home.

The demonstration occurred this morning as the field marshal's automobile was being driven toward the Reichstag building, the students surrounding it and declaring their unwillingness to allowed him to be questioned by the subcommittee.

Von Hindenburg begged the students, who clung to the running board of the machine, to allow his automobile to pass as he was due at the Reichstag. The students, however, replied by ordering the street closed, declaring that they were unwilling to allow the subcommittee to interrogate him. Again von Hindenburg protested, but he was unable to quell the demonstration.

Nationalist Affair.

It was a nationalist demonstration for both von Hindenburg and Gen. Ludendorff, and for a time it assumed serious proportions. The crowd which gathered consisted mostly of students of both sexes, who carried with them an old German flag.

When Hindenburg's automobile was waylaid the crowd cheered both von Hindenburg and Ludendorff, and shouted: "Down with the Jewish Government." After von Hindenburg's requests that he be allowed to proceed were denied, but, nevertheless the automobile slowly began to pierce its way through the crowd toward the Reichstag, thousands of persons followed it, singing 'Die Wacht Am Rhein" and "Deutschland Uber Alles."

There also were shouts of "Brothers, we will not allow such a disgrace." "For us there is only one kaiser and empire," and "We will not endure that our glorious kaiser be besmirched."

Hoch der Kaiser.

Along the route was a statue of the former emperor, the name on which was hidden under a canvass. The students tore off the canvas with cries of "Hoch" for the one-time ruler and the empire.

As the Reichstag building was reached a student again sprang on the running board of Von Hindenburg's machine and delivered an impassioned speech dealing with Von Hindenburg's services to the fatherland and demanding of the mob that it should do its utmost to prevent Von Hindenburg appearing before the "stupid youths" of the sub-committee.

Finally Von Hindenburg, seeing the futility of endeavoring to calm the mob, permitted the chauffeur to drive homeward. First, however, he thanked the crowd for the respect to him implied by the demonstration.

In official quarters today it was announced that the students had violated the conditions imposed by martial law and that troops would be ordered to suppress any similar demonstrations.

REORGANIZATION OF ADMINISTRATION IN LONDON EXPECTED

Sir George Perley May Be Succeeded by Sir George Foster.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—An early reorganization of the Canadian administration in London may be expected. Sir George Perley, Canadian high commissioner, has never looked upon the position as a permanency, and is anxious to come home so that he can devote his attention to his own somewhat extensive business interests. He is said to be merely awaiting the appointment of a successor.

Lloyd Harris, chairman of the overseas section of the Canadian Trade Commission, has returned to the Dominion. It is stated fairly authoritatively that Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, will succeed Sir George Perley as Canadian high commissioner. Sir George is now in the West cleaning up some private business and on his return it is expected he will prepare to depart at an early date.

Sir George has been mentioned for several positions. It has been stated that he might be appointed chief librarian of Parliament and would in his spare moments, in the quiet of the library on the hill, write his reminiscences of his long parliamentary career. It has been further suggested that he might succeed Sir John Hendrie as lieutenant-governor of Ontario, but the best guess appears to be that he will go overseas. Sir George is already a familiar figure in London and has a wide knowledge of the ins and outs of Canadian diplomatic life.

Sifton Mentioned.

Sir Clifford Sifton, it is stated, has been prominently mentioned for the position of high commissioner, and it is said could have had it long ago, but declined. It is an open question whether the overseas trade commission will be continued, inasmuch as it was essentially a war organization. The trade and commerce department is due for a shaking up. Under a new head and in conjunction with the finance department, which arranges for the credits, it will likely carry on the work recently in the hands of the trade commission. Hon. Dr. Tolmie, minister of agriculture, is anxious that a permanent representative of agriculture be installed in London.

Prince Pays Tribute to American Navy in Annapolis Speech

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 14.—Tribute to the spirit and achievements of the American navy was paid today by the Prince of Wales in an address to 2,000 midshipmen in the memorial hall at the naval academy. The prince, who arrived here this morning from Washington, wore the uniform of a British naval captain. "I have had four years' training in the British navy," he said, "and feel that I can speak to you as a comrade. I would like particularly to express my appreciation for the splendid success which the American navy obtained in the war both in the North Sea and elsewhere.

"There was the most perfect cooperation and co-ordination between the American and British naval forces, and it was my privilege to learn to know and appreciate the magnificent spirit among your seamen. I am more than glad to have been able to come here and meet you face to face."

Prince Edward was accompanied here by Secretary Daniels, and was welcomed by Governor Harrington of Maryland and Admiral Scales, commandant of the academy. As he entered the naval grounds a salute of 21 guns was fired. After reviewing the midshipmen and inspecting the guard of honor the prince was entertained at luncheon by Admiral Scale. He returned to Washington this afternoon.

NO NEGOTIATIONS BY ALLIES WHICH MIGHT ASSIST BOLSHEVISM

Governments Fighting Reds Have Supplies For Several Months.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—The allied policy concerning Russia remains unchanged, it was semi-officially stated here today, following the return of Stephen Pichon, the foreign minister, from London. It was said that the Russian Governments which were leading the fight against the Bolshevists were sufficiently supplied with money, ammunition and food for several months. Neither France nor Great Britain, it was declared, would make any further sacrifices but, on the other hand, neither of them would open negotiations of any nature tending to strengthen Bolshevism.

The question of Turkey was discussed by M. Pichon, Premier Lloyd George, Secretary of War Churchill and Alfred J. Balfour during the French foreign minister's visit to London. It is understood that Great Britain and France decided to act in common in the deliverance from Turkish domination of countries not Turkish and the protection of nationalities scattered through the former Turkish Empire.

The Road—As It Is and As It Seems In Overland 4 on Three-Point Suspension Springs

UNTIL the advent of Overland 4 bad roads rode just as they looked.

Until the introduction of the Overland 4 Springbase, a road full of bumps meant jolts for the passengers and vibration that racked the car and reduced its life.

Overland 4 does not change the road, but it does change the manner in which you can ride on it. It gives you comfort instead of dis-comfort. It gives you a smooth, sailing sensation instead of bouncing and swaying.

This comfort achievement, the greatest since the introduction of pneumatic tires, is made possible by the wonderful cushioning ability of Three-Point Suspension Springs—exclusive with Overland.

The Diagonal attachment of the Three-Point Suspension Springs at the ends of a 130-inch frame gives the road steadiness achieved by a car of long wheelbase.

Yet Overland 4 retains all the advantages—lightness, economy, and ease of handling, of 100-inch wheelbase.

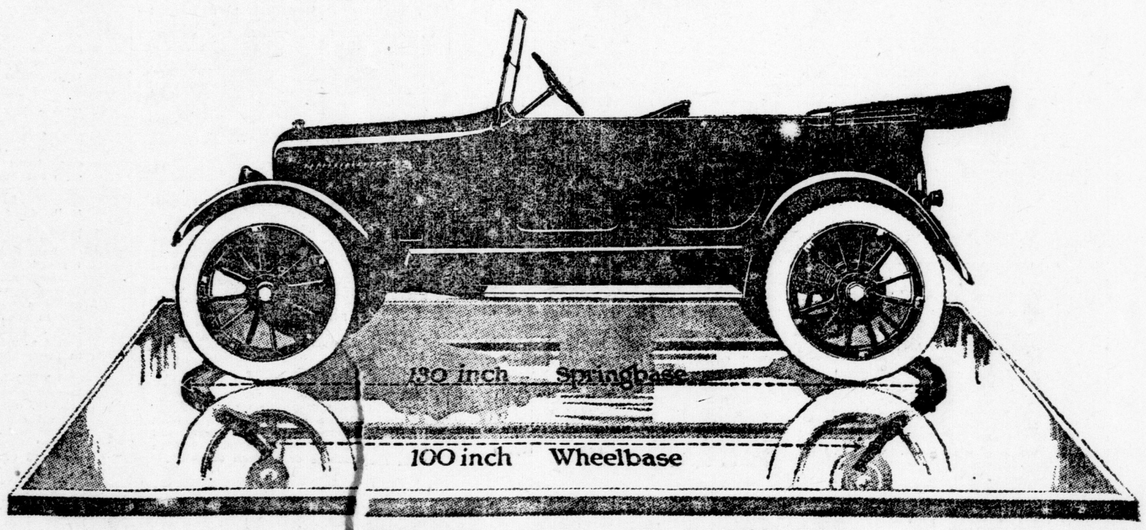

Rough roads present no difficulties for Overland 4. Cushioned by its new system of suspension, which has been tested over 250,000 miles, it swings with buoyancy over good roads and bad. Shock, sway and rebound are absorbed.

Besides an altogether new standard of riding comfort this means a noteworthy reduction in the wear and tear which lessen the efficiency of the car. It gives longer life to every part and thus minimizes upkeep and replacement costs.

Tires wear longer because cushioned against hammering blows. Light weight means marked economy in gas, oil and running expense.

Overland 4's equipment is no less admirable than its construction. The list is complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting to Demountable Rims.

Come in and see this remarkable car. Ask for Booklet. Overland 4 Touring, $1195; Roadster, $1195; Coupe, $1845; Sedan, $1995. Prices f. o. b. Toronto, War Tax included.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Do You Always Take Good Care of Your Digestion?

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG,
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University).

DR. HIRSHBERG

High prices do not seem to deter many of you from living well, so well, in fact, that you may injure your stomach, liver, kidneys and heart.

Are your muscles, salivary and gastric glands, liver, intestines, spleen and kidneys as much rested and repaired as they should be? Do the enzymes — ferments—of the saliva digest starches into sugars as well as when you worked harder and ate less?

If one meal a day is made of a bowl of milk and wheat shreds these enzymes may do what most men and women past 20 try to impose upon them in the way of food.

The final steps in digestion take place in the small intestine through the actions of the enzymes. If any of the digestive formations is deficient in quantity or power a link in the chain of digestion is impaired and the whole digestion suffers. The defection of a single ferment is bound to exert a most serious effect on the whole alimentary canal.

There is a close analogy between the routine of the working person and that of the tissues. The person who works has his period of rest, is aroused to activity, partakes of nourishment, goes forth to his day's work, repeats his nourishment after certain intervals and returns to his rest again.

The tissues have their intervals of rest, activity and repair also.

There are at least four ways to arouse digestion by the senses of smell, taste, sight, muscles and touch, by the chemistry of the food itself, by irritants and by production of the enzymes of digestion.

Things to Avoid.

Digestion, therefore, may be interfered with by colds, fevers, infections, accidents, fatigue, emotions, foods, diseases, exercise and various other conditions immediately or not at all directly connected with digestion.

The diet may be badly balanced with the preponderance of one class of foods—the carbohydrates—for prolonged periods. The enzymes, which digest carbohydrates, would then be required in such quantities and for so long a time that the cells providing these ferments would be overworked. Sooner or later such prolonged work leads to bad conditions, and the fabrics become deficient. On the other hand, the cells producing the other ferments, through failure to have a sufficient amount of work to do, will also become weakened, mal-nourished and lacking in vigor.

Through worry and mental strain the emotional system may become deranged, as a result of which the impressions that play such a prominent part in awakening the gland cells to activity are not transmitted to it.

Finally, there is the question of the effect of faulty nutrition on the digestive processes. The digestive glands become impoverished and unable to provide their respective substances either in requisite amounts or of adequate functional power. There is a progressive decrease of the granular matter from which the enzymes and hormones are made, and a state of deficiency and inactivity develops as a logical result.

The Rational Treatment.

More or less prolonged inactivity soon leads to atrophy and the development of destructive processes, which, of course, still further incapacitate the digestive scheme.

Treatment of digestive derangements must follow certain rational lines. Ordinary drugs can at most have only temporary effect, and this effect is bound to be artificial and uncertain.

The rational method is to aid digestion until that process can once again be restored to a normal condition. This is done by an analysis of the stomach, intestine and other parts of the digestive apparatus. Measures are then taken to correct the aroused structures, and, if need be, to substitute the deficient enzyme.

Answers To Health Queries.

I. S.: Q.—How can I prepare the alkaline antiseptic solution for irrigating the nose and throat?

A.—Purchase a bottle of alkaline antiseptic solution and dilute it three times with water.

B. R. A.: Q.—Please give me something for superfluous hair.

A.—Remember that there are few, if any, methods to kill the roots. Most expedients are, like cleaning the teeth or washing the face, to be frequently repeated. About twice a week, or when needed, try a little of the following:

Zinc oxide .....1 part
Starch .....1 part

When you are ready to use this, make a paste with water and apply to the parts. Let it remain on the skin for about five minutes and then wipe off gently with a soft cloth.

A READER: Q.—What can I do for cold hands?

A.—Cold hands may be due to overexertion, or they may be a perfectly normal condition. Have a complete examination made of the heart, lungs and other structures.

A. E. R.: Q.—What can I do for perspiring feet?

A.—Bathe the feet in formalin—one-half teaspoonful to a pint of water. bathe them each night in warm water; wear non-leather shoes and thin hose. Change the latter every morning.

MRS. N. C.: Q.—How can I reduce my abdomen?

A.—You must practice bending forward until the palms of the hands touch the floor. One of the best ways to avoid growing stout is to lie upon the back and raise the body slowly to a sitting position.

ELSIE H.: Q.—What can I do for stammering?

A.—Have some young school teacher take up the matter and start a school for stammering. The words you cannot speak should be practiced over and over until you can speak them clearly, as one would practice one's music lessons.

ANXIOUS: Q.—What shall I do for a red spot on my face which is very scaly?

A.—Wash off the scabs and crusts with castile soap and water. Also have a thorough examination made to find the exact cause.

J. S. M.: Q.—I cannot very well breathe through my nose. What can I do?

A.—You should have a thorough examination made by a nose and throat surgeon.

W. R.: Q.—Kindly advise me what to do for a stiff neck.

H. H.: Q.—Is coffee nourishing?
A.—It is not.

A READER Q.—What can I do for bronchial asthma?

A.—Bronchical asthma is often due to over-susceptibility to some kind of grass, flower or seed, something inhaled from stable odors, blood, respiration or stomach The treatment depends upon the causes, although a visit to places away from the neighborhood where your attacks occur helps some mightily Cauterization of the mucous membrane of the nose has given great relief.

MOUR Q.—what can I do for catarrh?

A.—Never be satisfied with the word "catarrh"—it is no diagnosis. It is expressed in a great many cases to cover the lack of diligence in searching for the real cause of the trouble. Often examination of the nose and throat by a nose and throat surgeon will reveal deflected bones, tumorous growths, adenoids, infected tonsils and other things which a light operation will correct.

UGLYI Q.—What can I do for short eyebrows and lashes?

A.—The hair roots must be there. A little cocoa butter, electricity, a half a dram tincture of capsicum vaseline or ammonia liniment massaged into them may help the growth.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is very easily prepared, and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth); then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, this mixture saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for 2½ ounces of "Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND

ADELE GARRISON'S NEW PHASE OF

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

What Dicky Suggested After Major Grantland Helped To Revive Madge.

I wondered idly with what faculty I had left to wonder, why Hugh Grantland and not my husband had been first to notice my illness.

I had not realized in the first excitement of the accident that I had been subjected to an unusual shock. Then, too, before Dicky's protecting arms could shield me the steering wheel had struck my side violently. I had not noticed it at first, but as I sat by the roadside watching the two men at work upon the cars I began to feel more and more pain and by the time Maj. Grantland looked up at me I was woefully faint and ill.

At the officer's words Dicky looked sharply at me, then both men hurried toward me.

"What is it, sweetheart?"

"I fear you are ill, Mrs. Graham."

Dicky's Plan.

Outwardly, one was the anxious query of a husband, the other the conventional courtesy of an acquaintance. Yet through my pain and faintness I recognized the same drawn, tense note in both queries, and realized that one man was no less worried than the other.

I rallied myself with an effort. I have a horror of the helpless-clinging-vine type of woman, who faints at every accident, and I tried to make my voice strong and casual.

"I am absolutely all right," I said.

With the cheerful accustomed acceptance of husbands, Dicky's face cleared.

"Are you sure?" he asked perfunctorily, then he added enthusiastically, "I have it! Grantland, I wonder if it would trouble you too much to take Mrs. Graham along with you. You can leave her at the little inn in the next town, and then I can go there after her. She can perhaps find a place to lie down."

Major Grantland hesitated for only the fraction of a second. But I knew that for some reason he did not wish to grant Dicky's request. Then his face set into the grim lines I knew so well, and he bowed to me with the dunny, little, awkward manner which had made me sure when I first met him that he was unused to the society of women.

"I am only too happy to be of service to Mr. Graham. But if I am to assume charge I must insist upon her taking a bit of first-aid treatment of mine. She has had a greater shock than—we realize."

His hesitation before the pronoun pointed his meaning so clearly that I wondered if Dicky could fail to catch it. If he had shouted "you realize" he could not have made his meaning clearer.

Sudden Distaste.

But Dicky was either obtuse or preserved a poker face, for he laughed lightly.

"If it's the right kind of 'first aid,' I wouldn't mind being revived myself."

"Unfortunately, I am not provided with that variety," the officer answered, and in another minute or two with swift, deft movements he had produced a small drinking cup, water from a thermos bottle, and a tiny vial from which he carefully poured a few drops of liquid.

Then he crossed to me and bent toward me.

"Drink it quickly," he said to me, and I knew that he had observed the faintness which my husband had failed to see.

I drained it obediently, and lifted my eyes to his searching, anxious ones as I returned the cup. But there was a gleam in them that made me drop mine again.

"Thank you," I murmured, and was furious to find myself as tongue-tied and embarrassed as a schoolgirl.

He made no reply, simply stood waiting until the color came back to my face. I knew it had returned, for I felt my cheeks burning. The pungent revivifier he had given me was certainly a potent one. In a few minutes the terrible faintness I had felt completely disappeared, although the pain in my side remained.

"Whenever you are ready," he said quietly.

"I am ready now," I returned, and he quickly put out his hand to help me up.

I looked around for Dicky and saw him standing by the side of our own car, evidently taking stock of the injury. He wheeled quickly as we approached him.

"Well, old dear, you don't look as if you required any first aid now," he said cheerily. "Wish I had some of that dope, Grantland, to give this car. She certainly needs first aid."

"We'll send a surgeon back," Major Grantland promised, as he assisted me into the front seat of the machine. I wondered why he did not put me in the tonneau. It was certainly not want of thought, for he made the cushioned seat still more comfortable with a folded robe. I saw Dicky's eyebrows go up, and had a sudden distaste and shrinking for the little journey.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Gregorious Kemble

SUNDAY AND MONDAY, NOVEMBER 16-17.

Sunday's astrological chart stresses the importance of spending a quiet day and turning all the forces within—cultivating the things of the spirit, under a Neptune vibration, encouraging and assisting mystical enfoldment as well as psychical investigation. The mental faculties may also aid in this direction, being profound and reliable under a severe Saturn influence.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a serious year. A child born on this day will be slow, serious and steady.

Monday's horoscope points to bright prospects for those in the employment of others or for those seeking favors from persons holding positions of authority. There is every prospect of great activity along all lines, but these may be interpreted as turmoil and excitement of a disagreeable nature, with quarreling and ill-temper, rather than any constructive work or progress. The Mars influence is strong, which menaces other good testimonies through intemperance of speech and action. It also threatens misfortune through accident. Treachery is also imminent under Moon semi-square Neptune.

Those whose birthday it is may expect prosperity if in the employment of others. Others should beware of quarrels, litigation and accidents. A child born on this day may be prone to be hasty, rash and bad tempered.

"Tinker Bob" Stories

by Carlysle H. Holcomb

AN OLD FRIEND.

When Chief Porky heard that a fellow by the name of Ground Hog was waiting at the king's palace for him, he could not remember ever having seen him. As his arrival was announced, Tinker Bob came to greet him.

"Chief Porky," said he, "there is a stranger in our midst and he desires to stay."

"What kind of a looking fellow is he?" asked the Chief.

"Oh," said the king, "he is a young fellow, about your size, with a beautiful greyish-brown coat of fur and a shaggy tail. He has short legs and digs rapidly in the earth."

"Strange, indeed that I cannot remember seeing him some place."

"I'll bring him out so you can see him," said Tinker Bob as he stepped inside where Mr. Ground Hog was resting quietly. "I say Mr. Ground Hog! The Chief is here and wants to see you. Will you come out?"

"I will be glad to see your forest Chief," replied the ground hog as he slowly drew himself together and started out.

"Here's Mr. Ground Hog, Chief Porcupine," said Tinker Bob. They came together and toucned noses, then each backed away.

"It seems to me I have seen this fellow somewhere before," said the Chief, eyeing the stranger cautiously.

"And it seems to me O King that I have seen this fellow before," returned Mr. Ground Hog.

"Where do you live?" asked Chief Porky.

"I live out in the meadow beneath the lone walnut tree."

"I'll bet I know you," concluded the Chief. "When I was very young there was a great fire in the forest and my mother took me on a long journey away from the forest. It was a strange land where we were, and I can remember only one tree anywhere around. I'll bet it was your house. My mother came to the tree and saw a large hole leading far beneath it; she started in and someone came to the door and asked who she was. I remember when my mother told how she had been driven out of her home in the forest with her child by a great fire this creature's eyes filled with tears and we were invited in. There, in a large room beneath the tree, was this creature's own baby, and I'll bet that baby was you!"

"You are quite right, Chief Porky," said Mr. Ground Hog. "And my mother dug a large room by the side of ours where you and your mother stayed until the fire was over, so you could return."

"Isn't that fine that we can meet again after so long a time? Now, Mr. Ground Hog, you just come home with me and we will talk over those days. And I must tell you all about the king of the forest."

Our Master Instrument— The Organola

THE test of the control Pipes of the Organola is a Band Record or a Quartette.

The ordinary talking machine will reproduce a record of band instruments or quartette as one co-ordinated sound and in doing so loses the beauty and character of the individual instruments or voices. The tone control pipes of the Organola are so tuned that each individual sound—instrumental or voice—is distinctly reproduced because the pipes embrace every note in the scale and vibrate in sympathy as their notes are given forth by the record which happens to be playing.

Mothers' Advice

The responsibility for a daughter's future largely rests with the mother. The right influence and the information which is of vital interest to the daughter imparted at the proper time has not only saved the life but insured the success of many a beautiful girl. When a girl's thoughts become sluggish with headaches, dizziness, or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs and a desire for solitude, her mother should come to her aid and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, will at this time prepare the system for the coming change and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities. Thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtues of this medicine, and what it has done for their daughters.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For 3 months she was under the doctor's care and got no better, always complaining about her back and side aching so I did not know what to do. I read in the papers about your wonderful medicine so I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and doesn't complain any more with her back and side aching. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. Fincas, 516 Marcy Avenue, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Drury In Favor of Women on School Boards

Should Have Freedom in Exercising the Duties of Citizenship.

TORONTO, Nov. 14.—Premier F. C. Drury and Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture, called at the convention of the Women's Institutes of Ontario at the final session this afternoon, and delighted the ladies by their sympathetic attitude towards the Institutes.

Mr. Drury expressed his approval of women on school boards, and stood as an advocate for women having the greatest possible freedom in the exercise of the duties of citizenship. Mr. Doherty made a happy interlude in the progress of a moving picture film, entitled "The End of the Road," which told the sad truth about social evils resulting in disease and death.

The presentation of the film was preceded by a short address on the question of venerial disease by Dr. Gordon Bates.

At the conclusion Dr. Margaret Patterson explained to the deeply impressed audience that an effort would be made to have the pictures shown in every community so that the whole country might learn its lesson.

COMMITTEE REJECTS LABOR PROPOSAL FOR MAXIMUM WORK DAY

Decides in Favor of 48-Hour Week Convention.

MAY BE A COMPROMISE

The 48-Hour Week With a Maximum 9-Hour Day Is Proposed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—A special committee of the international labor conference has decided in favor of an international convention for a general 48-hour week. Decision was reached by a majority vote, labor delegates constituting the minority. The labor men are now endeavoring to have the question reopened in committee, so that they may make further suggestions. Throughout the sittings of the committee they have stood for a maximum 8-hour day, but have not so far succeeded in their efforts.

Minister of Labor Robertson of Canada has, however, it is understood, a compromise proposal for consideration. Under this proposal, the convention would still be on a 48-hour week basis, but working hours on any individual day would be limited to nine.

Whether the committee will so far agree as to be able to present a unanimous report is not yet evident. The committee is to meet again on Monday, and the labor request for a reopening discussion on the 48-hour week will be considered, but it is now regarded as practically a foregone conclusion that a convention on the basis of a 48-hour week would receive the necessary two-thirds vote of the conference.

First of Its Kind.

On all hands there is agreement that the adoption of an international convention limiting hours of labor will bring about a change in industrial relationship, the scope of which it is impossible to foresee. As a convention it will be the first of its kind. It will bring millions of workers within its provisions and will be enforceable on all states which ratify it.

The Canadian position, as has been emphasized before, is rendered difficult by reason of proximity to the United States, which, from present indications, will not be a signatory to the convention. Proposals have been submitted by the employers' group that any convention adopted by the conference shall not become enforceable until accepted by the United States among other countries. These proposals would, to a certain extent, remove the objection raised by Canadian employers to a convention to which the United States was not a signatory.

"If the proposals are incorporated," S. R. Parsons, Canadian employers' delegate, was asked tonight, "would Canadian employers withdraw their objection to the convention?"

His Own Views.

Mr. Parsons replied that he could not speak on the question for the Canadian employers as a whole, but he summed up his personal attitude in these words: "If we are ready to cast to the winds our propaganda carried on in various directions to lower the cost of living by increasing production; if we are ready to turn over to our Governments economic questions, which may receive political, rather than economic answers, owing to certain influences working in one way or another, and if the United States accepts the proposed convention for a 48-hour week, the Canadian employers, in my opinion, can have no valid objections to uniform conditions."

ATTORNEY-GENERAL SAYS HE WILL BE QUITE IMPARTIAL

No Special Favors To Lawyers of Either of Old Parties.

TORONTO, Nov. 14.—Premier Drury this afternoon said that at the first meeting of the cabinet council today the members of the Government were simply getting information regarding the various departments. "I have six hundred letters to answer before I can do much work," the premier said. "I am going home tomorrow night, but when I come back on Monday I will get down to the work of the Government."

The other ministers will also spend the week-end at their homes.

Attorney-General Raney said today that no stipulation was made when he was asked to accept the position that he would be expected to prosecute combines and draft legislation to reduce the cost of living. "Of course, it was understood that I accepted the platform of the United Farmers as it has been announced so often," he added. He said, too, that he would seek to administer the act respecting combines as it stood.

No Favors.

Mr. Raney declined to express his personal views as to what would be done with reference to race track betting. In the administration of justice in this province there would not be either Jew or Gentile in the legal profession, said Mr. Raney, when asked if it were possible, as suggested, that eminent Liberal counsel would be engaged to prosecute combines. "I will not show favor to either Liberal or Conservative lawyers. That has not always been the case with past governments in this province."

Discussing the duties of his office Mr. Raney said the attorney-general would not wait for someone to move, as, for example, in a case of murder, but if, on the other hand, somebody carried off some article and the loser knew who had stolen it, the loser would be expected to act.

Lieut.-Col. D. Carmichael, D.S.O., minister without portfolio in the new Government, will be appointed to the vacancy on the province hydro-electric commission made vacant by the death of W. K. McNaught. Hon. I. B. Lucas, former attorney-general, is at present a member of the commission. He was defeated in the recent election in Centre Grey by Col. Carmichael.

ALL SOUTH OXFORD DISTRICTS PASS GOAL

INGERSOLL, Nov. 14.—Victory Loan figures throughout South Oxford mounted up rapidly today, and the announcement was made this evening at headquarters here that all the districts had reached their objectives. South Norwich finished nobly this afternoon, and canvassers are busily engaged planning "surprise" results for the closing day. The total raised in South Oxford to date is $2,076,000, but it is hoped to reach the two and one-half-million mark. The original objective was $1,450,000.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Paul's Church have had a most successful financial year, and are investing their surplus in Victory Bonds. The amount raised during the year from all sources was over $800, and it has been decided to invest $1,000 in Victory Bonds. A year ago the aid purchased bonds to the value of $1,500.

NEWFOUNDLAND AND CANADA TO ACCEPT PRIVY C'CL RULING

To Submit Disputes As To Boundaries of Labrador Peninsula.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—The long-standing dispute between Canada and Newfoundland as to the boundaries of the peninsula of Labrador, which is part of Newfoundland, bids fair to be settled at a comparatively early date. For years the two dominions have been disputing, not only as to the boundaries of this desolate land, but as to the method by which the dispute should be settled. It was only, however, after the extension of the boundaries of the province of Quebec some years ago that the controversy became really acute.

That province claims jurisdiction over a much larger section to the north of the peninsula than Newfoundland is willing to concede. Newfoundland claims country at the headwaters of rivers which find their outlet on the Labrador coast. Since the Quebec Government secured jurisdiction over the extended territory to the north there have been numerous clashes between the two Governments in the matter of grants of timber limits and mineral rights. In spite of the fact that the country is generally recognized to be desolate in character, it is stated that it is rich in timber, minerals, fish and fur.

Canada and Newfoundland have now decided to submit the dispute to the judicial committee of the privy council in England. They have also decided upon the form of the reference which is as follows: "What is the location and definition of the boundary as between Canada and Newfoundland in the Labrador Peninsula under statutes, orders-in-council and proclamations."

Newfoundland formerly opposed having proclamations submitted. It is stated that certain of them favor the Canadian contention. Correspondence is now passing between the two Governments as to the method of procedure in the hearings.

DIFFERENCES BETWEEN RLY. ADMINISTRATION AND MEN DISAPPEARING

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.—Conferences representing the railroad administration and heads of the four great railroad brotherhoods, on the latter's demands for revision of employees' working conditions, appealed confident tonight that they would complete their work tomorrow. Today's session, the fifth, was said to have developed no difficulties of importance further than the question of time and a half for overtime of trainmen in road service, which still remains unsettled.

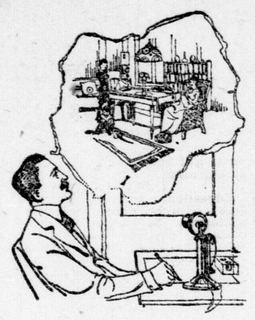

Minor differences, railroad administration officials said, have been practically disposed of, and tentative conclusions have been reached on most of the more important issues.

MISAPPROPRIATION OF $31,000 IS CHARGED

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 14.—S. W. S. Evans, cashier for Evans, Coleman & Evans, general shipping merchants, and S. M. Strachan, manager for Johnson & Reeve, brokers, are under arrest, charged with misappropriation of funds aggregating $31,000 from the firm of Evans, Coleman & Evans.

HEALTH FOR THE BABY

The baby of today is the man or woman of tomorrow. Thus the success of the future man or woman depends upon the baby's present welfare. If the baby is sickly and ill nourished it is not to be expected that he will grow into a strong, active man who will hold his own in the business world a few years hence. Mothers, it is a duty you owe the future to keep your little ones well now. This can be easily done if Baby's Own Tablets are kept in the house. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus make baby healthy and strong. Concerning them, Mrs. W. Orser, Elginburg, Ont., writes: "I have a fine healthy boy three years and have used Baby's Own Tablets for him ever since he was a small baby. I certainly think them a splendid medicine." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

FRANKLIN CAR Reliability and Air Cooling Superiority Again Demonstrated by a 98.2 Mile Non-Stop Low Gear Run Ending at Top of Famous Mt. Washington

ON August 17th, a Franklin stock model touring car ran all the way from Portland, Maine, to the top of Mt. Washington in New Hampshire on low gear without a stop. This remarkable feat is the latest public proof of the superiority of Franklin Direct Air Cooling (no water to boil or freeze).

Direct Air Cooling, eliminating Radiator, Water, and 176 other Delicate Parts, means less Weight, less Trouble, greater Simplicity, and better Results, as this test shows.

This car, just such a one as thousands of Franklin owners are driving all over the country, carried three official observers besides its driver and averaged 11.1 miles per hour—on low gear.

The Franklin had already run ninety miles on low gear without a stop before reaching the base of Mt. Washington—in itself a test never duplicated by other cars.

Then, without halt, came the real test the Franklin had set out to perform—a climb to the top of Mt. Washington, an elevation of 6290 feet.

Rain soaked, slippery roads; no chains; no stops permitted—these were the added difficulties to a performance generally considered impossible even under the best conditions. But the Franklin reached the summit overcame the final obstacle of a 27% grade in perfect running shape and returned to Portland the same day.

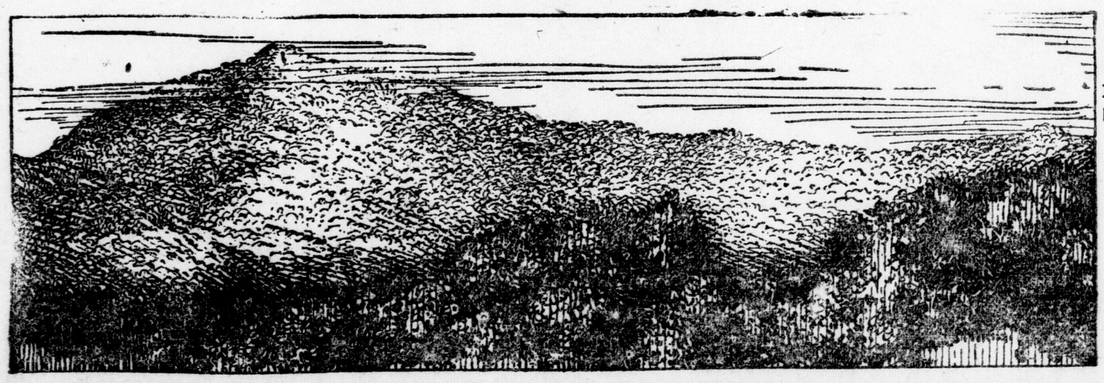

By official observation, the Franklin did not show the slightest trace of wear and tear or overheating, its engine performing with absolute regularity on all grades as well as on level going.

Ability for eighteen years to demonstrate consistently this kind of performance is what has made the Franklin known as the most practical fine car.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

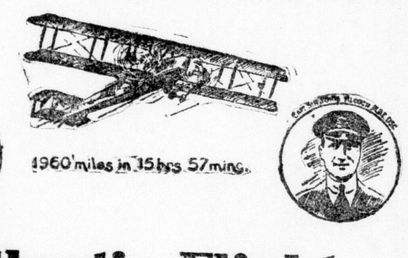

Take a Glass of Salts To Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

Atlantic Flight

Wonderful Example of the Value of OXO

Interesting letter from Captain Sir J. Alcock, K.B.E., D.S.C.

"You will be interested to learn that OXO was a great "help to us during our Trans-Atlantic Flight; it sustained "us wonderfully during our 16 hours' journey.

"We had found out what a good thing it is when flying "in France, and so decided to carry it with us on this "occasion, and we can assure you that hot OXO is most "acceptable under such cold and arduous conditions. "OXO was the only article of its kind which we carried."

J. ALCOCK, Capt., D.S.C.

OXO steadies the nerves—keeps the brain alert—gives extra warmth to resist cold and exposure—extra strength to fortify against fatigue, and yields an abundance of energy out of all proportion to the amount taken.

Prices same as before the war, 10c., 25c., $1.15, $2.25.

U. S. PROHIBITIONIST, HAZED BY STUDENTS, IMMENSELY POPULAR

Gains Respect by Taking Incident As Good Joke.

STUDENTS WON OVER

Now Propose To Ttender Banquet To Their Former Victim.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—William E. ("Pussyfoot") Johnson, the American prohibitionist, whose campaign in England was rudely interrupted Thursday by a band of students, today, as a result of his attitude toward the adventures, is one of the most-talked-of and popular figures of the day. He commanded the biggest headlines in today's newspapers, and the general verdict of the headline writers was that he is "a good sport."

Mr. Johnson could not have desired a better advertisement than Thursday's incident for his campaign against the liquor traffic, and his future public appearances likely will command attention by reason of the fact that he has announced that he considers the hazing he underwent a good joke. The students who marched about with him yesterday upsetting traffic in a good part in the west-end now propose to tender Mr. Johnson a banquet and present to him their tributes of respect.

The opposition to the anti-saloon league organizer in London, it is said, has been based on the feeling that it was impertinent for an American prohibitionist to come across the seas to lecture to the English on what they should do.

LORD CHANCELLOR SAYS INCIDENT REGRETTABLE

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Baron Birkenhead, the lord chancellor, speaking at a peace celebration dinner here tonight, referred to the Johnson incident, and said it was profoundly to be regretted that a citizen of the United States should be subjected to such an outrage.

"Mr. Johnson," he said, "was invited here by an association of English people who share his views. He was as much entitled to express his opinion as the lord chancellor would be in the United States, if invited there by an American association.

"Assailed by overwhelming odds, Mr. Johnson did all a man could do to defend himself and, overwhelmed by numbers which should not be employed against a man of his age, he behaved as a sportsman, a gentleman and a brave citizen of the United States.

"Hereafter," added the lord chancellor, "however unpopular his views may be, Johnson need never fear but that he will obtain a fair hearing here."

Sick Headaches

For Last Ten Years

Headaches affect all ages and both sexes alike, but in all cases the treatment should be directed to remove the cause, for with the cause removed the headaches vanish for all time.

What is necessary for a permanent cure is something that will go right to the seat of the trouble. For this purpose it is impossible to find a better remedy for headaches of all description than Burdock Blood Bitters, acting as it does on every organ of the body to strengthen, purify and regulate the whole system.

Mrs. Flora Hall, Dominion, N. S., writes: "I have been troubled with sick headaches for the last ten years. I had lost faith in all remedies until recently a friend of mine advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. This I did, and found relief in a very short time. I would now recommend B. B. B. to anyone who is suffering as I did. I only took three bottles, and am never troubled with sick headaches any more."

B. B. B. has been on the market for over 40 years. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CONFERENCE ON COAL SITUATION WILL BE LONG

Several Weeks May Elapse Before Agreement Is Reached.

MUST BE COMPROMISE

Both Sides Must Be Prepared To Modify Their Attitude.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.—Demands of the coal miners for a 34-hour week and 60 per cent increase in wages and an unyielding position by the operators alike were declared "impossible" by Secretary Wilson in opening today the conference called to bring peace to the bituminous fields of the nation. To obtain peace the secretary proposed three plans of procedure.

Declaring that the Washington wage agreement still was legally in force, Mr. Wilson today told the operators and miners that the people of the United States were not "Shylocks," and did not want to exact "the technical provisions of a bond when the conditions under which the bond was made have changed." He added that "if any great change is made in the contracts the people of the United States are the ones who will have to pay," and throughout his remarks he emphasized the public interest in the coal settlement. The three proposals expected to aid the two factions in arranging the new wage agreement were set forth by the labor secretary as follows:

The Three Proposals.

First—Negotiation through joint wage scale committees representing all districts;

Second—Negotiation through concurrent sessions of committees from the various districts; and

Third—Negotiations first of an agreement in the central competitive field, and then of agreements for the other fields, with that of the central district as a basis.

After hearing Secretary Wilson, the conference adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow to permit the miners and operators to discuss separately the plan which would be most acceptable to each.

Indications of a conflict on the scope of the agreement to be negotiated involving the question of recognition of non-union workers developed at the outset of the conference and became more apparent in the two group meetings which followed.

Must Have Protection.

Discussion in the miners' caucus which followed the conference session hinged on the question of whether the operators representing both union and non-union fields would be included in the conference, and the effect any agreement reached by the conference might have in those fields, where the miners do not have contracts with the operators. Although officers of the United Mine Workers refused to make any statement following their meeting, it was learned that the plan for a nation-wide conference was favored, but before any proposal is agreed to Secretary Wilson will be asked to make clear to the conference that the rights of organized labor are to be protected in those districts where the mining unions are not recognized by the coal companies.

Were Not Favorable.

The operators, however, did not look with favor on an agreement covering all fields. The Washington wage agreement, for the first time, the operators asserted, fixed the same date for the expiration of contracts between miners and operators in all parts of the country. Fear of the power this arrangement would give the workers to bring about a nation-wide strike was expressed by the operators, who indicated a desire to return to the old plan of basing all wage scale contracts on the agreement reached in the central competitive fields.

Owners of mines outside of the central competitive fields conferred before the opening of the conference, and opposition was expressed to participation in the negotiations.

Owing to the likelihood of protracted discussion on the scope of the conference before even the demands of the miners are brought into issue, many on both sides of the controversy predicted today that the sessions might continue for several weeks.

SITUATION IN INDIANA IS BECOMING ALARMING

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 14.—With miners still out, despite the order of the union officials calling off the strike, the coal supply situation in Indiana is fast becoming alarming and more drastic measures for the conservation of fuel are contemplated by the Indiana public service commission, it was announced tonight by E. I. Lewis, chairman of the commission.

There was no change in the situation in the coal fields of the state today, and it was pointed out that should the men return to work Monday, as predicted by operators, the coal famine would affect many districts before coal from the mines could be moved to them.

WYOMING MINERS WILL RESUME WORK AT ONCE

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 14.—Seven thousand coal miners in Wyoming are to return to work at once, following a satisfactory settlement of the controversy between labor leaders and the operators here late today. The terms of settlement provide the men are to return to work on the wage scale adopted later for use in the central competitive field.

MOVEMENT OF GRAIN VIA VANCOUVER AND THE PANAMA CANAL

Pacific City Harbor Commissioners Expect This Next Year.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 14.—As a result of improvements to Vancouver harbor, expected to be commenced early in the new year, it is thought possible that grain grown on the Canadian prairies from Moose Jaw to the foothills may move westward next year to its foreign markets by way of the port of Vancouver and the Panama Canal, instead of through Winnipeg to the Great Lakes as at present. The project was discussed today by Lieut.-Col. J. H. Kirkpatrick, chairman of the Vancouver harbor commission, and his colleagues, Major A. R. MacKenzie and S. McClay, who will leave Winnipeg for Ottawa this evening to confer with federal authorities as to the expenditure of the five million dollars voted for Vancouver harbor improvements.

Details are still to be arranged, but the members of the party expressed the hope that construction work would be begun in January. A wharf about 1,250 feet long, with 2-story sheds of reinforced concrete equipped with modern loading devices, is included in the plans.

The disturbance occurred when Prof. Benito Mussolini, editor of the Milan Popolo Italia, Signor Marinetti, the Futurist leader, and another speaker tried to address the crowd at a meeting. The Lodi advices state that they were attacked by Socialists. Troops defended the speakers. Revolvers were fired by both sides during the affray.

Moonshiner in Toronto Had a Goodly Supply

2,000 Gallons of Wine, Enough "Mash" For 150 Gallons Whiskey.

TORONTO, Nov. 14.—Over 2,000 gallons of wine were discovered by an inland revenue officer and city police when they raided the establishment of Barnet Jennette. In addition to this, three barrels of "mash," capable of being converted into about 150 gallons of liquor, were discovered.

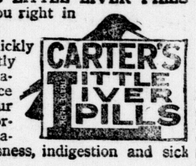

It is said Jennette had an up-to-date plant in full working order. Jennette is charged with a breach of the inland revenue act in connection with the "mash" and apparatus for distilling spirits.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

BY JEANNETTE YOUNG NORTON.

"Everything About the House Helps To Make the Home."

Solving Some of the Curtain Problems.

The question of curtains is one that calls for solution at least twice a year in most households. When fall housecleaning is over, the rugs cleaned or renewed and the floors brightly polished the curtains are "next."

Why is a curtain? This sounds like a riddle, but it isn't. Is the curtain for warmth, concealment from public gaze, utility or just for a decorative bit of color? These points must be considered before going curtain shopping. Also just what may be spent for the materials must be decided before faring forth to do one's efficient best.

In selecting useful portieres for halls, living rooms and draughty windows cotton velours are worth examining. They have, to a certain extent, replaced the old wool velours, and are lighter in weight, drape well, do not fade easily, and come in desirable colors at moderate prices. The material is cross-walled wide or narrow, like a poplin. Two widths will be found. Fringes and cords are to be had to match.

Heavy damask and silk curtains have advanced in price appreciably, and are not made in quite their former varieties. Among the newer curtain fabrics are the alpacas, in white and pastel shades. These curtains hang or drape well, clean or wash if carefully done. They are newer than raw silk or pongee draperies. They are trimmed with dull gold galoons, satin stripes or with black velvet applique pieces. If they are to hang plain they need a thin flannel interlining with a sand or shot strip at the bottom.

Some Lighter Kinds.

Cretonne and chintz are always popular, and the patterns are more fascinating than ever. Care must be taken in selecting patterns, however. Those with large flowers should be chosen for large rooms with high ceilings, and the small patterns for the small rooms with low ceilings. Slip covers for couch, chairs and tables are used in rooms where the paper and rugs are neutral in tint and the furniture white, then the effect is not too "chintzy." Stencilled crash, done in conventionalized patterns in color on the tan are among the newer offerings, and table covers and couch covers come to match the curtains. These sets are moderate in price; curtains hang well and wash if they are done in warm water and white soap, drip dry and are ironed damp.

If thin curtains are liked, madras in white, solid colors or in floral patterns make a good choice. Art linens, plain, heavy nets, and net appliques are next choice. Theatrical gauze is the name of a pale grey scrim which is being used extensively for sash curtains. It launders without thickening, and does not lose its color, and wears well.

Rubberized silk is used for bathroom curtains. It is waterproof, comes in attractive shades, and does not fade or streak with dampness. Many people have the shower sheets made to match the curtains, which lends a pretty color note to a white bathroom.

Crash draperies with wool embroidered borders or patterns are new and smart looking. A set designed for a yellow room is elaborately embroidered with nasturtium flowers and leaves running the gamut of color from pale yellow to deep orange and red. Against white woodwork, yellow paper and tan net under curtains, the effect is striking and pretty.

Conserving Curtains.

There is an art in hanging curtanns, but it requires the aid of a confidence-inspiring ladder, a tape measure, well-placed rods and poles with rings that run and a knack for putting in the pins to bring it into being. The tape measure plays the star part, and if it is not kept in the limelight constantly during the making the final survey may hold many sad surprises for the maker.

Muslin bags to drop the lower part of the curtains in on cleaning days saves the cottons from getting in contact with dust and floor polishing rags, and it is much better than pinning the curtains up where they are often torn or wrinkled out of shape.

Good Night Stories By Clarence Silver

DORIS, HAPPY GIGGLES AND THE BUNNY FAMILY.

One day in the early winter Doris was on her way to see her grandmother, she stubbed her toe on a stone and fell right down in a big pile of snow.

Jumping up quickly she brushed the snow from her dress and tossed the stone back over her shoulders, laughing merrily:

I wish I might, I wish I may,
Grant to me this wish, I pray.

"All right, sir," cried a merry voice, and Doris's little elfin friend, Happy Giggles, from Makebelieve Land hopped up in front of her. "That's the way I like to see folks take an accident," he laughed gayly. "You never do get mad or cross when you stub your toe."

"Well, I should say not!" replied Doris. "Mother says if we can only find the thing we stumbled over and toss it over our left shoulder and repeat those funny words you just heard me saying without getting angry or cross our wish will come true."

"Well! Well!" laughed Happy Giggles. "That's a good thing to know, isn't it? Now, then, down to business—what's the wish?"

"Oh, I wish we might have some kind of an adventure—I don't care what!" exclaimed Doris excitedly.

"That's easy enough—we'll stop in first and see how Mrs. Bunny is getting along. You know one of her children tore his left paw quite badly in a trap the other day."

"In a trap!" exclaimed Doris. "Did it hurt him very much?"

"Just what I'm going to find out," replied Happy Giggles, and he led Doris over to a pile of brush in the corner of the fence.

He rapped quite loudly three times.

Out popped Mama and Daddy Bunny and their three youngest children.

Happy Giggles inquired about the little fellow with the torn paw. Mama Bunny told him he was getting along splendidly, and had gone over to see his cousin on an errand.

While Doris and Happy Giggles were chatting with Mama and Daddy Rabbit, who should turn the bend in the road but Bunny Rabbit leaning on the shoulder of his cousin, one of his paws dangling in front of him.

Mama and Daddy Rabbit rushed out to greet him, and Mama Rabbit began to sob when she saw he had caught and torn his other front paw.

"It was in one of those terrible traps," replied Bunny Rabbit in answer to their hurried questions.

Without a word, Happy Giggles took the injured paw, breathed on it and made it well.

He asked where the trap was, and when Bunny Rabbit took them to the place, Doris threw a great big stone on it and broke it all to pieces.

"It's cruel to set traps!" she cried, throwing the broken trap into the brambles. "And I mean to tell my grandpa so. From now on you'll never have any more trouble."

Then bidding the Bunny family and Happy Giggles good-bye, Dorris hurried on to her grandma's house, and when she told her about the poor bunny she had seen with a torn foot, grandma made grandpa promise right then and there that he'd take up every trap he had in the woods.

Grandpa, who always loved to please grandma, did as she asked him, and from that time on the Bunny family never saw another trap.

Four Unusual Ways To Prepare Delicious Fish Dishes.

From abroad come many ideas for preparing fish in ways that seem peculiar, but which produce delicious results. Many of the foreign people who use fish in abundance—like the Japanese or the Russians or the Chinese—prepare it in combination with some one starch as rice or potatoes or macaroni, and make of it a complete one-piece meal. And this is no doubt the most time-saving way of preparing a well-balanced meal—one cooking, one service and with a minimum of dishes to clean afterward.

Here is a method of preparing fish adapted from the Chinese:

1 cupful of boiled fish
2 cupfuls of boiled rice
1 cupful of thick white sauce
2 tablespoonfuls of butter
1 tablespoonful of soy sauce (or Worcestershire)
Salt, pepper.

Either cod, halibut, salmon or tuna may be used for this dish: Flake the cooked fish, add the rice and other ingredients and mix well. Pour into a greased baking dish, cover with a sprinkling of breadcrumbs and bits of butter, and bake until brown. Soy adds a piquant flavoring to this dish, and this sauce may now be obtained at most of the big groceries.

Fish Mexicaine.

2 cupfuls of boiled fish
3 cupfuls of boiled macaroni
1 large green pepper
1 large onion
2 cupfuls of tomatoes
2 tablespoonfuls of bacon fat
Salt, pepper, dash of tabasco.

Fry the chopped pepper and onion in the hot bacon fat, then add the tomatoes and seasoning and the boiled macaroni. Spaghetti may be used if preferred. Let simmer for about 10 minutes, and finally add the flaked fish. Simmer for five minutes more and serve hot.

Spiced Mackerel.

1 salt mackerel
½ cupful of water
½ cupful of vinegar
¼ teaspoonful of cloves
¾ teaspoonful of allspice
¼ teaspoonful of cinnamon
⅛ teaspoonful of pepper

Soak the mackerel in cold water over night. Drain, and rinse in cold water, then place in an ungreased baking dish. Sprinkle with the mixed seasonings and bake in a moderate oven for about one hour. The fish must be basted frequently.

Oyster Sauce.

(To be served with fish.)

12 small oysters
2 hard-boiled eggs, chopped
½ cupful of oyster juice
1 cupful of milk
2 tablespoonfuls of butter
2 tablespoonfuls of flour
1 teaspoonful of lemon juice.
Salt, pepper.

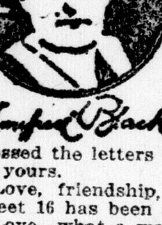

Melt the butter, mix with the flour, and rub to a smooth paste by gradually adding milk and juice in which oysters have been cooked. Keep stirring while boiling for about 10 minutes, then add seasonings and other ingredients.

This sauce may be served with any broiled or baked fish or combination fish dish.

Writes About Four Magical Words

Copyright, 1919, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Love, friendship, indifference, hate.

I found the two names written on a slip of paper the other day—names with the letters crossed—don't you remember when you used to do that?

How anxious you were to see what His name said when you crossed the letters of it with the letters of yours.

Love, friendship, indifference, hate—sweet 16 has been around.

Love—what a word it is! How much it means and how very, very little.

Friendship—ah, there's something for you! Something worth having, as strong as the rock of Gibraltar, as fine as the brain of a fine man, as true as the heart of a true woman!

Friendship—for me—forever!

Two Sad Words.

Indifference—comfortable word, that. Cool and casual and do-as-you-please. No heartaches, no jealousy, no love that turns to hate, no hate that tries to masquerade as love. Indifference is a stupid partner—but is not a cruel nor an exacting one.

Hate—black hate, cowardly hate, envious hate, jealous hate, the hate that comes when it should be remorse! No hate for me or mine, please, oh, guardian of my fate!

Many a marriage that begins in love ends in hate, and many stop at friendship and many leave friendship for indifference. The happiest marriages I know are those that begin with love and end with friendship.

The fine, true, deep-seated, faithful, loving friendship that is the true devotion of many a happy married pair.

Hate—it is a dreadful thing anywhere, but when it enters the home it turns that home into something worse than purgatory.

I know a woman whose husband is in love with another woman. She would not rest until she had wrung the confession from him, and now that he has confessed to her he hates her, and tells her of it, and says he wishes she would die or run away or do anything on earth to get out of his life and leave him free to marry the woman with whom he is infatuated.

What Would You Do?

And do you know what that poor broken-hearted wife is doing? She is staying with her husband, forcing herself upon him, making him take her places, pretending to laugh at him, trying to cover her crucifying agony with a pretence of satirical amusement. I never take up the paper in the morning these days without hoping that I will not read there the story of another tragedy.

What would I do if I were a wife like that?

I would leave that husband. If I had children and were unable to take care of them, I would do what I could to make him provide for me and for my children.

If I were young and strong and intelligent I would pack my things and go away without one word, and when the time came I would set him free, and I would never see him again, not as long as I lived.

I would take care of myself and I would be too busy to grieve. And after a while I would find peace, contentment and even happiness, and I would look back again sometimes and wonder at the insanity which had tempted me to tie the chains of my misery tighter and tighter around my neck by remaining with a man who wanted to get rid of me.

The man? Oh, let the other woman worry about him! He'll give her plenty to do—never fear.

UPWARD MOVEMENT STILL FEATURES THE N. Y. EXCHANGE

Substantial Recoveries Are Made From Severe Setback Earlier in Week.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Stocks made further substantial recoveries today from their severe declines of the midweek, although there were occasional signs that the market had not fully adjusted itself.

The most noteworthy and hopeful features were the activity and strength of rails, accompanied by favorable advices from Washington, and the confident accumulation of other standard issues, as reported by commission houses.

Temporary reversals of relatively minor proportions succeeded the strong opening, these being ascribed mainly to realizing for quick profits. Call money ruled at 14 per cent until the last hour, when successive offerings forced the rate down to 8 per cent.

The conditions of the time money market was the one serious drawback of the session. Virtually no funds were obtainable at the 8 per cent bid, even for renewals, local banks withdrawing almost entirely, while interior banks confined their loans to nominal amounts for the shorter dates.

Transcontinental led the rails with Union Pacific in the foreground at an extreme advance of 5 points. Grangers and coalers were not far behind with cotton carriers, while many secondary transportation were higher by 1 to 4 points.

General Motors steered an irregular course, fluctuating in a 20-point radius and closing at a loss of about 8 points. Related shares, also oils, steels and equipments eased at the end, after having shown irregular gains.

Pools were less active in the many specialties, which featured recent operations, leathers, tobaccos, shippings and food issues being comparatively inconspicuous and little changed. The sales amounted to 1,500,000 shares.

The general bond list strengthened on buying of speculative rails. Liberty issues also improving. Total sales, par value, aggregated $14,650,000.

Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

PRICES SLIGHTLY LOWER IN TRADING IN CHICAGO CORN

Market Very Unsettled, and Declines Follow Early Advance in Corn and Oats.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Enlarged receipts together with prospects of a material further increase of the crop movement had a bearish effect today on the corn market. Prices closed unsettled at 1¼c to 2¼c net lower, with December $1.30¼ to $1.30⅜, and May, $1.24⅞ to $1.25. Oats lost ¼c to ⅜c. The finish in provisions varied from 30c decline to a 10c advance.

Although at first the corn market showed considerable strength, the bulls were soon at a disadvantage, and during the remainder of the session the tendency of values was in general down grade. The temporary upturn at the opening seemed due to advances in New York Stock Market, and to higher quotations on hogs. But there was a lack of aggressive buying and it was not long before a majority of the traders swung around to the opinion that the more liberal arrivals today pointed to a still heavier expansion of supplies in the near future.

Towards the last bearish sentiment became more pronounced, owing more or less to reports that the railroads were furnishing cars with greater freedom than has recently been the rule.

Oats followed corn, advancing early only to weaken later. New England offers to re-sell had a depressing influence.

Provisions were governed chiefly by the action of grain.

Manitoba oats and barley were both stronger today, cash oats quoting 1c to 1¼c higher, and barley 2½c higher on No. 3 Canadian western, and 3c higher on feed. In the option markets corn was weaker, in anticipation of better receipts next week. December corn was off 2¼c at the close from yesterday's finish. The cooler weather favors shipments.

THE LOCAL MARKET

Potatoes were scarce on the local market this morning, not many farmers caring to risk having them frozen. The price was higher. The general quotation was $2.25, but $2.30, and even higher, was asked. The demand was brisk.

Apples were a feature. Large quantities were offered at $5.00 to $6.00 a barrel, but the sales were slow.

A great deal of dressed pork was offered by the quarter. Many sales were made at 24 cents a pound for front quarters and 25 cents for hind quarters, but 26 cents was also asked.

Eggs were a little firmer, being quoted chiefly at 75 cents a dozen.

Butter was quite plentiful, but steady.

UNCERTAIN TONE AT MONTREAL, BUT GAINS MADE IN FEW STOCKS

Market Opens Very Strong, But Many Stocks Close Below Opening Level.

MONTREAL, Nov. 14.—The stock market today closed generally at a material net gain, but the tone was uncertain and many of the stocks to open strong closed much lower than the opening level.

In this latter category were Atlantic Sugar, Dominion Canners, Laurentide, Ogilvie Milling, Spanish River and Wayagamack.

Sugar opened with an overnight gain of ¾ point and lost it, recovering a ⅛ at the close at 73¾. Canners opened 1 point higher at 60, and closed at 58½, with the final bid advanced to 59, and no stock offered. Laurentide opened ½ point higher at 237½, and sold down to 234, a net decline of 3 points. At the close 230 was bid, and 237 asked. Ogilvie opened at 295, and closed at 294, with a closing bid of 295, but no stock offered under 300. Spanish River opened at 69, and sold down to 67¼, recovering to 67¾ in the final sale, and to 68 in the final bid. The net loss was 1¾ points. Wayagamack opened at 82, sold up to 83, sagged to 78½, and closed at 80½, with that price bid for more stock.

Among the stocks to score substantial net gains were Abitibi, with a net gain of 10 points to 107; Asbestos, 3 points higher at 83; Ames-Holden 1 point at 114; Fishing, 2 points at 62½; Forgings, 3 points at 185; Steamships 1 point at 72; Smelters, 1 point at 29½; Lyall, 11 points at 142, and Rirodon 2 points at 148.

Brazilian's strength was one of the features of the trading, little more than 1,000 shares changing hands, and on this turnover the price advanced 2¾ points to a new high record for the movement at 52¾, the stock touching 53 at one time during the day.

Outside of Ogilvie the milling stocks traded and closed at net gains. Lake of the Woods was marked up 2 points at 228, with 228 bid and no stock offered, and St. Lawrence added 3½ points at 119½, losing, however, 1½ points in closing bid at 118.

The steel stocks were steady to strong, Dominion Steel being dealt in to the extent of 1,160 shares. The stock sold down from 71 to 70½, closing unchanged from the preceding day at the latter price. Steel of Canada furnished 3,862 shares to the trading, the largest individual total for the day, with the price ranging from 74 to 76, and the close at 75, representing a net gain of 1 point.

Ontario Steel gained 2 points at 48, but the preferred lost 6 points at 79½.

National Breweries closed 1 point higher at 178, but finished at 176 bid. Quebec Railway at 23½ gained 1½ points, and Spanish River, preferred, 1 point at 116, with final bid advanced to 117.

There was a steady tone to the bond list with the 1933 Victory issue the most active. The war bonds held to the preceding day's level, except the 1922 and 19923 Victories, the former losing ⅛ point, and the latter ¼ point.

Total sales: Listed stocks, 21,182 shares; unlisted, 820 shares; bonds, par value, $385,950; vouchers, 10.

EVENING STOCK LETTER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.

The best thing that can be said for the market today was the tendency toward moderation in volume of business as well as in the extent of the fluctuations. There was, as might have been expected, some irregularity. There was no semblance of uniformity in fluctuations, but there was an entire absence of urgent buying and selling to which we have become accustomed. The fact that the renewal rate was high again, indicates clearly that while conditions are better, all is not yet clear. The best market development of the day was the activity in the rails. This is logical. Everything unfavorable that could happen is now a matter of history. The prospects are brighter because there is unmistakable evidence of change in public as well as official sentiment toward the railroads. Legislation is not yet a fact, but all preliminaries cleary indicate the trend of congressional feeling and sentiment. They have already placed a stamp of disapproval on all fantastic plans that were presented. They are working along practical lines. We feel that the best opportunities today will be found in the railroad list.

THREE FRITCH CASE WITNESSES ESCAPE

Detroit, Nov. 14.—Three young women held as witnesses in the Dr. George Fritch case made their escape from the women's detention home on Canfield avenue, near Woodward, about 7:15 o'clock Sunday night, and no trace of them had been found up to a late hour.

The three are Helen Wallace, 19 years old, 1 Fern Place; Helen Conroy, 24 years old, 762 Gray avenue, and Frances Smith, 283 West Milwaukee avenue. The first that the matron, Mrs. Duff, knew of the escape was when a sister of one of the young women called to give her sister some money. Acting Inspector James Dowd, in charge of the detective bureau, sent out a general alarm to all policemen to arrest the women on sight.

The three were held as witnesses against Dr. Fritch in two untried cases in which illegal operations are charged. Miss Smith was brought back from Denver, Col., by the police.

PHYSICIANS REVISE PNEUMONIA VIEWS

"Breath" Struggle Is Effort to Pump Blood to Brain.

New York, Nov. 14.—Physicians are revising their opinions on many things—pneumonia being the latest. Until very recently they were taught that when a patient is breathing with difficulty, apparently struggling, with as much vigor as his poor body will permit, to fill his lungs with pure air, getting blue in the face with the effort, he is endeavoring to get oxygen into the small space in his lungs that remains unchoked.

But there were a few doctors who doubted this explanation. They noted that a characteristic of pneumonia is the "crisis." The picture of this is that the struggles of the patient suddenly cease, he breathes easily, the blue vanishes from his face, he is on the high road to recovery. Yet his lungs are just as greatly out of commission as they were before. His lung space is just as restricted, he therefore ought to be just as much in need of oxygen. Why, then, have his struggles ceased? Why is he breathing easily?

And these doubting physicians put those questions in a group of research workers in England. While they were considering them the epidemic of influenza arrived. The pneumonia patients behaved in the familiar way, but in many cases autopsy showed that there were no lesions of the lungs, the lung space was not affected. The patients had died of blood poisoning and not of lack of breath.

Therefore the struggles were not for air. What, then, were they for?

The research workers studied the actions of healthy men. They observed that a man making a strenuous effort to hold his breath: he stopped breathing at the moment of greatest activity. In the last lap of a race a runner stops breathing, a blacksmith swinging his hammer stops breathing.

They devised an apparatus by which it was possible to record on a drum the opening and closing of the windpipe and the movements of the muscles of the abdomen. This applied to persons not doing strenuous work. These were told to listen intently, to look intently, to think closely, etc. In every case the instrument showed that the man held his breath and contracted his abdominal muscles.

Why? The chest contains air and blood in large quantities. With the windpipe closed, air cannot escape from the lungs. If pressure be applied blood must be driven out. And this is just what the abdominal muscles do by their contraction.

The blood can go only to the brain and to the muscles.

This, then, is the explanation of the holding of the breath. When close attention is required a man unconsciously holds his breath and drives blood to his brain. When a more than usually great effort is called for, he holds his breath and drives blood into his muscles. Oxygen has nothing to do with it.

Does not this explain also the struggles of the pneumonia patient? The latter is trying in his bed to do what the athlete does in the field—charge his brain and muscle with blood.

The poison of disease tends in some way to cause the blood to stagnate in the body, to leave the brain and muscles. These call forth great efforts to acquire their normal supply. So the "struggle for breath" is not a struggle for breath at all, but a struggle for blood, an effort to pump blood to the brain and muscles.

And the "crisis" comes when the body has overcome the poison in the blood; there is no longer any need for effort. Irrespective of what happens in the lungs, the struggle comes to an end.

The London Times comments that the lesson of this is that it is useless to administer oxygen in such cases, and worse than useless to give morphine to ease the struggle, for, if the struggle ceases, the patient is likely to die. If he can continue the struggle he will win.

WIRELESS PHONE OVER ATLANTIC NEXT BIG STEP

Paris, Nov. 14.—"We will have transatlantic wireless telephony before we have transatlantic telephone cable lines," said C. G. Dubois, president of the Western Electric Company, who is here inspecting the Western Electric French factory, which manufactures much of the apparatus for the French telephone system.

"One can telephone 3,000 miles between New York and San Francisco because on land wires you can have all the necessary loading coils and repeaters and other apparatus and stations every few miles. But with an Atlantic telephone cable you would have either to dispense with that or to incorporate these necessary accessories in the cable. There is such a weak current used in telegraphy, compared with telephony, that I have heard it estimated a transatlantic telephone cable would have to be a huge copper affair, larger around than a man's body, without counting the outside covering. The loading coils and repeaters would have to be laid with the cable.

Cost of Cable Phone High.

"Another thing, there is not enough demand for a transatlantic telephone to support it. There is not as much telephone business between Chicago and San Francisco as had been expected. With the perfection and speeding up of the telegraph cable lines, the people would not pay the tremendous high rates that telephones would have to charge across the Atlantic.

"It is expected that telephones between France and England will be improved as soon as it is feasible for the public. They are now open to the people, but it is very difficult to hold a conversation. European countries like England, France, Italy, and Belgium keep telephones as government monopoly, and owing to their tremendous debts incurred during the war, they are unable to make the improvements which they would have made if war had not occurred.

Need of Repairs.

"France, for instance, needs its telephone system overhauled, and an expenditure of millions in new equipment of all kinds. But this work must be held up because there are other more pressing needs for the money. The same is true of Belgium and Italy also, I am told."

Mr. Dubois just arrived in Paris from London and Tuesday next he will proceed to Rome. He is accompanied by his wife and daughter. W. P. Sidley, vice-president and general counsellor of the Western Electric Company, and G. E. Pingree, vice-president and general manager. The Western Electric has factories in London, Paris, Antwerp and Milan making apparatus for all the telephone systems.
