57TH YEAR. NO. 23227

KING TO CHECK HIGH COST OF ICE BREAKER

Liberal Administration May Cancel Meighen Order For
"Unnecessary" Craft.

VALUED AT $1,300,000

Similar Vessel Can Be Purchased From France For $800,000 Less.

OTTAWA, Jan. 6.—In the interests of economy a contract let in the dying days of the late Meighen government may be cancelled by the new administration.

A fortnight or so before the election Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, minister of marine and fisheries, closed a contract with the Canadian Vickers of Montreal for the construction of an ice-breaker at a cost of $1,300,000. Owing to uncertainty regarding the change of government, work on the new boat has not yet been commenced.

In the latter days of the campaign Premier W. L. Mackenzie King gave warning that contracts let or appointments made thereafter would, if his party came to power, be subject to revision and cancellation.

It now appears that when the late government let the contract for the ice-breaker there was for sale at Cherbourg, France, the ice-breaker "J. D. Hazen," built in Canada for Russia several years ago.

The vessel is reported to be in first class shape, and can be bought for $500,000 or $600,000 less than the contract price of the vessel to be built by the Canadian Vickers.

Sure of Cancellation.

Under the circumstances it is almost certain that the Vickers contract will be cancelled and purchase made of the "J. D. Hazen" instead.

The latter vessel was renamed by the Russian government.

There has also been some doubt regarding the attitude of the new government regarding the recent contract for a floating dry dock granted to the Wallace-Coughlin Company of Vancouver, and the less recent contract for a dry dock at Victoria.

The former contract, however, was made under the dry dock subsidies act, while upon the latter much money has already been expended. No interference with either of these contracts is therefore anticipated.

It leaked out today that the Meighen government declined last September, the request of the Ontario Legislature to call an inter-provincial conference with a view to giving effect to the decisions of the International Labor conference at Washington.

Took Rollo's Resolution.

The legislature acted on a resolution of Hon. Walter Rollo, the Ontario minister of labor, last spring, in June, the request for a conference went to Ottawa in formal style.

In September Senator Robertson, the minister of labor, wrote saying that the conference would be held in Ottawa, and that the secretary of state had just reached him. And the reply from Ottawa was sent to Premier Drury.

Mr. Rollo, the latter received on to answer shortly before he left for the international labor conference at Geneva, in October, and he left it in the hands of the acting minister, Mr. Mills.

That is the reason it was not given publicity until now. Mr. Rollo is but a short time back from Geneva.

These reasons given by Robertson for not calling an inter-provincial conference were that Ontario was the only province making the request, and, in any case, such a conference could not be held until after the next election.

As matters stand, Canada agreed to a number of important draft conventions adopted by the Washington conference two years ago. These years were given for action on these conventions, but this country has made no move.

Action Not Obligatory.

Action is not obligatory on Canada's part on one ground only, namely, that certain matters come within the purview of the provinces. These include the eight-hour day. But old age pensions and unemployment insurance, which Canada agreed, are recognized by Ottawa to be federal matters.

Mr. Rollo will probably urge the new federal government to take early action, and expedite better treatment from Hon. Mr. Murdock.

"These international conferences are called under the auspices of the League of Nations," Mr. Rollo explained today. "The Dominion has no delegates, but the provinces merely have representatives there to advise the dominion delegates. Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba were the only provinces represented at Geneva. To get good results, an inter-provincial conference should be called before each international conference is held."

Mr. Rollo said that the Washington conference took steps for the benefit of the industrial workers, but the Geneva conference was mainly concerned with the task of extending similar benefits to the agricultural workers. Many nations had passed legislation in accordance with the Washington conventions.

DEALERS WILL PROTEST NEW GASOLINE TAX

Claim Present Sales Levy
Already Keeps Profits At Minimum.

ADDS TO BOOKKEEPING

Garage Owners Assert Proposed Law Will Take Business From Them.

In the hope that something may be done which would make the Drury Government see fit to drop a proposed bill that is expected to be brought before the Ontario Legislature at the next session, and which if passed, would add an additional tax of one cent per gallon on gasoline, the Ontario Retail Merchants' Association to present the case of the dealers, in an appeal to the provincial government.

Sales Tax Heavy.

There is at present a sales tax on gasoline which in the opinion of the dealers is burdensome enough, since they maintain their present profits are set at a minimum already.

Current prices of gasoline bought by the oil companies average a cost per gallon to the dealer, as the market stands today, of about 33 cents.

This gasoline is retailed at 37 cents per gallon, bringing a profit to the dealers of four cents, considered a fairly low profit for the vending by the garage owners and other dispensers of the product.

Increase Bookkeeping.

The main objection, however, to the proposed legislation, from the dealers' viewpoint, arises from the amount of bookkeeping and account work that the proposed increase would have to do, provided the projected act were enforced.

Wilfred Hodgins, president of the automotive dealers' organization, whose membership comprises a large number of retail dealers, is of the opinion that if the dealers are required to charge a new tax, the business will eventually pass out of their hands.

CANCEL MONDAY BOARD MEETING

Although scheduled for Monday at 5 p.m., the special meeting of the board of education has been postponed until the following day at 12:15 p.m. Chairman Edwin Smith advised the London Advertiser on Friday afternoon that the board would convene on Tuesday as well to organize the advisory vocational committee. It was deemed fitting that the business of both gatherings could be accomplished.

The board will discuss Trustee Rev. A. A. Bice's notice of motion to increase the personnel of No. 3 committee.

REPORTS BIG DROP IN CANADIAN COAL OUTPUT

OTTAWA, Jan. 6.—The output of coal from Canadian mines during the first nine months of 1921 was 10,757,600 tons as compared with slightly over 12 millions tons in the corresponding period of 1920, according to a statement issued today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

While the production was less than the previous year it was greater than in 1919, when the output for the nine months' period was 14 per cent less. Although the production for the period stated in 1921 was a decrease of 11 per cent from the previous year, it is said that the coal situation in Canada has been comparatively easy on account of industries not making such a demand on the supply.

The marquis conferred certain decorations on Okuma posthumously, the cable message said.

Pets May Come and Pets May Go But Cats Remain Forever!

BY DAN CUSHING.

PETS may come and pets may go, but the cat remains forever. In other words, of all London pets, the cat is the greatest.

What a field for controversy. How the dog lovers will howl! Undoubtedly they will dispute the assertion and especially will this be true of lovers of dogs who are haters of cats. Nevertheless the cat is supreme as a pet. There are many cats as pets that other animals, and for this reason the cat must be branded as the universally popular pet in the city.

If the question is reviewed with an open mind, without bias or prejudice, the reasons for such an assertion will be found to rest on a fairly strong foundation.

In the first place, if a person starts out to look for a pet, the easiest to get is the cat. In fact there are times when cats are a glut on the pet market, and only recourse to the rain barrel or river tends to keep the supply anywhere near normal.

There is no law against keeping cats, other than that which a hostile neighbor may set up. It is not necessary to spend money to secure a kitten as a pet. A hint dropped along the street in a neighborly section will bring an abundant supply in no time. In fact, in many cases, a review of a pet cat's history will show that they were wished on their owners.

City Railmen Will Vote On Wage Cut

SHOP WORKERS ADMIT AXIETY OVER OUTCOME

More Optimistic Union Members Hope Strike Will Be Averted.

REPORT BALLOT MONDAY

Voice of London Railroad
Locals To Be Wired To Winnipeg.

While the more optimistic view as a remote possibility that refusal of their present working agreement, there are many among the local Federated Railroad Shop Workers' Union who do not appear so confident of the future.

At a crowded mass meeting in the Labor Temple on Friday evening, employees of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railroads, all members of these various organizations that are affiliated with the L. R. of L., met to consider the contract from the corporations to finally accept the 12 1/2 per cent reduction of wages which became effective July 1, last, but the ratification of which by the unions has since been held in abeyance.

After a thorough discussion the local workers went back to their respective unions authorized to take a ballot, the result of which must be wired to headquarters of district No. 4 in Winnipeg, Minn., by Monday night.

Rejected in U. S.

The other districts, one, two and three, all on the American side of the boundary, have already voted to reject the present agreement, and their reports, together with the detailed report of the L. R. of L., which is comprised wholly of 750,000 Canadian workmen, will be received at a general meeting of delegates in Chicago on Jan. 8.

At this session a definite policy will be outlined to further the case.

Whether a strike will result is problematical.

While the American locals have, by an overwhelming majority, said that the 12 1/2 per cent reduction shall not be accepted, a strike vote, following the report of the Canadian locals, will be necessary in event of any proposal for conciliation being rejected.

The presence in Canada at this moment, among the representative rail leaders, of M. S. Carr, Jun. of East St. Louis, general representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad and Steamship Clerks, Baggage and Stationmen, indicates a significant renewed activity among the international unions.

Addressing the federated craftsmen at the Labor Temple on Friday evening, the representative of the American Brotherhood explained the work now being undertaken throughout Canada.

Extend Organization.

As a matter of fact, organization on a large scale is now being attempted among various branches of the railroad workers in the city.

Canadian Pacific employees will rather Tuesday to discuss this matter further, while later in the week another general mass meeting will be staged for all classes of railmen.

Appealing for aid for unemployed and destitute workers of all occupations, in Russia, Delegate McClellan of Toronto, also addressed the workers on Friday evening. The local men decided to send delegates to a general meeting to be held next week, where all the unions would be represented and when plans would be formulated for the creation of a special body to assist in this undertaking.

BEGIN REGULAR TRAIN SERVICE

SYDNEY, N. S., Jan. 7.—Regular passenger service over the Nova Scotia and eastern section of the Canadian National Railways was resumed last night, with the departure of the express for Halifax.

Freight movements will probably be resumed today after being suspended for several days.

Passengers who arrived early this morning on the first train to reach the city for three days, had a moving time to tell of their adventures in the snow-drifts of Antigonish.

Some of the more resourceful spirits organized an amateur theatrical company, which put on impromptu sketches and helped to while away the long hours.

LABOR PARTY TO CHOOSE LEADERS

At the meeting of the executive of the Ontario section of the Canadian Labor party, to be held in the Labor Temple, Toronto, Saturday afternoon, final arrangements will be made for the meeting to be held early in February at Stratford.

The object of the general meeting is an election of officers, those acting now being only provisional. The meeting in Toronto will, it is expected, draw up the program for the February meeting, which, among other things, will probably include the endorsement of the Labor party's program as laid down last year in Winnipeg, which includes old age pensions, unemployment, insurance, etc.

The chief question to come up at the meeting to be held at Stratford will be the unemployment situation, and it is expected that some measure will be recommended with a view to bettering the present situation.

London's representatives to the meeting are A. E. Pocock and J. F. Thompson.

WOMEN'S LABOR PARTY IN CITY HAS BROAD AIM

Will Educate Wives and Daughters of Workers in Class Ideals.

INTERESTED IN POLITICS

Plans To Study Closely
Problem of Living On Small Income.

The London Women's Labor party is off to a splendid start in the New Year, a sturdy, enthusiastic and steadily-growing young organization, thinking for itself, quite prepared to stand on its own feet and share its own policy.

"What are our aims?" said Mrs. Fred White, the recently-elected president, when interviewed on Friday by The Advertiser. "In the first place, we want the wives, mothers, sisters, daughters of laborers, and all other women interested to learn exactly what the labor movement stands for. We want them to study it and to understand labor problems for themselves."

"In the second place, we want fair play for employed women, as well as men."

"We want women whose interests are identified with the labor movement to be informed on municipal, provincial and national affairs, and to understand the various forms of governments."

"We want the members of our women's labor party to take an intelligent interest in international affairs."

Aims Are Broad.

"I have mentioned some of our broad aims. Our homes are all affected by public affairs, but to get down to very practical matters, we propose studying how to get the very best out of a dollar. The laborer's wife is up against the problem of how to run her home on a very small income. That is why I feel that it is supremely important we should make a study of how to spend money to the very best possible advantage. The employed girl, the girl who is looking forward to a home of her own some day, should find this of as great interest as the wife of a laboring man, or any other man with a limited income."

"As we go along, we will find out the requirements of our organization. In the meantime we are starting out with the firm conviction that there is a very definite need for a women's labor party, and just the kind of work we propose taking up. By the time another election comes along, we hope to be a real political force."

Cat Out of Bag.

And so the cat was out of the bag. The women's labor party has political ambitions, is preparing itself to stand by its guns at the polling booth.

The organization came into existence as an election emergency measure in the late federal campaign, in order that the women of labor convictions might give their support to their favorite candidate, Mr. Arthur Meighen, in a united way. From the beginning, however, they had no idea of being a temporary committee. The pioneers in the movement had a vision of permanence, and a women's party built on a strong foundation of ideals, both fine and practical. They were prepared to put heart and soul and ability into the development of their craft, and their earnestness and enthusiasm have proved contagious since first steps toward organization were taken early in November.

The first meeting of the New Year took the form of a social gathering in the Labor Temple this week, when a number of new members were received by Mrs. White, the president; Mrs. Palmer, secretary, and Mrs. Finney, treasurer.

E. Incis Speaks.

E. Incis, one of the organizers of the International Union of Electrical Workers, who was present as a guest on the occasion, gave this timely advice to the Women's Labor party, on the occasion of its first "Happy New Year" meeting:

EXPECT SCHOOL BOARD TO STAY

OTTAWA, Jan. 6.—There is no likelihood of a situation such as confronts the boards of education in Toronto and London arising on the Ottawa Collegiate Institute.

In the two cities named the Roman Catholic members of the board have tendered their resignations and the separate school boards have refused to accept them to replace them.

Roman Catholic members of the Ottawa Collegiate Institute board pointed out this morning that there could be no possible need for such action in Ottawa, where the conditions were quite different. The method of administering higher education in Ottawa is not the same as in either Toronto or London.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Jan. 6.—Premier Foster of New Brunswick, when interrogated today, would not deny that the provincial government has under consideration the sale of alcoholic liquor for revenue purposes along the lines of the Quebec and British Columbia schemes.

It is understood the government is also considering income and land taxes as methods of raising revenue required by the province.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—A continuance of at least one day in the second manslaughter trial of Rose C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, scheduled to start next Monday, will be necessary, it was announced by both sides today on account of another trial which is now progressing.

Gavin McNab, chief defense counsel, announced that he would be ready Tuesday. "We shall oppose any further continuance," he said.

CITY DRUGGISTS TO CONSIDER SUNDAY CLOSING

Frequent Prosecutions Responsible For Decision To Take Concerted Action.

FEELING OF PERSECUTION

Owners Declare Not Profitable
Keeping Stores Open
On Sabbath.

Early next week, the London Advertiser was informed on Friday evening, representative druggists of the city will convene to discuss the proposals that they close their doors to the public all day Sunday, in lieu of their present arrangements.

While this question has been under consideration for a considerable time past, it remained for the Liggett Drug Company to take the initiative. Although the Liggett stores, seven in number, were closed to the general public on Sunday last, it did not prevent six of their clerks from arrest and conviction for working on the Sabbath day.

"Six of our men were fined for taking stock on Sunday," explained Manager Woodruff on Friday. "We had already closed our doors for Sunday trade. They will remain shut."

This move, it is explained, followed as a direct result of the number of prosecutions noted within the past few weeks when drug clerks have been arrested and fined for selling packages of gum, bars of chocolate or a small quantity of cough drops, or what not, to customers, contrary to the provisions of the Lord's Day act.

It appears, according to the police, that the mere fact that a customer may only make purchases of necessary medicinal supplies does not render the clerk safe from prosecution.

The claim has been advanced by a number of the druggists, who are contemplating a like move, that it does not pay them to remain open on Sundays if they are to be prosecuted continually.

The druggists' action, it is pointed out, is a move, that it does not pay them to remain open on Sundays if they are to be prosecuted continually.

AUTO SHOW WILL SET NEW RECORD

All Space in Armories Already Taken Up by Entries.

Four weeks from Monday will see the opening day of the biggest and best motor show that has ever been seen in these parts. The armories will be turned into a huge fairland, the decorating scheme including pretty lighting effects. Every available inch of the building will be filled with the most beautiful exhibits, and automobiles never before seen in Western Ontario will make their debut on this occasion.

In anticipation of huge crowds at the show, arrangements have been made to have patrols of police and firemen constantly on duty at the exhibition, thus assuring the public every protection.

Show Manager T. C. Kirby, who is very busy arranged in organizing the Montreal Motor Show to be held the first week in March, will arrive in this city on Sunday to assume the active management, and will reside permanently in this city until after closing of the show. Detailed arrangements of organization are well under way, and everything bids fair for a record success.

SUPPORTERS OF PACT ASK FOR DIRECT BALLOT

Griffith and Collins Hold Confidence of Majority of

COSGROVE MAKES PLEA

Converts Speaker With Elo-
quence Despite De Valera's Resignation Speech.

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—While all Dublin awaits with keen anxiety and certain misgivings possible uncompromising developments occurring from the abrupt resignation in the Dail Eireann yesterday of Eamon de Valera, "President of the Irish Republic," and exert small effort to conceal fear of intestine trouble, the remainder of the coming session, chiefly observed by the attitude of both Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins, who urge a direct vote on the Irish peace treaty, and predict its final ratification before nightfall.

De Valera's resignation was received with manifest concern and irritation by the leading supporters of the peace treaty, who frankly regarded it as a last minute attempt to sidetrack the vote which, as they confidently expected early today, will make the Irish Free State a reality after years of bloodshed and horror.

Cosgrove Restates Stand.

Supporting Griffith and Collins, Michael Cosgrove again reiterated his contention that any consideration of the "presidents' immemorial address of resignation must be postponed until after the vote had been taken. It is upon this attitude of the cooler ones of the Dail Eireann, that these desirous of a successful passage of the treaty are pinning their hopes.

Following his sudden resignation, which he claimed the speaker of the Dail is considered as remarkably significant, and it was also pointed out that de Valera's resignation might have been tendered a month ago, and not at the present time.

Opinions Conflicting.

Conflicting opinions continue to emanate from sundry quarters as to de Valera's possible action.

Following his sudden resignation, it was reported that he declared that he was quite willing to postpone his decision to leave office, providing that a vote on the peace treaty would be taken next week. It is expected, however, that whatever happened, he would retire in any event to private life. Almost simultaneously, however, it is said, others who attended the Dail, stated that he had named that he would select a new cabinet if he was re-elected chief executive.

From these reports the inference was drawn by those attending the last session of the Dail that the treaty was rejected. De Valera would remain in office and strenuously endeavor to negotiate a new treaty with the British government on the basis of his alternative proposal, but in event that the Dail accepted the treaty he would definitely retire from public life. Several of the members of the Dail confided to the press today that it was their firm belief that the treaty would pass on tonight's vote.

It was learnt last night that de Valera threatened to resign during a private session of the Dail Eireann. Friday morning at which an eleventh hour attempt was being made by the peace committee to effect an agreement between the opposing factions of the treaty. When the Dail subsequently convened in open session he made an eloquent speech, during which he was moved to such depths of emotion that tears stood in his eyes and his voice occasionally was choked with sobs.

Mr. de Valera said that it pained him to speak of resignation that his object was to enable the Dail to choose between Turn to Page 2, Column 3.

English Premier Urges Negotiation As Vital To Conference Success.

BULLETIN.
CANNES, Jan. 6.—The Allied Supreme Council in session here this afternoon unanimously decided to hold a European economic conference during the first two weeks of March at Genoa, Italy. The United States will receive a formal invitation to participate, and it is expected that country will be represented by several unofficial observers.

CANNES, Jan. 6.—Lloyd George's proposal for international economic action to rehabilitate Europe was unanimously agreed in principle by the supreme council here today.

A conference will be called to be inaugurated in Germany and Russia. "Dangers worse than bolshevism would result from pushing Germany too far towards bankruptcy," Lloyd George declared in his speech introducing the resolution.

In an hour-long address, the British premier outlined England's viewpoint. He said Germany's foreign trade must be revived. Central Europe must be put in order. The victors in the last war must accept the responsibility for the state of Europe.

Referring to Russia, Lloyd George declared: "We must make peace some time. How are we going to do this?"

Premier King Will Occupy Same Room Laurier Used As Office.

OTTAWA, Jan. 6.—(By Canadian Press.)—Reverting to the practice of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir John A. Macdonald, Premier W. L. Mackenzie King will occupy room 221, in the east block. The room has been tinted and cleaned in preparation for the new occupant and will be ready for Mr. King when he returns from Denver.

Room 221 was occupied by Sir Wilfrid Laurier during his term of office as premier, and Sir Robert Borden moved into it when he succeeded Sir Wilfrid.

After the formation of the Union government, however, Sir Robert decided to take another suite of rooms, adjacent to the privy council chamber, where meetings of the cabinet take place. Premier Meighen occupied these rooms during his term of office.

Unless we deal with all established governments?

Would Avert Danger.

Lloyd George told the supreme council that forcing Germany into bankruptcy would result in the same situation as if it would be an even greater danger to the world," he declared.

Germany, he said, is a more powerful organized force than Russia, and, turning to the French as he spoke, the danger would be greatest to those countries whose frontiers were closest to Germany.

From the standpoint of reparations alone, the reconstruction of Germany, foreign trade was most essential, Lloyd George said. Employment at the present moment is the worst in the history of Europe. If the council did not act, the reconstruction of Germany would be impossible to settle the question of reparations without a general agreement; second, all the Allies must make allowance for each other's viewpoint; third, points at which England was suffering as well as others; third, regarding the attitude to be adopted towards the vanquished powers, he declared he was not pro-German and insisted that Germany must pay to the limit, but he would consider to what extent she could pay.

Regarding dealing with Russia, Lloyd George made a scathing allusion to France's dealings with the Kemalists, saying he could not see how it was possible to draw the line between assassins in one part of the east and in another.

"We know of governments which recently have taken assassins by the hand," he said.

The conference was in session slightly more than two hours. It adjourned after having appointed two commissions, one on reparations and the other on the economic situation.

It is said on good authority that Lloyd George has decided there can be no question at this time of a formal alliance between France and Great Britain, but has held out the prospect of a sufficient alliance to aid France if she is again attacked, as in 1914, under certain conditions.

These are, it is stated, that France co-operate with Great Britain in the economic restoration of Europe and consent to modifications in the reparations payments by Germany on the basis of the suggestions made in the recent London conference of a half billion gold marks in cash, instead of two billion marks in cash.

EXPECT DAIL WILL RATIFY PACT SOON

tween what he called the "representatives of two fundamentally opposite situations—Irish republicanism and British citizenship." He would not carry on without full confidence in his cabinet, some of the members of which had divulged to the press a document that he had asked should be regarded as confidential. If he should be re-elected, he said, he would choose his own cabinet and must have full and sole command of all resources and materials for the defence of the republic.

Protests against diverting the Dail Eireann from the main point in dispute before it, namely, the ratification or rejection of the treaty, revealed the leaders on both sides of the controversy as equally anxious for a straight vote tonight.

Ulster Soldiers Halt Sinn Fein Volunteers

DUBLIN, Jan. 6.—Six hundred Sinn Fein volunteers, who were dispersing this evening after a review at Dromore, County Tyrone, were stopped and searched by the Ulster special constabulary and members of the Royal Irish Constabulary, who seized a number of revolvers and a quantity of equipment. Eleven of the volunteers were arrested and taken to the Omagh military barracks. The incident has created a sensation in Dublin.

Times Correspondent Tells Story of Arrest

LONDON, England, Jan. 7.—That he published news concerning the Irish army which had not been authorized, and that the views put forward by him did not represent the views of the army in Ireland was the charge formulated against A. B. Kay, correspondent of the London Times, in Dublin, at a military inquiry, held at a lonely home-stead in a remote part of Cork, to which his captors took him from Dublin after he was kidnapped Thursday.

Recounting his adventures in the London Times, Kay says the commandant of the first Cork brigade declared at the inquiry that he was responsible for Kay's arrest. The evidence supporting the charge was an article Kay sent to the Times from Cork, based on a conversation with the local liaison officer. The liaison officer testified, admitting that he talked to Kay, but asserting that he did not sanction any interview.

WILL SEEK RE-ELECTION.
DUBLIN, Jan. 6.—Eamon De Valera resigned the presidency of the Irish Republic today, presenting also to the Dail Eireann the resignation of the cabinet. He told the Dail he would offer himself for re-election, standing on the principles of 1916.

Mr. De Valera said he must have a cabinet which thought with him, and he would demand that all resources be given him to defend the "republic." At the opening of the session De Valera said that since the Irish agreement was signed in London the executive authority of the Dail had been irretrievably split. They had since tried to keep together nominally as a unified executive, but the time had come for that to be ended.

The president said he and one section of the Dail stood for the preservation of the republic and the other section for quite another plan. There never would be peace, he continued, until the principle was recognized that the Irish people wanted to live their own lives without the imposition of outside authority.

Mr. De Valera said he could not accept the responsibility unless he had the power of the government to carry on his office. Michael Collins, minister of finance and leader in support of the treaty, then announced that he had offered his resignation, but that Mr. De Valera had refused to accept it.

Continuing to address the Dail, Mr. De Valera then said he had entered politics as a soldier—as one who had accepted the proclamation of the republic. He declared the men who drew the heart and soul of the country. "We have proved that, thank God," he said.

Will Never Be British.
Mr. De Valera said he believed that only by combining the treaty with his alternative proposals could the country be kept together. If the treaty went through there would surely be rebels against the British government, he declared.

"Thank God," he concluded, "I'll never be a British citizen. I'll die first!" Debate on ratification of the treaty with Great Britain was then resumed, after a motion which had been pending, to suspend consideration of the treaty, had been withdrawn.

It was suggested that the debate be continued until 10 o'clock tonight with the understanding that a vote to decide the issue would then be taken tomorrow afternoon.

The question was raised previous to resumption of debate as to whether Mr. De Valera by tendering his resignation actually had resigned, or whether, as Desmond Fitzgerald, minister of propaganda, said it was his understanding that Mr. De Valera, when the motion to suspend the order of the day was withdrawn, said that he would let the question of his resignation go over until a vote had been taken on the treaty.

Later it was declared in other quarters that President De Valera had said agreement with his resignation on the agreement that a vote on the treaty would be taken tomorrow.

Eamon De Valera arose at once on the reassembling of the Dail and delivered a long speech.

His fundamental creed, De Valera declared, was government of the Irish people, by the Irish people, for the Irish people. Anything which detracted from the fundamental authority of the people was absolutely against his principle and a subversion of nationality.

It was proved historically that the men of 1916 represented the heart, soul and aspirations of the Irish nation. No election taken under duress or otherwise could destroy that.

Describes His Position.
Mr. De Valera described his position as one of preserving the balance between Cathal Brugha (Charles Burgess), the Sinn Fein minister of defence, who surrendered the military leadership to him, and Arthur Griffith, who surrendered the political leadership. He was, he declared, a sort of connecting link between the two sides. He was responsible for four years. Union of these forces was absolutely essential to national success. There could be no question of asking the Irish people to enter into any arrangement making them subject to the crown or to require allegiance to the British king, De Valera continued.

If war was attempted, the speaker continued, the people would face it and the Irish delegates were told this and were informed that the sooner the British cabinet realized it, the better. The document brought by the delegates, he said, was inconsistent with that position.

would not break on the point regarding the crown; it was made clear that this would involve a split in the country. A promise accordingly was given that a document involving the making of Irish citizens British subjects would not be signed until submitted to the Irish parliament. He was so certain that this promise would be fulfilled, Mr. De Valera said, that when he heard agreement had been received he said: "We have won." But when he saw in the newspapers that the agreement reached was one absolutely inconsistent with Irish tradition and against the state as it stood, he knew that a practically irrevocable step had been taken.

The people in Ireland would deny the British crown, or any other foreign government to legislate for Ireland and would use all the means they could to prevent Great Britain holding Ireland by military force or otherwise.

Boland Flays Collins.
Harry Boland then announced he had come from the Sinn Fein leaders to vote against the treaty and to support President De Valera. He said he thought Mr. Collins, if he had any Tammany Hall training, might have kept his bullying for Premier Lloyd George.

Mr. De Valera, in explaining why he must resign, said there must be some one in authority. "We cannot have divided responsibility," Mr. De Valera said. "I am a straight, plain dealer. I have met crooked ways with straight methods, we are done. Political trickery sickens me. I have got here in this house the strange sort of dealing I had in the United States with other people of the same kind. I stand exactly where I stood. I knew what others apparently did not know when they were on the edge of the precipice, and I would have halted there, and nothing could have dragged me with straight methods. Mr. De Valera said if there was a vote in the house within 48 hours he was quite satisfied. Arthur Griffith agreed to this, declaring that the vote might be taken at the latest on Monday. The motion for a suspension of the order of the day was then withdrawn, and the debate resumed on the main motion.

ALLEGED DIRECTORS AID LOCKE LAW VIOLATION
NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 6.—Warrants charging nine directors of the Businessmen's Racing Association, promoters of the "Fair Grounds" meet, which opened last Monday, with permitting violation of the Locke anti-gambling law by bookmakers operating at the race track, were issued today.

In conclusion, Mr. De Valera said he would cause the arrest of every bookmaker and cashier each day they operate at the track, and that on each succeeding day an increased bond would be required.

COMPLETELY FREE OF CONSTIPATION

Tried for Years to Find Relief

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" GAVE IT

Chronic Constipation or insufficient action of the bowels is one of the great causes of disease. Some authorities even claim that Constipation cannot be permanently corrected. This is a great mistake, because here is the proof that constipation can be cured and the bowels made to act regularly and naturally.

Yarmouth, N. S.
"For years I was troubled with Constipation, and had to take laxatives and purgatives all the time. If I neglected to take these, the bowels would refuse to do their work."

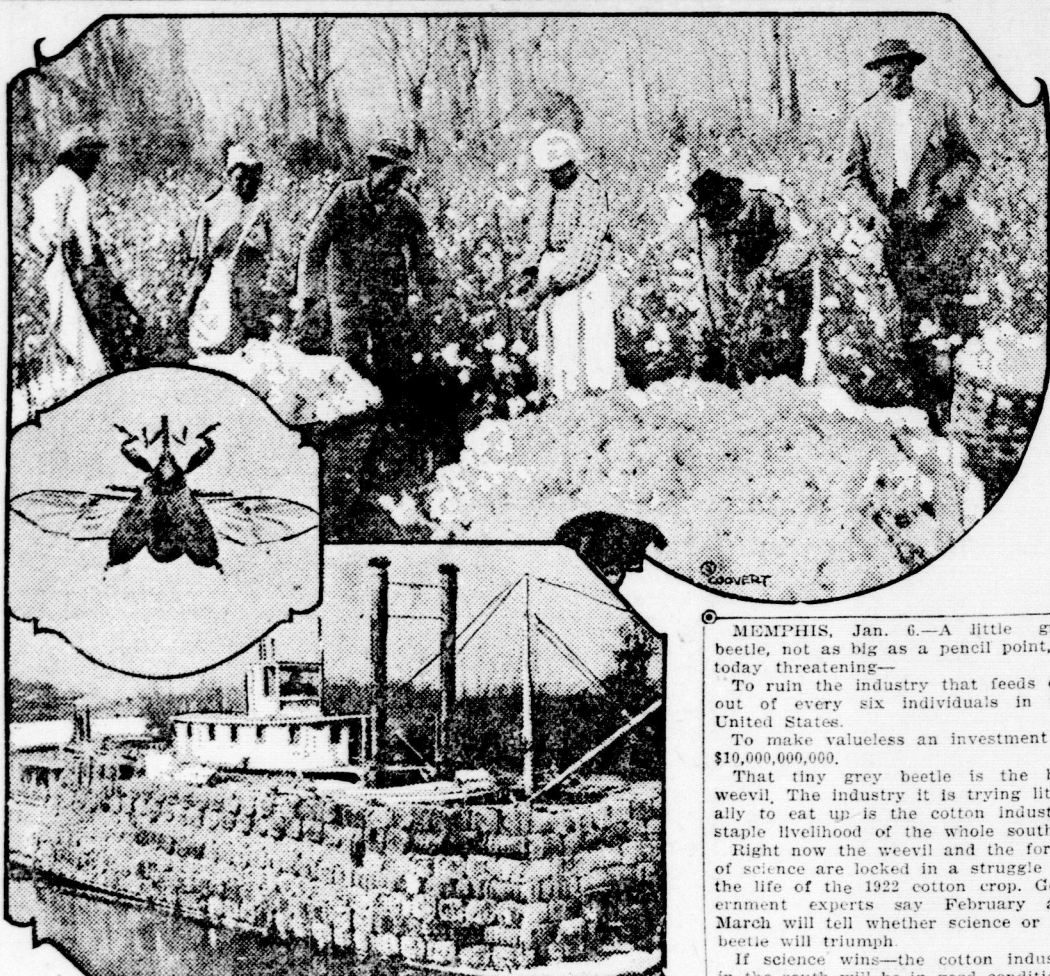

About two years ago, a friend advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives," which I did. The first box helped me so much that I obtained further supplies of the remedy and continued the treatment. After using about eight boxes my bowels were able to perform their particular function without aid.

"The relief in my case has been lasting, as up to date I have never had any further trouble. I can recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' to all suffering as I did, and I am sure they will derive equal benefit."

A. W. FRANKLIN.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c, or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

STATES CANADIAN TRADE IMPROVING

Weekly Report Finds Brighter Atmosphere in Many Lines.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 6.—(By Canadian Press.)—Although business conditions throughout Canada have shown little change during the last three or four months with the exception of the usual holiday trade there is no doubt but that a brighter atmosphere prevails in manufacturing, wholesale and jobbing circles, states the weekly trade report of the Canadian Creditors' Trust Association.

Winnipeg and Manitoba wholesalers are, generally speaking, quiet. The greatest care is being exercised in the granting of credit to country points with the result that trade is being curtailed to a considerable extent. Retail trade in the larger cities is "fairly good," many merchants say, although others report exactly the opposite. There is no doubt whatever but what retailers have yet to take their losses before anything like normal trade can be expected. Many are still trying to clear old stocks at old prices, and are suffering from more up-to-date competition.

TO DECIDE VALIDITY OF REMOVAL OF TRUSTEE

BOSTON, Jan. 6.—Readiness to begin a hearing on Wednesday next on the question of the validity of the action of the directors of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in removing Herbert W. Eustace and Paul Harvey as trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society, was announced by Justice Crosby of the supreme court today. The hearing, he said, would continue until all evidence as to good faith on the part of the directors had been introduced.

Pending determination of this issue, Judge Crosby said he would postpone appointment as to temporary trustees of the publishing society of Fred M. Lamson, upon whom the directors and trustees agreed last Tuesday.

KING GOVERNMENT IS SHARING RELIEF COST

OTTAWA, Jan. 6.—The unemployment situation has already been given serious consideration by the members of the King cabinet and is being kept under view from day to day, according to a statement made today by Hon. James Murdock, the new minister of labor. For the present the new government is carrying on the program of relief laid down by its predecessor, bearing one-third of the cost of relief work where the province and municipalities each assume one-third of the cost, but whether or not this proposal will be amended or continued will depend on the further consideration of the King cabinet.

FEWER CASES OF DISEASE REPORTED

Ontario Health Statistics For 1921 Show Decrease.

TORONTO, Jan. 6.—Health statistics for Ontario for 1921, just compiled, show a remarkable decrease in communicable diseases as compared with 1920, there having been 23,398 cases with 5,094 deaths, as compared with 61,074 cases and 9,080 deaths in 1920. In the latter year the influenza epidemic was rife, but even after allowing for the fact that there were but 355 cases of influenza-

PURPOSE OF ISSUE

The proceeds of this issue are to provide the capital necessary (in excess of a bond issue of 60 per cent of the cost of land, building and equipment) for the construction and furnishings of the Lloyd-George Hotel. The total cost of the Lloyd-George Hotel, including land, building and equipment, is estimated at $1,550,000.00.

Extract from Letter of Baker, Birnie, Savage & Co., as of October 24th, 1921.

The various items of revenue and expenditure have been very carefully calculated from information of record in our office and from various other reliable sources, and we believe the estimate to be conservative as to revenue, and that the operating expenses have been overstated rather than understated.

BAKER, BIRNIE, SAVAGE & CO.,

Old Testament Lessons

HAVE YOU MUCH of an idea about Old Testament history? In a general way you may know something about the leaders of that far-removed time. Of course, you will know about Noah, Abraham, Joseph, Solomon and perhaps half a dozen others.

Well, there's a first-class chance right now to become acquainted with Old Testament history in following the International Sunday School lessons. Beginning with the last days of Solomon the student is ushered right into an era of political history that, when studied, is so real and human that it takes on an added meaning.

How natural that in an atmosphere of indulgence and pride, such as was witnessed in the last days of Solomon's court, an heir with the mental weakness of Rehoboam should have been raised. His very first recorded act was in dealing with the requests of his people for relief from the heavy taxation of the time of Solomon. His decision to ignore the counsel of the old men, who had seen the rise and fall of Solomon's regime, and listen to the young set, tells the story vividly, and leaves a wonderful opportunity for the teacher to drive home the folly of discarding the advice of men who have had ripe experience.

Then comes the man who came up the ladder of promotion until he was so powerful Solomon had to chase him out—Jeroboam. The major part of the divided kingdom fell to him. How would he hold his people? If they were to go to Jerusalem to offer sacrifices, the chances were they would turn to the Lord, and his prestige would suffer. And so, with his weak mind plotting against the hand of the Almighty, he made two golden calves for the mind of the people would be turned from Jehovah and centred in Rehoboam.

Human, isn't it? Yet the Bible, Old and New, records a large number of people who seemed to have the same conception of their own relationship toward God. They fall utterly to grasp the idea of positive submission, and in that atmosphere finding true happiness and unbounded prosperity.

Following on through the Book of Kings the series takes the student to Elijah, reciting one of the most dramatic stories of the Bible, when the prophet openly challenged the prophets of Baal to demonstrate the power of their god, and when the power and presence of Elijah's God was so impressively demonstrated. It is on the happenings of this age that Mendelssohn based his wonderful work "Elijah," which gives a dramatic interpretation of this epoch of Old Testament history.

And so on down the Sunday school lessons for the quarter run through a period of Biblical history that is rich in event, colorful in happenings, and intensively gripping in the working out of the Divine will. The whole series is by no means simply a review of ancient history, or a rattling of the bones of the past. Make a practice of reading up the lessons from week to week. You will find the study engrossing, and your reward will be, at the very least, a knowledge of Old Testament events, names and locations which have long since become more or less indistinct to you.

The Progress of Reform

POLITICAL HISTORY shows that following most political battles there is the call for more organization from both sides. The victorious section went to go and follow up the advantage they have gained at the polls, while the defeated faction have been forced to realize their weakness, and the conclusion has been reached that in order to exist they must show signs of life at once.

One can go back in Canadian history to the victory won by the Reformers in 1848, following which there was an outbreak of more than usual radical sentiment, which found expression in the Clear Grits of Upper Canada and the Rouges in Lower Canada.

Then, following the notable victory of 1874, when the Liberals had apparently won a victory of some permanency over Macdonald, came the formation of the Canada First party, which at that time was somewhat alarming to the orthodox Liberals, who considered that it was more or less separatist in its outlook.

The platform of the Canada First can be summarized as follows:

1. British connection.
2. Closer trade relations with the British West India Islands, with a view to ultimate political connection.
3. An income franchise.
4. The ballot, with the addition of compulsory voting.
5. A scheme for the representation of minorities.
6. Encouragement of immigration and free homestead in the public domain.
7. The imposition of duties for revenue so adjusted as to afford

Then followed some of the most stirring political discussions of the time, in which George Brown, Goldwin Smith and Edward Blake, in his Aurora address, sought to mark out the status of Canada in the British Empire. The same problem was there then that is in Canada today, whether (1) to work for a greater voice in the councils of the empire, or (2) to develop a spirit of Canadianism, knowing that the tie with the Motherland is strongest when built on mutual understanding and a love of British principles and institutions.

It is understandable that in the ranks of Liberalism there shall always be men with new ideas and new visions. It is impossible to think of Liberals as taking a policy of years ago and being satisfied with it. The real spirit of reform cannot be controlled, as it springs from the needs and desires of the mass of the people. So the Liberals of today must look to the problems of today and shape their line of action accordingly. Nothing is more fatal to a nation than striving to make the affairs of that nation conform to a hard and fast set of rules and preconceived ideas that may have had their origin under entirely different circumstances than we face today.

pounds of poultry of all classes were in storage. Thus locked up, they were off the market, with the result that prices, in the face of demand, soared to the highest fowl level they have ever reached in the Dominion. It is a reasonable suspicion that this large quantity of poultry was put in cold storage for the direct purpose of creating an apparent scarcity. If so, it constitutes an act in restraint of trade, and can only be classified as flagrant profiteering."

The Advertiser is in receipt several times every week of letters that bear no name. These cannot be published. It is necessary that we should know who is writing a letter. Whether the writer wishes his or her name to appear is quite another matter. Where a pen-name is used, it is necessary that the real name be forwarded for the protection of the paper.

It is not stressing a point very far to suggest that Hon. Robert Rogers had come east to see what his own chances are for being leader of the Conservative party in Canada. The Hon. LEGAL QUERIES

Editor Advertiser: I notice in Thursday's issue of your paper that single men are liable for a tax on a salary over $1,000, and on money earnings over $500 and under $1,500. Does the same rule apply to single women?

If I have an income of $925 from debentures and no other income whatever, on what basis shall I have to pay income tax?

Question No. 1.—Yes, you are liable.

Question No. 2.—You will be assessed on $125, but as the tax rate will not be struck until April, 1922, it is impossible to state definitely the amount you will be taxed. It is estimated that the rate will be between 20 and 40 mills.

Editor Advertiser:

Sir:—The interview with Mr. Boyle of Edmonton in today's Advertiser is remarkable for its mis-statement of facts about the Farmer's organization of Alberta.

Lake Mr. Boyle, I came down from the West (Winnipeg) to spend the Christmas holidays with friends in St. Thomas and London. Although residing in another province, I am familiar with what Mr. W. Wood and his organization stand for, which is "class representation," an entirely different thing from "class legislation," which Mr. Boyle claims the organized farmers of Alberta openly advocate.

As a matter of fact the farmers of Alberta in common with organized farmers throughout the West are out to overthrow the class legislation enjoyed by special privilege for many a long day in Canada.

Mr. Wood's theory is that class representation would effectively prevent class legislation, as no legislation in the interests of any one class could be enacted that was not fair and just to all concerned, as the other classes would combine to defeat legislation proposed to benefit one class to the injury of all the other classes. If, for instance, a heavy impost was proposed on textiles, its imposition would have to be justified to the House, and if it would appear that duties on farm implements would drive farmers off the land, it would be difficult to get such a measure endorsed by a group parliament, and any legislation in the interests of labor would have to appeal to the fairness of the other group as well as labor to get the sanction of the House.

That Mr. Boyle is unable to grasp this new phase of political evolution puts him in the old school of political thought. This is emphasized by his expressed view, "that unless the farmers decide to support the King party, we on the prairies will be in a rather isolated position."

Here is a clinging to the threadbare garments turned out by the old line partisan mills, that in order to get consideration, a constituency or a province must be in league with the government.

The farmers expect to win the respect and support of all other classes by the justice of their demands, and

READ YOUR CHARACTER

[By Digby Phillips.]

NO. 81—HIGH VOICES.

Can you tell anything about a person you have not seen, simply by hearing his or her voice from the next room or perhaps through a partition.

Taking men as an example; you probably naturally associate a big, deep voice with a big, heavy man and a high, thin or shrill voice with a little fellow of delicate mold. And when you find that your extra-high tenor is a great big, fat fellow you are shocked and the tiny chap who rocks the cradle in the deep so that the hall reverberates makes you gasp.

The trouble is that you are judging physical characteristics by the sound of the voice, whereas the voice more properly indicates mental traits. Where it fits with the physical traits it is only because the latter happen to square up with the mental ones.

High voices mean high-strung nerves. In this they are somewhat like giggles. But they don't indicate racing thoughts the way giggles do. The meaning you draw from them is primarily that of mental high tension and nervous high tensions. Coupled with this is an indication of a predominance of reason and intellect over emotions; in fact, of less than the average amount of the emotional.

Unusually high voices in either men or women indicate in a word, high mental tension coupled with emotional coldness.

WAYS TO KEEP WELL

THE CHILD'S HEART

It is often the case that children may develop a severe general infection following close contact with acute tonsillitis. Adults, too, may become victims of the same infection.

This ailment may show itself by painful swelling of the joints, and so-called acute articular rheumatism, and in some instances the lining of the heart and the heart valves also are infected.

After a prolonged sickness the child apparently recovers, but a second examination of the heart will show that the heart muscle is weak, and the valves are rough, and do not close correctly. Hence the pump, or the heart,

MAN WHO BEAT THE PREMIER

HARRY LEADER, M.P., Progressive, is the man who defeated Premier Meighen in Portage. He was born 41 years ago of the farm six miles west of Portage where he now resides. He should be in a position to know the problems of the western farmer, as he has had a life-long experience wrestling a living from a Manitoba farm.

Harry Leader, M.P.
Portage, Man.

Mr. Leader is not simply a grain grower, but through years of effort has developed one of the best herds of pure-bred Angus cattle in the province, having worked persistently for the success of the accredited herd plan, which aims at the eradication of tuberculosis among the cattle of Canada.

Although having no previous political experience, Mr. Leader served on the rural council of Portage for six years, and was reeve for two years. For two years he was on the executive of the Manitoba municipalities.

is working at a disadvantage. Such a happening usually comes at a critical time in a child's life. He is tired of being kept indoors by sickness, and wants to romp and play. But if he tries to keep up with the other children in their strenuous games, he puts a severe strain on his heart muscle. The usual result of such a strain is that there will develop a permanent valvular defect in the heart that will in all probability shorten life.

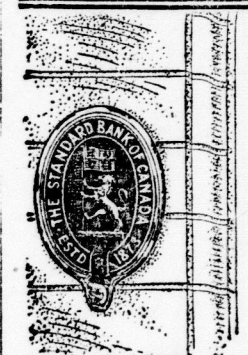

There is but one way to prevent all this. It is enforced rest over a long period of time. Rest can rarely be carried out in a normal busy household, especially if there are other healthy youngsters.

Such cases require the utmost care in handling, and frequent advice from the family physician. If properly treated, even badly damaged heart valves return to a practically normal state.

Every acute infection, especially every case of tonsillitis, should be considered serious, and the heart should be pronounced well before the child is allowed to take up its normal mode of life again.

Dear Sirs:—

I have your valued favour of the 21st inst. asking me what induced me to first use daily newspapers, and why I have continued to use that medium so steadily for making the public acquainted with SALADA Tea.

Thirty years ago, when I first put SALADA Tea on the market, Ceylon teas were unknown, except to experts, and, knowing as I did, how much superior in cup quality they were, to the teas of China and Japan, I tried to introduce them by inducing the grocer to buy them in the ordinary package the tea arrived in from the Orient, and attained considerable success. Unfortunately, however, after the retail grocer got the tea in hand, he did not handle it in such a way as induced the public to try it, but kept on supplying the poor, inferior teas that he had been handling.

Then I commenced to question myself as to how I would get the merits of these teas before the public—there was but one way, and that was to peak them and market them under a brand. But, when I tried that, I found that these fine teas continued to lie on the grocers' shelves, and the poor stuff they had been handling was still supplied to the public.

Then I thought of telling my story in a single newspaper, which I did, and soon saw results. The single medium soon became two, and then a dozen, and now many hundreds on the American continent alone, where practically every daily newspaper of any importance carries SALADA TEA COMPANY advertisements.

Yours truly,

Lima Bean Salad. One and one-half cups canned or cooked lima beans, 1 cup diced celery, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 2 tablespoons minced green pepper, grated cheese, French dressing.

Haricout Salad. One cup canned peas, 1/2 cup diced cooked beef, 1/2 cup diced cooked carrot, 1 cup each red and white shredded cabbage, 1 medium sized onion finely chopped, French dressing.

Cauliflower Salad. Cook cauliflower in cheesecloth to prevent scum from settling on flowers. Add 1 tablespoon of lemon juice to the water to keep the cauliflower white. Cool and divide in separate stalks, sing one stalk for each serving. Place flat on a lettuce leaf and arrange slices of cooked beets around the flower. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Serve with French dressing flavored with a few drops of onion juice and celery pepper.

Macaroni Salad. One and one-half cups cooked macaroni, 1/2 cups diced celery, 1 Spanish onion, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, mayonnaise dressing.

Banana and Peanut Salad. Put shelled peanuts through the food chopper. Remove peel from bananas and scrape with the dull edge of a knife. Allow one small banana for each person.

Date and Almond Salad. One pound dates, 24 almonds, 2 tablespoons grated coconut, 1 lemon, 1 bunch parsley. Stone and chop dates. Blanch almonds and brown in a hot oven.

When ready to serve, divide in portions, sprinkle with coconut and garnish with thin slices of lemon and bits of parsley. This salad need not be served on lettuce.

WOULD NAME WARD FOR PRINCESS MARY

Hospital Committee Cables Request To Make Gift.

The War Memorial Children's Hospital committee wants to be in line with the organizations that are paying tribute to the Princess Mary on the occasion of her marriage. At the first meeting of the New Year held on Friday afternoon in the King street residence of the Y. W. C. A., "Lenmore," it was decided to cable the princess and ask permission to give her, as a wedding present, a ward or room named after her in the new hospital, to be endowed with money contributed by the girls and women bearing other names of the princess, Victoria, Alexandra or Alice might like to contribute to the fund, to be known as the "Marys."

Committee Thrifty. The rigid economy with which the work in connection with the War Memorial Children's Hospital campaign has been administered by the executive committee since the inception two and a-half years ago was demonstrated in the report of the treasurer, Mrs. C. T. Campbell.

Delegates' expenses to county council meetings have been kept down to $66.50; printing of pamphlets, circulars and other necessary literature, $55.67; postage, $59.90. The sum of $151.50 has been paid to the chairman of the building committee, Lieut.-Col. W. M. Martineau, bringing the total expenditures up to $152,626.17.

To Collect From "Marys." Mrs. George F. Edwards of Komoka, president of the Ontario Women's Institute, brought in $25 for the hospital fund from the Lobo Women's Institute, and $5 from the children of Appleton, this upon the request of the Goddard council with regard to the grant made to the hospital, and also to collect money for the "Marys" fund or other contributions offered for the hospital when visiting institutions.

The question of furnishing the new hospital was brought up. Mrs. Smith stating that the administration is strongly in favor of uniformity, leaving, in other words, the actual choosing of furnishings to the administration. Miss Ross, lady superintendent of Victoria Hospital, she further stated, is making out a list of requirements which will be available in the near future.

Miss A. B. Smith, John Gemmell, Miss B. Taylor and Mrs. F. J. Greenaway (ex-officio) were appointed a committee to look into several money-making entertainments offered the committee.

"The Fairy Queen is to be here to do the deciding. It's all about the kites who come here. They are always quarrelling and always in trouble."

They started down a remarkable road with fields of lovely green on each side. Here and there were houses where the kite people lived, who had come to make their home in this beautiful sky country.

And trees! There were oodles of trees, my dears, for where else would up they shot still higher above the hills, trees and valleys, right into the blue sky.

Friends of Youth Attend Mr. and Mrs. Webster's Golden Anniversary.

After 50 years' of married life, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Webster of Florence celebrated the anniversary of their wedding on New Year's Day at the home of their youngest son, J. A. Webster, on the old homestead, where they were showered with congratulatory messages from relatives and friends. They were married at Florence, on Jan. 1, 1872.

Mr. Webster observed his 73rd birthday, March 9, and Mrs. Webster, her 73rd, on Oct. 25. Both are enjoying good health and take a lively interest in what happens in the world around them. Of their family of three, a daughter, Mrs. Harry Gossell of Merlin, and James Alex. of Florence, were present to rejoice with them. The elder son, Harry G. of East, was unable to be present. Friends participating from Chelsea, Mich., London, Chatham, St. Marys and Merlin. Three guests, Mr. James Sangster, London; Mrs. Robert Dunlop, Chatham, and Mrs. Elton Rolstone of Euphemia, "the bridesmaid," were at the wedding 50 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster were the recipients of many beautiful presents of gold and cut glass, and a purse of gold from the family and relatives.

CANNED FOODS. When you heat canned foods empty them from the can and heat them in a double boiler. Heated in the can, even though put in water, there is often enough liquid in the can to cause enough steam for an explosion.

BANANAS. Try using the not quite ripe bananas as a vegetable some time. Cut the fruit in half and stew for 5 minutes in a little water. Drain, cover with cream sauce such as is used for cauliflower, and serve hot.

CREPE. If crepe needs freshening bring the water in the tea kettle to boiling point and then pass the crepe back and forth in the steam. The result will be a fabric almost like new.

GIRDLES. Fancy girdles of all kinds are being used on afternoon dresses. Some of them are made of segments of metal, others of a medium resembling celluloid.

The First Year I Made $475—and Worked Only in My Spare Time

Here is the actual experience of a woman who learned how to turn spare time into money. Read how scores of others are doing it—right in their homes.

By MRS. GEORGE POOL

LIVING on a very small income always calls for courage and strict economy, even when one is in the best of health. But when sickness comes, and big unexpected expenses begin to pile up, it takes a stout heart indeed to face the bills without being filled with despair.

My husband makes a very modest living, but with careful management it was sufficient for our needs. We had no luxuries, but we got along fairly well—until I fell sick. Then followed weeks of worry and doctor's bills, and finally it was decided that the only thing that would really remedy my trouble was a very serious operation.

There were no two ways about it—I had to have the operation—so I did—although we had no idea where the money was to come from. My husband worried about it a good deal, and we both started trying to save, in order to pay the doctor, in time.

All this time I felt that I ought to find some way to help pay our debts, but I wasn't very strong and couldn't do any work that I would have to leave my home to do.

If I Could Only Find Some Home Work

I read the papers and magazines eagerly and considered various things I might do, but everything I thought of always had some big objection—either it didn't pay well enough or required too much effort for my health, or something.

Finally, one Sunday I was reading a magazine and saw a page advertisement that started with the words, "Make Money in Your Own Home."

I read in this article how women everywhere were turning their spare hours into dollars by making socks on a hand-knitting machine called the Auto Knitter. The firm agreed to take and pay for all socks made according to directions by owners of the machine.

This looked practical for me, as it was light work that I could do in the house, so I decided to write for particulars.

When the company's free literature came I studied it eagerly. It was so convincing and reasonable that I felt more certain than ever this was, indeed, the money-making home work that I was seeking. I had such faith in it, that I decided to borrow money enough to order one of the "Auto-Knitter" machines. A friend helped me and I was soon the happy possessor of a way to make money and help pay our debts.

I Started Making Money Almost at Once

With the machine came a fine illustrated instruction book that showed what to do, step by step, and it wasn't long until I had mastered it and was turning out fine, well-knit wool socks to send to the Auto Knitter

"In a month and a half I made, in all, 429 pairs of hosiery."

Hosiery Company in Toronto.

As soon as I had sent a shipment, back came my pay check for the work, together with an amount of yarn to replace that used in the socks sent. The company was always very prompt and the work called for so little effort that I kept at it quite steadily.

In three months' time I had made enough in my spare time to pay back what I had borrowed and my large doctor's bill too. It made me very happy to be able to make extra money at home, for my husband stopped worrying. Besides, I knew the Auto Knitter would help us to have more comforts for our home in the future.

At first I worked only for the Company, sending them shipments of socks and getting my checks back promptly—but soon friends and neighbors learned that I had a knitting machine, and began to give me orders to do knitting for them. Before long I had worked up quite a little home business and could have done more if I had more time to give to it. I have never worked full time—only when I had it to spare—but in the first year I had my Auto Knitter I made $475.00.

Things went along much more smoothly now, although my health was still far from perfect. I was able to help my husband in making our living, as I bought all my own clothes and helped to run the house.

Then last October I had to have another operation. Of course I dreaded it, but this time the prospect did not fill me with despair as before, for I knew that the trusty little Auto Knitter would help to pay the doctor's bill—and so it did.

When I was over the operation I put an ad in the paper and the result was surprising. I received more work than I could hardly do.

In a month and a half I made, in all, 429 pairs of hosiery of various kinds—men's socks, and boys' and girls' stockings. I also made several pairs of mitts.

The people were so pleased with my work that they kept coming back for more, and told others about me. Also three women who saw what lovely work my Auto Knitter did wanted to have one themselves and so I was able to sell three machines for the company.

I could write a good deal more about how the Auto Knitter has helped me but I have told enough to show what a God-send it has proved in helping me and my husband to pay our debts and live better.

We Guarantee a Permanent Market

Mrs. Pool's experience, told here in her own words, is simply one of many. Letters are continually coming in from men and women all over the country telling of similar successes in making money right at home with the Auto-Knitter.

The beauty of the Auto-Knitter home-work plan is that you never have the least bit of trouble disposing of the standard socks that you make on your Auto-Knitter. We enter into a contract, agreeing to take all the standard socks you knit and send to us, paying for them at a fixed guaranteed price per pair.

This contract doesn't restrict you at all. You can work for us as much—or as little—as you please. If you wish to work for a home trade, selling the socks to local stores, or direct to your friends and neighbors, as Mrs. Pool has done, you are perfectly free to do so. But we are always ready to take as much of your standard output as you care to send, paying you good wages—on a piece-work basis—for the time you put in.

Write for Liberal Wage Offer

Of course you are interested. No matter where you live—on a farm, in a small town, or in the heart of a great city—you have the spare-time problem to consider. You want to turn your leisure hours into dollars. And so you would like to know all about the knitting machine that has meant so much to other people. By all means, write to the Auto-Knitter Hosiery (Canada) Company, Ltd., Dept. 1870, Davenport Road, Toronto, Ont., and find out about the pleasant occupation waiting for you—Auto-Knitting. Learn what other folks are doing, and the substantial amounts that even a part of your spare time may yield you.

Remember that previous experience in hand-knitting is not necessary. An inexperienced person without special talent can learn to operate the Auto-Knitter, and turn out standard socks.

You will never regret writing for information about this remarkable machine. Send your name and address now, and find out all of the good things that are in store for you.

CLUB NEWS

What Women Are Accomplishing in London.

"W" WOMEN'S CLUB POSTPONED. Coming to the illness of Miss Marion Higgins, who is to present a paper on the novelists Thomas Hardy at the January meeting of the Women's University Club, it has been found necessary to postpone the meeting planned for the regular date, next Saturday evening, until a week later.

MAKE MRS. CREE PRESIDENT. The election of officers took place at the annual meeting of the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church Ladies' Aid Wednesday evening as follows: Honorary president, Mrs. M. S. Cree; president, Mrs. E. M. Copeland; vice-president, Mrs. Charles Pirie; secretary, Mrs. Joseph Stevenson; treasurer, Mrs. John McFarlane; financial secretary, Mrs. Frank McNail.

Following the election, a dainty supper was served to the retiring officers, after which plans for the future year were discussed.

HAMILTON ROAD W.M.S. The Women's Missionary Society of Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church held their annual meeting this week, when the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. M. S. Cree; vice-president, Mrs. E. M. Copeland; secretary, Mrs. E. M. Copeland; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Pirie; financial secretary, Mrs. John McFarlane; financial secretary, Mrs. Frank McNail.

Following the election, a dainty supper was served to the retiring officers, after which plans for the future year were discussed.

COMING AFTER STATE BALL. Among the important business to come up at the first meeting of the new year of the Municipal Chapter, I. D. E., to be held on Wednesday, Jan. 11, will be arrangements in connection with the entertainment of Lady Gordon, during the first official visit to London of their excellencies in the near future. No definite time for the visit has yet been announced, awaiting the fixing of the date of the state ball at Ottawa. The London visit, it is understood, will not be paid until after ball.

In view of the fact that the meeting next week of the Municipal Chapter will be the last before the nomination for the annual in March, as far as possible business for the past year will be wound up.

C. I. GIRLS ENTER LEAGUES. Notwithstanding the handicap of lack of a gymnasium and anything like adequate opportunity for practice, the Athletic Association of the Catholic girls has decided to go in for the London Basketball League games, and the Western Ontario Secondary School League series. The girls are determined to overcome all obstacles and capture a share of laurels before season is over.

TO ENTERTAIN ORPHANS. The Cherie Club is planning a treat entertainment for the children of the Mount St. Joseph Orphanage in the near future.

NEXT BUSINESS, HEALTH. Officers of the Federation of Business Girls' Clubs of the Y. W. C. A. met at "Lenmore" for supper Thursday evening, and to make further plans in connection with the study program for the year, and the meeting of the Blue Triangle Cabinet next week. A study has already been made of "standards for the home," to be continued for the next two meetings. This will be followed by "The Business Code" and "Health Code." The business girls' view of what constitutes a suitable dress was thoroughly covered at a recent meeting and it is planned to have the view of a student at the next meeting. It is hoped by study of various angles of the subject to arrive at a Canadian standard.

The federation members have decided on a standard for a husband and a wife, and this, it was stated, will shortly be printed.

"QUIET HOUR" HOSTESSES. The residents at the Wellington street residence of the Y. W. C. A. will be hostesses of the quiet hour at "Lenmore," Sunday afternoon, serving tea.

"LIVE WIRES" ORGANIZE. Class No. 3 of Askin Street Methodist Church was reorganized on Wednesday evening under the name of "Live Wires." The motto chosen was "Loyalty." Officers elected were as follows: President, Miss D. Pritchett; vice-president, Miss L. Oke; secretary, Miss E. Curtis; treasurer, Miss D. Roy; membership convener, Miss L. Lashbrook; devotional convener, Miss A. Courts; social convener, Miss M. Dunn; courtesy convener, Miss D. Scott.

STUDIES RELIGIONS AND ART. An interesting address on "Mohammedans and the Moslem Religions" by Rev. Mr. Rose, and an instructive paper on "The Arts as They Work Back to the Home," by Miss Ida Bodkin, were presented at the meeting of the "Live Wires" class on Wednesday evening.

FORM HOCKEY SERIES FOR SECONDARY SCHOOLS OF WEST. ONT.

EXECUTIVE TO DRAW UP SCHEDULE AT MEETING

This Afternoon's Session Also Deals With Eligibility Rules of All Events On Program.

Today hockey will be added to the program of Western Ontario Secondary Schools Association at a meeting of the executive, which is being held at Western University. The demand from the schools throughout Western Ontario has been so insistent that it has been thought advisable to launch into hockey this year. At the same time the eligibility rules for all athletic events being staged under the W. O. S. S. A. will be drawn up, and will probably include a discussion of the prospects of forming for next fall a rugby association.

It is not surprising that the demand for a hockey schedule was so strong. For years the high school and collegiate teams have had to content with games arranged in haphazard fashion and offering little in the way of competition except in the case of schools in the habit of staging inter-school competitions throughout the year, as for instance the London and St. Thomas C. I. S. And even here there was little glory in being winners of this sort of series.

At first glance it would seem that the larger schools would have the advantage in hockey, but it is even less the case than in many of the other sports.

Advantage in Small Towns.

In the cities the colleges will have difficulty in finding covered-rink accommodation, if the light of money is anything like London's. The small schools will have little difficulty from this source. In point of material, too, hockey offers some advantages to the small schools as against the other games.

The whole series should be easily arranged and with every probability of the teams being able to pay their own way through, because some of the schools are so closely situated that compact schedules may be arranged.

ALERTS MAY HAVE PRACTICE TONIGHT

Both Juniors and Intermediates Play Friday Night.

If the weather of Friday night keeps on the biggest part of today Alert Junior and Intermediate O. H. A. teams will go on the ice this evening at the Lytle street arena. If they get the last ice in tonight it will be the last before their next games, as the ice will be taken up with the city of London tonight at 1 o'clock. Both teams play their next games Friday evening, the intermediates open their season here with Tillsonburg as opponents, and the juniors go to Woodstock.

The Alert intermediate and junior players are asked to call the rooms, 4974, this afternoon, to see if there will be a workout tonight. Manhattan Juniors make their first appearance before home fans Monday evening with Glenora. Manhattan has a good-looking bunch of players, and something to be looked for from them.

BOUCHARD READY TO SIGN CONTRACT

MONTREAL, Jan. 6.—"I will sign the contract which Manager Dan. Durand is sending down this afternoon. I will be ready to line up with Canadiens against Ottawa tomorrow night," said Edward Bouchard of Quebec over the long distance telephone to a local paper today.

SPORTS LA CARTE

By C. S. G.

The winter program in London has taxed the available floor space to the limit. In another year it will be found that with the growth of winter athletics, especially women's basketball, the buildings and floors available will not be adequate.

Although it is too late to do anything this year, a suggestion that at little expense, several gyms could be placed at the disposal of the community out to the Western Fair Grounds by utilizing some of the buildings best adapted to the purpose, might not be amiss. It would probably be the best solution to the problem, and the move would surely have the support of the citizens at large.

Several of the buildings out at Queen's Park would be easily adaptable as gyms and they would be serving the community a better purpose than lying idle as they do, for 300 days out of the 365.

Last winter may have been a poor spring year, but probably the men of the state needed the rest, for this year there is much more interest being shown in the ancient pastime. Clubs which were meeting with only partial success in new membership drives have this year expanded to the desired objectives, and much of it has been due to the reawakened interest of the veterans of the game.

Games go stale as well as players. It would be awful what a "wet" summer would do to bowling.

If Johnny Wilson gets barred in a few more states he might even consent to appearing in Toronto.

The soft spell put the blink on all games in the rink. They weren't nice to hear, the sportsmen's naughty thinks.

The Leonard-Dundee fight is off, too. The fans would save a lot of money by reading up the back files on this pair.

A rolling stone may not gather any moss, but a rolling fall gathers in a lotta jack.

SHAMROCKS READY FOR DETROIT FIVE

Play American Team in Pre-Season Fixture Tonight.

London Shamrocks, girl champions of the Ladies' Ontario Basketball Association, leave today at 11:50 via G. T. R. for Detroit, where they play the Detroit Rosary five, champions of the City of Detroit League for the past four years, in a pre-season game. The London girls will use the same line-up against the American team with Pearl Blackwell, Helen Woolley and K. McEvoy will be used on the forward line. Lottie Garrett will play center, and M. Lindsay, E. Holland and Captain Carrie Blackwell will be on the defence.

Shamrocks have not lost a game so far this season, but they are not going to Detroit too confident. They had a good practice Thursday night against the McConnell-Pergason team of the "Y," and along with this and a bit of "skull practice" they had last night they should be in good condition for their game tonight.

The return game will be played at the Y. M. C. A. here next Saturday evening.

AMERICAN LEAGUE OPENS APRIL 12

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Jan. 6.—Announcement of the opening games of the American League baseball schedule was made here today by President Ban Johnson. The season will open April 12, with the following games: St. Louis at Chicago; Detroit at Cleveland; New York at Washington; Philadelphia at Boston.

The season closes on the same date as the National League, Sunday Oct. 1.

SWAT KINGS MEET IN TWO-DAY DUEL

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 6.—Two of the greatest stars in baseball are to engage in a contest for batting honors at New Orleans, March 18 and 19, when Babe Ruth of the Yankees and Rogers Hornsby of St. Louis National champion batter, meet in a two-game spring exhibition series between the two teams. Scheduling of the games was announced today by Branch Rickey, manager of the Cardinals. Exhibition games in the south have been a tradition of the Cardinals of the American League are also planned by the local officials.

300,000 FRANCS UP FOR LEDOUX-CRIQUI FIGHT

PARIS, Jan. 6.—One of the most important ring battles staged here in a decade is set for Jan. 9, when Eugene Criqui, "The Knockout King," meets Charlie Ledoux in a 20-round encounter for the heavyweight championship of Europe, now held by Ledoux.

Should Charlie Ledoux be returned where he has signed up to meet Joe Lynch, Joe Burman, Pete Herman and Johnny Bull. If Criqui wins the fight, Ledoux plans to retire immediately. The purse is the largest ever offered for a pugilistic encounter in France, being 300,000 francs, which will be Alitrock Says Yanks Are Now Ruthless.

THIS line of dope sounds as if it was concocted by Nick Alitrock, the official jester of baseball. The recent deals by the two New York clubs, as well as the now famous Judge Landis decision in the Ruth case, inspired the effusion which runs thusly:

"Attention is called to the fact that the roster of the New York Giants has already begun to grow."

"The Yankees have become ruthless over the decision of Judge Landis."

"At first they were afflicted with Pipp, but hope to Ward off all pennant contenders."

"Great Scott will no longer be a Yankee jinx when in Boston, nor will the Yankee Peck at the Red Sox any more, and won't have to 'Rip' Collins if he goes wild."

"However, we won't be a Harper on the subject, but will go behind a Bush, lest when you read this you will fall into a trap."

Say the rest with flowers.

divided 70 per cent to the winner, 30 per cent to the loser. When Jack Johnson met Frank Moran here in 1914, the stakes amounted to 200,000 francs, which has not yet been paid, owing to legal entanglements.

Soccer World Turned To English Association Cup Tie Games Today

Majority of Players Are On Casualty Lists As Result of Last Saturday's Games—Little Training Being Done—Tottenham Hotspurs Will Leave Nothing To Chance.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—The soccer world here is absorbed in the discussion of the respective merits of tomorrow's English Association Cup tie games. The usual bustling games on the present frost-bound grounds are likely to add to the already heavy casualty lists which are handicapping many clubs, so that final selections of teams will be in most cases left until the day of the game. It is, however, noteworthy that little special training is being done.

Tottenham Hotspurs, in view of their recent experience against Brentford in the second round of the London cup, when the latter forced a second meeting at which they only lost by 2 to 3 goals, will leave nothing to chance. Woolwich Arsenal after last Saturday's display, are endeavoring to field the same side against Queen's Park Rangers, who with one exception are at full strength. Chelsea reports thirteen starters, Millwall's long list of non-assists, Luton's lack of training, and the last Saturday's combination, but unlikely to win on Everton's record.

Why is it, having the two center-halves of the team, suffering from influenza, and their skipper broken down? Both the Nottingham sides are hopeful, being fully represented. The Forest have already two league victories to their credit, against their opponents, Bristol City. Sharnford, although not yet thoroughly fit, was assisted by a strong defense against the last Saturday's combination, but unlikely to win on Everton's record.

The PLAYHOUSE and the MOVIE THEATRE

EDITED BY CARR.

Excellent Plays and Pictures Offered Londoners Next Week

Drama League and Grew Players Present Big Productions, While Grand Bills "The Unloved Wife" For Adults Only.

SOME very fine legitimate plays, as well as splendid moving pictures, are on the theatre bills in London next week.

The Grand Theatre again offers a real worthwhile drama for the last three days of the week, Florence Edna May's play, "The Unloved Wife," which deals with the title problem in such a frank way that children under 16 years of age are not to be allowed admission to the theatre, and the matinees are to be reserved for women.

At the Majestic Theatre the splendid little band of Grew Players will furnish another new play, "The House of Glass," which promises to be an enjoyable offering.

This week, too, London theatre-goers will be given the opportunity of seeing the season's first big production of the London Drama League, "The Duke of Killcrankie," to be presented at the Patricia Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday night by an excellent cast of local talent.

This is the second big effort of the Drama League, which made its public bow to London last year in "The New Lady Bantock."

cause it is being offered for the public. Each monthly meeting of the league, however, sees smaller dramatic productions placed on the boards by some of the finest local talent.

Some very entertaining photoplays will also be furnished the London public by the Grand Theatre next week. For on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Harold Lloyd will be seen there in his new film, "I Do," as well as the attractive movie star, Elaine Hammerstein in "The Girl From Nowhere."

The vaudeville bill also offers for this half of the week promises to be very fine.

"THE UNLOVED WIFE" AT GRAND.

Who was it that said: "Women are seldom what they seem?" No matter, 'tis true. In the new dramatic success, in three acts, "The Unloved Wife," which comes to the Grand Theatre for three days next week, commencing Thursday with daily matinees reserved for women only, Florence Edna May, the authoress, does not follow along the lines of the poet who wrote: "Only a fool tries to understand a woman." Miss May takes the opposite viewpoint: "Only a fool would try not to understand his wife." And there lies a big idea for a wonderful play.

Miss May also saw possibilities for exploitation of a character which has never before been used in dramatic construction. You probably know a dozen couples who are unhappily married. Why? You possibly can advance one reason, but is it correct? Have you ever thoroughly tested the love of your husband? Prof. Earl Barnes, formerly of Leland Stanford University, speaking in Boston at a state social work conference, said: "It is a monstrous thing for any man and woman to live in close intimacy of married life, if they do not love each other ardently."

In a production, stamped as a remarkable play of dramatic power, Florence Edna May unfolds the story of "the woman." True, the play bares a woman's soul, but in handling a subject such as this one, the authoress could not deviate from the original theme, even if it did strike to the heart of theatre-goers, who journey to the theatre for amusement. It is a remarkable story, made into a more remarkable play, and will be offered to theatre patrons with a brilliant company and New York production. The evening performances are for everybody over the age of sixteen.

HAROLD LLOYD AT GRAND.

The first three days of next week will see that superlative gloom-chaser, Harold Lloyd, in his new three-reel release, "I Do." This is the latest Lloyd picture to be offered, and in it the screen comedian has ample opportunity for the display of his talents. In addition to Harold Lloyd, the picture bill at the Grand Theatre will include a Hammerstein feature, "The Girl From Nowhere," one of the best in which this daintiest of screen stars has appeared. In this picture Elaine Hammerstein has a role for which she is particularly well fitted, that of a charming young society girl. The story contains a strong love vein, and the whole picture is one of the best of the Hammerstein productions.

Stars Appearing Next Week in London Film and Stage Land

One of these is Harold Lloyd. The other is his brother Gaylord. They're not twins. If you're tired of guessing, you'll find by going to the Grand Theatre Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, that Harold is on the right.

One of the big scenes from "The Unloved Wife," a gripping play, which comes to the Grand Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

Miss Virginia Mann, who will star in the "House of Glass" at the Majestic Theatre next week.

Lieut.-Col. J. H. Lyne-Evans, who appears as The Duke in the Drama League play at the Patricia Theatre next week.

Elaine Hammerstein, who is starring in the photoplay, "The Girl From Nowhere," at the Grand Theatre next week.

For Constipated Bowels, Sick Headache,
Sour Stomach, Bilious Liver

The most cathartic-laxative in the world to physic your liver and bowels when you have Dizzy Headache, Colds, Biliousness, Indigestion, or Upset, Acid Stomach, is candy-like "Cascarets." One or two tonight will empty your bowels completely by morning, and you will feel splendid. "They work while you sleep." Cascarets never hurt you up or grip like Salts, Pills, Calomel, or Oil and they cost only ten cents a box. Children love Cascarets, too. One or two tonight will empty your bowels.

"Four Ninety" Motor

The Chevrolet valve-in-head motor is famous for its power and economy.

These are the results of simplicity in its construction. There are no side valve chambers as in other types in which much of the force of combustion is wasted and dead gases stored up.

In the valve-in-head motor, fuel is introduced directly into the piston chamber and confined there. Combustion takes place directly over the piston head, which receives the full downward force of the blow. The result is more power with less gasoline consumption and a wider range of control.

The cylinder head is easily removed, permitting ready access to all parts.

Dependability at all times, silence of operation, great hill-climbing ability and long life distinguish the performance of this motor.

New Board of Education To Discuss Question of City Finance Commissioner.

Whether a finance commissioner for London as proposed by the chamber of commerce will receive the support of the 1922 board of education will be definitely decided by the members of No. 1, No. 2 and the advisory vocational committees of that body at an early meeting. Raised for discussion at the Thursday night this question was referred to the three committees for definite consideration, with the understanding that any decision must be governed entirely by the action of the city council.

Referred from last year's board the suggestion to increase the number of school dental clinics was referred again, after certain discussion, to No. 1 committee for a report.

Questions affecting the present penny bank system in the schools and the proposal by Retiring Chairman Colledge to uniform all school cadets, were also referred back to the same committee.

Collegiate Students To Meet in Windsor and Brantford Contests.

ENTHUSIASM RUNS HIGH

Rules To Govern Competitions Sent To All District Principals.

Much interest has been manifested by the school children of Western Ontario in two oratorical contests which will take place in February under the auspices of the Western Ontario Secondary Schools Association.

The boys' oratorical contest will be held at Brantford on or about Feb. 25. A. M. Vowles, of Brantford Collegiate Institute, who is a member of the executive committee of the association, is very optimistic over the contest. W. D. Lowe, principal of the Windsor Collegiate Institute, and C. S. Campbell, a member of the executive committee from the Windsor Collegiate Institute are equally enthusiastic over the girls' oratorical contest, which will be held in Windsor on the same date.

Preliminary contests are being held in most districts on or about Feb. 11. The names of the winners in each district must be in the hands of the secretary by Feb. 15.

Will Train Orators.

Judging from the entries and enthusiasm taken in the contests by the school children, the problem of orators for Western Ontario seems to have been solved.

The rules which have been drawn up to govern the oratorical contests, and sent to all the schools in Western Ontario, are:

Each competitor shall be permitted to speak for fifteen minutes. Three minutes before the allotted time is up, the chairman shall warn the speaker according to a plan arranged and explained beforehand by those in charge of each local or final contest.

The subjects selected by the speakers shall be of general interest, and shall be chosen from a list of subjects submitted by the secretary of the W. O. S. S. A.

The name of the subject must not be selected by any representative or any school in more than one annual final contest within a period of five years. The same subject may or may not be selected by a competitor in both the district and final contest in any year.

Judging Rules Fixed.

The judging of the oratorical efforts shall be on the basis of 60 per cent for matter, and 40 per cent for style.

There shall be three judges for each district, and three for each final contest, appointed by the secretary of the W. O. S. S. A. The expenses of the judges shall be paid out of the proceeds of the competition.

The judging shall be done by the judges sitting apart in the hall. After fifteen minutes has elapsed the judges shall hand their written decisions to the chairman, who will announce the winners on these decisions.

Members of the staff may direct speakers as to form of address, and sources of information, but should not analyze, or discuss the subject, or criticize style, grammar, or material of a prepared address.

Any student who shall have been registered as a regular student in the day classes of the Secondary School at least three weeks prior to the district contest, and shall have attended at least 75 per cent of the regular school days intervening between registration and the date of the contest, in which the said student desires to take part, shall be eligible to compete.

Each contestant shall submit to the judges, in both the district and final contests, a certificate of eligibility signed by the principal of the school represented by the said contestant.

List of Subjects Given.

The subjects which are to be used in the contests are:

The Disarmament Conference, The League of Nations, Peace, War, Electricity, The Airplane in Peace and War, Canada's Waterways, Ontario's Mineral Wealth, The Fisheries of Canada, Hydro-Electric Development in Ontario, Democracy, Co-operative Societies, Insurance, Forest Fires and Their Prevention, Ontario's Vacant Farms, Agriculture—Past, Present and Future, Science—Ancient and Modern, Sanitation, The Place of Party Politics in Responsible Government, The Tariff—Its Uses and Abuses, Game-Conservation and Protection, Vocational Education, Town-planning, The Modern Library, The Consolidated School, The School Garden, Ideals, The Greatest Man in Canadian History, The British Empire, Oriental Immigration, A Canadian Writer, Unemployment, Trade Unions, Transportation Problems, Canada's Coal Fields, Thrift and Waste, The Government of the United States, The Slum—Cause and Remedy, Woman in Politics, The Future of Canada, Pioneer Life in Ontario, The Smoke Nuisance, Physical Training, The Literary Society, The Senate of Canada, The Modern University, The Anglo-Saxon People, Citizenship, The People of Canada, The Northland of Canada.

TO OPEN BIDS ON RAIL WORK SOON

NORTH BAY, Jan. 5.—Hon. E. C. Drury, premier of Ontario, and Hon. P. C. Biggs, minister of public works, will be in North Bay on Monday of next week, when tenders for the T. and N. O. extension from Coburne to The Can. Fort, will be opened and considered, and when the contract will in all probability be let.

This announcement was made by Chairman George Lee of the T. and N. O. commission.

CRITICIZE CHOOSING OF FEMALE MAGISTRATE

TORONTO, Jan. 5.—The appointment of a woman magistrate for Toronto, Dr. Margaret Patterson, is being criticized at the city hall. Mayor-elect Alfred Maguire finds fault with Attorney-General W. E. Ramey for having made the appointment without having consulted the civic authorities and says, so far as he is concerned, the city will not concur in the appointment. City Solicitor William Johnston is quoted as saying the city has no authority to pay the salary fixed for the woman magistrate, $2,500.

NEW ACQUISITION TO RUGGLES NATION-WIDE SELLING ORGANIZATION

ARTHUR JOHN SCANLAN, THE Ruggles Motor Truck Company, Limited, of London, Ont., has just added to its staff Mr. Arthur John Scanlan, with the appointment of district sales manager for the province of Quebec.

Mr. Scanlan is a Montrealeur born, and at home in both French and English.

He first entered the automobile field in 1903, as a member of the Pierce-Arrow staff at Buffalo, later joining the selling force of the Le-gare Automobile and Supply Company, Limited, Montreal, which post he left to become part of the Ruggles organization.

WINDMILL FIRM GETS ORDER FROM CYPRUS

The manner in which Canadian manufacturers are again reaching out toward foreign markets is shown clearly in the records of export shipments.

An item of the unusual type appearing recently was that of a shipment of $12,000 worth of windmills by the Ontario Wind, Engine and Pump Co., Ltd., to the island of Cyprus.

CLAIM FURNITURE LEADS IN BIG COMMODITY CUT

Furniture has dropped more than any other article, except food, says the leading furniture journal of the country.

The figures showing percentage of decline during 1921 for all commodities listed were as follows: Groceries, 49 per cent; furniture, 48 per cent; men's shoes, 38 per cent; women's shoes, 42 per cent; cotton dressgoods, 38 per cent; women's suits, 34 per cent; silk hosiery, 33 per cent; men's suits, 30 per cent; china, 24 per cent; pianos, 16 per cent.

It is doubtful, says the journal, whether furniture will remain at this level, as lumber is advancing, and other articles have reached rock bottom, some extent. Furniture will probably be stabilized at 23-1-3 per cent below 1920 prices, which means that it will advance later nearly 15 per cent.

HEAVY REGISTRATION REPORTED AT "TECH"

The registration for evening and special afternoon classes at the Technical School has been so large that places cannot be reserved for former students after next week. A number of additional classes have been started to take care of the new students enrolling for the winter term.

There is still room in the cooking, millinery, dressmaking and embroidery classes for women and girls, and in the working and electrical classes for men. New classes are also being started in all commercial subjects for students entering for the three months' course, and the registration will continue each evening and afternoon next week until all the classes are filled.

IN WINTER'S GARB.

Algonquin Park is now covered with its mantle of snow, and many people from all over Canada, guests at the Highland Inn, are enjoying the winter sports and having a beautiful and splendid holiday. When you get on the trail in this delightful region for a snowshoe tramp you at once feel the wonderful effect of the air, the scent of the balsam, pine, spruce and hemlock and the invigorating tang that is in the atmosphere. Other sports offered are skating, skiing (special ski runs have been arranged) and tobogganing. Unexperienced pleasure seekers, themselves on the visitor at every breath and turn. The Highland Inn offers good accommodation at reasonable rates. An illustrated booklet telling you all about it may be had from any Grand Trunk ticket agent, or C. E. Horning, D. P. A., Toronto, Ont.

FAVOR BAN ON GAS AS WEAPON IN FUTURE WARS

Armament Committee At Washington Approves Under-sea Boat Suppression.

ROOT DRAWS RESOLUTION

Plans To Remove Coming Wars of All-Its Horrors.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 6.—A five-power conference to impose the age-old penalties for piracy against naval commanders who violate accepted laws of naval warfare, was approved today by the armament committee of the Washington conference.

It completed the formula for suppression of the U-boat terrorism at sea and the committee then moved forward toward a proscription of gas warfare on sea or land.

Again Elihu Root drew the resolution to effect prohibition. Again an immediate five-power conference to ban gas or other similar chemical weapons as beyond the pale of humane tolerance is proposed, to be worked out later by world agreement into the fabric of an international law. And again it seemed certain that war in the future would be stripped of others of the horrors German ingenuity let loose on the world.

Italy gave prompt assent to the anti-gas project as "a real step in the path of progress and civilization."

Adjournment of the committee prevented the views of other delegations from being presented, but all were said to favor the ban on gas warfare.

As the naval experts shaping technical questions in the naval limitation section of the forthcoming treaty still were wrangling over questions to make clear the agreements they have already reached, the armament committee adjourned on call.

The navy men toiled all day in the hope of concluding tonight, but without success.

They will complete their work tomorrow, however, and the full committee will be in a position to resume Monday with the way cleared for quick framing of the naval limitation treaty and its omnibus burden of allied peace, understandings and declarations.

It was not definitely decided tonight whether the anti-gas declaration was to be incorporated in the voluminous treaty that will be required to cover the naval understanding. It may be put forth as a separate product of the conference if final approval is given the prohibitory resolutions.

It seemed more likely, however, that it would go into the general treaty, soon to be laid before the armament committee for final action.

CHINESE BALK AT LOAN.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 6.—The Shantung conversations between the Japanese and Chinese delegates were adjourned sine die late today when the Chinese declined to accept a Japanese counter-proposal for payment of the Kiaow Chow-Tsinan Fu Railway by a 15-year loan redeemable in China in five years upon six months' notice.

Japanese delegates found unacceptable the two Chinese alternative proposals, "in their present form," saying for a single immediate cash payment or installments covering 12 years with an option to take up remaining notes within a shorter period.

The Chinese offer included the appointment of a Japanese chief engineer for the restoration of China of the Kiaow Chow-Tsinan Fu line by means of the fifteen-year loan from Japanese capitalists.

he said, he said, would have full title to the road, but would agree to designate a Japanese traffic manager and chief accountant, and if the loan were rendered, the obligation to Japanese experts would cease.

"Unfortunately, we were unable to reach an agreement today," he continued, "but we may meet tomorrow or Monday. We feel that our position is entirely clear, but China says that our latest proposal is not acceptable. The Chinese delegates proposed an immediate cash payment for the deferred payments, but we do not desire to sell to China the railroad property."

Decline Intervention.

The Japanese, he said, had no intention at the present time of asking intervention by Arthur J. Balfour and Secretary Hughes, although, he said, the Chinese might consult with the heads of the British and United States delegations, "under which good offices" the conversations were begun several weeks ago in an attempt to settle the dispute "outside the arms conference."

The Japanese proposal which the Chinese declined was based on direct instructions from Tokyo. The proposal, Mr. Hanibara said, provided for the restoration of China of the Kiaow Chow-Tsinan Fu line by means of the fifteen-year loan from Japanese capitalists.

he said, he said, would have full title to the road, but would agree to designate a Japanese traffic manager and chief accountant, and if the loan were rendered, the obligation to Japanese experts would cease.

"Unfortunately, we were unable to reach an agreement today," he continued, "but we may meet tomorrow or Monday. We feel that our position is entirely clear, but China says that our latest proposal is not acceptable. The Chinese delegates proposed an immediate cash payment for the deferred payments, but we do not desire to sell to China the railroad property."

HERALDS DAWN OF PROSPEROUS ERA IN MALTA

Opening of Parliament Big Moment in History of Mediterranean Isle.

ENTERS COMMONWEALTH

New Addition to the British Empire Manifests Deepest Loyalty On Prince's Visit.

Valetta, Malta, Jan. 6.—Malta's recent entry into the British commonwealth of nations, signalled by the impressive inauguration of the new Maltese constitution and the opening of parliament by the Prince of Wales, most certainly marked an auspicious moment in the history of the island.

The visit of the Prince of Wales will long be remembered by the Maltese people, who expressed their affectionate regard for the crown and the royal house by one of the most remarkable demonstrations of loyalty and good will that possibly his royal highness will ever witness.

The greatness of the opportunity that now lies before Malta was referred to by Colonel Amery in his speech at a complimentary luncheon given Thursday at Silima in honor of Mr. Rooth, deputy speaker of the parliament of the Union of South Africa, and himself.

Doubted Feat's Success.

Commenting upon his personal efforts in framing Malta's new constitution, Colonel Amery said he had realized the difficulties of reconciling the full development in Malta of a vigorous national life, especially on its political side, with the duty of the Imperial government to safeguard the many important Imperial interests which centered in Malta as the pivot of naval power in the Mediterranean—interests which, from the economic point of view, were also vital to Malta's prosperity.

He had convinced himself, however, that these difficulties were not insuperable if only the spheres of local and Imperial interests could be kept clearly defined from each other, and that it was possible, and consequently right and necessary, to give to the Maltese people the full responsible control of their own local affairs, in administration as well as in legislation, to which the Imperial government of civilization and intelligence entitled them.

Once the decision was arrived at, Colonel Amery said, it was necessary to embody it in a formal constitution. In dealing with that task he was guided throughout by the desire to make it, as far as possible, a Maltese constitution adjusted to local conditions and inspired by local ideas. Subject always to the general scheme of this constitution, based on that clear definition between Imperial and local matters, which was as essential to Malta as a safeguard of liberties as it was necessary for the purposes of Imperial security, he had endeavored to incorporate in it the main features of many of the details of the plan drawn up by Malta's national assembly under the guidance of Sir Filippo Sciberras, as well as many other suggestions made during the discussion on the first draft.

Took Work Seriously.

Colonel Amery further declared that in any case where he had to consider any particular point he had endeavored not to treat it as a mere dry question of constitution-making, but he had tried to visualize Malta and its people as he had seen them and got to know them in order to arrive at the solution which would be most comfortable to their character and history. The result was, he trusted, a constitution which would naturally and without need for serious readjustment, furnish an adequate framework for Malta's new national life.

"The task before you is no easy one," Colonel Amery declared, "but it is one which opens out a wonderful opportunity. In the future, your task will be to continue the development of the national character, not attempting to mold it into a mere imitation of anything else but assimilating into it whatever you can usefully take from any other part of the British commonwealth or even from foreign countries."

Have Common Ties.

"More than a quarter of the people of the world in every region of the habitable earth, men of every race and creed, are at every stage of civilization, by the fact of their being citizens of the British commonwealth, bound not only to permanent peace with each other, but to mutual co-operation, helpfulness and loyalty in peace and in war."

British Security Safest.

"The British Empire thus, through mutual co-operation, provides the freest play and the greatest security for the development of the national life of each of its constituent parts, great or small; it also offers the widest scope for the free development of the individual. Its institutions are based on personal freedom and its wide extent give that freedom increased value and opportunity. You citizens of Malta are, as British subjects, citizens of every part of the British Empire. In England, in Canada, in South Africa, wherever you are, you are fellow-citizens, and as such entitled to rise to any position in that state."

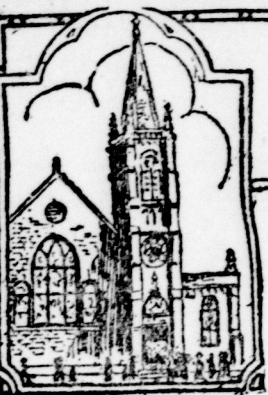

"While bidding you to throw yourself into the task of developing and enriching a truly national life, and spirit here in Malta," Colonel Amery concluded, "I would urge you to keep in mind no less for Malta as a whole, and for those of her sons whose spirit moves them to look beyond its narrow confines, the greatness of your heritage and opportunity as partners of the British commonwealth. It is for you to make Malta both a center of progress, civilization and culture for the whole Mediterranean, and a beacon light of Imperial patriotism as it is already a bulwark of Imperial defence. And for you, members of Malta's first parliament, I can wish nothing better than that your successors will ever look back to you with gratitude for setting a high standard of parliamentary duty and for laying soundly and truly, the foundations of a prosperous, happy and brilliant national life."

ADVISES STUDY OF FRENCH LANGUAGE

Dean Tucker Believes Knowledge Would Cement Relations of Canadians.

INGERSOLL, Jan. 6.—Dean Tucker of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, was a very interesting speaker at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club today. The subject of his address was "The Resources and History of Canada." The speaker made reference to the vast water power available in Canada. The population of Sorel, Que., where he was born, and which was originally inhabited by United Empire Loyalists, had become almost entirely French, he said. In this connection the speaker mentioned that the Frenchmen always styled themselves "Canadian." They worked together as a unit. He believed that it would be to the advantage of all Canadians to learn the French language and read French history in order that the whole country might work together in unison and probably avoid in the future conditions similar to those being experienced in Ireland.

Ninety per cent of the world's supply of cloves is grown in Zanzibar and Pemba, islands off the coast of Africa.

Come To Church Tomorrow

"YES, I know all the excuses. I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees or by a running brook, or in a man's own house, just as well as in a church. But I also know as a matter of fact the average man does not thus worship."

Here are a few benefits to be derived from church attendance:

"You will listen to and take part in reading some beautiful passages from the Bible. And if you are not familiar with the Bible, you have suffered loss."

"You will take part in singing some good hymns."

"You will meet and nod or speak to good neighbors. You will come away feeling a little more charitably inclined toward all the world, even toward those excessively foolish young men who regard church-going as a soft performance."

"Join in church work for the sake of showing your faith in your works."

Make your start in church service tomorrow. A fair trial of church attendance will convince you it's well worth while.

WARDSVILLE, Jan. 6.—There was no poli held in this village Monday as only two of those nominated for the council qualified. Consequently the village clerk has announced next Monday, the 9th, when further nominations will be made, and the polling to take place on Monday the 16th.

W. H. Parrill of Newbury opened business here Tuesday morning, having taken over the grocery, drygoods, and boot and shoe business of James A. Mulligan.

Geo. Pauls has opened his hardware business with Ross Archer as clerk.

Chit Davis has rented Dan McEneaney's store, and will collect and ship cream for the Ontario Creameries Company, Limited, of London.

Ethel Purdy has rented the shop adjoining the postoffice, and will also handle cream and eggs.

My Favorite Verse in the Bible

BY REV. J. M. NICOL, B.D.
LISTOWEL, ONT.

REV. J. M. NICOL, B.D.

A FAVORITE TEXT of the Bible is the first verse of the 46th Psalm: "God is our refuge and our strength."

Man's supreme needs in life are for defence and power; defence from the forces that crush him and destroy him in his frailty and helplessness, and power to accomplish life's purposes.

The Psalmist felt this need in the distant age in which he lived, and he found in God what he required.

Christ has made it possible for all to find in God the defence and the power which we require, and we sing with even fuller joy than did the ancient singer, "God is our refuge and our strength."

Sometimes life's foes are those of flesh and blood. We need God to defend us from plotting and wicked men. We can look to Him under such condition for help.

I think it was Dr. McKay of Formosa who told before an assembly in Canada of once being attacked by a mob as he was preaching in a heathen town. It looked as if death were at hand; but he prayed and waited, and a chance for escape came, and as he looked back and saw his pursuers baffled and foiled, he sang:

"God is our refuge and our strength,
In straits a present aid.
Therefore, altho' the earth be moved,
We will not be afraid."

This is but an illustration of the shelter God can be to us against the foes of trouble, sickness and death, and those moral and spiritual enemies before whom we sometimes seem helpless to protect ourselves.

But God is our strength. God is a God who helps to do things. Life has its high and stimulating demands. "Ye shall be perfect as your Father in heaven is perfect."

Everyone hears the echo of that call sent back by his own highest self, in words like, "Do the best that is in you."

FATHERS' INTEREST MOST HOPEFUL SIGN

Mrs. Courtice Talks About Home-School Movement.

"One of the most hopeful signs in connection with the Home and School Movement in Ontario is the interest which the fathers, as well as the mothers, are manifesting, especially in the rural districts," was the first-hand information, brought to London on the 5:30 o'clock train, G. T. R., Friday afternoon, by Mrs. A. C. Courtice of Toronto, organizing secretary of the Ontario Federation.

"My heart has been warmed again and again by the interest and sympathetic co-operation of the men in the rural districts," continued Mrs. Courtice, "especially in the one-room schools. I am finding the trustees responsible, willing to make improvements, buying pianos for the schools, because they see that the school is becoming a social centre for the neighborhood. Possibly the Trustees' Association has had something to do with bringing about this open-minded attitude. In any case, the Home and School Movement is making its way and commending itself. By the way, we prefer the term 'Home and School' to 'Mothers' Club' for the reason that it includes the fathers as well. And it is just as important, every bit, that the fathers should be interested in the welfare of their children, and co-operate with the schools, as it is to have the mothers thoroughly awakened and active in their efforts."

Non-Progressive Teachers, Too.

What about the attitude of teachers?

"I can tell you this," said Mrs. Courtice, "they are not all the same. Progressive teachers, as well as parents and trustees, teachers who hesitate about the organization of a club because they are afraid it will mean interference for them. I can only think of one or two instances where organization did not work out satisfactorily. The teachers, almost without exception, find that the club is a help to them, creates a better understanding of their work, and promotes co-operation in the truest sense between home and the school."

"Only two years since the federation was formed, the growth of the movement in that time has been remarkable throughout the province. I am continually getting calls to go here and there to organize and, in all, we now have 170 or 180 clubs in the federation. The movement is spreading into the high schools, and has been taken up in several Toronto colleges, in Woodstock, Port Arthur, Kingston."

"The idea opened up in the public schools as it did in London, and for a long time people had an idea it was especially adapted to the public school age. Now it is being realized that the teen age is a most important one for boys and girls, and that it is vitally important that there should be close co-operation between the young and schools at that period of development."

Pre-School Age.

"But the efforts are not confined to school age. The most necessary work of all we consider is that of prevention. We want to interest the young mothers and fathers in our aims and work before they have children of school age."

"We want to enlist the interest of young married people before they have children, in order to get them thinking seriously about education, moral as well as mental, and the physical welfare of the children that will later come into their homes. Our work stands for preparedness, as well as promoting co-operation between homes and schools in the best interests of the children."

Mrs. Courtice touched upon the support which is being given to the Home and School Movement by other organizations, such as the Local Councils of Women, the Women's Institutes, Catholic Women's League.

"Thanks to the co-operation of the Catholic Women's League," she stated, "the work has grown rapidly in the separate schools. The separate school clubs are affiliated with us in Toronto and Windsor. The Women's Institutes have in many cases appointed home and school committees, but the work cannot be so effective as when there is organization in connection with each individual school. The Institute, as a rule, covers several school districts."

The provincial organizer, who had come to town to confer with the Union Mothers' Club, expressed her gratification to what had been done by the federation in Windsor during the recent election. "The Home and School Federation," she said, "brought out a candidate for the school board who stood for their ideals. And they elected him."

While in the city Mrs. Courtice is the guest of Mrs. Harry White, River-view avenue.

ARE UNLIKELY TO SPLIT WITH BOARD

SARNIA, Jan. 6.—Sarnia Separate School Board members are unlikely to follow the steps taken by the Toronto members and withdraw from the board of education, according to an official statement issued tonight by members of the board. According to Dr. C. R. MacDonald, a representative of the separate school board on the board of education, no situation exists in Sarnia such as in Toronto at the present time.

Speaking on the subject, C. L. Brown, principal of the collegiate institute, said that no new Roman Catholic pupils had entered the college at the opening of the fall term, because a continuation class had been established in the separate school for first year students, but that several Catholic pupils are now attending the collegiate. The exact number of the latter could not be ascertained without checking up the records, he stated.

"Diapepsin" for Bad Stomach, Indigestion

Take "Pape's Diapepsin" now! In five minutes your stomach feels fine. Don't bother what upset your stomach, or which portion of the food did the damage. If your stomach is sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; you belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear. If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antidote is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only sixty cents for a large case at drug stores.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and known, and it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less. Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugstore, pour it into a 16-oz bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time. It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, asthmatic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine bark, and is the only one ever for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for Pinex. It is Pinex with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

CLAIMS EFFORT MADE TO APPLY TAR, FEATHERS

Morris Doan of Kingsmill Lays Charge Against Eleven Men.

MOTHER DEFENDS SON

Calls For Help After Trying To Drive Off the Raiders.

[Special to London Advertiser.]

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 6.—Eleven residents of Kingsmill will be arraigned in the county court Thursday, Jan. 12, on a charge of breaking and entering with intent to commit an indictable offence as the result of a raid on the dwelling of Morris Doan at that village on Jan. 5, and an alleged attempt to tar and feather Lyman Doan, a son. The charge was laid before Magistrate Hunt at the county court on Friday by Morris Doan, who brought two neighbors as witnesses.

The story told by the three men started the police, and the surprise was intensified by the fact that each of the men said to be implicated were reputed very respectable citizens. Because the raiders were not masked, Mr. Morris Doan testified that he would be able to identify each and every one of them. Mr. Doan stated that the attack occurred about 11 o'clock at night after everyone except he and his wife had gone to bed. He had gone into the yard to get some wood when the band of men, many of them armed with clubs, rushed from the front gate.

When they shouted that they had come for the son whom they claimed had done things displeasing to the neighborhood, Mr. Doan ran to the house, and with the aid of his wife barred the door. They, however, were overpowered.

Despite the pleas of both the husband and wife, the men started to mount the stairs, but Lyman, having heard the noise, stood at the head of the stairs armed with a bed stick.

When the rush was halted one of the men, Mr. Morris claimed, seized a milk pail and hurled it at Lyman's head. Several nasty cuts about the face were inflicted.

Mrs. Doan then frantically endeavored to drive the men from the house, but one of them struck her arm, injuring it. Unaided, however, she escaped from the house and called for him, Alfred Potts, a brother, and a neighbor, John Conlin, responded to the call and hurried to the scene. On their approach the raiders retreated, but left them a house badly disordered, with many broken dishes scattered about the rooms.

Lyman Doan swore that he had received no threats, and that he knew nothing of the impending attack. Crown Attorney McCrimmon, however, stated that certain men had threatened to tar and feather young Doan.

W. H. Barnum, barrister, of Aylmer has been retained to defend the eleven Kingsmill residents alleged to have participated in the raid. Mr. Barnum stated, when interviewed, that the whole matter was somewhat of a joke and that it had been greatly exaggerated.

He emphatically denied that the defendants broke into the house in the manner claimed.

Since the raid the Doan family is alleged to have moved from Kingsmill.

When the raid was over, the house was left in a state of confusion, with many broken dishes scattered about the rooms.

Ontario House Will Open Next Month With Two Seats Vacant

TORONTO, Jan. 6.—The Ontario Legislature will open about mid-February, probably on the second Tuesday of the month, with two vacant seats—Russell and Southey.

Demase Racine and John O'Neill, who occupied the seats, were both Liberals, and their loss reduced the Liberal membership to 25.

According to the statutes 41 days must elapse between the issuance of the by-election writs and voting, so it is impossible to have members returned in time.

Voting in the Kingston constituency, made vacant by the resignation of Gen. Ross, M.P.-elect, is to take place on Feb. 5.

The two ridings before the opening of the session at the anticipated date.

In the case of Russell, at least, there is some disposition to hold off the by-election until the worst of the winter weather is past. It is not unlikely, however, that Ontario may witness a midseason election, in which case the elected candidate could take his seat in the house for the balance of the session.

The children, ten in number, were barred from the school on Jan. 3 on order of the trustees because their parents refused to pay any fee or tax, declaring that as civil servants living on government property they were exempt. The trustees deemed otherwise, and the above drastic action was taken.

Appeal was then made to the department of education at Toronto, with the result that Frank Anderson, secretary of the school board, was informed that the department would pay $250 towards the youngsters' tuition. This was considered satisfactory by Mr. Anderson and his colleagues, and Dr. Mitchell of Westminster Hospital was informed that the dove of peace was perched high on the schoolhouse.

The pupils were all back in their places Friday morning.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MART CONTINUES ERRATIC COURSE

Dealings On Wall Street Diminish With Liquidations.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The stock market today continued its recent erratic course. Dealings diminished somewhat and there were only occasional traces of involuntary liquidation.

Such strength as was shown by the stock list resulted mainly from easier money rates. Call loans fell from 4½ per cent to 2½ per cent at midday, the figure representing the lowest quotation in almost six months.

Time money rates also relaxed, 30 and 60-day loans being liberally offered on mixed collateral at 4½ per cent. In private transactions loans of this character, extending in some instances to 90 days, were reported at 4½ per cent.

Oils, shipping and motors rebounded one to almost three points from yesterday's final prices, but fell back for the most part, the assurance directed against General Asphalt and various specialties before the close.

American and Baldwin Locomotives, Mercantile Marine preferred, American International and Mexican Petroleum International were among the few conspicuously strong issues. Ralls were a negligible factor. Total sales amounted to 600,000 shares.

Substantial improvement accompanied the moderate decline in 21½ to 24½. The better tone was ascribed to latest developments at the arms conference in Washington and cables announced that Germany and Russia are to participate in an international economic conference, called by the Allied Supreme Council.

Liberty bonds added to their recent popularity and first mortgage rails strengthened on a substantial investment program, but industrial issues eased and foreign issues showed no definite trend. Total sales (par value), aggregated $17,275,000.

Revision Committee Told Ontario Pays More Than Buffalo.

TORONTO, Jan. 6.—The question of whether fire insurance rates in Ontario are not much too high was brought sharply before the special committee on revision of the insurance law at today's session in the parliament buildings, and indications point to a coming struggle between provincial authorities seeking to remedy the situation and the insurance companies.

Evans Gray, superintendent of insurance, presented statistics to show that Toronto and other centres in Ontario were paying considerably more for insurance than Buffalo and Detroit. He showed that the rate is 38c per $100 in Buffalo on first-class residences and has been for three years. Toronto, for example, until the recent reduction, were paying 58c, and are still asked to pay 50c. Mr. Gray believed that the insured in Ontario generally were at a similar disadvantage in comparison with New York state. During the last thirty or forty years there had been a steady increase in the cost of securing insurance in Ontario and practically no reduction in rates, despite the improvement in construction of buildings and the advance in fire protection measures.

The agencies, through a representative, Mr. Brown, objected strongly to any interference with commissions by legislation. Hon. W. E. Hanson retorted that if the committee saw need for a remedy in the public interest it would not greatly concern itself about the objections of the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association.

CURED HIS RHEUMATISM!

"I am 83 years old, and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army, over 50 years ago. Like many others, I suffered freely from so-called 'cures' and I have read about 'Uric Acid' until I could almost taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain, my joints were so sore that I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can walk with ease. I was all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change." You might just as well attempt to put out a fire with oil as try to get rid of your rheumatism, neuritis and like complaints by taking treatment supposed to drive the "Uric Acid" out of your blood and body. I took Mr. Ashelman fifty years to find out the truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, other disorders, and recover his strength from "The Inner Mysteries," now being distributed freely by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble. If any reader of The Advertiser wishes "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism," overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, and a most interesting letter to H. P. Clearwater, 42nd street, New York, N. Y., send now lest you forget. If not a sufferer, cut out this notice and hand this good news and opportunity to some afflicted friend. All who send will receive it by return mail without any charge whatever.

YOUR future is in your own hands. Only by persistent saving — by creating a reserve fund — can you face the future confidently.

A Savings Account may become your pillar of strength. A steadily increasing reserve of money not only adds to your present comfort, but will ultimately bring you independence.
