CITY RECOUNT POSTPONED TILL NEXT MONDAY

Mr. Baxter Wants Government to Pay Expenses Figured to Be an Eighty-Hour Task — W. M. Ryan States Instructions to Raise No Technical Objections to Recount.

Preliminary action was taken this morning before Judge Armstrong in the matter of a recount of the votes cast in the city during the recent provincial general election...

Dr. Baxter announced that Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., and he were acting for the applicant, George A. Blair, and D. Mullin, K. C., represented the respondent, W. M. Ryan...

After the judge announced that this was the day for the recount of the ballots cast in the city in the recent election, Mr. Ryan said that, while not admitting in law the sufficiency in law of the affidavit of George A. Blair, he had been instructed to raise no technical objection to the application...

Mr. Ryan, in answer said that, touching on the matter of Mr. Baxter's doubt of his sincerity, personally he did not think that Mr. Blair had the grounds for a recount as required by law...

The judge said that it would be impossible for him to check, count and tally the ballots by himself and he would have to be given assistance in doing so. Should he be given assistance in doing so, he would have to be given assistance in doing so...

Mr. Ryan said that he was not prepared to assume any responsibility in this connection until he had consulted his clients and he therefore asked for postponement. The judge therefore set Monday morning at 11 o'clock for the resumption of the hearing.

The police court docket this morning was composed of the case of Joseph Blizel, aged thirty years, charged with assaulting Anne Chaisson, at East St. John, yesterday morning...

BROTHERS SAY THERE WAS DRINK ON AUTO TRIP

Geo. Chisholm Found Dead in His Car

Williamson Men, Who Were With Him, Said to Be Known in St. John — He Had Written Here Few Days Ago About Lumber Property.

Two, N. S., Oct. 22.—A verdict in the case of George Chisholm, lumber owner of Oxford, who was found dead in a deserted automobile in the main street of Londonderry yesterday, is being withheld pending an investigation by Coroner T. J. Johnson of Gagetown...

The Williamsons say that they arrived in Oxford from St. John on last Monday evening, that on Thursday they left for Londonderry by way of Pugwash and Victoria, that soon after starting on this trip they picked up Mr. Chisholm. They say they had whiskey and six or eight bottles of Jamaica ginger and were driving on the road when Chisholm was killed...

They say they separated the strange man from Chisholm and the former went away. They do not know who they were and do not know which way they went. After fixing the blow out, they say they proceeded to the village of Dutton bridge, near Londonderry, when Chisholm, who was in rather bad state, desired to be taken back to the car and started to get out...

Soon after that they say they got off the road and ran into a log and could not get the car started and all three went to sleep in the car, the Williamson in the rear seat and Chisholm in the back seat. Robert Williamson says he awakened later, struck a match and looked at his watch and it was four o'clock and still dark. He awakened his brother William and called to Chisholm in the rear seat and asked him if he was warm. Receiving no answer, he says he turned around and shook him and discovered that he was dead. He was down on his knees on the floor of the car with his head and arms on the cushion...

The body of Chisholm shows that he had a black eye and had undoubtedly been in a fight, but the bruises and outward injuries would not appear to have been sufficient to have caused death. It was said he had consumed a large amount of Jamaica ginger and had whiskey. An autopsy was held on the body and the stomach was sent to Halifax for examination.

The Williamson brothers mentioned in this despatch are reported to be from Toronto. Local police said this morning that a Robert Williamson and his brother had a license in this city to carry on a fur business and did a peddling business through the country also. They were said to be working for a large importing house in Toronto selling furs, which were stored in a safe place. This was done as there was no room to place all the ballot boxes in safety, as had been done in the county.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I know of nothing more conducive to rejection and serene contemplation than waiting for a street car in St. John."

"That is very strange," said the reporter, "it makes me bibe."

"Well," said Hiram, "you need all the time there is, if you're waitin' fer a street car."

"That's so," said Hiram. "They're all busy with the service and wonderin' whether they'll get somewhere today or they'll wait till tomorrow."

"Well," said Hiram, "especially if your umbrella leaks on the sides of your boots ain't too thick."

"I spent nearly half an hour in reflection last evening on a street car," said the reporter, "and as a result I am certain I know exactly how to catch a whinching cold. The knowledge will be of great value."

"I'm glad you take it that way. It shows you're a St. John man—all right."

CITY HALL WILL INDULGE IN NEW PASTIME SHORTLY

An animated game of checkers will be commenced in city hall some time next week for stakes which will amount to some thousands of dollars, according to Mayor Schofield this morning.

The participants will be the mayor's clerk, the commissioner of public works and the board of assessors. The mayor's clerk will move from his present office on the Prince William street side of the mayor's office to the ante-room at the rear; Commissioner Jones will move from his present quarters on the third floor to the office now occupied by the mayor's clerk, and the commissioner's office will be taken over by the board of assessors.

The mayor said this morning that the change, which will be temporary only, is being carried out in order to give the assessors' staff more accommodation, so that the preparation of next year's assessment can be expedited and thus save the city some thousands of dollars in interest. He hoped that the assessment would be out in May.

POLICE STRIKE IN BOSTON USED IN CAMPAIGN

Gompers, Head of Labor Federation, in Speech Attacks Governor Coolidge.

Washington, Del., Oct. 22.—An attack on Governor Coolidge, republican vice presidential nominee, based on his action in the Boston police strike of 1919, was made here last night by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

President Gompers said that after the policemen had left their posts, Governor Coolidge and his police commissioner, knowing full well the power they commanded, "if the action of the Boston police was a crime against civilization, what terms can describe the action or inaction of Governor Coolidge and his police commissioner?"

"There is no right to strike against the public safety by any means, any time, in any place," he said. "The possible election of Senator Harding to the presidency and the election of any other of the most vicious blows against a law abiding community ever allowed to go uninvestigated and unadjudged is a crime against civilization."

"Imagine this contingency. The possible election of Senator Harding to the presidency and the election of any other of the most vicious blows against a law abiding community ever allowed to go uninvestigated and unadjudged is a crime against civilization."

WAS IT JEALOUSY?

Police Theory in Case of Murder of Student of Dartmouth University.

Philadelphia, Oct. 22.—Jealousy may have been the motive for the killing of Elmer C. Drewes, a Dartmouth senior, whose body was found on the outskirts of the city with a bullet wound through the forehead. In advancing this theory last night, the police said they had learned that recently Drewes and William F. Sextro, a student of the University of Pennsylvania, who is being sought on a charge of murdering a woman in London, met at a cafe in Philadelphia.

No definite clues to Drewes' whereabouts have been discovered. The police said they had learned that recently Drewes and William F. Sextro, a student of the University of Pennsylvania, who is being sought on a charge of murdering a woman in London, met at a cafe in Philadelphia.

CLERGYMAN IN CHICAGO SHOT BY A TENANT

Coal Company Manager Says He Mistook Him for Burglar.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—The Rev. Fred G. Ruff, pastor of the Memorial Methodist church and owner of an apartment building in Rogers Park, was shot and killed this morning by Fred W. Sextro, one of his tenants, the manager of a coal company, who told the police he mistook the minister for a burglar. He was arrested pending investigation of reports of trouble between the tenants and the preacher.

The Rev. Mr. Ruff was summoned before the court committee investigating rent profiteering several weeks ago on complaint of his tenants. Recently the tenants have posted signs in their windows bearing the words "Unfair Landlord."

Mr. Ruff and his family occupied one of the flats in his building. The body was found lying on the second floor landing. Sextro told the police that he heard some fumbling at the door and demanded to know who was there. Receiving no answer, he said, he opened the door and fired.

Ossining, N. Y., Oct. 22.—George Stivers and Martin Bassett, two escaped Sing Sing convicts captured near Warren, N. Y., yesterday, were brought back to the prison today by Warden Lawes and a squad of armed guards.

When asked why he had run away when he had only two months to serve, Bassett replied: "The time comes in every man's sentence when he wants to do that we intend to end our sentences."

Concerning the reason for his escape, Stivers said: "What would you do if you were in my place, with eighteen years facing you? We tried to get out, but we knew it was not all off when we had only two months to serve."

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

"EVERYWOMAN," MADE INTO GREAT PICTURE, HERE ON MONDAY

Big Allegorical Play Has Been Filmed on an Elaborate Scale.

The famous morality play, "Everywoman," has been made into a motion picture and will be shown at the Imperial Theatre for two days beginning Monday. The story is declared to have been filmed on an extremely lavish scale and to abound in beautiful settings, lovely women attired in handsome gowns, and spectacular effects. Against this extravagant background, Walter Brown's allegorical play of life and its temptations is acted by an extraordinary cast of players. The role of Everywoman is played by Violet Fleming, a beautiful actress well known on the stage and the screen. Monte Blue has the part of Love, Wanda Hawley is Beauty, and Theodore Roberts is Wealth. Others in the company include Margaret Loomis, Mildred Reaction, Belle Daniels, Irving Cummings, Raymond Hatton, Noah Beery, Charles Ogle and Lily Marshall. The picture was directed by George H. McFarland and is released as a Paramount Artcraft photoplay of luxe. Usual prices—no increase.

"The Trail of the Loneoone Pine" will be the play and the members will make speeches and Mr. Young by request will recite Jean De Press and The Face on the Floor. The advance sale is large and bespeaks a bumper house.

An excellent line of pictures will be shown at the Queen Square next week. Some old prices will prevail.

"The Purple Cipher," Unique, Monday

The lover of mystery stories will find "The Purple Cipher" to his liking. It is a tale of a young man who becomes entangled with a Chinese secret organization and offers Earle Williams unusual opportunities to display his histrionic ability. Beautiful scenic backgrounds, many of them taken in San Francisco's Chinatown, enhance the value of the picture. The love interest is well sustained and a network of suspense, thrills, mystery and intense dramatic situations. Submarine, shippers, beautiful estates and roof links furnish atmosphere for the production. Each person will find something that appeals strongly in this film. It will grip you and hold you in its power from the very first flash. You will want to see it a second time.

THE NEW HORATIUS
Referring to Hon. Mr. Baxter the Standard says:—
"With him out of the way, the opposition would be leaderless in the house, and the government could do what it liked."
Behold Horatius come more at the bridge—and this time alone. The wicked Foster government threatens to invade the public domain and make off with much plunder, but there stands the noble Horatius, an heroic figure armed with a technicality, ready to dispute every inch of the way. Trembling in the background are his henchmen and behind them certain peasants and laborers, who would be over-run and put to the sword if his stout arm should fall. The erstwhile gallant Jingo, the noble Pinder, the loyal Dixon and others of that ilk would fall an easy prey to the advancing horde, were the new Horatius to relax his vigilance for one moment, or were the enemy to find in his harness a single flaw. Well may the Standard discover here the subject matter for an epic to out rival those which treated of the exploits of heroes, demigods and gods of an earlier fame. Into the drab monotony of these unheroic days is projected the martial figure of one who will not yield to numbers, or lower his crest so long as one stout technician lies ready to his hand. And, when the enemy has been put to utter rout, with what profound feelings of joy and gratitude must the emancipated henchmen, peasants and laborers acclaim their deliverer. Should not this great theme be immortalized by a sculptured frieze, showing the dauntless champion in the act of slaying his foes with his trusty technicality, that future generations might never forget how the Foster government was presented from doing what it liked in these degenerate days? The memorial might be placed at Sand Point, where immigrants arrive and potatoes are shipped, and brought to the attention of all new comers to the province, that they might be inspired to live lives worthy of so noble a tradition.

NO BLIND ADHERENCE
Premier McEwen will not find the farmers very receptive when he goes west with his high tariff message. The Grain Growers' Guide is very outspoken in its news concerning him and his policy. It says:—
"The issue is not between a destructive and a protective policy, but between constructive reform based upon progressive ideas of social justice and a blind adherence to the established order just because it is established. Mr. McEwen appears to believe that Canada's statements of the past did all the thinking that the country needs for all time; that what they did was incontrovertibly the best possible, and must be conserved in any policy of today or the future. Hence he stands for every inch of the structure of our national life and which time has consecrated. His idea of reform is that of the authoritarian; hence he has no scruples about interfering with freedom of speech and the liberty to criticize and suggest. He does not trust the people so he does not hesitate to denounce every popular movement. He reverences tradition and reverence for tradition has been the most repressive force in history. He creeds idols and mistakes them for ideas. He tries to make the facts of life fit into preconceived ideas. With him everything is justified if only it can be made to conform to the policies of a past age."
The views of western farmers do not differ materially from those of the farmers of the east. They do not bow down to the old idols of the high protectionists.

OPENING THE DOORS
A Montreal despatch says:—
"At a meeting of the charter commission yesterday, proposed amendments to the city charter were adopted ranking it possible for a woman, possessed of qualifications similar to those required in the case of a male candidate, to be elected a city councillor or even mayor of Montreal."
St. John was visited last summer by a very clever woman who is a member of the city council of Toronto, and by another who is a member of the legislature of British Columbia. There is no sound reason for denying women the opportunity to fill representative positions, since there are women who are eminently qualified to serve in that capacity, whether in a city council, a legislature, or the parliament of Canada.

TROUBLES OF FIRM OF MONTREAL BROKERS
Montreal, Oct. 23.—Creditors of the stock brokerage firm of Thornton Davidson and Co., met here yesterday and appointed five inspectors. It was said that some creditors had not yet filed their claims and were given until Nov. 12 to do so. Sentiment was optimistic of an ultimate settlement.

IN RUSSIA
Dr. Haden Guest a labor member of the London County Council, was joint secretary of the British labor delegation to Russia. He is not a man who would be naturally prejudiced against a movement professing to be for the benefit of the people, and what he says is deserving of attention. He has contributed a series of articles to the London Times on his experience and observation in Russia, and it is fully confirmatory of what other labor and Socialist leaders have said. Dr. Guest reveals Lenin in a very clear manner as an autocrat of the first water. Lenin told him that the Bolshevik revolution in Russia was engineered by only twenty-five per cent of the Communists, and this was enough for victory. His contempt for the peasants is revealed in these words, quoted by Dr. Guest:—
"We force peasants to give up their corn. We have given land to the peasants and the workers are starving in the towns. The peasant is obliged to give corn in exchange for paper. If the peasant refuses, we send armed workers to the village."
Thus the peasant is exploited for the benefit of the town workers, as Lenin admitted that the paper given in return for produce was worthless, and he was amazed at this outrageous device to deceive the peasants. "We do not," he said, "recognize equality as between the peasant and the town worker." The former, having some property, must of course be exploited. This, says the New York Evening Post, "is perhaps the best succinct statement of the Bolshevik social philosophy, a literal exploitation of the haves by the have-nots; and this amazing system is dignified by Lenin and his friends with the name of Communism, and is greeted in certain quarters as the apotheosis of social democracy."
Knowing that what they produce will be taken from them, the peasants do a little farming as possible and as a result Mr. H. G. Wells, who would like to see something nice about conditions in Russia, is compelled on his return to London to admit that hunger and want prevail. When the peasants rise, there will be an end of Communism.

ALL IN GOOD TIME
The Chatham World says:—
"We assure the St. John Times that the people know the facts, that they know the meaning of the word majority and that they cannot be verbally flummoxed into thinking that the government has a majority in the legislature."
The government at the moment has not a majority over all the other groups in the legislature, but a large majority over any one of them. It is better off than the Manitoba government was after the elections in that province, and the Manitoba government will have a majority when the house meets, because the farmers have declared they will support it rather than the opposition. The World will no doubt discover in due time that its first assumption, which was that the Foster government would carry on, was correct.

THE BANGOR COMMERCIALS
The lumber situation in the United States:—
"Men conversant with the lumber business doubt if there will be much more if any further reduction in the price of lumber which for the past six months has been gradually declining. Since March of this year the retail prices of lumber have been reduced from 15 to 35 per cent in the Chicago market with larger reductions farther west and lesser decrease in the east. It is now clear that the prevailing prices are as low as the cost of material and labor permit and that many mills are selling lumber at a loss. The fact that many sawmills in the country have closed down is cited to show the truth of this assertion and to carry out the statement that there is no further reduction in prices while the cost of labor and equipment remains at the present attitude."
The Bangor Commercial says:—
"The government at the moment has not a majority over all the other groups in the legislature, but a large majority over any one of them. It is better off than the Manitoba government was after the elections in that province, and the Manitoba government will have a majority when the house meets, because the farmers have declared they will support it rather than the opposition. The World will no doubt discover in due time that its first assumption, which was that the Foster government would carry on, was correct."

GREAT FOREST FIRE IN THE ADIRONDACKS
Gloversville, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Early this morning forest fires were raging between Northville and Wells in the lower Adirondacks on both sides of the Sacandaga river on a fourteen mile front and four miles in depth. At one o'clock the flames had reached within half a mile of the village of Wells.
Glenfalls, N. Y., Oct. 23.—A large forest fire, which had burned over an area nearly three miles long and two miles wide, in the town of Johnsburg and Thurman, in Warren county, last night was put, but partially under control.

MEATLESS DAYS IN ITALY AGAIN
Rome, Oct. 23.—Because of the difficulty in purchasing frozen meat, due to the high exchange rate and because the government wishes to keep up the national supply of cattle, the sale of meat again has been prohibited from Wednesday afternoon until Saturday morning.
It is threatened that if the consumption of meat does not show a decrease, the authorities will be obliged to adopt meat cards. Bread, sugar, oil and macaroni are still procured by card.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason
(Copyright by George Matthew Adams)
NIGHT COMETH
The night is coming on apace, when I shall quit the road, and seek my final resting place, my daisy-strewn abode; and so the little lily of life don't fret my ancient heart; night cometh, with the end of strife, and every sting and smart. It isn't worth my while to weep or sing a doleful tune; for all life's troubles end in sleep, and sleep's the greatest boon. It isn't worth my while to hate the man who does me wrong; far better keep my smile on straight, and chirp my cheer-up song. It isn't worth my while to sweat the man who punches me; far better keep my timber hot beneath the sunset tree. My autumn day will quickly pass, the sun's low down the sky, and stormy passions cut no grass when it is time to die. And hates and grudges look so cheap, when night is drawing on, and it is time to think of sleep, of dark without a dawn. I haven't time to more and brood o'er some small passing woe, and in a glad and cheerful mood I watch the bright days go. Why taste the wormwood when the prunes are wholesome, sweet and cheap? The night is coming on oftens, when I lie down to sleep.

AN INDIAN ORATOR
The Indians of the old days produced some wonderful orators. Not the least of these was the wonderful Tecumseh, who gave his life for the English while fighting on their side in the war of 1812. In September, 1810, when things were going bad with the English, a council of whites and braves was held when the chief delivered a wonderful address, the warriors leaping to their feet and brandishing their war axes in ferocious style. "Father," thundered the chief as he heard of General Proctor's intention to retire. "Listen to your children; you see them now all before you. The war before this our British father gave the hatchet to his red children when our chiefs were alive. They are now all dead. In that war our father was thrown on his back by the Americans and our father took them by the hand with our knowledge and we are afraid our father will do so again this time."
"When war was declared our father stood up and gave us the hatchet and told us he was now ready to strike the Americans—that he wanted our assistance and he would get us our lands back which the Americans had taken from us. Listen. You told us the same thing to get us to bring our families to this place."
"Listen, father. Our feet has gone out. We know nothing of what has happened on our arm. Our ships have gone one way and we are surprised to see our father tying up things and preparing to go the other without letting his red children know where his intentions."
"Listen! The Americans have not yet defeated us by land; neither are we sure they have done so by water. We therefore wish to remain here and fight our enemy should they make their appearance. If they defeat us we will then retreat with our father."
Tecumseh then strode across to where General Proctor was standing, and continued: "Brother, have you not run far enough? Tecumseh with his warriors will not leave this land for his lands. If you go give us your guns that on tomorrow's sun we may use them."

TUXIS BOYS
Conference Opened at German Street Institute—Excellent Addresses.
About 100 boys were in attendance at the opening of the Tuxis Boys' conference in German street institute last night. Rev. A. S. Bishop, chairman of the Brunswick boys' work board, was the chairman at the supper for the boys. Rev. W. A. Ross, general secretary of the Maritime S. S. Association, and Rev. William Lawson, of Kewswick, were present at the supper at Bond's. Excellent addresses were delivered by Rev. F. M. Milligan and A. M. Gregg. The latter explaining the working of the system and the manner in which the boys were chartered on the social or service programme.
Following the opening service of devotion, led by Rev. A. S. Bishop at the evening session with Ralph Finley at the piano, Mr. Gregg introduced the deputation, nominal leaders to the meeting in the following order: Rev. W. C. Ryan, Machum, Baptist; Rev. J. M. Rice, Methodist; Nelson McEwen, Y. W. C. A.; Rev. F. M. Milligan, Presbyterian; Rev. W. A. Ross, general secretary of the Maritime S. S. Association, and Rev. William Lawson, of Kewswick, the oldest boy in the conference.
The election of conference officers was proceeded with and resulted as follows: Grand proctor, Harold Holder, St. John; grand scribe, Jack Cuthbertson, Moncton; grand deputy proctor, Walter Phinias, St. John. When the officers had taken their places on the platform Rev. W. C. Machum delivered his stirring address on "Every boy is service every day."
The word Tuxis, he said, meant "you and I training for service with no one but Christ between us." It meant every fellow called to make his life count for the good of others. There was a challenge to service to the youth of today and to be deaf to it was to be guilty of disobedience. While for some there were special forms of service for all there was the common field of every day opportunity and the home was the first field of service. Whatever was to be the contribution of the individual boy to the world depended on his attitude in the present time.
After Mr. Machum's address the organization of Tuxis squares took place and groups divided under leaders in the following order: Crusaders, Rev. R. T. McKim; Pathfinders, Rev. W. C.

RECENT DEATHS

Many will learn with sincere regret of the death of Mrs. A. R. Campbell, which occurred yesterday at her home, 21 Coburg street, after a lingering illness. Mrs. Campbell, who before her marriage was Miss Margaret Aikens, was a native and a life-long resident of this city. Always an active member of St. David's Presbyterian church, she continued her interest in the various phases of church work until prevented by illness. Her kindly and beautiful disposition won the respect and esteem of all with whom she came in contact and her passing will be sincerely mourned. Surviving are her husband, one son, A. H. Campbell, and one daughter, Miss Gertrude, to whom the sympathy of their many friends will be extended. The funeral will take place on Monday next at 2:30 o'clock from her late residence.

Charles E. Robinson, formerly of St. John, died in Cambridge (Mass.) on Wednesday, aged seventy-two years. Services were held yesterday afternoon at the chapel of A. E. THE FRASER INTERESTS.

(Fredericton Gleaner).
The proposed pulp and paper merger, in which the Frasers Limited will be the chief influence, is one of the big industrial propositions of the year. In the practical working out it will serve admirably to develop the province's wealth of resources in lumber as it ought to be developed. We have been exporting too much of our raw material to be manufactured abroad for the benefit of others. We would have held a higher place as a people of forthright and personal interests and occupied a leading place in the industrial world, had we equipped ourselves years ago to export the finished product. The Frasers and those associated with them, while promoting and maintaining their vast personal interests, are also therefore doing a great public service, a service that will be generally appreciated and in the performance will be applauded by all thoughtful New Brunswickers.

It should be obvious that wages cannot be maintained unless workers give an equivalent for their hire, and conversely, workers may look forward with confidence if they continue to give a good day's work for a good day's pay. U. S. TAKING MUCH OF BRITAIN'S SHIP TRAFFIC

London, Oct. 7.—(Associated Press).
There has been a big drop in freights during the last few months, a shipping authority has informed the Liverpool Post. "Taking the market all round," he said, "freights have fallen by about fifty per cent since the beginning of the year. This situation is attributed to the increase in the world's shipping tonnage and the general scarcity of goods for export. Ships are leaving London and other United Kingdom ports with part cargoes."
"Before the war the United Kingdom was the carrier for half the goods of the world," said the shipping man. "Our share is now about one-third. The United States which before the war owned a nominal amount of tonnage is now our chief competitor and swallows much freight that would otherwise be carried in British holds. Operating costs are tremendously high, the coal item being one of the biggest factors."

Story of The Jew; Wonder of History

His Preservation One of the Most Remarkable Phenomena of the Centuries—A Patriot in Every Land—Despite Age-long Persecution He is Indestructible—Eminent in Peace and War, Says Dr. Purvis

Sermon by the Rev. Dr. Samuel W. Purvis, published in The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin and The New York Sunday Times, Sept. 26, 1920. Texts—"And I will bless them that bless thee and curse them that curse thee; and in these shall all families of the earth be blessed."—Gen. 12:3. "What advantage then hath the Jew? Much every way."—Rom. 3:12.

Our Jewish friends are now observing their New Year—the festival. The period includes the fast of Gedaliah and culminates in Yom Kippur, the most solemn Day of Atonement, next Wednesday.

As a man of affairs, I want to stop and take notice of one of the most remarkable phenomena of the centuries—the preservation and indestructibility of the Jewish race. Here is a nation whose birth is burning and is not consumed. "Show me a miracle," said Frederick the Great to his Jewish chaplain, "Sir, it is the Jew," answered the man of God.

All the world's a stage whereon not only individuals, but nations and races are the players. Every nation has played some part, great or small. Every one has had its message for the centuries in which it lived. Rome gave government; Greece, culture; Phoenicia, commerce; the Jew has carried monotheism, the worship of a single God, through the world.

None can blot him out, Babylonian captivity, Roman domination, Greek absorption, medieval persecution, modern massacre, have been in vain. Talk about the splendid life of the Jew in the temple in Jerusalem was destroyed the Jew became a wanderer, a man without a country.

Not in Judah, but in New York, is the real Jerusalem. If there are 15,000,000 Jews in the world, America has about 8,000,000, of which about 1,800,000 live in and about Greater New York. In that city every sixth person you meet is a Jew.

Will the Jew intermarry? I do not know of the future—but he has done so in the past. August Belmont, a daughter of Commander Perry. The distinguished Dr. Abraham Jacobson married the daughter of James G. Blaine. Ossip Gabrilowitch, the musician, married Mark Twain's daughter.

Hath Not the Jew a Soul? Will the Jew become a Christian? I rather think not. Not in appreciable numbers. Do we have grapes of thorns and figs of thistles? Not in this year of our Lord 1920. The young Jew is causing his elders considerable anxiety religiously.

Some one has said: "In this melting pot the Jew will be lost—he is losing rapidly through intermarriage, modernism and infidelity."

No. He will not be lost. If he will only be true to his ancient landmarks he will find his way. You need not believe here as surely as the rest of us. He came with Columbus. There were five Jews in the fleet. Rodrigo Sanchez was the overseer of the crew. Luis de Torres was the interpreter. They were of the first to behold and set foot on the new promised land.

For the first time the Methodist Church has undertaken a minute study of its work and its needs in the dominions and has appointed a very representative commission to make the survey. The eastern sitting will open in London. Now, let and close on Dec. 17. Photo is of J. H. Gandy of Toronto, chairman of the new body.

AMERICAN GIFT TO GERMAN UNIVERSITY. Berlin, Oct. 6.—(Associated Press)—The mayor of Frankfurt has announced that an endowment of 1,500,000 marks has been made to the Frankfurt University by James Speyer, a New York banker, in memory of his deceased sister, Mrs. Eduard Beitz von Speyer.

Establishing Bird Sanctuaries. Winnipeg, Oct. 28.—(Canadian Press)—The federal government has sent Hayes Lloyd of Ottawa, ornithologist for the dominion parks branch, to Manitoba to investigate certain wild bird breeding areas which the authorities have in view for the preservation of the wild fowl and birds.

You and I, Christians, worship the Jehovah of the Jews—the Christ of the Jew. The Jewish scriptures, the Old Testament, begins with the story of man, not with a history of the Jews. Our religion, the Christian religion, was founded on Jews and Judaism. Every book of our New Testament was written by a Jew, with the exception of

The Last Two Harvests Total Failures — Epidemic of Cholera — A Harrowing Story.

(St. Croix Courier.) Out here in our Hunan mission field, especially in the northern end of it around Changde and Wuang, we are thinking these days of just one big terrible thing and that one big thing is famine.

There are hundreds of thousands of people out here today, around us on every hand, who are hungry, with nothing to eat and nowhere to get anything. The area chiefly affected includes the northern part of Hunan and the southern part of Szechwan, containing a total population of several million people.

There has not been one decent rain in this part of the country for over one year and no snow in winter. Our Hunan Chinese are a brave and optimistic race. When the spring rains failed to come and there was no wheat they did not sit down and cry over it.

The Chinese out here live mostly on wheat and millet and there are so many months to feed that they need two harvests every year to keep them going. One in the spring and one in the fall. The last two harvests have been total failures.

General Currie Declares the Heartiest Accord Exists Between Two Countries.

Gen. Sir Arthur Currie arrived in Chicago on Monday, accompanied by his wife, Lady Currie, and Col. H. Molson. The general was given a hearty welcome by Canadian officials and American officers.

"I have come here as the guest of the Canadian Club of Chicago," said the general, "and also to attend the reception given by the McGill University Alumni Association. McGill University of Montreal is one of the oldest in the country."

In reply to questions concerning the present and future relations of the United States and Canada, the general said: "There is no indication of anything but the heartiest accord between the two countries. I have never encountered any feeling of irritation or intolerance of your citizens towards Canadians, or of Canadians toward the peoples of the United States."

Sir Arthur was asked for a statement of the Irish question. "That is none of Canada's business," he added. "The Irish question belongs to the Irish, not to us."

On the League of Nations, Sir Arthur was a trifle more communicative. "We feel in Canada," he said, "that the United States will eventually join a league of some sort. It may not be the present league, but it is hardly possible that it will stay out of some alliance with the rest of the world for the promotion of peace and national understanding. As to what league the United States enters, that is entirely your concern and nobody else's."

FOUNDATION WIDENS FIGHT ON DISEASE

Rockefeller Board Outlines Its Work in New Parts of South America and China.

Plans for carrying the war on hookworm disease and yellow fever into many new parts of South America and China are outlined in the annual report of the International Health Board of the Rockefeller Foundation. Work of the board since its establishment in 1914, and particularly in 1919, is reviewed. "The regular co-operation plan of the board was enlarged during 1919," says the report. "The board has been more and more frequently called upon to participate in public health and related matters and to furnish information bearing on these topics. Cities, towns, States and countries, as well as public or semi-public organizations and officials, are availing themselves of the facilities which the board has to offer."

"All of the work during 1919 was conducted in close association with governmental agencies. These activities were the chief features of the program: "Demonstrations in malaria control through anti-mosquito measures were continued in ten towns in Arkansas. A program was developed, surveys were made, and a staff was recruited for extending the Arkansas type of demonstrations in malaria control (through anti-mosquito measures) to nine additional Southern States. Investigation of the feasibility of controlling malaria through the treatment of carriers was continued, under slightly varying conditions, in Starflower County, Miss.

"Systematic efforts to eradicate yellow fever from Guayaquil, Ecuador, proved successful. Outbreaks of yellow fever infection in Nicaragua, Honduras and Salvador were suppressed. The etiology of yellow fever was subjected to further scientific study. Plans were matured for a comprehensive attack on yellow fever in its remaining endemic centres.

The Responsibility of Monopoly.

(Baltimore Sun.) The theory of monopoly, of the exclusive right to perform a public utility service, involves a corresponding obligation to render that service satisfactorily. If a monopoly cannot do that, the reason for a monopoly exists. There is no question of gratitude or of inherent right in the relations between a public service corporation and the people. It is a pure question of business. It is to the popular interest to facilitate the work of the corporation and to grant it such additional revenues as will enable it to do the special task entrusted to it. But if it cannot do this or will not do it without imposing too great burdens or too heavy costs upon the public then it cannot logically or legitimately object to such competition as may supplement its inadequacy.

But if it cannot do this or will not do it without imposing too great burdens or too heavy costs upon the public then it cannot logically or legitimately object to such competition as may supplement its inadequacy.

The theory of monopoly, of the exclusive right to perform a public utility service, involves a corresponding obligation to render that service satisfactorily. If a monopoly cannot do that, the reason for a monopoly exists. There is no question of gratitude or of inherent right in the relations between a public service corporation and the people. It is a pure question of business. It is to the popular interest to facilitate the work of the corporation and to grant it such additional revenues as will enable it to do the special task entrusted to it. Skin Blemishes How to get rid of them

Skin specialists are tracing fewer and fewer troubles to the blood. They say more often, skin blemishes can be traced to the bacteria and parasites that are carried into the pores of the skin with dust, soot and grime. To clear your skin of blemishes caused by this insidious and persistent enemy, use regularly the following special treatment. Just before retiring, wash in your usual way with warm water and Woodbury's Facial Soap; then dry your face. Now dip the tips of your fingers in warm water and rub them on the cake of Woodbury's until they are covered with a heavy cream-like lather. Cover each blemish with a thick coat of this soap cream and leave it on for ten minutes. Rinse very carefully with clear, hot water; then with cold. In addition to this special treatment, use Woodbury's regularly in your daily toilet. This will make your skin firm and active. It will help the new skin to resist the frequent cause of blemishes. Before long your complexion will take on a new clearness and freshness. Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. CANADIAN DUELS

SUBJECT OF PAPER

Six Encounters Described by Montarville Boucher de la Bruere — Period Between 1830-37.

(Montreal Gazette.)
The days when flashing steel and blazing pistol were called on to decide the right or wrong of a quarrel were vividly recalled by Montarville Boucher de la Bruere, who read a paper on "Some Canadian Duels, 1830-37," before the Antiquarian and Numismatic Society at their monthly meeting in the Chateau de Ramezay last night. The speaker did not attempt in the limited bounds of a short address to summarize all duels on Canadian soil; for, indeed, would be a large subject. He described six duels which occurred between 1830 and 1837; giving details of the origin of the quarrels, the preparations for the fray, the final test of courage, and the results, adding interesting facts regarding principals and seconds.

The first duel mentioned by Mr. de la Bruere was that between two members of the Assembly, Charles Ovide Perreault, deputy for l'Assomption and Charles Clement Sabrevois de Bleury, representative for Richelieu. The first was a son of the famous protoprietary of Quebec, father of lay pedagogy in Canada, and his opponent a scion of the family that has given its name to two seigneuries and an important street of Montreal. The Legislative Assembly of those days was a stormy sea upon which the ship of state was tossed by waves of personal ambition and blown about by gusts of popular opinion, strong opinions were often expressed strongly, and objected to strongly. It was on one of these occasions that Perreault took exception to something de Bleury said.

Fight With Fists.
A chance meeting on the bleak ramparts of Quebec at dead of night gave Perreault his opportunity. "You insult me," he shouted to de Bleury, "then be on your guard." This first engagement was with bare fists, not naked steel. It seems that de Bleury got the worst of it for the next day his second, a deputy named John Hart, called on Perreault. Perreault appointed his friend, Henry Scott, also a deputy, as his second. Scott and Hart settled the details. The field of honor was the hard snow road of Ancienne Lorette. Cherrier, another deputy, tried to prevent the fight, and persuasive means failing, warrants were issued for the apprehension of the duellists. These warrants were served the day of the duel, but when the bailiffs arrived at the respective rooms of the principals, they found them empty. The sergeant-at-arms of the Assembly, however, undertook to prevent the duel. He started off post-haste with a posse. Unfortunately he took the wrong turning and galloped away from the scene of the fight instead of towards it.

Pistols are the weapons chosen for the duel. It is the middle of January, 1836. The distance of the duellists is in number of feet, the age of the century. Thirty-six feet apart in the snow two men are facing away from one another. A word, a sharp turn-about, two shots rend the still air; nothing more, no cry of pain, no thud of falling body, no crimson blood to stain the immaculate snow—for here ends the romance of this duel. The rest is a business arrangement of mutual apology.

Some Other Duels.
All the duels of those days were not, however, business arrangements; far from it. In April of the same year the same de Bleury issued another challenge, this time in Montreal. The challenged was Louis Duvernay, editor of La Minerve. The insult was an article in Duvernay's paper. The meeting took place "outré mont." Duvernay was shot in the right thigh. His second was John MacDonald; de Bleury's second was Edouard Rodier. Both of these seconds profited from the lessons they learnt at this duel, for later we find MacDonald fighting Pierre Edouard LeClaire and Edouard Rodier fighting three officers of the Royals, then quartered in Montreal, one after another. These officers were Lieut. Ormsby, Lieut. Wilson and Cap-

HEARTLESS FIEND TORTURES PET CALF, LEAVING IT TO DIE

A shocking case of cruelty to a one-year-old calf is receiving the attention of the Toronto police and officers of the Humane Society. The calf from birth had been kept upon part of the Turner estate on the south side of Tyrrell avenue, and was the pet of the neighborhood, old and young alike. Frank Johnson, whose mother lives on the property, went out to feed the calf and found it in agony just breathing its last. Its neck had been stabbed and cut from ear to ear and there were ugly knife wounds in both sides.

Neither Mr. Johnson nor his mother are able to give the police any information that would help to locate the individual guilty of the cruelty. So far as they know, they have no enemies, and the calf had not given any trouble.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Most of the street accidents are preventable. They occur because people show too much haste or are indifferent or thoughtless of the rights of others. A pedestrian who crosses a busy thoroughfare without glancing to left and right is "looking for trouble." The motorist who violates traffic ordinances designated for the safety of all, places himself and others in jeopardy.

Personal safety is only attained by constant watchfulness. Each member of the community, motorist, street-car motorman, bicyclist and pedestrian should take care of himself and thought for the other. We all must live and let live.

Haste is becoming a modern habit but we are told "haste makes waste," and so it is when the desire for haste causes an accident. Quite often "the longest way round is the shortest way home." This slogan should be adopted by the pedestrian who dashes diagonally across the roadway. Both the "jaywalker" and the reckless motorist should be jerked up short.

Now an attractive office with walls and ceilings that cannot crack. A practical office with walls and ceilings that will last as long as the building.

The old factory corner was transformed almost over-night. Beaver Board was quickly nailed to the old walls and to the new partitions. This was followed by painting and decoration, and by the paneling that goes up as quickly and easily as the Beaver Board itself.

The result is sure—provided genuine Beaver Board is used with the familiar Beaver Board trademark plainly printed on the back of every panel.

This trademark insures the result. It signifies that your walls and ceilings are made of fibres of the white spruce. It is insurance against warping because Beaver Board is protected by the "Sealtite" sizing process. It Pays to Feed Empire Feeds!

Cattlemen, farmers and dairymen have learned that it is profitable to buy stock feeds by proteins and that the feed containing the proper amount of proteins is the feed that brings results.

Another consideration steps in, however, and that is, that beyond a certain point, protein ingredients may be present in too great quantity for the animal to use, and there is waste.

EMPIRE FEEDS are rightly balanced

Empire Dairy and Hog Feeds contain not less than 16% proteins (guaranteed), which will be used for the nourishment of the animal, without waste.

We aim to put up feeds that will pay the user. Only good sound grains and other ingredients are used, and certainly no filler or other useless stuff will ever enter into EMPIRE FEEDS. Try a quantity for a fair testing time. We will abide by the resulting improvement in your stock. Ask your dealer for the honest feeds—EMPIRE BRANDS.

CONSTRUCTION OF STONE ROADS

Haldimand County, Ontario, Sets Pace

Progressive County Council Adopts "Good Roads Budget," and Miles of Impassable Clay Roads Are Transformed.

(Toronto Globe) Haldimand County is undergoing a slow but rapid transformation. The results therein, but more especially the plans to and through the county, are only aware of the change.

The sum and substance of this quiet revolution is "new and better roads." Two years ago Haldimand had a scant 2 miles of hard-surfaced roads, scattered indiscriminately throughout the county. Today 90 miles of permanent roadsways interlace this territory, and many more are projected in the near future.

The writer has been in touch with the road situation in this neighborhood for some time. The nature of the soil—clay predominating, with a small admixture of loam—is fundamentally good for road building. For surfacing, however, no more annoying or less advantageous material can be sought.

Experience With Clay. Whoever has had to travel over clay-surfaced roads during all weathers will appreciate the risk therein involved. During the spring thaws and early freshets the thick adherent masses of tenacious clay cling to the hoofs of the horses, the spokes of the wheels, and increase the size of the tires by adhesion.

During a wet summer such roads are impassable for automobiles. Only the advent of a dry summer, when the surface is baked into the semblance of a pavement, do the roads really qualify as means of transport. However, the fall rains and early winter soon again play havoc with the deceptive surface, and away goes the farmer's opportunity of late trucking, hauling or driving.

The above conditions have been Haldimand's heritage up till two years ago. Spring roads, a quagmire of mud, summer roads passable at best, and fall roads a second and enlarged edition of the former.

Such roads also leave their imprints on travellers' vehicles and unerasable imprints on the minds of visitors. These highways and byways once experienced are forever shunned.

"Writing on the Wall." The progressive county council saw the writing on the wall. The farmers huddled in their daily tasks; travellers hugging the county with open disapproval; land values on the decrease; with credible despatch they decided that the solution of the whole problem was an active and intelligent "Good Roads Budget." It was not long fortuitous.

the county council if he declared himself against the building of good roads.

Last year the county constructed about 31 miles of stone road. This year the county is building three and one-half miles from Jarvis to Nanticoke; four miles from Hagersville to Lake Erie via Chespeide, this stretch ten feet wide of eight inches consolidated crushed stone, was built by MacConnell & Hicking; four miles from Hagersville to Springvale, twelve feet wide and eight inches consolidated crushed stone built by county organization; six miles from Neles corners to Fisherville; six miles along the Dunnville-Stclair highway via South Cayuga. All the above are macadam roads.

The gravel roads built this year comprise five miles from York to Calcedonia and two and one-half miles from York to Seneca Station. Farm Values Increased. One cannot take too optimistic a view of the benefits derived from good roads building. The increase in traffic, unhampered by weather conditions is a practical saving in time, upkeep and temper. The attraction of visitors can only be proportionately appraised. The betterment of road conditions is reflected in a friendlier community spirit, in increased prosperity and general feeling of improvement and progress.

Mr. J. G. Munro, Manager, the Bank of Commerce at Cayuga said: "I firmly believe that farm values will be increased $1,000, along the route of the Provincial highway—the farmers in this district are strong supporters of good roads—they realize the benefits accruing from good roads and the disadvantage of bad roads."

A Promise that has made good

When KING COLE TEA was in its infancy we associated with it the slogan—"You'll like the flavor." It was a modest statement, yet when you come to think of it, it covers all that you are looking for in the tea of your choice. How well KING COLE has lived up to its promise is proved by the many thousands of users today.

"YOU'LL LIKE THE FLAVOR"

William Clark, Chairman of the County Council for 1920, what led to the poor condition of the roads a short time previous. His reply was that it was not due to idleness, but rather to a faulty policy. Stretches of road isolated in different parts of the county were repaired at the instigation of some local organization. A Councillor would have a short distance on a road fixed merely to satisfy the neighborhood which clamored louder.

Such a system eventually leads to greater confusion than before, and is the surest method for stirring up local dissatisfaction. The war, of course, had called a halt on all road expenditures, and it has only been since its close that the present activities have commenced.

In the spring of 1910 the good roads policy appeared on the budget-paper of the County Council meeting. Some strong opposition was met by the pioneers, but finally good, sound argument and intelligent logic won the day, with the result that now Haldimand county looks like the leader in good roads in southwestern Ontario.

The general scheme was elastic so that at any time it might be added to or improved upon. The main idea was to link up the towns and larger villages with good permanent and continuous roads. Thirty-one miles of stone road and gravel road has already been constructed at a cost of about $200,000. An additional $200,000 is being spent this year on another 24 miles of this excellent type of roadway. Unlimited Quantities of Stone

This country is situated in the enviable position of independence with reference to road-building materials. Within its confines are sufficient quantities of crushed stone and gravel for its own roads, and to spare. Railroad transportation difficulties have no terrors for its contractors and dearth of material is practically an impossibility. Crushed stone is obtained from a private company at Hagersville. The county have acquired two "public ownership" quarries, one at Neles Corners and another near Dunnville. Each of these has a capacity of about 115 yards daily. This year 80,000 cubic yards of gravel have already been used in the construction of the above mentioned 24 miles.

The writer was afforded the unique opportunity of visiting these county quarries and also of viewing at close range the "system" by which the roads are constructed. Meeting the Expenditure. "We pay as we go," said Mr. D. W. McBurney, superintendent of roads in Haldimand county. This was in reply to the question referring to financing the project. No bonded debts, nor debentures floated, nor an annual appropriation, amply sufficient to carry on the work planned for the ensuing year, is made from the county fund. To show with what whole-hearted approval the farmers look upon the good roads policy one need only look to the voluntary subscriptions amounting in one locality to $5,000, which are made to the county fund. This speaks eloquently of the universal support of the issue. Chairman Clark voiced the opinion that "no man could be elected to

Mrs. D. Cummings has received from the minister of militia and defence the silver cross awarded to mothers whose sons died in the war. The cross bears on the reverse side the name and number of her son, Irwin D. Cummings, who died of wounds in France. Needless to say the souvenir will be fondly cherished by the mother and family.

A CASE OF IDENTITY.
Chas. NOVELTY SHOWER.
On Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. J. T. Love, 261 Robeson avenue, a large number of girl friends tendered a novelty shower to her daughter, Miss Grace Love. Mr. and Mrs. Collins will reside in Montreal, where the groom is employed.

HIS BIRTHDAY.
Herbert Kitchener Shaw, only son of William J. Shaw of 81 Parks street, celebrated his sixteenth birthday on Tuesday evening when twelve of his little friends gathered at his home and tendered him a pleasant surprise. Many nice gifts were received.

SURPRISE PARTY.
A very pleasant surprise awaited H. L. Currie of 269 Germain street when on returning to his home on Thursday evening he found it in possession of about thirty-five of his friends who held remembrance of many pleasant times spent with him at his summer home at Baywater. To show their appreciation they presented to Mr. Currie a beautiful leather-bound rocker. The presentation was made by Mr. Ross in a neat speech, conveying the good wishes of the donors. Mr. Currie, although taken completely by surprise, thanked his friends very warmly. The evening was spent in singing and dancing and the serving of refreshments brought a very pleasant time to a close.

EXCELLENT START

Mother and Daughter Banquet Begins Work for Winter.

Last evening a "mother and daughter banquet" was held in the vestry of Fairville Baptist church, marking the beginning of the winter's work under the leadership of Miss Helen Sims, Miss Babbington and Miss Morse. There was an excellent attendance and special C. G. T. songs were sung by the girls to the evident enjoyment of the mothers present.

Miss Morse acted as toast mistress very acceptably, and after "The King" had been duly honored the following toast list brought forth speeches that showed ability as well as enthusiasm among the girls for the winter's activities: "Our Mothers," "Our Daughters," "Our Guests," "Boys' Work," "Girls' Work."

Miss M. Shaw delighted the gathering with a vocal solo, and Miss M. Allison, maritime secretary of girls' work, gave an address. The entire programme was an inspiring one and the girls begin the winter's work impelled by a vigorous impetus to outdo all previous efforts as a result of last night's meeting.

London, Oct. 23.—(Canadian Associated Press.)—The Times is advertising a fine Canadian illustrated trade supplement and says that in recent years no part of the British Empire has made greater strides in industrial production than could have reasonably been expected in normal times and now industry in the Dominion is remarkably flourishing.

EXPRESS FROM HERE IN TROUBLE IN MONCTON YARD

Runs Into Open Switch and Crashes Into String of Cars — No One Hurt But Rolling Stock Damaged.

A Canadian Press despatch from Moncton says: "While running to the express yardway yard morning, No. 10 express bound from St. John to Halifax crashed into a string of cars on a siding. The train, which was in charge of Conductor Charles Gillespie, with George McKee at the throttle, ran through an open switch. No one was injured.

The locomotive of No. 10 and five cars on the siding were derailed, three of the cars, which were loaded with lumber being damaged considerably. The derailed locomotive, but the express cars were taken through a siding to the depot, the express proceeding to Halifax about an hour late.

TODAY WITH THE TUXIS BOYS

Morning Conference and the Subjects Dealt with in Practical Addresses.

At the Tuxis Boys' Conference this morning in the Germain street Institute under the auspices of their boys' work board of New Brunswick devotional exercises were led by Rev. P. M. Milligan. He gave a short address on the place of worship in a boy's life. He urged the boys to look upward and to be citizens of the universe, not merely of the world—to look not only to time but to eternity. The habit of worship, he said, should be cultivated while young and retained throughout life.

Harold Holder read a paper on "What a boy can do to help in the C. S. E. T." He dealt with the duties of officers and committees as well as with outdoor activities such as hikes, paper-chases and treasure-hunts.

Rev. R. Taylor McKim led a discussion on the papers just read. He asked if the C. S. E. T. programme appealed as much to the boy of 18 or 19 as to the boy of 15 or 16.

Rev. W. A. Ross spoke on "What play does for the individual." He cited instances of games where men had been shown up as men or failures, and took several instances of football matches in which he had participated in his college days where this was very apparent. He said that games were more than mere playing, they were a test of character in a boy or man. People, he said, often went to watch a game when they wanted to pick a man for some business. What a man did in play he would do in life.

At the conclusion of Mr. Ross' address the meeting broke up for a few minutes to allow the boys time for a short exercise in the gymnasium. On their return the sang a verse of a volunteer hymn.

A. M. Gress divided the boys into two groups, one of which was not acquainted with the C. S. E. T. and the other of which had had some experience in it and were familiar at least with the early stages of it. The first group were taken over by Rev. W. C. Machum, who explained to them the organization for Sunday and mid-week meetings in the C. S. E. T. Mr. Gress addressed the group under his own "Taxis square in Action," detailing the various activities in order to qualify as real Taxis members. He gave instances of what boys had done and were doing in other places in the maritime provinces, some helping cities, some subscribing to church funds and then raising the money to pay the subscription—some doing church work in churches—and various other means. When asked what the Boys' Community Council might do, he suggested mock trials, mock parliaments, social gatherings with the girls of the Canadian Girls in Training, father and son banquets, national athletic meets, hikes and treasure.

He outlined a two months' programme which included organization, keeping of record cards, challenge games, initiation ceremonies, practical talks, group games, woodcraft tests, and efficiency in life was held at which the boys divided into groups for individual discussion. At noon a group photograph of the boys in attendance was taken in front of Germain street Baptist church.

ALL THE TROOPS GETTING DOWN TO REAL WORK

Boy Scout Activities in the City During the Week - Hikes Planned for Today - The Scout Law.

THE BOY SCOUT.

Commencing this week an outline will be given of the requirements for the different tests and badges, the first one of which is the tenderfoot test which a boy must pass before he becomes a scout. The tenderfoot test is as follows: The Scout Law.

- 1. A scout's honor is to be trusted. 2. A scout is loyal to the king and to his officers, and to his parents, his country, his employers, or to his employees and to his comrades. 3. A scout's duty is to be useful and to help others. 4. A scout is a friend to all, and a brother to every other scout. 5. A scout is courteous. 6. A scout is a friend to animals. 7. A scout obeys orders of his parents, patrol leader or scout master without question. 8. A scout smiles and whistles under all difficulties. 9. A scout is thrifty. 10. A scout is clean in thought, word and deed. 11. Scout signs and salute. 12. Composition of the Union Jack and the right way to fly it. 13. Six knots—Reef, bowline, sheepshank, fisherman's, clove-kitch and sheet-bend.

The two new troops at St. Andrews and Knox are progressing rapidly and the other troops are getting into line for the coming season's work. 5th—St. Jude's. This troop held their weekly meeting on Thursday. During the evening the patrol meetings were held and instructions given. This was followed by the horse-shoe formation where badges were given out and the scouts received short talks by officers of the troop. The meeting was closed earlier than usual on account of the session of the court of honor.

The court of honor governs the troop and consists of the scout-master, assistant scoutmasters, patrol leaders and seconds. Several matters were brought up, were taken up with drill. After that instead of the troop and the scouts adjourned to their patrols for scout work. Leslie MacAuley completed his work for the tenderfoot badge and will receive his badge next Wednesday. Troop Leader H. Wetmore then led the troop in games, after which the troop dismissed for the evening. The court of honor met after the regular meeting and discussed a hike for Saturday and a social evening for Nov. 3rd. 13th—Coburg. The troop held their regular meeting on Tuesday evening with the regular officers on hand. The meeting opened with roll call and collection of dues, then some physical exercises and drill, during the evening first aid instructions were given to the boys by Miss Annie Coburg—Wolf Cub Pack.

The regular meeting of the pack was held on Thursday evening with a large attendance of cubs. 17—Trinity. The troop and wolf-cub pack met on Thanksgiving day at 10 a. m. and went to Saint's Rest for a hike and an enjoyable day was spent in scouting. On Wednesday night the Trinity troop, cub pack and girl guide company met at the Trinity Sunday school room to attend a farewell supper for scoutmaster D. H. Loweth; afterwards games were held and an enjoyable evening was spent. The scoutmaster was given a purse re-gold by Assistant Scoutmaster Paul Walsh and a "Thanks Badge" was presented by A. C. Skyles on behalf of the Boy Scout Association in recognition of his good work as scoutmaster.

Knox Troop. The whole troop enjoyed its first hike on Monday and many of the boys passed their cooking for their second class badge. The troop was very fortunate in getting Harold Wetmore as scoutmaster—one who knows the ins and outs of scouting. The boys are working hard for their Tenderfoot and second class badges.

St. Andrew's Troop. The fifth meeting of the troop since its organization was held on Thursday with a good attendance. Practically all the boys have now passed their tenderfoot tests and were sworn in at the last meeting. There are two patrol leaders, E. Robinson and G. W. Wain in charge. Part of the troop went camping over the week-end, going out on Saturday and returning on Monday evening. The event was greatly enjoyed and several boys passed their cooking test. Plans were made for a regular Saturday hike and all looked forward to the usual good time.

MEMBERS OF THE COMMERCE BOARD HAVE RESIGNED

Vacancies Will Not Be Filled at Present, Says Premier - Action Follows Government's Reversal of Board Order re Sugar. Ottawa, Oct. 22.—The Board of Commerce is no more. Announcement was made from the prime minister's office tonight that the members of the board had tendered their resignations to the government and that no appointment to the vacant positions would now be made. The announcement from the prime minister's office followed a series of meetings of cabinet council which were held today, the last of them convening at 5.30 this afternoon and lasting for two hours. The statement issued tonight says that when a decision is given by the judicial committee of the Privy Council, as to the extent of the federal authority in relation to the Board of Commerce Act, "it will be for the government to consider what should then be done." Premier Meighen's statement does not occasion much surprise in the capital, as it was felt here that the resignations of the members of the board were certain to be handed in following the cabinet's reversal of the board's order with regard to the maximum price of twenty-one cents per pound for sugar. The three commissioners who have now resigned are Captain William White, who was formerly secretary of the board, and who was appointed a commissioner on the resignations of the original commissioners, E. A. Acland, deputy minister of Labor, and Major G. A. Dillon, purchasing agent for the department of justice. The formal announcement of Captain White's appointment as chief commissioner of the board of commerce is gazetted in this week's Canada Gazette, published tomorrow. The appointment of the three gentlemen who have now tendered their resignations was stated to be a temporary measure, following the resignations of Judge H. A. Robson, of Winnipeg, the first chairman; W. F. O'Connor, K.C., and James Murdoch, labor representative on the board.

STILL HOPE FOR LIFE OF KING OF GREECE

Paris, Oct. 22.—An Athens message received last night reported little change in the condition of King Alexander. It said hope was still entertained.

AVERAGE SALARY OF PROFESSOR LESS THAN COOK GETS

Mencace to Future Is Involved in Poverty and Ill-Health of Teachers, Declares Head of University.

According to Regent Charles Sommers, of the University of Minnesota, the average salary of a professor in a university is less than that of a cook. The speaker said that the future of the educational system of the whole country is threatened. He quoted President Burton when he said: "Men of first class ability cannot enter upon a teaching career with assurance. Their self-respect compels them to seek other lines of service, as long as the economic status of the teacher is as low as it is at present, as long as the Ph. D. is graded commercially in the class of cheap labor, no one can conscientiously advise the young man of promise to take up teaching."

"No profession is more important to the welfare of a state or nation than that of teaching," Mr. Sommers continued. "The present system of giving a lower wage to teachers than to other workers of equal ability, means a lowering of standard in the future. Only men of mediocre intellectual endowment will enter the profession, and only those will remain who have not the ambition or self-confidence to make a change of occupation."

"There is a sort of poverty which harasses the body and breaks down the spirit and which sooner or later leads to inefficiency and mediocrity. The non-academic world is prone to complain narrowness, pessimism and lack of inspiration on the part of college teachers. Perhaps a great deal of this is due to the inferior quality of some teaching is directly traceable to the strain and worry on the part of the teachers over their own personal finances."

He admitted that it takes about 11 years of preparation after the grammar school grades, and between $5,000 and $15,000 to properly equip a man to teach in college. "All this costly equipment will enable a man to earn about as much as the average drygoods salesman, considerably less than plumbers, carpenters, bricklayers or painters less than coal miners and other laborers who need very little training."

Regent Sommers also showed that teachers' salaries today though higher are relatively lower than they have been at any time in the past decade, because the buying power of the dollar is now about five-eighths of what it was in the pre-war period. "His salary increase has in reality been a delusion and a snare," said Regent Sommers. "Stories of great distress are current on every campus," said Mr. Sommers. "They are tales of ill health, caused by lack of proper food, of families of teachers at whose table butter is unknown, where no new clothing has been purchased in years, where entertainment, unless free, are tabooed, where domestic service of any sort is prohibitory; where children are an extravagance rarely permissible; where the teacher's wife must help to support by becoming a wage earner—sowing for doing clerical work. Briefly stated, the situation is this: either salaries must go up or prices must come down."

Mr. Sommers declared that he looked for no sweeping reductions in the cost of ordinary living, and he said that if material relief is to come to teachers it must come in only one way, and that is, in a substantial salary increase.

"The question goes much further than that of mere help to the college teacher," the speaker said. "The future of the educational system of the whole country is threatened. He quoted President Burton when he said: 'Men of first class ability cannot enter upon a teaching career with assurance. Their self-respect compels them to seek other lines of service, as long as the economic status of the teacher is as low as it is at present, as long as the Ph. British Government Reported Interested in the Great Fields in Province of New Brunswick.

The Montreal Gazette of Oct. 16 prints the following interesting article written by Alexander Gray. In a recent article discussing the need for sources of motive power, George H. Smith, director of the United States Geological Survey, writes as follows: "The oil shale resources of the country must not be overlooked, nor must their value be underestimated as a rear line of economic defence. As their oil content is butly comparable with the petroleum reserves of the world, these shales furnish an effective guarantee against the United States going home dry as to oil, but the oil won from the oil shales will not be cheap, like the petroleum now being won from our wells. As long as industry is short-handed, it cannot expect any return from oil shale, nor can it expect any return to low prices by utilizing this resource, however vast its extent."

Having stated the positive and negative factors affecting oil shales—although it ignores what has been accomplished in the actual results realized from oil shales—Mr. Smith lends the weight of his official judgment to the fact that Canada's great shale resources only now are receiving the attention they merit.

Clamor of Oil Booms.

In a recent review of the oil fields of the world, more particularly in the United States, Mexico and Central America, their production to date and their possible reserves upon which all countries are dependent, Mark Requa of California, acknowledged to be an international authority, declared that had it not been for the discovery of fluid oils in Pennsylvania, Ohio and elsewhere in the oil-containing shales known to exist would have been requisitioned. Scotland, Mr. Requa asserted, had pointed the way to utilize its oil shales. The "Scott process" of distillation had made oil shales economically profitable, but the broader application of that method of extracting oil, gasoline and kindred by-products was nipped in the bud when the contemporaries of the Rockefeller, Flagler, the Paynes and others, gave the United States its first oil "boom."

There is a clamor about "booms" and "rushes" to precious metal fields. "Stamps" have signalled discoveries of precious stones. All such exciting adventures, however, are dwarfed by oil "booms," where "the gambler" proceeds without "blush" and the element of chance, combined with enough capital to "start something," makes millionaires overnight, or convinces the embryonic magnet that a "duster" may develop alongside of a "gusher." The latter represents wealth without continuous effort, unless the "flush" production peters out. With oil shales, while their potential wealth awaits adequate capital, the business of mastering their economic contents was monopolized by the Scottish corporation until Matthew Lodge of Moncton, N. B., celebrated the termination of a quarter of a century or so of unrelenting investigation and effort by interesting the imperial government and British capital in their kind, and the richest. Mr. Lodge has traveled all over the world, and has expended many years and considerable money on personal account and in behalf of intimate friends who have confidence in him. Whenever there is an oil field or an oil shale occurrence, he has compressed his lips and squared his shoulders in the presence of the experts and statisticians. His general fund of information is unsurpassed by geologists and "shapers" of international repute, and it is because of this that his constructive optimism has recently borne fruits both in the southwestern states and in New Brunswick. Mr. Lodge is encyclopedic. Familiar with the outstanding features of the oil states of Utah, Colorado, Wyoming and other states; conversant with "structures" of every locality where oil is being found or where geologists expect to find it during the past year he has directed drilling operations in Oklahoma and Kansas, and his record is that of eight wells drilled he has only so far "struck" one "duster." This is exceptional and fortunate. Montreal, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick associates freely attest this.

"How all important are these New Brunswick oil shales may be approximately estimated when it is understood that Dr. Marshall Hall placed the tonnage of this one section of the shales at 150,000,000 tons. The company owning these shales owns one hundred and ninety-two square miles, and in recent years has proved its property in Westmorland and Albert counties by core drilling to a depth of 1,500 feet. Some fifty drillings were made at different sections and they disclosed millions of tons that obviously could not be estimated from surface workings. These New Brunswick shales are the only ones tested for quantity and quality on the American continent. Without a doubt this is the largest and richest deposit in the world.

A Persistent Champion.

Of the New Brunswick oil shales, Mr. Lodge is a consistent and persistent champion. Speaking of these, he is assured that they will attain to their long-deferred destiny as an important source of gasoline, illuminating oil, lubricating oil, fuel oil, paraffin wax and ammonia. "Occasionally," he said, "there is a brief reference to our New Brunswick shales, whereas the American periodicals and newspapers devote much space to the shales of the state. It is not, however, that some years ago Professor N. S. Shaler, of Harvard University, made the statement that the bituminous shale deposits of New Brunswick are the largest in the known world. Since that time we have demonstrated that his statement was correct, not only regarding the quantity, but as to the quality. Distillation of bulk samples of these New Brunswick shales, made in Scotland under the direction of Dr. R. W. Ellis, of the Canadian Geological Survey, and Dr. Charles Baskerville, of the College of the City of New York, proved conclusively that the value of the shales in oil was forty-five gallons to the ton, and that the sulphate of ammonia content was seventy-seven pounds. These results were obtained from an average fifty-ton sample taken from the outcroppings at New Brunswick. It has been a long drawn-out campaign, whose end Mr. Lodge hopes is in sight. Very few Canadians are aware that New Brunswick has been producing natural gas commercially for the last twelve years through the initiative of Mr. Lodge. The city of Moncton has been lighted, heated and powered by natural gas from Albert county wells. This gas has the greatest calorific power of any gas on the American Continent and the paying quality of New Brunswick's gas sands is incomparable. To this fact is attributable the growth in the last few years of the city of Moncton. Besides, the quantity is keeping pace with the requirements of that city. The New Brunswick gas and oil fields are also producing considerable high grade oil. At present the Anglo-Peruvian Oil Company, in which the Imperial Government is interested is working under an option from the parent company, the New Brunswick Gas & Oil Fields, Ltd., and is testing a large area to the north of Moncton for oil and gas. Mr. Lodge, therefore, has no doubts as to the verification of predictions made by such men as Professor Shaler, Dr. Oliphant and Sterry Hunt, that New Brunswick easily will become one of the most lucrative fields on the American Continent, notwithstanding the deposits are so close to the front door that speculators and Canadian capitalists did not have the romantic perspective pertaining to remote areas "at the end of the rainbow."

MUSIC SCHOOL IN UNIVERSITY

Of high importance to musical education in Canada, is the latest development in the history of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, by which that institution becomes part of the University of Toronto. Hitherto Ontario has had no state school of music similar to those in some countries of Europe, those connected with the universities of several states in the adjoining republic, or to that of New South Wales, in Australia, and no university school of music similar to that which through the munificence of Lord Strathcona and Sir William Macdonald, has for some years been in operation in connection with McGill University. The management of the conservatory will in future be directed by a special board appointed by the university and responsible to the university board of governors. In brief, the terms of the agreement mean that a large department of educational activity is being brought under the control of the province of Ontario without undue burden of oversight or expense to the University of Toronto or to the province. Examinations in music it is expected, can now be standardized throughout that province under the supervision of the comparatively recently-appointed Faculty of Music of the University of Toronto, consisting of the following prominent musicians, namely: Dr. A. S. Vogt, Dean; Dr. Healey William F. R. C. O.; Dr. Albert Ham, F. R. C. O.; H. A. Fricker, M. A., Mus. Bac, F. R. C. O., and F. A. Moore.

ALBERTA HAS FIRST MORMON TEMPLE IN THE EMPIRE

Excellent Piece of Architecture Cost $1,250,000

is About Complete—No Gentile to Be Allowed Inside—Money Raised All Over Continent.

(Canadian Press.) Lethbridge, Alta., Oct. 23.—Set upon a hill, the highest point in the town of Cardston in the extreme southwest of Alberta, stands like the Acropolis of ancient Athens, a Mormon temple, the first such structure to be erected on British soil. Typically Grecian in architecture, it symbolizes to the members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in the dominion the permanence of the church in Canada. The Mormons have come to stay. Six years ago last August the first sod was turned. Year by year the imposing structure has risen until today it stands almost completed, ready for the final dedication by the highest officials of the church, a ceremony which will likely take place in May or June of next year. Interior decoration, which has already made the temple famous throughout the length and breadth of the continent, is still progressing and it will be spring before the final touches are made. There has been nothing of hurry to get the job finished; modern contracting methods for beating the time limit didn't enter into the undertaking; the result has been accomplished somewhat as the ancients must have constructed the pyramids. Once the temple is completed, dedicated and turned over to the corps of temple officials for the special rites and ceremonies for which it was constructed, it will be sacred ground. No gentile will be allowed to set foot within its portals, and only members of the church who can carry a certificate from their bishop showing themselves to be in good standing in every particular will be allowed to take part in the ceremonies within its walls. Surrounding the temple and lifting it up is a great square within a retaining wall 235 feet square. Within are being developed beautiful artificial gardens in the centre of which the temple stands, rearing its topmost point 110 feet in the air. It is not so much, however, on the exterior of the structure, which is constructed of Nelson granite bearing 88 in gold to the ton, that expenditure has been lavished as on the interior where the finest of woods, paintings and rugs vie with each other to lend a tone of quiet magnificence absorbing the interest of the visitor. Symbolic Decoration. Everything within the temple symbolizes something. In the very centre of the ground floor there is the great baptistry with its baptismal font supported on the backs of twelve life-sized oxen done by the famous sculptor, Toralf Knaphus. Ascending by easy stages as one circles the building come the Creation Rooms, indicating the beginning of the world, its walls beautifully paneled by vague pictures portraying the first seven days. From this one passes into the room representing the Garden of Eden, the world before sin, where an interior decoration, which has already made the temple famous throughout the length and breadth of the continent, is still progressing and it will be spring before the final touches are made. known. The construction there of the first temple on British soil, marks it as the centre of Mormonism in the Dominion. It promises to show every considerable growth in the few years following dedication next spring for it is the history of the temple towns in Mormon communities that the older people, when they quit active business, flock to these towns, build themselves homes and settle down close to the temple where they can carry out the various ordinances of the church which they probably neglected in their busier years. MANUAL TRAINING AND VOCATIONAL EDUCATION. W. G. Hummel, state director of vocational education, Washington, makes the following statement to indicate the distinction between manual training and vocational education. This may be found helpful to many who have puzzled over the difference between these two forms of education: "A clear understanding of the legitimate functions of manual training and of vocational education makes evident the nature of the mutually helpful relationship possible and desirable between them. The function of vocational education is, obviously, to train skilled workers in a definite occupation. In carrying on its function, vocational training must necessarily focus the serious attention of its student on the working conditions of the trade or occupation, and must endeavor to give them the skill, speed and habits of thought needed for success in the trades and occupations studied. The functions of manual training are more general in character. It should give some skill in the use of tools, and should include particularly such information, experience and skill as are applicable to home needs; but its most valuable functions are to give a wide view of the industrial world, to develop social adaptiveness, to point the way to different vocations, and to assist in the intelligent choice of a life work. This last means that it should discover and weed out those who should not go into the trades and industries as well as discover for other students the particular trades or occupations to which they are best adapted. The functions of manual training, then, are extensive, while those of vocational education are largely intensive. Both are industrial in character. They differ in that one emphasizes above all other things the demands of the occupation and industry, while the other emphasizes especially general social and individual development needs. The one is directly vocational, the other professional and supplemental to general education."

What is the purpose of the temple? The Latter Day Saints claim to be a branch of the House of Israel and, as such, are a temple-building people, and eight temples, including the one at Cardston and one at Lathbridge, have been built. The ninth has been decided upon and will be built at Mesa, Arizona. In these temples officiate members of the priesthood, speak sermons and set apart by high officials of the church at Salt Lake City, for the highest ordinances of the gospel as believed and practised by the Mormon people. First among these ceremonies is baptism for the dead, Mormonism holds that those who have died without knowledge of the Supreme Being may be given an opportunity to exercise faith and to repent through the baptism of a living relative in his name. Thus each Mormon family sets great store by its genealogy, and great efforts are made to trace it in order that ancestors, even four or five centuries back, may receive the benefit through being represented in baptism.

to the celestial room at the very top of the temple. For this an enormous sum is now being won in Brussels, Belgium, at a cost of $8,000, while a heavy well-casting $25,000 will form the entrance. Of the celestial room are smaller rooms done in the finest wood procurable. These are used for marriages and for the typical Mormon ceremony of "sealing the dead."

by a present day member of the family. Celestial marriage is the other important ordinance for which the temple stands. The Latter Day Saints assert that God's design regarding the union of the sexes in holy wedlock is an eternal one, never intended to have its termination at death. Thus marriage for life and eternity are the Mormon couple made in the usual way outside the temple are for life only, and almost every young man makes an effort at some time early in their married life, to visit the temple and be sealed to each other for the next world. Heretofore members of the Mormon Church in Canada have been compelled to visit Salt Lake City or some other point where a temple had been erected, to have these ceremonies, and several other minor ordinances performed. Ever since 1888 when Charles Ora Card, with a few families, came overland from Utah at the command of the president of the church, to establish a colony in Canada, settling in the United States for their ceremonies. But now the church is 10,000 strong in Alberta. The people have opportunity to exercise faith and to repent through the baptism of a living relative in his name. Thus each Mormon family sets great store by its genealogy, and great efforts are made to trace it in order that ancestors, even four or five centuries back, may receive the benefit through being represented in baptism.

stake with President E. J. Wood at its head, centering on Cardston, and the Taylor stake, named after Apostle John W. Taylor, said to be the father of Mormon colonies in Canada, centering on Raymond, with President H. S. Allen at head. The church, however, is spreading in this province, and a third stake is likely to be created shortly, centering on Lethbridge. Bishops, chosen from among the elder men, take the part of ministers and pastors in other churches. Bishops, however, do not give all their time to the church, generally they are prosperous business men or farmers. The Mormons are essentially an agricultural people, and most of their members in Alberta are engaged in farming and ranching. They were the first irrigators to come to Canada, the establishment of the Lethbridge irrigation project in 1900 being the signal for a big trek from Utah to Southern Alberta. How Money Was Raised. Not all the million and a quarter dollars spent in the erection of the temple to the Most High in Cardston is being contributed by the Mormons of Alberta. Indeed, the greater part of the money was furnished by the central council, of which President Heber J. Grant is now head. This money came from Mormons in every part of the continent through tithing, which is a matter on which all Mormons lay great stress. However, many thousands dollar were contributed by the members of the church in Canada, while many of the rough labor on the temple was given by members without pay. From new members of the church in Alberta, are contributing funds for the erection of the ninth temple at Mesa, Cardston, the Temple City, it is now

Escaped an Operation

There is nothing in the world a woman so much fears as a surgical operation. Often they are necessary, but often not; and many have been avoided by the timely use of that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you are suffering from some dread ailment peculiar to your sex, why not profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow? These Two Women Saved from Operations. Cedar Rapids, Ohio.—After the birth of my last child I had such painful spells they would unfit me entirely for my housework. I suffered for months and the doctor said that my trouble was organic ulcers and I would have to have an operation. That was an awful thing to me, with a young baby and four other children, so one day I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how it had helped me years before and I decided to try it again. I took five bottles of Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and since then I have been a well woman, able to take care of my house and family without any trouble or a day's pain. I am ready and thankful to swear by your medicine any time. I am forty-four years old and have not had a day's illness of any kind for three years.—Mrs. H. KOENIG, 617 Ellis Blvd., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Thousands of Such Letters Prove the Curative Value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

THE EXCHANGE RATE

III.—What Controls It?

IN No. II. of this series we explained why foreign dollars in a banker's hands are merely an evidence of indebtedness, a commodity to be bought or sold.

In order to make use of the credit these represent, he must first exchange them for the currency of his own country and this he does by sending them to a bank in the country in which they were issued. This means not only the labor of counting and sealing the parcel, but the cost of postage and the premium for insuring it against loss on the way.

The Bank to which he sends it must either remit payment for the foreign dol-lars in gold (the intrinsic value of pure gold being equal in all countries) saving express charges and insurance on the parcel, or if the bank has a credit balance in the country from which the foreign dollars came, it may give a cheque against that balance to the sending banker.

It was to avoid this cumbersome, risky and unsatisfactory way of settling inter-national debts by the transfer of gold that the system of Bills of Exchange was brought into use, and we will try to explain that system next week.

THE BUSINESS COLUMN

THE FOURTEEN POINTS OF WINDOW DECORATION.

1. Window or glass should be so clean inside and out that a store would stake its reputation on it.
 2. The woodwork, floor coverings, etc., should be made to bring a lot of busi-ness by receiving the careful treatment they deserve.
 3. It is much easier to make a display than with a miscellaneous assortment.
 4. Simplicity is the most important thing about a show window.
 5. Size is not the most important thing about a show window, as well as a larger one.
 6. Windows should be well lighted with the proper lamps and angles.
 7. Do not clutter up a large window with small objects unless you group them and allow space enough to have each group stand by itself.
 8. Group only articles that go well together.
 9. Every window should have a back-ground which serves to make the display stand out and gives an opportunity to properly illuminate the display.
 10. Windows should be illuminated at night. Many people come to the store to see them during the day.
 11. Pedestals in convenient heights and colors should be used to raise a display of the floor and out of the mediocre class. Suitable height for pedestals for electrical goods stores are twelve, eighteen, twenty-four and thirty inches. A convenient size for glass for window frames is about twelve by twenty-four inches.
 12. Every display should have at least one descriptive card or poster to get your message over quickly to the less discern-ing eye.
 13. Displays should be timely and ad-vantage taken of every holiday and event.
 14. Money put into show windows pays the largest return of any form of investment.
 All the money, time and intelligent effort put into window display pay big in dollars and cents and a growing busi-ness.

VOLUMES OF COLLING WISDOM

In These Short Paragraphs.
 What are the three most important questions to a retail clerk and what are the answers?
 This is the basis of a prize contest held at the Jordan Marsh store in Boston. Several hundred questions and answers were submitted, but the following were selected as being of the greatest value:
 1. Why is a knowledge of goods necessary to success?
 2. How can one gain and hold customers?
 3. What qualifications are needed to become a successful merchant?
 The prize-winning answers, all received from clerks in the store, were:
 1. A knowledge of goods is the most valuable asset a person can acquire, for you must know what you are talking about before you can really sell a customer. Moreover, you can change a very ordinary transaction into an interesting proceeding if you know something about the material that you are selling.
 2. To gain and hold customers by treating every one with courtesy and consideration; by being always ready and willing to show goods in a manner which leaves no room for doubt in the minds of your customers; by answering questions in an intelligent manner; by keeping all promises and not making any misleading statements.
 3. Personality rules in business, as in other lines. Let the customer see that you can smile, present a business-like appearance, be neat and clean, train yourself to remember names and keep your stock and counter as well ordered as your home.

COUNTRY STORES SHOULD FOLLOW CITY'S LEAD.

"Match the merchandise of the big city stores and then sell it cheaper." On that theory, practiced in a town of 300 inhabitants, Mrs. Guy Bryan of of window decoration. There is one other important thing on which the success of Mrs. Bryan's store rests. She studies her community. She finds out what her customers want. Then she goes to market and buys the things she already knows her customers will buy.

MRS. BRYAN CARRIES A $10,000 STOCK

and does a gross business of around $50,000. She carries a general line, but specializes in dry goods. Last year her goods trade more than doubled that of any previous year and she is ex-citing herself more than ever this year to swell the total. The Bryan store em-ploys three clerks. It is located in a building 30 by 60 feet and is remarkable for its neatness and cleanliness.

THE SUCCESS OF THE SMALL TOWN STORE

There are three things necessary for the success of the small town store: (1) cleanliness, service and prices. The most important of these is cleanliness. Mrs. Bryan, "cleanliness, service and prices." The most important of these is cleanliness. Mrs. Bryan, "cleanliness, service and prices." The most important of these is cleanliness. Mrs. Bryan, "cleanliness, service and prices."

WHY BUYERS WAIT.

Merchants who are despondent over the reluctance of the consumer to make his fall purchases at present price levels sadly recall the eagerness with which the buying public re-sponded a year ago to the motto: "You'd better buy now; it will cost you more next week." This reluctance, however, ought really to aid them in accepting the present situation philo-sophically. Conditions today only illus-trate the workings of the law of com-pensation. If people buy quickly to forestall higher prices, they will surely postpone buying when prices strike the downward grade.

COLLECTORS ARE SLOW.

Reports from most sections of the country indicate that collectors are making his fall purchases at present price levels sadly recall the eagerness with which the buying public re-sponded a year ago to the motto: "You'd better buy now; it will cost you more next week." This reluctance, however, ought really to aid them in accepting the present situation philo-sophically. Conditions today only illus-trate the workings of the law of com-pensation. If people buy quickly to forestall higher prices, they will surely postpone buying when prices strike the downward grade.

VIEWPOINT OF RETAIL TRADE

(New York Evening Post.)

The retailer has a lot of advice coun-ting him these days from both job-bers and consumers. The jobber is urging him to cut prices and clean his shelves, and the recipient of these suggestions does not regard this coun-sel as wholly disinterested. The con-sumer gives his advice by deeds rather than by words, indicating what he thinks should be done by simply with-holding his patronage.

"You marked your goods up when prices were advancing and pocketed big profits. Now, when the prices are falling you must pursue the opposite course, even though you did buy in a high market. It's a poor rule that does not work both ways." This is the sum and substance of what the retail merchant is now having dinned into his ears.

Though this may seem perfectly logical, it apparently overlooks one phase of the retailer's position. When prices advance he is the last in line among the sellers to feel the pressure to mark his goods up, unless he hap-pens to have the profiteering temper-ment. If he chances to be well stocked with goods bought in a low market, he feels a strong inducement to hold down prices for a time and secure the advantage of underselling competitors who may be in a less fortunate position.

On the other hand, when a drop is announced in wholesale prices, he is subjected to immediate pressure from the buying public to make a corre-sponding cut in his high-priced stocks. While the rule should work both ways, it seems to work more quickly in one direction than the other.

The recent drop in wholesale prices, therefore, has resulted in something like an endurance test between re-tailers and their customers, and as a result the expected fall trade has not materialized. Retailers are still hold-ing out and hoping that the approach of severe weather will make the buyers a little less reluctant to lay in their supplies.

WHY BUYERS WAIT.

Merchants who are despondent over the reluctance of the consumer to make his fall purchases at present price levels sadly recall the eagerness with which the buying public re-sponded a year ago to the motto: "You'd better buy now; it will cost you more next week." This reluctance, however, ought really to aid them in accepting the present situation philo-sophically. Conditions today only illus-trate the workings of the law of com-pensation. If people buy quickly to forestall higher prices, they will surely postpone buying when prices strike the downward grade.

COLLECTORS ARE SLOW.

Reports from most sections of the country indicate that collectors are making his fall purchases at present price levels sadly recall the eagerness with which the buying public re-sponded a year ago to the motto: "You'd better buy now; it will cost you more next week." This reluctance, however, ought really to aid them in accepting the present situation philo-sophically. Conditions today only illus-trate the workings of the law

Lecture Tour In States By Mrs. Asquith Talked Of

Return of the Prince of Wales—The Jenny Lind Centenary—Girl Carries Off High Honors in Medical World of London.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) London, Oct. 22.—An announcement that Mrs. Asquith is going across to America next December, was inevitable. Every prominent or distinguished personality on this side of the Atlantic whose gifts lie any way in the direction of publicity, has either done a lecture tour in the United States or been invited to undertake one. Among those who have refused the invitation, it is said, is G. B. Shaw, on the rather characteristic ground that the American continent is as yet insufficiently ventilated intellectually to attract him.

The "Black and Tans." I make it a rule, so far as I can, to avoid politics in these notes but it is impossible to deny that the main topic of conversation is the "Black and Tans." A great many of these men go far beyond, if reports now circulated in London are true, the excusable desire to avenge atrocities and murders committed against the ordinary police. It may be said that though Sir Neil Macready has the sympathy of everybody in his desire to maintain the king's government, the best friends of the Union Jack as against the tricolor of Sinn Fein do not wish it to be spoiled by blackguardism, however strongly provoked.

The Prince's Return. It hardly looks as if the Prince of Wales would get to Scotland after all. He is due for a state entry into London of "Sir Brian Cockayne" and by Henry Bell of Lloyd's Bank, who conceals under the exterior of the typical English banker all kinds of accomplishments of an unexpected kind. Mr. Bell writes humorous verse of a very deft kind which is already apparently amusing his colleagues.

Theatrical Items.

Of theatrical news there is little to record except the success of Lennox Robinson's "Fishes-headed boy" at the Theatre of the City. Mr. Robinson, who is the tallest and skinniest man who ever came out of Ireland, is the son of a Protestant vicar in the disturbed area of Cork, but he has a really fine sense of the romantic and comic aspects of his unfortunate country. He gave us the former in the Parcell play "The Lost Leader" which, helped by the fine acting of Norman Mackinnell and Arthur Whitley, had such a fine run last year at the Court. In his new play, which is a farcical comedy, he has to help him the cream of the old and brilliant Abbey Theatre Company, including Arthur Guinness, Sidney Morgan, Miss Sara Allgood and Miss Marie O'Neill. I hear that Mrs. Patrick Campbell is offering to play Lady Macbeth with the American actor, Mr. Hackett, when he begins his season at the Abbey. Mrs. Campbell has not played Shakespeare for many years, but she did Lady Macbeth with Sir John Forbes Robertson some years ago.

Forel to America.

My golfing friends tell me that 1921 is to be an even greater "boom" year than 1920. And the rivalry between golfers on either side of the Atlantic threatens, as our American friends might say, to "sing the whistles" into creation. On this side, the American challenge occasions more trepidation in our amateur than in our professional ranks. During the war, perhaps, the American golfer had more leisure for practicing than our golfers had, whatever the cause, it is undeniable that a very fine school for amateur golfers has now grown up under the Stars and Stripes. Many people think that Mr. Gardner was a little unlucky in not beating young Mr. Talley in the final of the championship this year, and if he comes over again next summer with "Click" Evans, Mr. Quince and others of our amateurs will have to look to their laurels.

But the challenge is not to be all on one side. It is practically settled, I hear, that George Duncan and Abe Mitchell will both visit the States in 1921, and I shall be greatly surprised if one or the other does not repeat the success of Ted Hay. Nor will our challenge stop there. Quite a number of our prominent lady golfers, with the redoubtable Miss Cecil Leitch at their head, are making arrangements for an American golfing tour, which will enable them to take part in the American ladies' championship. In this case, also, I should imagine that it is odds on that we shall annex the premier honors.

The Jenny Lind Centenary.

Few still living heard Jenny Lind sing, and yet the memory of her splendid voice lives despite the fact that the centenary of her birth is being celebrated this week. It was on October 6, 1820 that the "Swedish nightingale," as she afterwards came to be known, was born in Stockholm, and this anniversary is to be remembered there; in America where she had some of her greatest triumphs, and married; and in England, where she made her home in her last years. Special concerts are being organized, at which the music she interpreted so magnificently is to be sung. It is a curious fact that although it was many years before she could be persuaded to sing in England, once she did so she was charmed with her reception, and made so many friends that, after she married, she insisted on making her home here. Mendelssohn, her great friend, wrote the soprano part of his oratorio "Elijah" specially for Jenny Lind, but even he failed to induce her to come over to England to sing at the first performance of his great work. After the death of the composer, however, she gave a performance of "Elijah" in London, and with the proceeds, founded the Mendelssohn Scholarship. Arthur Sullivan was the first recipient of this prize, which has done so much to educate the young generations of British composers. Her name is commemorated in many towns, for she sang generously for charities; and her teaching work at the Royal College of Music, which she assisted in forming on the invitation of the late King Edward, has left its own memorial in her pupils who are now well known in the world of music.

Dr. Cissie Cooper.

The feminists in London—and there are now monstrous regiments of them—are exceedingly date over the triumph of a girl student at Charing Cross Medical School. For the first time the governor's gold medal for the ablest clinical student has been carried off by a woman, and the young lady in question, Miss Cissie Cooper, is as charming and prettily feminine as she is manifestly clever. Her success is remarkably popular at the school, and the vanquished male medicals show no symptoms of sex hostility in this matter. Miss Cooper is herself quite pleased at her own success, becomingly modest about it, and her only worry is her Christian name. She cannot visualize the traditional professional brass plate with "Dr. Cissie" on it. Miss Cooper is medium height, plump, with vivacious eyes of brown, and very wavy brown hair. She has won, for the first time in more than 100 years, for her sex, the coveted gold medal awarded after a most searching test.

LAUNCH TWO SHIPS

Commander and Leader Slip Off Ways—Odessa Trade Soon.

(Montreal Star.) A sudden increase in shipbuilding activity in Montreal is indicated today in the announcement made to The Star by the Canadian Vickers Company Limited, namely that another 8,400-ton vessel, the Canadian Commander, will be launched on October 30. The new freighter is built for the Canadian government Merchant Marine.

The Star also learned from the general manager of Canadian-Vickers that the Canadian Commander will be followed a fortnight later by the Canadian Leader, also for government service, and of the same tonnage. It was feared some weeks ago, that owing to the slow delivery of steel plates and other material from the United States, there would be no further launching at the local yards this season.

The two new freighters will bring the Canadian-Vickers' constructed tonnage in 1920 up to the total of six ships, with a gross tonnage of 50,000 tons. Two other large cargo carriers for foreign governments are also on the stocks, but will have to be held over to the spring of 1921. The launching of six vessels of over eight thousand tons each in one season, is easily a record for any Canadian shipbuilding yard.

Tre to Russia.

Local shipping circles are now waiting with interest for the advent of Canada into direct Russian trade, both in the carrying of immigrants to this country and in the interchange of national commodities. In big business circles all eyes are upon General Wrangel.

It was stated by a marine authority to The Star today that a decisive victory by Wrangel's forces, followed by a strong peace, such as Poland has signed, would mean the immediate opening up of steamship routes from Canada to Odessa, in the Black Sea, and Costanza and Varna. Odessa is the big distribution point for wheat, oil and cotton, all South Russian products. The European railway transportation system is now too decrepit to handle the swarm of immigrants whose eyes are fixed on the New World.

Instead of Antwerp, Hamburg and Havre, the logical ports of embarkation are now Odessa, Varna and Costanza, the latter being the Roumanian outlet on the Black Sea. All ships trading to these ports would secure cargoes both ways.

St. Catharines, Oct. 21.—"Perhaps the worst year we have ever had in our whole history as fruit growers," was the "vo" a prominent fruit grower summed up the situation in the Niagara fruit belt. This year's crop has been the biggest on record, yet the growers claim they have made hardly any money on the great output of peaches, cherries, plums, etc. The growers claim their interests in regard to transportation have not been properly looked after before the railway board by the men expressly appointed by the government to do so. It is likely there will be some strong criticism of existing conditions voiced at the annual meeting of the Niagara Peninsula United Fruit Growers' Association.

"We sent one man to the railway board from our association, but what could one man do when not backed up by the men appointed by the government to look after our interests?" said Secretary Carl Fisher of the Fruit Growers' Association. "We couldn't ship fruit in the ordinary cars supplied, and so that was the cause of thousands of dollars' loss."

This year the growers of the Niagara belt will lose thousands of dollars by reason not only of the poor transportation facilities, but also of the scarcity of baskets, scarcity of help, etc. Much fruit from here reached Montreal in such bad condition this year, because the cars were not properly loaded, that it was a total loss, and the fact discouraged the growers.

IMPERIAL Premier MORE MILES PER GALLON WINTER GASOLINE. WHEN you start your car those cold days you will appreciate the low boiling points of Imperial Premier Gasoline—those low boiling points make starting easy. When you check up your mileage you will recognize the value of heavier fractions in Imperial Premier Gasoline—these supply the power economy demands, they mean More Miles Per Gallon. If Imperial Premier were a blended gasoline, its combination of high boiling points and low boiling points might mean nothing. But Imperial Premier is a straight distilled gasoline. From its lowest boiling point to its highest boiling point its chain of power is continuous and unbroken. The big buyers of gasoline, the buyers who know most about gasoline, those who decide only after careful tests, use Imperial Premier Gasoline exclusively because they have convinced themselves that there is no better gasoline made. A gravity test means absolutely nothing. You may not care what crudes are used or how your gasoline is refined. What you motorists do want is gasoline that will give you good service and good mileage during the winter. This is what we promise you in Imperial Premier Gasoline. The more you find out about gasoline, the surer you will be that it is impossible to buy at any price a better gasoline than Imperial Premier Gasoline. No New Park Yet.
(New York Times).
Plans for a new ball park for the New York Yankees have been abandoned temporarily as the result of an agreement entered into within the last few days between the owners of the team and the Giants. Some months ago notice was served on Colonel Stuyvesant and the Giants that they must play some field other than the Polo Grounds after the 1921 season. While Chicago last week President Charles Weismann and Vice-President John J. Graw of the Giants conferred with owners of the Yankees and agreed to renew the lease for the season of 1921. It was agreed at the same time that the Yankees might play indefinitely at the Polo Grounds if a twelve-month league develops as a result of the talk now prevailing in the American League. At any rate, it will not be necessary for the Yankees to have a new park before 1923.

Jack Dempsey Has No Intention of Defending His Title Abroad — Champion Idle Now.

New York, Oct. 22.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavy weight boxing champion, will not make a trip to England to defend his title against aspiring rivals no matter what the inducement. This declaration was made this week by Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, when the prospect of a trip to Europe was submitted to him. The receipt of a cablegram, containing information of a rumor through England that the champion was contemplating a trip across the briny in January, prompted the denial of Manager Kearns.

The cablegram was as follows:
"Reported here Dempsey is coming to England in January. Is it true?"
Manager Kearns was a visitor to Madison Square today on a mission he would not discuss, but he denied emphatically that Dempsey or himself was contemplating a trip to England. "Dempsey will not go to England in January, February, March, April or May," said Kearns, when the proposition was broached to him and the contents of the cablegram made known. "I haven't had any advices from England which would lead me to believe that there was foundation for such a rumor. Possibly promoters abroad are considering the idea of arranging a meeting between Dempsey and Carpenter or Beckett, but there have been no definite negotiations for such a match, nor is there likely to be anything

Matches in View.
"Dempsey is idle right now and will be until the winter sets in. I have several matches in view, however, and expect soon to have the champion pitted against a rival. As for England, however, there is not enough money there to induce us to make the trip right now."

British promoters are understood to have been in communication with Manager Kearns in an effort to induce him to visit England for prospective bouts against Joe Beckett, British heavyweight champion, or Georges Carpenter, European champion, who came to his cousin Dempsey in a world's title bout. Flattering offers have been made, but Manager Kearns has not accepted any of them. From his declaration today it is regarded as extremely doubtful that he will seriously consider any proposition requiring a trip to England for a bout in which the champion would defend his title. It is probable that a match will be arranged for this city, in which Dempsey will engage a worthy foe after election day.

Dempsey will journey to Philadelphia and will engage in a four-round exhibition tomorrow night against Bill Tate, one of his sparring partners.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—The Cook County grand jury investigation into the baseball scandal today voted true bills against Hal Chase, former major league player, expelled for alleged gambling; Abe Attell, former feather weight boxing champion, who is now in Montreal; and Bill Burns, former big league pitcher.

The jury also again voted indictments against the eight Chicago American League players accused of throwing games in the 1919 world's series. This was done to overcome legal technicalities believed to have been located in voting the indictments previously. Announcement of the jury action was made by the state attorney's office.

An official of the state attorney's office said that the indictments were voted after testimony had been given to the jury that Chase was the "real fixer" of the 1919 world series. Chase was said

SCHOOL TEACHERS "WORSE OFF THAN BEFORE THE WAR"

Salary Increase Less Than in Living Cost

U. S. Chamber of Commerce Survey — Emergency Instructors Lacking Proper Training Form Too Large Proportion.

(New York Evening Post.) Chambers of Commerce in 309 cities of the United States with a population of 8,000 or more will receive today from their national committee for co-operation with the public schools the results of a nationwide survey relating to salaries, training, and experience of teachers in which it is declared that in point of salary the average school teacher is "worse off than before the war."

The report, the first of four "interpretive inquiries," will enable these cities to learn for the first time the truth about their own schools and to compare them with the schools of other cities throughout the country. This survey, which was undertaken by the American City Bureau after a conference of superintendents of schools with Chamber of Commerce secretaries at Cleveland, O., last February 24, has been in progress more than six months. The questions to which answers were sought and obtained in the 850 cities were: "How much training do your teachers have?" and "How well do you pay your school employees?"

Many Have Short Experience. One-half of the men elementary teachers in all cities reporting, it was shown had less than the median of 8.10 years of experience. One-fourth have had less than 3.71 years' experience. Of 68,291 teachers, 3,493 have had only one year's experience, and of this number 739 are men and women high school teachers and 2,736 are men and women elementary grade teachers. More than 10,000 women and 800 men in the cities surveyed, however, have been teaching twenty years and over.

Emergency teachers lacking proper training for their work are said to compose "an alarmingly large proportion" of those now in the class rooms. It is a commonly accepted standard among city boards of education, the report points out, that the teachers in the elementary schools should be at least graduates of a two-year professional course above graduation from a four-year high school. "It is very significant to note in this connection," the report says, "that more than one-third of the teachers of American cities have less training than this standard, and that there are thousands of teachers in the elementary schools of our American cities who have even less preparation than graduation from a four-year high school course."

troveries, equalization of educational opportunity, health, industrial organization, require that the product of our schools by thinking Americans, provided with the knowledge and habits which will make them contributing members of a democratic society," the report says that "teaching needs to be made a real profession," and that "adequate salaries are an absolute essential for the realization of this ideal." The returns disclose what are described as "many surprising facts concerning teachers' salaries." The average increase the country over since 1918-14 has been 60 per cent. The increase in the cost of living, meanwhile, it is shown, has been more than 100 per cent. "In view of the decreased purchasing power of the dollar the average school teacher in the United States is, therefore, worse off than she was before the war," the report states. The method of calculation used in the report is based on a median, or midpoint, in the scale of salaries which divides it exactly in half, one-half the cases falling below the median and the other half above it.

make available the facts with regard to the present situation and if Chambers of Commerce undertake the obligation to carry these facts to the public we shall have an informed public. The American people, when they come to a full realization of the present emergency, can certainly be counted upon to provide the support necessary for the maintenance and development of our public school system."

"WHAT GOES UP MUST COME DOWN"

(The American Banker.)

The Retail Clothing Association in convention at Chicago last week let drop some trade secrets. Here are a few facts which explain the high cost of garments: The prices of clothes will drop slowly so long as the girls from Russia get $45 a week.

The average wage for needle trades is $47, the dealers say. The same shop girls goes regularly to the beauty shop now. She's getting to be a regular chicken, silk hose and every thing. The pocket-makers are the real aristocrats in the clothing business now. In some cases they get $100 a week. They have entered that class that can take breakfast in bed. There is some balm in Gilead for the long-suffering and heavily-gauged ultimate consumer. For instance: Woollens will be cheaper next spring. The president of the association even said that clothing prices must come down because they are too high.

But Fred Veiland, a director of the association, gave a better reason. He let the cat out of the bag. He said the American public had rebelled against high prices. "The old clothes club," he said, "has struck the right note. That was the American public's way of registering a protest against an intolerable situation. Men who could afford to buy clothes at the high prices refused to do so, with the result that the market is overstocked. Men who used to have three and four suits are satisfied now to get along with one a year. "But the men insist on quality," he added. "Their wives have not anything on them as shoppers. They are getting more fussy all the time about what they buy."

How the League Issue Is Splitting the Parties

The desertion of the Harding camp by a former Republican National Committeeman and a number of other prominent pro-League Republicans after Senator Harding's uncompromising rejection of the League of Nations in its present form in his Des Moines speech, convinces many observers that the League has taken its place at the eleventh hour as a clear-cut issue of the Presidential campaign. But if the League issue is now rending the Republican ranks, it is also a matter of common newspaper remark that earlier in the campaign it won over to the Harding banner many Irish-American and German-American voters who supported Wilson in 1916. And it will be remembered that it was on this issue that the Hearst papers abandoned their traditional Democratic allegiance.
