BANGOR'S FIRST 'PHONE WAS GREAT CURIOSITY

Line Between Coal Office and Plant Excited Amusement in 1877

One of the Sights of Town—Delegation From St. John invited to See It—Had to Be Kept Under Lock and Key—First in State

Bangor's first public telephone service was inaugurated in 1880, but the first electrical instruments were put into operation three years before, in 1877 during one of the terms of Dr. Augustus C. Hamlin, as mayor.

The need of some means of communication was greatly felt in and around Bangor, especially by persons having various offices and warehouses. Some of these had private telegraph lines, but as it required many months of practice before any degree of expertness was attained, they were not highly successful.

Upon receiving a satisfactory report he at once entered into correspondence with the company, Charles E. Bacon & Robinson Coal Co. The points connected with the project were discussed and the coal office on Front street, Mr. Bacon who was trying to devise some scheme, had thought of putting in a telegraph line, but knowing of the unsatisfactory results which were received by many people, he decided not to try that method of communication.

When it was known that a telephone was in actual operation, dozens of people visited each day the offices of Bacon & Robinson. So great a curiosity to the small boys of that vicinity was the instrument in the Front street office that Mr. Bacon found it necessary to have a closet built around it with a lock on the door to keep the inquisitive youngsters from experimenting with it when the room was unoccupied.

Several times before the instrument was put under lock and key considerable damage was done by meddles, old and young, who were anxious to see for themselves just how long the thing would last.

One St. John and two Moncton lads escaped from the Boys' Industrial Home on last Sunday. Policemen Saunders managed to bring the city lad back again last night, after a long chase, finding him in the Churchland road. The other two are supposed to be making their way back to Moncton.

Best Meeting Yet. The Kenyon and Duffy meetings in Charlotte street church last evening was the best yet. The auditorium was full and at the close of the meeting fully twenty people went forward to enlist as soldiers of the Christian army.

THE WAR SITUATION.

Chancellor Von Hertling declares that Germany will not give up Alsace-Lorraine. He also holds that England should be made to give up Gibraltar, Alderney, Hong Kong, the Falkland Islands and other fortified points on sailing routes.

It is obvious that Von Hertling is not in the mood to talk peace. He represents Prussian militarism and the German dream of world-domination. The war must go on until the German people choose other spokesmen. That discontent grows in Germany there can be no doubt, and developments in Austria may encourage the protesting work-people who are now under the heel of the militarists.

Word comes that Austria is prepared to go on with peace negotiations with Russia on the basis of no annexations and no indemnities. Germany refuses to adopt a like policy, and threatens another invasion of Russia. The situation there is rapidly nearing another crisis.

The sensation of the day is Col. Repington's charge that the British government has not been making proper preparations to meet a German drive on the western front. He asserts that the German armies outnumber the Allies and says:

"The question which concerns most deeply every man, woman and child in the United Kingdom is whether King's men will now be sufficiently reinforced to enable them to compete with the enemy on fair terms. My opinion is that they will not be."

In reply to all critics Mr. Bonar Law declares that the chief of the Imperial staff and Field Marshal Haig have the full confidence of the government. What effect Col. Repington's broadside will have remains to be seen. He says: "Haig's recent statement that his drafts did not reach him to be properly trained and that he had to fight 181 German divisions with half that number, form the most formidable indictment of the war cabinet that could have been made."

THE FOOD CONTROLLER.

Food Controller Hanna has resigned. There was a feeling that his incumbency of office under the new government would not be prolonged. The eulogy which accompanies the announcement of his resignation will be read and interpreted in each locality in the light of what the people there know of local results of Mr. Hanna's activities. In St. John, for example, the people know that while he flour he was doing nothing to bring potatoes, an excellent substitute, within their reach, although enormous quantities of potatoes will not a little later on for lack of a market. They know also that they are paying about two dollars per barrel more for oatmeal than they should, because the price of oats was not fixed along with the price of wheat. Mr. Hanna will be remembered as the food-controller who did not control, and all upon him will not obliterate the record. That he did some good work is freely granted. That he did all he should have done will not be seriously affirmed by his best friends. Mr. Hanna is very close to the big interests which would be affected by a radical policy, but a war-time policy to be successful must be radical. In the United States manufacturing plants were ordered to close for a certain number of days. The thing was unheeded of, and protests poured in from all parts of the country. President Wilson did not budge one inch. The order stood and was obeyed, and the country thinks more of its president because he was not afraid to tread on some toes when they got in the way of his war work. Let us hope the new food controller in Canada will not waste any time explaining what he cannot do, but will boldly do the things he can and should do, whether some people like it or not. The people of this country will respond to bold and vigorous leadership, and there are still some profiteers lurking in the underbrush.

DAYLIGHT-SAVING.

Of daylight-saving the Halifax Chronicle says: "In Canada, the daylight saving plan has already been tried with so much satisfaction in so many different localities that it may be said to have well passed the experimental stage. Its solid and varied merits have been proved. Its disadvantages, even when only locally applied, have been found trifling, and are apparent only to the very few. But it has been tested and approved on the greatest of scales elsewhere. It was put into operation in various parts of Europe in the spring of 1915. It has been adopted by the United Kingdom, France, Italy, Germany, Austria, Denmark, Holland and Sweden. It is in force also in Australia. No country which adopted, has yet abandoned it or manifested any desire to do so. It is no longer regarded as a war-time measure, but as a permanent part of the social economy of each of the countries named. They have one and all found it so advantageous in every respect that they are bent on perpetuating it. And why not? It not only saves artificial light and fuel to a most important extent, but permits more adequate enjoyment of the annual visit of the sun to these northern latitudes in summer, and to southern latitudes in winter. It is merely a practical correction of the purely conventional and stupid modern prejudice in favor of a piece of mechanism called a clock, and against the great natural time-keeper of our planetary system. Why man should prefer to be guided by a clock rather than by the sun, it is difficult to imagine. He is the only living creature with such an unnatural preference. A clock is right, or tells the correct time throughout the year, only at the equator. North or south of the equator, the clock is correct at each parallel of latitude but twice a year. The rest of the year, men have been going astray with the clock instead of right with the sun as do all beasts and birds and insects, ever since the clock was invented; and that, after all, is not so very long ago."

Remarking that Sir George Foster's bill providing for daylight saving was introduced in parliament last year and perished for lack of official support, the Chronicle declares there must be no such failure this year, especially if it is adopted, as seems to be certain, in the United States.

SIR ROBERT MUST ACT.
There are no strings on the Toronto Globe. It hands out this sharp criticism of the union government at Ottawa:

"Who is obstructing Canada's new war union government in the carrying out of its policy to abolish patronage and the spoils system? Why the delay? What is the meaning of the fact that political associations are still recommending for appointment, and that partisans are still shouting on 'pull' if the administration stands by the pre-election scrap of paper upon which it asked and received a mandate from the people, it better get busy at once. Action is overdue."

THE OTTAWA JOURNAL PROPERLY CALLS ATTENTION TO THIS MATTER.

Civil service reform, it says, in so far as it applies to appointments to the outside service and to temporary positions, seems to have got stalled. These appointments are still being made in the old-fashioned way, and some of the departments are still putting on large numbers of temporary employes without any reference to the Civil Service Commission, and largely without any real consideration of the qualifications of the appointees."

"The Journal is right. It knows what it is talking about. One of the first duties of the newly-elected administration in December last should have been the promulgation by order in council of an edict ending the scandalous spoils system. Yet the Globe learns that party executives and patronage committees are still doing business at the old stand in the old way. This must be stopped—and at once."

The response to the appeal of the Red Cross yesterday was wonderful. The citizens of St. John have shown their generosity in a wonderful way many times in the last three and a half years, and yesterday's response makes a new record. The men overseas will be gladdened by the knowledge that those at home are not forgetful of the needs of the sick and wounded in England and France, or wherever they may be suffering because of their devotion to Canada and the Empire and the cause of civilization.

HAVING NOW DISCOVERED FOR THEMSELVES THAT DEMOCRACY CAN DO NO BUSINESS WITH GERMANY, WHAT WILL THE BOLSHIEVIK LEADERS IN RUSSIA DO? IN WHAT SHIP WILL THEIR ARMIES TO FIGHT AN ENEMY THAT HAS UTILIZED THE PERIOD OF NEGOTIATIONS TO GET READY TO STRIKE?

The Irish convention is to send delegates to confer with the British cabinet. Lloyd George is losing no opportunity to bring about a settlement of the Irish question.

POTATO ASSOCIATION.

The third annual convention and potato show of the New Brunswick Potato Growers' Association closed yesterday afternoon.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, A. A. H. Margison, East Florenceville; vice-president, F. E. Henderson, Andover; secretary, A. C. Taylor, Woodstock; treasurer, W. H. Moore, Scotch Lake; auditor, E. W. Jarvis, Woodstock; advisory board, T. H. Manser, Aroostook Jct.; Donald Innes, Tobique River; James Brennan, Jr., Chatham; H. P. Hatfield, Hartland; Ernest Inch, Burt's Corner.

She Went Days Without Food

When Hospital Treatment Failed an Operation Was Advised—But Cure Was Effected Without the Use of the Knife.

Glouce Bay, N. S., Jan. 8.—Here is a case which surely puzzled the hospital doctors. It was evident that the great suffering from pain under the left shoulder-blade was due to torpidity of the liver, but no medical treatment seemed to do any good.

In fact medicines failed, and the doctors said an operation was the only hope. But Mrs. Watkins hesitated before the enormous risk of an operation and decided to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills first.

The result was that she was perfectly cured three years ago, and feels now that she can report the cure as thorough and lasting. This is not an isolated case, but proves that this great medicine cures when ordinary prescriptions fail.

Mrs. Annie Watkins, New Aberdeen, N. S., writes: "I think it is time for me to give my experience with your wonderful Kidney-Liver Pills. For seven months I suffered with what the doctor called indigestion, but whatever it was, I suffered terribly. The pain would start under my left shoulder and pass down my side until it reached the pit of my stomach. It just seemed as if the flesh were being torn from the bone. At times I used to go without food from one morning until the next. I had no energy left for work at all. At last our doctor sent me to the hospital for a month. For four days and nights I never broke my fast except for a drink of water. After four weeks' treatment there I returned home, and was back only four days when the pain came back worse than ever. Then I was told I would have to undergo an operation, but I would not consent to that. At last I read about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and started to take them. At first I did not notice much difference, but still I kept on using them, and by the time four boxes were used I was perfectly well again. That was in 1914, so you see I can safely say that I was cured. I shall always be grateful to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, as they did more for me than four doctors."

Clearing House, 217 East Twenty-second street, Colonel Roosevelt visited the Infant Welfare Station of the Department of Health at 300 Avenue A, the Boy Food Scouts of Public School 40, the Bowling Green Neighborhood Association at 45 West street, and the Post Graduate Hospital.

At the Infant Welfare Station, Dr. Josephine Baker, head of the child hygiene department of the board of health, told the colonel that the health department has fifty-nine such stations, where 40,000 babies are cared for annually. The stations also care for 10,000 babies outside the precincts of the buildings.

Colonel Roosevelt said he wanted to see the most radical action taken to secure an ample supply of milk to every child in the city. The effort to restrict the farmer's profit, he said, meant restriction on the production of milk.

Colonel Roosevelt was welcomed at Public School 40, where he showed great interest in the Food Scouts. He thought that it would be a good idea if the municipal authorities investigated the problem of malnutrition with the idea of drawing up a plan whereby all children who required it might obtain hot luncheons at cost.

PILOTS DID NOT REPORT SAILING TO AUTHORITIES

Disregard of Regulations Comes Out at Halifax Inquiry—Examining Officer Knew of Contents of Mont Blanc

Halifax, Jan. 24—Commander Wyatt, R. N., chief examining officer at this port, today told the court investigating the fatal Mont Blanc-Imo collision...

The commander was cross-examined at length by Mr. Burchell, counsel for the Imo, as to his statement in court yesterday that the Imo was ready for sea.

Today counsel pressed for information as to the possibility of stopping a ship going up or down the harbor or Bedford Basin and was informed by Commander Wyatt that there was telephonic communication between the Niobe, where his office was located and the different guardships.

Considerable evidence was taken today as to the pilots disregard of instructions to report to the examining officer before sailing.

Columbia Grafonolas & Records At the Front

"They were nervous and restless—huddled in the dugout, waiting for the gray dawn that was to send them over the top. I would wind the Grafonola, slip on the record of the 'Humoresque'—and as the soft, sweet, haunting strains floated out, I'd watch the grim faces relax; and the tense mood pass.

"Again—in a shattered Belgian village—a group of Canadian lads—truck drivers going up to the front—would be caught and held by a tornado of shellfire. There was nothing to keep them occupied; to leave the hut was certain death—we'd play band music on the Columbia, lively selections that would take their minds off of the whine and screech of shells outside.

"We had 120 Columbia Grafonolas in our 'farthest up' huts. Over 300 Grafonolas and 5,000 records were in use in the Canadian area alone. They were an important part of our equipment."

These extracts from a letter from Captain H. A. Pearson, Senior Officer, Y. M. C. A., with the Canadian Expeditionary Force in France, paint vividly the part played by the Columbia Grafonola in the grim events "over there."

Send some records to your soldier boy Any Columbia Dealer will be glad to show you how to ship them safely. There is a Columbia Grafonola in every Y.M.C.A. and Knights of Columbus Army Hut.

Aim at Democracy to Fix Territorial Questions by Allowing People to Settle Their Own Destiny

The decision of the British labor movement to call the conference of the labor representatives of the Allied powers to consider the war aims adopted by the convention of representatives of the British Trades Union Congress and the British Labor party on Feb. 20, is accepted as an indication that no time will be lost in reaching an agreement between the labor forces of all the belligerent countries as to the purpose of the war.

of exemptions; but they grant authority for such review as and when it is considered necessary. As explanatory of the necessity of the new provisions, it is pointed out that, owing to the exceptionally short period (less than three months) which intervened between the issue of the proclamation under the Military Service act and the call of the first draft to the colors, it was impossible for military representatives to satisfy themselves in every case of the correctness of the facts stated by applicants for exemption. The result was that exemptions were granted in some cases on insufficient grounds.

CHARGE SEWERS AND HYDRANTS TO WATER REVENUE

Will Relieve Assessment Of Items of $27,000

$2,000 CUT FOR FERRY

Every One Must Pay Fares on Ferry in Future — Many Salary Increases to be Considered

In his annual report, which was presented to the council at a meeting in committee this morning, Commissioner Russell intimates that the time is approaching when the city must call on the dominion to meet the annual harbor deficit.

The ferry estimates were passed, with a reduction of $2,000, owing to an estimated increase in revenue from the new policy of charging every one, including soldiers, who cross the ferry.

The water and sewerage estimates were presented by Commissioner Wigmore and adopted. At the request of other members, Commissioner Wigmore moved that sewer and fire hydrant renewals and maintenance should be charged to water revenue instead of being assessed for, and this was carried.

Several increases in salaries were referred to, but were held over until such recommendations can be considered. A warning was issued that all societies expecting grants from the city must complete accounts of their receipts and expenditures for the last year.

When the meeting opened, Commissioner Russell submitted his annual report as commissioner of harbors, ferries and public lands, as follows:

Harbor Dept.

The port of St. John is of great importance to the dominion at large, but that it is not self-supporting may not be known to the people of Canada. The deficit has been paid by the citizens of St. John, but in the very near future this burden must be borne by the whole of Canada.

The large cost of maintenance and repairs is due to the great increase in the cost of labor and material. The warehouse on No. 5 wharf, which cost the city $20,000, was replaced in 1917 at a cost of over $54,000.

The receipts for 1916 were $189,400.88 and for 1917, $181,041.01. The expenditure was $181,041.01.

The reduction in harbor receipts was largely due to the fact that steamers arriving from Great Britain carried very little cargo, and during the summer months very few vessels called at this port.

The wharves on both sides of the harbor have been kept in good condition. Foreman Thompson looking after this work on the western side of the harbor, and Foreman Macaulay attending to the work on the eastern side. The cost of this work has been extremely high, owing, as previously stated, to the great increase in the price of labor and material.

Ferry Dept.

The ferry accounts, like those of previous years, show a deficit of $21,684.81, due to general expenditures and the increase in the cost of coal and other materials.

The receipts from all sources, including assessment, was $62,789.83, and expenditure, including overdraft, $84,474.64. An excellent and uninterrupted service has been provided for those who are compelled to cross the harbor.

Lands Dept.

The rentals from the city's lands during the past year were fairly good. I am still of the opinion that the houses owned by the city in Lancaster should at the first opportunity be sold, and the lands prepared for leasing, or else sold to those willing to erect buildings upon the same.

In closing, I wish to express appreciation of the work of the harbor master, superintendent of police and other officials of the department.

The report was adopted.

Superintendent Waring submitted a detailed report in explanation of various items of the ferry estimates, showing that $63,823.14 is required to pay the 1917 deficit and the 1918 cost of operation.

G. N. Hatfield reported on the condition of the wharf on the northern side of the eastern foote. He recommended that the wharf be rebuilt at an estimated cost of $5,518. As he regarded the work as repairs and not a renewal, the council decided it could not be bonded and the amount was included in the estimates.

Commissioner Russell announced that on Monday he would move that all persons, including soldiers, who cross the ferry should be required to pay their fares. This would produce an increase of $2,000 in revenue and he could reduce his estimates by that amount. He moved the adoption of estimates totaling $61,773.18.

Commissioner Fisher favored an increase in the fares in order to reduce the deficit. Commissioner McLellan said that it would be economy to build a bridge. The mayor agreed that a bridge is becoming necessary, but did not believe it possible to secure government co-operation at present.

The estimates were passed.

Water and Sewerage.

Commissioner Wigmore then introduced his estimates for the water and sewerage department, as already published.

Commissioner McLellan urged that sewer renewals be charged to water revenue. The mayor agreed with this and also suggested that the cash discount should be reduced from ten to five per cent. Commissioner Fisher was informed that the citizens pay $22,487 for interest and sinking fund for sewers and considered this enough to be assessed for.

Commissioner Wigmore then moved that $17,000 for sewer renewals be charged to water revenue and this was adopted.

In presenting his figures for five hydrants Commissioner Wigmore said that they will cost $110 each instead of $55, as charged for the last lot for sewer some discussion it was agreed to take this amount, of $10,000 from water revenue also.

The water main renewals will include new pipes in Elm, Factory, Sydney, Winter, Wall, and Spring streets and Douglas avenue. Commissioner Wigmore said the six inch main in Duke street should be renewed, but it had to be postponed.

The commissioner announced that he would recommend salary increases as
