BORDEN POLICY GIVEN VERY SEVERE RAKING

Not Money That Britain Wants Says Leading Authority in England

Liberals' Demand That Matter Be Submitted to People Clearly Reasonable One—Kier Hardie, Labor Leader, Says Working Men of Canada are With the Liberals in Matter—Accuses Churchill of Not Keeping Faith (Times' Special Cable) London, March 29—Richard Jebb, the leading British authority on imperial federation, severely criticizes Churchill's action on the Canadian navy bill. In a long article in the Morning Post he admits the reasonableness of the Canadian opposition demand that the policy of permanent contribution involving, as it does, imperial federation, shall be submitted to the country. He charges Churchill with going out of his way to throw cold water on the feet unit policy to which the Canadian people had committed themselves.

LABORERS OF CANADA ARE AGAINST BORDEN SCHEME

Kier Hardie, Labor M. P., Makes Statement in B. H. House—Accuses Churchill of Not Keeping Faith With Germany

Montreal, March 29—A Canadian Associated Press cable from London this morning says: During the debate on the navy estimates in the house of commons, Kier Hardie, representing the increased expenditure on armaments, discussed what he described as an "alleged" offer of ships by Canada. He accused Winston Churchill of unfairness and intimated that Canada had not given him any information about foreign attempts at fleet building, failed to mention American experience which would mean most to Canada. He condemns Churchill's statement that the idea of building capital ships in Canada is impracticable and unwise, and says: "The question, whether it would be worth the expense, is obviously for Canada to decide. It might be wasteful from the admiralty point of view, but in the Canadian view there may be considerations of national development of which the admiralty is not cognizant. Apart from cost, the only other argument adduced by Mr. Churchill was the labor difficulty. He might have been a little more explicit. A Canadian might very well reply: 'If Canada chooses to pay for labor also can certainly have it at a price. And why not? It is not a fact that a proportion of a limited supply of skilled labor in the United Kingdom is engaged all the time in building battleships for foreign countries? Might not the security of the Empire be promoted rather than impaired by the transfer of that proportion to Canada, where it would be engaged in building ships for the Empire instead?'

MONEY GRANT INEFFECTIVE

"The proposal to present three battleships to the British navy arose from the feeling of many Canadians that Canada should do something effective and do it quickly, but the inexorable truth is that naval aid is not a matter in which a dominion suddenly making up its mind can do something effective and do it quickly. A simple grant of money is ineffective, unless morally, until ships are built, which may be three years or more. If money is required, Britain has more to spare than any dominion, and there is always the possibility, some of us think a tolerable certainty, that in the end the dominion's check would merely relieve the taxpayers of Britain instead of ultimately increasing the naval strength of the empire."

FAKE DISINFECTORS DO RUSHING BUSINESS

Montreal, March 29—Dr. Laberge, city medical health officer, says that frauds are being worked off on citizens in the name of the board of health. Residents in whose houses were contagious diseases were visited by two men, who presented false credentials that they were sent by the city to disinfect the houses, and charged two or three dollars for the job. They would burn some evil-smelling stuff and then tell the people that their house was cleaned. They do a raking business, sometimes visiting as many as ten or twenty houses a day.

CITY PAY ON GRABED BASIS

Calgary, March 29—Employees of all municipal departments will be placed upon strike today, unless an effort will be made to systematize the city service. If the plans formulated by Mayor Sinnott are carried out, an expert will be engaged to go into the matter thoroughly and to draw up an equitable and sane scale of wages.

HON. MR. FIELDING LEAVES CITIES IN AWFUL STATE

Men, Not Money, Is The Need of Empire

TOO LATE FOR COMPROMISE

Sees Senate Rejection of the Borden Naval Bill and That There is Strong Reason for This Action

(Times' Special Correspondence) London, March 29—Hon. W. S. Fielding, in an interview in the Daily Chronicle today, says: "Canadian Liberals do not think the empire is hard up. They think that the empire needs men rather than money. That is the leading idea of the Canadian Liberals. The Canadian naval service will enable us to train up a body of men who would man ships that could at any time of need be made parts and parcel of the imperial navy."

FREDERICTON RAISES THE ASSESSMENT

It is Now $90,000—Cut Down Publicity Grant—The River—Death of Frederick Smith

Fredericton, N. B., March 29—The city council met in committee last night and fixed the assessment for the ensuing year at $90,000, an increase of $1,000 over last year. On the evening vote of the Mayor, a publicity grant was fixed at $2,250, a reduction of $200 from last year. Some of the aldermen wanted it reduced to $1,000, and have the work attended to by one of the city officers.

P. E. ISLAND SUITS OVER LARGE TRACT, BY LADY WOOD TRUSTEES

(Special to Times) Charlottetown, P. E. I., March 29—Many years ago, after some litigation, the provincial government acquired 10,000 acres of land in Townsville 67 and leased some 2,880 acres to the late James Borden, who died in 1880. The title of this property was vested, while the trust in trust for the benefit of the Indians and the deaf and dumb. For some years no action was taken. Later Chief Justice Sullivan discovered that, although the government had never purchased the land it had sold the whole of it, the first sale being made in 1876, and subsequent sales as late as 1880. It was then proposed that the trustees of Lady Wood convey these lands to the government at a price to be agreed upon. The claim was for the amount received by the government with interest thereon, which would amount to $10,488, or twice the original sum done for the land, but nothing was received.

HOW TO TELL A GENTLEMAN

By J. R. HAMILTON Former Advertising Manager, Wanamaker's, Philadelphia

THERE are just two ways to tell a gentleman. First by the way he speaks to you, and second by the way you feel obliged to speak to him.

The way he speaks to you is the measure of what he is, and the way you feel obliged to speak to him is the measure of what he looks like.

Now in spite of the fact that Easter is over, that the season is well advanced and that spring is most gloriously here, a whole lot of men still look like Sam Hill.

So, if you are one of those who are still sagging along in their old winter clothes, and people are bumping into you and treating you as if you were incumbering the earth, it is just possible that your mirror can tell you what's the matter with you.

It doesn't pay to wear old winter clothes on a new spring day, either because of how you look or how you feel.

Before another Sunday passes by, some two or three millions of men young and old are going to make their first appearance this year in their new spring clothes. And you are going to look like the last scarecrow of winter if you don't happen to be one of them.

Of course there are a lot of things you ought to have. But what you need most are a new spring suit, a new hat, some new spring shoes, some new spring shirts, and collars and ties, and a few accessories. The other things of course don't count much.

The way to find these things is not by wandering around the streets and looking in the windows, but by opening up this paper and turning to the advertising of the principal merchants of the city who have these things for sale.

You will find all these principal merchants here because this is the height of the spring, and they are all making their bid for your custom. This paper is the Great Market Place for everything you could possibly want to buy. You do not have to go any further than these pages to find the best that is being offered in this city in new Spring merchandise.

Go through this paper now and prepare to join the great annual spring Shopping tournament of men.

Why the Double Chin is Regarded With Horror

It is quite unnecessary for me to tell you that a double or triple chin is undesirable, as no woman in her right senses admires the chin that looks like a pudding. Far from regarding it with favor, I find all feminine creatures gazing askance at the chin that grows plumper day by day until it has no shape at all.

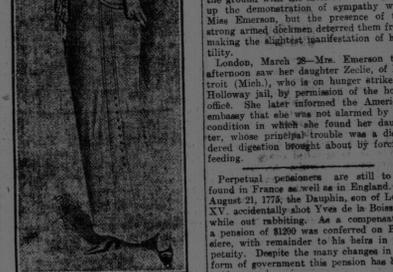

There must be a reason for the dislike lavished on the chin which multiplies. Would you like to know the why and the wherefore of this universal hatred? Women dislike to see their chins look "of the earth earthy!" Can you blame them for showing an aversion to this defect? It is because this makes them look "of the earth earthy!"

There is still enough reason why the pudgy chin is regarded intolerably. It is a sign of age! Now every woman past twenty-five wants to look eighteen, so naturally anything that tells tales out of school is taboo.

It was all very different long ago in the days of our great-grandmothers, as then a fat chin was a mark of distinction. It denoted good living and that the world was dealing kindly with one. Gentlemen used to kiss a fat chin as a compliment, and a certain age was just the least bit in appearance.

But of course that was long ago and times have changed. I really think we show more wisdom now. Old age is not a blessing, so why be proud of anything that stamps one as past the prime of life?

SUFFRAGETTES TOO EARLY

Hon. Lloyd George, amid the conviviality of a select luncheon party, given in his honor, when he was in Paris the other day, explained how he had the laugh on the suffragettes when they blew up the house which had been built for him on Walton Heath.

"They have made life hard for me very often," he said. "When I have been going to political meetings they have followed my footsteps and stuck to me like my shadow. They would interrupt me and had to be expelled by force, but hardly had they been chased out of the door when they came in by the window."

"But the missed their chance when they put bombs in the villa which I was about to leave. My wife was going to London that day to sign the lease, and if they had only waited a few hours the cost of the damage would have fallen on me."

He (bitterly)—"If I were rich you'd marry me fast enough. She—'Don't, Guise, don't. Such devotion breaks my heart.' 'What do you mean?' 'Often have you praised my beauty, but never before my common sense.'"

NICKEL'S MONDAY PROGRAMME. The Spitz Defeat is a thrilling two-act story of the Franco-Prussian war. It is the first of the Keeney's multiple reel efforts and is heralded by the trade as one of the best things yet in the line of war stories. All the star performers of the Keeney's go to participate in this special feature will be Kennedy & Kramer, a blackface duet—lady and gentleman—that has been causing a furore in Bangor for over a week.

SUGAR EASIER. A drop of twenty cents took place this week in the price of sugar but no change was recorded in the other grades. Although new molasses has been placed on the market and there are reports of excellent crop conditions in Barbados, the sugar commodity has advanced. It is not believed, however, that the advanced rate will hold in the near future. The quotations, pork and prok products are high and will probably be higher within the next few weeks.

LEGEND OF NATURAL BRIDGE. At a bright spot in the Blue Ridge Mountains, in Virginia, stands the famous natural bridge known all over the world. Built of solid rock 40 feet thick, it spans the creek. It is a great natural wonder. The Mohican tribe of Indians called it the Bridge of God and ascribed to it this supernatural origin.

Once upon a time it happened that the Mohicans were at war with another tribe of Indians. The fight was hot, and a valiant soldier made against their foe. But at last the Mohicans were forced to give way and to retreat. On and on they went, the whole tribe with their women and children, and the enemy behind them. Finally they came to a precipice. Below yawned a cavern, wide and deep, and no way to cross or to escape was anywhere to be seen. Perilous and helpless indeed was the plight of the Mohicans. They were ready to give up and submit to the cruel fate that was pursuing them. Then a wise man of the tribe spoke. "My children," he said, "so down upon your knees and pray to the Great Spirit above, who alone can save us from our misfortune."

All in a body they obeyed the words of the old medicine man. Long and hard they prayed. When they finally lifted up their heads, lo, there stood a mighty bridge. Across it they now led the women and children, and then turned upon their foe, who were close at hand. They gave the enemy a hard battle and finally repulsed and defeated them. In gratitude to Manitou, the Great Spirit of the world, they named this bridge the Bridge of God—Celia K. Knisk, in Kansas City Star.

THE CHARGE OF DISLOYALTY
The Tory press of Canada is trying very hard to create the impression that the Liberals in endorsing the naval policy laid down by Sir Wilfrid Laurier are, if not disloyal, at least wholly indifferent to the claims of the mother country, and to the duty which Canada owes to the Empire in the matter of naval defence.

When the new Australian cruiser Melbourne was welcomed at the port of Melbourne this week, the speakers at the ministerial banquet in honor of the occasion declared that the fleet policy was a sound policy for the overseas dominions and Hon. Mr. Pearce predicted that the other dominions would eventually follow the lead of Australia.

It would be much better for the Conservatives in Canada to give some reasonable excuse for sending $20,000,000 out of the country, when Canada ought to have ships and when there is a state of congestion in the shipyards of the mother country. The Canadian people do not favor the Borden policy, and will so declare themselves if given an opportunity to express their views at the polls.

THE HOUSING PROBLEM
The question of housing, which is now attracting so much attention in St. John, is being taken up in a practical way in the city of Montreal, and is receiving the attention of some of the most prominent citizens, including Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, Sir William Macdonald, Sir Alexander Lacoste, Hon. Robert Mackay, Senator R. Dandaneau, Senator J. P. B. Casgrain, Prof. Adams and others.

ATTACKING DR. PUGSLEY
The Standard this morning, in an attempt to belittle the Hon. Wm. Pugsley, quotes this paragraph from the style Winnipeg Telegram:
"The people of Canada are well acquainted with Mr. Pugsley. He made his position as Minister of Public Works notorious. The scandals of his administration are too fresh in the public mind to require reiteration. His reputation in his native province is, to say the least, undesirable."

HOW HAPPY GIN PILLS
HAVE MADE THIS COUPLE
After Years of Kidney Suffering, Both Have Found Relief
In the province of Quebec, a little place called Lachute Mills is extolling the great curative powers of GIN PILLS. From there Mr. Thomas Stephenson writes:
"I was troubled for many years with Kidney Disease, and a friend told me to take GIN PILLS. After taking a few boxes I was greatly relieved, and after finishing the twelfth box the pain completely left me."

It would probably not be difficult to duplicate these conditions in the city of St. John, but we have hope that there will be an improvement within the next year or two. As the Montreal Witness observes, "people are beginning to realize that the greatest asset a country has is its men, women and children, and whatsoever possible is not done to give all a chance for normal, happy and healthy lives is a blunder of the first magnitude."

The Witness points out that it is Germany who is the best system of city planning, and it quotes from a recent article by Mr. Frederick C. Howe in Scribner's Magazine:
"Germany calls in her experts. If they do not already exist she creates them. Town planning has become a science, just as much a science as the building of engines. And it is treated as such. A school has recently been opened in Berlin devoted to the subject. Exhibitions of things municipal and congresses of various kinds are promoted. Nothing is hazardous. Nothing is left to chance. The get-rich-quick speculator and the jerry-builder are subordinated to the will of the community, acting through its permanent and expert body of city officials."

Why Don't You Take a Good Spring Tonic?
You need it—Everybody needs it. We all need a Spring Tonic and Brazer. When you get up in the morning tired, lazy—at the breakfast table no appetite for food, at your work no ambition or ability—nothing accomplished all day but to yawn and stretch—your system needs brazing, your nerves need reconstructing.

TRY IT! SAYS SAGE TEA DARKENS AND BEAUTIFIES FADED, GRAY HAIR

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy for about 50 cents a bottle. It is the most popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply dampen a soft brush or sponge with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this tonight, and by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application it is restored to its natural color. What delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that besides beautifying and darkening the hair they say it produces that soft lustrous and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Here, you gray-haired folks, get your hair young again. Agent—Wheatley's 3 Retail stores—King street, Main street and Haymarket Square.

Governor Wood to Arrive This Afternoon

ALL WELL A RANGED

Governor Will Press Button and Flood Queen's Ring With Brilliant Light—What There is to Be Seen

What promises to be a social event of the year is the first Annual Maritime Motor Show, which will be formally opened at eight o'clock this evening in the Queen's Ring by His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Wood. Governor Wood will arrive in the city from Sackville on the Atlantic Express this afternoon, and will be met on the arrival of the train by T. P. Rezan, the president of the New Brunswick Automobile Association and other officials. His Honor will be escorted to the Royal Hotel, where he will make his headquarters during the time that he is in the city.

This evening he will be met at the entrance to the rink by the association officials, and escorted to a platform, where he will touch an electric button, and cause the large building to be brilliantly illuminated by hundreds of electric lights, and in this manner will declare the motor show open.

Everything is in readiness for the opening and a large attendance is expected. About thirty automobiles have been placed on exhibition and these cars range in price from $800 to $6,000. For beauty they are declared the finest seen in the lower province.

In addition to automobiles there is a good road exhibit, which have been especially constructed for this show in the shape of cross sections of roads, giving a thorough demonstration of road-making. Lantern slides on road-making also will be shown.

Booths showing sporting goods and motor appliances have been installed in different sections of the rink. The Automobile Association have a richly decorated booth, which will be the home of their members from all over the province, and it is intended by the association to make a campaign during the week among all car owners, to have them become members of the association. The music this evening will be by the City Orchestra in a special programme for the occasion.

Wednesday night will be known as military night, and all the officers of the regiments have been invited, and the music on that occasion will be furnished by the 62nd Regiment Band.

A large number of automobile manufacturers already have arrived in the city, and from the present indications there promises to be a large number of visitors from all sections of the maritime provinces next week. The Queen's rink has for the last week been in the hands of electricians, carpenters, painters and decorators, and has been transformed into a place of beauty and now presents a most attractive appearance. The walls have been painted red, a red lustre covers the entire floor space. The strings along the ceiling have been draped with bunting, and the pillars at the sides of the rink have been artistically arranged with red, white and blue bunting. The dealers who are presenting exhibits have taken great pains in making their booths attractive, and they have shown great taste in their motor cars, from the small automobile to the great truck, are on exhibit, and it is expected that an automobile fire department apparatus will arrive today or the first of the week.

Another feature of the show is the exhibition of a motor boat and supplies along with a variety of marine engines. A sea room has been installed in the rink and seats have been arranged where visitors to the show may rest and partake of refreshments. The show will be open every afternoon and evening of next week, and music will be furnished on these occasions by Jones' orchestra.

NO WONDER.

HOLLINSHED, GREAT TENOR, IS TO SING HERE AGAIN

Thousands will welcome the announcement that Redfern Hollinshed, the greatest tenor who recently created such a success in this city, will be the leading attraction at the Chorus Club concert in the Opera House April 14 and 15. It is questioned whether any singer ever gave more genuine satisfaction to a local audience, and his return is expected to be an event of remarkable interest. The capacity of the Opera House is sure to be taxed, as the exchange tickets are already selling rapidly.

The club is to sing the "Messiah" on the 14th, and on the 15 a grand concert will be given, when Mr. Hollinshed will be heard in three big operatic arias. Other particulars Monday. Exchange tickets now selling.

RICH WEEK END PROGRAMME FOR THE NICKEL PATRONS

The Nickel's week-end programme is one of the best in some time. The chief feature is a Vitaphone drama, A Modern Prodigal, presented in excellent manner by James Morrison as the wayward son; Mrs. Morrison as the dear old mother and other prominent people of the company as well as the famous Colie Jean. It is a heart gripping story, very daintily pictured and superior in every way. It is in two long reels.

Then there is a rich Lubin comedy of western life, Madame L. Dyke-Read sings The Nightingale artistically, and Brown and Jackson have an attractive vaudeville act. The orchestra, as always, is good. The attendance last night was very large.

basis to secure credit and supervise its distribution and it is stated that through their operations they have reduced rates of interest, lengthened the duration of loans, provided for their repayment by annual installments and kept the money in the rural districts.

The methods followed differ in the several countries but generally may be placed under three heads: Subvention from the government, savings deposits of the farmers and rural population and from the sale of bonds secured by mortgages on farm land.

The second system is the most important and has yielded the most of accomplishment. As can be seen it has an advantage in addition to the furnishing of capital to the farmers, in that it encourages the savings habit and it so operates that the money is retained in the farm sections and a reasonable rate of interest established. This method has been very generally adopted in Germany where there have been instituted more than 16,000 rural savings and loan banks with more than a million and a half members and deposits of over $200,000,000.

The first system, that of government assistance, is operated in various ways, as by the establishment of rural banks by government funds without interest as in France; or by assistance in such formation by provincial governments as in Australia or by the establishment of central banks to furnish credit to rural banks at three per cent. as in Germany. The desirability of government subvention remains a much disputed question.

The third form, that of the sale of bonds, secured by mortgages on farm lands has been rapidly developed in Germany in recent years and today, it is stated, that German farmers have over $1,000,000,000 borrowed under this plan with rates of interest ranging from three to four per cent.

A peculiar fact about the banana is that no insect will attack it, and another is that it is immune from the diseases that fruits are subject to.

SIX GOOD REASONS FOR LAURIER POLICY

Reference was made in recent cables to an article in the London "Contemporary Review," by J. Allan Baker, M. P., on "The Canadian Naval Issue."

In this article, fuller excerpts from which have come to hand, Mr. Baker reviews the foreign situation as follows:

1.—By adopting such a policy Canada would simply be applying one of the basic principles on which our Imperial relations rest.

2.—By applying of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's policy alone a logical limit be set to Canadian naval expenditure. If Canada has to consider the needs of England and the Empire as well as her own, there will be no method of fixing her expenditure. If Canada at some future time were to establish a Canadian navy as well time will have been lost, and parliament would be called upon to make financial sacrifices that would react unfavorably on Canadian prosperity and development.

3.—If Canadians wish to help in bearing the burden of naval preparation, they must be prepared to serve themselves, and the only way to induce them to do so is to have a national fleet.

4.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's plan does not throw us precipitately into those problems of Imperial federation which a continued policy of Canadian contributions most necessarily involve.

NEW LOCAL COMPANY'S PLANS

The problem of handling and transporting heavy merchandise and materials around St. John has become a serious one lately, owing to the increasing cost of such work. With the greatly increased activity in building, especially on large contracts where much heavy material will have to be hauled, the problem was getting more serious. There are not enough men engaged in this work to meet the new demand and present methods, when the services of a gang of men are required to take the loads, are costly.

In view of these conditions the New Brunswick Transportation Co., Ltd., has been organized by J. C. Berrie, to deal with the problem by modern methods. For the heaviest hauling the company will have self-loading and unloading motor trucks. These will be filled with cranes capable of lifting the heaviest load directly off a railway car and depositing it on a vehicle and unloading in the same way. For lighter work smaller motor trucks and horse-drawn wagons will be employed.

A Good Buy for small investors

The Trinidad Electric Company (with head office at Halifax) owns the modern electric lighting and railway plant operating in Port of Spain, Trinidad and its environs. The Company also owns the newly installed artificial ice plant in this enterprising city of over 80,000 people.

Net earnings for 1912, as shown by the annual report recently issued, were $72,591.76 after payment of bond interest. From this the regular 5 per cent. dividend on the stock was declared. The Company's finances are in excellent shape, a total surplus of $168,543.13 having been carried forward.

The par value of the stock is $4.80 a share, and dividends at the rate of 5 per cent. have been paid on the CONTINUOUSLY FOR THE PAST EIGHT YEARS. At the price of $3.50 a share for a small lot of the stock the investment yields the attractive return of 6.80 per cent. Because of the low par value of the share the man with a limited accumulation can easily secure a fair quantity of the stock without encroaching on his income.

WAS FORTY-TWO YEARS KING'S SECRETARY

(London Chronicle).

Lord Knollys, whose resignation of the office of private secretary to King George has been expected ever since the death of King Edward, is at last about to relinquish his post. He has, in fact, sent in his resignation, but it will not take effect for some weeks yet, probably not before the opening of the new session of parliament.

Apart from his own great personal qualifications of perfect tact and discretion, Lord Knollys came of a family of courtiers, who had lived in the atmosphere of courts for many generations. An ancestor was treasurer of the household to Queen Elizabeth, and was raised to the peerage, eventually becoming Earl of Banbury, a title, however, that is now extinct.

Lord Knollys was much more than a private secretary—he was King Edward's closest and most intimate friend, and it has been said of them that their relations were not those of sovereign and subject, but rather those of two old friends, "who had marched through life together, and were widely ranked, but united by the close bonds of the sincerest affection."

As private secretary to King Edward, Lord Knollys' duties were of a particularly delicate and difficult nature. His sister, the Honorable Charlotte Knollys, the confidante and friend of the King, once said of her brother: "Nobody knows what Francis has gone through." He saw all King Edward's correspondence and answered most of his letters, attended to His Majesty's subscriptions and discharged a thousand and one other duties, many of which required the exercise of the greatest tact.

Presently when King Edward desired relaxation from affairs of state, he would telephone to his secretary that he would like to dine with him quietly. These dinners were quite without formality, and Queen Alexandra, who has a great regard and esteem for Lord Knollys, was often present.

The long and faithful services of the private secretary were rewarded with a peerage in 1902, and in 1911 King George raised him from a baronet to a viscount. It was at the earnest request of His Majesty that Lord Knollys remained at his post in order to give Lord Stanfordham the benefit of his great experience.

Lord Knollys, who is seventy-six years of age, with Lady Knollys (who does not enjoy good health) will, it is understood, spend a good deal of his retirement at Torquay, which is a favorite resort of His Lordship.

RUNAWAY.

A rather exciting runaway took place yesterday afternoon about one o'clock. Two horses, attached to a heavy farm wagon, were standing in Smythe street when in some manner they got loose from the wagon. The whiff-stirrups, dropping their heels, started them at a furious rate along Smythe street and across Union into the I. C. R. yards. An attempt was made to stop them near the milk siding but it was unsuccessful and they continued their course out the main track as far as the Stanley street bridge where they were stopped by one of the International linksmen.

AND BECOME A MAN

All men cannot be MILLIONAIRES, but thousands of them could be much better off FINANCIALLY, SOCIALLY and in every other respect if they would guard their health. With VIGOROUS HEALTH—a body full of ELECTRICAL ENERGY—a man can make OPPORTUNITIES if he don't find them, but lacking in the COURAGE and SELF-ASSURANCE that is born of MANY VIGOR, he is but a derelict—a vessel without mast or rudder—cast hither and thither by every storm of life that besets his pathway. GIVE ME A MAN that has exhausted his VITALITY—suffering from PAINS AND ACHES—MENTAL DEPRESSION—SLEEPLESSNESS—NERVOUS DEBILITY—without HOPE—AMBITION—COURAGE gone—drifting with the tide—and I can transform him into a STRONG MAN—a man of push—a man that will make his way in spite of all obstacles—if he has anything left to build upon, and he will follow my advice, and use the DR. McLAUGHLIN ELECTRIC BELT as I direct. Save your tobacco money for a few weeks—cut out a few of your health-destroying, oil-destroying habits—procure one of these appliances—USE ELECTRICITY, and use it in the right way to invigorate your body, and you will look upon the day you gave your case to me as the TURNING POINT OF YOUR LIFE. Here is what some say of this remedy, who have used it.

Dear Sir—I am perfectly satisfied with your Belt for what it has done to me. I am now a well man.

Dear Sir—I find your Belt all right for every kind of pain that is felt in the human body, and I have not missed a day with sickness since I got the Belt.
JAMES W. BARRIE,
Auld's Cove, N. S.

Dear Sir,—Having received a Belt from you some years ago, I now desire to express myself in regard to the benefits which I received from it. I wish to say in as few words as possible that it was all that it was represented to be, having cured me of Indigestion and other ailments, and I must say that I feel a new man, and I give all credit to Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt. I would advise any one suffering to give the Belt a trial, and I know they will feel as I do. Although I have been four years benighted without saying so to you, I have been doing all I could in my locality personally. So giving you the privilege of using this letter as you wish, and wishing your Belt every success, I remain,

SOME SIGNED FOR THE MARATHONS ST. JOHN SENDS $1,000 TO HELP

Messrs Donald and Leonard Home Offer of Aid Gratefully Accepted By Governor of Ohio

After having attended the meeting of the executive of the N. B. and Maine League yesterday in Fredericton, D. B. Donald, secretary, and F. J. Leonard, who is to manage the Marathons this season, came to the city this morning, feeling well satisfied with the progress made and the outlook for the summer's sport. Mr. Leonard said that contracts had already been signed with some players for the season's play, and in a short time he expected to have practice commence on ball grounds in the vicinity of Lynn or Boston. The team would then have a chance to get in shape much sooner than would be the case if they were first brought here, and the expectation was that a few games would be played with some of the colleges about Massachusetts and Maine. Mr. Leonard has an eye on some other players who will be signed very soon, and he has already entered contracts with Walter Waterhouse, for shortstop; Jack Dedrich, a pitcher with a good reputation in the states; Charlie O'Brien who played third base here last year; Paul Little, an outfielder who did good work with Lowell last summer; and Joseph Nolan, of Philadelphia, who has been strongly recommended from the latter city. Mr. Leonard will leave this evening for Lynn for a few days.

The city's offer of assistance to the strikers' food emergency of Ohio has been acknowledged by the governor of the state, who welcomes the offer of aid and tells of the pressing need for help. His telegram was submitted to the city commissioners at their meeting this morning and they recommended that the sum of $1,000 be forwarded by wire with a further amount if necessary. Governor Cox's telegram reads as follows: Columbus, Ohio, March 28 Mayor Frink, St. John, N. B. Your welcome wire just received. A terrible calamity has befallen our state. A quarter million people are homeless. Loss is hundreds of millions. We need money for immediate needs. Send funds to Colonel M. L. Wilson, treasurer relief fund, Columbus, Ohio. James M. Cox.

MR. WARDROPER GETS SAD NEWS OF BROTHER'S DEATH

H. E. Wardroper, common clerk, has received the sad news of the death of his brother, Captain Walter F. Wardroper, at Poole, Dorset, England, on March 21. Captain Wardroper had been retired for eight or nine years, but was formerly captain of the cable steamer Henry S. Holmes in the West Indies. He visited St. John several times and will be remembered by some of the older citizens. He leaves his wife and son, the latter in the cable station at Vigo, Spain. There are also one brother and two sisters in England, one sister in Vancouver, and one at Nice.

TENDERED FAREWELL

Miss Ida Sproule, who will leave on Monday next for Winnipeg, was last night tendered a farewell party by her girl friends, with whom she has been most popular. About thirty formed a theatre party at the Nickel Theatre, and afterwards went to Bond's restaurant in King street, where they enjoyed a supper. Speeches were made, dancing, singing and music enjoyed and a general good time had by all. During the evening Miss Sproule was made the recipient of a very nice gift from the girls as a token of their esteem, and she was wishing the best of success and happiness in her western home.

THE PRESENT DAY ACTORS MEASURED WITH THOSE OF OLD

(Nat. C. Goodwin in Los Angeles Times) Not one of the present-day stage leaders knew of such a thing as the Lamb Club during the time they were laying the foundations of their future successes.

Our club was that of Hard Work, with its unassuming labor. They simply have not prepared themselves for anything more inspiring and profitable than a "personality" and a "bad play" in return for their $2 a seat.

More good, promising, and clever young actors are being trained by giving them actor-proof parts than by having them appear in bad roles. They spend every penny effort on a part that would play itself and give scant attention to trying to make an insignificant part stand out.

The actor's club away from the young actor, make him forget that there is a press notice, which means little or nothing to the actor who takes his work on the stage, but which is the modern drama, and he will have a reasonably good chance for improvement.

This tremendous saving enables us to offer cars of the highest quality, splendidly built, and completely equipped, at prices that range from 35 to 50 per cent lower than our competitors. Every dollar of duty that is assessed against the foreign car, which we save, means just that much more real value in a Studebaker Car.

This saving in custom charges, our immense production (more than $65,000,000 worth will be built during 1913) gives absolute assurance to the buyer of a Studebaker automobile that his car is correct in design, in material, in workmanship and in equipment and price.

There are more than 100,000 satisfied owners of Studebaker Cars in the world today. You will make no mistake in buying a Studebaker.

THE WORLD'S MOST RELIABLE MEDIUM-PRICED CAR.

The Studebaker "20" has been before the Canadian public for four years, and during this time has come to be regarded as one of the most powerful, speedy and reliable cars of its weight and size in the world. In every essential it is built along the lines of the high-priced car, and is cheap in price only because we build so many. The material used in its construction is of the same high quality as that used in our highest priced models. It is fitted with the dual system of ignition: with a specially constructed carburetor and the vacuum feed oiling system.

The transmission is of the three-speed sliding gear, selectively controlled type, with the gear housing mounted on the rear axle.

The steering gear is the improved worm and worm-wheel type, as used on all high priced cars.

The equipment includes magneto, three oil lamps, presto-lite tank, headlights, horn, tool-kit, repair outfit, pump and jack.

Note also that this car is full nickel trimmed.

THE STUDEBAKER "30" IS NICKEL TRIMMED AND FITTED WITH FOUR-INCH TIRES.

It is safe to say that there is no better known car in the world than the Studebaker "30". More than 50,000 cars of this model have been sold throughout the world, and in almost every instance they are giving the utmost satisfaction. Several of these cars now have records of over 100,000 miles, and are still giving the best of services, despite having travelled a distance of four times around the world.

The "30" is now full nickel trimmed, and fitted with four-inch tires and electric lights.

The equipment includes a silk mohair top, specially designed wind-shield, speedometer, tools, tire repair outfit, pump and jack.

THE SIX-PASSENGER STUDEBAKER "35" IS ELECTRICALLY LIGHTED AND STARTED

The "35" is a Six-passenger car. This feature alone distinguishes it from every other car which can be compared with it.

Not only is the Six-passenger "35" finished with deep cushions, Jiffy curtains and every necessary appointment; it is also electrically started and lighted.

The Wagner Electric Self-starter will itself turn the motor over thirty-one minutes at eighty-one revolutions per minute. It works perfectly.

Simply pull a lever on the steering column and the motor starts.

The electric system is exceedingly simple, requiring no attention, and the 12-volt storage batteries provide current for the brilliant headlights, and four other electric lights, including inside dash light.

THE $1050 STUDEBAKER "25" IS FULLY EQUIPPED.

It has an acetylene primer for self-starting. The Studebaker Jiffy curtains are of an improved type. They stow away readily, yet are instantly released.

The upholstery is luxurious.

The electric horn is controlled from steering wheel.

The Long stroke motor gives extraordinary power in proportion to weight—more, we believe, than in any other car of the same size.

Demountable rims, with extra rim included, practically eliminate trouble with tires.

THE $1800 STUDEBAKER "SIX" WILL POPULARIZE THE SIX-CYLINDER CAR.

We shall make more Sixes this year than any other manufacturer has ever made in a single year.

The large production enables us to build a Six at an unheard of price. Yet every Studebaker "Six" will be built with Studebaker care and thoroughness. Our word is pledged to all Studebaker owners.

To every motor lover we offer for $1800, not only luxury of finish and equipment, but the smooth, resourceful power which six cylinders insure.

The Studebaker "Six" also, is remarkably economical in use of gasoline. The proportions of its cylinder dimensions are exactly right.

The Wagner Electric Self-starter and electric lights complete the equipment of this remarkable car.

CHRISTY MATHEWSON'S REVEALS SECRETS OF THE CROP OF 1913

BASEBALL GRIT

By CHRISTY MATHEWSON, of the New York Giants
(Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"He's weller!"

The recruit is labeled, the tobbogan has been grased, the player put on it, and he lands with a thump back in the minor. The accusation is the most damning in baseball. It means, in the vernacular of the game, the lack of heart or courage.

There was a recruit catcher training with the Giants in Marin, Texas, three or four seasons ago, and he looked like a world beater. His throwing was accurate, his catching very nearly faultless, and his hitting fair. The newspaper correspondents with the club fairly burned up the wires with the thrilling accounts of the ability of this youngster. Then one day the club team was playing an exhibition game in Dallas, and the youngster was catching. The battle was close when a Dallas batter drove a fly to left field with a man on third base.

The throw came home straight, and the runner with the ball, trying to score the winning tally on the field, was watching the runner arrive simultaneously, and the runner shot out a pair of sharp spikes. The catcher sidestepped both the spikes and the ball, and the ball went to the back stop, and the game went with it. McGraw hates to be beaten by any baseball team in the spring.

"No, no," said "Mac" that night, "he won't do."

"What's the matter with him?" chorused some of the newspaper correspondents who overboard the remark and had been pegging this youngster as a second "Johnnie" King when "Johnnie" was in his prime.

"I don't care to have any boy catching for me who is going to dodge spikes at the expense of the game," replied McGraw. "There is no use in a man getting hurt unnecessarily, but I don't want to see him refusing to block, especially when he has him guards on."

The young man glided down to the minor as if he were on casters.

Not a man ever lasted in the Big League who lacked heart. Although it may look like a very soft thing to the spectator for the players to get out on the field for a couple of hours each afternoon in the summer and play a game of ball, it is not the simplicity of its appearance. I have played both football and baseball, and I believe that the latter requires more courage. Once a man shows he lacks this quality, he is done for in the big league, because the word rapidly spreads around the circuit and the players lay for him.

Trying Test For Newcomer

I suppose he is a young second baseman. It has been reported by the uncredited wireless service of the league that the "man is yellow." A runner started to tag and the second baseman goes to the bag to get the throw from the catcher. It looks as if the base runner were going to be caught.

"Look out of the way," he shouts, "or I'll cut you in two."

The baseman has a vision of a pair of spikes being driven at him, and if he finishes and loses the ball because of his intimidating spectacle he has confirmed the report he is "yellow," and each man runner repeats the act until he is finally driven out of the league. Now the good baseman does not absorb the attack, but spikes in some part of his anatomy. That would be foolish. But he plays the ball so he can tag the runner and still keep the spikes. And, if he thinks the trick was tried with the intent of cutting him down, he says—

"Come on to the clubhouse after the game, and I'll knock your block off." Or, "I'll make you look as if you had been run over by a lawn mower."

And you must make good on your threats, too, if they call you, because that is the only way in which you can command respect. For some reason, the veterans in the big leagues appear to hate to be called "yellow."

Ontario Woman's Fortune

Freed From That Weak, Languid, Always Tired Feeling, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Thessalon, Ont.—"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When my appetite is poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a blessing to women, and I cannot speak highly enough of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."

Mrs. ANNIE CAMERON, Thessalon, Ont.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

There are probably hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over 30 years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering. If you are sick and need such a medicine, why don't you try it?

If you want special advice, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

"Chief" Meyers, The Indian Catcher of The Giants

see a young fellow get along in the game. This used to be more noticeable ten years ago than it is today, because the game has improved along these very lines. But still the young fellow just breaking into the game receives his baptism of fire before he is accepted, and there is no room in it for the weak hearted.

"Chief" Meyers, the Indian catcher of the Giants, had a tough time establishing himself in the big league, and survived the test only because of his unflinching nerve. Some players on opposing teams seemed to be very desirous of driving Meyers out of the game because he was an Indian, and they did everything they could think of to scare him. In every league, there are certain players, professionally known as "crabs" and while it would be foolish to mention names, the men of this type were the ones who preferred Meyers continually. Meyers soon adopted him guard in his work, for he found that many of these "crabs" were sliding at him with the war song of the big leagues slipping from their tongues.

"Get out of the way, or I'll cut you in two, they bawled.

But Meyers is not the kind of player who gets the way of anything. There was one man who seemed to have made his life's work keep Meyers out of the game. He was small, but irritable, like certain breeds of cats. Every time he slid or he showed spikes that were menacing. When Meyers attempted to beat out a hit, he would kick the Indian about as if he were a single to left field next time, boys."

The Worm Turns

Meyers stood this sort of thing without a complaint.

"Why don't you get back at him?" McGraw urged the Indian one day after a particularly turbulent afternoon.

"I don't want the people to think I am a trouble maker," replied Meyers.

"Go to it," said McGraw, "and never mind what they think."

That day the "crab" had made several of his customary remarks to the Indian when Meyers turned and said:

"Cut that out, or they'll carry you away feet first."

The player gave the Indian the laugh Meyers wanted. He did not get the chance that day, but it came the next, and Meyers recognized old opportunity's knock. It was about the fourth inning that this play happened to be on second base when the batter hit a single to right field. Meyers was covering the plate when the "crab" tried to score. The ball came in from right like a rifle shot propelled by the accurate arm of John Murray. Meyers was waiting for his man with the ball in his hand.

"Get out of the way, or you are cut to pieces," bawled the charging runner, and he slid, showing a fine assortment of spikes. But Meyers did not get out of the way. Instead he went to meet the spikes, and he encountered them with his tough skin guards. Then Meyers dropped on one knee the knee being carefully placed in the pit of the runner's stomach, with all of Meyers' two hundred and twenty-five pounds rested on the knee for a minute. The player did not get up, getting up was the last thing he had in mind. He could not have been knocked out any clearer if a pile driver had been dropped on his stomach.

Several of the team mates crowded around the "crab" in the knot which always surrounds a man on the field when he goes down. Later they carried him to the bench, and he came to eventually, but he was borne from the park because one of the ankles had been badly twisted from the collision with the sturdy Meyers' shin.

guard. That player was out of the game for a month. Meyers signed the ultimatum that any other athlete who attempted to pester him would be accorded the same treatment, and the Indian has commanded the utmost respect of his players since. They felt he would make good on his threat. He is one of the best-liked men in the league now because he plays the game hard and to win, but always with the utmost fairness.

The pitchers and catchers are put to the severest trials when they enter the game, because they come into closer contact with the opposing side than some of the other players, although the basemen often receive acid tests of their courage.

Matt's Ova Experience

I remember well, when I was leading one of the first games I pitched against the club. The Sunshiners had a bad player of men in those days, and they delighted in scaring a young pitcher. There were three of them, Denning, Keeler, Sheehan, Hanlon and all that bunch. They kept after me for the first two or three games, and I was most conscientious, for a lot of things I learned early in my career was to ignore conversation, so they might as well have permitted to me about my own business. You were permitted to aim many more remarks directly at a pitcher in those days, and those birds over there did not overlook any opportunities. They went into great detail, talking to me about my possibilities, my habits and several other matters of a personal nature.

But this critic did not bother me as he, and finally they quit. I have been told since that Hanlon, then the Brooklyn manager, abandoned the course I happened to take. This information was conveyed to me by some of the very men who used to be after me, most conscientiously, for a lot of these old Brooklyn players are very good friends of mine now.

"Lay off that Mathewson kid. Leave him alone," Hanlon told his players after the conversational message had been tried ineffectively three or four times. "He likes that conversation you fellows shot out there. I have never been bothered since."

The coaching rules are very strict now, and an umpire can put a player out of the game for addressing unkind remarks to the pitcher. Conversation from the bench is absolutely barred. It was not like that in the olden days. Most anything went, except stepping out to the box and murdering the pitcher. The umpires are very strict about enforcing this conversational rule nowadays. But many coaches resort to the trick of making personal remarks about the pitcher to the base runner.

"He's just about in," the coach confided to his charge on first base in a tone of voice that can hardly be heard by a deaf person, raving outside the park.

"Well, it's little wonder he can't pitch. You wouldn't have been surprised either if you had been with me and seen him last night. He certainly was inhaling the booze."

Now an umpire will stop that promptly because it has been held the sort of personal gossip, talked with a base runner, does not help the coach any in directing the play. Pitchers are having a much easier time breaking into the league at present, but the young fellow still encounters some opposition. Batters frequently will talk to a recruit to worry him. Of course, there is the famous story of "Rube" Marquard in his opening game at the Polo Grounds, when "Dutch" Lobert almost talked him out of the big league. But that is so old the editor would probably cut it out of the story if I tried to edge it in. There is one thing about Hans Wagon, I never heard him try to "rue" young pitcher by conversation or in any other way. He probably could if he wanted to, but his batting is enough.

Clayton Griffith, who was in the National League, was a great man to "hedge" a pitcher. He would stand before the game, his habit was to take up a position near where the opposing pitcher was warming up while he batted "fingers" in the outfield during the practice period. Then he would start a conversation something like this:

"Not anything today, old boy? They all look good in practice. Guess there isn't many games left in you. You're getting pretty good."

Griffith was an annoying manner when on the coaching lines and he worried many a young pitcher out of the league. Men like Alexander and Twilley of his sort just laugh at Griffith when he pestered that, but some young fellows are very timid about their chances to make good anyway, and this talk upsets them. Griffith is one of the oldest fellows in the world off the field, too, but he plays the game to win, and he believes that this conversation may help him.

The Snare Drum Business

I told in a story I wrote last year how we drove Coveleskie, the twirler who, with a disinterested club, practically pitched the Giants out of the league in 1908 by working against us out of his turn, out of the league by imitating a snare drum.

Jackie Adelsonbach, a well-known baseball snare drum, told McGraw that if he imitated a snare drum it would drive Coveleskie out of the league. The whole club sounded like a snare drum the first time he went to work for Philadelphia again in the season of 1909, and he never won another game from the Giants. He has long since left the atmosphere of the big league for good.

It seems that Coveleskie had possessed a snare drum for some time before his youth, and had attempted to express these on the snare drum. As a musician, he was a horrible fiver, and the more drum episode he had a sore point with him ever since. When the whole New York club was amused and laughing at him, he thought we were all on, and it just ruined him as a pitcher.

Some pitchers are what managers call "horn blasters." That is they apparently have all the "stuff" a twirler needs to make good in the big league, but they are very big and they are very big of the league appeals them and scares them half to death every time they see a snare drum.

Once a young pitcher joined the Giants with promising prospects. He came to the club in the summer of 1908, and played the season in his own minor league had shut down, for a tryout. His minor league club, the Sunshiners, had a bad player who had turned him up for McGraw. McGraw proclaimed that there was a real eighteen year old pitcher in the young fellow, and he was strictly on the bench for a week or so to let him get used to the rarer atmosphere of the big league.

He pitched to the batters in the practice before the game. The young pitcher came out in the morning, and he had put all he had on the ball, with the result that the hitting practice was extremely slow and uninteresting. Then he started to pitch to the batters in the practice before the game. The young pitcher came out in the morning, and he had put all he had on the ball, with the result that the hitting practice was extremely slow and uninteresting. Then he started to pitch to the batters in the practice before the game. The young pitcher came out in the morning, and he had put all he had on the ball, with the result that the hitting practice was extremely slow and uninteresting. Then he started to pitch to the batters in the practice before the game.

Afraid of the Crowd

This youngster continued to confine his pitching to the daily batting practice for a couple of weeks more, because McGraw appreciated the risk of putting him into a game. Then, one day, the conditions looked to be right. The Giants had run up a big score on the Philadelphia club, which we happened to be playing that afternoon, and McGraw slipped the young pitcher into the game with everything in his hands. The beautiful breaks and breaks and the change of pace of the practice periods were gone. The pitcher promptly forgot all he knew when he faced that crowd from the box. He just laid the ball over the heart of the plate with nothing on it and the batters laid it all over the field. Occasionally he would hit a base man to vary the monotony. McGraw took him out to save the game. He was shaking like a well-known aspen when his song been one of the best shakers of all literature.

"What was the matter?" McGraw asked him.

"I never saw such a crowd in my life," replied the young pitcher.

McGraw kept that boy for the rest of the day, and even took him south with him the next spring, hoping to put some heart into him. He was always a wonder in practice, but he was never there in a game. He has long since gone back to the minors, and has tried to stick his head up several times since on account of his starting record in the minor, but has always laid back again because he lacked that necessary Big League stamina. It was a pity, too, because he possessed all the natural ability in the world.

"But you can't put the heart into them," says McGraw, and he is right. If a ball player "just naturally" ain't got the heart, he is no use.

The Athletics had a player who resembled this pitcher very much in temperament, but the Philadelphia player was a fielder. He was a player that seemed to be impossible, but he was as unreliable as the sixteen-year-old girl who is about to go with the chauffeur once he got into a game. There is no use in mentioning this man's name because he is fairly well known. Mack let him go.

"What's the matter with Blank?" I thought he was going to be a star," said I to one of Mack's players who is a great friend of mine when this man was turned back to the minors.

"If we could keep it a secret we were playing a game and make him think we are first coming into the league in an effort to scare them to death," "Johnny" King, the former Chicago catcher, had the reputation of being a bad man with some bastion. King talked a good deal while he was catching and if he could draw a young fellow into conversation he would often work him up so that he did not know whether he was playing baseball or croquet. They tell a story about King attempting to worry "Eddie" Collins, second baseman of the Athletics, when the Cubs played the Philadelphia team in the world's series in 1911.

Collins went to Columbia university, and I knew him when I worked out with that team in the cage on spring before he broke into the game. He is slightly built, but very wiry and fast. He is also boyish looking. King thought he could make him useless in that world's series. The Cubs had the impression they were playing a lot of boys that fall anyway.

"So you are 'Eddie' Collins, the leading base stealer of the American League, are you?" King remarked to the Athletics' second baseman the first time he came to the plate in that series, according to the stories of the verbal onslaught.

Never a murmur from Collins.

"Well, let's see you steal a base on me," continued King.

Collins reached first base and if ever leading off, indeed King to believe twice intended to do so, but he was asked for piteously, thus getting his twirler into the hole. Then, when the Chicago pitcher laid to lay the ball over or walk the batter, Collins got his start and was down like a flash of light. He stole the base cleanly and smiled at King as he brushed off the dirt. King did not engage him in conversation after that.

We found the Athletics to be a courageous, aggressive bunch of ball players without indulging in any unfair tactics in the 1911 world's series. You could not scare them, but they were just in their playing ball and that's all. Once or twice, during the series, we tried to get "fingers" out of some of them, but they refused to come back.

In the games with the Red Sox last fall, there was much more conversation exchanged between the players of the two teams, but I do not think that either side gained in the end by the repartee. That was also a clean series with the Red Sox. In all the games, I do not remember hearing any player on either side using any bad language. There was a lot of talk such as "Well, get you out of the hole," but it was all in good fun. I never tried any unfair tactics. All around it was a great series for baseball.

Frequently conversational catchers are not to Johnson. But I have never been able to hit the big Washington pitcher much since, because it has not been my luck to find a catcher who exposed his signs as Rahoe did."

It is the great thing in baseball. Certain players are best when the strain is on the pitcher. "Joak" Devore is of this type. He will stop along all year and then be one of the stars of the world's series because of his grit. I must just "cave" in one little story to give the reader a line of "Joak's" nerve.

The club was playing St. Louis one day when Devore was a kid with the Giants and Breeman was catching. There is nothing McGraw would rather do than slip one over on his old friend Roger in a game although they are pals off the field. Devore lunged up to the plate, and his first two deliveries were balls.

"I don't think he will hit at this one," remarked Roger to his pitcher purposely so that "Joak" could hear him. Devore pretended to be half asleep, and he guessed Breeman had noticed this and had asked for a straight one, hoping to "p" a strike over on him. As the pitcher wound up, "Joak" was all life. He hit the ball for two bases and brought in a run.

"He can stick along with me for a while," said McGraw when he heard about it.

So when managers are stung up a recruit, they ask lots of questions about his average and his speed and his habits and his inclinations. Then comes the all important one:

"Is he yellow?"

If he is the slightest bit, if he has the faintest tinge, there is no use in his trying to be a big leaguer.

N. B. AND MAINE LEAGUE HAS BEEN GIVEN A START

Training Trip For Marathons To Lynn Is Repeated New Feature This Year - May Be Three Games a Week in St. John

The New Brunswick and Maine Baseball League for this year was organized yesterday at a meeting held in the Queen Hotel, Fredericton. The league will consist of teams from Fredericton, Bangor, Calais-St. Stephen and St. John. The resignations of the Woodstock and Houlton teams were accepted.

The delegates present were: Fredericton—J. J. McCaffrey, J. H. Calder, J. P. Farrell and T. S. Wilkinson; St. John—H. J. Fleming and D. B. Donald; Calais-St. Stephen—G. A. Martin; Bangor—Frank J. Leonard, holding a proxy for Walter F. Mason.

The league will go in as a Class D organization, and it was decided to make application for admission to the National Association of Professional Baseball League for protection of the territory included in this circuit. A salary limit for players of $1,000 a month, exclusive of the proportion of the playing manager's salary over and above the average salary of the other players, was decided on.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Mayor W. S. Hooper, Fredericton; Vice-president, M. D. McCormick, St. Stephen; secretary-treasurer, D. B. Donald, St. John. The members of the executive will be appointed later.

The next meeting will be held on April 10, when the schedule will be drawn up. The place of meeting will be decided on later.

The Glenner says: A few weeks and the time will have arrived for the players of the clubs to commence their period of training prior to the regular season, and in this connection at least two of the clubs are planning along the lines of southern training trips.

The Marathons are preparing to have their players report at Lynn, Mass., and there get into shape for the campaign, and Frank Leonard, who is to handle the St. John club this year, is making plans along that line. He holds the majority of stock in the Lynn club and will have the Marathons as a farm for his New England League plant.

When D. B. Donald, of the St. John triumvirate, arrived in Fredericton, he dropped the first information that had got out to the public about this new wrinkle and he was surprised to learn that similar arrangements were being made to have the Fredericton club's players report to Bob Ganley, who will be in complete charge of the Yale this year, somewhere around Boston, and very likely at Lowell, Mass., where Jimmy Gray, who has been a great friend of the Fredericton club in the past, controls the New England League club.

The teams would play exhibition games on the way here from the training grounds and possibly open the season at Bangor and Calais.

Mr. Donald plans a circuit of fifteen or sixteen weeks for the league, opening on or about May 20th and continuing until about September 7. The St. John and Bangor clubs want to play three games in their home town each week, while Fredericton and St. Stephen-Calais, the other two clubs on the circuit, are said to want only two games at home each week. The schedule will call for a minimum of about 80 games for a club, but considerable difficulty is expected in working out a schedule to give the different clubs an unequal number of home games. The St. Stephen-Calais club will alternate between the diamonds on the Canadian and American side of the St. Croix river in playing their games.

Negotiations for securing Scully's Grove as a playing field for Fredericton, have progressed most satisfactorily, while the deficit existing from last year's operations has been so far reduced as to give almost positive assurance of financing after the performance of Captain Bing at the Opera House there on April 8 and 9.

Chance to Sell Goats During the last few months the live stock branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture has been in receipt of numerous inquiries as to where it might be possible to purchase either Angora or milch goats. It would appear that in many parts of the Dominion the demand for these useful and profitable animals is rapidly developing and that those who at present have any surplus stock can find a ready sale for them if a channel of communication between supply and demand is established. Accordingly as a means of starting a convenient directory of Canadian breeders of Angora goats and milch goats, the live stock commissioner will be pleased to receive from such breeders information regarding their respective flocks covering the following points:

- 1.—Kind and number of goats kept. 2.—Usual number for sale each year. 3.—Approximately the prices asked. 4.—If possible a brief statement regarding expenses found necessary and the returns which may be expected by one engaging in raising this class of stock. Communications supplying this information should be addressed to the Live Stock Commissioner, Ottawa, Ont. Such letters do not require postage.

LOYD GEORGE, SAYS T. P. O'CONNOR, IS A GOOD TRAVELING COMPANION

The Chancellor Knows How to Rest as Well as How to Do Hard Work—Absorbing Story of Their Motor Trip Through France on Holiday

(BY T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P.) London, March 29.—I want to give you readers an intimate little sketch of Lloyd George as a traveling companion. It was not the best time of the year for a seamer through France, for the good spring weather had not yet come, and in spite of treacherous reversals of that lovely season of the year, there was always the danger of one of those impetuous and capricious reversals to cold, which is one of Nature's tricks at this time of the year. But the prospect of getting away from the customary environment of opening one's mind to new impressions and of more easily forgetting the anxious cares of several hard months, made the choice of France inevitable for a short parliamentary vacation. If the weather in the northern part proved unkind, there was always the alternative of rushing further south and to the sunshine which is nearly always to be found on the Riviera.

Any man is to be congratulated who had such delightful traveling companions as those with whom I was to pass a couple of weeks; any man, I say, irrespective of disposition or political opinions. A more ideal host and friend than Sir Charles Henry could not be found in the world; considerate, quiet, almost confidingly unselfish; never ready for even a moment or under any circumstances to permit his friends to have anything but the choice of the more agreeable. If it were a question of bedrooms in a country hotel, he would insist on taking the smallest and most uncomfortable; in the motor he would sit outside with the chauffeur on the coldest day rather than occupy the back seat. I never met so thoroughly kind-hearted a man.

For part of the time we had the company of Sir Rufus Isaacs, the youngest, the most high spirited and the best natured man in the world. And finally we had the chancellor of the exchequer. I hope my readers, whatever their politics, realize that this extraordinary and fascinating personality exists in private life the very reverse of the feelings which apparently he inspires in his life as a public man. There is no more popular figure, personally, even in the House of Commons, where he is often run high, and in private life he has the faculty, without seeming to exercise it, or even conscious of it, of fascinating all men and all women who come into his society.

Meridionale constantly complain of the sufferings through which they have to pass when they come to Paris because of the tremendous and strange accent, from which, by-laws, no one in the south seems to be able to liberate himself. It was the accent, in our own days, of Gambetta and Alphonse Daudet. In dress also in manner the meridionale suggests Spain rather than France. Like their horses, their clothes have a brightness of color; they wear shades over corduroy and baggy balloon-like trousers. Sometimes you even see something like the Basque knot on their heads and their gestures are abundant and large.
