As a result of the failure of the people to aprove the grant, the entire street railway system of the city will revert to the Cleveland Railway Company. The defeat of the franchise was doubtless brought about by what was held to be the inadequate and unsatisfactory service rendered by the Municipal Traction Company, the holding company which operated the lines, on a three cent basis. PASSENGER RATES TO VANCOUVER REDUCED

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy Announces Change Will Go Into Effect Monday--Empresses of Britain and Ireland to Come to Pacific.

"In order that the spirit of friendship between Victoria and Vancouver may be still further increased by frequent intervisits, find our traffic officers have decided to reduce the passenger rate between the two cities by about twenty per cent on Mon-

"The establishment of our Atlantic steamship line has demonstrated the fact that no route between Europe and America, be-tween Great Britain and this ontinent, at any rate, can in any way compare or compete with the Canadians. With the Empress of Britain arriving at Quebec at 3:45 this (Thursday) afternoon and its passengers landing in Chicago at 10 o'clock to-morrow night we have beaten the record of any steamer which ever sailed from Liverpool to New York. I make this statement because the Empress of Britain and the Empress of Ire-land will probably be visitors of ours at no very distant date, and I want you to appreciate them when they come.

"We are engaged on extending the E. & N. to Albernia. Later a branch to Cowlchan will have to be built, and probably at some date in the future a line to the north end of the Island will be constructed." — Sir Thomas Shaughnessy.

Citizens of Victoria did honor to themselves last evening in honoring the head of the great pioneer transcontinental railway of this continent, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy. The banquet tendered to him by the board of trade and city council in the Empress hotel was an unqualified success in every way. Practically every business man and men prominent in other walks gathered to show the president of the Canadian Pacific that this city appre ciates what the company has done and will do in the future to advance Victoria's interests.

The president made a couple of important announcements, which were received with cheering which must have assured him that the company were once more meeting the wishes of the people. The rate between the capital and Vancouver, he stated, is to be educed by about twenty per cent. Monday next, which was understood to mean a two-dollar rate. The other announcement confirmed a report that has been current for several months, that the magnificent new steamers which have been breaking all Atlantic records—the Empress of Britain and Empress of Ireland-are to come to the little to say definitely. The building of a branch line through the Cowichan district and the extension of the line on the northern end of the island were spoken of as probabilities and the work of making the E. & N. land grant available for settlement was declared to be proceeding quickly under the direction of Mr. Marpole. Coming as the first large banque given in the Empress, the latest great work of the company in the city, the function gave Manager Humble an op portunity to demonstrate what he and his staff could do and they hemselves more than equal to the occasion. All the arrangements were perfection and there was not the slightest hitch of any kind. The menu vas an exceptionally choice one, the table decorations were in the best of taste, and the service was faultless. During the courses the house orchestra discoursed the sweetest of music. Manager Humble is to be congratulated and he was the recipient of compliments from his president down. The loyal toast was proposed by Simon Leiser, president of the Board f Trade, who was in the chair, and was drunk with all the honors.

The Federal Parliament Mayor Hall proposed "The Parlia-ment of the Dominion of Canada," which, he said, was one of the best in the world. No legislative body under the British flag had such a large area under it. Were it not for that parliament they would not have Sir Thomas Shaughnessy with them that night. ENTHUSIASM FOR MCINNES AND JARDINE was on Tuesday night the scene of a most successful Liberal meeting which was held in the joint interests of W. W. B. McInnes and Mr. Jardine. Dennis Murphy and Mr. McInnes were the speakers. Mr. Clelland presided, and opened with a speech that had the true catchy ring about it. Calmly and critically attentive at the outset, the audience passed easily, in course of the proceedings, from intelligent appreciation to ardent and enthusiastic accord, and the applause amid which Mr. McInnes resumed his sect had in it the sincerity of whole-hearted support.

Western British Columbia Sunday School Association opened Tuesday in this city, the convention being held in St. Andrew's church. Rev. J. A. Logan, Victoria, introduced the speakers at the opening session. Mayor Keary extended the civic welcome.

Rev. A. de B. Owen, president of the New Westminster Ministerial Association, gave the convention a hearty welcome, as fellow workers in the great work of evangelization of the world, and because the churches would be almost impossible without the sincerity of whole-hearted support.

the proceedings, from intelligent appreciation to ardent and enthusiastic accord, and the applause amid which Mr. McInnes resumed his seed had in it the sincerity of whole-hearted support.

Mr. McInnes, who had an excellent reception, opened with a reference to the progress which Canada had made during the past twelve years. Twelve years ago, he said, the whole country was threatened with disruption on the school question. That question was no longer active. Revenue had increased during those twelve years from $200,000,000 to $600,000,000. No part is sent the proceedings, from intelligent appreciation of the world, and because the churches would be almost impossible without the Sunday schools, and in reply President Gibson wished to put into words his sense of the hospitality and kindness the convention had received. In answering the ministerial welcome, he would say that the Sunday school was the right arm of the church. The great danger of the Sunday school was the right arm of the church. Burns are commenced at a prostice to the form and the Ish man, indeed, who would say, "Let us go back to the day of dullness, depression and discord." Without a record, without a platform and without a leader who would for a moment compare with the great Liberal imperial chieftain, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, it was not surprising that the Conservatives were raising a great cloud of talk about scandals. There was practically nothing in this scandal talk. It was not necessary to go to the East for scandals, not necessary to read Hansard and the speeches of the Tories who were prominent in this campaign.

A greater calumny with regard to our judges was never uttered, and he had challenged it when it was uttered. He had declared that it was up to the newspaper and to the jarty, having alleged these things, to give names. The paper, in an editorial, mentioned the names of four prominent Liberal barristers. Afer all, the best refutation of this slander talk was the efficiency of the government in all departments, he said. Briefly, he reviewed these, pausing to comment on the establishing of two stations in the rural mail delivery scheme, one station in the vicinity of Victoria, and another for the suburbs of New Westminster.

Turning to discuss his own campaign, he said the same body of electors which had returned the McBride gov-

If returned nowwhich nobody anticipated seriously-he would be alone and could accomplish nothing for the people he represented. in the province he had been premier, attorney-general and a prominent private member for five long sessions, and the statute book would be searched in vain for any anti-Asiatic legislation brought in by him. When the city of couver wanted anything from the Ottawa government, it did not send Mr. Cowan to Ottawa, although he was the Conservative candidate. It sent a good Liberal, Mr. McEvoy, because the city knew that a friend could get more from a friend than an opponent. That was business, and on that showing it was business to send him to Ottawa to represent the constituency, and not Mr. Cowan. His opponents would be dismissed from this contest by everybody who felt a keen and intallicant in the contest of the contest

In closing, Mr. MaInnes declared that this constituency would return him as a candidate who had a strong record and a sound faith on the main issues in British Columbia, and who was a member of the party which had shown breadth of mind and width of vision in dealing with a section of the party which had shown breadth of mind and width of vision breadth of width of vision breadth of mind and w in British Columbia, and who was a

We had it here. There was nothing more vital to the well-being of the community than that the judiciary should enjoy the fullest measure of confidence. We as Britishers, were proud of our judiciary. It was the rarest thing in the world to find that an impeachment would lie against any of his majesty's judges. Yet the Vancouver Dall Province and the Western Party, led by Joseph Martin and convertions in these two, and complete their organization, when this is done we shall have all the possible districts in the province organized. It may be necessary in the near future to subdivide both Vancouver and New Westminster, as each covers a very large territory.
