BORN IN SUSSEX.

Frederick Williams Frith of Olds, N. W. T., left today for his home in the Territories, but will visit Kootenay en route. As the name would indicate Mr. Frith is born of the stock that gave to the world "the hero of Kara." Sir Frederick Williams, one of Britain's most distinguished generals, and his descendants possess many of the celebrated warrior's treasures. Mr. Frith was born in Sussex, N. B., but has grown up with the golden west and says he likes it.

The commissioner has adopted and is educating in this way "God at her own expense. This collection was taken at the door at the conclusion of the meeting. The commissioner's little boy William, a child of three years, arrayed in a white frock, sang: "Tell them to be there," "I know His cares for me," and "Pull for the Shore."

MRS. STEVENSON'S WILL. A few years ago the pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church in this city was talking over the affairs of the church with one of the most faithful and devoted members of his church, the late Mrs. Rachel Stevenson. The lady was not able to contribute as much as she would have liked, but remarked to the preacher that she had a brother in New Zealand who was thought to have done well. She was sure that William would give the church some assistance, as he were able and were informed of the necessities of the case.

From there a party consisting of Baron Foulton Von Norbeck, Lieut. Debut, Midshipman De Beaufort, twenty sailors, and two native guides, started out for the purpose of exploring a mountain in the interior of the mountains called the Lion's Head. After two days' marching one midshipman and seven sailors returned, the men not being able to stand the heavy walking in the bush. The baron's party then proceeded, reaching a camping place at the foot of the Lion's Head in New Brunswick.

The baron and his servants, with the native guides, were in the lead going up the hill, several natives being apparently near or mixed up with the party. When up near they top they heard two shots fired in the neighborhood of the camp they had left and at the same time they saw a bushman chief standing on the top of a rise, a little above them, making some signs.

This new group contains a larger proportion of women than any hitherto, and we must go to them and arrange for their comfort; we must distribute clothing and make provision for washing; settle each family in its own snug corner, etc. Miss Fraser, a young American missionary, who was with the heroic Dr. Grace Kimball at Van all winter long distributing supplies, has been sent to us by the Women's Armenian committee, and is doing excellent service; she knows just how to temper judgment with mercy in the giving out of supplies, and she can give us the facts we require."

An Exploration Party from Austria Severely Handled by Savages.

San Francisco, Oct. 22.—Details of a massacre on the Solomon Islands were brought up from the South Seas by the Ocean Steamship Company's mail steamer Monowa, which arrived at this port from Australia via the Sandwich Islands today. The victims of the "Doomsday" savages were members of a party of Austrians who had been brought up from the South Seas by the Ocean Steamship Company's mail steamer Monowa, which arrived at this port from Australia via the Sandwich Islands today.

From there a party consisting of Baron Foulton Von Norbeck, Lieut. ASSASSINATION BY ARMENIANS.

Turkish Policemen Brutally Attacked While Protecting an Armenian.

Constantinople, Oct. 19.—Armenians have added assassination to the crime of being thrown. Just at the moment when the nation and the ministers were occupied in lengthy sittings with a view to forwarding measures for reform, the town has been shocked by a dastardly outrage committed by Armenians. Three or four days ago Cololian Ayadis, the Armenian advocate in the service of the foreign office, received a letter from the Armenian committee demanding 2,600. This system of blackmailing has been widely and successfully applied by the Armenian anarchists with rich but unwilling Armenians.

Cololian asked for police protection last evening. A little after eight o'clock there came a knock at his door, which one of the two policemen detailed to protect the house opened. One man immediately entered, and was quickly followed by two others. The latter seized the policeman, while the first began to attack them from the front with a large knife. Nouri Effendi, one of the policemen, was wounded in the stomach, being well nigh disembowelled; the other, Mehmet, was stabbed twelve times. I have just seen Dr. Avallia, who had been called to the Gumbuz Sovon hospital. He says that Nouri Effendi is very gravely wounded and will probably die. He has severe internal hemorrhage from internal wounds. His liver also has been pierced. Dr. Avallia says the poor fellow is in a fearful state.

The news was at once conveyed to the sultan, who was much grieved at this dastardly act of cowardice. At the very time there were five persons in the court yard of the house and Cololian was upstairs with his stepson. The boy and his governess and those in the court say they heard nothing. Cololian says he is panic-stricken. The murderers got away, leaving the door open behind them. An officer coming past had an hour later noticed the door open and blood running down the steps. The murderer took place in Pankadi street, near the military school.

With nerves so highly strung as ours just now the feeling which this crime against the representatives of law and the protectors of the rights of citizens is most disastrous. There is also deep and general disgust at the cowardly means adopted. The murderers have not yet been arrested. A big reward has been offered for their capture and conviction. Public spirit is aroused against the Armenians. The people are asking, if Turks are to be murdered for protecting Armenians, what is to happen next.

INTERVIEW WITH VICTIMS.

Later—I have just returned from seeing Nouri and Mehmet Effendi; at the admirable military hospital presided over by Colonel Emin Pasha. I found the poor fellows the object of the deepest commiseration of the ward, which is full of mutilated victims of Armenian bomb outrages. In the centre of this ward were two singularly handsome young men. Nouri is dark; the other tall. They were propped up in bed; neither could lie down, both having deep wounds in the back. They were writhing with pain.

Nouri's mutilated stomach was bandaged. He had lost much blood. Agony was written on his face; his painless extremities were cold—his painless extremities were cold—his painless extremities were cold. Yet he made a supreme effort to see his father. Even after being so fearfully mutilated he tried to chase the Armenian assassins until he had fallen unconscious and bleeding in the street. His life might have been saved had it not been for this last instinctive call to duty. "Inchallah," he said, poor man, "is God's will." Mehmet, who is bandaged all over, but has a better chance for life and may pull through, said that after being attacked, he fled upstairs and fell senseless on the first floor landing; from there he was thrown out of the window into the garden below, and thence the Armenian watchman threw him out into the street.

The sultan sent to the hospital a message of sympathy, and directed that he be kept constantly acquainted with the condition of the wounded men. This paternal solicitude by one whose human instincts have so often been labelled may be fittingly placed in contrast with the conduct of Cololian, in whose defence both men fell. Not once during the day did he send to ask after their condition.

Sardinia is to be made the centre of Italy's defence in the Mediterranean if parliament will vote the money. Porto Torres is to be turned into a great military post, while strategic lines of railroad will be built over the whole island. A sailor in San Francisco saved fish bones in his pocket after they had been cooked, and caught one of the light figured gentry in making a second raid.

The clerk of Prince Edward Island presbytery said Mr. Gunn had ar- ranged with Mr. McDonald to preach on the island, and that he had asked to give work there. It was on this information that he (Ross) had made arrangements to supply Fair- ville and Grand Bay. He had put nothing in the way of Mr. McDonald's reappointment.

AMERICAN SHIPPING. San Francisco Chamber of Commerce Wants Some Protection. San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 21.—The chamber of commerce has decided to interest itself in obtaining some protective action from congress relating to the American shipping interests. Secretary Merry will forward a memorandum to Washington, presenting the absolute necessity of some action in behalf of the ocean mail steamship service under the national ensign. The memorial sets forth that Japan is entering the field with modern steamships, to be operated under a subsidy law so liberal that a 5,000 ton vessel with 15 knots speed, will be paid $31,500 for a voyage from Yoko- hama to San Francisco and return. It also calls attention to the fact that Great Britain also has a heavy sub- sidized steamship line between Van- couver and Japan, and that another is about to be established between Vancouver and Australia via New Zealand and the Fiji Islands, also calling at Honolulu. England pays subsidies at about the rate of $5,000 per month for each of her regular and auxiliary cruisers $5,000, and France pays $2,000,000, and with such inducements it is of no use for American steamers to compete with them.

As the Halifax Herald points out, the organization in the electoral district is the one of chief responsibility.

REV. DR. TALMAGE DISCUSSES THE WORLD'S LAST BATTLE.

The Opposing Forces Indicate the Magnitude of the Great Struggle—The Victory Will Lie With the Great Commander, Christ.

Washington, Oct. 18.—In his sermon to-day Rev. Dr. Talmage discussed the great conflict prophesied for the world's last battle.

Megiddo is the name of a mountain that looks down upon Esdraelon, the greatest battlefield that the world has ever seen.

My sermon will first mention the regiments that will be engaged in the conflict, then will say something of the commanders on both sides, and then speak of the battle itself and the tremendous issues.

Other regiments on the wrong side will be made up of offenders of all sorts—the defrauders, the libertines, the dynamiters, the anarchists, the oppressors and the foes of society.

THE BAY SERVICE.

Before beginning his sermon in Centenary church Sunday evening Rev. Dr. Pickles explained that he was not feeling well and was not very sure of his feet. He had only been in town about an hour or a little more, after spending six hours in our first class steamer on our first class bay. He had been seasick, too, and the accommodation felt much to be desired. He had been on a good deal of water and had crossed the English channel four times, but had never been so heavily treated as Sunday on the Bay of Fundy.

PLAYING WITH POWDER.

George Duffy, the eight year old son of John Duffy of St. Patrick street, met with a singular and somewhat serious accident near the One Mile house on Sunday afternoon. He with a young lad named Kelly, a son of Mr. Kelly of Brussels street, went out the road for a walk. While making an examination of the old powder magazine they discovered a quantity of powder. Anxious to see it explode they lighted a fire and threw the powder on. It did not go off at once, and Duffy attempted to jump over the burning wood. This was where he made the mistake, for the powder exploded as he was passing over the fire, with the result that his legs from the knees up and the lower part of his body were badly burned. Parts of his clothing were consumed, and those who arrived on the scene first tore the remainder of it off. The lad was driven to his home by Fred Kirkpatrick. Dr. Harrison was called in and did what he could for the poor little fellow. Kelly was slightly burned as well.

CENTENARY CHURCH.

A Series of Anniversary Services Begun Sunday.

Sermon by the Pastor in the Morning—Sunday School Services.

Eloquent Discourse that Evening by Rev. Dr. Pickles of Boston.

(From Monday's Daily Sun)

The anniversary services of Centenary church began yesterday morning.

The pastor, Rev. John Read, after the opening hymn stated that Rev. Dr. Pickles of Boston, who was to have been present, had been unable to reach St. John.

Rev. John Read preached a very able sermon from II. Samuel, vi, 12th verse: "And it was told King David, saying, The Lord hath blessed the house of Obededom and all that pertaineth unto him, because of the ark of God."

Pickles of Carleton, and the reading of Scriptures by the school, Frank Smith of the infant class gave a recitation. Then came a trio by Tracie Lookhart, Fannie Jenkins and Hannah Leppan.

The sermon at last evening's service was preached by Rev. Dr. Pickles of Boston. He is an eloquent speaker and was heard with delight by a congregation that practically filled the church.

His text was First Corinthians, xxix, 1: "For the palace is not for man but for the Lord God." The central thought of the sermon found expression in the words "Ye are the temple (or palace) of the living God."

The preacher dwelt upon the building of the temple at Jerusalem and what it meant to the Jews. But, he went on, that temple has passed away and no hill is it now absolutely necessary to erect such a structure.

Two important facts seem to be established. 1.—There has been a general decline of commodities, especially in certain raw materials and in certain manufactures.

couched in elegant phrase, was enriched with striking illustrations. Rev. John Read conducted the first portion of the service last evening, and the prayer following the sermon was offered by Rev. F. H. W. Pickles.

Appointed Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of All England.

In Succession to the Late Most Rev. Ward White Benson—A Sketch of Right Rev. Dr. Temple's Career.

LONDON, OCT. 25.—The Right Reverend Frederick Temple, Bishop of London, has been appointed Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of All England, in succession to the late Most Reverend Ward White Benson.

The Right Reverend Frederick Temple, D. D., Bishop of London, son of an officer in the army, was born November 30, 1821, was educated at the Grammar school at Trintown, and proceeding to Oxford, became a scholar of Balliol College, and took his degree B. A. in 1842.

THE LATE HIRAM HUMPHREYS.

A Petticoat correspondent sends the following sketch of the late Hiram Humphreys, senior member of the firm of Humphreys & Trites, whose death took place on the 14th inst.

Humphreys was born in New Canaan, in Queens county, N. B., in 1823. When about twenty years of age he purchased a place then known as Price's Corner, on the main road to Salisbury, near Petticoat, where he continued to live and do business till he moved to Petticoat, some years after the intercolonial railway was built. Soon after he moved to the Price place he purchased a farm there, now known as the Humphreys farm and owned by G. L. Brown.

He first married Miss Crawford of Springfield, to whom the above children and two others since deceased were born. For his second wife he married the widow of Amasa Weldon, who at the time of his decease was custom house officer at Moncton. Mrs. Humphreys is a daughter of the late James Robinson of Moncton. The deceased was a consistent member of the Episcopal church. No man in the parish of Salisbury was better known. For several years he was municipal councillor for this parish, and a number of times he refused a nomination for the house of assembly. He was a man of undoubted integrity.

REV. JOHN READ, PASTOR OF CENTENARY.

Indicated: Chief Justice Tuck, Mrs. G. M. Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Nixon, W. C. Godose, W. A. Lockhart, Samuel Gardner and John Jackson.

speaker dwelt upon the greatness and significance of this thought. He is to be the shrine of Deity. He is to reveal himself in us, walk in us, dwell in us.

In this palace there are four chambers. The first he would call the chamber of Reason. It is the place of thought, of knowledge, of wisdom.

He is with us in all the other chambers, amid adversity, toll, sorrow and all the experiences of life, but especially and particularly and emphatically in the chamber of worship.

From it Moses came down the mountain, his face shining. Stephen, when being stoned, was in it, and his face was as the face of an angel.

What shall be the character of the furnishings of this temple? The answer lies in the sentence: Whatsoever things are true, lovely, of good report, just, honest; if there be any praise, think on these things.

Let us have in all that is grand and noble and beautiful, grander than the temple at Jerusalem or any cathedral or minster in the olden world.

Let us have the measurements of our lives, and in His thought is our destiny. John caught the inspiration when he said: "Now are we the Sons of God and it doth not yet appear what we shall be."

Rev. Dr. Pickles spoke with great impressiveness, and his discourse, eloquent and prayerful, was heard by a congregation that practically filled the church.

In the afternoon there was an open session of the Sunday school. After singing and prayer by Rev. F. H. W.
