HER SISTER WAS BURNED IN THE CHELSEA FIRE

Mrs. W. O. Theal, of Adelaide Street, Receives Word of Fatality—Three Inmates of Dr. Fenwick's House Burned

Mrs. W. O. Theal, of Adelaide St., received the shocking intelligence last evening that Mrs. Dr. Fenwick, her sister-in-law, had met death in the Chelsea fire. It was stated in the message received that Dr. Fenwick left his home on a call and returned about 10 minutes later to find his house in flames. The block was roped off and the firemen would not allow him to pass. He was told, however, that his wife had been rescued. This calmed the doctor for a time but he wanted to see his wife immediately. When the ruins were cleared the bodies of Mrs. Fenwick, Miss Barnes, a cousin, and the maid were found. Dr. Fenwick identified his wife by the watch she wore.

LIONS ROAMED ABOUT THE STREETS

People in a Texan Town Were Terrorized. Animals Escaped From a Circus—The Flood Situation Was Extremely Serious.

PORT WORTH, Texas, April 18.—With telephone, telegraph and railroad service almost completely suspended, Fort Worth was last night the center of the worst wind and rain storm that has been known in Texas for many years. With two exceptions every railway out of this city was forced to suspend operations. At midnight the telephone companies reported all wires out of Fort Worth lost. Coleburn, twenty miles south, was struck by a wind of tornado proportions, followed by a torrential downpour of rain. Within twenty minutes after the storm broke the two bayous that run through Cleburn had left their banks, flooding five or six houses. A circus whose tents were pitched in the western portion of the city was completely wrecked, two lions escaped and prowled about town for an hour, throwing the people into a panic. One canvasser was caught under the wreckage of the main tent and fatally injured. The loss to the circus is estimated at $12,000. At Fort Worth the Trinity river began to rise again at midnight and every available man from the police force was hurried out to warn the people living in the bottoms.

CIRCUS PERFORMER LEAPS TO HIS DEATH

Five Thousand Horrified Spectators Witness Terrible Tragedy Under Canvas

BERLIN, April 18.—A French professor named Gadin was killed here last night before the eyes of 5,000 spectators while going through a diving performance known as the "death leap" at the Circus Busch. Gadin's performance consisted of leaping from the roof 100 feet in height to an inclined smoothly planed wooden slant. After landing on the slant he slid down into a net at the bottom. The distance from the point where the leap began to the top of the inclined shaft was sixty feet, and the shaft was forty feet in length. A successful performance of this feat necessitated leading skillfully to the slant that the body should hit the slant lightly and slide down the surface without severe shock. The hazardous nature of the performance was sufficiently indicated by the title given to it. Gadin himself understood thoroughly that the least deviation from the proper course through midair would inevitably result in his death. He dived from the roof heading, and poised his body while shooting through the air at an angle that he thought would insure a safe landing. He landed on the slant at exactly the same angle at which the shaft was inclined, thereby sliding down without further resistance. Last night he failed to maintain this angle and struck the upper end of the shaft, and fell heavily to the ground. Death ensued shortly afterwards. The performance was immediately stopped and the horrified audience silently quit the building. Gadin had performed the "death leap" 438 times without the least mishap.

LEAP FROM MOTOR CAR MEANS OWNER'S DEATH

London Brewer, Seeing Collision Inevitable, Jumps and Fractures His Skull

CANNES, April 18.—James Hiscutt Crossman, of Hamilton terrace, Regent's Park, London, a director of the brewing firm of Mann, Crossman & Paulin, died at the Hotel du Parc here yesterday from terrible injuries received in a motor-car collision near Beaulieu on Sunday night, when on his way here from Monte Carlo. At the place where the collision occurred Mr. Crossman's chauffeur, believing that another car approaching was on the wrong side of the road, turned aside to clear. At the same instant the chauffeur of the other car did likewise. Seeing that an accident was unavoidable, Mr. Crossman sprang out, falling on his head, and fracturing the base of his skull. His chauffeur was able to bring him to Cannes by train in a half-conscious condition. He roused himself, and was able to walk to a cab, but he lost consciousness on arriving at the hotel, and died twelve hours later. No one else was injured in the collision. It is believed that had Mr. Crossman sat still he would not have met with injury.

CREW OF THE HELEN KENNEY REACH N. Y.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Captain Hinden and six men of the crew of the British schooner Helen E. Kenney, which was lost on March 23 in the Port of Porto Caballo, arrived here today on the steamer Prinz Friedrich. The Helen E. Kenney was anchored at Porto Caballo when currents forced her on a submerged wreck of ledges and she sank in spite of all efforts to save her. The hull and cargo were sold.

RIOTOUS SOLDIERS SHOT UP THE TOWN

Wild Times in Mexico—Police Called Out After Three People Had Been Killed

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—While almost the entire populace of Mazatlan, Mexico, were participating in a religious feast Sunday, twenty-five riotous broke out of the garrison and began a wild career of rioting and bloodshed. Within half an hour they had killed two policemen, and one other citizen, and had waylaid and robbed three men in the outskirts of the city. The riotous were brought by Louis Bradbury, a well known mining man, who arrived here yesterday afternoon in the German steamer Absentia, which left Mazatlan on the day the rioting occurred. Governor Francisco Canedo, of Sinaloa, who was in the city, lost no time in calling out the mounted district police and fifty of them started in pursuit of the soldiers.

STOCKHOLM BALLOON REACHES ST. PETERSBURG

ST. PETERSBURG, April 18.—A balloon containing two Swedish officers dropped in the vicinity of the Kinyvi Monastery at Schluessenberg, 20 miles east of St. Petersburg. The police found the remains of the aeronauts correct. Lieutenant Moller, chief of the balloon department of the Swedish army, was brought here by the balloon. He said he left Stockholm at 7 o'clock Thursday evening. After conferring with the Legation here, the officers were permitted to pack their balloon and started for Stockholm by way of Finland.

MEMORIAL SERVICE TO DURHAM W. STEVENS

TOKIO, April 18.—A memorial service was held yesterday in the American Episcopal Cathedral in honor of the late Durham White Stevens, diplomatic adviser of the Korean Council of State, who was recently assassinated at San Francisco by a Korean Zealot. The service was attended by the entire diplomatic corps and prominent residents of Tokyo and Yokohama. Representatives of the Imperial household were also present. The church was crowded. The English and the American bishops and seven clergymen officiated. The floral decorations were beautiful.

SERGEANT WAS SHOT BY AN INSANE SOLDIER

A Tragedy This Morning at Wolsey Barracks—Murderer, Well Armed, Has Made His Escape

LONDON, Ont., April 18.—Sergeant Lloyd, an officer at Wolsey Barracks, was shot dead shortly after one o'clock this morning by an unknown soldier who is thought to have been temporarily insane. The shooting took place at the barracks. The murderer is said to have escaped with two revolvers and twenty rounds of ammunition and the police are scouring the city for him. The military authorities refuse to give out his name or make any statement concerning the matter. Lloyd was shot through the back. He was an attached soldier at the barracks and belongs to Stratford. He was 28 years of age.

PAPER MAKERS BLAMED FOR THE HIGH PRICES

Congress Will Take Action Against the Combine—The Tariff Not Involved.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—In the event that the Attorney General does not soon show that something substantial has been done to prosecute the Paper Trust as a combination in restraint of trade providing the pending inquiry shows it is operating in violation of the law, Congress may go into the trust fighting business on its own account. Speaker Cannon and Chairman Payne, of the Ways and Means Committee, contend that the tariff nothing to do with the high price of paper, that if the scarcity of raw material is responsible for it, the fault lies with the paper trust, who have been combining factories and limiting the output and have put the prices up to suit themselves. The speaker may offer a resolution providing for a searching inquiry by a Congressional committee into the operations of the International Paper Company. This inquiry if held will touch upon the sources of supply, the methods of manufacture and the manner of distribution of the products of wood pulp.

WOMAN IS SHOT BY REJECTED SUITOR

Assassin Travels From Odessa to Paris to Prevent Her Marriage.

PARIS, April 18.—A dramatic love tragedy occurred in the Russian student colony in Paris yesterday. Alexandre Gueska, aged 20, a Russian student at Odessa, was deeply in love with a fellow student, Miss Gillsky. She ignored his advances, however, and some months ago she came to Paris in order to study at the Sorbonne. A few weeks ago she became engaged to be married. The news reached Gueska at Odessa and he at once set off for Paris. About 8 o'clock last night he called at the rooms of Miss Gillsky in the Rue Melantrich and violently protested against her forthcoming marriage. The girl told him that his journey had been a needless expense, as he knew well that she did not love him and had no desire to see him. At these words the young man suddenly drew a revolver from his pocket and fired at the girl, wounding her slightly. He then turned the weapon against himself and shot himself dead. Miss Gillsky, who is suffering from shock more than from her wounds, has undertaken to pay the funeral expenses, so that the remains of her unfortunate comrade will not be transferred to the morgue. A middle aged woman named Sarah Gayton was found by the Alms House Commission secretary this morning in a most destitute condition in a house on Exmouth street. The unfortunate woman is very ill with consumption and was lying on a bed of hard boards. The room was in a filthy state, but despite her poor surroundings the woman would not at first accept the offer to be moved to the Municipal Home at Crouchville. Rev. Fred M. Clay passed through St. John this a.m. with the remains of his mother, the widow of the late Dr. Edwin Clay, formerly emigration agent at the port of Halifax. Mrs. Clay died on Wednesday at the home of her son at Medina, New York. Dr. Clay was at one time pastor of the Carlisle Baptist church, and Mrs. Clay was a daughter of the late Honorable H. G. Pline, Pughwash, N. S.

If elected I shall deem it my duty to do all in my power in the best interests of the city. Respectfully yours, E. C. ELKIN.

To the Electors of the City of St. John:

Ladies and Gentlemen: Having been tendered the unsolicited support of a large number of ratepayers, I have decided to accept nomination for the Mayoralty and trust I will receive your endorsement. During the time I have held the position of Alderman and discharged the duties of chairman of the treasury department, I have been very fully attentive to the city affairs, and whilst I have no doubt that the progress and development of the city (interestingly manifested during several years) will be continued, I realize fully that the taxation of the citizens must not be materially increased, but that as far as possible the rate of assessment must be reduced. Soliciting your vote and support on Tuesday the 21st inst. Yours respectfully, THOS. H. BULLOCK.

To the Electors of Kings Ward:

Ladies and Gentlemen: Yielding to the request of many of the electors to offer for the aldermanalty of Kings Ward, I will be a candidate for that office on Tuesday next, April 21st. If elected, I shall endeavor to give close and careful attention to the city's business. Faithfully yours, TIMOTHY O'BRIEN.

Alderman-at-Large:

Ladies and Gentlemen: At the solicitation of a large number of the electors of the city I have decided to offer myself as a candidate for the position of alderman-at-large. If elected I will endeavor to do all in my power to promote the best interests of the city. Yours respectfully, JOHN SIMS.

Alderman-at-Large:

Ladies and Gentlemen: At the solicitation of a large number of the ratepayers of the city, I have consented to be a candidate for Alderman-at-Large in the coming civic election. If elected, I will do my utmost to have the business of the city conducted as economically as the needs of the city will permit. Yours respectfully, W. E. SCULLY.

To the Electors at Large:

I have been nominated for Alderman-at-Large, and solicit your votes. Should you elect me I shall not sit silent on any question that may come before the council for the benefit of the city but to all possible to promote and protect the interests of the citizens, so that all work required by the city is given in the proper way and done by persons who are tax payers, and do all possible to reduce the debt and taxes of the people. Your obedient servant, JAMES HUNTER.

MONTREAL MAN SUICIDES

MONTREAL April 17.—The body of William S. Hartley, of Montreal, was found in Westmount park this afternoon with a freshly-discharged revolver lying nearby. It was evident that the young man had committed suicide. A letter was found on Hartley's body addressed to a friend of which it read: "When you have read this I shall have gone into the dark. I can see no outlet from this awful step. My cheques on the bank of life are all in and dishonored. The horrible thing is I cannot save others from the consequences of my own selfish wrongdoing. If I had not lost my position in Giant Horse, I could have married and faced life. The deceased was well known in Montreal and belonged to several good clubs, but had of late been drinking hard, and in his trouble had evidently concluded that suicide was the easiest end.

HAD A STAB-LIKE PAIN THROUGH THE HEART.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS CURED HER AND SAVED HER LIFE. There is no one, we imagine, that about deliberately to do injury to the heart, yet in the excitement and excesses of present-day living, the nervous system is done violence to, and the heart and nerves being so intimately bound up with one another, disorganization of the one means disease and disorder of the other. When you find your heart the least bit out of rhythm, your nerves unstrung, don't wait until you are prostrated on a bed of sickness. Take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. They'll put you in such condition you'll never know you have a heart, make your brain clear and active, your nerves strong, your blood rich and pure, and your whole being thrill with a new life. Mrs. John C. Yensen, Little Rock, N.B., writes: "I was troubled with a stab-like pain through my heart. I tried many remedies but they seemed to do me more harm than good. I was advised by a friend to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after using two boxes I was completely cured. I cannot praise them enough for the world of good they did me for I believe they saved my life." Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CIVIC CONTRACTS AND THE TAX-PAYER

To the Editor: Sir—I noticed a letter in the Sun of the 14th inst., signed Workman, complaining of the way our Common Council gives out the city printing to a man who pays no taxes and employs girls in his office. City work should be given to those who help to pay the bills. This is not the only contract given in the same way. Some of the officials in the City Hall smelt a rat, sewer gas or something of that kind and complained of bad gas. The council decided to have electric lights and the work was given to a person who pays neither license nor taxes. Light under the nose of the assessors two men were doing city work who were not properly qualified. Any person coming into our city for work are pounced upon for licenses before they get a chance to earn it, and right in our city hall are men working, getting good pay, who are not bothered at all. This is not a fair way for our city fathers to do business, as they are elected to protect our merchants and workmen. Thanking you Mr. Editor for this space I am, Yours truly, HONEST GOVERNMENT.

HONEST GOVERNMENT.

AMUSEMENTS.

Hundreds Turned Away from Nickel Many were unable to gain admittance to the Nickel last evening and the holiday matinee was a monster. These conditions demonstrated several things, notably that motion picture entertainment is still the popular craze and that the Nickel's way of presenting it—the latest and best procurable—is yet in high favor. Musical features were of course a magnet and the orderliness, safety, cleanliness and comfort of the big theatre are home which discriminating people take into consideration. Today will be another bumper, and it is safe to assume the total attendance before closing time will almost approximate the holiday. It's a great show the Nickel is winding up the week with. It includes a dramatic picture, Remorse; a mystic comedy, Whimsical People; a frankish piece, See The Point; and a romance among the New York skyscrapers, Nellie The Pretty Typewriter. This last mentioned is Thomas A. Edison's latest and most successful product. The scenes on top the towering Singer Building (the tallest in the world) as the hero saves his sweetheart from the villain are most exciting. Yesterday's crowds applauded vociferously as the hero was saved. It is a great piece of metropolitan life-picturing. At today's monster matinee for the children and ladies all these pictures will be realistically put on, also the Holy Land views, two appropriate vocal numbers and catchy music. So good and early. Happy Easter to Princess Patrons The management of the Princess Theatre wish their many friends and patrons a happy Easter and trust that none of them will miss the excellent shows being presented today. Miss A. Oakleave will be heard in a cornet solo. Mr. F. L. Crosby has a very pretty offering in 'Neath the Cherry Tree. Percy Sayce is singing Stingy Moon to the delight of everyone. The motion picture part of the bill includes The Night Riders, the first motion picture ever taken of the tobacco war now going on between the planters and the tobacco trust. The Cattle Ranch is without doubt the best western picture ever shown here. A herd of over 1,000 head of cattle is shown grazing on the prairie. They are roped and branded in full view of the audience. The Mystery of the Treasure, gorgeously colored by hand, showing scenes in and around Jerusalem, a Bear view of the Hill of Calvary is shown. Building a Railway Bridge, showing the cooler building the new bridge over the Orange River, S. A., showing how the massive spans are floated into position with the aid of large rafts. The Downfall of a Singer from singing grand opera to singing in the street in a 'damny' act. Easter souvenirs will be presented to each patron at the matinee today.

(4) The term "cultivation" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line, exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement. (5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention. TELEPHONES.

Manitoba and Alberta have purchased from the Bell Telephone Company the systems now in operation in those provinces. Saskatchewan is negotiating and British Columbia is watching with interest this movement. The Telephone Age, in an article dealing with government ownership has the following: "European countries which have adopted government ownership for telephone lines have as a rule met with surprisingly good results in the lowness of the rates charged and in the efficiency of the service rendered. But some of the advocates of government ownership, in their eagerness to make a good showing overhead the mark by exaggerating the benefits which have accrued, and, though one sympathizes with their efforts to publish these benefits far and wide, it is easy to see that by claiming the impossible they sometimes do more harm than good to the cause."

"A Toronto newspaper, for instance, speaking of the cheapness of telephones in Germany, where they are a State enterprise, says that in Berlin a residential phone costs $11 per year and business phones slightly higher, while the number of subscribers is over 200,000. It goes on to state that the government, for many years, has enjoyed a net profit of $2,500,000. "Now, the status of telephone service in Germany was gone into at some length by the Select Committee on Telephone Systems, which took evidence at Ottawa two or three years ago. In the report of that body statistics are given which show that on December 31st, 1904, that the number of telephones in the city of Berlin was 87,744, and it is scarcely conceivable that that number has increased to 200,000 in the intervening period. The same authority shows that the unit cost of telephones in that city is $42.84 per annum and the measured service charge $23.89 plus one cent per message. The report goes on to say: "We have no record of the expenditures for construction, maintenance and operation of the local systems. . . . We have no approximate reliable figures available as to the means employed for the cost, operation and maintenance of the trunk lines. We can only state that since 1890 a per cent. has been paid in the capital expended for the entire telephone system arrangements, the trunk lines, and the local systems, including the costs for maintenance of the lines and apparatus, for payment of employees, for building, heating and heating arrangements, etc."

JAPAN AND CHINA.

Japan has come face to face with an entirely unexpected situation in her relations with China. The attitude of overbearing contempt which the Mikado's people have always displayed towards their big neighbor has been somewhat rudely disturbed, and the sleeping giant shows alarming evidences of life. Japan was very recently during the last two or three years endeavoring to pick a quarrel with China, in order that some excuse might be offered for the seizure of Manchuria. In different ways Japanese statesmen managed to insult the peaceful Chinese in the hope of fomenting the latter to warlike action. The most recent incident was in connection with the seizure by China of the Japanese flag and carrying a cargo of arms and ammunition for Chinese revolutionists. If any European nation had made such a seizure the vessel would have been destroyed and Japan forced to apologize for fostering such a traffic. China, however, with a weak government, rather than accept war, paid for the cargo and abjectly saluted the Japanese flag. This display of forbearance on the part of the government has not found favor throughout the Empire, and has led directly to the greatest boycott in recent years. China is peculiarly organized for the successful conduct of such a movement. In anticipation of constitutional government, many self-government societies have been formed throughout the Empire under imperial direction. It is these societies which are now preaching the boycott, and they do so with more authority than if the movement were merely a loosely arranged agitation. Chinese merchants are aroused; they are displaying an unlooked-for patriotism, and are intensely earnest in their feelings against Japan. Thousands all through the Empire have already pledged themselves not to sell, hundreds of thousands of persons have promised not to buy, Japanese goods. The exclusion of certain of the leading lines of imports, notably coal, will lead to the systematic development of Chinese resources, to increased mineral production and to greater industrial progress. The boycott will also increase and unify Chinese patriotism, which can only be done by a popular movement such as this. Japan, if fair methods are adopted, will find herself absolutely powerless in fighting such a sentiment, but the Japanese are deep and subtle. Already their agents are going about among the Chinese attempting to lead some of the latter to violence in order that these outbursts may be seized as excuses for action. This is one of the pitfalls which the Chinese leaders have to fear, but they have already displayed so much ability in managing the boycott that they will undoubtedly continue with success. The Tatsu Maru hold-up promises to be the dearest trick Japan has ever worked.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE

MAKING ENEMIES.

When the Senator from Ohio nominated Mr. Cleveland for the presidency he closed his nomination speech with this declaration, "And we are proud of him for the enemies he has made." The words electrified the convention and did more, said his biographer, to put him in the White House than all the campaign speeches that were made. What a contrast to the disgraceful words, "He never made an enemy in his life," and men have said that who thought that they were paying the highest compliment to their friend and he has received it and dashed with pleasure at what he thought was the highest praise. Imagine what kind of a man he must be, never to have made in this fighting world, an enemy, for he had never defended the weak nor opposed the strong. Imagine a soldier coming home from the wars and boasting that he had never embarrassed or crippled the enemy. Imagine a man presenting himself at the Golden Gate, and asking St. Peter to let him in among the grand old fighters up the stairs, on the plea that he has received it and dashed with pleasure at what he thought was the highest praise. Imagine what kind of a man he must be, never to have made in this fighting world, an enemy, for he had never defended the weak nor opposed the strong. Word has been received here from Walkerston, South Africa, to the effect that Albert Hammond, who is well known here, has been elected a member of the Municipal Council of that place. Mr. Hammond came from England and was adopted by Mr. M. W. and Mrs. Stockton, who almost regarded him as a son. He went to South Africa with the First Canadian Contingent, and after serving his country during the war returned to Sussex. He only remained here a few months and enlisted in the South African Mounted Constabulary, receiving his discharge he commenced business as a butcher and since prospered. That he enjoys the confidence of his fellow citizens is shown by his choice to so important an office. He was always regarded as a young man of splendid character and his friends will learn with pleasure of his success. A group photograph of the council shows the membership is made up of bright business men. —Sussex Record.

The Sussex track looks like business these days. There are eight horses quartered in the stable, Marguerite Climes, by Climes, a promising three year old, owned by Nat McNair, is the latest addition to the string. A number of other fast horses will be here before the dust blows and the stalls are being put in condition to accommodate them.—Sussex Record.

PASSOVER--THE LIBERTY BELL OF THE WORLD

Sermon by Rabbi Bernard L. Amdur, Hazen Ave. Synagogue.
Passover is the glorious commemoration and the beacon light of liberty, the pillar of our history and the kingdom of all festivals, an ever resplendent moment, whose splendor the remotest of ages could not dim nor the transition of events render obscure. This grand anniversary is with us once more and Israel everywhere extends cordial welcome to that great distinguishing moment, the institution of liberty, uttering words of thanks for the past, and inspiring expressions of hope for the future.
The Scriptures in Deut. 16-1, in regards to Passover, bids us in the following words: "Observe the month of Abib (spring) and celebrate the passover unto the Lord, thy God, for in the month of Abib the Lord brought thee out of Egypt by night." Should not the question arise, is there any special importance attached to the month of spring as to make its observance mandatory? Are the wonders of God more potent in the month of Abib? In order to meet our quest with a plausible answer, we must give the matter a reflective thought. The principle underlying our quest is not merely a remembrance of the past. It is a chain of transitory events, a series of incidents diversities and multifariousities. Nations have risen and fallen, humanity has changed its appearance, nay, we ourselves have undergone strange mutations and the beacon light of liberty, the pillar of our history and the kingdom of all festivals, an ever resplendent

moment, whose splendor the remotest
of ages could not dim nor the transi-
and Israel everywhere extends cordial
moment, the institution of liber-
past, and inspiring expressions of hope
for the future.
The Scriptures in Deut. 16-1, in regards to Passover, bids us in the following words: "Observe the month of
spring as to make its observance
mandatory? Are the wonders of God
order to meet our quest with a plausi-

the depth beneath, from the heights above, the unfettered powers of nature begin the work of recreation and every heart and soul feels the strong pulsa-tion indicating new strength and new vigor of life. Even the feeble, the frail and the sick draw fresh hope from the spring offers for all. The same power that during the months of the winter seemed dead or sleeping, that power is now to awaken the dead and to restore the children of nature unto life.
Long and dreary was the slavery under which our ancestors sighed in Egypt, groaning in servitude under the iron rule of a nation that was intelligently and morally in darkness; the yoke that was put upon them, but calculated to crush out their life, but not to slumber. He reached over Israel and protected them against destruction to preserve them for the time of liberty.
Thus we see the protection of God in nature and in history alike. So as the spring is a time of joy and good tidings, when we draw a deeper breath in the warm and pleasant air, in such days of cheerfulness we love to speak of the unimpeded time of the winter when our movements were hindered by reason of the cold, the snow and ice.
Thus our fathers when the time of liberty had come, loved to revert in their thoughts of the time of their misery and oppression; and when they returned to the land of Abib, they were in the month of Abib, they were to celebrate the Passover as a commemoration of their sorrows and humiliation in the land of slavery; for, as there is no greater agony than to remember happier things in the midst of our distress, so there is no greater satisfaction than to recall our troubles and misfortunes in the days of our happiness.

Passover is the natal day of the first independent nation, constituted upon the principles of liberty and equality.
It is the historic liberty bell of the world, much older than the one in the state house of Philadelphia, paramount in grandeur and sublimity to the famous Bartholdy statue at the gateway of New York. It was erected by the invisible hand of God thirty-five centuries ago, built not of mortar and clay, of metal and bronze or of any other material subject to destruction.
It is of a supernal substance that stands the brunt of decay from the elements of nature, and which is proof against the devastation of time and space.
It pealed forth the great and powerful words of the Almighty "and proclaim liberty through all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof." Lev. 25-10.
Man is free, mind is free, the spirit is free; and now it rolls and re-echoes from ocean to ocean, from pole to pole the eternal blast from the trumpet of freedom.
"Liberty is God's gift to mankind, and Israel was the first people that started in existence with a declaration of independence, solemnly enjoined never to forget the principle, which is the cause of its national existence, the aim and goal of its organization. It is not of political import only, it is of the highest moral importance.
Freedom is the indispensable condition of goodness, virtue, purity and sincerity. The free man only can be virtuous, moral and slave whose doings are compulsory, coerced to do this and that, forced to act so and not otherwise; the reason without a free will is neither virtuous nor wicked, neither moral nor immoral, neither honorable nor despicable.

All his doings are unconcerned as that of the animal, the tree, the fire or any other element. Take away freedom from human nature and whatever remains of it is an anomaly, same name but different thing of human form and animal indifference. Liberty was given to Israel not only for their benefit but that they might spread it through the world. Israel was made its standard to proclaim it to the world and to teach at the same time, that while liberty is the greatest boon to mankind, it is of no avail unless it is concomitant with enlightenment. Servitude and darkness go together, but where there is light of reason, the fetters are broken and mind as well as body will emancipate itself. Yes, the two principles must go together, either one is worthless without the other. Where there is liberty there is light. It is dangerous for people to have freedom without having wisdom how to use it.
Liberty must not become license, but to do what they pleased, but to do what they ought, conveying the idea that man being the image of God is His representative on earth, a free, moral and intellectual agent to preserve the welfare of the human race.

"Ye shall be a kingdom of priests" was announced to the people, every one a priest, every person regarded as one of the highest class and cast--none to be superior and none inferior--one law and one statute to be for all, the native and the alien. To exclude none and protect all who live among you and seek prosperity and happiness with you, this is the ground work of liberty proper, so in all our actions, in our thoughts, in our beliefs, let there also be the light of guidance, of higher principles of truth. What is the corner stone of the dominion of the New World, and that of the United Kingdom? What makes it so pre-eminently the land of freedom, while the republics of ancient times were unsuccessful experiments of liberty? To what origin must this success be traced? The founders of America got their ideas not from any text-book or politics or politicians, but obtained their main inspiration from the Hebrew-Bible, which is the book of life and standard of liberty, and it entirely dwells on the need of education, and insists on it; encourages the spread of the light of wisdom and admonishes that the actions of its citizens which must have fuller freedom must nevertheless be governed by the principles of right-justice and truth, for with the individual as well as the nation, liberty and light go together. Now, there is the extreme reverse in Russia, whose despotic record is dyed with human blood.
All the existing evil there is entirely due to the barbarous sway over the people by keeping them in ignorance.
"Let there be no light" is the order that prevails there. It not only fails to provide for education, but even places impediments on every possible way leading to "public education. It enforces restrictions to prevent them from gaining the light of reason and truth--there darkness and servitude club together.

Friends, in our daily observation, we are confronted with diverse occurrence that befell mankind in the process of time. Deplorable and worthless is the condition of the man suffering from want and poverty. Sad indeed is his fate, but much more so is the pitiful predicament of the poor inventor, who with his gifted talent, and incessant physical and mental exertions succeeded in discovering a most serviceable invention, while but being poor and helpless was forced to give away the production of his brain and the creation of his faculties unto others who avail themselves of the opportunity.
They prospered, flourished by it, while the poor inventor, only saw his fortune into the hands of others, and with a heavy heart lamented over his ill-fate.
Who is the first that proclaimed freedom for the world? Who is the people that always conceived an aversion to slavery, protesting against human oppression and through whom was obtained equal rights to all inhabitants of the land? Who will gainsay that it was other than the old inventor, Israel.
Yet, the barbarous nations of the Orient perpetrated the most atrocious act in reducing Israel to a mark of subjection, and the first banner-bearer of freedom was made the target of intolerance, prejudice and prejudgment.
However, this spring time of liberty dawned for Israel as for all humanity.
We are celebrating the feast of liberation, the symbol of which reminds us of many experiences we have undergone in the vicissitudes of history. It is the symbol of progress that leads up from the darkness of despotism, of bright and luminous day of freedom and tolerance, of equal rights and mutual assistance, a time when man is weighed by his deed not by his creed, when man is esteemed for his love to all and not for his hatred against a helpless class of people.
Let the historian liberty bell that first resounded the declaration of independence on the Banks of the Nile forth its sonorous tones to inspire the heart and soul. Let liberty proper be must be tempered by the restraints of law and order. Unbounded freedom is the complement of slavery. Liberty beyond confines is more detrimental to society than bare slavery. When our ancestors were to be freed from Egypt, it was not that they might run riot and pursue whims and vain pleasures. The divine voice spoke to Pharaoh through Moses saying: "Let people through whom I have brought you out of the land of Egypt, be slaves to me, but to me only." After they gained deliverance, they were but a few weeks on their march of freedom when they were made to pause before the Mount Sinai from which in thundering tones were proclaimed the commandments, telling them what they must do and what they must not do. After liberty was restored to them the words from the summit of Sinai came down that liberty means not freedom
