

ST. JOHN CO. COUNCIL.

In reply to Coun. Macrae, Coun. Christie stated that the ordinary expenses of the board of health were between $2,500 and $3,000 annually. This resolution passed.

The next resolution, authorizing the warden to pay over an additional amount, was moved by Ald. Armstrong, and the amount fixed at $3,000.

Coun. Christie said a great portion of the $3,000 would go for fitting up the new epidemic hospital.

The resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to act with the board of health was moved by Coun. Armstrong and the committee made seven.

Coun. Macrae declared that the disease should be stamped out irrespective of the cost.

Coun. Baxter did not think there was anything to reflect upon anyone. Nor was there reason for a panic.

Coun. Maxwell asked if the board of health had every day a report from the physicians appointed to vaccinate the people free of charge.

Coun. Daniel said the board of health could not order the doctors of the city alone.

Coun. Maxwell asked if the board of health had every day a report from the physicians appointed to vaccinate the people free of charge.

Coun. Robinson did not think it was necessary to destroy a building used as a pest house.

Coun. Tufts disapproved of the use of the agricultural hall as a pest house, as it meant taking cases of smallpox into a portion of the city as yet uninfected by that dread disease.

Coun. McCordick thought the local government and common council owned all the exhibition properties.

Coun. Christie stated a building could be disinfected as vessels built of wood and iron had been.

When a woman is nervous her imagination gives fantastic and threatening shapes to the most familiar objects.

By day she starts in fear at every sudden sound. By night the furniture of her room takes on affrighting forms of ghost or goblin. You can't reason with the nerves. Neither medicine nor rest can quiet them.

Coun. Millidge was indignant at the action of the Exhibition Association in asking the city to provide another building.

Coun. Waring, as the representative of Sidney ward, in which the agricultural hall is situated, protested against the employment of that place for the patients.

to the epidemic hospital, every one of them signified their willingness. Would all the fault finders have showed such a willingness?

The motion to fix the sum for the building at $10,000, carried, only Coun. Waring, Millidge and Maxwell voting against it.

The committee to act with the board of health was appointed. It consists of Warden White and Councillors Maxwell, Tufts, McGoldrick, Waring, Long and Leo.

Coun. Lowell again called attention to the urgent need of enforcing vaccination in the county.

Coun. Christie moved that this be confined to Lancaster and Musquash.

Coun. Cochrane thought St. Martins should be included.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Babies never cry unless there is some very good reason for it. The cry of a baby is Nature's warning signal that there is something wrong.

If the fretfulness and irritation are not caused by exterior sources, it is conclusive evidence that the crying baby is ill.

The only safe and judicious thing to do is to administer Baby's Own Tablets without the slightest delay.

For Indigestion, sleeplessness, irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth, diarrhoea, constipation, colic, simple fevers and as a relief from the results of croup, these marvelous little tablets have given relief in thousands of cases and saved many precious lives.

Remember that they contain absolutely no opiates or other harmful drugs.

They are purely vegetable—Nature's own remedy, compounded with scientific care and never failing in their pleasant results.

Baby's Own Tablets are for sale at drug stores and if you do not find them without difficulty send direct to us for them and we will forward them on receipt of the price, 25 cents per box.

CANADA'S POSITION.

The shabby position in which the Laurier government is placing the Dominion of Canada is a shame and a disgrace. Canada professes to be, and has the right to call herself the chief of the self-governed British dominions over the sea.

It is not the fault of the Canadian people. They have offered their services on each opportunity, and always in excess of the limit. But they have had to do more than volunteer. They have been obliged to raise a great agitation each time before the government would organize and send them forward.

It was a humiliation that Canada should have been the last to offer troops when the war began. But that was not the worst. The Laurier government afterward became an obstacle and an impediment to those who desired to raise volunteer corps in Canada. Major Merritt was not the only colonial officer who offered to raise a force in his own country for imperial service in Africa.

Not only did the Canadian government interpose the veto, but it rebuked the gallant officer who committed the offence of offering his services. It even snubbed the war office for having anything to do with a man who neglected to make his offer through the proper channels. These regular channels were just the route that an energetic Canadian officer would avoid, seeing that so many offers of service which were made that way, never reached their destination.

It is vain to say that the Canadian government offered to organize at British expense a force like that which had been offered by Major Merritt. No one who knows the form of that offer and the rebuff that went with it could expect it to be accepted. The fact that for nearly a year the desperate and unmanageable, while contingent after contingent have been raised in other colonies, is proof of its character. Even the government organs tell us now that the war office seems surprised to learn that Canada is prepared to do anything.

TIRE COUNCIL AND THE SMALLPOX.

The municipal council is to be commended for the thorough and business-like way in which it has dealt with the smallpox situation. There has been no hesitation about making all the appropriation that the Board of Health called for, and a sum beyond the necessities known to exist is made available for emergencies.

The situation has greatly improved since the meeting was called. For several days no new cases have been discovered, and it appears likely that the public hospital, from which a large proportion of the patients came, is now free from infection.

The question of an additional epidemic hospital does not at this moment appear to be so urgent as it seemed five days ago. In a short time some of the first patients may be discharged from the epidemic hospital, and some who have been treated outside have nearly or quite recovered.

The instruments used should be thoroughly disinfected and the arm washed at the place of inoculation. The sore should afterward be protected by a simple dressing. It is not considered the case today to have been the result of improper operation. It was an accident liable to occur under any hands.

Another instance of illness from the results of vaccination is reported in the person of G. S. Coeman of Mill street, who last night was in a very precarious condition. Mr. Coeman was vaccinated about two weeks ago, and while he believed that every precaution was taken in that case, they strongly recommended that the operation in no case should be performed except by a certified medical practitioner.

The committee in charge must find some house ready for occupation, which may be leased or bought, perhaps to be destroyed when the trouble is over. Or it may create a larger building with the view of procuring or erecting in an isolated place, a building for permanent use. This building might be enlarged afterward. The main thing would be to have the proposed hospital.

The conclusion reached by the coroner's jury that the unfortunate death by tetanus was due to impure vaccine, seems to be only a conjecture. Medical opinion on the case of the victims of lockjaw at Camden and Atlantic City is somewhat divided, but nearly all the doctors think that tetanus germs were not communicated by the vaccine.

JURY BLAMES VACCINE

For the Death by Lockjaw of the Causton Child.

Investigation Before Coroner Berryman—Operation Properly Performed by Mr. Hawker.

A six year old daughter of Oscar Causton, letter carrier, of 249 Brussels street, died yesterday afternoon of tetanus, or lockjaw. The child was vaccinated about 15 days ago, and on Monday became so ill that Dr. H. G. Addy was summoned, and found her exhibiting decided symptoms of tetanus.

"Tetanus is caused," said, "by a characteristic micro-organism generally found in dirt or compost. The vaccine virus may have been contaminated by the instruments used, or the wound was infected after the operation. The disease develops in from four to fourteen days after infection, and is fatal in the majority of cases."

The instruments used should be thoroughly disinfected and the arm washed at the place of inoculation. The sore should afterward be protected by a simple dressing. It is not considered the case today to have been the result of improper operation. It was an accident liable to occur under any hands.

Another instance of illness from the results of vaccination is reported in the person of G. S. Coeman of Mill street, who last night was in a very precarious condition. His Voice Was About Lost—Physicians Failed—Peruna as a Last Resort Brought Back Health and Strength.

PROF. FRITZ VOLLMER, PRESIDENT SCHWABACHER SENGERBUND, OF CHICAGO, ILLS., SAVED FROM ENTIRE LOSS OF VOICE BY PERUNA.

MANY PEOPLE can tolerate slight catarrhal affections. But this is not true of the public speaker or singer. His voice must always be clear, lungs perfect, digestion undisturbed. Hence the popularity of Peruna among the leading professional men and women of the country.

"I was greatly troubled for weeks with throat trouble which the doctors defined as catarrh, but could only give me temporary relief. My voice was badly affected and I was afraid I would lose it entirely. I read of some of the wonderful things your Peruna would do and thought it advisable to try some myself. I am pleased to state that in a very short time I was cured!" FRITZ VOLLMER.

Peruna can be obtained for $1.00 a bottle at all first-class drug stores in Canada. "The Pills of Life," which can be secured at all up-to-date drug stores, and upon request is sent free to all, gives a short description of all catarrhal diseases. Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, U. S. A.

SMALLPOX SITUATION.

One New Case in the General Public Hospital—All in Epidemic Hospital Out of Danger.

Two more deaths from smallpox occurred yesterday in the epidemic hospital, making a list of nine fatalities since the outbreak of the disease. Both were in the Parker family, of 35 Marsh street, which has contributed five cases to the epidemic.

Other cases in the hospital are reported as doing well, while among the outside patients the only ones dangerously ill are Mrs. H. E. Alward and J. McNamara, who is still confined to the barge. A statement was made in Monday's Sun concerning the carriage of a parcel on the steamer Clifton, supposed to have come from the infected Lord house in Carleton. Capt. Mabee stated yesterday that the parcel had not come from Carleton and had not been near any infected persons. At the time, however, he was not fully aware of this and had taken every precaution, including the fumigating of the whole steamer.

The committee of seven appointed by the municipal council, met yesterday morning with the members of the board of health. The question discussed was the matter of procuring a building to be used as an additional epidemic hospital. It was decided to appoint a committee from the council and board to inspect desirable and available buildings. Councillors Maxwell, McGoldrick and Lee, with Mayor Daniel and J. Ready were appointed for this purpose, and yesterday afternoon the committee inspected the DeMill house, near the Bay Shore; the Mill house, near the Bay Shore; the Howe property, on the Howe's Road; the Murray Kaye house on Mount Pleasant, and other available properties. They will report to the board at a meeting this morning.

At yesterday's conference between the board of health and the municipal council committee a report was presented from the special committee that inspected the proposed hospital building. They looked over the DeMill property, Lancaster, the Morland house, Howe's Lake, and the Reformatory, and reported on the condition of each, and of its adaptability for the work of the board, both for quarantining the sick and for caring for convalescents. A letter was read from the St. John Ice Company protesting against the board using the Morland farm, as the company has an interest in the ice on the lake. The board decided to continue its negotiations.

There is talk of sending out of the epidemic hospital some patients who are now convalescent, but whose homes are still in quarantine. They would go home and finish out their period of quarantine there, and it would be possible to send new cases to the hospital.

Mrs. Ira Knowlton of Bute, Nova Scotia is a most enthusiastic convert to the virtues of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as a cure for obstinate stomach trouble. She says: "I had poor digestion nearly all my life. It now seems to me that for years I never knew what it was to be hungry, to have a good natural appetite."

"I was troubled with gas in stomach causing pressure on the heart, with palpitation and short breath. Nearly everything I ate soured in my stomach, sometimes I had cramps in the stomach which almost resembled spasms. Doctors told me I had catarrh of the stomach, but their medicine would not reach it, and I was still a sufferer had I not, in sheer desperation, decided to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets."

"I bought a fifty cent box at my drug store and took two of the large tablets after each meal, and found them delightful to take, being as pleasant to the taste as caramel candy. Whenever during the day or night I felt any pain or uneasiness in the stomach or about the heart, I took one of the small tablets, and in three weeks it seemed to me as if I had never known what stomach trouble was."

KING EDWARD

In Splendid Health and Spirits—The Coronation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Regarding the health of the king, the London correspondent of the Tribune cables that from the highest source of information come the most reassuring accounts of the king's health. Those recently with him assert that he has no throat ailment whatever, and that his general health and spirits are now better than for a long time.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—King Edward has checked the thrifty British nobles and others who proposed to line their pockets with American and continental gold by the sale of their seats in Westminster Abbey for the coronation ceremony by decreasing that except in an official capacity only British subjects are to be present. He has decided that the mere fact of any being sold disposes both the holder and the nominee from the right of occupying it. It is understood that large sums have been offered both in America and Europe for seats on the occasion of the coronation.

OLIVE-RUPERT.

Morton T. Olive, motorman on the street railway, left married on Tuesday evening to Miss Jeanie Rupert of Brook street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Alex. White at the residence of the bride. DEATH OF WM. LAW.

A Prominent Citizen of Yarmouth, a Successful Business Man and Member of Nova Scotia Legislature.

YARMOUTH, Nov. 21.—Wm. Law, M. L. C., lingered on until 12.30 today, when he passed away. He was a native of Belfast, Ireland, and came to Yarmouth in 1847, being then a lad of 14 years. He learned the trade of a tailor and resided in Oxford, Mass., for about six years, where he married Miss Mary A. Brown, by whom he had four children, Bowman B., Ernest, William B., and Annie M. Ernest died several years ago, and Willie died in infancy. Mr. Law returned to Yarmouth and after carrying on business in his own name for some years, embarked in the general grocery business with Geo. H. Porter, the firm name being Law & Porter, at Milton. The business rapidly grew and the firm moved to town, where it was largely extended, embracing auction and commission, ship ownership and insurance agencies. Mr. Porter subsequently retired and the new familiar firm of Wm. Law & Co. was inaugurated. Bowman B. being admitted a partner. The business has grown until now it is one of the most extensive in the maritime provinces. Mr. Law was largely interested in ship owning and, at one time, his wife's husband for no less than four large vessels. He has held many positions of trust and was at the time of his death president of the Mountain Cemetery, in which he took a deep interest, donating a magnificent fountain a few years ago in memory of his wife, who died in 1832. He was also largely interested in nearly every enterprise in the town, having investments in the local banks, insurance offices, street railway. He was first elected to the house of assembly in 1868, and was succeeded by large majorities at every election since until 1900, when he accepted the position in the legislative council made vacant by the death of L. E. Baker. He was 68 years of age and leaves a widow (his second wife), one son and one daughter.

WINTER PORT MATTERS.

Parliament Will Take Away Tax Thousand Bushels of Grain—Arrival of the Concordia.

(From Thursday's Daily Star) The work of loading the Allan line steamer Concordia at No. 2 Berth, Sand Point, is progressing favorably. Her grain consists of 10,000 bushels and is on board. The remainder of it will include 40 carloads of wheat, 24 of flour and 5 of British Columbia salmon. She will get away Saturday.

The second boat, the Donaldson liner Concordia, Capt. Webb, arrived at the island Tuesday night. She went into her berth, No. 4, yesterday afternoon. The Concordia seems to have lost none of her ability to make quick passages, as she came out in ten days and two hours. When Dr. March, the general physician, boarded her, he vaccinated the officers and crew and removed two men to the island. One of them is a sailor and the other a cattleman. Finding their temperature very high, the doctor determined to take no risks, so he detained them. They will probably be freed in a few days. The Concordia brought out a lot of general cargo for St. John merchants and various places in the west. She will begin discharging today and will sail on the 30th.

There are at present 40,000 bushels of grain in the elevators at Sand Point and a large quantity is looked for within the next few days.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER.

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—Sir Charles Tupper arrived here today to attend a meeting of the Crown Life Insurance Co., of which he is president. Interviewed by said he believed Canada ought to wait until approached by Americans on trade matters. Concerning sending another contingent, he said: "I am sorry there is not a Canadian contingent standing alongside the Australians and New Zealanders to fight for the empire to the end of the war. I hope the government will not only allow a contingent to be raised, but will also organize and equip it."

Mrs. Whetsel's numerous friends in St. John will join in wishing her much happiness.

Doctors Order It.

Doctors see at once the advantage of taking a medicine right to the part that is sick. You see the doctor orders his own medicines for the disease, and has his patient use Vapo-Cresoleol at the same time. It destroys all germs of diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, and other contagious diseases; and there is no remedy its equal for croup, sore throat and hard colds. You now see why it often cures whooping-cough in a few days.

Vapo-Cresoleol is sold by druggists everywhere. The Vapo-Cresoleol is a medicine which should last a lifetime. It is a complete, safe, and reliable remedy for all the ailments mentioned above. It is a medicine which should be in every household.

MURDER AND ARSON

Charged Against a Canadian Hunter on the Maine Border.

DOVER, Me., Nov. 19.—Henry M. Lambert, a young French-Canadian, and hunter, was put on trial in the supreme judicial court here today charged with the murder of the Allen hunter on the Maine border.

The choosing of a jury occupied the attention of the court nearly all day, and sixty-two of the seventy-six late name summonses were examined before the twelfth man chosen and another was selected. At four o'clock this afternoon County Attorney Martin L. Durgin began the opening for the defence, and finished just before adjournment was taken Tuesday evening.

The respondent entered a plea of not guilty. County Attorney Durgin then began the opening argument for the state. He began by describing the Allen hunter on the Maine border leading to Moosehead Lake, where J. Wesley Allen and his wife had been living for some time.

HOLY GHOST AND US.

Brother Sanford Baptized Nine in the Bay.

One was a Little Girl Who Screamed When She was Immersed—Sang Hymns While Her Clothes Dried in the Sun—Newspapers and Ministers Denounced.

(New York Sun, 14th.) The head of the Holy Ghost and Us Society expressed himself as thoroughly sick of Manhattan and Brooklyn last night. He went further and said that God was nearly ready to pass final and unfavorable judgment on the people of the city...

The head of the Holy Ghost and Us organization preaches not salvation but damnation. He says that it is a matter of the utmost indifference to himself whether or not any one heeds the message that is being given out at Grand Union Hall, Court street near Harrison street...

Up to noon yesterday Mr. Sanford had so moved nine persons that they asked him to baptize them into "the True Church," as he calls the body of his followers. Brother Richardson, one of the seven members of the Sanford community at Shiloh, Me., who have come down to Brooklyn to save the city, went out to find a proper place for the baptism...

Sanford's meetings have increased steadily in attendance since he came to Brooklyn on Tuesday afternoon. At his first meeting he had an audience of only four or five. But as the word has gone abroad that religious meetings of an unusual sort are being held at Grand Union Hall...

There were more men than women at the meeting last night. One of the men was a simple sort of an old man, who apparently thought he had wandered into an ordinary prayer meeting. He rose and said with some force that he thought that Brother Sanford was right in saying that all the established denominations were too narrow and human to be consistent with the breadth and beauty of the Divine goodness...

What makes you think that? "What makes you think that?" shouted Sanford loudly. The old gentleman went on with his idea. "What makes you think that?" repeated the question louder and louder until the old man sat down. Then the leader of the sect rose up and read a chapter of Revelations which he said applied to Elijah and to God's second messenger, who was, he broadly intimated, F. W. Sanford...

The proceedings of the society yesterday were interrupted somewhat by the janitor of the hall. He seemed to be afraid that Sanford was not responsible for the rent. The Sanford crowd had announced on their arrival that they did not know how long they would stay. They were going to stay until next Monday...

SERMON.

Rev. Dr. Talmage in the Course of His Sermon Endeavors to Show How We May be Lifted From Despondency to Know Something of Future Joy While on Earth.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—In this discourse Dr. Talmage would lift people out of despondency and bring something of future joy into earthly depression. The text is Hebrews vi., 15. "Which hope."

There is an Atlantic ocean of depth and fullness in the verse from which my text is taken and I only wade in to the wave at the beach and take two words. We all have favorite words expressive of delight or abnegation, words that easily find their way from brain to lip, words that have in them mornings and midnights, laughter and tears, thunderbolts and dewdrops. In the lexicons and vocabularies there are few words that have for me the attractions of the last word of my text, "Which hope."

There have in the course of our life been many angels of God that have looked over our shoulders, or met us on the road, or chanted the darkness away, or lifted the curtains of the great future or pulled us back from the precipice, or rolled down upon us the righteous manna of the heavens. Are you one of these angels who has done so much for us that we wish throughout all time and all eternity to celebrate it—the angel of Hope. St. Paul makes it a "sure hope," as three, saying, "Now abideth faith, hope, charity." And though he says that charity is the greatest of the three, he does not take one plume from the wing, or one ray of glory from the brow, or one aureole from the cheek or one melody from the voice of the angel of my text, "Which hope."

That was a great night for our world when in a Bethlehem caravansary the infant Royal was born, and that night was a great night in the darkness of your soul when Christian hope is born. There will be chanting in the skies and a star pointing to the Nativity. I will not bother you with the huck of a definition and tell you what hope is. When we sit down hungry at a table, we do not want an analytical discourse as to what bread is. Hand it on; pass it round; give us a slice of it. John speaks of hope as a "sure hope," as three, saying, "Now abideth faith, hope, charity." All up and down the Bible it is spoken of as an anchor, as a harbor, as a helmet, as a door.

AN AMPLE DEPOSIT. When we draw a check on a bank, we must have reference to the amount of money we have deposited. The hope makes a draft on a bank in which for her benefit all heaven has been deposited. Hope! May it light up every dungeon, stand by every sick bed, lend a helping hand to look after the broken every chain, caress every forlorn soul and turn the unpicturesque of the almshouse into the vestibule of heaven! How suggestive that my theology declares that the hope of the dead died the earth the goddess Hope remained!

It was hope that revived John Knox when on shipboard near the coast of Scotland he was fearfully ill, and he was requested to look after the sick. He asked if he knew the village near the coast, and he answered, "I know it well, for I see the steeples of that place where God first opened my mouth in public to his glory, and I am daily asked to look after the sick. He asked if he knew the village near the coast, and he answered, "I know it well, for I see the steeples of that place where God first opened my mouth in public to his glory, and I am daily asked to look after the sick. He asked if he knew the village near the coast, and he answered, "I know it well, for I see the steeples of that place where God first opened my mouth in public to his glory, and I am daily asked to look after the sick."

Philippe de Moray, prime minister of Henry IX., when asked in his last hours whether he was certain of eternal felicity, replied: "I am as confident of it from the inconceivable of the spirit of God as ever was of any mathematical truth from all the demonstrations of Euclid." That was the hope that cheered Vars, the converted native of the Island of Aime, when he said at that moment, "The canoe is on the sea; sails are spread; she is ready for the gale. I have a good pilot to guide me and a good harbor to receive me."

No better medicine did a man ever take than hope. It is a stimulant, a fortifier, a tonic; a catholicon. Thousands of people long ago departed this life would have been living today but for the reason they let hope slip their grasp. I have known people to live on hope after one lung was gone and disease had seemed to lay hold of every nerve and muscle and artery and bone.

Alexander the Great, starting for the wars in Persia, divided his property among the Macedonians. He gave a village to one, a port to another, a field to another, and all his estate to his friends. Then Perdiccas asked: "What have you kept for yourself?" He answered triumphantly, "Hope." And, whatever else you and I give away, we must keep for ourselves hope—all comforting, all cheering hope. In the heart of every man, woman and child that beats or reads the word of God may implant this principle right now.

ASSURANCES OF HEAVEN. Many have full assurance that all is right with the soul, and that the gates of heaven as if they had passed the pearly panels of the gate, as though they were already seated in the temple of God unrolling the libretto of the heavenly chorists. I congratulate all such. I wish I had it, full assurance—such with me it is hope, "which hope." Sinful, it expects forgiveness; troubled, it expects relief; bereft, it expects reunion; clear down it expects wings to lift; shipwrecked, it expects lifeboat; bankrupt, it expects eternal riches; a prodigal, it expects the wide open door of the father's farm-house. It does not wear itself out by looking backward; it always looks forward. What is the use of giving so much time to the rehearsal of the past? Your mistakes are not corrected by a review. Your losses cannot, by brooding over them, be turned into gains. It is the future that has the most for us, and hope cheers us on. We have all committed blunders, but does the calling of the roll of them make them any the less blunders? Look ahead in all matters of usefulness. However much you may have accomplished for God and the world's betterment, your greatest usefulness is to come. "No," says some one, "my health is gone." "No," says some one, "my money is gone and my usefulness is gone." Why, you talk like an invalid. Do you suppose that all your capacity to do good is fenced in by the righteous manna of the heavens? Are you and a do-nothing after you have quit this world? It is my business to tell you that your faculties are to be enlarged and intensified and your qualifications for usefulness multiplied tenfold, a hundredfold, a thousandfold.

Is your health gone? Then that is a sign that you are to enjoy a celestial health compared with which the most joyous and hilarious vitality of earth is invalidism. Are your fortunes spent? Remember that you are to be kings and queens unto God and how much more wealth you will have when you reign forever and ever. I want to see you when you get your heavenly world dresses on. This little bit of a speck of a world we call the earth is only the place where we get ready to go. We are only journeymen here, but will be master workmen there. Heaven will have no loafers hanging around. The book says of the inhabitants, "They rest not day nor night." Why rest when they work without ceasing? Why seek a pillow when there is no night there? I want to see you after the pedestrianism of earth has been exchanged for power of flight and velocities infinite and enterprises interstellar.

I suspect that the telescope of that observatory brings in slight constellations that may comprise ruined worlds which need looking after and need help, and need to be rescued, perhaps by our Christ, or by some plan that God has thought out for other worlds as wise, as potent, as lovely, as the atonement is for our world. The last-ness which has cursed us in this world will not gain the land of eternal career—so much tonic in the air, so much inspiration in the society, so much achievement after we get the shackles of the flesh forever off. Do not dwell so much on opportunities in the past, but put your emphasis on opportunities to come. Do not count the battles lost, but scour your market for victories to come.

PREPARED FOR LIMITATIONS. Am I not right in saying that eternity can do more for us than can time? What will we not be able to do when our powers of locomotion shall be quickened into the immortal spirit's swiftness of wing? What will we be able to do when we are able to make our ascent how long it shall take to make its aerial way from forest to forest and to, who have so much more important errand in the world, get on so slowly? The rooket outruns us, the hounds are quicker in the chase of external things, till God lets us loose from all limitations and hindrances. Then we will fairly begin. The starting post will be the tombstone. Leaving the world will be graduation day before the chief clerk of our mental and spiritual career. Hope sees the doors opening, the victor's foot in stirrup for the mounting. The day breaks—first flush of the horizon.

The mission of hope will be an everlasting mission, as much as it is in the heavenly hereafter as in the earthly now. Shall we have gained all as soon as we enter realms celestial—nothing to learn, no other heights to climb, no new anthems to sing, a moment of existence, the same as before, and over again for endless years? No! More progress in that world than ever made in this. Hope will stand on the hills of heaven and look for ever-brightening landscapes and ever-transfigurations of color, new glories rolling over the scene, new celebrations of victories in other worlds, heaven rising into grander heavens, seas of glass mingled with fire, becoming a more brilliant glass mingling with a more flaming fire. "Which hope."

Now, let me introduce this feeling into the lives of some who are at times hopeless. There is a family whose son has gone wrong. Father and mother have about given him up. He seems so headlong, so ungrateful, so dissipated, and the old folks do not know half the story of moral precipitation. He has ceased writing home, but they hear of him through people who like to carry bad news, and every time the report is more deplorable. He swears, he gambles, he drinks, he goes into all the shambles of sin. His former employer says there is no hope for him, and all outside the family agree in thinking he will never reform. The father and mother have not quite given him up, and these words are to strengthen their hope. That boy is going to come back. You have a hold on him that you must not relax. Through prayer you may win the eternal God for your side of the struggle. You must enlist all the heavenly dominions, cherubim and seraphim and archangels, in the movement to save you. Some day or some night he will call a halt to his infamous practices. Something will happen to him, as happened in New York hotel to a son of one of the most distinguished clergymen of Scotland and one of the queen's chaplains. "When can I see you?"

said a distinguished looking young man at the close of one of my sermons in Brooklyn tabernacle. I said: "You can see me now." He said: "No; I want a private conversation with you at your house. When can I come?" I said: "Tomorrow night." "You name?" I asked. He gave me his name, the exact name of his father, whose name was known and is known through the Christian world, though years ago he departed this life. Returning home, I took up a book of which his father was the author, and in the picture at the opening of the book I found that the young man had most markedly his father's features. So I was sure there was no deception.

RETURN OF LOST SHEEP. On the following evening he came. He said that he was the black sheep of the family flock. He had wandered over and over and been in all kinds of wickedness, but he had turned back, after reading a letter from his mother in Scotland, he had retired for sleep, but in the adjoining room he heard some young men in such horrible conversation, and he was so shocked as he had never before by the talk of bad men. He arose, struck a light, took out the letter from his mother and knelt down by his bedside and said, "O Lord, God of my mother, have mercy on me. I am a Christian." He said he might be called at any time to leave the city. "I never saw him again, but it seemed to me that he had turned his back upon his wicked life and had started in the right direction."

And it may be so with your boy. Write him often. Tell him how you are all thinking of him at home, and call upon his mother, and ever and save him. Hope, you of the gray hairs and wrinkles! Heaven has his thousands of souls who were once as thoroughly wrong as your boy is. They are the souls who are with the old folks in the healthy part of the eternal hills, where they may become young again. Hope on, and though you may never hear of your son's reformation, at least you may think he has left this life hopeless, and that you are the last moment, after he had ceased to speak and before his soul launches away, your prayer may have been answered, and he be one of the first to meet you in the mansions prepared for the prodigal in the parable of God's and sat down at the feast, while the older brother, who never left the old place, stood pointing at the back door and did not go in at all.

The other class of persons I introduce the angel of hope to, are the invalids. Perhaps after long watching or overwork or toiling your nervous system is ruined. Perhaps you have a hidden disorder that the world knows nothing about, and which you cannot with any decency speak of. Perhaps it may be a rheumatism that distorts and inflames or neuralgia which runs its sharp knife along the temples of your forehead. Perhaps the world knows nothing about it, and which you cannot with any decency speak of. Perhaps it may be a rheumatism that distorts and inflames or neuralgia which runs its sharp knife along the temples of your forehead. Perhaps the world knows nothing about it, and which you cannot with any decency speak of.

ANGEL OF HOPE IS NEAR. Open that closed instrument of music in your parlor that has not been played since the day when the blessed Christ forgot its cunning. Put up before you on the music board the notes of the hymn of Isaac Watts and sing, "There is a Land of Pure Delight," or "Jesus in Bright Array," or "Philo's Bennett's 'Sweet Bye and Bye,'" or "Jerusalem the Golden." Take some tune in the major key—"Ariele" or "Fisgah." While you play and sing, let me say to you, stand by you and turn the leaves and join in the rapturous rendering. Reunion with the loved and lost! Everlasting reunion! No farewell at the door of any of the gates! No more adieu to any of the twelve gates! No more adieu to any of the gates! No more adieu to any of the gates! No more adieu to any of the gates!

TAKE THE HAND OF HOPE. But if you will not take the hand of Hope for earthly consolation, let me point you to the perfect hope that will have you to love and serve the Lord. Death will put a prolonged anesthetic upon your present body, and you will never again feel an ache or pain, and then by the side of you will have a resurrection body, about which we know nothing except that it will be painless and glorious beyond all present appreciation. What must be the health of that land which never feels out of cold or blast of heat and where there is no east wind blowing pneumonia on the air, your feetness greater than the foot of deer, your eye health in a country where all the inhabitants are everlasting well? You who have in your body an encysted bullet ever since the civil war, you who are self-deluded only by precautions of pulse and lung, you of the deened ear and dim vision and the severe backache, you who have not been free from pain for ten years, how do you like this story of physical reconstruction, with all weakness and suffering abstracted and everything found and bounding added?

Do not have anything to do with the gloom that Harriet Martineau expressed in her dying words: "I have no reason to believe in another world. I have had enough of life in one and can't have any more." Would that Harriet Martineau should be persecuted. Would that she were not a Christian, but a heathen of Robert, Anna, who, when some one said, "I will be satisfied if I manage somehow to get into heaven," she replied, pointing to a sunken vessel that was being dragged up to heaven, "Would you like to be pulled into heaven with two tugs like that vessel yonder?" I tell you I would like to go in with all my sails set and colors flying.

Again, let me introduce the element of hope to those good people who are in despair about the world's moral condition. They have gathered up appalling statistics, they tell of the number of divorces, but do not take into consideration that there are a thousand happy homes where there is one of a large number in our world who are living in a New York hotel to a son of one of the most distinguished clergymen of Scotland and one of the queen's chaplains. "When can I see you?"

to mention the thousands of glorious churches with two doors, one door open for all who will enter, and one door closed and the other door opening into the heavens for the ascent of souls prepared for translation.

GOD'S INSTRUMENTS.

Those pessimists do not realize that two inventions of our times are going to make it possible unto God to bring the world into a better condition and millennial condition with a few weeks after those two inventions shall be turned into the service of God and righteousness, as they will be. I refer to the telegraph and the telephone. If you think that God appears in those two inventions to be made merely to get rapid information concerning the price of railroad stocks or to call up a friend and make with him a business engagement, you have a very abbreviated idea of what can be done and will be done with those two instruments. The intelligence of the world is to be expanded, and civilization will overcome barbarism, and illiteracy will be exterminated, and the promise will be literally fulfilled, "A nation born in a day."

Let Hope say to the foreboding: Do not say with the Bible and spelling book and philosophy, "You have a long toll with the sunlight in your faces and your efforts will be a failure. The palor in the sky is not another phase of the night, but the first sign of approach of the dawn, and as you go to bed as tonight will be to follow with tomorrow. Things are not going to ruin. The Lord's hosts are not going to be crowned in the Red sea of trouble. Millions of children will play on high banks "Israel Hallelujah." High hope for the home! High hope for the church! High hope for the world!

I introduce the angel of Hope to those who have through death lost Christian friends. "How could I find them," says a bereft soul, "up there in the land of the multitudinous?" You may find them by inquiry, by heavenly escort and by unfading memory of the guard at the gate. "And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God, having the glory of God, and she was like a city of stone more precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal, and had a wall great and high and had twelve gates, and at the gates 12 angels, so that the name of the angel was written on each gate. And as you go in by the armed guard. He saw your loved one pass through and will know the direction to take and by what fountain of life you may be refreshed. The mansion prepared for the blessed Christ knows where your departed loved one is, and he will tell you, if you do one thing, Fifty ways of finding out—the whereabouts of your ascended one.

Yes, for you will be just as much changed, and the old affinity will be easily distinguished by soul there as on earth. The body is distinguished by the body.
