Ceased to love my husband? From the bottom of my heart I believed that I loved him as truly and tenderly as ever wife did, but I had been so spoiled and petted all my brief selfish life, that the better instincts were, so to speak, entombed alive. I went to the party, and had my fill of adulation and homage as usual. The hours seemed to glide away, shod with roses and winged with music and perfume; and it was not until. wearied with dancing, I sought a momentary refuge in the half-lighted tea-room, that I heard words awakening me, as it were from a dream. "Gerald Cleng" I could not be mistaken in the name—it was scarcely common-place enough for that. They were talking—two or three stout business-like looking gentlemen—in the hall without, and I could catch now and then a fugitive word or phrase.

'Hie enterprising young fellow—great pity—totally rnined, so Bees and McMorken say—reckless extravagance of his wife!"

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD, nothing has ever been offered which can compare with this Extract of Sabraparilla. It is found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the humors that rankle in the system at this season of the year. Many complaints have their origin in the string, and in the causes above mentioned, for which no better remedy has ever been devised. By its use multitudes can spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and alce ous sores, through which the system strives to fid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find its inpurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people en joy better h alth, and live longer, tor cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO. Practical and Analytical Chemists,

STOCK EXCHANGE POETRY. The New York Mail has the following arody on "The Charge of the Light Brigade," which was on Saturday poste on the Stock Exchange.] CHARGE OF THE "LONG" BRIGADE.

One per cent., five per cent.,

Ten per cent, downward, Into the Stock Exchange Rushed the six hundred. No time to reason why. No time to make reply, Seil! Seli! the only ors! Into the Stock Exchange Rushed the six hundred. Brokers to right of them, Brokers to left of th IC. Bellowed and thundred. Bulls could not stem the tide. Bears could not run or hide, Few laughed, but many cried! luto the Stock Exchange Rushed the six hundred.

Oh! what a sight was there! arms lifted high in the air. Tearing each other's hair-Outsiders wondered ! Nothing would do but sell-Lower the market fell, "Who can this tempest quell?" Half of them thundered. Out of the Stock Exchange Rushed the six hundred. "Shut up the doors !" the cry-"Stop not to reason why! Banks will not certify;

Some one has blundered! Ruined those who planned the raid. Ruined those whom fortune made. Ruined hence for h our trade! All have been plundered! Save us from want and care!" Cried the six hundred. Closed were the doors that day. Closed on that fearful fray, Closed on that Sa'urday.

When some one blundered. May it this lesson teach-"Go not beyond your reach!" When all this motto preach, Friends are not sundered.

Back to the Stock Exchange. Come ye six hundred!

NOTES AND NEWS. GENERAL. In an editorial on the horse disease,
