FEW CHANGES IN PRICES AT THE MARKET TO-DAY

There were few changes at the market to-day. As usual the supply in many lines was large but not over-abundant and prices remained sky-high. The following figures indicate there have been few changes during the past week:
Butter, 55 cents upwards to 60 cents; eggs, 55 cents to 60 cents; potatoes, $2 and upwards a bag; chicken, 35 cents a pound; apples, $6 a barrel, $1.25 to $1.75 a bushel. Hay, $20 a ton.

LABOR CANDIDATE HELD A MEETING

Hamilton Orators of Labor Ranks Speak
The Independent Labor Party on behalf of their candidate, Mr. George C. Haehnel of Waterloo last evening held a meeting in St. Mary's hall and in their appeal on behalf of the Independent Labor Party in the Hamilton city council. The Hamilton speakers were very forceful and displayed much driving force in their arraignment of the Hearst government and in their appeal on behalf of the Independent Labor Party and their candidate, Mr. Haehnel. Miss McNab, a young business girl, who is a pupil of the late Allan Studholme, M.P.P. for Hamilton, possesses unusual critical ability. Miss McNab confined her remarks to woman's advancement and industrial development as it affects the labor people. She stated that the women owed their franchise not to the Hearst government but to the Independent Labor Party.
The second speaker of the evening was Mr. Sternal of Waterloo. He reviewed the planks of the Independent Labor Party incidentally referring to the unionist liberal candidate. Among others he said looking over the list of those who had attended the nomination meeting of Mr. Snider he had failed to find the name of one workingman who attended. Mr. Snider is backed by the Kitchener and Waterloo Manufacturers' Association body and soul. You cannot afford in this election to throw your ballots to the capitalist class," he said. Regarding the Independent Liberal candidate he said that his announcement of the temperance question, and the declaration of the leader of Liberal party do not coincide.
Ald. O'Hara of Hamilton reviewed progress of labor representation in Hamilton, in the past. In that city the party expects to return two men to the Legislature.
Mr. Knittle of Waterloo also spoke briefly.

CANADIAN SOLDIER FOUND MURDERED IN ARIZONA DESERT

WAS MEMBER OF 20TH TORONTO BATTALION
(Special to The Record)
HAMILTON, Oct. 18.—Shot in the back, his body beaten in with a stone and his body partly buried, on a lonely desert about 130 miles from Prescott, Arizona, that has been the fate of a unnamed Canadian soldier thought to be named Fulton and to have been a member of the 20th Battalion recruited in Toronto.
Sixty dollars in currency was concealed in the folds of one spiral puttee and for that reason robbery was not considered as the motive for the crime. Some silver was discovered also in one of the trousers. The corpse was found by a sheep herder about two miles from an automobile road which passes through the desert and was taken to Prescott where it remains unidentified. Clues leading to the murderer or murderers have not been discovered neither has a motive for the crime been established.
The Canada arrived at Quebec and Montreal with more than nine hundred passengers—military, civilian, munitions workers and dependents.

VOTE FOR ASMUSSEN AND DEFEAT HEARST

We have no confidence in the Hearst government. It cares nothing for the people except at election time. It stole from the electors the right to choose a new Parliament last year. It is as autocratic as the Union government.
It was elected in 1914 on an anti-prohibition platform. Two years after that it brought in prohibition without a vote of the people. It therefore betrayed those who put them there. It is now trying to fool the prohibitionists with a referendum ballot that not one man in ten understands. Hearst himself voted 7 times against prohibition when Rowell proposed it; then stole Rowell's policy.
You can't trust a wobbler.
So Hearst must go.
His candidate in North Waterloo is C. H. Mills. True, Mr. Mills says he will support Hearst in everything but his temperance policy. But actions speak louder than words. Mr. Mills was elected in 1914 against a temperance candidate. Yet, in 1916, he sat tight in Parliament without a word while Hearst passed his prohibition law. He must be judged by his actions while he was in office, rather than by his promises when he tries to get back to office. That's plain horse-sense.
If you really want to beat Hearst, choose one of the other candidates. Choose a man whom you know. Choose a man who has a backbone of his own and a mind of his own and who will fight and speak for his convictions. Don't scatter your votes among impossible candidates. Support a man who is outspoken, who says what he thinks and stands by what he says. Such a man is Ald. Nick Asmusen, the Independent Liberal and Workingman. Examine his record. He has served as alderman for 10 or 12 years. Last election he headed the poll. He has had experience. He is a genuine workingman and can fight for their rights as none of the other candidates can. You know that is true.
The Socialist candidate need not be discussed. Barbour, the farmer candidate, is a prohibitionist and a Unionist. Snider is nominated by a group of Unionists, although they call him a Liberal. He has not the endorsement of Dawart or King, both of whom were true to Laurier in 1917. A Unionist is not a safe man to send to Toronto. Hearst himself asks for support because he was a Unionist in 1917.
Haehnel is a workingman. There is nothing against him, but he is not well-known. In Asmusen we have a man we all know, a man who is a man who will not merely keep his seat warm when he goes to Toronto.
In our opinion Ald. Asmusen is the man.
This election is a serious business. It is not a time for sympathy or personal prejudice. Support the man who can beat Hearst.
SO ALTOGETHER, VOTE ASMUSSEN ON MONDAY.

IN VICTORY LOAN CIRCLES

SOMETHING NEW
Moving Pictures to Boost the Victory Loan
The campaign of the Victory Loan will be much more interesting this year than last. There is a tireless committee in charge of the propaganda and no means is to be neglected that will aid in bringing the needs of the Government before the people.
Good speakers will visit all the principal centres and address the citizens on the financial situation showing how necessary it is that Canada should extend credits to European nations who need our exports but are unable to pay "spot cash". The loan will enable the Government to purchase the materials from the Canadian producer, paying himself, and delivering the good to Great Britain and other powers on credit. Thus the wheels of industry will be kept spinning and both the mechanics and farmers will benefit and of course as they prosper, the merchants will prosper. It is intended this year to the audiences by means of moving pictures, especially prepared for the purpose, and between the films short addresses will be made by competent and interesting speakers.
Meetings will be held in outside municipalities between October 26 and 27th inclusive, the itinerary being as follows:
Public Meetings to be held:—Tuesday, October 21st, Elmira; Wednesday, October 22nd, Welland; Thursday, October 23rd, Linwood; Friday, October 24th, New Hamburg; Saturday, October 25th, Baden; Sunday, October 26th, Kitchener; Monday, October 27th, Waterloo; Tuesday, October 28th, St. Jacobs.
A good time is guaranteed and in addition to loaning the Victory Loan the addresses and motion pictures will be highly educational.

EXPECT MAJORITY ON QUESTION NO. 4

EVEN MONEY OFFERED ON WET VICTORY
(Special to The Record)
S. S. MARIE, Oct. 18.—Bets on the result of the referendum are being made here in the home town of Sir William Hearst. Several wagers were made in one of the leading hotels last night. Chief interest centres in question No. 4.
Odds were asked against question 1, 2 and 3 being carried on the affirmative and there were no takers. Even money that question No. 4 would be answered in favor of the wets was offered and taken on several occasions.
Hon. N. W. Bowell introduced a measure in the Commons to reduce the traffic in opium, cocaine and morphine to a minimum.

SHRAPNELS

Pick Nick.
Make it five times Yes on Monday. Four times on the referendum ballot, and once for Nick, the steadfast opponent of Hearst.
Heretofore Charlie Mills never had much opposition. That may be the reason why there are five candidates against him this time.
Ladies, it is your duty to vote. Don't stay at home and cut your husband's vote in half.
Maud, on the referendum ballot you must put your X four times, once after every one of the four questions either under Yes or No. But—vote in the way which puts your husband or brother, or any other brother in the best of humor.
And you, my dear Mabel, don't let the ballot with the names of the six candidates frighten you. Put only one X on the ballot, and to save time and worry just place it after the first name.
I thought the Telegraph would get going at the very thought of referring to the issues of 1916 and 1917. Funny, isn't it? If those issues were good ones then, they must still be good. Or, has the D. T. changed its mind? What—no answer!
Mr. Euler is being criticized for staying at home this week to help in the defeat of the Ontario friends of Union government. Yes, and these same critics worked hard in 1917 to keep him from getting to Ottawa at all. You know that was one of the reasons why he got a majority of 2500.
If the "No's" win on Monday, it will be "Dry, dry again."
The winner on Monday night is not likely to have a majority of the votes.
Six little blackbirds baked in a pie. One was elected, the others slipped by.
Five of the candidates will find on Monday night that several thousand people in North Waterloo are strong on broken promises.
The time to defeat Hearst is next Monday. That's the one big job for the electors.
You must vote "Yes" on the Referendum ballot in order to say "No" to prohibition.
So far Hearst has not publicly expressed his thanks to the people who are working hard to split up his Opposition.
Candidates don't forget that your worst enemies may give you the heartiest handshake!
The capitals of the six candidates' surnames are A. B. H. R. M. S. and our tag says that means: Asmusen Beats His Rivals Mighty Sure.

They number nearly 1,000.

A by-law to raise $40,000 for the hydro distributing plant carried by 296 to 18. A by-law guaranteeing the Aero Cuckoo Inner Tire and Rubber Company a fixed assessment of $5,000 and was passed by 270 to 53. Some tax exemptions.
Wingham is the first municipality of a group of about 30 to vote on the hydro scheme. Eugenia Falls will supply the power for this district.
LAVERGNE OUT OF IT
QUEBEC, Oct. 17.—Mr. Arman Lavergne, Nationalist, officially announced to-day that he will not run in East Quebec. He is suffering from a severe throat trouble, and will shortly undergo an operation.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS AND EIGHT DOM. NOMINATIONS

SLATED FOR NEXT MONDAY

(Special to The Record)
Ottawa, Oct. 18.—The ranks of the Conservatives have been greatly reduced in the Commons during the last few days, for the greater number of Ontario Conservatives have quietly slipped away to assist in the Ontario campaign.
East Quebec too, has lured away a number of the Liberal members from Quebec, but Unionist Liberals for the most part are staying on the job in Ottawa and but few even from Ontario are taking part in the campaign. Monday next is not only polling day in Ontario, but also nomination day for the eight Federal byelections a week later. There are candidates in all eight seats and in most of them a contest is inevitable. In Assiniboia Gould for the grain growers and Motherwell for the Liberals may have the fight to themselves.
In Kingston Sir Henry Drayton Minister of Finance, will stand for re-election. A split in the Unionist ranks there has been healed by the withdrawal of ex-Mayor Hughes, but former Mayor Elliott may run in the Liberal interests.
In North Ontario, W. D. Cowan is carrying the Government banner, while R. H. Halbert is the United Farmers candidate. In Olangarty Kennedy is running for the farmers, while the government may put up General Harvey.
In Carleton N. B. Caldwell, the Farmer's candidate, is the only serious contention at the present time. Both Liberals and Government forces are waiting to see what the other will do.
East Quebec promised an exciting contest, but the entry into the field of Ernest Lapointe, following his resignation from the House as member for Kamouraska, has practically rendered the result a foregone conclusion. There is in the field a representative of Lapointe. On nomination day Armand Lavergne may be put up but even that is not certain. Mr. Lapointe's most serious contender will be the labor man in any case.
It would appear that Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, will secure an acclamation in Prince, for the Government organ for Prince county, says that there will likely be no opposition to him.
In Victoria Hon. Dr. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, is to be opposed by a labor man. The byelections while interesting, will not constitute much of a test of the strength either of the Government or the Opposition, unless there are some big surprises.

WINNIPEG CITIZEN MURDERED ON STREET EARLY TO-DAY

W. J. DEFORGE SHOT ON STREET
(Special to The Record)
WINNIPEG, Oct. 18.—W. J. DeForge, 657 Maryland St., was found murdered at 2 o'clock this morning. He was attacked to the Military Intelligence Department during the war. DeForge was shot through the heart outside 680 Maryland Street. He was 25 years of age, married, and had conducted a confectionery store. He left the store shortly after 1 a.m. It is thought he had $200 or more on him, the murderer did not get it. The shot alarmed the people in Kenwood apartments who rushed out and found DeForge dead on the sidewalk. A widow and a three-year-old son survive. There is no trace of the murderer. The city is infested with daring gangs of auto bandits.

SUNDAY A BUSY DAY FOR DRY CAMPAIGN

POLITICIANS WILL REST ON SUNDAY.
(Special to The Record)
Toronto, Oct. 18.—Sunday promises to be a day of vigorous campaigning throughout Ontario. Many church organizations are taking an active part in the referendum. A large number of church services will be along that line. In addition there will be many public meetings in the effort to keep Ontario dry. Both sides express confidence in their prospects of success.
In regard to the general elections the campaign will be practically closed to-night. Sir Wm. Hearst, Premier, and H. H. Dewar, Leader of the Opposition, will speak in their own writings, and there will be many other eleventh hour meetings of candidates to give their final arguments. Canadian managers of Conservatives, Liberals and U.F.O. express satisfaction with their prospects.
BECK NOT WORRIED BY HECKLING
HIS ACCUSERS ARE SILENCED.
London, Oct. 18.—Face to face with critics who charged him with almost every conceivable iniquity from grafting butter and eggs and jam at Byron Sanatorium to being responsible for the present high cost of living, Sir Adam Beck stood on the platform of the East End Town Hall last night, and patiently, fearlessly and courteously silenced his accusers by the production in each case of irrefutable facts.
Sir Adam fully sustained his reputation as a clean fighter. His appeal to the electors was received most sympathetically. He was repeatedly cheered.

CLERGY WITHDRAW FROM ASSOCIATION

Referendum Causes Demand for Resignation
Branford, Oct. 17.—The local Ministerial Association has been informed that the Anglican clergy will withdraw from the alliance unless Rev. Robert White resigns from the same. The action follows resentment of certain remarks said to have been made by Mr. White in a sermon last Sunday, in which he referred to the rectors of St. Jude's and Grace churches in the city.
The subject was the referendum.

TRAFFIC IN DRUGS GREATLY INCREASED

Prohibition Causes More Smuggling.
OTTAWA, Oct. 17.—A bill of license import and exports of cocaine, opium and their preparation has been introduced into Parliament.
In recent years cocaine and opium imported into Canada have shown a marked increase. The object of importation into Canada has been largely to get the drugs smuggled across the international border into the United States.
Reduction in Prices of Clothing Recommended
Lt. Col. Morrison, head of the Hamilton Board of Commerce gave out a statement to the effect that after investigating the wholesale price of clothing, the board has recommended an immediate reduction of 10 per cent, in the retail and 25 per cent in the wholesale prices.

CRUSADE AGAINST CIGARETTE COMING

Temperance Board Secretary Tells of Plans.
Cincinnati, Oct. 17.—Dr. Wilson of Washington, secretary of the temperance board of the Methodist church, at the international convention of the Disciples of Christ, declared that the elimination of the cigarette would be the next crusade.
The cigarette impaired the health of two million soldiers in our armies," he declared. "We have seen sold out by the 'White House band' to the tobacco trust."
Ingersoll ratepayers voted by a majority of 395 to provide for a new new Central School, to cost $120,000.
Late Judge Winchester's Will of Toronto
The will of Judge Winchester of Toronto was filed for probate yesterday. The late Senior Judge of the county of York, who died on May 8, left an estate valued at $27,000, the income of the greater part of which he left to his widow for life.
SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATE SHOULD ADDRESS ELECTORS
The suggestion is made that whoever is successful in the referendum on Monday night will be able to address the electors at the City Hall. What about it, Mr. Candidate?

Miss Dorothy Rohlan and Miss Rogers visited friends in Buffalo and Niagara Falls the past week.

Miss Dorothy Rohlan gave a party Thursday evening in honor of her cousin, Miss Rogers, who is visiting here from Lansing Mich. The evening was spent in music games and dancing after which a dainty lunch was served the guests departing after spending a very enjoyable evening.

Miss Irene Mellenbacher is returning home to-day from Atlantic, Iowa, where she has been for a year with Doctors Findlay and Mellenbacher.

Mrs. Gilbert Sully, of Toronto, is making a ten-day visit with Mr. Alexander Rose, Ahrens St.

THE CHANCE OF A LIFE TIME
A year ago the Victory Loan of 1918 was being urged upon the people so as to enable Canada to "finish the war." The war is now ended as far as the actual fighting is concerned but to restore peace conditions we must repatriate our soldiers, re-establish them in civil life and provide for the pensions payable to the disabled and the dependents of those fallen in the war.

This is a debt we will gladly pay and it is proposed to issue bonds repayable in five years or in fifteen years with interest payable half yearly in the meantime at 5 1/2 per cent. That is for each $100.00 bond, purchased the assured will receive $2.75 half yearly for 5 or 15 years, and at the end of the time the face value of the bond will be paid. The security is based upon the resources of Canada. You cannot lose for the country is in no peril from invasion.

This is a splendid way to lay aside money. No "sacrifice" is required, excepting perhaps in some cases money might be diverted from some other form of investment. In this case however the interest is generous the security is perfect as anything human can be and the motive of the loan is the grandest conceivable.

In this case therefore we have two overwhelming reasons for taking the bonds, the first is self-interest, the second is gratitude to our soldiers living and dead. We believe that every effort will be made by every true Canadian to contribute the necessary funds to meet these claims. Canada is very rich in natural resources, in credit and in actual cash. The loan is certain to be a great success.

NOW FEELS 20 YEARS YOUNGER

"Tanlac is Finest Thing I Ever Heard Of" Says William Thompson

"After eight years of suffering Tanlac has put me on my feet and made me feel twenty years younger," said William Thompson, a well known mechanic employed by the City of Berkeley, Cal., and who lives at 1118 Glen Ave., the other day. "Acute indigestion bothered me so bad," he continued, "that I would have violent pains in my left side, and I was afraid to eat anything because it always caused me awful suffering. Gas would form on my stomach and I would feel as tight as a drum, and I would get so short of breath I thought every minute would be my last. I was so constipated that I had to take a laxative every night, and at times I would get so dizzy I couldn't walk and would have to lean up against a building until this feeling passed over and I came to myself. I never slept good at night and my kidneys were out of order and many a night I would have to get up four or five times and I had awful pain in my back that were caused by my kidneys."

"This was my condition and I might have still been in this shape now if it hadn't been for a friend who recommended Tanlac to me so I bought it I decided to try it at once. It seems too good to be true that after all these years I finally found a medicine that can do what Tanlac has done for me. Why, I never have the sign of a pain now and no matter what I eat I digest it perfectly and don't suffer from gas or from pains in my stomach. These dizzy spells never come on me and I'm not constipated and sleep like a log every night and get up feeling like a young man. Tanlac is the finest medicine I ever heard of and it was a lucky day for me when my friend told me about it, and you can count on me to pass the good word along whenever I get the chance."

Tanlac is sold in Kitchener by E.O. Ritz & Co., in Galt by R.W. Meikleham, in Hespeler by Jno. R. Phin, in New Hamburg by W.H. Boule, in Milbank by R.B. Hamilton, in West Montrose by A.E. Richard & Co., in Preston by H.L. Frick, in Waterloo by A.B. Learn, in Doon by L.C. Ritz.

To All Electors

It is significant that the Hearst posters telling of the good things done by the Hearst government, are silent on prohibition. Why? Because the government outside the Premier have no use for prohibition. If you want prohibitory legislation vote in the "No" column on the Referendum ballot. If you want this legislation enforced vote for the U. F. O., the one party that has put prohibition on its platform, as per following:

"to enact and enforce such prohibitory legislation against the liquor traffic as the people may sanction in the approaching Referendum, and as lies within the power of the province. Prohibition is an integral part of the Farmer's Platform and the U. F. O. will use its influence in that direction."

Mr. Lennox (a Conservative candidate) said to his electors, "Wouldn't you be better to choose a liquor candidate and a prohibition leader rather than a temperance candidate and a leader in the liquor interests?" How does this compare with North Waterloo. We are told Mr. Snider is going to receive a large vote from the ladies because they believe him to be a temperance man. Has Mr. Snider publicly stated that he is a temperance man. Has he publicly stated how he will vote on the Referendum? Mr. Barbour, the U. F. O. candidate, has stated on every platform that he was strictly a temperance man, and will vote four "No's". Vote for no candidate who does not publicly state his personal stand on a vital question.

THE PRINCE AT GALT.

The Galt City Council has arranged the program for the reception of the Prince of Wales on Friday next in the following manner:

The Mayor and Council will meet His Royal Highness at the C.P.R. station at 4.30 o'clock standard time. The 24th Regiment, H.L.I. of C., will form the Guard of Honor at the station, with their band. His Royal Highness will inspect the Guard of Honor at the station, after which he will be taken with his suite in autos, down Water street to Dickson, up Dickson to Wellington, down Wellington to Main, down Main to South Water, to Concession, up Concession to South Ainslie, to the Great War Veterans' Home, where it is expected he will lay the corner stone of the new assembly hall, after which he will be conducted to the Armories, where His Worship Mayor Mercer will present the civic address to His Royal Highness. These formalities will occupy one hour only.

The Armories will be open about 4.15 p.m. to the general public, positively no children under 15 years of age will be allowed to enter the building.

It is expected that citizens will line up on the sidewalks on the whole route. The school children, each be provided with a small flag, up of Main street from Water street up. Traffic during the one hour will be blocked on the streets over which the procession will pass.

TO AVOID SCORING

When an engine has been standing idle for several days, so that it is reasonably sure that the cylinder walls are dry, it is a very sensible precaution to inject a couple of teaspoonful of cylinder oil into each cylinder by way of the petcocks, and then turn the engine over a few times. This oil prevents any danger of scoring and also assists in getting good compression.

FILTER TO CLEAN OIL.

As a means of separating dirt, metal dust, etc., from used oil, the filter which may be made in the following manner will be found very efficient: Fasten a piece of muslin or cotton cloth to a metal or wooden ring large enough to fit over the top of a can, drum or other vessel. The cloth should be left a little slack and into the shallow bag so formed a quantity of sawdust is placed. The oil to be filtered is poured through and leaves its foreign matter behind the sawdust.

Appeal To The Electors

The Ontario Government is going to be returned by a good majority over the Province. Already four constituencies have returned their members to support the Government without opposition. Out of 111 constituencies only 70 are being contested by Liberal candidates, 34 having voluntarily withdrawn from the race.

This being the situation would it be wise on the part of the electors of North Waterloo to elect a member in opposition to the Government in power?

The riding of North Waterloo stands in the forefront both from the standpoint of industry and agriculture and cannot afford to send a representative to the Provincial House in opposition to the Government.

In this election the vote of the women will be a large factor and we appeal to them as well as to the men to turn out in large numbers on election day and who has faithfully represented the people of this riding for the past eight years.

CONTROL BETTER THAN PROHIBITION

On Monday the electors will go to the polls and mark their ballots on the Temperance referendum. How should they, as sensible men and women, vote?

The majority of our citizens believe in and practice temperance. This applies in North Waterloo to eating and drinking; to speaking and acting. Our electors are levelheaded. They abhor intemperance of conduct.

There is, however, a wide gulf between temperance and the total prohibition of the use of liquor. Moderates favor a law whereby any one so desiring can buy a light glass of beer and, when under the weather, obtain from a government agency, a ration of liquor, pure in quality and cheap in price. They desire to be able to obtain these without tricks or evasion of the law.

True temperance advocates are decidedly opposed to driving the sale of liquor underground; encouraging illicit stills and bootlegging and forbidding the making of homemade grape and dandelion wine and to encouraging the use of harmful drugs by imposing drastic prohibitory laws.

Those who favor prohibition of the manufacture and sale of spirituous liquor are, without realizing it, extremists. They would impose their views upon their neighbors. It is the individual's right to use or not to use liquor. But it is not his to force, by means of legislation, his fellows to adopt his personal views on this question. How very wrong perfectly right people may go when they are extreme!

The Daily Mail quotes a London physician to the effect that several times as many persons lose their lives by drinking impure milk as by excessive use of liquor. He could have added that an outbreak of anger is more dangerous to the human race than is a glass of the strongest liquor.

Were prohibitionists content to throw wholesome restrictions about the sale of spirituous liquors, they could find vent for their surplus energies in a half dozen other directions, and accomplish something worth while.

They are not, however, content with progress. Like Carrie Nation they are wielding axes and intend to cut out the use of tobacco. And neither in the case of beer nor tobacco do they propose to supply anything to take their places.

The dry forces are well organized. It will have been noticed that the Ottawa government has given notice of two measures, under which any of the provinces will be able to prohibit the manufacture, importation and sale of liquor in any form. These will, in all probability, be passed before the present session ends.

Their progress through parliament has been halted in order that Premier Hearst's chances of being returned to office shall not be affected. For he and his supporters have been telling well-to-do men that the Ontario Temperance Act permits them to import liquor into their homes from Montreal. But the goal of prohibitionists is a bone-dry Ontario. Their objective is seen in those two bills introduced recently by the federal government.

Upon the vote on Monday will depend whether Ontario is to go bone dry or sanely to control the sale of liquor; whether a workman can buy a glass of non-intoxicating beer without disarray, or whether the making of these stimulants is ultimately to be prohibited.

Question Number One is the vital one of the four. Were a majority of the electors of Ontario to vote against the repeal of the present Temperance Act, by placing a cross under the No column, Premier Hearst will take it as a mandate to go the whole distance to bonedryness.

It should be clearly understood that in voting for the repeal of the Ontario Temperance Act; that is by placing an "X" in the "Yes" column of Question One, you do not vote for a return of the license system, and the sale of hard liquors in the open bar. This is gone, probably never to return.

In voting "Yes" on Question Number One you vote for the framing of new and sensible liquor legislation. By likewise voting "Yes" on the other three questions you indicate that you favor the sale of light beer containing not more than 2.51-100 per cent. of alcohol and for the sale of pure liquor by the government. You show that you desire the control but not the entire prohibition of the sale and consumption of liquor.

To accomplish this, do not split your vote, else you will be helping the drys gain their end.

Further, it is necessary for everyone to vote on all four questions. Failure to do this will mean that it will be considered a spoiled ballot and not counted.

Vote on all four questions and vote "Yes" on all of them!

MONDAY'S VOTING

North Waterloo has ever since 1878 shown a considerable degree of independence in matters political.

Its people are intensely practical. They think for themselves and having reasoned a thing out do not hesitate to support a good measure whatever party organization may have sponsored it.

Its inclination to be foot free has not always pleased the parties in power, hence the squares of the county are not dotted with public buildings, as is for instance the neighboring city of Guelph. Our people are too democratically inclined to barter their convictions for public buildings. They have retained their self-respect by following an independent course. Promises made may be taken at their face value but the leader who utters them must make good if he is to retain their support.

On Monday the electors go to the polls to mark their approval or disapproval of the course pursued during these last five years by the Hearst government. There are many indications that it has lost the allegiance of the majority of our electors. One of these is the circumstance that they are six candidates in the field, five of whom are flatly opposed to the present administration and the other one not wholly in accord with it.

Succeeding to leadership after the death of Sir James Whitney, Premier Hearst turned right about on his party's pledges and policy, copied those of Mr. Rowell, the then leader of the Opposition; sought to seize for his government the Hydro power undertaking and generally to play the autocrat. This untied leader had never run a high-powered government as before, yet tried to do extreme stunts with it as soon as seated at the wheel.

Beyond appropriating the ideas and policies of others, his five years of office have been marked by inactivity. As a new superintendent of the works, he had the opportunity to go among the constituencies and get acquainted with the electors, to learn the needs of the people and attempt to supply them. Instead he chose to shut himself up in his office.

Had he gone out among the people during the war or even taken to heart the complaints made by them in the columns of the newspapers, he would have been roused to take some action to abate the high cost of living. This problem has been and is the biggest and most vexed one which has ever beset the consumers of Ontario.

Had he perceived its seriousness and the chance it gave him to do the great mass of people a service of incalculable value and acted, he would have proved his worth and fitness for the seat he now holds. Yet, in this direction, he has not done anything.

Criticized for his failure to do his plain duty in this connection, he has within the past month inserted a promise in his election manifesto saying he will, if returned to power, set about to reduce living costs. This belated promise is an admission that he could and years ago should have acted.

The property owners of Ontario lament the heavy, yearly fire losses in the province; yet serious as they are and largely preventable, they are not a tithe of the losses caused to the people by the exorbitant profit taken, since 1914, on the necessities of life. Premier Hearst let the fire burn unchecked.

It is his chameleon-like changes of policy and his being glued to his office chair in the parliament buildings which have destroyed the people's confidence in his leadership.

The candidates who are in open opposition to the Ontario government are not conducting a political forlorn hope for the sake of appearing in a campaign. On the contrary they each represent a section of the people's dissatisfaction with the Hearst regime.

Agreeing on the point that the majority of electors are opposed to voting another term of power to Premier Hearst, it is in order to consider how best this opposition can be focused.

North Waterloo, had it twice six candidates, cannot elect more than one member to represent its interests. Of the five candidates who are openly opposed to his continuing in office, it would be a walkover to elect one there were only two candidates in the field.

Under present social conditions this industrial riding has a claim to send a member to Toronto who is primarily a workman yet broadminded enough and independent enough to serve the interests of all.

There are two candidates in the field who are acceptable to Labor, Mr. Amussen and Mr. Haeckel. Were either alone in the field there would be no need of discussing what had best be done.

The main purpose of the electors is to send to Toronto a member who can be depended on to oppose the Hearst government or to oust it from power. As far as the riding is concerned this is the main objective.

Both of these excellent fellows cannot be elected. Then, seeing that the people desire a change ought it not to be amicably agreed that the stronger of the two should let the people's support.

Had Mr. Haeckel been longer before the public, made his merits known and shown himself able to draw more support than Mr. Amussen we would now urge his election, on the ground that it is necessary to beat Hearst.

But the shoe is on the other foot. Mr. Amussen has developed in strength and popularity as the days have gone by. He is levelheaded, courageous and independent. He is also a man of his word, who when he takes his seat in the Legislature can be depended upon to be no man's nor party's tool.

To-day his chances of election are the best of any one of the six. Then make it a certain and emphatic victory by voting for him next Monday.

"Niek" will deliver the goods.

LOOKING FOR FREE ADVERTISING

A dispatch sent out to the daily press of Ontario contains a statement by Sir William Hearst, asking for the support of the electors next Monday.

In other words, Sir William who at the present moment cannot be considered the head of the government, being merely a party leader asking for re-election, takes advantage of his position as Premier and asks the people of Ontario to keep him in office.

He does not proceed along the recognized lines of business in doing this, but prefers to save money for his party organization by sending out a news dispatch to the daily press in the hope that his appeal will slip through as a news item.

Nothing doing!

ARE THERE TOO MANY MIDDLEMEN?

Toronto Star:—It was shown by evidence given before the Board of Commerce that the jobbing firm of D. D. Hawthorne and Company made a net profit last year of $190,000, and a net profit between 1912 and 1919 of $800,000. The accountant and office manager of the firm did not want the figures published, because they would appear in the headlines of the newspapers. We think they ought to appear there, not to attack blame on this particular firm, but to examine the conditions under which the goods are distributed and the various items which add to the cost.

We must expect to pay for leather and labor, and a reasonable amount for distribution. A jobber does not make shoes, and it is surely open to question that the cost to the consumer need be increased to the enormous extent revealed by these figures. Mr. Murdoch, one of the commissioners, thinks that the jobber is one of the unnecessary luxuries.

Are there not too many middlemen, not only in this, but in other businesses? If leather is dear and labor is dear, that is surely a reason for cutting down overhead expenses to the lowest possible figure. The products of labor seem to pass through too many hands, and too many people are paid for doing unnecessary work. We do not blame the persons engaged in these occupations. They work the system as they find it. But the system seems to be wrong.

The National Woman's Party has started a drive to obtain ratification of the suffrage constitutional amendment in order to allow women all over the United States to vote in November.

Miss Hannah Jane Patterson, of Pittsburgh, who was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for work during the war, has been appointed an assistant in the office of Secretary of War Baker in Washington.

PAINFUL NEURALGIA

Is Caused by Thin, Watery Blood and Cured by Enriching the Blood.

Most people think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or in the face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. The neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The cause being the same, the cure to be effective must be the same. The pain in neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so, and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerve for their natural food. You may ease the pains of neuralgia with hot applications but you can only cure the trouble by enriching and purifying the blood. For his purpose we know of no medicine that can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new, rich blood and thus act as the most efficient of nerve tonics. If you are suffering from this most dreaded of troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a fair trial, and see how speedily you will be restored to good health.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brookville, Ont.

THE MARKETS AT A GLANCE

Higher quotations, have gone into effect on saddlery hardware collar pads, knife handle wrenches, carpenter's clamps, some lines of saws and hammers, plumbers' calum and black and galvanized sheets.

As a result of conditions brought about by the American steel strike sheets are at a premium and dealers who have the stock have no trouble in disposing of it.

There is an upward tendency in pig lead and spelter.

As a result of keen competition rather than to any decline in prices of raw materials manila rope is down one cent a pound and steel is reduced one and a half a pound.

All along the line the shortage of goods continues and in some lines it is simply an impossibility to get anything like adequate supplies.

There is an improvement noted in the tube situation and while supplies are not plentiful the jobbers are able to handle a fair amount of business and hope for further improvement.

While lard oil is so scarce that distillers can buy in small lots only there is a tendency towards easier prices. An advance, which it is stated may be a sharp one, is expected in turpentine.

WHAT WORKMEN REALLY WANT

To the Editor:

Altogether there are 20 Labor Candidates in Ontario, and 8 or 9 more running as Farmer Labor men. If all were elected, the workmen would still have less than 30 members out of 111. Considering our numbers, we ought to have more. But we cannot hope to elect them all. We need every man that we can elect.

In North Waterloo the Independent Labor party and Farmers might perhaps have elected a man if they had united on one candidate. But as things now stand, Gavin Barbour running for the Farmers cannot be elected, because he has little support in the city and towns; and Haeckel, as Independent Labor, is in the same fix because he has not enough support in the country.

If we as workmen really want a labor man for our member, our only chance is Niek Amussen. He has strong support in the country, much stronger even than the Farmer's candidate or any other man running. If we as workmen in the city get back of Amussen, we can make him a sure winner.

We want a man of our class as our member, but not just for the sake of having him there. We want a man who will be able to do something for us as workmen. It will not help us just to have 20 or 30 members in parliament who call themselves labor men. 20 or 30 would not be a majority. They cannot force the others to do better for us as a class. They can only influence the others. This requires ability and experience in public matters.

Nick Asmusen has this ability and experience. He has shown himself a strong fighter for the people in our city. We can trust him to do the same for us at Toronto.
Workingman.

Thirdly, Nick will never blindly follow any party leader. He is not built that way, as all his friends know. At the same time he sees that a man who has no leader in the Legislature must remain a zero.
Fourthly, Mrs. Tucker will serve the real interests of Labor by helping to put a North Waterloo Labor man into the Legislature next Monday. That's Nick.
Fifthly, does Mrs. Tucker know that Dewar's Labor policy is in many respects in advance of the I. L. P. platform?
Don't knock Nick, but pick Nick as a safe winner next Monday.

WHAT BECAME OF THE LIQUOR
To the Editor:—On Sept. 10th a wagon load of boxes containing 60 gallons of whiskey was seized by the local Chief of Police and the nominal owner, Mr. A. Swartz, was subsequently fined $500 and costs. The writer was instrumental in bringing about the seizure and is naturally interested in the proper disposal of the liquor. Some time later, I learned from a local official that the liquor in question had not been sent to the License Board at Toronto. An effort was made to leave the impression that the liquor had been stolen.
I inquired of the Chief of Police, and a higher Officer of the Law, but was refused information. I was also informed that the disposition of the liquor was nobody's business.

I have referred this instance to several temperance people and I find that they are very anxious to know what became of the liquor. Since I was refused information locally, I have referred the matter to the Attorney General and J.D. McFadden, Chairman of the License Board, Toronto, for investigation.
If there are no secrets, I hope that information regarding the disposition of the liquor will be immediately forthcoming in the press, together with the names of the shipmen and a date of License Board certified receipt which I hope may be seen upon application to the Chief of Police.
I also think that Mr. Swartz can be congratulated on being obliged to pay only $500 to the city Treasury when the usual fine is $1000.
Yours truly,
J. M. Newton

THE ELECTION
To the Editor:—
In the North Waterloo we have more candidates in this election than any other riding in Ontario. Where does the workman feel the best look in in the fight? I believe this post cannot be figured out right unless we study the group that put up Mr. Snider.
Mr. Snider is a rich man. He owns a big mill at Conestogo, and lately he bought another one, just as big or bigger, at St. Jacobs. On the face of it, the workmen as a class ought not to help put him into parliament if they can so manage things that one of their own class can be elected. More workmen and more farmers are needed in parliament. So far as the temperance cause has always had more than their share of the members.
The convention that put up Mr. Snider was largely attended by the wealthier class. In the list printed in the News Record I did not notice any of the union the several of them placed together, while their citizens, split into factions, live ceaselessly and continuously at war with each other, and hatred and animosity thrives among them.

And to-day, Ontario-level-headed Ontario—stands at the height of its contention—at the point where its citizens will divide into two bitterly contending factions, or live together as a friendly unit. To accomplish the latter all liquor laws must be wiped clean from the statute books, and the Government, the prohibitionists, the moderates, the temperance and all interested must be brought together to found a law among them that will lessen and extinguish the evils of alcohol that its virtues may be forever left. Surely Ontario can stand forth in justice and give the world an example of how this can be done without breeding hatred among its own people.
Yours sincerely,
James Hough.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair which faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Weeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Loadman Was a Jockey.
It required for a Bismaro write to unearth the fact that Dick Loadman, Hugh Shannon's battling banana-weigher, was at one time a stable boy for the late Joseph E. Seagram, and it was only the way he took on weight that made Loadman a fighter instead of a jockey. They say that Dick could handle horses equally as well as he handles his mitts, but it is doubtful if he met with as much success as a jockey as he has as a boxer.

To The Women-Electors of North Waterloo

WALTER J. SNIDER, ESQ.

Ladies:
You will be right royally welcomed at the various polling stations on Monday next to exercise for the first time the franchise which is yours today as a result of the persistent agitation of the Liberal party—an agitation extended over many years.

This is one reason why the ladies of North Waterloo should help to elect a Liberal candidate in the person of Walter J. Snider.

A second reason why the ladies of North Waterloo should vote in favor of Mr. Snider is that he is pledged to support advanced legislation on the liquor evil. The nature of this legislation will be determined by the result of the referendum. But the law that Mr. Snider will support will be the law which reflects the wishes of the people as expressed in the referendum.

A third reason is that Mr. Snider will advocate such government control of the necessities of life as shall prevent profiteering.

A fourth reason is that Mr. Snider will support pensions for all widowed women who have dependent children. This will do away with the necessity of the mother leaving her children at home in order to go out and toil for their support.

A fifth reason why the women of Waterloo should support Mr. Snider is that he is pledged to support the policy of better rural schools and more sane courses of study at both public and high schools.

Other reasons for supporting Mr. Snider are that he supports the policy of better roads, the conservation of forests, the welfare of the laborer and the reform of our system of taxation. Mr. Snider is—

The very man we have been looking for.

GLADYS LESLIE
Vitaphone Star in
"MISS DULCIE FROM DIXIE"

At Star Theatre three days commencing Monday.

ALICE JOYCE ACHIEVED SCREEN FAME WITH VITAPHONE. Talented and Beautiful Star Has Had Leading Roles in Many of the Greatest Film Successes of the Day.

Alice Joyce, who is starred in "The Cambrie Mask," the Alice Joyce picture which will be seen at the Allen theatre on Friday and Saturday next week is one of the most popular and beautiful players on the screen, and a dramatic actress of rare ability. She won screen fame with Vitaphone, having come to that company after brief engagements with other organizations.

Miss Joyce was born in Kansas City, Mo., a daughter of John Joyce of Norfolk, Va., and Valie McIntyre of Frankford, Ind. After being educated in Amandale, Va., she came to New York with a limited experience in amateur theatricals, but with a determination to succeed along some lines of endeavour.

"Hello Girl for a Moment."

Her first position was as a telephone operator in the Gramercy Exchange, an artist's model. Neither of these positions satisfied her and when motion pictures beckoned, she was quick to join Kalem and was cast in a railroad story. She pictured beautifully and showed real dramatic ability in her first picture, registering even more effectively with each succeeding release. Her early successes include "The Girl of the Music Hall," "School for Scandal," "The Face of the Madonna," "The New Minister" and "A Celebrated Case."

Rare Beauty and Charm. Possessed of rare beauty and personal charm and with marked emotional talent, Albert E. Smith, president of Vitaphone, selected her to play part of Mary Turner, the most wonderful shop girl in the world, in "Within the Law," and her characterization was declared by critics to be an even more finished piece of emotional acting than that of her predecessors on the speaking stage including such famous stars as Jane Cowl, Emily Stevens and Margaret Livingston.

Her reputation firmly established, Miss Joyce was given leading roles in many of Vitaphone's greatest successes. Miss Joyce has one of the most fascinating and unusual roles in her screen career in "The Cambrie Mask" which is adapted from the novel of the same name by Robert W. Chambers. She is a heroine of life and action joining a band of White Riders as a spy to save the life of the man she loves and who has been doomed to

"TARAZAN OF THE APES"

Much-talked-of Picture Coming to the Star Next Week. Commencing Thursday next the Star Theatre will show for three days one of the greatest and most-talented of morning picture productions of this age "Tarazan of the Apes". This picture aroused even conservative New York to enthusiasm, and long write-ups were carried by all the New York papers after the first appearance of the picture.

The following is taken from the New York Tribune: "Demonstrating in a most vital fashion the fact that stars and over-paid names are not essential to the success of a film, the production of "Tarazan of the Apes" at the Broadway Theatre is being held up to the success of a film, the production of "bad movie men" as the good example of excellent showmanship.

The picture is playing to capacity houses twice a day, and the S.R.O. sign is exposed to the weather. This is in the nature of an ovation, for "Tarazan of the Apes" is the missing link which has been found. Thus are the prognostications of the wise men rent asunder—for 'twas said a short time ago that the picture, without a glowing personality (recked in dollars and cents), was foredoomed to failure.

The unusual film of Edgar Rice Burroughs' story was produced by the National Film Corporation with the definite idea of placing before the fans every dollar that was invested, to the tune of $200,000, shown on the screen.

"The Heart of Youth"

Allen Theatre, Thursday only.

Enid Markay, Elmo Lineo in, Gordon Griffith, Bessie Toner, George French, Kathleen Kirkham, Thomas Jefferson, True Boardman and Jack Wilson—all practically new figures, in so far as being featured in an immense picture play—are the principal personalities, and then in support are others comparatively as little known to the average playgoer. And they are standing them up at every performance.

"It's a peculiar picture, this "Tarazan of the Apes". Lions in combat with men, Leopards and jaguars attacking human beings. Apes and gorillas in fierce and primal struggles. Killing lions before the camera eye. Raiding a village, with an elephant or two taking the lead in the attack.

And intertwined are three romances. Three contrasting love stories which are flashed back to and fro with remarkable frequency, yet which dovetail into the tale with a picturesque intensity.

Now will come the discussion again as to whether stars are necessary.

The picture was made in the jungles of Brazil, far up the dreaded Amazon River, where the primal uncles, fungus overgrown and overrun with deadly snakes and insects, afforded the most formidable atmosphere background imaginable. And the fact that a story thought by many to be impossible of transposition to the screen turns out to be one of the biggest hits in years proves again the lack of foresight on somebody's part.

The National Film Corporation is now at work on a filmization of "Frankenstein", said to be equally as sensational as "Tarazan".

Freeport Sanatorium.

This has been an extremely quiet week at the Sanatorium, no visitors having been around. A Billiard table however, and many packs of cards were presented, to the patients by Mrs. Van Jaichett, of the Soldiers' Comfort Branch of the S.C.R. These gifts were suitably acknowledged. The tabled will have to re-place the present one in the Vocational building, which is old and nearly worn out. The cards received were an inspiration for a Whist Drive, which was held in the Vocational Building on Thursday afternoon. The Drive was a huge success. The first prize to the value of $1.00 was won by No. 83911 Ex-Pte. S. Hutchinson. The second prize to the value of 50c. was won by No. 3139 X-Stoker Wilson. The booby prize a packet of Cigarettes, was won by No. 189467 Ex-Pte. O.A. Ellis, who considered himself very lucky. These prizes were supplied from the Canteen funds. Owing to the success of the Drive there will be one each week during the winter months.

The same beauties who have proved the sensation of San Francisco, Chicago, Boston and New York, will appear before the people of Kitchener in the chic attire that has brought them fame that encircles the globe.

It is the most delightfully unique presentation of beauty en costume — one that will delight every man, woman and child. They will positively appear

AT 2.30 AND 8.00 P.M. SATURDAY NIGHT TWO SHOWS.

Appearance of these bathing beauties is made possible only by the permission of Mr. Sennett, to whom they are under long contract, in order that the thousands of fans of whom they have made friends through the screen may greet them in real life. They will be seen only in conjunction with the showing of the master comedy producer's greatest work, a five reel fun film:

JACK CANUCK IN BERLIN

The story of a young Canadian aviator and the way he vamped the Kaiser and all his staff. There's not the suggestion of a thrill in it, but five reels chock full of the very highest grade of the Mack Sennett humor — and all of it at the expense of the Huns. All of the Mack Sennett comedians appear in the picture made under the direction of Mr. Sennett himself.

A Riot of Beauty — A Tumult of Fun!

What Lethbridge people describe as the most graceful of the Prince of Wales' many graceful acts which have endeared him to Canadians, took place at the informal dance which took the place of the more formal affair planned in his honor.

While the dance was in progress the Prince noticed Miss Bessie Little, daughter of one of the C.P.R. firemen, sitting coated and hatted with the onlookers, never dreaming of taking part in the festivities. But this was changed very quickly, for his Royal Highness sent an enquiry to say that he would like to have her introduced to him, and the highly honored maiden, shivering off her coat and hat, had the pleasure of having a dance with the heir of the Throne then and there, with another dance later in the evening.

The many friends of Mrs. C.H. Jensen will be pleased to hear that she is progressing favorably after her recent operation at the K. and W. Hospital.

A clean, sharp blade for every shave

If there's any pleasure to shaving, you get it in an AutoStop Razor. First, because there's always a sharp blade ready for use—a few turns on the stop brings it back to its professional keenness. Secondly, because there's no fussing with parts after shaving. And thirdly, because a simple adjustment makes it possible for you to shave as closely or as lightly as you wish.

From first to last, sharpening, shaving and cleaning, you never need to remove the blade from the razor. Is it any wonder, then, that thousands of men consider the AutoStop Razor the last word in shaving comfort and convenience?

The AutoStop is the only safety razor sold with an unconditional guarantee. Everywhere—complete with razor, stop and 12 blades for $5.00.

Toronto Will Have Many O. H. A. Teams.

The Sportsmen's Patriotic Association extended an invitation to H. R. H. the Prince of Wales to attend a hockey match at the Toronto Arena, Monday night, Nov. 3. The proceeds of the match to be given to the Navy League, toward whose drive the S. P. A. has promised to raise $500.

The teams chosen to put on the match are Denials and St. Patrick's. The game will be in the Arena for slating Wednesday, Oct. 22, and it will give the hockey players a chance to limber up for the match.

O. H. A. Senior and Junior. Applications for the ice for hockey have been received from seven senior and nine junior O. H. A. teams to date, in addition to Varsity's inter-collegiate.

Senior—Varsity (O. H. A.) and Inter-collegiate Parkdale Canoe, Argonauts, St. Patrick's, Denials, Knights of Columbus and Marlboro's. Juniors—Varsity, Upper Canada St. Andrew's College, St. Michael's College, U. T. S., Aura Lee, Marlboro's Parkdale Canoe and Beches.

It is not known yet whether there will be any professional hockey in Toronto this winter.

The annual meeting of the London Curling Club was held at the rink where a large attendance heard the discussions over the rather vacant past season and the enthusiastic forecasts for the coming winter and if the plentiful supply of nuts has anything to do with the weather prognostications, the curlers will undoubtedly get their share of the roaring game this coming season.

President Frank S. Ashplant, who was re-elected for 1919-20 introduced a motion which was heartily received, it being a proposal to set aside certain evenings during the beginning of the next season for the purpose of teaching new curlers the rudiments of the game. This measure was adopted and Messrs. F. H. Hindmarsh, W. J. Snelgrove, Dr. A. J. Wright and F. S. Ashplant were appointed instructors.

"Who won the pennant for Cincinnati?" Someone has figured out that at least four men who are not members of the Redland outfit have just claims to recognition in this connection. They are as follows: William F. Baker, president of the Phillies, who released Pat last winter.

John McGraw, who, after he had signed Moran as a coach for his pitchers, voluntarily released him so that he might accept the management of the Reds.

Barney Dreyfuss, who refused to waive on Walter Reuther and Jimmy Ring last spring and so kept them in the league.

Charles H. Ebbetts, who refused to pay Bully Kopp's salary demands, the result being that Koff remained with the Reds.

Mad Hatter, winner of the rich Latonia handicap, was purchased from August Belmont when he retired from racing to devote his energies to Red Cross work, Hildreth paying $5,000 for the colt as a two-year-old. He did not show much as a two year old and did not come to form as a three-year-old until the last few weeks.

THE MASON & RISCH PHONOGRAPH

Sometimes there is such a thing as "the best." Many men set "the best" as their goal. They seek out worthy materials for their work. They gather skilled craftsmen and hold before them high ideals. By sincerity and painstaking they climb near, often very near, to "THE BEST."

He who attains the final "BEST," however, is he who, having all that the others have—integrity, skill, experience, courage—has, over and above these, a hidden advantage all his own. A method, a device, a knack, maybe, which Fate has given him and denied to the rest.

So the old masters of painting had a secret of mixing their colors, that has made their paintings endure through centuries, while those of their contemporaries are faded and forgotten.

So, too, Modern Industry has its examples.

Many manufacturers have earnestly tried to make the BEST Phonograph. All have had access to the same masters, the same equipment, the same workmanship, and good Phonographs are being made in many factories.

But one maker has had the good fortune to possess that knack which the seeker after "THE BEST" must have if he is to attain his ideal.

That ideal has been realized, and to-day we present to the music-loving public

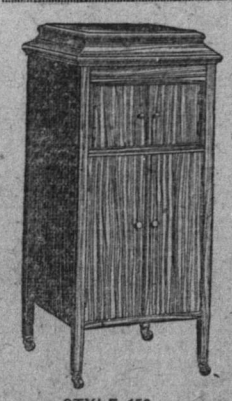

THE Mason & Risch Phonograph

A Phonograph as fine as human hands can fashion, and a reproducer of music which cannot be expressed in phonograph terms! The absolutely faithful tonal results that we set out to secure for the realization of our ideals in Piano building have been duplicated in the Phonograph of our Make!

JACK CANNUCK IN BERLIN

Famous Sennett Nymphs Coming in Group With New Sennett Comedy

It will be emphatically a Mack Sennett weekend at the Imperial Theatre where, next Thurs.-Fri.-Sat. both the stage and screen of the house will be given up to the California studios of the comedy king and his latest and greatest film comedy in five hilarious reels, "Jack Cannuck" in Berlin.

Hitherto, the famous mermaids of the California surf, famous nationally through their appearance in two-reel Sennett comedies, have been kept in a seclusion as close as that of a nun. Only the jealous eye of the camera has looked upon their athletic beauty and ebullient vitality. But now, Sennett has consented to a brief tour of the nymphs to the large cities, where the new comedy will be shown entirely as a production.

The event will be unique in motion picture exhibition. Even before William Hohenzollern had fled to the 200-pile island of Holland, which he now finds sufficient excuse for his long over-praised intellect and physical prowess, and the world had taken the measures of his inflated "greatness", Mack Sennett the comedy genius of the screen, had decided to pick the bubble of Royal Prussianism with the best of all weapons—ridicule.

Sennett? To work to achieve the high mark of his remarkable career as a satirist and laugh-maker in a film production that should sweep Wilhelm off the serious pages of his story as a monarch. And here it is "Jack Cannuck in Berlin" five reels of hilarious fun, with the entire Keystone corps of comedians marshaled in one production and to make the measure a heaping one, the famous Sennett Bathing Beauties and Bothwell Browne, the greatest of all make actors of feminine roles, in the cast.

"BROKEN BLOSSOMS" COMING TO STAR SOON

The following from the Chicago Tribune refers to a picture which will be shown at the star Theatre in the near future:

Never in the annals of theatrical doxology have such hosannas been raised as those which recently have been sounded for Mr. Griffith's picture drama at the Illinois, "Broken Blossoms." Dignified writers for the daily press have stood upon their heads and sung; they have later as turned other less wanton postures, but still they have uttered in print the wild notes of the savage suddenly come upon a work of art. Let us, if we can, be calm about "Broken Blossoms."

It is a good picture. It tells with the frenetic ardor of the camera the tale of a child the London slums who, beaten by her pugilistic father, falls into the clasp of a dreamy romantic Chinaman. It is a poetic photograph of one of those Limehouse (pronounced Limus—night) observed by Mr. Burke, a London reporter. The fifth, the hunger, the despair, the cruelty of the Englishman of the docks is not in eloquent contrast with the quiet, brave, good-looking, adorable Chin who is the hero. Her father beats her to death, and the Chinaman shoots him.

In case you have good taste in acting you will enjoy Miss Gish in "Broken Blossoms." If there was ever upon the stage a better picture of absolute untheatrical terror, which is a difficult emotion of the drama, then it is when Miss Gish hides in the closet against the brute who is breaking down the door. It is a sad picture, "Broken Blossoms," but they get $3 for it in New York and $2 for it in Chicago.

ALLEN HAS BIG FEATURE NEXT WEEK

Sahara is Soul-Stirring and Thrilling Production Throughout The Allen Theatre presents next week what the management believes to be the most dramatic, soul-stirring drama set in the desert, colorful and artistic settings the screen has ever seen. This picture is "Sahara," starring Louise Glaum, C. Gardner Sullivan, the most famous all photo-play authors wrote "Sahara," which is a big Hodkinson picture, presented by J. Parker Read, Jr., and supervised by Allan Dwan.

Louise Glaum plays the role of Mignon, the darling of Paris, on whom her American husband portrayed by Matt Moore, has wasted his fortune. He takes over an engineering job on the Sahara desert and Mignon, against her wishes but lured by the promise of a visit to Cairo, accompanies him and dwells in a luxurious tent on the burning sands. But

PALE CHECKED WOMEN TOLD ABOUT RESTORING A ROSY COMPLEXION

A few years ago the girl with pale, drawn cheeks scarcely knew what to do in order to restore her fading appearance. At that time there was no blood-food medium made that really would put color and strength into systems that were more or less worn out.

To-day it's different. The blood can be quickly nourished, can be made rich, red and healthy. All you have to do is take two Ferrozone Tablets with a sip or two of water after meals. The effect is almost magical. Mothers, look at your children. Are they ruddy and strong—do they eat and sleep well, or are they pale, weak, and anemic?

Have you that old-time strength and vigor, or are you somewhat under the weather? FERROZONE will supply the strengthening elements you require. It is a blood-forming, nourishing tonic that makes every ailing person well. FERROZONE is a marvelous remedy, it contains in concentrated form certain rare qualities that especially fit in cases of anemia, poor color, thin blood, tiredness, and loss of weight.

six months of the sand and the praying Arabs drive her to such an utterly depraved state of discontent that she leaves her husband and goes to Cairo with Baron Alexis (Edwin Stevens). Years later she finds her husband deserted and a victim of drugs and her child, begging in Cairo. He has sworn to kill the woman who wrecked his life. She, with every desire fulfilled except that of happiness, is moved to her first deed of real loving sacrifice—the return of her husband's does all in her power to cure him, and the day comes when she is recognized. What then of the butterfly who found her soul? Of the man who suffered a living death for the love of an unfaithful wife? Of the child who missed a mother's guiding hand when it was most needed? The climax will grip, surprise and please you. This great production will be shown for three days at the Allen Commencing Monday.

THE CODE OF THE YUKON Stirring Story of the Early Gold Days at the Imperial Next Week.

One of the unfortunate women in Cregan employs a dance hall owner who has fallen in love with Jean. Just as Jean, heart-sick and weary, is about to leave the camp, she discovers his mission in life. She knows the story of his sister and tells him that Cregan is the man who wronged his sister. Jean decides to stay at Camp in time Cregan and Jean meet. With no weapons, other than those given them by nature, they fight. In the struggle that follows Jean is about to realize the fulfillment of his savage desire for vengeance when the Higher Power intervenes and Cregan is punished in God's way. Letters full of Praise—
A Wonderful Record of Healing

Gin Pills, the greatest help in overcoming Kidney Troubles, have relieved so many thousands of people throughout Canada, that the verbal praise, from mouth to mouth, is not enough to satisfy those who have suffered and been made well by Gin Pills. They write continually to us, and here are some extracts from the letters which have reached us recently:—

Sir Castleman, a prospector in the Larder Lake District, wrote thus:—
"I am writing to thank you and to tell you the good your Gin Pills did for me. I had been suffering for some time with my kidneys and urine. I was constantly passing water, which was very scanty, some days as many as thirty times, and each time the pain was something awful, and no rest at night. I began to feel quite worn out. I sent my chum out to get Gin Pills (about 60 pills) for me, and in less than six hours I felt relief. In two days the pain had left me altogether. I took about half a box, and to-day feel as well as ever I did, and my kidneys are acting quite naturally."

Mrs. E. Dean, Whiting, Ind., had this to say: "When I sent for the last box of Gin Pills, I was all crippled up with rheumatism and my face was as badly swollen that I could hardly see out of my eyes. After taking six of the pills, I felt better. After a few days I had no more pain."

"I beg you to publish my letter," writes Isadore Thomas, of Tilley's Road, N.B., "so that people may know what Gin Pills did for me. Everybody expected my death. I tried Gin Pills and in a short time was well again, and soon had gained 20 pounds."

Gin Pills
FOR THE KIDNEYS

Mrs. B. Walters, Savona, R.C., says: "I have been troubled for years with weak kidneys. One box of Gin Pills cured me. I recommend them as the absolute and reliable cure."

"I suffered untold misery," writes Lewis MacFarlane, from Halifax, N.S., "my trouble was inflammation of kidneys and bladder. I finally determined to go to the hospital for treatment."

Two days before my intended departure, a neighbor called and, happened to have some Gin Pills with him and insisted on my taking them. Six hours after the first dose the effects were simply miraculous. Instead of going to the hospital I sent for a box of Gin Pills, with the result that I am a well man. I recommend Gin Pills to everyone suffering from kidney trouble."

If you have pains in the back or sides, constant headaches, stiff and swollen joints, rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, dizziness, constipation or stone in the bladder, take no chances. Get Gin Pills at once. They may save you from a critical operation.

Your Druggist or Dealer sells them, 50c. a box, under money-back guarantee.

With Fingers! Corns Lift Off

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift any corn or callus right off. Try it!

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freestone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freestone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn, or callus and instantly all sores disappear and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it off with the finger.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freestone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

JOHN EXPLAINS

The moment I hung up the receiver I remembered that I should have made some arrangements to have my trunks sent to the hotel. But I did not want to make the Van Ness family any more trouble, and I decided that I would ask John to take me out there in the car in the afternoon if he should come back in time.

Again I laughed a little hysterically as I thought what Helen would say if she knew that John had absolutely forgotten me, and that now, at least three hours had passed since he had vanished from my sight and I had evidently vanished from his mind.

At this moment, however, the door opened and John strode in looking very contrite.

"Dearest," he said, "what must you think of me? The only excuse I have is that you are so now a possession that—"

"You laid me aside and forgot to pick me up again," I interrupted with a smile.

John, however, did not respond. He seemed to think that the least hint of sarcasm was out of place. I believe it was then for the first time how thin John's lips were, and into what a straight line they could resolve themselves.

"We might just as well begin right," he said curtly. "When I went into the dining room this morning I saw George Dunham of Dunham Brothers, at another table. For at least a year I have been trying to get his account, as it would mean a big profit to the firm."

"Dunham bowed and beckoned to me. He thought, of course, that I was alone and I could do nothing else but respond. As soon as I was seated at his table he began to talk contract with me. Of course I was delighted. The man was hot and I knew I must strike then or not at all. Surely you understand that it was not the time to say: 'I was married yesterday. I am expecting my bride down any moment and after I have eaten breakfast with her I will return and talk business.'"

In fact, I may as well own up that I was so excited about the prospect of closing this contract that I forgot everything else and went into the details with him with great interest. "Of course we had not closed when we finished breakfast and I confess that I was so engrossed in the deal that I did forget you for the moment as I walked out of the room. I remembered when it was too late, dear, but I could not then explain and return it was too ridiculous. It would be quite to tell this business man that I had forgotten my newly made wife for a business deal at this time. As he told him in the first place that I could not talk business to him on account of her presence."

"So I just said to myself, 'Kate will understand,' and you'll have to learn to learn any way that in the nature of things, after a man's married, his business must come first. Otherwise, his wife would find that moonlight and love, poetry and passion require money to keep them alive quite as much as mortals do."

"Why don't you say something?" he ended abruptly, evidently just realizing that I had not spoken.

"Why, my dear, haven't you said it?" I questioned.

"Are you going to be mad and pout because I've taken the time this morning to make a small fortune—to make it possible for you to have your own car, a beautiful home and your own maid if necessary?"

"Oh, my dear, my dear, I'm not pouting—I just think that you have said it all."

"Well, let's call up Hemlen and tell her about our marriage."

"I have already told her."

"You have?" he asked in an annoyed tone. "What did she say?"

"She said she expected that was what had happened, but happened, but I gathered that they were rather worried about us. She said that lovers are the most selfish people in the world."

"Umph," said John—and then he grinned. "If she could see us now she'd probably understand that we are lovers no longer—just old married couple, aren't we?" He came with a rush and gathered me in his arms and lifted me bodily to the arm of the chair in which he seated himself.

"Oh, girl, girl," he said, "don't think for a moment that you are not everything to me—that while I might have forgotten you in my conscious mind this morning, in my subconscious to you I am sure that I was giving all that I was gaining by this transaction to you—laying it at your feet."

The hurt all gone, I leaned over and with my lips close to his ear I whispered:

"You do love me, don't you?"

Hamilton, Oct. 16.—Bob Isabier started something when he jumped into his football tugs and showed his oldtime "pep." Bobby Kerr has got the fever now, and he has as good as announced that he will be a candidate for the Canadian Olympic team next summer. Bob stepped the hundred in close to ten in England last spring with no training, and he feels that he can still do it in ten which means that he will keep Ponton, Green, Johnson and the others busy trying to avoid the dust. Some of the great sprinters of the past showed their best form when they were Kerr's age, for he is remembered Robert is far from being old as athletics go.

Brantford, Oct. 16.—The local football club denies that the game was defaulted to Dundas last Saturday. The attitude of the locals is that a schedule was drafted and approved by the district as a whole, and by Brantford and Dundas individually. The default of Galt and Woodstock the locals claim, does not nullify the schedule approved, and the local club is quite willing to carry out that schedule without change, says The Expositor.

What is the definition of a sportsman? asks Earnest Windle, Editor of The Islander.

Mr. Windle proceeds to answer his own question as follows:

"My experience has been that the true sportsman is not the kind of human being that is 'defined' by any boundaries, length, breadth, thickness or by his financial standing. The true sportsman is just naturally that kind of person with a brain that is greater than his animal desires."

"The sportsman is a great deal like electricity, radiating light warmth and cheerfulness—but he doesn't know from whence his power. He is scarcely conscious that he is a sportsman."

"The unsportsmanlike 'kid' themselves and others to believe that they fill the dictionary definition of the word."

Labor Reaffirms its Demands for a Better Beer

OVER 900 delegates of Organized Labor, representing every section of industrial Canada, reaffirmed at the big convention in Hamilton three weeks ago, their demand for a better, more palatable, non-intoxicating Beer.

President Tom Moore reviewed in a most comprehensive manner the resolution for better Beer adopted at the previous Congress and the representations made to the Dominion and Provincial Governments for the non-intoxicating 2.50 per cent. (alcohol by weight) Beer of the Ballot. He said in part:—"On the 3rd of March, this year, at the request of representatives of a number of affiliated organizations I arranged an interview with the Dominion Cabinet, and attended with them to present the resolution passed at our last Convention, relating to the increase in the alcoholic strength of beer. This resolution had been endorsed by many hundreds of affiliated bodies throughout the Dominion, and these endorsements were presented to the Government."

The following statements by leaders of Organized Labor in Ontario, are at once a categorical refutation of false interviews credited to them and published in certain newspapers, and an indication of the practically unanimous stand of workmen in this Province:—

TOM MOORE,

President, Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

"Nearly 1500 of the organizations affiliated with the Trades and Labor Congress have passed resolutions in favor of the sale of light wines and beer. On this evidence and from my own personal observation I believe that the best aid would be given to temperance by the granting of the above moderate request."

J. MUNROE,

President Ontario Provincial Council of Machinists, and President Toronto District Labor Council.

"I would not favor return to conditions we had before the Ontario Temperance Act came into effect, but am with the fifteen hundred Labor organizations in Canada who favor the manufacture and sale of light Beer and Wine (The Beer of the Ballot) and believe best aid would be given to temperance by voting for legislation to this effect."

JOHN DOGGETT,

Secretary, Toronto Building Trades League.

"The present Prohibition Law on the statute books of Ontario is, in my opinion, class legislation. A law that is applied to operate against the workers and not against the wealthy is an unfair law and should be repealed by the votes of the people. I believe the workers who desire to have a glass of beer should have the opportunity of obtaining same."

JOHN NOBLE,

International Organizer, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

"In reference to statements appearing in many Toronto papers, I desire to emphatically deny having given such statements, or even having been interviewed in the matter. I voted for a Resolution in the American Federation of Labor Convention, held in Atlantic City in June last, for the right of the workers to have beer if they desired it. I contend that the worker should have this right."

The workmen of Ontario do not ask for intoxicating or harmful liquors—they only want a more wholesome, nourishing and palatable beverage that has been incontestably proven absolutely non-intoxicating.

Is there any fair or just reason why you should not grant this fair request of Labor? Even though YOU do not care for beer as a beverage, is this a time for selfish insistence that OTHERS SHALL NOT have it?

Look at this matter in a broad light—intolerance will breed widespread discontent and resentment among workmen. Ontario cannot afford to have her workmen dissatisfied. Support Labor in its just and reasonable request.

HERBERT WRIGHT,

Business Agent, International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Shipbuilders, and Helpers of America, Local 128.

"In traveling around Ontario since the Ontario Temperance Act came into force, I am firmly convinced that the workers are only asking their rights when asking for a better beer. I personally believe that if the people could obtain a better beer there would be less dope in use in Ontario."

W. F. BUSH,

Organizer, United German Workers of America.

"The Labor movement has gone on record repeatedly in favor of a stronger beer and protesting against that right being taken away. Last Spring no less than 1500 labor organizations, out of a total of 1900 organizations in Canada, voted in favor of a stronger beer. I think that in this question, as in the great majority of questions they have been called upon to decide, that they have been proven to be absolutely in the right. As the prohibitionists have not seen fit to compromise on a stronger beer, the way that the workers can teach THEM a lesson is to defeat them absolutely by voting 'Yes' four times."

JOHN SUTHERLAND,

Ex-President, Bricklayers' International Union No. 2.

"I have always been opposed to prohibition. After seeing three years of the Ontario Temperance Act in operation I am more than ever convinced that it is a direct attempt to take away the comfort and pleasure of the worker more than of the leisured or privileged class—and I will vote four times 'Yes.'"

JOHN T. VICK,

President of Industrial Banner.

"I am in favor of a better beer for the workers, with proper facilities for handling same. Knowing the workers as I do, there are times when a glass of beer would be beneficial."

JAS. T. GUNN,

Electrical Workers' Union.

"I am opposed to prohibition because I believe that the individual does not derive his rights from the State, but that the State is created to preserve the individual's right."

"Prohibition is affirmed in general by those who have reasons to continue the exploitation of the masses. No thought is given to the matter as to the right or wrong of it, but it is urged—and it is urged in general—because of economic efficiency. In other words, because if enacted it will bring greater profits to the manufacturer, the financier, and the capitalist generally. Prohibitory legislation as to what one eats or drinks is the earmark of a servile State and therefore in antagonism to working-class interest."

J. A. YOUNG,

Secretary, Provincial Council of Machinists.

"I have no desire to see a return to the conditions that obtained previous to September 1916. At the same time I am far from satisfied with the measure of temperance now in effect in this Province."

"I would favor a measure whereby it would be possible for a citizen to obtain a light, refreshing and palatable beer as well as wholesome, pure liquor for medicinal purposes and for use in his own home. I am therefore in favor of substantial amendments to the present Ontario Temperance Act."

JAMES J. RALPH,

Chairman, Ontario Executive, Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

"I desire to say that as Chairman of the Ontario Executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada I am following out the declared policy of the Trades Congress and the A. F. of L. in protesting against prohibitory legislation."

WILLIAM FORDHAM,

Supt. Labor Temple.

"This is to certify that I will personally vote four 'Yes's,' regardless of what any paper says, in the coming Referendum."

THE RESOLUTION

"Resolution No. 31.—By John Young, Lodge No. 235, International Association of Machinists, Toronto: Whereas, the Ontario Executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada did on the 28th day of January last, wait upon the Premier of the Province of Ontario, the Hon. Sir William Hearst, and the members of his Government, and asked that a proper definition of an intoxicating liquor be made.

"And, whereas, the said Committee were able to show that a beverage containing up to 2.50 per cent. of alcohol by weight was a non-intoxicant, and were therefore justified in asking that beverages containing up to 2.50 per cent. of alcohol be allowed to be sold under the Ontario Temperance Act.

"And, whereas, at a convention of upwards of ten thousand labor men from all parts of the Province of Ontario, held in Toronto on Saturday, March 2nd, for the purpose of considering the question of Provincial and Dominion temperance legislation, a resolution was unanimously passed appointing a committee to go to Ottawa to wait on Sir Robert Borden and the members of his Government, and ask that a uniform definition of an intoxicating liquor be made for the whole Dominion, and that 2.50 per cent. of alcohol by weight be fixed as such standard, and that it may be legal to manufacture and sell anywhere in Canada any beverage not exceeding 2.50 per cent. of alcohol by weight.

"And, whereas, at the annual conference of the representatives of the different International Trade Union Organizations held in Ottawa on Monday, the 15th of April last, for the purpose of considering legislative matters, the resolution above referred to passed by the labor men at the Convention in Toronto on the 2nd day of March last, was endorsed by the Conference, and a copy of the resolution handed by the Conference to the War Committee of the Government; and whereas, the working men of Canada have been asked by the Government to co-operate with them in increasing production, and the working men have expressed a willingness to do so, even to the extent of working longer hours.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, that this Convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada endorses the action of its Ontario Executive and other resolutions as above referred to, and requests the Dominion and Provincial Governments to enact legislation whereby it may be legal to manufacture and sell anywhere in Canada any beverage not exceeding 2.50 per cent. of alcohol by weight."

The Widow's Son

By Mrs. E. Southworth

easy chair.
"What is it, Stukely?" gently inquired Owen looking with concern upon the changed face of his friend.
"I'm in trouble—yes! I have lost my only mother!" said Mr. Stukely with a sob.

"I am sorry for that, Stukely. Not of course of nature, you know that was to be expected."

"Oh, yes, I know in the course of nature that was to be expected. But it wasn't in the course of nature. And it wasn't to be expected that she should have been set on and murdered by that monster of a deaf-mute!"

"Murdered! and by that deaf-mute!" exclaimed Owen, in a low and horror-stricken tone.

"Yes!" gasped Mr. Stukely, bursting into tears and sobbing like a child.

"Can you tell us, Stukely, how all this occurred?" inquired Owen as soon as his guest became composed.

"Why, this way of it. It all came out at the coroner's inquest. My only mother was pressed for money. You know her constitution always required a great deal of money to keep it up. And she was of money always had the most depressing effect upon her mind and body."

"As it does on most others," said Owen.

"Yes, well, as she was suffering for the want of this—tonic—you may call it, she went and sold Judas to a slave-factor for five hundred dollar."

"Yes."

"But he was an extraordinary fellow for cunning, and he suspected her and watched her and waylaid her and—did the deed."

"Horrible! Has he been taken?"

"Yes; but not alive. He was found and, from the appearance of the body, it was supposed that he had been dead for several days, and furthermore, that he who had robbed and murdered his mistress was in his turn robbed and murdered by that gang of runaway negroes who have not been broken up yet, nor, you see, when found, he was shot through the body, and his pockets were turned inside out and rifled."

"What a horrible story! Willie give my sister a glass of water, she is nearly fainting," said Owen, as he noticed Lily Gray turn deadly pale and sink back in her chair.

"It isn't the right sort of a thing to talk about in a young lady's presence, and so I will shake the subject a little," said Mr. Stukely.

"And tell us what brought you New York, where indeed, are very glad to see you," suggested Owen.

"Ah, well, you see, my only mother, who had a magnificent constitution at all times, and great strength even in her advanced age, lingered several hours after she was mortally wounded—she lived in fact, until the middle of the next day, when she died."

Here Mr. Stukely broke off the weep a little more, and so lost thread of his discourse.

"But your business in New York?" said Owen, reminding him of the dropped subject.

"Extraordinary! Oh! Ah! Yes! My business in New York! Well you see, in her last hours my mother had Person Morley with her, an old man, who made certain disclosures of family secrets, which Mr. Morley took down in writing, and which she signed and charged. After the funeral Mr. Morley delivered them to me, and asked me if I could get them into the hands of the proper persons. Well, I undertook to deliver them to their final destination, and here they are," said Mr. Stukely laying upon the table two closely packets. Owen took the first that came to hand. It was a very thick packet, addressed "To Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Powis." Then he took up the second, which, in all respects except one, resembled the first. This exception was in the fact that the last mentioned was directed to "Owen Wynne Esq.," and, marked "private and confidential."

"I will take charge of the one directed to myself," said Owen putting his own packet in his pocket, "and, as for the other, you will either have to send it by mail, take it yourself or wait until the parties for whom it is intended return from Europe."

"Return from Europe! Extraordinary! Why, who has gone to Europe?" inquired Mr. Stukely.

"Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Powis sailed for Liverpool this morning."

"Extraordinary! That couple are always on the wing. I had heard from two very gentlemanly friends of my mother, who were on a visit at our house, that Cousin Gladys and her husband, who were acquaintances of theirs, were living uptown somewhere. I have got the address, with name, street and number of the house, all correct, and I intended to go and look them up to-morrow and I only came here first because I knew where to find your place without looking for it. And they have just this morning sailed for Europe. Extraordinary! Well, if they ain't like the Irishman's flea, I don't know who is, for, as sure as you put your finger on them, they ain't there. Gone to Europe!"

"Yes, and, what is worse, they have taken our darling Lily May with them," said Lily Gray.

"Extraordinary! What did they do that for? Lor' Wynne, was there any thing, after all in that suspicion of yours?" eagerly demanded Mr. Stukely forgetting his grief in his curiosity.

"Yes, there was everything in it, Stukely. And in all human probability the contents of these two packets will go to confirm that suspicion if needed confirmation," said Owen, gravely.

"Ah, indeed! Tell me all about it. How did Lily May become acquainted with Cousin Gladys?"

"It is quite a long story, Stukely, and you must excuse my telling it now. Some day I will do so. Here comes Nancy to lay the cloth for supper, which, after your long journey you must really need. And now, if you will go to your room—you know where to find it—and get some of the dust of travel off you, by the time you get back supper will be ready, so, will you go with me, like a good fellow?"

Look to the Future Begin with the Boys

THE glorious victories of Drake and Nelson were destined to be the foundation of our Empire and the guarantee of the freedom of the seas, which makes possible the vast international trade of Britain and her Dominions.

And yet when Drake and Nelson chose the sea as their life-work, who was there to know what would be the overwhelming consequences of their decision?

Aims of the NAVY LEAGUE OF CANADA

To emphasize Canada's opportunities and responsibilities on the sea.

To raise funds for the relief of our merchant seamen, injured in the war, and for dependents of those who were killed.

To maintain sailors' homes in our ports.

To train boys and young men for our merchant ships by the organization of Boys' Naval Brigades.

H.R.H. THE PRINCE OF WALES
Dominion President
COMMODORE EMILIUS JARVIS

Today, if you have any question in your mind as to whether you should support the work of the Boys' Naval Brigades, study the matter with an eye to the future. Get clearly in mind the tremendous importance of Canadian products reaching foreign markets, which can only be assured by the building of a great Canadian Mercantile Fleet, manned with Canadian Seamen!

We may build ships by the thousand, but if we cannot man them ourselves our position is still economically unsound. If we do not train Canadian lads to man our merchant fleet, we shall be left behind in the race for export markets—we shall have missed the greatest opportunity for trade expansion in all history!

What will YOU do to help some Canadian boy who is anxious to learn seamanship, and so be of the greatest service to his country?

Let your contribution to the fund be a worthy answer. Help them by giving!

"The Poorest Girl"

By VICTOR REDCLIFFE

(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

The first time that Marvin Hull saw Netta Deane he was on business bent. Not that Marvin was a business man—as yet. He had just graduated from college and had a long vacation ahead before he decided what profession he would choose for the future.

His father was the attorney for Elias Druse in the Boyden will case. The same involved a fortune left by Gregory Boyden in such a complicated way that it was necessary to appeal to the law for a coherent decision, as to whether Elias Druse, or Miss Ottilla Marsden, a poor and humble spinster, was the beneficiary. Marvin's father was sure he would win for his client. Miss Marsden had no money to hire an attorney and in her patient, resigned way was willing to abide by what the courts decided.

Pop as she was, Miss Marsden had found the impulse in her charitable heart to adopt Netta Deane, orphan, and also a relative of Gregory Boyden. They had to live very close and carefully, those two, and both had to join their efforts in the sewing line to earn sufficient to keep the wolf from the door.

The mission that Mr. Hull sent Marvin on was to leave a legal notice for Miss Marsden. The latter chanced to be away from home on the occasion, but Netta, bright-eyed, pleasant and scanning the visitor with an approving eye, made an instantaneous impression on Marvin. She charmed him into lingering about the modest little home for an hour and she hoped she would see him again. She did.

Within two weeks' time Marvin had called at the Marsden home no less than seven times.

"I shall never see her equal," Marvin fervently declared to himself. "I'd marry her tomorrow if she'd have me and if the folks—"

There Marvin halted, and quite depressedly, in his self-communing. His father and mother had high social views, as he was well aware. Mr. Hull was quite wealthy, and Marvin was assured, would look upon any attention to a portionless maid as almost a crime. Marvin therefore employed a good deal of circumspection in his initial wooing. He recalled the object of his devotion by a detour route, so that no one would learn of his visits to Netta.

One day Marvin met on the street Madge Warren. At college her prospective fiancée had been Marvin's closest chum. Marvin had all kinds of delightful things to say about Jack Darlow and Madge was only too glad to hear it all. While they were conversing in an animated, friendly way, Mr. Hull passed on the other side of the street. The latter lifted his head a trifle higher, a scowl came to his stern, severe face.

"Now I'll catch it!" ruminated Marvin as he left Madge, and he was right. When he reached his father's office Mr. Hull closed the door and regarded Marvin with acute displeasure.

"I saw you with John Warren's daughter," he spoke aggressively. "Why, yes," responded Marvin, "we don't often meet and I wanted to give her a message from Jack Darlow."

"Well, don't let it occur again. You know that Warren and myself have not spoken for years, and my dislike extends to every member of his family. I shall discourage any attentions in that direction. Understand me?"

"I think I do," replied Marvin, and then a brilliant idea came into his mind. He managed to meet Madge quite frequently for a week after that. He even encouraged the gossip among his friends implying that he and Madge were something more than friends. It led to another office lecture. The watchful, wary attorney-father had heard of the purchase of a ring, boxes of candy and flowers by Marvin. They had gone to Netta Deane, but Mr. Hull did not know that.

"Marvin," he spoke with unusual firmness and decision, "if I learn of your having anything further to do with the daughter of that despicable Warren, whom I look upon as a deadly enemy, I shall send you away for a year to come. Why, I would rather see you married to the poorest girl in Bromley than to any member of that brood!"

The poorest girl in Bromley! Marvin chuckled as he repeated the remark. The poorest girl in Bromley—why, Netta Deane was that. Ah! what a fortuitous observation! What a suggestive means of solving his intense problem of love! Two weeks went by, Marvin came into the office, looking pale and worried, although his heart was overflowing with joy.

"Father," he said, bolting desperately into the subject of the moment, "I have been in love for the two past months. You said you would rather I married the poorest girl in the village than Madge Warren. I've done it. Netta Deane is my wife. She is poor, mother will probably storm, you may perhaps disown me, but—adore one another."

In blank amazement Marvin noted a most engaging, benignant smile come across the face of his father. The latter seized his hand and shook it fervently.

"Netta Deane?" he spoke. "The poorest girl in town! Hadn't you heard? The court this morning found for her aunt, Miss Marsden, and, as her heiress, Netta will be the richest girl in Bromley!"

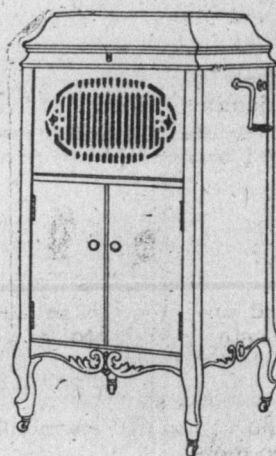

ONTARIO'S CAMPAIGN ENDS
The final day of the campaign in Ontario for the election of members of the Provincial parliament is notable for the unprecedented activity on all sides. The fact that a referendum issue is to be taken on the same day as the general election has served to add immeasurably to the interest manifested by the public in the battle of the ballots next Monday.

Both the "Pro" and "Con" sides have exerted themselves to the utmost during the campaign, largely because

ALL PHONOGRAPHS IN ONE

What Shape IS a Horn?

Made in Canada

Did you ever hear of a horn or a megaphone that was square? Do you know why they never send water through a square pipe? Every phonograph or talking machine has a "horn," but they call them "amplifiers." They are really the megaphones of the machine. It is their duty to round out the tone and send it to the listeners.

Now what shape do you think this "horn" should be to give the best "tone"—and what do you think it should be made of—resonant, vibrating metal or wood—built on the violin principle?

Before you buy any phonograph, find out the SHAPE of the horn and WHAT IT IS MADE OF.

One of the secrets of the Brunswick's wonderful tone on ALL records is the exclusive patented OVAL tone chamber and throat—BUILT ENTIRELY OF WOOD, like a fine violin.

It actually DOES eliminate all harshness, all the stridency, and that "tinny" timbre that we have always thought a necessary evil of the old style "Talking Machines."

All we ask is that you use your own ears—your own judgment—see this wonderful improvement with your own eyes—compare it with anything you like—at any price.

You cannot afford to make a mistake, and it costs you nothing to be sure.

Remember, the Brunswick Horn is Built Entirely of Wood.

YANKEE SPOUTERS

The ways of the Ontario Referendum Committee are seemingly not the ways of the average straight-forward Canadian, and its members have a right to say that they know their own business best. Nevertheless we should have thought that common decency would have deterred them from bringing in a coterie of loud-mouthed American carpet-baggers to instruct the electors of Ontario how to cast their ballots on October 20th.

The Yankee prohibition spouter has never permitted truth to interfere with anything he wished to utter in the way of highly colored abuse, and in some cases his invective has gained in force from private use of the stimulants he denounces. We are not making the charge of secret intemperance against any of the carpet-baggers who have been imported to give life to the present campaign, but their attacks do not gain especial credit from the fact that the orators have been apparently sober when they uttered them.

It is incontrovertible that a drinking man who gave expression to the blasphemies with which Billy Sunday colored his discourse in opening the Ontario campaign a few weeks ago, would have been ejected from any licensed bar in days past; and though the strangers who have followed him do not specialize in blasphemy the commoner vice of untruth has been prevalent among them.

For instance there has come from Iowa, the fountainhead of the anti-British movement in the United States at the present time, a Mr. Holmapple, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of that State, who beguiled a recent Sabbath after noon in Toronto by saying that "the membership of the citizens Liberty League were the same old liquor traffic, the same old automobile devil, horns, hoof, smell and all."

This kind of vaudeville no doubt amused some listeners, but we doubt whether the rolling stones who come here to abuse decent Canadians gather much moss in the shape of votes. The names of the leading figures in the Citizens' Liberty League, from that the honorary president, Sir Edmund Osler, down, are well known to the community. Anyone who asserts that they have anything to do with the liquor traffic or desire to bring back the old-fashioned bar is a common or garden prevaricator. They are men whose names are free from the reproach of double dealing or over-reaching their neighbors, which is the name of the leading figures in the Citizens' Liberty League, from that the honorary president, Sir Edmund Osler, down, are well known to the community.

Speaking at a luncheon and meeting of the Essex County Automobile Club recently, General Manager of the Detroit Automobile Club, in his remarks asked the co-operation of all motorists with the police in the prevention of motor accidents.

"In former years," he said, "it had been the general custom of Automobile Clubs to fight with the Legislature, and consequently there was a large increase in reckless driving a carelessness. But we have learned a lesson, and are earnestly co-operating with the police. It is my opinion that 90 per cent of the infraction of the traffic laws and causes of accidents can be laid to the lack of courtesy."

"We business men teach courtesy in our homes and practise it and demand it in our business, but the moment we get out on the street as our citizens, we forget such a thing exists and expect the other fellow must get out of our road. This is a mistake. Let us practise courtesy and consideration for the other fellow, and we will get some in return. On the other hand when the reckless driver cannot be reached and taught safety in that way do it in another way, by bringing them to justice. Every member of the Automobile Club should organize itself into a committee of one to see that all offenders of traffic rules and ordinances be haled into court and heavily fined. By this means and by educating the people in the ways of safety we will get safety, but to make it permanent we must keep after it for 52 weeks in the year."

According to the Athletic Director of the Y.M.C.A. with the Belgium Army a remarkable revival of sports is taking place throughout Belgium. There is a striking absence of professionalism and the Belgium Sports Federation makes a strong point of sport for its own sake. Wrestling and boxing are popular, and both officers and men are taking lessons at every opportunity.

The Yankee prohibition spouter has never permitted truth to interfere with anything he wished to utter in the way of highly colored abuse, and in some cases his invective has gained in raucousness from private use of the stimulants he denounces. We are not making the charge of secret intemperance against any of the carpet-baggers who have been imported to give life to the present campaign, but their attacks do not gain special credit from the fact that the orators have been apparently sober when they uttered them.

The names of the leading figures in the Citizens Liberty League, from that the honorary president, Sir Edmund Osler, down, are well known to the community. Anyone who asserts that they have anything to do with the liquor traffic or desire it to flourish in the old-fashioned bar is a common or garden prevaricator. They are men whose names are free from the reproach of double dealing or over-reaching their neighbors, which is more than can be said of some of their opponents in this "Yes" or "No" campaign. If ten thousand carpet-baggers came from across the line to denounce them, they would not suffer in the estimation of those who know them.

Surely the time has come when Canada can settle her own domestic affairs without assistance from strangers of no very high repute in their own country. The impulse which prompted the Ontario Referendum Committee to spend thousands of dollars in circulating an elaborate material lie to the effect that a split vote, that is to say, a vote of "Yes" on one question and "No" on another, spoiled the ballot, no doubt came from the same source. It is a favorite trick used by political heelers in the United States to induce the ignorant elector to vote the whole Democratic or the whole Republican ticket as the case may be. The glimpses we have had of imported Anti-Saloon League tactics in this campaign justify the low repute which that organization enjoys among all thinking Americans.

"In former years," he said, "it had been the general custom of Automobile Clubs to fight police legislation, and consequently there was a big increase in reckless driving a carelessness. But we have learned a lesson, and are earnestly co-operating with the police. It is my opinion that 90 per cent of the infraction of the traffic laws and causes of accidents can be laid to the lack of courtesy."

"We business men teach courtesy in our homes and practice it and demand it in our business, but the moment we get out on the streets in our cars we forget such a thing exists and repeat the other fellow must get out of our road. This is a mistake. Let us practise courtesy and consider Xarion for the other fellow, and we will get some in return. On the other hand when the reckless drivers cannot be reached and taught safety in that way do it in another way, by bringing them to justice. Every member of the Automobile Club should regard himself into a committee of one to see that all offenders of traffic rules and ordinances be haled into court and heavily fined. By this means and by educating the people in the ways of safety we will get safety, but to make it permanent we must keep after it for 52 weeks in the year."

According to the Athletic Director of the Y.M.C.A. with the Belgium army a remarkable revival of sports is taking place throughout Belgium. There is a striking absence of professionalism and the Belgium Sports Federation makes a strong point of sport for its own sake. Wrestling and boxing are popular, and both officers and men are taking lessons at every opportunity.

The Soul of a Vision

So then—
My part is ended. Other men,
And women, too, still play their part,
With courage resolute and dauntless heart.

My broken comrade—
Seared by scars that time can not efface,
Is not the jest of fortune; for his aid
A nation's mighty forces doth provide.

And those who live—
To carry on our story down the years,
Face not their "quiet days" in bitter pain;
(Forgotten, now they've stilled the nation's fears)
Dwarfed by the lust of pride and selfish gain.

My Canada—
Thou fair land for whom great love
Inspired my youth to ancient sacrifice;
Grant that our serried ranks in realms above
May witness bear thee, worthy of the Price.

To Pay Debts of Honour

To the Dead and to the richness of their dying, we must give pause, and in humility confess a debt beyond redemption.

Before the altar of their sacrifice, Canada is consecrated to make its dominion worthy. The Torch that illumines Victory so dearly bought, must burn eternally. Each year of peace must record an added lustre to our heritage.

But to those who have come back in suffering, Canada owes a debt which money can, in part, repay.

It is a Debt of Honour. Canada was pledged to the end, that the wounded and the sick be adequately cared for, until they were fairly fitted for the competitive existence of civil life.

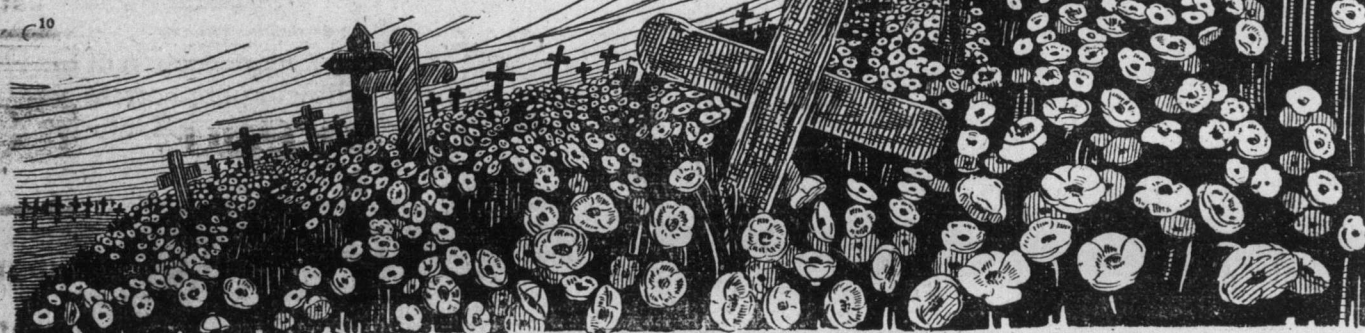

For this purpose, our medical services, and our vocational training schools must be maintained until the need for them is no more.

These, then, are some of the purposes for which the Victory Loan 1919 is being raised. Other purposes are told about in other announcements.

As you read them, the conviction will grow upon you of the absolute necessity for the

The Secret Phone

By Outila Frances Pfeiffer

(Copyright, 1918, by Western Newspaper Union.)

"If I do what you ask me, and the company finds it out, I'll lose my job."
"Then I will get you a better one."
"I know you pretty near run things," admitted Mark Seton, telephone line repairer, "but you are asking me to break the rules of the company."
"I'll mend them up later," airily declared Jasper Worrell. "If it ever does get out the men will call it cleverness, and the ladies will hail you as a loyal emissary of the love god, Cupid."

Jasper Worrell, manager of the local telephone line, had got the devoted Seton his position, but he was asking his humble pensioner to do a good deal for him. Jarvis had directed him to tap a wire leading into the home of Robert Brooks, to carry it to a certain secluded closet in the house, and put in a receiver, all the time posing as a workman engaged in testing and repairing the regular phone wire.

Here was the situation: The father of charming Blanche Brooks had been defeated in the local mayoralty contest the year previous by Jasper's father. Bitterly Brooks had resented the success of his political rival. He refused to speak to any of the Worrell family. When he heard that young Worrell and his daughter had been seen together on the street, he commanded her forthwith to have no further communication with the son of his enemy. Blanche was a dutiful daughter. Jasper was all but engaged to her. Blanche met him just once and sorrowfully advised him that their dream of happiness was blighted.

"Never, no; abandon the thought!" declared Jarvis in his forceful, confident way. "Leave it all to me, dear Blanche. I've won you underhandedly as I am to be so blessed. I'll win over your father, too. Don't talk over that rubbish of patiently waiting two years until you are of age. Leave it all to me. Within two months I shall be sure to see you three times a week, with Father Brooks smiling a welcome."

"But never to see you for eight whole long weeks!" murmured Blanche. "Never to talk with you!"
"Dismiss that erroneous impression," directed Jarvis buoyantly. "We shall have the sweetest, coziest, most blissful chats every evening of our lives, and four times a day, if you wish." Insisted Jarvis, "and here's my plan."

It was a daring one, and it quite scared Blanche. A secret telephone was to be installed in a secluded room next to, and communicating with Blanche's own apartment. All the art and science expert Mark Seton could employ was to be utilized in having a phone with no bell call. A mere click would call Blanche at the other end of the line at an agreed on time. The only caution to be exercised was to be certain that in talking to one another no one should overhear them.

And so Mark Seton, selecting an occasion when Mr. Brooks was absent from home, duly installed the secret telephone, and all Blanche had to do was to look the door of her room, go into the next apartment, give the signal and in low-voiced converse those two revealed in renewed love making and tenderness.

All this brought them no closer in actual contact, nor did it seem to Blanche that her stubborn, determined father was being made more approachable. "Don't worry on that score," encouraged Jarvis one afternoon. "I'm working hard on that end of the proposition. Be at the phone at 8 o'clock to the minute this evening, and I'll be ready to announce the program that is going to win over Father Brooks in a jiffy."

Through the misadventure of a delay at the house of a girl friend taken suddenly ill Blanche did not get home by 8 o'clock that evening. At just that hour Mr. Brooks, passing through the upper hall, noticed an open window in her room and the rain blowing in. He entered and closed it, and just then a suspicious sound directed him to the unused apartment beyond. A series of clicks echoed, then indistinct sounds, as of some one speaking in a low tone.

"Hello!" ejaculated Mr. Brooks in amazement, as, tracing the sound, he discovered the secret telephone behind an old wardrobe. He picked up the receiver. At once the words were swept to his startled hearing!

"It's all right, Blanche. I've fixed everything. My father declines to run again for mayor. I have got in my work with the fusion people on a compromise candidate. As I can swing all our workers I can elect Father Brooks. I'm one of the committee coming to apprise him of the situation in the next hour. Kiss your Jarvis, dear. Good by."

"Father Brooks! Kiss your Jarvis!" The audacious young reprobate. And there Robert Brooks smiled. He rather chuckled as he discerned the cleverness of this irresistible son of an enemy who had undermined his ridiculous obstinacy.

He was smiling still as Blanche, hurrying and breathless, nearly ran into him in the next room.

"Ob, father!" she gasped.
"Ob, father!" chorused her sister. "And, Ob, Jarvis! As possible future mayor of this thriving municipality, I think I shall make that clever young man my prime minister!"

Women's disorders always yield from the very beginning of the treatment, to the mild but effective action of Orange Lily. Within two or three days after commencing its use the improvement becomes noticeable, and this improvement continues until the patient is completely cured. The Way to say "No"

Mark Your Ballot with an X after Each Question under the word "No."

1	Are you in favour of the repeal of the Ontario Temperance Act?	YES	NO

2	Are you in favour of the sale of light beer containing not more than two and fifty-one one-hundredths per cent alcohol weight measure through Government agencies and amendments to The Ontario Temperance Act to permit such sale?	YES	NO

3	Are you in favour of the sale of light beer containing not more than two and fifty-one one-hundredths per cent alcohol weight measure in standard hotels in local municipalities that by a majority vote favour such sale and amendments to The Ontario Temperance Act to permit such sale?	YES	NO
			X
4	Are you in favour of the sale of spirituous and malt liquors through Government agencies and amendments to The Ontario Temperance Act to permit such sale?	YES	NO
			X

Above is an exact reproduction of the Referendum ballot, showing the correct way to Vote in order to sustain the Ontario Temperance Act as it stands.

Everybody should study the four questions and realize exactly what they mean. Do not be misled by the insidious demand for "light" beer.

The beer of the ballot is 118% stronger than the Ontario Temperance Act now allows, and over five times as strong as the limit allowed for beer defined as non-intoxicating in Great Britain and the United States.

Must Answer Each Question

1. Unless you vote on every question your ballot is spoiled.
2. You must mark your answer to each question with an "X" only. Anything else would spoil your ballot.
3. Unless a majority vote "No" on question 1 the bars will be restored and the sale of all kinds of intoxicants permitted.
4. Unless a majority vote "No" on questions 2, 3 and 4 the Ontario Temperance Act will become almost worthless.
5. The only SAFE course is to mark your ballot as shown above.

"No!"—Four Times—"No!"

No repeal; No government beer shops; No beer saloons; No government whiskey shops.—Four X's, each under the word "No."

Heavy Vote Is Being Polled.

POSSIBILITY THAT LIBERAL LEADER DEW. FEATED BY GOODERHAM—BECK H SITION IN LONDON—REFERENDUM SPLENDID ORGANIZATION IN TORO "NO" MAJORITY IS EXPECTED.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 20.—Indications early in the day were for a heavy vote in Toronto. At some of the polls, the voters were coming so steadily that they struck a ratio of one to every two minutes for the first hour. Experienced campaigners declare that to be quite unusual and if the later hours of the day show a speeding up on that ratio there will be a tremendous vote registered.

The pep and the organization in the campaign is largely supplied by the referendum committee, the "Four No's workers". They have hundreds of women acting as scrutineers both inside and outside. Women who never were near a polling booth before, who never touched a ballot paper, went out in the morning darkness to-day and took their places in the booths almost like seasoned veterans guarding the polls in the interests of the drys.

It is asserted that the forces were never so well and thoroughly organized as they are in this campaign and a big Toronto majority of four No's is predicted. The referendum committee has hundreds of motor cars speeding over the city streets carrying voters to the polls. All these were volunteer workers. Men with business interests took the day off in order to serve the cause, and drove their cars where the women scrutineers directed them to go to get the ballots. The temperance workers had the party workers as well as the Liberty Leaguers backed off the map when it came to seal and energy and enthusiasm.

A canvass of almost the entire city has been made in the last few weeks by women workers. Consequently the outside scrutineers at each poll had a typed list of the voters at his or her poll with certain markings opposite each name. Those favorable to the drys were so marked and they were the voters that had to be routed out.

The referendum committee cars were used to good advantage in bringing out the vote of the old folks and these travelling bellies Beck will be returning voters were sure "No." Referendum committee workers also went from poll to poll to see that every polling booth had its scrutineers both inside and out.

Of all ten Toronto seats probably there is more interest evidenced in the battle between H. H. Dewar and G. H. Gooderham. Rumors were rife that the Liberal leader and his followers were very dubious as to the result, and that in some quarters the return of Gooderham was conceded.

PROHIBITION MEETING C NOT BE HELD LAST

Young Men Disapproving of Objects of Prohibition Prevent Speaking From Platform.

MEETING AT IMPERIAL.

On Sunday evening a public meeting was held at the Imperial Theatre.

The purpose of the public gathering was to present the case of the prohibition provided by the O.T.A. Mr. Peter Webster, of Elmira, was to have been the speaker for the occasion. Unforeseen events made it impossible to give the address.

Shortly after eight o'clock a big audience assembled in the theatre. At about 8.30 o'clock the chairman, Mr. N. B. Detweiler who with Mr. Webster was on the platform, called upon local artists to contribute several vocal numbers. These were rendered and were apparently appreciated by the audience.

The chairman then announced that the meeting as all probably knew had been called in the interest of prohibition and said that Mr. Peter Webster, of Elmira, would discuss the question and presented the case in his able manner.

Mr. Webster stepped forward and began his address. Everything went well for several minutes. Then it became apparent that there were quite
