NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Municipal Council of the City of London, at its session held on the 12th day of July, 1897, adopted the following motion:

Whereas resolutions have been passed by the respective municipal councils of the village of London West and the city of London, affirming the expediency of the annexation of the said village to the said city upon certain terms agreed to and approved by the said councils under which the said village shall form part of ward No. 2 of the said city, and it is probable that such annexation will take place during the present year; and whereas the corporation of the city of London is the owner of various parcels of land within the portions of the respective adjacent townships of London and Westminster hereinafter mentioned; and whereas it is expedient that a new division into wards shall be made of that part of the said city of London now constituting wards Nos. 2 and 6 thereof, with the addition of a portion, hereinafter described, of the adjacent township of Westminster and a portion hereinafter described of the adjacent township of London, which portions of the said townships of Westminster and London, in view of the probable future exigencies of the said city, it is desirable to add thereto, and that the said part of the said city, with such additions, shall be divided into two wards as hereinafter mentioned.

Be it resolved by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of London as follows:

That it is expedient that a new division into wards shall be made of that part of the said city of London now forming wards Nos. 2 and 6 thereof, with the addition of that part of the adjacent township of Westminster, hereinafter described, and that part of the adjacent township of London, hereinafter described, and that the said part of the said city, with the said additional parts of the said townships shall be divided into two wards, to be called respectively the second ward and the sixth ward.

The second ward to comprise all that part of the said city now comprising the second ward thereof and that part of the township of London which is described as follows:

And his Honor the Lieutenant-Governor is hereby requested to add to the city of London the said respective parts of the adjacent townships of London and Westminster, and to divide the said part of the said city, with such additional parts of the said townships, into two wards, as hereinbefore mentioned, upon such terms as his Honor the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council sees fit and this council may consent to.

AN OLD MASON DEAD.

There was buried at Wolverton on July 27, probably one of the oldest Masons in Canada, in the person of Thomas Mitchell. He was nearly 89 years of age, and was one of the best-known men in that locality. At the age of 21 years he became a member of a Masonic lodge, and was, therefore, at the time of his death a Mason for 67 years. He was a member of Blenheim Lodge, No. 108, at Drumbo, where for many years he acted as tyler.

THE TROUBLE IN INDIA.

London, July 29.—The uprising in the Swat Valley has led the government to adopt the policy of suppression toward the native agitators, who, in speeches and through the native press, have for a long time been endeavoring to promote the spirit of revolt. In pursuance of this policy a number of arrests have already been made, and others are expected to follow. A number of houses have been searched, with the result that the police have found arms concealed, though the owners have departed for parts unknown.

KING LEOPOLD ATTACKED.

Brussels, July 29.—There was a lively scene in the Belgian Chamber of Representatives during the debate on the reorganization of the civil guard. When the clause which provides for the oath of obedience to the king was reached, Deputy Demblon (socialist) protested, and began to make a violent personal attack upon King Leopold, who, he said, had compromised himself by playing at being a German admiral during a recent visit to Kiel. A prolonged uproar ensued. Demblon was twice called to order, but persisted in attacking the king. The president of the chamber then called for a vote of censure upon the offending deputy, which was passed by 74 to 17.

Joseph Chamberlain has received a dispatch from her Majesty's high commissioner at the Cape, stating that in the fighting at Fort Martin, near Hartley, South Africa, on Sunday, the noted chief, Mashingombi, was slain, and between 400 and 500 of his followers were taken prisoners. The government forces occupied all the positions at Marlies Kraal, where they captured more than 100 prisoners.

A dispatch from Fort Salisbury says that the British forces took the natives completely by surprise. When charge was made on the stockades natives fled to their caves, in they were afterwards captured. Mashingombi's main cave being destroyed with dynamite. Mashingombi was wounded in the attack and died soon after being made prisoner. Two bullets made of solid gold were found after the fight.

NEW CRIME.

Berlin, July 29.—A curious misdemeanor has been established by a criminal court here. A professional marksman was arraigned before the court for mortally wounding his fiance with a pistol while performing the William Tell trick.

The judge sentenced him to six months' imprisonment for "pandering to the popular lust for excitement."

An Awful Slaughter.

More Than 3,000 Men Killed in One Battle.

A Force of 10,000 Fanatics Overwhelmed the Brazilian Troops.

Whole Brigades of Soldiers Swept Down and Destroyed.

New York, July 29.—A dispatch to the Herald from Rio Janeiro, Brazil, says that authentic information has reached that city to the effect that more than 3,000 soldiers have been killed in a big battle near the site of Canudos.

The fanatics, numbering more than 10,000 men, all well armed, attacked the government troops. Whole brigades of the soldiers were swept down and destroyed, trampled under foot as the victorious fanatics with wild shouts of triumph passed over them. The full extent of the loss of life cannot be told. There is no reasonable doubt however, that the loss in killed on both sides is

MORE THAN THREE THOUSAND.

For miles the ground around Canudos is strewn with the dead and dying, the government troops being compelled to leave their dead on the field and flee to save themselves from complete destruction by the avalanche of fanatics.

When the report of the awful battle reached Rio Janeiro it was considered by the president and ministry, and it was decided to send the minister of war to the scene next week with 4,000 men, who are now gathering. They will carry with them a store of ammunition, and will endeavor to dislodge the fanatics from the position they now hold.

A LONG STRUGGLE.

Fighting has been in progress at Canudos for several weeks. In the meantime, while the fanatics fought apparently with little heart, they have been gathering their forces in all directions. The result was the final attack on the government troops, which led to such awful results.

THE COLONIES.

"A Bad Harvest at the Colonial Office" Newfoundland Affairs.

London, July 29.—Sir Louis H. Davies has finished argument in favor of the Canadian government contention in respect to Belgian and German treaties matter before the law officers of the crown. He took the ground that these treaties should not stand in the way of Canada according preferential treatment to Great Britain. The decison of the officers has been reserved.

The London Post says that at the conferences between Sir William V. Whiteway, premier of Newfoundland, and Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, excluding the French shore question, which is in abeyance, it is believed that three important matters were discussed. First, the ratification of the Bond-Blaine convention; second, the withholding of the imperial assent to the act to amend the election act of 1889, and, third, the question of imperial and colonial subsidies to the Messrs. Allan for carrying the mails. In regard to the first it is believed that before long the government will ratify the convention. As to the second, it is believed that the bill will be submitted to the law officers of the crown without delay, and will probably be sanctioned; and regarding the third, it is understood that the subsidies will be reduced to half of the amounts formerly paid.

The Daily News (Liberal) gives prominence to an article under the caption of "A bad harvest at the colonial office." The paper says: "Cultivating the colonial premiers seems to have led to results as meagre as plowing the sea sands. Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and the premiers met repeatedly. There were acres of talk, but, if report may be trusted, the harvest was nil. From all accounts the treasury will not be asked to find a single shilling to support any Pan-Britannic scheme. The zollverein has been buried, and the Pacific cable must be looked for in limbo. No colonial representatives will sit in the British Parliament. Nevertheless, we are told that the premiers and Mr. Chamberlain are so satisfied with their meeting that they opine that a similar conference every few years will be a good thing. We doubt if they are saying this seriously. The barrenness of the jubilee conference will make it hard for any colonial secretary to again induce the colonies to send their premiers to London. If it be true that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian premier, has not obtained a promise that the German and Belgian treaties will be denounced, while at the same time the Australasian and Natalian bills for excluding aliens have not received the royal assent, we will soon hear complaints from the west and south, and the colonial belief in Mr. Chamberlain as the ideal secretary will be strained."

Night of Terror.

How the Cambria Came to Grief on Lake Huron.

Parts of the Cargo and Cabin Being Washed Ashore.

Statements of the Passengers—Names of the Canadians on Board the Ill-fated Craft.

The following additional particulars of the disaster to the Cambria, which was wrecked Tuesday night (as already stated in The Advertiser) have been received:

The Cambria left Detroit Tuesday noon with 100 passengers for Sault Ste. Marie, and was wrecked three miles north of Sarnia.

The following story of the wreck was gathered from a crowd of about 20 of the passengers.

PASSENGERS' STORY.

"When we left Sarnia, the purser was overheard to say to Capt. Hill that he had better wait until morning before venturing out into the lake, but evidently the captain did not agree with the purser, and the boat started on her trip. On reaching the lake, the vessel commenced to roll heavily, but the captain pushed on. On the way up the lakes, a raft of logs was passed in safety. After going about ten miles out into the lake, the captain changed his mind, and turned the boat around, and started back toward Sarnia.

"By this time most of the passengers had turned in, and only a few were on deck. Shortly after 1 o'clock the boat struck a drift of logs, and a hole was made in her bow, the logs clinging to the boat, and completely surrounding her. In attempting to back out of the logs, the steamer's wheel became broken, and the vessel lay helpless in the water, and at the mercy of the wind and waves.

RAN FROM THE STATE-ROOMS.

"The shock of striking the logs aroused the passengers, who ran from their state-rooms in their night clothes, and for a few minutes it seemed as if a panic would ensue, but some of the cooler heads prevailed upon the more panic-stricken ones, and order was restored, and the passengers were persuaded to return to their state-rooms and dress themselves. This they did, and put their baggage in order to be taken out, as soon as occasion offered.

"The vessel then commenced to drift toward the Canadian shore. The logs clung to the boat, and kept up a constant pounding and thumping on the boat's sides. This was kept up for about a half hour, when suddenly the vessel struck something, stopped short, and leaned over on one side, with the waves breaking over her.

LIGHTS WENT OUT.

"To make matters worse, the straining of the vessel when she struck burst a steam pipe leading to the electric light dynamo, and the lights went out, leaving the boat in utter darkness. The passengers then became panic-stricken in earnest, as the water was breaking over the vessel, and the escaping steam was thought by many to be the sound of water pouring into the boat.

"The captain, for a moment, seemed at a loss what to do in this emergency, but one or two of the passengers did not lose their heads, and this reassured the captain, who ordered the passengers to don the life-preservers. This giving them something to do, cased their minds somewhat, and a panic was again averted.

"At this time no one of the passengers was aware that the boat was on the beach in about eight or ten feet of water, and within about 200 feet of perfect safety, and dry land. Everything was enveloped in Egyptian darkness, and nothing whatever could be seen. The logs still kept pounding at the vessel's side, as if they were bound to stave it in. This state of affairs was kept up for about two hours, the captain refusing point blank to launch any boats until daybreak.

SHOUT OF JOY.

"As soon as it commenced to get light the work of transferring the passengers to the shore was commenced, and when the first load reached the shore in safety, a shout of joy went up, both from the shore and those remaining on the boat. It was but a short time until all the passengers were safely gathered on shore, and then the baggage was taken off."

The vessel now lies about a mile above Point Edward. It is thought she is so badly strained that she will never be refitted again. The Canadian shore at the foot of the lake is strewn with logs for a distance of a mile and a half or two miles.

A big sea was running down Lake Huron, and as the Cambria was lying broadside on the beach, the vessel was suffering a good deal of damage. It was reported that water was coming into the hold, and that if the sea continued the Cambia would be a bad wreck.

Large quantities of the cargo and parts of the cabin are being cast up by the big seas.

The captain of the Cambria says the raft towed by the Vigilant, into which he ran last night, had no lights on it, and he could not see it until his steamer had run among the logs. The Vigilant is owned by H. N. Loud.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT SAYS.

The wind was blowing hard and cold, and a great deal of discomfort was caused, while waiting for the baggage to be landed, several having been soaked in the lake. First Mate Cox and Second Mate McRae deserve a great deal of credit for the way they worked to save all. They appeared to be the most cool-headed of the crew. Very little luggage was lost, and only an umbrella and a hand satchel here and there are missing.

THE PASSENGERS.

The cabin passengers are from all over the western part, the greater number being from the States. The following are the passengers from Western Ontario points: F. Dutton, Ashfield; Rev. Mr. McKay, Goderich; Fred McDowall, Windsor; John Armstrong, Collingwood; H. B. Hutton, Dungannon; Kennett and Mrs. George Byron, Colchester; Eddie Small, Comber; T. P. Murray, Goderich; John Campbell, and Dan Finlayson, Kincardine; Miss Gertrude Copeland, Windsor, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Swaisland, London.

THE ILL-FATED VESSEL.

The Cambria was in charge of Capt. Charles Hill; John Doran, chief engineer. The vessel was built at Point Levis, Que., in 1877.

She is a side-wheeler of 404 tonnage, and at present is rated at A 2½. She was built for the Richelieu and Ontario Line. In 1888 she was rebuilt and lengthened 89 feet. She was rebuilt in 1889. She is now valued at $17,000, but is not insured for more than $12,000.

She was refitted and refurnished this spring, and some increase made in her accommodations for passengers. She had large, roomy cabins and state-rooms, and has been carrying a good many people northward this summer. She is about the same size as the Carmona, of the same line. The two make just one round trip a week each between Detroit and Windsor and the Soo.

Your Teeth will repay you a thousand-fold for all the care you give them, repay you by their beauty and their usefulness. Don't let them become discolored or decayed. Our fragrant Odontine keeps the teeth beautifully white. It removes tartar, destroys fermentation (the cause of decay), makes the gums firm, rosy and healthy. RAILWAY RUMBLINGS.

Trainmen Forbidden to Flirt — Fast Run on the M. C. R.

Grand Trunk earnings from July 15 to 21, 1897, $390,762; 1896, $356,580; increase, $34,182.

Trainmen on one of the railroads traversing Indiana have been ordered to cease waving handkerchiefs at women along the line, and to desist from all flirtation.

The Windsor, Amherstburg and Lake Erie Railway has applied for a temporary injunction restraining the Sandwich, Windsor and Amherstburg road from extending its line. The Sandwich council some time ago granted the latter company permission to run its line to the town limits, and the directors commenced placing material for the extension.

There is considerable uneasiness among the employes of the Grand Trunk, eastern divison, over the action of the management in dismissing some three conductors, and it is said there are a number of others to follow. The conductors who have already received their notice have been, it is said, dismissed for non-compliance with the rules regarding the handling of tickets. Two of them run out of Montreal and one out of Toronto.

A Buffalo dispatch says: A fast run was made on the Michigan Central yesterday by the second section of the special train containing Christian Endeavor delegates. They had been annoyed by frequent delays west of Chicago, caused by washouts, and were in a hurry to reach Niagara Falls in time for breakfast. The wonderful feature of the run was the fast time made for such a great distance. From Windsor to St. Thomas, a distance of 112 miles, the time consumed was 126 minutes, but from St. Thomas to Falls View, an equal distance, the flat time was 112 minutes. The special was forced to slow down very often for bridges and crossings, but this time lost was not deducted. The passengers on the train were aware that fast time was being made. They had had a taste of slow roads, and the long trip from the coast had educated them to the point where better than a mile a minute could be appreciated. They saw the stations fly by and the line of poles with no space between them, and they knew they were going. The train made several spurts, but made no attempt to break a record. A strip of fivea miles was frequently done at the rate of 50 seconds. The arrival at Niagara Falls was in time for the morning meal.

HAD A ROUGH TRIP

The Storm On Lake Ontario Was a Very Severe One.

Kingston, Ont., July 29.—The steamer Hamilton arrived early yesterday morning. She left Toronto on Monday evening, and experienced a rough trip down the lake. The heavy seas continually washed over her, and many of the passengers had to leave their state rooms. Passengers for Port Hope had to be carried to Belleville. It took the steamer nine hours to run from Belleville to Kingston, owing to the wind. The night was so dark that at one time the steamer had to stop to find out where she was.

A DINNER PILL.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

NOTICE.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Municipal Council of the City of London, at its session held on the 12th day of July, 1897, adopted the following motion:

Whereas resolutions have been passed by the respective municipal councils of the village of London West and the city of London, affirming the expediency of the annexation of the said village to the said city upon certain terms agreed to and approved by the said councils under which the said village shall form part of ward No. 2 of the said city, and it is probable that such annexation will take place during the present year; and whereas the corporation of the city of London is the owner of various parcels of land within the portions of the respective adjacent townships of London and Westminster hereinafter mentioned; and whereas it is expedient that a new division into wards shall be made of that part of the said city of London now constituting wards Nos. 2 and 6 thereof, with the addition of a portion, hereinafter described, of the adjacent township of Westminster and a portion hereinafter described of the adjacent township of London, which portions of the said townships of Westminster and London, in view of the probable future exigencies of the said city, it is desirable to add thereto, and that the said part of the said city, with such additions, shall be divided into two wards as hereinafter mentioned.

Be it resolved by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of London as follows:

That it is expedient that a new division into wards shall be made of that part of the said city of London now forming wards Nos. 2 and 6 thereof, with the addition of that part of the adjacent township of Westminster, hereinafter described, and that part of the adjacent township of London, hereinafter described, and that the said part of the said city, with the said additional parts of the said townships shall be divided into two wards, to be called respectively the second ward and the sixth ward.

The second ward to comprise all that part of the said city now comprising the second ward thereof and that part of the township of London which is described as follows:

MANITOBA'S MAGNIFICENT HARVEST.

Winnipeg, Man., July 25.—Manager Whyte, of the C. P. R., speaking of the crop prospects, says the returns from all growing districts, both in the province and territories, speak hopefully of a bountiful harvest, and everywhere farmers are anticipating a much bigger yield than last year.

AN OLD MASON DEAD.

There was buried at Wolverton on July 27, probably one of the oldest Masons in Canada, in the person of Thomas Mitchell. He was nearly 89 years of age, and was one of the best-known men in that locality. At the age of 21 years he became a member of a Masonic lodge, and was, therefore, at the time of his death a Mason for 67 years. He was a member of Blenheim Lodge, No. 108, at Drumbo, where for many years he acted as tyler.

PALMYRA ISLAND.

London, July 29.—With reference to the reported seizure by Great Britain of Palmyra Island, Polynesia, it is officially stated that the island has been British since 1888. The report is supposed to have arisen from the fact that H. M. S. Wild Swan called there last May on a periodical visit.

BRITAIN LEADS THEM ALL.

London, July 29.—The Vienna Neue Freie Presse publishes the report of an interview with Marquis Ito, formerly prime minister of Japan, in which the marquis scouts the idea that Russia will ever get ahead of Britain in Asia. So far as Japan is concerned, the marquis said: "The trade of other nations is of secondary importance, as compared with the trade of England."

CANADIAN APPEAL CASE.

London, July 29.—The judicial committee of the privy council has heard arguments in an important appeal against a judgment entered by the supreme court of Canada in October last year in proceedings between the attorney-general of Canada on the one side, and on the other the attorneys-general of Ontario, Quebec and Nova Scotia, relative to the jurisdiction over waters within the limits of the provinces.

THE LAMBETH CONFERENCE.

London, July 29.—The Archbishop of Canterbury has announced at the Lambeth conference that the bishops assembled passed a resolution recognizing the title of two Anglican archbishops in Canada—Machray and Lewis—and expressing the desirability of a similar dignity in connection with the church's work in South Africa. COMBINING AGAINST THE ENGINEERS.

London, July 29.—The manufacturers of bicycles have taken a hand in the lockout of the engineers. Twenty-one bicycle firms have joined the Employers' Federation and have posted notices in their shops, discharging 25 per cent of their employes who belong to the Society of Amalgamated Engineers. The executive committee of the Amalgamated Engineers has instructed the remaining 75 per cent of the members of the society to strike.

THE TROUBLE IN INDIA.

London, July 29.—The uprising in the Swat Valley has led the government to adopt the policy of suppression toward the native agitators, who, in speeches and through the native press, have for a long time been endeavoring to promote the spirit of revolt. In pursuance of this policy a number of arrests have already been made, and others are expected to follow. A number of houses have been searched, with the result that the police have found arms concealed, though the owners have departed for parts unknown.

KING LEOPOLD ATTACKED.

Brussels, July 29.—There was a lively scene in the Belgian Chamber of Representatives during the debate on the reorganization of the civil guard. When the clause which provides for the oath of obedience to the king was reached, Deputy Demblon (socialist) protested, and began to make a violent personal attack upon King Leopold, who, he said, had compromised himself by playing at being a German admiral during a recent visit to Kiel. A prolonged uproar ensued. Demblon was twice called to order, but persisted in attacking the king. The president of the chamber then called for a vote of censure upon the offending deputy, which was passed by 74 to 17.

FIGHTING IN AFRICA.

London, July 29.—Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain has received a dispatch from her Majesty's high commissioner at the Cape, stating that in the fighting at Fort Martin, near Hartley, South Africa, on Sunday, the noted chief, Mashingombi, was slain, and between 400 and 500 of his followers were taken prisoners. The government forces occupied all the positions at Marlies Kraal, where they captured more than 100 prisoners.

A dispatch from Fort Salisbury says that the British forces took the natives completely by surprise. When a charge was made on the stockades the natives fled to their caves, in which they were afterwards captured. Mashingombi's main cave being destroyed with dynamite. Mashingombi was wounded in the attack and died soon after being made prisoner. Two bullets made of solid gold were found after the fight.

A dispatch from Marseilles says that a violent storm is raging. The seas run mountain high, and all the mail steamers are overdue. All work in the harbor is suspended, but thus far no casualties have been reported.

NEW CRIME.

A Man Gets Six Months for "Pandering to the Popular Lust for Excitement."

Berlin, July 29.—A curious misdemeanor has been established by a criminal court here. A professional marksman was arraigned before the court for mortally wounding his fiance with a pistol while performing the William Tell trick.

An Awful Slaughter.

More Than 3,000 Men Killed in One Battle.

A Force of 10,000 Fanatics Overwhelmed the Brazilian Troops.

Whole Brigades of Soldiers Swept Down and Destroyed.

New York, July 29.—A dispatch to the Herald from Rio Janeiro, Brazil, says that authentic information has reached that city to the effect that more than 3,000 soldiers have been killed in a big battle near the site of Canudos.

The fanatics, numbering more than 10,000 men, all well armed, attacked the government troops. Whole brigades of the soldiers were swept down and destroyed, trampled under foot as the victorious fanatics with wild shouts of triumph passed over them. The full extent of the loss of life cannot be told. There is no reasonable doubt however, that the loss in killed on both sides is

MORE THAN THREE THOUSAND.

For miles the ground around Canudos is strewn with the dead and dying, the government troops being compelled to leave their dead on the field and flee to save themselves from complete destruction by the avalanche of fanatics.

When the report of the awful battle reached Rio Janeiro it was considered by the president and ministry, and it was decided to send the minister of war to the scene next week with 4,000 men, who are now gathering. They will carry with them a store of ammunition, and will endeavor to dislodge the fanatics from the position they now hold.

A LONG STRUGGLE.

Fighting has been in progress at Canudos for several weeks. In the meantime, while the fanatics fought apparently with little heart, they have been gathering their forces in all directions. The result was the final attack on the government troops, which led to such awful results.

THE COLONIES.

"A Bad Harvest at the Colonial Office" Newfoundland Affairs.

London, July 29.—Sir Louis H. Davies has finished argument in favor of the Canadian government contention in respect to Belgian and German treaties matter before the law officers of the crown. He took the ground that these treaties should not stand in the way of Canada according preferential treatment to Great Britain. The decison of the officers has been reserved.

The London Post says that at the conferences between Sir William V. Whiteway, premier of Newfoundland, and Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, excluding the French shore question, which is in abeyance, it is believed that three important matters were discussed. First, the ratification of the Bond-Blaine convention; second, the withholding of the imperial assent to the act to amend the election act of 1889, and, third, the question of imperial and colonial subsidies to the Messrs. Allan for carrying the mails. In regard to the first it is believed that before long the government will ratify the convention. As to the second, it is believed that the bill will be submitted to the law officers of the crown without delay, and will probably be sanctioned; and regarding the third, it is understood that the subsidies will be reduced to half of the amounts formerly paid.

The Daily News (Liberal) gives prominence to an article under the caption of "A bad harvest at the colonial office." The paper says: "Cultivating the colonial premiers seems to have led to results as meagre as plowing the sea sands. Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and the premiers met repeatedly. There were acres of talk, but, if report may be trusted, the harvest was nil. From all accounts the treasury will not be asked to find a single shilling to support any Pan-Britannic scheme. The Zollverein has been buried, and the Pacific cable must be looked for in limbo. No colonial representatives will sit in the British Parliament. Nevertheless, we are told that the premiers and Mr. Chamberlain are so satisfied with their meeting that they opine that a similar conference every few years will be a good thing. We doubt if they are saying this seriously. The barrenness of the jubilee conference will make it hard for any colonial secretary to again induce the colonies to send their premiers to London. If it be true that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian premier, has not obtained a promise that the German and Belgian treaties will be denounced, while at the same time the Australasian and Natalian bills for excluding aliens have not received the royal assent, we will soon hear complaints from the west and south, and the colonial belief in Mr. Chamberlain as the ideal secretary will be strained."

Night of Terror.

Parts of the Cargo and Cabin Being Washed Ashore.

Statements of the Passengers—Names of the Canadians on Board the Ill-fated Craft.

The following additional particulars of the disaster to the Cambria, which was wrecked Tuesday night (as already stated in The Advertiser) have been received:

The Cambria left Detroit Tuesday noon with 100 passengers for Sault Ste. Marie, and was wrecked three miles north of Sarnia.

The following story of the wreck was gathered from a crowd of about 20 of the passengers.

PASSENGERS' STORY.

"When we left Sarnia, the purser was overheard to say to Capt. Hill that he had better wait until morning before venturing out into the lake, but evidently the captain did not agree with the purser, and the boat started on her trip. On reaching the lake, the vessel commenced to roll heavily, but the captain pushed on. On the way up the lakes, a raft of logs was passed in safety. After going about ten miles out into the lake, the captain changed his mind, and turned the boat around, and started back toward Sarnia.

"By this time most of the passengers had turned in, and only a few were on deck. Shortly after 1 o'clock the boat struck a drift of logs, and a hole was made in her bow, the logs clinging to the boat, and completely surrounding her. In attempting to back out of the logs, the steamer's wheel became broken, and the vessel lay helpless in the water, and at the mercy of the wind and waves.

"The shock of striking the logs aroused the passengers, who ran from their state-rooms in their night clothes, and for a few minutes it seemed as if a panic would ensue, but some of the cooler heads prevailed upon the more panic-stricken ones, and order was restored, and the passengers were persuaded to return to their state-rooms and dress themselves. This they did, and put their baggage in order to be taken out, as soon as occasion offered.

"The vessel then commenced to drift toward the Canadian shore. The logs clung to the boat, and kept up a constant pounding and thumping on the boat's sides. This was kept up for about a half hour, when suddenly the vessel struck something, stopped short, and leaned over on one side, with the waves breaking over her.

LIGHTS WENT OUT.

"To make matters worse, the straining of the vessel when she struck burst a steam pipe leading to the electric light dynamo, and the lights went out, leaving the boat in utter darkness. The passengers then became panic-stricken in earnest, as the water was breaking over the vessel, and the escaping steam was thought by many to be the sound of water pouring into the boat.

"The captain, for a moment, seemed at a loss what to do in this emergency, but one or two of the passengers did not lose their heads, and this reassured the captain, who ordered the passengers to don the life-preservers. This giving them something to do, cased their minds somewhat, and a panic was again averted.

"At this time no one of the passengers was aware that the boat was on the beach in about eight or ten feet of water, and within about 200 feet of perfect safety, and dry land. Everything was enveloped in Egyptian darkness, and nothing whatever could be seen. The logs still kept pounding at the vessel's side, as if they were bound to stave it in. This state of affairs was kept up for about two hours, the captain refusing point blank to launch any boats until daybreak.

SHOUT OF JOY.

"As soon as it commenced to get light the work of transferring the passengers to the shore was commenced, and when the first load reached the shore in safety, a shout of joy went up, both from the shore and those remaining on the boat. It was but a short time until all the passengers were safely gathered on shore, and then the baggage was taken off."

The vessel now lies about a mile above Point Edward. It is thought she is so badly strained that she will never be refitted again. The Canadian shore at the foot of the lake is strewn with logs for a distance of a mile and a half or two miles.

A big sea was running down Lake Huron, and as the Cambria was lying broadside on the beach, the vessel was suffering a good deal of damage. It was reported that water was coming into the hold, and that if the sea continued the Cambia would be a bad wreck.

Large quantities of the cargo and parts of the cabin are being cast up by the big seas.

The captain of the Cambria says the raft towed by the Vigilant, into which he ran last night, had no lights on it, and he could not see it until his steamer had run among the logs. The Vigilant is owned by H. N. Loud.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT SAYS.

The wind was blowing hard and cold, and a great deal of discomfort was caused, while waiting for the baggage to be landed, several having been soaked in the lake. First Mate Cox and Second Mate McRae deserve a great deal of credit for the way they worked to save all. They appeared to be the most cool-headed of the crew. Very little luggage was lost, and only an umbrella and a hand satchel here and there are missing.

THE PASSENGERS.

The cabin passengers are from all over the western part, the greater number being from the States. The following are the passengers from Western Ontario points: F. Dutton, Ashfield; Rev. Mr. McKay, Goderich; Fred McDowall, Windsor; John Armstrong, Collingwood; H. B. Hutton, Dungannon; Kennett and Mrs. George Byron, Colchester; Eddie Small, Comber; T. P. Murray, Goderich; John Campbell, and Dan Finlayson, Kincardine; Miss Gertrude Copeland, Windsor, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Swaisland, London.

THE ILL-FATED VESSEL.

The Cambria was in charge of Capt. Charles Hill; John Doran, chief engineer. The vessel was built at Point Levis, Que., in 1877.

She is a side-wheeler of 404 tonnage, and at present is rated at A 2½. She was built for the Richelieu and Ontario Line. In 1888 she was rebuilt and lengthened 89 feet. She was rebuilt in 1889. She is now valued at $17,000, but is not insured for more than $12,000.

She was refitted and refurnished this spring, and some increase made in her accommodations for passengers. She had large, roomy cabins and state-rooms, and has been carrying a good many people northward this summer. She is about the same size as the Carmona, of the same line. The two make just one round trip a week each between Detroit and Windsor and the Soo.

RAILWAY RUMBLINGS.

Trainmen Forbidden to Flirt — Fast Run on the M. C. R.

Grand Trunk earnings from July 15 to 21, 1897, $390,762; 1896, $356,580; increase, $34,182.

Trainmen on one of the railroads traversing Indiana have been ordered to cease waving handkerchiefs at women along the line, and to desist from all flirtation.

The Windsor, Amherstburg and Lake Erie Railway has applied for a temporary injunction restraining the Sandwich, Windsor and Amherstburg road from extending its line. The Sandwich council some time ago granted the latter company permission to run its line to the town limits, and the directors commenced placing material for the extension.

There is considerable uneasiness among the employes of the Grand Trunk, eastern divison, over the action of the management in dismissing some three conductors, and it is said there are a number of others to follow. The conductors who have already received their notice have been, it is said, dismissed for non-compliance with the rules regarding the handling of tickets. Two of them run out of Montreal and one out of Toronto.

A Buffalo dispatch says: A fast run was made on the Michigan Central yesterday by the second section of the special train containing Christian Endeavor delegates. They had been annoyed by frequent delays west of Chicago, caused by washouts, and were in a hurry to reach Niagara Falls in time for breakfast. The wonderful feature of the run was the fast time made for such a great distance. From Windsor to St. Thomas, a distance of 112 miles, the time consumed was 120 minutes, but from St. Thomas to Falls View, an equal distance, the flat time was 112 minutes. The special was forced to slow down very often for bridges and crossings, but this time lost was not deducted. The passengers on the train were aware that fast time was being made. They had had a taste of slow roads, and the long trip from the coast had educated them to the point where better than a mile a minute could be appreciated. They saw the stations fly by and the line of poles with no space between them, and they knew they were going. The train made several spurts, but made no attempt to break a record. A strip of fivea miles was frequently done at the rate of 50 seconds. The arrival at Niagara Falls was in time for the morning meal.

HAD A ROUGH TRIP

The Storm On Lake Ontario Was a Very Severe One.

Kingston, Ont., July 29.—The steamer Hamilton arrived early yesterday morning. She left Toronto on Monday evening, and experienced a rough trip down the lake. The heavy seas continually washed over her, and many of the passengers had to leave their state rooms. Passengers for Port Hope had to be carried to Belleville. It took the steamer nine hours to run from Belleville to Kingston, owing to the wind. The night was so dark that at one time the steamer had to stop to find out where she was.

A DINNER PILL.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

After.... Taking

a course of Ayer's Pills the system is set in good working order and a man begins to feel that life is worth living. He who has become the gradual prey of constipation, does not realize the friction under which he labors, until the burden is lifted from him. Then his mountains sink into mole-hills, his moroseness gives place to jollity, he is a happy man again. If life does not seem worth living to you, you may take a very different view of it after taking

BASEBALL.

EASY FOR LONDON.

It was London's game yesterday from start to finish. The fact that Guelph's team has been materially strengthened since the last game here proved a drawing card, and one of the largest crowds seen at the Tecumseh Park this season witnessed the game, about 1,000 people being present—a large number, in view of the fact that the grocers' picnic was in progress. Busse, Flynn, and Murphy, the new players from Michigan, put up good ball—the kind that London appreciates. The visitors, however, were outplayed at every turn. Their stick work was poor, but Willie Kershaw was to blame for that, and Reid gave them no chances to steal. The home team's batting was good. Crowe's shoots were batted high and low, all over the lot, and in the eighth inning there was a display of fireworks that rattled the visitors, and netted London four runs.

London took the field first, and the visitors went to bat. In the first inning Guelph was blanked. They scored first in the second. Roberts and Congalton hit to Hickey, who gathered them in, Crowe hit safe to center, and McElroy followed with a hot grounder to Sippi, who made a beautiful stop, but failed to hold the ball. Congalton crossed the rubber, after which Slugger Murphy hit a high one to center, which Hickey gathered in. Busse scored in the fifth. McElroy scored the third one in the ninth. On an error of Ward he reached first base, and went to second on Reid's passed ball, scoring on Busse's long hit to center, which Hickey allowed to drop on account of the sun. Murphy flew to O'Brien, and Dark hit to Sippi, and died at first, where Crowe was the first victim of the last inning.

London put up an excellent game all the way through. The work of the infield was a great feature—Ward, Keenan, Sippi and Gunther bobbing up serenely every time occasion required. In the eighth Crowe was hammered unmercifully hard. Keenan hit under the signboard for two bags; Sechrist made a sacrifice, Ward hit a pop fly to second base, and Reid, Kershaw and Hickey placed the leather out of the reach of the outfield, piling up the quartet of runs. The following is the score:

JIMMY GREEN'S GALL.

Jimmy Green, from all accounts may have fewer friends in Guelph than Frank Snyder has in London. The Advocate says: "He has more nerve than a canal horse. For pure gall, unadulterated gall, and gall that would make the most untutored aborigine blush for shame, he takes the cake. Ananias takes a back seat when he steps to the front. He is the essence of deceit bottled and distilled. James Green, the one-time shortstop for the Leafs, is now here. He arrived this morning from Bay City, where he found the company several paces too hot for him. Fischer has also been presented with a notice that he has seen better days, and is now chopping in the Michigan backwoods. Yea, verily, the way of the contract jumper is hard."

FLYS.

Cockman has played in 11 games, and has 17 hits in 42 times at bat, a percentage of .404.

The Londons so far lead the league in batting and fielding.

Gunther has taken a quick drop in his batting in the last six games. In the 27 times at bat he has made only 6 hits.

Ward will probably lead the team in stolen bases for the season.

Malott, late of Hamilton, may sign with Guelph.

Reid had his first passed ball on the home grounds yesterday since joining the team. He had two at Hamilton on July 12, making three in all since coming to London.

Reid has played 15 games with London, and has a batting percentage, including yesterday's game, of .333. His fielding is .958. In the 15 games he has had 78 put outs, 15 assists and 4 errors. Frank Snyder would certainly have never put up such a good game.

The total amount paid in rain guarantees to the London team by Guelph is $120.

Norton has won every game that he has pitched for Toronto, seven in all.

Springfield has been successful in five of the nine games played against Toronto.

The Scranton team is reported to be losing money at the rate of $700 a month.

Sockalexis has been laid off by Cleveland for indifferent playing. The players demanded that the captain play some one else in right field. Tebeau admitted the justness of the complaint, and said he had tried every means to make Sox behave himself.

The Maple Leafs have signed Elmer Doty, the star pitcher of the Michigan League, who was largely instrumental in pulling the Lansing team from last place to second in the race. He is expected to report in Hamilton today.

The London West Stars were easily defeated by the London West Beavers, on the latter's grounds, by a score of 7 to 2. The feature of the game was a triple by the Beavers. Batteries — Beavers, Jenkins and Routledge; Stars, Andrews and Burgess.

BOWLING.

HAMILTON TAKES THE LABATT TROPHY.

The handsome trophy presented by Mr. John Labatt to the Western Ontario Bowlers' Association for annual competition, was yesterday afternoon won and lost for the second time, and for the next twelve months the coveted prize will ornament the rooms of the Hamilton bowlers. Last year the cup was won by the Victorias, of Toronto, who will not have to travel more than 39 miles to see their loss prize. Hamilton was obliging this year, and London didn't want to be selfish, so the local bowlers bowled the wrong way. The greatest interest centered in the match. Following were the results of the afternoon's play:

CRICKET.

JUDGES WIELD THE WILLOW.

Montreal, July 29.—An unusual cricket match was played Tuesday afternoon at the country place of R. D. McGibbon, Q.C., between the Bench and Bar and the members of Montreal's crack social club, The St. James. Among the judges playing cricket were Sir Melbourne Tait, Hon. J. A. Ouimet, Hon. C. P. Davidson. They easily defeated the St. James Club by seven wickets.

PHILLIES BADLY BEATEN.

London, July 29.—Kent won the match with the Philadelphians yesterday by an inning and nine runs. The latter made 454 runs in one inning.

BYES.

There will be no international cricket match between the United States and Canada this year. Most of the best men are away with the Philadelphia eleven in England.

Capt. George S. Patterson, of the touring Philadelphia team, had his hand laid open to the bone in an attempt to catch a hot drive, and he will be unable to play for a month.

WILL WIND UP.

The Stratford Turf Association has decided to wind up its affairs. The turf association was formed about four years ago, when the new race course and athletic grounds were constructed, and the races for the first three years were conducted under the direction of the turfmen, the grounds being rented annually from the Athletic Park Association. This year, however, the latter organization decided to run the races on its own hook, and having met with gratifying success, will continue to do so. This shuts the turf association out completely, hence the movement towards winding up its affairs. In the three years of the turf association's active existence it amassed a surplus of nearly $2,000. When everything is settled up this amount will be divided among the shareholders, who now number about 70. The necessary winding up steps will be taken at once, as a great many of the members also belong to the Athletic Park combination, and there now appears to be no necessity for the existence of more than one association.

POSTPONED.

The trotting races of the Listowel Turf Association, which were to have taken place yesterday and today, have been postponed until the fall meeting, on account of rain.

At Montreal, the Lepine Park trotting races were postponed on account of rain.

AT HAMILTON.

WHEEL.

$1,000 MATCH RACE.

Bay City, Mich., July 29.—The third heat of the $1,000 match race between Bald, Kiser and Cooper yesterday could not be run on account of rain. Bald won the first heat, Kiser the second, Cooper finished third in both heats. The race was run on the points system, making Bald and Kiser tie for first place, at 5 points. Time, 2:10 3-5, 2:19 3-5. The final heat will be run at Manhattan beach Saturday. Cooper started his sprint too soon in the first heat, and Bald, who was 20 feet in the rear, forged ahead just at the tape. In the second heat, Kiser led the sprint, and Bald could not overhaul him. In the one mile open, professional, Arthur Gardiner won, Barney Oldfield, second. Time, 2:20 1-5.

LAWN TENNIS.

INTERNATIONAL MATCH.

Boston, Mass., July 29.—One of the most interesting international tennis matches ever seen on this side of the water was played on Tuesday in the tournament of the Longwood cricket club at Longwood, and resulted in a victory for the American expert over his British opponent, after four brilliant sets had been played. William H. Larned, of Summit, N. J., on whom, it is said, rests the American hopes in retaining the United States championship at Newport next month, is the young man who proved too much for the ex-British champion, Harry Mahoney.

MUNYON CURED THESE PEOPLE--GO SEE THEM OR WRITE THEM.

Mr. John D. Wray, proprietor of the Britannia House, Wellington street, London, Ont., says: "For the past nine months I have suffered frequently with rheumatism of the hip. After using Munyon's Rheumatism Cure for a short time I was relieved, and desire to highly recommend that medicine."

Cured in One Month.

Mr. Bebee Carnaghan, retired farmer, Ellesmere, P. O., Ontario, says: "I was afflicted for ten months with dyspepsia, which caused vomiting of my food; also with obstinate constipation, frequently accompanied with violent cramps; cold sweats and prostrations were frequent. I tried several physicians, some of the best in Toronto, but without obtaining relief. After nearly a year's suffering I began using Munyon's Remedies, and improved from the start. After one month's treatment I gave up the remedies, and find myself cured. This was some time ago, and I have had no trouble since. I desire to express my gratitude for what Munyon's Remedies have done for me."

A Most Wonderful Remedy.

Mr. Emmanuel Harrison, a prominent and wealthy citizen of Brampton, Ont., says: "I suffered with rheumatism since last February, and the pain was so severe at times that I could not sleep. Munyon's Rheumatism Cure was recommended to me and I purchased a bottle; took three doses that night, and the next morning I felt greatly relieved. I have only used the one 25c bottle, and am now entirely cured. I consider this Rheumatism Cure the most wonderful remedy I ever heard of."

Munyon Relieves Suffering.

Mary A. Gitaly, Leaksdale, Scott township, Ontario, says: "I was quite a sufferer from stomach trouble, and everything that I ate caused me distress and pain. I began the use of Munyon's Remedies and in a short time my stomach became very much stronger, and I was again able to eat as usual."

Mrs. James Milligan, 288 Buller street, Woodstock, Ont., says: "I have suffered with catarrh and bronchial affection for the past sixteen years, and I was getting worse each year. I had lost considerable flesh, and was so weak I could scarcely walk across the floor. I doctored with several doctors, and tried everything I heard of, even getting medicine from New York. The last doctor told me he could do no more, for me, and I could not be cured. I felt I could not stand it much longer. I had a distressing cough, had to sit up in a chair night after night, and was, in fact, in a physical wreck. My family advised me to try Munyon's Remedies, but I had no faith. To please them I got the Cough Cure, Catarrh Cure and Catarrh Tablets. I noticed an improvement almost from the start. I am now feeling better in every way, and can do all my own work, walk a mile without feeling tired. My appetite is good, and I feel I am on the high road to recovery. I have not felt so well in nine years."

Munyon Alone Gave Relief.

Mr. Robert Howie, Gore road, East London, Ont., says: "I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia. All the remedies that I tried did me no good, except Munyon's. I take great pleasure in recommending your preparations."

Utmost Faith in Munyon.

Mr. T. H. Reed, 749 Palmerston avenue, Toronto, Canada, says: "I was suffering severely with kidney disease when I began treatment with the Munyon specialists, some three or four months ago. I also had very severe pain from stomach trouble. I used Munyon's Dyspepsia and Kidney Cures and before I had finished two bottles of each I was satisfied that both diseases had been cured. I have the utmost faith in the Munyon Remedies."

Quickly Broke Up a Cold.

Mr. Neal McLeod, 40 Turner avenue, Toronto, says: "I suffered from a severe cold for a week, and tried several remedies, but they afforded me no relief. I felt so badly I could hardly go out or attend to my duties. One bottle of Munyon's Cold Cure gave immediate relief, and I have not suffered since."

Mrs. Mary Moss, No. 260 Chestnut street, Toronto, Canada, says: "I have used Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure with splendid results. I was so bad with this disease that food would lie for hours on my stomach, causing me great pain and agon. I also had severe pains in my back, and was frequently troubled with sour stomach. I had to be extremely careful what I ate, but after using one vial of Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure I am now able to eat anything without distress afterwards. After suffering for years with this disease, it is a pleasure to be again able to eat anything I desire. Thanks to Munyon."

Dyspepsia Twenty Years.

Mr. Thomas Shaw, Merton, Ont., says: "I was troubled with dyspepsia and nervousness for twenty years. I tried everything that was advertised, and consulted many doctors, who did me no good. I began using Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure and Nerve Cure, and they have proved the best thing that I have ever used. I am feeling better than I have before in years."

Child Completely Cured.

Mrs. H. Snell, 222 Victoria street, Toronto, Canada, says: "I have used Munyon's Remedies for my infant boy, who was treated for swollen glands of the neck. When we began the treatment, his neck was very badly swollen on each side, and he was suffering great pain. We have used only two small vials of Munyon's Balm, and the child has been completely cured, and has been in splendid health since. I am daily recommending Munyon's Remedies."

Fever Promptly Checked.

Mr. T. C. Smith, well-known jeweler, 598 Queen street, Toronto, Canada, says: "We have used Munyon's Fever Cure with splendid results. A few weeks ago our little girl suffered from a high fever, and it was promptly checked by the use of Munyon's Fever Cure. The little one has now fully recovered. I have great confidence in Munyon's New System."

SHOT DEAD IN CHURCH.

Tragedy at a Colored Baptist Conference in Alabama.

St. Louis, Mo., July 29.—Mr. Patterson, editor of the colored paper at Montgomery, Ala., was shot dead at the colored Baptist conference yesterday.

Mr. Patterson was editor of the colored paper here, and the affair occurred in the Columbus Street Colored Baptist Church. A conference was in progress, and the admission of Brown, the deposed pastor of the Dexter Avenue Baptist Church, was under discussion. Patterson opposed Brown's admission, and Stokes, pastor of the Columbus Street Church, favored it. Hot words ensued. Patterson struck Stokes in the face, when the report of a pistol was heard, and Patterson fell dead. Several arrests were made, and there was great excitement among the negroes. Later a colored man named Pritchett was caught about a mile from town. He confessed to having shot Patterson, and is in jail.

STEAMER RATE WAR.

Passengers Are Offered $1 Bonus and a Meal.

Chicago, July 29.—Dinner a la carte and a bonus of $1 in silver await every man, woman and child who will ride in the steamers plying between Van Buren street and Windsor Park. And it is expected that Pop Powers, owner of the steamer Chief Justice Waite, will offer a dinner and $2 in silver to anyone who will venture across the gang-plank. This is the result of a vigorous rate war which has been in progress between the two rival companies running steamers from Van Buren street to Manhattan Beach. The fare was reduced to one cent for the round trip, but yesterday the two companies not only carried passengers free of charge, but paid them to boot and gave them a good dinner.

Manager B. L. Newman, of the Windsor Park and Manhattan Steamboat Companies is taking the lead in the bidding, and if Pop Powers makes another raise, it is very probable that the Klondike fever patients will do much better to remain here and ride up and down between Van Buren street and Windsor Park. Up to a week ago the steamers running between these two points were all controlled by a pool. But owing to the dissolution a rivalry began.

Convention of Muncipal Representatives to Consider the Whole Question.

Toronto Globe.

A convention of the municipal representatives will meet in Toronto, Sept. 9 and 10, to discuss the troublesome question of tax exemptions. The list of exemptions under the laws of Ontario, which follows, is a formidable one, and will give the convention ample food for discussion:

All property vested in or held by her Majesty, or vested in any public body or body corporate, officer or person in trust for her Majesty, or for the public uses of the province, and also all property vested in or held by her Majesty, or any other person or body corporate, in trust for or for the use of any tribe or body of Indians, and either unoccupied or occupied by some person in an official capacity.

Where any property mentioned in the preceding clause is occupied by any person otherwise than in an official capacity, the occupant shall be assessed in respect thereof, but the property itself shall not be liable.

Every place of worship, and land used in connection therewith, churchyard or burying ground. Provided, however, that land on which a place of worship is erected, and land used in connection with a place of worship, shall be liable to be assessed in the same way and to the same extent as other land, for local improvements hereafter made or to be made.

The buildings and grounds of and attached to every university, college, high school or other incorporated seminary of learning, whether vested in a trustee or otherwise, so long as such buildings and grounds are actually used and occupied by such institution, or if unoccupied, but not if otherwise occupied. Provided however, that the buildings and grounds of and attached to a university, college or other incorporated seminary of learning, whether vested in a trustee or otherwise, shall be liable to be assessed in the same manner and to the same extent as other land is assessed for local improvements hereafter made or to be made. This proviso does not apply to schools which are maintained in whole or in part by a legislative grant or school tax.

In addition to these there are some partial exemptions, such as mineral lands, farm lands in towns and villages, extensive vacant or partly vacant tracts in cities, towns and villages, and private parks and lawns.

Andree's Arctic Trip.

The Intrepid Explorer Knew All Its Perils.

Felt It His Duty to Accomplish Something for His Own Reputation and His Country's Honor.

Berlin, July 29.—The special correspondent of the Lokalanzeiger, who was sent by his paper on a vessel chartered for the purpose, to witness Andree's start by balloon for the North Pole, has returned to Berlin from the north of Norway.

He spent in all about four weeks in the company of the intrepid Swedish engineer, and enjoyed the distinction of sharing Andree's tent while on terra firma. In the course of his interesting reminiscences, he relates some incidents which elucidate some of the otherwise incomprehensible proceedings of the Arctic aerial explorer.

FEARED THE ROCKS OF TROMSOE

It will be remembered that Andree, when he made his ascent, was in danger of being dashed against the overhanging rocks above Tromsoe. The correspondent asserts than on account of these high cliffs, which were in the very path of his intended route of ascent, he feared that he could not rise high enough, and that, therefore, he purposely left his drag-rope behind.

Andree frequently referred in ominous tone to the dangers of the departure from the balloon shed. He argued that on account of the unfavorable environs he would not venture to start in a temperate wind, but that he would have to be blown directly north by almost a gale. He thought, too, that it might be necessary for him to throw most of his ballast overboard, and even his provisions in case of a life or death emergency.

Andree often said once he found himself over the open sea he had no immediate danger to fear. He had no dread of the possible bursting of his balloon. The only difficulty, he thought, would be a continuous season of rain.

DECLINED TO VENTURE ONCE.

When, on the evening of July 6, there came a sudden gale from the southwest, the aeronaut's companions sought to persuade him to take advantage of the change of wind, but Andree stoutly declined to consent to the proposition, as he said that the wind would not prove very lasting. Though the men had worked all night in the shed to prepare the balloon for the voyage it was seen on the following morning that Andree's prognostication was correct, for within a few hours a storm arose from the northeast, which, had he harkened to the advice of his friends, would have driven him back to shore at once.

The aeronaut had a prolonged talk with the German correspondent on July 8, who, by the way, is a thorough meteorological student himself, and spoke of certain disputes which he had with his traveling colleagues regarding the expediency of the enterprise.

ANXIETY FOR HIS COMPANIONS.

He spoke feelingly of the high responsibility resting upon him, not only on account of the dangers threatening his own life, but also those of his companions. He said that he was often assailed by dark forebodings, and for this reason he could only proceed with the greatest prudence, and that he would not hurl himself and his party headlong into avoidable perils.

Andree thought he might expect more favorable winds on or about July 15. If his anticipations were thwarted by that time, he would try an ascent either in a northwestern or a northeastern direction. He would not think of returning without having accomplished something. This, according to his opinion, was a duty, as it was not only a question of his own honor, but that of his country.

Should he succeed in his undertaking Andree said that he would not publish anything without first having consulted his friends, and he would first of all serve his fatherland, as to it he felt that he owed the greater obligation. Three days after this conversation the Swedish engineer was flying in mid-air above the icy regions of the Arctic Circle.

Every thoughtful man whether he be an artist or a business man, a mechanic or farmer, feels that he has a certain work to do in this world, and he wants to complete it. A brave man's principal fear of death is because it compels him to leave his life-work unfinished.

He fears sickness for the same reason. He feels that he might as well break his neck and done with, as to have his best working powers hampered and wasted away by disease.

To have the brain dulled and the body enfeebled by impure bile-poisoned blood, is no better than a living death, with all its horrible accompaniments of dyspepsia, nervousness and melancholy.

The best thing in the world to restore clear-headed energetic vitality and working power is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It acts directly upon the liver and digestive organs, giving them power to manufacture rich, healthy blood free from bilious poisons and morbid impurities.

It fills the blood with the red life-giving elements which nourish every organ and tissue. It replaces wasted tissue with healthy flesh and solid muscular strength. By feeding the brain and nerves with vital energy, it banishes neuralgia and nervous weakness and sleeplessness.

It is better than malt extracts or oily emulsions. It is not a mere temporary stimulant but a genuine and lasting nutrient, easily assimilated by the weakest stomachs.

Ralph Green, Esq., of Williamsburg, Callaway Co., Mo., writes: "Before I commenced your treatment I could not take a drink of water without great suffering in my stomach. I could not eat. I was fast sinking. I had five different doctors examine me, and each one treated me without doing me any good. At last I took four or five bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and to-day am in better health than I have been for five years. I weigh 157. Whenever I see any of my friends suffering I tell them of your medicine and advise them to write to you."

Elgin, Ill., July 29.—Henry Schlaack, a patient in the insane asylum, driven mad by excessive smoking, is turning black. Nearly all his skin has become as dark as a negro's, and in spite of his insanity he realizes his condition and has refused to see anyone. The change has gone on for two years.

LEADEN BULLETS MADE HARD AS STEEL.

Springfield, Ill., July 29.—Charles W. Bales, a chemist, and Edward Gerry, a surveyor, of this city, have discovered a secret solution by which they cast leaden cartridges, rendering them superior to steel cartridges. At a distance of 30 yards with a Krag-Jorgensen rifle, they bored a hole through an axe-blade, and also through a flat-iron. In the latter case the bullet lodged in a tree, entering a distance of six inches.

God's in His heaven,
All's right with the world.
—Browning.

London, Thursday, July 29, 1897.

Tuesday was the coldest July day in New York for fourteen years. This is a season of extremes.

It is now said that the parties in Prince Edward Island Legislature will stand: Liberals 18, Conservatives 12. None of the ministers were defeated.

Under the new United States tariff, returning tourists will only be permitted to bring in with them $100 worth of clothing. On all personal effects above that value purchased abroad, duty will have to be paid.

Some comment was recently made in "protectionist" circles because Great Britain had imported a quantity of bicycles manufactured in the United States. That is a small matter. British trade returns show that for every bicycle imported into Great Britain 32 are exported, to say nothing of tubing and parts.

A demonstration in honor of Mr. John Charlton, M.P., will be held at Waterford on Aug. 15, on the occasion of his having completed a continuous service of 25 years for his constituents. In referring to Mr. Charlton's unusual attainment as a representative, the Hamilton Times recalls the message sent to Mr. Charlton by the late Hon. E. B. Wood the day that his first election was announced: "Sing ye to the Lord, for he hath triumphed gloriously; the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea."

Col. C. F. Ainsworth, chief of the record and pension office of the United States war department, has just put forth some curious and interesting statistics. He certifies that there are now 1,095,628 survivors of the Union armies engaged in the late war of rebellion, and estimates that this number will decrease as follows:

1900	999,939
1905	820,687
1910	626,231
1920	251,757
1930	37,603
1940	340

Col. Ainsworth's figures on the present actual survivors are more reliable than those for the future. There are now 760,000 men on the rolls drawing soldiers' pensions, beside 219,000 widows and others who draw more than one-third of the $140,000,000 a year paid out to pensioners. Even if 1895 should see the last of the soldier survivors, which is not likely, there will probably not till long afterward be an end to the line of widows drawing pensions, as it is asserted that many young women have married old pensioners for the sole purpose of inheriting their bounty from the government.

Scorchers have a hard time of it in Russia. In St. Petersburg, wheelmen must pass a civil service examination as to their ability to ride, and must follow a certain number of rules and regulations. The wheel is registered, and the number, in plain white figures, with a red plate, must be fastened in front and behind. The rules say that only people of proper age, this to be decided by the city administration, can ride. When a permit is given, the rider must have his photograph attached to the permit, and this permit must be carried at all times. Riders are not allowed in the middle of the streets, but must ride as near the sidewalks as possible. Every time he passes a foot passenger or carriage the rider has to ring his bell, and in localities where the streets are crowded with traffic or equipages the rider must alight and push his wheel. When a party of riders are together they must go single file. No one can ride a bicycle in the city in a racing costume, or a costume which would attract special attention. Riding in certain streets is prohibited, and especially during the time when their imperial majesties are expected to pass. Ladies were not permitted to ride the wheel in St. Petersburg until last February. Despite all this red tape, there are already over 7,000 registered bicyclists in St. Petersburg.

An Eleventh Hour Message.

President McKinley of the United States has been severely criticised for keeping back, till the session was in its dying throes, his special message urging the creation of a currency commission. Surely if the president believed that currency reform was necessary—and he was elected on the promise that he would use his best offices to rescue the monetary system of the neighboring country from its chaotic condition—he should have sent his recommendations to Congress weeks ago, so that the legislative body could have acted deliberately. Instead of that, it was kept back till the last minute of the sitting of the Senate, until Congress had finally passed the tariff bill. The president apparently took it for granted that if he asked the Senate to fall in with his monetary recommendations before it passed the tariff measure it would get into a tangle, and both measures would be wrecked. But a courageous man, pledged to speedy action on the currency question, as president President McKinley is, would have given Congress no excuse for indefinitely postponing action on his message. Presented as it was, the message was a farce, and the Republican leaders in the Senate frankly admitted it. Mr. Aldrich said that no Republican senator expected the passage of the currency commission bill, and Mr. Hoar declared that "no one had expected currency legislation at the present session." The fact is that as at present constituted, the United States Senate has a pro-silver majority, and it is highly probable that Mr. McKinley wished to postpone definite action till a change is effected by the advent of new blood. It is not probable that there will be any currency legislation for two years to come, and even then the action which may be taken will depend upon the principles of the 30 new senators to be selected by the legislatures within the next eighteen months.

The United States governing body is "great," and it moves at a snail's pace, even when much-needed reforms are demanded.

Carp as Fish for Canadian Waters.

In a report just issued, Professor Prince, Dominion commissioner of fisheries, discusses the vexed question of carp culture, taking strong ground against the encouragement of the propagation of this fish. He points out that the waters of Canada being as a rule pure, cold and in every way adapted for our native fish, and the superior edible species, such as the introduced English brook trout, Loch Leven trout, etc., it is the less necessary to cultivate inferior kinds, especially as the so-called coarse fish native to our waters (suckers, pike, etc.), are admittedly superior in quality to German carp. German carp are no-made in their habits, and wander aimlessly into all accessible waters. Salmon trout, whitefish, pickerel or dore, indeed all our native fish, are more local in their wanderings, and confine themselves within recognized limits. The German carp has no such defined movements. Lake Erie, the St. Clair waters of Western Ontario, Lake Huron and other Canadian areas are being overrun by these fish, which have wandered from the more or less remote localities in United States territory where they were originally planted. The market value of these fish can never be great in Canada. For many seasons our Lake Erie fishermen have been taking large quantities of German carp, which have wandered across from their haunts on the United States shores. Thus off the South Essex shore (Ont.), individual pound nets occasionally take two or three tons of carp at a single catch. In many cases personal questioning has elicited the information that the fish were found to be so worthless and such a drug on the market, that they had to be buried on shore in order to get rid of them. While the demand for carp is thus limited, the market for salmon, whitefish, trout, etc., is practically unlimited. Another objection of Professor Prince to carp is that they live upon the food of better fish, and propagate so fast that they prove injurious and even destructive to the higher kinds. It can be proven that whitefish and the yellow pickerel have been starved out and crowded out by hordes of hungry carp. Not only so, but it has been shown that other kinds forsake their usual haunts, and are in fact driven out by these foreign intruders. Recently the carp has been planted in Lake Michigan near Chicago, and competent authorities, including practical fishermen, hold that other fish will be driven out of these waters. They ruin the waters which they frequent by destroying vegetation, rooting up the marginal banks and by disturbing the bottom. Ponds and waters which were clear and exhibited a hard bottom have become discolored and "roily," and the bottom soft and tenacious by the grubbing actions of the carp. Such ponds have been changed into disgusting mud puddles. A Kansas authority who carries on private fish-culture operations recently wrote of the carp: "The carp is a fussy fellow, and when not trying to pick a fight with some of the other denizens of the pond, is plowing up the mud along the bottom of the waters and constantly keeps the pond in a rolly and unpleasant state." The ill effects of carp upon other especially high grades of fish cannot be exaggerated. They are destructive spawn eaters, like all the tribe of sucking fishes, and they are especially subject to parasites and contagious diseases, arising from their fondness for coarse and loathsome food, and a preference for muddy and almost tepid waters. With so many really excellent native fish, it is apparent that there is no object in cultivating the carp in Canadian waters, while the objections to their encouragement, as set forth by this expert, are certainly serious.

As long as human cupidity and avarice exist the haste to be rich will send men in search of the yellow metal. THE UNITED STATES TARIFF.

[Boston Herald.]

Other conditions, therefore, may much offset the more directly injurious effect of the new tariff on our national prosperity. They cannot put out of sight the great wrong wrought by it. They cannot shut out the fact that it is a measure to promote the welfare of the few at the expense of the welfare of the many; that those few are wealthy men who have used their wealth to procure its passage, with the direct purpose of adding to wealth already enormous. They cannot shut out the fact that it puts many millions into the pockets of a trust that already monopolizes one great business of the country; that it contributes many more millions to scarcely a half score of men who have taken exclusive possession of another business; that these men and their agents were actively in Washington throughout the time that the tariff was in incubation, and that the bill has been made to their minds. The business interests of New England have been sacrificed in it; the seventy millions of people of the United States have seen the price of the necessaries of life materially increased by the measure; but accumulated wealth, and the trusts in which it has sought shelter, have been more than spared—they have been aggrandized by the measure. If the people are patient under such a law they have parted with their sense and parted with their spirit.

Delightful Outing

Enjoyed by a Municipal Party From London and County.

An Enjoyable Trip to Cleveland and Painesville, Ohio,

At the Invitation of the L. E. & D. R. R. —Entertained by Mr. Everett and the Mayor — A Succession of Pleasures.

The civic party who accepted the L. E. and D. R. R.'s invitation to take a trip to Cleveland returned to the city this morning at 9 o'clock, highly delighted with the outing. As much genuine pleasure was crowded into 24 hours as the average man could squeeze into a week's holidays. It was a continuous whirl of entertainment from the time the party boarded the train here. They fared not only comfortably but luxuriantly, and the excursion will long be remembered by its participants for the splendid hospitality which accompanied them every mile of the journey. The company numbered about 50, and included the mayor and Aldermen Rumball, Taylor, Douglass, Olmstead, Carrothers, Winnett, Stevely, Hunt, Cooper, Turner, Nutkins, Dreaney, Parnell, Gerry and McCallum, and ex-Ald. Garratt, representing the city council; Manager Carr, Joseph Lennox and C. H. Ivey, the street railway company; Sheriff Cameron, ex-Ald. J. W. Jones, the court of revision; ex-Ald. Skinner, the board of health; C. A. Kingston, the city officials; Chairman R. K. Cowan, J. C. Judd and Secretary O. Ellwood, the water commissioners; Dr. Balfour, the hospital trust; John Macpherson, the school board; Chief Roe, the fire department; A. B. Greer (president), M. Masuret, John Forristal, John Bland, D. W. Blackwell, B. J. Nash, ex-Mayor Cowan and J. A. Nelles (secretary), the board of trade, and D. McLachlan, Jas. Bennett, John Morgan, D. F. Stewart and P. Elson, the county council.

The majority of the party left on the 5:25 train on Tuesday afternoon, to partake of Ald. Hunt's hospitality at the Port. A stroll on Liberty Hill was followed by a recherche luncheon at the club house, at which Ald. Hunt presided. On Ald. Farnell's motion a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the host, who was also honored with three cheers and a tiger. Subsequently the party adjourned to Ald. Hunt's pretty summer residence, "Idlewyld," on New Orchard Beach, where a pleasant hour was spent awaiting the steamer's departure. In honor of the visitors every house on the beach was illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and the general effect was brilliant and striking.

The remainder of the party reached Port on the 7:20 train, and all united on board the Flora, which left shortly before 12 o'clock. State rooms were assigned the whole party, and the majority put in an exceedingly pleasant and convivial night, though the heavy sea induced a few cases of mal de mer, with results very amusing to those who proved better sailors. However, before morning, all sickness had passed away —along with sundry suppers. A capital concert was provided by a colored sextet, who played and sang the latest melodies and were heartily encored. The company were up in plenty of time to witness the entry into Cleveland harbor, the boat mooring about 10:30 a.m. All immediately repaired to the Weddell House, where, as the guests of Mayor Little, they enjoyed an elegant breakfast. Appetites had been sharpened by the lake breezes.

Mr. H. A. Everett, president of the London Street Railway Company, met the visitors here and initiated the entertainment programme by announcing a special car for Painesville. Painesville is a handsome town of 6,000 people, 30 miles east of Cleveland, with which it is connected by one of the fastest electric lines on the continent. Mr. Everett has a controlling interest in the road, and accompanied the party the entire distance, pointing out the places of interest along the route. That trolley ride will be fresh in the memory of the visitors for a long time. The scheduled time between the city limits and Painesville is twenty miles an hour, but yesterday the special had right of way. The motorman pushed his lever out to the last notch, and the car flew along at the rate of over 30 miles an hour. The man who had a string on his hat was envied of the others, who clutched their headgear to save it from an aerial flight. They traversed the handsome east end of Cleveland, including Euclid avenue, the abode of the millionaires; and after a ten-mile run in the city proper, passed into a growing suburban district, and then into the open country through miles of vineyards and rich farm lands. Mr. Everett pointed out the country residence and farm of the late President and the office in which he received his campaign returns the night of his election. At the pretty town of Willoughby, twenty miles out, Superintendent Frost, of the electric railway company, boarded the car, and was introduced.

Arrived at Painesville, the visitors took dinner at the Parmely House, as the guests of Mr. Everett, who, with the mayor, sat at the head of the table. After a capital repast, the mayor in a few words expressed the sentiments of all by proposing the health of the host. Now that all contentious matters in relation to the London street railway had been settled, the mayor said, there could be no impropriety in accepting Mr. Everett's hospitality, which had been so bountiful and enjoyable. On behalf of the guests, the mayor then presented Mr. Everett with an illustrated history of London.

The toast was honored by three cheers, and the singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow." In reply, Mr. Everett said he hoped that the company would, at a future time, pay Cleveland a second visit and take a trip on another of the radial lines.

At 2:30 the special car was again boarded, and the exhilarating trip was again greatly enjoyed. At several of the switches the car was stopped, while the superintendent took a hand telephone, attached it to the wires, and rang up the next station to insure a clear track for the special. This was a novelty to most of the visitors. The city was entered by a different route in order to allow the company to attend the baseball match between Cleveland and New York. About 25 enthusiasts availed themselves of the chance, and "rooted" vigorously for the home team. The other members of the party went to the races or wherever they chose.

The crowning act of Mr. Everett's kindness was the supper, by his invitation, at the Century Club headquarters, on the thirteenth story of the New England building, the tallest and the most magnificent in Cleveland. The dining-room was one of palatial splendor. The mosaic floor and pure white walls and ceiling reflected scores of incandescent lamps, artistically grouped. The menu, which was very elaborate, and included every imaginable delicacy, was served by a corps of French waiters. The view from this chamber, which is higher than the surrounding church spires, is perhaps the finest in all Cleveland, and was greatly admired by the guests. They got a bird's-eye view of the whole city, just as miles and miles of lights began to twinkle at the approach of darkness.

Mr. Moore, vice-president of the London Street Railway Company, joined the party here, and accompanied them to the dock. The Flora left shortly after 10 p.m., and reached Port Stanley about 7:45, having encountered a heavy head wind. She stood it well, and not a case of sickness was in evidence. Everybody passed a comfortable night, and reached the city refreshed and animated by the recollection of a most delightful holiday, which the L. E. and D. R. R., Mr. Everett and Mayor Little were instrumental in furnishing.

$5,000 A YEAR

The Maccabees Did Not Raise Boynton and Markey's Salaries.

Port Huron, Mich., July 29.—An attempt was made to increase the salaries of Supreme Commander D. P. Markey and Supreme Record Keeper N. S. Boynton, of the Maccabees, from $5,000 to $6,000 a year, but failed, by a vote of 37 to 28.

The supreme finance keeper, however, was raised from $1,000 to $1,500, and supreme counselor to $2,000, with $25 a day more when wholly employed in business for the order. The counselor was voted $1,100 for extra services since March. The salary of the editor of the Beehive was fixed at $2,000.

The surplus of the order is $311,812, of which $221,312 is in United States bonds. It was decided not to deposit more than $100,000 in any one bank.

The Oil Market.

PETROLEA.

Petrolea, July 29.—Oil opened and closed at $1 40.

THE "FIND" IN GASPE, QUE.

An Ottawa dispatch says: "Some doubt is expressed by geological survey officials in Ottawa as to the strike of petroleum reported being as important as stated in the dispatches. Mr. E. D. Ingall, who is in charge of the mineral statistics, said he had not been on the ground himself, but he showed some reports made by different survey parties, covering a period of many years. While oil, and occasionally gas, have been discovered, the borings have hitherto never resulted in getting any in paying quantities. Small springs of petroleum have been found, but were rapidly used up. In many places near St. John River prospectors have located wells, but these never paid. A number of companies have been working these, but most of them abandoned the work after spending $30,000 or $40,000. The geological survey has, however, not made a detailed survey of the district. Mr. Ingalis says they have simply examined the surface characteristics, and cannot say what the formation of the rock is there, nor give an opinion as to the general probability of finding oil in paying quantities."

They all lost their street clothes, and narrowly escaped with their lives.

THE JOHN EATON COMPANY.

Toronto, July 29.—If the remarks of Mr. Justice Robertson at the weekly vacation court, at Osgoode Hall, afford any indication as to the views held by his lordship, the application of Mr. James Parkes for an order to wind up the John Eaton Company estate, made on behalf of Messrs. Reid, Taylor and Bayne, is not likely to succeed. On the other hand, it is more than probable that if the existing arrangement is not continued Mr. Clarkson will be appointed liquidator to wind up the estate.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believed it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

Regulations Decided on by the Dominion Government.

Alternate Claims in Placer Grounds to Be Reserved,

And a Royalty on the Output of the Diggings—Measures for Protection and Better Transportation — $1,850 Premium on a $150 Passage Ticket.

Ottawa, July 29.—Cabinet ministers have been giving much attention to the Yukon question lately and important regulations have been decided upon. It has been decided to reserve as government property every alternate claim in all placer grounds. Every time a miner gets an allotment of territory to work on, an adjoining location will be reserved for the government.

It is also decided to collect a tax or royalty upon the output of the placer diggings. The cost of registering a claim sometime ago was increased from $5 to $15, while an annual assessment of $100 was to be paid by the holder. What the government has now decided to do is to charge, in addition to this, a royalty of 10 per cent upon the output of all claims yielding $300 a month and under to each claim, and a royalty of 20 per cent upon each claim yielding over that per month.

CUSTOMS AND POLICE POST.

A strong customs and police post will be established just north of the British Columbia boundary beyond the head of the Lynn canal, at 60 degrees of latitude. Estimates will be at once obtained for the cost of building a wagon road and of a narrow gauge railway from the coast to this post over the mountains, a distance of 70 to 80 miles, about 40 of which is over mountains. This post, which will be where Chilcoot and White passes converge, will command the southern entrance to the whole territory. The mounted police posts will be established from here on, a distance of 50 miles apart, up to Fort Selkirk. These will be used to open up a winter road, over which monthly mails will be sent by dog trains, also to give help to traveling parties. If possible, a telegraph line will be constructed over the mountains from the head of the Lynn canal to the first post.

The consent of the authorities of the United States will be asked to a modus vivendi under which Canada will have the right of way over the disputed territory from Lynn canal to the first mounted police post. No difficulty is anticipated in securing the right of way through the little piece of disputed territory the road or telegraph would have to cross to reach the head of Lynn Canal, as that territory, although now in the United States' possession, is as much ours as theirs.

POLICE REINFORCEMENTS.

Orders for the Northwest mounted police reinforcement to proceed to Yukon have been forwarded by Mr. Fred White, controller of the force, to Regina. The men will have to be able to assist in building boats, shacks, and in other handiwork. Only men in perfect physical condition will be sent.

The gold commission at present in Yukon will report as to the best means of collecting the royalty on the gold mined.

$1,500 FOR A STEAMER TICKET.

San Francisco, Cal., July 29.—The steamer Excelsior, chartered by the Alaska Commercial Company, left yesterda for St. Michaels with 110 passengers. This is the last of the company's fleet which will connect with the Yukon river steamers this season. For hours before the departure of the steamer the wharf was thronged with people. Three times the original price was offered for tickets. One passenger accepted an offer of $1,500 for the pasteboard for which he paid $150.

Washington, D. C., July 29.—The secretary of war has suspended the execution of the order starting a party of United States troops for Alaska on the boat sailing from Seattle on Aug. 5.

LOOK OUT FOR FOOD.

Tacoma, Wis., July 29.—The Alaska papers are calling upon the gold hunters who are rushing to the Klondike to bring a sufficient supply of food to nourish them for six months. The Junea (Alaska) Searchlight, one of the most conservative of the Arctic publications, tells the adventurer and impecunious gold seeker to keep away, and adds: "There is a strong probability that there will be a short allowance of provisions in the Yukon the coming winter, even if there is no actual suffering from the want of food, and everyone doing it will do well to take sufficient supplies to last until next summer. Here is a list of the supplies which one, John Doyle, has figured out will last him eight months: Four hundred pounds of sea biscuit, $8; 50 pounds salt pork, $4; 2 gallons molasses, $1; two gallons vinegar, 50 cents; 100 pounds split peas, $5; 20 pounds salt, 20 cents; 1 pair gum boots, $6 50; 1 pair shoes, $4 50; total, $29 50. To prevent scurvy boiled moss will be sufficient, besides proving nourishing. That this diet would sustain life is certain. But how many would be willing to put up with it? We would advise none to try it."

A Klondike letter, just received in Tacoma, says that information has reached the diggings that one of the Yukon River supply steamers has been totally wrecked. If this proves true, it will mean that the already short supply of food will be reduced alarmingly. The letter gives no details.

CARRIED OFF BY EAGLES

Thrilling Story Told by a Canadian Farmer.

Caribu, July 29.—One of the most remarkable stories of escapes from death heard for many years, is related by Peter Pinpiere, a young farmer and hunter just over the St. John River in Canada.

Friday forenoon Pinpiere left home at the head of a party of young farmers to storm an eagle's nest on the top of Wally Mountain, eight miles away, being the objective point of the expedition. The two parent birds were captured after a hard struggle and securely tied claw and claw. The rope holding the birds was passed to Peter who carried them out to the level edge of the towering rock, and sat down on the cord to hold the birds still.

Suddenly the eagles screamed and spread their wings and started off with Pinpiere clinging to the rope. For 30 miles they carried him, then the young farmer's hands gave out, and he dropped to the ground. Pinpiere was unhurt, but badly shaken up.

A Spicy Affair.

Varied Programme at the Grocers' Annual Picnic.

The Ball Match and Races, and Those Who Participated.

THE AFTERNOON.

By the time the ring events were begun nearly 2,000 people had gathered at the park, and they greatly enjoyed the interesting programme. Everything passed off smoothly and speedily, and the sports were all well contested. The affair was one of the most successful of its kind in the manner in which the programme was carried out, and for this great credit is due to the judges, Messrs. B. Wallace, J. A. Tune, A. McCormick, W. H. Ferguson, McNab and Frank Jeffrey, and starters, Messrs. Thomas Gillean and N. Wanless. The absence of vexatious delays was a notable feature. Every event on the lengthy programme took place, and the last contest was finished shortly after 6 o'clock.

The gathering on the stand and around the ring was very good-natured. Frequently worthy features were loudly applauded. Those who took part in the bicycle and horse racing complained of the unsuitable condition of the track. However, it did not materially affect any of the races. Following is a list of the events:

THE SPORTS.

Bicycle race, two miles, open to grocers, their sons or employes—1 R. McRae, 2 H. McCullogh, 3 James Bennett.

One mile race, trot or pace, open to horses owned by members of the association, won in two straight heats—1, Superior Boy, owned by R. Woods; 2, Pat, owned by N. McLeod; 3, Lady Sardine, owned by James Ward; 4, Texas Mike, owned by J. H. Brooks. Time—2:56¼ and 2:57.

Fat men's race—J. C. Trebilcock and F. Ward tied for first place, 2 R. J. Wood.

Combination horse race, trot or pace first half mile and go-a-you-please for the second half mile—1, Pat, owned by N. McLeod; 2, Jubilee Girl, owned by R. J. Wood; 3, Little Dan, owned by J. C. Trebilcock.

Grocers' flat race, half mile heats, best two out of three.

Little Dan, owned by J. C. Trebilcock	1	1
Possibility, owned by E. A. Shoebottom	4	2
Polly, owned by F. Harding	2	4
Ring, owned by R. H. Cullis	3	3

Polly J., owned by R. J. Ward, came in last in the first heat and was withdrawn.

Obstacle race, in which the contestants had to crawl through barrels and scale high hurdles—1 W. Screaton, 2 F. Stinson, 3 G. Stinson.

Barrel race—1 F. Stinson, 2 W. Bennett, 3 F. Ward.

The Scotch dancing was a very interesting feature. There were five contestants, all in costume, and points were given for the Highland fling, shaun trews and sword dance—1 Violet LeClaire, 2 Ina Riddle, 3 Florence Small.

Boot and shoe race—1 Frank Ward, 2 F. Screaton, 3 G. Stinson.

A dog race was brought on between dogs owned and driven by Willie Evans and Ed. Fysh, but unfortunately the animals had friends along the course, with whom they were inclined to stop, and no decision was given.

Delivery race, in which the contestants had to deliver orders—1 F. Stinson, 2 W. Screaton, 3 W. Burgess, 4 B. Logan.

Travelers' race, 100 yards—1 F. Moore, 2 George Lacey, 3 W. Screaton.

Sack race, 100 yards—1 F. Casson, 2 W. Bennett, 3 L. Dwyer.

Half-mile bicycle race—1 Harley, 2 McLeod.

Egg and spoon race—1 C. Barnard, 2 J. Jupp, 3 F. Stinson.

Judges race—1 W. Wanless, 2 G. McCormick, 3 B. Wallace, Messrs. T. Gillean, J. A. Tune, F. Jeffery finished close for fourth place.

One mile, trot or pace, was run in three heats, and resulted as follows:

Ringwood, owned by R. Hueston	2	1	1
Jenny Rooker, owned by R. Brown	1	2	2
Ellwood, owned by J. C. Trebilcock	3	3	3

Time, 2:59¼, 2:39, 2:35¼.

The bun-eating contest was entered by eight boys, and provoked great laughter. The winners were: 1 C. Eggett, 2 T. Russell, 3 G. Wilson, 4 W. Evans.

A special event, not on the programme, was the committeemen's race, Mr. McNabb, representing Blue Ribbon Tea Company, was on the grounds, and after the programme was completed, offered ten pounds of white label Blue Ribbon Tea as a prize. The committee arranged three prizes for 100 yard race, and the winners were: 1, 6 pounds tea, H. Burdick; 2, 4 pounds tea, Geo. Trebilcock; 3, 1 dozen cream soda, W. Wanless.

During the afternoon an exhibition of high jumping was given by several well-known horses from Mr. Adam Beck's stable.

Messrs. Sandy Drennan and Dave Walsh furnished much amusement by a laughable burlesque in tramp makeup.

Mr. E. Sutton, secretary of the association, discharged the heavy duties which fell to his lot very creditably.

The Musical Society Band rendered excellent music at intervals during the day.

Chubby little Eugene Lockhart is a very clever dancer, and his cute appearance and manner captivate the onlookers. He won first prize in the Irish jig.

FORTIFYING HALIFAX.

Garrison Being Strengthened and Guns of the Most Modern Construction Mounted.

Halifax, N. S., July 29.—In a quiet way the British military authorities are strengthening this station. The imperial troops here are to be increased by the addition of 600 royal artillerymen, making the total 1,000. It is probable th at the Royal Berkshire regiment will be sent direct to England from Halifax instead of to Bermuda.

Plans have been made for a new quick-firing battery to be constructed at Point Pleasant by the imperial authorities. The military authorities intend to place here two or more batteries of royal horse artillery.

It is also stated that next summer a new quick-firing battery will be constructed on George's Island. The guns will be of the very latest pattern. Another powerful searchlight in addition to the one proposed for Sleepy Cove is to be erected in a prominent position near the entrance to the harbor.

Stevens, of Portland, Me., vice-president of the National W. C. T. U., who has been in England for several months, will return with Miss Slack.

HORSES LOOKING UP.

Tacoma, Wash., July 29.—Cattlemen are buying horses for from $2 to $5 east of the Cascade Mountains in this state, and selling them readily for from $20 to $40 for Klondike packing purposes. The horses will be used to pack supplies over the mountain passes, and when they can be used no longer for packing purposes they will be driven to Dawson City and sold for dog meat at ten cents per pound.

For several years horses have been a drug on the market. Thousands of head have been bought at from $1 to $2 50 apiece and slaughtered and canned. This meat has sold freely in Japan and Europe, but on this coast canned horse is not saleable. Several cattlemen have already cleared large sums on the sale of horses for the Klondike country. The Indian tribes of the coast ranges have also realized handsomely on the demand for good pack ponies.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kelogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhea, cholera, and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

AN ALLEGED $338,000 SHORTAGE.

Chicago, July 29.—According to a bill filed in the circuit court, the Mechanics' and Traders' Savings, Loan and Building Association has an alleged shortage of $338,000. The bill also charges that the officers of the association aided the secretary to use the building society as a feeder for the latter's business as a builder and contractor, that there are alleged "dummy" loans, and that a number of the borrowing stockholders are in default on their payments. It is charged that the society is hopelessly insolvent, and that its surplus account of $239,000 exists only on paper.

HE SHOULD TRY.

"How far can you swim, Willie?" inquired the visitor.

"Oh, I don't know," replied Willie.

"Across the ocean?" persisted the visitor, facetiously.

"I shouldn't wonder," answered Willie, promptly.

"Why, Willie, do you know how far it is across the ocean?" demanded Willie's mother.

"Don't care how far it is," retorted Willie. "Pop told me once never to admit that I couldn't do a thing until I'd tried and failed."

DESTRUCTIVE RAIN.

Crops Badly Damaged by the Continuous Downpour.

Kingston, N. Y., July 29.—There was a pouring rain today following stormy weather for a number of days past. A large share of the crops in the central Hudson valley is dead ripe and lodged on the ground. The damage is beyond estimate. The potatoes are rotting in the ground and the corn is damaged. Roads are almost impassable.

Picton, Ont., July 29.—The rains are unprecedented in this section. The most of the hay crop in this section is housed. Wheat, barley, rye and early peas are more or less damaged. The raspberry crop is seriously damaged. At Bloomfield nearly seven inches of water fell in 72 hours, and six inches of it fell in sixteen hours.

Sir William Van Horne has just stated that the C. P. R. was considering the construction of a line from Edmonton to Arthabaska Landing, a distance of about 50 miles, to connect with the water route via the Mackenzie River to Klondike. If the Klondike reports continue as favorable as they have been the railway will be extended. The new route would be a most popular one, and would be far more direct than that now usually taken.

—Squires Edwards and McIntyre, of Lobo village, yesterday dismissed the charge against Geo. Munger of selling liquor in Lobo in contravention of the local option law. Mr. Munger was represented by Mr. J. M. McEvoy, of London, who had the persons said to have purchased the liquor placed on the stand. He pointed out that it was not necessary for them to say whether or not they obtained the liquor, and that as the law now stood, to buy liquor in a prohibited place made the buyer equally guilty with the seller. No satisfaction could be obtained from the witnesses and the case was thrown out.

—County Constable Spicknell, of Pottersburg, this afternoon arrested Henry Donnelly, and another young man, for disorderly conduct out near the asylum. Donnelly is wanted by the city police for assaulting an Indian named Jacob Fisher in July last year by striking him on the head with a stone, inflicting a severe scalp wound. Fisher was found near the C. P. R., bleeding profusely. The patrol wagon was summoned, and it was during this run that Mr. Ed Shea's rig was upset, and Miss Hayes so badly injured. Miss Hayes' accident cost the city $250 as a compromise. Mr. Spicknell is a very small man, and deserves credit for the arrest. Donnelly, it is said, fought hard.

The beautiful and impressive marriage ceremony of the Methodist Church was conducted by Rev. H. D. Moyer, of Delaware. Their wedding trip will take in Toronto, Niagara Falls and other eastern points. Mr. and Mrs. Hord will live in Komoka, and Mr. and Mrs. Madge in London. The young people are very popular, and start out in wedded life with the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

WARM WEATHER PATIENCE.

The little ones soon grow weary these hot days. Let them wear old clothes and roll around on the cool grass, and dabble their hands in water. Give them plenty of fruit and vegetables, but very little meat, and don't force them to go to bed too early, to lie in close, hot rooms, tormented by mosquitoes. You wouldn't like it yourself.

Even if you are weary and discouraged yourself—as too many mothers are, alas!—try to be kind and forebearing with your little ones. Remember how soon this precious time of child-life will slip away, and think, too, how few the years will seem till these same, troublesome little ones will guard and bless your old age!—The Housewife.

A Bad One.

Trace Jackson, Alias Cann, Wanted in Many Places.

The Whitby Jailbird Who Escaped Three Years Ago Remanded Until Saturday.

Trace Jackson, alias Cann, was brought before Judge Edward Elliott this morning to receive sentence for stealing a bicycle from Arnoldi & Hare, of Seaforth. He pleaded guilty. Jackson is wanted at Whitby, where on Oct. 12, 1894, he assaulted Turnkey Alexander Bruce and escaped from custody. At that time he was doing three months for stealing an overcoat, and had served three weeks. Detective Graham was armed with a warrant for the man's arrest on the above charges, and Detective Thos. Nickle also had another one from Owen Sound, where the prisoner is said to have stolen another bicycle. The question arose as to what was best to do with him—whether to send him back to Whitby for trial on the charge of escape and the indictment for assault, or to sentence him here. Mr. Magee suggested that Jackson might be given four months for this offense, and afterwards be sent to Whitby, where he could come up at the assizes in December on the more serious charge.

Jackson is wanted also at Niagara Falls, N. Y., where he went under the name of Cann and worked as a hack driver for Chas. Brown. While there Jackson is said to have made an attempt to criminally assault a young girl, and fled to Canada. He is also said to have stolen a wheel at Brucefield.

A reward of $100 was offered by the Whitby authorities for Jackson's arrest, and Detective Graham will likely get it.

Jackson was remanded until Saturday in order to communicate with the Whitby officials.

MUST COME TO LONDON.

Toronto Cannot Keep the G. T. R. Car Shops—The Mayor Interviewed.

A special to The Advertiser from Toronto says: A deputation from the Grand Trunk shops interviewed the mayor this morning to see if there were no means by which the company can be prevented from removing the shops to London. The city has no such power. It is understood that the removal of the shops will only take away one out of six of those employed here. That means about 110 men.

A WAYWARD GIRL

Sentenced to 23 Months in the Mercer Reformatory.

Catherine Levine, a pretty young girl of seventeen summers, was arrested a few weeks ago as a vagrant. She was confined to jail for a week, and then released. Last week she was again locked up on a similar charge. This morning Police Magistrate Parke heard her case in his private room at the police station, and sentenced her to 23 months in the Mercer reformatory at Toronto. Evil companionship led her astray.

AMATEUR LEAGUE MEETING.

A meeting of about 25 representatives of the City Amateur Baseball League was held at the Y. M. C. A. parlors last night. W. H. Howell was chairman, and Harry Chapman acted as secretary.

The Waverly Club signified their intention of dropping from the league, and each of the other clubs that would have played with the Waverlys will count their games by default.

A protest by No. 8 club against the action of Askin street club in claiming a game last Saturday by default, was sustained, and the game will be played two weeks from next Saturday.

Three protests against the Y. M. C. A. club, on the ground of incompetent umpiring, were thrown out.

The rules were amended to bar out players who have been members of the Thistle, Orient, Pastime or Arlington baseball clubs. This change throws out three members of No. 8—A. E. Cowley, F. Ashplant and J. McKay—and one member of the Y. M. C. A.—W. Noble.

The following games will take place on Saturday: Knox Church vs. Waterloos, on Erie Flats; Colborne street vs. No. 8, on Carling Heights; Y. M. C. A. vs. Maple Leafs, at Springbank. Askin street was scheduled to play with Waverly, and will claim the game by default.

Benham "Guilty."

A Speculator Wants to Take a Cast of His Face.

People Stayed Up All Night Waiting for the Verdict in His Case—Jury Found Him Guilty of Murder in the First Degree.

Batavia, N. Y., July 29.—Benham had an unwelcome visitor at the jail this morning. The visitor gave his name as J. G. Sullivan, and wanted to get a plaster paris cast of the accused man. Mr. Sullivan said he had procured a cast of Birchall, the Canadian murderer, and made a good thing out of it. He said that the exhibition of Birchall's face in the Canadian towns had been a great hit.

Benham looked at his visitor with a suspicious eye. He could not see that there was anything in it for him, and told Mr. Sullivan that he had better call again. "This is my busy day," said Benham, "and when I have more leisure I will talk with you."

Batavia, N. Y., July 29.—Justice Laughlin is in waiting to receive the verdict of the Benham jury at any moment that it may be agreed upon. Hundreds of people remained up all night in the hope of hearing from the jury. The excitement, though pent up, is intense. At an extremely early hour this morning, the streets were thronged with people and the one question asked was: "Has the jury come in?" The case was given to the jury at 2:30 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday).

At 10 o'clock the Benham jury came into court and asked the justice for instructions as to the form of returning a verdict. After receiving instructions as to every possible form, the jury retired.

BENHAM'S APPEARANCE.

Batavia, N. Y., July 29.—Benham was then brought in. He looked far from well. His face had a drawn, haggard expression, showing that the suspense was telling on him. His eyeballs were constantly moving in their sockets, and he moved uneasily in his chair. Justice Laughlin imparted the information that the jury asked for. He said it was a simple matter to present a verdict, and then gave instructions as to the form to be used in any possible finding.

FOUND GUILTY.

Later—Benham has been convicted of murder in the first degree.

Howard Curlis Benham was born in Byron, Genesee county, New York, on Sept. 7, 1870. He was employed successively as hotel clerk, clothing salesman, postal clerk, and World's Fair excursion agent. On Aug. 14, 1892, he eloped with Miss Florence Taut, also of Byron, a 16-year-old heiress to about $30,000, and was married to her by Justice White, of the municipal court, at Rochester. After a short residence in Byron, Mr. and Mrs. Benham removed to Batavia, where Benham engaged in business as a private banker. On Dec. 19, 1894, Mrs. Benham gave birth to a son, Howard Sidney Benham. Mrs. Benham's death occurred on the morning of Jan. 4. Rumor had it that death was the result of a criminal operation, and to ascertain the facts an autopsy was held, which resulted in ascribing the cause of death to degeneration of the heart.

Soon after the burial, Samuel Elliott, a drug clerk, acknowledged that he had twice sold Benham prussic acid, and aroused suspicion by telling of the unusual interest shown by Benham in the accounts of the Hooper case, as published in a Port Hope (Ont.) paper. This led to the exhuming of the body, a second autopsy and chemical examination of the organs, with the result of the alleged discovery of traces of prussic acid in the brain, liver and blood.

The facts being presumed, a coroner's jury rendered a verdict to the effect that Mrs. Benham came to her death by hydrocianic acid, or prussic acid poison, administered by her husband.

Benham was subsequently indicted for murder in the first degree by the grand jury of Genosee county, and on June 21 placed on trial before Justice Laughlin, of the supreme court of the state of New York.

Serious Situation.

A Number of British Troops Killed by Tribesmen

At Camp Malakland—The Garrison Short of Ammunition—The Sultan Agrees to the Peace Preliminaries.

Bombay, July 29.—The situation at Camp Malakand has become very serious. Word has been received that the natives in large force made a second attack on the fort yesterday. The fighting was very severe. Thirteen of the British were killed and 30 wounded, the latter including Lieut. Castello. The tribesmen lost 100.

The worst feature of the situation now is that the garrison is short of ammunition, and it is feared the whole supply will be exhausted before reinforcements arrive. The government is making the greatest efforts to get succor through in time. It is reported that Mad Mullah has mustered at least 40,000 tribesmen.

London, July 29.—The Times' Pekin correspondent says that Li Hung Tsao, grand councilor and member of the Tsungli Yamen, is dead. He was a believer in a strong anti-foreign policy, and was the chief opponent of Li Hung Chang, who will probably be promoted.

London, July 29.—A special dispatch from Athens says the sultan has instructed Tewfik Pasha, minister for foreign affairs, to sign the peace preliminaries on Saturday next.

Madrid, July 29.—A dispatch from Barcelona says that severe storms have prevailed throughout Catalonia for the last few days, with devastating effects among the vineyards. Out of 130,000 hectares of vineyards, scarcely 5,000 have escaped. In the districts of Tarragona and Gerona at least 80,000 hectares of vinelands have been seriously damaged.

London, July 29.—A dispatch from Leghorn says a severe shock of earthquake was felt on Wednesday at Pontedera and other places in the Arno Valley. Many buildings were wrecked and a large number of persons are reported to have been injured.

The Standard oil warehouses, situated at the end of Logan avenue, Winnipeg, were totally destroyed by fire on Wednesday, together with a large stock. Estimated loss, $25,000; no insurance.

A Clarksburg, Ont., dispatch says the Beaver River is making a grand effort to break all previous records in doing damage. Last night, after the rain had fallen thirty hours, the danger to property became very alarming. The wheat and hay crops are damaged to a great extent, and the farmers are very despondent.

Of all the nerve-tonics—bromos, celeries or nervines—your doctor will tell you that the Hypophosphites are best understood. So thoroughly related is the nervous system to disease that some physicians prescribe Hypophosphites alone in the early stages of Consumption. Scott's Emulsion is Cod-liver Oil, emulsified, with the Hypophosphites, happily blended. The result of its use is greater strength and activity of the brain, the spinal cord and the nerves.

LETTERS TO THE ADVERTISER.

TELLING STORIES ABOUT HIM.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

As the citizens of London have, for the past three years, been listening to the song-and-dance about my being a Roman Catholic, etc., allow me, through the medium of your valuable journal, to inform the public that I am a Baptist, and that I never was nor never expect to be anything else. Numerous other reports have been circulated with the intention of injuring my business and reputation, but with these I purpose to deal in a different way. By publishing these few lines you will oblige a 24-years' reader of The Advertiser. J. H. TALIAFERRO.

A PAYING INVESTMENT.

"Old man, there is money in buying your wife a wheel," said the man whose face showed some traces of sordid greed.

"Oh, there is?" asked the man of no particular character.

"You bet there is. She may eat a little more, but she doesn't have time to stop and look at the window bargains."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

LIGHTNING REVENGE ARTIST.

"Yes, Julia rejected him, and she was afraid to open the morning paper for fear she would read an account of his suicide."

"She didn't find it, did she?"

"No, the first thing she saw was the announcement of his engagement to a prettier girl."—Detroit Free Press.

FAGGED OUT.—None but those who have become fagged out know what a depressed, miserable feeling it is. All strength is gone, and despondency has taken hold of the sufferers. They feel as though there was nothing to live for. There, however, is a cure—one box of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will do wonders in restoring health and strength. Mandrake and Dandelion are two of the articles entering into the composition of Parmelee's Pills.

FAITHFUL TILL THE END

"It's me," says Cecilia, softly. It is the sweetest, if the most ungrammatical little exclamation—and young, almost childish. Indeed, on poor Cecilia, the appearance of Stairs has had so strange, so strong an influence, that it has carried her back to the old days, when she was hardly out of her short frocks, or, at all-events, only just into her long ones.

Her color has deepened. A soft light has sprung into her eyes.

"Phil! you remember me?" Her smile now is one of clear delight—open, frank. The idea of concealment of any sort is outside and beyond it altogether. She holds out both her hands to him, with the palms upheld in the happiest way. That first nervousness has gone from her. It is as though it had never been. Here is her childhood's—her girlhood's friend. It would be absurd to say she has forgotten to think of who may be looking on as she holds out her hands to him, or of what they may be thinking, or how judging her. To her there is nothing to think about, save joy at the recovery of Phil; there is no thought of evil in her mind, of sin, or of regret. Everything seems blotted out in her save he and the memory of the old sweet days, when he had been all the world to her, and she his universe.

Stairs had quite recovered himself now, and advances to her calmly, coldly, even although his heart is on fire. The very quick, open cordiality of her greeting has, more than all else, assured him of her indifference to him. She had never cared! What a fool! What a fool he had been!

He smiles pleasantly, takes both the little outstretched hands so daintily clad in their dove-grey suedes, and presses them lightly.

"I remember," says he.

The words might have had significance, but for the extreme carelessness of the utterance. They sound unemotional—dead. Cecilia's soft smile fades, and with slow haste, if one may so describe it, she withdraws her hands. Mrs. Chance, who has an unpleasant trick of studying her neighbors' moods, retires behind her fan, and gives way to secret mirth.

"Sold," she says to herself softly. As has been said, she is very vulgar when alone.

Mrs. murmurs a word or two to Cecilia (who answers him a little absently), then moves, passes through the group upon the terrace, and running down the grass steps, goes apparently towards the golfers.

When hidden from the view of those upon the terrace, he however turns aside, and plunging into the wood, is lost to sight for the rest of this gay afternoon.

"How many a man in smart
Find matter to rejoice?"

* * * * * * * * *

"How extremely good-looking," says Mrs. Chance, leaning towards Cecilia, and purposely addressing her.

"Who? Captain Stairs?" says Nell, breaking in quickly. Something about Cecilia strikes her as strange, and, without understanding it, it has disturbed her; has given her a queer, unexplained feeling, that she ought to come to her help in some way. And Mrs. Chance's eyes are so penetrating, so very blue. "Good-looking?"

"Handsome, rather."

"Oh, do you think so? We usen't to think him handsome, used we, Cissy? You remember, long ago? I was almost a baby then, and you—a betwixt and between. Handsome! But then he was like a brother to us, and one never thinks one's brother handsome. That might account for it."

"Except," says Mrs. Chance, sweetly, "that he," she looks again at Cecilia, as if speaking to her, "wasn't your brother."

"No, like one, I said." Nell's voice rings a little sharp.

"Yes. That was what she said," says Grant, who is again reclining at her feet. There is an air of protection in his tone.

"It doesn't matter what I said," says Nell supremely, speaking to him only now, and feeling a little annoyed with him for his support. "And I wish you would get up, you are sitting on my dress. I think, on the whole, you are about as tiresome a person as ever I met in my life."

"I hope you haven't met many," says Grant, whose temper as a rule is excellent. He looks amused.

"No," says Nell. She struggles with herself, and then gives way to laughter. "Anyway, you are the worst," says she, but so delightfully, and with such a half-merry, half-defiant glance from under her lids, as makes her sweeter than ever.

Grant has risen indeed at her command, but now he is leaning over her chair, whispering little nothings to her, and Mrs. Chance, seeing him, and Nell's evident pleasure in society, feels a sense of relief. If only she will fall in love with Alec, what a good thing for him—what a good thing for her—Delia!

"Oh, hang it! Here comes Nobbs," says McNamara, suddenly, in a voice of horror, that is a little more Irish than usual.

"Then I'm going," says Nell.

"No, no. You shan't. You can't," says McNamara, seizing her skirt, and compelling her to reseat herself. "I'll hold you. Do you think we are going to be left to his tender mercies, without protection of any kind? Why, I believe you are the only person in the whole place who has been free from persecution from him. He hasn't fired one quotation at you yet."

"That's what frightens me! I feel he has been making up a regular fusillade for my benefit alone, and when it comes off——"

"Here he is!" says Mickey. "He's going for us! He's coming here! We ought to be prepared, you know. He's coming, primed and loaded; I know it by his air. Who's going to stand the first shot?"

"I don't mind his quotations," says Mrs. Chance disdainfully. It is a comfort to her to be able to disdain someone openly.

"You're a brave woman," says the Irishman. "I confess I always go down before them—riddled."

"God gracious! what's the matter with his hair?" asks Cecilia suddenly. She has quite recovered from her late excitement. That coldness of Stairs' has restored her to the old calm feeling—or she thinks it has.

"Now that you mention it," says Mrs. Cutforth-Boss in a voice that comes from her boots—she wouldn't wear shoes for anything. "I think his hair is changed."

"It is certainly a very remarkable color," says Nell.

"Nothing to what it was when last I saw it," says Mickey. "That's a year ago. It was then pea-green."

"Nonsense, Mickey."

"Fact, I assure you. It appears he had put on a trifle too much of the Infallible, and it came out like that. Dyes do sometimes, even in the best regulated families.

Mrs. Chance is laughing.

"How did he explain it?"

"Gave out that he had the cholera, and hid himself away in his bedroom for three weeks."

"Then how did you see him?" asks Nell severely.

"In the bedroom, of course," airily. "Think anything would daunt me in the cause of science? I wanted to know how the dye had come out pea-green; but—would you believe it?—he refused to give me any information on the subject. Very low, I call it. But what can you expect of a man who sold a dog to a friend of mine, and——?"

"Well?"

"Well. He said it was an Irish terrier, but it turned out a Dachshund!"

"Oh, I really can't believe that, Mickey."

"You may, however."

"The friend, anyway, had the best of the bargain," says Grant. "Dachshunds, if pure, are valuable."

"Yes, of course, that's why I say one can expect nothing from him. He's a perfect fool."

"Hush! he's here," says Grant.

"And a beauty he is!" says Mr. Mcamara.

CHAPTER XI.

"He said, or right or wrong, what came into his head."

Here he is, indeed, and perforce the conversation comes to an end.

Mr. Nobbs is a little man, spare and pale, but of exuberant spirits. He is perhaps the most universally detested person in this small place, being one of those dreadful people who can spring a quotation at you any moment, be it prose or poetry. He lives in a tiny villa outside the town, "Bachelor Villa," as he has coquettishly name it, and as yet it has not crumbled into dust about his head, although many prayers have been uplifted to that effect. He walks on his toes, and has a most irritating way of turning his head to one side like a cock-robin when meaning to be specially charming. His handkerchiefs are always perfumed, and he has an abominable simpering way of boasting about his success with the "fair sex" (as he calls them in his own amazing fashion), that enrages every man of his acquaintance. On the whole, however, he is a harmless little creature (though how would have had apoplexy if you had told him so), but frightfully irritating.

He now advances on Mrs. Gaveston. She is Nell's sister, and therefore very near the rose. Nell is the latest importation, and therefore the most deserving of his attention. Besides, she is beautiful, and Mr. Nobbs, as he always says, "adores the beautiful in any shape." It is a little formula of his.

KILLED BY AN EEL.

Big Whale in the New York Aquarium Drowned.

New York, July 29.—Seltzer is dead. Seltzer was the white whale of the aquarium. The primary cause of his death was greediness, and the secondary, strange to say, as it may seem, water. He was drowned.

On Friday night the keepers noticed that Seltzer was uneasy. He acted in a funny way. He sneezed, snorted and squirmed as if in pain. He had partaken of an unusually large portion of eels, au natural, for supper. When Dr. T. H. Bean, the director of the aquarium, arrived on Saturday morning his attention was called to Seltzer, and a half of an eel was protruding from Seltzer's blowhole.

While trying to rid himself of the contents of an overloaded stomach, the eel had entered and clogged the nasal passage. This had prevented the valves of the lungs from closing and the water that had entered Seltzer's breathing apparatus had to be expelled.

The water from the tank was drawn immediately. When it was about half down the whale had succeeded in ejecting a fifteen-inch eel from his blowhole. The eel had been partly digested. The relief came too late, for the nasal passage had become congested, and the top valve of his breathing apparatus, which is like a trap door, was so inflamed that he couldn't close it. Seltzer could neither breathe nor get rid of the water in his lungs. After a day of suffering in the presence of Dr. Bean, Seltzer finally choked, gasped and rose to the surface dead.

A CHANGE IN TONE.

The Stand Taken by Doctors on the Kent Case Beginning to Weaken.

Ottawa, July 26.—It is safe to say that the statement made under oath by Mr. G. H. Kent, of this city, with regard to his wonderful recovery from Bright's disease through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills have definitely decided the question as to whether he owes his recovery to this valuable medicine, and has been accepted as a final settlement of the debate. While, however, there is now no objection raised to this statement, there is still a strong feeling in the city and neighborhood with regard to the cure, and those who at first combatted the idea as incredible are now loud in their expressions of astonishment that what has been considered an incurable disease should succumb so quickly to a remedy, and in their praise of the remedy itself.

Le Bing Nam, the Chinese athlete, says that his extraordinary strength is due to his diet, which consists chiefly of boiled rice and boiled ducks' heads. The brains of the duck, he asserts, are very strengthening.

On Friday 600 boxes of cheese were shipped from the Staffordville cheese factory. This factory is under the management of Mr. D. Leitch, as well as the Firby factory.

Mr. Arthur Clark, of Sparta, had the ends of two fingers cut off recently while setting his binder knives. Only a few weeks since his little girl was shot through the hand.

The latest acquisition to the Woodstock police force is Charles S. Johnson, of that town. His height is 6 feet 2 inches. He will be paid $450 a year and buy his own clothes.

The insurance companies have settled with Neveux, Clinton & Baxter, Windsor, for $13,000, and J. O. Peck's loss will be arranged as soon as he has finished stock-taking. Repairs to the building will begin at once.

Judge Masson, of Goderich, held court of revision at Exeter on Tuesday on the appeal against the assessment by Mr. Robert Pickard against the corporation of the village, the corporation gaining the suit.

W. C. Armstrong, G. T. R. conductor, St. Thomas, was sitting the other night in the cupola of the caboose, when suddenly the brakes were set and Armstrong took a tumble. On examination it was found a rib had been fractured.

An old resident of Blenheim, in the person of Samuel Newcombe, died on Tuesday. He originally came from New Brunswick, and settled in Ontario when the country was new. He was a cousin of Sir Charles Tupper, but differed from him in politics.

A meeting of the directors of the Bayham Central Fair was held on Saturday. The prize list was revised and all arrangements made for holding the fair again this year at Staffordville, on Sept. 25. A large number of special attractions will be added.

F. J. Franks had his face and arms badly burned on Tuesday, at Guelph, by the explosion of a bicycling enameling oven. Franks was thrown across the room by the force of the explosion. His forehead was badly cut by the iron door of the oven.

The acting master in chambers at Toronto asked to extend the time for filing the defense of Judge Hughes, of St. Thomas, in the suit brought against him some months ago by Insurance Agent Elijah More, of the same place, for $20,000 for alleged libel.

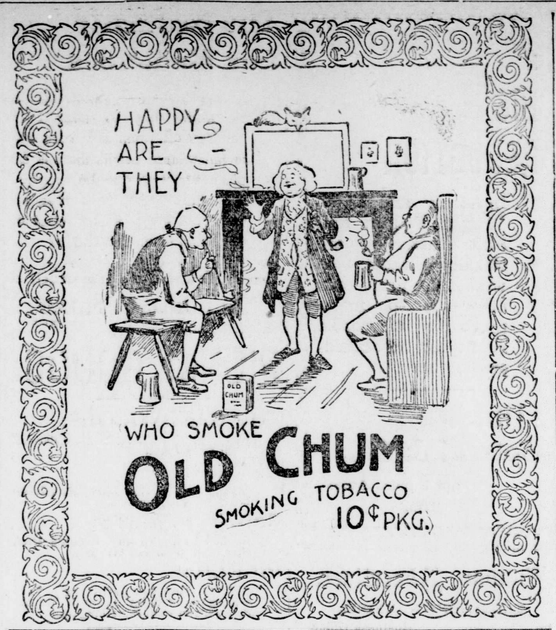

T. Waldron, of Guelph, was accidentally shot by George Mallot while the latter was showing his gun to his friend. Neither knew that the gun was loaded. Waldron got the full charge in the side of his head. He was taken to the hospital, but it is feared he will not recover.

Burglars visited the village of St. George on Monday night, entering Mrs. Clinton's house, D. H. Nellis' jewelry shop and W. F. Haas' stores. Attempts were made to drill the safes in Nellis' and Haas' stores, but they failed in both cases. They got a small amount of cash at Mrs. Clinton's, and some tobacco and clothing in Haas' store.

The report of the committee appointed by the vestry of All Saints' Church, Windsor, to consider the reduction of the pastor's salary, has been approved. It makes the salary of the rector $1,300 and that of Mr. Smith $600, a reduction, respectively, of $100 and $200. A committee of ten will canvass the congregation for subscriptions to pay off the debt of $700.

Squire Haley and son, who have been lying in Simcoe jail as the result of the assault on Mr. Jeffreys last week, appeared before Magistrate Cohoe at Courtland Monday morning. Tom Haley was remanded for a week and his father was admitted to bail on his own recognizance for $6,000. The condition of Mr. Jeffreys is somewhat improved, but he is not yet out of danger.

Heavy showers fell in and around Chatham on Tuesday, but there was neither wind nor electric disturbance. Heavy storm clouds rapidly passed to the east, where it was evident a big thunder storm broke. At the Eau, 20 miles south, the steam barge Hayward, of Detroit, with two consorts, light, put into the harbor to await the subsidence or a stiff northeaster. The berry crop, the largest which has been known in the history of Kent, and which was perhaps only half marketed, was completely ruined by Monday's heavy downpour. Growers of small fruits in all the surrounding townships are very heavy losers. Hundreds of men, women and children, earning from 50 cents to $1 a day picking berries, are thrown out of work. Blackberries, raspberries, currants, gooseberries and cherries have suffered. The standing grain in many a splendid field has been broken down and lodged so as to be beyond the aid of a binder to save. The cut grain has been drenched and spoiled. The hay in many districts is so soaked as to be not worth saving. In other words the heavy floods have been the climax of a wet harvest season that has left its mark of ruin on every farmstead in the district.

RECENT FISH STORY.

A Boy Catches German Carp With a Dog for Bait.

Middletown, N. J., July 29.—John Hunt, a 15-year-old boy, of Narrowburg, has discovered a new bait for German carp.

Young Hunt went to bathe in the Delaware, taking with him a small pug pup, which weighs about two and a half pounds. The pup is a very lively fellow, and to make sure it would not run away the boy used a stout cord about 50 feet long as a leash.

He tied the dog on shore while he took his swim, and then thinking to give the pup its first lesson in swimming, he entered a boat, rowed about half way across the river and threw the pup, with the cord still about its neck, overboard. The pup made a few wild splashes and then started to swim towards shore, but it had only gone a few feet when a large fish rose to the surface, opened its jaws, and with great deliberation swallowed the dog. With the cord attached to the dog the boy drew the big fish alongside the boat, but could not lift it, so tying the line to one of the seats, he rowed the boat ashore and dragged the fish upon the bank. With his knife he ripped the fish open and found the pup gasping for breath and almost smothered, but it revived in a few minutes.

The carp was taken to a market in Narrowsburg and weighed tipping the scale at a trifle more than 20 pounds.

DROWNED.

Winnipeg, July 29.—A youth named Ricard, aged 17, was drowned yesterday while bathing in the Assiniboine River at St. Charles. The body was recovered yesterday.

AN ALDERMAN MISSING.

Guelph, Ont., July 29.—The relatives and friends of Ald. Calvert are much concerned as to his whereabouts. He left here about two weeks ago to do some business in the Niagara district, and has been heard from but once since.

SAVED FROM DROWNING.

Windsor, July 29.—William Shields, a guest at the Mettawas, while bathing on Tuesday, stepped in a hole, and, being unable to swim, was going to the bottom when Andrew Moore, of Kingsville, went to his rescue and pulled him into a boat. It took a doctor half an hour to bring Shields back to consciousness. The guests of the hotel made up a purse for Moore.

SAYS "The Fourth Estate," New York:

"The London (Ontario) Advertiser is considered by those competent to judge, the best paper in Ontario outside of Toronto."

The Big Three:

DAILY ADVERTISER—2 p.m. Edition (circulating throughout Western Ontario by afternoon trains).

DAILY ADVERTISER—4 p.m. Edition (circulating throughout city, suburbs and surrounding neighborhood).

WESTERN ADVERTISER—Our mammoth weekly.

Combined, they cover Canada's most progressive territory.

London is the capital and important railway center of the most fertile and smiling territory in the world. It lies between Niagara and Detroit, and Great Lakes north and south, in the agricultural garden of the continent.

The London Advertiser has been established 34 years.

It supplies full market reports, and goes into the hands of live business men, wide-awake farmers, and the general public.

It has always been a favorite in home circles, where its advertisements are carefully read in the leisure of evening by those who do the buying.

The Advertiser goes into thousands of homes where, through habit, and identity of opinion, it is the only newspaper taken. Without it, "the whole field" cannot possibly be covered.

The purchasing quality of the circulation of The Advertiser has been frequently tested in specific instances by leading merchants, with the most satisfactory results.

The circulation of The Advertiser increased 20 per cent during the past five months, and will more than maintain this percentage of increase throughout 1897.

There is one infallible test of the advertising efficacy of any newspaper—namely, results. Make the trial!

FRIDAY, JULY 30.

BREAKFAST — Iced currants. Wheatflakes, sugar and cream. Eggs a la Goldenrod. Radishes. Coffee.

LUNCHEON — Beefsteak hash. Baked tomatoes. Brown bread and butter. Pineapple compote. Cocoa or tea.

DINNER—Cream of lima bean soup. Halibut—Maitre d' Hotel. Potato snow. Young beets. Raspberries with Devonshire cream.

Cut out these recipes and paste them in a scrap-book.

Cream of Lima Bean Soup—Soak one cup dried lima beans from the morning until noon; drain and add three pints of cold water. Boil the beans slowly for three hours.

Mash the beans on the side of the saucepan with a tablespoon and then strain all through a sieve. Cut two slices of onion, and four slices of carrot into small cubes; cook in two tablespoonfuls of butter until yellow, add one cup of milk, one tablespoon butter, one teaspoon of salt, one half-saltspoon of pepper and two tablespoonfuls of flour mixed with four tablespoonfuls of milk or water. When this is hot stir it into the boiling soup. Strain and serve.

Halibut-Maitre d'Hotel—Cut two pounds of halibut into pieces three inches square. Dip each in a beaten egg, then in sifted bread crumbs. Fry in boiling lard until a rich brown. Rub a heaping teaspoon of butter to a cream, add the juice of half a lemon, half a tablespoon of chopped parsley, one saltspoon of salt and a half saltspoon of pepper, mix and spread on the hot squares of halibut, set in the oven just long enough to melt, then serve.

Beets—Brush and scrub well, but do not cut, half a dozen young, fresh beets. Lay in boiling water and boil rapidly for an hour. Plunge into cold water and slip the skins off by hand. Cut in eighths lengthwise and pour over a sauce made with two tablespoons butter, juice of the half lemon left over from the fish sauce, one-half teaspoon of salt, two dashes of cayenne pepper. Boil up once and pour hot over the beets just before they go to the table.

Raspberries and Cream—Get two boxes of fresh raspberries and fill five individual glass dessert dishes with them. Sprinkle each with a teaspoon of powdered sugar, and lay a large tablespoon of Devonshire cream in the center of each.

Devonshire Cream—Stand a quart of good, fresh milk on the ice for twelve hours, or in winter for 24 hours, then set it on the stove till almost at the boiling point. It must not bubble, but should show wrinkles and look thick. The more slowly it is done the finer it will be. Place it again on the ice. On the following day skim it by folding over and over in small rolls and set in the ice-box till wanted.

GATEWAYS OF TOURIST TRAVEL.

The Grand Trunk Railway have just issued a book of 100 pages called "Gateways of Tourist Travel," being a pen and camera picture of the scenery reached by the Grand Trunk and its connections. The pictures include scenes from the Thousand Islands, Niagara Falls, rapids of the St. Lawrence, Montreal, Quebec, Parry Sound, Georgian Bay, Muskoka Lakes, White Mountains and many other points of summer resorts. The literary work is excellent, and the half-tones well executed. No railroad has ever issued a more commendable book of their summer resorts than the one now placed in the hands of the traveling public by the Grand Trunk.

Grand Celebration at the Port.

The Wooden Anniversary of Summerholm.

Concert and Tableaux in the Town Hall Last Night.

Whether it is the exalted air of the "Heights," or native energy that refuses to be utterly idle, the ladies who summer at Port Stanley are certainly not given over to the proverbial siestas and long hours of laziness and inaction in the hammock and on the porch; but a veranda, it was thought, would be a great convenience, and add much to the improvement of "Summerholm," so different ladies staying at the Port this summer went to work enthusiastically to get up a bright, attractive little concert of summer touring talent, and succeeded immensely. To Miss May Fraser, as usual, must much of the credit be due; not only were the tableaux which she planned and arranged by herself, a very delightful feature of the evening's entertainment, but it was her combination of energy, good sense and fun, that made the whole thing seem like play from the beginning, rather than hard work. Ladies whose efforts contributed equally to make the evening a success were Mrs. W. T. Strong, Miss Priddis, and Miss Raymond; besides the number who contributed to a pleasant programme.

The town hall, prettily decorated, was well filled, quite back to the doors, with a select audience out of doors taking in what they could of the entertainment through the open windows. Senator Greene, of Springfield, was the chairman for the evening, and he gave a brief and admirably-worded little address.

It was not usual, Mr. Greene said, to call upon a stranger to give an address of the sort he was called upon to deliver, but he might be pardoned for no longer considering himself "a stranger within their gates," having been identified with Port Stanley 25 years now—and the audience seemed to agree with him. Senator Greene then reminded them what the concert was for, and in the light of the benefit which must accrue to "Summerholm," remarked that he would have liked to have seen a few more of his old friends, the villagers, present.

The mysterious crackling of fire under a pot, which could no longer be disguised, and advised the audience of a gypsy camp somewhere in the near vicinity, led the chairman to open proceedings at once, by announcing that the first piece on the programme would be a tableaux entitled "The Gypsy Encampment," whereupon the curtains were switched back with great celerity and dispatch by the youthful gentlemen who were told off on this auspicious occasion as stage managers, and continued to perform this good work till an over-energetic pull brought about a slight catastrophe that necessitated the use of pins for the rest of the evening, and for which nobody seemed to care.

The tableau was a thing of beauty; but it is well to pass right on to "Cherry Ripe," the next piece on the programme, which was received by all the small boys on the front bench (we always put them in the front row, under the eye of their parents, in Port Stanley) with a groan of appreciation. Without doubt, Miss Jean Labatt was the "piece de resistance" of the evening; a serious, winsome, little maid, who stood like a statue with her bunches of cherries, and never betrayed by even the quiver of a chubby knee that she could speak, or would ever be anything again but a picture.

"Kick, can't you! What's the matter with you?" said the smallest boy but one, who was rather hard hit by Miss Cherry Ripe, to his neighbor on the left.

"I've only got on tennis shoes; I cant," came back the answer, in tones of suppressed agony.

The programme, which for several good reasons, had to be varied a little, now contained a solo by Mrs. Wright, a most popular little lady from Detroit, who is adding life and brightness at present to the Fraser House. Mrs. Wright has a contralto voice of considerable range, and gave her selection, "Happy Days," and the encore, which followed it, with that passion and richness of tone, which in a peculiar measure is the prerogative of the contralto voice. Her son, Master Charley Wright, accompanied her most charmingly with a mandolin obligato.

Mr. John W. McIntosh went to the audience's heart, with his "Land of the Maple." His voice is one to sing patriotic songs with. One could listen to him through a whole programme; and young Canada, which was rampant that night, seemed minded to try how long it could keep him at it.

Miss Labatt, of London, made a hit with her "Carnival" song. It caught the fancy of the audience at once, and the spirit and vivacity which she threw into the rendering of it brought her repeated applause; and she was induced to give as an encore the solo originally marked upon the programme, "Kentucky Babe," a negro lullably, most touchingly rendered.

Two jolly White Caps, Messrs. Sutherland and Morphy, put in an appearance somewhere about this part of the programme, and scored an instant success with everybody present with their duets on the banjo and minstrel melodies. Mr. Morphy, indeed, was the recipient of a large bunch of wild flowers and handsome weeds, which some admirers had thoughtfully pulled by the wayside for him.

A solo by Mrs. R. M. Burns, called the "Darkies' Cradle Song," was a portion of the programme very much appreciated. Mrs. Burns sings with a taste and perfect refinement which always makes it a pleasure to find her name on any programme. One has only to listen to her to know that she has received the best instruction. The teacher who in this case produced such excellent results, is, the writer happens to know, Madame Laddigan, one of the most gifted of the accomplished ladies of the Sacred Heart Convent in London. Miss Raymond, who was in demand for accompaniments, played for Mrs. Burns, as also did Miss Chrissy McIntosh, who in her violin obligato gave indubitable evidence, if any were needed, that she comes of a musical family.

To go on describing everything that took place on the programme would be out of the question. It is sufficient to say that nothing but what was excellent of its kind found a place there, and when a grand contribution of wooden spoons, chopping-bowls, clothes-pins, bread-plates, rocking-chairs, etc., had been laid at the feet of the lady managers of Summerholm's wooden anniversary, both audience and directors separated with only feelings of mutual satisfaction for the pleasure received and given throughout one short evening. Certainly no amateur performance gotten up at such short notice, and realizing the sum of $50, has any reason to do anything but congratulate itself.
