London, Sept. 30.—1:58 P.M.—For the first time in this war of nine months the German navy has been completely defeated. BRUSSELS PEOPLE

Germans Have Difficulty in Finding Rations for Them.

BELGIANS UNDAUNTED
People Indorse King Albert's Resolve to Resist All German Offers.

[Canadian Press.]
LONDON, Sept. 29.—9:05 p.m.—The scarcity of food in Brussels has raised a grave problem, according to R. C. Hawkins, who has just returned from Belgium, where he completed arrangements for the transferring of a number of wounded Belgian soldiers to England.

"The situation in Brussels is one of great uncertainty," said Mr. Hawkins tonight. "There is the gravest danger of starvation. Food is scarce, and 150,000 people are applying for rations which the German administration is finding it difficult to supply. There is the further danger that the workmen of the city may rise in revolt against the German administration. Mr. Hawkins was greatly impressed by the spirit of the Belgian troops at Antwerp. Regarding conditions there, he said:

"Terrifying the Germans.
"Every night a sortie is made, and every morning brings its quota of dead and wounded, sometimes as many as 1,000, making a heavy drain on the garrison, but the usefulness of these expeditions cannot be exaggerated. The German outposts are reported as almost terrorized, and a night passing without some of them being picked off, or some of their supply trains being blown up. As these incidents tend to upset the carefully planned arrangements of the German army, the Belgians at Antwerp have been nicknamed the 'Black rats,' on account of their destructive nocturnal activities.

Victims Chiefly Civilians.
"It is remarkable that in spite of the vigor of the military operations, the greater portion both of killed and wounded are civilians. The Germans undoubtedly have tried to strike terror to the hearts of the people of Antwerp in order that the determination to hold out to the end might be shattered, but the firm resolve of King Albert to resist all German offers has endeared him to the hearts of his people, and they are content to follow his lead. This was shown when His Majesty refused even to receive the last German deputations.

Took Red Cross Funds.
Mr. Hawkins added that the Antwerp hospitals were full, and the fact that the Germans, with their occupation of Brussels had annexed the Belgian Red Cross organization, including its funds, left its Red Cross branches in great difficulty. Consequently the Belgian Government gladly accepted the proposal that convalescent wounded soldiers, while owing to the nature of their injuries, would be unable to rejoin a color, should be brought to England.

COL. GORDON ALIVE,

Commandant of Gordon Highlanders Was Twice Reported Killed.

[Canadian Press.]
LONDON, Sept. 29.—2:10 a.m.—Col. W. E. Gordon, of the Gordon Highlanders, and aide-de-camp to King George, who have been twice reported killed, is a prisoner in German hands and in good health. This news was conveyed to the British war office through the American ambassador at Berlin, James W. Wilson.

Col. Gordon, who won the Victoria Cross in the Boer war, was in command of the Gordon Highlanders early in September, when they were surprised. They advanced towards a German detachment in the mistaken belief that it was a French picket, and many of the Highlanders were shot down. One regular who escaped said he had seen the body of his colonel among the dead.

HUGHES' MESSAGE
TO SAILING TROOPS

Says the Canadian Contingent Goes to Fight in Righteous Cause.

LOOKED UPON AS MARVEL
Work of Preparing For Trip Set Pace To Be Kept Up.

[Canadian Press.]
QUEBEC, Sept. 29.—The following farewell message was issued in pamphlet form by Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes, minister of militia, to the contingent before it sailed to Europe:

Where Duty Leads.
"Six weeks ago when the call to arms came, inspired by that love of freedom from tyranny dominant in the British race; actuated by the knowledge that, under British constitutional responsible Government, you enjoyed the utmost of human liberty, you promptly responded in overwhelming numbers to that call.

Thirty-Three Thousand on Way.
"Twenty-three thousand men were accepted by the Motherland. Today upwards of 55,000 are en route to do duty on the historic fields of France, Belgium and Germany for the preservation of the British Empire and the rights and liberty of humanity.

Last of Power.
"Last of power; the subjugation of inoffensive and law-abiding neighbors; autocratic aggrandizement have caused this war. In its cause the allies are guiltless.

Victims Chiefly Civilians.
"Belgium and Holland have long excited Prussian ambition for ownership. Prussia desired extension toward the Euxine and Aegean Seas—Belgium and Germany were to guard, rapine and misery in the train.

It has long been predicted that when the Kiel Canal would be completed, Germany would begin a long-dreaded war. The Kiel canal was completed early in July. War began before the end of that month. Germany was found absolutely ready and waiting. Great Britain, Belgium and France were unprepared. Three weeks elapsed before the regular armies of the latter countries could take the field.

A Marvel.
"Soldiers, the world regards you as a marvel. Within six weeks you were at your homes, peaceful Canadian citizens. Since then your training camp has been secured; three and a half miles of rifle ranges twice as long as any other in the world were constructed; fences were removed; water of the purest quality was laid in miles of pipes; drainage was perfected; electric lights were installed; crops were sown; vestments and bridges were built; ordnance and army service corps buildings were erected; railway sidings were laid down; woods were cleared; sanitation was perfected in rifle shooting and today are as fine a body—officers and men—as ever faced a foe. The same spirit as accomplished that great work is what you will display in the war fields in Europe. There will be no faltering, no temporizing—the work must be done. The task before you six weeks ago seemed herculean—but it has been successfully accomplished. So follow the same indomitable spirit, you will triumph over the common enemy of humanity.

Success is Certain.
"That you will render a splendid account of yourselves for king and country is certain. You come of the right breed—English, Scotch, Irish, French, Canadian, German and American—and courage and steadfastness are proverbial. In South Africa your presence was a guarantee of success. So in this most righteous struggle on the part of Britain, when side by side with soldiers from the motherland stand the free men from the dominions beyond the seas; when Australians, New Zealanders and South Africans, Hindus and Europeans and Canadians tread the soil of Europe then will the Prussian autocracy realize the gigantic power of liberty.

And amid it all you will never forget that you are not the innocent and lovely people of Germany. Your aim is the overthrow of tyranny and aggrandizement. Every man among you is a free-will volunteer. Not one has been invited. No more typical army of free men ever marched to meet an enemy.

Soldiers, behind you are loved ones, home, country, with all the traditions of Britain; with all the traditions of loyalty and loyalty; love of king and constitution. You bid adieu to those near and dear to you. You sing:

"I go, then, sweet lass, to win honor and fame,
And I should chance to come gloriously home,
And I'll bring a heart to thee with love running o'er,
And then I'll leave thee and the homeland no more.

Will Bear Themselves Well.
"That you will so bear yourselves, individually and collectively, wherever duty may call you, as to win the respect of the foe in the field; the admiration and regard of the good citizens of all lands in which your lot may be cast, and the love and regard of those near and dear at home, is the conviction of all Canadians.

"And when with years and honor crowned
You sit some homeward bound around,
And hear no more the stirring sound
That spoke the trumpet's warning,
You'll sing and give one hip-hurrah,
And pledge the memory of the day,
When to you and dare, you all were there.

And met the foe in the morning.
Principles Are Eternal.
"Some may not return and pray God they be few—for such ever will their memory be cherished by loved ones near and dear, and by a grateful country; throughout the ages free men of all lands will revere and honor the heroes who sacrificed themselves in preserving unimpaired the priceless gem of liberty. But the soldier going down in the cause of freedom never dies—immortality is his. What role he plays in the history of the world, whether his resting place may be bedecked with the golden lilies of France or amid the vine-clad hills of the Riviera, is immortality. The principles for which you strive are eternal. May success ever attend you, and on your return rest assured a crowning triumph will await you.

(Signed),
"Colonel, Minister of Militia and Defence for Canada."

GERMAN CLERGY'S
APPEAL AMAZING

Church Heads in Britain Issue a Manifesto in Reply.

EMPHATIC AS TO STAND
German Theologians Could Not Have Known the Situation.

[Canadian Press.]
LONDON, Sept. 29.—In reply to the appeal addressed by German theologians to "Evangelical Christians Abroad," a manifesto was issued here today, signed by the heads of the established Church of England and by Nonconformist leaders, justifying England's action in connection with the European war.

The manifesto refers to the authors of the German document as "men of whose honesty, capacity and good faith there can be no question," but expresses amazement that such men should commit themselves to a statement concerning the political causes of the war which depart so strangely from what seem to us to be plain facts in this grave hour of European history.

It is upon these facts we rest our assured conviction that for men who desire to maintain the paramount obligation of fidelity to their king and to their duty in defending weaker nations against violence and wrong, no duty is clearer than that which our country has taken.

After reviewing the negotiations that preceded the war, the manifesto continues:
"We can only suppose, incredible as it seems, that those honorable and gifted men who signed the German appeal were unaware of the obligations by which we were bound and also of the story of the negotiations."

After expressing the hope that the time will come when it again will be their privilege to work with the German theologians in behalf of Christianity, the signers of today's manifesto add:

"There must be no mistake about our position. Eagerly desirous of peace, foremost to the best of our ability to promote a close fellowship between England and Germany, we nevertheless have been driven to declare that there is no peace, no principles of truth and honor are more dear to us."

We have taken our stand for international good and for the safeguarding of small nations for the world, and for the essential conditions of brotherhood among the nations of the world."

Among the signers of the manifesto are the Archbishops of Canterbury, York and Armagh; the Bishop of London; the Rev. R. J. Campbell, Dr. John Clifford, the Rev. P. R. Mavor, Dr. Campbell Morgan and Dr. Robertson Nicholls.

Information from quarters which have always been reliable assures that this confidence is not baseless nor unjustified. There is no evidence of excitement or jubilation, for Englishmen of the better-informed classes are not apt to forget the lesson indicated in the new slogan of Tommy Atkins: "It's a long, long way to Tipperary."

It is recognized that the great struggle cannot and will not be ended without appalling losses, but the present outlook, it is felt, is better than had been expected by the most sanguine of those in authority, and a cheerful confidence that excellent news will soon be forthcoming from France is now the order of the day.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—3 a.m.—According to a Rotterdam dispatch the Daily Mail, private information from Berlin says that before the retreat to the western frontier the German commissariat broke down completely.

For a fortnight a majority of the German troops lived on bread and water. So great was their suffering that large numbers entered the hospital with nervous breakdown; many became insane.

OSCAR CANNOT GO TO THE FRONT AGAIN
ROME (via London), Sept. 30.—2:10 p.m.—An official statement issued in Berlin and received here says: "Prince Oscar, who has heretofore been reported as ill in a hospital at Hamburg, is pronounced by specialists to be suffering from a heart affection, from which he will recover, but it is said that he must not resume his duties at the front, as he could not stand the strain."

"Prince Joachim, who was recently wounded, is expected to be able to return to the front in October. The other sons of the Emperor are all well."

SR AS. WHITNEY
IS SAID AT REST

Body Reposes at Morrisburg in Family Plot.

AN IMPRESSIVE SERVICE
Special Train Met by Many People at Stations en Route.

[Canadian Press.]
MORRISBURG, Ont., Sept. 29.—The remains of Sir James Whitney were buried this afternoon in the cemetery adjoining the Whitney Memorial Chapel near his birthplace at Williamsburg.

Through the passing of the years many of Sir James Whitney's early associates had been removed from the scene, and the crowd that gathered today was largely composed of those who had known him during the later years when he was climbing up the political ladder. At his graveside his brothers and these relatives, by blood mingled with duty, stood in a row, representing the official and domestic life of Canada from every class.

Crowds Waited in Rain.
The special train did not reach Williamsburg until nearly 5 o'clock. The railway runs immediately behind the churchyard, which fronts on the St. Lawrence River. A cold, drizzling rain had been falling for an hour, but the crowd waited patiently, for the most part followed the remains on foot.

The casket was supported by a detachment of the Fourth Hussars, Fifty-Ninth Highlanders, and a detachment from the Fourth Hussars bore the floral tributes.

Only a few stops were made on the trip down, the first at Cobourg, where a few friends met the train. At Belleville, where a stop was necessary to change engines, about 250 people visited the car where the remains rested. At Kingston, Breckville and Prescott the same demand was made by people who had waited at other places as the train rushed through, several groups stood with bared heads in silent reverence.

Impressive Ceremony.
Of all the ceremonies of the day, perhaps the service in the small chapel by the river was the most impressive. It was in charge of Rural Dean Carson, rector of the Morrisburg Parish, and he was assisted by Rev. M. G. Peck, an Episcopalian minister of the parish; Rev. Canon Arthur Lewis, a more remote rector of the church; and Rev. V. L. Quertain, of Renfrew.

The regular ritual of the Anglican Church was followed with practically no change, it seemed particularly fitting that the closing hymn for a life so full of vigor and activity should be "Now the Lord's Service is Ours."

Government Railway Stops.
NORTH BAY, Sept. 29.—Out of respect for the late Sir James Whitney, the whole system of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway from North Bay to Cochrane ceased operations for five minutes, from 2:55 until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

CANADA TO ENFORCE NEW FISHERY LAWS
Will Not Wait Longer To Hear Decision of U. S. A.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Sept. 29.—Owing to the failure of the United States to approve of regulations governing the taking of fish in the international waters, the Canadian Government is about to serve notice that it resumes its liberty of action.

A controversy has been going on between the two countries since 1892, when the appointment of a joint commission to frame fishing regulations applicable to boundary waters from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Dr. Starr Jordan, representing the United States, and Prof. Prince, representing Canada, failed to agree on regulations. Canada approved of them, but the United States failed to do so owing chiefly to objections from Maine fishermen.

WELSH ARMY OF FIFTY THOUSAND TO BE RAISED
Thirty-Six Thousand Already Recruited in Two Shires.

[Canadian Press.]
CARDIFF, Wales, Sept. 29.—At a big meeting held here today, over which the Earl of Plymouth presided, David Lloyd George, the chancellor of the exchequer, spoke of the Government's intention to raise a Welsh army of 50,000 men.

Mr. Lloyd George, who delivered a rousing speech, said that Glamorgan-shire already had recruited 24,000, and Monmouthshire 12,000. He frankly told his hearers that the recruits were not going out for a picnic but for a stern enterprise which would involve hardships, wounds and danger, but he added, a vast majority would return and would have glorious memories to the end of their lives—memories that they would not barter for all the gold in the Bank of England.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer pointed out that under conscription, Wales would be compelled to contribute a quarter of a million men, but that a voluntary army of 50,000 men would be just as good as a forced army of five times that number.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS AGAIN REJECTED
Methodist Conference Fails To Give Necessary Three-Fourths Vote.

[Canadian Press.]
OTTAWA, Sept. 29.—Through a special committee of the general conference of the Methodist Church reported to the conference this afternoon in favor of giving to women the equal rights with laymen in the administration of the church, it was voted down.

By the terms of the constitution governing the conference any matter affecting a radical change in the constitution requires a three-fourths vote of the total vote cast. A standing vote was taken first and resulted 200 for and 102 against. Some of the delegates called for the yeas and nays with the result that a slight change in the vote was noted: this time 194 yeas and 98 nays were recorded. The latter vote was, of course, the decisive one. Thus to have carried the report 220 votes were required.

Third Time Turned Down.
This is the third time the general conference has turned down the question of extending the same privileges to women as are enjoyed by the laymen of the church. Each time it has been lost by a narrow margin. The committee reported that it had voted solidly against the proposal to admit women into the ministry.

STARVATION FACES
BRUSSELS PEOPLE

Germans Have Difficulty in Finding Rations for Them.

BELGIANS UNDAUNTED
People Indorse King Albert's Resolve to Resist All German Offers.

[Canadian Press.]
LONDON, Sept. 29.—5:05 p.m.—The scarcity of food in Brussels has raised a grave problem, according to R. C. Hawkins, who has just returned from Belgium, where he completed arrangements for the transferring of a number of wounded Belgian soldiers to England.

"The situation in Brussels is one of great uncertainty," said Mr. Hawkins tonight. "There is the gravest danger of starvation. Food is scarce, and 150,000 people are applying for rations which the German administration is finding it difficult to supply. There is the further danger that the workmen of the city may rise in revolt."

Mr. Hawkins was greatly impressed by the spirit of the Belgian troops at Antwerp. Regarding conditions there he said:

Terrorizing the Germans.
"Every night a sortie is made, and every morning brings its quota of dead and wounded. Sometimes as many as 1,000, making a heavy drain on the garrison; but the usefulness of these expeditions cannot be exaggerated. The German outposts are reported as almost terrorized, not a night passing without some of them being picked off, or some of their supply trains being blown up. As these incidents tend to upset the carefully planned arrangements of the German army, the Belgians at Antwerp have been nicknamed the 'Black Cats' on account of their destructive nocturnal activities."

Victims Chilly Civilians.
"It is remarkable that in spite of the vigor of the military operations, the greater portion both of killed and wounded are civilians. The Germans undoubtedly have tried to strike terror to the hearts of the people of Antwerp in order that the determination to hold out to the end might be shattered, but the firm resolve of the Belgians to resist all German offers has endeared him to the hearts of his people, and they are content to follow his lead. This was shown when His Majesty refused even to receive the last German deputations."

Took Red Cross Funds.
Mr. Hawkins added that the Antwerp hospitals were full, and the fact that the Germans, with their occupation of Brussels had annexed the Belgian Red Cross organization, including its funds, left its Red Cross work in a great difficulty. Consequently the Belgian Government gladly accepted the proposal that convalescent wounded soldiers, who, owing to the nature of their injuries, would be unable to rejoin the colors, should be brought to England.

COL. GORDON ALIVE, BUT IS A PRISONER

Commandant of Gordon Highlanders Was Twice Reported Killed.

[Canadian Press.]
LONDON, Sept. 29.—3:10 a.m.—Col. W. E. Gordon, of the Gordon Highlanders, and aide-de-camp, Mr. King George, who has twice unofficially been reported killed, is a prisoner in Germany and in good health. This news was conveyed to the British war office through the American ambassador at Berlin, James W. Gerard.

Col. Gordon, who won the Victoria Cross in the Boer war, was in command of the Gordon Highlanders early in September, when they were surprised. They advanced towards a German detachment in the mistaken belief that it was a French picket, and many of the Highlanders were shot down. One regular who escaped said he had seen the body of his colonel among the dead.

SIXTEEN MORE OFFICERS IN THE CASUALTY LIST

LONDON, Sept. 29.—3:46 p.m.—The following casualties among British officers have been reported from headquarters at the front:

Killed, 3; died of wounds, 5; wounded, 8; officers previously reported missing who have now rejoined their commands, 4.

HUGHES' MESSAGE
TO SAILING TROOPS

Says the Canadian Contingent Goes to Fight in Righteous Cause.

LOOKED UPON AS MARVEL
Work of Preparing For Trip Set Pace To Be Kept Up.

[Canadian Press.]
QUEBEC, Sept. 29.—The following farewell message was issued in pamphlet form by Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes, minister of militia, to the contingent before it sailed to England:

Where Duty Leads.
"Fellow Soldiers:
"Six weeks ago when the call to arms came, inspired by that love of freedom from tyranny dominant in the British race; actuated by the knowledge that, under British constitutional responsible Government, you enjoyed the utmost of human liberty, you loyally and promptly responded in overwhelming numbers to that call."

Thirty-Three Thousand on Way.
"Twenty-two thousand men were accepted by the Motherland. Today upwards of 55,000 are en route to do duty on the battlefields of France, Belgium and Germany for the preservation of the British Empire and the rights and liberty of humanity."

"Let us of power, the subjugation of inoffensive and law-abiding neighbors; autocratic aggrandizement have caused this war. In its cause the allies are fighting."

"Belgium and Holland have long excited Prussian ambition for ownership. Prussia desired extension to ward the Elbe and the ocean, and Belgium and Germany for the preservation of the British Empire and the rights and liberty of humanity."

"The task before you six weeks ago seemed herculean, but it has been successfully accomplished. So following the same indomitable spirit, you will triumph over the common enemy of humanity."

Success Is Certain.
"That you will render a splendid account of yourselves for king and country is certain. You come of the right blood—English, Scotch, Irish, French, Welsh, German and American—your courage and steadfastness are proverbial. In South Africa your presence was a guarantee of success. So in this most righteous struggle on the part of Britain. When side by side with soldiers from the motherland stand the free men from the dominions beyond the seas, when Australians, New Zealanders, South Africans, Hindus, Newfoundlanders and Canadians tread the soil of Europe then will the Prussian autocracy realize the gigantic power of liberty."

"And amid it all you will never forget that you are not on the innocent and lovely people of Germany. Your duty is the overthrow of tyranny, the aggrandizement. Every man among you is a free-will volunteer. Not one has been invited. No more typical army of free men ever marched to meet an enemy."

"Soldiers, behind you are loved ones, home, country, with all the traditions of liberty and loyalty; love of King and constitution. You bid adieu to those near and dear to you. You sing:

"I go, then, sweet lass, to win honor and fame,
And I shall have chance to come glorying home,
I'll bring a heart to thee with love running o'er,
And then I'll leave thee and the home-land no more."

Will Bear Themselves Well.
"That you will so bear yourselves, individually and collectively, wherever duty may call you, as to win the respect of the foe in the field; the admiration and regard of the good citizens of all lands in which your lot may be cast, and the love and regard of those near and dear at home, is the conviction of all Canadians."

"And when with years and honor crowned
You sit upon homeward beards around,
And hear no more the stirring sound
That spoke the trumpet's warning,
You'll sing and give one hip-hurrah,
And pledge the memory of the day,
When, to do and dare, you all were there,
And met the foe in the morning."

Principles Are Eternal.
"Some may not return—and pray God they be few—for such ever will their memory be cherished by loved ones near and dear, and by a grateful country, but throughout the ages the men of all lands will reverence and honor the heroes who sacrificed themselves in preserving unimpaired the priceless gem of liberty. That the soldier going down in the cause of right and duty—immortality is his. What reck he whether his resting-place may be bedecked with the golden hills of France or the vine-clad hills of the Rhine? The principles for which he strives are eternal. May success ever attend you, and on your return rest assured a crowning triumph will await you."

(Signed), SAM HUGHES,
Colonel, Minister of Militia and Defence for Canada."

GERMAN CLERGY'S
APPEAL AMAZING

Church Heads in Britain Issue a Manifesto in Reply.

AN IMPRESSIVE SERVICE
Special Train Met by Many People at Stations en Route.

[Canadian Press.]
LONDON, Sept. 29.—In reply to the appeal addressed by German theologians to "Evangelical Christians Abroad," a manifesto was issued here today, signed by the heads of the established Church of England and by Nonconformist leaders. It declared England's action in connection with the European war.

The manifesto refers to the authors of the German document as "men of whose honesty, capacity and good faith there can be no question," but expresses amazement that such men should commit themselves to a statement concerning the political causes of the war which depart so strangely from what seem to us to be plain facts in this grave hour of European history.

Crowds Waited in Rain.
The special train did not reach Williamsburg until nearly 5 o'clock. The railway runs immediately behind the churchyard, which fronts on the St. Lawrence River. A cold, drizzling rain had been falling for an hour, but the crowd waited patiently for the most part followed the remains on foot.

The detachment was supported by a Fifty-Ninth Highlanders, and a detachment from the Fourth Hussars bore the flag.

Only a few stops were made on the trip down, the first at Cobourg, where a few friends met the train. At Belleville, where a stop was necessary to change engines, about 200 people visited the car where the remains rested. At Kingston, Brockville and Prescott the same demand was made by people who had stood an hour on the platforms, while at other places as the train rushed through, several groups stood with bared heads in silent reverence.

Impressive Ceremony.
Of all the ceremonies of the day, perhaps the service in the small church by the river was the most impressive. It was in charge of our stand for international good will, the Rev. J. J. Campbell, Dr. John Clifford, the Rev. F. B. Mayer, Dr. Campbell Morgan and Dr. Robertson Nicholls.

Government Railway Stops.
NORTH BAY, Sept. 29.—Out of respect for the late Sir James Whitney, the whole system of the Toronto and Northern Ontario Railway from North Bay to Cochrane ceased operations for five minutes, from 2:55 until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

CANADA TO ENFORCE NEW FISHERY LAWS
Will Not Wait Longer To Hear Decision of U. S. A.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Sept. 29.—Owing to the failure of the United States to approve of regulations governing the taking of food fish in boundary waters, the Canadian Government is about to serve notice that it resumes its liberty of action.

A treaty was made between the two countries six years ago for the appointment of a joint commission to frame fishing regulations applicable to boundary waters from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Dr. Starr Jordan, representing the United States, Prof. Francis, representing Canada, agreed upon a set of regulations. Canada approved of them, but the United States failed to do so, owing chiefly to objections from lake fishermen.

In 1912 Canada gave notice that unless the regulations were approved at the session of congress, Canada would resume liberty of action. The change of administration in the United States influenced Canada to delay.

However, it has been decided that there is no prospect of the United States putting the regulations into effect, so the Canadian Government has now served notice that it proposes to make such amendments to the existing fishing regulations for the Canadian portion of the boundary waters as may be deemed best.

Mr. John G. McDonald, Pictou, N.S., writes: "I used Dr. Chase's Ointment for itching piles, and found that the first application relieved me. After using a few boxes of the ointment I was completely cured, and can recommend it highly to all sufferers from this disease. You have my permission to use this letter for the benefit of others."

Mr. James M. Douglass, Superior Junction, Ont., writes: "For about six years I suffered from piles, and often could not walk for two or three days at a time, so great was the suffering from pain and itching. Doctors treated me in vain, and I tried many treatments before I came across Dr. Chase's Ointment. Two boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me, and for several months I have had no return of this annoying ailment."

AN IMPRESSIVE SERVICE
Special Train Met by Many People at Stations en Route.

[Canadian Press.]
MORRISBURG, Ont., Sept. 29.—The remains of Sir James Whitney were buried this afternoon in the cemetery adjoining the Whitney Memorial Chapel near his birthplace at Williamsburg.

Through the passing of the years many of Sir James Whitney's early associates had been removed from the scene, and the crowd that gathered today was largely composed of those who had known him during the later years when he was climbing up the political ladder. At his graveside his brothers and these relatives to him by blood mingled with cabinet ministers, parliamentarians and men representing the official and domestic life of Canada from every class.

45 Years Without a Single Accident

John McLarty, Veteran G. T. R. Engineman,
Concludes His Railway Service Today
With Absolutely Clean Record.

When Engineer John McLarty coaxed big Grand Trunk locomotive No. 337 into the roundhouse in the East End yards this morning and closed the throttle, after completing a run of 100 miles, he was hailed as a "regular" by the men of the "tarlo limited" from Windsor to London.

promoted to engineer. This was during the progress of the Franco-Prussian war. He ran out of London on a special freight for soldiers, when he was given a local passenger train.

In 1884 the Great Western Railway was taken over by the Grand Trunk and since, Mr. McLarty says, there was an apparent change on the road. "Times were good, and the company put on many new trains, both freight and passenger."

Piloted First "International." Several years later the International Limited was put on. Mr. McLarty reached the goal that night, for when the Limited steamed into the Grand Trunk depot here from its all-day run from Montreal, he was at the throttle of the engine that was to take the flyer on its fast run to Detroit. After that, for many years, Engineer McLarty took the fast express out regularly, every night at 8:15.

In his many years of service in the cab of the fast train, he had many close shaves, but never an accident. Never, since he first picked up the shovel to fire the wick-freight out of the roundhouse, had he been in a collision with the crack limited for Toronto, has he experienced a collision or have any of the thousands of passengers on his train been injured.

Running "Sarnia Dude." During the last few years, Mr. McLarty has been running out of this city on the "Sarnia Dude," leaving at 7:40 a.m. and returning at 6:20 a.m. With the adoption of a summer schedule this year, a new train, the "Ontario Limited," was put on from Windsor to London, arriving in this city at 9 a.m. Mr. McLarty was given the flyer on its first trip, and has had the run from Windsor to London from last April till this morning.

Like all engineers, he has his favorite engine. It is old 665, now known as 2227. "She's got a bigger number now, but there's no change in the old girl," said Mr. McLarty. "I've run on big 337 for quite a bit, but I like the old one best."

Came Here in 1870. On August 5, 1870, he was transferred to this city, and about that time was

U. S. A. DISCREDITS SPARE MONUMENTS EXPECTED CANARD FAR AS POSSIBLE

Published Story Tells of the Germans Offer This to Antwerp, If Points Not Used For Military Purposes.

[Canadian Press.] Washington, Sept. 30.—Official and diplomatic quarters united today in discrediting a published report of a secret Anglo-Japanese agreement under which Japan was to have a free hand in China and to be permitted to send Japanese immigrants to all parts of the British Empire, which would include Canada and Australia, and was to have a Japanese loan of $200,000,000, while Japanese troops were to assist in putting down disaffection in British India.

At the British embassy it was stated that official quarters had been sent from London some time ago to be on the watch for such a report. British officials in China having advised the home government that the report would be a great deal more about what was known of the alleged loan, but it is said that if any funds had been raised for the London market it would be in the natural course of financial transactions, and without the slightest bearing on the alleged agreement as to Japan's field of activity in China, immigration, etc.

As to Japan having a free hand in China, state department officials recall the statements coming from London at the time of Japan's ultimatum that Japan's field of activity in China would be restricted to the China Sea and the German possession of Kiao Choo, and would not extend to the mainland of China.

QUIET CONFIDENCE GAINING GROUND

British and French Share in Optimism Which Press Encourages.

[Canadian Press.] London, Sept. 30.—The Standard military correspondent writes: "The note of quiet confidence which, one feels, has been sounded of late in London and in official communications, which have had reference to the course of the war in France, appears to me to get louder and more persistent. Even a negative inspires hopefulness in an extraordinary and unaccountable manner."

"This feeling is most prominent in Paris, where it is likely certain people are beginning to feel that victory is assured to him."

The French soldier has developed qualities of fortitude and steadfastness in this crisis which has never been possessed before. He has now got the measure of his adversary, and he is beginning to feel that victory is assured to him.

VIENNA TO CONSTRUCT ISOLATION HOSPITALS

Council Votes $200,000 In Anticipation of Epidemic of Cholera.

[Canadian Press.] Paris, Sept. 30.—11:35 a.m.—The municipal council of Vienna has voted 1,000,000 crowns ($200,000) for the construction of isolation hospitals near that city in anticipation of an epidemic of Asiatic cholera.

The information is forwarded by the correspondent at Milan of the Paris Midi, who says it reached Milan from the Austrian capital.

Continuing the dispatch says that the cholera has been reported in various detachments of the army. Whether any cases have yet been discovered in Vienna is not disclosed.

"SOCIAL LIFE" MISSING HERE

Collegiate Principal Says the Conditions Are Good at L. C. I.

NOT ON THE INCREASE

"Girls and Cigarettes" Do Not Affect the London Pupils.

"Social attractions," such as are referred to by Principal Vanden, of the St. Thomas Collegiate, formerly of this city, as the reason for the poor showing made by Railroad City students in the recent departmental examinations, are almost an unknown quantity at the London Collegiate, according to Principal Rogers.

Principal Vanden yesterday declared that social attractions were on the increase, and to them could be laid the blame for the poor showing of the students. Another cause he attributed to "girls and cigarettes."

"We have," he was showing here to lame over," declared Principal Rogers today, in discussing the statements of the St. Thomas educator, "Our showing at the recent departmental examinations was good. There was only one examination—lower school entrance to the Normal School—where we dropped, and the average of the province was lower than usual this year, because of the introduction of a new subject—history—into this examination."

"The educational atmosphere of the Collegiate is good. It is true that we have a certain element that goes in for dancing and social attractions, but the average of the province is lower than usual this year, because of the introduction of a new subject—history—into this examination."

"So far as I am able to judge of conditions, there is no increase along the so-called 'social lines.' If anything, the increase is the other way. It seems as if the pupils were devoting themselves more to 'the true educational side of the high school work, and not allowing anything to interfere with their acquiring of an education."

Like all engineers, he has his favorite engine. It is old 665, now known as 2227. "She's got a bigger number now, but there's no change in the old girl," said Mr. McLarty. "I've run on big 337 for quite a bit, but I like the old one best."

Came Here in 1870. On August 5, 1870, he was transferred to this city, and about that time was

FAILURES LAID TO GIRLS AND CIGARETTES

Principal Says Too Many Attractions Spoil Pupils' Prospects.

[Special to The Advertiser.] ST. THOMAS, Sept. 29.—Upon an inquiry from members of the board of education as to the reason for the poor showing made this year at the recent departmental examinations, Principal Vanden came out frankly. He attributed the failure of so many pupils to "social attractions," which, he said, were on the increase, and proved a barrier to the students' progress. Another cause he attributed to "girls and cigarettes," stating that it seemed a Herculean task for some students to get down to work with so many attractions taking their attention.

[Canadian Press.] London, Sept. 30.—2:15 p.m.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company from Amsterdam states that the German government is offering to return to the British the remains of the German soldiers who were killed in the battle of Ypres, provided the British government will spare the remains as far as possible, while using the high explosive power of modern shells.

The commander of the German troops around Antwerp announced his intention to make the following agreement with the Belgian government and the American and Spanish ministers: "If the Belgian military authorities will spare the remains of the German soldiers as far as possible, while using the high explosive power of modern shells."

Feeling Against Them Growing More Bitter—Examples of Treason.

[Canadian Press.] Venice, Sept. 30.—Via Radio 7 a.m.—News which has reached here says that the anti-British feeling in Austria is becoming more pronounced than ever before. The few remaining British residents in Trieste are finding their position in the city particularly the steeples of the churches for military purposes.

On the last occasion he was called out of bed at 4 o'clock in the morning, and the police insisted on entering his bedroom while he dressed.

An English lady, 78 years old, in the same city, has been compelled to report herself in person to the police station every other day.

FINDS CONDITIONS IN BELGIUM IMPROVING

Swede, Commissioned by Germany, Says People Are Returning Home.

[Canadian Press.] Berlin, Sept. 30.—Via wireless telegraphy to Sayville.—Sven Hedin, the Swedish explorer, has published in Swedish newspapers an account of his impressions during his recent tour through Belgium and certain parts of France occupied by German troops.

Mr. Hedin was commissioned by the German Government to make this trip. He says that the people in these districts have returned to their homes, and that they praise the splendid discipline of the German soldiers.

WILL PASS CRACOW ON WAY TO BRESLAU

London, Sept. 30.—2:15 a.m.—"A message from Vienna, dwelling on the Austro-German advance through Galicia, says that the Russians are in possession of all the railways in the district of Przemysl, and are advancing rapidly in two lines," says a dispatch from the Rome correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company.

The correspondent continues: "The northern column (of Russians) has been on an assault on Tarnow, the last obstacle between it and Cracow, and distant from the latter place only 60 miles."

"The southern column, after occupying Sankel, has advanced westward with the intention of cutting off the retreat at that section of the Austrian army which is being driven southward."

"Indications are that the Russians do not intend to capture Cracow, but to leave it cut off and surrounded, and then to advance toward Breslau, hoping to join the Russian centre now in Poland."

LIKELY TO KEEP FOUR YEARS' TEST

Methodist Conference Committee Against Doing Away With Limited Pastorate.

NEW PROVISIO PROBABLE

Recommendation That Six Years Be Allowed in Special Cases.

[Canadian Press.] Ottawa, Sept. 30.—If the Methodist General Conference adopts what the special committee appointed to report on the question of the time limit for the pastorate recommends, the present system of a pastor changing his charge every four years will be maintained, with the proviso that in special cases the four-year term may be extended to six years.

The committee is ready to present its report to conference at an early session. When it comes up, a lively discussion is promised, for there are many delegates in favor of the abolition of the time limit and adoption of the salary system as is observed by the other churches.

It was expected that the conference would close this week, but the discussion of the time limit has been postponed to Tuesday or Wednesday before prorogation comes.

BRITISH FLEET TO AID RUSSIANS IN BALTIC

Thirty Warships Said To Be On Way Through the Cattegat.

[Canadian Press.] New York, Sept. 30.—Capt. R. Goetsche, in command of the Danish steamship "Danish," said today from Christiania, said that he had picked up a wireless in the North Sea containing the information that 30 British warships were on their way through the Cattegat to help the Russian fleet in the Baltic Sea.

The total attendance last year was 80, and with a larger first-year class this year should show a fair advance on that number. During the whole morning the registrar was taking the names, and groups of students who are returning to complete their course stood around the halls comparing notes of their doing during the vacation and making plans for the coming year.

The arrangement of the college building has been altered somewhat. The office now is upstairs and the room formerly used as an office has been turned into a lecture room.

U" REGISTRATIONS INDICATE BIG YEAR

Up Till Noon 21 Freshmen Had Enrolled For 1914-1915 Term.

Attendance at the Western University this year bids fair to break all records, up to noon today 21 new students had registered, and it is said that this number will be increased to 30 before registration closes. Last year only 24 first-year students were registered.

FREE RESCUE CHIEF'S AFTER SECOND STATION

Carry Her Out of House After Companion Is Said To Have Left Her.

LAMP UPSET CAUSES FIRE / RE LOSING TIME NOW

$100 Damage to Small House at Rear of 105 Clarence Street.

Unable to escape without assistance from her burning home, set on fire by a coal-oil lamp, which she had accidentally upset, Mrs. Jennie Brown, living in a small house at the rear of 105 Clarence street, was carried to safety by firemen upon the arrival of the department last midnight.

She told the firemen that a man was also in the house, but a careful search failed to find him, and evidently he had deserted her in her danger, if he was there when the fire started. It is alleged that she was under the influence of intoxicants. The lamp was upset on the upper floor and the fire burst through the roof. About $100 damage was done.

May Be Necessary To Enlarge Jail

If Governor Carter Has Any More Women Prisoners It Will Exhaust All Available Space.

That horrible state of affairs—the men in the women's quarters at the county jail—still continues serenely to exist! The still horrible part in it, to Governor Carter, is the fact that if he should order the release of the women prisoners he would be in a real fix.

So many malefactors have been drafted into Governor Carter's jail of late, that the accommodation of the prisoners has become much too small. There are 18 cells for the accommodation of women. The idea, to Governor Carter, was this: Since there are only four women in the jail, use the surplus women's accommodation for the much too many men.

This is how the horrible state of affairs exists. Governor Carter is still worrying, too, because as the cold weather comes on, more and more women's accommodations are all filled, the county will have to build an addition to the jail, or let loose some of the prisoners.

ENEMIES' JUNCTION CAME JUST IN TIME

Austrians and Germans Join at Cracow—Russians 60 Miles Away.

[Canadian Press.] London, Sept. 30.—A dispatch from Vienna states that the multi-narrated Austrian army from Galicia has formed at Cracow. This junction has been expected, but, in the British view, occurred none too soon for the enemy's welfare, as the Russians are reported fighting in this region and in Silesia is expected soon. Owing to the marshy ground the Germans have been compelled to place siege guns on the roads.

The arrangement of the college building has been altered somewhat. The office now is upstairs and the room formerly used as an office has been turned into a lecture room.

STILL RUSHING COAL ACROSS BORDER LINE

No Embargo Anticipated, But Shippers Are Hurrying Up Consignments.

While little is heard now of the placing of an embargo on coal, from the U. S. States, into Canada coal companies are taking no chances, and large quantities are being rushed across the border at Niagara Falls and Sarnia. Shortly after England declared war on Germany, and so was drawn into the European struggle, it was rumored that the United States, to retain her neutrality, would prohibit coal being shipped into this country. This, said, rumor said, was to be taken to satisfy Germany that the American people were not aiding a colony of a belligerent nation.

August 16 was said to be the date on which the embargo was to go into effect, and coal companies worked night and day rushing coal into Canada. That date passed, however, and the embargo did not go into effect. While as far as coal companies can learn, there is no coal on foot to put the ban on coal shippers are bringing the product across the line as fast as they can get delivery.

Despite Slump This Month, a Lead of $161,281 Is Reported.

While building statistics for the month ending today show a great fall-off compared to September of last year, 1914, still ahead of 1913 on the year's total by $161,281. This would indicate that but for the intervention of the war London would have had the most phenomenal building increase in her history.

The figures show that in September 1913, there were 157 permits issued totalling $191,340, while, for September, 1914, there were 109 permits issued, totalling $27,415.

J. E. Kerrigan took out a permit today for the erection of a bungalow on Ridout street to cost $5,000.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 30.

OPENING OF THE WESTERN

THE opening of Western University

Arts today with a good attendance

in spite of the times is an event of interest to London and Western Ont.

Under President Braithwaite,

and with two new additions to the teaching faculty, the University is due for a banner year even amidst anxieties and alarms.

It is often remarked that more people, in the community of London especially, might profit more directly by the proximity of the institution of higher learning. Would not many men and women be improved by a study of the French language and literature?

Miss Hilda Baynes has been engaged to round out the French instruction at the University of Paris. In French, and in German also under Dr. James, special courses may be taken for a very small fee. A study of German would be a help to one's interest in the winter

campaign of the Allies in Germany.

Dr. Louis Wood, the newly appointed lecturer in history, is giving courses in history and economics, which should be of interest to more than the regular students for B. A. A London citizen observed the other day that the University should give a course in citizenship, involving some analysis of municipal and national government,

practical economics and some sociology.

Very well, but about as good a beginning as could be made towards such a study is the course given in the Elements of political economy. After that,

various commercial, governmental and sociological studies are in order.

English literature courses have attracted as special students in late years, principally ladies. The more of them, the better. They improve their taste in reading. But why no men, who need such improvement probably more, among these "special students"?

They may say, they have no time, or

why are not some of these courses given in the evenings? Classes have been held for years in the late afternoons, as required by city teachers in attendance, at an hour even a little later than the summer baseball function at Tecumseh park. But the men are slow to avail themselves of this opportunity.

It is understood that in Calgary,

for example, a lively interest is shown by citizens in attendance upon academic courses. Letters prospered wonderfully in England during the great war with Napoleon. While Wellington was battling through the Peninsula, Coleridge was starting the modern fashion of lectures on Shakespeare. The president day university professor has at any rate one advantage over so great

a man as Coleridge, that he can plagiarize from his lectures, and from the notes of many others; he is the heir, even if humble, of all the great. One function performed by the university

lecturer is to act as signpost, to lay the apparatus of study quickly before the student, to show him how and where to work. And the teachers in Western University are accessible.

THE NEXT GREAT PART.

THE BRITISH people as a whole

have done little boasting about their wonder empire. The war has closed the mouth of the jingo and brought about a supreme sanity, that has self-forgetfulness as a companion.

But a thought continues to come to the minds of many—if the British Empire can unite so completely and magnificently for war it can also unite for the great things that will have to be done after the war. H. G. Wells is preaching a new Liberalism that looks suddenly come more than ever to determine the destinies of all nations. It is as follows:

This fearful and wonderful fabric has no central body. There is no "Bundesrat" or Imperial Council. No collective action of its units is possible. The relation to them of the mother country is illogical, ill-defined. To the foreigner accustomed to the federation of the American States or of the units of the German Empire the Government looks planless and ineffective.

All of which is preliminary to the observation that there is not at the present moment any more effective

institution in the whole world of political fabrics than the British Empire. Whatever its machinery lacks appears to be supplied by its size and its sons seize "their right" as a matter of course. The fact cannot be gained that

England, who does not begin to be as logical as Germany or as systematic as France in matters of government, has nevertheless the knack of making men step out of their own free will to die in her defense. She has the gift of keeping alive, across tumbling seas,

round half a world, the undying bond that makes her a power. She has shown herself indifferent

to the possession of the taxing power, and she has the gift of keeping her subjects in the line of duty

in time of strife to go to her

aid. She has the swarthy children of alien races, that they put their living bodies between England and England's enemies. She has a fearfully muddled theory of government, but her practice of government lays upon her the deepest things in the soul of man.

As we contemplate this wonder of an empire which is an empire of the spirit, an empire whose philosophy of politics is all wrong,

but for which the coziest things

within the gift of man are poured out without stint, we are moved to wonder whether this is a prophet of the future. Will the States of the coming days make more of the spirit and less of the machinery?

Will they seek less of constitutions and bills of rights and fabrics of government and more of the invisible things which touch the soul?

We do not want to seem to degrade a high theme, but English

plum pudding holds the key to the mystery.

English plum pudding never saw the day when it was with the eating, it is soggy; it is greasy; it is unpleasant; it tastes like the roller, composed of compact glue and

molasses, which every country printer knows. It is unworthy of the good fruit upon which it is making, and the good spirit burned beneath

it when it is brought to the Christmas board. It will not compare with the dark suit pudding of Missouri. Yet English plum pudding is eaten on Christmas not only from

Land's End to John of Crow's

House but in Manitoba, in Khar-

um in the side of the Himalayas,

under the orange groves of New Zealand, where December is June,

and the blizzards of winter humiliate

the Straits Settlement. Why? We cannot tell. But eaten it is. And English hearts, from London to McMourie and back again, answer to the strains of "God rest you,

gentlemen," and English

eyes grow dim with happy tears.

The British Empire is unscientific. It is unreasonable. But it is mighty. With the greatness of the soul.

TO WILLIAM

[By Eric Ross Goulding.]

The Kaiser has complained to Washington that the allied troops have been using "dum-dum" bullets.

Too bad! In good time Washington,

no doubt, will be furnished with a duly formulated, sealed, signed and attested complaint against the Kaiser. After that—the awful judgment!—E. R. G.

Poor chap! (I am, of course, addressing

"Bill")

It's rather rough and very, very sad

That soldiers of your gay, imperial legions

Are being shot at with a view to kill—

Or being punctured in the flabby

regions

Of their "tum-tums"

By those explosive bullets—yes, by

gad—

Known as "dum-dums."

'Tis sad I once again repeat, but then

I don't believe a single word you say!

Moreover, why should you like this

he is trying

To win a sympathy from neutral men?

They know, the world knows you are only lying.

And then again,

We cannot look at things in just your way—

Think of Louvain!

Poor dear! These French and British

chaps are brutes:

They have no mercy and they shoot

quite well;

They're full of dastard tricks and use

a nasty

Which perforates your soldiers' grey-

green suits

Making a beastly mess of bone and gristle.

But what a while—

Because you've made the Belgian fields

a hell

You'll cease to smile!

Of course, you lie, but retribution's

sure:

You've broken oaths and treaties flung

Beastspeak your soul and low-down

heaven cunning;

And now you heap an insult on the score

Of your misdeeds and think yourself

just stunning.

But you'll get fits

When one "soft now" which hits your thickish hide.

Blows you to bits!

S'posin' tho' you manage to survive

This bloody war in which you've ruthless hurled

The whole of Europe there'll be something doing.

When all the nations of the earth shall strive

"The Slovenly Girl Has a Slovenly Mind"

Says Beautiful Beverly Bayne, Movie Star.

[By Idah McGilone Gibson.]

Don't cultivate a slovenly mind as it surely will show itself in a slovenly body.

In many years of observance of beautiful women and constantly looking for those things which make for feminine beauty, I have learned one thing thoroughly, and that is the interdependence of body, mind and spirit in the sum of beauty.

You cannot neglect your physical self and expect your mind to remain clear and wholesome. Right here someone will probably inquire "how do you clean George Sand, that woman who was not only very ugly but very slovenly?"

Even George Sand is not the exception that proves the rule for anyone who has read her life must realize that although her genius and eccentricities attracted to her the curiosity of many men, yet she could not hold any one of them.

On the other hand, Madame Recamier, dainty, if mediocre in intellect, by her exquisite manner of thought and physical care retained regard of the men she attracted as long as she lived. That much-quoted epigram about cleanliness living very close to the highest ideal of human imagination is not only true but one can go further and say without cleanliness of body and mind there can be no goddess.

Miss Bayne has observed some of her radiant loveliness by the negligence of her hair in the picture she has posed for this article. "I always feel when my hair needs washing," she said, "that there are cobwebs in my brain."

There is a wild and careless beauty in youth that makes one overlook some physical slovenliness, but after a woman is 25, there is no excuse for unclean face or hands.

I have seen girls open their mouths in a wide smile and disclose discolored teeth, who have had beautiful rings drawn attention to the uncleaned-for hands and nails that they adorned.

No amount of cream, powder and perfume can cover up the slovenly habit.

Beverly Bayne

Unkept and untidy hair is never picturesque nor beautiful.

of neglected baths. Many young women have written me for a remedy for pimply faces when in nine cases out of ten all they needed was a good course in daily soap and hot water all over their bodies.

Face cream is quite necessary to you after the bath, to restore some of the natural oil that has been washed away, but the first requisite to beautiful personality is a clean body and a clean mind.

To relieve toothache, rub baking soda around the tooth and rinse the mouth with hot water.

Varnished paper on walls should be cleaned with a flannel dipped in weak tea and polished with a dry cloth.

WINTER FLOWERS.

Make a beginning of Christmas preparations now by starting some bulbs for gifts. Narcissus and hyacinths started at this time should be ready to bloom by Christmas. Paper-white narcissus, Roman hyacinths and Chinese lilies take even less time—four or five weeks is quite enough.

The fibre which one can get at the seed stores is the easiest and cleanest way to grow bulbs and is very successful. It is not necessary to put the bulbs in the dark, as when they are grown in earth. No drainage is required, so the bulbs may be put in any attractive bowl or jar.

There is a very expensive Mexican pottery in a beautiful shade of green like old copper which is charming for bulbs. A small bowl with six Roman hyacinths in it becomes a joy. Moistened the fibre thoroughly and pack lightly into the bowl. Place the bulbs so that the tips are within half an inch of the rim and pack the fibre between them to hold them in position. Water very little until the shoots are well started.

TELLS OF WORK
AMONGST FOREIGNERS

Miss Forman, W. C. T. U. Missionary, Describes Efforts For Uplift of Immigrant.

An exceedingly bright description of her work as organizing missionary of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in the Canadian west was given by Miss Forman yesterday afternoon in the hall at 423 Park avenue. Miss Forman stated that few Canadians realized their responsibility towards the non-English-speaking immigrant. The Government made special efforts to induce them to emigrate from their native land, yet when they reached Canada they were treated too often with contempt and ridicule, and in not a few cases, which had come under her own observation, the native-born Canadian took financial advantage of the foreigner.

The work of the Women's Christian Temperance Union is successful because we take an interest in these people; our efforts for them are done for love, not for pay, and it is regrettable to say that they can scarcely understand getting "some thing for nothing" in Canada," said Miss Forman, "and they are the most grateful people I have ever known. They appreciate any little thing one does."

Night School. Her work largely lay amongst Galicians, Armenians, Syrians and Greeks. These, the speaker stated, were not all dirty, nor ignorant. In many cases the women kept their houses clean, although there were, of course, exceptions. Most of the men and women can read and write in their own language, compulsory education being in force in many of the European countries. The W. C. T. U. was laying the foundation of its missionary endeavor among them by teaching English to the older people at night schools. Miss Forman has organized classes in the Portage la Prairie, Brandon, Regina, Moose Jaw, Weyburn, Estevan, Yorkton, Melville, Indian Head, Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, and hopes to extend her work into British Columbia this year. In these cities and towns, members of the W. C. T. U. and other Christian workers carry on the work once it is settled. Table-manners, bed-making, etc.

Teaching Temperance. That temperance work is difficult was emphasized by the missionary. In the homes, and the foreigners can scarcely credit the fact that it could be harmful, or that there were total abstainers. Miss Forman brightly interspersed her talk with a number of incidents illustrative of the difficulties and joys of her labor.

Mrs. Gordon Wright, Dominion president of the W. C. T. U., also addressed the gathering briefly, telling of the beginning of the work two years ago. Mrs. H. Asplund presided.

When plates and dishes have to be warmed in the oven, if a newspaper is placed underneath, it will break the heat and prevent the plates from cracking.

To ascertain the freshness of an egg without breaking, hold it before a strong light and look directly through the shell. If the yolk appears round and the white surrounding it clear, the chances are that the egg is fresh. Or drop it into water: If the egg sinks quickly and remains at the bottom, it is in all probability fresh, but if it stands on end it is doubtful, and quite bad if it floats. The shell of a fresh egg looks dull, while that of a stale one is glossy.

OLD SONGS AND POEMS

The following song sent by B. D. V. was asked for by a reader some time ago.

The Old Tramp.
I'm only a poor old wanderer,
I've no place to call my own,
No one to pity me, no one to cheer me,
Though friendless and sadly I roam.
Then tramp, tramp, tramp, tramp,
Only a poor old wanderer;
I've no place to call my own, no one to cheer me,
Though friendless and sadly I roam.
How I wish for a place by the fireside,
For the night is so cold and dark,
Vacant places I see, but there's no room for me
For I'm only a poor old tramp.
How long ago I was peaceful and happy,
With dear loving friends ever near,
But now they are gone, and I am left all alone
With no one my pathway to cheer.

Fish as Food

[Issued by the department of naval service, Ottawa, 1914.]
In these days when the cost of living has become such an important factor, it is necessary for the average housewife to give careful thought to providing for her table. The articles procured must not only be reasonably cheap, but they must be palatable and nourishing.

As fish meets these requirements, attention is called to it as one of the articles that should daily have an important place on each bill of fare. Not only from an economic, but from a health standpoint it is desirable that fish should be much more freely used. Sir James Crichton-Browne, M. D., D.Sc., lord chancellor's visitor, etc., in an article on the value of fish as food, states that it cannot be too strongly insisted on that for working people of all classes—that those who work with their hands as well as those who work with their heads—fish is an economical source of energy necessary to enable them to carry on their work, and that for children and young persons it furnishes the very materials that are needed to enable them to grow healthy and strong.

The same authority states that any very important reason why fish should be generally used is its easy digestibility. Even feeble stomachs, that cannot deal with butchery's meat, find little difficulty in assimilating fish. The rapidity with which any kind of meat dissolves in the stomach depends largely on the fineness of its fibres. Thus beef is less digestible than mutton, because the fibres are longer and harder, and again mutton is less digestible than the breast of fowl. In fish the muscle fibres are very short and are arranged in flaky masses, which are easily separated from one another. Hence fish lends itself to comparatively speedy digestion. Of course, fish dries greatly in digestibility, the lean kinds more readily disposed of than the fat, and salt fish, owing to the hardening of the fibre during salting, lingers longer in the stomach than fresh fish. Moreover, fish is less stimulating as a food than meat, which is a matter of importance in these days of heavy nervous tension.

In this connection, however, an important feature must not be overlooked, viz., that, as in other foods, the digestibility and nutritive value of fish largely depends on the cooking of it.

Little Willie was left alone with sister's beau.
"Mr. Chumpley," he presently said, "Sister's beau wrinkled his forehead. 'Wh-why, a popinjay is a vain bird.'"

"Are you a bird, Mr. Chumpley?" "Certainly not."
"That's funny." Ma said you was a popinjay, and pa said there was no doubt about you being a jay, an' sister said there was small hopes of your poppin', an' now you say you ain't a bird at all."

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

Lafalo Writes.

Dear Miss Grey—I have never written you before, but enjoy reading the answers and questions of others, and I am going to trouble you with a few questions.

1. What will take tea stains out of a cream serge dress?
2. I have fair hair, but it is getting darker. What will bleach it?
3. Do you believe in dancing? Do you think it is harmful?
4. Would you please put in the paper a short pattern with a long tunic?
5. What will clean white kid gloves?
6. Could you give me a good recipe how to can pears to give them a flavor? What do you put in them, because they are tasteless after canning?
7. A recipe for cucumber relish?

1 remain, LAFALOT.
Ans.—1. Sponges with equal parts of ammonia and alcohol, then with tepid water, and press dry.
2. When washing the hair, add the juice of a lemon and a teaspoon of salt to the rinsing water.
3. No, I do not think dancing in moderation is harmful. The trouble is in the excess.

4. Doubtless you would notice the design that appeared in the issue of Friday, September 25.
5. Place them in glass fruit jar—fill half full of gasoline of good grade. Shake gloves until gloves look clean; if there are any spots that fail to yield, remove gloves from gasoline and rub these spots with any good white soap; retake gloves until gloves appear clean. When taken from jar smooth out fingers and thumbs and keep rubbing gently until dry, and they will be as soft and clean as if never cleaned.
6. Allow gasoline to settle, and drain off clear part to be used again.
7. I think you will like this recipe: Take pears not very ripe, pare and core them, and cut into long, thin strips, to 8 pounds fruit add 6 pounds sugar, the juice of 3 lemons and the rinds cut in strips, 2 cups of water, and 2 tablespoons of ginger; boil all until the fruit is transparent then bottle.

7. Peel and chop finely 2 dozen small cucumbers (they must be small or the seeds are too large); medium-size onions, and 1 green pepper; add a handful of mixed pickling spices, scalded in a cup of vinegar; pour the latter over the vegetables while hot; seal into bottles or jars.

Slap Yourself.

Kindly answer these questions:
1. What will cure one from biting their nails?
2. What will cure pimples on your face?
3. What will clean rose beads?

1 remain, L. S. D.
Ans.—1. Exercise your will power; slap yourself (or have someone else do it) for every time you find yourself at it; dip the fingertips in alum and water or quinine and water; the bitter taste should soon remind you.
2. Getting your system in good shape; eating plain food, keeping the digestive organs working properly, frequent bathing and regular exercise, are all necessary.
3. Applying it two or three times a day: Precipitate of sulphur, 1 dram; tincture of camphor, 1 dram; rosewater, 4 ounces.

3. Apply a little sweet oil to each bead and wipe dry with a piece of soft old silk.

A SPLENDID STORY OF WESTERN LIFE

By JOHN BRECKENRIDGE ELLIS

THE AUTHOR OF FRANK

Copyright, The Bobbs-Merrill Company.

"Two homes ain't too many for a character like me, now," remarked Brick, as he set the long-tongued and long boards on end to be drawn up through the crevice.

He stood on the dugout in the middle of the month—say three or four months—and what's that to me? A mere handful of dirt, and a fire in the cave, I'll set my smoke out in the open, where it can be traced without danger to my hairy shag.

He was even slower about building the dugout than he was in the cave. Transporting the timbers across a mile of rugged and granite troughs was no light work; and when his tools and material were in the cave, the digging of the dugout was protracted because of the closeness of water to the surface. At last he succeeded in excavating the cellar, and he leveled a few yards of the mountain, without penetrating moistened sand. Over this he placed the wagon, and he leveled a few yards of the mountain, without penetrating moistened sand. Over this he placed the wagon, and he leveled a few yards of the mountain, without penetrating moistened sand.

He counted seventeen men near the wagon. Fifteen were on horseback and two were on foot. All of them had drawn up in a circle about the heap of stones that covered the woman's body. Of the seventeen, sixteen were Indians, painted and adorned for the war-path. The remaining man was a white man, and at the first glance Willock recognized him as the dead woman's husband, Henry Gledware.

Brick's mind was perplexed with vain guesses. Was it Gledware who had visited the dugout, or the Indians? Did he see this in plain daylight, or was it a dream? He was the relationship between Gledware and these Indians, and he was the relationship between Gledware and these Indians, and he was the relationship between Gledware and these Indians.

Of the seventeen, sixteen were Indians, painted and adorned for the war-path. The remaining man was a white man, and at the first glance Willock recognized him as the dead woman's husband, Henry Gledware.

Brick's mind was perplexed with vain guesses. Was it Gledware who had visited the dugout, or the Indians? Did he see this in plain daylight, or was it a dream? He was the relationship between Gledware and these Indians, and he was the relationship between Gledware and these Indians, and he was the relationship between Gledware and these Indians.

He did not seem alarmed. He was a white man, and at the first glance Willock recognized him as the dead woman's husband, Henry Gledware. He counted seventeen men near the wagon. Fifteen were on horseback and two were on foot. All of them had drawn up in a circle about the heap of stones that covered the woman's body. Of the seventeen, sixteen were Indians, painted and adorned for the war-path. The remaining man was a white man, and at the first glance Willock recognized him as the dead woman's husband, Henry Gledware.

Germans Are Placing Big Guns on Warships

[Canadian Press.]

COPENHAGEN (via London), Sept. 29.—6:55 p.m.—Travellers arriving here from the Kiel Canal say that the Germans are busy placing new ordnance, which the Krupp works has been experimenting with for the last two years, on the armored cruisers and dreadnoughts.

The canal is described as being crowded with warships, including the largest battleships. The armaments are busy day and night, and long traffic arrive continuously with immense guns for the ships.

The Germans are reported as declaring that the whole fleet will soon be ready to fight.

SIEGE OF ANTWERP BEGINS WITH BOMBARDING LIERRE

[Canadian Press.]

AMSTERDAM, via London, Sept. 29.—Midnight.—The Germans have commenced their attack on the first line of defence of Antwerp, according to dispatches received by Amsterdam papers. Moll, which is an important railway junction near the Dutch border, was occupied by the Germans on Saturday, and today the Germans, who again occupy Moll, began a bombardment of Lierre, directly in front of Antwerp. They also continued their bombardment of Forts Waahal and St. Catharine. It is believed that heavy Austrian artillery is being used.

PEOPLE FLEE TO ANTWERP.

Lierre, according to a dispatch to the Handelsblad, has been under shell fire since early morning. The people at first hid in the cellars, but subsequently fled to Antwerp, being joined by fugitives from the surrounding villages. It is reported that many houses have been destroyed, and some of the inhabitants are dead or wounded. Some of the shells fell on the hospital, killing a number of persons.

FEARED TOWN IS IN RUINS.

AMSTERDAM, via London, Sept. 29.—11:30 p.m.—A dispatch to the Telegraaf from Antwerp, states that since eight o'clock this morning the Germans have been bombarding Lierre, a manufacturing town, nine miles southeast by east of Antwerp. The entire population of Lierre has fled to Antwerp. It is feared that the whole town is now in ruins.

ENEMY OCCUPIES MOLL.

ROTTERDAM, via London, Sept. 29.—11:30 p.m.—The Belgians were driven out of Moll, a town 28 miles northeast of Louvain, on Sunday, and the place is now occupied by the Germans, according to a dispatch to the Rotterdamse Courant.

CROWN PRINCE AN ADEPT AT THEFT

Looted Chateau of Baroness De Baye at Marne of Many Valuable Treasures.

[Canadian Press.]

PARIS, Sept. 29.—7:20 p.m.—Crown Prince Frederick William, during the first days of the battle of the Marne, had his headquarters at the chateau of the Baroness De Baye, near Champaubert. Marne, famous for its collections of art objects. The Baroness De Baye writes, says the Paris Temps, thus:

"The Crown Prince plundered the whole place. He stole medals, old arms, rare and precious vases, tapestries, icons, cups and gold souvenirs most dear to my family. He caused to be packed choice pictures and pieces of furniture, but some of these cases were left in the hasty flight of the Germans."

The baroness affirms, according to the Temps, that the German Crown Prince stamped with his heel upon the portraits of the Russian Emperor and Empress in the chapel of the chateau.

KAISER'S NEPHEW FAILS TO ESCAPE

LORIENT, France, via Paris, Sept. 29.—10:05 p.m.—Count Von Schwerin, the German Emperor's nephew, who was made a prisoner at the battle of the Marne, attempted to escape from Belle Isle where he was held, and as a consequence, he has been transferred to the citadel at Fort Louis, a fortified town three miles from Lorient, where he is being kept under a strong guard.

REPORT THAT GERMAN RIGHT IS BROKEN AND THAT ALLIES ARE PURSUING HOTLY

All Automobiles in Northern France Requisitioned To Aid in Chasing Fleeing Enemy—In Somme District, Kaiser's Troops Reported Entirely Surrounded and Peronne Is Said To Have Been Recaptured by France.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, Sept. 30.—12:15 a.m.—A Paris dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says:

"It is stated here tonight (Tuesday) that the German right has been entirely broken and is now being pursued by the allies. All the automobiles in northern France have been requisitioned for the purpose of pursuit.

"Armored motor cars with mitrailleuses are also being used to pursue the retreating enemy.

"The official communication issued at 3 o'clock demonstrates unmistakably that the Germans have been surrounded in the Somme department, the French front extending further east.

"It is officially stated that Peronne has been recaptured."

The above message has been referred to the British official press bureau, which, while not objecting to its publication, takes no responsibility for its correctness.

VON KLUCK SAID TO HAVE OFFERED TO SURRENDER; JOFFRE'S REPLY WAS TO REDOUBLE BOMBARDMENT; VON BUELOW'S ARMY REPORTED TO BE IN GRAVE DANGER

PARIS, Sept. 29.—According to information from the north, the right wing of the German army in France is in full retreat.

Gen. Von Kluck, commander of the army making up the German right wing, has offered to surrender to Gen. Joffre, the French commander-in-chief, if the Germans are allowed to retire to Germany. It is said.

Gen. Von Kluck's army began to break on Sept. 29, under the terrific pounding of the French and British. The French had extended their lines to Compiègne, less than 50 miles from the Belgian border and 10 miles south of Spaume, where they were vigorously assaulting the rear of the German right and the troops defending Von Kluck's line of communications into Belgium. It was then that Gen. Von Kluck opened the peace parley, in addition to demanding safe conduct to Germany, he agreed to guarantee that his soldiers would not take up arms again during the war.

Gen. Joffre's reply to the German general's terms was to redouble the fury of the French bombardment.

When the German retreat began, mitrailleuses were mounted on automobile trucks and sent in pursuit of the German army, it is reported.

According to unofficial information, the Germans, owing to their exhausted conditions, could not make rapid progress and lost heavily.

They are reported to have left behind many guns and a large quantity of munitions.

The consummation of this enveloping movement around Von Kluck's army is believed to have resulted in the recent tightening of the censorship.

Gen. Von Buelow's German army is reported in grave danger.

While the German troops were taking a party of captured Belgian soldiers through the city on Sunday the crowd became so threatening that in the confusion two of the prisoners escaped. The Germans promptly arrested six civilians to take their places, it is said.

As an evidence of this attitude among the Brussels people, it is cited that after Burgomaster Max was arrested numerous placards were posted warning the Germans that if the bugmaster was injured the people of Brussels had petrol, vitriol and butchers' knives and would use them.

Careful, Cautious and Canny

IN Canada it was all right for manufacturers to pause when the tumult and confusion of war shook the ground beneath their feet and unsteadied them. But it is not all right for Canadian manufacturers to go into temporary or permanent hiding at this time of national necessity and opportunity. On the contrary, it is time for a broad forward movement.

The man who shrinks from battle, even though the forces opposed may appear overwhelming, takes away from the strength of his comrades. If he deserts, dire punishment is meted out to him. Winning or losing, battle-time calls for men who will fight until overthrown or slain. The careful, cautious, and canny man—manufacturer, wholesaler or retailer—never rises to be a great merchant.

When the war is over, the honored and rewarded men among soldiers and merchants will be those who never faltered, who kept their face to the foe, and who fought dauntlessly to the very end.

The valiant-hearted businessmen of Canada—retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers—are advertising now.

Effective, Economical Complexion Renewer

One reason mercurized wax is so strongly recommended, is that it really takes the place of several different cosmetics, saving time, patience and expense. It is better than any cleaning cream, better than any massage cream, and better than any rouge, for accomplishing the results for which such articles are used. As the wax actually absorbs an old, faded or discolored cuticle, a little each day, the underlying skin which gradually appears, is clearer, softer, healthier, and more youthful than any cosmetic-made complexion. Spreading on a thin coat of this wax at night, washing it off mornings, in a week or so produces a marvelous transformation. Just one ounce of mercurized wax, obtainable at any drug store, will do the work. There's nothing better to remove freckles, moth patches, liver spots, sallowness, blotches, pimples or blackheads.
For wrinkles and loose, saggy skin, a face bath made by dissolving one ounce powdered salolite in half pint witch hazel is the best thing that can be recommended. This has remarkable astringent and tonic properties.

TO SHOOT SUNDAYS

Association Will Practice on Sabbath at Ranges.

Any rifle shooting is being freely done in military circles and among members of the civilian associations formed immediately after the Sev. Regiment detachment went away. Officers do not want to lead public opinion in this direction, but it is that it will soon be adopted by the various organizations.
Some defence for Canada is urged as justification enough for the shooting, while the apparent necessity of teaching citizens how to handle a gun excuses any measures that are taken to impart this experience.

SPENDING NEXT YEAR'S MUNICIPAL INCOME

Board of Control Considers the Unique Question To Help Small Industries.

A rather serious question has come up for discussion in the board of control, as to how far this year's council can go toward dictating next year's council's expenditures. A number of small industries appeared before the board recently and asked that the city provide them with work during the winter months. Scarcely more than half a dozen men are employed any one of these industries, yet the board feels that their products should be contracted for and appropriation made therefor in the London bill.

The council will probably deal with the matter at the next meeting.

LONDONER'S MOTOR CAR SET ON FIRE

Unknown Person Blamed For Burning Up a Wrecked Auto.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
LEAMINGTON, Sept. 29.—An auto, supposed to be from London, and one from Wheatley, were having a race on Talbot street, west of Wheatley, and the London auto, while travelling at high speed, came into collision with the side of a cement bridge, badly demolishing the car and throwing out the occupant who, however, escaped with only a shaking up, and was compelled to leave the car, intending to return for it. Today, some one, it is supposed, set fire to it, and before it was noticed was nearly consumed, and when the owner appeared nothing was left but the engine and the frame. It is not known who fired the car.

JEWISH BUSINESSMEN CLOSE THEIR PLACES

London's 500 Hebrews Are Observing Day of Atonement Today.

Every orthodox Jew in London, and all over the world for that matter, today is celebrating the Feast of Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement. The day is being spent in prayer at the synagogues, and no food is to be eaten all day, until after sunset. The last previous meal was taken at suppers yesterday.

All the Jewish places of business in the city were closed for the day, and the 500 Jews in London observed the occasion rigorously. The services in the synagogues were most impressive, the people being exhorted to improve their moral conduct and to discontinue all wickedness. The day is the holiest in the whole of the Jewish calendar.
Next week the Feast of Tabernacles will be observed. This is a time of general feasting among the Jews, and is a general Jewish holiday.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED FOR 1915

City Engineer Mapping Out the Work To Be Undertaken Next Year.

City Engineer W. N. Ashplant is at work upon a comprehensive scheme for continuing local improvements next year. The plan involves expending $500,000 in public work was laid out this year, most of it being completed, was prepared by him last year. The cost of storm and sanitary sewers alone this year will be about $300,000.
The plan for next year will be submitted to the next council for approval. Much of the work which will be incorporated in this year's work has been petitioned already filed with the department. City Engineer Ashplant is advising many residents who complain of being neglected in this respect. In their petitions for public works will be taken up in the order of their filing. The work planned will cost equally as much as this year's expenditures.

Who Put the Age In City Garbage

Aldermen Say the Credit Belonging to Them is Taken by Others.

Who started the garbage investigation? Now that the collection of garbage is being done under municipal ownership, another question has been brought up about it. Aldermen who started in as early as May to present information to the council as to the necessity of adopting municipal ownership feel that they have won a victory over the board of control and its chairman. For several months the board opposed the adoption of municipal ownership in garbage matters. Now the aldermen hear that the board favored municipal ownership from the start. While the board and the aldermen are respectively taking credit for the change, persons outside the city hall publicly claim a victory for themselves as having inspired the fight.

"What's the good of being an alderman?" said one of these officials today. "When you try to do something somebody steals the credit."
The whole and remorseless slaughter going on in Europe under the name of war is furnishing many an observant thinker. One of these lessons has an application near home. It will be recalled that when the extension of physical training in the city of London was so splendidly discussed a couple of years ago some wiseacres favored the militarizing of the exercises, giving as their reason that military obedience is a good kind of obedience to stamp into children. It is supposed to produce the habit of prompt response to command—unquestioning and unreasoning. In Tennyson's words:

Believed That Prompt Action Has Held Back Smallpox in Township.

The outbreak of smallpox in London Township is believed to be well under control as the result of the prompt precautionary measures taken at the instigation of Dr. G. MacNeill, the medical health officer, to prevent the disease spreading.
No new cases have been reported, and the members of the two families stricken with the disease are said to be progressing rapidly. Mrs. Arthur Heighway, of the fifth concession, the first to contract the disease, is now well enough to be around. Her husband is still quite ill. The baby and Mrs. Heighway's son, Avery, who are quarantined in the house, are doing fairly well.
Mrs. Robt. Proudfoot's Lane, another victim, is still very ill, but her husband and the eight children are somewhat improved.

A CONTINENTAL PIANIST.

It is expected that Mr. Hesse, the Russian pianist who recently gave a recital here under the auspices of the London Conservatory of Music, will be able to begin his work at that institution in about two weeks' time. Will intend students communicate with the Conservatory as soon as possible, so that the necessary time may be arranged for. An opportunity to study under a pianist with a continental reputation, without going outside of the city, is one which will be appreciated by advanced students of music.

BRITAIN JUSTIFIED IN PRESENT STAND

Western "U" President Declares She Did Utmost To Maintain Peace.

War Senseless Method Can at Best But Establish Which Is the Stronger Antagonist.

Professor E. E. Braithwaite, president of the Western University, interviewed last night by The Advertiser, expressed his view of the war in Europe in the following terms:
"War seems the most senseless method of settling difficulties between nations. The result can prove nothing as to the merits of the victor's cause. At the best it can but establish which is the stronger antagonist. But however much one may oppose principles, war is a necessary evil, sometimes necessary to fight."
Britain is justified.
"In the present conflict Britain's domestic negotiations show beyond doubt how strenuously her statesmen endeavored to ward off the threatened disaster. When this was impossible she turned the cudgel not in any selfish interest, but for the good of all Europe, and of the whole world. A sacred principle was at stake. As British people we should have had to hang our heads in shame if our leaders had held back at such a crisis simply through desire to avoid the great loss of life and property that was sure to be the result if the nation failed to stand in honor now to stop before the desired end is gained."
"The sacrifice is enormous; the horrors of the conflict are dreadful, but as some compensation for the great price that is being paid there must be no cessation of hostilities until it is settled once for all that no nation can hereafter plunge the world into such an uproar as Germany has succeeded in producing."
Germany Has Already Lost.
"One point which I have not seen much emphasized in that Germany has already lost. She has lost far more seriously than any defeat of her arms. The last time she won a victory she was nearly at the summit. In culture, in scientific investigation, in industrial progress, she was almost unsurpassed. Today she stands for the defilement of brute force and military despotism. It will be many generations at the best before she can regain the respect and height from which she has so disastrously fallen. Whatever may be the immediate outcome of the war this is one of the saddest considerations, that the discipline of the world is being lost from which so much might have been expected in the interests of humanity should lend itself to such a selfish and unworthy purpose."

The discipline of the material, tugs, scows and men connected with the building of the breakwater, left today for Goderich. Citizens are now wondering if the additional proposed and expected will be continued next year.

HAIR CAME OUT BY HANDFULS

With Dandruff and Itching Scalp. Scalp Covered with Small Pimples. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Now No Trouble At All.

503 Jane St., Toronto, Ont.—"I was first troubled with my hair getting brittle and later dandruff and itching scalp. I was afraid to comb my hair as it came out by handfuls and the itching was so severe that I was unable to sleep. My scalp was covered with small pimples which seemed to run into one another and form a scab. The dandruff was so bad I was afraid to comb my hair as it made it show so plainly. I looked very badly. I was thinking of having my head shaved."

"For a long time I tried several other remedies but they did not cure it. After some months I picked up a paper with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement and sent right away for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. On using just the sample I was much better. I used six or eight boxes of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and my scalp healed, the itching stopped and my hair came in quite thick and now I have no trouble at all." (Signed) Mrs. H. Binger, May 27, 1913.

It costs nothing to learn how poor, sweet, effective and satisfying Cuticura Soap and Ointment are in the treatment of poor complexions, red, rough hands, itching scalp, dandruff, dry, thin, falling hair, because I used six or eight boxes of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and my scalp healed, the itching stopped and my hair came in quite thick and now I have no trouble at all." RUSSIANS MARCH TO GREAT BATTLE

Will Soon Meet Germans and Austrians in Extended Line.

[Canadian Press.]
LONDON, Sept. 29.—Having invested Przemyśl, the Russians are reported to be making their way not only through the Carpathians to attack across the plains in north Hungary, but, in strength, toward Craacow, which they should reach before the week is out unless the Austrian field army should succeed in checking the advance. Their arrival at Craacow would be the sign for a battle along the Russian-German frontier.

The Germans are in force at Craacow, where the Austrians would form their extreme right, and have considerably reinforced their front extending north of that fortress through Kalisz, Russian Poland, to a point in the province of West Prussia. Further north, they have got as far as the Russian-Niemen, in East Prussia, where they are reported to have suffered reverses. The two armies, however, are in close touch across the country, so that a battle along this extended front cannot be long delayed.

The Russian Emperor's immense armies will oppose the Germans at every point, and will themselves try to invade Germany in more than one district.

Servians Prepare For Attack.
Of the operations around Sarajevo nothing has been heard today, but the Servians and Montenegrins must soon be ready for a grand assault on that city, which, beyond all others, the Servians would like to occupy.

The Austrians are also being attacked at Cattaro, where in addition to land operations by the Montenegrins, the French and English fleets are making an effort to reduce the fortress.

There is more talk of Italy, Rumania and Turkey becoming involved in the war, but for the moment Italy is being held back by the Government. Turkey, it is believed, would like to take a hand, in the hope of recovering some of the territory she lost in the Balkan wars, but the moment she does, Germany would be in arms against her, while this would also be the signal for Rumania to come in.

CAMPBELL-TAYLOR

[Special to The Advertiser.]
BLVTH, Sept. 29.—A very pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. J. N. Campbell, reeve of East Wawanosh, today, when his second daughter, Selma Mac, became the bride of Mr. Wilber Taylor, of the sixth concession. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Conway, assisted by the groom's brother, Rev. W. Taylor, of Millis.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was beautifully gowned in ivory satin with embroidered net drapery, caught with pink roses. She carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations and ferns. The bride party entered the drawing room to the strains of the wedding march, played by the bride's cousin, Miss Josie Elvey, of Londonboro.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Ainslie, sister of the bride, sang very sweetly "O Perfect Day." After the ceremony, the guests, numbering about twenty-five, were ushered into the dining-room where they partook of a sumptuous luncheon. The room was tastefully decorated with asters and ferns, the color scheme being pink and white.

The bride will be at home to her friends after October 21.
