[Special Cable to The Toronto Daily Star and The London Advertiser, by Joseph T. Clark.]

London, Jan. 17.—Both parties are working today with redoubled energy, each feeling that victory is within reach.

Optimists on both sides are well pleased with Saturday's polling, but the fact is that the Liberals lost more seats than they expected, while the Unionists did not gain as many as they counted on.

At Opposition headquarters they say that a net gain of fifteen seats in one day is a fine beginning, but they must gain more rapidly to win, and expect larger gains today, when 104 members will be elected, thirty of them in London.

The Liberals say that as only five Irish seats were heard from on Saturday, and none in Scotland or Wales, the Unionists made no such gains the first day as they required.

The Times divides the candidates into two simple divisions—Ministerial 48, Opposition 43.

DIVISION IS CLEAR-CUT.

In this contest the division is clear cut. The Labourites and Nationalists are Ministerialists, but if the present rate of going is continued the Government would retain power dependent on the volunteered support of these minor wings of the party.

The Chronicle says that except for 1906, the Liberals have never stood so well for twenty years in the seventy-four seats heard from, and argues that Asquith will have a strong majority.

It seems to me the voting shows so many vagaries that a strong slump either way may set in today, with the chances favoring the Liberals.

JOSEPH T. CLARK.

SEVEN NATIONALISTS UNOPPOSED.

London, Jan. 17.—John F. Redmond, for Waterford City, and six other Irish Nationalists were returned unopposed today.

[Associated Press Dispatch.]

London, Jan. 15.—The first engagement in the fight for tariff reform, a great navy and the supremacy of the Lords, as against free trade, reform of the House of Lords, and home rule, ended tonight with neither party in a commanding position. The results of the polling today tend to confirm the forecast that the Liberals will retain control of the Government, but with a greatly reduced majority. The Unionists have gained an encouraging number of seats, although less than 20, which they expected to take away from the Liberals out of the 74 contested for.

THE POPULAR VOTE.

The popular vote goes strongly against the Liberals. The members of that party, who hold seats, won today by majorities ranging from 50 to 60 per cent below their majorities in 1906, except in a few boroughs, where special conditions figured in the campaign. The popular votes polled by the Liberals for the 12 London seats, show a stronger hold on power than in the provinces. The majority of the London boroughs were labor districts. Of those the Unionists carried 5, 3 being captured from the Liberal column, but by small majorities.

UNIONIST GAINS.

Manchester and Birmingham gave heavy Unionist gains. Birmingham has been strongly Conservative, largely the result of Joseph Chamberlain's crusade for protection, and today the Unionists carried the city solidly by increased majorities. The majority of the London boroughs were labor districts. The Unionists increased their votes, for while the Liberals still have 5 of the 6 seats, the Liberals' majorities were decreased nearly 9,000.

A SWEEPING CHANGE.

The most sweeping change in London was in Fulham Borough, where the middle-class population went enthusiastically for tariff reform, giving W. Hayes Fisher, the Unionist candidate, a majority of 2,000. In this borough, in the last election, the seat went to the Liberal by 600. Devonport, where the big navy issue was predominant, wiped out the Liberal majority of 1,300, and returned two Unionists by 500, Sir J. Jackson, an Sir C. Kinloch Cooke.

NORMAN DEFEATED.

Sir Henry Norman, the Liberal journalist, recently appointed assistant postmaster-general, was defeated at Wolverhampton South, by a small majority. In order to retain his place in the cabinet, he will be nominated from another borough.

DURAND AND ASTOR LOSE.

Sir H. Mortimer Durand, the former ambassador to the United States, and Waldorf-Astor, who contested the two Plymouth seats as Unionists, were defeated, but cut down that city's Liberal majority from 2,387 in 1906 to 948.

Davidson Dalziel, a promoter, and at one time conspicuous in Wall street, running on the Unionist ticket, turned out J. H. Seavorns, a Liberal, from his seat for the Brinton division of Lambeth.

W. Joyson-Hicks, the Unionist, who defeated Winston Spencer Churchill in the Manchester by-election of 1908, by 429 votes, loses his seat to Sir G. Kent, Liberal, by 783.

The Right Hon. G. Wyndham, who will be governor-general of Canada if the Unionists take on the Government, carried his seat by a slightly-increased majority.

The Liberals took away a thousand votes from Sir Gilbert Parker in the Gravesend district, but he retains his seat as a Unionist.

ZELAYA GOING TO EUROPE.

Mexico City, Jan. 15.—After having leased and taken possession of a house, with the announced intention of making his home here for several months at least, former President Zelaya, of Nicaragua, announced today that he would sail for Belgium as soon as he could make arrangements. This decision was said to be due to a receipt of a telegram from Mrs. Zelaya, now in Managua. She has decided to go direct to Mexico to live.

INCOMPLETE RETURNS OF TODAY'S VOTING

LATEST.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
London, Jan. 17.—The known elections to the new Parliament today, counting of the ballots not completed, are as follows:
Opposition—Unionists 44.
Ministerialists—Liberals 37, Irish Nationalists 13, Labor 6.

TODAY'S POLLING A RECORD ONE

Heavy Vote Brought Out in Second Day of English Election.

104 SEATS CONTESTED

John Burns Having a Hard Fight at Battersea—Unionists Seem to Have London.

[Associated Press Cable.]
London, Jan. 17.—Clear weather and a host of workers on either side, using thousands of motor cars and carriages to convey voters to the stations, gave promise of a record poll at today's elections for members of Parliament.

In doubtful districts the party organizers were reinforced by an army of canvassers, and few voters escaped. In all 104 seats were contested today. Of these 21 were London constituencies, and 23 provincial boroughs. Last year the Unionists held 36 of the 104, the Liberals 52, and the Labourites 16. The proportion for London alone was Unionists 17, Liberals 12, and Labourites 2.

Unionists Have London.
The city of London itself is quite safe for the Unionists, and A. J. Balfour and Sir F. G. Bannister doubtless will receive majorities even larger than they had at the last election.

There are a number of prominent members of the last House, however, whose seats are in danger. John Burns, president of the local government board, is having a hard fight against A. Shirley Benn, the Unionist candidate for Battersea and Clapham, Battersea division. In 1908 Burns had a majority of 1,500, but that was abnormal, his majority at the previous election having been only 254.

T. J. McNamara, Liberal candidate for Camberwell, north division; A. Honor, Unionist, for Camberwell, Dulwich division, and W. H. Long, Unionist, for the Strand, are quite secure.

The Liberals doubtless will lose Greenwich and other London districts. Among the provincial seats contested today are Blackburn, held at present by Philip Snowden, Labor, one of the leaders of the Labor party; Bristol, where A. Birrell and C. Hobhouse hold seats and in which districts both sides profess confidence in making a clean sweep; Hull, Leeds, Newcastle-on-Tyne, Sheffield, York and Portsmouth, where the Unionists are depending upon Admiral Lord C. Beresford, their candidate, and their denunciation of the Liberal naval policy to reverse big Liberal majorities, returned at the last election; the candidacy of the Socialist nominee will assist them.

Two Welsh and four Scottish boroughs, all heretofore Liberal strongholds, will also vote today.

Consols Drop.
The stock exchange inclined to be disappointed that the Unionist gains of Saturday were not greater, and the dealings this morning caused the loss of some advances registered last week in anticipation of a Tory victory. Consols fell 5-16, while home rails and Kafirs were weaker on realization.

Alimony Case of McIntyre vs. McIntyre Being Heard at the Assizes—Some Evidence in Regard to How the Family Baby Was Handled by Wife's Sister.

The first case heard today at the opening session of the assizes held before Chief Justice Meredith was an action for alimony on the part of Louisa McIntyre against her husband, James McIntyre, of Lobo.

Mrs. McIntyre, on her examination, told of being struck by her husband on April 13 last, and of similar assaults dating back for 22 years.

On several occasions he had caught her by the throat, leaving the marks of his fingers there. On another occasion he had struck her over the head with a club, and on another occasion had struck her with his fists. And also he had been accustomed to use profane and filthy language toward her.

The other side, Mr. Perrin brought out the fact that the wife had sworn out an information against her son and husband, the former for assault, and the latter for abusive language.

Mr. Perrin tried to establish the fact that the plaintiff had continually annoyed her husband by continuous complaint and loud language.

"Did you ever get $350 for a horse and deposit it in your own name?" she was asked.

NEW BUILDING FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL NEEDED

Wellington Street Methodists Will Take the Matter Up Shortly.

The matter of building a new Sunday school for the Wellington Street Methodist Church will probably be taken up at a meeting to be held shortly. For some time there has been urgent need of more accommodation. Last year the matter came up, and was laid over for further consideration. There is a strong feeling among the members that something should be done at once to either enlarge the present school or build a new one.

ALLEGED ROBBERY IN LOCAL HOTEL

Charged They Assaulted and Took Gold Watch From Geo. Baines, of St. Marys.

Two Men in Jail And Are Being Held for Trial—A Daring Case on King Street on Saturday Night.

Thomas McDonald, a young man who gives his place of residence as Chicago, and Robert Denmore, who says he is 22 and lives in Milwaukee, were placed under arrest on Saturday evening for assaulting George Baines, of St. Marys, in the Hodgins House, on King street, and robbing him of a gold watch worth $20 and $5 in cash, and of stealing a number of handkerchiefs and a pair of trousers from Thomas Tipplady, a guest at the hotel.

Prisoners Remanded. They appeared before Magistrate Love, this morning, and on election summary trial, both charges, asked to be remanded until tomorrow, in order that they may secure counsel. The court agreed to this request and the case was adjourned till tomorrow morning.

The Case. The two men, it is stated, arrived in the city on Saturday, and took a room at the Hodgins House. During the evening, while Mr. W. Hall, another boarder, was sleeping in his room, some one went through his pockets.

He was awakened, and hurried downstairs, and told the proprietor, Mr. Bastle, what had occurred.

In the meantime, Denmore and McDonald, it is said, slipped down, and after securing a grip in the office, left hurriedly.

Badly Used Up. On further investigation being made it was found that Mr. Baines, of St. Marys, was lying in his room in a more or less dazed state, with his face bleeding and his eye terribly blackened.

Articles Missing. Further investigation revealed the fact that Mr. Tipplady missed articles valued in all at about $500. The police were at once notified, and Detective Dawson came to the hotel and went out with Mr. Bastle, and after a short time located the men in a room.

When taken to the station and searched, they had a gold watch which was identified by Mr. Baines as his, and handkerchiefs identified by Mr. Tipplady as his property.

Grip Is Missing. The grip which the men had when they left the hotel has not been found, and the detectives are busy looking for it, as they expect it may contain some interesting things. It is described as a small brown bag, and it is thought the men left it in some place, as they were arrested within half an hour from the time they left the hotel.

Correct Names. It is thought that Denmore's correct name is Hildebrandt and that he was in Toronto and Hamilton recently.

The men spent Thursday night at the Hodgins House, but on Friday evening they were asked to pay up and leave, as the proprietor did not like their looks.

HOME FOR STAGE MEN. Detroit, Mich., Jan. 17.—R. C. Numan, of Toronto, grand secretary of the Theatrical Mechanics Association, entered into an agreement whereby his order is to take about ten acres of the Fischer farm near Mount Clemens as a site for the society's proposed home.

The land will cost about $10,000. Geo. Howard leaves for New York Feb. 1 to work up a subscription.

New Bridge Wanted. A petition will be circulated shortly asking the council to erect a bridge over the Thames, connecting South London with West London, on the Wharfedale.

Mr. W. T. Mullins is the inflammable packing material taking an interest in the matter, and will assist in the circulation of the petition. It would prove of great benefit to the citizens generally, and Mr. Mullins. "We are all in favor of it over here."

Sad Tragedy in Buffalo in Which Walter Garner Figures.

WIFE WILL LIVE MAN MAY DIE

Garner Was a Former Barber in the Tecumseh House in This City.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Coming home Saturday afternoon after a week's debauch, Walter Garner, a barber, 32 years old, of 186 Morgan street, shot his wife, Maudie, 29 years old, twice, one of the bullets striking her left arm, and the other striking her in the right shoulder. Garner then turned the gun on himself and fired two shots, one missing, and the other penetrating his right temple. Mrs. Garner is not in a serious condition. Her wounds were not serious enough to necessitate her being taken to a hospital. Garner was taken to the Emergency Hospital in an unconscious condition.

Was On a Spree. Garner and his wife lived with Mrs. Hiscott, mother of Mrs. Garner. According to stories told by Mrs. Hiscott, Mrs. Garner and her neighbors, Garner has been away from home on a spree since last Monday, when he was locked out of the home by Mrs. Garner, after he had abused her for three days.

Since Monday Garner has spent several times to get into the house, but was unsuccessful, because the doors were locked. The front door of the house was accidentally left unlocked today, and while Mrs. Garner was arranging a bed in a rear bedroom, she heard someone coming down the hall. As she looked up her husband appeared in the doorway of that room. He said to her: "I came in here to speak with you. Come here."

Temporarily Insane. As Mrs. Garner went towards her husband he pulled a 22-calibre revolver from his coat-pocket, pointed it at his wife, and fired three shots, two of which struck her. The other went into the wall. She screamed and fell across the bed. As she fell Garner turned the gun toward himself. He said to her: "I am unconscious just as Mrs. Hiscott, attracted by the shots, rushed into the room."

The police are of the opinion that Garner was temporarily insane from excessive drinking, and was not entirely responsible for his act. It was stated at the hospital late in the afternoon that Garner had no chance of recovery.

Solomon Hiscott, father of Mrs. Garner, lives at 29 Gould street, Toronto. The parents of Garner live at 14 Cannon street, East Hamilton, Ont.

A Former Londoner. Walter Garner, the former Londoner who attempted to kill his wife in Buffalo yesterday, and who afterwards indicted himself, was a barber in the Tecumseh House barber shop. He finished his trade there.

Garner's father conducted a second-hand shop and later conducted a large drug business. In 1892 the business was burned out, and several horses were burned to death. The family then moved to Hamilton.

Went to Hamilton. Young Garner then went to Hamilton, where he opened up a shop. He made frequent trips to London, and always called on Mr. Hiscott. The last visit he made was about five years ago. Since then he has not been heard from.

It is not known definitely when he left for Buffalo, but it is presumed that he went there about four years ago.

"I knew young Garner very well," said Mr. Hiscott to The Advertiser. "I did not hear of the tragedy until you told me, and I am very much surprised, and very sorry, I am sure."

Was a Barber. "Young Garner learned his trade with me, coming to the shop when he was quite a young fellow. After he learned his trade he went away, going to Hamilton. He visited me occasionally after that. The last time he was here was about five years ago, perhaps six. He was doing well at that time."

It is greatly surprising to hear that he committed such a crime. When he was with me, he was a very good young fellow, and had no bad habits. He was well liked by everybody. It must be sixteen or seventeen years since he left me."

BIG MONTREAL FIRE. Montreal, Jan. 16.—Fire caused damage to the extent of $30,000 to the Diamond Flint Glass Works today. A branch of the factory 200 feet long and 150 wide, was pretty well destroyed.

The land will cost about $10,000. Geo. Howard leaves for New York Feb. 1 to work up a subscription.

REV. SAMUEL SMALL ON SUNDAY CARS

HELL IS FOR ALDERMEN

Who Fail in Their Duty to God—A Redhot Sermon in the Auditorium on Sunday Afternoon.

Speaking to an audience that crowded the Auditorium, yesterday afternoon, Rev. Samuel Small, pastor of the Methodist Church, declared that the subject of "Christian Citizenship." The opportunity that faces the continent of America today, he said, was not a new one. God had been searching through the ages for a nation that would be holy before him, and do justice to his neighbor. The opportunity is being pressed upon us, he declared, because the other nations who have faced the same opportunity, have proven faithless. The greatest menace to our modern civilization is the menace of the growing spirit of national infidelity. Not the infidelity that denies God, but the infidelity that says this is a Christian nation, and yet fails to follow God's commands.

Some Warm Talk.
"It is the infidelity of the man who takes the commission of the people to represent them at Ottawa, and cringes like a cur before the lash of the race track gambler and the brewer. "It is the infidelity of a city council who permit things, knowing they are contrary to the commands of Almighty God, and try to excuse themselves before him, because they acted as city councillors, and not as individuals. "And," continued the speaker, "God will put them in hell, not as individuals, but as city councillors."

Sunday Cars.
"Here in London you want to start your street cars running on Sunday," he continued. "What do you want them for, but to roust around, and do the devil's work, or to make money for some corporation that is making more than it ought, now? The Dominion Parliament can't change God's laws, nor the Provincial House overrule the fourth commandment, and the city council of London can't change God's commandments with a by-law. They may override and defy it, but God's law still stands."

INJURED WORKMAN WANTS HIS WAGES

ALL WORKERS MUST SIGN

For Their Pay—A New Rule Established for Civic Employees by the Water Commission.

At the meeting of the water commissioners on Saturday, Mayor Beattie brought up the question of payments on the new pumping plant on Horton street.

He had signed a check for money for which the account was signed by the chairman, Mr. A. T. McMahon, and Mr. H. J. Glauzitz, the engineer for Hon. Adam Beck.

"Our own engineer should act as an inspector of this work, and every account should first be examined and signed by him," his worship contended. "Last year the accounts and other like were checked up by our engineer and the city council was satisfied."

Hon. Adam Beck will meet the commissioners some time this week, when the question of changes in the plans will be discussed and other matters in connection with the payment of accounts settled.

Changes in the Plans.
The commissioners met to discuss the waterworks engineer's report received from Mr. B. F. Forest, Sherbrooke, Que., and Mr. W. Norris, of this city, engaged with the London street railway. Both applications were filed for reference.

Dr. A. O. Jeffrey complained of an overcharge for water on account of a meter being installed. He claimed that he had been charged for lawn service when others with no meter had not to pay for lawn service.

Claim Was Filed.
"We did not think it fair to charge any person for lawn service," he pointed out. "When a meter is installed, all water used must pass through it. If a man was charged up with more than he was paid under the flat rate we knocked off the difference." The claim was filed.

All Must Sign.
It was decided to have all workmen employed by the city sign the pay sheet. It seems this has not been the custom in the past.

The Bissell Company, of Toledo, who furnished the Niagara power poles to the city, were paid $5,000 on account.

A Workman Injured.
Engineer Sifton brought up the case of E. Marsh, a workman in juryed while doing construction work. The man did not know whether the city was liable or not, and so did not pay them. The insurance company did not consider the city liable, and had refused to pay the account.

The commissioners were in favor of paying the man his wages, but were afraid of establishing a dangerous precedent.

The matter was referred to Chairman McMahon, who will make whatever arrangements are possible.

Those Present.
Those present were Mr. A. T. McMahon (chairman), Commissioners Phil. Pocock, R. F. Darch, William Wyatt, Mayor Beattie, Engineer Sifton, Engineer Moore and Secretary Ellwood.

Faber on Saturday wrote a note to the girl, with whom he was infatuated, saying, "I'm coming over tomorrow to kill you."

She paid no attention to his threat until he entered the cafe, where she was dining with friends.

"I'm here to keep my promise," he said, and began firing with a revolver. "Miss Hauer shot through the head, fell to the floor. Then Faber shot her through the body. Faber's death was instantaneous from a bullet wound in the head.

MILLERS MAKE ADVANCE IN PRICE OF FLOUR

Increase of Fifteen Cents Per Hundred Has Been Made.

Owing to the scarcity of Ontario wheat and the consequent rise in prices, the millers have made an advance of fifteen cents per hundred to 15 cents a hundred or 20 cents a barrel.

Ontario wheat is very scarce at present, according to a local miller, and the millers are not making very heavy deliveries. "It costs about $1.10 to bring the wheat into London, and the prices on the local market range from $1.00 to $1.07," he said.

No reduction is looked for until the next crops.

According to the leading bakers, there will be no increase in the cost of bread, as the bakers have ample supplies of flour contracted for at satisfactory prices.

JOHN D'S NURSE DEAD

Cleveland, O., Jan. 17.—Miss Eleanor Williams, once a nurse in the home of John D. Rockefeller and in that of his brother-in-law W. C. Ridd, is dead here at the age of 100 years.

Eighty years ago, when Cleveland was a malaria-stricken district, she began to nurse the children of the settlers. She was an English emigrant, and to none of her friends did she reveal whether she had any relatives alive.

A quarter of a century ago she was sent for by Rockefeller to nurse one of his children who was ill. The affection for the kindly people in the old Euclid avenue home which she gained then she never lost.

AFTER THE SUN.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 17.—Reports circulated here say that Charles H. Grasty, formerly managing editor of the Baltimore News and later connected with the St. Paul Dispatch, had purchased the Baltimore Sun from the A. S. Abell estate. It was said that the sale was completed yesterday and that Mr. Grasty would soon take charge of the property. Mr. Grasty refused to discuss the report in any way.

At the Sun office the story was met with the simple denial that the Sun had been sold.

Mr. Grasty also is credited with having bought the Baltimore World, an afternoon newspaper, which was sold under foreclosure recently.

Sale of Colored Dress Goods Tomorrow

75c, 85c, $1, $1.50 Goods for 39c, 49c, 59c Yd

Stock Inventory Wednesday---Don't Miss Tuesday's Sale

REMNANTS AT HALF PRICE

With these we have waited until the last day in order that no short ends shall be listed in our stock and that the season to which the remnants belong will bear the loss. With our system of merchandising it is necessary at times to lose money in order to make money. As anybody knows, goods, if carried from season to season, become old-fashioned, and no matter how well you like your dress this season when the new goods arrive for the next you are sure to see styles that please you better. Therefore, if these great sacrifices of prices were not made and the odds and ends cleared out each season our store would soon be filled with antiquated merchandise and be more of an old curiosity shop than a drygoods store. Sales such as are mentioned above are where we lose and the buyers make money, but the money lost is only like spending that much money, the better preparing ourselves for bigger business during the approaching season by clearing our stocks and making room for the new.

Regardless of Cost, Our Dress Goods Department Will Be Cleared of Every Odd Line and all Remnants Tomorrow

The remnants are, as a rule, the cream of the stock, as they represent the goods which have sold during the season, and the short ends at half price afford you better qualities for the children's dresses, etc., than you would feel like buying at regular prices from the piece. These ends run from 1 1/2 to 6 yards, so you may find some long enough for the full dress if you come early. All marked at just one-half the regular price.

THE VOTING ON SATURDAY.

The result of the first day's polling in the British election is conclusive on one point only: the Unionists will not have a majority over all other parties combined in the next House of Commons, and will be unable to form a government. There is no certainty that the Liberals will outnumber all other parties combined, but even failing this they will be able to carry on the Government until they have at least driven the budget through, with the aid of the Laborites and Nationalists.

The constituencies in which polls were held on Saturday returned 25 Liberals, 32 Unionists, and 6 Laborites. In addition 11 Unionists, 1 Liberal and 5 Nationalists were returned unopposed in riding where opposition would have been a waste of strength. The 11 Unionists include Hon. James Lowther, who, as Speaker, was entitled to election by a custom which both parties always respect; Joseph Chamberlain, who is unassailable in Birmingham; G. W. Wolff, for the east division of Dublin, a Unionist stronghold; and the candidates of the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge and Dublin, whom the Liberals have not opposed for many years. It will be seen that these elections by acclamation are of no value in forecasting the general result.

The Unionists have so far gained 18 seats, the Liberals 3—a net gain for the Unionists of 15. Two of these—Southwest Manchester and Burnley—were won through triangular contests. In Southwest Manchester the Liberal and Laborite polled together 1,000 more votes than the successful Unionist, and in Burnley the Liberal and Socialist together had a majority over the successful Unionist of 4,833. It was calculated that the Opposition needed to gain 29 seats on Saturday and maintain the same ratio till the close of the polling, to be certain of defeating the Government. They have fallen considerably short of this mark in the first test of strength. They captured three London boroughs from the Ministerials, but were disappointed in their hopes of almost a clean sweep in the metropolis.

The most sanguine Liberals expected no repetition of the extraordinary triumph of 1906. Such a political earthquake had not shaken a Government out of office since 1886, when 390 Unionists were returned against 196 Liberals, on the home rule issue. The Balfour Administration went to the country four years ago, weakened by the accession of an influential group of Unionist free traders, and discredited by its Chinese labor policy in the Transvaal, its irritating school law, and its utter neglect of the social problem. In any event the inevitable "swing of the pendulum" was due after ten years of office-holding by one party. Since then the divisions among the Unionists on the tariff question have been head-on on the surface at least. Mr. Balfour, himself, has surrendered to Mr. Chamberlain, Unionist free traders like Lord Cromer, Lord Robert Cecil and Lord Hugh Cecil, follow Mr. Balfour's lead on the plea that the budget is worse than tariff reform. Behind the Opposition in this election, too, are the tremendous power of the liquor trade, which has been antagonized by the budget taxes and the consequent drop in the consumption of liquor; all the great landlords, with a few notable and noble exceptions; the bulk of the clergy of the Church of England (again with exceptions), who regard Welsh disestablishment and education as the most important questions from the standpoint of churchmen; the manufacturers who expect to profit by a tariff upon imports; and generally speaking "the classes and their dependents" whom the late Lord Salisbury described as the body of the Conservative party.

It would be a miracle if this formidable combination could achieve no more than the disorganized party which Mr. Balfour led so gallantly four years ago. The Ministerials, therefore, cannot be discouraged by Saturday's voting. They suffered a net loss of 14 seats out of 75, and if they do no worse in the remaining 375 English seats they will still have 40 more seats than the Unionists in England alone. Scotland is expected to again give a Liberal majority of 50, and Wales will probably put its solid contingent of 30 members behind its idiosyncrasy. In that event the Liberals would have a majority of 100 over the Unionists, allowing the latter 29 in Ireland. The Laborites are counting on 50 seats and the Nationalists on 84. Assuming all these estimates to be near the mark, the Laborites and Nationalists combined will hold the balance of power. But the Ministerials may even better in England, and be independent of all the other parties by a working margin.

CANADA'S RAILWAY GROWTH.

The New York Herald is much impressed by the railway growth of the Dominion, which, it declares, has now a larger per capita mileage than any other country in the world. At the time of Confederation Canada had but 2,773 miles; today there are about 25,000 miles. Canada now has double the railway mileage of Italy, Australia or Mexico, three times as much as Spain, three-quarters as much as France, two-thirds as much as Germany, more than half as much as Russia, almost as much as Austria and about the same as Great Britain.

In Canada's railways there was invested prior to last year $12,239,255, or about $56,995 per mile, whereas in the United States the capitalization is $67,396 per mile, and in Great Britain $27,437. Of course the federal and provincial governments and municipalities have liberally aided railway construction, $181,298,412 in money and 40,000,000 acres of land having been given for that purpose.

The latest published official returns show that in 1908 more than 34,000,000 passengers and upwards of 63,000,000 tons of freight were carried on the railways of Canada, entailing an outlay for operating expenses of over $107,000,000. Last year it is expected to show a 20 per cent increase on these figures.

Commenting on this unmistakable evidence of Canada's progress the Herald points out that there is certain to be an enormous demand for railway workers in the Dominion, but it declares we cannot get them from the United States, as the demand there is now in excess of the supply.

Great as has been Canada's railway growth, the year upon which we have just entered promises to be the greatest this country has ever experienced.

First blood for Lloyd George!

It looks as though the backwoods peers will have to return to the woods.

Prof. Jobb will know his political fate today. And then we shall know whether the Toronto "butters-in" have saved the Empire.

Will some of these Canadian naval experts explain why, if the proposed Canadian cruisers are useless, Great Britain continues to build the same kind?

The proposal to give the price of a Dreadnought or two to the British Government, and at the same time build a Canadian navy, is a palpable attempt to straddle the fence.

The great cotton center of England rejects Mr. Chamberlain's tariff specific. The cotton industry is healthy. When a man's system is in good shape he has no use for patent medicines.

A tariff war between the United States and Germany is threatened. Canadians hope it will happen. It would teach both countries some much-needed wisdom in trade matters.

The London Sunday Times throws up the sponge, lamenting that "even the trump card of a strong navy and the appeal to the patriotism of the people lost their potency." In other words, that gambler's throw—the German war scare—failed to win the game. The British people have given Northcliffe a black eye.

The independent jingo candidate in Ottawa, City Treasurer Ellis, is still issuing a daily bulletin on the naval question. "I am opposed," he says, "to the proposition that the Canadian navy will not go to war unless the Canadian Government chooses to send it. What else Mr. Ellis may be, he is a mighty poor Canadian."

GOVERNMENT BY ONE PARTY.

At the bottom of this attack rests the assumption that the Government of the country belongs by divine right to one party, and that the temporary success of its opponents in an inconvenient incident which must not be allowed to have any results awkward for the natural governing party. The Daily Telegraph poured scorn on a purely imaginary suggestion that "the House of Lords should be a replica of the House of Commons, Radical when the lower chamber was Radical, Unionist when the lower chamber was Unionist." This, it was added, "is the golden sham Mr. Asquith would have." It would be possible to defend the second chamber which gave in this way an accurate reflection of the changes of opinion in the country as a whole. While, however, the Telegraph can see unexplained absurdity in such a second chamber, it can zealously defend a position in which the second chamber is always and overwhelmingly Unionist when the Unionists are in power, and remains overwhelmingly Unionist when the country is sick and tired of all that Unionism has done and demands a change. Yet that is a system under which the Commons must inevitably be reduced to "a kind of superior debating society," having little power in the field of legislation, and being subject to a control, as strong as it must be ignorant, in the region of national finance. We agree that rather than have a House of Commons of this kind it would be well to have a House of Commons altogether, and to adopt frankly and openly the German system. The shadow of representative institutions would not be worth retaining for a month when the substance had gone. When, however, the issue is thus put before the electors, we have sufficient faith in the existence of the spirit of other days to believe that their answer will be such as to secure us for all time from the usurpations of a hereditary chamber. Unionists may affect to believe that nobody in the country cares for the constitutional question. We can only reply that we think that the course of events in the next few weeks will rudely scatter any such theories. Until we are convinced by the fact we shall continue firm in the opinion that in electing the House of Commons the voters will not record their opinions in a way that would lead directly to the degradation of the elected assembly and to the permanent supremacy of an unelected and hereditary body.

One of the few accomplishments which Gladstone never acquired was the art of smoking. His few attempts in this direction are reported to have been dismal failures. After dinner the prince desired to smoke, and Gladstone, with the courtesy sought to place his guest at ease by at least lighting a cigarette. In later years the Grand Old Man, sitting around the fireside, would sometimes smoke a pipe, but his secretary of smoking of the weed. "No wonder," was the reply, "I've been over half an hour with Sir William Harcourt." "What does Harcourt smoke?" exclaimed Gladstone. "Tobacco," replied the secretary. "If Lord Curzon says that a hereditary legislature is incompetent to touch finance, he is incompetent to touch anything." Exports, the constitutionalists, allows the hereditary chamber a sphere outside finance, and Lord Curzon's sense of his fitness to deal with the things the constitution forbids him, as well as with the things the constitution allows him, would not let him rest till he broke the constitution to get at them. Of the House of Commons, the product and expression of the more common voter's humble attempt to manage his own affairs, Lord Curzon is frankly contemptuous. It is "not fit to be left alone," Pitt, Burke, Wellington, Salisbury at least thought that the constitution, acting through his chosen deputies in the Commons, was "fit to be left alone" in control of finance.

KINGSMILL'S*SEND POOR BOYS TO FISHER'S GLEN

Lads Next Summer.

Admirable Plan to Help Worthy Lads Next Summer.

At the meeting of the representatives of the different churches at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon plans were discussed for sending a number of the poor boys of London to the summer camp at Fisher's Glen on Lake Erie. The representatives had heard of the ideal location of the camp, the places of historical interest around it, the boat trips to Long Island, which is the burying ground of the great lakes, and also the greatest fishing ground and game preserve of the many social evenings, sports, hikes and most important of all the results of the morning and evening Bible study. Out of 100 boys from the different towns over 40 were converted, and turned over to their church of preference. Next Mr. F. A. Smith's plan was giving his time and talent free, and at the camp last summer, and after seeing the work done at the camp he has offered to put on a practical course of instruction for the boys of the Y. M. C. A. in the Auditorium Feb. 9, 10 and 11. Owing to the fact that Mr. Smith is giving his time and talent free, and that the large manufacturing concerns are giving him the material to demonstrate, as well as putting in an up-to-date kitchen for him, the expense is estimated at about $100. The money from the tickets will go directly to send the boys to the camp. The churches selling 75 cents are given the privilege of sending a boy from their Sunday school. After hearing this proposition every delegate seemed to think the demonstration to be put on very valuable, that the plan was an exceedingly good one, and deserved the support of every church in the city. At the close of the meeting a very representative took a large number of tickets on condition that they should return them they did not sell or get more if they wanted them.

ROYAL BANK OF CANADA

For a year in which most banks found it difficult to show anything like the profits that they had during the past few years, the statement of the Royal Bank of Canada, which was made public today, will attract immediate attention, very largely, perhaps, because after the somewhat unfavorable factory trade conditions that prevailed in the earlier part of the year, the bank was able to show an increase of nearly $1,000,000 in its profits, the amounting to $838,206.51, which is equal to 18.98 per cent on the average paid-up capital of the bank for the year of $4,365,000.

As indicating the rapid headway the Royal is making among the leading financial institutions, the total deposits at the close of the year shows an increase of over $11,000,000, the deposits bearing interest standing at $23,456,328, as against $24,200,726 at the close of the previous year, being an increase of over $1,000,000, while the deposits not bearing interest gained from $13,090,564.69 in 1908, to $13,355,939.07, at the close of the past fiscal year, or slightly over $2,000,000.

Notwithstanding this very large gain there was also a very marked increase in the percentage of quick assets, and these now amount to over 56 per cent, as compared with 52.63 per cent at the close of the previous fiscal year.

The larger amount of money that the bank has had at its disposal has resulted in particularly large increases in the call loans on stocks and bonds, and this account now stands at $9,538,309.62, as against $2,286,141.29 at the end of the previous year, or an increase of well over $6,000,000. At the same time there was a very substantial increase in the current loans, and these now stand at $32,644,705.10, as compared with $26,736,164.99.

During the year the bank also made an issue of stock with the result that its paid-up capital now stands at $5,000,000, as compared with $3,900,000, at the end of 1908, while the reserve fund has gained to $5,700,000, as against $4,600,000 at the end of the previous year.

A complete statement of the bank's position with comparisons will be found elsewhere in this issue.

KAISER HEARS SHACKLETON.

Berlin, Jan. 15. Emperor William singled out Lieut. The Emperor greatly appreciated Lieut. Shackleton's narrative, and was deeply interested in the views displayed. After the lecture his majesty conversed at considerable length with the distinguished British explorer and his wife.

NO MORNING PAPER FOR DENVER PEOPLE

Publishers and Pressmen Could Not Come to an Agreement.

Denver, Col., Jan. 17.—Probably the first day in its history, Denver began its day without its morning papers. The cause was the local organization of the publishers and the local organization of the International Pressmen's Union, which had reached a climax. Although a conference was continued until long after midnight, no basis for agreement could be reached, and the publishers of the two morning papers decided not to make any attempt to publish today. The demands of the local union originally were for a seven-hour day, instead of an eight-hour day, and an increase of $1 a day, the changes to date from March 1 last. These conditions were agreed to, but before a final adjustment could be made the pressmen demanded that they be granted time and a half for the extra hours they had worked under the new scale from last March. This the publishers refused, and the lockout followed.

MADAME'S WARD

BY PAULINE BEVERLY.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

It was some time before any of us could grasp the astonishing fact that mademoiselle had stolen the diamonds. She, and only she, by her own confession, had been the stealthy thief who had pillored the jewel-cabinet in Natalie's room, and, worse than that, poor girl, despite the inspectors' suspicions, was as innocent of the audacious theft as she had always avowed herself to be. Yes, mademoiselle, the demure and precise, was the thief; and more astounding still—the diamonds were safe, even to the night. Since the night of the robbery they had never been from under the roof of Mount Chavasse. How near the inspector must have been to them in the course of his searching and ferreting. And how, I suppose, we must all have been never to suspect her before. I fancy that was the thought in Madame's head as well as in mine, as between us we read the article, and gradually mastered the contents.

It was a long letter, occupying many pages—a coolly audacious letter, and yet somehow a sad one. It explained more mysteries than that of the jewel robbery; it made many strange things plain, and it told the secret that had existed between the governess and Roger Yorke.

It was a very simple secret, after all, which my friend, in his kindness of heart, had consented to keep for her, and a very miserable one. I must say that I pined for it as I read it, and so did Madame, unless I am mistaken. Briefly, then, it all amounted to this. Yorke and she had first met at the house of his sister in Paris, when he had been upon his yearly visit there, during the year before her appearance at Mount Chavasse. But she was not Miss Valdin, but Mme. Steinhardt, the wife of a cashier at a bank in Paris. Max Steinhardt—a German, by the way—was an awfully extravagant man, and at this time was deeply in debt. Being so, he did what many in that position, with facilities ready to their hands, do—levanted with a large sum of money from the bank. He was captured in a day or two, tried, and sentenced to a long term of imprisonment. This was while Roger was still in Paris; and, with his usual good nature, he had shown great kindness to mademoiselle, and must still call her so, or I shall get things mixed. Then, returning to Whittlesford, he forgot her to all intents and purposes, and neither saw nor heard of her again until the evening of her arrival at the Mount.

Of course, he had never dreamed that the Miss Valdin about whom he had heard us—Nat and myself—grumbled was Mme. Steinhardt, an establishment as uncomfortable as seeing her had been extreme—for this reason. Knowing Madame as he did, he was aware that the wife of a felon would never have found a home at a place as the governess of his adopted daughter, and her real antecedents were known, and in his amazement he nearly blurted out the truth. This mademoiselle knew at least as well as he, and, although by her cool and well-laid plan she contrived to smooth over the awkwardness of the situation for the moment, she knew that, unless she could induce him to give her a pledge of secrecy, he would certainly think this duty to tell the truth to Madame. That she might endeavor to do this she asked him to let her speak to him quietly, and then followed that interview in the Lady's Walk, so much which they had sprung so much trouble, and which I had seen.

During the interview mademoiselle gave Roger another reason for silence besides that of his natural consideration for her. Max Steinhardt, darling man, dead. A strong, restless, daring man, he had escaped from prison six months before, and his dead body had been found in a river near at hand, although whether his death arose from accident or design there was no way of telling. She had, she said, had a glimpse of his face, and she had seen that he was dead. Her unfortunate husband, dead, her disgrace hidden, her name changed, a home secured, a position secured, she knew she was perfectly safe. She had, she said, been crushed and ruin her by a statement of the cruel unnecessary truth? Roger, soft-hearted always, but particularly so now, had listened as I had, and he would hold his tongue. But, although he pitied mademoiselle, he did not trust her. He felt by no means inclined to take it for granted that Max Steinhardt was dead, and it was to this doubt at first that he had made another sudden journey to Paris. From his sister or his sister's husband he would most likely be able to learn the truth or falsity of the story. But Roger, who had never had any doubts, it seemed that mademoiselle, who had been so sure of the truth, for in Paris he saw in the newspaper containing a detailed account of the escape and death of the prisoner, Max Steinhardt. Satisfied, Yorke came back to Whittlesford, and mademoiselle, of his journey and its results, and believing that Max Steinhardt was indeed dead, and the secret, such as it was, as safe as himself, ceased to trouble himself about the matter.

Of course, however, the truth was that Max Steinhardt was not dead. He had escaped from prison; but, whoever it was that was found in the river a week or two later, it was certainly not he. Not that his wife believed the report of his death—indeed, until that evening when his sudden appearance before the window at Chavasse had made her shrink in faint amazement, she had never entered her mind to suppose that there had been any mistake. But he had not only escaped from prison, but from France, and, getting to England, desperate and penniless, he had found out his wife. The next day he met her in the park, gave him what money she could spare, and fixed a certain date for him to come again, when she would be able to give him the quarter's salary then nearly due. The date of Natalie's tumble off her horse, when he, the dark, foreign-looking man with the red scar on his forehead, had startled her by his sudden appearance in the lane.

I little knew that he was hidden behind the clump of bushes by the gate in the park palings where I afterwards found Virtue Dent crouching on the occasion of her luckless brother's visit to Whittlesford, and where too there had lain concealed that still unknown witness of the interview in the Lady's Walk. No wonder, then, that things considered that mademoiselle had looked frightened and talked so oddly when I encountered her in the Lady's Walk, and she clutched me by the arm, thinking I was her husband. Indeed I scared her so that she was afraid to go back to the house for the money then, or to remain with him for more than a minute. Instead, she stole downstairs in the night when I heard her stealthy footsteps creep past my door. It was her husband, and his knowledge that her husband was still lurking about Whittlesford and Market Wexford which had made Yorke's second journey to Paris startle her, and had caused her to look so frightened when on his return I had seen the meeting between them outside the rectory gate.

That he did not trust her account of Max Steinhardt's death she well knew—indeed he had as good as told her as much; and her fear was that his suspicions had been aroused and that this second visit might mean inquiries which would finally lead to the discovery. That he would betray the fact that her husband was living, in such a way as to lead to his imprisonment, she did not fear, but she imagined that, if Roger found out the truth, he would be sure enough to cause her dismissal from Chavasse. And this she did not by any means wish, since knowing that her husband lived, she had an object in remaining there, which she stated with a frank boldness and audacity that even on paper was simply marvellous—nothing less than the theft of Natalie's jewels!

Mademoiselle knew the value of the jewels, and that it would be easy for her to take Natalie's—knowing that in her position she was quite clever enough to avert probable suspicion—and, above all, knew that, once safely out of England with them, they would form the basis of a start in life in America. That was her object, and with that in view she took the jewels—she took them later on in the evening on which I had found Virtue Dent admiring them by means of the key which Natalie, like the careless little creature she was, had left in an unlocked drawer. And too wary to trust to any place of hiding about the house until the first shock and search should be over, and it should be safe to place them in the hands of Max Steinhardt, to the end that he might get clear of the country with them before she herself self-quitted Canada to join him, which was, of course, her ultimate intention, she had absolutely had the coolness for the first two days after the robbery to carry the jewels away in a large pocket-case beneath her skirts. Afterward, when the suspicions took the decided direction which they did take, she had secreted the jewels in a disused room near her own.

LONDON HEALTH ASSOCIATION

Important Reports Presented at Yesterday's Meeting—Institution May Open June 1.

An important meeting of the London Health Association was held in the afternoon, Hon. Adam Beck, president, in the chair. A number of reports were presented, the treasurer's statement showing that about $15,000 had been paid in, and architect's estimate of the amount about $50,000. Total of the accepted contract amounts to about $30,000. The water and lighting supplies have yet to be arranged and provided for.

The report of the committees of ladies who have undertaken to furnish the bed linen and laundry requisites was most gratifying, and it was stated that in response to the material had been contributed to furnish the buildings at the opening.

The hospital Sunday arrangements were reported as well.

The president stated that he had had several interviews with the Ministerial Association and with others of the city clergy and that they had taken enthusiastic hold of the project.

The naming of the sanatorium was discussed, and it was unanimously resolved that the president appeal to the Governor-General for his interest in securing Her Majesty the Queen's consent to being named the Royal Alexandra Sanatorium.

It was anticipated from the progress already made that the institution will be completed to permit of the opening of patients by the end of June.

The appointment of a resident physician was discussed, and the statement made that a highly recommended and most capable superintendent was in sight.

LONSDALE QUILTS COOK

Secretary of North Pole Fakir S. y. That He Was Deceived.

[Associated Press.]

New York, Jan. 15. A Copenhagen dispatch to the New York Times says that Walter Lonsdale, secretary to Dr. Frederick A. Cook, has now lost faith in his employer's story of his expedition to the North Pole. He says that the last letter he received from Cook was dated from a city in South America, and that he had made another sudden journey to Paris. From his sister or his sister's husband he would most likely be able to learn the truth or falsity of the story. But Roger, who had never had any doubts, it seemed that mademoiselle, who had been so sure of the truth, for in Paris he saw in the newspaper containing a detailed account of the escape and death of the prisoner, Max Steinhardt. Satisfied, Yorke came back to Whittlesford, and mademoiselle, of his journey and its results, and believing that Max Steinhardt was indeed dead, and the secret, such as it was, as safe as himself, ceased to trouble himself about the matter.

SENDING FILTH INTO FALLS

Pollution of Niagara From the American Side To Be Stopped.

[Associated Press.]

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 15. Steps are to be taken by State Commissioner of Health E. H. Porter to stop the pollution of the Niagara River by the city of Niagara Falls, N. Y., where it is stated garbage is thrown into the river through a chute below the falls. The attention of the state department was called to the matter by Chas. A. Hodgett, chief health officer of Ontario, who stated that a petition from the town of Niagara Falls, Ont., asking for authority to operate a similar chute in the city of Niagara Falls, had been received by the provincial officials, and asking that if possible steps be taken to prevent the pollution of the river on the American side.

Heaviness at Pit of the Stomach

A Feeling of Uneasiness Before and After Meals Is Quickly Cured With Nerviline.

Nearly everyone gets an occasional attack of indigestion and knows just what that heavy feeling means in the stomach. "I was subject to stomach derangements and my nervous system suffered as a result. After meals I belched gas, had a weighty sensation in my stomach and over my left side. The first relief I got was from Nerviline. I used it three times a day and was cured. I continue to use Nerviline occasionally, and find it is a wonderful aid to the stomach and digestive organs."

The above letter comes from Mrs. P. R. Stetson, a well-known merchant in Brockton, and still further proves the exceptional power of Nerviline—furnished by A. E. Rossman, the well-known upholder of Chester, who writes: "Let everyone with a bad stomach use Nerviline, and I am sure there will be few sufferers left. I used to have cramps, rumbling noises, gas on my stomach and severe fits of indigestion. Nerviline was my only remedy that gave me relief, and I found it to be entirely satisfactory that I would like to have my letter of recommendation published broadcast in order that others may profit by my experience."

You find a hundred uses for Nerviline—it's a trusty household remedy that sells to the extent of a million bottles per year—that's the best proof that it will cure and give unlimited satisfaction. Refuse anything offered in place of Nerviline. Large bottles, 50 cents; trial size, 25 cents. All dealers, or The Catarthosene Company, Kingston, Ont.

NO MERGER FOR POSTAL

Company Claims It Will Remain Independent of Western Union.

[Associated Press.]

New York, Jan. 17. — The petition of the Postal Telegraph Cable Company of New York to change its name to Transcontinental Telegraph Company, is not considered in financial circles as the final public merging of the telephone and telegraph interests of the United States into one company. At the offices of the Postal Company it was explained that the Postal Telegraph Cable Company of New York owned no property in this state and that the change in name was merely transfer several small subsidiary telegraph companies in Montana and other western states, all of which have long been in the Postal system. The object in changing the name, according to Vice-President Adams, is to clarify tax matters in this state.

An official statement, made by the Postal Telegraph and Cable company, says: "The Postal people say that they have been independent, and will continue to be independent, and that they have nothing to do with the Telephone Company or the Western Union, and do not propose to have."

DANCING WITH A CORPSE

Outrageous Antic of a Drink-Crazed Negro in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati Jan. 16. — The unusual sight of a negro singing and waltzing down Butler street toward Pearl street with a corpse of a colored woman in his arms, startled Patrolman McCorkhill and Reynolds early yesterday. They closed in on the man, who thereupon dropped the corpse and fled. While one of the officers took after him the other conveyed the body, which later proved to be that of the negro's wife, to her former home on Butler street.

The negro was taken to the police station, where he registered as Thomas Harvey. He was held for one night.

Harvey, grief-stricken over his wife's death, had left the house in the afternoon, and did not return until midnight, when he was found by the police in the house preparing for burial.

According to the police Harvey acted like a wild man. Grabbing a piece of wood from the kitchen, he drove everyone from the house. Then he placed a cigarette in the dead woman's mouth, and taking the body in his arms, started out of the house.

He put the corpse in the front doorway, while he returned to the house and procured a bottle of whiskey. He tried to force some of the liquor down the dead woman's throat, and, failing to do this, again picked up the body and started dancing down the street with it.

LAZY MEN IN LONDON

IRRITATE THE INSPECTOR

Mr. Sanders Is Out With a Big Stick for That Kind of Characters.

Inspector Sanders is out after the gentlemen who want assistance, and who will not work. "The other day he had a man come to him with a tale of woe—stomach and dying wife, and no coal. The inspector promised to help them, and did so. He turned over to find work for the man. The latter promised to work, of course, but since then he has failed to turn up, and the children were compelled to beg for food. Mr. Sanders has two such cases on his mind now.

"There should be some machinery to deal with such cases," he stated to the Advertiser. "That man should be sent to jail, put to work at some family, or charitable people are willing to assist every case of need, and do help them, but such men as that should be given some punishment."

SOUTH SEA MYSTERIES

United States Fitting Out Expedition To Look Into Them.

Washington, Jan. 16.—An expedition to the South Atlantic and the Antarctic Ocean in the interest of economic and scientific work, by the fish commission steamer Albatross, is under consideration by Secretary Nagel, of the department of commerce and labor.

It was suggested by Henry Osborn, president of the American Museum of Natural History at New York. Mr. Osborn says he recently has received confidential information from one who has returned from the Antarctic that there still remains on certain remote island, herds of southern fur seal, in such numbers as to promise great returns. The definite location of these herds, the discovery of other herds, and the approximate number become desirable, he says, as records for future scientific and industrial work.

For a few years past a whaling industry has developed in the south, rivaling the industry of the north. There are at least four distinct species of whales in the Antarctic. In certain areas they are exceedingly abundant. Mr. Osborn says that he is credibly informed that large number of seal elephants also exist in considerable numbers in the Antarctic region.

The general work by the fish commission steamer Albatross, is under consideration by Secretary Nagel, of the department of commerce and labor.

Two Mills Using Same Quality of Wheat May Produce Same Quality of Flour

The quality of flour largely depends on the milling. Two mills might grind wheat of the same quality and the product of one far outclass the other. It is not only the high quality of the hard wheat used, but also the superior milling facilities, that places "PURITY" flour so far above all others. Our milling plant at St. Boniface, Manitoba, cost nearly $1,000,000, and is one of the most perfectly equipped mills in the world. The wheat itself is subjected to the most wonderful system of cleaning, scouring, passing, twenty distinct rolls. Fifty-five steel rollers, the largest in Canada, reduce wheat into flour. The purified and dressed "PURITY" it through silk fine mesh. Not a particle or speck of chaff found in "PURITY."

You may have to prove it is worth more for Purify, results, quality and prove it is worth the slight difference.

We have two other modernly equipped mills at Man., and Goderich, Ont.

SIDE LIGHTS ON
MANY SPORTSSTALLION ALBERT
IMPORTED BY
LONDON MAN DIES IN KENTUCKY

Famous Sire Brought to Canada With Newcourt by Late Mayor T. D. Hodgins, of This City, Finishes Career—Offer of $30,000 Was Refused by the Owners.

The stallion Albert, imported to Canada with Newcourt more than twenty years ago by the late T. D. Hodgins, of London, Ont., died this week in Kentucky. He was 25 years old, and one of the most notable sires in America. When 12 years old he was purchased for the Adolphus stud, at Hopkinsville, Ky., by his owners, Dr. M. W. Williams and Major Cyrus S. Radford, assistant quartermaster of the United States marine.

Albert distinguished himself as a sire in an incredibly short time after being established at Adolphus stud, and in 1900 Williams and Radford refused an offer of $20,000 for him. Their judgment was well vindicated by the next crop of yearlings, which brought $22,000, one of the number selling for $7,500. Purchased in the fall of 1896, his first crop, nine or ten 2-year-olds, placed him a premier stallion in 1899, with $95,575 to his credit. In this crop came Mesmerist, the champion two-year-old of his time, and winner of $50,000 in stakes and purses.

SIRE SOME BIG WINNERS.
Then followed Herbie, winner of $45,000; Bonheart, winner of $40,000 and holder of the American record for one and one-eighth miles at Brighton Beach, New York, for a number of years, and Hattason, winner of $20,000, a record holder at Sheepshead Bay. The list of his winners is extensive, and his percentage is estimated by no less an authority than General Jackson at 35, probably higher than that of any horse in America.

During his ten years from 1897 to 1907 he had an average of about twelve yearlings shipped to New York each season, and these sold for $150,000. Their combined winnings have been nearly half a million dollars. Albert belonged to the No. 4 family, and was a noted race horse in England. He captured the Storton Derby, Stakes and other important races. His sire, Albert Victor, was a superior race horse and brother to George Frederick, winner of the English Derby.

SON OF HAWTHORNE BLOOM.
Albert's dam, Hawthorne Bloom, was a great mare, being out of Alice Hawthorne, dam of Thormanville, winner of the Derby and other celebrated races. H. Walsh, "Stonehenge," the distinguished English authority on breeding, made a table of the best English matrons, and eight of the first ten appear in Albert's tabulation. "Toronto Globe."

THIRTY-ONE PENALTIES IMPOSED AT TORONTO

T. A. A. C. Defeated Montreal by 14 to 6 in Rough and Tumble Contest.

Toronto, Jan. 16.—In a rough-and-tumble contest, in which fist fighting and dirty play were substituted for good hockey, the T. A. A. C. beat Montreal by 14 to 6 in a rough and tumble contest.

The best men on the ice were Currie, of the T. A. A. C., and the well-known Joe Eveleigh, of the M. A. A. A. The latter is one of the best men in the game anywhere, but he stops at nothing in the way of dirty play, and was in the penalty box no less than eight times. The lineup:

T. A. A. C.—Ardagh, goal; McEachern, point; Kidd, cover; Morrison, rover; Currie, centre; Burkart, right; Pritham, left.

M. A. A. A.—Finley, goal; Kendall, point; Wood, cover; Glas-Fraser, rover; Eveleigh, centre; White, right; McCusick, left.

THE FIGHTERS WILL DECIDE IT.

While the main point in dispute is the place for the fight, it appears that the squabble has resolved itself into a struggle for authority between Gleason and Rickard. The balance of power must be with the fighters, and the San Francisco sporting fraternity is almost unanimously of the opinion that the fight will be held wherever Jeffries and Rickard want it.

"When all is said and done, the fight will be held here," said Jack Gleason, "I agree in New York that I should have the name of the place, and I don't care what Tex Rickard says about it. I know what Tex is talking about."

RELIANCE ON BERGER'S BACKING.

A DAY IN THE SPORTING WORLD

SIDE LIGHTS ON MANY SPORTSSTALLION ALBERT IMPORTED BY
LONDON MAN DIES IN KENTUCKY

Famous Sire Brought to Canada With Newcourt by Late Ex-Mayor T. D. Hodgins, of This City, Finishes Career—Offer of $30,000 Was Refused by the Owners.

The stallion Albert, imported to Canada with Newcourt more than twenty years ago by the late T. D. Hodgins, of London, Ont., died this week in Kentucky. He was 25 years old, and one of the most notable sires in America. When 12 years old he was purchased for the Adelbert stud, at Hopkinsville, Ky., by his owners, Dr. M. W. Williams and Major Cyrus S. Radford, assistant quartermaster of the United States marines.

Albert distinguished himself as a sire in an incredibly short time after being established at Adelbert stud, and in 1909 Williams and Radford refused an offer of $20,000 for him. Their judgment was well vindicated by the next crop of yearlings, which brought $22,000, one of the number selling for $7,500. Purchased in the fall of 1896, his first crop, nine or ten 2-year-olds, placed him a premier stallion in 1899, with $9,575 to his credit. In this crop came Mesmerist, the champion 2-year-old of his time, and winner of $50,000 in stakes and purses.

SIRE SOME BIG WINNERS.
Then followed Herberich, winner of $45,000; Bonheur, winner of $40,000 and holder of the American record for one and one-eighth miles at Brighton Beach, New York, for a number of years, and Hotshot, winner of $20,000, a record holder at Sheepshead Bay. The list of his winners is extensive, and his percentage is estimated by no less an authority than General Jackson at 35, probably higher than that of any horse in America.

During the ten years from 1897 to 1907 he had an average of about twelve yearlings shipped to New York each season, and these sold for $150,000. Their combined winnings have been nearly half a million dollars. Albert belonged to the No. 4 family, and was noted race horse in England, Scotland, the Scotch Highlands and other important races. His sire, Albert Victor, was a superior race horse and brother to George Frederick, winner of the English Derby.

SON OF HAWTHORNE BLOOM.
Albert's dam, Hawthorne Bloom, was a grey mare, being out of Alice Hawthorne, dam of Thornbury, winner of the Derby and other celebrated races. J. H. Walsh, "Stonehenge," the distinguished English authority on breeding, made a table of the best English matrons, and eight of the first ten appear in Albert's pedigree. —Toronto Globe.

ONLY TWO IN SAME CLASS—HERCULES AND JEFF.

That Jim Jeffries is in splendid physical condition to begin a siege of training is the claim of a Chicago physician who gave him a thorough examination, setting at rest the doubt that has existed in the mind of the public.

Dr. C. W. Piper, who made the examination, is quoted as saying:

"The only figure, in classic art, even, that would compare favorably with Jeffries in sheer exposition of power, is the Farnese Hercules.

"His heart is in perfect condition.
"His lung power is tremendous.
"His circulation is good.

"There is absolutely no indication of muscle degeneration.
"His nervous system is in excellent order.
"There is no enlargement of the kidneys.
"There is no sign of Bright's disease, the bane of many big men.
"There are no disorders that will affect stamina."

HORACE FOGEL CONTENDS THAT DISPUTE IS CLUB'S BUSINESS

Says Manager Murray, of Philadelphia, Has Civil Contract and That National League or Commission Has No Right to Interfere in the Case.

Philadelphia, Jan. 15.—Neither the National League nor the National commission has a right to interfere in a dispute between a club and its manager. This is the contention of Horace S. Fogel, president of the Philadelphia National League club, in the matter of the salary dispute between his club and William Murray, the deposed manager. Murray laid his complaint before the National League directors and the National commission. President Fogel's answer to the complaint denies the right of either body to interfere in the private affairs of any club in the league. He says:

"It is not as though Mr. Murray were a ball player, signed as a manager and subject to the protection of the league as a player.

"Here is a civil contract made with a man to manage the club and he is in no way under the jurisdiction of the league or the commission.

"Murray holds a contract from the former owners of the club by which he is guaranteed $15,000 for the next two years. When President Fogel and his associates obtained control of the club they refused to accept the contract as binding on them.

WOULD RATHER HOLD FIGHT ON A DESERT

Then Have It Take Place in San Francisco, Says Rickard.

Salt Lake City Utah, Jan. 17.—"I will hold the fight on the desert twenty miles from nowhere, before I will take it to San Francisco with a local man as manager," declared Tex Rickard last night when he read the statement that Jack Gleason was looked upon in San Francisco as the real promoter.

"I alone will be the manager of the fight," Rickard continued. "I still plan to hold the fight in Salt Lake. A boxing contest is not against the Utah law."

Rickard is to meet with a number of local business men today and learn from them the situation as regards official interference. Until this meeting is held he will not talk of Ogden's chances.

JEFF AND JOHNSON PLAN A SYNDICATE

To Handle the Fight Pictures—New York World Publishes Alleged Clause of Agreement.

New York, Jan. 15.—Jim Jeffries and John Johnson are about to incorporate to form a corporation to be known as the Jeffries-Johnson Moving Picture Corporation, under which their fight will be held on July 4 next.

A clause, said to have been omitted from the articles of agreement between the fighters given out to the public, will be published tomorrow by the New York World. The clause, as printed as No. 5, said to be a substitute for the original articles, No. 7, reads:

"And the parties hereby agree that the principals, James J. Jeffries and John Johnson, shall receive the full one hundred per cent of the picture income, and they shall pay to Gleason and Rickard 33 1/3 per cent of the profits from such picture display. And the said Jeffries and Johnson shall have no corporate form to be known as the Jeffries-Johnson Moving Picture Corporation, to carry out the provisions of this agreement."

THIRTY-ONE PENALTIES IMPOSED AT TORONTO

T. A. A. C. Defeated Montreal by 14 to 6 in Rough and Tumble Contest.

Toronto, Jan. 16.—In a rough-and-tumble play were substituted for rough hockey, and in which no less than 31 penalties were imposed, T. A. A. C. beat Montreal 14 to 6 in the first game of the season on Saturday night by 14 to 6. The contest thus graduated from the "mild" class, it being their first victory since the Interprovincial League. The T. A. A. C. won because they were a better team. The best men on ice were Currie, of the T. A. A. C., and the well-known Joe Eveleigh, of the M. A. A. A. The latter is one of the best players in the game anywhere, but he stops at nothing in the way of dirty play, and was in the penalty box no less than eight times. The lineup:

T. A. A. C.—Ardagh, goal; McEachern, point; Kidd, cover; Morrison, rover; Currie, centre; Burkart, right; Proham, left.

M. A. A.—Pinney, goal; Kendall, point; Wood, cover; Glass-Fraser, rover; Eveleigh, centre; White, right; McChalk, left.

Detroit Free Press: Considerable interest in a boxing match in the contest between Freddie Hicks and Jesse Clarke, which comes on the main event of the Windsor A. The contest will be far from one that would decide a world's title, but inasmuch as the winner will double his purse as good a claim as the next one on the middleweight title in Michigan, there is something to be gained by the winner.

WOLTERS GOES TO HIGHLANDERS.

Boston, Jan. 16.—The Red Sox have turned pitcher Harry Wolters over to the New York Highlanders.

Jack Gleason and Tex Rickard Are Engaged in Controversy.

ONE WANTS FRISCO, OTHER SALT LAKE

Jeffries Probably Will Decide the Matter When It Comes to Final Showdown.

San Francisco, Jan. 16.—A bitter controversy is on between the two men who are to handle the Jeffries and Johnson championship fight. Jack Gleason, of San Francisco, and Tex Rickard, of Nevada, are in a warm dispute over the selection of a battleground.

Tex Rickard issued a flat statement last night that the fight would take place in Salt Lake City or its immediate vicinity. In response Jack Gleason just as positively stated that Jeffries and Johnson would meet in San Francisco or near by.

In that situation the question stands tonight.

Rickard in his statement charges that Gleason has not advanced one cent in the transaction so far. Of the $100,000 guarantee, only $20,000 has been posted. Rickard asserts that Gleason "has not put up a cent of this fight, and hence cannot assume to dictate. Gleason declared that Rickard could not have become a partner in the enterprise if it had not been for the Gleason audience with Sam Berger and Jim Jeffries.

THE FIGHTERS WILL DECIDE IT.

While the main point in dispute is the place for the fight, it should be noted that the squabble has resolved itself into a tussle for authority between Gleason and Rickard. The balance of power must be with the fighters, and the San Francisco sporting fraternity is almost unanimously of the opinion that the fight will be held wherever Jeffries dictates. Nothing has been heard from either of the two principals since Gleason's flat refusal to accept the place. He is a Californian, and Berger, his manager, is a San Franciscan. Jack Johnson, who is often said to be always with Gleason, was always with Tex Rickard.

"When all is said and done, the fight will be held here," said Jack Gleason tonight at the Olympic Club. "I say so, and I agree to back it up. I don't care to have the naming of the place. I don't care what Tex Rickard says about it. I know what Tex Rickard is up to."

RELIES ON BERGER'S BACKING.

"I don't care to get into any controversy about this thing, but I want it decided as quickly as possible. I want the place. Sam Berger will back me up. He knows, and Johnson and Little both know. I am confident that if Tex and I will tell you we need authority to choose the battleground, the fighters want to know what we want. I want to know what the fighters want, and then we shall see."

"If Rickard does not care to live up to his word, I will say again that if Tex does not want to go through with it, as we agreed to do, I will relieve him of his duties and responsibility."

SAYS HE GOT JEFF TO SIGN.

"Jeffries would never have consented to sign these articles with Rickard as one of the principals, if it had not been for me. I am not going to stand for Rickard being the autocrat, and neither will you. That will about decide the dispute."

Many sportsmen are skeptical about the chances of a fight between the two champions. Some think that it is

SMALLPOX CASE WAS LAID OVER FOR TIME

Action of Dr. Ross Is Shelved to Allow Some New Testimony.

The case of Dr. C. C. Ross against the township of London, which was heard before Chief Justice Meredith at the Saturday session of the assizes, was laid over for the time being to permit Mr. McEvoy, for the plaintiff, to present certain legal testimony regarding the power of the board of health to bind the municipality it represented.

It was on this point that the case really turned as the defendants claimed that even if the board had made an agreement with Dr. Ross for $100 a week, which they had, yet there was no obligation resting upon the board to uphold the action.

His lordship, however, stated that whether they had the power or not, such an agreement or not would certainly give the plaintiff compensation.

The conclusion of the case occupied the whole of the afternoon session, $100 a week.

Mr. Samuel Lewis, of London Township, told of a conversation with Mr. Kimball on the London market. The case had spoken before the assizes, Dr. Ross, admitting that he had agreed to give Dr. Ross $100 a week, Kimball deplored that the cases had run so long, witness declared. Witness backed up Dr. Ross in his claim, telling Kimball that the council must hold by the bargain.

Mr. McEvoy, for Dr. Ross, submitted that the four persons present at the board's meeting entered into a contract with Dr. Ross to attend the patients at $100 a week. That, in his opinion, was the bargain made that day. He claimed the defendant's evidence showed that the assizes had accepted when the appointment was made. His lordship said that the question of remuneration was left open in the appointment.

Mr. McEvoy's Plea.

In reply Mr. McEvoy supposed a case. A lawyer was asked to take a case. He said he would not take a case. He said he would not take a case. He said he would not take a case.

The judge differed with this view, holding that the fee was not settled. Mr. McEvoy claimed that the bargain had been closed and that there was no third step.

In the argument his lordship asked if Dr. Ross had given up the practice of his profession and done everything to prevent the spread of the disease, as was called for in the resolution of the council.

Mr. McEvoy advanced other hypothetical questions in the course of his argument to prove that the contract had been made. He submitted that the fee was extended through twenty-two weeks because the board allowed Dr. Ross to continue in its employ.

A Little Sarcasm.

"I shouldn't think the board of health would last long if they made such bargains," commented the court.

"Yet I do not think reputable physicians will act for less," said Mr. McEvoy. Dr. Routledge, told us that Westminster paid $500 for each of two patients which his son attended."

"What do you think of the remark of Mr. Kimball that Dr. Ross offered to take only $1,000 if the $100 was paid?" asked the chief justice.

"I think there is no evidence to support it," replied Mr. McEvoy. "Kimball says he made the statement," said Dr. Ross, denying it, saying Kimball made the suggestions. And if a county officer made no sharper answer to such a proposition, Kimball says was made by Dr. Ross, I would be very suspicious of that officer. If I were holding office and an offer to bribe was made, I would feel like telling the person who made the offer something he would remember."

The Defence.

Mr. T. G. Meredith, for the board of health, submitted that the action could not be with the board. He contended there was nothing in the public health act which permitted a board of health to engage a physician at the expense of the municipality.

A number of legal points were involved, and the battle of counsel continued for an hour.

In his remarks his lordship intimated that he intended to postpone the plaintiff. He adjourned the hearing until today, when further arguments will be heard.

Case Settled.

The action of St. O'Neil against J. H. Ames, James White and Thomas Morley, executors of the will of William H. O'Neil, in which wages were claimed, was settled out of court.

MAY USE COMET AS FIERY SIGNAL

London, Jan. 17.—Lord Crawford, ex-president of the Astronomic Society, who has widely travelled in Africa and India, fears a native uprising and musings of Christians by fanatical Mohammedans when Halley's comet appears in the sky in the coming spring. Agitators, he says, will seize the opportunity to stir up the uneducated, superstitious natives, using the comet as a fiery signal of Allah to drive out Christians. He has recommended to the government to issue placards, with pictures explaining the phenomenon, throughout North Africa, and especially in Egypt and India.

LEOPARD TRAINER DEAD AS RESULT OF WOUNDS

New York, Jan. 17.—Pauline Russell today met the fate daily braved and coolly calculated upon by most animal trainers. A week ago she was attacked and badly injured by a pair of leopards she was training at a museum. The infuriated animal would have torn her to pieces at the time but for a man's hand who pinned it to the floor with a sharpened steel pole.

Miss Russell lingered in a critical condition all last week. Today she relapsed into a coma, which was speedily followed by death. She was 38 years old.

MOVE TO ELECTRIFY THE L. & P. S. LINE

Board Met and Appointed a Committee to Secure All Information.

SAID IT CAN'T COMPETE

With an Electric Line, and That the City Will Have To Do Something With It at Once.

At the inaugural meeting of the London and Port Stanley board, held at 11 o'clock today, a committee composed of Ald. Richter, Ald. Eckert, Ald. Jeffries and Mayor C. Stevely were named to take up the question of electrifying the road and report back to the board.

The suggestion was made that they confer with Hon. Adam Beck on this matter, to obtain what information they could from him.

The discussion arose when that portion of Mayor Beattie's inaugural address was read referring to this question. He explained that something should be done. He advised that it be decided as soon as it could possibly be done, whether or not the city would elect the road, or lease it again to a steam company. The competition of the Southwestern Railway Company was seriously depreciating the value of the road, and the board should see to it that something is done to improve conditions.

Steam and Electricity.

Ald. Jeffries suggested that a committee be named to go into the question and report back. Personally he was convinced that a steam road could not compete with electricity.

"It means that a different policy will have to be pursued with respect to this road," said Ald. Stevenson. "We will have to either run it ourselves or lease it to another traction company, in that case we would have greater competition."

"We will receive a greater rental from it if the road is electrified than it is at present," said Mayor Beattie. "I am convinced that if it were made a traction road we could put the Southwestern out of business. We have a better roadbed, and a much superior plant."

Freight Business Also.

"We will have to undertake a freight business as well as passenger business," pointed out Ald. Stevenson. "Several roads are now running freight, and we will have to supply motors to take care of the freight business if we are going to run it properly. It cannot be made a steam and electric road together."

Ald. Morgan did not consider that the road was making money. He would like to know the exact financial condition of the road, and if that was obtained he could soon discover whether or not the city was making money. The freight rates were regulated by the railway board, and the possession of a railroad made no difference as to rates. He thought it might be of advantage to sell the road," said Ald. Jeffries.

Summer Fares.

"We can settle terms of summer fares whether we sell or lease," declared Ald. Morgan. "If we employ an engineer to give us an estimate of the cost, we will have to pay well for the information," said Mayor Beattie. "It might be as well for a committee to get in touch with Ald. Hon. Adam Beck, and obtain some information from him as to the cost of electrifying the road."

Ex-Mayor Speaks.

Ex-Mayor Stevely declared that the road would have to be double-tracked and a very considerable amount of equipment installed. The road would cost from $300,000 to $400,000. The road was in the main a freight road, and motors would have to be purchased for the motor cars. The proposition was feasible, but it was expensive. There was the further question of whether or not it would be advisable to run the road to Port Stanley in case the road was electrified. He favored the appointment of an independent engineer rather than accept the figures of Hon. Adam Beck.

Electric Motors.

Ald. Stevenson pointed out that the matter of electric motors was a permanent as yet, and it would be advisable to wait some time, perhaps two or three years, before submitting the report on the road. A year before the expiration of the lease would be sufficient to give the company and the city opportunity to make arrangements for the future, and Ald. Richter thought there was not enough information at hand to allow an intelligent discussion, and he suggested that a committee be named to inquire into the matter, and report on the best course of action. Ald. Jeffries seconded the motion, and it carried.

Mayor Beattie then named Ald. Richter, Ald. Eckert, Ald. Jeffries and ex-Mayor Stevely as the committee.

Officers Named.

When the board was organized, Mayor Beattie was made president. Ald. Eckert, on motion of Ald. Stevenson, was made vice-president. There was no opposition. The present members were Mayor Beattie, Ald. Richter, Ald. Eckert, Ald. Jeffries, Ald. Morgan, Ald. Stevenson, Ald. Underwood, Ald. Ashplant, ex-Mayor C. Stevely and Secretary Baker.

The Shareholders.

A meeting of the shareholders of the London and Port Stanley Railway was held at 11 o'clock this morning. The only shareholder present was Mayor Beattie. Secretary Baker read the report of the last meeting of the board of directors, and the accounts, all of which were received and adopted as is the case usually. Mayor Beattie then cast a ballot for the election of directors, and the aldermen and Mr. S. Stevely obtained the position of directors, and then proceeded to organize the board of directors.

THEIR ROMANCE ENDED BY U. S. OFFICIALS

A German Count and His Sweetheart Turned Back at Border.

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 17.—Because they had been guilty of committing the offence of falling in love with each other, Count Henri von Hoffenberg, evidently of patrician descent, although official documents declaring his right to work, lacking, and a beautiful young girl not more than 20 years of age, of the typical German style, were stopped at the border here by American immigration officers, who put them under formal questions to the man. These were answered in an apparently satisfactory way, but the extreme nervousness of the girl, whose name is given as Madeline Strackbein, aroused the officers' suspicions that all was not right.

A further investigation brought out a remarkable story from Count von Hoffenberg, and has incidentally returned to Germany by the United States immigration department.

A member of the exclusive court circles of Berlin, a marriage between the count and his sweetheart was declared impossible, and the couple fled together to Canada, landing in Montreal but three weeks ago. It had been decided to have the wedding performed in Chicago, and the couple were on their way west, when the United States immigration regulations put an end to the romance.

REAL ESTATERS WENT BACK ON JOSEPH

Mr. Lawrence Was Not Elected to Any Office by the Association.

Mr. Joseph Lawrence, civic reformer, was wounded in the house of his friends, as predicted some days ago. Mr. Lawrence is no longer one of the moguls of the great R. O. P. A., but has been reduced to the ranks. He is not even vice-president, and his matchless oratorical abilities will not be used in righting the wrongs of that association.

The Election.

On Friday evening, the election was held, but the facts are just leaking out.

Mr. Lawrence, as vice-president, was in line for the presidency. When the order of election was reached, Mr. Lawrence was nominated. One member suggested that the ballot be a secret ballot, not open.

The Plot Thickens.

A plot was scented here, and Mr. Lawrence warned his followers to be on guard. However, the motion for a secret ballot was carried, and Mr. Lawrence warned his supporters not to vote, as he protested against the method of election.

As a matter of fact, this has been done for years, and it is still being done. When the estimates are prepared all school expenditures, sinking fund interest, must be charged up to the district spending bodies incurring the debts.

The object of this is to have the board of education pay their debt charges out of their appropriation.

The attempt will be made, however, to clip the wings of the board. A well-defined body of opinion has developed within the council, and the members will ask for legislation either to have the board collect and manage their own business or allow the council to do so. The estimates as is done with other boards.

Some suggest a flat rate of 6 mills on the dollar, and compel the board to keep within that sum. Others suggest a larger percentage, say 10 cents and a half mills on the dollar. This merely shows that while no definite idea has been developed as to the best method of dealing with the board—merely a settled opinion that something should be done. Of course, if the board were to collect their own funds, more money would have to be utilized, and more men employed. As it is now the money is collected by the tax collector with little or no expense.

Rate Would Look Low.

One object attained if the board of education were separated from the council would be that the city would have an apparent low tax rate, although not really such.

The Hospital Trust.

The hospital trust do not do so. The city takes care of their debentures out of their ordinary revenue. The debentures for the old hospital and the Nurses' Home are buried in the company's accounts, and it could not be learned today what amount was charged up against them for sinking fund and interest.

NEW COUNCIL

Here's the Rub.

For instance, a man had held property in London for 10 years. During that time, he has paid his share of the local improvement debt of the city. If he now desires to lay a sidewalk, if the new law were in force, he would have to pay the whole cost himself, after paying perhaps 1 mill, or ten 2 mills, on the dollars to improve the property of his neighbor.

As a result, the scheme is not meeting with great favor, although there is a very evident desire to curtail the enormous sidewalk and curbs and gutters laid during the year. The proposition to make every man pay the full cost will be considered, but it is not probable as to whether or not it will carry.

Board of Education.

The next important matter is, of course, the board of education. Some of the aldermen, evidently not closely in touch with the financial affairs of the city, are going to have a proposition carried into effect that all debt charges, sinking fund and interest, must be charged up to the district spending bodies incurring the debts.

The object of this is to have the board of education pay their debt charges out of their appropriation.
