

PLAN CAMPAIGN TO STIMULATE INTEREST IN CHRISTIAN WORK

Ministers Plan To Rouse People To Greater Activity.

The ministers of the London Presbytery which takes place in London and London district are of the opinion that something must be done to encourage people to take a greater interest in Christian work, stir them up and give them a live sense of what is needed in the church today. As a result a ministers' conference has been called to be held in the First Presbyterian Church on Monday, June 23.

The morning session will be opened by introducing the subject, "The Primary Message of the Pulpit for the Needs of the Day," by Rev. D. C. MacGregor and Rev. John McKillop of Duff's Church, Rev. Mr. McVicar of Toronto will be the special speaker at the afternoon session. It is the idea of the ministers of the conference to form a definite program which will carry on the work commenced by the Forward Movement.

UNABLE TO GIVE PINE LAWN WATER SERVICE

City Has Not Money For Mains—London Bill Defeat, Cause.

No funds are available for extending water mains to the pine lawn property, where the housing commission has a number of houses under erection, according to a notification received by No. 2 committee of the city council from the public utilities Tuesday night. No further extensions can be made on streets where paving is in progress. This situation is due to the defeat of the London bill by the Legislature, which if passed would have provided $50,000 for work of this kind.

W. S. Lashbrook appeared in behalf of Queen's avenue residents to protest against the winter garden being transformed into a public garage. The signers of a petition, which he presented, declared that a garage would reduce the value of their property. The town planning committee will be asked to investigate the matter. Building inspector will also be consulted to see if he has any jurisdiction in a case of this kind.

Acting Chairman C. G. Moorhead and W. Hunter, superintendent of the city engineering department, were authorized to take up the matter of providing accommodation for female bathers at the north branch bathing camp. At present there is only dressing-room accommodation for men and boys.

The revised plumbing bylaw prepared this spring by the city engineers was briefly considered. Copies of it will be sent to all the aldermen, and it will be thoroughly discussed later.

WEDNESDAY HALF-HOLIDAY

As in May, this store will close at 1 o'clock on Wednesday during the months of June, July and August. Other days (Saturday included) at 5:30.

THIS WEEK we are making a special feature of summer hosiery in every branch, which include three distinct departments. First, the ladies' and children's hosiery section on Aisle B, Main Floor; the men's hosiery department, Richmond street section, and the infants' department on the Fourth Floor, where sizes up to three years are kept, along with every other article of apparel for infants up to that age. The hosiery problem is one of the greatest propositions in the merchandise business—a line which requires more thought and care in selection than almost any other article of wearing apparel. The comfort of the wearer, the durability of the hose and their appearance are factors which receive our most careful attention, and the immense stocks carried make it an easy matter to supply your needs. Many special lines are now being offered in each of the hosiery sections of this store—hosiery designed for comfort in hot weather.

REVISION COURT THROWS OUT ALL BIG APPEALS

All appeals against big assessments were refused at the sitting of the court of revision in the city hall last night. The majority of the appeals came from taxpayers in Ward 4, who claim that their assessments were out of proportion. The court of revision gave all appeals due consideration, but in no case could they find reason for lowering of the assessment. About 150 appeals were considered by the court.

A few minor changes were made in the appeals on the income assessments.

FLOOD CALL.

MILLION DOLLARS IN TAXES ALREADY COLLECTED IN CITY

Saving of $3,000 Affected by Early Collection.

More than a million dollars in taxes have already been deposited in the bank, and the collector's staff today is handling the thousands of payments which were made by check through the mails. It is expected that a total of $1,500,000, or 75 per cent of the total amount of taxes due. This is the largest amount collected at one time in the city's history, but the percentage is only slightly over the average. The higher tax rate accounts for the increased income.

It is estimated that a saving of at least $3,000 has been effected by the collection of taxes by this date, instead of July 2, as last year. Money for city expenses is borrowed from the bank until the taxes come in, and interest is paid on this. Two weeks' interest has been saved this year. Formerly taxes were not collected until the end of July, so that the saving in interest over the old system is really many thousands of dollars. Next year an effort may be made to collect the first installment on June 1.

Earlier collection has been made possible by a new system of handling the city's records in the city clerk's office and by the preparation of departmental estimates. The former system of recording local improvement charges and spreading them on the notices required a large number of ledgers, and took many weeks to accomplish. Now the records are kept in six loose-leaf books and the work can be done in a week.

Alarm To Family.

Carl Lowry, 145 Bruce street, the 16-year-old son of Mrs. George Lowry, caused excitement in the vicinity of his home and great distress to his mother, last night, through not coming home after going to the river swimming. Young Lowry told his mother that he was just going to the river for a swim and would not be long. When he did not return at a late hour last night his mother held the belief that he had been drowned. She waited all night for the return of her son. Just as she thought it advisable to notify the police, Lowry turned up at 7:30 o'clock. ## EX-LONDON BOY FOR IMPORTANT POSITION

Earle A. Kipp Branch Manager of Pittsburgh Firm.

Earle A. Kipp, a former Londoner, has been appointed general branch manager of the Lutz & Schramm Company of Pittsburgh, manufacturing food products. Mr. Kipp has worked his way up from shipping clerk to his present position.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hamlet Kipp of West London, was educated at Empress Avenue school, and spent his entire boyhood in this city, leaving for Toronto at the age of 18.

In the vulgar parlance of the street he was "shooting snipe," picking up cigarette and cigar stubs, her glance veering each time she espied one like the eyes of a hawk hovering in the air, to ascertain whether it is being observed as it prepares to pounce on its prey. There were some who did not serve, but no one questioned her. No one offered to buy for her tobacco, or asked her why she gathered the cigarette stubs. Perhaps they were for an aged husband at home; perhaps a crippled son. Perhaps she wished to smoke the remnants of the "smokes" herself. No one spoke to her.

Would she have shamed, or hurled angry words at one who did? But she had been questioned and would have answered readily, doubtless a touching story of unusual pathos, deprivation and suffering would have been revealed.

Old Woman Picks Up Cigar Stubs

Hobbles Along Dundas Street With Furtive Eyes On the Pavement.

The woman was aged and infirm. Her grey hair and her broken steps as she hobbled along on a cane showed this. One would have guessed that she was poor also. Something that she did not lack was clothes. She was shabbily but sufficiently dressed. She hobbled at noon along Dundas street with furtive eyes intent on the passersby, the sidewalk and the gutter, all at the same time.

In the vulgar parlance of the street she was "shooting snipe," picking up cigarette and cigar stubs, her glance veering each time she espied one like the eyes of a hawk hovering in the air, to ascertain whether it is being observed as it prepares to pounce on its prey. There were some who did not serve, but no one questioned her. No one offered to buy for her tobacco, or asked her why she gathered the cigarette stubs. WORKMAN TELLS
WHY HE BUCKS
STEEL MERGER
Canadian Member Says Needed Information Is Still Lacking.

LONDON, June 15.—(By Canadian Associated Press).—Mark Workman, Canadian member of the London advisory council of the Dominion Steel Corporation, made the following statement to the Canadian Associated Press today, regarding the merging of minor concerns with the British Empire Steel Corporation.

"On May 6 I attended a meeting of the London advisory committee, and among those attending were Sir William Beardmore, Benjamin Talbot, who also represents the Furness and Henry service commission. The meeting was to state my views and those of my directors as to the question of entering into a merger with the British Empire Steel Corporation."

I pointed out the great value of our having English co-operation in developing our natural resources through their financial assistance. I found the members of the committee fully conversant with the advantages both from the commercial and sentimental standpoint.

Minor Companies.
"I then brought to their notice the proposal to merge several minor companies in the concern and expressed the view that I considered many of those companies non-essential and even detrimental to our mutual interests, but that in any event those companies should not be merged without the fullest investigation into physical valuation and financial condition and the regard as to the price at which it was proposed to bring them into the amalgamation."

The committee was then unanimous in instructing their secretary to send a cable to Canada asking that full information be furnished to the advisory committee in regard to the physical and financial condition of all companies it was proposed to place in the merger. It was intimated that in the meantime the directors of the Dominion Steel Corporation would safeguard all interests here before any action was taken."

Without information.
"The advisory committee," continued Mr. Workman, "are still without the information asked for regarding the companies it is proposed to merge. Under these conditions I feel it my duty, and in the interest of all concerned, to make these facts public. I protest most vigorously against this proposed merger of non-essential companies without the fullest investigation, and in this I have the best of my knowledge the fullest co-operation of the members of the London advisory committee. Some of the most influential members of the London advisory committee have already lodged protests with the syndicate manager here."

BOND DEALERS' CONVENTION.
Winnipeg, June 16.—A convention of bond dealers will be held here this coming Wednesday with the attendance of members of the Bond Dealers' Association from all parts of Canada. The visitors will spend three days in the city and will be entertained at several functions by the resident members of the organizations.

TRAIN SHED ROOF COLLAPSES.
St. John, June 15.—Although many tons of metal in the trusses of more than one-half of the entire roof surface of the train shed of the St. John passenger station collapsed early last evening, only one person was injured and not a single pane of glass in the station was shattered.

A start was made on Sunday to take down the trusses and supports were weakened.

VICE-CHAIRMAN O'CONNOR QUILTS COMMERCE BD.

Resignation of Senior Commissioner Handed To Govt. Today.

OTTAWA, June 15.—(Canadian Press)—It is understood that W. F. O'Connor, K.C., whose resignation from the board of commerce was handed to the Government today, will resign his private practice at the end of this month if his resignation is accepted. Mr. O'Connor was out of town tonight, and the other officials of the board are in Toronto, so that no definite statement could be obtained.

Mr. O'Connor has been vice-chairman of the board of commerce since its inception last year. He has acted as senior commissioner since the resignation of Judge Robson from the board some months ago.

The board, which originally comprised three commissioners, now consists of Mr. O'Connor, Mr. James Murdoch, and the latter is conducting an investigation into retail sugar prices in Ottawa.

WORKMAN TELLS
WHY HE BUCKS
STEEL MERGER
Canadian Member Says Needed Information Is Still Lacking.

LONDON, June 15.—(By Canadian Associated Press).—Mark Workman, Canadian member of the London advisory council of the Dominion Steel Corporation, made the following statement to the Canadian Associated Press today, regarding the merging of minor concerns with the British Empire Steel Corporation.

"On May 6 I attended a meeting of the London advisory committee, and among those attending were Sir William Beardmore, Benjamin Talbot, who also represents the Furness and Henry service commission. The meeting was to state my views and those of my directors as to the question of entering into a merger with the British Empire Steel Corporation."

I pointed out the great value of our having English co-operation in developing our natural resources through their financial assistance. I found the members of the committee fully conversant with the advantages both from the commercial and sentimental standpoint.

Minor Companies.
"I then brought to their notice the proposal to merge several minor companies in the concern and expressed the view that I considered many of those companies non-essential and even detrimental to our mutual interests, but that in any event those companies should not be merged without the fullest investigation into physical valuation and financial condition and the regard as to the price at which it was proposed to bring them into the amalgamation."

The committee was then unanimous in instructing their secretary to send a cable to Canada asking that full information be furnished to the advisory committee in regard to the physical and financial condition of all companies it was proposed to place in the merger. It was intimated that in the meantime the directors of the Dominion Steel Corporation would safeguard all interests here before any action was taken."

Without information.
"The advisory committee," continued Mr. Workman, "are still without the information asked for regarding the companies it is proposed to merge. Under these conditions I feel it my duty, and in the interest of all concerned, to make these facts public. I protest most vigorously against this proposed merger of non-essential companies without the fullest investigation, and in this I have the best of my knowledge the fullest co-operation of the members of the London advisory committee. Some of the most influential members of the London advisory committee have already lodged protests with the syndicate manager here."

On the strength of those letters, Mrs. Small's solicitors went to New York and there, after some delay, entered into negotiations with an American solicitor, who claimed to be representing men who had knowledge of Small's whereabouts. They worked independently of the police, fearing that any hint of formal interference would defeat the object. Negotiations had reached an interesting point, when one of the New York lawyers gave some information to the police. At once the connection was destroyed. When the Toronto men returned to the lawyers' office he refused to discuss the matter any further.

A. J. SMALL MYSTERY NEARING CLIMAX IS BELIEF IN TORONTO

Letters Received Give Clues To Whereabouts of Missing Millionaire.

TORONTO, June 15.—That the American mystery is rapidly nearing a climax is the belief today. Many clues which have been patiently gathered for months past seem to be merging in a way to bring success. In this connection a recent letter received from a lady in the United States, declaring that she could reveal the whereabouts of the missing man and demanding the $50,000 reward, may not altogether be valueless.

From a time shortly after Small's disappearance on December 2, 1919, until only a month ago certain letters were received in Toronto, boldly declaring that the missing millionaire had been kidnapped and suggesting a ransom or reward.

These letters, while anonymous, were all in the same handwriting and revealed intimate knowledge of the details of the case. No mailing address was given. All replies were to be sent as advertisements to the New York Herald or the Buffalo Courier.

The writer represented himself as a former associate of the missing man, one who was playing the role of informer to a gang of kidnappers. "Any ransom paid will have to be big," he declared.

BY MAY CHRISTIE

XCIX—Fears.

I tried to suppress a little shiver when Jim said he seemed to remember some one who looked like me. Jim's memory was returning. What would be the effect on him, once his brain had pieced together the whole of that troublesome time? If I hadn't been a coward, I would have told him the whole story, then and then. But I was afraid to lose my little moment of happiness.

"You're right! In the busy season when a trip to town is necessary, you need a car that is ready to go. And the best car is no good without proper lubrication and good gasoline. Imperial Polarine and Imperial Premier Gasoline have kept my car running 'lick as a whistle' ever since last season."

Steady Dependable Service

IMPERIAL Polarine assures a motorist steady, dependable service from his car. It gives correct lubrication to every type of motor and every moving part. It keeps your motor running smoothly and quietly.

Imperial Polarine maintains, under all operating conditions, exactly the right body to seal in compression and reduce wear—it burns clean. Imperial Polarine establishes and maintains a power tight seal between piston and cylinder walls. Its body is proof against high heats and the grueling friction of engaging parts.

Look for the Imperial Polarine Chart of Recommendations when you buy oil. It shows which of the three grades described below is best suited to your car.

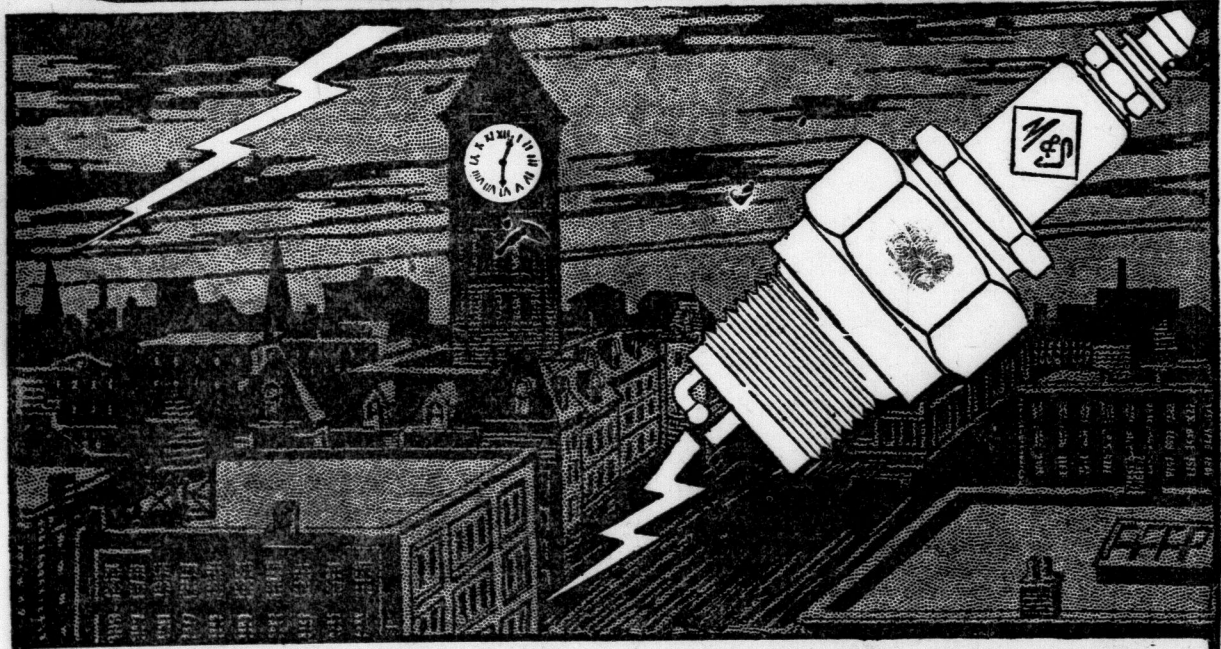

Six sizes—gallon and four-gallon sealed cans, steel kegs, half-barrels and barrels. Buy by the barrel or half-barrel and save money. Sold by good dealers everywhere in Canada.

THE big, hot spark given by an "M & S" spark plug strikes as swift, and, in comparison, as hot and as true as lightning. It gives a spark that is as sure and dependable in its function as the passage of time.

Big gains for the ordinary spark plug, perhaps, but not for the new "M & S" plug. The heavy ball point concentrates the current and intensifies the heat, giving a much hotter and bigger spark. That means more power, new life, to any car. Furthermore, "M & S" plugs are unquestionably dependable. "M & S" plugs have a one-piece centre electrode of 97% nickel steel, which considerably reduces carbon fouling.

The high-grade porcelain has a perfect chemical glaze, which heat cannot affect.

It has a three-in-one terminal which is adapted to any style of ignition, except Chevrolet, for which special ball terminals are supplied.

ed accident which has affected my memory in such a stupid way. I wonder if it is—

He broke off, staring intently at me. "There couldn't be two girls in the world that looked like you?" He waited as though to hear corroboration. "You haven't got a double?"

"I might have," I prevaricated, feeling very cowardly and deceitful, and choosing the easiest course. "Perhaps you saw some girl in New York that looked rather like me? Or perhaps I tried to make the suggestion sound natural and easy—perhaps you saw me in my last play in town? I'm not unknown to the public, dear."

Still Jim looked puzzled. "I'm no great theatregoer. No, I didn't see you there."

"Then let's forget about it," I urged. "We've got each other now. We're happy, aren't we?"

"Dear heart!" Quick tears sprang to his fine, dark eyes. "There are no words in which to express just how I feel for you. It seems as though, up to now, I've never really lived. Helene, mean it—from the bottom of my heart. If you'll only put your life into my keeping—oh, I know it's a big thing to ask—you must have tons of admirers who could give you more than I—but never more love, dear."

The very incoherence of his phrasing struck me as proof of genuineness. I could believe in him. I could believe in his position—oh, how small they seemed in comparison to love! We talked on, very blissfully and foolishly, as is the way of lovers from time immemorial. We forgot the time, and place, and everything, except our own ecstatic happiness.

"I can get a marriage license, and we can be married in three days, if you like," Jim said at last. "Helene, you will, won't you?"

What could I do but hide my face against his shoulder and whisper: "Yes!"

Tomorrow: Preparation.

At The Theaters

PERCY HUTCHISON IN TWO GREAT PLAYS AT THE GRAND TODAY.

At the Grand today, for the matinee performance only, Percy Hutchison and his London company will present "General Post," the military comedy, which delighted large audiences on Monday and Tuesday evenings. Those who have not yet seen this delightful play should make it a point to attend this afternoon, when it will be presented for the last time.

Local players who have seen Mr. Percy Hutchison in his favorite play, "Brewster's Millions," in London, will be delighted to know that he is to present it exactly as he did in England, at the Grand tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15. Of the many plays in which Mr. Hutchison has scored none hold the same place in his affection that "Brewster's Millions" does, and as Monty he is seen at his best. In order that his host of admirers throughout the Dominion might have an opportunity of seeing him as Monty before his return to England, he has gone to the expense of bringing over several additional artists selected from his various London companies to complete the cast, which is one of the largest ever carried by a company playing Canada exclusively. In addition to this he had built and painted a scenic production that is an exact replica of the one that was used the last time "Brewster's Millions" was given in London.

By special request Mr. Hutchison will offer "The Luck of the Navy" on Friday and Saturday evenings and for the Saturday matinee.

FINE BILL AT LOEW'S.

What would you think if a youthful salesman with whom you were about to close a deal for a big bill of goods suddenly turned white and ran for the tall timbers? That's the way Charlie Ray acts in his new comedy success, "Alarm Clock Andy," which is amusing the patrons at Loew's the first of this week. And well he might, for Charlie has the time and the talent to put over the sale in walks. Blinky, the star salesman, large as life, and then—well better come see what happens to Andy and Blinky, too.

The vaudeville bill is a good one, and large audiences have prevailed at each and every performance. Pianoville is the title of the big feature, and it is a tidy song and dance revue. The big jazz pianist has created a big hit. Favey Manley is a regular riot. Ann Wardell and Jacky Doncourt please big with a nifty little comedy playlet entitled "Election Night." The two Japs billed Nippon Duo, have some novel stuff that goes big, and Bertha have a pleasing artistic posing novelty.

Forget the warm, sweltering days and come enjoy a show with the cool breezes from the Arctic to keep you cool. Loew's—the coolest spot in London. If you don't believe it—come prove it yourself.

DOUBLE PROGRAM AT THE ALLEN TODAY—NORMA TALMADGE AND WILL ROGERS.

Presented on the big double program at the Allen today will be the beautiful Norma Talmadge in her brilliant society drama, "The Moth." Never has Norma looked more enchanting, never was there a story better suited to this wonderful star, and never did she wear more brilliant and splendid costumes than in "The Moth." As the beautiful unsophisticated young society girl, who flutters around the forbidden paths of the primrose way, she is irresistible. Her acting is superb and her beauty shines forth as a gem of purest love-liness.

Will Rogers, that one comedian who is different from all others, whose humor shines forth like a star from the sky, brilliant with situations which bring a big laugh and a little sigh, has achieved a comedy masterpiece in this

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Mrs. Peasey of London.

London, Ont.—"I suffered with periodic pains, was weak and run down, could not eat and had headaches. The worst symptoms were dragging down pains so bad I sometimes thought I would go crazy and I seemed to be smothering. I was in this condition for two or three years and could not seem to work. I tried all kinds of remedies and had been treated by physicians, but received no benefit. I found one of your booklets and felt inclined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I received the best results from it, and now I keep house and go out to work and am like a new woman. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to my friends, and if these facts will help some poor woman use them as you please."—Mrs. J. F. PEASEY, 200 Rectory Street, London, Ont.

The reason women write such letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. and tell their friends how they are helped is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives. Freed from their illness they want to pass the good news along to other suffering women that they also may be relieved.

The Rise of Maxwell is Due To Its Metals

Fine soil makes fine wheat; fine feathers make a fine bird; and fine metals have made the Maxwell. They have given it:

1—A life of 100,000 miles. 2—Thriftiness.

For its metals are light in weight. Therein comes thriftiness.

But these metals are of extra strength. Therein comes long life.

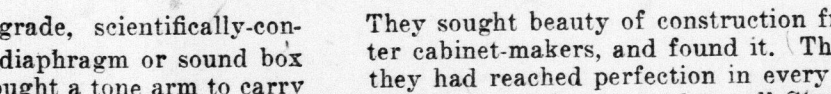

Metallurgists—those who have made the study of metals a science—will tell you that such metals are costly, but they guarantee quality in a car and their generous employment in a Maxwell is by far the best evidence anyone may need to determine its quality.

They are almost alone responsible for the rapid rise of Maxwell, for the fact that nearly 400,000 now have been built, for that ever-growing friendliness to Maxwell the world over.

The Starr Phonograph

Perfect Achievement of Master Phonograph Builders

Because of the silver-grain spruce in its "singing throat" the Starr reproduces the tones of the voice, the violin, the band, so perfectly it is almost impossible to distinguish between the real and the reproduction.

But the makers of the Starr did not stop when they found the perfect music wood.

They sought a high-grade, scientifically-constructed reproducing diaphragm or sound box and found it. They sought a tone arm to carry with fewest number of turns, the vibrations from the reproducing diaphragm, thereby eliminating all possibilities of echoing; one that would play perfectly any disc record as it was originally intended to play, and found it.

They sought beauty of construction from master cabinet-makers, and found it. Then, when they had reached perfection in every phase of manufacture, they started to sell Starr Phonographs.

LUXURY TAXES ARE AMENDED BY GOVERNMENT

Hats, Underwear, Lace and Sporting Goods Affected.

ANIMATED DISCUSSION

Stamp System May Be Adopted To Collect Taxes.

OTTAWA, June 15.—More changes were made to the luxury taxes in the House today. On every item discussion was keen. Occasionally there were hurries. At one time Mr. D. D. McKenzie (Cape Breton) had suggested the exemption of the cheaper makes of candy. How could such candy, taken home by a father to his children on Saturday night, be called a luxury? And a few moments later he heatedly asked to know why the minister of finance had to have reference to his suggestion. Sir Henry, conciliatory, was proceeding to reply when Mr. McKenzie called out: "He's giving you taffy."

Again Mr. McKenzie was on his feet. "I don't want that," he declared. "I want candy exempted." The House roared, but the tax on candy remained. There were protests, too, against reduction of the tax on chewing gum from ten to three per cent. Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux would have preferred an increase of fifty per cent—gum was not chewed in any civilized country in Europe. Mr. Jacobs of George Etienne Carter, Montreal, was not interested in the chewing gum policy of the Government, but he was anxious to know what the Government meant by substituting for chewing gum. There was a laugh at the hint of tobacco, but the minister of finance shook a reproving head. It was not that which was meant, he explained, but a gum other than chiclé gum.

Consider Stamp System.
During the general discussion Sir Henry intimated that a system of collecting luxury taxes by means of affixed stamps was under consideration. He also remarked that the luxury taxes were not applicable to sales by auction.

The principal changes made during the day were:

The tax of 10 per cent now applies on men's hats over $7 each. Formerly hats were taxed over $5.

Underwear (except silk) is now taxable over $4 a garment, or $5 for union suits. Formerly these figures were $3 and $6 respectively.

Velvet, velveteens, plush and silk goods are now taxable at prices over $2 a yard (10 per cent). This tax formerly applied to such articles at any price.

Ribbons, lace and braid, formerly taxable at any price, is assessed on prices higher than 50 cents a yard for general goods, and collar-ettes at $1. Tax on carpets and rugs is now confined to those costing more than $6 per lineal yard of 27 inches wide.

Cushions Not Taxed.

The word "cushions" was removed from the list of taxable articles.

Snowshoes were removed from the list of taxable articles.

Baseball requisites and lacrosse sticks are now taxable over $2 each.

Plated articles in nickelware or brass for household use are exempted.

The following articles were taken out of the 20 per cent class and placed in the 10 per cent class:

Ebony goods in toilet ware; Oriental rugs, curtains in excess of $7.50 value, gramophones, gas and electric fixtures in excess of $3 and chandeliers over $12, except for churches.

The following were added to articles taxable at 10 per cent:

Pianos at over $450, mechanical piano players, talking machines and records, musical boxes and all jewelry over $5 in value. Wedding rings were exempted altogether from the jewelry tax. Gold-mounted fountain pens do not now come under the 50 per cent tax on gold articles unless they cost more than $5.

Silk and silk fabrics are now taxable 10 per cent in excess of $2 per yard. Formerly this tax applied on any price.

Playing cards are now taxable as follows: 15 cents a pack on cards sold at $24 or less per gross pack; 25 cents between $24 and $36 per gross pack, and 50 cents over $36. Formerly playing cards were taxed 25 cents a pack when selling at $25 per gross pack, or less and 50 cents a pack over $36 per gross pack.

Proprietary medicines containing not more than 40 per cent proof spirits are reduced from 20 per cent to 10 per cent.

SMITH SAYS HICKS NOT MISREPORTED IN EAST MIDDLESEX

Provincial Treasurer Says He Got Same Impression As Reporters.

TORONTO, June 15.—Andrew Hicks, M. P. P., was not misreported in his speech at the recent U. F. O. picnic at East Middlesex, when he is reported to have charged that "appalling sums" were offered to members of the Legislature as bribes, according to Hon. Peter Smith, provincial treasurer, who was the only cabinet minister present.

"It was at the picnic and heard Mr. Hicks' speech," said Hon. Mr. Smith today. "And while I don't remember the exact words he used, the impression I got was the same as one would get from the first report of his speech."

"Did you speak to Mr. Hicks about his statement after he had finished?" he was asked. "No, I didn't see Mr. Hicks after his speech, but I remember being asked by a newspaperman from London, who was taking notes beside me, if I knew anything about the statement made by Mr. Hicks, and I said I didn't know anything about it."

"Is it right that you knew nothing about the alleged charges?" "I have heard of nothing except what he said then, but you know he blames the wind for misplacing his words," smiled the provincial treasurer.

Super Cement Makes Wet Cellars Dry

Before Using Super Cement.

After Using Super Cement.

ONE of the many uses of the new SUPER CEMENT is in making wet cellars dry.

In this connection it has given remarkable results.

One firm of contractors (name on request) used it for lining a cellar that seemed hopeless to make dry. Here is what the contractors say:

Cellar Flooded

"The cellar was constantly flooded, the water coming up to the edge of the floor, and through the lower part of the walls.

"The concrete was cut back and SUPER CEMENT 1:2 was put down in the water and a skirting carried up the walls.

"This has been a success. The water has stopped and the face of the cement has dried out well."

Waterproof Cellar

If you have a leaky cellar you can make it dry by a coating of SUPER CEMENT. If you are going to build you can ensure a dry cellar by having your foundations made of SUPER CEMENT-Concrete and a basement floor of SUPER CEMENT-Concrete.

Be sure that the words SUPER CEMENT and not just cement are included in the architect's and builder's specifications. While ordinary Portland Cement is excellent it will not—cannot—give you equal results.

For years, engineers, chemists, scientists and other experts have been trying to discover an absolutely WATERPROOF cement.

In the discovery of the new SUPER CEMENT, the inventor succeeded where others had tried and failed.

Combines Better

SUPER CEMENT is made from a combination of ordinary Portland cement with a certain Catalytic Colloid which when ground with the cement during the process of manufacture makes the resultant "SUPER CEMENT" combine more thoroughly with the mixing water.

It cannot be stated too emphatically that SUPER CEMENT is NOT a cement to which a mere water repellent or pore filler has been added. The only true method of waterproofing is to make the cement itself do all the work instead of part of it. SUPER CEMENT does all the waterproofing itself. While it is entirely different from any other cement in the world in this respect, in making mortars and concrete it is used just as is Portland Cement.

The result is a concrete so strong and so dense that it is impervious to water, gasoline, certain acids and other liquids. It is waterproof absolutely.

Greater Strength

Furthermore SUPER CEMENT-Concrete has greater tensile and compression strength than ordinary cement-concrete. Tests in both England and in this country have shown remarkable results. (Full particulars on request).

Greater Tenacity

SUPER CEMENT-Concrete adheres to other surfaces, such as steel, brick, stone, glass, etc., with far greater tenacity than ordinary cement-concrete. This feature makes SUPER CEMENT especially desirable for stucco houses. In fact, it opens up a field of wonderful possibilities in stucco construction, as the need of a cement of greater adhesion and absolute waterproofness for this class of construction has long been recognized.

Inquiries Invited

The whole realm of building and construction is interested in SUPER CEMENT. Factories in England are deluged with orders from all parts of the world. Manufacture and distribution in Canada is now proceeding. Architects, Engineers, Contractors, Builders and the Public are making inquiries.

Full particulars, copies of tests, testimonials, letters, opinions and endorsements of noted authorities, will be gladly furnished on request by

Why Have "Millbanks" Become So Popular?

Because every introduction leads to lasting friendship. It is a case of "love at first smoking."

One smoker offers "MILLBANKS" to a friend. The friend is delighted with these mild, fragrant Virginia Cigarettes and buys a package for himself. This is happening many times a day in every section of Canada. The reason is easy to find.

MILLBANK VIRGINIA CIGARETTES

have the delightful, distinctive flavour of ripe, mellow, sun-cured Virginia tobacco—coupled with the richness and satisfying qualities found only in the highest grade leaf at its best.

The fact that the price is 15c for 10 is simply an additional reason for preferring "MILLBANKS."

SIR LOMER STEPS OUT.

It is officially announced that Sir Lomer Gouin, for fifteen years premier of Quebec, will resign in order to resume his law practice in Montreal. Few men in Canadian public life have retired with such a record of usefulness in the people's interest as Sir Lomer's. His resignation has been a series of progressive acts that have climaxed in a Quebec that is prosperous and happy beyond its sister provinces. Not a little of the remarkable industrial expansion that Quebec is experiencing today is directly due to his wise administration, especially as it applies to the conservation and development of natural resources. He has been safe and sane, tolerant, far-seeing, constructing for the masses along lines of the broadest Liberalism. Every success will be wished him, as he drops back to private life, but there will be a hope that some day he may return to the public arena, where he has so greatly distinguished himself. Canada needs the Gouins in political circles of the widest influences.

THE WOLF IN SHEEP'S CLOTHING.

The power-holders at Ottawa strike a new posture. The Laurier naval policy which most of them denounced in 1911 as either "disloyal" or "too British," according as the scene of clasp was Ontario or Quebec, is now exactly adopted as the correct plan in a world to be directed by the League of Nations. It seems that Sir Robert Borden himself, champion tight-rope walker of 1911, is mainly responsible for the reversion to the Laurier local navy as against imperial centralization.

The reason for the right-about turn is plain. The moribund Nationalist party of Quebec is no longer worth while as an ally. That was shown in the khaki election of 1917. The Nationalist faction made a convenient tool for the unscrupulous, two-faced campaign of 1911, but now can be contemptuously ignored. So, back to the Laurier policy of 1910.

The trouble is that such a policy is no longer wanted. The war has come and gone, Germany is no longer a naval power in the least degree, nor Russia. The Peace League will have at its disposal for guarding order everywhere the all-powerful navies of Great Britain, the United States and Japan. At this time any added navy at all for Canada is a joke, a costly joke. Economy was never so imperative, and yet the Canadian people are to be taxed on everything to provide two and a half millions of dollars per annum (to start with) on naval defence, defence against nothing. We might as well pay a lot of spiritualists two or three millions a year to protect us against ghosts and evil spirits.

Canada suffered loss of prestige at least during the war by the failure of the Borden Government to provide the navy which Laurier planned in 1910. Our coasts were patrolled by Australian and Japanese cruisers. Now when no navy is wanted, the Government foists upon us cruisers and submarines, secured from the mother country without any consultation of Parliament. What does Canada want with submarines? At any rate Mr. King is decidedly justified in his criticism of the "secret methods" of a Government that ruled for five years by orders-in-council. The policy adopted, is sprung on Parliament after no retreat from it seems possible. Parliament is to be made a rubber stamp.

If something can doubtfully be said for an improved militia in Canada, nothing can be argued for an enlarged Canadian navy since the German fleet went down at Scapa Flow. There is an irony in the Borden Government's stupidity in returning to the Laurier policy only after the need for it has passed. And the thing is done in the arbitrary fashion of that secret diplomacy which has caused so much mischief in the world.

THE NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE.

The Non-Partisan League has won an important victory in its fight with the money interests of the west through the judgment of the supreme court upholding the constitutionality of the legislation passed recently in North Dakota. This state is the stronghold of the non-partisan doctrines, and during 1919 its legislature passed acts creating an industrial commission to carry on certain business projects demanded by the farmers; established the Bank of North Dakota, in which all public funds are to be deposited; provided for state bonds in the sum of two millions to furnish the bank with capital, and for another series not to exceed ten millions for loans on real estate; established the Mill and Elevator Association under the control of the industrial commission, and authorized it to buy, manufacture and exchange all kinds of farm food products, and to carry on business within and without the state and in foreign countries, providing for a bond issue of not to exceed five millions for this purpose; and, finally, created the Home Building Association, with a bond issue two millions, to provide homes for residents through home-building unions and otherwise.

The Non-Partisan League is a product of the Populist movement of a quarter-century ago. The Populist movement had a platform that in its day was regarded as revolutionary, but today the United States has accepted almost every reform it then agitated, and in some cases gone far beyond. The Populist movement may have disappeared in its party form, but it unquestionably left important economic effects behind. North Dakota long furnished the sort of ground in which ideas of the kind now carried into effect might take root, the farmers there having long-standing grievances over unjust interest rates and cumbersome and expensive marketing conditions, together with indifference of legislatures to demands for redress. The movement that developed has many points of likeness to the Farmer movement in Ontario, though in Dakota it owes more to a leader than does our provincial movement. Arthur C. Townley, president of the Non-Partisan League, is the man who changed conditions in one state, at least, and leader and party have alike been subjected to every kind of opposition and abuse. No step has been taken save through a barbed-wire tangle of injunctions, trials, referendums, and every other variety of legal and illegal obstruction, and this is still going on.

The history of the Non-Partisan League has recently been written by Mr. Herbert E. Gaston. He refers to the two opposing views as to what is likely to develop in the United States in the next few years; the one view holding that things will go from bad to worse until national society is swamped by general revolt; the other optimistically believing that the voters of the nation will march from constructive victory to victory until a better and safer state of affairs is realized. It is in line with the latter view that he thinks there is a place for the Non-Partisan League in that it will form a step in advance by centering effort on the restricted program of a given class. This, he thinks, should be accepted as a genuine service and as a foil to revolution.

The foes of the Non-Partisan League are the foes of all democracy. Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and himself a candidate for the Republican nomination at the recent convention, has exposed some of them in connection with the candidature of Gen. Leonard Wood. Behind Gen. Wood, says Dr. Butler, there ranged themselves an aggregation of stock gamblers, and every other variety of disreputable business element in the United States, intent on its own fraudulent gains, and utterly careless of the rights of any other class in the community. North Dakota legislation has rendered the farmers of that state less "easy-picking" for the gentlemen of this class, and their spite has been vented in opposing every effort to remedy the conditions surrounding agriculture in that state. The decision of the supreme court will go far in establishing the doctrines of the league as a cure for some of the ills of the Northwestern States.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Hearst is opposed to Harding, which is proof positive that Harding is the man for the job.

Hamiltonians boast that they never have street car strikes. But who wants to live in Hamilton?

The Russian Soviet Government reports a stupendous deficit. And some people say the Bolsheviks are not civilized.

Mr. Hicks, the U. F. O. whip, says he didn't make the sensational statement re attempts at bribery that a section of the press charges, and the reporter that stood nearest him says he didn't. That should settle the matter.

X-RAYS AND OLD PAINTINGS.

(Quebec Telegraph)
A remarkable discovery has been made by Dr. L. G. Heilbrunn of Amsterdam, which will doubtless prove of interest to many lovers and connoisseurs of art in Quebec, who are already aware of the results obtained in recent years in the art gallery of Laval University by the expert cleaning up of valuable old pictures whose beauty and value had become largely concealed by the subsequent touching up by later wielders of the brush, who vainly imagined that they could improve on the work of the old masters. Dr. Heilbrunn has found that the X-rays effectively expose these falsifications, especially when the colors used by the masters were denser than those employed by the falsifiers; the blacks, especially, of a more opaque nature, being found to be largely carbon and quite transparent to the X-rays. Dr. Heilbrunn has examined some sixteenth-century paintings, certain features of which were regarded with suspicion as being later additions. One of these pictures, the "Crucifixion," by Cornelis Engelbrechtsen, painted about 1550, contained in the right foreground the portrait of a woman which was suspected was that of a former "donatrice," who (after a fashion not unknown in those days) had thus sought to perpetuate her association with the picture. A radiograph of the painting showed many "restorations," especially on the right half and beneath the portrait of the donor. The X-rays revealed the picture of a monk in surplice and stole, the head being smaller than that of the obliterating lady. The evidence was so clear that the picture was sent to be restored at the Rijks Museum in Amsterdam, the result being to bring to light once more the monk who had been hidden for 400 years.

Among the other paintings examined was a panel of the Madonna by Geertgen van St. Jans (c. 1500) which had always excited comment because of the apparently stiff and unnatural position of the arms. The radiograph showed that the presence of the Christ in the arms of the Madonna fully explained their attitude. St. Jans is known to have painted his children disproportionately small, and the presumption is that this defect was the cause of some former owner having the Child painted out. It will be seen that a great field is opened up for this method of detecting the presence of later additions imposed on the work of the original artists, and many a picture of doubtful origin and date and subsequent "improvement" may prove under the X-rays to conceal something very much more valuable than what appears upon the surface.

THE ONLY SAFEGUARD.

(Montreal Gazette.)
Mr. Lloyd George has been telling a religious gathering in Wales that the churches have a great task to perform in combating the spirit of anarchy now rampant in the world. Then he added that the doctrines taught by the churches "are the only security against the triumph of human selfishness, and human selfishness unchecked will destroy any plans, however perfect, which politicians may devise." There is in such a declaration something for both politicians and churchmen to think over. Churchmen, in many cases at least, have been inclined to look to the state for laws to make men good. Here is a maker of laws who says that what the church can prevent their falling away from grace, temporal as well as spiritual.

GUARDS THE CITY TREES.

(Montreal La Presse.)
A citizen has had the idea to place at the place of the "crime" a poster calling public attention to the carelessness of the city authorities in their protection of the trees which ornament and shelter the streets. It is to be hoped that at every point where the administration is so caught at fault notice of a like kind will indicate that fact to the citizens. The indifference of the administrators in the matter of conservation of trees is notorious. While the municipal authorities in other cities guard with jealous care the trees planted on the city streets, here in Montreal it would seem that all forces have been combined to cut down trees on the first occasion that presents itself and lamentably to allow to wither such trees as might be saved with timely care and attention. The present administration is not alone to blame. Their predecessors are to be reproached for fault and negligence in this respect. What we have to do now is to attempt to halt further destruction and repair as far as possible the mischief accomplished.

From Here and There

THE LURE OF THE MOVIES.

(Hamilton Spectator.)
No wonder there are thousands of ambitious young people anxious to break into the moving picture game. The high cost of living or travel has no terrors for artists in the front rank of screendom. On Saturday, Douglas Fairbanks and his bride (Mary Pickford) left on a tour of Europe. In the course of which they propose visiting England, France, Spain, Italy, Switzerland, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Germany and Austria. That's a honeymoon trip which comparatively few could afford.

RETURNED MEN FIRST.

(Hamilton Times.)
The clergy having yesterday made an appeal to the employers in their congregations to give work to the returned men as far as possible, it is to be hoped that the appeal will not have been made in vain. The returned men should not be denied work.

THE CHAIR OF NONSENSE.

(New York Sun-Herald.)
We note in June Harper's an impassioned plea by Professor Burges Johnson of Vassar, for the establishment in our great colleges and universities of what he calls a chair of nonsense, the course to be open to teachers, as well as students. The idea is worthy of the ingenious and humorous gentleman and loyal friend of good English, who has done so much to eliminate grigliness from the pursuit of higher education. The literature, the philosophy and the utility of nonsense offer an attractive and fertile field for study. Systematic instruction therein could not fail to be of advantage to everybody except the dummies. The title of the professorship might perhaps be improved. There are already in existence so many chairs that are virtually chairs of nonsense!

THE MOTOR AGE.

(Louisville Courier Journal.)
The man who kept a private conveyance in the pre-automobile period was a man apart from the merely ordinarily well-to-do, if he lived in a city where street cars provided necessary transportation and a private conveyance was a luxury. The man who lived in a village where no distance was great and who kept a conveyance was a village magnate. Nowadays the problem in cities and towns is how to park the automobiles and leave for moving traffic. Seven and a half million automobiles in use in a population of 100,000,000 constitute incontrovertible proof that this is the country in which the poor man has an opportunity. Improving his opportunity he has soon an automobile.

LET THEM BRAY ON.

(Kansas City Star.)
But it is impossible to charge Mr. Bottomley against the British people. In the first place it wouldn't be just, since he doesn't represent British feeling toward America, and in the second place we have our American Bottomleys in Congress and out, who are giving the same sort of performance in their various ways, and whom we certainly wouldn't want Britain to charge to us as people. Let the Bottomleys, British and American, bray on. It is their nature to call for their hay every time the appetite stirs.

AND THEN SOME.

(Farmers' Sun.)
The Canadian Cottons Limited, has just issued its annual report for the past year. After making all allowances for excess profits tax the net profits are $1,835,000, as compared with $1,563,000 for 1919 and $1,125,000 in 1918. These figures show earnings of 22.21 per cent on the common stock, against 19 per cent last year, 14.6 per cent two years ago and 10.02 per cent the year before. These increases are made in spite of increased labor costs, and go to show that the highly protected textile companies are exacting the pound of flesh from the consuming public. They are charging all the traffic will bear—and then some.

BIRDS IN NURSERY.

Large families are popular among sparrows. The female keeps off laying eggs when the weather is warm enough so that in the same nest may often be found at different stages of development, and eggs about to be hatched and fresh.

It is estimated that the descendants of a single pair of sparrows, if all of them survive, would at the end of ten years number more than 275,000,000,000.

DEPLORABLE.

(Brantford Expositor.)
The second street railway strike in London is very deplorable. Brantford is to be congratulated that the commissioners of the municipal railway have made a just and amicable settlement with the employees. The sunny ways of conciliation are best, both at the beginning and end.

ECONOMY.

(Belleville Ontario.)
As an evidence of what thrift will accomplish, Cleveland man reports that by omitting to use his lunch hour for a month he saved enough to buy a necktie.

COST OF A PRINCE'S TRIP.

The expense account of the Prince of Wales for his recent tour of the United States and Canada just published, shows that the tour only cost $35,000. The treasury had allowed $125,000 for the journey.

The statement discloses that the prince paid no hotel bills for himself, but had to meet the cost of accommodation for a dozen officers and other members of his suite. He also paid for all the wines consumed by his suite.

Tips and gifts, ranging from walking-sticks to jeweled bracelets, amounted to $10,000.

ALL POSSIBLE.

(Missouri Farmer.)
We must make these communities more interesting place to live in for ourselves, our wives and our children. We must have more music and pictures in our farm homes and more labor-saving devices for the women folk. We must have better schools—schools which give the country boy a "square deal" in the great struggles of life. And then we must revive our country churches and fill their pulpits with preachers who have really been called to "labor in the vineyard"—who don't come out from town once or twice per month to preach "at so much per"—who dwell in the midst of their flocks—and this means a decent preacher's salary and better church houses. And then we must bring the moving pictures to the cross-roads—and the rural high school must become their domicile.

TEACHING GOOD TEMPER.

(Jerome K. Jerome in "Second Thoughts of an Idle Fellow.")
I wonder some times if good temper might not be taught. In business we are harsh language. In the shop, leaning over the counter, is all smiles and affability, he might put up his shutters were he otherwise. I would have evening classes for the teaching of temper to married couples, only I fear the institution would languish for lack of pupils. The husbands would recommend their wives to attend, generously offering to pay the fee as a birthday present. The wife would be indignant at the suggestion of good money being thus wasted. "No, John, dear," she would unselfishly reply, "you need the lessons more than I do. It would be a shame for me to take them away from you," and they would wrangle over the subject for the rest of the day. Oh, the folly of it! We pack our hamper for life's picnic with such pains. We spend so much, we work so hard. We make choice pies, we cook with love, we prepare so carefully the mayonnaise, prime joints, we prepare so carefully the mayonnaise, the salad, we cram the basket to the lid with every delicacy we can think of. Everything to make the picnic a success is there—except the salt. Ah, woe is me, we forget the salt! We slave at our desks, in our workshops, to make a home for those we love; we give up our pleasures, we give up our rest. We toil in our kitchen from morning till night and we render the whole feast tasteless for the want of a helping of salt. For want of a soupcon of amiability, for want of a handful of kindly words, a touch of caress, a pinch of courtesy.

IF CONDITIONS WERE REVERSED.

(Brantford Expositor.)
It is not very difficult for anyone to imagine what would happen in the United States if a Canadian delegation, enjoying American hospitality, were to pass a resolution regarding the improvement of the condition of the negro, and the lynching related thereto. They would be mobbed, and few of them would escape with their lives.

Poetry and Jest

THREE GIRLS.

(By Hazel Hall in Atlantic Monthly.)
Three schoolgirls pass this way each day:
Two of them go in the fluttery way
Of girls, with all that girlish buoy;
But one goes with a dream in her eyes.

Two of them have the eyes of girls
Whose hair is learning scorn of curls,
But the eyes of one are like wide doors
Opening out on misty shores.
And they will go as they go today
On to the end of life's short way;
Two will have what living boys
And one will have the dream in her eyes.

Two will die as many must,
And fifty dust will welcome dust;
But dust has nothing to do with one—
She dies as soon as her dream is done.

DREAM RIVER.

(Marjorie L. C. Pritchall.)
Wind-silvered willows hedge the stream,
And all within is hushed and cool.
The water, in an endless dream,
Does sliding down from pool to pool.
And every pool a sapphire is,
From shadowy deep to sunlit edge,
Ribbed around with willow leaves,
And cleft with emerald spears of sedge.

O, every morn the winds are stilled,
The sunlight falls in amber bars,
And every night the pools are filled
With silver brede of shaken stars.
O, every morn the sparrow sings
His elfin trill athwart the bush,
And here unseen at eve there sings
One crystal-throated hermit-thrush.

BETRAYED.

"Started work in your garden yet?"
"No, my neighbor's been so busy working in his I haven't had the heart to borrow his tools."

THE SAMPLE IS AMPLE.

(Cartoons Magazine.)
When Nellie every summer used
To buy a bathing suit,
The price upon it frequently
With anger made me mute.

I loved to see her dainty form
So fetchingly arrayed;
But nearly had convulsions when
She told me what she paid.

Now Nellie has a chic affair,
Of satin or of silk,
Dark blue or black, for both become
Her skin of rose and milk.

It does not cost a single cent
Because she gets a sample,
And finds it in the present style
Material quite ample.

THE BIRDS' HOUR.

(Ethelwyn Wetherald.)
The world at noon belongs to the sun.
At eve to the home-coming herds;
But while the dew is pearly—very early—
The world belongs to the birds.
As still as in a dream lie the meadow
And the stream,
'Neath the soaring and outpouring of
The birds.

Long, long before there is life at any door,
Or smoke at any roof, or laughing words
Of children fresh from sleeping, the outer world is steeping,
In the heaven-given rapture of the birds.

Not a thought of grief or care can enforce admission there;
Through the winning and the singing of the birds.

THEY ALL KNOW.

(Kincardine Reporter.)
The businessman assumed a frown,
And mildly through his paper drew,
We asked the reason for the frown,
And this is what he said to us:
"The editors, it seems to me,
Are like the acorns—up a tree,
By thunder they are stupid folk,
Look at this paper. It's a joke."

He was a businessman, you see,
And knew our business perfectly.

The lawyer heaved a heavy sigh
And fixed the paper with his eye,
"Dear me," he said, "it's very sad
That journalism is so bad.
This paper has attacked a court,
Sensational of that vulgar sort,
Should never be allowed in print."
And then he ate a peppermint.

He was a lawyer, don't you see,
And knew our business perfectly.

The farmer said, with angry eye,
"These editors are all too fly.
They ought to be put in the paper free.
It isn't worth a cent to me.
Why don't they print some decent sane?"

Describe, for instance, my new barn?
The modern paper, as I see,
Ain't nearly what it used to be."

He was a farmer, don't you see,
And knew our business perfectly.

The preacher said: "I cannot say
The press is of much use today.
The editors have no backbone,
Their papers lack a moral tone.
My sermons never get a place
Now, isn't that a black disgrace?
In spite of everything I do
I only get a 'stick' or two."

He was a preacher, don't you see,
And knew our business perfectly.

The great professor wagged his head
And combed his whiskers, as he said,
In language polished and sublime:
"Our journalism is a crime.
The foul miasma of the Stix,
Arises from its vulgar tricks.
The editors are boys at play,
And grow more foolish every day."

He decked a university,
And knew our business perfectly.

STOMACH AND LIVER TROUBLE

Once the liver fails to filter the poisonous bile from the blood, there is a clogging up and poisoning of the whole system which causes many troubles to arise. Therefore, upon the liver, more than any other organ of the body, depends the general health.

Carelessness and neglect, and oftentimes wilful disregard of nature's laws will put the system out of sorts. The bowels become constipated, the liver inactive and the stomach upset. To bring the system back to its normal state, you should take Milburn's Laxative Liver Pills. They live on the liver, condition and tone up the stomach.

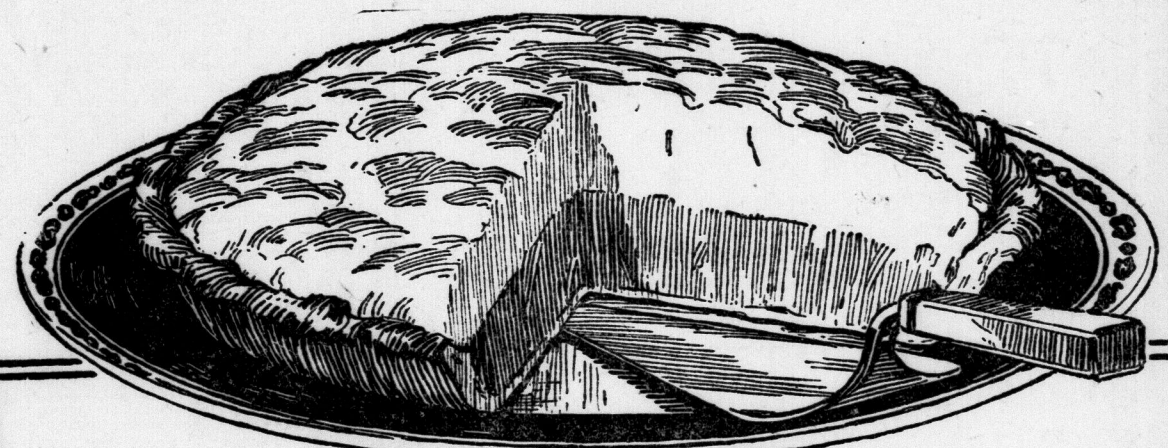

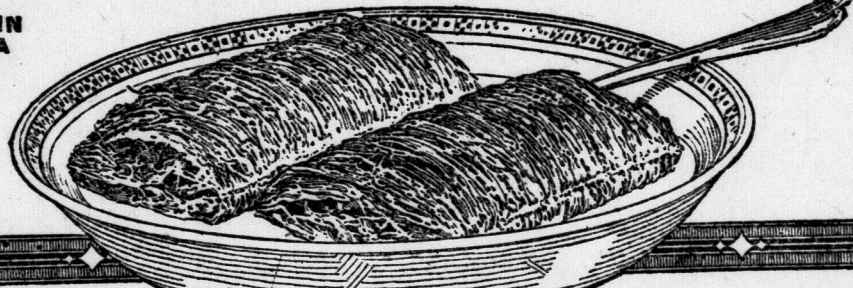

Mrs. G. L. Cackett, Enchant, Alta., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxative Liver Pills and have found them good for both stomach and liver troubles. I have told others about your valuable medicine and they have used them with good results."

"They are also good for headache."
Milburn's Laxative Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

O. Thus Far Escapes Inroads of the Industrial Teams' Fancy Offerings

Return of Agreement With Majors Puts It Squarely Up To Players—Rumors Regarding London Players' Intentions Brings Situation Home.

The way the players are jumping to the independent and industrial teams from the Western League and some of the other minor organizations makes the situation look like near beer when it comes to the hop.

The M.O. has escaped thus far, though none of the managers are blowing about it, and it isn't that the idea hasn't been in the minds of some of the players. It spots it has looked as if some of them are taking the easier way out and getting themselves suspended, which gives them their standing in organized ball, even though a bad reputation goes with it.

The industrial teams especially are offering some huge slices of money, money big enough to entice some of the big fellows, but it has been mostly men who were slipping away, and they were beating the majors to it.

The return of a good working agreement with the majors regarding the draft law, or at least with the National Commission, has put the players considering the jump to the alternative of

One Tally in First Topples Hams Out of the Leadership

First Two London Hits, Shay's Three-Bagger and Calbert's Sacrifice, Is Prelude to Runless Duel Between Harper, New Spitter, and Petie Behan.

Shay's three-bagger with one gone in the first chorus and Calbert's sacrifice fly to the right suburbs, shoved the London shortstop over the plate with the one and lonesome tally of the game yesterday, and the London team up into first place in the standing. For the rest of the nine innings it was a pitcher's duel between Harper, Wetzels' new spit-baller, and Petie Behan, with the decisive delivery of the Hamilton moundman shedding but four hits to the nine gassed off the local right-hander, who gets credit for a 1-0 shutout his first start.

A one-run margin throughout didn't have the crowd giving vent to anything but sporadic attempts at fanning, and there were a lot of tense moments when there wasn't a pep from the popular. It was air-tight ball, too, right the whole distance, the one error charted up against Sharpe not counting for anything but a base for a runner when nothing was threatening except the weather.

The big fellow's help were all out there playing ball yesterday afternoon, so the leaders of the about-to-be runners-up in the league race didn't have anything to do but watch the first sack.

The Hams clouded up several times, but for the first six innings didn't get fence paring them down in fine shape. In the seventh, however, Shay, the first man up, singled to right and Zinn came through with another tantalizer just outside the paths. The Ham leader went the farthest north yet on Corcoran's single past first with one gone. Harper followed him and Lapp whiffed, and then Conley had two on when, when Shay started with the third strike and landed about two seconds later at the plate just in time to complete a double at the plate. If Conley had poked one out, Shay would have looked awfully sick trespassing on Brigr's territory. He looked pretty ill anyway.

In the eighth the Hams looked dangerous. Behan and Corbin were both on on singles to right and left. Malin, the catcher's choice, nipped Behan at third and the next two flied out.

Ninth. They started bravely in the ninth with Corcoran's single. He was chopped off at second on Purcell's choice and Harper moved down Morrisette and McCullum, who were pinch-hitting for Lapp and Conley.

Behan had the locals well tamed in every inning but the sixth. Calbert, after a double smash, was worked around to first on a single, but Brigr's fielder's choice to Behan to Lapp found the latter too fast for the London gardener, and he was tagged out on his way back to third. Critchlow flied out to make the third out.

GIRL OF 14 IS STAR WITNESS AGAINST MOTHER

Domestic Infelicities of Elora Couple Are Aired in Court.

WIFE GIVEN ALIMONY

Will Get $4 a Week As Long As She Lives Chaste Life.

As long as Belle Ewing of this city lives a chaste life she will be entitled to draw $4 a week alimony from her husband, according to a decision handed down by Chief Justice R. M. Meredith of the supreme court, which is sitting in the local court house. Mrs. Ewing, through her solicitor, E. T. Essary, had entered action against her husband for alimony and custody of the two children.

On the witness stand Mrs. Ewing swore that her husband had beaten both her and the children cruelly. She said that her husband had charged her with immorality and that the magistrate had dismissed the charge.

The Star Witness. Pretty little Mary Ewing, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ewing, was the star witness for the defence. She told a most sordid tale of the conduct of her mother, which she alleged had been the cause of her father's departure from the home.

She also told of the cruelty with which she alleged her mother treated her father. At one time she saw her mother strike her father with a knife. She produced a wicked looking butcher knife with which she said her mother attacked her father. She had brought the knife to court with her carefully wrapped in paper. Mary said that she had written a history of the conduct of her parents.

Her father had always been most kind to her. He treated her mother considerately, and had at no time choked or struck her. He did not use abusive language to Mrs. Ewing, although she was not always careful in her choice of language. The girl swore that both she and her sister would rather live with their father.

The husband said that Mrs. Ewing had attacked him with a knife and was remained on a charge of insanity in Guelph. Later he claimed she was released on agreement of separation. He swore that on several occasions his wife practiced adultery.

Euphemia Knapp, a sister and housekeeper of the defendant, told of the things she saw when on several occasions she visited the family. Although her brother was at all times kind to his wife, Ewing used vile language. She refused to repeat what she had heard in court and the judge upheld her in her objections.

W. G. Bowley swore that he knew the defendant for 40 years, and that he had always found him to be a perfect gentleman and at all times temperate. He said that at one time he called at Ewing's house. While there Mrs. Ewing sat in an extremely modest position unbecoming to any woman when men were in the room. The judge ordered him to demonstrate the position, which he did.

M. Bisset of this city, Ewing's employer, swore to the good character of the defendant. He said that Ewing had a position which was capable of paying her $1500 a year, but that her health had averaged only $750 a year, during the past ten years. Chief Justice Meredith said that if Mr. Ewing had applied to him for separation as soon as he knew that his wife was practicing adultery he would have given it him without awarding the woman alimony. But as he had delayed, he had to take her back to live with him, he did not feel that the court could be harder on her than he was personally, and so he awarded her $4 a week, payable on condition that she lived a chaste life in the future. If after a year she can prove that she has been following the straight and narrow path that she could apply to have it raised.

Given To Father. The custody of the children was given to the father. At any time, if she behaves, the mother will be allowed to apply for access to her daughters.

He said that he did not like the sum of money low because the woman had not acted as became a wife, but because she was strong and healthy and as able to earn money as her husband, who was partly disabled.

The suit brought in by W. C. Cascard, a drover of the township of Malahide, against Wilfred Shute, another drover, for the sum of $1200 and to have a certain amended, was settled out of court.

The case of Doris Harris, who sued Beatty Brothers of this city for rent, was dismissed with costs.

HAS MADE A CLEAN SWEEP, HE STATES

Quebec Man Hasn't a Trouble Left Since Taking Tanlac.

"I have never been a man to praise any kind of medicine, but since taking Tanlac I have changed my mind, and am now ready to tell the world what it has done for me," was the statement made by Marcisse Dercombes, an employee of the Quebec Railway Light, Heat and Power Company, living at 33 Signal street, Quebec, Que.

"During the past year," he explained, "I have learned what suffering means, and I got so bad off I can hardly understand how I stood up under the strain. My stomach was badly out of order, and I didn't relish a thing, in fact, I was almost afraid to eat for thinking of the suffering that was to follow. I would boast up with gas after meals, and my heart would palpitate terribly. At times I was weak and dizzy, and could hardly stand up, and my nerves were so on edge that the least little unusual noise would completely upset me. Many nights I was so restless I couldn't close my eyes at all, and when morning came you can just imagine how weak I felt. I managed to hold onto my job, but it pulled me down until I was almost a nervous and physical wreck."

"I had never had any faith in medicine, but I kept hearing so much about Tanlac that I made up my mind to try it, and since it has made a clean sweep of my troubles there is nothing too good I can say about it. I took only three bottles of Tanlac, but today I feel better, work better, and sleep better than I have in years. My appetite was never better in my life, and I digest everything I eat without a particle of trouble. My heart action is normal, and regular, and I am not bothered with dizziness any more. My nerves are as steady as steel, and I sleep sound all night long. I never lose an opportunity to praise Tanlac, and already I have told all my friends and neighbors about it."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

200 CANDIDATES FOR THE ORIENTAL ORDER

All-Night Session Planned for Friday Evening.

Although not even mentioned in the official program of Odd Fellows' convention week in London, it is whispered about that the biggest and most tumultuous doings of the entire week are to transpire on Friday afternoon and evening. Friday afternoon probably in Springbank Park and Friday evening in the Princess Winter Garden, where the degrees of humiliation will be conferred on 200 candidates seeking admission to the Oriental Order of Humility and Perfection.

Those who have heard of the Oriental Order, you may grasp some conception of its import and mysterious nature. It is a society of men, the official call to Mecca which Grand Hyatt Russell Legg has issued on behalf of the Mystic Shrine of Odd Fellowship, is the claim made for Orientalism by its official organ. The Oriental Order has never been recognized by either the Sovereign Grand Lodge nor the Grand Lodge of Ontario, although it is said to have originated in this province. Some of the Orientals claim that their order is so ancient that they really don't know how it originated. Others admit that it really originated in and derived its name from the Oriental Hotel in Petersburg, Ont., when the Grand Lodge of Ontario met there some years ago.

At a special meeting of the council held last night two proposals were voted down. One of these was made by Ald. Cameron Wilson and was to the effect that the men return to work at the old rate of wages and that a vote on higher rates be taken as soon as it could be done legally.

The other, moved by Ald. Drake, was to have the men return with fares increased to six and eight tickets for 25 cents, to provide the money necessary for increased wages and to take a vote as soon as possible.

Neither motion received sufficient support. The council then voted that a two-thirds majority of the council was necessary to reverse the previous action of the council in turning down the report of the special street railway committee.

The meeting was hurriedly called at the request of seven aldermen. If any proposal had been approved, would have been presented to a mass meeting of the employees.

Not Very Promising. John Colbert, president of the union, told the council that the day's negotiations between the men and the Ontario Railway Board had not been very promising. Accounts showed that there was a deficit of $100 during the 27 days of operation by the board, and as a result the men will receive only the regular rate of pay for that period. They went back to work on the chance that earnings would be sufficient to pay them slight increase.

On carefully considering the figures they saw no means of paying the 52 cents an hour asked by the men without cutting the service. One suggestion was made to take off eight cars from the Ontario line, and the Springfield line. This might afford three or four cents an hour increase, but the railway board would not give any guarantee to that effect. Taking off the cars would also mean that 25 men would be laid off permanently.

Only a one-way service would be given to the Ontario line, and three cars, the other three being left in the barns. Two would be taken off the north belt, one off the West, one off the Normal, and one off the Oxford.

Two cars might be added on the Dundas line. He said that the board had given assurance that it would do so.

Two youths, who were charged with trespassing was allowed to go on payment of costs.

George Beadle, an inmate of the Pontiac Asylum, who was arrested here and charged with vagrancy because he wandered around in a pair of bedroom slippers, has been handed over to an immigration officer.

GORGEOUS PEONIES
Grown by Members of Ontario Peony Society.

The Advertiser received a wonderful gift of flowers this morning "with compliments of the Ontario Peony Society." Great, perfect blooms of peonies, silver-sprinkled with rose drops and of varied colors, all in one huge box.

There were peonies of deep rose, others of rose with white tipped petals, pure white blooms and white with shell pink tracings, pale cream with edge of delicate pink, and one lovely flower of palest pink, its color emphasized by its lavishness of deep gold stamens, and none the less lovely were the tight buds clustering closely beside the full-blown flowers, with faint hints about their edges of their colors-to-be.

London may well be proud of such wonderful productions of the gorgeous peony bloom.

LIMITED CAR SERVICE

A settlement on the basis proposed. Those who were opposed then asked for an order to rescind the vote. A vote was taken on this and in order to carry it required a two-thirds majority. When the count was taken it was found that there was two votes short of this number.

I believe," said President Colbert, "that the fares to Springbank will be taken up with the Ontario Railway Board this morning. As far as the city fares are concerned, they will remain the same as before, seven and nine tickets for a quarter between the new lines that there was two votes short of this number.

The agreement is to stand for one year. Important changes are to be made at once in connection with revising the schedule. The figures we obtained showed that the Dundas and Oxford lines are easily the best paying lines in the city. The North Belt and Richmond lines never paid. By the new schedule these lines would be paid from the lines that do not pay and three will be added to the lines that do pay. That is, there will in future only be a one-way service on the Ottawa line, one on the North Belt line. One car will be taken off the Oxford line, one off the Richmond line, and one off the Normal line. Three more cars will be added on the route between the court house and Eleanor street, giving a much better service on the lines where the business really is."

The Board's Statement. On the 1st of May the employees of the street railway company for increased wages. On the 5th of May the board, at the request of the city council, took possession of the railway and under a temporary arrangement with the men, the operation was resumed on the 6th of May. The board at once engaged special auditors, who thoroughly investigated the finances and affairs of the company and made a report. On the 15th of May this report was forwarded by the board to the city council.

The council, through a committee, agreed with the men to recommend that a bylaw be passed to increase fares. They also agreed with the men that out of the increased fares the latter were to have their wages increased eight cents per hour, and that the balance of the increased fares was to be used in doing certain paving, etc. The council, by a vote of nine to one, ratified the arrangement between the committee of the council and the men, and passed a resolution to increase fares to five and seven tickets for 25 cents. However, when the bylaw to authorize this increase in fares was introduced in the council several members of the council changed their votes and the bylaw was defeated. Owing to this the council to the council out its bargain with the men, the latter on the 7th of June struck again.

On the 7th of June the board wrote the city council, stating that in their opinion there was no need to increase fares. They offered five and seven tickets for 25 cents, and that the board was willing to operate the railway under the same conditions as six and seven tickets for 25 cents, and to pay the men the increased wages arranged for by the council. The board also increased fares, the balance, if any, to be paid over to the city. The council, however, discussed the board's letter, but took no action on it.

The board then agreed with the men to increase their wages by 4 cents per hour, and to further increase fares to five and seven tickets for 25 cents. The money to pay these increased wages will be derived from a saving made by taking five cars off of one car, and by routing several of the lines of the railway. All costs of the operation will be cut down to the lowest possible figure. No paving will be done and no new work or repairs beyond those absolutely necessary to keep the railway in operation.

Under the conditions mentioned the board will operate the railway. The board finds that free transportation has been given by the company to various persons in excess of those entitled to such transportation under bylaw No. 126. Steps are now being taken to remedy this.

A statement has repeatedly been made that the board recommended increases in fares to a scale of 2 and 7 tickets for 25 cents. No such recommendation or suggestion was ever made by the board. We are at a loss to know where those who made the statement got their information from, as it is absolutely untrue and never had any foundation in fact.

The board desires to thank Dr. H. Stevenson, M.P.P., for the valuable service he has rendered in getting the cars put in operation again.

Dated June 15, 1920.

Were Voted Down. At a special meeting of the council held last night two proposals were voted down. One of these was made by Ald. Cameron Wilson and was to the effect that the men return to work at the old rate of wages and that a vote on higher rates be taken as soon as it could be done legally.

Grown by Members of Ontario Peony Society.

The Advertiser received a wonderful gift of flowers this morning "with compliments of the Ontario Peony Society." Great, perfect blooms of peonies, silver-sprinkled with rose drops and of varied colors, all in one huge box.

There were peonies of deep rose, others of rose with white tipped petals, pure white blooms and white with shell pink tracings, pale cream with edge of delicate pink, and one lovely flower of palest pink, its color emphasized by its lavishness of deep gold stamens, and none the less lovely were the tight buds clustering closely beside the full-blown flowers, with faint hints about their edges of their colors-to-be.

London may well be proud of such wonderful productions of the gorgeous peony bloom.

re-route the cars in any manner advocated by the men.

Taking Other Work. Ald. Watkinson said that a number of street railway men had obtained other employment.

Ald. Harley suggested that the men might return to work for another ten days as a sporting proposition and that a vote could be taken in the meantime.

Mayor Little thought the council should not interfere if the railway board wanted to re-route the system. Ten cars would be better than none, he said.

Ald. Watkinson claimed that the Street Railway Company had sent its employees to ask the council to pass increased fares instead of coming to itself. Ald. Ashton replied that the Street Railway Company had nothing to do with any request the men were making from the council. He declared that the company would never run the cars again.

J. M. Parker, business agent for the union, also spoke to this effect.
