Sir George Again.
Is Labor Ignorant?
Too Much Meighen.
Real Jail Fare.

EDITORIAL

SIR GEORGE FOSTER has again taken to the political soap-box, and is whacking away at the farmers because they don't pay much income tax.

Sir George should go the whole distance. He should tell the people why the farmers do not pay more income tax.

It seems reasonable that he should explain this question: (1) The farmers are not paying more income tax because they are not making the money, or

(2) They are absolutely hiding their wealth and should be prosecuted with the same heartless vigor that let the Riordons off with an I. O. U.

Go on, Sir George, go the limit.

THE GALT REPORTER reports M. M. MacBride of Brantford:

"He explained that Labor did not fully understand what the policy of protection meant."

Help!

Labor has been cajoled, sung to and shouted at for years.

Labor has been supposed to sit open-mouthed while Meighen tub-thumpers shouted: "You're going to lose your job!"

Labor has walked the streets jobless for months, only to be insulted by the taunt that a vote for the Meighen candidate is a vote for steady work.

Labor has brains, and Labor can do its own thinking.

And now comes M. M. MacBride of Brantford with his little torch and staff to tell Labor they don't "fully understand what the policy of protection meant."

May Labor be delivered from the hands of its alleged friends.

THERE has been too much Meighen in the Meighen campaign.

It has been a one-man campaign all the way through.

It has been Meighen Will Lead Us Through.

It has been Canada Needs Meighen.

Contrast that one-man despotism with the manner in which Hon. Mackenzie King is appealing to the electors.

He tells them plainly that he is going to be guided by the collective wisdom of the whole Liberal party.

The Liberal leader is making no attempt to pose as the great "I am."

Mackenzie King knows that he is confronted with a huge problem that calls for the best brains he can call to his assistance.

It is principles—not individuals—that count in working out national destinies.

AT the Don jail in Toronto prisoners are all kept down to straight prison diet, which is plain and not sumptuous.

The inspector is of the opinion that the business of sending hotel meals to prisoners by friends on the outside has tended to make some of them forget they were in jail.

It has also given a chance to include a few saw blades and files as side dishes in the menu.

Going to prison is a combination of correction and punishment.

When a prisoner eats stew and mush for three months he is apt to remember it.

ONE Hamilton firm writes letters to its employees at this election time.

It does not tell them how they MUST vote.

It insinuates very broadly, mentioning names of Meighen candidates, whom the company wants them to vote for.

In these days when employees are many and jobs are scarce the letter is supposed to bring results.

If that is not intimidation, what is it?

ANTI-IMPERIALIST IN QUEBEC OPENS FIGHT

Quebec, Nov. 30.—Canadian Press.—Opening his campaign here last night in Loyola Hall, Eugene F. Dussault, the Independent Liberal candidate in South Quebec, who is the third man in the field, announced that he was an anti-imperialist and an anti-conscriptionist. He affirmed that he was not the tool of either party.

NEW OPTIMISM PERVADES 'FAR EAST' PARLEY

Atmosphere Clears When Admiral Kato Admits Expression of Personal Opinions.

CHINA ASKS JUSTICE ONLY

Japanese Maintain Presence of Troops Necessary To Protect Foreigners.

Washington, Nov. 30.—(By Ben Deacon, staff correspondent of the Canadian Press).—With the atmosphere in the Far East division somewhat cleared by the revelation that Admiral Kato, when talking of a 70 per cent ratio was merely expressing a personal opinion and not stating the attitude of the Japanese delegation and with steady progress reported from the Far East division, a renewed spirit of optimism prevailed at the Washington conference this morning.

The Far East committee was called into session at 11 o'clock to continue discussion of China's demand for the withdrawal of the foreign troops now within her border without authorization by treaty or agreement. As "foreign troops" in this case means Japanese troops, this problem is really a two-nation controversy, though the representatives of the other nations are taking an active part in the discussions with a view to effecting a settlement of the dispute.

Response Sympathetic.

There were indications, as the delegates went into session this morning, that China's arguments have met with a sympathetic response from the members of all delegations save the Japanese. The representatives of the Tokyo government are understood to have adopted a firm attitude in opposition to the withdrawal of their troops, and it appeared probable that some difficulty would be experienced in bringing about an agreement.

The Chinese delegates consider the presence of foreign troops a violation of sovereignty, because these troops are in Chinese territory without China's consent and against her protests. China believes it is up to the powers to see that she gets justice and that these troops are removed.

The Japanese maintain that the presence of their troops in China is necessary to guard foreigners and foreign interests. They assert that Japan would be very willing to withdraw the troops if China could give assurance that proper protection would be afforded foreigners, but this, the Japanese claim, China is unable to do.

Await Lloyd George.

Once again the prospects for the early arrival of Mr. Lloyd George assumes a prominent place in the conference gossip and discussion. This morning the British spokesmen are being deluged with questions on the subject. One United States newspaperman wanted to know if Mr. Lloyd George would make a speech when he arrived.

"I can't imagine Mr. Lloyd George," said Mr. Brown, "but it appears to me that by our transferring one of our comrades to Canadian soil we would in effect be advertising a worthy deed already done in war efforts. Our Empire was one, and when after the war an unknown British soldier was buried in Westminster Abbey, the ceremony was carried out for the whole Empire. It was an unknown British soldier who was buried there, not an unknown English soldier. For all we know the remains deposited there might be those of one of our own gallant Canadians. When the ceremony took place we Canadians mourned in common with all the peoples of the four corners of the Empire with the same feeling of sorrow and glow of pride and with the contentment that the unknown dead might be one of our sons."

"I am sure I speak of what would be the desire of the dead if they could express themselves, when I say let them rest in the field which has made their death so glorious."

Magistrate Has Pity on Prisoner

It looked for a few minutes in police court Wednesday morning as if an aged Scotsman, working for the county out Granton way, would have to pay about $20 per drop for 10 drops of whiskey in a 6-ounce bottle that he had in his possession when taken off an Oxford street car at the C. P. R. station at 7:30 Tuesday night.

He explained that he had been given a "per" by a country doctor, and that he had not imbibed any of the liquid on the street.

Magistrate Bartlett held the bottle up to the light, and intimated that the charge would be one of drunkenness only. He accepted the prisoner's statement. The latter will spend the next ten days at the county jail.

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 30.—W. J. HOW I'D MAKE LONDON BETTER FOR POSTERITY

W. W. Gammage Advocates Agricultural Course at the Western University.

URGES PARKS EXTENSION

Points Out Need of Grouping of Municipal and Federal Buildings.

BY HELEN McMILLAN.

Rows and rows of greenhouses exhalting warm perfume. From out of a door, behind which one gets glimpses of hundreds and hundreds of bloom, comes a big rugged man. He is W. W. Gammage, the presiding genius of this little flower kingdom. What does he think should be done for London?

He is an enthusiastic horticulturist, and what more natural than that he should suggest that course in agriculture and horticulture be established here in connection with the Western University; and that to make the practical work possible, a big tract of land be purchased not far from the site of the new university buildings, this tract of land to be used for Western Fair purposes as well as for demonstration in connection with the agriculture course?

Mr. Gammage further would discourage any further experimental work in trying to locate a supply of water from a system of shallow wells, and would begin plans to secure a supply of water from one of the lakes.

He would extend the park system of the city to vacant land on its outskirts, and he would like to see a boulevard along the river from Springbank to the city, and a boulevard to circle the city completely, following both northern and southern branches of the river and meeting on the eastern bank at about the location of the Ontario Hospital.

Favors Federal Square.

A grouping of the municipal and federal buildings of the city on adaptable and not too expensive property is still another suggestion.

In reference to the procuring for London of a tract of land for an agricultural and horticulture department, in connection with the Western University, Mr. Gammage says:

"I believe that everything possible should be done to encourage permanent educational facilities in this kind of work. The University is probably the best adapted Canadian university for the giving of an academic course in agriculture and horticulture. No such course is yet available in Canada, my boy having to go to the University of Illinois, Urbana, to get such a course."

"I should advocate the purchase of a tract of land within the reasonable distance of the new site of the Western University for demonstration work in connection with such an agricultural and horticulture course, a portion of which could be used for Western Fair purposes."

Would Extend Parks.

"I think that such a move would be a benefit not only to the Western University, but to the city of London as well. For I believe that the amount of Canadian capital now invested in horticulture warrants the establishment of a university course of this kind."

"Now is also the opportune time for the city to secure additional land on the outskirts of London for athletic park purposes. There is nothing better for young people than good, clean athletic fields, and such parks circling the city would make for better citizens."

"I should like to see the whole city encircled by a beautiful boulevard, low the course of the river to the forks here in the city, turn north along the north branch to the new university site, then east, meeting the boulevard which turned south at the forks somewhere near the Ontario Hospital in East London. This would provide a magnificent driveway completely around the city."

Advices Lake Water Supply.

"I would discourage further experimental work in trying to locate an adequate supply of water from a system of shallow wells, and would begin plans to secure a supply of water from one of the Great Lakes, taking into consideration the feasibility of supplying one or more municipalities along the line."

"I would advocate a town-planning scheme with strict building restrictions, an industrial area and a grouping of the municipal and federal buildings. I believe it a mistake to build a new post-office and custom house facing on a main street in the center of the city when less expensive property is available in a more adaptable location."

MOULD REVIEWS VETERAN NEEDS

Declares Tariff Issue Must Not Obscure Soldier Problems.

SCORES BIG INTERESTS

"Why does the ex-Mayor Charles R. Somerville, the present Liberal candidate in London, come out in the open and attack me?" challenged Arthur Mould, Labor's standard-bearer in the present campaign, addressing a representative body of Grand Trunk employees at noon Wednesday.

"If he thinks so much about the returned boys as he tries to make out, why did he not attend their meeting at the Allen Theatre last night, when the other candidates, including myself, accepted the invitation to attend?"

"When the boys were over there, I was in power as mayor, how can the good citizens of London decide to place insurance on their lives, so that their wives and mothers would have a little to keep the wolf from the door should they pay the supreme sacrifice. We have at hand reports showing how Mr. Somerville, who now rants about helping the returned men, and who was mayor of London at that period, decided to cancel soldiers' insurance."

Questions Pledge's Value.

"I say here today, and I say to the returned men of London, if Mr. Somerville took this stand with the soldiers, how can you trust his promises when seeking election for Ottawa? How can you believe that he will keep his promises if he should be elected? God forbid that he should be elected."

"Moreover, how can you as Labor men and soldiers expect him to carry out any promises whatsoever? They might deplete the dividends to capital to deal justly with us. I say that by their fruits ye shall know them, and in this present issue we must judge men and movements by their past record, and Mr. Somerville's is only too well known to us."

Scores Big Interests.

"In the noise and stress of tariff issues we desire to solve satisfactorily the problems of our soldier comrades. Remember, these are the candidates, including C. R. Somerville, and insure your future welfare by voting against him."

The Labor candidate scored the big interests for endeavoring to place the blame for the high freight rates on the big salaries of the railroad workers.

Mr. Mould was warmly received.

EMPLOYMENT FIGURES ARE MORE FAVORABLE

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—Canadian Press.—The trend of employment as reported by 5,504 firms to the employment service branch of the department of labor for the fortnight ending Oct. 22, is again favorable.

The "curve" which had been very slightly depressed during the preceding fortnight rose, so the employment service branch reports, "to a higher level than at any time in the previous year since the middle of January." The index number stood at 90.4 as compared with 89.9 for the preceding two weeks, and with 106.1 for the corresponding period of last year.

Persons employed by the 5,504 firms during the fortnight ending Oct. 22, totalled 692,184, an increase of 5,971 workers since the previous fortnight.

MARY E. DEVINE, through her solicitors, Buchner & Ramsay, has issued a supreme court writ against the C. P. R. for $2,775.75, on account of damages for a motor truck by the defendant and for damages to business.

POWERS FEAR RAPID SPREAD OF SOVIETISM

Discuss Mandate To Quell "Ugly Wave of Bolshevism."

DIPLOMATS THREATENED

Outrages in All Sections of the Country Are Increasing.

London, Nov. 30.—The powers are considering intervention in Portugal, and the assumption of a mandate there to quell the "ugly wave of Bolshevism" which is sweeping over that country, the Times declares this morning.

Former upheavals in Portugal arose from the rivalry of political parties, but Bolshevism is now spreading through the large towns, the Times declares, and there have been many outrages, especially in the province of Alentejo.

The recent bombing of the United States consulate in Lisbon was an incident in this movement, it is said, and most of the foreign diplomats there have received letters threatening their lives. When a number of foreign warships moored in the Tagus River at Lisbon recently, the sailors on a Portuguese gunboat are said to have been restrained only with difficulty from attempting to torpedo the Spanish vessels.

Dispatches to the Times assert that the condition of the country is such that it has been very difficult to find men willing to accept posts in the cabinet.

Dispatches from Portugal to the Associated Press have reported two distinct revolutionary movements in the past six weeks. In the first, several members of the Portuguese cabinet, including Premier Granjo, were assassinated following their resignations. A few days later it was reported that royalists were plotting for the re-establishment of a monarchy. On Nov. 44 dispatches from the Portuguese frontier of Spain reported another revolution brewing, Carvalho Mesquita heading the movement. The troops in Lisbon were said to have been confined to their barracks in preparation for eventualities. No advice has been received since that time as to conditions in Portugal.

HOLD BANQUET AT KING ST. CHURCH

Men's Brotherhood Stage Successful Social Function.

Rev. J. N. Norton, secretary of the London Brotherhood Federation, announced Monday night, at a banquet of the Men's Brotherhood of the King Street Presbyterian Church, that arrangements had been made to have Dr. J. Foster Wilcox, North American Commissioner of the World Brotherhood Federation, address the London Brotherhoods on the 15th of December.

The annual election of officers was held at the banquet, the following were chosen: President, George Perry; first vice-president, Dr. McDewar; second vice, R. Briggs; secretary, Clifford King; treasurer, F. N. Turnbull.

The banquet was in the nature of a St. Andrew's Day observance, and the program was arranged accordingly. During the banquet the following toasts were proposed: "To the King," "To Scotland and the Old World," responded to by F. Adams and P. E. Farquhar; "To the Brotherhoods," responded to by G. E. Perry and T. H. Yule; "To Our University," responded to by Rev. W. R. Macintosh, who introduced A. R. King, son of Western University, who spoke on "Why London Needs Western University," urging support and giving reasons for the support of the bylaw to be voted on Monday next.

The toast, "To Our Country," was responded to by J. H. Ross, who introduced Rev. James McKay of New St. James' Presbyterian Church, who spoke on "Canada," relating his address on his experiences on a recent trip to the West.

The final toast, "To the Church," was responded to by S. Baker and W. A. Adams. At the suggestion of Mr. Adams the Brotherhood undertook the responsibility of the every-member canvass to be held soon. Selections on the bagpipes were rendered during the evening by Bob Burnside of the London Pipe Band.

$200 DIAMOND TAKEN AT POULTRY SHOW

A New York paper published the following: Latrobe, Pa.—A $200 diamond looked so good to a handsome Barred Rock cockerel here at a poultry show that he stretched his neck through the bars of his pen, plucked the diamond and swallowed it as the owner gazed in amazement. One peck took the diamond from its stud. It must have been a Perfect Blue White Diamond full of brilliancy to attract such attention. These are sold by John A. EX-EMPEROR LIVES QUIETLY IN EXILE

Punchal, Island of Madeira, Nov. 20.—Former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary and his empress, Zita, are living a quiet life in their exile. Their only guard at the Villa Victoria, where they reside, is a plain clothes policeman, who also accompanies them on their journeys about the island to prevent beggars from bothering them and to avert other annoyances.

Charles and Zita are treated as honored guests by the new governor, Major Acacio Correa Pinheiro, and the other Portuguese officials. They attend mass on Sundays and have engaged Canon Antonio Homem De Gouveia as their private chaplain. After mass yesterday a few women outside the church attempted to kiss Zita's hands, thus showing their affection for a member of the family of Don Miguel De Braganza, pretender to the Portuguese throne.

BUSY TIME AWAITS BRIAND ON RETURN

Opposition in French Chamber Will Question Stand of Convention Delegation.

Paris, Nov. 20.—The opposition in the chamber of deputies is preparing a busy time for Premier Briand as soon as he gets back to Paris. In addition to the Socialists, who will interpellate the government on the attitude of the French delegation at the Washington conference regarding land disarmament, the Communists announce that they will demand why the government does not release from prison the non-commissioned naval officers Merty and Badine, convicted of mutiny in the Black Sea fleet at the time the crews of the ships tried to hand them over to the Bolsheviks, and who since then have been elected municipal councillors of Paris.

The Conservatives say they will ask the government what it proposes to do about the campaign of the radical party for the rehabilitation of ex-Premier Joseph Caillaux, and the former minister of the interior, Louis Malvy, and the delay in bringing to an issue the long-pending case of Paul Meunier, former radical republican deputy, accused of treason.

France-British relations, the Franco-Turkish accord, the anti-French agitation in Italy, and the protection of citizens in Sicily after evacuation by the French troops, are subjects which are regarded as likely to provoke warm debate in the chamber.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE TO ERECT STADIUM

London Student Tells How Appeal For $2,500,000 Was Met.

The startling response to a campaign put on by the University of Illinois for a stadium to cost $2,500,000 is outlined in a letter this week to W. W. Gammon from his son, Fred, a student at the Urbana School.

Within two weeks of the start of the campaign to raise the funds, citizens of Urbana and Champaign, with a combined population of 15,000, had raised $200,000. The honor students' quota was placed at $100 each, but the student body had already raised $1,000,000. The response from the members of the alumni, scattered as they are over the whole world, was unexpectedly rapid, but estimates of the amount from this source would naturally take longer.

The subscriptions call for the first cash payment in January, 1922, with final payments due in five years. The stadium, which is to be completed in 1924 will have a seating capacity of 75,000, and will compare with the huge bowl at Yale, the largest university stadium in the world.

Mr. Gammon calls attention to the fact that the territory surrounding Urbana bears many similarities to Western Ontario from which Western University will draw its financial support in the way of population, industries and agriculture.

TEACHERS HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

Forty Attend Round Table Conference at Centennial Church.

Officers and teachers of Centennial Methodist Sunday school held their annual banquet and round table conference Tuesday night in the dining-hall of the church, at which 40 were present.

After supper, which was served by the Cavell Club of the Sunday school, the program was presided over by the superintendent, R. W. Tufts, and included solos by Miss Edna Skinner and Miss Muriel Lancaster.

An excellent report of the convention of the Ontario Religious Education Council, which was held recently at Brantford, was given by Miss Ruth Tufts, who was a delegate. T. H. Wright and R. H. Read, representatives from the quarterly official board to the Sunday school, gave interesting reports of visits they had recently made to other Methodist Sunday schools in the city.

URGES FIGHT TO END FOR RIGHTS

HAMILTON, Nov. 23.—Bishop Fallon, of London, in addressing the delegates to the diocesan convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada, in the Royal Connaught Hotel tonight, urged them not to abate their efforts to secure from the Ontario government the educational rights to which he claimed the Catholics of Ontario were fully and reasonably entitled under a clause of the British North America Act.

His Lordship emphasized that this act stipulated that, as the Catholic majority in Lower Canada would respect the educational rights of the Protestant minority, likewise would the Protestant majority of Upper Canada be expected to extend the same rights to the Catholic minority.

WOULD EXTEND GERMAN DEBTS

British Financial Writers See International Advantage in Granting Moratorium.

DISCUSS FRENCH STAND

BULLETIN. London, Nov. 30.—Reports that the British cabinet was considering the proposed moratorium for Germany were confirmed in official circles today.

The point being discussed is under what conditions a moratorium could be declared.

It was made known this afternoon that the interview which Dr. Walter Rathenau, former German minister of reconstruction, had with Sir Robert Horne, chancellor of the exchequer, yesterday was for the discussion, among other things, of the moratorium question.

London, England, Nov. 30.—Dr. Walter Rathenau, former German minister of reconstruction, conferred last night with Sir Robert S. Horne, chancellor of the exchequer; Sir John Bradburn, British delegate on the reparations commission, and Baron Englar Fabern, British ambassador to Germany, also attending the conference.

The arrival here yesterday of Dr. Rathenau and his secretary, Dr. Simon, what accepted in official and banking circles as bearing upon the question of Germany's reparations obligations.

The morning newspapers give great attention to Dr. Rathenau's visit, and because the subject of Germany's finances from many angles. As yet no very concrete opinion has developed, although it is noteworthy that there is complete absence of any declared hostility to the suggestion of a moratorium for Germany, or any other scheme calculated to render payment of the reparations easier.

Experts Favor Moratorium.

Indeed, the tenor of most of the comments suggests that it would be easy to bring general opinion into line with the view attributed to financial experts, that a moratorium is desirable. The question of France's position is discussed by the financial writers, who assume that a moratorium would be disastrous to her, but it is argued that French interests would be served equally with British, and that France would gain more in the long run, under such a plan than by further occupation of German territory should Germany default in her payments.

The financial writers emphasize the absolute necessity for Germany to accept printing paper currency if a moratorium is to be granted, and some raise the question whether Germany can be trusted to keep her word in this regard.

Another condition advocated is that Germany be required to make her budget for 1922-1923 balance exclusive of reparations, and it is said that she already has indicated her readiness to do this.

Believe Idea Impracticable.

Among the allied matters touched upon by the commentators is the suggestion by Frank A. Vandenberg, United States banker, of an international bank for Europe patterned after the federal reserve system of the United States. The financial expert of the Morning Post says that doubtless Mr. Vandenberg's motives are entirely praiseworthy, but that his idea is regarded in England as impracticable.

Your Eyes and Your Health

If your eyes are normal they daily require 40 per cent of all your nervous energy. If abnormal they require more, which means eye-strain, which is nerve-waste, which lowers your resistance to disease.

That is why you should have your eyes examined. That's why glasses frequently produce almost unbelievable results in improving health—by stopping the waste of nervous energy.

These cases need the most careful attention possible, and should be looked after by an optometrist of wide experience.

We have had sixteen years' experience, and have made a special study of this branch of ocular defect. Call today and let us, after a careful examination, fit you with the correct glasses for your particular trouble.

Chatham Veteran Dies in Effort To Save Son From Flames

CHATHAM, Nov. 30.—George Howell, a returned soldier, and his 14-year-old son perished in a fire which destroyed their home here last night. The fire broke out just before 7 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Howell and the other children escaped to the street, but the boy was trapped in the burning building. The father plunged into the smother of smoke in an attempt to find his son.

The firemen did not at once learn of Howell's return to the house. When they were told by the frantic wife, several of them immediately entered the house, and despite the almost overpowering billows of smoke, succeeded in climbing the stairs and entering a room where they found father and son side by side on the floor. Both were dead.

SEEKING HIGHER TELEPHONE RATES

Ontario Railway and Municipal Board To Consider Applications.

The Ontario railway and municipal board will hold a session at the court house next Thursday to pass on the applications of the United Telephone Company and Nissouri Telephone Company for increased rates.

The United Telephone Company wants to increase the rate for individual line service in Iderton from $18.75 to $25 per annum, and a party line from $15 to $20. Local service from $18.75 to $25, and rural service to London only, from $12.25 to $17.50; London, Iderton and Lucan from $16.25 to $25.25, all these charges being subject to 20 per cent discount if paid in 30 days.

MANUFACTURERS FAVOR MADE-IN-CANADA TRAIN

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association in a report of the made-in-Canada train for France states that a large number of replies have been received from manufacturers and exporters to the effect that they are willing to co-operate. Of the replies received 70 per cent were in favor of sending the train, 20 per cent willing to prepare an exhibit, and 10 per cent will send representatives.

The association reprints a letter from Senator C. P. Beaubien of Montreal, pointing out that when the train was first thought of some five or six years ago, the cost was considered too great, but now the offer of the French Government to provide free transportation and buildings ought to simplify the idea and make it possible for manufacturers to send exhibits.

The letter stated that the French train was a great success in Canada, and that the Canadian train ought to bring four-fold results.

WILL DEMONSTRATE NEW FLAX SCUTCHER

What should prove of great interest to flax growers of this country is a demonstration of a scutching machine which will be held at the Superior Machine Company building, 151 York street, from Dec. 1 to Dec. 7.

The demonstration will be conducted by C. H. Griffith, head of the flax department of R. Roby, Limited, of Bury St. Edmunds, England, which is associated with Messrs. Vickers, Limited. The machine is unique in that it is the only one of its kind on the market. The chief features of the machine are increased yield of fibre from straw, no skilled labor required to operate, no breaking rolls, and very low horsepower is needed.

Flax growers are invited to bring their own flax for the demonstration. Mr. C. H. Griffith is staying at the Teuness House, and appointments can be made with him there or through the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

BUILDING IN CITY NEARS 1919 RECORD

Permits Issued For Eleven Months Total Over Two Millions.

Eleven months' building in London for 1921 shows a total just a little short of the record year for the city, 1919. The figures to the end of November, 1921, are 1,405 permits, value $2,439,580, and the value in 1919 was $2,455,170.

Compared with eleven months of 1920 the figures show a large increase, and the same as compared with the whole of 1920, the total for which was $2,146,305.

The past month, though nearing the winter period, when there is always a slackness of building, was notable for the erection of new residences, no less than 32 being started, the value of them being $101,235. The value of the total permits issued in November, 115 in number, was $122,385, as compared with 73 permits, value $238,895, in November, 1920.

HAD BAD COUGH AND SORE THROAT

Never neglect a cough or cold, however slight. If you do, it can have but one result; it leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected. A single dose of will help to stop the cough, soothe the throat, and if the cough or cold has become settled on the lungs the healing virtues of the Norway pine tree, along with the soothing and expectorant properties of the excellent herbs, roots and bark promptly eradicates the bad effects, and the persistent use cannot but help to bring about relief.

Mr. Albert Marsh, Lower L'Ardoise, N. S., writes: "About a year ago I contracted a cold, accompanied by a very bad cough and sore throat. I sent for the doctor, but what he prescribed did me no little good I began to get discouraged. A friend came to see me and asked me if I had ever used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I told him I had not and sent him right away to get me a bottle. I started using it, and after a couple of days I found I was getting relief, and after taking two bottles the soreness in my throat seemed to be leaving me, so I resolved to continue its use, and after I had used five bottles both my sore throat and cough were gone. I would not be without 'Dr. Wood's' for any money."

Price, 35c and 60c a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto. Ont.—Adv.

Russia Will Painlessly Reduce "Millionaires" To Lower Rating

MOSCOW, Nov. 30.—The Russian ruble is still depreciating; it now requires 200,000 of them to purchase a dollar. In one day the dollar has jumped from 150,000 to 200,000 rubles, which is the most violent fluctuation since the free trade policy was inaugurated.

It is attributed to the scramble of possessors of large quantities of rubles to obtain foreign money at any price, accelerated by a recent decree for the issuance of a new paper money on Dec. 1.

Under the new form of printing the present high numerals will be eliminated, the notes returning to the one ruble unit, which will be worth 10,000 of the present notes.

By the new plan Russia's "millions of millionaires" will be painlessly reduced to a lower financial class.

DENIES CHARGE OF NON-SUPPORT

Prisoner Declares Accuser "Is a Fine Woman."

Abraham Fisher was charged with non-support of his wife in police court Wednesday morning, but Abraham could not see matters that way and declared that he was not guilty. He had seen his wife just half an hour before he was requested to appear in court by a constable, who had been sent out to his smiling countenance.

"She's a fine woman," said Mr. Fisher in referring to his better half. "I've always tried to support her. She went to Toronto four times. She went home to my mother on the Muncie reserve."

It was deemed advisable to adjourn the case till Friday, when Mrs. Fisher would be present.

"Can you be here Friday?" questioned the court.

"I can be here if I want to be here, but I don't know if I want to," said Fisher, gazing about him at the constables gathered in the courtroom.

"Well, you had better be here," said the magistrate in ominous tones.

"What time, 8 o'clock?" inquired Mr. Fisher. He was told that 10 o'clock was the hour.

MAN HELD BELIEVED TO BE GIRLS' ASSAILANT

Nagara Falls, Nov. 30.—The provincial police have a man whom they believe to be the assailant of two little girls in St. David's. He gave the name of Charles Miller, of St. Catharines. He is said to have confessed assaulting the two little girls. He is also said to have stolen a rowboat and passed it on to a vagrant. He was arrested in Buffalo as a vagrant. FINANCE BOARD MAY PREPARE LONDON BILL

The finance committee of the city council may prepare a bill to amend the London bill at its meeting this afternoon. If there is to be a bill it will have to go to the council at its next meeting to be in time for the session of the legislature about the middle of January.

Of course, if the members of the council, in their wisdom, and with an election immediately in the offing, decide that the time is not propitious to prepare the bill, they can put it off until the next meeting, and then get it before the house by paying a fine for being late. The ratemayers, of course, would pay the fine.

The City of London bill is being secured by some of the municipal officers, and it may be that it will not be mentioned this afternoon.

U. S. SENDS UNOFFICIAL DELEGATES TO PARLEY

Washington, Nov. 30.—The United States federal reserve board probably will designate an unofficial adviser to take part in a conference of allied bankers to discuss means of preventing exchange fluctuations upon the payment of German indemnity installments, high treasury officials said yesterday.

The conference is expected to be called in London or Paris shortly.

An invitation to participate in the conference was tendered this government by the banks of issue of England, France, Italy and other allied countries. The United States probably would not be officially represented they said, but the presence of an adviser of the reserve board would permit the presentation of the United States viewpoint.

PREPARE SLATE FOR CITY ELECTION

Local G. W. V. A. Decides Indorsement of Candidates at General Meeting.

At the conclusion of the regular business at a general meeting of the Great War Veterans' Association Tuesday night the meeting went into a committee of the whole to decide on what stand they would take in the municipal elections. As a result Ald. J. C. Wilson was indorsed for the mayoralty; Albert Judd, Dr. Douglass, Ald. Watkinson and William Nutkins for the council and Gordon Cooper and Edwin Smith for the school board.

Ald. Watkinson spoke briefly. "I know nearly all of you personally," he declared, "and you know my record. If I am elected I will serve you to the best of my ability."

Ald. Judd pointed out that during his four years on the council he had tried to do all he could for the returned men of the city.

William Nutkins declared that if elected he had no desire to be possible for the returned man. "Although I am not a returned man myself I have two sons who were over."

W. Fishaw occupied the chair during the discussion of the municipal elections. Col. W. G. Coles occupied the chair during the regular business session of the association.

Comrade Ireland, one of the two delegates from the G. W. V. A. at Port Arthur, read many of the resolutions which were passed at the conference.

A vote of thanks was tendered him upon completing his reports.

It was announced at the meeting that the G. W. V. A. had endowed a cot in the Children's Hospital from the proceeds of Poppy Day.

ELECTRICAL WORKERS IN BERLIN QUIT WORK

Berlin, Nov. 30.—Berlin last night was suddenly thrown into darkness and was without telephone or street cars, owing to a strike of the city electrical workers because of a refusal of their demands for a substantial raise in wages. The underground trains were taken only to stations where they were convenient to workers. Less than half of the evening newspapers made their appearance.

CALGARY, Alta., Nov. 30.—By the voluntary action of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Lines, freight rates on grain to Vancouver for export will be lowered, the new rates to become effective tomorrow.

The reduction in freight rates as ordered by the board of railway commissioners only dealt with domestic rates, the commissioners refusing to order a reduction on the freight rates of grain for export to Vancouver, but the railways have acceded to the desire of prairie shippers.

PROBE SHOOTING OF HAMILTON MAN

Police Find Charred Body of Italian in Field.

Hamilton, Nov. 30.—County police officers are investigating a mysterious shooting on the Ridge road, and while nearly satisfied that it was a case of suicide, they are also paying attention to the possibility of murder.

Lying inside of a row of poplar trees on the Giles farm, the badly charred body of Vincenzo Castiglione, a Hamilton Italian, aged 29 years, was found this morning. In one hand was clasped a revolver with three empty chambers. Close to the remains, two rings, a watch and chain and a small sum of money were found.

How the body became soaked in coal oil after the shooting, and how the fire started, the police are at a loss to understand. Castiglione left his boarding house at 7 o'clock last night in good spirits. At 10 o'clock at night people in the Giles farm, there the body was found, heard the shots which ended his life.

HOW WILL OLD ONTARIO VOTE NEXT TUESDAY?

Liberals Apparently Assured of Capturing Twenty Seats in Province.

MEIGHEN LOSING GROUND

Progressives Claim From 35 to 40 Seats—Have Lead on Prairies.

As time slips along it becomes more and more evident that the National Liberal and Conservative party will emerge Dec. 6 next in third place in the province of Ontario, the real battleground of the present campaign.

While it is acknowledged that the Liberals will sweep that portion of the Dominion east of the Ottawa River, it is expected that the Agrarians will gain the upper hand on the prairies.

The Progressives claim from 35 to 40 seats in Ontario, while Conservatives estimate for the Liberals are placed at a minimum of 20 seats.

The following summary has been compiled after a close analysis of the constituencies from the various party headquarters.

ALGOMA EAST—Former member, G. B. Nicholson, expected to hold the seat for the government as Farmer candidate is former Liberal and will split the anti-Meighen vote in three-cornered contest.

ALGOMA WEST—Result highly uncertain. T. E. Simpson, Conservative sitting member, is strong candidate, as are also Liberal and Labor candidates, latter being mayor of Sault Ste. Marie, which controls situation.

BRANT—Probably will go Progressive. U. F. O. holds the seat in the Legislature.

BRANTFORD—W. F. Cockshutt, Conservative, is running again, but since the King campaign here the tide has turned to W. G. Raymond, Liberal nominee.

BRUCE NORTH—R. E. Stacey, Progressive, is called to wrest this seat from Col. Hugh Clark. The U. F. O. won the seat provincially.

BRUCE SOUTH—Reuben Truax, Liberal, will have a hard fight to prevent the Progressive candidate from capturing this seat, but it is believed he will head the poll.

CARLETON—Progressive candidate may win here, though the Conservatives are fighting hard to elect Garland, who was read out of the party during the war.

DUFFERIN—A strenuous fight is proceeding here, and although the U. F. O. won the seat provincially, the result of the present contest is doubtful. John Best, the sitting member, seeks re-election.

DUNDAS—United Farmers believe they can carry the riding. They hold the seat in the Legislature.

DURHAM—Looks like a case of anybody's fight, with most of the forecasts favoring the Liberal candidate the preference.

ELGIN EAST—The United Farmers won this seat in a recent by-election, but the entry of Judge Colter, and the way he is conducting his campaign, is making a big change.

ELGIN WEST—Result here doubtful, but Labor and Farmers are behind their man, ex-Ald. Hookway of St. Thomas. He is an M. C. R. conductor, Mr. Tolmie is receiving great encouragement in his campaign.

ESSEX NORTH—Looks safe for W. C. Kennedy, Liberal, who carried the riding in 1917.

ESSEX SOUTH—Situation here a gamble. Protection regarded as important by tobacco growers and truck farmers.

THANKFUL HE WAS NOT A WOMAN

The late Lawton Tait of England, the great woman's doctor, said he never went to bed at night without thanking heaven he was not a woman. No doctor ever knew better than he what women have to suffer at some times of their lives. It was an American woman, long since passed to her reward, who introduced a combination of roots and herbs called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that has proved wonderfully successful in mitigating suffering and relieving diseases of women. It has brought relief to thousands of women who suffered from female troubles.

farmers. George P. Graham, Liberal, has been nursing the riding and may finish on top. U. F. O. not counting on this seat. Government forces claim it.

FORT WILLIAM—R. J. Manion, minister of soldiers' civil re-establishment, almost certain of re-election. Is very popular personally.

FRONTENAC—Dr. J. W. Edwards, minister of health and immigration, expected to hold the seat by a much reduced majority.

GLENGARRY-STORMONT—Will probably return J. W. Kennedy. Progressive, who was one of Crerar's first lieutenants. Certainly will not go Conservative.

GREENVILLE—An old Conservative stronghold. The Progressive candidate gave G. Howard Ferguson a hard battle in the provincial arena. Meighen may lead his man through.

GREY NORTH—Conservative whip quit the field here. U. F. O. won the provincial seat and may repeat on Dec. 6.

GREY SOUTHEAST—One of the four ridings which has a woman candidate. Result doubtful. A strong swing away from Meighen is reported. There is a fair chance on Miss McPhill winning.

HALDAMAND—United Farmers are strongly organized and hope to capture the seat. Last member, F. R. Labor, not seeking re-election.

HALTON—Anything likely to happen here. All three parties doubtful of result. Fisher, the Liberal candidate, is running strong. Progressive candidate won the seat in Ontario election and gave it up to Premier Drury.

HAMILTON EAST—Protectionist riding. Government candidate best bet in field of four with Independent for second place.

HAMILTON WEST—Government almost certain to hold traditional majority even in three-cornered fight.

HASTINGS EAST—Chiefly rural and Progressives believe they can turn out the sitting member and capture the seat. They were in 1919 for legislature.

HASTINGS WEST—Belleville, Trenton and several large villages give the Conservative candidate, E. Gus Porter, a chance to retain his seat. Conservatives won it provincially.

HURON NORTH—U. F. O. claim chances are good, but Liberal making big inroads.

HURON SOUTH—Preponderantly rural. U. F. O. clubs are numerous and strongly organized. McMillan, Liberal, is 53 per cent rural. U. F. O. claim chances are good, but Liberal making big inroads.

KENT—Doubtful. McColl, Liberal, a great campaigner and personally very popular. May hold the seat, as some U. F. O. are supporting him.

KINGSTON—Liberals are putting up a great fight, but Conservatives have a strong candidate in Brig-Gen. Ross.

LAMBERTON EAST—In a two-man clash U. F. O. expect to unseat the sitting member, J. E. Armstrong. Riding is 53 per cent rural. U. F. O. hold the riding in the Legislature.

LAMBERTON WEST—Liberals and Conservatives are splitting the Sarnia vote, while the U. F. O. man is getting the solid farmer vote. If Pardee holds the seat it will be a testimony to his personal popularity.

LANARK—If J. A. Stewart, minister of railways, cannot hold this seat, the outlook for Premier Meighen is very poor indeed. Will be a close fight, though.

LEEDS—U. F. O. not well organized here. With all three parties in the field, it's anybody's prize.

LENNON AND ADDINGTON—Rural riding. U. F. O. grow in strength and have good campaigner for candidate. Two-man fight with result doubtful. Possibly Progressive.

LINCOLN—Conservatives strongly organized. Opposition vote split between two candidates. Probably government win.

LONDON—Fight is close. Somerville leading. Labor man will have a big vote.

MIDDLESEX EAST—Third of vote in London suburbs and many Conservative farmers returning to old allegiance. In three-cornered fight, government might win, but chances for Duncan G. Ross increasing every day.

MIDDLESEX WEST—Rural riding. Progressive candidate former Conservative. Government nominee in third place. Fight for first place is between Duncan Ross (Liberal) and the Progressive.

MUSKOKA—Riding half rural. Most Liberal and majority. Conservative farmers will vote Progressive, as also unemployed and much of lumber industry. Two-man fight and U. F. O. candidate, being former Conservative, may possibly hold government of seat.

NIPESING—Progressive and Liberal candidates strong, but dividing French and anti-Meighen vote. With help of Sudbury, government nominee may be re-elected, though some say Liberal will win.

NORFOLK—Two-man contest with

NOT THIS TIME, ARTHUR!—Editorial

government relying on elderly and life-long Liberal to fight their battles. Progressive standard-bearer popular and with riding predominantly rural, will probably win.

NORTHUMBERLAND—Another three-cornered fight with C. W. Kerr of Toronto as Liberal candidate. Seat has a Conservative record.

ONTARIO NORTH—Rural riding and cradle of U. F. O. In straight fight Progressive expects re-election.

ONTARIO SOUTH—Three Farmer candidates seeking suffrage of a half-urban riding which includes Oshawa and Whitby. Opinion first favored straight protection nominee, but has now veered to other two contestants, with odds in favor of Liberal, who is winning over former government supporters, especially in Oshawa.

OTTAWA—Strong anti-Meighen sentiment which is found in civil service as well as in outside vote will probably give Liberals one seat while three-cornered contests may leave the government the second.

NORTH OXFORD—Liberal candidate, who is opposed by two former Liberals, is running neck and neck with Progressive as favorite. Riding four-sevenths rural, but Liberal will get considerable farmer support and, as U. F. O. is strongly organized in only part of riding, may beat Progressive candidate by narrow margin. E. W. Nesbitt, former Liberal Unionist and government supporter, is running as an "Independent Protectionist."

OXFORD SOUTH—Seven-twelfths rural with Farmer organization twice as strong as when it returned U. F. O. member to Provincial Legislature. Liberal is getting big rural support though.

PARRY SOUND—Renowned Conservatism in 1919. Largely rural and lumbering, and Progressive will get considerable urban support. Probably a U. F. O. victory.

PEEL—In three-cornered contest present Liberal candidate barely missed capturing provincial seat, with U. F. O. in third place. He will get considerable Farmer support as well as urban in present contest, and may carry seat.

PERTH NORTH—In 1919 a Liberal carried the riding in a three-cornered contest, defeating the present Labor-Farmer candidate, who was a former Liberal.

PERTH SOUTH—Riding normally Liberal. Rural vote about 55 per cent, but Farmer organization not strong. Liberal candidate is flax manufacturer who owns several farms and may carry riding.

PETERBORO EAST—A riding almost entirely rural. Claimed by the Progressives as their own, even in a three-cornered fight.

PETERBORO WEST—Liberals claim that with all the anti-Meighen forces lined up behind them they will be able to re-elect the candidate who won the five-cornered by-election of last February. Conservatives, however, have only one candidate this time.

PORT ARTHUR AND KENORA—More than half the votes in two towns. U. F. O. weak. Labor splitting. Liberalism reawakening, but government candidate probably re-elected with reduced majority.

PRESCOTT—Nearly two-thirds rural.

but U. F. O. not strong, and of two Liberal contestants prospect is that the old member will be re-elected.

PRINCE EDWARD—Three-fifths rural. Farmers well organized and their candidate, being former Conservative, will cut most deeply into government support. Probably Progressive.

RENFREW NORTH—Riding rural. Farmers claim that popularity of their candidate will ensure his election. All three candidates are untied in the federal sphere.

RENFREW SOUTH—A four-cornered contest with Liberals and Progressives as runners-up. The Arnprior and Renfrew votes are expected to help the Liberal in holding the seat for the party.

RUSSELL—Straight fight. Irish behind Liberal. French behind Progressive. Liberal candidate held seat for thirteen years past. Almost certain to be returned again. No Conservative in field.

SIMCOE EAST—Liberal candidate supported by Labor vote in Midland. Penetang and also largely in Oshawa, as well as by independent element and by some soldiers. Has best chance in three-cornered fight.

SIMCOE SOUTH—Riding rural despite presence of towns of Barrie and Allandale. U. F. O. well organized with strong candidate. Two-man fight. Progressive chances—good, though Conservatives are confident.

SIMCOE NORTH—Sixty per cent rural. Farmers well organized and Independent candidate cutting into government support. Possibly Progressive victory.

THAMES—Four-cornered fight with strong candidates. Result doubtful. Progressive will lose Labor votes to Liberal and Farmer votes to Conservative; some French votes to Independent sectionist. Liberal and Progressive best bet, with odds on the latter, who is Angus McDonald, the by-election hero.

VICTORIA AND HALIBURTON—Largely rural, with good Progressive candidate, against strong Liberal. Farmers claim repetition of provincial victories.

WATERLOO NORTH—Three-quarters urban. Farmers' clubs few and weak, while Labor no longer a political power. Any almost certain win for protectionist Liberal.

WATERLOO SOUTH—Urban and manufacturing. Conservatives well organized. Straight Conservative-Farmer fight.

WELLAND—Four-cornered contest, but Labor split and government political squabbles. Meighen campaign unpopular. Liberal strong campaigner, and will probably head the polls.

WELLINGTON NORTH—Farmers strong, and claim certain victory in face-to-face fight with government.

WELLINGTON SOUTH—Liberals and Labor-Farmers attacking government in the protectionist stronghold of Guelph. With anti-government forces divided, Guthrie may be returned, but chances for Carter are very bright.

WENTWORTH—Two-thirds urban, including part of the city of Hamilton. Progressive candidate not likely to swing Labor vote. Conservative unpopular in county as result of road criticism, but Liberals disorganized, and not likely to do more than give government hard run.

YORK NORTH—Liberal candidate has the prestige, attaching to the fact that he is one of the three leaders aspiring to the office of prime minister. He is supported by a strong organization, and will poll heavy votes, not only in Newmarket and Aurora, but also in Sutton, Stouffville and Holland Landing, and to a lesser extent throughout rural townships. Armstrong, the sitting Conservative, is good vote-getter. With Burnaby, president of the U. F. O., also in the field, the fight is a keen one.

In the six Toronto ridings and the three adjoining York ridings, government forces claim they will carry two or three seats, in face of the government claim of a solid Toronto.

HECKLERS GREET TORY CANDIDATE

Warden McKillop of West Elgin Opens His Campaign.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 29.—Warden C. McKillop, Conservative candidate in West Elgin, opened his campaign in the county at Tallowville tonight. The meeting was fairly well attended and only on one occasion were the speakers interrupted.

Mr. McKillop was supported on the platform by Hon. F. G. Macdormid, ex-minister of public works and a former member for West Elgin, and A. A. Ingram of St. Thomas.

Mr. Macdormid referred to the life of Hon. Arthur Meighen from the time of his entry into public life until the present. He said that he had long ago been recognized as a man of remarkable faculty. He compared him with Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, who he claimed, was eloquent but evasive. Mr. Meighen, he said, was clear and decisive.

The speaker made an attack on the U. F. O., especially on J. J. Morrison, who he claimed, was the power behind Drury's throne. When he mentioned the fact that there was an order in Osgoode Hall asking for the winding up of the affairs of the United Farmers' Cooperative Company, he was greeted with the only heckling of the evening. Someone asked what that had to do with the government.

Referring to the claim of the Liberals that the tariff was not the chief issue of the election, he said that always when the fiscal policy of a country was attacked it came immediately to the forefront of all national problems. He declared that while the Liberal platform did not propose actual free trade it went a long way towards it.

Pick Dandelions in Full Bloom in Village of Quat.

QUAT, Nov. 29.—Dandelions were picked in the village last week in full bloom, from a sheltered nook almost covered by grass. Some were found in bud, others in blossom and some had gone to seed. They were easily found, as the bright sunshine had opened their heads and their golden sheen could not but attract attention. The sunshine, and the plot, spangled with the bright bloom, gave an appearance of spring belying the late season of the year.

"I regret to use strong language, but I charge that Mackenzie King is not taking the people into his confidence." He admitted that a period of prosperity followed the defeat of the Conservative government in 1896, as his opponents had claimed, but he said it was due only to the fact that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had not changed the tariff and the protective policy of his predecessors.

Mr. Macdormid claimed that the incomes tax, which amounted in some cases to 65 per cent, was the answer to the charge that the government was in league with the big interests. The speaker also dealt with what he claimed was the free trade policy of Hon. Mr. Crerar. He said that the cry for free trade was started by a group of selfish Americans.

"Molly O" Greatest Comedy Since "The Kid"

BY JAMES W. DEAN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Mabel Normand's latest picture, "Molly O," is one of the finest comedies that has ever graced the silver screen.

Only an illogical ending that lies entirely without the precinct of the story plot robs it of being the greatest comedy of the year, a greater work of art than Chaplin's "The Kid." And that's saying considerable.

The story, written by Mack Sennett, has more "meat" than any comedy this writer has ever seen. Pathos is the background of comedy. Tears and laughs commingle. The blade of satire pricks the bigotry of the poor, it explodes the arrogance of the rich.

This is a Cinderella story. Molly O, the daughter of a washwoman and a street laborer, falls in love with a young physician who occupies a high station in society.

Her father would have her marry a roughneck with a round-edge haircut, broad shoulders and a steady job.

The duke's associates greet him with sarcasm for his friendly interest in the girl of the slums. The climax of the romance is reached at a masked charity ball when Molly heads the grand march with the doctor. He thinks his partner is his fiancée.

The doctor escorts the girl home. Her father is waiting. He sees the doctor kiss the hand of Molly. He orders his daughter from home.

The father later goes to the doctor's home. He finds Molly there. A murder is averted and the father learns that Molly and the doctor were married after the girl was ordered from home.

That incident should have ended the play. Many stirred from their seats, thinking it was the end. But no! A thrill must be injected. A villain carries Molly O away in a dirigible and the hero follows in an airplane and recaptures her.

PREDICTS LIBERAL WIN IN S. OXFORD

TILLSONBURG, Nov. 29.—As the election campaign is drawing near its close experienced politicians claim that it is everywhere apparent in South Oxford, and it appears that after many years the riding will be redeemed to the Liberal party by a handsome majority. Never in the country's history have the Liberals such perfect organization and so many volunteers in the cause. Mayor Dean, the candidate, these prophets claim, will poll a large portion of both the labor and women votes.

THE MAN FOR LONDON.

DON'T BE DECEIVED ON THIS TARIFF QUESTION

Don't allow any Liberal candidate or worker to tell you that the tariff is not the main issue in this election.

Down in their hearts they know better. They know that the Liberal party is playing for the support of the western farmers on the cry that when they are elected they will reduce the tariff to such an extent that the number of articles on the free list will be very considerably increased. They cannot openly preach that doctrine successfully in industrial centres like London, so that is why Mr. Somerville and his election workers would have you forget all about it. Mr. Somerville does not dare to say today that he is in favor of the platform which the Liberal party stands pledged to bring into effect. That is why they try to take up your attention with other and unimportant things.

But Don't Let Them Fool You--- Keep Both Your Eyes on Your Job

No matter what they may tell you, the Liberal party's tariff policy will slacken the wheels of Canadian industry and cause Canadian factories to close. It will mean increased unemployment because Canadian workmen will be forced into competition with the great factory capacity of the United States and the underpaid workers of Europe and Asia.

DON'T TAKE CHANCES WITH THE WESTERN FREE TRADERS. SUPPORT PREMIER MEIGHEN AND MODERATE PROTECTION. VOTE FOR YOURSELF, YOUR FAMILY AND YOUR JOB.

There Are Many Issues.

The people of the Dominion have a long score to settle with the government at Ottawa. They are dealing with the government that was elected in 1911, for since then there has not been a reckoning on the basis of absolute performance and merit.

Some questions that might be mentioned, are:

Allowing Canadian nickel to get into the hands of the Germans to be used against the troops of the Allies.

Allowing John Wesley Allison to accept a commission on the purchase of revolvers and pistols.

Naming the National Service Board of one Liberal and ten Conservatives.

Side-tracking one of our outstanding soldiers, Major-General Lessard, and allowing him only a small participation in the war.

Purchasing thousands of horses in United States for Canadian and British soldiers.

Purchasing horses in Nova Scotia in such a way as to call forth the remark from Commissioner Sir Charles Davidson, who investigated:

"The prices paid for the horses do not equal the amounts placed in their (Mr. Foster and his friends) hands."

Allowing veterinarians at Winnipeg to pass horses for the army and not prosecuting them for accepting bribes.

Purchasing war horses in such a way as to cause Sir Charles Davidson to say to R. J. Fallis, ex-Conservative M.P. for Peel County:

"So the farmer got less, and the government paid more for horses as a result of your intervention?"

Purchasing binoculars for $45 to $58 that originally cost $8 to $30.

Allowing a lady stenographer in the militia department to exploit Canadian finances for $33,750 for a shield shovel which did not render one cent's worth of service to Canada.

Voters have not forgotten these things, neither has the Meighen government, and it is for this reason the cry has been raised that the tariff is the only issue.

A Plain Question.

The men who were overseas have every right to ask questions of the government.

One returned man, Fred Jarrett, writes to the Toronto Globe, regarding the difference of exchange between English and Canadian money during the period that the Canadian pay office was operating in London.

"What I want to know, in common with others who were overseas, is what individual, what group of individuals, or what government, Canadian or British, got the difference in exchange between English pounds charged to the soldiers at $4.87, and purchased with Canadian money at the prevailing rate, as low as $4.30, during the period Canadian pay office was operating in London. And if no one got the difference, can Sir Henry Drayton explain how no difference existed?"

"In an official letter, which should be in the records of the militia department in Ottawa, Sir Henry Drayton stated to Sir Edward Kemp, then minister of overseas military forces, that there was no profit on exchange, but he did not, and apparently could not, explain why."

"If we take the cost of the English pound at an average of $4.60, spread over the duration of the war (it would be an easy matter to get the exact average), and if Canada bought $121,000,000 worth of English money, with which to pay Canadian soldiers, this would amount to $25,304,348. This was charged to Canadian soldiers at $4.87 per pound, apparently a profit of 27 cents per pound, which amounts to over $7,000,000."

"This question has come up again and again, and I have never seen any satisfactory explanation. The discrepancy was practically brought home to Canadian soldiers in London, where other soldiers (Americans) were paid in the currency of their own country, with which they bought English money at the prevailing rate."

Mr. Scott's Mistake.

One of the issues that is being brought into the campaign is the making of shoes in the factory at Galt of F. S. Scott, the Conservative member for South Waterloo, and having them marked with an eagle. The explanation given is that this is done in order to make Canadian buyers believe they are getting American goods.

Mr. Scott claims he has publicly mentioned this matter before, so there is nothing new in the bringing of it up at this time. Mr. Scott's explanation does not satisfy the Canadian public, but it is hard to see where the issue is one of national importance. The chances are that it will be forgotten the day after election.

The real fault lies here: Canadian manufacturers should have such a pride in the quality and the excellence of their article that they will back up from no person in the matter of merit.

Brantford has one manufacturer who comes to our mind in this connection, C. L. Messecar. He can thump his desk and look square at you, and tell you his plant is busy because he is making the best binder twine in the world. Now, we are simply citing this as a case in point, and we are giving Mr. Messecar's own opinion of his own twine.

Well—let any manufacturer in Canada, we care not if he is making boots, shoes, binder twine or anything else—let him get obsessed from actual conviction of the merits of his product—then what?

His next step is to talk it to the world.

How?

Advertising will do it. Advertising has created the demand for American boots.

Advertise the distinctive quality and the actual worth of Canadian-made goods.

Advertise the fact that they are built with a conscience in them.

Advertise that they are made by our own workers, who are spending their dollars at home.

Advertise with pride that they are made in a well-ventilated, a light, airy factory, where employees have a decent wage and a decent place to work.

It is a sign of weakness for a Canadian manufacturer to admit that he finds it necessary to print American eagles on his boots in order to get Canadian people to buy them.

It means that Canadian people have been educated through American advertising in American publications reaching Canada to regard the United States shoes as possessing certain qualities.

The Canadian shoe manufacturer or the Canadian manufacturer of any other line can go in and create the same demand for his goods.

We don't run the advertising end of this business, but we know for a fact that we've got a couple of men down there who could talk turkey to F. S. Scott or any other Canadian manufacturer, and show how this paper can create a positive demand for their goods in Western Ontario.

Votes Grow Thicker.

Votes grow thicker now than they used to when the man of the house did the voting for the family.

There are quite a few houses now that have four and five votes, some go even better, while one London house that we heard of has seven.

Canvassers also find that the house is not necessarily all of one mind. Young people form their political opinions sometimes from the atmosphere of the place where they work; from those with whom they keep company. But the chances are that the majority still get their political leanings from their own family.

Canvassers are not ready to answer off-hand to what extent the wives are voting the same as their husbands. The counting of the votes may throw some light on this question. From certain quarters one hears of differences of opinion on these matters, but where no great moral question is at stake it is safe to assume there will be some differences in the family.

If a straw vote shows anything it says that women are exercising a very great deal of independence in the way in which they vote. They oppose their husbands with perfect freedom, each knowing how the other votes.

The vote in London—and the same is true of other centres—will see fathers and sons killing each other's votes. In the cities there are Liberal fathers and Conservative or Labor sons, and vice versa; in the country there are fathers and sons who will probably drive over to the polls together, one to vote Liberal, and the other for the Progressive candidate.

The old-timer is finding it harder than ever to forecast this election. He admits that he cannot count on the women's vote with the same accuracy that he used to the men's vote. In many cases he finds the woman voter has no intention of telling how she is going to vote, and that she displays perhaps a little more common sense than the man.

The election of 1921 is breaking a whole lot of new ground for the professional election follower. It will have its lessons, and it will not be long before he is adapting himself to the conditions he finds in the vote on December 6.

Good Boy, John.

My word—here's another. Now we have "Editorial suggestions for immediate release." Sent fresh every now and then, and "Distributed by John A. Cooper, Lumsden Building, Toronto."

Meighen type of campaign literature—rather weak stuff.

Would suggest to any of our Tory editor friends who are getting a little groggy in the last round that they get next to John's stuff.

It won't do their papers any good, but it isn't fierce enough to do any harm.

So keep up the good work, John.

Two Methods.

Attempts are being made locally to prove that Hon. Charles Hyman made "an astonishing misstatement" when he instanced Sir Wilfrid Laurier's action on the Grand Trunk Pacific proposal in support of the contention that a cardinal doctrine of Liberalism is to trust the people.

The contention is that because the Grand Trunk Pacific bill was passed in 1903, and the contract signed in 1904, prior to the election, Sir Wilfrid had committed the country to construction of the road without first securing a mandate.

Surely a Meighen-esque bit of special pleading.

No actual construction work had been started on the road before the people were given a chance to pronounce their verdict. The issue was merely definitely defined by the contract terms and an adverse vote of the people would have at once stopped going ahead with the project without a cent of cost to the country. Mr. Hyman was absolutely right.

Contrast Sir Wilfrid's method with the method pursued by the Meighen government in regard to the merchant marine. It was begun by order-in-council without first securing the authorization of Parliament. All Parliament was subsequently asked to do was to sanction contracts entered into, and pass estimates aggregating sixty million dollars for work in process.

As Hon. C. C. Ballantyne coolly informed the house, the government "could not withdraw from the contracts, nor were they endeavoring to."

THE man who cannot forgive any mortal thing is a green hand in life.
—Prince Otto.

seems so impressed that we scan the Guelph notes now to see where he has made up his mind to join the millionaire farmers of Paisley Block or Puslinch.

Saint John Globe: A sick soldier in East St. John, whose transfer to a Toronto hospital—the only place where he can receive proper treatment—was applied for a month or more ago, still awaits the necessary papers. He suffers terribly, and his condition is so much worse than it was a month ago that the question of removing him at all has now become a very serious one. The delay in this case, and it is not in any sense an isolated case, proves how ineffective are the government's methods in handling the returned soldier problem.

POETRY.

THE WINNERS.
There's a joyous shout of gladness
As the news comes flashing through,
Liberalism reigns triumphant,
This is the message true.

So comes the joyful tidings
From north, south, east and west,
How closure is nil, is broken,
Canada stands redressed.

Then three cheers for our leader,
Three cheers for Mackenzie King;
A stalwart leader surely,
All honor to him we bring.

And Somerville, what say you?
Sure Somerville's the choice
Of London people once again,
So now we will rejoice.

Then lend us all your voices,
With a mighty right good will;
We'll make it a royal three times three
For King and Somerville.

Habits That Spread Disease
The Candy 'Fiend'

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

It is a strange fact that the inveterate candy eaters are women of sedentary habits.

Such women, because of their inactive lives are just the ones who should eat the least candy.

The active business woman or society woman who is on the go all the time is little harmed by candy, although as a rule such women eat little of it.

The woman who is comparatively inactive is laying up a decided store of food units or calories per cubic inch. When we eat candy we are taking in food at a fearful rate. One chocolate caramel, one inch square, contains 100 food units. When we eat a square inch of fudge, we are absorbing 100 food units also.

Persons who lead a more or less inactive life do not require nearly as many food units to keep them healthy as the person who works at hard manual labor all day and uses up his tissues at a high rate. An active person may use 2,500 or 3,000 food units a day.

Only a big muscular man engaged in manual labor all day could use up 2,500 calories a day. The inactive woman, 2,000 food units a day. Divided by three for the three meals in the day it is easily seen that 1,000 calories make a good-sized meal.

Yet how easy it is to eat 1,000 calories and never know it! Two small baking cookies, 200 calories; 100; a pat of butter, 100; one serving of creamed salmon on toast, 200; one serving of green peas, 100; one cup of custard, 200; total, 1,000 calories.

One can see then that the average woman should not eat a lot of candy unless she wishes to put her digestive organs out of order or put on a lot of fat.

Ten chocolate caramels during the day are the same as an extra meal, and yet how few women realize this when they are indulging themselves? A person who eats as much candy as that should skip a meal to give the stomach a chance to Candy instead of the third meal you are taking your food in too concentrated a form, which is irritating to the stomach. The stomach was built to take care of foods having proper bulk for it to work on. Candy furthermore does not contain vitamins and minerals that are essential to good health.

One can see then that the average woman should not eat a lot of candy unless she wishes to put her digestive organs out of order or put on a lot of fat.

READ YOUR CHARACTER

[By Digby Phillips.]

NO. 48—ANGULAR HANDWRITING.

Did you ever know a calm, placid, easy-going man or woman who naturally wrote an extremely angular hand?

No. You didn't. That's flat. Maybe you have seen persons who were apparently of placid dispositions write such hands, and maybe you have known nervous, alert persons who were taught to round their letters into smooth curves and who did so when they were trying to write well.

But the angular hand and the placid temperament absolutely do not go together.

If a man's writing is angular, and you find him calm and placid in manner, be warned. Underneath the surface you have one who is keenly alert, quick in thought and action, with a natural tendency toward energy and activity, no matter how well he may suppress it. And also, he has nerves which can get on edge and cause trouble for you if you're too careless with them.

Did you ever notice that women's writing is more often angular than men's? That is because the characteristics mentioned are more often found in women than in men (barring our suppositions illustration of an assumed placidity). Aren't they?

For the rest, people who write angularly are apt to be restless, practical and industrious, emphatic and quick in their opinions, and with a certain manual dexterity.

Is The University Bylaw Good Business For London?

By the passage of the University Bylaw on Monday, December 5, next, London will obligate itself for $250,000. In taxation that means 30c on every $1,000 of assessment for 20 years. But that $250,000 in the next two years grows into millions of dollars to be spent and circulated in London. If London helps herself by voting for this bylaw, others will help London.

It means $800,000 immediately available, promised by the Ontario Government. It means $100,000 promised by the county of Middlesex.

FIVE MILLIONS IN TWO YEARS

A total of not less than $5,000,000 will be spent in the city during the next two years if this bylaw carries.

Is it worth 30c on a $1,000 assessment?

If a great industrial corporation proposed to spend $3,000,000 in plant and to circulate for wages and materials another $2,000,000 in two years, and could guarantee to keep on increasing its pay roll for years and years to come, on condition of a grant of $250,000, costing the ratepayers only 30c per $1,000 of assessment, WHO would hesitate to vote for it?

By carrying the bylaw and securing these sums there will be spent on new buildings for the Western University in the next two years $2,000,000

By affiliated colleges which now have their own sites selected 1,000,000

By students and faculties now spending $750,000 a year 1,500,000

For maintenance at $300,000 a year 600,000

But this is not all. In two years with the buildings now planned, the student body and faculties would have grown from 750, as at present, spending $750,000, to at least 1,000, spending $1,000,000 a year; while the maintenance expenditure will grow from $300,000 a year to at least $400,000. And these expenditures in London by students and faculties and for maintenance will continue for practically all time and will grow three and fourfold in the next 10 or 15 years. In 10 years it is estimated Western University will have between 2,500 and 3,000 students.

Universities are among the world's longest-lived institutions, surviving governments, dynasties and empires. Oxford is 800 years old. Heidelberg is 535 years old, Harvard 282 years, and our own Canadian McGill has just celebrated its hundredth anniversary.

MILLIONS FROM OUTSIDE SOURCES

Backed by the support of its home city and the support of the Province of Ontario and County of Middlesex and the various municipalities of Western Ontario, Western University can, with every prospect of success, apply for grants from the great funds of the Rockefeller Foundation, the Carnegie Corporation and the General Education Board.

The buildings to be started now—costing $3,000,000—are only the beginning, and new buildings will be erected steadily for the next 15 or 20 years, and London, for these purposes, will be drawing from OUTSIDE SOURCES millions of new dollars to be spent here.

To accomplish these big things and to secure these vast sums of outside capital, all we need do is to carry this bylaw for $250,000. It is the core of the ball which, when started, will roll up into millions.

Yes, the Western University Bylaw is good business for the City of London.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN.
CHEESE ADDS FLAVOR

SE cheese to give your vegetables a richness not to be gained except by a most extravagant use of butter and cream.

Save every scrap of cheese and put it through the food chopper. And the next time you make scalloped potatoes sprinkle grated cheese through the layers. Less butter will be required. A little grated cheese added to scrambled eggs is an improvement. Almost any vegetable salad gains much if grated cheese is sprinkled over it. And remember that just a small amount should be used, not enough to give a real cheese taste, but just enough to give a richness.

White Sauce for Vegetables. One tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1½ cups milk, 2 teaspoons grated cheese, ½ teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper.

Melt the butter, stir in the flour and mix smoothly. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly and letting the mixture thicken each time before milk is added. When all the milk is in add the cheese, salt and pepper. Cook five minutes and pour over vegetable. There is not enough cheese put into this sauce to detect it, but the sauce has a flavor that tones up any vegetable.

The Italians serve grated cheese with a delicious vegetable soup, each person putting in much or little. As this takes a lot of cheese the Canadian cook uses a scrap of cheese. It can give her a delightful tang by stirring 2 tablespoons of cheese into a quart of soup just before serving.

Sprinkle grated cheese over an apple pie just when it comes out of the oven. The cheese won't melt and then "cake" over the crust, but just soften and stick.

A very little grated cheese added to any sandwich filling makes it possible to use the minimum amount of butter on the bread.

Any vegetable that is served plain with butter and salt and pepper can be made more appetizing if grated cheese is sprinkled over the dish just before sending to the table.

PERSONALS
Mrs. H. T. McMahon was the hostess last week of a tea given at her home in Huron street.

Mrs. Charles Nicholls, St. George Apartments, accompanied by her daughter Ruggie, spent last week in Delhi.

Mrs. F. H. Roy Baker of St. Catharines, accompanied by her small son, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Walter Hawken, Rectory street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jackson, Miss Watson and Mr. Cameron moved in from Woodstock on Sunday to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. Evans, Lorne avenue.

The "Order of the Golden Quill" was held on Lady Byng, talented authoress wife of the Governor-General of Canada, on Monday afternoon, by the Toronto Women's Press Club, when she was presented with a membership badge of the club, a tiny gold feather bearing the letters, "T. W. P. C." by the president, Mrs. R. S. Black. The presentation took place at a tea given in honor of Lady Byng by the club, for which Mr. and Mrs. Deacon threw open their Rosedale home, "Elmhurst." Miss Lucy Swanson Doyle, president of the Canadian Women's Press Club, at the same time asked Her Excellency to accept an honorary membership in the C. W. P. C., reminding her of delightful reminiscences of early days in Canada written by Mrs. Simcoe, wife of a former governor-general, and asking if Lady Byng would turn her literary gifts to the story of this country as she saw it.

The London Women's Press Club is planning to entertain Lady Byng during her visit in January.

Mrs. Adolph Coates, formerly Hazelet Coles, held her post-nuptial reception at her pretty home in the Major Apartments on Tuesday afternoon. The bride received her many guests wearing a gown of white brocade with pink roses, and a corsage of pink roses, and wearing a corsage bouquet of pink roses, received with her daughter; also Mrs. R. Coates, wearing a handsome black gown with a sequin overdress, and a corsage of roses and violets. The apartment with its artistic arrangement of flowers and ferns looked most inviting. The living-room was decked with yellow and pink mums, while pink roses were used effectively in the dining room. The tea table looked very pretty, centred with a dainty lace cloth, and decorated with pink roses in a silver basket, and pink unshaded candles. Tea was poured by Mrs. Ora Newton and Mrs. Wm. Buchanan, while Mrs. Nelson George and Mrs. Rose Johnson ushered the numerous guests to the tea room. The tea-room assistants were Mrs. J. R. Armstrong, Mrs. Hubert Eckert, Miss Gertrude Coates, Miss Amy Blair and Miss Gertrude Anderson.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up
This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a refreshing, restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for coughs, whooping cough, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 1½ cups of Pinex into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, butter or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get 16 ounces—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

St. John's Bazaar
Is Bright Event

Christmas Decorations, Colorful Booths, Pretty Wares Prove Irresistible Attractions.

Colorful surroundings and splendid patronage made the bazaar held at the Church of St. John the Evangelist on Tuesday one of the brightest events of the week. The Sunday school room was thronged with patrons during both the afternoon and evening, and the bazaar will be continued Wednesday.

Gay Christmas decorations and various colored flowers were used effectively to decorate the various booths, which displayed pretty wares. Mrs. A. R. Boug, general convener, welcomed the shoppers, many of whom stayed to enjoy a cup of tea.

The tea-room was in charge of Mrs. E. Jeeves, with Mrs. Gates and Mrs. Ray Lawson pouring at a table decked with bright colored flowers.

Members of the choir presided over the White Elephant Booth, where useful Christmas gifts could be purchased. Mrs. Frank Lawson was convener of the home-cooking still, laden with a tempting array of cookies, cakes and buns, besides a collection of lovely house plants.

The dolls, some of which, it was whispered, came from New York, were in charge of Mrs. A. L. G. Clark. Here were baby dolls and rag dolls and even dolls dressed as brides. A splendid collection of groceries was to be found in the Country Store, which was in charge of Mrs. C. R. Bartram. Mrs. Oliver Ellwood was the convener of the fancy work booth, where were exhibited the daintiest of articles, all hand made. A table of aprons, all of which were disposed of from tiny tea aprons to gingham ones, that could be worn as house dresses.

During the evening excellent music was provided by the Sunday School Orchestra.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box
SENDS LARGE MITE.
Dear Cynthia—Have been a silent reader of your corner for some time, but thought I would like to send my mite for S. C. H. fund. In wishing your Mail-Box every success, I am, myself, JOHANN.

Has forwarded the pattern you requested, Johann. Thank you for such a generous mite.

Dear Miss Grey—I wonder if any of the Boxites could help me select a name for a summer cottage? Does anyone know a good cure for dandruff and what will brighten up dull pearl hair? Now, I hope I am not asking too many questions.

"OTHERS."
The following cures for warts have been sent in by readers: Wind piece of white cloth over wart twice daily. In a few days the top of the wart will drop off and the scar will wear away in time. (2) Scrap from a penny, then rub the warts with it four or five times a day or until they have disappeared. (3) Take a piece of washing soda, and after scrubbing the hands are washed, rub damp, rub soda on wart and let dry. If done regularly the wart will soon disappear. I am referring your other queries to the mail-box readers. I received your mite, and many thanks for the same. Snowdrops' address is not on file, but if she sends it I shall forward the pieces to her.

ATTENTION, ELGORA.
Dear Cynthia and Mail-Box Friends—I am writing this letter to ask if any of our Mail-Box friends will help me, as I have six children practically without clothes and shoes. Would anyone having anything to spare that would fit a boy of 9 years or a girl of 8, boy of 5 and 4 and 2 years old, send them to me? If anyone has a pair of pants, would be glad to get them.

"A MOTHER IN DISTRESS."
P. S.—Waist measure 30 inches, skirt measure 36 inches.

If anyone wishes to help a Mother in Distress they may have her address from the Mail-Box. Please do not send parcels to the Mail-Box to be forwarded.

RETURNS PATTERN.
Dear Miss Grey—I am returning baby bonnet pattern, and thank you very much. I will send some crochet edgings for Mail Box use. When I have a little spare time, will also send mite in next letter and names of seeds I wish to get.

SUNNY SALLY.
I am quite pleased to have the bonnet pattern, once more in the Mail-Box, Sally. I thought it had been mislaid.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS.
"LAND OF UNDERNEATH"
[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

"It looked like Fairyland, as indeed it was, or part of it." The Land of Underneath, where Pim and Nance were, was a most remarkable place. True, it was under the earth, with the entrance by the dog-wood tree (where human eyes could not see it—unless, like the Twins, they were enchanted shoes), but that was no reason why it should be ugly or unattractive. To judge the Land of Underneath by the ground we dig down in to plant potatoes, would be like judging a beautiful palace by the ugly, grey stones of the roof.

It was Pim Pim himself. "I'm ever so glad to see you, my dear Twins," he said, shaking hands heartily all the way round, and tipping his big hat. "I was sure that my old friend the Mushroom here would help me out of my trouble. I hear you are fine workers."

Military Effect in Serge

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The high military collar, with buttons reaching from beneath the ears in diverging lines to the under-sleeve line, adds an original touch to a Paul Poiret day costume of blue serge.

A basque effect is accentuated by rows of loose leather fringe, the same trimming finishing the unique sleeves, which start from the collar and end in the bell-shaped cuff.

The skirt is full and round. With this costume Poiret has designed a novel hat of steel velvet embroidered in silver nailheads. The hat is rather larger than the usual run of chapeaux on which nailheads are used and the effect is somewhat like an impracticable fortress door.

However, the steel tints are most artistic and becoming to a youthful countenance.

WILL CELEBRATE RIGHT TO VOTE
Whether their favorite candidate is elected or not on December 6th, Y. W. C. A. girls are going to celebrate on general principles. They are going to celebrate emancipation from the inequalities experienced by their mothers and older sisters, and do honor to the enfranchisement of Canadian womanhood and the occasion of casting their own first ballots in a federal election.

To have a picnic in this plan, the association is keeping open house at "Lenore," the King street residence, on election night, with whippers of open fires and other conditions favorable to comfort and merrymaking. There the girls may go with their escorts when they find they are getting too chilly watching the returns in front of newspaper offices.

Need Good Roads

New President Ontario Women's Institute Talks of Federation's Problems, Plans.

"The big thought in the minds of Women's Institute workers all over the province is to get their war memorials completed as speedily as possible," said the newly-appointed president of the Ontario Federation, Mrs. George Edwards, Komoka, to The Advertiser on Tuesday, on the occasion of her first visit to London since the provincial convention in Toronto, at which the honor was bestowed upon her.

"How does it feel to be chief officer of an organization representing hundreds of branches and thousands of women?"

"Like a very grave responsibility," said Mrs. Edwards. "I thoroughly realize, I can assure you, that it is going to involve a great deal of hard work and hard thinking to keep the federation in the position it has held in the past, and insure its progress to keep pace with the problems and responsibilities of the time."

"Closely allied with the war memorial idea is that of conserving the young life of our country to grow up for strong citizenship, hence the extent to which we are emphasizing health and child welfare. To this end, I feel we can do work to the best possible advantage with the Junior Red Cross, in getting the children to take an intelligent interest in keeping themselves well and strong. It is an added inducement for a boy to get enough sleep, eat the right food, keep his teeth clean and obey other health rules when he knows that he will be all the more fitted for football and other games by doing so. Personally, I like the international aspect of the Junior Red Cross. When a girl knows that some other little girl in a far away European country is keeping her window open at night to be healthy, it gives the small Canadian a sense of partnership and world citizenship."

"Our federation stands for better education, for better schools, for more enlightened and broader visioned trustees. Of course, we are working to have the idea of consolidated schools, in order that the children of rural districts may enjoy the advantages of city children. But, all districts are not ready for this yet, because of bad roads. We can't pick the children up in a township and take them to a central school unless we have good roads to lead to the school. You see how important a factor physical conditions can be in standing in the way of the intellectual advancement of the community."

SOCIETY GIRLS PLAY MANNIKINS
Several of London's prominent society girls are playing the roles of mannikins in the Fashion Show, which is to be a novel feature of the Princess Patricia Chapter, I. O. D. E., bazaar, in aid of the War Memorial Children's Hospital in the Masonic Temple on Thursday evening. Those taking part are: Mrs. Russell Beattie, Misses Doris Belton, Margaret Glass, Dinky Cox, Angela and Eleanor McPhillips and Isabel Coles.

Another very special attraction for the evening is the clever play, "A Marriage Has Been Arranged," which will be presented by Col. and Mrs. Lyne-Evans.

Many beautiful things have been donated for the booths, and it has been whispered that these are marked at alluringly moderate prices. The Sir John Carling Chapter is taking charge of the tea room in the afternoon, and serving light refreshments in the evening.

The objective of the Princess Patricia Chapter is to complete its quota for the hospital.

WOMEN'S CLUBS
ELECT OFFICERS.
On Sunday the promoters of the League of the Sacred Heart held their election of officers in St. Peter's Hall.

Mrs. M. Kiley was chosen president, Mrs. W. McPhillips, vice-president; Miss Eileen Cote, treasurer, and Miss Frances McCarty, secretary.

McALL AUXILIARY AIDS ORPHANS.
An encouraging feature of the quarterly meeting of the London McAll Auxiliary, held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Brown, 55 Ridout street, South London, was the welcoming of new members who have been interested in the work.

Communications from the workers in France told of the success of a summer home to give war orphans an outing, established by the mission, and of the work of rehabilitation in progress at Fides-Lille, where Mons. Nick has rendered valuable service.

Mrs. J. H. McMechan presided, Mrs. John Cottam giving an inspiring Bible reading. A collection for the support of a war orphan amounted to $40. Emphasis was laid on the fact that the work of the McAll Mission is undenominational. Tea was served by the hostesses after the business and program.

ARE FORMING MOTHERS' UNITS.
Mrs. Wm. McPhillips is to be appointed president of the executive formed from the union of the Mothers' Units, which are being organized in the local separate schools by the Catholic Women's League. Three of the schools have already appointed their officers, namely, St. Martin's, St. Mary's and the Sacred Heart.

The distribution of milk in the separate schools has already begun, under the direction of these units. The officers appointed are: In St. Mary's school, president, Mrs. M. Carney; first vice-president, Mrs. Wm. Hay; sec-treas., Mrs. Conroy; program convener, Mrs. John Haines; refreshment convener, Mrs. Joseph Larkin; press secretary, Mrs. C. Kelleher. In the Sacred Heart school: President, J. P. Nolan; first vice-president, Mrs. P. J. Morgan; sec-treas., Mrs. Donohue; refreshment convener, Mrs. E. Fortin; program convener, Mrs. Chas. Finney; press secretary, Mrs. Fred Coles. In St. Martin's school: President, Mrs. Blundell; first vice-president, Mrs. Ashwell; refreshment convener, Mrs. Lethbridge; program convener, Mrs. McHale; press secretary, Mrs. Coveart.

Invitations have been issued for a rugby party to be held on Friday evening, Dec. 9th, in the Winter Gardens, under the auspices of the West-End University Athletic Association.

VETERANS SURE KING WILL HELP THEM IN HOUSE

Declare His Replies To Questionnaire More Satisfactory Than Meighen's.

TO REFER TO EXECUTIVE

Note That Liberals Have More Soldier Candidates in Field Than Tories.

TORONTO, Nov. 29.—This is by far the most satisfactory reply that we have received to the questionnaire put to him by the president of the Grand Army of United Veterans, declared Tuesday, comparing the reply to the soldiers by the Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King with similar communications from the Hon. Arthur Meighen and the Hon. T. A. C. Crerar. The two latter have already been published.

In discussing the Liberal leader's reply to the questionnaire put to him by the G. A. U. V. as to his proposed treatment of the returned men, if elected, Mr. King was quite enthusiastic, and said: "Mr. King's words are particularly significant and of vast importance. He assures us that our claims will meet with not only justice but generosity. These are the most favorable words that we have heard from any of the party leaders."

The text of the Liberal leader's reply to the twelve queries of the G. A. U. V. is as follows: "I received only at midnight on Saturday your letter of Nov. 22, requesting on behalf of the Grand Army of United Veterans a statement from me as the leader of the Liberal party regarding re-establishment proposals of the Grand Army of United Veterans, authorized by the Dominion board of directors at a special meeting held in Toronto on Sunday, Nov. 13, and submitted to the leaders of all political parties and to individual candidates for federal elections.

Speaks As Leader. "In considering the reply I should make to each of the several proposals, I am obliged to recognize that it is impossible for me to expect any dissection, in the public mind or in the mind of any of the members of your association, of views expressed by myself as an individual candidate in the present elections from views expressed by me as one who also carries the responsibility of a leader of one of the political parties. I presume it is primarily as the leader of the Liberal party that you wish me to reply. If, therefore, in the reply I am making I find it necessary to speak in general rather than in specific terms with respect to the proposals submitted, I hope you will not feel that this is owing to any desire to evade clear and definite responsibility, but rather to be perfectly sure in my own mind, that in the expression of views I am making, I may rely with confidence upon the whole-hearted support of my fellow-Liberals in all parts of the country.

"I believe that the whole matter of further re-establishment of soldiers and all questions incidental thereto should be reopened and reconsidered by the new parliament, which fortunately will be more representative in its character than the parliament which has just been dissolved. In this connection I would favor the appointment of a committee of the House of Commons empowered to take into consideration all of the suggestions contained in the re-establishment proposals submitted. I would further favor the committee being given the widest powers to consider all matters relevant to these proposals, and having no restrictions placed upon its findings by the government.

To Exert Influence. "I should like to add that, speaking for myself personally, I should not hesitate to endorse the principles underlying practically all of the several resolutions, and that any influence I may have with respect to these kindred matters will be gladly exerted at any and all times with a view to seeing that the returned men and the dependents of those who sacrificed life or health in the great war are dealt with not only justly, but generously. "Yours very sincerely, "(Sgd.) W. L. MACKENZIE KING."

The Liberal leader sent to C. G. McNeil, secretary of the G. A. U. V., practically the same answer as that given to the G. A. U. V. "That leaves the whole question open so far as he is concerned—and his party—on all the 12 points raised in our questionnaire," commented Mr. Tillet.

Claim Abandoned. "Of course as an organization we have not taken any definite stand for any party in this election. The nature of this reply of Mr. King's is not foreseen and I cannot say just what the action of the organization may now be. It is probable that we will call a meeting of the Dominion executive to deal with the matter."

The G. A. U. V. has, of course, abandoned its claim for a cash gratuity of $2,000 per man and is now asking for a system of cash bonuses as re-establishment of veterans, according to their condition.

Several leaders of the organization

ALVIN, THE LANDLADY'S NEPHEW ENTERTAINS MISS FISHER'S BEAU.

did not attempt to conceal their satisfaction at the answers of Mr. King. "Why that opens up the whole question again in the new parliament," said one. "That letter should make Mackenzie King premier."

Another remarked that the Liberals had far more soldier candidates than the Tories. This indicated something. He hinted also that the veterans would throw their strength behind General Rennie in North Toronto, as well as behind Straight in West York, Rayfield in East Toronto, Hunter in West Toronto, and MacGregor in South York. Sgt. Walter Rayfield, V.C., veteran candidate in East Toronto, while not committing himself on the King answer for the time being, remarked that "that's the thing I am fighting for—the reopening of the whole question of the treatment of the soldiers in the next parliament."

BOY THUG SOBS HE WAS LURED IN THEFT PLOT

Detroit Youth, Who Gave Up $5,000 Loot by Mistake, Bares Threats.

SAYS HE FACED DEATH

Heart-Broken Mother's Faith in Prisoner is Still Implicit.

DETROIT, Nov. 29.—Declaring himself the unwilling tool of a professional bandit, John Pietkewicz, 17 years old, 1473 Philadelphia avenue east, weeps in Central Station as he awaits the arrival of police officers of Boston who are to take him back with them to stand trial for his participation in the robbery of the Walton Shoe Company's $25,000 payroll last Saturday.

Pietkewicz gave himself up to two fellow-passengers on a Michigan Central train Monday in the belief they were detectives. In the hands of the astonished passengers, Michael J. McDonough, 4370 Malborough avenue, Detroit, and William M. Coney of Chicago, he placed $5,000, his share of the loot. When the train reached Detroit, McDonough and Coney turned Pietkewicz over to the police.

Says He Was Lured Away. The boy, who left his home here last June to go east, says he was influenced by a man named "William," who took him from Detroit to Boston, promising him a job in a garage there, but instead making him turn bandit. He was his first job, he told detectives, but he was his last. He went through with it.

The $25,000 payroll was en route from the First National Bank of Boston to the paymaster's department of the shoe company, in Chelsea. Five men surrounded the company's auditors. One of the bandits, James Luna, of Oilphant, Pa., was wounded in an exchange of shots with the bank messengers, and captured. John Dubok of Scranton, Pa., in whose room in Everett the police found nearly $21,000 of the stolen funds, pleaded not guilty in Chelsea court to a charge of robbery while armed. He was held in $15,000 bonds for a hearing Dec. 7.

Mother Defends Boy. The boy's mother firmly believes he was the unwilling tool of what she calls "Bolsheviks."

With tears streaming down her face, the heart-broken mother sobbed out her belief that her "good Johnnie" never of his own accord entered into a robbery plot. "When I saw him at the police station," she said, "I said to him, 'Johnnie, how could you do it? Didn't you think of me and my poor heart?'"

"And he told me: 'Yes, mamma, but they put a gun at my heart and told me they would kill me if I didn't do what they said.'"

"It was that dreadful William, that Bolshevik, who came to the house and got my boy to go away with him to look for work. He was a Russian. I don't know his last name."

"And Johnnie, he loved me so. Times are bad and we have such a hard time to support all the seven children. Johnnie could not find any work. He would look for a job and come home crying."

"Johnnie, I would say, 'Why do you cry?'"

"And he would tell me: 'Because I cannot see you work so hard, mamma, and I cannot help you.'"

"He used to help me with the housework, and he sang in the church choir."

Persistence of Canadian Mail Service Uniquely Demonstrated.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CLANDEBOY, Nov. 29.—A story of a rather unique, or what might be called a freak of fate, has been told recently by a lady who has lived on a farm in McGillivray Township. She amused herself by answering a puzzle which she found in the daily newspaper, but not hearing anything further about it, forgot the incident in a few months, as children will.

Some years passed. The family had long since moved away from the farm and the neighborhood, and the child was now a girl in her early twenties, when one day she was astonished at receiving a parcel literally covered with postmarks, which, when opened, proved to be the prize for the puzzle answered so long ago. It had been following her to various addresses for years, to reach her at last in the city, an interesting demonstration of the persistence and efficiency of the Canadian postal service. The lady intends keeping the prize as a most interesting souvenir of her childhood days.

Tell your druggist you want only the genuine "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother, you must say "California." Refuse any imitation.

BY AHERN, DENY KITCHENER HUN SPY VICTIM

LONDON, Nov. 29.—(By Canadian Press Cable)—The war office has applied a heavy hand to the rumors that Lord Kitchener, who was lost in the North Sea, when his boat, the Hampshire, was attacked by a German submarine, was betrayed by a female German spy, which is the subject of the film held up by the London board of censors.

The war office admits that a German woman, Elsie Becker, is boasting in Berlin that she got ten thousand marks from Germany for the alleged achievement, but points out that she was sentenced in London to two months imprisonment, one month before the Hampshire sailed and long before arrangements for the journey were made.

PICKED POCKETS TO SEE MOTHER

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Elsie Williams ended a brief career as a pick-pocket today when he was arrested while making his first dip into a woman's pocket for a purse that contained nine cents and a subway ticket. In magistrate's court he admitted his guilt, saying he decided to turn pick-pocket in order to obtain funds to go to the bedside of his mother who, he declared, was seriously ill in Toronto. He was held in $1,000 bail for further examination.

KING CHARGES MEIGHEN TRIES TO BUY SEATS

Reveals Appropriation of Millions of Dollars in Last Few Days.

RAPS AUTOCRATIC RULE

Promises To Name Cabinet of Ablest Men in All Canada.

OSHAWA, Ont., Nov. 29.—(By Canadian Press staff correspondent.)—The return of Mr. Meighen's government means an endorsement of autocracy for another five years. The return of Mr. Meighen and the Progressives means a leap in the dark to no one knows what, but the return of a Liberal administration of Tuesday next, will mean the formation of a cabinet composed of the best men from every province in Canada representing agriculture, labor, returned soldiers and the business, professional and commercial classes.

This was the declaration of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, in concluding his address to some 2,000 Oshawa and district people at the armories tonight.

"The cabinet should be a mirror of the constituent elements of the nation, not represented there as groups, but each co-operating and working together for the good of the whole Dominion," Mr. King declared. "If I am chosen at the head of the next government, as I expect I will be, my aim will be to gather about me the best men from every class and province and with them seek to bring Canada back to prosperity and harmony, such as she greatly needs."

When Mr. King rose to speak a man at one side of the hall shouted: "Where were you in the war?" and quickly from another man came the retort: "The same place as Arthur Meighen."

Back Two-Party System.

The Liberal leader spoke strongly in favor of the two-party system in Canada.

Headache

Recurring headaches usually come from an exhaustion of the nervous system, and they do not disappear until the vigor of the nerve cells is restored by such up-building treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Temporary relief by use of powders is often obtained at an enormous expense to the nervous system and the general health.

Get the nerves right and the headaches will not return.

Mrs. W. J. Pearce, Nunn St., Cobourg, Ont., writes:

"My system became run-down and I suffered greatly with pain in my head. This was so severe that I would have to bind a cloth tightly about my head so that I could get my work done. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after taking the first box I found quite an improvement in my condition. I continued using them until I had taken about seven boxes, and they strengthened and built up my system splendidly, completely relieving the pain in my head."

Helps to break up colds

When you feel too cold coming on, put plenty of Sloan's Liniment on your throat, chest and back just before going to bed. It starts warm, tingling circulation that keeps the cold from "settling" and helps break it up, while its healthy vapors soothe and clear the lungs and throat. Don't rub—don't bandage—it penetrates.

To Keep Hair Wavy, Lustrous, Beautiful

The use of the hot curling-iron cannot be too strongly condemned. It means death to the hair eventually. Moreover it is entirely unnecessary. The hair can be kept beautiful and in perfect condition to any extent and in any form desired, by using the simple and harmless silmerine method. Liquid silmerine should be applied to the hair before doing it up, using a clean tooth brush. In about three hours you will find that a very pretty "natural" wave and curliness has resulted, and the effect will last quite a considerable time.

Liquid silmerine is really beneficial and is not sticky nor greasy. Neither does it streak the hair nor stain the scalp. You need not only a few ounces from your drugist. The best way is to divide the front and back hair into four to six strands and to moisten each strand separately from root to tip—Adv.

BYNG APPEALS TO OFFICERS TO AID VETERANS

Asks Them To Extend Hand of Friendship To Soldiers' Clubs.

LADY BYNG URGES UNITY

Accepts Badge of Honorary President of Daughters of Empire.

TORONTO, Nov. 29.—Lord Byng at the Military Institute here today appealed to the officers members to take an interest in returned soldiers' organizations.

In a brief speech, following his reception, to the members he said that he understood that there were several organizations of returned men in Canada.

"I would ask you if you would extend the hand of friendship to these associations. They were the same badges as you did and I think they feel just as proud of them as you feel. If you would extend the hand of friendship to them I think that they would come out, not with one hand, but with both hands extended," said Lord Byng.

Her Excellency Lady Byng addressed the Municipal Chapter of the Order of the Daughters of the Empire at a luncheon later in the day in the new ballroom of the King Edward Hotel, which, large as it is, was not big enough to accommodate all the ladies who wished to be present.

Lady Byng referred to the unity which the I. O. D. E. represents and said it was the basic principle of all things.

Unity Developed Canada.

"It was unity which made Canada and turned it from a wild forest into the rose of the dominions of the empire," she said. "The same unity of work and effort and purpose won the war."

Lady Byng urged co-ordination and co-operation on the part of the women, emphasizing the fact that although the world was at the gateway of peace there remained much more to be done. The effort of women was necessary, she said.

"Both my husband and myself," her excellency said, "are keen on the fullest measure of co-operation. It will take

A Real Whole Wheat Porridge

The hot-porridge habit is a good habit for the cold days—but be sure it is a whole wheat porridge—one that contains all the elements needed to build and sustain the human body.

Shredded Wheat

makes the best whole wheat porridge because it is thoroughly cooked and contains all the elements needed by the human body. Being ready-cooked saves fuel and time.

To make a real whole wheat porridge place the Shredded Wheat Biscuits in a sauce-pan, adding salt and enough water to cover the bottom of the pan. Stir and boil until it thickens. Serve hot in porridge dish with milk or cream. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is delicious for any meal with hot milk.

"The Hot Dish for the Cold Days"

The Fate of the Dominion rests in the hands of The Women of Canada

WOMEN OF CANADA—Today you hold the greatest power ever held by the women of any nation in the history of the world. The fate of the Dominion rests in your hands. The whole outside world is watching what you will do with your vote, watching to see whether you are going to let Canada lose in peace what she gained in War.

Through the long struggle of the war you proved yourselves equal with men in stern, unselfish patriotism and fervent devotion to duty. In war you gave your husbands, sons, brothers, lovers and carried Canada over the top. In peace you are to decide whether Canada is to become the great nation for which your men fought and gave their lives, or whether uncertainty, unrest and discord are to prevail.

In the days that are past, Canada's progress has been hampered by different factions pulling in different directions. East and West, Quebec and Ontario, farm and factory, labor and capital, various races and creeds, have all been acting in opposition, selfishly, and to the disadvantage of the nation as a whole.

WOMEN OF CANADA—in this election you can compel all the factions in the Dominion to pull together. With all communities and interests from the Atlantic to the Pacific acting in unison and in harmony, Canada will take its rightful place as one of the foremost nations of the world.

The only thing that can hold back Canada's prosperity is lack of national unity. WOMEN—Vote for a united Canada—compel unity. United, Canada is safe; divided, Canada faces the financial collapse that is at present engulfing half the world.

What Canada needs to ensure unity is wise, constructive, impartial government.

MEIGHEN is the leader of the Government which gave you the vote. He is the only leader in Canada today who stands firm for policies which are a guarantee of unity, for policies which have respect for the interests of all classes. His policies will conserve the home, give employment to your bread-winners, and ensure security and prosperity for farm and factory, forest and mine, for the whole country.

My Special Appeal To Women

To the Women of Canada, I make this especial appeal. I ask you to earnestly and thoroughly study the great issues that now confront the country, and to conscientiously seek a personal decision, refusing steadfastly to be moved by reckless appeals, or by the cry of prejudice or by class appeal. I ask you to review my record and if you find my past and present stand on the great questions concerning the Dominion's National policies acceptable, I ask you not only to vote for my candidate in your constituency but to exert all possible influence on his behalf. The Government which extended the franchise to the Women of Canada invites you to help to build up that which was torn down by the War and to take your proper share of the responsibilities in shaping the destinies of your country.

I ask the Women of Canada to destroy definitely and forever the plans of those who, through selfish motives, attempt to unbalance the people of Canada and thus wreck the unity which made it possible for us to take such a valiant part in the great War.

I ask the Women of Canada to force that unity which will be abiding, which will result in permanent prosperity for all classes, and which will make Canada the envy of the world—that unity which is my one aim and ambition.

CRERAR REPLIES TO MURRAY ROSS

Denies United Grain Growers
Acted With Winnipeg Exchange.

Hamilton, Man., Nov. 29.—Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.—Supporters of General H. M. Dyer, independent candidate in the constituency of St. George's, spoke at the meeting held here last night by Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the Progressive party.

"To be quite frank," said Mr. Crerar, "I don't know but they are."

Mr. Crerar suggested that they pool their interests. Mr. Stubbins, the Progressive leader, said, had stated publicly in London, "If you can't support Dyer, vote for General Dyer. I want to see Crerar out."

Referring to the question of the inclusion against the grain inquiry commission, Mr. Crerar said that the United Grain Growers had not acted with the Winnipeg exchange, as charged by Mr. Stubbins, but quite independently in applying for the injunction. It had only taken this action after the "Port William" case, the greatest travesty of British justice, he added, that history recorded.

Twice, said the Progressive leader, the Grain Growers' Association had submitted its books to a complete public scrutiny and each time the evidence when had merely been distorted by government speakers on the public platform. The United Grain Growers had only taken action against the grain inquiry commission when it became quite certain that it was nothing more or less than a political move.

Breathe Hyomei for Two Minutes and Stuffed-Up Head Will Go

If you want to get safe relief from catarrh, cold in the head or from an irritating cough in the shortest time, use Hyomei.

It will clean out your head in two minutes and allow you to breathe freely, awake or asleep, or money returned.

Hyomei should end a cold in one day, and relieve you of disgusting sniffles, sneezing, spitting and offensive breath in a week.

Hyomei is made chiefly from eucalyptus, a soothing, healing, germ-killing antiseptic, that comes from the eucalyptus forests of inland Australia, where catarrh, asthma and other bronchial troubles are seldom known.

Hyomei is pleasant and easy to breathe. Just pour a few drops into the Hot Rubber Inhaler, and direct relief is almost certain.

A Complete Hyomei Outfit, including Inhaler and one bottle of Hyomei, costs but little at drugists everywhere.

Price $1.00 for complete outfit. Extra bottles 50 cents. Mail orders filled direct by Booth's Hyomei Company, Listowel, Ont.—Advt.

COUGH REMEDY SEES RENEWAL OF IRISH WAR

presented to the Ulster officials before Tuesday. The nature of the alternative proposals will not be divulged pending their consideration by the Sinn Féin.

The situation still is very critical owing to the double deadlock—Ulster refusing to enter an all-Ireland parliament and the Sinn Féin steadily refusing to yield on the question of alliance to the crown. The negotiations, however, have not been broken off and may be continued on a new basis.

De Valera On Tour.

Eamon De Valera has left Dublin for a tour of his constituency.

Winston Spencer Churchill, colonial secretary, today spoke strongly in favor of not allowing the Irish negotiations to drop, he believed that hope had not yet been extinguished.

Mr. Churchill warmly welcomed the action of President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes, in calling the Washington conference which, he declared, promised to bring about a triple understanding between the United States, Great Britain and Japan on Pacific problems. England, he said, would do everything possible for its success.

The secretary advocated another triple understanding between England, France and Germany, as the only possible means which might be persistently pursued for the political and financial restoration of Europe.

Craig Bares Stand.

In his address before the Northern Parliament today, Sir James Craig told the members—as he had told the British prime minister on the first day of his visit, which he described as "black Saturday"—that such a scheme as an all-Ireland parliament was impossible, utterly impossible.

On the other hand, the Sinn Féin is insistent upon the unity of Ireland, and is still adamant on the question of the oath of allegiance.

The Ulster premier added that the Sinn Féin had still Dec. 6 to decide whether negotiations were to be broken off, but in Sinn Féin quarters, it is asserted, it is for the government to pull the conference out of the fire. This view apparently is held also in government quarters, for the prime minister was not slow in putting his intention of making fresh proposals to the Sinn Féin in practice.

A conference was called in Downing street, and Lord Birkenhead for the government, and Michael Collins, Arthur Griffith and Eamon J. Duggan, representatives of the Sinn Féin, were called together as to what steps should be taken in the circumstances.

China Winning Ten
Points at Parley

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—
China on further concessions today, in the conference of the Pacific and the Far East.

In conformity with the Root resolutions declaring for the territorial and administrative integrity of China, the Pacific and the Far Eastern committee adopted resolutions looking to abandonment of foreign courts in China.

The resolutions, drafted by the subcommittee, provide for an international commission of jurists, which is to report within a year whether the Chinese laws and court practices warrant abandonment of the foreign courts created under treaties granting extra-territorial rights in China.

Immediately these resolutions were adopted the Chinese delegates present another of their "ten points"—that declaring for withdrawal of all foreign troops from Chinese soil and also for abandonment of foreign telegraph, radio and police wire systems.

Urges Rail Policing.

Japanese spokesmen dealt with the necessity of policing railroads and telegraph lines. Discussion of the troop and wire questions is to continue tomorrow.

Stress was laid by the Chinese delegates before the Far Eastern committee today on the question of foreign troops in China. Their presence, Dr.

See declared, palpably was a violation of Chinese integrity, inasmuch as the troops were sent into the republic without China's consent and over her protests. Dr. See asked that the conference "specifically discontinue" the alleged violations.

The Pacific and Far Eastern committee, after today's session, issued the following communique:

"The committee on Pacific and Far Eastern questions met this morning at 11 o'clock.

"Senator Lodge, whose report on behalf of the sub-committee on foreign postoffices in China was accepted yesterday, today presented resolutions of the sub-committee on extra-territorial rights in China, which were unanimously adopted by the committee as follows:

"Resolution for the establishment of a commission to investigate and report on extra-territoriality and the administration of justice in China.

"The representatives of the powers hereinafter named participating in the discussion of Pacific and Far Eastern questions in the conference on limitation of armaments—The United States of America, Belgium, the British Empire, France, Italy, Japan, The Netherlands, and Portugal—

"Having taken note of the fact that in the treaty between Great Britain and China, dated Sept. 5, 1902, in the treaty between the United States of America and China, dated Oct. 8, 1903, and in the treaty between Great Britain and China, dated Oct. 8, 1903, these several powers have agreed to give every assistance to the Chinese Government for the purpose of the restoration of the Chinese Government of its expressed desire to reform its judicial system and to bring it into accord with that of western nations and have declared that they are also prepared to do so, and that they are satisfied that the state of the Chinese laws, the arrangements for their administration and other considerations warrant them in so doing:

"Have resolved:

"Will Name Commission.

"That the governments of the powers above named shall establish a commission (to which each of such governments shall appoint one member) to investigate into the present practice of extra-territorial jurisdiction in China, and into the laws and judicial system of China with a view of reporting to the governments of the several powers above named their findings and their recommendations as to such means as they may find suitable to improve the existing conditions of the administration of justice in China and to secure the further efforts of the Chinese Government to effect such legislation and judicial reform as may warrant the several powers in reinquishing, either progressively or otherwise, their respective rights of extraterritoriality.

"That the commission herein contemplated shall be constituted within three months after the adjournment of the conference and shall be instructed to submit its report and recommendations within one year after the first meeting of the commission.

"Mr. See of the Chinese delegation submitted detailed data to show the extent to which China's territorial and administrative integrity is now being violated.

Includes Armed Troops.

"The data included a tentative list of foreign troops, police boxes and railway guards in China which showed that Japan maintained garrisons as follows: Shantung, four battalions of an average numerical strength of 525 men, and also a force of gendarmes; Hankow, one battalion, together with detachments of special troops and Manchuria, one division. The data also showed that in 1917 there were 27
Japanese police agencies in Manchuria, and that since then these had increased, or efforts were being made to increase them.

"With respect to wireless stations the tentative list shows that without the consent of China, Japan had established eleven stations; France four stations;
Britain two and the United States five.
Japan, the data shows maintains without the sanction of the Chinese Government, wire telegraphs at Peking, Tien Tsin, fourteen stations along the Shantung Railway, 34 along the Southern Manchurian Railway and in Chan-chun, Hunan and Yangke, Russian telegraphs exist along the Chinese Eastern Railway.

"The delegation also submitted a description of the Japanese police in Manchuria according to locality and jurisdiction and detailed the events leading up to their establishment. The number of Japanese police stationed in South Manchuria was placed at 1,093 officers and men, and those along the two railways there an additional 1,094.
Late reports, it was added, were that more police stations were being established in Mukden City and other points.

"After giving the above data the communique says:

"The committee then discussed the question of foreign troops and foreign police in China and adjourned to meet at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning."

ACCEPT RESIGNATION

OF SUZANNE'S OFFICIAL

Paris, Nov. 30.—The French Lawn Tennis Federation yesterday accepted the resignation of Captain Albert R. De Joannis as a member and as vice-president of that organization. The resignation of Captain De Joannis, who was manager for Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, French woman tennis champion, on her trip to the United States last summer, was tendered last Sunday in protest against the federation's condemnation of the United States Lawn Tennis Association for "unjustified commentaries upon the sporting spirit of Mlle. Lenglen."

Accompanying the federation's acceptance of the resignation was a resolution stating that the French organization had no quarrel with the United States Lawn Tennis Association, but objected to the unmeasured terms of the highest official of the United States Tennis Association branding Mlle. Lenglen as a quitter.

DO YOUR BOWELS

FAVORS RICHMOND ST. AS LONDON'S GATEWAY

Speaking at the ratepayers' meeting at the Wortley Road school house on Monday evening, W. I. Spettigue, candidate for alderman in ward one, referred to the need of making Richmond street the gateway to London from the south. The talk of building a bridge at Eldon street to cost $155,000 was wrong, he declared, as attention should be paid to Richmond street. Mr. Spettigue also favored immediate action in dealing with repairs to Wellington street, claiming that work there had been held up for various reasons, at one time car tracks, and again sewers being laid for the delay.

CHARGES JANITOR TREATED UNFAIR

Richard Ready Declares the Teachers Lead Him Hard Life.

That a returned soldier, the janitor of the Tecumseh avenue school, is not receiving a square deal, is the contention of Richard Ready, who after a recent visit to that institution, asserts that he was greatly surprised when he learned the true conditions there.

Mr. Ready declares that this man is practically doing the work of two men. He attends two boilers, he says, cleans both fires and has to carry the ashes in a box to the yard, where he places them in a barrow and wheels them to a field. In addition to other work, Mr. Ready explains, the janitor has his room to care for. His work requires him, it is stated, to be more or less busy from 5:30 a.m. until 6 p.m. each weekday, while he has certain duties to attend to on Sundays as well. Mr. Ready claims further that both the principal and the teachers of this school are making it unpleasant for the janitor in a deliberate effort, he claims, to get rid of him.

In an effort to have conditions, which he terms as intolerable, improved, Mr. Ready informed The Advertiser on Tuesday afternoon to the above effect. He is ready to explain further to combat contradiction.

GIVES ORGAN RECITAL IN ADELAIDE ST. CHURCH

Assisted by Mr. Carmen Learn, harpist, and the Elgar Ladies' Quartet, Mr. O. Leo Herbert, organist and choir-master, gave a much-enjoyed organ recital on Tuesday evening in the Adelaide Street Baptist Church.

Technical finish, clean pedaling, clearness and fine sense of rhythm marked the playing of the recitalists, these qualities especially apparent in the First Sonata in F Minor for organ by Mendelssohn, with its difficult last movement, demanding expert pedaling, and the overture to Euryanthe (Webers). Excellent orchestral effects were achieved on a small organ in the sonata and overture.

A group of numbers by old classical composers included the work of Westley, Martini and Louis Nicolas Clerambault.

Mr. Learn afforded a treat in the singing of "A Memory" (Thomas), "My Ships Went A-Sailing," and "You Love the Time of Yuletide" (Lohr). The Elgar Ladies' Quartet, always an entertaining feature of a concert, gave "The Rosary" and "Resignation."

NEW TRUST COMPANY LOCATES AT WATERLOO

The latest financial institution to locate in Waterloo is the Ontario Equitable Trust Corporation, which will transact the usual business of a trust and loan company. It will operate in close contact with the Ontario Equitable Life & Accident Insurance Company, whose executive have been encouraged by a remarkably successful year to launch the Equitable Trust, in order to get the greatest results from the reciprocal operations of a life insurance organization and a trust company.

It is understood that the Ontario Equitable Trust already has a large block of its stock subscribed. The provisional directors are Sydney C. Tweed, Waterloo; J. A. Martin, Kitchener; Aloys Bauer, Waterloo; Peter McArthur, Appin; J. C. Breithaupt, Kitchener.

The general manager will be Mr. A. J. Frost, formerly manager of the mortgage department and secretary of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company, Toronto.

PRECEPTORY OFFICERS.

Burleigh Preceptory No. 21, Knights Templar, and Knights of Malta, elected the officers as follows for the ensuing year: W. G. Robbins, Impd. Past Em. Preceptor; W. U. Latonell, Em. Preceptor; James E. Hulse, Constable; B. F. Cascarden, Marshal; F. W. Wright, Chaplain; W. E. Isdardi, Registrar; A. Leslie, Treasurer; R. McDonald, Sub-Marshal; F. M. Bond, Guard; A. Leitch and H. E. McDonald, auditors.

WINTER IN ALGONQUIN PARK.

The Algonquin Park of Ontario has become one of the most popular of winter playgrounds, and lovers of winter sports will be glad to learn that the Grand Trunk Railway System has decided that the Highland Inn, the largest of the hotels in the park, will remain open from December 15 to March 15. Patrons are advised to make early reservation, and application for same should be addressed to the Manager, Highland Inn, Algonquin Park Station, Ontario.

HEARD SAME OLD STORY MANY TIMES

Nelson Street Resident Shocks Board of Works With Request.

Jack Mansell, a resident of Nelson street, near Wellington, kind of shook up the Board of Works on Tuesday night, when he appeared before that body, for what he intimated was the seventh time, asking that the pile of ashes, a thousand loads, more or less, placed at his door by the city, be moved.

"The Board of Works will look into the matter. We're a pretty fair body for getting things done," said the chairman, W. A. Wilson. "If I hadn't been here so often before and heard that same old story, I might believe it was all right," shot back Mansell.

Mansell told the committee that every time he had appeared he had been told that the ash pile would be moved. Prior to the dumping of the ashes along the river bank, it was a beautiful green spot. When he complained some of the ashes were moved, but those in front of his door were left.

City Clerk Baker said it was the first he heard of the complaint, and the engineer said it was the first mention made of the ashes.

"Oh, no," said Mr. Mansell. "You forget all about it, but the complaints were made, nevertheless." Ald. Ashton made some remark and Mansell replied: "I spoke to you several times and you said it would be all right, the engineer would fix it. The same old hot air."

The engineer will look into the matter, and Ald. Brighton, in whose ward the pile is, said he would also visit it. Ald. Wilson said the committee looking into the gasoline tank question could not report as it was waiting on further advice from the city solicitor. An applicant for permission to install a tank, was told that nothing would be done in the meantime. The matter will now likely fall to the lot of the new council.

May Extend Street.

W. E. Howard wants Carleton street extended through to Adelaide street. He owns practically all the property and is willing to make a deal. The engineer will report on the proposition.

F. H. Lavender said that the residents of McDonnell avenue, West London, were unable to use the road, it was in such condition and all vehicles finding it necessary to go up the street are being used. The complaint will be looked into. The complaint was made by Victor, Ridout, Cynthia and Alfred streets will be undertaken by day labor the committee instructed. Bylaws for this work are already through.

The committee had before it four plans passed by the town planning committee at a meeting earlier in the afternoon and these were approved. Two of the subdivisions are east on the Hamilton road, and one in the township. The fourth is an extension of Albion street, West London.

At the conclusion of the meeting Ald. G. B. Drake had a few words of praise to utter for the engineer's department. He said he wanted to congratulate the engineer for the work done during the year. He had done a lot of it and done it well. He also patted City Clerk Baker on the back.

TELLS VALUE OF HEALTH EFFORTS

W. E. Dyer, Welfare Worker,
Gives Continent Campaign
Details.

The Metropolitan Health Extension Bureau, under the supervision of W. E. Dyer, for many years prominent in church and social welfare work in Toronto, conducted a most interesting health educational lecture Tuesday evening in the Ridout Street Methodist Church. Alderman Frank E. Harley presided. In opening the meeting the chairman spoke briefly on behalf of the Western Union bylaw.

Mr. Dyer's lecture was illustrated with lantern slides. There were 50 reproductions in color of the world-famous Tissot Bible paintings, and 50 pictures of modern welfare work.

"Personal and public health means personal and public wealth," declared the speaker. "Health of body, mind and soul is the ideal to be sought by every citizen of this beloved Canada of ours, if we are to attain the greatest good in service to our fellow man and our Creator."

Save 38,000 Lives.

This health educational work is part of a continent-wide program of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to co-operate wherever opportunity offers with local boards of health, and state organizations. This intensive welfare work and co-operative effort are carried on entirely gratis by the company.

During 1920 over 15,000,000 copies of public welfare literature were distributed throughout the continent. It is very difficult to estimate in any definite way the value of this work, but in conjunction with the company's free nursing organization in all of the larger cities conservative statistics claim the saving to be 38,000 lives a year.

URGES IMPERIAL TRADE PROGRAM

British Commissioner F. W.
Field Visits City Manufacturers.

F. W. Field, British government trade commissioner in Ontario, is visiting the manufacturers of this city with a view to transferring foreign trade to the United Kingdom, or some other part of the Empire.

When interviewed, Mr. Field stated that he found the retail trade very much better than it was a month or so ago, and that he looked for a big increase in manufacturing concerns to keep up with the retail demands, which, he thought, were the natural course of business.

The trade commissioner's office was anxious to get in touch with manufacturers and importers of this city who are at present buying their requirements abroad and outside of the British Empire.

The ultimate aim of the commissioners is to build up a trade that will be inter-imperial, and with this end in view they are co-operating with the board of trade and commerce, Ottawa.

Mr. Field stated that the manufacturers and importers are giving them every encouragement and support, and he looked forward with every confidence to a large amount of trade being switched from foreign competitors to the manufacturers of the British Empire.

The commissioner said a big tribute to the work of the local Chamber of Commerce, with which he has always maintained close co-operation.

STATES ART CANADA'S GREAT ECONOMIC NEED

MONTREAL, Nov. 29.—"Art is the most crying economic need of Canada today," Eric Brown, director of the National Gallery, Ottawa, declared in addressing the Women's Art Society here today.

"If we are to develop commercially, the country must have art at the back of it," he said, adding that the bulk of designing came at the present time from outside of Canada, while the country possessed plenty of talent awaiting only opportunity to be developed.

1ST.—We wish to extend our business relations over a much wider area than ever before.

2ND.—The most important object is to take a lead in the readjustment of prices to a lower level, and to convince the buying public that they can procure their Christmas Gifts at this store with the full assurance that their dollar is worth its full one hundred cents in purchasing power.

With these objects in view we have gone further in price-cutting than the new wholesale market justifies.
