UNION STATION PLAN DROPPED

THORNTON PROMISES ACTION IN STATION

PLAN ELEVATION

Mayor States Work in Hands of the Canadian National Only.

Sir Henry Thornton has scrapped the idea of a union station for London, but engineers will be in the city tomorrow to go over plans for a new C. N. R. depot. That is the statement of Mayor Wenig, who returned from the east at noon today and declared the Canadian National Railways is ready to go on with a new depot as soon as funds are available.

There will be no union station for London, as far as the mayor knows. But a C. N. R. station is an imminent prospect, more likely for London than for Hamilton or any other applicant at the present time.

"Sir Henry has a list of vital expenditures," the mayor pointed out. "There were track improvements for Hamilton and a new dock at Seattle, and right up near the top was a station for London."

Not only will engineers look over the depot proposition here tomorrow, but track elevation will be taken up.

"The two go hand in hand," his worship points out. "They are C. N. R. enterprises solely. The city will not be called upon to help out."

According to the mayor, Sir Henry Thornton has definite plans ready to go on with a new station.

The mayor is not ready to give out any information on his conference with Sir Henry Thornton regarding the leasing of the London & Port Stanley Railway.

EDUCATION AIMS FOR REAL CITIZENS

Neil McDougal Addresses the Urban Trustees at Sixth Annual Convention.

Education's chief aim is to train the youth of this country to become worthy and efficient citizens, and his scope today includes the masses.

Such was the keynote of the address delivered this morning by Inspector Neil McDougal, B.A., department of education, Toronto, before the sixth annual convention of the Urban School Trustees' Association in session this week at the Tecumseh house.

"The progressive nations realize," declared Mr. McDougal, "that their general position depends upon the trained intelligence their people can bring to bear upon their national development and their international relationships."

"The chief criticism levelled at the educational system today," pursued the speaker, "is that it fails to function in practical life. This is due largely to the fact that the experiences of life are much more complex than the experiences of school."

RAILWAY EXPECTS FAVORABLE FARE PLAN

No Steps Taken by Company
To Secure New Tickets
For Reduced Rate.

MEET NEXT WEEK

Some Aldermen Beginning To Alter Previous Stand on Question.

Special tickets are not being printed by the street railway to provide for reduced fares on and after March 8.

The company looks for a favorable settlement with the city sometime next week and at least a temporary extension of the present agreement and the five-cent rate of fare.

"We haven't had any new tickets printed and we don't intend to. It rather looks as if the council were going to take some further action and we will wait that," stated Mr. Tait to The Advertiser today.

The city council has several times endorsed a resolution pointing out to the transportation company that the law calls for the return of seven and nine tickets for a quarter on March 8. Since this notice was sent to the company a conference has been held with railway officials, and some of the aldermen appear ready to view the company's position in a different light.

The return of city aldermen and the mayor today and tomorrow from various trips out of the city is expected to bring about some definite arrangements for further action in street railway matters.

DRIVER SAFE WHEN CAR FALLS OVER RIVER BANK

Motorist Mistakes Road and

ICE SAVES MACHINE

Fog Which Settled Over City Believed To Have Blocked Vision.

Plunging over a 20-foot embankment into the river Thames at the end of Wharnciffe road, north, late last night, a motor car driven by R. A. Hunt of Huron street, was deposited partly in the river bed with the rear wheels imbedded in the bank in a position that undoubtedly saved the life of the driver.

A fog which had settled over the north part of the city last night is held responsible for the accident. Mr. Hunt was proceeding from the city to his home on Huron street and mistook the blind end of north Wharnciffe road for the concession leading across the river. Trees border the precipitous bank at the end of the road and disguise a blind alley for a thoroughfare. It was not until he was virtually on the border of the bank that Mr. Hunt realized his danger.

The slow rate of speed of the motor car saved it from turning turtle as it plunged and slid over the bank. Ice piled high here and there held the car. The rear wheels became lodged in large blocks of ice, preventing the auto from sliding into the swollen waters and being carried away. The front of the car was badly damaged, with the headlights, fenders and radiator broken and twisted.

Mr. Hunt was able to extricate himself, and although slightly bruised and shaken up managed to proceed to his home.

Garage men labored for more than three hours this morning in hauling the car back on to the road. They claim that the auto was lodged in a most peculiar position and that Mr. Hunt's escape was remarkable. Three years ago when another motor car plunged over the same embankment, a serious accident resulted in which three people were critically injured. At the junction of the Wharnciffe road and the Sarnia gravel road there is no sign to indicate the nearness of the river bank.

SANCTUARY URGED FOR ALL OF BIRDS

W. E. Saunders Differs With Old Friend, Jack Miner, on Question.

While Jack Miner advocates a bird sanctuary on the grounds of idealism and for the sake of having wild creatures more or less domesticated, or at least tame, W. E. Saunders would have a bird sanctuary for the additional purpose of increasing the number of birds which are useful to the farmer.

Jack Miner, who was speaking last night in the Colborne street Methodist church, declared himself as in favor of Pond Mills as a suitable place for a bird sanctuary, but Mr. Saunders, a life-long friend of the famous friend of the wild geese and ducks, thinks a more suitable site might be found near London.

Sanctuary for All.
"A bird sanctuary is to be at all suitable for the purpose," he says, "should contain at the very least 50 acres, and should consist of both bush and plain ground, so that all kinds of birds may be attracted to it. Of course a sanctuary of 100 or 200 acres would be all the better. It would have to be fenced in with a close wire netting to keep out dogs and cats, and there would have to be absolute prohibition of any person with an intent of hunting the birds. There would have to be no shooting in or near it at any time. The object of such a sanctuary is not only to have tame birds that anyone can watch and observe, which is the purely ideal side of the question, but also to allow the insect destroying birds which are so essential to the farmer in these times, given safety to increase. I believe that a large sanctuary of this kind would mean an enormous saving to farmers in this district every year, and it would certainly be a great natural pleasure and beauty spot to everyone interested in birds and wild life."

The formation of a bird sanctuary near the city has for some time had the backing of many educationists in the city and of all the naturalists. It would supply an open air study for ornithologists, and would provide a healthy school room for young children. Several well-known bird lovers in London have been considering the proposition through the last two years and have hopes that such a sanctuary may become a fact either this year or in 1926. There are two or three suitable sites known to these enthusiasts near the city, but how to get hold of these sites, and the finding of the sanctuary once it is established are things which require careful consideration.

ONTARIO TRADE BOARDS CONSIDER AFFILIATION

Executive Committees of Two Bodies Review Plan at Conference.

Affiliation of the united boards of trade of Western Ontario and of the associated boards of trade of Ontario will probably come to fruition at the next annual meetings of these two bodies as the outcome of the executive meetings held yesterday here.

At this meeting in the Teumseh house, which was attended by officers of both associations, affiliation was discussed fully and very few difficulties presented themselves. It is the wish of the united boards of trade of Western Ontario to preserve their autonomy in the case of affiliation and to maintain the right to independent action in the event of a difference of opinion with the general body after the two bodies have united. This is not looked upon as an insuperable difficulty, and the matter of finance has been satisfactorily arranged. Annual meetings of both associations take place in the fall. Nothing will be done further until these yearly meetings have taken place, when official ratification can be obtained.

This final recital promises to be one of the finest of the series.

MANOR PARK WORKERS ADD FIVE TO NEW CLUB

Five new members were elected to the Manor Park workers' association last night. The association has been in force for a little over a month and is progressing and growing with each meeting. A committee to take charge of arrangements for all social meetings of the association was selected as follows: Mrs. Victoria Pat Forbes, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Clarke, Joe Clarke and Mr. Kelly. The drawing for the 10-pound bag of sugar, which has been instituted as part of the weekly program, resulted in the bag going to George Palmer. A social evening will be given by the association next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Manor Park school.

PEEL NOT HANDICAPPED BY LACK OF MONEY

Mrs. Claire Peel-Belden Tells of Art Life of Famous Brother.

The Advertiser has received the following interesting letter from Mrs. Claire Peel-Belden, a sister of the late Paul Peel. Mrs. Belden is living in California.

"California, Feb. 16, 1925.
"Editor of The Advertiser:
"Dear Sir—Paul Peel at no time in his life was inconvenienced in any way from lack of money to meet his needs. His father, the late John R. Peel, was most liberal in giving him the art education that his talents demanded, sending him in his teens to the academy of fine arts in Philadelphia, where he spent several years, and later to Paris, where he remained for a number of years. In the latter art center he soon became prominent, and numbered among his patrons members of the English royal family, as well as other art lovers in Europe and America.

With regard to his picture sale in Toronto previously referred to, undoubtedly his later pictures sold at that time would have brought larger prices in Paris, but he also disposed of at this sale the accumulated pictures of his earlier years in Canada, and the aggregate return was entirely satisfactory to him.

No action was taken.

BOARD DOES NOT PLAN TO DISGUISE NEW GRANT

Copeland States $2,500 For Cadet Uniforms Will Be Entered as Such.

There will be no attempt made by the board of education to disguise the item of $2,500 in the estimates for the provision of cadet uniforms this year.

Members of the board reviewed this morning an interview with John Colbert, president of the trades and labor council, in which there was intimated a possibility that the board would in some way disguise the item.

Mr. Colbert was quoted as having stated that the fight was not yet over and that it would be carried to the city council, if the appropriation is submitted in such a way that it can be distinguished.

WEARS BREECHES, SO IS DISCHARGED

Trading Company Finds Miss Joyce's Attire Altogether Too Masculine.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Edmonton, Alta., Feb. 25.—Because the Northern Trading Company, Limited, decreed that riding breeches and a khaki shirt were not the proper garb for a stewardess to wear when serving meals in the Arctic circle to hardy northerners and other denizens of the broad, open spaces, who were being transported on their boats, Alice Joyce, a university student, who had served several months of last year on the Northland Echo lost her job and brought suit against the company for $50 for transportation and a bonus of $25 in the district court before Judge Crawford. The company alleged that Miss Joyce had broken her contract. Judgment was reserved.

A. L. Sawie, a director of the company, stated that while he was on an inspection trip on the Northland Echo last year, Miss Joyce appeared at different times in breeches and khaki shirt. He objected to this costume as he did not consider it a becoming one for a stewardess among such a class of men. He also objected to Miss Joyce sitting in the purser's cabin so garbed. Towards the end of the return trip in October he asked her to wear her proper uniform on one of the occasions and Miss Joyce refused. He then told her she continued to do these things she could consider herself no longer in the company's service, to which her answer was: "That's Jake with me."

TAXI DRIVER OFFERS MUSIC FOR PATRONS

Radio Outfit Is Installed by Inventive Londoner—Gets Many Stations.

"Music while you ride" is the slogan of a local taxi man, who has installed a long range radio set in his motor car for the benefit of his patrons. The taxi is outfitted with one of the most up-to-date radios and a loud speaker is projected into the rear section of the cab to entertain a "fare" while being driven to his destination.

A small aerial has been strung across the roof of the car at a slight elevation. Travelling along the road at a speed of more than 30 miles per hour stations at as great a distance as New York and Chicago can be heard. The metal body of the car is put into operation as a "ground." The taxi is owned by C. H. Hopkins, 715 Dundas street. It is a difficult matter to install a radio in any motor car due to interference through the coils of the auto but Mr. Hopkins has overcome this obstacle by an invention of his own.

The auto appeared on London streets yesterday and hundreds of people were attracted around it while an interesting orchestral program was being broadcasted from a Chicago station.

DEBATE ON SPEECH PROLONGED A WEEK

Score of Members Still Await Turn on Floor of the Legislature.

Special to The Advertiser. Toronto, Feb. 25.—The debate on the speech from the throne now looks good for the bulk of another week in the legislature. At least a score of members are still awaiting their turn on the floor, and Premier Ferguson stated today that no particular steps will be taken to curb the debate.

A night session is in prospect for tonight and speakers scheduled to take part in the debate include J. J. McNeill, Conservative, North Perth; Edmund Proulx, Liberal, Prescott; Hon. Benja. Bowman, U. F. O., Manitowish; A. J. D. Campbell, Waddington; and Mr. Bowman's address will be his declaration as to his attitude toward the progressive group. L. W. Oke, of East Lambton, yesterday claimed Mr. Bowman, himself, as a bulwark from W. E. Raney's leadership.

FREIGHTER IS DAMAGED IN SMASH WITH TANKER

Associated Press Despatch. Washington, Feb. 25.—With four feet of her bow carried away as the result of a collision with the tanker, W. F. Burton, the steamer Middlesex arrived in Hampton Roads yesterday and proceeded to Newport News to go into drydock. The collision occurred in a dense fog off Fenwick island lightship Monday morning, according to radio reports received here yesterday. The Burton was bound north from Houston, Texas, with a cargo of oil, and the Middlesex was bound to Norfolk from Boston in ballast to load a cargo of coal. A big hole was stove in the starboard side of the Burton and the bridge and at last reports she was making her way up the Delaware river.

Ancient Book Cherished by Dr. J. W. Hutchinson—Well Preserved.

ILLUSTRATED, TOO

Canada is bounded on the north by the Northern Ocean; on the south by Florida; on the west by New Mexico. It is divided into two classes, 17th and 18th century description of Canada as given in a geography in the collection of Dr. James W. Hutchinson, who has nearly 100 old volumes and rare editions which go back to the year 1700.

The geography in question was published in 1715. It was handed down from generation to generation by Dr. Hutchinson's forefathers. Like all school books it bears the markings and childish drawings of the young students who used it and decorated it in their idle moments.

William Lawson used the book. His name is written inside the cover. He printed it very carefully and used it to draw a picture of some favorite girl friend. There are pictures, some drawn in pencil, which are well preserved. They treat chiefly of horsemen in armor.

As well as being a geography of the then known world the book contains chapters on old cities and general information. One table of dates is interesting. It is called the chronological table of some of the most remarkable events from the creation; the creation of the world 324 B.C.; the deluge, 2328; the building of Babylon, 2176; the call of Abraham, 1967; the Israelites going out of Egypt, 1521.

It mentions Constantinople taken by the Turks in 1453, but says nothing of the discovery of America as a great historical event.

The price of the leather-bound book of 130 pages was 18 pence. It was published in Edinburgh.

Another rare volume is the life of Sir Walter Raleigh by William Oldys, gent. The volume is a masterpiece in the history work of those days. The type is most artistic and the paper excellent.

PORT CHECK-UP COMES WITH NEW TAX RULE

Forms Will in Future Be Supplied Public Through Customs Offices.

The recent announcement that tax forms will be supplied to the public through customs offices has made necessary a check-up of the ports of this district.

Inspector George Tambling, in charge of the federal taxation offices here, said today that the various offices in his division will come under consideration. The forms will be sent to the offices which are best able to handle them. Those offices which function only while navigation is open will not be supplied with forms. In such cases taxpayers may get their forms from the nearest postoffice.

The tax forms for employees have not arrived yet, but are expected anytime.

ICE AT PORT EXPECTED TO BREAK UP TODAY

With a heavy north-west wind blowing over the lake, the ice in harbor at Port Stanley is expected to move out and down the lake sometime today.

The ice in the harbor at the present time is very soft, and a very light wind would smash and carry it down the lake making a path in the lake for ships to go.

If the ice in the harbor goes out the river Kettle from the source to the mouth will be free of ice, and the boats will start earlier than usual and the Bessemer, the coal boat from Cleveland, will make connections with Port Stanley at a much earlier date, it is thought.

New Doll To Solve Cares Of the Apartment Child

The little girl who has a porch and a yard may use as many toys as her parents can provide. Not so her playmate who dwells in a flat. Apartment limitations have left their mark even on the family of dolls, but a London man, James Blackwell, of the Grand avenue, has invented for the modern child a combination doll for which he has already secured patents.

It is many nations any age and both sexes to the child who has but one doll to care for. Now it is a Dutch girl with flapping cap, long golden braids and bodice; now it is a clown with painted face, or a cry baby with tears on its cheeks.

It may be a flossy French toddler with long golden curls, or a neat Red Cross nurse with bobbed black locks. It may be a slant-eyed Chinese, or a dusky black boy, or an Indian prince.

The doll alters its countenance as well as its frock. Besides a trunk full of dresses the little mother has a body with a couple of changes, the head is removed and she can add to her family by acquiring more heads. With each head comes a costume to match. The body is made with a brass plug neck and the heads have brass sockets to fit. With two more, another is fitted snugly in place. Thus a dozen dolls may be had in one.

Mr. Blackwell has been working on the novel invention for some time. With a recently procured patent, he believes that the changeable doll will enjoy a large sale both in the United States and Canada.

HOSPITAL ROAD MAY BE PAVED

Grant From Government Will Be Sought Before Work Is Commenced.

Pavement of the road to Westminster hospital will be gone ahead with this year if government assistance can be secured. Several of the city council, as well as Dr. H. A. Stevenson, ex-M.L.A., Col. W. M. Gartshore and others are working to bring about a suitable arrangement to provide an early start on construction.

Ald. L. H. Douglass is today seeking information regarding probable government assistance in the matter. A grant of even $1,000 would be acceptable to help in the pavement, he said, but it is probable that this government will consider the matter from a standpoint of benefit to the dominion hospital at Westminster.

"I will take up the matter at the meeting of No. 1 committee tonight," Ald. Douglass promised this afternoon. "I don't know whether or not the work could be done as a relief measure, but I am willing to look into it."

Stevenson calls the building of the road a constructive project of the dominion government. He deprecates the policy of trying to make a political football out of the unemployment situation and suggests that genuine relief and useful construction can be provided by asking definite government aid in building the road to Westminster.

DR. C. O. FAIRBANK DIES WHILE IN CALIFORNIA

here from Niagara Falls this morning and is under provincial police guard at a local garage.

Spends Good Night.

Barned spent a good night and, authorities stated this morning, he is very anxious regarding the condition of his wife, who is in the hospital at Niagara Falls.

His leg was broken when the car, driven by Barned, struck her at the same time that Muirhead was killed. Friends of Barned who have seen him at the jail state that he was released tomorrow he would hurry to the hospital to see her.

"He is just as much in love with her as the day they were married," said one of Barned's relatives. "He would talk of nothing but his wife when I saw him in the jail."

Mr. Justice Logie finished his address statement with the words: "I have just before adjournment, and it is now in the hands of the jury. Mr. Mikel proposes taking a forenoon case this afternoon."

Mr. Henderson had a long interview with Barned this morning.

The whole case revolves on whether or not the wife believed that Barned deliberately set down Mr. and Mrs. Muirhead and his wife, Ruth Barned, who were on their way to Niagara Falls, to the car to be driven by him, and whether he will believe Barned's statement that he got away from his control and that it was an accident, pure and simple.

Many Trials.

Welland has become rather hardened to murder trials during the last few years. When Barned faces judge and jury he will be the sixth man charged with murder in the Welland courthouse since the fall of 1922.

Two foreigners were sentenced to be hanged at the fall assizes that year, the death penalty being later commuted to life imprisonment.

A year later Russell Stuart was sentenced to die for the murder of his wife at Allenburg, but was reprieved at the last moment. He, too, is serving life imprisonment.

W. A. Canfield was tried at the spring assizes, 1924 for murdering a woman, but was reprieved. He was hanged in the jail yard here on May 8 last.

The jury disagreed on the case of John Trotter, a Canadian, when he was tried at the winter assizes for the murder of Constable Joe True-man at Thorold, the second trial now being in progress.

Witnesses in the Trotter case are nearly all Italians. Between court sessions they are being closely guarded by provincial police in plain clothes. Three witnesses in particular are guarded day and night in their hotel rooms which adjoin each other. They are in charge of Inspector Moore of Northern Ontario, and W. H. Stringer of the criminal investigation department of the provincial police, who arrested Trotter in Niagara Falls, N. Y.

GIVEN JUDGMENT.

Judgment for $440.31 and costs was recently given in county court to Francis J. Potter in an action instituted by him against A. C. Avery to recover the cost of goods purchased by the defendant.

Comments Act.

Mr. McDougall commended the working of the school act since its inauguration in 1919, prior to which time, he said, between 85 and 90 per cent of the boys and girls were finishing school at the ages of 13 and 14, the age at which they actually stood in most need of educational instruction. The act had redressed to a very large extent this great loss in efficiency to citizenship. Vocational education had been added to the secondary school courses with wonderful results.

Turning to the latest courses of study in the secondary schools, Mr. McDougall declared that the changes had popularized the institutions and greatly increased their usefulness with the result that the schools were filling up all over the province.

In closing, Mr. McDougall paid a high compliment to the teaching profession in quoting a prominent educationalist of the province to the effect that "the only thing which stands between civilization and anarchy is the noble army of teachers holding the front line of citizenship."

An address by F. B. Edmunds, Toronto, on "School Ventilations in St. Louis," completed the morning session.

CARRIE'S PROFANITY LANDS HER IN CELLS

Chatham Resident Must Remain in Jail Here Unless Friends Help Out.

Three vagrants were remanded to jail for one week when they appeared before Magistrate Graydon in police court this morning. All of them were without money and destitute, but the court's decision met with their strong disapproval.

Carrie Kelly, 35 years old, of Chatham, colored, came to London several days ago to seek work. Employment here proved as difficult to find as it had been in Chatham, but Carrie Kelly resolved to "stick it out." For three nights she slept at the C. N. depot, and she has evidently been without food for the same length of time.

Police men questioned her yesterday and when she swore and cursed they brought her to the station. Should she be able to get in touch with friends within the next week, and give an assurance to leave the city, she will be allowed her freedom.

Mamie Thompson, 22 years old, of Toronto, was remanded to jail on the same conditions. If she can find friends to speak on her behalf she can go, if not she must remain in jail.

Associated Press Despatch. Cape Town, South Africa, Feb. 24.—Strong views on the granting of titles to citizens of South Africa were expressed in the house of assembly today when a Labor motion was presented, praying the king not to bestow any more titles on South Africans.

In giving his support to the motion, Premier Hertzog stated that it was desirable to come to an early decision on the matter in view of the approaching visit of the Prince of Wales to the dominion. He urged that the move be respected and declared that popular leaders of South Africa should not accept titles. South Africans as a whole, he added, were opposed to class differences. Titles were chiefly given to wealthy men for their political support.

St. Thomas' hearty opposition, said that Premier Hertzog did not speak for the whole of the South African people and that many citizens, both Dutch and English, deplored his action as a step toward a severance of the sentimental bonds of the empire.

PROHIBITION UNION REPORT IS CORRECTED

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Feb. 25.—Justifiable objection has been taken to a certain paragraph in the Canadian Press despatches on the convention of the Ontario Prohibition union in Toronto on Feb. 17 last. On that date it was erroneously stated that "the report of the executive committee asks whether we shall passively submit to have the express will of the majority of our citizens trampled underfoot at the direction of a disgruntled minority whose god is their belly."

The Canadian Press has ascertained on investigation that the paragraph referred to was in the original draft of the report, prepared by an official of the union for the executive committee. It was struck out, however, before being submitted to the committee and was never considered by that body, according to the official referred to. The Canadian Press representative prepared his copy from the original draft, being unaware of the revision made in the same.

The Canadian Press regrets the error, the misreporting thereby imposed on the reading public and any criticism levelled at its newspaper members as the result.

Lenten Season Is Started In Two London Churches

Special to The Advertiser.

During Lent, which lasts until Easter, there are regular week-day evening services in the churches of both these denominations. The Anglican churches usually hold an evening service twice a week, on various days, in some cases is preceded by a children's service. In some churches special preachers are brought in during Lent.

In the Catholic church there are services every Wednesday and Friday evening, the recitation of the Rosary and the benediction being on Wednesday and the stations of the Cross on the Friday.

PLEA FOR HELP SHOWS WEAPON

Steel Knuckle Leads to Week's Remand—Came to Jail For Bed.

An ancient "bad man" weapon, the knuckle skull crusher, said by police to be one of the most deadly instruments carried by the criminal of a score or more years ago, was added to Chief Birrell's variegated collection of instruments of torture today, soon after it was found on the person of Clarence Smith, jailed last night on a charge of vagrancy.

Smith applied at police station last evening for a night's lodging. He was refused, however, but it is the custom with local police to search all people who request to spend the night in the cells. The heavy iron weapon was found on him and he was at once charged with vagrancy and carrying concealed weapons.

Unable to believe Smith's explanation of how he picked the instrument up from the streets, Magistrate Graydon remanded him for a week. Meanwhile his past record, if he has one, will be investigated.

The knuckle skull crusher is a weapon which is smuggled over the fingers of the hand with a protruding piece of metal which affords a firm grip. The iron rings cover the knuckles and a heavy severe blow can be given by a person with little strength.

This weapon, according to local detectives, was a common one among gangsters and hold-up men of former years, but it has recently been replaced by the sand bag, a weapon of greater delicacy, not half as dangerous to manipulate, but accomplishing satisfactory results. The sand bag just temporarily "puts a person to sleep," they say. The skull crusher kills outright.

Smith could give the court no satisfactory account of himself when he appeared this morning. He said that he had come to London yesterday in search of work. Previous to that he had been roaming the country for the same purpose.

South African Premier Backs Party Ideas—Sir T. Smart Opposes.

MASONS COME TO WINDSOR FROM CONTINENT CORNERS

Canadian Press Despatch. Windsor, Feb. 25.—With a record attendance of delegates from all parts of Canada and the United States, the 47th annual convocation of the Grand Chapter of Canada, Royal Arch Masons, opened here this morning. Most Ex. Comp. W. H. Davis, grand Z. of the order, was in the chair.

Mayor Frank J. Mitchell extended a civic welcome to the delegates at the opening of the session. Mr. Davis gave an inspiring message to the convocation, and reports of the various officers were presented.

During the session, which lasts until Easter, there are regular week-day evening services in the churches of both these denominations. 'Ultra Democracy' of Today Is Lessening the Numbers Of Great Men, Savant Says

PROF. B. K. SANDWELL, QUEEN'S, TALKS TO CANADIAN CLUB AND TRUSTEES.

LUNCHEON TODAY

An era of what he termed "ultra democracy" was what Prof. B. K. Sandwell, Queen's University, Kingston, today as the reason why at the present time there was a lack of great men in the world. Prof. Sandwell was speaking at a joint lunch meeting of the London Canadian club and the urban trustees, and chose as his subject the obvious lack of reverence for great men today.

"Apart from a very general belief that everyone is equal, I do not mean politically but morally and intellectually—there is another reason for this lack of reverence," he said, "and that is that it has become fashionable to regard human character as merely a matter of glands. The human character is looked on as something entirely dependent on the functioning of certain glands to be turned on or off at the command of our doctors. Now, however possible it may be to control some of the glands of the Almighty, it is impossible to give this reverence to something to be changed and fashioned at the will of the nearest medical man."

Prof. Sandwell, who spoke at the beginning of his address that he would deal lightly with his subject, and his address was interspersed with humorous epigrams and phrase that kept his audience in a happy state of mirth. On the subject of great men, he said:

"That Cherry Tree. "I do not think that most of us realize how much that historian did for Washington who invented the story of the cherry tree and the little axe. If only someone would do the same thing for Sir John Macdonald, we would have the basis of a Pantheon of great men in Canada. In order to see the outstanding men of the past as heroes we must have some one to invent a story of their invention of the historian. To state only the actual facts of their lives is to rob them of greatness immediately."

He said that there are no great men, or men recognized as great men today, is, I think, the result of the attitude of the common man of today. It is an age when everyone thinks that his opinion is worth as much as the next man's entirely irrespective of the experience, or intellectual or moral attainments of the other man. No one is ready to change his opinion at the suggestion of anyone else. To do so would be considered as a sign of an inferior complex, as the psychologists would say.

"Great men are regarded by the average man as saints and miracles, as something not to be expected or sought for by any man. 'Ultra democracy' which has amongst other things destroyed the newspaper editor and robbed it of all its value as a medium of public opinion, has not still moulds public opinion but it does it by eliminating opinions it does not want published, not by taking a determined stand on any question, but by the vast majority of cases."

Does His Own Thinking. Editors know that the average man refuses to allow any one else to do his thinking for him, and that he resents it. It is better policy today to leave out something which is dangerous than to risk offending anyone by a too positive statement of cases.

But there is a natural instinct in all children towards hero worship. There always has been, in the past, may have been, and will be, great men in politics, in the church and in science. Today it runs to the athletes, to the pugilists and the bass players. Perhaps this is a wholly improper at that. But it is confined entirely to sport by the present generation of children in this country. Great leaders have great following. But they must start early in their professional life to cultivate a following, and to preach their cause, as being amongst the great men of their age."

Funerals of Youthful Victims Are Held Today in Barrie Churches.

Canadian Press Despatch. Barrie, Feb. 25.—Funeral services were held today in local churches where the bodies of Flight Officer, White of Halifax and Flying Officer, R. H. Cross of Toronto, were removed yesterday afternoon, following the mid-air collision at Camp Borden, in which the two young aviators lost their lives.

The remains of both officers were conducted to the station by a Royal Air Force escort, a salute being fired as the train pulled out.

Nearly all the town's young men gathered at the station to see the train. Borden attended the services here today.

The result of the investigation being conducted to determine the cause of the accident will be forwarded to the authorities at Ottawa when completed.

MASONS COME TO WINDSOR FROM CONTINENT CORNERS

Canadian Press Despatch. Windsor, Feb. 25.—With a record attendance of delegates from all parts of Canada and the United States, the 47th annual convocation of the Grand Chapter of Canada, Royal Arch Masons, opened here this morning. Most Ex. Comp. W. H. Davis, grand Z. of the order, was in the chair.

Mayor Frank J. Mitchell extended a civic welcome to the delegates at the opening of the session. Mr. Davis gave an inspiring message to the convocation, and reports of the various officers were presented.

During the session, which lasts until Easter, there are regular week-day evening services in the churches of both these denominations. The Anglican churches usually hold an evening service twice a week, on various days, in some cases is preceded by a children's service. In some churches special preachers are brought in during Lent.

In the Catholic church there are services every Wednesday and Friday evening, the recitation of the Rosary and the benediction being on Wednesday and the stations of the Cross on the Friday.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1925.

In Office and Out Of It.

Premier Ferguson and his followers in power constitute a vastly different body to G. Howard Ferguson and his supporters in opposition. The Drury government and its new methods of taxation were considered fair prey for all the assaults the Conservatives could make. The road-building policy of Mr. Biggs and the methods of taxation produced by Peter Smith were in turn lambasted by the Conservative opposition, concluding always with the deduction that the turning out of the spendthrifts and the bringing to power of the Conservative economists was the only possible solution for the difficulty.

The answer to all this is Premier Ferguson's announcement of a three cents per gallon tax on gasoline to pay for the road-building program, and along with it a budget that is $8,000,000 on the wrong side.

The Conservatives have not only retained all the Drury government taxation which they so thoroughly condemned, but are adding to it in a way that is severe enough to defeat the purpose of the tax. The motor league went to protest that, with the present price of licenses, that proposed tax of two cents on gasoline was too much, and the answer was that instead of a two-cent tax the government intended to make it three cents.

The motorists of Ontario are willing to pay their way; they have no desire to ride on good roads and not pay toward their construction and upkeep, but they will resent a tax of three cents per gallon on gasoline from a government that rode to power on a denunciation of the previous government's ability to finance without a constant reversion to new forms of taxation.

Population and Taxation.

In a letter to The Advertiser a correspondent claims an increase of population is the surest way for a city or a country to overcome its load of debt. To quote the letter, "Let us have more people in here to carry the load, and when it is distributed in this way it will be made lighter. It is a simple question of arithmetic. If we have to raise $2,500,000 for taxes, it stands to reason that five hundred or a thousand more taxpayers each taking his share would afford very certain relief."

It may have been this same idea that prompted Mr. Hocken, Conservative member in the commons, from Toronto, to state in debate a few days ago:

"If we could get fifty per cent more of the right type of people into Canada than we have at the present time it would solve every problem that is facing our country today. If we had fifty per cent more population there would be that much larger number in Canada, spread over the country, to help to bear the burden of taxation, and in consequence that burden could be lessened."

That is at least an attractive theory, and those who advance it seem certain that it can be worked out just like drawing a circle with the aid of a saucer and lead pencil. They put it down this way—if there is a debt of $300 and ten men to pay it they each owe $30; if there are fifteen men to pay it each carries a load of $20, a reduction of $10 per capita, at least for the original ten.

The trouble with working out population and taxation on this basis is that the amount we owe, or that we have to pay, will not stand still while we are out drumming up an increased population to help us pay it. Communities are pretty much the same, and what works out in one will be practically the experience of all. For that reason we are showing how the idea has worked out in London. The reason for taking this city is that the information is more readily available, and the facts better known.

In 1910 London had a population of 49,507, and a general debenture debt of $3,138,797, or a per capita debt of $63.40; for interest and sinking fund the per capita charge was $3.50.

By 1916 the population had increased from 49,507 to 58,055. Here was a fair growth of population to help carry the load and, according to the reasoning of our correspondent and the argument of Mr. Hocken, there should have been some measure of relief felt on this account. But by 1916 the load to be carried had grown from a debenture debt of $3,138,797 to one of $4,282,652, and the per capita debt for this had grown from $63.40 in 1910 to $73.77 in 1916. Thus, with an increase of almost 10,000 in population, each person was carrying a general debenture debt of $10.37 more.

By 1922 the population of London had increased from 58,055 to 61,000, but the debt had moved along faster than the growth of population. Instead of a per capita debt of $73.77, such as they had in 1916, it amounted in 1922 to $101.05.

The total taxes paid per person in London in 1912 was $13.37; in 1923, $35.16. It is possible to go through figures of the finance committee, board of works, education department, and the same result is found, that the size of the debt has increased faster than the people came to pay it. The reason is not hard to find. An increase in population calls for an increased expenditure for services which these people want. Once we find that population is increasing there is a demand for new schools, new pavements. The police department figures that there must be more constables to protect the property and see that the newcomers behave; the board of health feels it is shirking a great opportunity if these premises are not inspected, and the fire department must be prepared to hustle out to new streets, and of course needs more men, equipment, and possibly another fire hall. The whole system of civic government and regulation seems to respond at once to an increase in population, and the result is, judging by London's figures, that the new population calls for a greater proportionate increase of expenditure than it returns in the form of taxes. The real problem is for a community or country to grow without increasing the per capita levy. So far we have not done it, but that is no reason for believing that it cannot be done.

The More Reasonable Way.

Conferences have been called of cities on the various tourist lines in Ontario, the idea being to see to it that tourist traffic is routed to give as much advantage as possible to places on these routes. The idea seems to be that the tourist enters at Windsor or Sarnia and leaves at the Falls—hence the competition to point out the advantages of the northern or the southern road.

The Sault Ste. Marie Star, from its point of vantage in Northern Ontario, offers some advice on this matter that sounds reasonable. Its point is that we should try and interest these summer travellers to turn their steering wheels toward Northern Ontario, tell them there are good roads all the way to the Sault, Sudbury and other points that would interest them. In that way the tourist could be induced to stay a week or so in Ontario instead of simply chasing across on the beaten path through the Ontario peninsula.

The real worth of the Sault Star's idea is that it makes it appeal on larger grounds than merely getting an advantage for one or two sections of Ontario. It gives so-called "old Ontario" something to do besides thinking in small terms of its own welfare. Not only that, but the idea is a business proposition. Anything that makes Northern Ontario better known is a good move for this section of the province.

So instead of organizing in two separate camps to pull tourist trade by the north or south route, why not get together with the idea of telling tourists that Ontario is a great land, with good roads that lead well up toward the north, where there is much to see and more to learn? If in this way Ontario can entertain its tourists for a week instead of two days the benefit will be shared by all sections of the province.

Note and Comment.

The western provinces object to the mountain freight rates, claiming they have been mounting too long.

Moderation league meeting in Toronto failed to cheer for Premier Ferguson's 44 beer. They want that point taken out so it will read 44.

There's to be a three-cent tax on gas in Ontario, meaning they'll have to put individual meters on the spouters when election time comes around.

K. K. K. in United States disclaim ownership of the K. K. K. launched in Toronto. And the infant Klam Klaim Kanada, so better let it die on the doorstep.

Our usually very complacent river went on a rampage this week, following a sermon in a local church where the speaker called the Thames rather sluggish and unimportant.

Police station at Prince Rupert was destroyed by fire, but no mention was made of what happened to the police force. The Winnipeg Free Press offers the solution that he was out at the time.

Toronto paid $15,000 in 14 years for lobbying work. Applying pressure to get what she wanted may have had something to do with Toronto bearing a name that sounds something like pork pie.

Gettin' Meals

Come let us tune our happy lyre and chant a soulful little lay, unto the women of the land what builds three husky meals a day. You husbands you be thankless folks to never praise your daily chow, come sing a ditty to your wife and plunk a wreath upon her brow.

For we don't worry over eats nor ponder o'er the bill-of-fare, just reckonin' when we reach the hut the meal it be a-gettin' there.

And some folks be most hard to please, for eatin' this gives them the gout, and when they view the hemlock board they elevate their sniffs. For Dan he wants potatoes fried and stewed in fat what's thick and strong, while Hanna says as she prefers her spuds cooked with the jackets on.

At breakfast time Steve wants no mush, he just wants jam parked on his bread. Steve sayin' mush inside his works it lies there like a lump of lead.

And when there's puddin' there to eat why Mary Ellen cocks her eye, complainin' how her mother knows she longeth for a wedge of pie.

And dad of late has took to read how vitamins work on the heart, and he be scientific now and fills his silo from a chart, and everything the missus makes he gets that chart and has a squint, remarkin' eatin' truck like that be much the same as swallowin' flint.

Then Josie's on a diet now, a-fearin' of her surplus fat, her hopin' to reduce a bit and have a figure slight and flat. Each day she crawls upon the scales a-notin' just how much she weigh. Insistin' when the fodder comes as how she'll change from bran to hay.

But mother she be sittin' there when all the others bang the door, a-cleanin' up their dirty plates and sweepin' on the kitchen floor, and wonderin' what she'll get the tribe and what the deuce she's goin' to do, a-figurin' if they'll tilt their snout at Johnny cake and Irish stew. It be most tryin' so it be, to be a-cookin' in a home, where them what's fed be snarlin' like a pup what's grabbed a dime soup bone. If I was gettin' up the meals I'd cook just what I wanted to, I'd feed 'em beans and cabbage first, next day I'd douse them all with stew.

And if they was complainin' then I'd threaten for to end their life. I'd beat them with a rollin' pin and jab 'em with a carvin' knife. I'd set the victuals on a plank and leave 'em there till they was through, remarkin' how "You got to eat just what be set in front of you."—ARK.

In 1832 London Had 400 Residents

AN interesting sketch of early London appears in an atlas of Middlesex county, published in 1878. The account names Peter McGregor, who had a tavern on the corner of King and Ridout street as the first settler, although there was a log house at the foot of York street in 1819. Mr. (afterwards the Hon.) George J. Goodhue was the first merchant of London, Lawrence Lawlison, afterwards police magistrate, later entering partnership with him. John Jennings and Dennis O'Brien also opened stores in early days. Major Schofield was the first postmaster. In 1832, London had a population of but 400, and three years later it was 1,000. It is on record that Asiatic cholera visited the city in 1832, and made serious havoc among the residents.

The atlas gives a list of businessmen of 1878, the year the book was published. It is realized that the list is incomplete, as the publishers of the book were no doubt partial to those who had patronized the publication in the way of advertising or subscriptions.

The list of 1878 follows:

Editorial Opinion

WRITING THE LAST CHAPTER.

(From The Exeter Times-Advocate.)
THE wheat boom appears to be reaching the usual ending. The effort to get rich quick off the stock market has failed. The soaring prices of a few weeks having given place to rapid reductions and the hopes of a party who had put their all into the gamble are sorry but wiser men. The scenes in Winnipeg were wild, wiser men and men blasphemed. There are always those who think they can beat the operator at his own game, but alas!

President Hellmuth Says Bar Plan As Step in Right Direction.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Feb. 24.—Assurance that he will introduce a bill at the present session of the legislature calling for local option in government control, in order that those districts which voted for it in October may have some wider system for the sale of liquor, and that he will attempt to force the measure through the house, was given at the annual meeting of the Moderation League of Ontario here today by Col. J. A. Currie, member for Southeast Toronto.

Col. Currie said that this step was due to his conviction that the amendment to the Ontario Temperance Act was not as big a step in advance as the moderationists believed, since, from his viewpoint, it would not mean the sale of 44 per cent beer, but would result in the sale of beer with a strength of 3.55. In outlining his proposed bill, Col. Currie declared that he would model it from the liquor laws of Quebec and Maine, taking the most favorable features from both.

The Resolutions.

The following resolutions were adopted:

1.—That the sale of beer for consumption on the premises be confined to legitimate and licensed hotels, clubs and restaurants, and that the sale for consumption in the homes be made through any licensed merchant.

2.—That whereas the Ontario government has announced its intention of amending the Ontario Temperance Act to permit the sale of beer, palatable and wholesome beer, this meeting, while considering that a step in the direction of true temperance, recommends that as a condition precedent to the granting of a license to sell beer, the license holder should be required to submit a plan for the control of the sale of beer, and that the plan should be approved by the local option committee.

3.—That the Moderation League is of the opinion that the provision of the Ontario Temperance Act upon a person charged with a violation of this act the burden of proving his innocence is contrary to all accepted principles of justice, and that a fair trial should be made between persons found violating the O.T.A. for the purpose of profit and trade, and the case of individuals who may be carrying a reasonable quantity for personal use. Some relaxation of the law in the case of the latter is necessary in order to remove the general sense of injustice arising from the present severe penalties imposed for an action in itself innocent.

4.—That this convention reaffirms its adherence to the principle of government control and sale, and pledges itself to use every effort to have the principle incorporated in the legislation of the province.

On Local Option.

Excepting as a means to an end, considerable objection was raised to advocacy of local option, at the afternoon session.

The objectors, led by E. Livingstone of Grimsby and W. J. Holden of Collingwood, were delegates from the rural districts who claimed the local option was unfair to them, and maintained strongly that the rural districts should have the vote in the country places would have been as overwhelming as in the cities and towns in favor of government control.

President Hellmuth explained that the league had lacked sufficient funds and speakers to organize in the rural communities. The discussion was upon a resolution which referred to the government's adoption of stronger beer control and sale, pledged adherence to the principle of government control and sale, pledged itself to use every effort to have this principle incorporated in the legislation of the province.

Would Kill O.T.A.

Col. H. C. Osborne of Ottawa spoke at the luncheon.

"We want to get rid of the O.T.A. with its objectionable spawn, the bootlegger, and the juvenile hip pocket flask artist," he declared, adding "that it was also desirable to get rid of the unsatisfactory condition of having to take our drinks in the washroom."

"It was a pitiable spectacle," declared Col. Osborne, "to find the province of Ontario, which had always boasted of a high standard of civility and decent rent in town on the question as to whether two or four per cent beer was suitable for grown-up men."

"The moderation league did not propose to yield to any section, however clamorous, even if a slight majority existed. The league must be the enemy and fight them until they have struck their colors."

Mr. C. R. Atkinson, Little Current, said he did not wish to be regarded as a "wet," but as a moderationist who does not believe in excessive drinking and who wishes to live up to all her church tenets.

Applaud McCausland. When the business of the convention was resumed, J. McCausland was given an ovation, which was repeated when he declared that he planned to fight in the legislature and keep on fighting until we get a real liquor law on the statute books of this province. He declared he was not satisfied with what the government is doing, but welcomed the 44 per cent beer because the change demonstrated the fact that the government had come to the realization that it had to do something. The attorney-general had put the situation accurately when he declared that the prohibitionists had gone too far. It was impossible to carry out a law which had not got the goodwill of the people behind it.

Zanni To Resume Flight On May 1

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Feb. 24.—The round-the-world flight, which Captain P. L. Zanni, the Argentine, started last night, will be resumed on May 1 from Tokyo, which point Zanni reached last year.

This was announced last night by Patricio D. Murphy, attaché of the Argentine legation at Tokyo.

Mr. McCausland said he was not advocating liquor for liquor's sake, but for the purpose of getting a law which the people will endorse. The important point of the concession being made by the government was the fact that it meant changing the act, in that it meant the case in the sun shined.

Col. J. A. Currie, M.L.A., demanded a liquor license law similar to that of Manitoba. He was in favor of letting Ontario municipalities vote on the question and a substantial majority was necessary, as was the case in the case of Sir James Whitney, and have the vote cover a period of five years. He said he was going to introduce such legislation.

LAUD BEER PLAN.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Feb. 24.—The 44 per cent beer measure for Ontario was characterized as a step in the right direction by President I. F. Hellmuth at the annual meeting of the moderation league of Ontario, which opened here this morning.

"I cannot say that I see eye to eye with Premier Ferguson in the way he has met the situation," said Mr. Hellmuth. "I do not impugn his integrity, but I do not think that the measure introduced is at all adequate, although it is in the direction of the right thing."

Upwards of 100 delegates from all sections of the province were in attendance. Mr. Hellmuth said that the league has made steady progress toward the goal set, which was government control of the sale of liquor. It was a step in the right direction, and it was a very strong opinion in support of the objects of the league, and it was a step in the right direction.

Inspector Ellis and Prof. Merri-man of Toronto Will Be in City.

Tonight between the hours of 7 and 9 tests will be made in this city by radio experts to discover the reason for interference of which London radio fans are complaining. The tests will be made by S. J. Ellis, radio inspector for Toronto and district, and Professor Merri-man of the Toronto University. They will bring with them from Toronto special instruments with which to conduct the tests.

Any person who has trouble with interference during the hours mentioned above is requested to communicate immediately with the inspector who will be at the Northern Electric Company, Phone 6900.

Sees Many Reasons.

Many reasons have been advanced for the interference. Three of the most prominently mentioned are hydro wires, street railway power lines and activities of amateurs.

Mr. Campbell, Windsor, who is in the London district does not think that any blame can be placed on the amateurs. He says that there are only two possibilities in the city with license to broadcast who are taking advantage of their rights. Both of these, says Mr. Langford, are staying within the law.

He stated a case in St. Thomas to show where trolley wires have something to do with the interference. Tests were being made in the London district to discover the reason for the so-called interference. The interference was very noticeable on the day that the test was being conducted. The street railway was shut off the power for a few minutes. As soon as the power was shut off the interference stopped.

Sure of Co-Operation.

Mr. Langford would not say that he would blame the interference in the London district. He stated that he had been assured of the utmost co-operation by the street railway company in trying to stop the interference. It is found that the trolley wires are the cause of the trouble, new connections and insulations would be made, and this would alleviate the trouble, it is believed.

Mr. Langford said that the reason for the public utilities commission has said that he will co-operate in every way if it is found that the hydro wires are to blame for the trouble.

BANKING GROUP TO TAKE OVER IMPORTING CONCERN

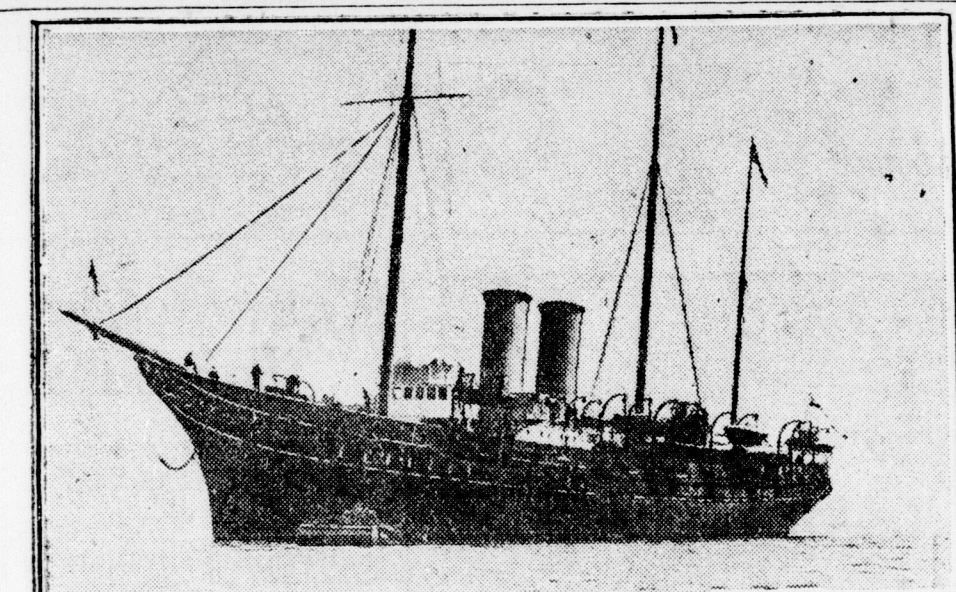

Associated Press Despatch. Tokyo, Feb. 24.—It is understood that the firm of Takata & Co., one of Japan's great importing concerns, which last week was reported to be in financial difficulties, will be re-organized, the creditor banking group finding the funds.

GOVERNMENT UNABLE TO AID UNEMPLOYMENT SITUATION

Mayor Wenige and Western Ontario Deputation Interview Murdoch.

DEPUTATION SMALL Number Dwindles To Six by Time Parley Is Held.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

Ottawa, Feb. 24.—Having just come from telling the House of Commons that the government could not undertake relief for the unemployed miners in Nova Scotia, Hon. James Murdoch greeted the Western Ontario unemployment relief delegation at 6:30 this afternoon with the announcement that the most he could give it was a pleasant smile.

Mayor Wenige of London and other members of the deputation heard the debate in the Commons, while waiting for their interview with the labor minister. Having the government's attitude thus impressed upon them in the speeches of the prime minister and Mr. Murdoch, they probably were bound to receive, Mr. Murdoch promised to place the representations before the cabinet again, but he frankly said he could hold out no hope.

The government had already considered the question several times and its position was decided. Mr. Murdoch explained that the government took the view that it had been under heavy expenses during the war, to which the provinces and municipalities were not asked to contribute, and therefore the provinces and municipalities should expect to bear their own burdens now.

Gives Reasons. The minister quoted the B. N. A. act in support of the government's position, interpreting it as restricting charitable endeavor to the province.

Mr. Murdoch had given the deputation an appointment for four o'clock, but the Nova Scotia matter came up unexpectedly as a "matter of urgent public importance," and he was compelled to remain in the chamber. The result was that the deputation consisted only of Mayor Wenige and five others, Alderman Homer Neely of London, Alderman J. Campbell and Finance Commissioner Ross of Toronto. They were surprised by Mr. E. Langford, inspector for the London district, who was with them.

Other members of the delegation had to leave to catch trains. Fifteen minutes before the government had to remain in the chamber, Mr. Murdoch was informed that the deputation was waiting for him. He was surprised to find that the deputation consisted only of Mayor Wenige and five others, Alderman Homer Neely of London, Alderman J. Campbell and Finance Commissioner Ross of Toronto. They were surprised by Mr. E. Langford, inspector for the London district, who was with them.

Windsor Not Represented. Mr. Murdoch informed the delegation that Mayor Mitchell of Windsor had wired him that the government had no intention of sending a representative to the deputation. He was disappointed to find that the deputation consisted only of Mayor Wenige and five others, Alderman Homer Neely of London, Alderman J. Campbell and Finance Commissioner Ross of Toronto. They were surprised by Mr. E. Langford, inspector for the London district, who was with them.

PUBLIC HEALTH TERMED PROBLEM

Dr. H. W. Hill Addresses Sixth Annual School Trustees' Convention.

During the course of an address delivered before the Urban School Trustees' association last night, Dr. H. W. Hill, D.P.H., L.M.C.C., dean of the faculty of public health at the University of Western Ontario, declared that public health is the biggest economic and most important physical problem facing the nation today.

Dr. Hill's splendid address was the feature of the program of speeches, which, following the "get-acquainted" supper at the university, marked the opening of the association's sixth annual convention. Delegates, members and officials of the local board of education to the number of about 70 sat down at a table, presided over by A. M. Cunningham, Hamilton president of the association.

In the absence from the city of Mayor George A. Wenige, a civic welcome was extended to the association by Ald. G. Frank McKay, who commented upon the city's pride in its educational facilities, and the remarkable progress made since the first London grammar school was organized, nearly 30 years ago.

Chairman S. F. Lawless extended greetings on behalf of the board of education, and in doing so briefly surveyed the secondary school educational field.

Mr. Lawless commented upon the work of the public school, collegiate institute and technical school as well as the Wembley exhibition, and quoted Premier G. Howard Ferguson as having stated that it is the intention of the government to create a greater local interest in education by means of placing more responsibility upon the local boards and their officials.

Conventions Valuable. Percy S. Douglas, Toronto, replied on behalf of the association to the address of welcome, as did President Cunningham. Mr. Douglas's remarks, though in humorous vein, indicated that such conventions of value not only to the local boards but also to the provincial government.

Dr. Hill, in his address on "Public Health," asserted that compared with the public health war against disease, a military war was "an innocent outdoor game like football."

"Canada is spending each year $200,000,000," stated Dr. Hill, "and is sick. If she spent $200,000,000 per year then she could save the other $200,000,000 and be well."

Offers Solution. "The only solution to the problem," pursued the speaker, "is that every citizen should be educated in public health, and the only way to accomplish that is to teach the children in the public schools."

"Forty-five per cent of the population of Canada leave school at or before completion of the sixth grade in public school. An additional 45 per cent leave school at the end of the eighth grade, and 10 per cent go to collegiate, of whom five per cent graduate and one per cent go to university, of whom one-half per cent graduate."

"Thus it can be clearly seen," concluded Dr. Hill, "that public schools, with their large staffs and enormous facilities, form the best avenue for the placing of public health information before the public."

WASHOUT HOLDS UP SPRINGBANK SERVICE

Shuttle Car Operated Beyond Point of Damage by Sewer.

A sewer, which passes under the trolley tracks on the Springbank line, backed up yesterday, due to the high waters in the Thames river. Part of the underpinning supporting the tracks was weakened, and service was considerably delayed.

The washout was discovered before any accidents had occurred, however. One car was kept on the west side of the sewer, and it took the passengers from the cars from the city the remainder of the distance to Springbank.

ONTARIO TO BRING IN ALBERTA COAL

Ferguson Announces Experimental Shipment Plan For Early Summer.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

Toronto, Feb. 24.—The Ontario government is still hopeful that Alberta coal may find its way into many Ontario bins before next winter.

Negotiations with the Western province are now under way, looking to the bringing of a test shipment of 100,000 tons to Ontario early in the summer, Premier Ferguson informed The Advertiser.

With a price of $3.50 per ton, loaded on the cars from the Alberta mines practically assured, the authorities here are hopeful that the test may prove the practicability of the undertaking.

"It will depend, of course, on what freight rate is obtainable," Mr. Ferguson pointed out. "The Alberta authorities are now conferring with the railways on this question, with a view to obtaining the minimum quotation."

The province will protect itself from the experimental shipment, by reason of the fact that the dominion government has agreed to take care of any deficit which may arise on the transportation of the coal.

Alberta Takes Over Natural Resources. Little encouragement for London's demands on Ottawa for unemployment aid was shown in correspondence received. Many cities wrote that they would not send delegations to Ottawa, as the conditions there did not justify complaint.

Definite support for suburban paving accounts delegations was not promised by many cities. One delegation on behalf of a Labor delegation, that appealed for home patronage in the granting of contracts for castings, hitherto given St. Thomas firms. It was pointed out that local men could be kept engaged by keeping this work at home. Consideration was promised.

W. Foxcroft was appointed to the town planning commission as a Trades and Labor representative, taking the place of L. C. Depatie. Col. L. Leonard, vice-chairman of the commission, was present and discussed various town planning recommendations, endorsed at the recent town planning conference here.

$19,000 For Roads. The county of Middlesex wrote that London's share in suburban area roads upkeep for 1925 would be $19,000 and this figure will be placed in the estimates.

The town of Lindsay asked for support in application to the attorney-general's department for further ruling on the liability of municipalities in street accidents. A precedent was recently set in the city of Belleville where the city was made to pay damages for a street accident, though the authorities had not been aware of existing conditions.

Boyle Memorial Sextet Wins School Hockey Title

Martin Scores Deciding Goal After Twenty-Eight Minutes' Overtime.

FLEMING SHINES

Boyle Memorial after 28 minutes of overtime scored the winning counter of a 2-1 hockey struggle to become champions of the public school and playgrounds hockey league and holders of the Eddie McKay Memorial Cup at the arena last night.

With two minutes to go in the third overtime, Martin sent the puck skidding. The Trafalgar players were massed in front of their goal and as the puck shot across from the rails, unseen by most of the spectators, hit a player and caromed into the center of the net.

It marked the end of a great struggle, with some surprisingly good hockey showing up here and there out of the melee, which remained tied up 1-1 from the first period on through the regular portion of the game and into the overtime periods, staged between events.

Nearly 4,000 spectators, a third of them adults, cheered hoarse encouragement to the two teams as each threatened to score.

Fleming Stands Out

But almost all the spotlight was taken by Fleming, the diminutive net minder for the winners. The Boyle team was much smaller than the Trafalgar crew, and young Fleming was by far the smallest of them all, and the most diminutive ever captured locally. With a red and black skull cap, perched at a jaunty angle, he reached a spare level with the top of the goal posts. Engrailed in pads and a junior O. H. A. sweater, he guarded his net like a veteran. Several times, the big defence men came towering down upon him alone, but he stood his ground as coolly as a turkey codfish. If Vezina is the "Chicoutimi Cucumber," then Mister Fleming is the "Goal-Minding Gherkin."

Olson and Maule Score. Olson scored the first goal for Trafalgar. Maule, on a nice rush, scored the even score shortly after. Thereafter it was nip and tuck struggle in the soft ice. There was little combination, but there were several outstanding comers on both teams who stick-handled cleverly and were fast skaters.

The Line-ups. Boyle Memorial—Goal, Fleming; defence, Maule and Bere; center, Jones; wings, Martin, Corbett and Murray. Trafalgar—Goal, H. McIntosh; defence, Olson and Askew; center, Cadmore; wings, Kaylor and Jones; subs, Barnes, Taylor and C. McIntosh.

Referee—Legg.

Aged Harrington Shows 'em How

Special to The Advertiser.
Nagara Falls, Feb. 24.—Shades of Jack Burns and Frank Cook of Collingwood, who have played in the O. H. A. over 20 years! Do the hockey fans of the O. H. A. know that George Harrington, former player of the Niagara Falls team in the Stratford-Niagara Falls play-off series is 39 years of age? Harrington has been playing for the Falls since Niagara was a rivulet, and this is his very best year. Harrington plays right wing—and he knows how to play a wing. He sticks to his position like glue, is always up for a pass, and he bores in to shoot like a bullet. In Niagara Falls he made "Nifty" Griffin of Stratford look just ordinary, so Cole was sent to center to replace Bill Carson, and the dentist-star was sent over to cover Harrington. The Falls veteran outplayed Carson, too.

Pelicious, Pet Cat and Miss Vaal also ran.

GRIMSBY SEXTET OUSTS HAMLETS

Score 3 to 2 Victory in Deciding Game at New Hamburg.

Special to The Advertiser.

New Hamburg, Feb. 24.—Grimsby ousted out a 3 to 2 victory over New Hamburg here tonight in the second semi-final game and took the round, 5 to 2, qualifying to meet Kingston in the finals.

The game was rather a hectic affair, as the heavy going kept the game minus of team play. Lederman, the local defence man, who received a nasty gash at Grimsby, played a fine game the first two periods, but had to retire in the third.

The first period was easily the best of the three, and the locals had the peach sticks backed at their own end, and only the sensational goal-tending of Fisher saved his team. The second period was Grimsby's, and they scored two goals, one by Burnside, and the other by Clark. The locals worked hard the last period and managed to notch two, one by Bowman, and the other by Hamel. Horne got Grimsby's third. The locals again had the better of this period, but Fisher again saved his team. All the locals played well, and to pick a star would be impossible. Fisher was the star of Grimsby by long odds, and Horne was the best net.

HAMILTON BEAVERS SWAMPED IN GUELPH

Royal City Sextet Runs Up 9-2 Count in Consolation Match.

Special to The Advertiser.

Guelph, Feb. 24.—Hamilton Beavers were swamped in a consolation fixture here tonight. The visitors did not like the heavy going on the soft ice. The locals were right at home, and jumped into an early lead, steadily increasing it in the remaining two stanzas.

In the last stanza both squads went out determined to rough it, and several penalties were evenly divided. Holland, the local net custodian, took exception to Walsh's tactics near the goal, and went after him, and both teams became embroiled in the battle. Walsh was outstanding for the visitors, scoring both goals, while Leachman, Pool, Brill and King starred for the Guelphites. The Georgetown team will probably be played in Georgetown Thursday.

Beavers—Goal, W. Morrison; defence, Jones and Gibb; forwards, Theriot, Walsh and Eydt; subs, D. Peene and N. Morrison.

Guelph—Goal, Holland; defence, Brill and King; forwards, Leachman, Pool and Baker; subs, Etherington and Brandon.

On the Side Lines With C.S.G.

This is the first season on record that the O.H.A. has had to order two teams to promote themselves to senior hockey. That both are in the finals speaks for the judgment of the O.H.A.

Also the thanks of the intermediate teams Peterboro and Niagara Falls would have played with, and the fans in these groups add their thanks to the O.H.A.

WHERE LEAST EXPECTED.

The consensus of opinion before last night's Advertiser Silver Skates Derby would have been that a pair of speed skaters didn't exist in London. They did and they were borrowed from his younger brother by the winner of last night's race.

One official didn't think that speed skates should have been allowed. They gave a slight, but unfair advantage.

Another thought that no such restriction should be placed on a youngster. If any youngster had enough interest to invest in expensive speed skates, he believed that he ought not to be penalized for it.

However, as far as last night's Derby was concerned, the question of skates had not come up. It was one of those unforeseen things that do crop up unexpectedly.

But one pair of speed skates—now there will be two in one family—shows that the sport has a beginning in London.

NEW OLD STUFF.

Harvard is experimenting with the Finnish bath which helps to keep Paavo Nurmi in condition for running around in circles, which is the sport in which the Finns excel all the peoples of the world. Five members of the Harvard track and field team have submitted to it. If it works on these, all of the members of the football squad will be ordered to the Finnish bath.

The Finnish bath is a simple process calculated to bring out all of the Spartan virtues. The young martyrs selected for the ordeal are first compelled to sit upon hot bricks until they are bathed in a profuse perspiration. Then some of their team-mates rush into the hot room and beat them with sticks until they are black and blue. When this part of the bath is completed, the athletes rush out and roll in the snow until they are cooled off. If pneumonia does not set in within twenty-four hours, the athletes are then certified as bathed.

Manufacturers' League Takes New Lease of Life

All Four Teams Strengthened by Addition of O. H. A. Players.

FASTER PACE SEEN

With the admission of O. H. A. players to the teams in the Manufacturers' league, beginning with the games tonight, fans will be given a whole lot of real hockey before baseball pushes the puck game off the sport map.

Bill Starkings and Jack Barrett will appear in Bell Telephone uniforms in the second game tonight against the Standard Drug. Their presence should put a heap of punch into the Hello crew, which has tried hard all season, but has consistently fallen just a little short on both defensive and offensive work. Jack and Bill, however, both know their stuff along these lines, and can be depended upon to show a lot of it tonight.

Opposing them on the Drug Mixers' team will be Pierre Bellefeuille, rated as the fastest and headiest amateur in the game today. Pete was all dressed up to step forth with the Standard Drug sextet in its last game, but the league officials said "nix," with the result that the 75's star wing man warmed the bench. He will be very much in the fray tonight, though, and may be expected to let off a great deal of the steam he was forced to confine last Wednesday night.

Starting tonight, the Manufacturers' league, which has always provided hockey of a fast intermediate calibre, should bring forth even a little better. Practically the entire present personnel of all four teams has made good in the intermediate game, and with the inclusion of this year's senior and junior players in this year's line-ups, some real battles can safely be foreseen.

The first game in which both teams and C. R. both of whom have been strong squads all year. This mingle shapes up as a real one, with action every second.

CURTAIN RUNG DOWN ON SARNIA ICE SEASON

Special to The Advertiser.

Sarnia, Feb. 24.—Trucks were busy this afternoon carting ice away from St. Andrew's rink, so it looks as if the hockey season here is closed, regardless of what the weather may still produce. The city league race is still incomplete and efforts may be made to have the remaining games played on outdoor ice. Sarnia is not likely to go any further in the consolation series of the intermediate O.H.A.

Chief sport interest will center this week in the return basketball game between London Central and Sarnia C. L. This will be a real clash, but those who are familiar with Sarnia team's work on their own courts have little doubt that the seven-point lead London obtained last week will be wiped out.

M'GRAW CORRALES FIFTEEN PITCHERS

Yankees Reach Infield Practice Stage at St. Petersburg Camp.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Feb. 24.—Baseball fans are beginning to stir restlessly as spring training blows in the east, and the reports from the major league training camps indicate that members of the ball clubs are beginning to get down to serious training.

From accounts blowing north from the Florida fastness there is a superfluity of pitchers in the camps of the New York National and American league clubs. Fifteen of them are under the banner of the Yankees' league's champion club. In addition to the regulars the added starters are Joe Martin, a West Virginia senior, and Bartlett McMillan, with Montreal last year. Manager McGraw returned today from a deep sea expedition, and serious training began.

The Yankees at St. Petersburg, reached the infield practice stage yesterday. Nick Cullon, all-around man, playing first base. Three recruit pitchers worked hard, but the regulars knocked the ball to all corners of the lot. The fielding was long.

The contingent of world champion Senators undergoing the hardening-up process of several regulars, although on new life with the arrival there yesterday of Walter Johnson, the hurling ace, who is being banked heavily to keep the club at the top of the coming campaign. Walter said he never felt better. He has not yet signed a contract. The advance guard of the Senators is working out at Tampa, Fla. Joe Martin, veteran pitcher, was suspended by President Griffith yesterday for failure to put in an appearance when ordered.

Brooklyn still waits the signed contracts of several regulars, although Manager Wilbert Robinson is practically assured an infield with High Johnson and Tierney at work. Jacques Fournier, first baseman, has not signed yet.

COMMITTEE PRESCRIBES FOR FARM DIFFICULTIES

Special Agricultural Body Tables Probe Finding in Ontario Legislature.

HYDRO EXTENSION

Would Create Canadian National Commission On Export Marketing.

Special to The Advertiser. Toronto, Feb. 24.—Transportation is the farmer's major problem, according to the report of the special agricultural committee which was tabled in the legislature yesterday.

The main recommendation in the marketing problem is the creation of a Canadian national export marketing commission. It urges the government to take the necessary steps with the federal government and other provincial governments for the creation of this body.

The extension of the agricultural representative system is urged by the report and demonstration of the best methods on individual farms, and more co-operation between provincial and federal governments.

Would Extend Hydro. The committee found some lack of knowledge as to how electric light and power might be secured in the rural districts, but urges as vigorous a policy as possible in the extension of rural hydro services.

The committee held 51 meetings in all parts of the province. The committee states the report failed to find any injury to the cheese industry through the dairy standards act. The committee does not recommend the drastic forcing of consolidation of cheese factories. The committee recommends that noxious weeds act be enforced by the Ontario agricultural department, and a province-wide campaign be started to combat weeds.

For fruit and vegetables, the committee recommends establishment of a government farm in Eastern Ontario to test the best varieties of vegetables, etc., and that in apple-growing districts experts be appointed to assist the agricultural representatives.

Aid For Cattle Shippers. Commenting on ocean freight rates, particularly with regard to cattle shipments, the committee says: "The committee recommends that the Ontario government strongly urge upon the Dominion government full consideration of the interests and requirements of Ontario shippers in whatever federal policy may be decided on to secure reduction of ocean rates."

The report declares that it is obvious that Ontario alone is capable of producing beef cattle in volume far exceeding the requirements of the Dominion. Shipments were followed from Western Ontario to England, conducted by men experienced in the cattle trade and the results showed that as many were unprofitable and profitable. One witness testified that Ontario should be able to ship as many live cattle to England as does Ireland.

The potential power of Ontario to engage in the movement of live cattle to Britain cannot be fully developed because of existing influences, declares the committee. "Mr. Shamburg of New York is the chief buyer for export. Mr. Shamburg's agents are in the Union stockyards, Toronto; in the office of the International Mercantile Marine at No. 1 Broadway, New York, and at the British ports. The committee satisfied itself that the usefulness of the Canadian government merchant marine is limited by the North Atlantic freight conference. It came to the conclusion that

7 Killed, 8 Hurt In Quarry Blast

Associated Press Despatch.

San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 24.—Seven men were killed and eight injured in a premature explosion of a heavy charge of dynamite in a rock quarry in the outskirts of the village of Langley, 140 miles west of here, shortly after two o'clock this afternoon.

The bodies of some of the victims were blown to bits. Others were hurled more than two hundred yards while some were buried beneath heavy masses of rock and earth as the side of the hill toppled over on them.

With his widespread power and influence Mr. Shamburg controls the profits of Ontario cattle raisers.

Transportation Problem. "The tone of the inquiry points to transportation as the farmer's major difficulty," says the report. "The high level of rates restricts all business as from this standpoint national railroads fail in service as a public utility. This expresses the views of the committee, but does not imply opposition to the railroads as a principle. The committee on every occasion asked for concrete examples of exorbitant charges and a mass of correspondence with the board of railway commissioners and the railways is on file. The railways reply that their charges must necessarily be fixed on the principle of profitable operation. The per ton value of agricultural produce is relatively low for all farm commodities. In many instances carlot loadings are unfair to the farmer. The cost of railway service to him is therefore out of proportion to value received."

It was not shown to the committee that railway management had in any outstanding way endeavored to adjust the grievance of agriculture in Ontario under existing rates. Rate adjustments that have been made are not of material aid to Ontario farmers. Nor is the suggestion to stop unprofitable expenditures on extensions adequate to the situation.

Farmers Bear Share. "If the publicly-owned national system of railways does not pay, the largest share of the distributable loss. The farmer provides his portion of this distribution while supplying the country with a high percentage of the tonnage. The committee has repeatedly been reminded that existing rates hinder farm industry in this way and diminish legitimate railway business."

"The rural opinion pressed upon the committee should not be ignored. The committee would be remiss if it did not take cognizance of the complaint lodged and urge that they be brought to the attention of the Dominion government."

The report declares that it is obvious that Ontario alone is capable of producing beef cattle in volume far exceeding the requirements of the Dominion. Shipments were followed from Western Ontario to England, conducted by men experienced in the cattle trade and the results showed that as many were unprofitable and profitable. One witness testified that Ontario should be able to ship as many live cattle to England as does Ireland.

ADVERTISING MEN HEAR E. P. HOUSEAL

Detroit Man Speaks On Value of Poster As Outdoor Medium.

Outdoor advertising as a profitable advertising medium was strongly advocated last night by E. P. Houseal of Walker & Company, Detroit, in an address to the London Advertising and Sales club in the Tecumseh House. It was an outdoor advertising night for the club, and members present considered themselves lucky in hearing a speaker of Mr. Houseal's ability and experience. An exceptionally fine exhibition of outdoor advertising designs loaned by the Walker Company was shown in the members of the club.

Three questions which, he said, must be answered in measuring the value of all advertising given by Mr. Houseal were: How strong? How often? and How many people read it?

Reaches Many People. "The outdoor advertising poster and display," he said, "with its color, its story in pictures, its size and its position, makes outdoor advertising supreme in regard to strength. The number of people passing outdoor advertising and seeing it give it a very high place as a medium in the answer to the third question. The simplicity of the poster also renders it very easy of understanding to the average man, and the poster when we come to the question of how often the advertisement is displayed before the public, once more the outdoor poster stands high in the measure of efficiency as a medium. "I think sometimes that some people do not appreciate the value of simplicity in a poster. In Detroit, it has been proven scientifically that the mentality of the average man and woman is that of a 12-year-old child. That is the imperative need for simplicity in all advertising and in all media."

Mr. Houseal warned his hearers that prestige in any medium was essential to success in that medium, and asked everyone going into outdoor advertising to stay with it until results were obtained. He instanced several cases where large American firms firmly established in a certain medium had failed in a three months' effort in the poster field, but had later succeeded over a longer period.

Frequent Impressions. "Frequency of impression is perhaps the keynote of all advertising," he declared. With outdoor advertising you can get as much frequency as you want, and confine it to any one locality in which you wish to get results. Last year in America the total value of all advertising done was $1,234,000,000, and of that only $42,000,000 was spent on outdoor advertising. Slowly but surely it is coming into its own as a valuable, sound, economic and profitable medium, especially for the retailer.

FRANCE WELCOMES SNOW. Associated Press Despatch. Paris, Feb. 24.—"Favorable snow falls the granaries runs an old saying. If it is true, France need not import any wheat next year, for snow is falling intermittently over the whole country, even in the usually sunny south. The fall is heavy in the mountains of central France and the thermometer has dropped far below zero."

Refunding External Debt. Latest reports indicate that France is about to proceed with the funding of her debt to Great Britain and the United States. This step, in the opinion of international bankers, will prove a powerful impetus in the rise of the franc. The aftermath of such refunding can best be gauged by the behavior of the British Pound Sterling, which has recently seen a new high since the war of $1.60 per pound, or within a cent of its par value. The franc, during the early part of January showed strength and the movement, we believe, is but precursor in view of the recovery of the franc to a rise of greater proportions. As the current rate of exchange determines the future value of French Government 6% bonds, prospective purchasers of these securities will have some splendid profits to show within the next few months.

Reparations. France is to receive large sums on her reparation account from Germany which will greatly enhance her treasury. The Ministry of Finance has issued a statement outlining the economic and financial situation. As it contains much information of interest to Canadian investors in French Government 6% Bonds we have summarized the statement as follows:—

The Government will shortly be in a position to increase its reimbursements to the Bank of France which will do away with the menace of inflation, while it will also help to stabilize the value of the franc in relation with foreign exchanges. The franc as a result, will then start to gain in value and so cause the cost of living to decrease.

The budgetary situation shows a steady improvement. In 1919 national expenditure exceeded revenue by nearly 24 billion francs. In 1923, the general budget, which included all expenditure of government departments balanced; in 1924, the general budget will show an excess of revenue which will go a good way towards covering expenditures under the Special Budget for reconstruction of the devastated areas in 1925, for the first time in eleven years, according to the present official estimates, all expenditures will be met by normal revenue.

The general economic situation shows a similar improvement. The uninterrupted development of France's foreign trade, the constant increase in revenue from all sources of taxation, the reconstruction of the devastated regions and the new wealth brought to the country by the return of Alsace-Lorraine are all factors of prime importance to the nation's economic balance sheet.

In 1929 France's imports exceeded exports by 24 billion francs; today the situation is reversed and France is selling abroad more than she is buying. On the basis of the figures for the first six months of last year, the trade balance, for 1924, will be in France's favor to the extent of 3 billion francs.

Seventy-five per cent. of the total damage done by the German armies in the devastated regions of Northern France has now been repaired and this remarkable result has been achieved by France alone. The provinces of the north have recovered their pre-war population of 4,278,000 inhabitants and the terrible ravages of war will soon be wiped out.

Most important of all, in concluding this statement of France's economic and financial condition, the French Minister of Finance points out that Germany has now declared herself willing to make reparations and that under the provisions of the Dawes plan $2 per cent. of these payments will be credited to France. This money will be of substantial help in enabling the French Government to speed up the execution of its financial program which includes provision for the amortization of the public debt.

Area and Population. The total area of France, including Alsace-Lorraine, amounts to 212,659 square miles. The population of France in 1911 was 39,601,599, and that of Alsace-Lorraine in 1910 was 1,874,014. In 1921, France within its new boundaries, had 39,209,766 people. The total population of the republic, including Alsace-Lorraine, is 184 per square mile. In 1921 there were 1,550,449 foreigners in France. Paris, the capital, has 2,906,472 inhabitants; and Marseilles, Lyons, Bordeaux, and Lille are cities of over 200,000 population.

National wealth and resources. The national wealth of France was estimated in March 1922 as being about Frs. 770,000,000,000 as compared with Frs. 300,000,000,000 in 1914 and 100,000,000,000 prior to the Franco-Prussian war. The national income is estimated at Frs. 82,000,000,000 as compared with 37,000,000,000 in 1914, while the value of foreign investments (largely reduced since the war) is placed at Frs. 17,500,000,000 to 21,000,000,000 (gold). In 1914 France was estimated at 42,000,000,000 (gold). The French capital before the war had gone considerably into her colonies but in much larger amounts in the older and larger foreign countries. The French investments in the United States, in Canada, South America, the Near East and the Far East were important factors, and the revenue from these foreign holdings probably aggregated about $400,000,000 per annum. The total debt of the Russian Government to the French Government was given as of January 1, 1923 at Frs. 6,040,000,000 (gold) inclusive of Frs. 995,000,000 (gold) charge by the Bank of France for discounting Russian Government obligations. Advances to other countries amounted on January 1, 1923 to Frs. 9,278,000,000, viz., Rumania, Frs. 1,181,000,000; Jugoslavia, Frs. 1,705,000,000; Greece, Frs. 861,000,000; Poland, Frs. 1,054,000,000; Czechoslovakia, Frs. 574,000,000; Belgium, Frs. 3,684,000,000; Italy, Frs. 49,000,000; exclusive of Frs. 800,000,000 (gold) in supplies of materials to be covered to indefinite extent by value of Italian supplies of materials, Estonia, Frs. 10,500,000; Montenegro, Frs. 13,000,000; Lithuania, Frs. 6,000,000; Hungary, Frs. 1,600,000; Austria, Frs. 200,000; and Latvia, Frs. 11,000,000.

Tells Why He Can
Now Eat Hearty

"A letter which I read in the paper about Carter's Little Liver Pills fitted my own case so closely that I could not help trying them and am very happy I did." So writes Mr. Frank J. Trumbull of Jersey City, N. J., whose letter goes on to say, "I had heard about Carter's Little Liver Pills for years but never knew they helped over come poor appetite and sour stomach, until I read about another man in the same plight who took Carter's with good results. I tried them and can honestly say that they freed me of nasty gas on stomach, so that I can now eat without getting bilious, and they improved my appetite fully 100%. You can rest assured that from now on I will boost Carter's Little Liver Pills whenever I can."

Why Physicians Favour Lubrication

Medical science has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus, Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

Take Nujol regularly and adopt this habit of internal cleanliness. For sale by all druggists.

ROKE AND BOWMAN QUIT PROGRESSIVE PARTY

Member For East Lambton Bitterly Denounces Drury and Doherty.

LAUDS MORRISON

Western Ontario Members Have Field Day in Legislature.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Feb. 24.—By the breaking away of two members from the Progressives, the Ontario legislature today added another to its numerous groups. Leslie Oke, East Lambton, in speaking in the debate on the reply to the speech from the throne, announced that he and Beniah Bowman, Manitoulin, were continuing to be United Farmer members with no connection with the Progressive party, which is under the leadership of W. E. Raney. The House is now composed of Conservatives, Liberals, Progressives, Labor men and United Farmers.

Mr. Oke delivered a scathing attack on E. C. Drury, former prime minister of Ontario, charging him with wrecking, or trying to wreck, the farmers' movement in Ontario for his own glorification. He named in his attack W. E. Raney and Manning Doherty, both ministers in the Drury cabinet.

The East Lambton member censured J. G. Lethbridge, Progressive member for West Middlesex, for having opposed J. C. Elliott, Liberal M.P., in 1919 on the ground that farmers could not be represented by a lawyer, and for now sitting in the House under the leadership of a city lawyer (Mr. Raney).

Hit By Whirlwind.
"I am back here as a United Farmer member," said Leslie Oke. "The Tory, Liberal, Progressive whirlwind has hit the farmer movement, but it did not destroy it, and here is one thing that was not blown off the barn because it was oak and of good material. The only things that can make me quit the U. F. O. are death or when the people of East Lambton do not want me. By remaining a United Farmer I am keeping faith with the farmers who elected me, and I will not destroy that faith for all the politics under the sun."

"Mr. Drury and the farmer members had the faith of most of the people of the province. Did Mr.
Drury keep that faith? I say he did not or he would not have gone wool-gathering to give himself a bigger head. Drury's head is far too big now for any thought or love he ever had for the U. F. O. He had much more thought for the position he wished to obtain."

Mr. Oke said he still had the interests of the farmers at heart, and he was going to represent them, although he had no objection to other classes also having representation. If other people put in claims, then the farmer should always be in a position to put in a counter-claim.

Mr. Oke would not be doing my duty by those who elected me if I went to the Conservative, the Liberal or the Progressive party, and I will remain a United Farmer if I remain alone," he declared.

Lauds Morrison.
Mr. Oke paid a tribute to the man he called "Dad" Morrison, secretary of the U. F. O., who never wavered in his allegiance to it.

Praises Tariff All Day Long

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Feb. 24.—Andrew Mc-Master of Bromes amused the House last night with the doggerel reply to Mr. Meighen, who had held up tariff as remedy for the miners' troubles in Nova Scotia.

"This is his story,
This is his song,
Praising protection,
All the day long."

themselves Progressives can now have a clean mind regarding the U.
F. O. when they propose taking all classes into the movement. We farmers do not want a Progressive party. We want a distinctive group to co-operate with the other parties.
If Drury had had more 'class' he would not have been so horribly de-fected.

Bowman, Too.
"I may say now, and I have his permission, that the member for Manitoulin (Beniah Bowman) is not giving himself over to the Progressives, but will remain U. F. O. We find the Progressives now led by a lawyer from Toronto. That, surely, is not a farmer movement."

On the O. T. A. charge, Mr. Oke said that the people felt that Premier Ferguson was not doing what he said he would do. "The people think they are in a position to challenge the veracity of the premier," said Mr.
Oke. "I will vote against the stronger beer because my riding voted 4,000 against any change in the O. T.
A. I like my glass of beer myself, but I will oppose the measure because my riding does not want it."

DOHERTY SPEAKS.
Special to The Advertiser.
by Staff Correspondent.
Toronto, Feb. 24.—Western Ontario members had a field day in the debate on the speech from the throne this afternoon and evening, with Manning Doherty of East Kent (Progressive), L. W. Oke, East Lambton (U. F. O.), W. S. Haney, West Lambton (Conservative) and E. P. Teller, North Essex (Liberal) speaking in succession.

Hon. Manning Doherty, former minister of agriculture, dealt with unemployment and with agricultural conditions, and condemned the government's beer proposals as "the supremacy of agriculture" that was prevaling over other interests.

W. S. Haney, the boy orator of Sarnia, surprised none, but won applause from his fellow-Tory bench-ers by his support of the beer bill.

Mr. Doherty condemned the present administration for not carrying out the plans he had started as minister of agriculture for the establishment of farm commodity marketing associations.

SOLUTION TO NO. 114.

ACTION PLANNED AGAINST COMBINE

Murdock Says Labor Department May Prosecute Nash Brokerage Houses.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Feb. 24.—Hon. James Murdock, minister of labor, stated today that the department proposed to take action on the report of Commissioner Lewis Duncan, tabled in the House of Commons yesterday.

The report finds that the Nash mutual combination of brokerage and jobbing houses is a combine operating detrimentally to the people of Canada, "wrong in principle and unjust in its operation." The line of action has not yet been determined.
Mr. Murdock pointed out that the report tabled yesterday was an interim report and that the commissioner is still in a position to hear further representations either for or against the Nash interests.

The combines investigation act, under which the investigation took place, provides that legal action may be taken against a combine. The minister may leave it to the provincial authorities to proceed with the prosecution of the offender. If the province should take no action within three months, the federal government may proceed on its own account to lay information against the offender.

The act provides for a penalty not exceeding $10,000 or two years in jail if an individual, and not exceeding $25,000 if a corporation, participates in the formation or operation of a combine.

New Corset Models

Team play has its part in fashions as well as in sports. Artistry and good taste are essentials, but co-operation is an important third point. The corsetiere works hand in hand with the designer. To match slight changes in the 1925 silhouette, there are slight changes in the newer corsets. Gossard wrap-around and combination models have been made expressly to create or to accentuate the straight lines and slim contours necessary for spring clothes.

- No. 885—A clasp-around in a 14-inch length; of fancy broche and hand-knitted elastic. The front is raised to control the diaphragm. Two pairs of hose supporters $8.50
- No. 758—A 13-inch step-in, made entirely of elastic; designed for slight and average figures and fastened with hooks and eyes; short openings at front $8.50
- No. 505—A long clasp-around designed for the average figure in 15-inch length. The wide section of elastic is over the hip and the front is cut up slightly. Trimmed prettily at the top; pink broche $6.00
- No. 382—A front-lacing model for average to stout figures. It has low, comfortable elastic top. The skirt is long and shaped to care for an average hip. Made of silk brocade $8.50
- No. 3647—A long Combination made of fancy broche. Fastened at side front. Two long, pointed gores are inserted over each hip; back and diaphragm sections slightly boned $6.00

HICKORY ELASTIC PRODUCTS FROM THE NOTION COUNTER

To-day I saw

First arrivals in spring hats! A group of particularly smart ones coming in on the heels of our New York fashion letter which so cleverly described the very newest tendencies in hats!

That whole story might have been written around the dozen or so I saw this morning. Even to a hat with "windmill" tendency, that swirled very broad, very chic arms of black satin above a high pointed crown.

They were small, close-fitting hats for suit, or ensemble. Crochets high and pointed or dented or creased. Trimmings are as vagrant as spring zephyrs. Sometimes posing primly on top—for instance a bunch of forget-me-nots on a poufde blue straw. Very often they fall lazily from very peak of crown to very edge of brim. Deep fringe or folds of ribbon cascade to the brim and sometimes below it in a manner that's artfully casual.

And flowers—flowers are no longer the conventional flat flowers of previous years. They are just as real as those which bloomed all winter long on smart shoulders. Huge full-blown roses are widely used, roses that seem to have strayed from the picture-hat of a magazine-cover girl.
