It was made in the officers mess at the 38th Armories and was on "Guards and Sentries." The next lecture will be given on Friday night by Captain Emmons, Adjutant of the 125th. It will be on "Company Interior Economy."

MEDICAL INSPECTION. Major McCullough of A. M. C., of Toronto, was in the city for a few hours this morning. He inspected the barracks and mess rooms of the 84th Battalion.

TO-DAY'S OFFICERS. The officers on orderly duty at the 125th Battalion headquarters to-day are Captain James and Lieutenant Preston. The captain next for duty is Captain Jordan, while Lieut. Woodruff will be the next subaltern.

MAJOR TAYLOR. Captain T. A. Taylor (77th Regiment) has been promoted to the rank of Major in the 84th Battalion provisionally.

BATTERY WANTED NOW. The Depot Battery, under command of Major D. Field (4th Battery), is to be recruited in Hamilton, and is designated the 54th Depot Battery. The 47th Battery, under Captain W. T. Henderson, will be recruited here.

LEPER MISSION ANNUAL MEETING HELD YESTERDAY

Reports Received and Officers Elected For Coming Year.

The Annual Meeting of the Leper Mission was held in the Club Room of the Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with an attendance of twenty ladies. A most entertaining programme was given as follows: Mrs. T. L. Wood, one of the Vice-Presidents occupied the chair most acceptably. Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Ritchie presented their reports for the month, after which Mrs. Ker gave the Bible lesson taken from Stephen's life and was much enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Robt. Reid read a very interesting paper. The annual reports were then presented. $1.75 was realized from collecting Soap Wrappers; $12.85 from mite boxes placed in different stores in the city. From all sources the Treasurer reported $285.48 during the year. The Society have 400 subscribers to "Without the Camp," an instructive little pamphlet on Leper work. Then followed the report of the nominating committee and election of Officers for the ensuing year. President, Mrs. Dr. Barber; Vice-President, Mrs. W. H. Whitaker; Mrs. Robt. Reid, Mrs. Passmore and Mrs. John Sanderson; Secretary, Mrs. Jap. Adams; Treasurer, Mrs. Ritchie. The thank offering meeting was announced to be held on February 22, at the home of Mrs. James Adams. The meeting was dismissed by repeating the Lord's Prayer in concert.

CHARLIE BURLEY The funeral took place on Monday afternoon of Charlie, the three year old son of Private A. C. Burley, from the late residence, 288 Nelson St. Mr. Hope Cemetery. Rev. J. E. Jenkins officiated. Flowers: Wreath, Daddy; sprays, Mrs. Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. Upstone, Miss Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Pettit, Mr. and Mrs. Venables, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly, Master Hugh Sloan; No. 4 Platoon (A. Co., 128th Brant Battalion, C.E.F.), Cradle Roll, Marlboro Church, Mr. Greet's Bible Class (Marlboro St. Church), Mr. and Mrs. Densmore.

REV. T. A. WRIGHT On Saturday 22nd inst. the mortal remains of the Rev. T. A. Wright, (for 21 years Rector of St. Jude's Parish, Brantford, and ex-Rural Dean), were laid to rest in Chesley Cemetery, The service in Holy Trinity Church was taken by the Bishop of Huron, assisted by the Rector, Rev. W. E. Phillips. At the graveside, the committal portion of the burial service was read by the latter.

Born in Wales in 1854, Mr. Wright was brought in infancy by his parents to Canada, who settled in the Town of Chesley, Huron, Ontario, where he adopted the scholastic profession for two years, relinquishing this to enter business with his father in Desboro. Later, Mr. Wright, upon the decease of his father, entered Wycliffe College, Toronto, and completed his Theological course there in 1887. In the following year he was ordained Deacon, and raised to the Priesthood the following year, by the late Bishop Baldwin.

Mr. Wright's first parish was that of Chesley, Huron, Ontario, where he remained until 1892, when he was transferred to the Parish of Gorrie-Fordwich and Wroter. In 1892 he became Rector of St. John's, Brantford, and remained there until 1913, during his incumbency, two missions were begun, which afterwards developed into self-supporting parishes.

In 1912, the Rev. T. A. Wright met with an accident, and soon after suffered a paralytic stroke, from which he appeared to be gradually recovering. In fact, during the past few weeks, he confidently looked forward to actively serving in the Ministry again, but on Monday, 17th inst. a second stroke occurred, from which he never regained consciousness, but passed quietly away at midnight on the 18th inst.

The Rev. T. A. Wright is survived by his wife (nee Miss Milburn), and seven children, Mrs. M. B. O'Callahan, Pine Bluff, Arkansas; Mrs. G. Chapman of Toronto, Mrs. O. K. Walker of Pittsburgh, Miss Alice Wright at home; Rev. H. A. Wright of Amherst, N. B.; Mrs. E. M. Wright, manager of the Bank of Hamilton, Altona, Man., and L. A. Wright, manager of Bank of Hamilton, Carberry, Man. All of the family were present at the funeral.

JOHN HAND. The funeral of the late John Hand took place from the residence, 228 Park Avenue yesterday to the R. station where the body was sent to Norfolk for interment on the 10.30 a.m. train. Rev. D. T. McClintock of Alexandria Presbyterian church conducted impressive services at the house.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Topping, Weekly, Rowe, Tanner, Healey and Rogers. ROY JACKSON The funeral of the late Roy Jackson, the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jackson, took place from the family residence, 97 Aberdeen Avenue, on Monday to the R. station where the body was sent to Norfolk for interment on the 10.30 a.m. train. Rev. D. T. McClintock of Alexandria Presbyterian church conducted impressive services at the house and grave.

The funeral was largely attended, and many beautiful and floral tributes showed the sympathy of many friends. These included wreath from the 84th Battalion, sprays, Mr. and Mrs. Box, Knox Sunday school, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. H. and Mrs. Cowell, Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain, Aunt Annie and Uncle Charlie, Mrs. T. A. Cox. MRS. ELIZABETH AGUSTINE The remains of Mrs. Elizabeth Agustine, of Port Colborne, were laid peacefully to rest this morning in the Joseph's cemetery by Rev. Father Padden. Deceased lady died at her home in Port Colborne on Monday, and was sent here for burial in the family grave. She was 59 years of age.

WILLIAM HORSFAL. The death of William Horsfal of Montreal, occurred suddenly on Friday, January 21st, at the age of 68 years. The funeral took place this morning from the G. T. R. station on the arrival of the Montreal train, to Mt. Hope cemetery. Rev. Patterson-Smythe conducted impressive services at the grave.

WILLIAM HADLEY. The funeral took place of William Henry Hadley from the late residence, 310 St. Paul's Avenue to Mt. Hope cemetery yesterday. The Rev. Llewellyn Brown of the First Baptist church officiated at the house and the grave.

Memorial Service For Late Col. Yates London, Jan. 26.—A special memorial service for the late Lieut.-Col. H. B. Yates, of Montreal, will be held in St. John's Chapel, Clerkenwell, on Thursday. It will be attended by representatives of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, of which Lieut.-Col. Yates was a Knight of Grace, Clerkenwell, being the headquarters of the order. The body is being shipped by the Sicilian on Friday for burial in Montreal. At the expressed wish of the deceased, officer Mrs. Yates will remain in England. The opinion is expressed that Col. Yates met a premature end by adhering to duty when the climatic conditions were exceedingly trying in camp life. Just before his death he gave instructions for his burial in Montreal.

Obituary

H. M. BREDON. After a brief illness from pneumonia Mr. H. M. Bredon fell asleep last night in his 60th year at his home, 156 Brant Avenue. He came of a prominent Old Country family, whose members had rendered much military service, and he was born in India, where his father was stationed as an officer. He was sent to England as a boy and as a young man entered the service of the Bank of British North America in the office in London, and later was transferred to the Canadian service, in which his promotion was very rapid including membership in the Chicago branch and then of the Winnipeg branch. Coming east he was for many years in the Brantford branch but retired some time ago and found the city so much to his liking that he decided to take up his permanent residence here. Mr. Bredon was an exceptionally well educated man and an intense Britisher. Next to his home the Empire held first place in his affections, and he gloried in the freedom exemplified by the grand old Union Jack. As a husband and father he was most devoted and as a friend both loyal and true. He was an adherent of Grace church, from which edifice the funeral will take place to Farrington cemetery.

He leaves to mourn his loss, Mrs. Bredon, who is herself unfortunately confined to her bed by illness, and five children, Miss Bredon, Mrs. Newman and Jasper of this city; Jack who is in England on Overseas service, and Fred who is already with the colors in France in like regard. The Courier begs leave to join in the expression of heartfelt sympathy which will be felt for the bereaved.

INFANT CHILD. Mr. and Mrs. T. Money, 93 Brock St., will have the sympathy of many friends in the loss from pneumonia of their infant son, Frederick Edward. R. C. CHILTON. The death occurred of Mr. R. C. Chilton, manager of the Apollo Theatre, this morning at 5 o'clock. A sudden attack of pneumonia was the cause of his demise. The deceased resided on Arthur street with his father and mother. Mr. Chilton was formerly a prominent citizen of Ingersoll, being chief of police there. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

SPECIAL SERVICES. There are special services in the Good Hope Baptist church commencing on January 23rd, and continuing each evening of the week.

Japan Presents Another Note Demands Again Privileges From China Asked For a Year Ago. London, Jan. 26.—The Japanese government has delivered to the Chinese minister in Tokio, for transmission to his government, a note embodying seven demands which were included in the Japanese program of last spring. The Manchester Guardian learns from Far Eastern sources.

The Guardian expresses the hope that this news will be "authoritatively contradicted," as the demands "when previously presented were full of bluff and independence." The note and their general effect would have been to place China under the tutelage of Japan. "It is the aim and hope of British policy," says the newspaper, "to see China strong and independent, developing peacefully without interference from any foreign power." "It is a duty we owe both to ourselves and to China," says The Guardian, finally, "to help her in that direction. We have enormous material interests too, which reinforces what is for us the only right and just policy."

Chasing Submarines a Royal Sport The king of our sailors' outdoor sports just now is "chasing" submarines, says an Old Country magazine. The crews of the chasers are experts at the game.

Now, every submarine makes what the experts call a "surface wave." Even at 60 feet deep she leaves a distinct path, and 80 feet is pretty deep for any submarine to venture. Besides this plain track, there are also innumerable bubbles of air and globules of oil, continually escaping to the surface, plain indication to the observant eye of a submarine hovering below. All right—the "chaser" catches the oil gets on the glass of the periscope

HOW TO READ REAL MEANING OF A GERMAN COMMUNIQUE

At Times It Can Be Believed and at Times It Cannot--Method by Which One is Worked Up--Enemy Relying on First Group of Ineffectives For Drafts.

We have had this week a very interesting example of two elements in the present situation which all close students in the war are aware of and regard as important. These two elements are first, the type of falsehood which we do well to expect in the enemy's official communiques, and secondly, the appearance, now many weeks old and necessarily increasing, of inefficients among the enemy's drafts. The example of a single action very carefully noted has brilliantly illuminated both these in the last few days. I refer to the action on the Hartmann's Wellerkopf or Viel Armand, the pyramidal foothill of the Vosges which directly overlooks the plain of Alsace. Here is the whole story.

The French after an intense bombardment, captured a group of trenches upon the disputed summit of this hill a few days before Christmas. The Germans counter-attacked and recovered a portion of their ground. All that is plain sailing and the enemy's account of his counter-offensive, though omitting, of course, much of the debit side, is perfectly accurate as far as it goes. But here follows, upon this the following dialogue: The French announced that they had taken in prisoners and they only counted unwounded prisoners capable of being paraded and marching past--over 1,300 men! At the close of operations the exact number announced was 1,668 prisoners; but the next batch first announced was precisely 1,381, of whom only 21 were officers.

Before analyzing this sharply-cut example of the enemy's method, the reader will do well to consider what this sort of trench warfare means. For a period varying from a few hours to two or three days, German all calibres shell a zone of trenches from a couple of hundred yards to perhaps 500 yards in depth. The works are knocked to pieces, the dugouts are obliterated, the concrete little shelters which conceal the machine guns are blown to pieces, many men are buried, many more killed and maimed, and a much larger number stunned and dazed by the intensity of the fire. But both sides know that such artillery activity on the part of an enemy means a forthcoming assault. The party thus attacked, therefore, leaves as few men as it dares in the front lines, and keeps the mass of its men behind, where the losses will be slighter.

The moment the intense artillery preparation stops, the assault begins in its trenches, and rushes over the short interval between the two trenches, probably overwhelms the first trench with its dazed occupants, and perhaps a trench or two swarmed over differs with the magnitude of the artillery preparation and of the forces involved. But such an assault is checked after its first drive by two things. First, that it comes upon the less-damaged farther portion of ground upon which the artillery preparation has been so thorough, and where a number of machine guns are still in action, and the men in the trenches are able to reply. Secondly, the enemy's reserves come pouring into the communication trenches and meet their opponents by a counter-offensive.

It will be seen by anyone who visualizes this type of action that the number of unwounded prisoners remaining in the hands of the assailant when they thus seize a narrow belt of trench work is necessarily but a small proportion of the enemy's total casualties.

U. S. REJECTS HUN PROPOSALS ON LUSITANIA

Count von Bernstorff Advised to That Effect Yesterday.

Washington, Jan. 25--The United States to-day rejected the German Government's proposals for settlement of the Lusitania case. Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, was summoned to the State Department by Secretary of State Lansing yesterday and advised of this decision.

Immediately thereafter Secretary Lansing began preparation of a communication to Berlin that will flatly set forth the terms of agreement insisted upon by the United States. It was stated in the most authoritative quarters to-day that how the Lusitania case is to be settled rests entirely with Berlin. The United States has said the last word. Rejection of the German Government's proposals for settlement of the Lusitania case was announced after President Wilson and his Cabinet had given the most careful consideration to them at a session lasting more than two hours.

THE GERMAN POSITION It may be stated on the highest authority that the German proposals carried the following among other provisions: An implied admission that the killing of American citizens aboard the Lusitania was illegal. An offer to pay full indemnity for American lives lost, which was an admission of illegality.

Assurances that there can be no repetition of the act in the light of Germany's pledges to abide by the conditions set forth by the United States that no further submarine attacks shall be made on passenger ships until passengers and crews have been put in places of safety. An explanation that German submarine warfare in the war zone surrounding Great Britain was undertaken as a reprisal against the illegal British blockade, and that this policy of reprisal had been given up to meet the wishes of the United States.

PORTLAND AND VANCOUVER WIN

Portland, Oregon, Jan. 26--The meeting between the local club and Victoria here last night furnished one of the closest and most interesting contests of the Coast league this season. Each scored a single goal in the opening period, while in the second twenty minutes Portland added three to their total and Victoria two, making the score at the end of the session, four to three for Portland. In the third period Portland scored three, and Victoria two, Portland winning seven to five.

SEATTLE LOST. Seattle, Jan. 26--Vancouver were the victors of the local club in schedule league fixture last evening and furnished a surprise through the improvement in their play. Vancouver started on the offensive and scored the only goals in the first and second periods, starting out the final session with a two-goal margin. In the third period Vancouver scored once and Seattle twice, Vancouver winning three to two. Of the 190 motor cars imported into Siam last year, 51--value sixteen thousand pounds--were from the United Kingdom, 48--value thirteen thousand pounds--were from Germany, and 91--value twelve thousand pounds--were from America.

COMPULSION BILL NOW IN HOUSE OF LORDS

Marquis of Lansdowne Spoke Strongly in Favor.

London, Jan. 26--The House of Lords without division passed the second reading of the military service bill yesterday afternoon. The Marquis of Lansdowne, Minister without portfolio, spoke strongly on the necessity of enacting the measure.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, in the course of the debate, bestowed a benediction on the measure, saying he regarded it as a plain, straightforward, vigorous effort to meet a situation extraordinarily difficult. Earl Curzon, Lord Privy Seal, in winding up the debate, expressed the opinion that the most serious criticism of the bill was made by those who contended that it did not go far enough. No one, he said, would expect a permanent measure passed through himself, but obviously it was out of the question to attempt to revolutionize the whole military system in the middle of a great war, and force upon the country a general system of compulsion.

Earl Derby, Director of Recruiting said he was convinced that the bill when imposed on the country would not make the disturbance in industrial circles that many had predicted. He believed it could be so worked that men could be brought into the army, as required and as industry could spare them. He was more frightened by the demand made in the Lusitania note of July 21, that the Imperial Government "disavow the wanton act of its naval commander in sinking the Lusitania."

GERMAN POSITION It may be stated on the highest authority that the German proposals carried the following among other provisions: An implied admission that the killing of American citizens aboard the Lusitania was illegal. An offer to pay full indemnity for American lives lost, which was an admission of illegality. Assurances that there can be no repetition of the act in the light of Germany's pledges to abide by the conditions set forth by the United States that no further submarine attacks shall be made on passenger ships until passengers and crews have been put in places of safety. An explanation that German submarine warfare in the war zone surrounding Great Britain was undertaken as a reprisal against the illegal British blockade, and that this policy of reprisal had been given up to meet the wishes of the United States.

PREFACE BY PREMIER BORDEN

Bonar Law Also Writes Short Introduction to Work.

London, Jan. 26.—"Canada in Flanders" is the title of a work published this week by Hodder and Stoughton. The author is Sir Max Aitken, Colonial Secretary. Bonar Law subscribes the following preface: "The present work seems to me a model of lucid, picturesque and sympathetic narrative. We have a right to feel very proud of the part being played in the terrible tragedy of this war by the great Dominion under the British Crown. We have no power to compel any one of them to contribute a single penny or send a single man, but they have given of their best, not to help us, though I think they would have done that also but to defend the Empire which is theirs as much as ours. The relations after this war between the great Dominion and the mother country will never be the same again. The pressure of our enemies is welding us together, and the British Empire is becoming a reality, as well as in name, a united nation."

Premier Borden, in the introduction recalling the mobilization and early experiences of the Canadians at the front, adds: "The story of the tenacity, valor and heroism has been well told in these pages, but it can never be completely told. Many of those upon whose memories alone the splendid incidents of that story were indelibly engraven lie beneath the sod in northern France and Belgium." Sir Max Aitken, in his own preface, says: "I shall be content if one Canadian woman draws solace from this record of a dead husband's bravery; if even one reader recognizes for the first time the right of Canadians to stand as equals in the temple of valor with their Australian brothers who fought and died in the Anzac zone; if the task of consolidating our Imperial resources, which may be one positive consequence of this orgy of destruction, counts one adherent the more among those who have honored me by reading these records."

A temporary injunction restraining the enforcement in Multnomah county of the Oregon blue law was continued in the State Circuit Court.

INSURANCE MERGER NOT APPROVED

Sun Life and Manufacturers Life Merger Not Likely Now.

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—The opinion of the Superintendent of Insurance is adverse to the proposed reinsurance agreement entered into by the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada and the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company.

When the minister of Finance was notified of the agreement he at once instructed the Superintendent of Insurance to carefully consider its terms and make an actual report as to the position the policy-holders of the Manufacturers' Life, and the advantage or disadvantage likely to accrue to them from the agreement. The Superintendent of Insurance has made this report, which states that, in his view, the proposed reinsurance agreement is in the interest of the policy-holders of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company.

As the opinion of the Superintendent of Insurance is likely to carry great weight with the Treasury Board the Minister has notified both companies of his conclusions, so that no further step may be taken in the way of making changes in the agency force pending the decision of the Treasury Board. Under the statute it may be a month or more before the decision will in ordinary course reach the board.

DISPUTE ABOUT PRICE OF ROOM, NOT "SNOBBERY"

Officers Left Walker House Because Hotel Rates Not Suitable.

Toronto, Jan. 26.—Colonel Mewburn, in the absence of Brig-General Logan, dealt yesterday afternoon with the charge of "snoobery" on the part of two officers who had put up at the Walker House, and afterwards withdrew the names because, as was alleged, privates were allowed to sit in the rotunda of the hotel.

The officers in question were from the camp at Barrie, and they came to Toronto to enter for a course of instruction at the Provisional School. On the morning of January 17 they entered the Walker House and asked for a double room. Subsequently a dispute arose as to the charge for the room, and after some argument with the clerk the officers withdrew their names and went off to the Queen's Hotel.

The clerk, who appeared before Col. Mewburn with the two officers yesterday, admitted that there was a dispute as to accommodation, but stated that one of the officers asked him if private soldiers were permitted to loaf around the rotunda of the hotel. This the officer admitted, adding that he had a son serving as a private with the overseas force.

Col. Mewburn, after due consideration, declared himself as satisfied that the officers were free from all the charges attributed to them.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

A laxative to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour. Look at the tongue, mother! It is coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleaning" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

COMPULSION BILL NOW IN HOUSE OF LORDS

Marquis of Lansdowne Spoke Strongly in Favor.

ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY ALSO

Earl of Derby States It Would Not Disturb Industrial Life.

London, Jan. 26.—The House of Lords without division passed the second reading of the military service bill yesterday afternoon.

The Marquis of Lansdowne, Minister without portfolio, spoke strongly on the necessity of enacting the measure.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, in the course of the debate, bestowed a benediction on the measure, saying he regarded it as a plain, straightforward, vigorous effort to meet a situation extraordinarily difficult.

Earl Curzon, Lord Privy Seal, in winding up the debate, expressed the opinion that the most serious criticism of the bill was made by those who contended that it did not go far enough. No one would like better to see a permanent measure passed than himself, but obviously it was out of the question to attempt to revolutionize the whole military system in the middle of a great war, and force upon the country a general system of compulsion.

Earl Derby, Director of Recruiting said he was convinced that the bill when imposed on the country would not make the disturbance in industrial circles that many had predicted. He believed it could be so worked that men could be brought into the army, as required and as industry could spare them. He was more frightened by the extent of the exemptions granted by the Government than by the reductions in the country available for military service made by the munitions tribunals. Since his report was made four lists of reserved occupations had been issued, and he could not help being apprehensive when he learned that no less than 100,000 badges exempting men from military service had been issued in four days last week.

Dealing with its effect on industry, Lord Lansdowne admitted that the weakening of the industrial army obviously affected Great Britain's financial position, but he was quite opposed to any suggestion that Great Britain might have been content with supplying a great navy and munitions of war to her allies, besides placing Great Britain's credit at their disposal.

"If we had taken that line when the war broke out," the Marquis said, "of course the war would have been very different from what it has been and our confidence in the success of the operations which we hope to renew in the spring would have been much less than it is at present. It is distinctly for the interests of our industry and finance that we should not only emerge victorious, but that the conclusion of the struggle should not be too long delayed."
