

THE OLD OLD SAD STORY.

Disappointed in Love, Young Woman Suicides.

Left Letter to Man of Whom She Was Too Fond.

Had Taken Hypodermic Injections to Cause Death.

Albany, N. Y., April 6.—Disappointed over a love affair, Ethel Shaw, an attractive woman about 28 years old, was found dead in her room in the Ten Eyck Hotel this morning.

The postscript read, "No mother has a right to spoil a son's life. When two people marry they should be given a chance. Every woman knows this. Miss Shaw evidently had made all preparations for her death."

When Court Crier Jos. Greenfield called for order this morning in the County Council Chamber, where Judge Snider was to have held County Court, there were three lawyers before him.

EVA FAY IS REMARKABLE.

Clever Woman Who Makes No Claims to Supernatural.

A half hour's talk with Mrs. Eva Fay is sufficient to convince the most sceptical that she is a remarkable woman, and one gifted with more than the usual five senses.

The woman came to Albany yesterday. During the night groans were heard coming from her room, but it was believed the woman was ill.

Among the letters was one to Mrs. McKenzie, Free Delivery route, White Plains, in which Miss Shaw wrote, "I am frightened and lonely, but it seems to me so much worse to go on. Love to all of you, Isabelle and others. Ethel."

Other letters were addressed to Mrs. Samuel Carey, No. 38 West 46th street, New York; Allen C. Shaw, care Dale & Co., Montreal, Canada, a brother, to whom she left all her possessions, and directing the payment of $1,000 to Mrs. Samuel Carey, and an "Easter greeting note to Miss Kitty Riley, of Roosevelt Hospital, New York, containing a $10 bill.

A bank book on the U. S. Savings Bank of 606 Madison avenue, New York, was found showing that the woman had made a deposit of $25 in that bank yesterday. Her total deposits were $489. Several valuable pieces of jewelry also were found.

BATH FOR ROY

And He Will Have to Go to Jail to Get It.

Roy Ross, Wood street east, was arrested by Constable Brown last night, charged with vagrancy. He appeared at court this morning and his appearance suggested his first treatment. "I'll demand him to jail to have a bath," said Magistrate Jelfs, after one look. Ross was accordingly remanded a few days.

It was the first time this year that Dr. A. J. Case was drunk. Constable Campaign, jun., arrested the doc. last night for the offence. He was allowed to go this time, as it was his first time, and he was profuse in thanks. Thomas Street, Vinemont, saw his chance in this decision. "This is the first time this year," he said. He was also allowed to go.

Several of the officers of the I. O. F. left to-day for Toronto to attend the reception being given the Supreme Chief Ranger there this evening.

MAY BE SUBMITTED IN JANUARY NEXT.

City Has Assurance That Board of Control Legislation Will be Passed.

Mayor McLaren and the civil department which went to Toronto yesterday to try to get the municipal act amended so as to permit Hamilton to elect a Board of Control, received what practically amounts to an assurance that the request will be granted. His Worship is very enthusiastic over the proposition.

At one time he thinks the public looked upon this as a move to create a job for someone, but he thinks that the great majority of the people now recognize the necessity of such a system of municipal administration. To have a live executive body on the job every day the Mayor thinks would make quite a change in municipal circles. He thinks that the cost would not exceed $4,000 for four controllers, which, with the Mayor, would make a Board of five. This would not be very large remuneration for the right kind of men, but his worship thinks that later on, as the work grows, the amount could be increased. He would not expect men to devote all their time to the work for such remuneration. The matter, of course, will have to be submitted to the people and Mayor McLaren is not sure whether it would be advisable to do so before the end of the year or wait until January. Some full expression of opinion. The Council this year, he believes, is composed of men who would not object to cutting the number of aldermen down to fourteen, or two from each ward. If the slice of Barton township, east of Sherman avenue, annexed by the city, it will mean a revision of the wards. As soon as the legislature authorizes the city to elect a Board of Control the Council will deal with the matter.

The Street Railway Company received its first load of new rails for the reconstruction of its roadbed. The company will begin work on Wednesday of next week and has notified the city that it will start one gang at the corner of Herkimer street, working north on the west track on James street, and another at the corner of King and James street, working north on James street to Barton street. As soon as the west track is completed the company will begin work on the east side and then on Barton street.

Neither the aldermen nor city officials are any too well pleased with the hold-up methods adopted by the Whitney Government in relieving the overcrowded insane asylums, although they are obliged to submit because the Provincial Secretary's department has the upper hand. The matter was discussed last night at a meeting of the House of Reform. Committee. Application is being made to (Continued on Page 10.)

WATER POWER.

Ontario and Quebec Manufacturing Centre of America.

Our Merchantable Timber Less Than That of States.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Ottawa, April 6.—Mr. R. E. Young, superintendent of Dominion railway lands, at the Commons committee on forests, waterways and water powers, this morning made the remarkable statement that the merchantable timber of Canada was very much less than that of the United States. He said the forest area of the Dominion had been variously estimated at from eight hundred million to a hundred million acres, and it was probable that the value would be less than any estimate which had been made.

Regarding the water powers of the Dominion, he said that apart from Ontario information on the subject, it was very incomplete. However, he estimated the total horse power known to be available at 25,682,907, of which 17,075,939 was in Quebec and 3,129,108 in Ontario, exclusive of Niagara Falls. British Columbia two millions, Alberta over one million, Northwest Territories six hundred thousand, Manitoba 504,000, Saskatchewan five hundred thousand, Yukon 547,000, New Brunswick 150,000 and Nova Scotia 54,000. The authorities, he said, were too conservative, but this was their purpose. Representing the water power on a basis of five pounds of coal per hundred per horse power, this represented 551,137,590 tons of coal per annum. Mr. Young said that Professor Young recently declared that the territory in Ontario and Quebec where the water power mainly lies would be the manufacturing centre of North America. He endorsed this declaration.

THE AUTOS.

Municipal Committee Makes Rules for Them.

Restrictions Proposed With Pains and Penalties.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Toronto, Ont., April 6.—The special report of the Sub-Committee of the Municipal Committee appointed to deal with the question of automobile legislation was read and adopted with very little discussion by the Municipal Committee this morning. Mr. George Fainton, South Waterloo, said that the majority of the Sub-Committee had been against drastic legislation, but there was a minority report drawn up by Major J. J. Craig and Duncan Ross, who have been all through the session strongly in favor of stern measures against motorists.

Section two of the report declares that all drivers of motor vehicles for hire or pay must, on the request of a constable, produce a license. Section three declares that no automobile shall pass a stationery street car at more than four miles an hour. Penalties for violations of the speed regulations have been increased. For a first offence a fine of $50 or one week's imprisonment or both. For the second $100 or one month or both. For the third or subsequent offences imprisonment not exceeding three months, or a fine not exceeding $100, or both.

"There is a general impression that farmers' wives and daughters might still be allowed to use the roads occasionally without being molested," said Mr. Kohler, and Mr. Valentine Stock thought that on Saturday and Sundays automobiles ought to be kept off the roads altogether, so that farmers could go to market and church without being dumped in the ditch.

Offences under the act are divided into two classes, major and minor offences. The major offences are: Racing for a wager, inflicting serious injury, or driving away without furnishing the name. Prior convictions shall be kept track of by the entering up on the driver's license by the convicting magistrate of the date and nature of the conviction. When the driver comes up on his third conviction, the license will be cancelled for three years. If the driver does not hold a license at the time of the conviction he shall not be allowed to take one out for a period of time which shall be determined by the magistrate.

The motors shall be taken into custody for three months, and the costs of storage shall be charged against it. If the owner can guarantee that the car shall not be driven for three months he may keep it, but if operated in the meantime it shall be considered to be without a license. The chauffeur and employer are both liable if the chauffeur works for hire. The employer is liable for the conviction along with the chauffeur.

For minor offences the present fine of $10 is changed to read up to $50.

WHO IS BUSH?

He Never Lived at the Present 58 Ray Street.

Enquiries made about John Bush, who has fallen heir to some money by the death of an aunt in Australia, and whose relatives in England are trying to find him, show that he was here some years ago. He never lived or boarded at what is now 58 Ray street north, the address given on his cards, that house having been occupied continuously for 28 years by the present holder, who never kept roomers or boarders. However, the street numbers were changed a dozen years ago or more, and No. 58 was a block further north. People on the street remember a man named Bush who boarded there.

Freshman Drowned

Syracuse, N. Y., April 6.—The body of Ross A. Freeman, of Brooklyn, a freshman of the college of Liberal Arts, of Syracuse University, was found by Prof. Scott in the bottom of the swimming pool in the new gymnasium, at an early hour to-day. Prof. Scott had promised to teach the young man to swim this morning.

Freeman went into the gymnasium last evening and was not seen again. When he did not appear at his boarding house the other men thought he had gone out to spend the evening and had been detained. The body was found in deep water, and it is thought that the young man, in trying to learn the stroke by himself, went in beyond his depth and was drowned.

Freeman was a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

BEACH SAVED.

No Running Rights Over Burlington Beach

For T. N. & W. Railway, at Least Not Just Now.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Ottawa, April 6.—There was a Hamilton case before the Board of Railway Commissioners this morning. Allan Boyce, of Toronto, appeared before the Commission and pressed the application of the Toronto, Niagara & Western Railway for running rights on Burlington Beach, near Hamilton. While all of the line had not been definitely located the general route of the line had been decided upon, and it included the passage of Burlington Beach. "It has not been decided upon by me," remarked Chairman Mabee, of the Railway Commission. "If the application is granted it will mean that the sites of several summer cottages will be destroyed and the only breathing space in that vicinity will be taken away."

The lands sought to be entered upon are owned by the Grand Trunk Railway Company, and on their behalf Mr. Buzgar opposed the application. The matter was finally closed when Chairman Mabee remarked that it would be perhaps better to let the matter rest without granting the application for the present at least. He said, "We will let it stand until you are ready to build and probably we will all be dead by that time." He further stated that before the application was granted better cause would have to be shown than the Board had yet heard.

DEAR INDIANS.

How the Ontario Government Squanders the People's Money.

Paid $100 Each For Fifteen Pictures of Indians.

Toronto, Ont., April 6.—Fifteen Indian portraits, which cost the Ontario Government one hundred dollars apiece and for a while decorated the corridors in front of the Prime Minister's office, but have since been relegated to a more obscure portion of the building, were the subject of a warm ten minutes' discussion at the meeting of the Public Accounts Committee this morning. There was an item in the miscellaneous accounts, "Edmund Morris, portraits, Indians, the American race, $1,500."

"How many of these portraits were there?" demanded Mr. Sam Clark, of Northumberland.

"Fifteen."

"You don't mean to say you paid $100 apiece for those things?"

"Yes; why Mr. Oslar paid $20,000 for an Indian portrait."

"Well, I think this Government must have more money than it knows what to do with, for of all the ugliest pictures that ever were hung these are the worst."

R. R. Gamey—You could buy the Indians themselves and bring them down here for less than $100 apiece."

Said the Provincial Treasurer, in a tone of disgust: "Your artistic taste is not yet sufficiently cultivated."

Sam Clark—Thank God, it is not. Does the Provincial Treasurer say he thinks this expenditure was justified?"

Hon. Mr. Matheson said, certainly.

"Then I must say I have not as good an opinion of the Provincial Treasurer as I had," returned Mr. Clark.

It developed that the portraits were bought on the instruction of the Arts Committee, of which Hon. Mr. Hendrie and Hon. Mr. MacKay were members.

A. M. Lewis Fighting License Reduction in East Toronto.

Mr. A. M. Lewis, of this city, at Toronto yesterday morning, argued an appeal on the part of John Brewer, hotel-keeper, in what was East Toronto, from the decision of Chief Justice Meredith on March 3rd, refusing to quash the license reduction by-law passed by the Toronto City Council, before a Divisional Court composed of Chief Justice Mulock, Mr. Justice MacLaren and Mr. Justice Clute. Mr. Lewis objected that the Council was not empowered to pass a by-law for more than one year. They ought, he said, pass a by-law for the then ensuing year, "for" for any future license year. Mr. W. C. Chisholm, City Solicitor, and Mr. F. R. MacKellen, Assistant City Solicitor, opposed the motion. Mr. J. B. MacKenzie, on behalf of Mr. W. J. Robinson, of Shaftesbury avenue, argued his appeal in connection with the same matter. Judgment was reserved in the first case, and the second was not quite concluded at the hour of adjournment in the afternoon.

ARRESTED TWO

Charge of Highway Robbery Registered Against Thos. Freely.

Constable Gibbs saw a little act being worked in an alley about 1:30 to-day which led him to arrest two men. In an alley near Vine and Macab streets he saw what he considered a highway robbery. One man, who was sober, appeared to him to be rifling the pockets of the drunken one, and transferring the contents to his own. Thomas Freely, 34 Kent street, is the name of the man who was sober, and the charge against him is highway robbery. The other man was still dead to the world at press time, and the police do not know his name yet. The case will be called to-morrow.

Annual Meeting of Twentieth Century Club Last Night.

The annual business meeting of the Twentieth Century Club was held last night. The financial report showed that the assets of the club are $3,343 in excess of the liabilities. The following were elected directors for the ensuing year: Messrs. J. W. Lamoreaux, D'Arcy Martin, Henry New, C. H. Peebles, Thomas Fanning, W. J. Easterbrook, Richard Jose.

On behalf of last year's directors Mr. Martin presented Mr. Thos. Fanning with a Morris chair and a basket of roses for Mrs. Fanning.

ARE BUSY ON BAY FRONT.

This Season Promises to be Busy One on Water.

There is an air of activity along the waterfront these days that promises the busiest season Hamilton harbor has experienced in years since navigation is in full swing. In addition to the annual hustle and bustle among boat builders and owners, the work at the reclamation wall and the scheme of the Mutual Steamship Company to increase the docking facilities at the foot of Catharine street to handle the passenger and freight service of the eleven boats that will run from here this year, the Hamilton Ferry Company is arranging to begin work on the docks it will build for its boats. Soundings were taken this week, and actual building operations will be begun within a few days. For this season at any rate there will be only one dock on this side of the bay. It will be at the foot of Hughson street, in front of the old street railway power house. On account of the shallow water there it will probably be necessary to build a dock over two hundred feet in length.

On the north shore of the bay docks will be constructed half a mile below Brown's Wharf, at the Holy Sepulchre cemetery, at the powder magazine, Bay View, and probably at Carleton's Point. A fast service to all these points will be given, and other docks will be built along the bay later at points where business justifies it.

WHAT WILL THEY ASK?

Temperance People Will Have Their Chance on April 20.

License Inspector James Sturdy in this issue advertises the annual public meeting of the License Commissioners to consider the applications for the year 1909-10. The meeting is to be held in the office of the commissioners, Bank of Hamilton chambers, on the afternoon of Tuesday, April 20, at 2 o'clock. The board has power to issue 68 licenses for the year. Last year there were 68 hotels and one beer and wine licenses issued, and for the coming year 67 applications have been made for hotel licenses and one for beer and wine. There are also 17 shop license applications, all renewals, that having been the number of licenses issued for 1908-9.

What representation the temperance forces will make at this meeting has not yet been decided upon. When the question of license reduction was before the council some of the aldermen who opposed reduction stated that, if the council did not interfere the commissioners would voluntarily make a reduction this spring. The statement was taken to be more or less authoritative, and will give the temperance people something to work on.

GORDON WILSON'S BILL GOT KNOCKED.

Board of Health Cannot Compel Council to Give It Whatever Money It May Want.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Toronto, Ont., April 6.—The Act to amend the Public Health Act, introduced by G. C. Wilson, of South West-wood, was considered at some length. Mr. George Lynch-Staunton spoke for the bill, drawing attention to the proposed amendment whereby the Provincial Board of Health is to be allowed to act irrespective of the outbreak of any specific epidemic. At present the board has to wait till its assistance is asked for to wait till the epidemic has spread all over," said Mr. Staunton. The clause which would have compelled councils to vote such money as the Board of Health may deem necessary was withdrawn after considerable discussion.

"The question simply is, shall the Board of Health be in the same position as the trustee board of a school?" asked Chairman Hanna, who did not think the clause at all advisable.

"Well, hasn't the Board of Health the right to spend such money as it thinks necessary now?" asked Mr. Neely.

"No, only in epidemics," was Mr. Staunton's reply.

TWO FALL IN PISTOL DUEL.

Ohio Dry Leader Shoots Down Two Assaulters.

Fire From Behind Poles—One May Die.

Dentist Drops Two While He Escapes Unhurt.

Wellsville, O., April 6.—A tragic climax to the bitter struggle between the wet and dry forces of this place came to-day, when, in a duel, with the opponents using telegraph poles as barricades, two men were shot down and one of them probably fatally hurt.

The participants in the battle were Dr. Hamlin Barnes, a dentist and a leader of the dries, and William Zellars and Ben Davidson, who had been drinking on a houseboat on the Ohio River. Zellars and Davidson were wounded by the dentist, who escaped without a scratch, and it is stated that Davidson may not recover.

Dr. Barnes, who is a member of the Good Citizens' League and a strong enemy of the liquor element, recently has been threatened with death, and in view of this menace has been permitted to carry a gun.

The shooting occurred late this afternoon on the Cincinnati and Pittsburgh Railroad tracks near the Ohio, and not far from the floating bootlegging establishment. Barnes who takes exercise by walking every Sunday, inadvertently strolled near the battilwick of his foes.

While passing he was accosted by Zellars and Davidson. The dentist, knowing the antipathy the men held for him, tried to get away and told them he wanted no trouble.

"Let me pass," he said, and stepping around them he walked rapidly down the track.

The men followed, jeering. Then they picked up stones from the track and hurled them at his revolver and reloading the missiles, took refuge behind a telegraph pole. Then, it is alleged, Zellars drew a pistol and fired two shots. Neither shot took effect.

Barnes, the instant his enemy opened fire, shipped out his revolver and retaliated. His first shot hit Zellars in the hip and Zellars fell, dropping his weapon as he sank.

Davidson, seeing his companion down, grabbed the abandoned gun, himself leaped behind a telegraph pole, and let go with the gun as fast as he could load and pull the trigger. In the meantime Barnes' weapon had not been fully reloaded, and he fired two bullets having lodged themselves in the pole behind which Davidson stood.

Then Davidson in trying to get a better aim, leaped out from his place of refuge, and Zellars, who had been reloading, saw him and fired. Zellars was hit in the chest and fell. Barnes, taking advantage of the opportunity, fired hastily and struck his opponent in the neck. That ended the battle.

The dentist, seeing neither man stir after falling, believed he had killed them both. He hastened without further investigation to the City Hall, where he gave himself up to the police. Later he was released under $1,000 bond.

The wounded men were taken to a hospital in East Liverpool, where it was found that Zellars' injuries were not dangerous. Davidson is considered to be in a serious condition, and he may die.

The shooting episode followed another encounter by about two hours. In the earlier clash, which was between William Renoff, a citizen of East Geauga, a former saloonkeeper, Renoff was terribly beaten. This fight took place near the scene of the duel. Geisse was arrested, charged with disorderly conduct, and released on nominal bond. Renoff was badly hurt and he has been unable to appear in court.

Zellars only recently was discharged from an East Liverpool hospital, where he was taken to recuperate after a row with a policeman. Barnes has led all the dry movements in the town, and took a prominent part in the recent attempt to impeach Mayor Robert McKenzie.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

TUESDAY, APRIL 6, 1909.

PATRIOTIC, WISE, HONORABLE.

Finding itself in a rather awkward place in attacking the Liberal Government because of its refusal to join in the hysterical outcry about presenting Dreadnoughts to the British navy, and confronted by the fact that the House unanimously approved Sir Wilfrid's declaration of Canada's policy—a policy adopted with British approval—the Herald represents that our view of the effect of the Commons resolution is "that Canada should not make any contribution to the general naval defence of the empire, but should adopt the policy of attending to its own needs only."

BRIBING INDUSTRIES.

The Chatham Board of Trade has emphatically placed the seal of its disapproval upon the practice of one city or municipality endeavoring to win industries from others by way of special inducements in the nature of bonuses, open or concealed.

The action of the Chatham Board of Trade is an eminently sensible one. The country, as a whole, never profits by such piracy; indeed, it is to be doubted whether the municipality thus "playing sharp" ever profits. In order to pursue the policy it is obliged to place an additional burden upon its taxpayers to furnish the "inducements," and experience has fully demonstrated that an industry which cannot live without this bonus is not likely to have a very prosperous existence with it.

There can be no doubt that there are many Ontario municipalities which studiously ignore and violate the law as to the granting of such inducements. The law itself is far too lax, and the honest ratepayers suffer through the rapacity of promoters, and the greed of unscrupulous councils. The law is in need of amendment. There is a legitimate enterprise to be shown by the cities and towns of the country. That can be done by a business-like utilization of their special advantages by each. If they place fully before the public these advantages the industries will seek the locations best adapted to their success. Economy and efficiency will be served, and there will be an end to wily promoters bleeding the devoted ratepayers of communities represented by men who are quite unfit to be trusted out at night among subsidy and inducement hunters unless accompanied by a guardian.

THE SHOE INVASION SCARE.

We have heard so much of the "American invasion" of Europe, especially with regard to the shoe trade, that a good many people have conceived the idea that Great Britain has not only been obliged to take a secondary position at home, but has been quite driven out of the competitive markets of the world. As a matter of fact, nothing could be further from the truth. The "American invasion" of Great Britain, about which so much talk was once heard, has become almost ludicrous in the light of the actual facts. The United States competition in the United Kingdom no longer creates alarm; the American shoe, although pushed with great vigor, and sold at prices much below those charged to the United States people, has not been able to hold its own. The British people have learned that it cannot maintain its position of a few years ago. Britain's shoe export continues to gain, that of the United States does not maintain its position of a few years ago. Consul-General Julius G. Lay writes from South Africa that "American shoes are not holding their own in this market."

LABOR AND SOCIALISM.

In the Canadian Magazine for April there appears a study of "Labor and Socialism," by Prof. Goldwin Smith, an article marked by much moderation of statement and breadth of view. The writer expresses pleasure at the growth of intelligent interest in public affairs which continues to be noted in labor circles, and declares: "I believe I never failed in England or here to support a good labor candidate, one who I thought would be loyal to the community as well as to his class." But he has no sympathy whatever with the foolish cry that "we should dispense altogether with the capitalist." He thinks that the words do not convey the real sentiment of those who utter them, as the proposition seems to be "insensate." He takes the intention of the proposer to be that "the capital should be transferred from the present possessors to the laboring class." And in that form it is more intelligible, even if less ethically attractive.

Prof. Smith does not entertain the fallacy that the laboring population of England, with whose history he is familiar, has derived no advantage from the progress of legislation, invention and discovery, and he points out at length and particularly many ways in which they have been benefited. In respect of greater freedom, education, sanitation, political power, shorter hours, better pay, and in many other respects advancing civilization has brought to labor its full share of improvement. And much of the amelioration of the condition of labor could not have come but for the accumulation of the capital so much railed against. He points out that not only has the rate of money wages of laboring men increased during the last generation, but the purchasing power of the wages has also increased. In spite of all the outcry about the lot of labor in the old land, the lot of the laborer of to-day is happier than it has been in generations past.

It is not contended that landowners and employers have not to bear a share of blame for evils endured, but all landlords and all employers are not culpable. Some have tried to do their duty. And not always have the masses been true to their own interests. "They have shouted and voted for war, regarding it apparently as a spree." Nor can we shut our eyes, he thinks, to the gigantic evils of drink, and "the total disregard of Malthus' rigorous but incontrovertible law of population. Had not offspring been blindly multiplied, competition would be less severe." Perhaps this reference may set some people by the ears, but it should also awaken thought.

Looking back over the last eighty years, the professor concludes that "this world of ours is still as it was eighty years ago." But in one respect the change has not been to his liking. The social severance of employer from employed has increased. They have less in common; they have drifted apart. That tendency, unfortunately, in the present condition of the organization of labor unions on one side and combinations of capital on the other, seems likely to continue. It would be well for both, if there were a change. Perhaps we set up false ideals these days. Socialism prattles, as did the sansculottes of the French Revolution, of "equality and fraternity." Prof. Smith sees the benefit of fraternity, and its partial realization in any well-ordered and contented community. He cannot conceive of it being attained "without a radical change in the Providential Government of the world." In spite of the authors of the American Declaration of Independence, who held it to be a "self-evident truth" that all men were created equal, Prof. Smith finds it hard to present a more "self-evident fallacy." Indeed any one who pauses to think how men are sent into life with "every conceivable variety of endowment, physical, moral and mental, with infinite variety of circumstance, and not less various openings and chances in life," will not be likely to challenge his dictum. Nor is it probable that if we could bring about absolute equality, we could maintain it twenty-four hours, or be pleased with it, if we could. In one respect only all men are and should be equal; they should all have a right to equal justice. We shall probably always have richer and poorer, just as we shall always have degrees of productivity; just as we shall always have some that are more diligent, more frugal, more skillful and talented than others. When men talk of making all equal, they fight against nature; when they propose that there shall not be great rewards for great successes, they seek to destroy the incentives of endeavor.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Nineteen more Michigan counties have gone "dry" as the result of yesterday's vote. In 30 of the 83 counties in Michigan no licenses will be issued.

Now, there is no need for mad hurry to sacrifice that Public Library building and site for a fraction of its value. It is a good property, and we need the money—all it will bring.

The Opposition has not yet been able to agree on any policy as to the G. T. P. loan. The only thing it is agreed upon is that the Government policy must be found fault with.

Tory papers which try to make much of the judgment of the Court of Appeal in the Cobalt Lake case, holding the Ontario Government legislation practically confiscating the property to be intra vires, take great care to avoid discussion of the character of the legislation, and why it should have been thought necessary.

The Ontario Government is to float a loan for $3,500,000 for the Hydro-Electric transmission line. That money will, of course, have to be paid by the municipalities going into the scheme.

The extent to which "hot air" enters into the war talk in Great Britain is indicated by the proposal to adopt a two-power standard in the matter of airship fleets. Sanity returns but slowly after one of these attacks.

Fortune-telling facts have notice in the sentence of nine months on "Prof." D'Arville, that Hamilton is a good town to omit from their itinerary. Why, oh, why, did not the seer foresee that evil was about to befall him here?

On the suggestion of the leader of the Opposition, Mr. A. G. MacKay, the age limit fixed in Hon. Dr. Pyne's Education Act, at which school inspector's must retire, was struck out entirely. The retiring of old inspectors is left entirely with the Department.

Mr. Dallyn's reply to the gentlemen of the Trades and Labor Council, who demanded his resignation because the Library Board accepted $75,000 offered as a gift to the institution by Mr. Carnegie, is very much what we expected. Now what citizen cavils at it?

French Government ownership employees are organizing to prevent the Government from effectively controlling the public services. This development of public ownership and operation will probably not tend to popularize it with Canadians who retain their senses.

There are indications that a big strike of lake mariners is likely soon to be declared. The vessel men are requiring pledges of undivided allegiance on the part of their employees; and the unions will not probably permit the signing of such without a struggle.

The "Strand Magazine" for April, containing the first issue of an "Overseas Empire supplement," has just come to hand. This supplement, it is announced, will henceforth form part of and be a permanent addition to the magazine. In this supplement Canadian interests will be dealt with fully and attractively.

But there does not really seem to be any reason for frantic haste about that Board of Control bill. The only certain loss likely to be caused by the delay will be a year's salary to four men ambitious to be controllers. And there is some compensation in the fact that the ratepayers will be spared that expense. All the same, Hamilton members appear to have been grossly careless.

The city might well use its influence before the Railway Commission to strengthen the hands of the people who object to sacrificing more of the summer resort than is absolutely necessary to the purposes of the T. N. & W. R. Fortunately it is no longer a question of wearing out the private interests in law costs. The Dominion Railway Commission is a cheap and expeditious court.

The Government is trying to unload upon the city as much as it can of the care of the insane. It is not a good plan. It is unjust, for financial reasons; the Government collecting the revenue for the purpose, and it is unsafe, because the "harmless" lunatic of to-day may be a very different person next month or next week. The work is the Government's; it should not try to shirk the duty.

The death of Lieut.-Col. Charles Clarke, formerly clerk of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, removes a man who for 35 years was a prominent figure in the political life of the Province. He represented Centre Wellington from 1871 until 1877, being Speaker of the Legislature from 1889 to 1886. He was chairman of the Public Accounts Committee from that year until 1891. In 1891 he was appointed Clerk of the House, which position he held until his retirement to private life in 1907. Lieut.-Col. Clarke came to Canada in 1844, and for two years, 1849-50, he was editor of the Hamilton Journal and Express. He was in his 83rd year when he died.

Some of the discussions on the Payne tariff bill are little short of amusing. The professed dread of injury to the country by lowering tariff rates and the illustrations offered lead the New York Sun to indulge in this bit of railery:

Observe that the Wilson bill of 1894 produced the panic of 1895, the tariff bill of 1832 the panic of 1837, and apparently the Walker tariff the panic of 1857. The speaker is Arthur Laban Bates, representative in Congress of the Twenty-fifth Pennsylvania district. He has the true accent and fervor of those vanished trumpeters of the straitest sect of protectionism, Pig Iron Kelley and Roswell G. Horr. But outside of Pennsylvania and the professional protectionists, how funny this talk seems now. Notably in New England and the North-west the Republicans have found out that there is no certain protectionist abracadabra of prosperity, and that cheapness may be forgiven in articles that you have to buy.

DENISON'S NEW BOOK.

Its ringing title is "The Struggle for Imperial Unity." It contains 421 pages. One of the pages is put to good use in presenting an excellent portrait of the gallant author. Many of the other pages are devoted to what some readers may regard as caricatures of everybody who did not share his opinions. But every page is interesting. There is something doing all the time, and usually Colonel Denison is doing it. The real thing is the saving of the Empire. And the colonel saved it—the colonel and four other Georges.

The deserving poor must be those who don't deserve to be poor.

BRITAIN NOT HARD UP. (Canadian Gazette, London, Eng.) None the less it is necessary to remember the fundamental fact that there is no question of money at the present crisis. The British Government can get all the money it needs for all the Dreadnoughts it can possibly want to build, and it can get it on better terms than are obtainable by Germany or any other power. The immediate difficulty is one of shipbuilding capacity.

WHAT FREE TRADE HAS DONE. (Montreal Herald.) The short case for free trade Mr. Asquith put very cogently indeed: "What is it that free trade has done, and continues to do for us here in this United Kingdom? It has given us a higher standard in regard to wages and hours of labor than is to be found anywhere else. It has enabled us to develop from these islands the fabric and resources of the British Empire. It has made our marine the carriers of the world's traffic, and our capital the clearing house of the world's commercial and financial transactions, and last, but not least, by excluding from our politics the sinister and illegitimate pressure of selfish forces and of artificially fostered and manipulated interest, it has maintained the purity of our public life. That is what free trade has done for us. That is what that reform threatens to put in jeopardy."

Society

The marriage of Lord Bury, eldest son of the Earl and Countess of Albemarle, and great-grandson of the late Sir Allan MacNab, Dundurn, Hamilton, Ont., to Lady Mayne Carrington, daughter of Lord and Lady Carrington, will take place in June. Lord Bury was on the staff of His Excellency Lord Grey the first year of his term in Canada.

Mrs. Frederick Green, 187 James street south, will not receive again until next fall.

Mrs. George H. Richmond, 74 Alanson street, will receive on Thursday, April 22nd, and not again this season.

Miss Nellie Howells, Howard street, Detroit, is visiting at the residence of Mr. W. T. James, West avenue north.

Mrs. P. M. Yeates, 192 Herkimer street, will receive to-morrow for the last time this season.

Mrs. Sydney Morgan will not receive again this season.

Mrs. William Mulveny and Mrs. Brock Green, Wentworth street south, will receive on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons of this week, and not again this season.

Cures Catarrh

Stomach dosing was found ineffective, and the principle of inhalation was finally perfected. Even the Romans and Ancient Greeks used it, but not in the scientific manner that the physician prescribes to-day. The most wonderful results have been secured with a new treatment known as "Catarrhose," which sends germ-destroying vapors directly into the air passages of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs. Rich, Pure Essences are Breathed Right to the Spots That Are Sick. Cure Follows.

THE WEST TAKING TO A COIN IT LONG HELD IN CONTEMPT.

More Than 1,000,000 Cents Coined Last Year for Use on the Pacific Coast—Coppers Also to be Struck at Denver—Profitable for Uncle Sam.

The striking of more than a million cent pieces at the San Francisco mint in 1908 made a new record in the history of the United States mint and its branches, for never before since the coinage of pieces of this denomination was begun, in 1793, had such coins been struck anywhere but at the parent establishment at Philadelphia.

As a matter of fact, no need for the making of coins of this denomination in the west presented itself until within recent years, as the demand for cent pieces was confined almost exclusively to the Atlantic and middle western States. In the west and southwest this minor coin has had no purchasing value, was not recognized and was seldom seen in circulation. Indeed, even at the present time there are many western localities in which cent pieces are not accepted.

In Colorado, for example, if a person tenders a five cent piece to a postmaster for two two cent stamps he receives in exchange, together with his stamps, not one cent piece, but a one cent postage stamp. There are no cent pieces in the money drawer of the postmaster, and he doesn't desire any.

In a Denver store a certain commodity is quoted at, say, 17 cents a pound. The purchaser must take either 15 or 20 cents worth. Nothing less than 5 cents worth is sold. Apples may be bought for 5 cents, but one apple is also 5 cents, just the same.

Now the people of the Centennial State are going to have a chance of becoming acquainted with the little bronze cent, for it is the intention of the Government to strike cent pieces at the new Denver mint in 1909.

California has had as little use for the cent as other parts of the west. For many years no coin of less denomination than 10 cents had a purchasing value there, and in the gold days nothing less than 25 cents would buy anything, miners frequently throwing a handful of small silver pieces out into the street as useless weight of less denomination than 10 cents or quarter being the minimum current coin.

Times have changed and the people along the Pacific coast have been quick to adopt the cent than those in the Rocky Mountain district. Now the coin is used in such quantities that it has been found advisable to manufacture cents on the ground and thus save the expense of shipment across the continent from Philadelphia. For the calendar year of 1908 the United States mint report shows that $11,150 worth of cents were struck at the San Francisco mint and $233,279.87 worth at Philadelphia.

Following the custom of placing a distinguishing mark upon the coins struck at the different mints the new cent pieces made at the San Francisco and Denver mints will respectively bear the mint letters S and D.

The cent piece is the most profitable coin Uncle Sam turns out at his mints.

THE WEST TAKING TO A COIN IT LONG HELD IN CONTEMPT.

More Than 1,000,000 Cents Coined Last Year for Use on the Pacific Coast—Coppers Also to be Struck at Denver—Profitable for Uncle Sam.

The profit on its manufacture being estimated at something like 85 cents on the dollar when the coins do not return for redemption. The number of these pieces that do come back for redemption is infinitesimal in comparison with the millions coined every year.

The use of the copper cent has been yearly increasing in all parts of the country. As an interesting example of the small proportion of the cent pieces that are presented for redemption compared to the vast number issued the report of the director of the mint for 1907 showed that the cents of all kinds and dates, including old time copper cents and the nickel cents, that were redeemed amounted to only $27,453.22. Yet in the same year nearly a million dollars' worth were newly coined.

The coming process of the Philadelphia mint are always making cent pieces. The coinage of gold and silver pieces may stop temporarily, but the manufacture of cents seems to go on forever.

The making of a cent entails almost as much work as the coining of a double eagle, for while a coining press has the capacity of striking ninety double eagles a minute, yet the same press can make only one hundred cent pieces.

For a number of years the mint purchased from private contractors the blank circular pieces of copper to be used for striking cents already prepared to go into the coining presses. Now arrangements have been made to do away with much of this outside help and the mint makes the cent through the different stages from the pig metal.

The San Francisco mint began operations in 1854 with the coinage of gold pieces. In 1855 the coinage of silver pieces of the denomination of quarters and half dollars was begun. In the following year ten cent pieces were made, the striking of silver dollars not being begun until 1859. In 1863 silver five cent pieces were struck and a limited number of these coins were made in each of half a dozen or so years following. The small figures indicating clearly that little need existed at that period for even a five cent piece in that part of the country. The few coins made evidently were struck as curiosities rather than as coins intended for circulation.

MITE BOXES.

Zion Tabernacle Raised Over $800 in That Way.

A concert in connection with the mite box anniversary was held in Zion Tabernacle last night. Nearly $800 was realized from the mite boxes returned and there are still about 100 to hear from. The chairman, Mr. George Frid, announced that the proceeds from the boxes next year would be devoted to the fund for the building of the new Sunday School, which will be begun next spring. The following artists took part in the programme: Miss Estelle Carey, Miss Bailey, Mr. Vollett, the Emerald Street Church Quartette and Zion Tabernacle choir.

FALL OF BALLOON.

Turin, April 6.—The Stamp states that a big balloon flying the French flag, but with no one aboard, has descended at San Dalmazzo. It is feared that the aeronauts perished.

The value of fish and other marine products taken from the Japanese seas is $50,500,000.

CASTRO BLOCKED.

British Won't Permit Him to Land at Trinidad.

Is Returning to Venezuela to Get Back Presidency.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, April 6.—At the urgent request of the State Department, which Washington communicated to the London Foreign Office, the British Government has decided not to permit Cipriano Castro, former President of Venezuela, to land at Trinidad.

Cipriano Castro is returning to the West Indies from Europe with the avowed purpose of recovering the Presidency of Venezuela. He left Caracas March 26, on board the steamer Guadeloupe. Where he purposes to land in the West Indies is not definitely known. His original intention was to leave the steamer at Laguaira, the Port of Caracas, and the Venezuelan Government at first refused its permission.

Subsequently this refusal was withdrawn, and it was intimated that Castro could land on Venezuelan soil, but at his own peril. It was then said that Castro would leave the Guadeloupe at Trinidad to await developments, and watch his opportunity from that port. It was also said that he might continue on to Colon for the same purpose.

The Guadeloupe is due at Trinidad on April 10 and at Colon on April 15. The latest advices from Caracas intimated that Juan Vicente Gomez, the present President of Venezuela, contemplated resigning in favor of one of the Vice-Presidents of the republic.

FOR A DIVORCE.

Husband Woke His Second at Night to Tell of First Wife's Suicide.

Cleveland, O., April 5.—"He used to wake me up in the night to tell me how his first wife committed suicide," said Mrs. John C. Hemmeter, testifying against her husband in a divorce action here today.

Mrs. Hemmeter said the story was "creaky," and that at its conclusion her husband would twirl a revolver about his finger and say: "One wife is dead, another is on her way, but the old general lives."

This was not all, she swore, nor was she upset by the cross-examination of Hemmeter, who acted as his own attorney. "I wanted my parrot, and when we separated, asked him to send it to me. He mailed it dead," she said. The divorce was granted.

Suicided Choir.

London, April 6.—The introduction of a surprised choir into the First Presbyterian Church will come as quite an innovation in London, where heretofore the custom has only been in vogue at the American churches.

Next Sunday the First Presbyterian Church choir will don their gowns for the first time. Besides the black gowns which all will wear, the ladies of the choir will add the classic mortarboard.

MR. TYRRELL AT CENTRAL. Instructive Address on the Nations of the North.

A large audience assembled in Central Church School-room last evening to hear Mr. J. W. Tyrrell, C. E., give his interesting and instructive lecture on "The Nations of Our Northland."

Mr. Tyrrell did not hesitate in plunging into his address, and for the space of an hour and three-quarters, entertained his audience with anecdotes, facts and stories of his travels.

Mr. Tyrrell appeared in the costume of the Cree Indian, and in the opening part of his lecture, traced the history of this red-skinned lord from early date down to the present time.

The limelight views were not confined to the Indian and the Eskimo alone, but to many beautiful and interesting touches of nature that he had photographed during his many trips.

At the close of the address, Mr. George W. Robertson moved a cordial vote of thanks to the speaker, and it was seconded in hearty terms by Mr. J. D. Laidlaw.

OLD SOL. Prof. Mitchell Describes What He Saw of the Eclipse.

Professor S. A. Mitchell, of Columbia University, lectured to a large audience last evening in the Conservatory of Music Hall on "An Astronomer in Spain."

His description of the eclipse, with views of the blotting out of old Sol, was highly interesting.

W. O. Sealey Looking After Dredging of Canal.

Other Minor Matters Before the Town Fathers.

Dundas, April 6.—The April meeting of the Town Council was held last evening. The members present were Mayor Lawrason, Reeve Lawson, Deputy Reeve Spittal and Councillors Boyle, Mount, Pennington, Moss, Lunn.

James Wright was granted use of the cottage now occupied by him for another year, at the same rent.

W. J. Dickson asked leave to move pool tables to Wonderland building, or some other suitable place.

W. O. Sealey wrote the Mayor that the Chief Dominion Engineer would, in a few days, inform him on what terms a dredge could be obtained to dredge the canal.

George Brown asked leave to build a shed in rear of his present living barn. Referred to building inspector.

W. O. Sealey wrote the Mayor that the Chief Dominion Engineer would, in a few days, inform him on what terms a dredge could be obtained to dredge the canal.

The next business was a determination to notify the Board of Health that the present Isolation Hospital building is no longer needed, and to inform the owner that it would no longer be required.

A letter to the Mayor from an employee of the Brock Co., stated that his wife had fallen in the street and owing to the bad condition of the walk, letter was written more to draw Council's attention to the matter than to ask for compensation.

Attention was also directed to a dangerous hole in the street bridge. Both these communications were referred to the Board of Works.

The Mayor called attention to the fact that water spouts in some places carried water to the sidewalks, causing danger from freezing or from slippery condition of the sidewalks.

As Councillor Pennington declined to act as chairman of the Printing Committee the Mayor was appointed in his place.

The question of dredging the canal was referred to the Board of Works to report as to cost and other particulars.

On motion Col. Bertram was congratulated on his appointment as commandant of this year's Bisley team.

The Fire and Water Committee recommended that the hook and ladder wagon be reconstructed to carry the new ladders.

Councillor Boyle called attention to the condition of and price charged for the use of the piano in the hall.

Then the Council adjourned.

PLEASED THE CROWD. Before a large and appreciative audience in the town hall at Stoney Creek last night Wilbur and Sloane, the original "Tavernet Patter Boys," put on their comedy act, "Wise and Otherwise."

They kept the audience in an uproar of laughter for nearly half an hour with their jokes and comedy work.

A feature of the act was their rendering of several up-to-date parodies on local towns, while their step-dancing was a perfect finish to the act.

At Toronto yesterday the long standing suit of Royal Electric Co. vs. Hamilton Electric Co. was argued by G. F. Shepley and W. E. Middleton, K. C. (Osborne, Hamilton), for plaintiffs, appellants, W. Nesbitt, K. C. H. S. Osler, K. C., and H. E. Rose, K. C., for respondents.

Appeal from judgment of Anglin, J. Judgment varied as to the terms of the reference directed and with this variation the appeal is dismissed with costs.

A Curious Complaint. Montreal, April 5.—A curious complaint was sent to the City Council to-day signed by 200 storekeepers in St. Lawrence and St. Louis wards.

They allege their trade has considerably decreased since the crusade against the social evil by the fact that abandoned women parade in front of their places of business and respectable customers are kept away. The matter will be looked into.

Ontario Will Float Loan For $3,500,000 For Power Line.

Government Preparing For Mining Rush at Gowanda.

Toronto, Ont., April 5.—It was a Legislative Monday of hard work, and the members were busy from 2 till after 6 o'clock.

Several new Government bills were introduced, and the House dipped into a preliminary discussion of the license bill.

The Provincial Treasurer introduced a bill, which received its first reading, empowering the Government to raise a loan of $3,500,000 on the credit of the consolidated revenue fund.

Sir James Whitney introduced a bill giving the Public Library Board of Toronto power to set aside a certain amount for the purpose of a museum.

FREE LUMBER,

So Far as House of Representatives is Concerned.

Senate May Amend Payne Bill Beyond Recognition.

Washington, April 5.—In the opinion of certain western members of the House who are most interested in retaining the present lumber tariff, the result of the agreement to vote on amendments to the lumber schedule will be free lumber.

It is becoming more apparent that a majority of the House are against the lumber tariff, and that even the $1 per thousand provided by the Payne bill will be removed when the schedule is put to a vote in the lower branch of Congress.

The lumber lobby which has been working for the highest possible duty on the unfinished product has not made much headway recently.

When the House leaders were forced to-day to provide in the special rule for a vote on the tariff bill a provision that opportunity be given for amendments to the lumber schedule some of the lumber protectionists were about ready to throw up the sponge.

Two members of the House who represent the heart of the lumber region of the State of Washington voted for the special rule, because they did not wish to be classed as "insurgents."

Both, however, believe that the adoption of the rule portends free lumber.

These two members are Representatives Cushman and Humphrey. Mr. Cushman is one of the new members of the Ways and Means Committee, which has the tariff bill in charge.

Mr. Humphrey thinks free lumber is inevitable, so far as the House is concerned, and his disappointment is appreciated when it is recalled that he is one of those who has made the most of the alleged danger from "cheap oriental labor" in the mills of British Columbia, and of the threatened ruinous competition from Canada.

Notwithstanding the position of this Congressman, who represents one of the principal lumber States, it is a fact that there are in the State of Washington several millmen who entertain the belief that free lumber would not hurt the lumber mills of the United States at all.

If the House should vote for free lumber a tremendous effort will be made to have the schedule changed when the tariff bill reaches the Senate.

It goes without saying, with any person who has seen how past tariff bills were made, that the Senate will amend the Payne bill almost beyond recognition.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

There is no doubt as to who the headliner is at Bennett's Theatre this week. Eva Fay, the famous Thaumaturgist, took premier honors at both performances yesterday, in fact, at the evening performance her work created a mild sensation. Blindfolded she announced questions written by persons in the audience and answered them. In many cases the questions were of such a nature that the interrogator was able to say whether the answer was right or wrong, and in every case it was declared correct. She told the numbers of watch cases, of missing relatives and lost property. At the evening performance she was asked if the Kinrade murder mystery will ever be solved. Her reply was that there will be sensational developments in the course of ten days.

Mrs. Fay's act is divided into two parts. In part one her performance consists of "cabinet scenes and strange manifestations of the occult and incomprehensible." In the second she gives sensational mental telepathic demonstrations. Committees from the audience are invited on the stage at every performance, and are given every opportunity to see that there is no outside collusion or assistance given Mrs. Fay while she is performing her feats in the cabinet.

Under ordinary conditions Reynolds and Donegan, skatological artists, would be the headline attractions. They did a wonderful turn on castors, and their musical work is of a high order.

Charles F. Simon, known as "The Narrow Fellow," made a hit in his monologue, his performance in kilts being very, very funny.

Robert Rogers and Louise Mackintosh brought down the house in their laughing playlet, "The Green Mouse." The act is one that appeals to some club men and their wives.

The other acts on the big bill are up to the standard of the Bennett house. They are as follows: Amos, comedy juggler; Laura Buckley, protean artist; Smith and Heagney, musical monologue artists, and new motion pictures.

ITALIAN GRAND OPERA.

It should delight Hamilton people to learn that the Italian Grand Opera Company has an open date, Monday, April 19, and will return to this city for that one night. This company came to Hamilton a few weeks ago, and presented the finest grand opera performance Hamilton has seen in years. It has a large cast and high class company, and its work was artistic in every respect. It was known only by reputation then, but now it returns after having kept its promises, and should be greeted by a crowded house.

"THE VIRGINIAN."

The Kirke La Shelle Company's production of "The Virginian," as dramatized from Owen Wister's immensely popular novel of the same name, will be presented at the Grand next Saturday matinee and night, with W. S. Hart in the title role, assisted by a notable array of dramatic talent. This is well known as follows: Amos, comedy juggler; Laura Buckley, protean artist; Smith and Heagney, musical monologue artists, and new motion pictures.

PROMENADE AND CONVERSATION.

It is certainly a delightful news to the pleasure seekers and music lovers of Hamilton to know that there is to be a return of the old weekly hand concerts, and especially under such pleasant conditions. The two finest military bands in Canada, the celebrated Thirtieth Regiment Band and the famous Ninety-First Highlanders' Band, will be heard together in the new armory. It will interest the citizens to know that 1,200 people can be seated in the balcony of the new hall, leaving the tremendous floor space for promenading. For these coming concerts the patrons will be free to promenade or to be seated, as chairs to the above number will be placed in the balcony. This convenient

Enthusiasm and Fat

These two, like oil and water, mix poorly. This does not imply fat men and women never get enthusiastic. They do, deep down inside. But what does it amount to? Their fat doesn't get excited. They can't transmute their enthusiasm into energetic action, so they might as well keep calm.

Thus it is that fat people generate much steam for life's work, only to find the load too much for the horse-power, and as a result thousands of jobs sexes get just so far and no further. "Much they care," says the uninitiated slim one. But they do care. They care keenly for financial, mental, social, business, fall hunting, straight-front and comfort reasons, and that is why Marmola Prescription Tablets have been so heartily welcomed by the overweight classes. The reason is not far to seek. Marmola Prescription Tablets take off about a pound a day, in most cases, without interfering in any way with the taker's tendencies or his love of ease. To some, possibly, their absolute economy appeals. Thus one large case costing seventy-five cents at any drug store or of the makers, The Marmola Company, Detroit, Mich., direct, is said in itself alone to contain enough tablets to make a decided change in any one.

But these are merely surface reasons. Marmola checks the formation of fat by curbing the fat-forming tendency. The fat just slips away, as it were, without a sign of a wrinkle. Thus the work these tablets do is not injurious. It is natural. That is the real reason these tablets are so much appreciated. They are safe.

A MUSICAL TREAT.

Mme. Maconda is well known in the best musical circles, and whenever she appears she is enthusiastically received and is accorded a reception almost as great as that given to some of the big prima donnas. One rarely hears anywhere, even among the greatest singers in green opera, as pure and sweet and entirely flawless a voice as Maconda's. She fully justifies all the expectations that are formed in advance. Nature has been very prodigal to this artist with gifts, for she is not only a richly-endowed singer, but a very beautiful woman. Perhaps no American singer is more famed for coloratura than Mme. Maconda. She has a magnificent voice, full and clear, with a brilliancy which makes every note a jewel.

Mme. Maconda will be heard at the Grand on the afternoon of April 15th, in conjunction with the great Dresden (German) orchestra.

"THE WIZARD OF OZ."

"The Wizard of Oz," merriest of musical extravaganzas, new in its seventh season and still the most popular in its class, comes to the Grand Good Friday afternoon and evening, seats for which go on sale to-morrow.

It is not difficult to understand why "The Wizard" retains its hold on the popular imagination. It possesses many of the essential features that go towards making up a really enjoyable entertainment of the light and frivolous kind, which a vast majority prefer. Its comedy is execrably funny, its characters unique, its music delightful and its scenes beautiful. Few characters offer the opportunities for hilarious acting and fun making, as does the Scarecrow in quest of brains and his Tin Man companion searching for a heart.

AT THE SAVOY.

The beautiful, wholesome English rural drama, "As a Man Sows," is the offering at the Savoy this week. A representative audience was present last evening. This play strikes many new and original notes, and relies for its success on its human interest and naturalness, and to the family ties involved. Coupled with this is the supreme mother love that knows no superlative, and in the present instance is portrayed in the most beautiful examples ever portrayed. Joseph Selman played the part of his quiet, effective manner, and wins the sympathies of the audience. Interest naturally centres on the new leading lady, Miss Rose Curry. She has rare beauty and a charm of manner that is delightful. Her interpretation of Vida Varing leaves nothing to be desired. Perhaps the most effective work of the evening was done by Miss Helena Rapp, who made the sweetest, most lovable mother imaginable, while carrying the burden of the loss of her son. Her voice, and her power and emotional qualities. Campbell Stratton, as the father, Brandon Northcote, has a part that fits him to a nicety. This is the best work of the evening. The artist and actor has given the part a charm. Frank Farrell as Col. Travers was ever in command. He is earnest and sincere in his work; and Miss Claudia Lucas is as clever as ever in the part of Miss Fitzgub. Miss Mildred Herman is all that could be desired as the Scotch servant, Genie, in the prologue. Her dialect is almost perfect. This is well worth seeing.

A LULU GLASER STORY.

Laughing Lulu Glaser had the laugh turned on her recently, when she was caught in boy's clothing at a rehearsal. It's one thing for a particular woman to wear masculine attire in a play or opera, or even at dress-rehearsal, but to be seen in the garb of the creations of the lord, at an ordinary rehearsal, when everybody else is in conventional dress, is quite another thing altogether. The funny part of the situation was that two or three unthinking persons assumed Miss Glaser was so appalled and possibly, because it was her first appearance as a stage director.

She had volunteered to rehearse a new company which was being organized to present the new opera, "Mlle. Mischief," in the larger towns and smaller cities, places which are not included in Miss Glaser's tour, which takes her only to the very big centres.

Miss Glaser was quick to assure everybody, however, that nothing was further from her mind than to dress as a man merely because she was doing a man's work.

"I am not going to wear men's clothes because I am a stage manager," was her explanation, "shrinking at the same time as far as she could in the boy's garments she wears in the second act of "Mlle. Mischief."

"I came here early to-day to try on this suit, which did not exactly fit, and upon which I am having some alterations made. Then you all came running in, and didn't give me a chance to change, and here I am."

"When you come to rehearsal to-morrow you will find me a 'perfect lady' once more."

CENTENARY CHOIR.

The programme to be rendered by the Centenary choir at their annual concert on Good Friday evening will include Spohr's grand oratorio, "The Last Judgment." This famous oratorio is replete with dramatic situations, and the extraordinary harmonic progressions for which Spohr is famous. It has never been seen the great master at his best. His style, more conspicuous for its individuality than that of any other composer of the past century, is here fully developed. The choir and quartette will be assisted by Mrs. Ida McLean Dilworth, soprano; J. Redfern Hollingshead, tenor; and Arthur Blight, baritone, all of Toronto. A miscellaneous programme will precede the oratorio, consisting of choral works by Haydn, Sullivan and Bridge, and vocal selections by the visiting soloists.

Seeding is in progress over a large portion of the West.

The auction sale of Prince Rupert lots will begin at Vancouver on May 25.

POULTICES AND PLASTERS.

Practical Suggestions About Making and Applying Them.

There is a time in every man's life when he needs a poultice. No is it every woman's duty to know how to make several kinds. The following points will apply to all poultices: Make them large in the first place, so that they will retain the heat as long as possible; apply as hot as can be borne by the patient, and renew the poultice they begin to cool. They will keep hot longer if the bowl they are made in is put over boiling water, and the poultice is covered with oiled silk or tin rubber when applied.

Flaxseed Poultice—Put the seed in a bowl, add boiling water slowly, stirring constantly until it is the right consistency for spreading.

Bread Poultice—Fill a muslin bag with bread crumbs, dip it in a pan of boiling water and squeeze until it does not drip.

Charcoal Poultice—Mix powdered charcoal with flaxseed, Indian meal or bread. This poultice is good for sores that have a disagreeable odor.

Plasters—Plasters are used for sun-irritants, and their strength should be adapted to the tenderness of the skin and the amount of irritation it is necessary to produce. Pure mustard is very irritating, and quickly blisters tender skin, so it should be diluted with flour; half flour and half mustard makes a strong plaster as an average skin endures, and where a mild irritation is required one-fourth mustard is quite sufficient.

White of egg mixed with the mustard is said to prevent it from blistering.

Mustard Plaster—Where a moderate irritant is required, take one teaspoon of Stickney & Poor's mustard flour, add to it three teaspoons of white flour, mix together thoroughly with sufficient water to make a pliable mass. Spread a quarter of an inch thick on a piece of old muslin, cover with gauze and fold the edges well.

Always be careful about having the cloth large enough; it is very disagreeable to have the stuffing run out.

Spice Plaster—Mix equal parts of ground ginger, cloves, cinnamon, all spice and one-fourth part Cayenne pepper. Put the whole in a flannel bag, and when it is to be used wet it with hot whiskey or alcohol.

This plaster is very soothing for tooth-ache or neuralgia.

Dry Application—Put bran, hops, camomile flowers or salt into a thick flannel bag, heat the bag in the oven or in a tin plate on top of stove, hold in place if necessary by bandages. Always keep two bags going, so you will not have to wait for the reheating of the bag. If they are heated slowly they will stay hot longer.

Cold Water Dressing—Wet a large piece of old linen or muslin in cold water. Keep it cool by wringing it anew every few minutes, and do not let the water drip on the patient.

Hot Applications—Have a good-sized piece of flannel, put it into very hot water; broom handles may be used to wring it out by twisting them around the ends of the flannel.

Maudie Rhodes.

Lucky for the Vicar.

During one of the banquets of the Church Congress in London a certain Bishop had as his left hand companion a clergyman who was completely bald.

During dessert the bald headed vicar dropped his napkin and stooped to pick it up. At this moment the Bishop, who was talking to his right hand neighbor, felt a slight touch on his left arm.

He turned, and beholding the vicar's pate on a level with his elbow, said: "No, thank you; no melon."—From Success.

Vapo-Cresolena

Established 1879

Whooping Cough, Croup, Bronchitis, Cough, Grip, Asthma, Diphtheria

Cresolena is a boon to Asthmatics

Does it not seem more effective to breathe in a remedy to cure disease of the breathing organs than to take the remedy into the stomach?

It cures because the air rendered strongly antiseptic is carried over the diseased surface with every breath, giving prolonged and constant treatment. It is invaluable to mothers with small children.

Those of a consumptive tendency find immediate relief from coughs or influenza conditions of the throat.

Gossip and Comment

Even Eva Fay couldn't have foretold the result of last night's wrestling match...

At Bennett's Theatre yesterday afternoon Eva Fay was asked to tell the winner of the Ackerman-Conkle match...

Speaking about last night's athletic carnival at the Grand, Billy Carroll said this morning: The Olympic Club did all that was possible to get Conkle to finish the big bout...

A man on third; two batters out; Two runs would win the game. If he could make a home-run clout...

He hitched his grimy trousers up and spat upon his hands; He pulled his cap athwart his eye...

"Three balls!" the fans yelled with delight. "Two strikes!" the umpire said. He knocked the next ball out of sight...

How would it do to match Conkle and Longboat now?

Conkle evidently prefers wrestling sprints now. No wrestling Marathoners for Charlie!

New York World: When little Sherring went to Athens from Hamilton, Canada, in 1906 and won the Marathon race he was greeted like a Roman conqueror...

Sam McVey and Joe Jeannette, rival negro heavyweights, have been matched to fight to a finish at the Windsorland A. C. in Paris, France, on April 17...

Smart gossip in New York is that Johnson will not fight anybody for six months and that he will welcome a refusal from Jeffries to fight at a mill just now...

The boxing game received two hard knocks last week. The colored champion, Jack Johnson, was fined in New York City for an alleged assault on a woman of his race...

From the Toronto Telegram: The Marathon devil has got into the blood of Canadians and old countrymen to such an extent that they did not much care who won at New York on Saturday...

A victory for Longboat would have been a forge fire, in which merry Canadians could have heated their taunts for old countrymen.

A victory for Shrubb would have been an avil upon which rejoicing old countrymen could have hammered out their gibes at Canadians.

A victory for St. Yves, the "stranger and foreigner," was the tub in which both Canadians and old countrymen might soak their hot heads with the cooling waters of the truth...

Canadians and old countrymen have made fools of themselves and enemies of each other with their tumult over the respective merits of runners who, in the big show-down, failed to develop sufficient merit to carry them to the end of the Marathon distance.

The whole Marathon business is an abomination. It is an industry on the part of its money-making promoters...

Mr. C. W. Chisholm, Toronto City Solicitor, has been called with its money by Chief Justice Mulock as a King's Counsel.

ACKERMAN GETS TITLE

Conkle Got a Fall and Then Quit.

Strange Action of the Hamilton Man.

He Will Never Wrestle Here Again.

Charlie Conkle is no longer the idol of the wrestling fans of this city. At the Grand last night he not only forfeited the welterweight title to Al Ackerman...

After securing a fall on the Yankee grapple he refused to continue the match and said he would not wrestle before a Hamilton crowd again.

He denounced people in the audience, and said that he had not deserved the epithets that had been fired at him in the course of the 45 minutes' wrestling.

Conkle evidently prefers wrestling sprints now. No wrestling Marathoners for Charlie! The end came about 10.20. Conkle had scored a fall, after 45 minutes' fast wrestling...

When Ackerman heard the news he rushed to the stage and said he would refuse to take the match. He did not want to win a championship in that way...

The bout while it lasted was a whirlwind, both men displaying the skill for which they are noted. Both broke bad holes and got out of seemingly fatal holes...

The first was between Kid Ferguson (whose wrestling name is Berlinghoff) and Billy Ketchel. Ferguson had some advantage in weight, and did not exert himself till the last round.

The officials were: Referee—Billy Carroll. Timers—Billy Daniels and H. Goldberg.

LEAF'S FIRST GAME.

Toronto Eastern Leaguers Won by 18 to 0.

Chatham, April 6.—By a score of 18 to 0 the Maple Leafs, of Toronto, won their first game of the season against a picked team of players from this city.

The score indicates the play all through the game. It was a most one-sided affair from start to finish, and at no time did the local players have the least chance of scoring a single run.

The team lined up as follows: Toronto (18)—Mitchell, c.; Rudolph, p.; Houser, lb.; Mullin, 2b.; Frick, 3b.; Rudolph, s.s.; Kelley, l.f.; Green, c.f.; Breen, r.f.

team turned the tables and won from the National League Club of Cincinnati in a ten-innings game, 8 to 7.

At Savannah—New Americans II, 2, Savannah I. At Charlotte, N. C.—Boston Nationals II, Charlotte 3.

BRANTFORD OFFICERS. Brantford, April 6.—(Special)—Brantford baseball enthusiasts last night elected their officers for the season...

New York, April 6.—Jeffries began an engagement at a Brooklyn theatre to-day, but he failed to cover the $5,000 forfeit posted by Johnson a week ago...

Having failed to get Jeffries to cover his forfeit, it was up to Johnson to-day to accept a challenge from either Kaufman or Ketchel, both of whom have had $5,000 posted for a match ever since last Tuesday.

Toronto, April 6.—At a meeting of the C. A. A. U. committee in charge of the boxing championships yesterday the officials for the bouts that open next Friday in the Mutual Street rink were appointed as follows:

Referee—W. A. Hewitt. Judges—D. F. Maguire and J. R. Fitzgerald. Timer—George H. Briggs.

San Francisco, Cal., April 6.—Jimmy Coffroth, American's greatest promoter of pugilistic contests, will leave for New York in a few days to match Jack Johnson and Stanley Ketchel for the world's heavyweight championship.

Four matches in class C were rolled at the H. B. & A. C. alleys last night.

CRICKET BOOM.

Prospects For Grand Old Game in Ontario Good.

Toronto, April 6.—The annual meeting of the Ontario Cricket Association was held last evening at the Walker House, and bespeaks a fine year for the game in the province.

Executive—R. S. Humphries, W. McCaffrey, T. P. Wood, W. H. Garrett, C. S. Burns, J. C. Davies, L. J. Shearher, Dr. W. Stevenson.

Kingston, April 6.—The Executive of the Intercollegiate Hockey Union met and elected these officers: Honorary President, Dr. McCallum, McGill; President, Geo. P. Vanier, Laval; Secretary-Treasurer, V. W. Crawford, Queen's.

From the Scrap Heap

New York, April 6.—Tommy Burns is coming to America to seek a return fight with Jack Johnson, who wrestled the world's championship from him in Australia last December.

In a letter to a friend in this city Burns says that he is not convinced that Johnson is his master. He believes he made a mistake of following the play of battle he outlined prior to his meeting with the giant negro and adds that if he succeeds in inducing the negro to enter the ring with him again he will adopt tactics that will insure victory.

Burns in his letter declares that several Australian sporting papers stated that "Burns would have made a better showing and might have won if he had not insisted on boxing with the negro in the early rounds."

I have had from Mr. Pat Powers the positive assurance that he is not and never was the manager of Shrubb. Very good. But to all intents and purposes he manages the whole outfit of Marathoners, because it is up to him to say who shall compete in the Madison Square Garden events, and he undoubtedly controlled the Polo Ground affair.

There is in training at present one Svanberg, a Swedish runner, who was second in the great Athens Marathon in 1906, when he beat the Canadian runner home and captured the prize.

BIG RACE AFTERMATH.

New York World Speaks Plainly.

Records of Previous Marathon Races.

New York, April 6.—William P. McLaughlin, of the World, says: The time of the Marathon Derby winner, St. Yves, in Saturday's race, was the best guarantee that he ran on the level.

I did not expect Shrubb to finish. I have watched Shrubb's performances for several years. He generally goes to sleep during his night. But when he was running for records and glory he was ever on the job.

I have had from Mr. Pat Powers the positive assurance that he is not and never was the manager of Shrubb. Very good. But to all intents and purposes he manages the whole outfit of Marathoners.

There is in training at present one Svanberg, a Swedish runner, who was second in the great Athens Marathon in 1906, when he beat the Canadian runner home and captured the prize.

SOME FACTS ABOUT ST. YVES.

- Henri St. Yves—Pronounced "San Yves." Age—20 years. Height—5 feet 4. Weight—120 pounds. Complexion—Fair. Stride—Less than four feet. Gait—A duck-like waddle; lifts his heels less than a foot from the ground, and strikes flat-footed. Has won five Marathons. Been running only a year. Has run in England, France, Scotland, and America. His first race in America. Been in America a month. Trained at Princeton, N. J., by Al. Copland, the ex-burdling champion. Was as high as 15 to 1 in the betting. Always regarded as the dark horse of the race. The most unlikely looking runner who ever reached the limit.

BY ELECTRIC CLOCKER.

How Horses Will be Timed at Montreal Meet.

Montreal, April 6.—One of the innovations at the Blue Bonnets spring meeting will be an absolutely unique method of timing the horses, used for the first time on any track.

Entries for the stakes, which will close on Saturday, April 24, have already commenced to arrive at the office of the Montreal Jockey Club, and all records for the local course will undoubtedly be surpassed.

THE FIRST U. S. VICTORY.

Nottingham, Eng., April 6.—The Little Joke Plate, of 200 sovereigns, for two-year-olds, distance four furlongs, was run here yesterday, and won by H. P. Martin, ridden by J. H. Martin. Salvo was second, and Dove Cot third. Twenty-five horses started. Overseight's victory is the first time an American horse has won in the present season.

THE NEW YORK DATES.

New York, April 5.—The long-awaited decision by the Jockey Club stewards as to the dates for the summer races on metropolitan tracks was announced following a meeting here to-day.

Westchester Racing Association, Thursday, May 13, to Wednesday, June 2.

Brooklyn Jockey Club, Thursday, June 3, to Wednesday, June 25.

Conely Island Jockey Club, Thursday, June 24, to Tuesday, July 13.

VANDERBILT GOT THE HONORS.

Paris, April 6.—A. G. Vanderbilt was second in the French Horse Show to-day, winning the first prize for a coach and four. There were a score of entries for this competition, and the judging attracted a great number of persons prominent in society. Mr. Vanderbilt drove the famous grey horses with which he will make his first run from London to Brighton this season. The turnout received an ovation. The judges agreed (Continued on Page 8.)

TORONTO POOR
In Worse Condition Than Those of England.

Remarkable Statement Made By English Clergyman.

Toronto, Nov. 6.—Rev. Dr. Benjamin Gregory, of the Manchester and Salford Mission, England, lecturing last night in Duan Avenue Methodist Church on social conditions in the great English cities, Manchester in particular, started his hearers by the following statements: "This afternoon I paid a visit with your pastor and the President of the Methodist Conference to some of your slums in this beautiful city, and I am free to confess that in all my work among the submerged tenth of my own cities I have never seen anything like the conditions under which some of your poor people are living."

NO CHANGE.

Iron Moulders' International Office Here Yesterday.

Vice-President Keough, of the International Iron Moulders' Union, was in the city yesterday, and spent the afternoon in talking the strike trouble over with the members of the local union. The men are willing to accept a slight reduction in wages, but refuse to submit to the cut asked by the foundrymen. No conference was attempted by Mr. Keough, who did not go near the bosses. The foundrymen are running open shops, and say they can get all the men they require.

GOING "DRY."

Nineteen Counties Have Declared for Prohibition

Detroit, April 5.—"We have broken the back of the liquor traffic in Michigan," declared Superintendent George W. Morrow, of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League at midnight to-night.

Definite returns at that time showed that the twenty-eight counties which voted on the question of abolishing the sale or manufacture of liquor in the borders nearby had gone "dry," seven had gone "wet," and indications were that the remaining county, Jackson, had voted for prohibition by the slender margin of thirty majority. Before to-day's election eleven of the eighty-three counties of the State were "dry."

STABBED HIM.

Portuguese Betrayer Assassinated By Comrade To-day.

Lisbon, April 6.—Sergeant Lima, the man who betrayed his comrades involved in the revolutionary uprising of January, 1908, when King Carlos and the Crown Prince of Portugal were assassinated, was murdered in this city to-day. The act was one of revenge. Lima was hated by his fellow soldiers and the population.

He was stabbed to death at the entrance of a theatre. The murderer was arrested, but he refused to give any explanation of his act.

GREEK MET GREEK

The Greek peanut men are still wrangling over their rights in certain corners, despite the many decisions of Police Magistrate Jeffs that they shall not stand at any corner. A Greek named Malos applied for and obtained a summons against a brother Greek named Gennetos this morning, charging him with assault. Malos claimed the other man assaulted him when he refused to move his cart from King and Catharine streets.

Y. M. C. A. CABINET.

Y. M. C. A. Cabinet held its regular weekly meeting last evening. There was a good attendance. After refreshments the representatives of the committees reported on the progress of the work, and discussed the reports. The consensus of opinion was that the work was going on as well as possible in the present crowded condition of the building. An extended programme and better work can only be expected when relief is given either by a new building for boys, or a large new building for the seniors. The members of the Cabinet discussed the programme for the coming banquet, and decided to assist in making it the greatest success possible.

MORNING WEDDING.

A quiet, but very pretty, wedding was solemnized at Burlington this Tuesday morning, the contracting parties being Miss Thilie Parklow, daughter of the late Captain W. K. Parklow, to Mr. Frederick Parkins, both of Burlington. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Dr. McIrvine. The bride looked very handsome in a travelling costume of taupe colored broadcloth and large white picture hat. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. J. W. Harper, of Hamilton. The bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to points east and on their return will reside in Burlington. The numerous and beautiful presents showed the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

TEA TABLE GOSSIP.

—Mr. Murray Hendrie, of this city, is one of the incorporators of the Meta-gami Mines, Limited, of New Liskeard, which has just been granted a Provincial charter.

—General Organizer John Flett, of the American Federation of Labor, completed the organization of a new union of Masters and Mates at Toronto last night.

The funeral of the late Mesrop Mooradian took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the undertaking rooms of Hinchey & Son's, Hamilton, at nine o'clock. Rev. Roy VanVyck conducted the services.

—J. Harold Jolley left here on Thursday for Rockford, Ill., where he will remain for about two years to learn all the latest improvements in the harness and saddle line. He will be associated with one of the largest harness manufacturing concerns in the United States, and will learn the business from the raw hide to the finished product.

—The Allis-Chalmers-Bullock Company, Limited, manufacturers of hydro-electric machinery, has issued a 1908-10 calendar of unique design. The picture represents beavers at work, "The First Engineers," from a painting by A. H. Hider, and the whole makes a beautiful piece of artistic work.

—The regular quarterly meeting of the Gospel Tabernacle branch of the Board of Christian Aid and Prayer was held in the Sunday school last evening. The president, Charles Wilson, presided, and after the reports for the past month had been read the rest of the evening was spent in drawing up the summer programme.

Word has been received of the death of Alexander D. Brown, formerly a Toronto contractor who did a lot of work around Hamilton in connection with railway construction, bridge building on the N. & N. W. Railway, and contracts on the Hamilton Assylum. Mr. Brown passed away at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. J. A. Griffin, after a long illness. He was born in Williamstown, Glangarry County, Ont., October 25, 1832, and was the son of the late James Brown, an architect.

BENT AXLE

Caused Box Car to Jump Track Three Times.

The Port Dover division of the Grand Trunk Railway was blocked yesterday from 10 o'clock in the morning till late in the afternoon by a freight car which jumped the rails no less than three times and tore up yards of roadbed every time. The car was originally attached to the way freight leaving here in the morning. About two miles past the reservoir a box car loaded with lumber, attached to the end of the train, jumped the track and tore up the roadbed and ties for quite a distance, spreading the track in places. The train was stopped, the car put off and the wrecker sent for. The wrecking outfit was soon on the job and hoisted the car back to the rails. It started for the city to pull the car in for repairs, but had not gone half a mile before the car jumped again, and this time the grade was so heavy and the wrecker so hard to stop that the track started to buckle under the weight. The rest of the wrecking crew who was on top of the freight car had to jump to save himself from being thrown beneath the wheels. He escaped uninjured. It took an hour or more to get the car back on the rails this time, and a whole day was consumed in making the repairs. The third jump was recorded about a mile nearer town. The car had to be dragged at a snail's pace to the city and put in the yard for repairs, as one of the axles was badly bent, which was, no doubt, the cause of the jamming the track. Section men were out all afternoon and last evening repairing the roadbed and track, and the trains got through all right about 7 o'clock. The way freight got stuck about Remval station, after climbing the mountain, and assistance had to be sent to get it going again.

BRITANNIA RINK.

People who enjoy the fresh country life will have an opportunity of witnessing a familiar scene at the Britannia Rink on Monday evening next, when the attraction will be a Ruble Carnival. All their attractions have been successful, and this one, which will be the last, will surpass any ever held there. The rink holds witnesses the event from the balcony. The illumination will be out of the ordinary, and the decorating suitable for the occasion. The prizes will be the best yet, and the whole affair is bound to be a success. The patrons who witness the event from the balcony will be well looked after by the management. The Good Friday attraction will be the band in the evening, and the east end rink should have large crowds at both sessions. To-night ladies will be admitted free.

WARREN'S WILL.

Toronto, Ont., April 6.—The will of the late H. J. Warren, President and Treasurer of the Gutta Percha Rubber Co., was filed for probate this morning. It leaves to the widow an estate of $1,138,106, and Mrs. Warren is also made sole executrix. The will directs that Mrs. Warren is to be President of the Gutta Percha Rubber Company and draw a salary of $5,000 a year until such time as her son, Trimble, comes of age, when he is to become the President. Steps are to be taken to assure of the control of the company always in the family.

GORDON WILSON'S BILL GOT KNOCKED.

summarily what the Board of Health refused to do, that's all," said Mr. Hanna.

It took two counts of hands to decide which party was victorious, but the clause was thrown out finally.

Clause 5 was another that took time. Mr. Wilson's idea was that the right to issue a certificate authorizing the return of a child to school after illness should be vested in the hands of the Medical Health Officer, not the family physician.

"If a doctor refuses to grant such a certificate he gets fired," Mr. Staunton explained. "We just want to close the matter put entirely beyond his control." "Are you going to insist on the Medical Health Officer visiting each case?" "No; this does not apply to large rural districts where the distances are great. A doctor may let a child go back to school with the skin hanging after scarlet fever," Mr. Staunton said.

"Surely there is not a doctor in Ontario so careless," was the chorus.

"All we want is that a fixed time shall be set by law before which a child may not return to school."

Major Craig got to his feet in a hurry. "Why can't you make this apply to rural districts? My house was quarantined for weeks, and I am certain that the Medical Health Officer at Hamilton's patients were never notified, because they were not even quarantined. I had to keep a trained nurse, too."

"Are not doctors in town just as honest as doctors in the country?" enquired Dr. Mackay, of North Oxford.

CLAUSE NO. 5 WAS WITHDRAWN. Valentine Stock, of South Perth, had a stinger for the medical profession who are so grossly careless, instead of prosecuting a few doctors who advertise a cure for grip?" he queried, and nobody answered.

Clause 6, which does away with specific names of disease, substituting therefore the words "infectious or contagious diseases designated by the Provincial Board of Health," clause 11, and the final clauses went through also. The latter states that in rural schools notification of the outbreak of a contagious or infectious disease must be made within sixteen hours of the discovery and the return of a certificate of recovery by the doctor, so that the child's return to school might be regulated.

have a resident of Hamilton, afflicted with insanity, admitted to the asylum. The department notified the city that to have this person admitted the House of Refuge would have to take a patient from the asylum. Some of the aldermen were inclined to refuse. Mr. Rae pointed out that there were no guards at his institution to prevent an insane person from jumping into the bay, meeting with other accident or committing violence. The new regulation practically means that henceforth Hamilton will have to pay for all patients from here admitted to the asylum.

The business the Fire and Water Committee will consider to-morrow night includes: Sub-committee re placing wires underground; Chief re painting fire alarm boxes; fire department appointments; selling and buying horses; sub-committee re store room and shop; City Engineer re water services on James, Barton and Herkimer streets; receiving tenders for wrought iron pipe.

Mayor McLaren says that as far as he knows the only business the Police Commissioners will deal with to-morrow is the appointing of two new men to the force.

TWO FALL IN PISTOL DUEL.

Democratic politician, in a battle this afternoon in the hallway leading to Mohr's coal yard, William Wright, Mohr's friend, is held by the police as an accomplice.

The motive is a mystery, owing to Mohr's refusal to make a complete statement. He told to Policeman Schiller that Young opened fire and that he shot Young in self-defence. More than a dozen bystanders are reported as saying that Young did not draw a gun or shoot. Young was found dead, face downward, with the hand under his chin. A revolver, one cartridge of which was exploded.

AT PALM GARDENS.

Large crowds attended the performance yesterday afternoon and evening at the Armory Palm Gardens. A fine new lot of moving pictures were shown and the films were greatly appreciated. The longest programme of pictures given in any 5-cent theatre in the city given at the Palms.

HOW MONEY GOES.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Toronto, April 6.—Sam Clark, M. P., Northumberland, in the Public Accounts Committee, made a vigorous kick about the amount of money paid R. S. Neville, a Toronto lawyer, for services in connection with the educational and other acts. "Too many judges and lawyers getting payments in cash from this Government," said Mr. Clark.

HOTEL LICENSES.

Toronto, Ont., April 6.—A deputation of Toronto hotel keepers waited upon Hon. Mr. Hanna this morning to ask if the increased license fee imposed in Toronto, and it was hoped it would not be, the revenue so derived being applied to compensate those of the hotel-keepers, who will lose their licenses as a result of the license reduction by law.

The Easter Hat or, The Talk of the Town

Place—A swell residence in Hamilton. Time—The present. Dramatis Personae—Mrs. Smith and Miss Jones. Mrs. Smith—O, Clara, I'm so glad to see you. I'm in a peck of trouble. Miss Jones—Indeed, Angelina! What's on your mind? Mrs. Smith—Hats, hats, hats—the everlasting and indispensable Easter hat. I want a fine one, but they charge such awful prices and really I am at a loss to know where to go and get what I want without having to fork over a small fortune.

Miss Jones—Is that all that's troubling you? That's easy. I can tell you just where to go and you can get just whatever you want and it won't cost you any small fortune either.

Mrs. Smith—Where, my dear Clara, where?

Miss Jones—Why, at Mrs. Hinman's—the Hinman-Atkinson place, they call it now. I was there yesterday, and never before set eyes on such a wonderful display of choice millinery. It was more than beautiful. It was exquisite, superb, ravishingly lovely.

Mrs. Smith—Really, now, Clara, is that a fact? Miss Jones—Yes, there was everything imaginable there in the way of Parisian, London, Glasgow and New York novelties. And the best of it all was the prices, considering the quality and style offered, are exceedingly moderate. I lost no time in ordering my Easter hat there. You know George has such a connoisseur in hats, and I want to please—

Mrs. Smith (interrupting)—Yes, dear, you must do all you can to get that fine young fellow entangled and—

Miss Jones (blushing and in turn interrupting)—Yes, yes, Angelina, I know, and—but—as I was saying, the place for you to go to get the very best goods for the very least money is the Hinman-Atkinson place. As regards choice hats in all sorts of styles, shapes, trimmings, etc., at low prices, their display is the talk of the town. My advice is, go now before the rush sets in, and before the latest creations in the millinery art are snapped up.

Mrs. Smith—Thank you, my dear, I'll take your advice. The early bird catches the hat. I'll get ready and go now.

The ladies kiss good-bye, and present Mrs. Smith is on her way to THE HINMAN-ATKINSON MILLINERY PARLORS, 4 John St. North.
