A MYSTERIOUS QUEST.

CHAPTER XXX.

A GREAT HEIRRESS.

When the signorina finally summoned courage sufficiently to open the door and pass in, she was startled to observe three gentlemen present, and was greatly confused, notwithstanding the warning she had received, when she perceived that one of them was the artist. Surely this was not the interview she had expected when Mr. Degraw, of Cleveland, had set the hour for saving something to her of special importance!

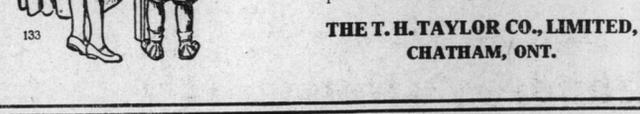

You Can Make Better Foods For The Children With "Beaver" Flour Than You Can Buy

Next to a returning Arctic Explorer, the hungriest mortal on earth is a growing boy. He is always ravenous. "He will eat anything". But why should he? Right now is the time when his parent should be most particular about his food—to prevent injudicious eating and to protect him against unsuitable food.

Good, home-made bread, made of "Beaver" Flour—light, flaky biscuits made of "Beaver" Flour—these are real foods for growing children. "Beaver" Flour is a blended flour. That is, it is made of exact proportions of nutritious, beautifully flavored Ontario Fall Wheat and a smaller proportion of the stronger Western Spring Wheat.

It is both a bread flour and a pastry flour—and makes the real nutty flavored home-made bread and delicious pastry such as cannot be made with any purely Western Wheat Flour.

Just try "Beaver" Flour—and see for yourself how thoroughly satisfactory and dependable it is for all kinds of baking. Your grocer sells "Beaver" Flour or can get it for you. Dealers—Write us for prices on Feed, Coarse Grains and Cereals.

DOCTORS FAILED TO HELP HER

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I should be glad," she responded, "but everything swims before me. I have never had anything pleasant happen to me before; and this is pleasant, isn't it?" Her child-like look, her utter amazement and winning helplessness told upon two hearts there with almost equal power; but the artist sat silent, though he could not forbear letting his heart speak through his eyes. The other spoke, but his tone was studiously friendly rather than lover-like.

happen to me before; and this is pleasant, isn't it?" Her child-like look, her utter amazement and winning helplessness told upon two hearts there with almost equal power; but the artist sat silent, though he could not forbear letting his heart speak through his eyes. The other spoke, but his tone was studiously friendly rather than lover-like.

that Mr. Degraw made a gesture to the lawyer, which caused him to quietly leave the room. As soon as the door was closed upon him, the former ventured to take her hand and say, with visible emotion: "I sought you out in the first place, Miss Rogers, solely for the purpose what is revealed by this story I have just related. But in studying your character, I have learned to love you, and only refrain from making you the proposals which lie near to my heart, from an instinct of honor which forbids me to share the fortune which was intrusted to me to place where my judgment directed."

voice sank, his large and strong frame trembled. The artist saw it and trembled too. Would she be proof against such passion? Would his own love or even this great amount of money serve to blind her to the noble and elevated qualities of this man? Yes, for the confusion which overwhelms her is not that of appreciation, and when she speaks it is with a sob of fear and deprecation. "Oh!" she cries, "in what a position you have placed me! The hand which held hers softly opened. "No," was the kindly rejoinder. "A word from me will summon back Mr. Walden. I expected to have to utter it. I only wish to be perfectly frank with you, and to make one attempt to gain the happiness which it is every man's right to enjoy. I have not benefited by the effort, but I hope I have not lost you esteem."

"Oh!" she cried, with a flushing cheek, "will not some one call Hilary? I do not know how to bear such good fortune alone. Three millions! Why, it is incredible! I almost refuse to believe it."

"Perhaps this gentleman will help you to do so," he smiled, indicating the stranger who had accompanied him. "This is Mr. Walden, Miss Rogers. He is a lawyer, and will explain to you the technicalities of this matter."

"Oh, no," she cried, breaking down, "if I only felt—as—as—" "I understand," he assured her. "Do not distress yourself. See! I have summoned the lawyer; he is coming back."

Thousands Now Use This Low-Cost Cough Syrup

A Family Supply for 50c. Saving You 25¢—The Quickest, Best Thing You Ever Used, or Money Refunded. The prompt and positive results given by this inexpensive cough medicine have caused it to be used in more homes in the U. S. and Canada than any other cough remedy. It gives instant relief, and will usually wipe out the most obstinate, deep-seated cough inside of 24 hours. It quickly succeeds, even in whooping cough and croup. A 50-cent bottle of Pinex, when mixed with home-made sugar syrup, makes its ounces—a family supply—of the most pleasant and effective cough remedy that money could buy, at a saving of $2. East-ernly prepared in five minutes—four directions in package. Children take Pinex Cough Syrup willingly, because it tastes good. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxative—both excellent features. Splendid, etc., and a prompt, successful remedy for incipient lung trouble. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of imported Norway White Pine extract and is rich in guaranties. Simply mix it with sugar syrup or strained honey, in a 15-oz. bottle, and it is ready for use. Pinex has often been imitated, but never successfully, for nothing else will produce the same results. The genuine is guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction unless it is wrapped in this package. Your druggist has Pinex or will gladly get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

He smiled reassuringly, but to his rival's watchful eyes there was sadness in his smile, as there were evidences of growing discouragement in his whole manner. "No," he assured her, "I am not the donor; the gift is made through me, but not by me. Let me tell you my story before we go any further, Miss Aspinwall can hear it later; you alone are concerned in it now." And drawing her to a seat, he took his place by her side and began his relation, in language similar to that which he had employed in making his disclosures to the detective the night before. She listened with wide-open eyes, that ever and anon filled with tears, of which she seemed unconscious; and when he had finished, her head sank in thoughtful reverie on her breast and remained in this position so long

The Evening Chit-Chat

By ROYE CAMERON

Would you ever in the world think of teasing your friend or your brother or sister or husband to give away to you some money or some precious possession which had been entrusted to his keeping?

"No, of course not," you say. "What a silly question. Perhaps it is. But wait a moment. Did you ever tease your friend or your brother or sister or husband to tell you something which had been told him in confidence; in other words, give away to you something which had been entrusted to his keeping?"

Can you give as emphatic a negative to that? I doubt it. And yet is there so great a difference between the two.

Of course, there is the chance that the confidence might be a good deal more precious than money or any material possession to the one who gave it. But the principle, I think, is just the same.

And yet I know but few people who have a fine sense of honor about this thing. I know a woman who boasts that her husband tells her everything that is told him even if it is in confidence. "He has to," she says, "because if he doesn't I don't give him any peace."

What a boast! Myself, I should think she had more reason for shame than for vain glorying.

I know an engaged girl who quarrelled with her fiance and broke the engagement because he would not tell her something which she thought he ought. The something was a confidence given him by a very old friend who unfortunately happened to be a woman.

To be sure, I don't know all the circumstances of the case, but I am much inclined to think that he is well rid of a wife who would beseech him to be dishonourable, and who was not capable of realizing that he would not love her so well "loved he not honor more."

I suppose someone will remind me that a husband should not accept a confidence which he cannot share with the other half of him. Perhaps not.

But the question whether he should accept the confidence is one thing, and the question whether he should betray it after having accepted it, is quite another.

And as to the first question—for my part I cannot see why it should prejudice the happiness of a couple if either husband or wife knows something that he cannot tell the other—provided, of course, that the knowledge is not anything which for some particular reason ought to be shared.

To urge anyone to betray a confidence is to insult him.

To accept a betrayed confidence is to accept stolen goods.

To betray a confidence is not only to dishonor yourself but to lower yourself in the eyes of him to whom you betray it.

And yet none but the most honorable scruple to ask others to betray confidences.

What a tremendous motive power curiosity is!

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. A few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations. It is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Beggar's Xmas Supper.

A man was struggling along the Paris streets, soaked to the skin, splashing through the puddles, wondering why he made the effort as he had nowhere to go. Suddenly a taxi emerged out of the gloom, deluged him up to the eyes, nearly ran him over, and sent him helter-skelter into the arms of a man in a doorway.

Almost automatically he told his tale, that he had not had a crust of bread for days, and had nowhere to lay his head. The man in the doorway contemplated him sternly and silently. Then a sudden idea occurred to him: "All right! As it happens, I was expected a guest who has not turned up. Supper is waiting. Go straight into the house and make yourself at home. You will find an excellent supper. When I come back I will see about finding you a lodging. This generous offer harmonised so little with the manner of the host that the beggar mumbled something about being made a fool of. The other interrupted him rudely, and asked: "Do I look the kind of man to crack jokes in the rain?" The beggar reflected that he had little to lose, so he stumbled down a long dark passage and opened a door which had been indicated to him. A splendid supper was laid, with cutlery and silver to match, all resplendent in a blaze of electric light. Just as he was wondering whether it would be worth while to make off with the silver, some fine old dusty bottles caught his eye.

For a long time he determined to touch nothing until the return of his host, but at last hunger and thirst and fatigue overcame him. He began with a half-empty bottle of burgundy. Then, as the wine began to take effect, he set to work upon the appetising food, cutting it with his hooligan's knife so as not to dirty the shining cutlery on the table. Another bottle of burgundy followed, more food, then a bottle of champagne.

Although this mysterious house frightened him, he began to feel happy, he wanted to laugh and to sing. Presently he sank on to the floor, wondering whether he was dreaming or in Paradise.

Suddenly he was startled out of his beatitude by some violent kicks. Two or three men, evidently police constables, pushed him to his feet and hustled him into another room, where a magistrate sat taking down evidence.

"Here is the man, sir," said one of the constables. "I know him very well. He has been in prison several times." "How many times?" "Eight times, all as a rogue and vagabond."

"Dear me," said the magistrate untrustingly, "a man begins by being a vagabond and ends up as a murderer. Well, well, we must now confront him with his victim."

So they led him into a bedroom where a young woman lay with her throat cut from ear to ear. The prisoner began to protest his innocence wildly; he related the incredible cir-

Best Cure for Skin Sores

— IS ZAM-BUK.

An illustration of the way in which Zam-Buk cures even the most serious and chronic cases of ulcers, eruptions and sores is provided by Mr. R. H. Barker, of Glencairn, Ont. He says: "I would not have believed that any remedy could cure so quickly, and at the same time so effectively, as Zam-Buk cured me."

"My face became covered with a kind of rash, which itched and irritated. This rash then turned to sores which discharged freely and began to spread. I first tried one thing and then another, but nothing seemed to do me any good, and the eruption got worse and worse, until my face was just covered with running sores."

"Apart from the pain (which was very bad), my face was such a terrible sight that I was not fit to go out. This was my state when some one advised me to try Zam-Buk. I got a supply, and, marvellous as it may sound, within little under a month every sore on my face was healed. I was so amazed that I have told the facts to several persons, and I have no objection to your stating my experience for the benefit of other sufferers."

Zam-Buk is purely herbal in composition, and is the ideal balm for babies and young children, for whose tender skin coarse ointments are so dangerous. Zam-Buk is a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, blood-poison, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped faces, cuts, burns, bruises and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., St. John's, Nfld., upon receipt of price. Refuse harmful substitutes.

Instances which had brought him into the house, but no one paid the faintest attention, and he was led off, screaming and struggling.

The constable who had him by the arm, whispered in his ear: "Don't be a fool! Confess at once. It will please the governor, and save you a lot of trouble, and, if you are reasonable, I will see that you are not put into the solitary cell, but have plenty of wine and tobacco."

Then, the prisoner, remembering the former kindness of his gaoler, murmured shyly: "Oh, very well, if it is my good to you, I will confess. 'It was I who killed the girl.'"

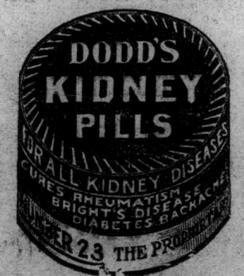

'Dust Carries It.'

Under the above headline the New York Sun publishes an interesting account of a paper read by Dr. Marcus Neustaetter before the neurological division of the Academy of Medicine, in which he explains a series of experiments conducted in conjunction with Dr. William Thro, of the Cornell Medical College for the purpose of determining the manner of the spread of infantile paralysis.

As a basis for his experiments, which were made on six monkeys, Dr. Neustaetter adopted the hypothesis that infantile paralysis, like so many other dangerous affections, is a dust disease, contracted by children coming in contact with or breathing in the dust of any room infected with paralytic germs. During March Dr. Neustaetter and Dr. Thro collected the sweepings from rooms in which there were nineteen different cases of infantile paralysis of from three to six months standing. These collections of dust were taken from the walls, floors and wooden trimmings of the different rooms, and were then dried, sifted, macerated and dissolved in a normal salt solution. The resulting solution was injected into the brains of six monkeys reserved for the experiment.

Five of the monkeys showed prominent symptoms of paresis, in some cases paralysis being complete. Stereoscopic slides showing sections from the animals and their photographs during various stages of the disease were thrown on the screen. The physicians present agreed that the monkeys were undoubtedly paralytic and that an important chapter had been added to the medical knowledge of the disease.

There are now 150 Reservists on board the training ship Calypso which is the greatest number for some time. A number of the men after putting in their drill will go home to get ready for the sealfishery.

A Prize of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS In Gold.

The announcement of Canada's victory over the United States in the contest for the prize offered by Sir Thomas O'Shaughnessy, President of the C. P. R., for the best wheat grown on either continent of America, was made November the 4th, at the Land Show in Madison Square Garden, New York. The winner of the world-beating wheat was Mr. S. Wheeler, of Saskatchewan, Canada. He received a prize of $1000.00 in gold.

Bowring Park.

The city stands under lasting obligations to Bowring Bros., Ltd., for the gift of Rae Island farm, coupled with the offer to engage a landscaper to lay the island out as a Park. We note also that the members for the district of St. John's, East and West, have agreed to co-operate with the City Council in its upkeep after it has been handed over to the city when converted into a park. It was a graceful and only a proper recognition of this splendid gift for those concerned to determine to establish a standing recognition of this gift by giving the island the name of Bowring Park. Not only will Bowring Park be an attraction for the residents of the city, who desire to get a few hours in the fresh air of the country amid congenial surroundings and with the facilities for refreshments usually afforded by Municipal Parks in England, but it will be an attraction for the tourists who are resorting to the city in increasing numbers every summer season and more especially since the new Red Cross steamers have been put on the New York service. These visitors spend much of their time in short excursions to the suburbs, and the addition of a suburban resort such as the Bowring Park, improvements in our roads for carriage and motor traffic, must materially add to the attractiveness of St. John's as a tourist resort for those who have been pent up in summer time in the sweltering cities of the States, and who in addition to the short sea trip, wish to spend a little time in the city and its surroundings.

Complaint About Parcel.

Mr. Best of the Empire Wood Working Co., had a peculiar experience with a parcel that came through the post office last mail from his son who is in British Columbia. When he called for it at the Parcel Post the Customs Officer after opening it declared that he would have to pay $1.05 duty on it. Mr. Best, judging from the trifling things that were in it, some of which he believed not to be dutiable, objected to paying the duty. After some hard talk with Mr. John Gibbs, he was told that he could have the parcel on paying 35 cents duty. He could not understand this reduction and refused to pay it. He has now appealed to the Deputy Minister of Finance and the Attorney General. What riled Mr. Best was when Mr. Gibbs told him that he ought to be thankful to get off with the reduced charge of 35 cents, and this decided him to find out why he should be under a compulsion to the Customs Officer even if he paid the reduced sum.

Bowring's Fleet Coaling.

Levitz-Goldstone Wedding.

The wedding of Mr. S. Levitz and Miss Minnie Goldstone, will take place at St. John's Sunday next as at first intended, and as was announced in the invitation sent out to the guests. This change has been made owing to the inability of the Rabbi at Sydney to come here to perform the ceremony, as the weather conditions are so uncertain as to make it inconvenient to come. The bride and groom will therefore leave by the express for Sydney this evening. After the wedding they will return to St. John's by Saturday's express. A reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents, Prescott Street, where all the guests personally invited to the wedding will be asked to attend.

Burst Blood Vessel.

Mrs. English, a widow, of Casey St., while scrubbing the floor of the Reid Nbd. Co.'s offices in the upper part of the building to-day, met with a serious mishap. She suddenly found the blood trickling down her limbs, and investigating found that one of the principal veins of her leg had burst, and before her condition was noticed she had lost much blood. She became weak from the loss of the life current, and Mr. Ell Whiteway, who was in the station, procured a sleigh and drove her home after which Dr. Campbell was called and stopped the flow of blood. He then ordered her to Hospital, where Mr. Whiteway drove her. Dr. Campbell said that there was danger of the artery again bursting in which contingency the woman might bleed to death.

Handsome Medal

We learn from M. A. H. Salter, the Secretary of the Curling Club, that Mr. H. D. Reid has kindly donated a handsome gold medal to be played for in a match to be arranged later.

The Single Rink competition list was taken last night, and needless to say was well filled. This will be one of the best games for the season, as it is conducted on the knock-out system, and the last eight men on the ice win the prizes. The prizes for first place were presented by Messrs. H. E. Cowan, W. J. Cornick, Gerald Harvey and A. E. Hickman. The second prizes were given by Messrs. H. Bartlett, W. J. Ryan, R. J. Coleman and S. O. Steele.

Reid Co.'s Boats.

The Argyle arrived at St. John's at 10.20 to-day.

The Solway is on the way to North Sydney.

The Glencoe arrived at Port aux Basques at 8 a.m. to-day.

The Home left Burin at 7.55 p.m. yesterday going west.

The Invermore was not heard from since leaving Bourgeo at 2.30 p.m. yesterday.

The Redeeming Moment.

One hour of golden sunshine
And the old rain is forgot;
The dusty highway fades away
In a little garden-spot;
Who shall remember any cloud
When stars are in the sky?
Or dream of winter when a flower
Is dancing for the eye?

And every highway leads at last
To some sweet resting place,
Wherein forgetfulness shall grow
A crown of morning grace;
The cloud that hid the rain that smote,
The gloom across the sky,
Will all fade in one glad hour
Of glory by and by.

And sorrow that besieged the heart,
And doubt that flayed the soul,
Shall be as thing that never were
When we have reached the goal;
One golden moment shall redeem
The pain, the grief, the woe,
And leave its glory over all—
The only thing we know.

Roads in Terrible State.

The first resident of Pouch Cove to get to the city since the big snowfall of last week was Mr. Alex. Grouchy, who arrived here with a horse and slide this forenoon. In all his experience he never beheld such deep drifts on the road and had repeatedly to unharness his horse to get it through the snow, and later haul the slide along and put the horse in harness once again. He was much fatigued on reaching the city.

A Play Which Suez Canal ---A Prime Hero---

A play which has Disraeli here and the purchase of Suez Canal shares as its incident, is having a great success in New York. The play is by N. Parker, who has super many pageants in England. The play brings in a Russian lady spy, Mrs. Travers, tries to thwart Disraeli, the or of the Bank of England Disraeli uses as a tool; a Jewish banker, Meyers, Disraeli successful at all points and the Canal shares.

Here are some extracts from first interview between Disraeli and the Bank of England Governor, Michael Probert:—

Disraeli: And the Bank? Probert: Now, Mr. Disraeli, Disraeli: One moment. (He goes to the door, which he closes the casement of the window and then the French on the left.) Probert (watching him in amazement): Good Heavens! Isn't enough? Disraeli: Extraordinary how travel. Probert: Eh? Disraeli: And how pretty you half-way to meet them. Probert: Do you suggest— Disraeli: Nothing. Sit down, Probert. Sit down! Probert: Do you seriously you are thinking of purchasing Sue Canal? Disraeli: I have seldom anything half so seriously. Probert: But it's not for me.

An Egyptian Ditch. Disraeli: It is for sale, is dying to sell. Probert: How do you know Disraeli: How does't matter. Probert: And you ask me of England to back you? Disraeli: Temporarily. Parliament meets. Probert: On this vague which you will not even explain Disraeli: I will explain when time comes. All I want now assent on principle. Probert: Then let me tell once, sir, you shall never have assent. Never, sir! (About Disraeli: (stopping him): moment! Probert (sitting again): There is nothing to wait for a serious man. I shall not go to Bank to play at ducks and with the money entrusted to me, keeping Ducks and drakes, an Egyptian ditch. Disraeli: Egyptian ditch? rather neat. Only it's not ducks, because the Government be at your back. Probert: How do I know the Disraeli (with a flash): Yes.

How Disraeli Won the Egyptian Ditch.

A Play Which Shows How the Suez Canal Was Purchased --A Prime Minister as State Hero--'I Shall Go to Moses.'

A play which has Disraeli as its hero and the purchase of the Suez Canal shares as its dramatic incident, is having a great success in New York. The play is by Mr. L. N. Parker, who has supervised so many pageants in England, and the text is published by Mr. John Lane.

The play brings in a charming Russian lady spy, Mrs. Travers, who tries to thwart Disraeli; the Governor of the Bank of England, whom Disraeli uses as a tool; and a rich Jewish banker, Meyers. Disraeli is successful at all points and obtains the Canal shares.

Here are some extracts from the first interview between Disraeli and the Bank of England Governor, Sir Michael Probert:—

Disraeli and the Banker.

Probert: Now, Mr. Disraeli—
Disraeli: One moment. (He crosses to the door, which he closes, then he closes the casement of the centre window and then the French window on the left.)

Probert (watching him in wonderment): Good Heavens! Isn't it warm enough?

Disraeli: Extraordinary how voices travel.

Probert: Eh?

Disraeli: And how pretty ears come half-way to meet them.

Probert: Do you suggest—?

Disraeli: Nothing. Sit down, Probert. Sit down!

Probert: Do you seriously mean you are thinking of purchasing the Suez Canal?

Disraeli: I have seldom meant anything half so seriously.

Probert: But it's not for sale.

An Egyptian Ditch.

Disraeli: It is for sale. Ismail is dying to sell.

Probert: How do you know?

Disraeli: How doesn't matter.

Probert: And you ask the Bank of England to back you?

Disraeli: Temporarily. Until Parliament meets.

Probert: On this vague knowledge which you will not even explain.

Disraeli: I will explain when the time comes. All I want now is your assent on principle.

Probert: Then let me tell you at once, sir, you shall never have that assent. Never, sir! (About to rise.)

Disraeli (stopping him): Wait a moment!

Probert (sitting again): No, sir. There is nothing to wait for. I am a serious man. I shall not allow the Bank to play at ducks and drakes with the money entrusted to its keeping. Ducks and drakes, sir, on an Egyptian ditch.

Disraeli: Egyptian ditch? That's rather neat. Only it's not ducks and drakes, because the Government will be at your back.

Probert: How do I know that?

Disraeli (with a flash): I say so.

The Lady Spy.

(Mrs. Travers, the spy, appears outside on the lawn, close to the casement.)

Probert: Why in such a hurry?

Disraeli: Because Russia—

Probert (interrupting him with a snort): Oh! that ancient bugbear!

Disraeli: That ever-present peril!

—knows of this opportunity to purchase the high road to India.

Probert: Then why hasn't she purchased it?

Disraeli: She's not ready, she has no fleet; but she is watching us. She is watching me.

(Mrs. Travers opens the centre casement and listens.)

Probert: Ha! The spy mania!

Disraeli: And if she sees the slightest move on my part, she will snap up the canal, fleet or no fleet!

Probert (turning to him): But my dear sir! (He sees Mrs. Travers. She is innocently plucking a flower from a bush outside window.)

By Jove, what a pretty woman! (She holds the flower in her hand, looks in at them, nods pleasantly, and passes on.)

Disraeli (turns as Probert speaks. Waits until she begins to move on, then turns to Probert.)

Yes. (Watches her going, then turns to Probert again.) Such pretty ears!

(Closes the casement, stands there, thinking a moment; then dismisses the incident and comes down to Probert, who has resumed his seat.)

Well, sir, after that delightful—

"I Shall Go to Moses."

Probert: No, sir, in my opinion your scheme is hare-brained. Moreover, it is (with great emphasis) unconstitutional; and the Bank will be no party to your high-handed methods.

Disraeli: Ha! I rejoice to think I have made this rash enterprise impossible.

Disraeli (looking out at window left): Oh, but you haven't.

Probert: What! Where will you go for the money?

Disraeli (turning to him and coming down slowly): Where Pharaoh went. Where all Christians go. I shall go to Moses.

Disraeli Explains.

Disraeli, in another scene, explains:—

"Ismail Pasha, Khedive of Egypt, is under the impression he is Rameses the Great; but the only Pyramid he has raised is a pyramid of debt. The last assets he has are the controlling shares in the Suez Canal, and these he is dying to sell to the highest bidder. France built the canal, but is too poor to buy it. Russia covets it as a means of snatching India; England, as a means of defending it. Both pretend the purchase is the last thing they are thinking of; both are watching each other like cats; and Ismail sits and waits for the cat to jump. (With emphasis.) Those shares I mean to have! The Bank of England refused to back me; but to-day Meyers has given me a blank cheque. I thought the thing was done. But now Foljambe knows—Russia knows. In a week Foljambe will be in Cairo, and whatever sum I offer he will double. Now do you see the importance of it?"

First Hockey Match Last Evening.

Fieldians Win Over Victorias by 8 Goals to 2.

That interest in the manly sport of hockey is on the increase here was amply demonstrated last night when a concourse of people of both sexes flocked to the Prince's Bank to witness the first League Match between the Fieldians and Victorias.

The game began at 7.30 sharp, the teams lining up:—

At the start the Fieldians, amidst much applause from the spectators, became aggressive and securing the puck rushed it up the ice when Pinsent made a shot but failed, after which Brien, for the Vics, took it and getting down the ice passed to Shortall who, however, was ruled off side. Had a good opportunity to take distinctly "was missed." The Victorians now put steam into their work, and again getting control of the puck brought it up the rink and the Vics landed the first goal to the delight of their admirers and backers. The Vics now put up very good play, and the Fieldians also did much strenuous work. Rennie, McPherson and Brien played a fast game, and the former again found the net after a scrimmage opposite goal. The goal posts during the tussel, however, were moved from their original position and the goal was not recorded. The Fieldians now showed their mettle, put up some scientific play and when after about 10 minutes had elapsed Pinsent for the team equalized amidst thunderous applause. The college yell was distinctly heard about the din, and it was seen that Fieldians had settled down to win at all hazards. The Vics now endeavoured to get the puck into goal and Bulley and Rennie put up a lively fight to consummate this. Hunt, however, was a hard proposition in goal and could not be beaten. Collier soon took charge of the rubber and making a daring run hit up goal No. 2 for the Fieldians. To the surprise of all Shortall secured the puck and almost instantly after it was put in play after Tobin had deftly passed to him, and hit up the equalizer for the Vics. The Fieldians once again got busy and after some brilliant play T. Winter took the puck into his keeping and in the space of a few moments found the net twice, adding the third and fourth goal to the Fieldians score. His work was quick and dashing and he received the applause he deserved. McPherson now made a brave attempt to beat Hunt but was blocked, and the rest of the half witnessed good play on both sides but no more scoring.

The teams crossed with Fieldians, 4 goals; Victorias, 2.

HALF TIME.

When this half started the Vics once again showed that they could put up a fast game, but were prevented from scoring by the ability of Hunt in goal and the excellent stick handling of their opponents. After a short while the Fieldians once more became aggressive and in just 40 seconds T. Winter notched up their 5th goal. It looked now as if it would "rain" goals for the Fieldians who kept bombarding Vics territory, but Nix Vinnicombe proved that he was able to guard his goal and saved several difficult shots. Pinsent now watched his chance and getting past Nix put in the 6th goal, while a couple of minutes later Rennie sent in No. 3 for the Vics, and soon after Shortall put in No. 4. Fast play was now a feature of the game, and McPherson was laid off for a while owing to Collier's rushing him against the fence. T. Winter was now noted for an exhibition of fast and brilliant play and quickly put in the 7th and 8th goals for the Fieldians, while Bulley scored No. 5 for the Victorias, soon after which the game came to a conclusion.

Both teams played a good game and the best combine won.

Hunt and Vinnicombe in their respective goals worked hard and saved well, and the spectators were very well pleased with the exhibition.

Mr. C. Parsons acted as referee in a most impartial manner, his decisions giving general satisfaction.

The following was the order in which the goals were scored:—

1st Half—Rennie (V.) 2 mins.; 2. Pinsent (F.) 9 mins.; 3. Collier (F.) 14 mins.; 4. Shortall (V.) 14½ mins.; 5. T. Winter (F.) 15 mins.; 6. T. Winter (F.) 19 mins.

2nd Half—1. T. Winter (F.) 40 secs.; 2. Pinsent (F.) 8 mins.; 3. Rennie (V.) 11 mins.; 5. T. Winter (F.) 15 mins.; 6. T. Winter (F.) 25 mins.; 7. Bulley (V.) 27 mins.

9082—A POPULAR JUNIOR MODEL.

Blouse or Middy Suit with Shield and Panels in Two Lengths for Misses and Small Women.

This design will develop nicely in two toned serge, or in a plain material with braid for trimming. The panels may be omitted, or finished in either of two lengths, and the blouse may be worn over or under the skirt. The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18 years. It requires 4½ yards of 44 inch material for the 14 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Suitable materials for any of these patterns can be procured from AYRES & SONS, Ltd. Samples on request. Mention pattern number. Mail orders promptly attended to.

8842—A NEAT SCHOOL FROCK FOR MOTHER'S GIRL.

Girl's Dress With Side Closing.

The practical feature of this model is the convenient, comfortable closing at the side, which will enable the little Miss to help herself in her dressing and avoid the catching of braids and curls in buttonholes "down the back." The design has deep tucks over the shoulders and a straight plaited skirt. The sleeve is of the bishop style with straight band cuff. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. It requires 2 1/8 yards of 36 inch material for the 10 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Synod Called to Consider Home Rule Bill

DUBLIN, To-day.

In connection with the resistance of Home Rule, the Primate of the Church of Ireland (Anglican), after consulting with the Archbishop of Dublin and other bishops has resolved to call a special meeting of the General Synod of the Church of Ireland at Dublin on March 21st to consider the crisis. The general belief prevails that before this date the Government will have presented the Home Rule bill to Parliament, so that its outlines will be in the hands of the Synod. The Primate said the prospect of another Home Rule bill was doing incalculable injury, had practically divided Ireland into two hostile camps, and had also accentuated religious differences to an extent unknown in recent years.

Coal Industry Crisis.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, To-day.

As a result of the meetings between coal owners and miners at Birmingham, the differences between employers and workers, which were mainly connected with the settlement of a fixed minimum wage has been narrowed down, particularly as regards the English coal-fields. An early settlement is looked for. The balloting on the question of a national strike to go into effect on March 1st. It is understood the figures show strongly in favour of the strike.

Tenants Burned in Ruined Tenement.

Special to Evening Telegram.

CINCINNATI, To-day.

An explosion of gas wrecked and set fire to the tenement home of seven families who occupied the building. Only two are accounted for, it is believed the others are buried in the ruins.

—a great Jewish banker—arranges to finance the scheme, but a conspiracy against his credit, added to the wreck of a ship carrying gold for the enterprise, threatens to defeat Disraeli's plan. Disraeli reassures Meyers and then sends again for the Governor of the Bank of England—whom he bluffs thus:—

Probert: Why have you sent for me?

Disraeli: I told you I might send for you.

Probert: When? What do you mean?

Disraeli: When we had that delightful interview at Glastonbury Towers.

Probert: Ha! I thought as much. Your hare-brained scheme. Moses has failed you and you had to give it up. Well, it's no use appealing to me.

Disraeli: Moses has not failed me. I have carried the scheme through.

Probert: What? Do you mean to tell me you have purchased the Suez Canal?

Disraeli: The power and the glory of my country were at stake. I had to act quickly and I had to act on my own responsibility.

Probert (sternly): Then let me tell you, sir, you have committed a crime.

Disraeli: As Parliament was not sitting to vote the money I had to seek it elsewhere. Five millions sterling. You refused.

Probert: I did and I am proud of it.

Disraeli: So I went to the wealthiest private firm—to Huges Meyers.

Probert: Ha! A Jew!

Disraeli: Meyers, not being a party-man, but a Patriot, saw the greatness of the idea and stood by me. I sent Deorfod to Ismail. Spies had got wind of what I was doing, and Russia knew; so Deorfod had to go in a hurry; a race for an Empire! He has succeeded! Understand me. I put the matter quite simply. Deorfod, has bought the Canal and has paid for it with Meyers' cheque drawn on the Bank of England. (Probert starts.) Wait! Meanwhile Russia has been at work by the intermediary (bows to Mrs. Travers) of one of the most fascinating women of my acquaintance, Meyers is bankrupt.

Probert: What?

Disraeli: Russia has ruined him.

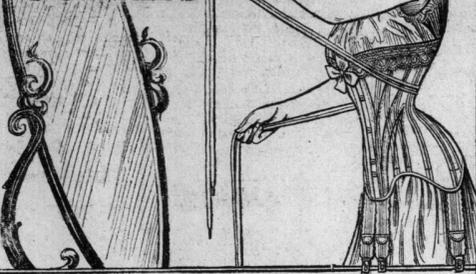

The Governor Refuses.

Probert: Mr. Disraeli, I warned you of this. I foresaw it. Your high-handed action has landed you just where I said it would. You must get out of it as best you can. It is no use appealing to me. (Rising.)

Disraeli: No? Then I will not appeal. I will command!

Probert: What!

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

You fly in a passion and roar in fool fashion when something or other goes wrong, and people who bear you regret, they are near you, and wish you would mope along. Man is never so foolish, disgusting, snoring and hilly cavorting, he thinks he is cutting a swath. I don't mind the clatter of justified anger—a man has a right to be mad when standing a session of wrong and oppression by men who are spiteful and bad. And when he is hotter than simmering water, he ought to go up in the air, and kick out a girder and yell bloody murder, and bust a suspender and swear. But he who goes raving and pawing and caving whenever by trifles upset, deserves a good whacking; he shows that he's lacking the sense to come out of the wet.

Contemptible Conduct.

Not so long ago the Telegram referred to the fact that some miscreant who attended a theatrical performance in the T. A. Hall had thrown Cayenne pepper about the place to the annoyance of the audience, several of whom had to leave the auditorium. The same nefarious conduct has been since indulged in at the Nickel Show, and last night it was in evidence at the Prince's Rink during the progress of the Hockey Match. Many of the spectators were greatly annoyed by the pepper which was scattered about, and indignation was expressed by those who suffered from, what the perpetrator considers a joke, but which cannot be characterized as a dirty and very unmanly one. If the person who is at this game is identified he should receive little consideration and be meted out a punishment which would ensure the public protection in future from such a vile trick.

The Antoinette.

W. A. Munn had a telegram from Capt. Webber saying that he had to retreat to Gibraltar to get his sails repaired. The Antoinette was on her way from Cadiz to Harbor Grace with a load of salt, and was 57 days out. Neither owners nor relatives of the crew were anxious about the vessel, as she is as strong as can be built. All knew that with the contrary winds since the 1st of December that there was no possibility to reach here. She was in company with Ryan's Virginia and McRae's Clara, leaving Labrador with early cargoes of fish. Capt. Webber must have experienced awful weather, but seeing that he has selected Gibraltar which is the cheapest port for any repairs needed, it shows he is still in good condition after such a lengthy voyage.

Fancy Fair at Branch.

The fancy fair in aid of the new church at Branch took place there during the past week. Owing to the inclemency of the weather the attendance was not so large as had been anticipated—people from other settlements could not arrive. The total receipts, however, which were nearly $400, make a splendid record of success. This fully demonstrated that the people of Branch have at heart the noble work which is now in progress under the supervision of their energetic pastor, Rev. A. Fyfe. The fair was held in the new building, which will in a short time hence be ready for service. Monday, Jan. the 8th, was the opening night. On Wednesday night a concert was given by some local artists, and the audience comprised nearly the entire population of the village. The concert was repeated on Thursday, and on Friday night the fair was brought to a close. Much credit is due to St. John's friends, who generously helped the good work by valuable donations.

L. ENGLISH.

Minardi's Liniment Co., Limited.

St. Bon's Hockey

At a meeting of the Old Boys' Hockey Club at St. Bonaventure's College, held last night, the final draft of the list of officers was agreed upon:
Captain—David Walsh.
Sub-Capt.—S. Shortall.
Secretary—Leo Murphy, re-elected.
League Delegate—J. F. Foley.
Selecting Committee—W. Hearn, W. Godden and Jas. Foley.

Will Seek an Advance.

Last night the members of the Carpenters' and Joiners' Union met in the British Hall when the question of seeking better wages was discussed. It was unanimously decided to ask for an increased rate, the demand to become effective on May 1st next. In the meantime contractors and general employers of the trade will be notified. Up to midnight there had been no decision arrived at as to the advance which would be asked.

Cascarets Insure Inside Cleanliness

The million of Cascarets users never have Headache, Constipation, Billiousness or Sick Stomach.
It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.
Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage-way every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil. This is important.
Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.
No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

New Sleeper.

Yesterday afternoon the new sleeping car, "Trepassey," built out and out at the Reid Mfd. Co. shops made her trial trip over the road as far as Jonovan's in charge of Conductor Gaul. The car is handsomely furnished and will be used on the cross country service this winter going out on her first trip this afternoon.

A DANGEROUS SPOT.—Yesterday forenoon, Mr. Northfield, in going up the steps leading from Water Street to Devon Row, in spite of creepers and a spear stick, fell on his back, sliding down on the ice-covered steps, knocking against the post below; he escaped being hurt, only a few scratches and loss of his eyeglasses, being thankful it was not worse.

The Passing of Dr. Chaplin.

The death of Dr. Herbert L. S. Chaplin which occurred at the residence of his father, Mark Chaplin, Esq., this morning, though not unexpected, has occasioned profound sadness in the city amongst a large circle of acquaintances and friends with whom he was a deservedly popular figure. For the past four months he has been a severe sufferer from a malignant internal ailment, yet in spite of the knowledge that no cure could be effected, he has constantly exhibited a bravery under affliction and suffering, as well as a thoughtful unselfishness that was as inspiring as it was marvellous to those who ministered to him. Not until late in the past summer was there any marked physical ailment, but early during September he proceeded to Montreal where it was hoped the trip and consultation with physicians there might restore him to health again. An operation followed his entry to the Victoria General Hospital from which satisfactory results did not ensue. Later a second operation revealed the fact that a malignant growth of his liver was present, and that death was only a question of a short space. He returned soon after the last operation to die in his own home, and during all the intervening weeks he has been a constant sufferer, unable to partake of any nourishment, worth while, yet cheerful and buoyant. He had the benefit of unceasing professional attentances from his friends, Drs. Mitchell and Cowperthwaite, as well as the fond attention of parents and loved ones of the family. For two days preceding death he was practically unconscious, and passed away peacefully just after eight o'clock this morning.
Dr. Chaplin was born in this city in June 1880. He was educated at the Methodist College, afterwards serving some time with McMurdo & Co. Subsequently he attended McGill University, graduating in 1903. He was a year at the Weston College as House Surgeon, and then held the position of Physician on board the C. P. R. passenger ship Montford, until he commenced practice in his native city during 1904.

The cutting down of one of the strongest and most stalwart medical practitioners by malignant disease, shows that the best of us are but as grass before the great reaper Death. Dr. Chaplin was not only a fine and vigorous figure a comparatively short time ago, but he was one of our most likeable men, who won esteem all round, and in his death the community has sustained the loss of one for whom there was much hope for the future. To his sorrowing parents and family generally the Evening Telegram tenders sincere sympathy in their bereavement.

No matter what price you pay for your baking powder you will get no better powder than "Acme." Acme Baking Powder has now been before the public for some years, and has fulfilled all the expectations we had formed on it. We expected good results because we put into Acme Baking Powder the finest ingredients we could obtain—and we intend to stick to this policy. It therefore was no matter for surprise when we found those who had used this Powder speaking highly of it. You will obtain, other things being equal, as good results from Acme as from the highest priced article of the kind in the market. Ask your Grocer for Acme; he has it, most likely. If not, you may obtain it from either of our Branches. Price, 10, 15, 25 and 50c. a tin.

John E. Redmond Injured.

Thrown From His Wagon and Suffers From Spinal Shock.
Arkwlow, Ireland, Jan. 2.—John E. Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, who was thrown from his wagon last Saturday and severely bruised, is likely to be several weeks before he will be in a condition to attend to business.

The Irish leader is suffering from a spinal shock. His condition causes no anxiety, and he is progressing favorably. No visitors are received.
Mr. Redmond at the time of the accident was driving J. J. Clancy, M.P., to the railway station here from his residence at Aughavanah, County of Wexford, when the bolt of the wagonette in which they were riding snapped. The wagonette broke in two, and both parties were thrown out into the roadway. Mr. Clancy was not injured.

Woman's leap-year privilege is no joke. It was established by law centuries ago. A law in Scotland passed in 1228 gave women the right to propose in leap year and imposed a fine of £1 on the man who refused. The first English law on the leap-year privilege was passed in 1606. In the feminist age to come every year will be leap year.

A special session of the Maine Legislature to consider the liquor laws, redistrict the State for Congress and revise the election laws, is announced in a proclamation by Governor Frederick W. Plaisted. The session is to begin March 20.

A kindly newspaper man stopped a well dressed stranger on the street in London (G.B.) the other day, and, begging his pardon, called the man's attention to the fact that his derby was dented. The stranger thanked him and asked for his card. The next day he received a postal card for £1. The man said he was a commercial traveller and would have lost a large order if he had called on a certain firm with his hat dented.

At Columbus, O., recently, finishing his lunch at a downtown restaurant, B. J. Brubacher, a dry goods salesman, found his false teeth had disappeared and concluded he had swallowed them. He called Dr. J. M. Pratt, who urged him to go to the hospital for an operation at once. Brubacher protested and passed the night in pain and worry. The next morning it was learned that the teeth had been found on the table where the owner had placed them and forgotten them. The patient recovered immediately.

Bowring Park Accepted.

A special meeting of the City Council was held at 3.30 p.m. yesterday to consider with the members of St. John's the question of the offer of Hon. E. R. Bowring in reference to Rae Island Park. Mr. Bowring offered to make a gift of Rae Island to the city after it had been converted into an up to date park on condition that it be kept up by the city. The Premier spoke of the great advantage it would be to the citizens to have such a park for outings and picnics. He believed that the R. N. Co. would extend the street car service out that way. Mr. George Shea, speaking for the East End representatives, said that they would be willing to support the project. Mr. Bennett, Councillor Mullaly, Martin and Conker also spoke in favor of the project. Finally a proposition submitted by Councillor Ryan, seconded by Councillors Conker and Channing, that the Council accept the gift of Hon. Mr. Bowring, was carried unanimously. A resolution was also passed thanking Mr. Bowring for the gift, which will be known as Bowring Park. The following was the resolution:—"That we, the representatives of the City of St. John's, embracing the Mayor and City Councillors, and the Parliamentary representatives of the two districts of St. John's, desire to place on record our high appreciation of the gift of Rae Island Farm as a Park, now offered by Messrs. Bowring Bros., to the City. Not alone will such an institution prove an important health and recreation asset for our people, but will also serve as a lasting monument to the name of a firm whose century of trade and commerce in this country has been identified with measures of progress and advancement for our people."

The s.s. Wasia arrived here yesterday forenoon from Bell Island where she had been to load ore for Sydney for the N. S. S. Co. The bay in the neighborhood of Bell Island is filled with slob, and while forcing towards the island her steam pipe burst. She effected temporary repairs at the pier and then it was decided to come here for repairs. These will be given her to-day, when she will return to the island.

St. Andrew's Meeting.

At 8 o'clock Tuesday evening the annual meeting of St. Andrew's Church was held in the Presbyterian Hall. Hon. D. Morrison was moved to the chair after Rev. J. S. Sutherland had finished the devotional prayers. Reports of the year from the different organizations were then presented, showing the excellent work that had been accomplished. The following were elected as Board of Management for the ensuing year: Hon. J. Baird, J. C. Hepburn, J. J. McKay, T. A. Macnabb, T. M. McNeill, C. N. Henderson, D. M. Baird, A. Munn, W. Clouston, A. Robertson, P. McLeod and J. Syme. Votes of thanks were passed to the office holders of the past season, and a special vote to Hon. J. Baird, who has held the position of Chairman for so many years, and to Mr. J. C. Hepburn, who did the work of Secretary for 16 years. Refreshments were then served and an enjoyable hour spent till 10.30, when the meeting closed.

MAGISTERIAL ENQUIRY.—Yesterday a magisterial enquiry was held into the death of Matthew Pendergast, at Logy Bay. Dr. Campbell's evidence was taken and he pronounced death to be due to heart disease.

Couldn't Get There.

Owing to the slob ice pressing in on the land and up in Conception Bay, the s.s. Kamford could not get up to Bell Island yesterday and was compelled to go to Sydney and will likely return here with a coal cargo. The ship was to load ore at the island for the N. S. S. Co. It is feared that owing to Sydney harbor being icebound she will not reach there and must go to Louisburg.

Preferential Treatment.

LONDON, Jan. 17.
 The pronouncement of the Canadian ministry, regarding the proposed extension of preferential trade treatment to Australia and New Zealand, is warmly welcomed by supporters of the general imperial Preference policy. Sir Max Aitken, interviewed, described it as a momentous pronouncement, which marked another step in the direction of general imperial Preference, including Great Britain. He believed that the new Canadian Government was working towards that end, and that under the direction of Mr. Foster, he believed any arrangement made between Canada and Australia would be most beneficial to both countries.

Ulster and Home Rule.

BELFAST, Jan. 17.
 Arrangements have been made by the Unionists of Ulster to freeze out Churchill at his intended demonstration in favor of Home Rule, February 8th, including the boycotting of five thousand stalwarts inside of Ulster Hall some days in advance of the meeting. They will have orders to hold the hall against all comers. Anti-Home Rulers will be brought into the city by special trains the day of the meeting, and it is anticipated that seventy-five thousand will be available for picket duty in order to block all approach to Ulster Hall, or any other available place.

A Sensation.

DUBLIN, Jan. 17.
 The threat of Ulster Unionists to prevent the holding of a meeting at Belfast on February 8th, at which Churchill and Redmond are announced to speak on behalf of Home Rule, has caused somewhat of a sensation in political circles. At a Unionist meeting in Belfast last evening, recruits were called for to form a volunteer police force. The prospects are that trouble will come. The Nationalists are handicapped in the Home Rule campaign, Redmond is laid up and may not be out for several weeks, and Devlin, his chief lieutenant, has been ill for ten days.

Italy Warned.

PARIS, Jan. 17.
 The French Government has informed the Italian Government that France reserves all rights in reference to the seizure of the mail steamer Carthage on the high seas by Italian torpedo boats and destroyers. The Carthage was arrested because she had on board an aeroplane belonging to aviator Duval, and parts of another. The facts of the seizure have been submitted to the French Government by leading authorities of Paris, who have acted prudently with regard to the national law.

A Good Move—From Tea and Coffee to

POSTUM

The change has brought comfort and cheer into the daily life of thousands.

There's nothing quite so satisfying as the PERFECT POISE OF HEALTH.

It can be yours!

One Dose Makes Indigestion Go.

Heartburn, Gas, Sourness and other Stomach misery vanishes.
 If your meals don't fit comfortably, or you feel bloated after eating, and you believe it is the food which kills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour, undigested food and acid, heartburn, brash, or a belching of gas, you can make up your mind that you need something to stop food fermentation and cure indigestion.
 To make every bite of food you eat aid in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must rid your stomach of poisons, excessive acid and stomach gas, which sours your entire meal—interferes with digestion and causes so many sufferers of Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Biliousness, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your case is no different—you are a stomach sufferer, though you may call it by some other name; your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.
 A case of Pape's Diapepsin will cost fifty cents at any Pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer five minutes after taking a single dose that Fermentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of indigestion.
 No matter if you call your trouble Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that a certain cure is waiting at any drug store the moment you decide to begin its use.
 Pape's Diapepsin will regulate any out-of-order Stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any fuss or discomfort, all of any kind of food you eat.

Large Steamer Founders.

LONDON, Jan. 17.
 The British Isles are in the grasp of a fierce storm, which is creating havoc along the coast, as well as in the interior. A number of small vessels and fishing craft have gone ashore. The British steamer Ashgrove was driven during the gale on to the sea wall at Methil, on the Firth of Forth. Four of the crew were swept away. A large three-masted steamer foundered with all hands in the vicinity of Peterhead. The steamer is, as yet, unidentified.

Duke to Visit New York.

LONDON, Jan. 17.
 The newspapers here are making special feature of the projected visit of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Princess "Pat," to New York, where Ambassador and Mrs. Reid will give a dinner in their honor. The articles referring to the visit say it will have the effect of cementing the friendships existing between Britain and the States, and will likely assist the passage of the Arbitration Treaty.

Broke Her Chains.

A venerable lady over in Iowa says that she was a regular coffee drinker for 30 years, and a though convinced that the habit was the cause of her increasing nervousness, she was loath to give it up. Tea contains the same drug—caffine—(found in coffee.)
 "I became so nervous," she says, "that when I had coffee it would excite my nerves so that I would sit and cry for an hour or more after they had gone. I could not even go up town to do a little shopping with any comfort, and I would often get already and then take off my hat and stay at home and have a crying spell."
 "I began drinking Postum about a year ago, giving up coffee entirely. From the beginning my health showed improvement and soon I became hearty and strong, free from bodily discomfort, with a tranquil spirit, and so remain to this day. And I owe it all to the use of Postum." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

Bomb Outrage.

LONDON, Jan. 17.
 The bomb-thrower who attempted the life of the Chinese Premier confessed that his assassination was to have been the signal for a general rising in Peking, says a despatch from Peking to the Daily Telegraph. His assailants were three well-dressed Chinamen, said to be prominent revolutionists.

Stiff Fighting.

BUENOS AYRES, Jan. 17.
 Stiff fighting in the streets of Asuncion, the capital of Paraguay, is going on between the adherents of President Rojas and the revolutionaries. Many have been killed.

Annual Treat

At Henry Street Clothing Factory. Mr. S. Frelch gave the annual treat—a supper and dance—to his employees at the Clothing Factory, Henry Street last night. The rooms were tastefully decorated. The upstairs department being used for dancing and the ground flat for the supper. There were about 100 people in attendance. Amongst the guests being Councillor Mullaly, Messrs. D. F. Galway, F. J. Canning, Leo C. Murphy, M. F. Lawlor, P. K. Devine, J. Harwood, Architect Butler, J. Henley and J. Vinnicombe. Dancing began at nine o'clock and was kept up till midnight when a bountiful repast was served, at the conclusion of which the health of the host, Mr. Frelch, was proposed by Mr. P. K. Devine, to which Mr. Frelch responded in suitable terms. Short speeches were also made eulogizing the genial host and the Perlin Bros., by Messrs. L. C. Murphy, M. F. Lawlor, J. Henley and W. T. Butler. Dancing was then resumed and kept up till a late hour in the morning. The event was the most successful ever held by Mr. Frelch and the Messrs. Perlin.

Busy at Streets.

Yesterday and this forenoon several groups of men were at work on Water Street cutting down the piles of snow strewn along Water Street on either side. There are fully 300 men at work and the snow as it is cut away is taken to the public covers and dumped in the water.

L. O. A.

Editor Evening Telegram.
 Dear Sir,—Please allow me a space in your valuable paper to make a few remarks concerning the brethren of Caplin Cove, Bay de Verde District, of the L. O. L. Association. Those brethren were members of two different Lodges—Island Home, L. O. L., in Island Cove, and Cabot, L. O. L., in Old Perlican. Total of members about 18. These brethren travelled the rough roads in winter about the distance of six miles, some of them being members for twenty-two years. They felt it very inconvenient and no benefit for the young generation coming up, so they thought it was their duty to put an Orange Hall at Caplin Cove. It was started on November, 1911, and on December 26th, same year it was built and made in readiness for Dedication. The Grand Secretary, Brother Jordan Milley, of the Grand L. O. L. of Newfoundland, also Rev. E. P. Ward, Grand Chaplain, assisted us with the officers and members of the two primary Lodges mentioned with full invitation to attend the dedicating of our hall, all the members met in the schoolroom for preparation. After opening services the procession marched to the hall. After service of dedicating the hall the brethren marched towards Lower Island Cove, the space of about half a mile, to give the ladies time to prepare a good tea in which the men were in need of. After tea, speeches were rendered and cheers went up to the Grand Lodge Officers, also for the two Mother Lodges, Island Home and Cabot, also for the ladies for the way they received our brethren in our new hall. It closed by singing the National Anthem. The hall was then given to the young people for games and amusements until the wee small hours.

ANDERSON'S, Water St., St. John's

REID NEWFOUNDLAND COMPANY.

Is your house really lighted from top to bottom or do you still have to take a candle or lamp when you go to the attic or cellar at night?

A great many people who have electricity in the rest of the house have no light in the cellar or attic because it is seldom needed; but, when you do need it, you need it badly.

One Incandescent Lamp set in a Holophane Reflector will give sufficient light for the darkest cellar or attic. Holophane Reflectors are especially adapted to lighting places of this sort as they control the light rays so that every ray is utilized. Wouldn't it be a convenience if you could turn a switch and light your cellar or attic before entering? That means an end to dangerous matches and flames—it means that you no longer need stumble against misplaced boxes and bark your shins in the dark.

We would like to tell you more about electric lighting and more about the wonderful light-saving Holophane Reflectors. May we send a representative to see you?

Prescription "A"

Cures Indigestion and Dyspepsia in all its Forms.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself, and at times I care for nothing, I often have a pain in the pit of the stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.

Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at
