

Floods of Business Followed Lloyd George on Holiday

Irish Question and Other Matters—The Viceroy of India—The Rush of Girls to be Movie Actresses—Good-Bye to a Noted Cricketer.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) London, Sept. 2.—The times are out of joint, and Lloyd George, bent on a pleasant holiday in Switzerland, may well exclaim against the cursed fate that bids him set them right.

Councillor, he never till the end of his life held that position. The first time that he met any of the royal family was when he went to Buckingham Palace in June 1914, to the special conference which was called by King George in order to attempt to settle the Irish question.

It is significant of the faith that Lloyd George inspires in some quarters that he is being urged to cut his holiday short and to come back at once to grapple with the new problems which have arisen during the parliamentary recess.

The sensation of the week has been Howard on the subject of the Lord Mayor of Cork. Mr. Howard, who, by the way, amalgamated his relatives in his telegram to the king, and talked of Major John Redmond when he meant either Mr. John Redmond or Major William Redmond, has for some time been acting behind the scenes in the Irish question, though not until his telegram to the king, very effectively.

Mr. Redmond was frankly delighted with his visit to the Palace, because he belonged to the ancient and loyal country-gentleman class of Ireland, and, because his passion for Home Rule was based on the notion of a kingdom of Ireland and not of a republic.

It is dead against all precedent to appoint a governor to the viceroyship, and if the precedent were broken it would be hard to pass over the claims of Lord Ronaldshay, who was also a most successful politician.

BY WORD OR DEED--NOTHING Nothing accomplished—not even a speech delivered, advocating the claims of Saint John, is the amazing record of Hon. Mr. Wigmore at Ottawa; and this is the man that the electors of this constituency are asked to vote for as a man "that can do things for Saint John."

WIGMORE AND LABOR As Hon. Mr. Wigmore poses as a friend of Labor, be it noted; when at the time of establishment of the Canadian National Railway Board, it was moved as an amendment, by Ernest LaPointe, and seconded by Verville, that Labor be given representation on the Board. How did Wigmore vote?

PREMIER FOSTER.

When a man appeals to his fellow citizens for an expression of confidence that appeal has much greater force if along with it he can present a good record of work accomplished. It was the habit of the seasoned politicians opposed to Hon. W. E. Foster at the outset of his public career, to speak lightly, not to say slightly, of him and his ability to take part in public affairs. He was young and untried, new to the game, and in their opinion not at all formidable. How could this young business man hope to make a success of politics? The thing was absurd.

But the seasoned politicians were grievously mistaken. As the untried and inexperienced leader of the government he took his place in the house, and in their opinion not at all formidable. How could this young business man hope to make a success of politics? The thing was absurd.

Referring to the opposition convention the Standard says:—"And it may be that some very material matters affecting the immediate future of the party activities may have to be taken into consideration also." Who is to be thrown overboard?

One of the principles of Bolshevism is that "agents must not shrink from terrorist acts." With such people argument is a waste of words. They recognize only the law of force, and should be made to feel its power.

The labor situation in England seems to be less threatening, but there will be keen anxiety until it is actually known that the miners will not strike. The coming week may tell the tale.

If there is 200 to 500 per cent profit in the restaurant business, as seems to have been the case in Toronto, a new road to wealth has been discovered.

The return of the anthracite miners to work will be welcomed by people who begin to shiver whenever they think about next winter's supply of hard coal.

The Globe tells of great things done for Toronto by harbor commission. Toronto controls its harbor commission and does not have to pay any interest on government work already done. What good object can be served by deceiving the people of St. John? Why is it attempted?

The Foster government gave the province woman suffrage. The women may now do more than express their views in words. They stand on equal terms with the men, to vote the representatives and measure which appeal to them. In matters relating to social welfare their support will be of incalculable value.

Did not the city council virtually kill the harbor commission act when it adopted last November an amendment which was rejected by Hon. Mr. Balfour? Does the council now propose to reverse its action of last November?

TECHNICAL CLASSES

Five hundred high school students in Toronto can be accommodated in the technical school in that city. In urging that more pupils should take the technical rather than the ordinary high school course, Dr. McKay said last week:—"Your high schools are congested today because the people don't know the true meaning of education. High schools are a training school for the universities. Two-thirds of the pupils in high schools today will never enter university. Parents want to give their children more than a public school education, and without a thorough knowledge of the different aims of the various higher classes, they send their children to High school for a year or so. When they leave, they are not trained for any vocation." And another speaker added:—"The greatest tragedy today is the man in the blind alley job." The time is at hand for the re-assembling of vocational evening classes in St. John. The coming winter should witness a notable increase in the facilities and in the classes. A technical high school is needed, and only the financial question stands in the way.

If the members of the city council decide to call for a plebiscite on harbor commission, each of them will of course say whether he approves of the measure or not, and give his reasons in full. The citizens will expect no less of their representatives, because this matter is of vital importance to the future of St. John.

THE MAN KILLER

Along the pleasant highways, and by the rural homes, through cool and shady byways, the sporting terror roams. The auto with a driver who threatens as he drives, who cares no copper stiver for human limbs or lives. The auto, wisely driven, is not innately bad; it is a blessing given to man, to make him glad. When it is sanely guided along the teeming ways, it seldom is derided by bards or kindred jays. But oh, the lucre-drafter who to the highway takes, nor cares how many suffer so he some record breaks! And oh, the heedless striplings who jorride in the night! 'T would take some seven Kiplings to sew those lads up right. I hate to turn a corner when I drive out of town, for fear some speedwag scowmer will straightway run me down. The death car's always speeding to maim some helpless hick; and what this country's need is law that has a kick. When once the fiend, loon witted, some gent or cow, has slain, he should not be permitted to drive his car again. Outlaw the reckless drivers, and let them drive no more; and we, the maimed survivors, will cry, "Hurroo! Hurroo!"

THE BALTIMORE FIGHT

Tired of fighting the United States' armies upon the soil of Canada in the three years war of from 1812-14, the British in August and September, 1914, struck at Baltimore and Washington. It was at Baltimore they marched first. On August 31, in an attack, Sir Peter Parker, of the Melcaud, lost his life. He had been ordered to ascend the river there as if threatening the place. He heard that there was a body of United States militia encamped near so he landed to give them battle. He was new to the district and the type of warfare they employed. The result was he lost his way, was defeated and suffered a mortal wound.

MAIL FLIERS DIE STRAPPED TO SEAT IN BURNING PLANE

All-Metal Craft, Crippled in Air, Takes Fire Reaching Field

Explodes on Landing—Engine Buried 40 Feet in Latest of a Series of Accidents.

Cleveland, Sept. 17.—Strapped in their seats in one of the new Junker type, all-metal airplanes installed in the Air Mail Service between New York and Chicago, Walter Stevens, pilot of the plane known as the "pathfinder" of the Air Mail Service, and Russell Thomas, his mechanic, were burned to death on Tuesday afternoon when the gasoline tank of their plane exploded after they made a forced landing near Pemberville, between Cleveland and Toledo.

ON THE TRAIL

(From the Freeman.)

Field upon field of Indian paint and daisy,
Mile after mile, white sky—
Down the yellow trail three horses plodding lay—
And you and I.

All the little lizards in the sunbaked ledges
Lie like dead leaves wrinking in the sun.
Over the world's shoulders, in the mesquite hedges,
Thin streams run.

There after sundown we shall halt our horses,
Take stiff legs from the saddles and the dust,
And make our camp where, by dwindling water courses,
Tall weeds rust.

Out there at nesting time, the great sky over,
Myriad of ancient stars shall watch us where we lie,
While crows call at us and dim bats hover—
You and I.

On the lone plains where night comes down like sorrow,
We shall sleep content, with the homeless winds above,
Weary with the day and fearless of the morrow,
You and I love!

WHEAT SCARCE; BREAD PRICES ARE CLIMBING

These Are Conditions in London—Smallest Crop Since Pre-War Days—Expect Loaf to Go to 85 Cents.

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

London, Sept. 17.—With bread scaling at 25 cents a loaf and soon to be raised to 30 and later perhaps to 35 cents England is harvesting this season the smallest wheat crop since the early days of the war. Production of barley, on the other hand, will show a material increase over that of the last few years.

The reasons for this state of affairs, according to Professor James Long, a well-known agricultural expert are government control and hoarding. The price of wheat and oats is regulated, but no restrictions have been placed on that of barley. As the market price of barley is exceptionally high, farmers planted that grain instead of wheat and oats.

Professor Long shows that since 1918 wheat has been reduced by 570,000 acres, or more than one-third of the present area, while oats, also an important bread stuff, has fallen off by 312,000 acres. "On the basis of wheat," he says, "this means a loss of bread grain equal to some 26,000,000 bushels, or sufficient to feed 7,000,000 persons. It is a curious commentary on the fact that the barley crop has considerably increased, and that in consequence hoarding has so far occupied the position of bread."

The country has fewer cattle than in any year since 1908 and 5,830,000 less sheep than the average of the 10 years from 1904 to 1913. The decrease in cattle since last year is more than 600,000 head.

Improving the Phone Service.

Very appropriately the latest telephone directories have attached to them a card advertising an automobile "rent service," "anywhere within the city limits for $1." One is reminded of the rule for getting a telephone message "across" which was published in New York: "For local calls, take a taxi; for long-distance calls, take a train."—Dallas Journal.

A Husband Trap.

When he returned home late—so late that when his wife asked the time he'd murmur: "Oh, about 12, dear!" or "Just after midnight, pet!"

But one evening or rather morning she said, instead of the usual request: "John, dear, I wish you'd stop that clock. Its ticking worries me."

The hapless unsuspecting man did so. Next morning his wife asked artlessly: "What time did you come home last night, John?"

"About midnight," he replied, glibly. "John," she said coldly, "look at the clock!"

The hands of the timepiece pointed to 2.15.

Who Owns the Automobile Now?

"This fellow Skimmer tried to tell me that he has had the same automobile for five years and has never paid a cent for repairs on it," said the Fat Man. "Do you believe that?"

Every Girl Can Have A Wealth of Beautiful Hair. Long, thick, luxuriant hair is largely a matter of care and cultivation. Dandruff is more destructive to the hair than anything else. If the scalp itches and shows scaly accumulations; if the hair is dull, brittle, lifeless and coming out you need Neubro's Herpicide. Herpicide is dependable. It quickly removes all dandruff and prevents the hair from falling out. The itching stops and the hair begins to tone up and beautify. Hair that receives regular applications of Herpicide has life and snap—radiates health, is soft, fluffy, and abundant. You will be surprised and delighted with Herpicide. We also recommend Herpicide Soap. It is a safe, pleasant and effective shampoo. Applications at the Better Barber Shops. GOING! GOING! GONE! HERPICIDE WILL SAVE IT. HERPICIDE WILL SAVE IT. Blackheads are a confession

Blackheads are caused by excessive oil collecting dirt in the pores of the skin. Their presence is a confession that you are using the wrong method of cleansing for your type of skin.

To cleanse thoroughly skins liable to this disfiguring trouble, use the following special treatment. Apply hot cloths to the face until the skin is reddened. Then with a rough washcloth work up a heavy lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap and rub it into the pores thoroughly, always with an upward and outward motion. Rinse with clear hot water, then with cold—the colder the better. If possible, rub your face for thirty seconds with a piece of ice. Dry carefully.

To remove blackheads already formed, substitute a flesh brush for the washcloth in the treatment above. Then protect the fingers with a handkerchief and press out the blackheads.

Keep your skin free of blackheads by the above treatment and gain the clear attractive skin that the regular use of Woodbury's brings.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

THE VALLEY RAILWAY.

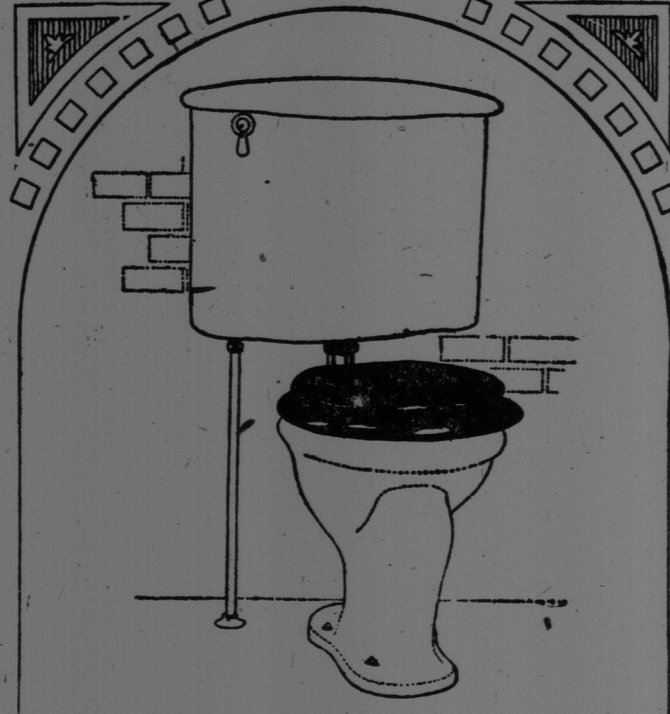

The Valley Railway has been completed to Westfield and is now being operated by the Canadian National Railway under the agreement of 1912 and 1916 and under a temporary running rights arrangement into the city of St. John over the Canadian Pacific Railway. This tremendous undertaking, begun in 1912, has cost the province about seven millions of dollars, the annual interest upon which amounts to about $250,000 more than the forty per cent of the gross earnings, which must be paid each year by the province. The Dominion Government should assume the liability for the bonds guaranteed and issued by New Brunswick in connection with the construction work between Centerville and Westfield and to continue the line as originally planned to Grand Falls and on, as well as operate, the whole Valley system, thus carrying out the federal policy of acquiring smaller railways feeding the big through trunk lines. The western provinces and Nova Scotia were relieved of their railway obligations when the Canadian Northern was absorbed by the federal government and I will continue to press the claims of New Brunswick for similar treatment in connection with the Valley Railway. In the meantime by the completion of the railway, another avenue of transportation to the seaboard has been created and the grain of the western prairies can find its way down the St. John Valley along with the products of the river counties.

THE GOVERNMENT'S AIM.

To sum up very briefly, the government when returned to power proposes:

- To give the greatest possible assistance to agriculture in every shape and form;
- To lend most vigorous support to hydro-electric development, and to further the same by using the credit and resources of the province in order that the people may have the cheapest power and light for their use;
- To continue our policy for the improvement of all the roads of the province, back roads as well as front, farmers' roads as well as those for the use of automobiles, giving an equal policy of fair play to everybody no matter where they live;
- To give further encouragement to education, not only in the common schools of the province but to vocational education and to agricultural education, so that the young people of New Brunswick will have equal opportunities with the youth of any other province;
- To provide such labor legislation within provincial jurisdiction as may be called for by the findings of the National Industrial Conference and the International Labor Conference;
- To conserve energetically and carefully our timber resources and to give every encouragement to the development of mining areas;
- To continue our policy of protection of public health and give such assistance as we can to hospitals and institutions necessary to provide for those unable to fend for themselves;
- To guard the interests of the people at all times;
- To maintain provincial rights.

To inquire into the best methods of inducing immigration to the province and to make such arrangements with the other maritime provinces as will be conducive to this.

In appealing for your support, I do so, confident that the record of the government will meet with your approval. I have endeavored to carry out every promise made to the people and have carefully guarded the interests of the province, administering its affairs prudently, honestly and with such impartiality as will, I hope, commend itself to you.

It was necessary, because of some transactions during the period of the preceding administration, to hold certain inquiries and investigations. The findings, so far as possible, were dealt with by the legislature and actions arising out of the findings are still before the courts of the country. I hope the days of investigations and royal commissions are over in New Brunswick and the fair name of our province will never again be smirched in the eyes of the rest of Canada.

Reconstruction is going on here as well as in the rest of the world. All must do their parts as best they can. Good government is essential; honest government imperative; economical government necessary. It will be the aim of my colleagues and myself to carry out these ideas and so administer provincial affairs as to win your approval.

I am,
Yours respectfully,
W. E. FOSTER.

WIGMORE AND BAXTER SPEAK AT IMPERIAL

A fair-sized audience in the Imperial Theatre last evening heard speeches by Hon. Rupert W. Wigmore, minister of customs and inland revenue, and Dr. J. B. M. Baxter in support of Mr. Wigmore's candidature for the house of commons. Dr. Murray MacLaren, C.M.G., was in the chair and praised the government for its stability and progress, and read some statistics relating to what it had done for the returned soldiers. Hon. Dr. Baxter, who was accorded a warm welcome, criticized Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and declared that Mr. King was giving a pat on the back to every "Red" in Canada by the nature of his speeches. Mr. Wigmore, when he spoke of the port of St. John, dealt in generalities only, saying he would present St. John's claims to his colleagues and haul faith in their desire to treat it fairly. He believed they would make heavy expenditures, but he did not make any definite statement about the development of the port.

Hon. Mr. Wigmore addressed a meeting of the women electors in the Imperial Theatre yesterday afternoon in the interests of his candidature. Mrs. R. J. Hooper presided. After a reel of pictures of fishing scenes had been shown, Miss Kathryn Gullivan sang a pleasing solo. Dr. W. W. White was the first speaker to be introduced by Mrs. Hooper and Mr. Wigmore's address followed. There was a small attendance.

William Charlton, 34 Somerset street, received injuries to his left knee while at work at Peters' tannery yesterday afternoon. He was taken to the General Public Hospital, where it was found his injuries were not serious.

Our Doctors Are Wanted In Africa

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Ottawa, Sept. 17.—Canadian doctors are being sought for service in East and West Africa. A letter addressed to his excellency the governor-general, by Lord Milner, secretary of state for the colonies, asks as to the number of young Canadians who would be likely to accept service under the colonial office and for particulars concerning them. If sufficient candidates were available the letter states, a senior medical officer of the colonial service would be sent to Canada to interview candidates and report as to their suitability.

Salaries commence at 660 pounds per annum rising on a set scale to 960 pounds.

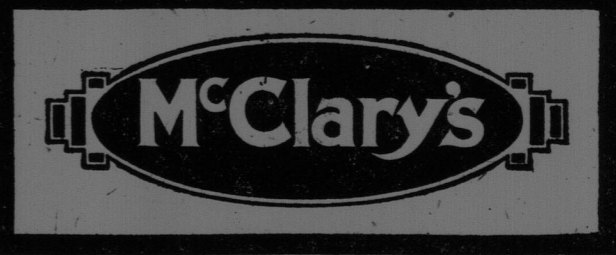

SUGAR PRICES MAY GO LOWER

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Toronto, Sept. 17.—"It's probably just the beginning," commented a representative of the Atlantic Sugar Refining Company here today, on yesterday's drop of one cent in the refiners' quotations for all grades of sugar. The price is now $21 per hundred pounds delivered at Montreal, or $21.30 at Toronto.

Refiners' agents in Toronto are at variance in their information regarding the sale of sugar. Some agents, including the Atlantic people, claim business in this line just about as usual, and "practically normal, but not quite as good as last year." On the other hand, the local agents for Acadia sugar admit that there is not much buying of sugar by wholesalers at the present.

DR. CARNWATH LOSES EYE IN ACCIDENT

Hopewell Hill, Sept. 17.—Friends of Dr. Carnwath, of Riverside, regret to learn of his misfortune in losing one of his eyes, as the result of an unfortunate accident. The doctor was about to dress a wound for a patient and was reaching upon a shelf for some article, when an old lance fell from the shelf and struck him a severe blow in the eye. The injury was found to be a serious one, and yesterday the eye was removed, the operation being performed by Dr. Chipman, of St. John, assisted by Dr. Beaton.

NAPOLION FAILED TO MAKE PRUSSIA KEEP ITS PROMISE

"Limited Army" of 42,000 Grew to 271,000 in Five Years - Tactics Are Repeated.

The London Times, in an article dealing with German army plans, recalls that Napoleon, after he overran middle Europe, imposed upon Prussia the obligation to maintain an army of more than 100,000 men and not to raise an exceptional force of militia, or of citizen guards, or any force of a kind to inroads, or any force of a kind to inroads, or any force of a kind to inroads...

London the Home of Kellogg's TOASTED CORN FLAKES

If you would be sure of the sweetest, freshest, most toothsome toasted corn flakes, always identify our big corn flakes factory at London, Ontario, with the package you are purchasing.

The package is plainly marked "Made in Canada" and "London, Ontario," and you will never be disappointed if you ask your grocer to give you the London-made Kellogg's.

Our constantly mounting production of corn flakes, first offered 14 years ago, and eaten every year with increasing appreciation, shows that no deception, no imitating of package, no "cheaper" no "try 'em," no "just as good" variety can overcome the consistent reputation of the original corn flakes.

Our duty to the consumer is to provide a constant reminder of the marks on the package that identify the original—"Made in Canada" and "London, Ontario" (printed in red across the face of the package).

Every soldier knows what these things mean in preserving the traditional spirit among the troops, and that spirit in the Reichswehr remains the spirit of "Prussian militarism"—the very temper which the ex-emperor boasted that he and his ancestors had fostered, and in which, he gratefully acknowledged, he and his House had ever found their chief support.

Train Off West of Moncton—One St. John Man Injured—Others Escape.

The wreckage on the C. N. R. at Jones' siding, about eight miles west of Moncton, which resulted yesterday afternoon when No. 14 from this city en route to Halifax struck a broken rail, has been cleared up and trains are now running on schedule time. Eight cars were overturned and slid down an embankment and a large section of the rail was torn up. An auxiliary crew was rushed to the scene from Moncton and after the passengers had been cared for the men set to work replacing the rail and lifting the cars back on the track by the aid of a large crane. This morning they had all of the equipment replaced and the track relaid up this side of the wreck and the crew transferred over to No. 17, which was en route to this city and due last night at 9:30. No. 17 then started for Halifax and the Maritime Express returned to this city with the passengers of No. 17, arriving here at 1:30 this morning.

Phillips, baggage master, who was quite badly injured about the head and body, will be confined to his home for a couple of weeks. None of the others injured are in a serious condition, according to late reports. Among those who fortunately escaped injury were Fred W. Dever, J. P. Coleman, C. M. McLunkin and T. F. Jones, all of this city.

THE LATE C. P. COWLES.
Charles P. Cowles, whose death at his home in Rye, N. Y., was reported in a despatch this morning, was well and favorably known by a great many business and professional men in and about the city. He came here some twenty years ago as a representative of the Pejepescott Lumber Company and acquired for that company the C. M. Bostwick property at Salmon River and it was on this property he inaugurated the system of reforestation and forest protection which is now being used by the provincial government. It was always his aim to plant two trees to replace every one cut by the company and in an endeavor more efficiently to protect the lumber lands he established lookouts on the high ground and had fire roads cut through the property. Mr. Cowles, who was sixty-one years of age, died as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident two years ago. It was chiefly through his efforts that tree nurseries were established in New Brunswick and Quebec.

Death Recalls Boy's Strange Disappearance

James McFarlane, Who Passed Away Yesterday, Was Lured on Vessel When a Lad and Did Not See Family For Many Years.

That it is not always necessary to search among the shelves of fiction for strange tales of the sea, of land and of romance is one of the evident truths that is vividly recalled by the death of James McFarlane, a native of this city, who was born when St. John was fast developing into the leading wooden ship-building centre of the world. Mr. McFarlane was born in 1833 in the reign of His Majesty King William IV, the son of Robert McFarlane, well known in his time as a shipbuilder at this port. The strange career of James McFarlane began when he was a young lad, who, probably like many other boys of that day, frequently played about the wharves or shores and sometimes watered the shipbuilders at their work. One day while James was on the North MacLeod wharf the captain of a Bay of Fundy vessel made friends with young McFarlane and invited him aboard of his vessel. From that day until years afterwards the boy was mourned as dead by his family, his anxious mother never knowing that her son still was in the land of the living, as she died a few years after the day the boy set foot on the strange captain's deck. The family sent out an alarm for their missing boy, and search was made along the waterfront for his body or for some trace of him. It being well known that he frequented the wharves when not in school or at home. No one could be found who saw the lad after he went to North Market wharf and, in time, the family became reconciled to the belief that the little fellow had fallen into Market slip and that his body had been carried well out into the bay and possibly sea by the swiftly running tides. Long afterwards the missing lad, at most grown to be a man, returned to St. John and then his father, who still lived, joyfully welcomed his long lost son as one from the dead. They learned the true story of the son's disappearance. The captain of the vessel which the boy had boarded stole the lad

MR. ALFRED DUBOISSEAU.

I took various medicines for the trouble but nothing seemed to do me any good. Then a friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-lives'. Now I am a different person and I have gained considerable weight; and my general health is fine. 'Fruit-a-lives' is a grand medicine and I cannot say enough in its favor." ALFRED DUBOISSEAU. The captain, so far as known, treated the boy well and when he returned to his vessel, anchored in the muddy Tantramar, left the kidnapped boy in charge of the seaman's brother. He remained in Sackville for a time and then the brother of the captain turned the boy over to a woman residing in Bale Verte. The woman brought up the boy as her own son, although she never adopted him legally and he was well treated. One day, when James was nineteen his mother several years after he had been stolen from the wharf. He remained two years in the city and then returned to Bale Verte, with which he was better acquainted than any other place. He settled down there, married, and owned a prosperous fisherman, lumber mill and other property. He was a well respected citizen for many years. His wife died five or six years ago. Mr. McFarlane continued to live in Bale Verte until four years ago when he removed to Minto to spend his last days with his son, David, a business man of that place. He continued in the same place until about two months ago, when he began to decline. He is survived by three sons, David, Alexander and Frederick, of der, of Moncton, and two daughters, living in the west. There are also twenty-two grandchildren and twenty-six great-grandchildren. One of the grandsons is Herbert L. McFarlane, of St. John. The father of James McFarlane is buried in the Loyalist burying ground in this city. He was a communicant of St. John's Stone Church. The funeral of Mr. McFarlane will be held in Bale Verte, the body leaving Minto today.

A LOT DEPENDED ON IODINE.

They Treated Everything With it in the Army. Much was learned of human endurance during the late war. An interesting story is told by an army surgeon of the "sure cure for all ailments" quality that iodine possesses. "We were fairly well equipped," says Dr. Meek in the American Legion Weekly, "when we went into the line. We had practically every sort of drug from abies excelsa to Zittman's decoction. "Some friend of a stable sergeant camp one day by making him 'duty,' my personal mount for me. The animal exhibited no marked symptoms of typhoid fever, but I stake my reputation that he was suffering from everything else. "In those days, before the St. Mihiel advance, we had a lot of trouble with the flu. Every man who showed even the slightest indication of wanting to be sick was carefully examined at regular intervals. "We got into trouble though, right after the fireworks started. Up next morning a shell hit our wagon and exploded the horses, pills, castor oil—the whole sheen. "We managed to salvage a liter of iodine and a bottle of C. C. and after that if a man was able to walk he had to take his chances on the efficacy of his hand. It was remarkable that we had of faith cure and such stock as we had on hand doesn't need so much assistance in taking care of its own problems. From now on I'm a disciple of iodine and I sincerely trust a strong advocate of the natural method of living."

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Hardened by the rigors of life on the plains, living for days in the saddle, his strength, courage and endurance put a thousand times to the most severe tests, the Boss of the Range daily proves himself every inch a man—less daring feats, perfect calmness in the face of danger, tireless energy and alertness, untold deeds of action, force and power. When you see him with his men on the range you know he's boss and what he says goes. But the rugged, outdoor life of the ranchman which helps to keep his blood rich in strength-giving iron is in many a man whose indoor existence, hard work and worries sap his energies and rob the iron from his blood. It is such men who need the sustaining health-building help of organic Nuxated Iron—to increase the oxygen-carrying power of their blood and thereby aid in restoring wasted tissues, strengthening their nerves and giving greater power and endurance. Nuxated Iron has been used by over three million people annually as a tonic, strength and blood-builder. "There are countless numbers of men today who at forty are broken in health and steadily going down ward to physical and mental decay simply because they are allowing worry, overwork, nervous strain, dissipation and occupational poison to sap the iron from their blood and destroy its power to change food into tissue, muscle and brain," says Dr. John J. Van Home, formerly Medical Inspector and Clinical Physician of the Board of Health of New York City. "Yet there are thousands of such men who undergo a remarkable transformation the moment they get plenty of the right kind of iron into their blood to give increased energy and endurance. Their imagined ills are forgotten, they gain physical poise you can walk without becoming tired, which is prescribed and recommended by physicians is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee the successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.

Peeling the Skin is Better Than Bleaching

Ever since the discovery that ordinary mercurized soap would absorb and remove a discolored complexion, its use by ladies as a substitute for bleaching creams has grown rapidly. A pure cream, which may be maintained indefinitely this remarkable substance is used. Its beneficial cleansing, clearing and preservative action is quickly apparent, and ladies who have been paying high prices for "special bleaches" from beauty specialists, rank them all. It has become so popular that it can be obtained at all druggists, who have it in original, one-ounce packages. The favorite way of using it is to apply it like cold cream, before retiring, washing it off in the morning. The sallow lotion for wrinkles and flabbiness has also become extremely popular. One ounce of powdered saxolite is dissolved in one-half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in this has a remarkable effect in erasing wrinkles and in improving contour.

How to Have Pretty Natural Looking Curls

Straight, lank hair is becoming to but few women and there's no excuse now for anyone looking lankly and unkempt on that account. Those who have foregone the curling iron because of the damage it does by drying and breaking the hair, will be glad to hear that the simple silmerine method will produce a far better and prettier effect, without any injurious results whatsoever. If just a small quantity be applied with clean tooth brush before doing up the hair, the loveliest natural looking curls and waves will be in evidence in three hours, and there will be nothing sticky, sticky or greasy about it. A few ounces of liquid silmerine, obnoxious to any drug store, will be a welcome addition to many a dressing table. It is best applied by dividing the hair into strands and moistening each strand separately from root to tip. The beautiful wave effect will last for a considerable time.

"DANDERINE"

Stops Hair Coming Out; Doubles Its Beauty. A few cents buys "Danderine." After an application of "Danderine" you can not find a falling hair or any dandruff, besides every hair shows new life, vigor, brightness, more color and thickness.

The Boss of The Ranch Must Be A Man of Blood and Iron—The Kind of Man Nuxated Iron Helps Make by Building Red Blood, Strength and Endurance

"You Know He's Boss—What He Says Goes" Hardened by the rigors of life on the plains, living for days in the saddle, his strength, courage and endurance put a thousand times to the most severe tests, the Boss of the Range daily proves himself every inch a man—less daring feats, perfect calmness in the face of danger, tireless energy and alertness, untold deeds of action, force and power. When you see him with his men on the range you know he's boss and what he says goes. But the rugged, outdoor life of the ranchman which helps to keep his blood rich in strength-giving iron is in many a man whose indoor existence, hard work and worries sap his energies and rob the iron from his blood. Whatever You Do Don't Neglect Your Eyes, Says Dr. Lewis, Who Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50% in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home. Philadelphia, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. He says neglect causes more eye troubles and poor sight than any other one thing. Many whose eyes were failing say they had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitude more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to spare the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and any inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind people have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time. NOTE: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed. It is a true and widely prescribed eye remedy to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent. in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good drug store and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." It is sold in this city by all druggists, including Wasson's Drug Store.

TORY OF AN ARTIST

A peasant boy used to sit among the white-stemmed birches in the province of Dalarlia, Sweden, carving horses and logs out of wood, glancing on occasionally to see that the flock of sheep he was tending did not stray far away. He colored the little images with huckleberry juice. A friend of the boy's father saw the wooden statuettes and said the boy should learn to draw. He should be a sculptor, said the friend. But the boy had other plans. After studying for a while at a small art school he decided that sculpture did not lend itself readily to his needs as the purple-tinted horses and cows he had carved out of wood while he watched the sheep at home, says the Kansas City Star.

Early Recognized.

Anders Zorn was only 15 then, but in the unsought peasant boy was the spirit of independence and the same love of color that made him the greatest portrait painter of his time as well as a pathfinder in the field of color, a valiant figure in the world of art, able to stand alone and to fight for the new ideas he brought into it. When he died a few days ago in Stockholm, Zorn may be said to have completed his life work for he had made the world richer by such a vision of color as nobody dreamed of fifty years ago. His pictures form a pageant of such brilliancy that it has dazzled the eyes of another generation and taught the eyes of another to demand color. Born in 1860, his genius found expression and recognition so early that by the time he was 22 he was away on his travels, stopping in Spain to paint dark Castilian beauties and in England to render in water color bright-checked Anglo-Saxons. He returned to Sweden and married. Up to 1887 he had painted exclusively in water color. After that he painted altogether in oils.

On Women Artists.

He was painting in the United States in 1895 and exhibited an entire room of his pictures at the Chicago World's Fair. The portraits of society women did not create such a stir as a certain Parisian scene in which a woman was about to step from the curb into a waiting omnibus. The cross currents of light as they fell on the persons in the vehicle and on the woman's bright raiment startled by their intensity and realism, but they were admired, as were also the daring nudes which many predicted would not be admitted to an exhibition in a land noted for its puritanical attitude. Zorn was as vigorous in his ideas as he was in his drawing. He was induced to talk a little about America when he returned to Sweden. He admired Winston Homer for his landscapes and sea pictures, Simmons for his decorative motifs and Cecilia Beaux in portraiture. But he had no great faith in

FIRST SNOW OF SEASON IN ONTARIO

(Associated Press Despatch.)

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—There was a fall of snow at Temagami, Ontario, yesterday morning, according to Dr. T. B. Davies, who passed through that section of the north country on his way to Hull. The snow fell for quite a while, covering the ground. The fall, so early in the season, is looked upon to be the forerunner of a very severe winter.

Will German-American Vote Be Organized For Harding?

The attempt of the German-American Citizens' League to organize German-American voters to prevent the election of Governor Cox to the Presidency is arousing lively interest in both camps. "The hyphen, that detestable phenomenon of American society, is again lifting its hydra-headed hideousness and discharging its venom," exclaims the Louisville Courier-Journal (Dem.). "There is evidence of a strong and highly organized pro-German movement in favor of the election of Senator Harding," declares the Indianapolis News (Ind.). Interpreting the resolutions passed by the German-American Citizens' League, George Sylvester Viereck, editor of The American Monthly, in the columns of his magazine declares that "The Democratic candidate is impossible. He is the candidate of Woodrow Wilson and the League of Nations. The Republican candidate is distinctly the lesser of two evils. His speech of acceptance is not without merit."

On the other hand, Senator Harding, in a statement which the Democratic New York Times concedes to be "proper enough so far as it goes," warns these German-American supporters that they must not think of him as favoring any class or race among our citizens. Among other German-American papers that disavow a German-American vote is the St. Louis Westliche Post, which states that this paper "does not recognize any hyphen vote," and predicts that Americans of German descent will vote as any other American, "every one according to his own personal convictions as to which one of the two candidates stands higher for pure, unadulterated Americanism."

creasing practice of smoking in the workshops, says the London Lancet. It seems clear that in many cases the practice is tolerated by authority, and the anti-tobacco protagonists may soon be expected to put forward their case against this innovation, based on the ill to which it may give rise, when the evils of nicotine will be emphasized. The abuse of tobacco is well recognized, and that the smoke from it, especially when inhaled has definite toxic properties must be admitted.

Not Conclusive.
A few years ago we furnished analysis from The Lancet Laboratory showing how the smoke from cigarettes, pipes and cigars differs, amongst other things in nicotine content. The result showed that while nicotine is a highly poisonous constituent of tobacco, the evidence was not conclusive that this alkaloid invaded the consumer to the extent hitherto accepted. There was more nicotine found in the smoke from the cigar and pipe than from the cigarette, the suggestion being that in the last case a large proportion of the nicotine was destroyed by combustion. There are, however, other bases found, probably of a toxic character, and there is present also an appreciable amount of carbon monoxide. Certain processes which entail the manipulation of poisonous materials, such as lead and arsenic, must always contraindicate smoking since the toxic substances may be carried to the mouth by soiled fingers, pipe stems, or cigarettes, and the same contraindication exists where there is risk of fire or explosion.

A Fact to Face.
But when all is said we must face the fact that those who have acquired the habit of smoking are more contented when permitted to indulge in it and are irritable when it is prohibited. Today the psychology of the worker is rightly receiving more and more attention, and a real and strong case must exist before anything which promotes contentment is prohibited. Smoking on an empty stomach—e.g., before breakfast and more than three hours after the last meal—seems to be felt injuriously by many subjects, while smokers generally appear to hold that smoking directly after meals promotes digestion; the belief is widespread and calls for consideration. The custom now rapidly increasing in industrial work of introducing short mid-morning and mid-afternoon pauses, during which time tea-trolleys go round with light refreshment—a practice recommended so long ago as 1861 by medical men—provides reasonable opportunities for allowing smoking.

Data Asked For.
Cases have been quoted of increased output following permission to smoke, but we are not aware of any data of scientific value either to justify or to contradict this claim. The question, which is not without importance, calls for investigation, and, we suggest, is worth the attention of the Industrial Fatigue Research Board.

Awful Possibility.
An Australian dignitary was being entertained by New York society. For what seemed to be endless nights he was dragged through the intricacies of the pigeon-walk, the fox-trot, the camel-imp and the rest. At last came his day of departure. "Please madam," he implored of his late hostess as they parted at the gang-plank, "don't ever come to Australia." "But, wh-wh-why not?" gasped that surprised and offended lady. "Because," answered the Australian wiping his brow, "I don't want you ever to see a kangaroo at play."

Too Profound Knowledge.
He was important and he looked it. Bent almost double, he endeavored to get a glimpse into the interior of Vesuvius. "By Jove," he exclaimed. "How it reminds one of Hades!" "O Horace," protested the newly-wedded wife. "You never told me you'd been there."
