The strike was begun at eight o'clock this morning, and gradually until 11 o'clock the postal transfer service had been completely paralyzed. The postal authorities and officers of the postal transfer service bent every effort all night toward breaking the strike and today they were working hard to bring about a new arrangement.

MANY WANT THEM

Commissioner McElean has had numerous offers from persons willing to take care of the two fire horses which are growing too old for active service and which have earned a quiet life for the rest of their days. Pending inquiries into the various places to which the animals would be taken no decision has been reached, but there is no doubt that, among the applicants, there will be little difficulty in finding the kind of homes for the horses the commissioner desires.

Teutonic Narrowly Escaped Collision With Iceberg on Last Voyage From Montreal

New York, N. Y., Oct. 28.—A special cable to the American, from Liverpool, says: "The Teutonic narrowly escaped collision with an iceberg, on her last voyage from Montreal. On October 18, she ran into a thick white fog, after passing Newfoundland, and got wireless notice from steamers about floating ice. Captain James, always on the bridge, got warning just in time for the lookout, who cried: 'Ice right ahead!' The ship's engines were reversed and she backed away to let pass a mountain of ice. 'The passengers thanked the captain in a resolution.'"

Diaz Is a Refugee On An American Gunboat

Over Roof Tops to Safety in The Consulate at Vera Cruz

Detectives in Street Eluded and Presidential Candidate Gets Safely to Vessel—Feared His Life Was in Danger—The International Situation

(Canadian Press)

Vera Cruz, Oct. 28.—General Felix Diaz applied to the American consulate during the night for protection and was taken on board the United States gunboat Wheeling. Jose Sandoval and Celilo Oca, two Mexicans, and Alexander Williams, an American newspaper correspondent, who made similar application to the consulate, were also taken on board the gunboat.

Over the Roofs to Consulate

The fact that General Diaz and two of his most devoted supporters were refugees on board the gunboat Wheeling was not discovered by the Mexican authorities until this morning. The flight took place after midnight, the three men taking the risk of an excursion over the roof tops which were guarded by armed men, into the U. S. consulate. When they informed the consul they were confident their lives were in imminent danger, he took steps to have the refugees transferred on board the gunboat Wheeling.

Protection of Diaz

Washington, Oct. 28.—The gunboat Wheeling, because of her draft, has been held at Vera Cruz with the single purpose of affording refuge to political fugitives as well as officials of the American embassy or other Americans or foreigners, who might be in distress. The Wheeling was chosen for that purpose because she was able to approach the shore at Vera Cruz, whereas the big battleships under Rear Admiral Fletcher's command, have been obliged to anchor about six miles off the city.

Three other infantry companies will arrive later.

SOLDIERS ARE IN FORCE

The scene of the disturbances is in the two counties of which Walsenburg and Trinidad are the county seats. Ammons said: "Yesterday the situation got away from everybody. For forty-eight hours I had been trying to arrange a settlement, but the agreement to keep the peace during the negotiations was violated and the events of Monday showed that the leaders had not enough authority to prevent outbreaks."

CANADIAN CLUB PLANS

At a meeting of the executive of the Canadian Club held yesterday in the Times building, it was reported that the club had been rather unfortunate lately on account of the fact that several speakers booked to speak had been prevented from coming to St. John, but that the future prospects of the club were brighter.
It was announced that the next speaker would be Joseph A. Chisholm, K.C., of Halifax, who will address the club on November 11, giving an appreciation of Joseph Howe, and a sketch of his life. Mr. Chisholm has written the life of Howe and edited his letters, and is therefore one of the greatest authorities on the life of the great statesman.
Other speakers who may be heard during the winter are Hon. J. D. Hazen, on the Marine Department; W. Evans Darby, on peace and arbitration, and John Kendrick Bangs, the American author.

HAD BAD SORE FOUR YEARS

Zam-Buk Has Healed It
Mrs. Wilson, 110 Wickson Avenue, Toronto, says: "About four years ago a sore spot appeared on the right side of my face. This spot increased in size until it became about half an inch in diameter and very painful. I went to a doctor, but the ointment he gave me did not have any good effect. The sore continued to discharge freely, and was most painful. I had it cauterized, tried poultices, and all kinds of salves, but it was no good, and I continued to suffer from it for four years!"

"A sample of Zam-Buk was one day given to me, and I used it. Although the quantity was so small, it seemed to do me some good, so I purchased a further supply.
"Each box did me more and more good, and, to my delight before I had been using Zam-Buk three weeks, I saw that it was going to heal the sore. In less than a month it was healed!"
"I know a lady in the east of the city, whose husband suffered for years with an open sore on his leg. On my recommendation, Zam-Buk was tried in that case. The other day, when I saw her, she told me that it had healed the sore completely.
My daughter, who lives in Lethbridge, Alta., has also used Zam-Buk with the same satisfactory result. I think it is, beyond all doubt, the finest healing balm known."

Such is the opinion of all persons who have really tried Zam-Buk. It is a sure cure for eczema, piles, abscesses, ulcers, scalp sores, ringworm, cuts, burns, scalds, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box, all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. In case of skin disease use also Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

Suffered So Much She Wanted to Die

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Her and Brought Her The Joy of Living

Enterprise, Ont., Oct. 1st.
For seven years I suffered with what physicians called a "Water Tumor." Hypertrophies of the Mucosa had to be given me to ease the pain.
During one of these bad spells, a family friend brought a box of "Fruit-a-tives" for the house. I was so bad that it was only when I had taken nearly two boxes that I began to experience relief.
I kept up the treatment, however, and after taking five boxes, I was cured, and when I appeared on the streets, my friends said "The dead has come to life" and this seemed literally true, because I certainly was at death's door."

MRS. JAMES PENWICK.
"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50—trial size, 25c., or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THE QUEEN AS CENSOR

Scores Film So Much That Presentation Is Abandoned

London, Oct. 28—Queen Mary has again shown that she has no sympathy with the latitudinarian views obtained in modern society in regard to matters which our grandmothers considered improper, and has incidentally upset the plans arranged for Her Majesty's entertainment by no less a personage than the Duchess of Devonshire.
Miss Violet Keppel, daughter of Mrs. George Keppel, a little while ago wrote a short five-act sketch for cinematograph films for private exhibition. The parts were played by several well-known amateurs, including Miss Muriel Wilson, Lady Warrene and Miss Keppel herself.
It was the duchess' intention to have these pictures shown at Chatsworth on the occasion of the royal visit, and in accordance with custom the films were privately shown to Queen Mary at Buckingham Palace, in order that Her Majesty might give her consent to the proposed exhibition at Chatsworth.
The queen wished, however, to have so many alterations made in the sketch—and particularly in the bedroom scene, in which the husband has a violent altercation with his wife, completely eliminated—that the idea of performance was entirely abandoned.

EMPEROR HAS ETHEL BARRYMORE'S BROTHER IN "BIOGRAPH" FILM

Since the advent of motion pictures many of our famous actors and actresses have risked themselves in the picture line, and regarding this branch of their art are now appearing in some of the more important films. Among these we may include such noted people as Madame Sarah Bernhardt, Madame Rejane, Sir Johnstone Forbes Robertson, Sir George Alexander, Nat Goodwin, Sydney Drew, and last but not least, two members of the Barrymore family, Ethel and Lionel.
In the film "The Switch Tower" Lionel Barrymore has a prominent part, and is seen working with that incomparable actress, Miss Claire MacBowell. Of the latter a critic has said "She is one of the best motion picture actresses I have ever seen."

In addition to "The Switch Tower" the Emperor is showing three other pictures: "The Game Warden," a strong Kalem drama; "A Child's Precaution," one of Esau's best, and a screaming farce comedy, "Trixie and the Press Agent."

Rumford Falls Times—Uncle John Martin has a tobacco since he was twenty years of age. He is now 80 and in good health. Uncle John does not believe that tobacco is harmful to the human system. In fact, he believes it is beneficial, as it is a great preventive of disease. He recalls the time, fifty years ago, when diphtheria was rife in Rumford. The members of the family of John Martin (father of John H. and F. B. Martin), were all sick with the disease. Uncle John was nurse all through the sickness and was the only one who did not contract the disease.

The arrangements for the opening were in charge of the social committee, of which Miss Hazel Campbell is convener. The officers of St. David's association are: Honorary president, Rev. J. A. The Best Cough Syrup is Easily Made at Home Costs Little and Acts Quickly. Money Returned If It Fails.
This recipe makes 16 ounces of cough syrup, and saves you about $2.00 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It stops coughs in any province excepting cough—in a hurry, and is splendid for sore lungs, asthma, croup, hoarseness, whooping cough, etc.
Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir for two minutes. Put 1/4 ounce of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.
This takes right-hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxative—both excellent features.
Pinex, as perhaps you know, is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in ginseng and the other natural healing pine elements.
No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this recipe, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.
Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe. This mixture has often been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equaled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.
A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will send it for you. Write to The "Inch" Co., Toronto, Ont.

Noblesse Oblige
Rank imposes obligations— or—as the French put it—"Noblesse Oblige."
It is a very natural and right principle that those who by their position in life command the respect of others should deserve it and be worthy of maintaining their position. "Much is expected of those in high station."
But this principle is not confined to persons of noble birth—it has a hundred applications. It applies, for example, to those manufacturers of reputation and prestige who make goods of high quality and who advertise them constantly in the newspapers of the land.
By their advertising they have attained an eminence where the very best in quality and good service is expected of them. They have set a standard and their very business life depends on the constant maintenance of it.
So that when you buy advertised articles you rest assured that you are getting the best value that money can buy.
Well may you place your faith in advertised goods. Well may you give them preference over articles which you can only hope may prove satisfactory.
For the principle of "Noblesse Oblige" is your guarantee of excellence in Advertised Goods.
If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.
If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 502, London Building, Toronto.

is a notoriously hard thing to one's own business. To most people is impossible. Even by the wise only accepted as a bitter necessity is nowhere more true than in a political. The average citizen is quite willing in his spare time to regulate the affairs of President and Mrs. Pankhurst, and to offer his own solution of the Balkan difficulty.

most times this tendency is harmless. Sometimes, however, it becomes serious; and in certain critical periods, fraught with grave possibilities of catastrophe in such a moment of crisis, the Irish situation is rapidly assuming a form of which no one dare speak with confidence. The outlook is not bright. It is the wisdom of the British Empire, we can best do our duty by abstaining from the quarrel and preserving in our hearts still the sense of civic brotherhood with the combatants on either side.

In the present controversy it is impossible perhaps for most of us to abstain from sympathy with the one or the other side. There are those who feel that the successful adoption of home rule will write a glorious page in the history of Ireland and that the golden letters of the statute will obliterate the dark lines of centuries of tyranny. There are others who see the present measure in different light—the Empire threatened with disruption, and the noble work of bygone generations cast in the mire to suit the exigencies of a political party. The intense feelings which now animate the rival factions, we of necessity must share in some degree. But we can at least abstain from giving to our sympathies that overt and offensive expression which can serve no other purpose than to darken a sky already overcast.

Anxiously we must watch the issue. Reverently must we pray that the disaster of civil conflict may be avoided. But let no vain-glorious partisanship on our part be added to the difficulties of the crisis.

quietly and, at his own cost, and fight; but let him not, while still a Canadian on Canadian soil, make a cheap advertisement of his intention or parade the merit of his noisy departure. It is time enough for him to play the hero when the fighting begins. Heroic broadsides of resolutions fired off from Manitoba, or Saskatchewan are a cheap form of gun-powder.

We boast in Canada that our fathers obtained for us in troubled times the right to manage our own internal affairs in our own way. This has become the cornerstone of our commonwealth. Nor does any man, Liberal or Conservative, propose to move it from its place. The benefit that we have received, let us extend it to others. We are not rulers of Ireland. We are not the arbiters of Ulster. But as fellow citizens of both Ulstermen and Nationalists in the British Empire, we can best do our duty by abstaining from the quarrel and preserving in our hearts still the sense of civic brotherhood with the combatants on either side.

The Beauty of Diamonds.

A Diamond is valuable principally because of the unusual brilliancy that makes it so beautiful—so desirable.

A Diamond of inferior brilliancy lacks the one thing that, above all others, makes it worth while. Diamonds are graded according to the characteristics that produce brilliancy—color, cutting, freedom from flaws, etc.

In our buying we select stones of the finer grades only, stones in which there is no lack of brilliancy, and which will stand inspection of the most critical nature.

No matter what the price, the Diamond you buy here will be full of brilliancy and beauty. You are cordially invited to come in and inspect them.

First Women's Daily Newspaper in Constantinople

ONE MAN IS ADVISER

Is Edited by Wife of Noted Publicist—No Man Ever Sees Her or the Eleven Writers Who Compose Her Staff

(Times Special Correspondence)
Constantinople, Oct. 6.—Two days after Adrianople was recaptured, Muehbil Bey, a black-eyed, dashing cavalier of the ministry of the interior, and nephew of the late Governor Hussein Bey, galloped up on a grey steed to windy Binbir Deresi and in the presence of the "Kadimlar Dunjasse"—the "Women's World," Madame Nurieh Ulvich Hanum said, "No trouble, it seemed, was in store, 'Kadimlar Dunjasse' is the great, the first ladies' daily newspaper permitted by the Young Turk government, and it received the concession only on the solemn condition that it keep of high politics. Usually it keeps the rule. And now two days after Adrianople's recapture, 'Kadimlar Dunjasse' came out with a brave, exalted article on the revived glory of Islam. And this displeased the Young Turks, who are afraid of too much enthusiasm over Adrianople, and therefore, sent down good-looking Muehbil on his grey steed.

Muehbil not only did not see Madame Nurieh Ulvich Hanum, but he did not even see the rose-pink veil which (for-swear the customary veil of black) she wears, but she is uncommonly pretty. Not that she is beautiful, but that she is beautiful, and no man will ever know, for the miracle of 'Kadimlar Dunjasse' and of all its co-edited writers, secretaries, and secretaries, is that they also abjure the corrupting French language and French novels, and Pierre Loti and aim simply at regenerating Turkey's womanhood with Turkish red lines.

Murieh Ulvich is the thirty-year-old wife, and only wife, of a newspaperman, Nevra Na Sade Rifaa Bey. Rifaa is a distinguished publicist, and he owns 'Serbesti,' which is a daily newspaper, and also owns a printing establishment were 'Kadimlar Dunjasse' is printed. Binbir Deresi, there he has his office is unlike any other centre of innovation, either in Frankish Pera, in Greco-Armenian Galata, or in Turkish Stambul itself, and it is the home of the oldest, least spoiled, most Moslem parts of Stambul.

It is a large, ancient, dilapidated Turkish house, covered with vines; there is a turbaned grave-lying in the middle of the square; and on the roofs, from where you can see incomparable Mar-nara, there lounge all day long a number of wrinkled Turks, and beautiful (but nobody has ever seen them) odalisques.

When she is asked if she has been to the moving picture show which invades even eighteenth century Binbir Deresi, her answer is, "No, I'm a great sitter and worker. Would you believe that I have not once been to doors since the end of September last?"

Husband Only Man in Office
Nurieh Hanum's only male assistant is her husband, Rifaa. Rifaa usually acts as censor, and keeps the politics out. (This is the woman's daily is run entirely by women. On the day of the day are seven delightful (but no one has ever seen them) Turkish women of the old, old school, and the wife of an administrative official in Yemera. And these articles deal with burning questions of the day; with the care of babies, the scandalous treatment of female orphans by the office of Vakoufs, and the infant mortality due to the lack of a properly regulated milk supply. More than forty such articles are offered each day, and the seven delightful Turkish women (whom nobody has ever seen) are kept eternally busy in sending them back.

Nurieh Hanum says she started "Kadimlar Dunjasse" because she has no children to look after. Formerly she wrote articles on the woman's question for monthly women's magazines, which are now dead. On her husband's suggestion she started a paper of her own, with the intent being to write every day the first leading article. The enterprise flourished. In three months' time "Kadimlar Dunjasse" had a circulation of 5,000 copies, and is a very big thing for Constantinople has no men's daily paper that circulates more than 20,000.

"Turkey for Turkish Women," is the motto of "Kadimlar Dunjasse." Nurieh Hanum proudly proclaims herself Turk. She is content to stay in Turkey. Her husband, Rifaa, is a great traveler who has been all over Europe and even in America; he speaks five languages. But Nurieh has never accompanied him; she is horrified at the notion of all the languages she knows is "merci bien." Her newspaper exalts and holds up for imitation the activity of European women and the European love of work, but it expresses detestation of some of Europe's ways. "Woman," says Nurieh, "must be taught how to bring up their children. That they do best in Europe. But to go to a theatre; to wear a hat; to be the mistress of a man;—I should die of shame!"

"Kadimlar Dunjasse" soon after its first appearance published articles in this spirit by Madame Selma Bey (Zuleika Hanum), who is a great-niece of the Crimean hero, Omar Pasha. Zuleika Hanum had been all over Europe. She described with shame how she appeared in a hat on the Auteuil race-course, and afterwards how she went to the Ottoman embassy and "played auction bridge with Spanish treasure at auction bridge. Zuleika returned to humely Stambul and became an honest Turkish woman, who will wear beneficent no hat; and as for showing the world the name of her neck, she would die of shame."

Nurieh Hanum has at her disposal one of the best purely Turkish libraries in Stambul; and thus—without going out of doors since the end of September—she is able to fill "Kadimlar Dunjasse" with clever articles on "The Role of Greek Women in History"; "Influence of Harem Life on Political Stagnation in the Reign of Selim III"; "The Trail of Little Bedlah"; and "The Last Kick of Polygamy." This last article is based on the moving picture show which invades even eighteenth century Binbir Deresi, her answer is, "No, I'm a great sitter and worker. Would you believe that I have not once been to doors since the end of September last?"

A LEADER NEEDED

If St. John gets its rights in this matter of the mail steamships, it will be in spite of the apathy of some who should be leaders in the struggle.

AFFAIRS IN BRITAIN

Public ownership is steadily growing in favor in Great Britain. A London cable says that a movement is now afoot for the nationalization of the canals as well as the railways.

BIRTHDAYS OF NOTABILITIES

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 28

Alphonse Verville, M. P., labor party leader in the House of Commons, was born in Cote St. Paul, P. Q., on Oct. 28, 1864.

The Hon. Arthur Globensky, who was brought into prominence during the Thaw incident, and who has been judge of the Supreme Court of Quebec since 1910, is sixty-three years of age today.

LIGHTER VEIN

The Woman — Here's a wonderful thing. I've been reading of a man who reached the age of 40 without learning how to read or write.

It was a summer hotel and the baby, being warm and fretful, cried: "Put tut! We can't disturb our neighbors this way," the word father said, taking the child in his arms.

A certain little girl in East Cleveland has been ill for some time. Not so terribly ill, but enough so that she couldn't go to school and had to get a great deal of petting and indulgence.

"Mama, I want pap to buy me a dog. Not a little dog but a great, big bulldog."

"Well, dearie," smiled the mother, "we'll have to see about that after a while."

"No, I want it right now." "Don't you think you'd better wait till you're well?"

"No, mama, I don't. The sicker I am the more likely papa will be to buy it for me."

"I'm going to start an anti-noise association," said the man who is always promoting something.

"Well, the first thing is to get the public interested. I have already engaged half a dozen speakers and a brass band."

A physician was driving through a village when he saw a man amusing a crowd with the antics of his trick dog. The doctor pulled up and said: "My dear man, how do you manage to train your dog that way? I can't teach mine a single trick."

The man glanced up with a simple rustic look and replied: "Well, you see, it's this way: You have to know more'n the dog or you can't learn him nothin'."

But there was another meeting in the city yesterday. Mr. L. P. D. Tilley, M. P., addressed the North End Conservative Club. He told them that Mr. Hazen did not know what was going on when the mail steamships were being switched from St. John to Halifax.

It is not time for business men of St. John who have a large stake in the city, and who are not concerned about the welfare of politicians or trimmers, to get together and find a practical and forceful medium of presenting, not only to the government, but to the people of Canada, the rightful claims of the port of St. John in this matter?

What St. John needs at the present time is not a leader who will sit down and say that nothing can be done, or a leader who is thinking more about partisanship than of the welfare of St. John.

LIBERALS INSULTED

At Ottawa yesterday Sir Richard McBride so far forgot the courtesy which is due to others, and the rule which keeps political discussion out of the Canadian Clubs, as to denounce the senate and tell the members of the Ottawa Canadian Club that Canada should send the thirty-five million dollars of naval tribute money to the Admiralty.

Eighteen days more until November 15. After that date, if nothing is done meanwhile, St. John may bid good-bye to the mail steamships. Only eighteen days.

STOCK COMPANY GIVES COMEDY IN GOOD STYLE IN THE OPERA HOUSE

Merely Mary Ann Delights Audience and Gives New Honors to the Performers

The opening performance of "Merely Mary Ann" a familiar comedy from the pen of Israel Zangwill, by the Woods-Thompson Stock Co., created much good feeling and laughter at the Opera House last night, and the audience, of very encouraging proportions, thoroughly appreciated its presentation and the clever work of the members of the cast. The scenes in this comedy provide many clear hearty laughs. It has many humorous episodes, particularly in Mrs. Leadbeater's lodging house, and the dialogue is sparkling and pleasing. This play will run for the balance of the week and should prove very attractive to those who appreciate bright, wholesome comedy.

The various roles were capably handled. The title was taken by Miss Frances Brandt who added another to her laurels for she was witty and winsome as the dusty maid of all trades and general chores girl in the lodging house, and charming and graceful when she came into her legacy and became a popular favorite in the higher realms of social life in England. She provided much of the comedy and she and Mr. Meharry shared the honors of many curtain calls, which were repeated in favor of others of the cast as well.

Mr. Meharry as "Lancelot" the composer, played well his part. It could easily have been overdone in many scenes, but such was not the case. Throughout the performance he enacted his role with pleasing ease, bringing out the finer points of the character and his rendering was heartily appreciated. In his scenes with Mary Ann he was particularly likeable.

Reuben Weyler showed to advantage as a young comical friend of the composer's, while others amongst the male members of the company who were factors in the presentation were Messrs. Fleming, St. John, Drummond, Fey, and Hodge.

Winona Bridges had a quaint character part as Mrs. Leadbeater, proprietress of a lodging house, and she was delightfully at ease in its portrayal, providing much comedy by her humorous speeches, pantomime and character scenes of east side lodging house life.

One of the most pleasing features of the performance was that of Miss Marjorie Davis who was refreshing and gay as Rosie, daughter of the lodging house proprietress, but "tryin' hard to be a lady." She won many laughs, especially in her scene with Lancelot in the third act when she was endeavoring to learn to play the "piano." Miss Delmore, Miss Derby, and Miss Albert were in minor roles in which they acquitted themselves favorably.

The play was very well liked by the audience and the latter showed appreciation by hearty applause, many curtain recalls being sounded. The members of the company here, became, favored. Each week sees an increased attendance and it is the expectation that the venture of permanent stock will be successful. It is one thing which, as a regular patron of the house might be improved and that is as regards late comers. It is felt that it should be a rule, with preference to none, that those coming in several minutes after the rise of the curtain, and after the action of the play has begun should not be allowed to proceed to their seats disturbing others who have made it a point to be on time, and causing them for a time to lose the thread of the story.

LIQUORS RETURNED TO BOSTON FROM EASTPORT

Eastport, Oct. 28.—A quantity of liquors shipped from a firm in Boston, directed to a liquor dealer at Campbell, N. B., was held up for delivery the other day under the Webb law as the liquors would have to be delivered to the Canadian dealer at Eastport and the Eastern Steamship Corporation refused to take any chances in delivering the goods. They immediately notified the firm in Boston, with the result that the shipper ordered the goods returned to Boston. Deputy Sheriff Dow of this city contended that the goods were only shipped in the name of the Campbell partnership as a cloak and would be delivered to some of the Eastport dealers.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 28.—The German prison commission members yesterday visited the provincial penitentiary at Guelph, and were pleased with what they saw.

MINIATURE MONARCHS

Several Uncrowned Kings In The British Empire

(London Tit-Bits)

Apart from the fact that he was the most successful chocolate manufacturer in the world, M. Henri Menier, who died recently, had another claim to distinction. He was monarch of Anticosti, an island in the mouth of the St. Lawrence, 125 miles long by 50 miles broad, which he purchased in 1896 for £25,000. M. Menier's object in purchasing the island was to transform it into the biggest private game preserve in the world. He had it stocked with all sorts of animals, and had two armed steamers to protect the island and its fisheries.

Anticosti, however, is but a small island kingdom when compared with some of those scattered around the shores of the United Kingdom which are owned and reigned over by private individuals. Lewis, in the Outer Hebrides, whose present ruler is Major Matheson, boasts an area of 487,221 acres, and a population of nearly 30,000 people. Indeed, it is the largest island in the United Kingdom next to Ireland. On its extensive moors and forest land the red deer still roams, while its magnificent lochs are unequalled for fishing.

A Beautiful Island Queen

It is in northern waters, too, that Arran is situated, an interesting island kingdom reigned over by the beautiful Marchioness of Graham, who is the son and heir of the Duke of Montrose. More than 5,000 people inhabit the island, which is some nineteen miles long and ten and a half miles broad, with an area of 168 square miles.

The Marquis of Bute lords it over a kingdom—the island of Bute, in the Firth of Clyde, forty-nine square miles in extent, and boasting of a population of 11,000 souls, while not far away is the beautiful island of Juley, now governed by Hugh Morrison, brother-in-law of Lord Granville. This island has a length of twenty-five and a half miles, and a breadth of nineteen miles. Its population, which numbers 7,000 people, are busily engaged in such industries as dairy farming, stock rearing, and whisky distillation.

Lord Strathcona Owns One

A few years ago Lord Strathcona purchased from the heirs of Sir John McNeill the island of Colonsay, which is eight miles long and from one and a half to three miles in width, while the island of Rum or Rhum, is reigned over by Sir John Bullough. On the latter island are some of the finest herds, and it provides some of the best shooting in Scotland. The place, indeed, abounds with every variety of game, which is zealously guarded by its owner.

In the Outer Hebrides is another island kingdom, the island of North Uist, belonging to Sir Arthur J. Campbell-Orr, who served with great distinction in the South African War. It has an area of 75,000 acres and a population of nearly 4,000. No one can land or reside upon the island without the owner's permission, while it is also free from taxation—or, rather, no rates or taxes

It is well known that the island of Lundy, in the British Channel, is owned by the Rev. H. G. Heaven, who became curate there in 1864. Just beyond seventy years ago the island passed by purchase into the hands of the Heaven family, the price paid being £9,870.

Mention might also be made of that little island of Brownsea, in Poole Harbor, which for many years has been ruled by a king of its own. It formerly belonged to Colonel Waugh, who lived there in great state and was almost worshipped by his 250 subjects. Its present owner is Mr. Van Raalte.

WHY BACON IS SO DEAR IN THE OLD COUNTRY (Pearson's Weekly, London)

For the last four years bacon has steadily risen in price, and now it is so dear that many people have been forced to give up the sizzling breakfast rasher and be content with something cheaper.

One of the chief causes why the housewife now has to pay through the nose for pig's trotters, pork, bacon, and so on, is that British farmers have almost given up rearing pigs.

Mr. Stephens at the Meat Trades Federation meeting recently, said they had been treating swine fever for more than twenty-five years by wholesale slaughter. The public were suffering in the high price for bacon paid today, and they had a right to demand some saner treatment of the disease.

DEPUTY CHIEF TELLS
HAZEL FORCE NEEDS

Should Have More Men, Shorter Hours, Patrol System and Better Detective Force—Evidence at Police Inquiry Last Night

At the police inquiry last night six witnesses were examined, including Police Officer Rankin, Police Officer James H. Pitt, Police Officer James Power, William E. Richard, Deputy Chief Jenkins, and Sergeant Kilpatrick. The court room was crowded as usual. The hearing adjourned at 10 o'clock until this evening at 7:30 o'clock, when more witnesses will be heard.

Charles Rankin, patrolman for sixteen years, said he had passed not even a medical test when he joined the force. He had heard the chief deplore the loss of Marshall, and had wondered at it. Sergeant Campbell had frequently asked him to make arrests which he considered unjustifiable. One instance was in the case of his own brother, Hazen Campbell, when the sergeant had asked him to lock him up for drunkenness.

Q—Did you ever hear of any officers being suspected of theft?
A—Yes. Ira Perry, and there was some talk of Campbell.

Rankin said he saw Campbell carrying some lumber in Richmond street one morning after the men had gone off duty. About the same time, he said, some planks were missing from the alley at central station.

Q—Did you ever hear anything about the sand?
A—Yes. I heard that Campbell and Marshall took sand from the city's place in water street, after they had broken the lock off the door.

Q—Did you ever hear that Campbell took some slate shingles?
A—Yes. He said so himself. McCollum told me that Campbell was taking them. About the same time, Sergeant Finley saw Campbell carrying home a bundle under his cape.

Rankin said that after the Metropolitan Hotel raid in which he took part, there was a suit as a result of the arrest of Mrs. Coggan and Miss Hopper, for which arrests, he said, Campbell was responsible. At the hearing of the case Detective Lucas said he procured a key to the house from Campbell, but Campbell denied having given any key to him. Rankin said he also testified and told Campbell there was no use in lying for he had seen him give the key to Lucas.

Q—Do you remember the time a prisoner named Fox, was arrested by Campbell?
A—Yes.

Q—Was Fox badly cut up?
A—Yes. He had a few scratches about the face and was in a bad fix. Campbell also had some marks on his face.

Q—Did you know what became of Fox?
A—Only what I heard. I heard he went to the insane asylum and died there a short time afterwards.

Q—Did you ever hear what Campbell beat him with?
A—No, sir.

Rankin said he also heard that Mabel Smith had given Campbell $5 for protection for her beer store in Sheffield street. With the exception of once, Rankin said he never found it necessary to use his baton. He had known several occasions, he said, when he would have been justified in doing so, but refrained.

James Powers, patrolman about a year, said he had passed a medical examination, and also passed one in reading and writing. He admitted that he did not obey the rule about loitering in the street, but denied that even in long beats when there were two men on the patrol that after a certain hour they patrolled together.

James Pitt, told the commissioner that he was thirty-five years of age, but he was informed that at the last inquiry he had said he was thirty-eight. He said that this was his second time on the force. He had been on his holidays the first time and had gotten in trouble with a colored fellow in a saloon, and hearing that the matter was to be brought to the chief, resigned. He was later re-appointed.

William E. Richard, advertising representative of the Imperial Tobacco Company, whose office is in the Jardine building in Prince William street, gave evidence. He said that he has at times kept boxes and packages of tobacco in his office for sample purposes, and on several occasions W. Bryden, the manager, complained to him that the boxes were stolen. Bryden suspected the police, and the witness heard him mention Perry's name.

Q—Did you report the matter to the police?
A—No.

Q—What do you mean by the chance?
A—Well, the beats are long, the hours are long and the men are kept at work until they are too old for duty. The latter is due to the fact that there is no system of superannuation. Besides, the force is underrun and under officered.

Q—If you had a hundred men and twenty officers, what better service could they give than they do now?
A—They've got to have instructions.

Q—Then they have to have a proper instructor?
A—Very naturally.

Q—Would you prefer the three shift and the patrol system?
A—Yes. We certainly need that.

Q—Would you say there is any place where patrolmen have as little regard for their officers?
A—I would not say that. I have been places where the officers have been treated better, and also where the men have been treated better. In Halifax, for instance, they have a long and short shift—a long and a short shift alternately.

After twenty-five years of service, the men received a superannuation of five-sevenths pay. There are two chiefs now receiving superannuation there.

Mr. McLellan—I have no doubt, but that Halifax is more generous with the police than St. John.

When asked regarding his hours for duty, the witness said he has been accustomed to go to work at 9 o'clock in the morning and remain until 10 and 11 at night, and sometimes until 8 in the morning, but recently he has been keeping his work within twelve hours. Jenkins said he regarded Campbell as a good officer, but not the best. He said he did not know there was so much loading going on until the last investigation. When asked by the commissioner, Jenkins said that the majority of the rules and regulations are not adhered to, and some it would be impossible to obey. Previous to coming to central station, Jenkins said he used to read to his men at the North End station, but he did not do so at the central station unless instructed to do so by the chief.

Sergeant Kilpatrick. Sergeant Kilpatrick was the last witness. He was appointed in 1884 by the council of Portland. He was under Captain Rawlings. At the time of the union, Chief Marshall gave him a manual of the rules and regulations.

Q—Do you remember Merrick making an arrest a short time ago of a young boy for setting a bonfire?
A—Yes.

Q—What did they do with him?
A—I don't know whether they put him in a cell with a man arrested for drunkenness, or in a cell next to him.

Mr. McLellan—You remembered, at the last investigation.

Q—Don't you remember the friends

Suggestion by Commissioner McLellan Before Common Council—Mayor Reports on Steamship Situation—Sees No Hope of Mail Steamers This Winter—Council Takes No Action

In connection with public criticism and remarks of the press regarding lack of further action on the part of the city commissioners in the matter of the mail boat situation, the mayor said at the council meeting yesterday that he had been thinking out the situation carefully, and did not see what further action could be taken at present, beyond rushing wharf extensions in the port of St. John. He said that if the critics would make some practical suggestions he would be very glad to act upon them.

But the mayor was not supported in this attitude by Commissioner McLellan, who stated that the government was controlled by the C. P. R. in this matter and that the work at Sand Point was progressing just as quickly as the C. P. R. wanted it to progress.

The Mayor's Statement. The mayor then read the following statement of his views on the situation, which he had prepared in writing:

Mayor Frink said: "It would appear that any hope which we have existed that the Expresses would have resumed their sailings from this city has become very thin, and while the city feels the deprivation, it has suffered greater losses and survived. When we were in conference with Mr. Thomas Shaughnessy at Montreal, that gentleman said: 'We are building two large steamships specially for the St. John trade, nearly as large as the Expresses. These vessels will be launched during the coming summer. What are you going to do with these in the winter? What facilities will you have to accommodate them?'"

"The only answer I could give was that the new dock being built by the Expresses would probably be available. The answer came back quickly: 'That berth will not be sufficient unless you have a pier extending to the new pier in providing a large yard for passengers and coaches for this winter, but your facilities have not kept pace.'"

"I then said: 'If the facilities were in shape for the Expresses which you desire, would you come to St. John?' He replied: 'We certainly would. St. John is our Canadian Atlantic port; you can advertise that statement as a fact on my name. You may think that your visit will not be profitable, but if you can open the facilities to meet the growth and business of the west, your mission will not be in vain. As it is, the port of St. John is a dead end. We have been three years ago. Notwithstanding the fact that your import and export trade has increased by millions of dollars, St. John is still a dead end. The Canadian trans-Atlantic import and export trade. By nature, it can only have its share in judging from the reports of the Canadian Pacific railway for the winter seasons. It will be either St. John or Halifax, not both—that is positive and final, and I would rather do nothing than to have the wharf under construction and the wharf under construction pushed to completion at the earliest possible date so that we may not be in a position in the winter of 1914-15 with facilities incomplete to permit the Canadian Pacific railway or any other railway to state that we cannot accommodate two additional steamships of any size."

and relatives came to the station and pleaded for the boy's release, agreeing to make any deposit of money. A—There was a woman, I remember. She offered to put up a deposit, but she didn't have the money.

Mr. McLellan—The next persons there who had the money. I know. Now, the boy was put in a cell with a drunken man. I don't say that you know. After the drunk was taken to central station, who was the man who was taken from the North End station in a coach?
A—No one that I know.

The hearing adjourned here.

working in their interest. The C. P. R. had put one over on Mr. Borden and Mr. Hazen, and he did not believe they had any knowledge of what was being done. If the C. P. R. were sincere would it not have influence enough with the government to rush the wharf construction? The C. P. R. should be taught that it does not own the whole country. Some further discussion followed about different agreements between the C. P. R. and the city, in which Commissioner McLellan maintained that the C. P. R. had not shown good faith. The question was then abandoned without any resolution being made.

At a weekly meeting of the common council yesterday afternoon, besides the discussion of the mail boat question, it was decided to allow the C. P. R. to open a third entrance in Mill street to its yards.

It was resolved to insert the fair wages clause in all city contracts. On the recommendation of the acting commissioner of harbors, a resolution was carried, calling upon the Dominion Coal Company to repair the face of the North Market wharf, damaged on Saturday by the steamer Wabana.

The acting commissioner of harbors was authorized to call for tenders for spruce deals for repairing the sidewalk in Union street, west.

It was resolved to take up the question of the right of way for sewers through the Merritt estate with the recorder this morning.

The question of removing the schooner Eliza Burritt from the Market slip was referred to the mayor.

A communication from H. C. Grout applying, on behalf of the C. P. R., for a renewal of the company's lease of the North Rodney wharf property at 8000 a year, on its expiry in 1915, was referred to the mayor.

Commissioner Agar submitted a report of the city engineer to the effect that the paving of Mill and Duck streets, carried out by the Hassam Paving Company, had not proved satisfactory. The engineer recommended that the company be required to repave the streets.

The matter was laid on the table. Commissioner McLellan reported that he had consulted the recorder with regard to the request of the Trades and Labor Council that an investigation be held into the recent collapse of a building in Peter street, and that he had been assured that the public safety department was in no way responsible.

Several communications were read. Those presented were Mayor Frink's, Commissioner Agar, Mr. McLellan and Wigmore, with the common clerk, James L. Sugrue was heard in committee on the matter of the public safety department with reference to the fair wage clause.

The chairman then called on L. P. D. Tilly, "M. L. A." but Mr. Tilly objected to being referred to as "M. L. A." "M. P. P." he said, "is the title by which I prefer to be called, as I do not consider it an compliment to be called M. L. A."

"I am going to speak clearly and frankly on the winterport and I. C. R. question. The port of St. John does not need me to tell you of its past history. For the past ten or twelve years we have had our fair share, considering the accommodation we had, of the passengers and mail boats coming to the city of St. John. You will agree with me that when the first Express boats came to St. John, it was one of the stipulations of the contract that the Express boats should sail in and out of the port of St. John and I think up to this they have done so."

"On November 10 next, the mail contracts are to terminate. We have had it announced by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, by the grace of the I. C. R., the two Allan boats and the C. P. R. Expresses would be transferred from this port to Halifax. The C. P. R. discussed this question at the last meeting of parliament and it was agreed that the ports of St. John and Halifax were to have a square deal, both ports to compete for the mail contract and both Halifax and St. John papers said: 'Let the best port win.' If the conditions had remained as they were and the C. P. R. had carried their boats to Halifax we could not have another word to say except to feel dissatisfaction with the C. P. R."

Says Mr. Hazen Didn't Know What Was Going On. "But that was not what was done. The C. P. R. sent out circulars in which they stated distinctly that the boats would come to St. John this year. But they changed and decided to have them go to Halifax. Why? Because something more was asked for. The C. P. R. strengthened your eyes and can easily do so by using this plain crys-tal eye-tonic in which I have great faith because of the good it has done in so many instances, and I am sure if you put two or three drops of it in your sore, aching eye at frequent intervals for a time, the inflammation will disappear. To prepare this inexpensive tonic, dissolve one ounce crystals in a pint clear water. To dull, lifeless eyes it will lend a youthful sparkle and fascinating expression."

Oliver: Yes, I know a sure cure for wrinkles which can be cheaply made at home. I mix one ounce almond with one-half pint cold water and add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Stir and let stand for one day. To remove or prevent wrinkles, apply this vegetable cream-jelly thickly and massage thoroughly. At night leave the face covered with the cream. You will find nothing to equal almond jelly-cream to remove wrinkles and keep them away and it contains no oil or fat which might promote hair growth. You will not notice by its use not only your wrinkles disappearing, but the large pores of the entire face getting much smaller and the skin very soft and velvety.

Lucy: You want to brighten and strengthen your eyes and can easily do so by using this plain crys-tal eye-tonic in which I have great faith because of the good it has done in so many instances, and I am sure if you put two or three drops of it in your sore, aching eye at frequent intervals for a time, the inflammation will disappear. TORY APOLOGIES FOR
HAZEN AND GUTELIUS

Annual Meeting of North End Conservative Club a Chilly Affair With Small Attendance—How to Get New Members

The more or less sensational predicted for last night's annual meeting of the North End Conservative Club did not materialize. It was reported during the day that some of the speakers would go on record as ready to revolt unless the government cancelled the Gutelius agreement with the C. P. R., but instead of doing so the orators, or some of them, apologized for Mr. Hazen and Mr. Gutelius as well. "Wait till you see us next year," was the text from which the speakers preached, and the small crowd listened in chilly silence.

Last year the club's annual meeting attracted hundreds. Last evening half of one hundred was present, and the crowd, when the question of the mail steamers was introduced there was much uneasiness, for it was felt that the ice was thin. The small crowd, obviously, expected hotter stuff than it received.

The general impression which all the speakers appeared anxious to convey was that Hon. J. D. Hazen was imposed upon and that the Gutelius agreement had been made without his knowledge.

Before the first speaker of the evening was called a vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Tilly for having prevailed upon the shareholders of the Standard to insert the notices of meeting of the different Conservative organizations of the city free of charge.

"Get Them to Sign, Anyway," He Says. J. Starr Tilly, the president of the Borden Club was the first speaker. After expressing his confidence that, even if St. John had to do without the mail steamers this winter, the government would have things so arranged that they would have them back again next year, Mr. Tilly exhorted the club to hang together and increase their membership.

"Get me to sign the book anyway," he said, "so that when they are approached by Liberals, they will consider themselves Conservatives and vote accordingly."

Philip Grattan in opening his remarks said that he was surprised that there were so many present at the meeting, on account of the excitement following the public meetings held in regard to the mail steamer question. "I am not in sympathy with these citizens' meetings," he said, "although I read in the papers today that we are likely to have another one. I did not like the idea of one of the speakers in saying that 'one of our representatives at Ottawa has a wishbone where his backbone ought to be, and I have no doubt that he was supported by some Conservatives, too.' Mr. Grattan said he would leave the discussion of the mail steamer question to Mr. Tilly.

Mr. Tilly, M. P. P. The chairman then called on L. P. D. Tilly, "M. L. A." but Mr. Tilly objected to being referred to as "M. L. A." "M. P. P." he said, "is the title by which I prefer to be called, as I do not consider it an compliment to be called M. L. A."

Health and Beauty Helps
BY MRS. MAE MARTYN
Twenty-Two: I am convinced that the lifeless, aged appearance of your skin is due to the fact that you are using an excess of plain apricot lotion is an excellent skin cleanser, beautifier and tonic. This is made at home by mixing equal parts of apricot kernel oil and one-half pint hot water (or witch hazel), then adding two teaspoonfuls glycerine. This apricot lotion does not give the complexion that "made" appearance. It brings out the natural health-tone, because it frees the skin of the oily, salivary, "muddy" condition and insures perfect complexion. This lotion will not spot nor blow off and seems part of the skin.

A. L. The delatone treatment for hairy growth is quite harmless and rarely is more than one application required. Mix a little powdered delatone with water and apply to the objectionable hairs, then after two or three minutes rub it off, and the hairs come with it. Washing the skin leaves it firm and free from blemish.

Dolly: Your itchy scalp can be relieved and cured, as well as the falling hair, by the use of a quinine tonic which at least a dozen of my personal friends are using and making at home from an ounce of quinine dissolved in a half pint of alcohol, to which should be added a half pint of water. Use this tonic regularly by massaging into the roots of the hair and they claim the itching stops immediately and the tonic improves the growth of the hair and helps nature make it beautiful and healthy.

Gertrude: I am sure you are wrong in the never-abandon idea for I learn through my correspondents that neglecting to cleanse the hair is nearly as injurious as the use of soap or other harmful mixtures. So I would shampoo with canthox at least once a month during fall and I think your hair will regain its healthy gloss and evenness of color. A teaspoonful of canthox dissolved in a cup hot water is quite enough mixture for a thorough shampoo, and after rinsing with the hair dries very quickly. The regular use of canthox for shampooing corrects all hair and scalp troubles and encourages a bountiful growth of hair, long and beautiful.

NURSE'S YEARS OF EXPERIENCE
Proves Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills
Best Treatment for Kidney and Stomach Troubles.

The trained nurse has even greater opportunities than the physician himself to watch the action of medicine in specific cases.

For years the writer of this letter has been recommending the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills among her patients, and is firmly convinced that the treatment is so prompt and effective.

This is the most valuable evidence obtainable, and we believe that all who know Mrs. Duffy will appreciate it to the full, knowing that she would not recommend anything in which she had not the fullest confidence.

Mrs. Duffy, nurse, 85 Lewis street, Toronto, writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for years, and recommend them to my patients for all disorders of the kidneys, liver and stomach. In all my professional experience I have found nothing better. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Ed-manson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

They are the only pills that will cure rheumatism. They are the only pills that will cure all the ailments of the bowels.

Regularity of the bowels is an absolute necessity for good health. Unless waste matter from the food collects there is got rid of at once a day, it decays and poisons the whole body, causing biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches. Salt and other harsh mineral purgatives irritate the delicate lining of the bowels. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills—entirely vegetable—regulate the bowels effectively without weak-ening, sickening or griping. Use Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

OVER ROOF TO REAR ENTRANCE OF THE STORE
More Comes Out About Mill Street Stealing Case

In connection with the break made into the premises of C. F. Francis in Mill street on Sunday morning, three more youthful defendants were in the juvenile court this morning. Albert Johnson, Simon Fader, and Christie Murphy, each aged ten years, in addition to William Merritt, who was first arrested. Mr. Francis gave evidence, and the lads were sent below until further information could be procured. It is probable that there will be more arrests. One young fellow is reported to have been sent out of the city or to be in hiding.

The three lads arrested yesterday admitted having been connected with the break but Merritt denied it, saying that the police had been given information by him by the others. Francis Kerr appeared for him in court this morning.

The lads in meek tones told of making an entry into the store by means of a rear door from a yard off Pond street, to which they gained admission by climbing over a roof from North street. They said there were others connected with it, and each gave his respective account of his own doings. All had not some inside.

Mr. Francis said that he had done damage to some of the stock in addition to stealing, and had thrown things around the floor. The whole loss to him would be about $40.

Roses, Violets And Strawberry Blossoms As November Draws Near

"The flowers that bloom in the Spring, 'tis' bloom also in October in this glorious climate of St. John.

To the Times yesterday came Rev. James J. McCaskill, with a bouquet of half a dozen beautiful red roses plucked in his garden in Alexandra street. The roses were full blown, and as lovely as the fairest plucked in June. Mr. McCaskill added that there were more roses on the bush, and buds almost ready to burst into fragrant bloom.

A little later there was received by the Times a bunch of blue violets plucked by Mrs. J. S. Frost (no relation to Jack Frost it is evident) at Fair Vale. Major Frost and family had a beautiful bunch of violets plucked out of doors in grace their table on Thanksgiving Day. Yesterday she culled a few more near her home and there were others ready to burst into beautiful bloom.

When a Times man told Rev. G. A. Kuhring about the roses and the blue violets, he replied that a few days ago at Silver Falls he plucked strawberry blossoms and white violets.

Such a record for the last week of October indicates that the banana belt is growing steadily wider in its efforts to include the glorious region round about St. John.

DEANERY IN SESSION

The quarterly meeting of the St. John deanery was held this morning in the Wiggins Male Orphanage Institution.

Holy Communion was celebrated in St. James' church by Rev. H. A. Cody assisted by Rev. G. F. Scoville, after which the clergymen met for business in the orphanage institution which had been placed at their disposal through the generosity of Mr. Pearce, headmaster.

Those at the meeting were Ven. Archdeacon Raymond, Canon Hoyt, Rev. W. H. Sampson, Rev. G. A. Kuhring, Rev. R. A. Armstrong, Rev. P. Coulthurst, Rev. G. F. Scoville, Rev. B. Hooper, Rev. R. P. McKim, Rev. W. P. Dunham, Rev. T. W. Follett, Rev. J. W. Millidge, Rev. C. W. Nichols, and Rev. H. A. Cody, rector of St. James' church.

Very Rev. Dean Lloyd of Halifax and Rev. F. G. Newton were introduced and made short addresses.

A chapter from the Greek Testament was read and discussed. Routine business was then taken up. Rev. E. B. Hooper was elected clerical delegate and J. K. Scammell lay delegate to represent the deanery on the board of missions. The question of clergy superannuation was discussed and will be one of the matters brought up at the diocesan synod which will meet in Fredericton next week.

At one o'clock the chapter adjourned to lunch at the rectory to meet again this afternoon.

Probate

In the probate court in the matter of the estate of Mrs. Mary L. Short, widow, Silas McDermid, druggist, the administrator, with the will annexed, presented his accounts with a petition and asked for passing of them. By her will Mrs. Short left all her property to her son, Charles E. Short, druggist. He died before his mother, and left his estate to his widow, Agnes L. Short, who, therefore, becomes the sole beneficiary under the will of Mrs. Mary L. Short. A citation was issued returnable on Monday, November 24 at 11 a. m. Herbert J. Smith is proctor.

THE WEST IS CHEERFUL

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, who has returned from a trip to the west, discussing things in that section of the country said that the bountiful crop, excellent as to quality, has been a reassuring factor over the country. It has produced a buoyant feeling which is generally shared. That and the feeling that there will be complete recovery from any little setbacks that may have been experienced gives to the people everywhere a feeling of encouragement, hope and ambition to make next year as good as the previous one before any stringency was experienced.
