LLOYD GEORGE ADHERES TO HIS DEMAND

Sinn Fein Must Recognize Sovereignty of Empire as Condition of Conference.

PESSIMISM REPLACES EARLY OPTIMISM

Confidence That Peace Conference Would be Held Has Crumbled Away.

London, Sept. 20.—The reply to "President" De Valera, in which the British Premier is understood to adhere to his demand that the Sinn Fein recognize the sovereignty of the Empire as an essential condition of the Peace Conference, was drafted today by Lloyd George.

London newspapers consider De Valera's arguments a "continued evasion of the issue," and declare he must specifically waive his claim to Irish sovereignty.

Both the Premier and his supporters argue that to hold a conference on "no conditions" basis as urged by De Valera, would constitute a theoretical acceptance of Ireland's claim to being a republic.

FRENCH PRESS SAY BRIAND MUST REMAIN HOME

They Argue That His Presence is Not Needed at Washington Conference.

EXTRAORDINARY SESSION OCTOBER 18

May be Asked to Settle Question Whether Premier Shall Go or Stay.

Paris, Sept. 20.—The French cabinet has decided to call an extraordinary session of the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies on October 18, when Premier Briand will answer his opponents and settle definitely his proposed attendance at the coming Washington Conference.

One of the questions considered by the cabinet was whether Premier Briand should after all go to Washington, but apparently no serious objection was made by President Millerand or the ministers and it was announced that Albert Sarraut, minister of colonies, who has been studying the situation in western Africa would accompany the premier.

The paper says further: "The chief of the government's place at the seat of the government. We can understand how it might be necessary for him to go away for a week or two when it was a question of conferring with colleagues in a city from which he could not be absent for more than a month, probably a month, if not longer and in cases any incident demanded his presence in Paris he would need a week to return.

Besides, this absence would occur soon after the reconvening of the chambers at the commencement of a heavily burdened parliamentary session when the ministers make serious decisions, notably in financial matters. How can the government be the chief of the government is on the other side of the Atlantic?

"There will be many other questions anterior and foreign which will have to be settled and which the Prime Minister will be obliged to explain in the rostrum, but the times are not ordinary and the circumstances of the Washington Conference are such that the presence of the Chief of the French government is contraindicated.

"Without entering into details, it is sufficient to remark that the discussions of the sessions will be principally on Anglo-American subjects on questions where the United States and England are, so to speak, in traditional discord and it will be rather delicate for the French Premier to be subjected to being drawn into it from one side or from the other. If M. Briand imagines he can find an occasion for the exercise of a glorious mediative action it is an illusion.

"As to the disarmament question which is so close to us, will certainly not be settled, it will only be a question of naval armament, it is tacitly understood that the discussion of land armament will be adjourned until a time when the effects of such a measure can be better considered.

"Maritime armaments concern the United States and England primarily. It is sufficient to say that M. Briand should desire to go himself and discuss the subject if his colleagues in the cabinet see no inconvenience in it, but it is not at all natural for the French Premier to put himself forward in the matter. In summing up then, the powerful reasons of home and foreign order are against the decision of M. Briand's project. Nothing militates in its favor."

Fishery Conference At Charlottetown

Inspectors and Overseers of Eastern Division of Canada Present for Discussions.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Sept. 20.—The fishery conference of the Eastern Division of Canada, composed of the Maritime Provinces, opened here today with about 600 officers, inspectors and overseers in attendance. This morning the principal questions discussed were the relations of the fisheries officers to the public, and of these officers to the department.

This afternoon regulations of the fish catching and enforcement were the chief topic of discussion. The need of revision and consolidation of the regulations is evident as at present much confusion exists owing to many amendments made from time to time. The New Brunswick men suggest that the season for oyster fishing on private beds and public beds be made the same as at present, the former season opens a month earlier than on public beds.

This is contended is an unfair discrimination, on Thursday it is proposed to take up the matter in detail of revising the regulations. The services of the mounted police were commended and the desire expressed that more of these men be appointed, especially in New Brunswick, and P. E. Island for prevention of illegal lobster fishing.

Tonight Dr. Pritson, Commissioner of Fisheries, spoke on the migration of fish contending that the movement is more local than generally and follow a well defined course.

Most Successful Day At Fredericton

Tuesday's Exhibition Attendance Surpassed Expectations.

Special to The Standard Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 20.—The Fredericton Exhibition had a most successful second day today with the attendance keeping up to expectations and everybody pleased with the extensive and variety of the show. The middle of the week generally provides the largest attendance so Wednesday or Thursday are expected to put on the record.

Judging in all departments is well along tonight. It will take longer than usual, however, to account for the large number of entries in all departments.

The bench show of the Fredericton Kennel Club got away to a start today. The entries in this show have surpassed anything in Eastern Canada this year in point of quality. The Irish Terrier class is particularly good with keen competition. All the Maritime Provinces are represented, also the United States, Ontario and Quebec.

The balloon ascension took place this afternoon as advertised. Aeronaut James Yerrington did a double circuit in the balloon before the attempt Wednesday. Yerrington made his landing with minor injuries, but unfortunately, the balloon carried by the French Premier to put himself forward in the matter. In summing up then, the powerful reasons of home and foreign order are against the decision of M. Briand's project. Nothing militates in its favor."

SAY U. S. AND BRITAIN WOULD PRY ALSACE FROM FRANCE

Paris Discovers Evidence of Dark Plot for French Annexation or British Protectorate, With Implied Consent of America and League.

GREEK RETREAT CALLED A ROUT BY OFFICERS

The "Mad Campaign" Has Resulted Disastrously for the Hellenic Forces.

Paris, Sept. 20.—While the official communiqués from Athens describe King Constantine's army as in an ordered retreat, a French military officer charged with watching Asia Minor developments has informed your correspondent that the Greeks are falling back on a long communication line in what is more like a rout than a retreat. A battle which was waged for days in the valley of the Sakaria River resulted disastrously for the Greeks it was ascertained days ago by the British War Office.

The French press shows no sympathy for the Greek retreat, declaring they were doomed to defeat before they began such a "mad campaign." The French attitude is that little is to be gained by the Greek retreat, without enthusiasm or an ideal, as a mercenary organization paid by England to save her defeated interests in the Balkans.

CANAL SCHEME NOT JUSTIFIED

New York Port Chairman Condemns St. Lawrence Undertaking.

New York, Sept. 16.—H. H. Onderbridge, chairman of the port of New York authorities, in a letter to Dr. Lovett, president of the St. Lawrence International Joint Commission, made public today, declared that the project to canalize the St. Lawrence River, was in his opinion, sponsored by interests seeking to acquire water-power rights.

The canal features of the project, he asserted, were capitalized to attract support from the Middle West. The report of the engineers of the International Joint Commission, he said, was very involved and misleading in the way it was drawn. That report, he added, speaks of the project as one of navigation facilities with power as a by-product, but makes no reference to the fact that the depth of Great Lake harbors and channels does not average 20 feet. Consequently ocean vessels could not get into any one of the ports or navigate the lakes, he said, until the channels and ports were deepened at an estimated cost of $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000.

The international engineers estimated the cost of the canal and power plants at $252,000,000.

Fair Vale Baseball Season Closed With Enjoyable Supper and Programme.

An entertainment and supper was the joyful ending of the baseball season in Fair Vale for the season of '21, held in the Bachelors' Rest by the members of the Fair Vale Baseball Club and their friends. Short addresses were made by Edward Ellis, Geo. Dobbins, Jim Dever and Sandy Corbett.

Two Hundred and Eight Car Loads Through Aroostook Jct. Saturday and Sunday.

Aroostook Jct., Sept. 19.—During the summer months Aroostook Jct. enjoys a certain amount of peace and quietude from a railway point of view until the potatoes begin to move from the State of Maine and Northern New Brunswick, and then railway men are called in from all parts of the Province to assist in moving the large crops of spuds which have made Aroostook Jct. famous, but this year all records for crop moving have been broken, owing to the farmers shipping all the potatoes they possibly can instead of keeping them for increased prices which is usually the custom, and the past week has seen the largest number of trains by far that has ever left the Junction.

Apples Moving Quickly From Annapolis Valley

Crop Yield Most Encouraging—Many Buyers from States After Valley Fruit.

Kentville, N. S., Sept. 20.—The exceedingly dry season has had but little effect upon the apple crop of the Valley, while in some places on account of poor tillage and lack of proper fertilizers and attention fruit did not mature to usual size. In most localities the prospects are extra good. In many of the large orchards more fruit will be gathered than in any previous year, and the prediction made that we have a two million barrel crop is very sure to be realized. Not all of this will go forward to markets, the amount for home consumption and utilized in our many evaporators and canneries taking a large amount.

BATting OUT

Even the Big League Ant Ruling—Umpire Chicago Game.

One thousand years from baseball continues to be played long, it is possible managers, players and a few patrons, will stand the rule which controls members of the team at bat to their turn at the plate in a rotation fixed in advance game.

Although it is one of the rules in the book in the matter of game, there is no provision playing code which is so little understood, and it was discovered that a major league umpire did not stand it in a recent game on the Chicago Cubs lot.

It is the general impression man is out "for batting out" and the way of expressing it, some of the misunderstanding would be much better if the understood that a man is out "batting in his turn." This is the rule, but in some way it has been created that the man who bats of turn was out, and that idea is what is meant by "batting out."

Peter Manning's mile in 1:55.7, if correctly timed, gives him of still greater things from five-year-old gelding. According to official figures, the first quarter of the mile, and the three-quarters was covered in or at the rate of a mile in 1:55.7 the middle half was trotted in the first half in 0:58.7. Not a great time for the greater horse, worthy ever equalled this pace from the quarter pole wire, which indicates pretty good speed even when the horse is in 1:54.7. The horse trotted another quarter faster 2:00 clip after such a half as surely equal to a full mile fast 1:55 when all conditions are able. Another significant and fine feature of the Syracuse race was that the mile registered a gain of six seconds in the Peter Manning since August date of his first mile in 2:00.

PATRIOTISM OR PARTY?

It is sadly to be regretted that there should be people who are never happy unless they are finding fault; and the more unnecessary it is, the greater delight they take in doing it. It is charged in some quarters against Mr. McLaughlin, who lectured on Patriotism and Citizenship on Monday, that he was merely a political propagandist, who abused the privilege afforded him to make a party speech. One cannot help but pity the mind so small that it can only see and grasp one phase of a question; and that sees in every reference to it something that does not fit in with its own narrow view.

We have today in this country a most unfortunate set of conditions largely as a result of the war. There is a severe depression in trade, accompanied by widespread unemployment which propagates dissatisfaction and unrest on all sides. In an effort to remedy this, people are asked to purchase fewer foreign-made articles and to patronize home industry, thereby creating a greater demand for home-made goods, which must necessarily call for greater production, which in turn will provide opportunities for work for the unemployed. It would seem to most people, we would think, that such a course would be not only patriotic, but on sound business lines; and that any political party that is committed to this principle is worthy of support. But apparently there are those who cannot—or will not—see this. They prefer to see the industrial fabric of this country pulled to pieces, manufacturing plants closed for lack of business—because the articles made in them can be more cheaply imported from some other country—and unemployment therefore made even more widespread than it is. And they call themselves the party of progress!

To charge a man who advocates measures that will increase the prosperity of the country, with being a party stump orator, indicates a very degenerate mind; and the expression of such a sentiment will scarcely evoke much enthusiasm among the great mass of Canadians.

There are only two real divisions of people in this country. Those who hold themselves firmly, who have profited by the lessons of experience, who believe in industry, who believe in the old maxim of our forebears that the measure of reward should be the measure of endeavor, who believe in well ordered liberty and orderly progress, who have faith in British institutions and principles, who wish to build up this country on foundations tried and true, and who, in the midst of the greatest unrest the world has ever seen, believe it to be sound policy to cling fast to that which we have and which we know, to adhere to policies which have proved successful, at all events until the skies have cleared and the world returns to greater steadiness of thought and action. These are the people who in Canada are still in the majority and they will wish to promote the principles in which they believe, and consequently will be prepared to support any Government which will give effect to them, not necessarily from party motives, but as a matter of patriotism and good citizenship.

The other division of the people comprises those who have surrendered to a passion for change and experiment, to prejudice, to class consciousness; those who are uneasy and restless without exactly knowing the reason why, and those who would take delight in tearing down established institutions without substituting anything better.

THE PEOPLE TO DECIDE.

A cable despatch from London intimates that Mr. Lloyd George has practically decided to appeal to the people on the Irish question. Most people we imagine will feel that he is taking the wisest course, for it is not to be wondered at that in approaching settlement of a matter of such transcending importance, he should desire to know definitely if he has the country at his back. At the present time the Irish leaders feel that they are dealing with the British Government; after an election they will know that they are dealing with the British people which is a considerably stronger element than is the Government.

Already the issue has been pinned down in unmistakable fashion by the British Premier. Overriding aside the protests that previous conferences had been a recognition of the Sinn Féin, and its "recognition of itself" as the official executive of "independent and sovereign Ireland," Mr. Lloyd George maintains, clearly and emphatically, that the status of Irish representatives must be one of allegiance to the King, and consequently to the British Government.

French Revolutionary History.
F. A. M. Mignet, in his "French Revolution," says (p. 77): "The new religion broke out in a violent and invincible manner. A young girl entering a guardhouse, seized a drum and rushed through the streets beating it, and crying 'Bread, Bread.' She was surrounded by a crowd of women. This mob advanced toward the Hotel de Ville, increasing as it went. It broke open the doors, seized weapons and marched towards Versailles. The people rose en masse, the national guard at the nation's disposal by the commander, Lafayette." On pages 88, 89, 91, Mignet records that when Talleyrand proposed to the clergy to renounce ecclesiastical property to the nation after the debate on this subject, the clergy rose against the proposition. And when this property was placed at the nation's disposal by the decree of 2nd December, 1789, the hatred of the clergy to the Revolution broke out from that moment. Page 90: "When the clergy saw the decree of the 25th December transferring the administration of the church property to the municipalities, it sought every means of impeding the operations of the municipalities by exciting as much as possible religious questions, and it raised the Catholics against the Protestants for the purpose of concentrating the assembly and confounding the cause of its own interests with that of religion. When the assembly completed the reorganization of France, the nobility emigrated to excite Europe against the Revolution. The clergy, disoriented with the loss of its possessions, still more than with the ecclesiastical situation, sought to destroy the new order by insurrections. These two elements prepared the elements of civil and foreign wars." (p. 100)—Peter Leckie in Western Clarion.

CANADIAN MOTION PICTURES

The movie public in Canada may eventually benefit by the United States proposal to impose a customs tax of 30 per cent. on the value of imported films. It may tend to discourage the production of motion pictures in Canada for sale in the United States. But it should stimulate Canadian enterprise to produce more pictures for the Canadian public. At the present time, Canadian public opinion is inclined to demand more good Canadian and British pictures, to relieve the monotony of so many from the United States. A beginning has, indeed, been made to meet this demand. A number of successful Canadian pictures produced within the last two years, including "Back to God's Country," "The Sky Pilot," "Cameron of the Mounted," and others based on popular Canadian novels, seem to have satisfied patrons on both sides of the border line.

While the pictures have been produced in Canada, they have been released for general circulation from United States headquarters. But when the Canadian pictures are taxed $30,000 or more—it is estimated that Ralph Connor's "The Man from Glen Garry," to be produced in the logging camps of the Ottawa valley this winter, would be subject to $30,000 tax—the supply of Canadian pictures by United States producers is likely to decline. The demand for Canadian pictures by Canadian enterprise is, at the same time, bound to increase.

Coupled with the natural desire for pictures of Canadian origin—and there is unlimited scope for development in this direction—Canadian picture shows could be improved by more British films. The British producers are handicapped somewhat by climatic conditions, but some very fine pictures have been made since the war and capital is being directed with more confidence into the film business in Great Britain.

American producers seem to be quite well aware of the loss they may experience if the proposed protectionist tariff is imposed. Canada might justifiably respond by imposing a 30 per cent. tax on films from the United States. There is a strong sentiment in Canada in favor of admitting British films in duty free. Reciprocity in motion pictures among the British overseas nations and the Mother Country might very well be established, without reference to United States tariff politics. The motion picture might be made a good medium for members of the British League of Nations to get to know each other better.

One of the difficulties that will face the conference on limitation of armament will be that of agreement upon the aviation feature of military preparation. The development of air fight is progressing rapidly and it will prove no easy task to draw the line between commercial planes and those that can be used for military purposes. The former may easily be converted into the latter and the conference will not desire to stop aerial development. Some of the nations are far in advance of others in the development of their aircraft and it seems probable that if the conference reaches an agreement upon a maximum of expenditure in this direction it will be a figure that will be considerably beyond the desires of nations that have not devoted any material amount of money for military aviation.

Across the border when they want anything particular done they say "Let George do it." On this side it appears that if we want anything properly done—in the railway line—we had better let the C. P. R. do it. A system that can, without previous notice, satisfactorily handle 877 cars of freight, including loading and unloading 208 cars of potatoes, in twenty-four hours at one small country depot, is worth paying attention to. And yet there are some people who take delight in attempting to put obstacles in the way of this railway system.

Indian Situation Is More Serious

Military Finding It Increasingly Difficult to Deal With Rebels.
London, Sept. 20.—Official investigations show that the situation in India is more serious than was believed. The military is experiencing difficulty in dealing with the rebels owing to the latter's mobility and to the nature of the country, which is largely forest land, where formidable gangs are scattered. The opinion is held that the recalcitrant Mohals who fled into the jungle could be starved out if the main roads were held and certain areas garrisoned. Two thousand rebels are massed on the Pandhar hills in a favorable position, where an action is imminent and the use of artillery unavoidable. A high priest is heading another band which is endeavoring to join the forces at Pandhar. A rebel conference has declared that the Hindus are to be converted to Islam at the point of the sword. A Reuter cable from Simla says that, at a council of state, the Home Secretary said that except in the immediate vicinity of the troops and in an emergency—on such a hill near the railways, the life and property of the non-Muslims are unsafe. The rebels, of whom five bodies are known to exist control certain areas and the re-establishment of authority is at present impossible owing to transport and communication difficulties.

Try Magnesia For Stomach Trouble

Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, vents Food Fermentation, Softens Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.
Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried ketchup, pancreatin, charcoal, and many various digestive aids and many these things will not cure. Doubtless—some cases do not give relief.
But before giving up hope and adding you are a chronic dyspeptic, try the effect of a little Magnesia—not the ordinary common carbonate, citrate, or milk, but pure Hydrated Magnesia which can obtain from practically any drug store, in either powdered or tablet form.
Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and you will find a difference. It is constantly neutralizing the dangerous "acrid acid" in the stomach which causes your food to ferment, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or gassy feeling that seems to follow every meal. And that provided you are a little Hydrated Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat and sleep without any discomfort, without any sense of pain or discomfort, in fact, you will find that it is a most agreeable, constipated use of Hydrated Magnesia, constipated, indigestion, in any way, so long as it is not a case of acid indigestion.

FO Let Us Dovetail Our Activities

"When the carpenter makes his square he does not have wood over his shoulder. It happens in England among our various organizations that there is a great deal of overlapping, with its bad carpentry, instead of dovetailing, which is good carpentry. We need to dovetail our different activities."
Lady Byng of Vimy was the speaker and the occasion was a tea given in honor by the president and directors of Central Exhibition in their administration rooms recently in Ottawa. Lady Byng urged co-operation and dovetailing—the dovetailing with its good carpentry—upon all workers. She noted the greater political power of Canadian women, their large organizations, which hand did not possess on the scale.

Lady Byng spoke of the Board of Guardians of the Poor, which she served for three years. Every illegitimate child passed through their hands had a mental defective mother, she said. Suggestion of those below mental par, advocated as the remedy for a condition which might be remedied if it is in time.

Let Us Dovetail Our Activities

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS:

By HELEN ROWLAND

Being the Confessions of the Seventh-Hundredth Wife

My Daughter, reader unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's, and unto Man, the praise which is his due.

For, MODESTY overthrew him as a coat-of-armor, and his forbearance pleased understanding.

Go to! A woman is as a sensitive plant, which quivereth at a touch of criticism. But, not even a man's bald spot is sensitive, and in all his vanity, he hath no tender places.

Behold, in his youth, he protesteth not, but rejecteth to be called "Carrots," or "Freckles," or "Skinny."

And, likewise, in manhood, he winceeth not at jests upon his waistline, but joineeth in the merriment at his own fallings.

Lo, I have heard, when men talked among themselves, and was astonished at the snits which they offered one another, and swallowed cheerfully.

WHO hesitated to remind a man that he is waxing FAT, and that embonpoint, hath enquired his beauty? Who is too tender to inform him that he appeareth "seedy," or that he is becoming gray above the ears?

Yet, to greet a woman, saying, "Tut, tut! Thou art acquiring jewels and bay-window, 'old dear,' would this not be suicide? Yes, verily."

Behold, where wilt thou find a wife, who refraineth from telling her husband when his chin needeth shaving, and when his locks require to be shorn? What wife is too punctilious to inform her beloved that his garments need pressing, and that his top-hat is disappearing, and that he would be wise to have it mended?

For, no man is a "tailor's model" to his wife! Nay, no man was ever yet groomed and clothed to suit the fancy of a woman who loved him!

And what wife hath not sighed, "How handsome thou USED to be, my dear!"

Yet, sooner would a husband cuff his right hand, or his after-dinner cigar, than let his wife suspect that her nose was shiny, or that her weight had increased one jot or tittle, in his eyes!

Lo, when he doth, crooked, and his collar too low.

Lo, when he doth, crooked, and his collar too low.

Lo, when he doth, crooked, and his collar too low.

Lo, when he doth, crooked, and his collar too low.

Nay, verily, she doth NOT! She turneth about, critically, and picketh specks from off his coat! She squinteth at him, and remarketh that his cravat is crooked, and his collar too low.

And, like a lamb with mint sauce, he accepteth her judgment and totteth meekly about, at her command.

In moments of sorrow, she winceeth him sweetly of the men she "MIGHT have married." She points out the "distinguished looking man" in the multitude. She praiseeth the poet-looking youth, in his presence.

But a wise man will not so much as ADMIT another woman's beauty, in his wife's presence, and he would sooner destroy his own home-brew, than to praise a dame's prettiness, in her hearing.

For, he knoweth, in his heart, that this would be his "Faith": Verily, verily, my Daughter, a woman hideth her defects under a bushel of camouflage, and will not acknowledge them, even in her prayers.

But, a man cannot be persuaded that anything, save death, can rob him of the fatal charm or mar his perfection.

And, whether this is MODESTY, or, peradventure, only the difference between feminine vanity and masculine conceit, I know not.

Mexico Not Hopeful of Early Recognition

Optimism Prevailing Few Weeks Ago is Not Now So Prevalent.

Mexico City, Sept. 19.—The one hundredth anniversary of the proclamation of Mexico's independence was ushered in at midnight by the ringing of bells over the city, which the Government considers eminently reasonable in nature, Japan may refuse to discuss the Shantung question at the coming Washington conference.

It also is believed here that the question of immigration, as such, will be kept off the programme, so matter how much the newspapers demand that it be included in the agenda. It is also believed here that the views are expressed concerning the outcome of the negotiations on the California problem, and a settlement by direct negotiation between the two countries is believed to be preferable to insistence on general immigration rights. However, an opinion strongly advocates the raising of the general question of racial equality.

STUNNING NEW BLOUSES

The separate blouse is more important than ever, because of the part it plays in the development of the three-piece costume. The upper figure illustrates a delightful new model in string color crepe de Chine. It fastens in surprise effect and has a collar of embroidered braid. In addition the fronts are trimmed with hand embroidery. Medium size requires 2 1/4 yards 36-inch material, with 3/4 yard braid.

No less smart, if a bit less ornate, is the second design in gray Canton crepe. It is a slip-on and the front is fastened at the center, then rolled with the convertible collar. Medium size requires 2 1/4 yards.

FASHION NOTES.

Tinsel brocade combined with black was featured at this week's Fashion Art League show in Chicago.

It is now possible in New York to purchase separate hip-hop sleeves in two lengths, short and to the elbow, both puffed, and these are inserted in short sleeved frocks, making a new touch.

Brown, particularly in all of its red and varied shades, has been next to black the color most favored in the early buying and had brown particularly in hatter's plush of the larger shapes is said to be well liked, says New York.

3,000 CHINESE IN BIG PARADE AT NEW YORK

Bands Lead Marchers With Banners Asking Recognition of South Republic.

New York, Sept. 17.—More Chinese than anybody supposed were in these parts marched with two brass bands and many banners to City Hall yesterday as an advertisement of the fact that they have no use for the Pekin Government and want to have the China, or Canton, Government represented in the coming Pacific conference. Their leaders said they represented the sentiment of 95 per cent of the Chinese in the United States, in addition to a majority of their countrymen in China.

About 3,000 men, with many a queue among them and only two straw hats—so faithful is their Americanism—were in the parade, which started at 10 o'clock and had a collar of Chinese motion picture photographers, with his peaked cap wrong side up, and a banner in each hand. The leading brass band got them all into City Hall park to the tune of "Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue," although the stripes of the flag of the South China Republic, which each parade carried along with the American flag are red, yellow, blue, white and black. Some of their banners said: "Americans love fair play; give China a chance." "Pekin militarism, Canton democracy." "We want recognition of Sun Yat Sen's government," and "Pekin is Japan's echo; Sun Yat Sen speaks for China." They appeared to have at least a dozen grand marshals, all of whom sang out different orders before managed to effect speedy formation of the crowd on and below the steps of City Hall.

Mayor Hylan's Chinese secretary being on vacation, the Mayor was not prepared to make a speech, so Health Commissioner Copeland did the talking for the administration, speaking perfect English, which was listened to with vast politeness and only partly drowned by the roar of steam escaping from a conduit over near the Federal Building. Dr. Copeland said among other things that New York was with the Chinese in their fight for democracy, and that a report had been made to him that the Chinese restaurants were the cleanest in New York. Dr. Ma Soo, Commissioner of the South China Republic in the United States, addressed his fellow workers in their native Cantonese dialect, and with his oratory made them quiver with excitement. E. K. Moy, chairman of the parade, read the English resolutions which were adopted by unanimous lifting of flags. Wan Kam-Man, a Chinese aviator, dropped from an airplane, dodging settling clouds, twelve points of South China's claim to the real voice of China.

The resolution was sent to President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes also a telegram from the Chinese Free Masons denouncing the resolution. The Chinese National League, the Chinese Merchants' Association, the New Jersey Chinese Nationalist League, the Gem Loan Society and the Chinese Seaman's Association sponsored the resolution.

300 French Women Have Disappeared

Paris, Sept. 20.—During the month that has elapsed since the mystery of the headless woman's body, discovered in the Seine, first occupied the attention of the Paris detectives, over three hundred cases of women who disappeared from their kin and their friends and acquaintances, have been investigated without result. Now the police believe they are on the track of the victim's identity.

A young woman who had been living in Montmartre with a bank clerk for several years, disappeared about the time the murder must have taken place. Her description tallies entirely with that of the remains found in the Seine. The girl's lover informed the police that as they quarrelled shortly before her disappearance he did not attach undue importance, thinking she had simply abandoned him because he had expressed the intention of leaving her. The girl's pride would then have prompted her to leave him before he had the chance to leave her. The clerk apparently is in no way implicated and the police are endeavoring to gather information of the girl's movements after she left him.

To Use Navy Boats Formerly Junked

Another Economy Idea Adopted by President Harding of U. S. Washington, Sept. 16.—The Administration, adopting another economy idea, has decided to stop the "junking" of light draught vessels of the United States Navy. Vessels obsolete for naval purposes but of possible value, will be transferred to other branches of the Government service.

President Harding and Secretary of the Navy Donby are said to have approved the plan during a survey to determine value and possible future uses of naval equipment. Coordination of the budget bureau conceived the idea that great Government waste occurs by virtually scrapping naval vessels of small type after they reach a certain stage of deterioration.

German Bankers To Aid Payments

Offer Mortgage on Their Own Property Without Seeking State Credit.

Berlin, Sept. 22.—A combination of German bankers and industrialists is offering to offer to mortgage their own property and mobilize their credit to help the German government to meet the obligations of the reparations bonds to the Allies.

Characteristically, the members of the Manufacturers' Association and other prominent bankers to discuss the plan, which in itself is an extraordinary proposal because it comes as an offer from the manufacturers and bankers, and also because they do not pledge the credit of the state, but propose themselves to meet the obligations of the state.

To Mortgage Industries.

Herr Kraemer, vice-president of the National Association of Manufacturers, is the man who has outlined the plan and outlined its big difficulties to the New York Herald.

The opinion in German banking circles is that it is impossible for the German state to meet large foreign loans. The state also in their opinion is economically unsound for them to mortgage the last of their capital in an attempt to fill a bottomless pit.

Bankers Take Initiative.

The political significance of the move is great. The backers of the plan are taking the initiative from the government in applying their own taxation to German capital. It is preferable to confiscation, in the opinion of the manufacturers, because the proposal leaves all the machinery of production in the hands of the owners.

Only Moderate Amount of Trading Done—Selling of No Consequence.

New York, Sept. 22.—The market continued heavy during the entire day with a moderate amount of trading and with the exception of a few items that had advanced sharply during the past two or three weeks, the selling was of no great consequence.

2,000 EMPLOYEES DROPPED BY SHIP BOARD

Annual Pay Roll is Cut by $3,000,000 to $12,952,696 in U. S.

MANY MORE WILL GO LATER

European Offices to Feel Economy Axe in Next Three Months.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—Nearly 2,000 employees have been dropped from the rolls of the Shipping Board and the annual payroll has been decreased by $3,000,000 as the result of the general deflation process set in motion recently by the board.

In a statement to newspaper correspondents this afternoon Chairman Lasker went into general details concerning the accomplishments of the board so far. The data presented were in the nature of a quarterly report, since the new board members have been in office exactly three months.

"This really represents only six weeks' work," said Mr. Lasker, "for we were busy during the first six weeks trying to find out where we stood. The reduction process is still going on. I do not want to make any predictions concerning the future, but we hope to reduce almost as much in the next three months as we have in the last three. We do not know that we can do it, but we are trying."

"Our next step will be the reorganization of the European offices and the reduction in personnel so far has been principally in the Washington office, although a few employees, comparatively speaking, have been removed from branch offices.

"When we came here the personnel of the board and Emergency Fleet Corporation numbered 8,348, and the annual payroll was $15,893,796. We now have 6,358 employees, with a payroll of $12,952,696. The total reductions, net, which included 283 persons employed by the new board, show a dismissal of 1,966 employees represented by salaries totalling $2,941,106. Many of the new employees are men whose salaries range from $3,600 a year upward, men we have employed to work out the reductions and reorganize generally.

"We now have in the European offices 859 employees, with a payroll of $850,462. We will cut off approximately 600 of these employees. Jos. W. Powell, who is in charge of the reorganization work, suggested that J. H. Sheedy go abroad and clear up the situation. This morning the board accepted Mr. Powell's recommendation and Mr. Sheedy will sail soon. What ever he recommends the board will do. Mr. Sheedy is an experienced shipping man. He was formerly with the Ocean Steamship Company and also with shipping concerns in Seattle.

"It seems possible that the foreign affairs of the board can be managed with American employees only, and part of Mr. Sheedy's task will be to select Americans for the work."

Mr. Lasker was asked if the appointment of Mr. Sheedy meant that Capt. Frank E. Ferris, now in charge of the London office, would be removed. He said that would be a matter to be determined by Mr. Sheedy, whose instructions were to make a general survey of the European situation with a view to reorganizing and reducing.

Are You With the Crowd. I admit these stories in which the hero struggles along nobly on $4,000 per year. Statistics show that 90 per cent of us never earn that much.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Wife's False Teeth Form An Alimony Suit Grievance

She Declares Husband Confiscated Artificial Molars—He Denies Guilt.

New York, Sept. 20.—Unusual cruelty was charged in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn yesterday by Mrs. Harriet Steiger, against William A. Steiger, a contractor, of Morrick, L. I. Mrs. Steiger asserted through counsel that her husband once had deprived her of her false teeth. "Cruelty indeed, if true," observed Justice Lazansky.

Mrs. Steiger also alleged that, once while walking along the road she demonstrated with her husband for paying attention to another woman. For reply, she said, she threw her hat into the brush along the way.

Steiger denied his wife's charges. He said she had mislaid her false teeth and then accused him of taking them. Once, he said, she threw red pepper into his face, and he had to douse her with a pail of cold water in order to pacify her. On another occasion, he said, she tried to stab him with a penknife as he lay asleep. Mrs. Steiger denied the charges.

Justice Lazansky reserved decision on Mrs. Steiger's application for alimony. She is suing for separation.

Intelligence Tests Adopted From Army

Tried as Experiment When New York's School Children Registered at Opening.

New York, Sept. 19.—Intelligence tests, adopted from the army, were tried as an experiment when New York's army of 900,000 schoolchildren registered for the opening of school this fall. The Department of Education decided it would be unwise, at present, to accept the results obtained as a substitute for the teacher's judgment.

The principal aim of the tests was to derive a better classification of pupils. The theory was advanced that keeping the brighter pupils together they would be able to progress more rapidly, while the average pupil also would be able to make normal progress. The dull students, under the theory, would be given instructions suited to their abilities.

The verbal tests were devised to test arithmetical reasoning, sentence completion, logical selection of words in sentences, general information, vocabulary analogies and comparisons. While a complete report has not yet been made of the results, the tests in some schools showed a considerable number of high school students whose mental age was below that of the normal pupil. Many of the low score students showed that they had been advanced through the grades too rapidly.

Must Maintain National Policy

Conservatives of Toronto Pledge Support to Meighen and Protection.

Toronto, Sept. 16.—An immediate return to the party system was advocated by the various speakers at the Liberal-Conservative Club executive meeting at the Naval Veterans' Hall, Governor Street, last night. It was insisted that only men who will pledge unwavering support to the principles of the Conservative Party, and the policy of protection advocated by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Premier of the Dominion, need look for support at any of the party conventions in the city. All were agreed that victory was certain for the Conservatives if the National Policy, provided that live, active men who had always been staunch adherents of the principles of the party were chosen as candidates.

The hall was packed with a representative gathering of stalwarts, all of whom gave evidence of being ready for the coming battle. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed, and the members gave evidence that they were only too eager to start the party machinery working as in the past.

SHANTUNG IS LOOMING UP AS BIG QUESTION

Japan's Proposal to China is Looked Upon as Subterfuge by Peking.

PROPOSITION NOT ACCEPTABLE TO CHINA

Tokio Expected to Contend Question is One Affecting Japan Only.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—Shantung and the immigration problem promised today to become outstanding features of the discussions of the limitations of armaments conference. Despatches from Tokio stating the Japanese government had received no official confirmation of the rejection by China of the Japanese terms of the proposed return to Shantung.

Dr. W. W. Yen, Chinese Minister of Foreign Affairs, will sail for the United States within two weeks with the Chinese delegation. It is estimated that, knowing this, Japan has submitted the proposals at this time, confident they would be refused with the expectation that the world would understand the reason for refusal to negotiate further.

So far as China is concerned the proposals are not acceptable, and are regarded as a subterfuge for maintaining Japanese control and as bargaining chips which the Chinese government refused to debate or consider. Accordingly the subject will be regarded by the Japanese as one affecting herself only, and she has on this point refused to discuss it. It seems certain that this view of the Shantung question will be resisted here.

Immigration Will Bob Up

While newspaper reports from Japan are that the immigration issue will not be included in the agenda, the question is expected to go before the conference in one form or another, and the Japanese decision not to include it definitely in the conference programme is believed to register determination not to precipitate the race equality issue.

While no official admissions were made today, it is known that the negotiations this government is conducting with Japan relative to the settlement of the Yap controversy are continuing and with a more than fair hope of success. It would not surprise diplomats here if a definite announcement of the conclusion of the negotiations were announced within a few days.

In the city. All were agreed that victory was certain for the Conservatives if the National Policy, provided that live, active men who had always been staunch adherents of the principles of the party were chosen as candidates.

The hall was packed with a representative gathering of stalwarts, all of whom gave evidence of being ready for the coming battle. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed, and the members gave evidence that they were only too eager to start the party machinery working as in the past.

Chesley Street Woman's Bravery

Mrs. J. Donovan jumped into Deep Water and Rescued a Young Girl from Drowning

A brave act of rescue that calls for more than a mere notice was performed by Mrs. J. Donovan of Chesley Street Monday morning. Mrs. Donovan was busy attending to her household duties when she heard a couple of little girls crying. Leaving her home she inquired what was the matter and was informed that one of their companions had fallen into the deep water known along the Strait Shore as the "Devil's Hole". The child had sunk for the second time when without any hesitation Mrs. Donovan jumped into the water and was fortunately able to grasp hold of the girl and bring her safely to the shore. The child is said to be none the worse for the adventure and the brave rescuer bears no ill effects from her immersion in the cold harbor water.

Such a brave act as that performed by Mrs. Donovan should be remembered officially, although the lady is modest about what she accomplished and stated to a neighbor who gives the information to The Standard that she did not wish any publicity.

Two Murder Hearings Today

O'Brien and Spellman for Murder of Albert Norris-Paris for McAuley Murder.

Two preliminary hearings based on murder charges, that against Edward O'Brien and James Spellman for the murder of Albert Norris, and the other against John Paris, on suspicion of the murder of Sadie McAuley, will probably be taken up in the police court today.

O'Brien and Spellman. O'Brien and Spellman have already had the charges read to them in court, but have not yet been asked to plead. It is said that several other witnesses in addition to those who testified at the Norris inquest will be called upon to take the stand at the preliminary hearing, and that considerable additional particulars will be placed together by the detectives in their presentation of the case against the accused.

In addition to Sergeant Detective Powers and Detective Biddiscombe, B. L. Scott, assistant superintendent of the Pinkerton agency of Boston, will testify in the case.

The Norris case differs considerably from the McAuley case, and the defence in each will necessarily be along different lines. In the Norris case, O'Brien one of the accused, has through his confession, involved himself as an accomplice after the fact, at the same time implicating Spellman as the murderer. In his confession he does not say that Spellman is the murderer, nor that he saw him kill Norris. He simply says that he heard a crash and a groan—his back being turned at the time—that he turned around, and then saw Norris lying on the ground, and Spellman a few feet behind him.

O'Brien has confessed to his share in the crime, his counsel, W. M. Ryan, will be faced with the problem of establishing any extenuating circumstances which may have accounted for the unfortunate man's behaviour. Neither Spellman or his counsel G. Earle Logan, have yet made a statement, so that his defence will not be known until his trial. It is doubtful if either counsel will contest much of the evidence offered at the preliminary hearing.

John Paris. The McAuley case differs in many particulars, in that Paris has made no plea as yet, but as he has testified his innocence to the authorities, it may be concluded that he will enter a plea of not guilty.

Beyond the fact that Walter Humphrey will testify in this case, the general public have no knowledge of what evidence will be brought against the prisoner. It is said that several additional witnesses have been summoned for the trial. No counsel has yet undertaken the defence of Paris, but should no lawyers come forth at the preliminary hearing, one will be appointed by the supreme court, should the mulatto be sent up for trial.

Decision Given In Bankruptcy Court

Petition of Derby Lumber Co. for Order of Bankruptcy Set Aside.

The petition of the Derby Lumber Co., asking for an order of bankruptcy against Archibald Alcorn, a prominent lumber dealer of Blackville, was set aside and the motion dismissed, with costs to be paid by the Derby Lumber Co., by His Honor Chief Justice McKeown in the Bankruptcy Court yesterday.

Mr. Alcorn in his defence denied he was indebted to the plaintiff company, or that he was insolvent, and filed a statement showing that he had in addition to property transferred to A. Alcorn Ltd., property of his own in excess of $100,000, and that an audit made by a chartered accountant engaged by the Bank of Nova Scotia, showed that the property transferred to the company was worth more than $400,000, over and above all its liabilities. Albert J. Reilly, K. C. of Moncton, and P. J. Hughes, Fredericton, were counsel for the petitioner; W. P. Jones, K. C. of Woodville, and F. R. Taylor, K. Prohibition "A Flat Failure"

Presidential Possibility Sees the United States Becoming Nation of Liars and Criminals — New Brunswick's Danager.

Governor Edwards, of New Jersey, his former opponent, has given his opinion of Prohibition as it has worked out in the United States. In a recent interview, he said: "Prohibition is a flat failure. It prohibits only one class—those who have not the price. The rich can get all they want. Farmers are still able to brew their own. All they have to do is to prepare the fruit juices, and the Lord ferments them."

"As I see it, one of the principal reasons for the failure of Prohibition is that those entrusted with the enforcement of the law are the most persistent violators. I dare say that hardly more than a dozen men in Congress have empty hip pockets or empty cellars."

"Prohibition is undermining the character of the people. It is making the United States a nation of liars and criminals, for everyone who buys and drinks liquor, in the sight of the law, is a criminal. I have seen more drunkenness in the last two years than ever before. I am not opposed to prohibition because it means personal deprivation of liquor, but because it is an infringement of personal liberty."

"No nation ever became great on a 'thou shalt not' diet. There can be no character without temptation. Our Saviour preached this. No credit is due to a young man or young woman who remains good because he or she is shut up in a glass case."

"I feel sorry for the immigrant who comes here to escape oppression. He soon realizes he is more oppressed than he was in Europe. His main pleasure—enjoying a glass of beer with his family after a hard day's work—is denied him, as I said before, it is only the poor man who can't get it."

Natural History Society Exhibit

Twenty-Seven Specimens of Manufactured Articles from Clay Presented.

A valuable and interesting addition has been made to the Natural History Society's exhibit of the natural resources of New Brunswick, through the courtesy of the Federal department of Lands and Mines. The department has presented the museum with 27 specimens of glazed pottery ware, hollow brick building tile, and fire brick, obtained and manufactured from clay secured from different clay pits in this province.

The glazed pottery exhibits consist of small vases made from natural clay, glazed in cobalt blue, blue green, and amber brown. The results obtained from the experiment proved most satisfactory and pleasing, comparing favorably with any of the imported varieties offered the buying public and indicating that a wide field awaits the enterprising manufacturer who first devotes his attention to this field of endeavor.

Cakes, coffee, ice cream and soft drinks will be served to the men and everything possible provided in the way of entertainment to make the evening enjoyable.

ornamental tiling such as is used in bath rooms, hotel lobbies, etc., are also comprised in the collection. The specimens secured were pressed brick from shale from the Rothwell Coal Co., of Grand Lake. The shale is obtained from below the coal seam, and would indicate that a remunerative industry might be developed, in conjunction with the coal mine, brick clay from Ryan's brick yard, Fredericton, fire clay from the Newcastle Creek, potters' clay from Newcastle, paving brick shale from the Ridge Coal Co., Grand Lake, and potters' clay from the clay pit of Foster's Pottery, St. John.
