Halifax Herald Makes Strong Plea for an Increase of Wages

(Halifax Herald)

Thanks to good organization the majority of the employees of the I. C. R. are well paid. It took them years to accomplish it, but they got there at last.

There is however yet a considerable number of those who are not organized, who are paid away below the average standard of wages received by the higher paid, the organized employees. There are those who tell us that the high rate of wages paid certain employees was voluntary on the part of the government, but the fact that the unorganized men have been overlooked to a very large extent in the general increases that have been conceded causes that claim to lose much, if not all of its force. Some members of parliament should take up the case of the unorganized men in the employ of the I. C. R. and see to it that they receive their just rights. For instance there are the I. C. R. police said to be as fine a body of public servants of that kind as are to be found on any railway in Canada, and as poorly paid as any in the service of the government of Canada. There are about twenty of them, their wages averaging $45 a month.

Taking into consideration the number of hours they are found to work each day they are paid about ten cents an hour, this for every day in the year, that is Sunday not excluded; this in view of the fact that labourers in the employ of the city of Halifax, thanks to ex-Mayor Crosby, and those of the city council who supported him (a unanimous vote I believe) are paid sixteen cents an hour. It will be seen that the city of Halifax is leading the government of Canada in the matter of paying unskilled labor a living wage. The city of St. John, it may be pointed out, recently increased the pay of its policemen. All these increases were granted because the civic government of the two leading maritime provinces cities recognized that it was necessary by reason of the increase in the cost of living. It may be noted en passant that previous to the recent increase the St. John policemen were receiving, for less hours of labor, the same rate of wages, as the I. C. R. police are receiving.

Then again policemen on the C. P. R. and the G. T. R. are much better paid than those on the

QUEBEC LEGISLATURE

Is Prorogued. Business Concluded Saturday Night

Montreal, May 22.—A special from Quebec dated Saturday evening, says: Prorogation of the Quebec legislature occurred at half-past nine tonight and was a quiet cold and informal affair on account of the lateness of the hour. No dignitaries were present outside of a couple of deputy ministers. There were comparatively few ladies in attendance and there was no escort and no guard of honor. A number of officers formed a military staff for the Lieutenant Governor who was also attended by all the cabinet Ministers with the exception of Hon Mr. Tessier.

The session, which closed tonight opened on the 2nd of March and adjourned on the 23rd until the 25th of April. During its continuance 105 petitions were presented, 80 orders and addresses were voted, 77 returns brought down, including ten of last session, and 182 bills were introduced, 177 in the Assembly and 5 in the Council.

I. C. R. the wages ranging from $55 to $100 per month, the higher rate for men who are sent out along the line to do special work. I. C. R. men receive the same rate, $45 a month, no matter whether called on to do station work or special work, the latter out along the line. Much of the work they are called on to do is of a very disagreeable nature. That the I. C. R. Police force is composed of a very useful and competent body of men goes without saying; therefore they should be appreciated by the government at their true value, and paid accordingly. For them and all other employees of the road The Herald enters an earnest plea that they be paid a decent living wage. The argument used by some that they are paid as much as men doing similar work for private and municipal corporations does not alter the case. The government should lead in the matter of paying living wages, not as it does in some cases fall below the standard set by private and municipal corporations.

"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harlan, Mich. SIGNAL APPARATUS

For the I. C. R. will be Tested Between Moncton and Painswick Junction

Railway men are looking forward with a great deal of interest to the trial about to be given to an automatic electric signalling device for the protection of moving trains, and which is to be installed on the Intercolonial Railway between Moncton and Painswick Junction. This device is the property of the McPhee Automatic Signalling Company, of 103 Bay St., Toronto, and is the invention of Mr. Claude D. McPhee, of Arnprior, Ont. Several New Brunswick capitalists are interested in this company, and it is the opinion of those who have studied their patent that they have a good thing, their apparatus being one of the most complete block-signals in existence.

The object of the invention is to prevent head-on and rear-end collisions, and derailments on account of open switches. With this in view the line is divided into blocks of any desired length, usually one mile, and the rails in each block or mile section are then bonded, so as to make them continuous and the rails are then used instead of wires for transmitting the electricity for the operation of the signals. Visible signals in the shape of small semaphores are placed at the end of each block. On each locomotive a small attachment is placed, consisting of double magnets and interlocking clutch controlling a valve on the air brake pipe line of the train.

When in operation, should any block (or track section) be occupied by a train, or should any switch in that section be carelessly or maliciously left open, then the small semaphores at either end of the block will go to danger, and remain so until the block is clear or the switch closed, as the case may be. When the semaphores show the block ahead to be occupied, it is the duty of the engineer to stop his train, but for any reason this is not done and his train enters a block with signals at danger, then the arrangement on the engine, as mentioned above, will automatically set the air brakes for a service stop, and if still disregarded, will, in one-half minute, make an emergency application of the brakes.

A start is to be made at the installation in about a week, and the Moncton-Painswick section was selected for the test as being one of the busiest pieces of the Railway in the summer months.—Transcript.

GRAND DIVISION.

Would Form Alliance With Other Provincial Orders.

ORDER FLOURISHING.

Work of St. John Dist. Division Commended. Praise for Michael Kelly.

NEWCASTLE, N. B. May 18.—The Grand Division S. of T. re-assembled this morning. The committee on the state of the order reported the order in flourishing condition, that Organizer Kelly was doing good work and that particularly good work was being done by the St. John district division.

On motion it was resolved that a committee of three be appointed to consider if a change is advisable in the constitution of the district divisions and to report to the next annual session.

On motion it was resolved that this grand division authorize the organization of a district division for Kent and Northumberland counties as soon as divisions of those counties desire.

On motion of Messrs Stuart and Anslow it was unanimously resolved that this grand division appoint a standing committee to act with similar committees from other provincial temperance organizations regarding political action, propagation of work and all other questions of mutual interest. The committees appointed are H. C. Tilley, E. A. Everett, H. H. Stuart, H. B. Anslow, Thomas A. Clarke and James Falconer. Adjourned.

Representatives of Kent and Northumberland divisions then met and decided to organize a district division at its first meeting at Newcastle in September next.

The committee to consider co-operation with other temperance organizations met this afternoon and the grand scribe was directed to prepare a communication to be sent to the chief officer of the Independent Order of Good Templars, Royal Templars of Temperance and Temple of Honor concerning a working agreement. A public meeting was held this evening. The speakers were Messrs. Tilley, Stuart and Everett. Mr. Tilley thoroughly showed the injurious, physical mental and moral effects of cigarettes and alcohol, and quoted Sir Frederick Treves declaring that alcohol was a poison.

Mr. Stuart spoke of the desirability of uniting the Temperance orders into a close alliance.—Globe.

SANFORD AT SHILOH.

Is Much Refreshed by Trip
to Miramichi Woods,

MANSLAUGHTER CASE

Will Probably Come up This Week. Baptist Minister
Will be Witness.

AUBURN, Me., May 18.—The Rev. Frank W. Sanford, of Shiloh, Durham, was here today in consultation with his attorneys, the Hon. H. W.
Oakes and H. E. Coolidge of Lisbon
Falls. Their talk concerned principally Mr. Sanford's approaching trial for manslaughter at Farmington. He appears refreshed as a result of his recent outing in the Miramichi region.
Messrs. Coolidge and Oakes laugh at the suggestion put forth that Mr.
Sanford was out of the state to avoid answering the manslaughter indictment.

"It would be the height of folly for him to default the case," said Attorney Coolidge. "His sureties would have to pay, and he would be liable to arrest on the indictment just the same if he ever appeared in this state again."

Mr. Sanford was closeted with his counsel about two hours, after which he returned to Shiloh, and attorneys called on Justice Spear of the Supreme Court, who has yet to hand down his written decree in the Dunlap case. He has merely formally confirmed the decree of the lower court up to this time.

It is expected that the manslaughter
case will come up for trial at Farmington the last of next week.

Avon, May 18.—The Rev. N. H.
Harriman, of the Baptist church of this town, whose exposure of affairs at Shiloh (Me.), and the influence of "Elijah" Sanford have resulted in resulted in repeated sensations recently, has issued a statement to his pa-risoners in this district, in which he tells how he became a Sanford devotee and correct some impressions which might be formed from the testimony given at the Dunlap trial.

He says he never whipped his boy
"until the blood came," as has gone abroad, and while loyal to the faith during his residence there, he is glad that he can say that whatever of severity was practised, he did not do this thing. On this he says:

"All true Shilohites are severe, and some are cruel. They apply strictly all teachings about 'exact righteousness,'
and being 'fair and clear and terrible,' especially 'terrible,' and about 'ruining one's house,' and such teachings seem very plausible in the severe atmosphere of Shiloh. I do not doubt that I was severe with the rest, for I was 'loyal.' But I am glad that I never did that thing. Other men, no doubt as good as I did, but I am thankful that I never did."

Mr. Harriman says he will be a witness at the trial of Sanford for manslaughter next week and that he has been in communication with the county attorney in regard to summoning witnesses for the prosecution. He expresses the belief that Shiloh will eventually fall, and that he is determined to continue his exposures until that result is obtained.

"I am satisfied," said Mr. Harriman
"that new teaching has been given the people of Shiloh regarding lying.
Sanford taught always, up to the time that we left, to tell the truth or somebody would go to hell, but somebody is manufacturing lies up there now. They have changed tactics and seem no longer afraid to falsify. He must have taught them that they will be excused if they protect him, and that would be sufficient for them."

Other features of Mr. Harriman's statement, issued to-day are as follows:
"I got into Sanfordism through what I now know to have been somewhat fanatical pursuit of ideal Christianity. I sacrificed everything for this.
For 4 years I was engaged in independent work on the Pacific coast, and I left deconsecrated work that I might get nearer the standard of what I considered an ideal church. I had just enough fanaticism in this work

to make me an easy prey of Sanford.
He came to my city, Tacoma, at my invitation, I took him for 10 cents on the dollar. I gave him my implicit confidence, believed everything he said about himself and believed his purpose was true. I went to Shiloh to spend three months and study his
At the end of three months, I was so far enslaved and so fearful of making a mistake if I left him, that I continued until I had fathomed the thing to the bottom.

"Further, in reference to one's enslavement, it must not be forgotten that Sanford's strange claims of being 'Elijah' and 'David,' and the first two witnesses and 'Temech,' the branch and his stranger conduct in the time of the epidemic of smallpox, when the Bartlett boy died, and his son, James Sanford, fasted three days—all this occurred after my complete enslavement, as it was the report of the wild doings coming to us in Jerusalem that opened my eyes. It should further be remembered that one's will is not subdued in a day, but step by step, by nicely adjusted graduation, with the cunning of a madman, and with the skill of a master.

"At the end of three years, without expecting ever again to be independent of Sanford's authority, God suddenly opened my eyes to see that the man was either a trickster or insane, or both. And, braving all his threats, that mean very much to one who had become his slave, I left him, or his party
in Jerusalem and returned to America, solemnly pledged to God, who had delivered me, that I would do every legitimate thing that I could to deliver those who are enslaved as I was and prevent others from joining them.
This I have been doing as occasion offered, and expect to continue to do as long as there is anything I can do, disagreeable and humiliating as it is.

Portland, Me., May 17.—The Rev. F.
W. Sanford's yacht Wanderer, which left Portland Harbor Sunday night, has returned. Late this afternoon two men and a woman, heavily laden with baggage, arrived at the wharf nearest the Wanderer's berth, signalled her,
and a small boat was sent ashore and took them out to the yacht.

Scheme Tunnel Down by Executive of Canadian Manufacturers

Toronto May 18.—The proposal that the government should construct a ten million dollar tunnel between New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island,
did not secure the endorsement of the executive council of the Canadian manufacturers at its meeting today. It was felt the information placed before the council
by Rev. Father Burke, of Prince Edward Island, who had advocated the tunnel scheme, was not sufficient to warrant the commendation of the association.

A number of batteries will be added. These and the established batteries are grouped into brigades.
ammunition columns are added to the various batteries for the first time, and an ammunition park is to be organized at Montreal. This all concerns field artillery. The changes in the Garrison artillery branch are not so great. They consist chiefly in the conversion of small companies into larger ones
and placing the garrison artillery
generally on a higher establishment.
The field artillery will be organized in two.

(a) Batteries comprising two sections of two subsections each.

(b) Brigades comprising three batteries and an ammunition column.

The organization of additional batteries is authorized; 14th battery in Nova Scotia; 19th battery in St. John, N. B.; 16th battery in military district No. 7, Quebec
21st battery in Montreal; 22nd

Military district No. 8 is going to be 4th field artillery brigade, consisting of 10th Woodstock and the 12th Newcastle field batteries, with an ammunition column. No.
16, St. John battery, is unbrigaded.

The ultimate purpose is to add batteries until ten of the field artillery brigades have three of them.
3rd Regt. G. A. at St. John, Nos.
1, 2, 3 and 4 companies, will be merged into three companies on the higher establishment garrison artillery; 4th Regt. C. A., Charlottetown, Nos. 1 and 2 companies, will become No. 1 company; 3 and 4, No. 2; 5 and 6, No. 3 company.

All Canada will await with some anxiety the development of Great Britain's action in the matter of Captain Ryan and fourteen Canadian sailors who have been sentenced to imprisonment in Uruguay. These men have been found guilty by the courts of that country, and while that proves nothing in particular, they may really be guilty of seal-poaching, and quite probably they are. But Canadians do not know that the common sailors should have been punished at all, or that the acts of the schooner's officers merited the sentences imposed. It will be some satisfaction to have early knowledge that the British Government is going to the bottom of the case, and that the prisoners have been informed of the steps in progress. Even should release or reduction of sentence be now impossible, a strong show of official interest may mean that the Canadians will receive the decent treatment which sometimes is not accorded foreigners in South American jails. It is known that these men have already suffered long detention, but many facts which by this time should be public property here are apparently still lacking. In some instances British consuls have been careless in such matters, or have been too ready to accept the views of the officials in the countries to which they were accredited. There were some cases of this sort in Cuba a few years ago, when the British Consular service was very lax as compared with the American service under the perhaps too energetic direction of the late General Fitzbrygh Lee. The official machinery moves slowly sometimes and strong representations from Canada to London would seem to be in order now.—Ex.

Why Suffer from Rheumatism

Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief which this Liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost. Many who have used it only for a short relief from suffering have been happily surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent. Mrs. V. H. Leggett of Yum Yum, Tennessee, U. S. A., writes:—"I am a great sufferer from Rheumatism, all over from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain." For sale by all druggists.

OBITUARY

Wm G. McBeath—Born at Black River, Minnesota, January 21st 1836. Died very suddenly at Tide Head at five o'clock in the afternoon. Was drinking a cup of tea and did not change his position from where Mary his daughter left him one minute before till she got back. Tea cup was half empty lying in his lap. Came to Restigouche when about 14 years old. Settled in Glencoe and followed lumbering as an occupation. His death removes the last of the old time lumbermen of the Restigouche. He was an expert cruiser and judge of lumber lands. The mysterious death of his son Randolph some years ago was a terrible blow to him and he never rallied from the shock. He was a Liberal in politics and an enthusiastic Scot and loved to talk of the country of his ancestors, and its history. Six sons, five daughters, three brothers and three sisters survive, as follows:—Sons: Donald of Campbellton, William of Vancouver, John, David, Nathaniel and Alexander of Tide Head; daughters Mrs C Adams and Mrs H L Champion of Matapedia, Lizzie, Mary and Annie of Tide Head; Brothers: Donald of Washburn, Wisconsin, David and Duncan of Nelson, B.C.; Sisters: Mrs Flora Nelson, and Maggie of Campbellton and Mrs Harvey Ferguson of St. Paul Minn. His wife, who died some years ago, was a daughter of the late Nathaniel Moores of Moores Settlement.

The funeral was one of the largest ever seen in the county showing the esteem in which the deceased was held by all. The funeral service was conducted by Rev Dr Carr assisted by Rev J W Keirstead. The pall bearers were:—Messrs H F McLatchy, R D Gerrard, John Mair, Thomas Barclay, John T Nelson, Roderick McLeod.

ROBERT A. RAINNIE

Thursday's St John Telegraph says:—"Robert Archibald Rennie died yesterday. He was born near Chatham but made his home in St John for a number of years. Some little time ago his health became poor and he retired from the active service of the I C R, where he was employed more than 35 years. His health did not improve, but his death was unexpected, as he had been about his house as usual Wednesday.

The deceased was unmarried. He is survived by two sisters and two brothers. The latter are Andrew Rennie, of the I C R St John, and James Rennie, manager of the Western Union Telegraph in Sackville. The sisters are Mrs John Dunlop and Miss Rennie, both of this city. The deceased resided with Miss Rennie on Wall street. One of the oldest conductors on I C R in point of service, Mr Rennie has a large circle of friends who will hear of his death with deep regret.

HOPE FOR EVERYBODY

There seems to be no Case so bad that Anti-Pill Cannot cure it, A Strong claim, but well Supported

Just recently a physician in Lincoln, Nebraska, has made a discovery which is exciting the interest and wonder of the medical profession all over the world.

Dr Leonhardt began on the theory that the poisons sent through the system by the rotting and fermentation of undigested foods were the prime cause of nearly every disease.

He set to work to discover, if possible a remedy that would stimulate and heal the mucous membrane lining of the stomach and bowels, till, by their normal, healthy action, perfect digestion would be restored.

He succeeded and his prescription he called Anti-Pill. The proof that his work was well done is found in the long list of remarkable cures made by Anti-Pill.

Anti-Pill is got in a bottle, at all Druggists, or The Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont Sole Agents for Canada.

Victoria Day was a great success as a holiday here. All our stores were closed as well as the Public and Convent Schools. Flags were more prominent than usual. Several picnics were held, the largest at Miguasha P. Q. and Charlo Falls, several parties went fishing.

The convent sisters and their scholars with several ladies belonging to the R. C. church societies went to Mission Point to visit the new church there, they had a special car and passed through Campbellton.

The day which was a beautiful one in every respect closed with a very successful social dance which was held in the Masonic Hall

Dropped all Others

"I dropped all liniments but Nerviline because I found Nerviline the quickest to relieve pain," writes E. S. Benton of St John's. "If my children are croupy or sick, Nerviline cures them. If a case of cramps or stomach ache turns up, Nerviline is ever ready. We use Nerviline for neuralgia, rheumatism and all kinds of aches and pains; it's as good as any doctor." The Great Canadian Remedy for the past fifty years has been Polson's Nerviline—nothing better made.

ELECTRICITY

AS A PURIFYING AGENT FOR FOOD PRODUCTS.

How modern science is utilizing nature's powerful agent to purify, sterilize and improve our food.

We have been so accustomed in the past to hearing almost weekly of some new and marvellous development in the field of electrical science, that we are now not greatly surprised at any new mechanical application of electricity—the wireless telegraph, the telephone, electric motor and the marvellous X Rays.

Many of the wonderful inventions of Edison and others are now past history and accepted facts, but scientists have been busy experimenting with the electric current for other than mechanical purposes, apply it in the practice of medicine as well as in the arts, sciences and manufactures.

The latest but by no means the least important application of the electric current for the purification and sterilization of various food products.

Experiments along these lines have been carried on for some years past, but the recent discovery of the value of the electrical current for the purification and sterilization of flour, has attracted wide-spread attention, as everyone is naturally interested in anything pertaining to the purification of food.

It was generally considered, that with the improved machinery now employed in thoroughly up-to-date mills, that the milling of flour has practically reached perfection; and in so far as the handling of the flour during the process of manufacture is concerned this is no doubt quite true; but the discovery of the Electrical process makes it possible to greatly improve the finished product.

The new process is extremely interesting; briefly it consists in purifying air by passing it through a tremendous electrical flame, the action of this flame upon the air being something in the nature of the action of lightning in the air; the flour is then passed through specially designed purifying machines where it is subjected to the action of the electrically purified air, and the results are certainly little less than marvellous.

The finished flour emerges from the electrical purifiers, a beautiful silvery white color, perfectly sterilized and absolutely pure. The quality is improved as well as the appearance, the purified flour is freed from every particle of the nonnutritive portion of the wheat, viz: the branny particles, leaving only a perfect flour containing the greatest amount of nutriment in its most easily assimilable form which makes a bread silvery white in color, pure, wholesome and delicious to the taste.

Many of the leading scientists in Great Britain, France and other countries were at first disinclined to accept the claims made as to the benefits to be derived from the electrical purification of various food products, but subsequent, thorough and extensive experiments covering a period of over two years, have conclusively shown that these electrical processes not only purify but sterilize and improve the various other qualities of flour and similar food products.

That the patents covering these processes are valuable, is evidenced by the extensive litigation in which the various patents are involved in both England and the United States, from which is disclosed the fact that actually every large and important miller in both countries has adopted some one or other of the various patents—systems in his mills and this is perhaps the most conclusive evidence of the merit of the process.

In view of the apparent great improvement in the wholesomeness and nutritive qualities of flour by use of these inventions, it is hoped that it may not be long before every miller will adopt the electrical system of purification.

The great and growing question of the day is the purification of food products; therefore everything that contributes to that end is hailed as a boon to humanity. No expense should be spared to bring every food product to the highest possible degree of purity.

Town Council meets tonight in the Council Chambers for transaction of business.

Methodist preaching service will be held at Matapedia on Sabbath afternoon next at 7.30 Eastern Standard.

The Vancouver News Advertiser of recent date has an interesting account of the College field day sports in that city. We notice that Ernie Murray distinguishes himself capturing seven firsts and one third. He was awarded the senior championship gold medal having won the greatest number of points. He is a son of Charles W. Murray who visited Campbellton last summer.

The Rev E. R. Roy Church of England Travelling missionary in the Matapedia Valley Mission will D. V. conduct services as follows for the next week.—At Migusha on Friday May 26th at 7.30 p. m., Matapedia Sunday 28th at 10.30 a. m., Dawsonville Sunday 28th 3 p. m., Grand Casapedia, Monday 29th 7.30 p. m., Black Cape, Wednesday 31st 7.30 p. m.

The all absorbing topic of the day seems to be "are you going to the circus?" The answer on every hand was "why, certainly," and when one stops to reflect over the fact that such attractions as the Pontiac Zouaves, the finest drilled soldiers in all the world will be here, and the marvelous train—Seals and Sea Lions, that can sing comic songs and play musical instruments, and do things that do not seem possible, and in view of the fact that this wonderful zoologic, ethnologic, equine and hippodromic exhibition is the superior of all similar entertainments, employing as it does more cars to transport it, more people to conduct its various departments more horses, wagons, larger tents and the greatest number of performers ever amassed under one management, it is not surprising that it is to-day the world's representative show.

We suggest to out-of-town people the advisability of coming to town early so as not to miss the grand street parade that takes place daily at 10 a. m., rain or shine. It contains five bands of music, ten kinds of music in all, including the grand golden steam callopie, a band of real Scottish bagpipers, and several musical novelties absolutely new to the American people. There is a whole caravan of massive carved cages, gilded chariots, mounted knights and ladies, a score of comical clowns, herds of elephants, camels, nigger ponies, and the finest collection of highly bred horses ever brought to this country. After all the parade is only preliminary to the most remarkable exhibition of aerial, hippodromic and zoologic marvels ever collected by man.

Will exhibit in Campbellton June 6th Tuesday.

THE HOLIDAY

Victoria Day was observed as a public holiday. All places of business were closed and many people were out of town, for the day. The several fishing pools were well patronized. Good catches of trout were made at Parker Lake by the many fishing at that pool. Tide Head teemed with disciples of Isaac Walton but the fish were very scarce. A few large trout were landed but the number of fish caught was very small compared with the number of anglers.

Physically Exhausted

Lacking in courage—out of joint with everything—scarcely on speaking terms with even fair health. Such low spirits are pitiable. Your brain is fagged, vitality so exhausted your constitution is well nigh ruined. What you need now is Ferrozone, that great vitalizer and nutritive tonic. It's by making flesh and blood, by infusing iron and oxygen into the system that Ferrozone helps; it repairs weak spots, instills new life into worn-out organs—makes you feel like new. Ferrozone lifts age from the old and imparts resilience and buoyancy to the depressed. Be manly, ruddy-colored, cast aside weakness and enter the happy life that comes from using Ferrozone. ARE YOUR KIDNEYS SICK?

Let your morning urine stand for 24 hours in a glass or vessel, and then if it is milky or cloudy, or contains a reddish brick-dust sediment, or if particles or germs float about in it, your kidneys are diseased. If the kidneys are well they filter just so much blood, but if they are sick or weak from any cause, they leave the poison in the blood, and this poison affects the entire system.

It is natural to pass urine three times a day, but many who regard themselves as healthy are obliged to pass water six to ten times daily and are obliged to get up frequently during the night. They have sick kidneys and bladder, and don't know it. Smith's Buchu Lithia Pills cure Rheumatism and all Kidney and Bladder diseases, and make new, rich blood.

We will send you a generous sample post paid free, together with our large book on the above mentioned diseases. Address, W. F. Smith Co., 185 St. James Street, Montreal, Canada.

The Gentleman From Indiana

By BOOTH TARKINGTON

Copyright, 1899, by Doubleday & McClure Co.

Early near the forge began to scream and kept on screaming.
On came the farmers and the men of Plattsburg. They took the alarm at a run, hurried down the crazy door with a fence rail and swarmed inside like busy insects, making the place hum like a hive, but with the better industries of destruction. It was empty of life as a tomb, but they beat and tore and battered and broke and hammered and shattered like madmen; they reduced the tawdry interior to a mere chaos and came pouring forth laden with trophies of ruin, and then there was a chatty smile in the air, and a slender feather of smoke floated up from the second story window.
At the same time Watts led an assault on the adjoining house, an assault which came to a sudden pause, for from cracks in the front wall a squirrel rifle and a shotgun snapped and banged, and the crowd fell back in disorder. Homer Tibbs had a hat blown away, full of buckshot holes, while Mr. Watts soliloquized, examined a small aperture in the skirts of his brown coat. The house commanded the road, and the rush of the mob into the village was checked, but only for the instant. A risky wooden shed, which formed a portion of the Skillet mansion closely joined the "Last Chance" side of the family place of business. Scarcely had the guns of the defenders sounded when, with a loud shout, Lige Willets leaped from an upper window on that side of the burning saloon and landed on the wooden shed, and immediately climbing the roof of the mansion itself, applied a brand to the dry, time worn clapboards. Ross Schofield dropped on the wooden shed close behind him, his arm lovingly enfolding a gallon jug of whisky, which he emptied (not without evident regret) upon the clapboards as Lige fired them. Flames burst forth almost instantly, and the smoke, uniting with that from the saloon, went up to heaven in a cumulous, gray column.

As the flames began to spread there was a rapid fusillade from the rear of the house, and a hundred men and more, who had kept on through the fields to their shots passed clear through the flimsy partitions, and there was a screaming like beasts' howls from within. The front door was thrown open, and a lean, fierce eyed girl, with a case knife in her hand, ran out in the face of the mob. At sound of the shots in the rear they had begun to advance on the house a second time, and Hartley Bowdler was the nearest man to the girl. With awful words and shrieking unconsciously she made straight at Hartley and attacked him with the knife. She struck at him again and again, and in her anguish of hate and fear she was so extraordinary a spectacle that she gained for her companions the seconds they needed to escape from

She made straight at Hartley, missive in his hand, a Western Union telegram form. "Warren Smith, Plattsburg," was the direction.

Found both shell men. Police familiar with both, and both wanted here. One arrested at noon in secondhand clothes to dispose torn full dress coat known to have been worn by Hartless last night. Station lying believed blood. Second man found later at freight yards in empty lumber car left Plattsburg 1 p.m. badly hurt shot and bruised. Removed to less made hard right. Hurt man taken to hospital unconscious. Will die. Other man refused to talk so far. Check any movement Crossroads. This clears Skillet, etc. Come over on this accommodation.

The telegram was signed by Horner, the sheriff, and by Barrett, the superintendent of police at Rouen.

"It's all a mistake, boys," the lawyer said as he handed the paper to Watts and Parker for inspection. "The ladies at the judge's were mistaken, that's all, and this proves it. It's easy enough to understand. They were frightened by the storm, and watching a fence a quarter of a mile away by flashes of lightning any one would have been confused, and imagined all the horrors on earth. I don't deny but what I believed it for awhile, and I don't deny but the Crossroads is pretty tough, but you've done a good deal here already today, and we've saved in time from a mistake that would have turned out mighty bad. This settles it. Horner got a wire to go soon as they got track of the first man. That was when we saw him on the Rouen accommodation."

A slightly cracked voice, yet a huskily tuneful one, was lifted quaveringly on the air from the roadside, where an old man and a yellow dog sat in the dust together, the latter relieved at the first moment, his surprised head rickily garlanded with a hasty wreath of dog-fennel daisies.
"John Brown's body lies a-moldering in the ground,"
"Three-quarters of an hour later the inhabitants of the Crossroads, saved, they knew not how; guilty, knowing nothing of the fantastic pendulum of opinion which, swinging by the events of the day, had marked the fatal moment of guilt now on others, now on them who deserved it—these natives and refugees, conscious of atrocity, dumfounded by a miracle, thinking the world gone mad, hovered together in a dark, ragged mass at the crossing corners, while the skeleton of the rotting buggy in the slop rose behind them against the face of the west. They peered with stupefied eyes through the smoky twilight.

From afar, faintly through the gloaming, came mournfully to their ears the many voiced refrain, fainter, fainter:
"John Brown's body lies a-moldering in the ground."
"John Brown's body lies a-moldering in the ground,"
"John Brown's body lies a-moldering in the ground."
"We go march * * * on."

CHAPTER X.

A T city hospital in the Rouen that night a stout young man introduced himself to Barrett, superintendent of police; Warren Smith and Horner, sheriff of the county. He spoke in a low voice. "My name is Meredith," he said. "Heardless was an old and—" He paused for a moment. The Plattsburg men nodded solemnly. "An old and—" He spoke in a low voice. "Heardless was an old and—" He paused for a moment. The Plattsburg men nodded solemnly. "An old and—"

"You can come in and see this man, the sheriff, Warren Smith, Mr. Meredith," said the superintendent. "Your friend made it very hot for him before the two of 'em got away with him. He's shot and hacked up his mother wouldn't have him if she wanted to. At least that's what they say out here. We haven't seen him. He's called Jerry the Teller, and one of my sergeants found him in the freight yard. Knew it was the Teller, because he was wearing away in one of the empty cars that came from Plattsburg last night. And Slattery—that's his running mate, the one caught with the coat and hat—owned up that they best their way on that freight. Looks like Slattery—let the Teller do all the fighting. He ain't scratched. We've been with him since that night, and he won't open his head, and we hope to get something out of this one. He's delicious, but they say he'll come to before he dies. Do you want to go in with us?"

"Yes," said Meredith simply, and a young surgeon presently appeared and led them down a wide corridor and up a narrow hall, and they entered a small, quiet ward.
There was a pungent smell of chemicals in the room. The light was low, and the dimness was imbued with a thick, confused murmur, incoherent whisperings that came from a cot in the corner. It was the only cot in use in the ward, and Meredith was conscious of a terror that made him dread to look at it, to go near it. Beside it a nurse sat silent, and upon it feebly tossed the naked body of him whom Barrett had called Jerry the Teller.

The head was a shapeless bundle, so swathed it was with bandages and cloths, and what part of the face was visible was discolored and pigmented with drugs. Stretched under the white sheet the man looked immensely tall—as Horner saw with vague mingling—and he lay in an odd, inhuman fashion, as though he had been all broken to pieces. His attempts to move were constantly soothed by the nurse, and he as constantly continued such attempts, and one hand, though torn and bandaged, was not to be restrained from a wandering, restless movement that Meredith felt to be pathetic. He had entered the room with a stare of hate for the thing whom he had come to see die and who had struck down the old friend whose nearness he had never known until it was too late. But at first sight of the broken figure he felt all animosity fall away from him. Only awe remained and a growing traitorous pity as he watched the long white fingers of the Teller pick at the coverlet. The man was muttering rapid fragments of words and syllables.
"Somehow I feel a sense of wrong, Gay," Meredith whispered to the surgeon, whom he knew. "I feel as if I had done the fellow to death myself, as if it were all out of gear. I know now how Henry felt over the great guisard. How tall he looks! That doesn't seem to me like a thug's hand." The surgeon nodded. "Of course it there's a mistake to be made you can count on Barrett and his sergeants to make it. I doubt if this is their man. When they found him, what clothes he wore were torn and stained, but they had been good once, especially the linen."

Barrett bent over the recumbent figure. "See here, Jerry," he said. "I want to talk to you a little. Rouse up, will you? I want to talk to you as a friend."

The incoherent muttering continued. "See here, Jerry," he said. "I want to talk to you a little. Rouse up, will you? I want to talk to you as a friend."

"Let me," said Gay and swiftly interposed. Bending over the cot, he said in a pleasant, genial voice, "old man, it's all right. Slattery wants to know what you did with that man down at Plattsburg when you got through with him. He can't remember, and he thinks there was money left on him. Slattery's head was hurt. He can't remember. He'll go shares with you when he gets it. Slattery's going to stand by you if he can get the money."

The Teller uttered a short, gasping cry. "Let me," said Gay and swiftly interposed. Bending over the cot, he said in a pleasant, genial voice, "old man, it's all right. Slattery wants to know what you did with that man down at Plattsburg when you got through with him. He can't remember, and he thinks there was money left on him. Slattery's head was hurt. He can't remember. He'll go shares with you when he gets it. Slattery's going to stand by you if he can get the money."

"Slattery wants to know," repeated the young surgeon, gently moving the hand back upon the sheet. "He'll divvy up when he gets it. He'll stand by you, old man."

"Would you please not mind," whispered the Teller faintly—"would you please not mind if you took care not to brush against my shoulder again?"

The surgeon drew back, with an exclamation, but the Teller's whisper gathered strength, and they heard him murmuring oddly to himself. Meredith moved forward, with a startled gesture. "What's that?" he said. "Seems to be trying to sing, or something," said Barrett, bending over to listen.

The Teller swung his arm heavily over the side of the cot, the fingers never ceasing their painful twitching. The surgeon leaned down and gently moved the cloth so that the white, scarred lips were free. They moved steadily. They seemed to be forming some semblance of an old ballad that Meredith knew. The whisper grew more distinct. It became a rich but broken voice, and they heard it singing like the sound of some far, halting minstrelsy:
"Wave yellow—murmur waters—golden sunbeams smile, Barthly—muse—cannot—waken—lovely—Annie Lige."

Meredith gave an exclamation. The bandaged hand waved faintly over the Teller's head. "Ah, men," he said, almost clearly, and tried to lift himself on his arm, "I tell you it's a grand eleven we have this year! There will be little left of anything that stands against them. It's our championship. Did you see Jim Romley ride over his man this afternoon?"

As the voice grew clearer the sheriff stepped forward, but Tom Meredith, with a loud cry of grief, threw himself on his knees beside the cot, and seized the wandering fingers in his own. "John," he cried. "John, is it you?"

Many Women Suffer Untold Agony From Kidney Trouble.
Very often they think it is from so-called female disease. There is less female trouble than they think. Women suffer from backache, sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, and a dragging-down feeling in the loins. So do men, and they do not have "female troubles." Why, then, blame all your trouble to female disease? With healthy kidneys, few women will ever have "female disorders." The kidneys are so closely connected with all the internal organs, that when the kidneys go wrong, everything goes wrong. Much distress would be saved if women would only take

Miss Nellie Clark, Lambeth, Ont., tells of her cure in the following words:—"I suffered for about two years with kidney trouble. I ached all over, especially in the small of my back; not being able to sleep well, no appetite, menstruation irregular, nervous irritability, and brick-dust deposit in urine, were some of my symptoms. I took Doan's Kidney Pills. The pain in my back gradually left me, my appetite returned, I slept well, and am effectively cured. Beware of Imitations of the Celebrated

DIAMOND DYES.

The Manufacturers of Crude and Weak Dyes Offer Premiums to Druggists and Dealers to Sell Them to Unsuspecting Women.

Diamond Dyes have a most enviable past and present history for successes in home dyeing. Their fast, rich, and fashionable colors have made them the most noted home dyes in the world.

The imitation and crude dyes made and sold for the immense profits they bring the makers of such trash, only results in dire destruction to useful and expensive goods requiring re-coloring. These adulterated dyes may be tolerated by some section of our Indian population, but wise, prudent and cultured women select Diamond Dyes when they need pure, full and brilliant colors for home dyeing.

The proprietors of Diamond Dyes are not obliged to offer premiums to druggists and dealers who sell their dyes. Our progressive retailers, whose chief aim is to sell their customers the best dyes, do not ask for inducements to sell Diamond Dyes; they are satisfied with the profits they make on their vast and daily increasing sales of Diamond Dyes.

It is the manufacturer of the common and crude dyes who is obliged to offer a few paltry cents per dozen to storekeepers to get them to introduce and push their deceptive dyes. It is not the retailer of the common dyes that should be paid by the manufacturers, it is the choice of 48 colors, thirty-two for wool and silk and sixteen for cotton and all mixed goods, each dye guaranteed to do its special work.

Makers of the adulterated dyes deceive people when they tell them that any one of their dyes will color any fabric. Such a statement is stupidly false.

It is asserted by the ablest color chemists that the Diamond dyes are the only correct and reliable colors for home use, and these experts hold that the theory of special colors for wool, silk, cotton add mixed goods, is the true and correct one.

Seeing that imitation and crude dyes are sold by some dealers, ladies who ask for the Diamond Dyes should see that the name "DIAMOND" appears on each package. Remember, "It's easy to die with Diamond Dyes."

(Copied from a Vancouver B. C. Journal.)

"EXPECTING A FORTUNE"

Wealth of Alexander Kerr of Spokane, may come to Vancouver.

Messrs. John Kerr of Vancouver and Geo. Kerr of Athen, stand in a fair way to get a share of an enormous fortune. In this of course they will share with other brothers and sisters in Eastern Canada. Their grandfather, Gavin Kerr, settled on the shores of the Bay des Chaleurs in 1819. His son James, father of the family was a cousin of the Alexander Kerr who died at Spokane, leaving the immense fortune that has been the subject of a good deal of newspaper comment. It is expected that when the cash is being divided the British Columbia relatives will get their full share.

John Kerr of this city and his brother Geo. now in Athen were prisoners in the hands of the rebel Louis Reil at Batouche. They escaped and got down to Winnipeg. There John joined the Halifax Regiment and later was one of the escort who had charge of Reil after his capture.

CAVALRY FOR FREDERICTON?

Mr. O. S. Crockett, M. P., had a further interview with the minister of Militia before he left Ottawa Friday in regard to military matters at this depot. The minister said that, although no definite decision had as yet been arrived at in the matter, it was in contemplation by the department to substitute a cavalry corp for the infantry which has been stationed here, and the likelihood is the cavalry corp will be established some time during next summer. This corp will consist of ninety eight men with horses. Additional stables, built on modern lines, will be necessary; and the minister stated that the maintenance of the establishment would amount to about double the present expenditure on the infantry. The minister further assured Mr. Crockett that if this plan did not work out, the infantry would be kept up to its present strength so far as possible.—Gleaner.

JUVENILE IMMIGRANTS FOR NEW BRUNSWICK

Hons C H Labilliois and F J Sweeney Have Conference with Mr Gerow of Halifax.

Moncton Times May 23rd.—By pre-arrangement Hon C H Labilliois and Hon F J Sweeney, representing the local government and Mr Frank A Gerow, manager of the Middlemore Home for immigrant children with headquarters at Halifax, had a conference here yesterday afternoon in reference to the proposal to place juvenile immigrants in the province at a cost of $3.00 per head to the local government.

Mr Gerow presented the matter to the representatives of the local government at some length, pointing out the cost of carrying out this immigration scheme and the advantages there were in having juvenile immigrants brought into the country instead of grown people. He pointed out the difficulties those in charge of the Middlemore Home had to contend with and said the province incurs no responsibility in connection with the scheme. The society takes charge of the children until they are 18 years of age. Last session the society secured legislation from the New Brunswick legislature giving the officers of the Home a guardianship over the children until they were able to take care of themselves. Mr Gerow claimed that the advantages of his scheme is that when those children are placed on farms and grow up in the country they become Canadians in every sense of the word, whereas the older class of immigrants retain their nationality and drift to the cities or leave the country altogether in time.

It may be said that 130 children from the Middlemore Home are expected at Halifax now and already some 700 or 800 hundred have been placed in New Brunswick. Over 4,000 have been placed throughout the Dominion at a cost of half a million dollars, collected in the old country, with the exception of $2 per head paid by the Canadian Government.

The proposition made by the manager of the Middlemore Home will be reported to the provincial executive by Messrs Labilliois and Sweeney with recommendations
