ABOUT THE CITY PARKS

Under the Present Management the Parks Will Not Amount to Much.

The Views of President Gammage of the Canadian Horticultural Association.

There Should Be a Park Superintendent-How London's Shade Trees Might Be Improved-Where the Local Horticultural Society Is Lacking

Mr. Wm. W. Gammage, president of Canadian Horticultural Association, in conversation with The Advertiser yesterday afternoon, said: "London is away behind the times in the matter of parks."

parks."
"What should be done to improve Paines them?" he was asked.

"With the parks under the present management I do not think there is much possibility of improving them. For one thing, the citizens are generally satisfied with the way they are at present. For another thing the council is not generously enough disposed to grant sufficient money to make the parks what they should be. There is among the citizens a lack of proper appreciation of the parks. The unsightly thoroughfares which people make across the grass in Victoria Park demonstrates this. I do not think that walking on the grass should be prohibited altogether; but people in making a short-cut across the park should have the common decency to keep on the paths. The grass in Victoria Park should have a thorough

"If the present management is unsatisfactory, under what control should the parks be?"

"It is time that the whole of the parks should be in one system, under the management of a board of commissioners, with a competent superintendent, he to have the supervision of grounds attached to all city and public buildings. Springbank and Queen's Park should be kept as recreation grounds, with a little more ornamentation, but their naturalness not to be eliminated. Some of the 15,000 trees recently purchased for Springbank Park might well be distributed among the other parks of the city."

"If such a system were organized, what would you suggest being done in the way of improvement?"

Well, for one thing, the greenhouse at Victoria Park might be moved to Queen's Park and enlarged and improved. It would then serve the double purpose of furnishing a general supply of plants for the whole system, and also be a place of interest for visitors to the city. Victoria Park could be made of educative value by having the trees, shrubs and herbaceous plants labeled with their common and botanical names. Citizens would then have something to guide them in making selections for their own use. New varieties of plants and trees should be introduced, and there are many details in which the park could be improved. Something should be done also to care for the city's shade trees. London is particularly fortunate in the matter of shade trees, but that is no reason why they should be neglected. One man should supervise the trimming of the trees and prevent everyone from slashing and smashing into them as they choose. An effort should also be made for uniformity in planting. At present one man may plant his trees ten feet apart, and his neighbor pre-fers to have his 30 feet apart. This irregularity could be overcome if the city would have the work done by contract under the supervision of the park superintendent. The board in control of such matters might also agree to replace the trees if they did not live. It would not cost the department as much to do the work as it would an individual, and all the latter would have to do would be to send in his application for the trees. Another evil exists in that many of the shade trees are not trimmed high enough from the ground. When the bottom branches are heavy

"But wouldn't the cost of these improvements be great?" "It would certainly cost more than the present system—or lack of system. But that is very little. London contributes less towards the parks than any city I know of. The human body with rain or snow they are so low that one can not walk under them without stooping. There should be plenty of room under the trees for the free circulation of the air. All this the superintendent would remedy."

MUNYON'S INHALER extra amount required would be more that returned in the advertising the improvements would give the city, to say nothing of the education and pleasure they would afford the cit-

"Why doesn't the local Horticul-tural Society do something along these.

Mr. Gammage regarded the question as an awkward one. "I think it should be one of the objects of the society to offer recommendations on such mat-ters," he said. "It was never the intention of the promoters, when a grant was provided, that the society should exist merely to hold one half-hour session each year, for the purpose of electing officers, or even solely for the giving of prize money for exhibitions as is done by a number of the societies. The object, as I understand it, was for general education, for holding meetings and discussing topics of interest, and introducing new plants, trees and shrubs. I do not want to be misunderstood as casting reflection upon the present management of tion upon the present management of the society. They are merely follow-ing a long-established precedent in holding their yearly meeting as they do and of handing the government grant and all other funds to the Western Fair Association. This is of course but a means to an end—the encouragement of better floriculture by prize-glving—but I think it is insufficient."

Andrew Stokes, a Goderich Boy, Fatally Injured.

Goderich, April 21.-Between 9 and 10 o'clock this morning, as a youth named Andrew Stokes, on a bicycle, and a man named young, in a buggy were turning a corner the wheel and buggy collided, smashing the wheel and throwing the boy off with great violence. After the accident Stokes got up and was walking away, when he suddenly fell to the ground, and was picked up and taken home, when was found that he was internally injured, and broken ribs were press ing on the lungs. The injured lad died six hours after the occurrence, which was supposed to be purely ac-

Paine's Celery Compound is the wonder of the age! Its marvelous form, themes of discussion among the interested medical men, and its cures are talked of at every fireside in Canada. As a spring health-giver Paine's Celery Compound is far beyond competition. Other medicines have been devised by speculators and experimentalists to cure the ailments and diseases that Paine's Celery Compound so successfully copes with, but every effort in the direction of deceiving the public has resulted in failure and disaster to the promoters of fraud and decep-

To a large extent the present popularity of Paine's Celery Compound is due to the fact that it has accomplish-ed some of its grandest work in the spring season—a time when men and women usually complain of ill-health, loss of vitality, tired feeling—a time when people feel dull, listless, despondent and ambitionless.

The usual ills of life, neglected in the spring season often begets serious and fatal diseases.

There are thousands of business men, mechanics, farmers, as well as wives and mothers, who, though able to walk around, are nevertheless sadly "out of health." Paine's Celery Compound is the great health-restorer and strengthgiver for those who are just now perilously near some organic disease. Paine's Celery Compound quickly and surely removes all impurities from the blood, and gives a fresh circulation power that tones all the organs of digestion. Paine's Celery Compound besides producing pure and ruddy blood, will regulate every set of nerves, feed the tissues, and give that true condition of health which makes life worth liv-

If you, dear reader, feel that your health is not as robust and vigorous as it should be at this time of the year, let us ask you to make use of that medicine which has given such won-derful and cheering results to others. Be assured that Paine's Celery Com-pound "makes sick people well."

Mr. McNeill on Preferential Trade-Senator Resurrects the Manitoba School Question.

Ottawa, April 22.-No suggestion was ever accepted with greater alacrity than was Sir Wilfrid Laurier's motion at 3:25 o'clock yesterday afternoon, "that this house do now ad-PREFERENTIAL TRADE.

Mr. Alex. McNeill, M.P., has given notice of a motion concerning preferential trade, in which he details the statements made on the question in 1896, the expressed views of the Duke of Devonshire and the colonial secre-tary's views at the colonial confer-Mr. McNeill's proposed motion concludes as follows: "And this government have not, in response to these repeated advances by the imperial authorities, made any attempt to secure for the produce of Canada that preferential treatment in the markets of the United Kingdom which would be of such inestimable value to the farmers and other producers of Canada (competing against foreign rivals in the markets in the United Kingdom), would set in motion a great tide of immigration to our shores, people the vast wheat areas of the Canadian Northwest, enhance farm values in the older provinces, promote the unity of our empire and speedily deliver it from dangerous dependence upon the foreign food sup-

OTHER BUSINESS. Mr. Blair moved that on Tuesday next the house should go into committee of the whole on the Drummond County Railway purchase resolution. Sir Charles Tupper asked that a later date should be fixed, as he would not be present on Tuesday, and it was agreed on the next government day after Tuesday.

Mr. Mulock made a similar motion in regard to the Pacific cable resolution, and the same arrangement was made. Sir Charles Tupper stated that he noticed with great regret from the newspapers that the secretary of state for the colonies had intimated that the British Government had not yet agreed to this arrangement. He asked the premier to lay on the table all correspondence between himself as high commissioner and the government on this matter, as he thought it would strengthen the hands of the government in an important point. Sir Wilfrid Laurier promised that everything that could be brought down would be brought down. Mr. Foster asked Mr. Fielding if he could give any information as to the probable time when the estimates would be brought down.

Mr. Fielding replied that he was hardly able to fix the time at present, but that at a very early stage an an-nouncement would be made on behalf of the government.

Perley moved for a copy of correspondence between Archbishop Langevin, of Manitoba, and the Fedral Government on the question of schools. Senator Perley, in a somewhat diffuse speech, narrated a conversation between himself and the archbishop, which took place in a train last March. His grace, according to the Senator, had spoken of a letter, which he said he had written to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and had invited his interlocutor to ask for a copy of it, an invitation which the senator accepted. In making the demand Senator Perley said several things, among which were expressions of opinion to the effect that there should be no law prohibiting religious teachings in schools, and a repetition of a rumor which Mr. Perley said he had heard, to the effect that the arch-bishop had accepted "hush money" from some of the ministers.

The minister of justice, in reply to Mr. Perley, stated that there was no official record of any correspondence between the government and Monseigneur Langevin. Senator Perley's remarks regarding the Manitoba school law were dismissed with the statement that the question was not before the house.

Engineer James Graham, 50 Victoria Square, says: "I suffered with Diabetes for six years. One of our best doctors told me I could not be cured.

"I read of Dodd's Kidney Pills and decided to try them. Three boxes made me well, and I have not suffered from Diabetes since." Such cures as this prove the efficacy of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

The special delivery letter system, like that of the United States, is now that the resolution should be debated in operation in ten of the chief cities of Canada.

LIFE SAVED-Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a threet his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good.

NOVEL COURTSHIP

Ended in Happy Wedlock-Slid to Matrimony on a Lightning Rod.

Woodstock, April 22.-Miss Minnie, the second daughter of James Langdon, of East Oxford, was married recently to J. H. Wilson, of Wheeling, West Virginia. There is a romance stranger than fiction about this wed-

Their courtship lasted eighteen months, but neither had seen the other till three days before the marriage. Both were amateur journalists, contributing to the same paper, and the same department of it, "Talk Around the Table." The thoughts expressed by the bride won favor in the mind of the groom, and vice versa. Favor soon ripened into love and an anxiety to know each other. A letter was all the introduction needed. WHITE HAIRED WITH WOE.

Experiences That Have Made Men and Women Grey-Headed Before Their Time-How Physical Suffering Saps Life's Strength.

Intense grief, worry or pain whitens more hairs on people's heads than are whitened by advancing old age; and, it is true that there is a balm somewhere for every mortal ache, thousands of people bear their burdens of suffering through years before they are gladden-ed with the balm which will afford instant, permanent and restorative re-lief to their trials.

"I was blistered Ten different times In as many different places And am now covered with deep, white scars.'

At this stage, a friend suggested a possible remedy. Many others had been tried, and it seemed a mockery to try ly with sharp rights. Handler, how-ever, recovered quickly, and in the 12th somebody else in the town, and the first two doses awoke a sense of confidence that it was also doing its bless-ed work in this case. Before the day was over a decided improvement had begun in the sufferer. All pain had ceased, and, in the calm, soothing rest from the exhaustion of past agonies, he thought of the remedy which was giving him this wondrous relief. Recovery followed quick, and, when completely cured, came the grateful testimonial recounting his experience, and this statement:

RUM AND RHEUMATISM.

Liquor One of the Causes-But There Are Many Others and for All There Is But One Reliable and Infallible Cure.

"You used to have it pretty bad," said the brakeman to the fireman on the train. "What did you do for it?" "Quit drinking."
"No medicine?"

"Oh, yes! Tried lots of them, but none of 'em did any good. But I noticed when I quit liquor for a while I was all right. I swore off a year ago, and felt like a fish til last fall, when I took a few drops with some friends, and I was laid up as bad as ever. Then I swore off again, and I haven't had a touch of it since."

Liquor, no doubt, is the cause of some rheumatic affections. But there are scores of other causes which are beyond human control, and usually beyond human analysis. And when the sufferer writhes in pain, there is no patience for an investigation of the cause of the affliction. In such moments the whole being cries

The Causes of Defeat.

The Opposition papers have a heavy task in explaining to their readers why their leaders are no longer able to hold their own in former Conservative strongholds, as shown in the bye-elections.

First it was Bagot, which till last fall had never once returned a Liberal. Then it sent to Parliament, by a good majority, a supporter of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Now we have Brockville, which for a quarter of a century had never failed to elect a Conservative, and which was fair discussion, and recognizing that gerrymandered in 1882 to make assurence doubly sure.

But in these days of Tupperian-Foster demoralization no constituency that is opened seems willing to identify itself with these found-out politicians.

It is a herculean task that our brethren of the Conservative press take up when they endeavor to explain the

Almost all excuses but the right ones have been made since the great Liberal victory in Brockville.

Mr. White was defeated because the people of Brockville did not want a man whose avowed purpose was merely to use the riding to get back to that assembly from which he had been excluded by the electors of another

Mr. White was defeated because he ran against a popular manufacturer, who had done much for the constitu-

Mr. White was defeated because of the disgraceful attack by the Tuppers on Major Walsh, who is a respected citizen of Brockville.

Mr. White was defeated because the electors had found out the detractors of the Liberal party, who in 1896 shouted that a Liberal victory meant disaster to the Dominion. Canada has since prospered as never before. Mr. White was defeated because the election was held on a purged voters' list. There was no "graveyard" or foreign vote to swamp the votes of the legitimate electorate, as there was in

But the greatest factor in defeating Mr. White was the repugnance of intelligent people to the virulence of Tupperism, to the baseless policy of scandal and the persecution of the Minister of the Interior. It was an intimation to Mr. White and his sponsors that it would be more seemly for them to make some modest atonement for the the election that there was "not one go into retirement for a few years, and bungling, extravagance, corruption and dissentient voice" in the Conservative misgovernment which prevailed prior to their defeat in 1896, than to endeavor to blacken the characters of men who have done better.

Young People's Societies.

discussion going on in the British Weekly, an English religious journal of the first rank, on this important subject. One of the lessons that lie upon the surface is that English people love free and fair discussion, and we are afraid that the Christian Endeavor leaders are somewhat impatient of any kind of criticism. Now, every movement that is to have an abiding influence must stand not only the wear and tear of common life, but also the fair criticism of thoughtful Christian people. If we have confidence that a thing is fitted for highest service, we shall welcome for it full impartial investigation and free discussion.

This particular discussion arose out of the fact that a series of sketches appeared in the journal mentioned above, intended to illustrate the strength and weakness of the Christian Endeavor movement in England. These sketches took the form of a story with fictitious names. We need not now discuss whether that is the best form of such criticism; but it certainly has some advantages. It allows of dramatic pictures and vivid description without being fastened down to definite localities or particular persons. The picture may be ideal, and yet in harmony with actual facts. These sketches were thought by many competent judges to be on the whole very fair, and to have presented not a fancy but a real presentation of the varied facts. That was our opinion as we read them.

But some leaders of the C. E. organizations and members of the "Council" have protested in language more marked by strength than politeness. It seems strange to them that the editor should allow a movement which he admits to be "of God," to be thus freely, and, as they think, unfairly criticised in the columns of his journal. This is in our opinion a peculiar and narrow view. It does not follow that because a movement may be said to be "of God" that It is perfect, free from dangers, and to be abjectly worshiped and accepted by all. In fact, history seems to show that movements which are "of God" are all the better for being subject to a little healthy criticism.

deavored to strengthen the programme. Any one who has had experience in this line knows that some of the most thoughtful and reliable young people have conscientious objections to the essential features of the Christian Endeavorers' movement, which we take to be, first, the pledge; second, the divisions into active and associate members; and third, that which is such an important part of the pledge, the obligation of each member to take, aside from singing, some part in every meeting. These things may be all right for those whom they suit, but those who cannot accept them need not be

We trust that the Christian Endeavor movement has still a good work to do, but this can only be by its leaders encouraging rather than denouncing they have no monopoly of the young peoples' world. The realm of young people is large and varied, and needs varied ministries for literary culture and spiritual development, and in it there is room for many different forces to co-operate harmoniously for the common good.

The Song of the Shirt.

A Montreal dispatch reports that the shirt manufacturers are branching out and enlarging their premises. The Opposition press used to accuse the Government of killing this business. The Mail was chief mourner, and like Antony over the corpse of Caesar, held up the shroud, or, rather, shirt, of the murdered industry, crying tearfully, "See what a rent the envious Laurier made!" The shirt business is getting along on a tariff protection of ten per cent, but we admit that it is entitled to more consideration in view of the heavy tax on cotton cloth.

Now that the Yukon scandal has failed to work, the Opposition will have to fall back on Mulock's postage stamp.

Three hundred questions were asked by the Opposition on Wednesday and Thursday in the House of Commons. Is this a thirst for truth or tittle-tattle?

Literalists who hold that the infernal region is a real lake of fire may be strengthened in their theology by the fact that the Chicago River caught fire the other day.

By the way, for several weeks after the Laurier Government came in, our contemporary the F. P. insisted every day that Laurier hadn't any majority at all in the House!

The Brockville Times declared before ranks in that riding. There seemed to be a lot of dissentient votes, though.

> The United States Government has done itself credit by repealing its narrow law preventing foreign ships from carrying cargoes between the United States and Porto Rico. Our neighbors are learning that a colonial policy must be framed in the interests of the colonles, and not of selfish interests in the governing country.

Mr. McNeill, M.P., gave notice of a motion in the House at Ottawa yesterday in favor of British preferential trade. Mr. McNeill had better transfer his propaganda to the mother country. Until the British people are educated to a desire to grant the colonies a trade preference, Canada's interference will be resented, and may injure the sentimental preference which our pro-British tariff has created there with practical benefit to ourselves.

The Toronto World says that most of the news from Dawson City filters through the American agencies before it reaches Canada, and is therefore unreliable. It was recently published broadcast that Dawson was a hot-bed of typhoid fever. The report has proved to be a lie. Yesterday a dispatch was sent over the wires that a suicidal mania had seized impoverished miners, and also that the hospitals were full of scurvy-stricken people. Doubtless this is a canard, too. Dawson City is the most-lied-about place on earth, but Americans haven't done it all. Canadian politicians have to answer for good deal of the story-telling.

Speaking of the great loss the Liberal party of Great Britain has sustained in the death of Thomas E. The chairman wanted to know what the talk about the O'Callaghan terrace being bonded for $12,000, and being offered to the committee later for $13,000, meant. Ald. Owing to the crowded state of the large hall, all the members of 209a vacated the room, in order that the work might not be incommoded, thus enabling the visitors to witness the work, which was exemplified in a most impressive manner, and with much dramatic effect, in which Bro. White maintained his reputation for excellence of execution.

On the completion of the work, R. W. Bro. Dubber addressed the brethren REMEMBERTHE MAIN(E) point to be considered in flour is what kind of wheat it is made from. Hunt's "Diacongratulating the worshipful master

A PORT HOPE GROCER

Tells how Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills eured him of Shortness of Breath, Dizzy Spells and Nervous-

People from all parts of Canada are gladly coming forward and telling other sufferers how Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure diseases arising from disordered nerves, weak heart or watery blood, where all else has failed.

One of these is Mr. W. A. Carson, the well-known grocer, Port Hope, Ont., who made the following statement:
"For a length of time I was seriously troubled with my heart, causing shortness of breath, nervousness, dizziness, debility,

I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills at Deyell's drug store here, and am very much pleased to tell you that after using them a short time I was entirely cured of my troubles. Not only that but I feel thoroughly built up and restored to health and vigor. "I can highly recommend these remarkable pills to those afflicted with heart or nerve trouble in any form as I believe them to be the best remedy in existence. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure palpitation, dizzy or faint spells, nervousness, sleeplessness, weakness, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, tobacco heart, anæmia, pale and sallow complexion, female complaints, general debility and all diseases arising from a weak or run down condition of the system. Price 50c. a box or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists, or sent by mail. T. MILEURE & Co., TORONTO, ONT.

Commons, while the estimates were under consideration, the advanced Radicals raised the question of the increase of the British troops at the Cape from 3,000 to 9,000 in two years. They suggested that this was intended to coerce the Transvaal, and moved a reduction in the vote. Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman, the opposition leader, said that such a permanent increase was a grave matter.

Mr. A. J. Balfour appealed to the committee not to continue an irritating discussion. He declared that the idea of coercion was "too extravagant to upon," and had never entered the mind of any responsible person. The increase, he said, was due to the necessity of protecting coaling stations, and in part to "conceivable possibilities that might arise."

The committee rejected the motion to reduce the estimate by 150 votes

The Daily Chronicle, commenting upon the discussion, declares itself dissatisfied with the government's explanation. It says: "Why such an increase of regulars when we have a we cannot get a recruit?"

The Johannesburg correspondent of the Times says: The imperial government's decision is anxiously awaited in response to the petition recently forwarded through Mr. Conyngham Green, British agent and charge d'affaires at Pretoria. Everything indicates that the Transvaal would yield to pressure on behalf of the petitioners; but if the present opportunity is missed, capitalists here will almost certainly make peace with the Boer Government at the expense, possibly, of imperial interests."

SUPPORTS GEN. HUTTON.

The London Times, which prints this morning extracts from the adverse criticisms of Major-General Hutton upon the condition of the Canadian forces, says: "It is to be hoped that the reforms he has suggested will assume practical shape without delay. Patriotism demands the sacrifices entailed."

AN IGNOBLE GAME.

The Saturday Review, commenting upon General Lawton's retirement from the Santa Cruz district of Laguna Bay, says: "Unpatriotic politicians in the United States their utmost to create are doing a panic in the hope that the Philippines may be abandoned and the party in power discredited. It is an ignoble game, and we sincerely trust it will be unsuccessful. If the Americans withdrew from their selfappointed task, the great republic must take the brand of 'coward,' as British Force at the Cape To well as the brand of 'Cain,' with which Loweil declared it to be marked." THE PACIFIC CABLE.

MICHAEL DAVITT ON SAMOA. Herr Wilhelm Liebknecht, the German Socialist leader, has received a letter from Michael Davitt, Nationalist member of the British Parliament for South Mayo, in which the writer says he is able to confirm, from his own knowledge that the charges recently brought in Truth against the London Missionary Society by Mr. Lloyd Osborn, stepson of the late Robert Louis Stevenson, who characterized the society's antagonism to Mataafa, a Ro-London, April 22.-In the House of man Catholic, as the "whole cause of the quarrel" in Samoa. Mr. Davitt expresses hatred of England, and warns the Germans "against making the American nation answerable for the bloodthirsty attitude of one or two persons." TRIED TO KISS THE KING. Paris, April 22.-For the first time since his inauguration as President of France, President Loubet gave on official luncheon at the Elysee, at which many of the most notable diplomats were present. The occasion of the luncheon was the presence of King Oscar of Norway and Sweden, who is sojourning in Paris. King Oscar has many admirers in the capital, but the adulation given him since his arrival here reached a climax at the close of the reception, when the women crowded around him, became excited, and many growing fairly hysterical, attempted to kiss The king took the attack goodhumoredly, but beat a hasty retreat, without either being and escaped bruised or kissed.

AND THE LADY

Kept His Client Imprisoned in an Attic While He Spent Her Income

Rome, April 22.-The sensational Carini-Canella case, which has been occupying the courts at Palermo for several months, has just been brought to a conclusion by the sentencing of Canella to six months' penal servitude and to the loss of his civil rights. Last year the authorities at Palermo were placed in possession of an anonymous communication to the effect that Princess Garini, the divorced wife of the Marquis Artille, instead of being occupied in traveling abroad with her blind daughter, was closely imprisoned in some back room of her palace in this city. A search was instituted by the police, and both the princess and her daughter were discovered in a state of almost absolute nudity and in a half-starved condition, incarcerated in three attic rooms with barred win-dows that looked upon a deserted courtyard. There they had been confined for more than four years, during which time Lawyer Canella had been managing for his own benefit the large property of the princess, which yields an annual income of some $60,000. Not even the nearest relatives of the princess had any idea that she was thus imprisoned. They all imagined her to be living at Paris and at Nice. The utmost difficulty has been experienced by the courts in obtaining the conviction of Canella, who has hither-to been regarded as a leading lawyer of Palermo. During the trial the fact was brought to light that he was one of the guiding spirits of the Mafia. The terror inspired by the latter was so great that the witnesses were most reluctant to testify against nim.

WOMEN PREACHERS

Canadian Lady Called to a Church at Tecumseh, Michigan.

Tecumseh, Mich., Herald: Two of our village pulpits are occupied by wo-men at present. Miss M. E. Barber, at the Friends' Church, fills the vacancy caused by Mrs. Romick's departure, and Miss S. Louisa Haight, of Sparta, Ont., having just finished a year's pastorate at Rochester, Mich., has accepted a call from the Universalist Society.
Miss Haight, at the Universalist

Church on Sunday afternoon gave an interesting and cultured address to an audience much too small, from the text, Ps. cxxxix., 18—"When I awake I am still with thee"; and from Matt., vii.—"Ask, and it shall be given you." Miss Haight offers you reason and argument and poetry and history done up in packages to suit the capacity of the hearer, and you take what you please from this spiritual bill of fare without any compulsion; still if you omit any of this offered entertainment you do it at your own loss. Both our women preachers are a fortunate addition to the literary and intellectual as well as the moral spiritual atmosphere of our society.

Toronto, April 22.-Cerebro-spinal meningitis, one of the most malignant and fatal diseases known to physicians, is said by Dr. Bryce, secretary of the provincial board of health, to have become epidemic over a consid-erable portion of the continent. In its malignant form the disease is usually followed by fatal results within 48 hours. It is only since the new year that physicians have become alarmed at the prevalance of the disease. One case was recently reported from Pet-erboro and two from Guelph. The physicians have discovered the germ, and are inclined to the opinion that the disease may be directly communicated. A new treatment by an ope-ration on the head has recently been reported from England, by which the matter which accumulates is taken away, and the pressure upon the

No season of the year brings more sunshine and joy than does the glorious spring, when all nature awakens from its long winter's sleep. But as this delightful season approaches the discomforts of the body are many. After the artificial life of winter the system is run down, the blood is thin, weak, watery and diseased, and the nerves are shattered and exhausted.

From IMPURE BLOOD the nerves can derive no nourish. ment, and in this poisoned condition the blood flows through the body to the various organs, causing the liver and kidneys to become sluggish and inactive, the heart to become weakened, and the digestive system to fail entirely in its functions.

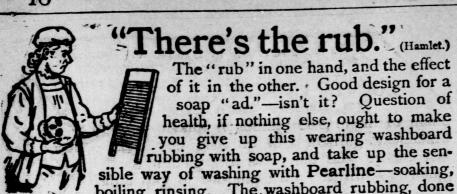

There are headaches and backaches, nervousness and irritability, biliousness and dyspepsia, feelings of lassitude and despondency, sleeplessness, exhaustion and nervous prostration, loss of appetite, energy and ambition, brain fag, confused memory, and loss of interest in life, is prepared from the favorite prescription of Dr. A. W. Chase. It restores and revitalizes the system by supplying to the blood the very elements which make it rich pure and healthy. This great food cure marks a new era in medicine, because it builds up the wasted tissue and fills the body with the vitality which conquers disease. Despair and doubt give place to hope and confidence, lassitude and despondency are replaced by ambition and happiness. The ills of spring give way to health, vigor and strength when Dr. Chase's Nerve Food,

There are many schools in the country

In connection with this I mention what I might call the cramming sys-

In those times it was considered right for those times it was considered right for a man to go out on independent military expeditions. Jephthah was a good man according to the light of his dark age, but through a wandering and precipitate. The grace of God changes a man's heart, but never reverges his natural temperament. The verses his natural temperament. The Israelites wanted the Ammonites driven out of their country, so they sent a delegation to Jephthh, asking him to day. There are parents all unwittingly become their commander-in-chief. In those old times opposing forces would fight until their swords were broken, and then each one would throttle his man until they both fell, teeth to teeth, grip to grip, death-stare to death-stare, until the plain was one tumbled mass of corpses from which the last trace of manhood had been dashed out. Jephthah wins the day. Twenty cities lay captured at his feet. The nation is redeemed, the invaders are routed, and the national honor is vindicated. Jephthah, seated on a l advances amid the acclaiming multitudes, but his eye is not on the excited populace. Remembering that he had made a solemn vow that, returning from victorious battle, whatsoever first came out of the doorway of his home, that should be sacrificed as a burnt offering, he had his anxious look upon the door. Oh, horrors! Paleness of death blanches his cheek. Despair seizes his heart. His daughter, his only child, rushes out of the doorway to throw herself in her father's arms and shower upon him more kisses than there were wounds on his breast or dents on his shield. All the triumphal splendor vanishes. Holding back this child from his heaving breast, and pushing the locks back from his fair brow, and looking into the eyes of inextinguishable affection, with chocked utterance he says, "Would God I lay stark on the bloody plain. My daughter, my only child, joy of my home, life of my life, thou art the sacrifice!"

The whole matter was explained to her. This was no whining, hollowhearted girl into whose eyes the father looked. All the glory of sword and shield vanished in the presence of the valor of that girl. There may have been a tremor of the lip, as a roseleaf trembles in the sough of the south household. Agan: there are many who are sacrificing their children to a spirit of worldiness. Someone asked a mother whose children had turned out very well, what was the secret by which she prepared them for usefulness and for the Christian life and the said. for the Christian life, and she said:
"This was the secret: When in the morning I washed my children, I prayed that they might be washed in the fountain of a Saviour's mercy. When I put on their garments I prayed that they might be arrayed in the robe of a Saviour's righteousness. When I gave them food, I prayed that they might be fed with manna from heaven. When I started them on the road to school be fed with manna from heaven. When I started them on the road to school I prayed that their path might be as the shining light, brighter and brighter to the perfect day. When I put them to sleep, I prayed that they might be enfolded in the Saviour's cross?" be enfolded in the Saviour's arms."
"Oh," you say, "that was very old-fashioned." It was quite old-fashioned. But do you suppose that a child under such nurture as that ever turned out bad?

ed out bad?
In our day most boys start out with no idea higher than an all-encompassing dollar. They start in an age which boasts that it can scratch the Lord's Prayer on a ten-cent piece, and the Ten Commandments on a ten-cent piece. Children are taught to reduce morals and religion, time and eternity, to vulgar fractions. It seems to be their chief attainment that ten cents make a dime, and ten dimes make a dollar. How to get money is only equalled by the other art, how to keep it. Tell me, ye who know, what chance there is for those who start out in life with such perverted sentiments?

Further on, thousands and tens of thousands of the daughters of America are sacrificed to worldiness. They erica are sacrificed to worldiness. They are taught to be in sympathy with all the artificialities of society. They are inducted into all the hollowness of what is called fashionable life. They are taught to believe that history is dry, but that 50 cent stories of adventurous love are delicious. With capacity that might have rivaled a Florence Nightingale in heavenly min-Florence Nightingale in heavenly ministries, or made the father's house glad with filial and sisterly demeanor, their life is a waste, their beauty a curse, their eternity a demolition.

At thousands of marriage altars there are daughters slain for time and slain for eternity. It is not a marriage; it is a massacre. Affianced to someone who is only waiting until his fether dies so he can get the property. father dies, so he can get the property, then a little while they swing around in the circles, brilliant circles; then the property is gone, and having no power to earn a livelihood, the twain sink into some corner of society, the husband an idler and a sot, the wife a drudge, a slave and a sacrifice. Ah! spare your denunciations from Jephthah's head, and expend them all on this wholesale modern martyrdom.

I look out of my window on a Sabbath and I see a group of children, unwashed, uncombed, unchristianized. Who cares for them? Who prays for who cares for them? Who prays for them? Who utters to them one kind word? Who today will go forth and bring them into schools and churches? No. Heap them up, great piles of rags, and wretchedness, and filth. Put underneath them the fires of sacrifice, stir up the blaze, put on more faggots, and while we sit in the churches with folded arms and indifference, crime, and disease and death will go on with the agonizing sacrifice.

she saw there. She was charmed with her velvety gown of black and yellow, her eight strong legs, her many sparkling eyes, but most of all with her spinnerets.

"Ah," said she, with a happy sigh, "I certainly am a pretty spider. I hope I shall prove to be as good as I am beautiful."

Being an industrious little thing, she decided to make herself a home, and she began at once to look for a suitable situation. Now the fern-leaf hung out over a little brook that babbled joyously through a pleasant meadow, and upon the opposite bank of which bloomed a large bunch of red clover.

"That is the very place I should like," thought Miss Argiope. "It is sunny and high, and looks as if it would be a good hunting-ground. If I only had a bridge!" Then, after a moment, she added bravely, "I guess I'll try building one."

Then what did she do but mount to the very tiptop of the fern-leaf, turn her spinnerets towards the clover, and begin spinning a delicate gossamer thread; and the kindly breeze caught it and carried it out, out, over the brook, and wafted it to and fro until it gently touched the clover.

"There, that is done," said she, as she drew it taut and fastened it firmly to the fern. Then, without any hesitation, she stepped out upon the filmy tightrope, and in a moment more she was safely landed upon the clover.

But now her work was just begun, for she was growing hungry and she must build her house and set her trap for game before she could dine.

So, fastening a firm thread, she started for grass below, trailing the little line behind her, only pausing here and there to secure it to a leaf or grassblade. Aimlessly she seemed to travel back and forth, yet soon she had a network of regular lines laid over quite a large space; this finished, she began touching the spinnerets to each of the fountain threads, until a gauzy, upright wheel of lace glistened in the sunshine. And, lo! her home was finished.

For a long time she lived very happily among the clovers. There was always much to be done, the web to be kept neat and nicely mended, game to catch and her sisters to visit; a good many of them had just come across the brook to live. But by and bye she grew tired of it all, and said to her youngest sister: "I really am tired of this view, and the perfume of these clovers. I was talking to a grasshopper this morning, and he said I ought to travel; one is apt to grow old and poky never seeing anything of the world. He told me there is a lovely road just across the meadow, where there are many things to be seen, and that there are plenty of desirable weaving sites; so I think

I shall move." At first the little sister clasped her front pair of claws in horror at the idea of leaving their pleasant very webs, but as she dearly loved her sister, she said she would never let her go alone. If she were determined to do anything so rash, she should insist upon accompanying her. It would be a long walk, but-'Walk, you silly child!" interrupted Miss Argiope, gleefully, "who is thinking of walking? Come, this is a lovely day-what is to hinder us from starting this very moment? Follow me, my dear, and do as I bid you, and we shall be there in a trice.'

So saying, she led the way to the top of a tall ragweed that grew near. "Now," said she, "begin spinning, but do not twist your threads as for a and, sure enough, as her sister had told web; just let them all fly loose, and keep on spinning until I tell you to

AUTHORS WHEN GIRLS.

Nearly all the women who are prominent today in literature began to write original compositions of some kind or another as soon as they could hold a pen. Mrs. Meade has produced over 100 works of fiction, and is still a lady in her prime. Mrs. Hodgson Burnett began her literary career in earnest at the early age of 15. Reverses had come to her family by reason of the cotton famine, and she was anxious to help the family funds.

Edna Lyall began to write stories when she was about 9 years old. She wrote, as she says, "for the joy of writ-ing," and because she could not resist the craving to describe the beloved heroes and heroines who filled her imagination.-Pittsburg Dispatch.

In other words, that it would prove impracticable. The scheme advanced assumes that the British fleet in Euro-

IS KIPLING'S FAME SECURE?

A Critic Who Fears It Is Only Fleeting.

The Poet Campbell Instanced - Kipling's Case May Be Analogous.

When the once famous poet, Thos. Campbell—Tom Campbell, as his contemporaries called nim—was told by his friend Pringle that he must go and head Edward Irving preach, with the added argument, "Everybody runs after him," the reply of Campbell was, "So they will after every novelty, and get tired." The poet was no doubt thinking mainly of preachers, but if he had lived to this time, and especihe had lived to this time, and especi-ally in America, he would have extended it to his own vocation, and would have trembled for his own fame. To those who recall the enormous tem-porary popularity of Philip James Bailey, of Alexander Smith, and even of Du Maurier, and who often see the utter neglect, within a year or two, of productions lately thought so fine, all literary fame must begin to look a little insecure. Campbell was a shy and reticent man, and we do not know what was his real opinion of himself, amid the insense of admiration which rose about him for a time; but two things are clearly certain; that he was at one period the great and crowning lyrist of the British nation—at a time when every schoolboy declaimed Lochiel and Hohenlinden; and that now, on the other hand, one seldom hears him mentioned in his own country. He shares with Southy and Rogers the oblivion from which some men less esteemed in their day, and notably Wordsworth, have escaped.

It is safe to say that nothing yet written by Mr. Kipling has had the immense response which greeted Campbell's Ye Mariners of England and the Battle of the Baltic. They and the Battle of the Baltic. They had the vast advantage which the ear ssesses over the eye as the medium of sympathy. They were sung wher-ever God Save the King was sung, and, indeed, followed it on the programme wherever sailors and soldiers came together. They seemed as immortal as the national aspirations, for they reached even the illiterate multitudes. Nothing in the English language got such an audience; whereas, Mr. Kipling has as yet won the hearing of the ear for nothing set to music except the Road to Mandalay, the most graceful and therefore the least characteristic of his productions. Of his later poems, Recessional is the poem of one nation only, and the Russian Bear is a partisan pamphlet in rhyme, while the White Man's Burden represents only a party, though one just now in power in England, while its very doctrine is abhorrent to those in England and America who still represent the principles which abolished slavery. He has never been, as Campbell was, the poet who struck uncisputed the song of England's greatness. Even at this day, if Henry Russell were to come back among us and to sing either of Campbell's two great war songs as he used to sing it haif a century ago, Kipling's comparatively parlor muse would be for the time

Lord Byron said of Campbell: there is honor among thieves, let there be some among poets, and give each his due; none can afford to give it better than Mr. Campbell himself, who, with a high reputation for originality and a fame which cannot be shaken, is the only poet of the times who can be reproached with having written too little." A Description of the Capital of

People Live on Optimism-A Thorough ly English Place in the Heart of Africa.

[Cape Times.]

In Buluwayo, the capital of Rhodesia, one is brought face to face with an ertirely new experiment in the founding of cities and the history of colonization—the spectacle of a large community which has penetrated a thousand miles into the interior, invested largely in bricks and mortar, and settled quietly down into the grooves of a rough-andready sort of civilized life, serenely confident in the future, but all on the strength of expectations, of which as yet there has been very little ocular proof. When the inquirer attempts to probe down into the bedrock of things the cannot help feeling a little puzzled. The position seems roughly this: Everybody is satisfied in a general sort of way that there is gold galore scattered about the country. Most of the bigger men with whom you talk can tell you of their own knowledge of a few good properties which they believe will pay, and pay handsomely, and they know by hearsay of many others. But the fact remains that the average hard-headed Buluwayan, incompetent to form an opinion for himself, either from "simple ignorance," as Dr. Johnson calls it, or lack of opportunity, has deliberately backed his faith in Mr. Rhodes' sagacity and statesmanship and hopefully and expectantly awaits the result. If Rhodesia is good enough for great English capitalists, and they are willing to sink millions in the country before the mines have been irrefragably proved, it ought, he argues, to be good enough for him, and, having converted some part of his stake in the country into solid cash, just to Campbell, "that would bear him to the skies. . . What a grand idea is that about second sight, "Coming events cast their shadows before." . . He is afraid of the shadow that his own fame casts before him." keep things going, he is content to stand by and see how things will turn out. Hence we have the strange phenomenon of a well-built and prosperous that his own fame casts before him."
When Scott read Hohenlinden to his friend, the poet Leyden, the latter said, "Tell the fellow that I hate him, but he has written the finest verses that have been published for these 50 years." Can it be that all poetry, which is merely national or merely warlike is in its nature temporary; and township rubbing comfortably along without, to the outward eye, any visible means of subsistence-and not only rubbing along, but actually increasing its imports and the number of its inhabitants. Optimism is in the air one breathes.

There are some things about which visitors' impressions may well differ according to the point of view, but one characteristic at least admits of no divergence whatever; Buluwayo, in the present stage of its development, is thoroughly and almost exclusively British. This may change in course of time-it certainly will change quickly if things turn out as well as every body hopes and expects-but the mantle of cosmopolitanism has yet to fall upon it. No less noticeable is what it may be permitted to call the social quality of the population. The predominating factor seems to be the well-bred young Englishman of the familiar public-A French Writer Has Proved school type, though there are many old colonists and men of the rougher stamp coming in from the neighboring gold belts. There are, naturally, many natives in and about the township, but none of these are genuine Matabele or Mashonas. These tribes are bashful, suspicious and incorrigibly lazy, so teaching them civilized existence-will require time and patience. THE PLAGUE IN INDIA

Contagion Was Spread.

A Russian nobleman recently in Bombay has explained to the Times of India how the plague broke out in the Turkestan mountain village Anzop, about 200 miles from Samarkand. There is a holy person in Anzop, the greatgrandson of one Pir Isa, whose name and tomb are greatly venerated in those phernalia of witchcraft. Yet the Great parts. This person some time since Place of the Killing has been blotted went on a long pilgrimage among the out as though it had never existed. sacred places of Turkestan and Afghanistan. How far he went in his wanderings is not clear. He is known to have come down as far as Meruchak, on the Murghab, and may have come farther. Anyhow, on his return to Anzop he told his friends that he had seen many holy places, and had brought with him a number of coverings of the tombs of saints and pious personages. These he gave to a widow at Anzop, asking her to cut them into small pieces and make them into amulets for the faithful to wear upon their breasts. This she did, and soon after she was smitten with plague and died. The woman who nursed her died also of relatives and friends who were frequently with her in her illness died with the same symptoms. When the wandering fakir was told of the death of all these people, and asked if he could account for it, he said that the reason was that the woman had not been buried in the position prescribed ought to be taken out of the grave and buried in a more orthodox fashion. The body accordingly was exhumed and reburied. Then the plague started afresh, beginning by seizing everyone who had taken part in the exhumation of the

THE DRAMA

John Hare Says the Worst Are Filthy Playwrights-The French School

"I hold, and always have held," said John Hare, the English comedian, in an interview on the subject of the drama, "that the greatest enemies to the good name of the drama, those feed and engender the antagonism that exists towards it in the minds of the prejudiced and the vulgar, too often spring from its own ranks. playright who writes a filthy play, the actor who prostitutes his ability base uses, do as much to tarnish the good name and fame of the drama and the stage as the genius of Shakespeare, Sheridan and Goldsmith, Garrick, Kemble, Kean and Macready have helped to glorify it. And Paris, with all its glorious stage traditions, its matchless school of acting, its honorable roll of brilliant dramatic writers; Paris, which in the past, can boast among its contributors to stage literature a Hugo, and in the present a Rostand, sets the example of degrading the stage in the eyes of the whole world by the wholesale production of plays which no self-respecting man or woman can witness without shame. Other arts can afford to be discredited by individual offenders to good taste, ours can not. If a painter paints an unworthy picture, if a novelist writes an unworthy novel, painting and literature suffer not one jot—the blame is cast on the individual. But with us it is different; the calling is brought into contempt, and the I told you so' contingent find another opportunity of befouling the art which is capable of giving the highest purest expression to human thought.

HOTEL-KEEPING

Lessons Drawn From the Recent Windsor Hotel Fire.

Mr. Boldt, of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, remarked, after the Windson Hotel fire: "Vigilance is our deliver-ance; nothing but vigilance. All precautions and machinery are secondary to vigilance. You must have the right men on whom you can depend and a system never relaxed, and then be there yourself.

Mr. George Mills, the newest hotel proprietor in Washington city, also observed: "You can never let go as a hotel-keeper. You must be up early in the morning and overlook every step of every day's work. I never go to bed until after midnight, and get up before the servants. My siesta I take some time in the afternoon. Many of the old hotel-keepers derived, in an accidental way, their prominence. The times are not as they were, and the modern hotel-keeper must be as precise and prompt as a railway starter Fire is always waiting to attack you and you must be ready to attack it."

A Very Pretty Waist.

The uses of narrow ribbon as trimming are manifold. I saw a white taffeta shirt waist which was one of the prettiest things I ever did see. The back was made with a pointed yoke. This had two lines of very narrow scarlet velvet ribbon and one of black in the center across the yoke. The fronts were covered with lines of the narrow scarlet velvet, with three rows of the black between every four rows of the red. The sleeves were small, coat shape, and plain, save for three lines of ribbon at the wrist. Down the fronts were three ruffles of the white taffeta just as full as they could be held two inches wide. On the edges was sewed the scarlet velvet. The ef-know a land where the streets are paved.

With the things which we meant to achieve. It is walled with the money we meant to have saved: And the pleasures for which we grieve, The kind words unspoken, the promises broken. And many a coveted boon, Are stowed away in that land somewhere-The land of "Pretty Soon."

There are uncut jewels of possible fame Lying about in the dust, And many a noble and lofty aim Covered with mold and rust. And oh! this place, while it seems so near, Is farther away than the moon. Though our purpose is fair, yet we never get there-The land of "Pretty Soon."

The road that leads to that mystic land Is strewn with pitiful wrecks, And the ships that have sailed for its shining strand Bear skeletons on their decks. It is farther at noon than it was at

And farther at night than at noon; Oh, let us beware of that land down there-The land of "Pretty Soon."

NATURE'S COLORS

Reproduced by a New and Simple Process of Color Photography.

Another new method of "color photography" has been discovered. It is the invention of Prof. R. W. Wood, of Wisconsin University. Science, in a recent issue, gives the following particulars: "He (Prof. Wood) produces the colors by diffraction, and, though at present the production of the first finished picture is somewhat tedious, duplicates can be printed as easily as ordinary photographs are made. The pictures are on glass, and are not only colorless, but almost invisible, when viewed in ordinary lights, but when placed in viewing apparatus, consisting of a convex lens on a light frame, show the colors of nature with great brilliancy. The principle is that the picture and the lens form spectra which overcap, and the eye placed in the overlapping portion sees the different portions of the picture in color depending upon the distance between the grating lines at that place. Prof. Wood says the finished picture is a transparent film of gelatine with very fine lines on it, about 2,000 to the inch on the average. The colors depended solely on the spacing between the lines, and are from spectrum colors, or mixtures of such, the necessity of colored screens or pigments, used in all other processes except that of Lippman, having been overcome. The pictures can be projected on a screen by employing a suitable lantern, or can be viewed individually with a very simple piece of apparatus consisting of a lens and perforated screen mounted on a frame. A peculiarity of the process is that there is no such thing as a negative in it. Half a dozen pictures have been printed in succession, one from another, and all

"To Do Ill Costs More Than To Do Well."

This might properly read, "It costs more to BE ill than to BE well." The source of all health is rich, strong blood. It is to the body what the mighty streams are to the earth. If the blood is pure, the body thrives; if the blood is weak or impoverished, then every pulsebeat carries weakness instead of strength. Why make the cost of living more than it need be? Purify your blood and give your constitution a chance to do its level best. The only perfect blood purifier and vigor-maker In existence is the world-famed Hood's Sarsaparilla. Live Stock Markets. TORONTO, April 21.-Another light supply of cattle at the western cattle market this morning met a feeble demand. The receipts were estimated at 80 carloads, including about 150 sheep and lambs, 800 hogs, 60 calves and 40 cows. The offerings included a number of yesterday's cattle, which left over. Although the supply of cattle has been light during the past week, trade has shown no improvement, and is not likely to until prices are a little higher. Trade at the opening was a little brisk for a time, but at noon business was very quiet, and there was a considerable amount of stuff left over in the pens at the close. The predictions for the coming week are higher prices for choice selections. There was practically no change in the quotations from yesterday, with the exception of heavy stockers, which were a little firmer on account of the small offerings, which found ready sale. There was a very good demand for export cattle, which were in moderate supply. party cinematographed on entering Cable advices are to the effect that the British markets remain steady. Choice selections were quoted at $4 50 to $4 90 per cwt; light were in ample supply at firm prices, or $4 to $4 40 per cwt. Butchers' cattle—The movement in the large pose he had the awning in the entrance removed and the party, on leaving the old edifice, "marked time" to a certain degree, in order the branch was not very active, and the prices remained unchanged from yesterday, good to choice selections being quoted at $4 50 to $4 60 per cwt; medium and common grades were in very heavy supply at prices ranging from $3 to $3 75 per cwt. The quality was fairly good, and included some choice cattle, which were almost equal to the best exporters in the market. A light supply of bulls were very slow of sale at steady prices, heavy exporters being quoted at $3 75 to $3 90 per cwt. Light stockers and feeders — The offerings were very light, but the demand was fairly good; prices were a little steadler; choice heavy stockers for Buffalo being quoted at $3 25 to $3 75, and $3 85 per cwt, for extra choice. Feeders were steady at $4 to $4 25 per cwt. Cows and calves-A few good cows found ready sale, while common grades were in no demand; choice were quoted at $35 to $45 each. The calf market was a little steadler; choice veals being quoted at $3 to $8 per head. Sheep and lambs-The offerings were about equal to the demand, and prices were steadier; a few good yearlings, averaging 100 to 110 pounds, would fetch 5c to 10c per cwt. Sheep for export and butchers' use were in moderate supply at $3 50 per cwt; grain-fed yearlings were quoted at 25c per cwt higher, or $5 25 to $5 50 per cwt; barnyard yearlings were quoted at $4 to $4 50 per cwt. Bucks were firmer at $3 to $3 25, and spring lambs were firmer at $2 to $5 each. There was a big supply shipped to the east for export. Hogs-The supply in the annex was a little heavier than anticipated, but the demand was active, and everything was cleared out early at steady prices. Choice selections were quoted at $4 50 per cwt. A couple of stags fetched $2 per cwt. The prospects for next week are higher prices. EAST BUFFALO, April 21.-Cattle-There was only half a load on sale, and with a moderate demand the market was nominally unchanged: calves in annihilated all chances of winning, and light supply, active demand and higher; choice to extra were quotable at $5 75 to $6; good to choice, $5 50 to $5 75. Sheep and lambs-The offerings were light, only 23 loads, and with a very excited demand, prices ruled 20c to 35c higher on the clipped lambs; prices, however, were irregular, as the buyers were not at first inclined to stand the advance; native clipped lambs were quotable, choice to extra, $5 65 to $5 75; good to choice, $5 50 to $5 65; commor to fair, $4 50 to $5; clipped sheep, choice to extra, $4 75 to $5; wool lambs, choice to extra, $6 50 to $6 65; common to fair, $5 50 to $6; wool sheep, choice to extra, $5 50 to $5 65; the market cleaned up pretty well and closed firm; clipped sheep ruled strong on the basis of $4 50 per cwt; light were in ample supply at $4 per cwt; and thick fat were steady at $3 75 per cwt. Softs were quiet at $3

NEW YORK, April 21.—Beeves—Receipts, 1,983; steers slow, but about steady; bulls and cows firm to 10c higher; ordinary to prime steers, $4 60 to $5 30; stags, $4 50 to $4 75; bulls, $3 50 to $4 25; cows, $2 30 to $4. Cables steady; exports none. Calves—Receipts, 1,292; market uneven; general sales, 25c to 50c lower; poor to choice yeals, $4 to $6 75, mainly $5 75 to $6 25 for fair to prime. Sheep and lambs—unchanged, to firm; lambs, 5c to 10c higher; 5 cars holding for higher prices; wooled ewes, $5 25; ordinary to prime unshorn lambs, $6 to $6 62½; good to prime clipped do, $5 35 to $5 65; clipped culls, $4; spring lambs, $250 to $6 each. Hogs-Receipts, 2,069; market firmer; fair to prime western hogs, $5 30 to $4 35; good state do, $4 40; best would sell at $4 45.

CHICAGO, April 21.-Hardly enough cattle were received today to make a market, and prices were mostly nominal, most of the offerings grading poorly; with a good demand prices made a fresh record, and prime heavy hogs brought $415; the general market ad-vanced 2½c, and some droves ruled a nickel higher; bulk of sales, $395 to $4 10; poorer consignments fetched $3 75 to $3 90; the supply was well taken. The larger part of the supply of sheep were consigned direct to slaughterers, and prices ruled steady and much the same as a week ago; wooled Colorado lambs wanted, at $5 75 to $5 85, and shorn lots, $4 40 to $5 15; sheep, $3 to $5, a few going below $4 15 to $4 85. Receipts -Cattle, 1,500; hogs, 16,000; sheep, 6,000.

Society Bemoans a Dearth of "Smart Functions."

George Smalley Descants on the Vexations of the British Custom House.

[Special London Cable Letter to The

Advertiser.] London, April 22 .- The ostentatious display at the marriage of the Earl of Crewe to Lady Margaret Primrose, second daughter of the Earl of Rosebery, at Westminster Abbey, on Thursday afternoon, comes opportune as à sufficient reply to the invidious distinctions drawn here between British and American society methods. The Vanderbilt and Sloane weddings called for tirades from the press against American flashiness and millionaire extravagance, etc., but Lord Rose-bery certainly capped the record by the arrangements to have the bridal and leaving the abbey. For this pur-The bridal party drove to and from the abbey in open carriages, and everything was done to insure the widest publicity in every detail of the arrangements and description of the presents.

ABSENCE OF "SMART" FUNC-TIONS.

The season generally bids fair to be a flasco. The society newspapers are bemoaning the utter absence of "smart" functions. Therefore the Rosebery wedding was & godsend. But the only other big event in view is the Charing Cross Charity Bazar, to whose success the members of the American colony here can claim to have contributed a very important quota. Usually at this time of the year there is a long list of advertised festivities, but up to the present very few dances and only one big ball have been announced. The latter will be given by Mr. William Waldorf Astor in June, and will be one of the leading events of the season.

TOD SLOAN'S EXPERIENCE.

As a result of the incident of the American jockey, who was riding Ecu make it clear that they did not consider treasury and customs house subject the hamerican traveler." Sloan blameable. The course is extremely difficult to a stranger, and Ecu d'Or proved practically unmanageable. The sporting wiseacres deduce therefrom that Sloan's method of riding does not give him great control of his horse, and that he cannot get enough leverage if his mount is inclined to swerve. Sloan's defeat on Jolly Tar in the race for the Tudor plate was a great disappointment to his supporters, who are indignant at the manner in which he of the sporting experts writes that the Tudor plate was the "most unsatisfactory race this year," adding: "No one watching the race with a fair, open mind, can have any hesitation in saying Sloan was hampered and knocked about in a series of 'pockets,' which

Mr. George W. Smalley's letter to the London Times on the subject of the New York customs house has been considerably commented upon by other newspapers, and is widely reproduced. He devoted a column and a half to describing the vexations of the customs house, giving examples of the interrogations of travelers. The English papers specially reproduce a paragraph, in which he says: "If the victim is a woman, her blushes are not spared by the examiner, who turns her trunks inside out on the dirty floor of the dirty dock and holds up her most secret apparel to the gaze of grinning detectives and dis-reputable loafers." He says that if a traveler cares to bribe he may easily escape payment of duty, and warmly praises the New York Evening Post as "the one paper which took up the matter in earnest, its reward being a libel Epsom spring meeting which resulted suit." Mr. Smalley concludes: "I do in the disqualification of Tod Sloan, the not know of anything in the tyranny of bosses which surpasses in impudent d'Or, the stewards were careful to brutality the treatment to which the

AMERICAN COMPETITION. American industrial competition has again come prominently to the front BILITY. this week. Hardly a day has passed without an article or a letter on the subject in the London papers. The Atbara bridge contract, which has almost assumed the proportions of a national question, came before the House of Commons on Thursday, when the govwas treated by the other jockeys. One ernment was asked a string of quesliamentary secretary of the foreign office, Hon. Wm. St. John Brodrick was only able to reply that he had no information beyond what was contained in the report recently issued by Lord

Cromer, the British agent in Egypt. The Times has printed a lengthy article on American competition in the iron trade, and called attention to America's jump in exports of iron and steel, one result being that English prices and exports alike are not entirely fixed by home or continental competition, as they used to be, but by the prevailing tone of the market and industrial situation generally in the United States.

TO BOYCOTT SUNDAY NEWSPA-PERS.

The Non-Conformists, in the churches and organs, continue their bitter denunciations of seven-day newspapers, and it seems likely that the agitation will develop into a widespread boycott. The ministers are appealing to their congregations to pledge themselves not to read a newspaper publishing a Sun-day edition. A protest meeting was held in London on Thursday, at which 2,000 persons were present, against the seven-day papers.

A window was unveiled at the St. Keverne Church on Thursday, in memory of the victims of the Mohegan disaster. A Cornish cross will also be placed at the head of the huge grave in which the dead are interred

B. Mills, teacher. -By the death of Mr. James Cowan, the number of London's ex-mayors who have passed away is increased to 10. Those now living are Messrs. David Glass, Sir Frank Smith, John Christie, J. M. Cousins, John Campbell, A. Mccormick, Benjamin Cronyn, D. C. Macdonald, Robert Pritchard, Col. R. Lewis, E. Meredith, Q.C., C. S. Hyman, T. D. Hodgens, M.P.P., George Taylor, W.

M. Spencer, E. T. Essery and J. W. -Bishop O'Connor, archbishop-designate of Toronto, arrived in Chatham | On the Grand Trunk Near Cornwall-Thursday night from Belle River to say goodbye to his parishioners. Yesterday morning, at St. Joseph's Church, he said mass, and afterwards spoke a few parting words to the congregation, urging them to look after their children and counsel them wisely in all their actions. The distinguished prehate also visited the separate school and spoke a few words to the scholars and The Pines were also visited. At and the contents lost. the latter institution an address was presented to him.

-Mr. Charles Melbourne, of Cleveland, is in the city, to attend the funeral of his uncle, the late ex-Mayor James Cowan. Mr. Melbourne was in Hamilton attending the funeral of his brother, A. K. Melbourne, whose sudden death occurred in Buffalo a few days ago, when the news of his uncle's death reached him. Mr. Charles Melbourne formerly lived in this city, and was connected with The Advertiser. His mother, Mrs. Melbourne, who lives at Manistee, Mich., is a sister of the late ex-Mayor Cowan, and is the sole survivor of a family of 12. She was so prostrated by the news of her son's death that she was unable to attend her brother's funeral. Her daughter, Mrs. Mc-Lean, of Manistee, is in town.

PROF. GREEN DEAD. The death occurred this morning of Prof. Edwin Green, the well-known music teacher, at the family residence, 45 Palace street. Deceased had been ailing for about a year, and took to his bed on Friday last. He was aged 38, and unmarried.

RECKLESS SPORT. John Doyle and Walter O'Neil, of 73 Dundas street, were brought before Squire R. F. Lacey today. These boys, together with Herman Sigsworth, Geo. Rodgers and Chas. Doucette, are accused of breaking the lock on a hand-car on the L. H. and D. R. R. this morning and riding the car down a steep grade. They were captured by railway employes, who pursued them on a "jigger." The boys are charged with trespass and malicious damage to property.

STOCKMEN MEET. The directors of the Provincial Fat Stock Association are in session at the Tecumseh House this afternoon to decide where the next show will be held, and transact other business. Those present were President John I. Hobson, Guelph; Vice-President J. C.Snell, London; Secretary F. W. Hodson, Toronto, and the following representatives from cattle, sheep and swine associations:

George Green, Fairview; J. E. Brether, Burford; A. W. Smith, Maple Lodge; Jas. Tolton, Walkerton; G. W. MOST INTENSE Clemens, St. George; Henry Wade, Toronto, and R. H. Harding, Thorndale. EX-MAYOR COWAN'S FUNERAL.

The city council was called to meet this afternoon, to arrange for attending the funeral of ex-Mayor Cowan tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Prevaling Among the Samoan Representatives of the police and fire departments will march with the mayor and aldermen. Kilwinning Lodge, A., F. and A. M., of which the late Mr. Cowan was a member, will also be represented. The funeral will be from the family residence, 629 Talbot street, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. Rev. Dr. Johnston will conduct the services. AT THE GRAND.

At the Grand Opera House last night good-sized audience enjoyed the mirth-provoking comedy, "Our Strategists," which was ably presented, and kept the house in an almost continuous roar of laughter from start to finish. "Popular prices," in the case of the Heath Company, at least, does not mean either poor plays or poor performers. "The Russian Serf" will be presented tonight by Mr. Heath and his company. This is a play of the Crimean war, and will be made more realistic by the appearance on the stage of soldiers from the Seventh Battalion. A large house should greet them and the soldier boys on their farewell performance here tonight.

AN EXCITING RUNAWAY

Two Men Injured and a Wagon Demolished-A Plucky Girl.

There was an exciting runaway near Victoria Park this morning at about 7 o'clock. A team of spirited horses driven by a Middlesex farmer, were exceeding their treaty powers. He frightened by the pole dropping to the ground, and ran away down Wellington street. They hadn't gone far when they ran against a telephone pole, smashing the wagon and throwing out the occupants. Mr. Samuel Laing, of Adelaide street north, who works for R. Pritchard & Co., grain buyers, was seated in the back of the rig, getting a lift to the city. He received some nasty cuts and painful bruises. The driver received a number of bruises, and was slightly cut. The injured men were taken to Dr. Jento's office and their injuries attended to. One of the horses ran into a Dufferin avenue yard, and after knocking over a number of flower stands, was captured by plucky girl. The other horse was caught on Queen's avenue. Neither of the horses were injured.

Sacred Concert Tomorrow.

The Standard Concert Company of Boston, who gave such an interesting concert in the Auditorium last Thursday night to the delight of those who had the good fortune of hearing them, have decided to give a sacred concert on Sunday night, at the Grand Opera House. The baritone of the company Mr. S. Kronberg, will sing Faure's "Palms and Charity," as well as the new and great patriotic song, "Canada, the Land of the Free," the song which has made a great success wherever Mr. Kronberg sung it. At the Auditorium on Thursday night he was forced to repeat it. Miss Hands, the charming prima donna of the company, whose beautiful and sympathetic voice charmed the audience of the Audi-torium on Thursday night, will sing Gounod's "Holy City," by request, as well as many concert numbers with Mr. Kronberg. Mr. Paul, the cellist of the company, will play a romanze by Keller, and an intermezzo by Golterman. Mr. Paul is a master of his instrument. The company will also give a lighter class of music for their encores. The concert will take place at 3:30 and 8:30.

The largest mine deal in the history of the country is the purchase of the Independence mine in Colorado by an English syndicate for $10,000,000.

Germans

At What They Allege To Be British Excesses-Colonists Want Tariff Concessions.

Berlin, April 22.—The Lokal Anzeiger today publishes two letters from Samoa, dated March 23. One of them is from its special correspondent at Apia, Herr Von Wolffersdorff, and the other from Herr Marquardt, who, under Lamascoc, has minery instructor, and tater, under mataata, and the provistonal government, was justice of the peace.

r rom Herr Marquardt's terter it seems that it was he and hot merr ridinagel, who was arrested by Captain Starage, Commander of the British Warsmp rorpoise, as pearing arms against the Bittish saliors. He says he was taken on poara one Porpoise, where ne Claims he was grossly ... suited by Captain sturdee, and that after 14 hours' captivity, during which no proof against him was advanced, he was transferred to the German warship Faike, but with the condition that ne was not to leave her.

merr Hufnagel asserts that his property was stolen and destroyed by Tanus' hosts, and that milmons or other Germany property were likewise destroyed. The writer then asks who will pay the damages.

Herr Von Wolffersdorff asserts that British Consul and Captain Sturgee are both guilty of the grossest conduct in captives and continued an almost incessant shelling of German houses under various pretexts. He adds that the most intense indignation prevailed among the Samoan Germans against the British excesses. Otherwise Herr Von Wolffersdorff's reports agree with the German official reports.

COLONISTS PROTEST. London, April 22.-Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, have consented to hear a protest laid by the colonial agents-general, headed by Lord Stratheona, against the proposed increase of the wine duties. It is reported that Mr. Chamberlain inclines to a reduction favoring the colonial product, but that it is improbable that he will be able to move the government to grant any direct preference to colonial wines. The tax, however, may be lightened upon cheap wines, thus indirectly favoring the colonies.

Before the Advance of General Lawton's Troops.

Ottawa, April 22.—The trade figures | Sharpshooters in the Jungle Bother the Boys in Blue.

Manila, April 22-7 p.m.-Gen. Lawton took the field at daybreak today with a column of troops, consisting of the North Dakota Regiment, two battalions of the Third Infantry, the Twenty-second Infantry, two guns of Scott's battery, three troops of the Fourth Cavalry, and Gale's squadron, equipped in light marching order. This force started at 5 o'clock this morning over the Novaliches road, traversing the country previously cleared of rebels, but subsequently reoccupied by them. It is to be presumed that Gen. Lawton, by this movement will out-flank the enemy before joining Gen. MacArthur', north of Malolos.

The Dakota regiment first encountered the enemy in front of Novaliches at 8:15 a.m. The rebels opened fire on the troops, but their fire was silenced fifteen minutes later, the enemy retiring in bad order, and the Americans advancing along the rough roads around Novaliches. They were considerably annoyed by the fire of the rebel sharp-shooters from the jungle for two hours.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the rebels were in full flight, leaving many dead in the field, and the troops were compelled to take a brief rest in the shade as the heat was overpowering.

EVACUATING. The rebels are unusually active west of Malolos, as far as Calumpit. They have been busily at work on their trenches, and several new trenches have been discovered within two miles of the railroad. Fires are burning east of the railroad, and it would appear that the rebels are evacuating the foothill towns in anticipation of an attack upon the part of the American troops.

Women, like princes, find few real friends.-Lyttelton.

Echoes from the horse show last week in Toronto prove that it was a most successful event, and that one of the most important features was the much-talked-of ladies' musical ride. Captain Forester led, followed by Miss Kelen Beardmore, the Misses Gibbons, the Misses Haines, Miss Janes and Mrs. Lally McCarthy, each described in the papers as "a graceful and plucky rider."

Mrs. Adam Beck, who wore a lovely gown of black satin covered with jet paillettes and a becoming toque of turquoise velvet, was by many considered the prettiest woman present. Mr. Beck is to be congratulated on his success with his horses.

A lady whose handsome black toillette was greatly admired was Mrs. Montgomery Lewis, formerly of Wellington street, now of Toronto. She accompanied Mrs. Fraser Macdonald, a well-known visitor in this city.

usual the Toronto women appeared in lovely gowns and hats, violet being the favorite shade for the latter, but the papers remark on the pleasant contrast made by the tailormade gowns and perfectly-fitting redingotes of the New York women pre-

It is remarkable how slow the Canadian woman is in learning what to wear and when to wear it. All classes err in this particular, especially in the matter of wearing beflowered and beribboned hats in railway carriages. The English woman never dreams of anything else but a sailor or a "walking" hat when she travels, and consequently the dreary picture of a travelstained, weary face under an elaborate French creation is restricted to our own country. But if English ideas have already affected New York, we may hope that sometime in the future we too shall return to delightful simplicity even though it necessitate a bandbox-(dreadful alternative!).

Mme. Van der Broeck, the wellknown artist, was among the guests at a house party of Mr. and Mrs. G. Allan Care, of Toronto, last week.

The home of Mrs. Harry Carling was the scene of children's private theatricals on Friday evening last.

Miss Beatrice Richardson returned to Toronto last Friday, after her Easter vacation.

The many friends of Mrs. Travers, of St. Thomas, will regret to hear, that in company with her husband and family she will leave in a few weeks for Ireland to reside with her husband's uncle. Col. What a sad picture the papers gave us the other day of the venerable Pope raising his trembling hands to bless the assembled worshipers in St. Peter's at Rome. How the sight will remain graven on the minds of those present! For I know how it must all have looked, having stood in that wonderful temple of God over his martyr's grave; having gazed up at the "vast and wondrous dome" as Romeloving Byron calls it, and wondered at the power of man to erect such a monument, and at his frailty in that the number of his years are as nothing to those of the great cathedral. Some faint idea of its immensity may be obtained when one knows that the pen in the hand of the statute of St. Luke which adorns the dome is measured by feet.

There is a quaint custom that every visitor observes who has dreamed away days all too short in the Eternal City. It is to hide a penny in St. Peter's where it will not be disturbed. This is said to insure your return to Rome at some future time. It is not so easy as one might suppose, for in our case the old caretaker hob-bled about after us evidently suspecting us of a desire to hide not a penny, but a bomb. However, we evaded him and my penny awaits my return in a safe corner.

TRADE HELPED BY GOOD WEATHER

Weekly Review of the Business Situation in Canada and the United

New York, April 22. - Bradstreet's weekly review of trade says: Spring weather has helped distribution and improved the tone of business at leading Canadian centers. Toronto reports an active distribution on orders, but roads are in bad condition, and seeding will soon be active, pointing to smaller deliveries of grain and temporarily less active demand. British capital is reported seeking investment in Canadian mines. Navigation will soon open at Montreal, and warmer weather has improved the general outlook and made collections easier. Business is dull in the Maritime Provinces. Lumber shipments are heavy, but the seal catch is disappointing. Victoria jobbers are busy, and interior demand is increasing. Business failures in the Dominion number 30, against 25 last week and 15 in this week a year ago. Dun & Co.'s statement: Canadian reports indicate but little change in the general condition of business, the unsettled weather and the condition of country roads hindering to some extent. At St. John improved conditions are maintained and collections are better. At Halifax the market is steady, with fair collections and encouraging Shoe manufacturers at prospects. Quebec are fairly busy, though general business is quiet. Warmer weather helps business in some lines at Montreal, though the delayed opening of navigation affects it to some extent, and country roads are still poor, but conditions are very sound and money is stiff and scarce at 5 per cent on call. Wholesale trade at Toronto shows improvement, and there is increased demand for drygoods and builders' supplies and hardware. Winnipeg retrade, and average retail business. with collections only fair. At Victoria business conditions are quiet and satisfactory, with good prospects and collections. The season is backward at Vancouver, and collections are easy. Business is especially active in lumber and hardware, owing to extensive building operations. For the Dominion of Canada the bank clearances were: Montreal, $14,119,019increase 15.1 per cent; Toronto, $8.936,-269-increase 10.5 per cent: Winnipeg, $1.626.662: Halifax, $1.221.330 - Increase 1.9 per cent; Hamilton, $70,900-increase 9.9 per cent; St. John, N. B., $603.656increase 5.0 per cent; Vancouver, $606,-640; Victoria, $612,053.

ON THE OTHER SIDE.

The general business situation is one of quiet strength, while in industrial lines activity continues unabated. The well-nigh universal testimony to damage to the winter wheat crop has had surprisingly little effect on prices as yet, owing partly to improved weather conditions strengthening the hopes of a larger area of spring wheat, and also to good crop reports abroad, and increased visible supplies as compared with a year ago. The demand for lumber at wholesale continues good, and the southern industry seems to be sharing to the full in the general prosperity. Retailers, however, report buyers slow to pay the advanced quotations. Business failures show a notable falling off from those of last week, aggregating 187, against 243 in the preceding week, and

224 in this week a year ago. Bank clearings at the principal cities for the week ended April 21, show total clearances $1,975,962,484 - an increase of 77.1 per cent as compared with the corresponding week last year. Outside of New York city the clearances were $625,558,530-increase 20.7

R. G. Dun & Co.'s review says: Nothing appears in business or money markets to prevent continuance of the heaviest trade ever transacted at good profits. Wheat receipts have been 7,-551,343 bushels, against 5,206,643 last year in three weeks of April, and the improvement since April 1 is worthy of notice. Exports have fallen off, amounting from both coasts to only $6,774,-774 bushels, flour included, in three weeks, against 10,919,122 last year, and the price closes but 1/2c to 1c higher than last week. Corn is about steady in price, with a decrease in exports, natural at this season. Nothing but industrial depression is left to excite apprehension, but industries are meeting something very unlike depression. Failures for the week have been 184 in the United States, against 204 last year, and 22 in Canada, against 29 last

How American Wheelmen Can Satisfy Customs Officers.

Detroit, April 22.-The regulations governing the entry of American wheels into Canada will go into force on Monday. While the authorities are anxious not to put any obstacles in the way of American wheelmen visiting Canada, they have to adopt some regulations to prevent the wholesale smuggling of wheels into the coun-Those whose business takes them over the border every day will be fur-nished with cards bearing their names and address, and the name and number of the wheel. In case they buy a new wheel they will have to report it next time they cross in order to get the entry altered. Members of the L. A. W. will deposit their cards with the description of their wheels, and that will be accepted. Persons going on a tour through Canada may stay in the country three months, but they must enter their wheels, and either make a deposit of the amount of the duty, or produce satisfactory references. Those who make a deposit or leave their membership cards can leave Canada at any point they choose, and their card or be forwarded to them at their homes. In the case of wheeling parties going over for a day it is best to make up a list of the names and numbers of the owners, and deposit this with the customs officers, for a considerable amount of time is saved in that way. Arrangements should be made with the officers beforehand as to what guar-

MEN WERE DECEIVERS EVER. Miss Eliza Summers, of Belmont, had a rather novel suit in the first division court yesterday before Judge William Elliot. She brought an action against Charles Greece, of Dresden, to recover $56, money she had loaned him. The principals in the case had been engaged to marry, according to the fair plaintiff's story. She had loaned Greece money and paid his livery bills, and had helped to furnish his bachelor's quarters. In spite of all which evidences of undying devotion, Greece had gone and married another woman. Greece claimed he had never asked the lady to marry him, but admitted that she had "popped the question." As for the livery bills they had been incurred by taking Eliza out driving. The court told Greece he should have remained true to his first love and gave judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $46.

A SUCCESSFUL SINGER. Musical America says: Mr. Whitney Mockridge, the well-known Canadian tenor (who will sing at the Auditorium Monday, May 1), was brought out by

Mr. Torrington, in Toronto, some 20 years ago, his debut being made in the solo "If With All Your Hearts," from "Elijah." Mr. Whitney Mock-ridge is now known among the leading tenors of Great Britain and the United States, and his successes in both countries have been almost innumerable. His very latest appearances included Lady Halle's concert last Monday, in the important Suckling series, Toronto, Canada. Of Mr Mockridge's singing on that occasion, the Toronto World says: "He is a worthy successor of the famed Ed-ward Lloyd. He was encored each time." The popular tenor, after filling a great many private engagements in Toronto, Montreal, and some large western cities, will return to New York, and will then sing with the Apollo Club, Boston, and also in Portland, Me., Brooklyn and Washington. Mr. Mockridge is experienc-

Don't be under the impression that Abbey's Effervescent Salt is unpalat-It is a most delicious preparation to the taste-so pleasant, in fact, that it is oftentimes taken as a beverage. It is an unequaled thirst-quencher. But aside from these excellent qualities, it is the most wonderful regulator of health known. Abbey's Effervescent Salt, taken daily, will purify your blood and cleanse your system. Its effect is mild-almost imperceptible, but certain. Take it every day and you will enjoy constant good health. Abbey's Effervescent Salt, which is prescribed and indorsed by physicians, a standard English preparation which all druggists sell at 60 cents a large bottle. Trial size 25 cents.

FRANK DANIELS.

Frank Daniels will bring his opera company to the theater next Tuesday night with his big opera hit of last year, "The Idol's Eye." Everylast year, "The Idol's Eye." Every-where he has played a return engagement with this fascinating, tuneful and exceptionally funny opera, he has been rewarded with crowded houses. and, consequently, many dollars. This testimony may be considered—it is certainly so considered by him-as proof that one hearing of the opera is not enough to satisfy. During the present season Daniels has taken his opera. with his company to the Pacific coast for a long engagement and made a, great success. With two exceptions his company this year has in it all the people who assisted so well last season. The humor is as excellent as the music. The score abounds i melodies which have become popular.
