

Navy Bill Battle Begun in Dominion House of Commons

BORDEN AND THE LIBERALS ARE NOW AT CLOSE GRIPS ELECTIONS MAY FOLLOW

House of Commons Has Been Sitting All Night, and May Sit Continuously for Many Weeks—Opposition Determined to Fight to a Finish For Canadian Navy Idea.

CRUCIAL STRUGGLE BEING WAGED BETWEEN PARTIES IN PARLIAMENT

Government, Fearing Snap Division, Keeps Benches Filled—Liberals in Fine Fighting Form Attack in Squads—Entire Parliamentary Staff Working in Relays and Prepared For Long Struggle.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, March 4.—(3 p.m.)—There may be a general election shortly. Parliament sat all night, and is still sitting discussing the naval issue. It is expected to sit continuously for the remainder of the week. There is even a possibility that it may not rise for the remainder of the month.

The situation has come upon the Government as a surprise. It is true that almost every Liberal speaker has demanded an appeal to the country on the ground that the policy of contribution is new and dangerous, and should be passed upon by the people.

LIBERALS IN EARNEST.

To many observers it has been evident all along that the Liberals were in deadly earnest, and believed that the Government's naval policy contained the germ of disruption of the British Empire by which the United States was once alienated.

The Government does not appear to have thought Liberals serious, but looked upon demands and challenges for an election as pure bluff and House fireworks.

MAY BE ELECTION.

The seriousness of the situation is now dawning. The determination shown in the fight last night has brought a sharp realization. At the end of this month the Government will be without money, and a Government without funds is no Government at all. There is only one remedy. That is, dissolution of Parliament and an appeal to the electors. As soon as Parliament is dissolved, the Government can put itself in possession of temporary funds by issuing governor-general's warrants.

Everyone about Parliament, from page to premier, is now sure that there will be a general election if the Liberals can force it.

SITTING IS GRAVE.

Protracted sittings are usually characterized by boisterousness. It is significant of the seriousness of the situation that there has been none on this occasion. The Liberals, of course, have been doing the talking. Speaker followed speaker throughout the night in well-reasoned argument. There was nothing which could be characterized as frivolous time-killing.

The deadlock was precipitated by an arbitrary demand from the Prime Minister at midnight that the money clause of the naval bill should be adopted before the House rose.

LAURIER'S AMENDMENT.

The clause read: "From and out of the consolidated revenue of Canada there may be paid and applied a sum not exceeding thirty-five million dollars for the purpose of immediately increasing the effective naval forces of the Empire."

To this by way of amendment, Sir Wilfrid Laurier added that the $35,000,000 should be used "For the speedy organization of a Canadian naval service in close touch and in co-operation with the imperial navy."

Later in the sitting another amendment to widen the debate was added by Mr. Mackenzie, of Cape Breton. It declares that the sum "Be expended in accord with the suggestions of the British admiralty, submitted at the Imperial Conference of 1909."

These three declarations provide the present parliamentary battle field.

There will have to be a good deal of talk before election is forced. At 3 o'clock today the House has been listening to speech for 22 hours.

Saturday at midnight it will have 117 hours' steady speech to its credit.

The end of the month will have run the total up to 506 hours. There is some time which is privileged for silence by rule. Each day there are two hours for dinner and each week are twenty-four hours for worship. In this month Good Friday and Easter Monday provide two whole days of rest.

Divided Into Squads.

From all reports it seems to be quite possible for the Opposition to keep the mill running without breakdown. The Liberal forces have been divided into four squads. Each contains twenty members, and only one squad works at a time. The others are relieved for rest, recreation, recuperation or the further fortification of their arguments and the preparation of ammunition. So far the continuous performances have looked like easy achievement.

Though they have no talking to do the Government forces are under rather more strain. They cannot divide so easily because they have to have a majority in the chamber at all times, or take the chance of a snap verdict being given against them by a sudden vote, such as was taken in the British House recently on the Banbury amendment.

Closure Not Likely.

There is not telling when all four Liberal squads may walk into the chamber prepared to vote. However, there is little likelihood of this, as John Stanfield, the Conservative whip, is a capable man. There does not seem to be any way for either party to withdraw from the situation, and it would seem that the end can only be reached through the breakdown of the Liberal talking squad or by the dissolution of Parliament by the Government for the purpose of bringing on a general election. There is talk of forcing things by closure, but this does not seem likely to succeed even if it is attempted. It would take arbitrary action by Deputy Speaker Blondin, and there would be most vigorous protest against this which might even result in violence in Canada's chamber for the first time.

There are a good many very determined men in the chamber.

WOODROW WILSON MADE PRESIDENT OF THE U. S.

Welcomed to White House by Mr. Taft, and Pageant Follows, With Parade to Capitol Hill, Where Inaugural Ceremonies Were Held.

[Canadian Press.] Washington, March 4.—Vice-President Marshall took the oath at 12:24 p.m., and President Wilson at 2:00 o'clock.

Washington, March 4.—Inauguration Day dawned cold and gray. A solid bank of heavy clouds completely shut off the sun, and threatened to carry out the official prediction of "unsettled weather" in the afternoon or at night. With a temperature between 45 and 50 degrees, a light south wind fanned the city, but no such discomforts as attended the inauguration blizzard of four years ago were threatened, though every preparation had been made for them. It looked, however, as if a drizzle might begin almost any time.

Daylight found things moving swiftly toward the climax of the day's program—the inauguration ceremonies at the east front of the capitol. Streets were roped off and traffic through them was permitted only early in the day.

About the Shoreham Hotel, where Mr. Wilson was stopping, a small crowd kept at a distance by police, waited for a glimpse of the new president, as he started on his way. Another crowd, admirers of Mr. Taft, waited at the White House grounds for a glimpse of him.

The grounds, however, had been closed to the public, and the crowd waited at a distance.

Finishing Touches. All over the city there was an air of expectancy and final preparation. "Finishing touches" were being put on everywhere. Humanely speaking, the city became a shell when almost its entire population and probably 200,000 visitors began early massing in the downtown sections, along the line of march, and near the capitol grounds.

The culmination of a drama in modern life will be consummated today. London courts in a short time, when a suit entered by a Russian, employed as a molder in McClary's foundry, to force his wife, who recently arrived from Russia, to live with him will be heard.

Three years ago Pavel Kaminsky, working in a shop in Russia, heard of the wonders of the new world, and he pondered night after night over the wonderful possibilities of this land of promise, he decided to leave his wife and two children and to try his fortune in the new world.

Times were hard in Russia, and no sooner was his decision arrived at than he set about to execute his plan. He had a small amount of money saved, and he travelled to the nearest seaport and took passage to America, finally landing in London.

Got Employment Here. He secured employment here, and started to board his money, and put it in writing home to tell his wife where he was, or to ask her to come here to join him.

After he had been here for several months, a brother of his wife discovered him, and wrote informing her that the erring husband was in London and doing well.

Shortly after that the woman's step-father sailed for Canada, and came to London to investigate. He learned that Kaminsky was prospering, and had saved $800, so back to Russia, he went six months ago, and explaining the situation to his step-daughter, he induced her to return with him.

Switched His Account. She agreed, and when the husband learned that she was coming he drew the money out of the bank and put it in another in the name of a compatriot. The wife arrived in London last Wednesday, and went to her brother, Alex. Matk, who resided at William and Philip streets. The husband did not see her for several days, and endeavored in every possible way to keep away from her.

Friday husband and wife met for the first time in America, and much to the husband's surprise, his wife had become quite pretty. It was a case of love at second appearance, and immediately the husband asked his wife to come and live with him again. Then the stern step-father stepped in and said "nothing doing" until the money which he paid for the woman's passage to America had been paid over to him.

Wanted More Money. Kaminsky was willing, and going to the friend he induced him to get $200 for him. The friend did this, and then the wife suggested that $90 be secured for her to pay for clothes which she had purchased and other articles which she contemplated purchasing. This amount was secured also, and everything seemed to be running smoothly, but "breakers" appeared when the husband suggested again that the wife come to his home and reside. She refused, saying that she had been deserted, and that now that she had secured the money, she was going to get a divorce.

Kaminsky secured legal advice, and is going to enter suit to force his wife to return to him.

It is said that a boyhood sweetheart of the woman is now living in the Russian colony in the south end of the city, and that he is watching with interest the turns of events.

BRAZIER NOT READY TO DECIDE ON OFFER

Says Acceptance of Position as Assistant Engineer Depends On Salary.

Engineer Brazier would not say definitely this morning whether he would accept the position of assistant city engineer, which the council on Monday night decided to offer him.

He had not received any official intimation of the council's action Monday night, but intimated that his acceptance or refusal of the position would depend largely on the question of salary.

FALLS 17 FLOORS THEN ROLLS CIGARETTE

Marble Worker's Life Saved by Landing on a Pile of Bags.

[Canadian Press.] New York, March 4.—John Brennan, a marble worker, fell from the seventeenth floor of the new municipal building to the bottom of an elevator shaft yesterday and treated his experience so lightly that those who ran to his aid found him rolling a cigarette, and casually inquiring if an ambulance could be summoned. Much shorter falls have cost many lives in skyscraper buildings, but Brennan was saved from being dashed to pieces by a large bundle of empty bags on which he fell. He suffered fractures of the leg bones and a slight scalp wound, but will recover.

CLAIMS ALDERMEN OWNED LANDS IN ANNEXED DISTRICT

Industrial Banner Charges That City Got "Raw Deal" by Taking in Suburbs.

Members of 1912 Council Interviewed as to Whether They Are Interested.

The Industrial Banner, in its current issue, makes the charge that one of the reasons the annexation scheme went through without a vote of the ratepayers was that several London aldermen owned property outlying the old city limits.

In the words of the Banner, "The ratepayers of London are now beginning to realize that they got a pretty good sized one put over on them." "Quite a number of the individuals, who will now have to pay an increased tax rate, were hollering," it continues, "just about that time for a vote to be taken, right then, on the electrification of the London and Port Stanley Railway, and then, when a great big raw deal was being framed up to bleed their pockets, they were led like lambs to the slaughter, and now they are going to get it."

They Should Have Been Taken.

The paper goes on to say that the people should have been given a chance to vote on the proposal, but that they were denied the right by the very men who were crying for the vote on electrification.

It goes on: "Nobody, however, at that time thought about such an insignificant little thing as voting on the annexation scheme, that didn't count then, even if it does now, when it's too late to register a squeal. Of course, the average ratepayer was not on to the fact that some of the aldermen had considerable real estate just outside the city in the districts it was proposed to incorporate into the city."

On Two Sides of Street. After stating that in some cases taxpayers in London residing on a different side of the street must pay the full tax rate, while the man across the road gets "his" at less than half-price, the Banner adds: "But what matter it, only another of these raw little deals that are slickly worked off on the long-suffering London public every little while."

However, it concludes, "there is one consideration that should cheer the hearts of the taxpayers, and that is that some of the city fathers who own property in the new districts have made a nice little thing out of the deal."

Aldermen Interviewed. Those members of last year's council who could be secured were asked whether or not they were owners or interested in property in the annexed district. Ex-Ald. Wright is ill in Vancouver. Their replies were as follows:

ALD. WM. SPITAL—No, not one foot.

ALD. E. H. JOHNSTON—I have one little lot in Knollwood Park. It is a hundred-dollar lot.

ALD. J. G. RICHTER—I never owned a foot of land out there.

EX-ALD. R. F. BLANDFORD—I do not own nor have I owned land in the new district.

ALD. J. P. MOORE—I am interested in some. I have been for a long time.

EX-ALD. T. J. MURPHY—I plead not guilty. Never had any.

EX-ALD. W. G. COLES—Bought a hundred feet the other day along with my brother and another man. Never had any at the time the scheme was put through.

ALD. WM. ROBINSON—I do not own a dollar's worth of land in the new district.

ALD. HUBERT ASHPLANT—I do not own any land in the new district.

EX-ALD. BENNETT was out on his run from the Pare Marquette, but it was stated that he had no holdings of land in the district.

ALD. ROSE could not be communicated with.

BRAVERY OF BOY SAVES LITTLE GIRLS FROM ALMOST CERTAIN DEATH IN WATERS OF THAMES

Children Slide Over Embankment and Out Onto Thin Ice on Toboggan—Carvel Walters, Ten-Years Old, Crawls Carefully Back to Safety and Rescues Playmates.

But for the presence of mind of Carvel Walters, the ten-year-old son of Mr. Wm. G. Walters, 24 Stanley street, Grace, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Blanchard, would have fallen into the icy Thames on Friday afternoon.

The two little girls, aged 6 and 5, respectively, were engaged in sliding down the hill at the residence of Mr. A. M. McEvoy, on Becher street, with a number of companions, after 4 o'clock on Friday, and young Walters and Kenneth Thompson were among the party.

The four children started down the hill on Thompson's toboggan toward the river, and a number of companions watched them from the top of the hill.

Went Over Bank. Before the startled onlookers could utter a word of warning, the toboggan disappeared over the bank. Several of them rushed to the bank, while others ran for assistance, thinking that the children would be immersed in the river and in danger of drowning.

As the toboggan rolled over the bank young Thompson went off and the other three were carried on to the toboggan on to the thin ice along the shore of the river, where they slipped off, the toboggan continuing until it disappeared in the water. Walters, who was at the front, told the girls to remain still, and he crawled along the ice to the shore and pulled the girls to safety before any assistance had arrived.

The children soon recovered from their fright, and with the exception of the loss of the toboggan no ill effects of the narrow escape have followed.

Praise Young Walters. People who have heard the story from spectators are loud in their commendation of the conduct of young Walters.

Mrs. Blanchard, who was spoken to by The Advertiser today, stated that it was the most remarkable exhibition of presence of mind of which she had ever heard, and she was positive but that for the prompt action of the young boy the two girls would certainly have fallen into the river with the toboggan.

HUNDREDS OF WOMEN ASK FOR CURFEW LAW

Petition Signed With Five Hundred Names Presented to the City Council—Want Streets Cleared of Children Under 14 Years of Age.

H. B. Beal submitted to the city council Monday night a petition signed by some five hundred members of the Mothers' Clubs and other citizens, asking for a curfew law to call children under fourteen off the streets at certain hours. It was referred to No. 1 committee.

It declared: "That it is expedient that a bylaw be passed providing for the sounding of a curfew bell to call children under the age of 14 years off the streets at 8 p.m. from Nov. 1 till April 1, and at 9 p.m. the balance of the year. Your petitioners, therefore, pray that the said curfew be instituted as soon as possible."

Calis Conditions "Startling." Mrs. M. F. Irwin, president of the Union Mothers' Clubs of the city, stated to The Advertiser today that the movement for the installation of a curfew bell in London was universal in its support, and that no one society or organization was behind the movement.

"There is a great need for the curfew in this city," said Mrs. Irwin, "and all societies and organizations that have the welfare of the children and the city at large at heart are taking great interest in the scheme. The Teachers' Association, W. C. T. U., Y. W. C. A., and Children's Aid Society are all in favor of the proposal. The number of children of tender years on the streets after dark is amazing as well as startling, and shows that some of the parents are irresponsible. We asked the council to pass a by-law establishing the curfew, so that we will have the law behind us in our endeavors to improve the moral standards of both the young people and the city."

Need For Safe Control. Mr. H. B. Beal, principal of Alexandra School, whose name was connected with the petition presented at the meeting of the council, stated that "safe control over the children at night was very necessary, and I am heartily in sympathy with the ideas of the petitioners."

The petition did not contain any suggestions as to the working of the curfew system, other than the hours be 8 o'clock in the winter and 9 o'clock in the summer.

NO STEAM MAN NAMED TO REPORT ON CITY LINE

Ald. Bennett Points Out That Men Secured Understand Electrical Operation Only—Mr. Warfield To Receive $200 Monthly.

Considerable discussion was evoked Monday night by the clause in the report of No. 1 committee to the city council, recommending that A. M. Warfield be employed for the purpose of reporting on the London and Port Stanley Railroad as per his offer, viz., general, operation by steam, earnings and income from operation, steam and storage battery system, electrification only, operation, earnings, and income, and constructing a second track from London to St. Thomas, Mr. Warfield to be paid $200 per month.

No Expert on Steam. Ald. Bennett asked why a steam man has not been found to report on the question. Ald. Moore replied that Mr. Marshall, of Toronto, had been practically arranged for, but that he had accepted another offer. This was regrettable, in that Mr. Marshall was in a class by himself, said Ald. Bennett, who thought the report ought to be returned to the committee. A man was needed who was acquainted with the tariffs. Ald. Bennett declared that Marshall could make the report right from his own office in Toronto. He was thoroughly familiar with the road.

Ald. Glass thought that Mr. Warfield might be asked to expedite the report as much as possible, and Ald. Richter thought the question of remuneration was too indefinite. At $200 a month it might take a long time. It was satisfactorily pointed out that Mr. Warfield's services would only be available up to the 1st of April.

What Will Be Paid. Mr. J. Eastman, of Windsor, was appointed for the same work, but his salary was not fixed. Ald. Richter raised a point here, but was told that it would not be in excess of what Mr. Warfield would be paid. Mr. Eastman, as an employee of another corporation, could not accept a fixed rate of payment, but Ald. Richter was assured that the committee had an understanding with him as to the honorarium he was to receive.

W. NORMAN ASHPANT, who was appointed city engineer for London by city council in session Monday night.

Tunnel Town News

BIG STEEL FREIGHTERS ARE GETTING READY

Anticipate an Early Opening of Navigation on the Lakes.

SARNIA BRANCH OFFICE, 209 Front Street. Office hours, 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., 5:30 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, March 4.—Many of the big steel freighters berthed at Port Huron this winter anticipate an early start this spring. The vessels came down last December from the upper lakes loaded with grain for the elevator in that city, and will clear away as soon as navigation opens. Two of the McCormack barges in the American city are being fitted out preparatory to the season's work. These boats dredge sand from the St. Clair River, most of the time, and are occasionally used as lighters.

WON'T OBJECT TO USE OF THE TOWN SEAL

Many Think Its Use Will Be a Good Ad For the Tunnel.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, March 4.—It is understood that the market and printing committee will not object to the use of the town's seal by the printing companies here, although the committee has not yet officially met. When it was first suggested that the corporation seal be used on letterheads and envelopes and similar by the various business houses as a means of boosting and advertising the town, several of the town officials were much opposed to the project. They were of the opinion that it would detract from the dignity of the municipality. Others, however, believed that Sarnia has had enough of dignity, and needs booming more. As the town seal accomplishes more for the municipality as an advertising feature than as a tombstone for feignism.

INGERSOLL PLANS TO SEPARATE FROM COUNTY

Special Committee Appointed by Council to Secure the Figures.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, March 4.—At the regular meeting of the town council last evening a motion by Reeve Fleet, seconded by S. G. Walley, to the effect that a committee be appointed to look into and report at once upon the matter of Ingersoll separating from the county of Oxford, was favorably received. A committee composed of Reeve Fleet, S. G. Walley, Walter Mills, W. J. Elliott and Mayor Coleridge was named, and will as soon as possible secure all figures pertaining to the town and county.

INGERSOLL BOARD TO HOLD MEETING

Members intend To Boon the Town During the Present Year.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, March 4.—The board of trade will hold a regular meeting in the council hall this evening. From what can be learned there are no particularly important matters to be discussed, but as the board decided at the annual meeting to make it a point to meet regularly each month, good attendance is looked for. It is felt by several members of the board that the present year should be one of results so far as active work is concerned, and efforts will be put forth to outline a policy that will help Ingersoll grow.

A quiet wedding was solemnized by Rev. R. M. Perkins at the rectory, Oxford street, the contracting parties being Henry Orville McKay and Miss Alice Grace, both of Ingersoll.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harris left yesterday on a month's trip to Florida and Cuba. They will sail this week from New York.

ALD. GLASS LOOKS FOR A WAY OUT

Wanted to Provide for Going Back to Joint Operation of Boards.

Ald. S. F. Glass on Monday night at the city council attempted to put through a motion to insert in the City of London bill a clause providing that if the separation of the water and light commission into two separate commissions was found unsatisfactory in practice, the council could submit a bylaw to the people to reunite the two commissions on the previously existing basis, and to terminate the rights vested in the two commissions. Ald. Richter at once pointed out that notice of motion would first have to be given for the insertion of such a clause, and after a deal of discussion it was carried as a notice of motion, but it will be too late for insertion in this session's bill.

THE WHITE HOUSE GIRLS

For the last two weeks. Details of the operations are extremely difficult to obtain, as the censorship is most rigid. All the letters sent by officers and men defending the town are subjected to the minutest scrutiny. That the fighting has been serious, however, is obvious from the fact of the arrival of a batch of 32 wounded Americans, seventeen of whom were suffering from serious injuries.

The Moros, it is reported, continually fling taunts at the defenders of the town, calling on them to "come out and fight" in American fashion, and not like pigs. The troops are chafing greatly at their inaction and many complaints are heard among both officers and men.

Brigadier-General Pershing, commander of the department of Mindanao, denies the report that arms are being smuggled into Jolo.

THE FIGHT AT OTTAWA.

The House of Commons has been sitting continuously since 3 p.m. on Monday.

It is in committee on the naval bill, and is still discussing the second clause. The preamble and the first clause, affirming the principle of Canadian aid in Imperial naval defence, were passed without controversy. On the second clause, providing for a grant of $35,000,000 for the construction of three Dreadnoughts in British shipyards, the Opposition at once raised its alternative proposal of Canadian-built fleet units.

The Government is trying to force through this crucial clause before consenting to an adjournment of the House. It had no right to impose the physical strain of an all-night sitting on the members, until it had allowed reasonable time for discussion.

It may be that the Opposition has determined to make its stand upon this particular clause, and endeavor to force dissolution of Parliament, but the Government should not have assumed that this was the Opposition's tactic when the first contentious clause had been discussed only a few hours. It is the Government's privilege to try to wear down obstruction, but it should have waited till obstruction was proved.

The Government has made itself the challenger, and the Opposition will be nerved in its fight by the premature attempt to force it to its knees by a test of physical endurance. Liberals from the Atlantic to the Pacific should send messages of good cheer to their representatives at Ottawa, who are championing a great constitutional principle, which is the core of Canadian self-governing freedom.

BRITISH REBUKE FOR THE BORDEN POLICY.

The Manchester Guardian, the foremost Liberal journal in the United Kingdom, makes a careful comparison between the Australian and Bordenite naval plans, to the advantage of the former.

Politically looked at, the Borden plan "does some violence to colonial nationalism and to the principle of no taxation without representation." "The Australian plan puts the whole strength of nationality into the fleet; the Canadian plan divides it—it temporizes, it gives now but may withdraw, it is hedged about with conditions, it has already set party against party." In Australia everyone will be interested in the navy as he loves his own country; under the Canadian scheme he will support the navy in so far as he approves this or that object of policy which it is being used to support—a very different standard of devotion." Again, if Canada is given representation on the committee of Imperial defence, "then the Imperial Parliament has a just grievance, in addition to the Dominion Parliament," because the committee will not be completely responsible to either.

The naval and political objections are equally strong. In the first place, says the Guardian, "none of these Canadian ships, for the purposes of calculating relative naval strength, is added to ours. We dare not count them. But our naval rivals on the principle of counting all the elements of chance against themselves, must count them as ours, so that the Canadian plan as compared with the Australian will or may tend to increase the strain of competitive building in home waters."

Secondly, "the Australian plan is likely to be productive of new ideas of tactics and strategy"; the Canadian plan, encouraging an excessive centralization of control, will tend to "a deadening uniformity of naval ideas." The Guardian thinks that concentration in home waters has gone too far and may cause Britain "to abdicate too much of her power as a world-wide Empire." It makes a plea for "genuinely colonial schools of naval thought and training," such as dominion national organizations will develop.

These arguments are weighty and are excellently put. They are moderate in tone and similar to the arguments commonly advanced in this country for the Laurier policy, which indeed is the Australian plan and was concerted with the Australian authorities.

SOCIALISTS EXPEL HAYWOOD.

The expulsion of William D. Haywood from the national executive committee of the Socialist party in the United States, marks a definite cleavage between Syndicalism and Socialism in that country.

Haywood is the head of the Industrial Workers of the World, an organization which will make no truce with capital and the employing classes, and advocates violence and the general strike. The outlaws associated with his name led the Socialists two years ago to put a clause in their constitution making ineligible for membership any who opposed, political action, or advocated crime, sabotage (wrecking of machinery), or other forms of "direct action." Like the Syndicalists of France, the Industrial Workers of the World are not opposed to political action; but they are impatient of the gradual and peaceful process of converting state legislatures and Congress to Socialism. They are impatient also of the steadygoing methods of the older trades unions and frequently work against them. The most conspicuous success of the I. W. W. was the strike of the Lawrence, Mass., woolen workers, which it took out of the hands of the regular labor organizations, but its activity is chiefly in the west, where it keeps up an industrial turmoil.

In France the Syndicalist idea has captured the working classes. They are not hostile to parliamentary action through the Socialist party, but they regard it as secondary to "direct action." As a result the French Socialist movement is mainly in the hands of the "intellectuals." In fact, the Syndicalists look upon the Socialists as little better than one of the orthodox parties, and they point to the apostasy of such Socialists as Briand and Millerand, prime minister and minister of justice, respectively, in the present French cabinet, and in the former one which fought the Syndicalists in the railway strike two years ago.

In the United States it will be interesting to watch the effect upon the Socialist party of the rupture with the Syndicalist wing. The vote on the expulsion of Haywood stood 23,500 to 11,000. The party has purged itself, and will henceforth make a stronger appeal to sober Americans, but it may lose the support of the fiery spirits who regard the present state of society as a class war, in which other weapons than ballots are justifiable.

Co-operation, not Contribution.
Every Canadian ought to be on the Canadian side of the navy question. At least Mr. Taft was spared the mortification of being obliged to ride up Pennsylvania avenue with Mr. Roosevelt.

Wm. J. Bryan gets into the White House at last, but not at the head of the table, unless, like Macdonald, the head is where he sits.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier left the House of Commons for bed at 4 a.m. The veteran chieftain is happily in fit shape to do his share of the fighting.

In anticipation of Professor Powys's lecture we publish Keats's lines, "On First Looking Into Chapman's Homer." And the printer made it "Chapman's Home." This is one of what the professor would call life's little ironies.

IS IT WORTH WHILE?

[Joanna Miller.]

Is it worth while that we jostle a brother

Bearing his load on the rough road of life?

Is it worth while that we jeer at each other

In blackness of heart?—that we war to the knife?

God pity us all in our pitiful strife!

God pity us all as we jostle each other!

God pardon us all for the rumpus we feel

When a fellow goes down; poor, heart-broken brother.

Pierced to the heart—words are keener than steel.

And mightier far for woe or for weal.

Were it not well in this brief little journey

On over the isthmus, down into the tide,

That we give him a fish instead of a serpent.

Ere folding the hands to be and

For ever and e'er in dust at his side?

Look at the roses saluting each other:

Look at the heads all at peace on the plain—

Man and man only makes war on his brother

And dots in his heart on his peril and pain—

Shamed by the brutes that go down on the plain.

MISTAKEN.

"What I am today I owe to my wife," he said proudly.

"Well, what are you?" asked the cynic.

"I'm the husband of the best bridge-player in our neighborhood," he replied.

VULGARITY OF THE RICH.

[Dr. Frank Crane, in Woman's World.]

Any display is vulgar. The "smart set," those who parade their new gowns at the horse show, wear costly jewelry, live in houses stuffed with expensive furniture, drink wines costing many dollars a bottle, ride in private yachts and private cars, and altogether surround themselves with extravagance that goes beyond common.

fort, are vulgar. The millionaire who gives a dinner at $200 a plate may not be a sinner, but he certainly is common and low. Any addle-pated fool could do it; and nobody but a fool would do it.

There can be no culture without a deliberate and habitual preference for simplicity. Many houses on Fifth avenue, New York, are as vulgar as the slums on the other side of the city. And thrusting of one's self into notice is vulgar. Loud talking, breaking in upon conversation of others, strutting, affected airs or affected tone of voice, flashy clothes, having the fingers covered with rings or displaying large jewels, officiousness, and all such things indicate a certain coarseness.

GROWING BACKWARD.

Kitty—Tom says I grow younger every day.

Jack—That's a positive fact. Why, I shouldn't be surprised if the term name soon among the birth notices.

RIGHT THE FIRST TIME.

[New York American.]

Baker—I was out in Blankley's motor last week. He had everything in it, even a pedometer.

Barker—You mean speedometer, old man. A pedometer is an instrument for measuring how far you walk.

Baker—All right; I'll stick to pedometer.

EITHER WAY.

Practical Man—Not all who auto ought to.

Socialist—Humph! Not all who ought to auto.

JOKE ON JONES.

"Jones grumbles that his wife can't take a joke."

"That's funny, seems to me,"

"How so?"

"She took Jones."

A TIP SCORE.

[New York Press.]

A travelling salesman of the West has retired after twenty years on the road. From careful accounts which he kept, he estimates that in that time he has expended $18,000 in tips. His schedule of fees for a trip from Chicago to Milwaukee shows:

Porter for trunk at Chicago ..... 25c

Porter, bag to train ..... 10c

Porter Pullman ..... 25c

Bellboy to room ..... 10c

Three meals (average) ..... 45c

Barber ..... 10c

Brush boy in barber shop ..... 5c

Head hotel porter, on leaving ..... 25c

Pullman porter ..... 25c

Boy who took clothes to the laundry ..... 10c

Some of these are below, rather than above, the average. Eddie Poy's joke that it had cost him $100 to rest his hat probably had a sad basis of fact.

PRESBYTERY INFORMED OF BIG MOVEMENT.

[All Ministers in Canada To Be Invited to Missionary Conference.]

The London Presbytery held its March meeting in the first Presbyterian Church Monday night with a large attendance of members.

Rev. T. H. Mitchell, B. D., of New St. James' Church, was the retiring moderator, and was cordially thanked for the able and genial manner in which he had filled the chair for the past year.

Rev. Donald McKay, of Cowal, was elected by rotation to preside over the presbytery for the next year. A minute of appreciation of the life and services of the late clerk, Rev. A. Henderson, was presented by Rev. J. G. Stuart, and Dr. Ross.

Rev. A. R. McRae III, of Kintyre, Dr. Ross was asked to lead the presbytery in prayer on behalf of the afflicted brother, and his family. A committee was appointed to bring in a resolution of sympathy with Mr. McRae and to arrange for the supply of his pulpit if necessary.

A communication from Dr. Grant and the executive of the home mission board, called attention to the great missionary conference to be held in Toronto at the time of the General Assembly's meeting in June. All the Presbyterian ministers and missionaries in Canada with their wives, and a lay representative from every church, will be invited.

A local taxicab chauffeur was acquitted on a charge of speeding as it was shown that he was conveying a physician on a hurry call. He was, however, fined $1 for having run his auto without procuring the necessary license for 1913.

BLIND PARTISANS
ALONE IN SUPPORT
OF THREE-FIFTHS

Three Dyed-in-Wool Conservatives Among Two Thousand Uphold Whitney's Stand.

Prof. Bowman Regards United Condemnation of System as Most Significant.

"It was a very significant fact that when a vote was called as to the popularity of the three-fifths clause that only three out of almost two thousand who voted were in favor of the clause. These three men were dyed-in-the-wool Conservatives, who blindly follow Sir James Whitney no matter what course he pursues."

The above statement was made to The Advertiser this morning by Professor James H. Bowman, of this city, who was a delegate at the recent meeting of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance in Toronto. At the meeting the three-fifths clause was supported by all temperance workers but the result of the vote showed that the statement was a direct misrepresentation of the feelings of the province. The vote was important on account of the meeting being the largest ever held by the Ontario branch, and all sections of the province were represented.

Stop Sale of Bottles.

"We discussed the question of asking the Government to prohibit the sale of bottles over the bar," continued Professor Bowman. "That this step would be of great assistance to the Government in the liquor traffic was the opinion of all the delegates present, and the decision to request the Government to make some legislation in connection with the matter was received with great applause."

In view of the local option records in West Lorne and the London Township, we decided to ask the Government in case the London Township election was declared invalid to the West Lorne local option elections. It seems unfair that an unqualified bartender or hotelkeeper should vote against the bylaw, and that when the people favor local option his vote should be deducted from those cast in favor of it. The secret ballot legislation states that a man cannot be compelled to tell what he voted for, but it is permissible by law to compel a man to tell if he voted at all? Judge Macleod, who presided at the recent in London Township is undecided in connection with this phase of the law at present, and is waiting to receive a copy of the West Lorne judgment before making his decision.

Close Bars at 8 o'Clock.

"Another step we decide to take," he continued, "is to advocate that all bars be closed from eight in the evening until eight o'clock the next morning, and also to close at one o'clock Saturday afternoons. No delegations from the meeting visited the Government, but a special committee was appointed to draft on it and present our suggestions."

GREEK PEANUT MAN
FACES THEFT CHARGE

Alleged To Have Stolen Packing Case From Rear of Shoe Store.

Jim Lapostis, a Greek peanut-vendor, was found guilty of stealing a packing case from the rear of the premises of the Johnston & Murray's shoe store on Dundas street. He was allowed to go on suspended sentence.

The theft occurred about midnight on Monday and the man was arrested by P. C. Eitelberg Brown, who was on duty at the rear of the store, having been sent there as a result of complaints received that packing cases were disappearing.

Stole Packing Case.

On the witness stand, he stated that he saw three men enter the yard with their peanut carts about midnight, and while two of them were engaged in putting their carts into a shed for the night, Lapostis sneaked up toward the store and returned bearing a small packing case. He placed him under arrest on a charge of theft.

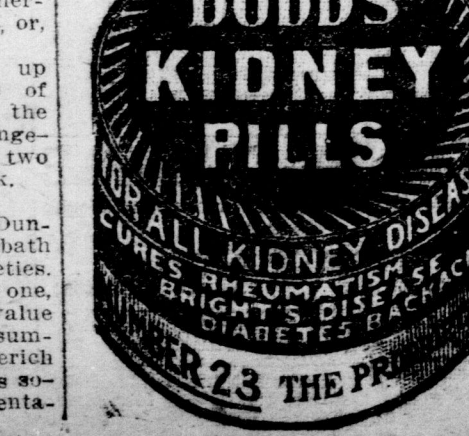

Lapostis and one of the other men, Gus Gikas, both testified through an interpreter, saying that they had found the box lying near their own back door, and had simply used it to kick the snow from their feet.

Was Warned.

Mrs. Kate Miller, the woman who created a scene in Inspector Sanders' office on Monday afternoon by using foul language, was allowed to go on condition that she leave the city. Inspector Sanders did not lay an information against her, but the court warned her that had she done so she would probably have been sent to the Mercer Reformatory.

Mrs. Mima Harris expressed penitence for having imbibed too freely, and was discharged.

A local taxicab chauffeur was acquitted on a charge of speeding as it was shown that he was conveying a physician on a hurry call. He was, however, fined $1 for having run his auto without procuring the necessary license for 1913.

ASK RIGHT TO VOTE
ON LONDON
SEA-WALL SCHEME

Two Clauses Making Necessary Provision Moved By City Council

IN CITY OF LONDON BILL

One Referendum For Storm Water Sewer and Breakwater Bylaws.

Two clauses asking for permission to take a vote of the ratepayers on the question of a permanent seawall for the City of London bill, which goes before the Provincial Legislature some time this week.

This was decided upon at a meeting of the city council Monday night, when Messrs. Pocock and Clark appeared as a delegation from the West London Progressive Association and urged that some definite action be taken.

Amount To Be $75,000.

Ald. Stein, seconded by Ald. Rose, moved that the city solicitor be instructed to place in the City of London bill a clause asking for a sum not to exceed $75,000 for the erection of a permanent breakwater, and that the question of the construction of the same be sent to the ratepayers at the same time as the question of municipal operation of the London and Port Stanley Railroad was voted on.

Mr. E. Pocock, one of the delegates from the West London Progressive Association, did not agree with the motion put forward by Ald. Stein, claiming that it would not take more than $4,000 to build a permanent wall.

He pointed out that the city had already spent $40,000 in repairing the present breakwater and that it was now in worse shape than it had ever been.

Protection First.

"We want protection first and beautification after," said he, "and we have with us tonight a contractor who is willing to build a wall 20 feet high and one foot thick, at an angle of 45 degrees."

Like Magic To Weak Nerves

With the nerves exhausted both mind and body are of little use. You feel tired, worn-out and down-hearted, and the organs of digestion fail to perform their all-important functions.

Nervous troubles do not go away of their own accord, but gradually grow worse and worse until some form of paralysis is developed. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food can be depended upon to revitalize feeble, wasted nerve cells as nothing else can. Here is a case in illustration:

"When I began to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, on the recommendation of a friend, my system was so much run-down that I was weak and exhausted, and could not at times attend to my work. The effect of the Nerve Food was almost like magic, for in a few days the weakness wore away and I found strength and vigor being restored to my body. That cure was effected three years ago, but I generally use the Nerve Food in the spring, as I can find no treatment so effective as a spring medicine."

THE CULT OF THE SMILE

—YOU'LL SMILE WHEN YOU READ IT.

Polly was smiling. Nothing unusual in that, you say, for an 18-year-old girl—it would be more of a wonder if she didn't. Ah, but you don't understand! Polly's smile was no ordinary smile, such as you might expect from a merry-hearted maiden under 20, but rather a fixed, forced, "made-to-order" smile, that ill-accompanied Polly's blue eyes and freckled nose.

You see, the fact was that for weeks Polly had been secretly studying the Cult of the Smile. Just when or how she got the idea into her pretty little head is hard to tell, but that was probably on the day that her father praised Mrs. Smartleigh so much for her sweet smile. At any rate, Polly suddenly and apparently without reason, smiled. She read what all her favorite authors from Elbert Hubbard to Ella Wheeler Wilcox had to say on the subject of smiling, but she told no one about the wonderful Cult of the Smile which she was studying so assiduously.

After absorbing a quantity of this literature, three basic principles regarding the Cult were firmly impressed on Polly's mind—if one was to accomplish any good one must smile; if one would be considered kind, lovely, and generous, it was necessary to smile; and last, but certainly not least, if one was to make one's way in this world, the essence was a smile. So Polly smiled, and smiled, and smiled.

"Can't think what on earth's got into our Polly," said Father. "She's sat smiling at me in the library for the last half-hour, and I got so nervous I had to come out here."

"I've noticed it, too," said Polly's mother, who was preparing supper. "And when Aunt Jane was here yesterday, day Polly smiled at her so steadily, she looked old and gave her a quarter, and told her to run out and buy herself some chocolates."

It was the same wherever Polly went. She smiled. No matter how wet the day, or chill the wind, whether it rained or snowed, or whether they went right, still she smiled that fixed, sphinx-like smile. Even the minister noticed it. "Was there anything particularly wrong with my sermon to-day?" he asked his wife one Sunday, after the morning service. "I saw that little Polly Perkins smiling so steadily during the sermon, it was quite disconcerting, and I nearly lost my place. Perhaps I had a smudge on my nose."

It was the same at the office where Polly was employed as a stenographer. All day she smiled. Her employer at last asked her if she could had a fortune left her. But Polly merely answered, "No, sir," and went on smiling. The manager finally decided that she must be in love, and watched Jones, the bookkeeper, so closely, that the poor fellow "hoped to goodness he wasn't going to be fired."

In fact, everyone was noticing Polly's smile, and the young man on whom Polly desired to make the best impression thought within his heart, "She must be an affected little mink, after all."

But at last the crisis came. Polly awoke one morning to find she could no longer smile. Standing before her mirror she tried to adjust the upward curves to her rosy mouth in the same manner that she had been doing for some weeks. But no! She could no longer smile!

Dismayed, she ate her breakfast and went to the office, trying all the time to be a faithful disciple to the Cult of the smile. It was no use. The day passed and still Polly had not been able to summon the smile to her lips, yet strangely enough things seemed to run more smoothly than they had for some time.

It was at tea-time that Father said, "Why, our Polly looks more like herself today, child, not to see that smile upon your face."

Polly stared at him in amazement for a long minute, then burst into tears. "Oh, didn't you really like it?" she gasped wistfully. "You know you said one day you admired Mrs. Smartleigh's smile so much, and so I tried to smile like her, and I didn't, and I was so much of a fool, and I would crack every time I tried to smile."

"Well, well, never," said Father, and both he and Mother lost no time in administering just the proper kind of comfort to the poor little disciple of the smile cult.

Embroidery To Be Big Note In Next Summer's Styles

The new note everywhere seems to be embroidery. Paris has evidently smiled on this kind of trimming, for even more fashionable than lace, on the Riviera now are flounces and band trimmings of the very sheer, very open embroideries—some of them more beautiful than any lace except price-les varieties could possibly be.

Excellent imitations. Of course, all these beautiful embroideries come from Europe, and it seems really surprising to find many of them at such low prices. Some of the new flouncings imitate perfectly hand-worked patterns, and there are collar and cuff sets for use with the summery frocks of linen or dimity which one would swear were hand-wrought specimens of the beautiful Appenzelle work, were it not for the prices attached, which indicate that the work is machine done. So marvelous are some of these machine imitations of handwork that only an expert can tell the difference, and the new embroideries are much in demand for summer petticoats, negligees and lingerie garments.

The bolder patterned embroideries are favored by fashion for frocks and blouses, and some of the boldest and most open effects are veiled with white net or are mounted upon net to give a soft effect. Handsome flouncings show motifs of net in the embroidered designs, and, altogether, net is going to be a very popular fabric in next summer's costumes, if signs are to be believed. When one says "bold" patterned embroideries, an effect of coarseness or heaviness is not supposed to be conveyed. In fact, the bolder the new patterns, the sheerer, finer and lozier they are, and some of the effects are remarkably like handsome point Venise designs.

New also are the pattern embroideries on grounds of crepe cloth, a new snow-fake voile called "voile neige," and a new mesh fabric, exquisitely fine and soft, called "mousseline a jour." There are also many beautiful robes of sheer batiste, and cotton voiles have not been neglected, although crepe is the more fashionable fabric for this season, voiles and batistes taking a second place, except for distinctively midsummer costumes of lingerie type.

Among the new embroidered robe patterns, one notes a large proportion of eastern effects. There are Bulgarian patterns, Armenian patterns, Russian and Turkish patterns, and there are new brocade and tapestry effects which are especially beautiful. Interesting also are the colored embroideries on white or cream grounds, and the embroidered allover of which frocks and blouses are being made for Palm Beach wear. A charming little frock of plumetis embroidery—as this colored work on a white crepe ground is called—shows tiny sprigs of forget-me-nots, heliotrope and moss roses on a creamy ground, and soft stem designs in pale green being scattered through the pattern at intervals. All the colorings are very soft and delicate, and the gown is simply fashioned with a draped skirt and a deep fichu-collar of net and Cluny lace. Soft shades of heliotrope silk, lined with pale blue in the forget-me-not shade, encircling the waist and falling at one side of the back.

Cream and ecru tints are well represented among the new summer fabrics and embroideries, and some of the pattern robes combine white and ecru, showing an ecru embroidered design on a white ground, or vice-versa. These robe dresses are draped as gracefully by the couturiers as any formal winter gown of chamois, crepe de chine or lansdowne. Usually, the lingerie robe is accompanied by a pale-colored sash tied or knotted in some individual manner, and along the Riviera are the new evening, batonnet-boots of white buckskin with costumes of this sort.

BILLY STEVENS—His Story.

XXVIII.—Billy's Friends.

(Copyright.)

Yes, the second person came up after the meeting and said, "If you will find a home for Billy, I will find the money."

This lady had children of her own and knew about it. And so she said she would find the money. Then when she had gone away the Third Person came. Another lady, another mother, another kind woman, she said, "When you need money for Billy, let me know. I will give it." So the Social Service annual meeting with Sir James was a great affair for Billy. It put his affairs on a sound financial basis, and apparently he knew now. For from the 15th of December, 1912, to about the 15th of January, 1913, he took more food than he ever had before. We ventured to weigh him again. Fourteen pounds—about 14 of a pound each week. For you remember he weighed about 11 pounds when we first met him.

AN EXCELLENT MAGAZINE.

From its attractive cover design to the last of the 55 pages the March issue of the Pictorial Review (New York) is a most interesting number, and practical, too, with its various departments on fashion and household economies.

Feminine readers of the Pictorial Review will find great help in the "Home Dressmaker," an illustrated article, which depicts month after month, useful steps in the making of plain garments. Several pages are also devoted to fashions for women and children. The cookery department this month contains excellent treatises on various branches of cooking, and gives some most acceptable hints for "Sunday night suppers."

Other bright features for March are those dealing with the home, its furnishings, and convenient work in interior decoration. The lighter side of life is not neglected. Month after month several breezy stories appear, and in the March issue they are, if anything, better than usual. It is indeed a most interesting and useful issue to housewife and businesswoman alike.

Problems of the Fair Sex Solved by Cynthia Grey

Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn as they are received. No letters can be answered privately.

Her First Letter.

Dear Miss Grey: This is my first letter to you, but as you have helped so many with your kind suggestions, will you please help me now?

How could I entertain at St. Patrick's party, and what decorations would be suitable?

Hoping to hear from you soon, and thanking you again, I RISH.

A-I-I think you ought to have a four-leaf clover hunt at your social. If a few of you get together it will not take long to cut out several scores of three-leaf clovers from green Bristol board, with, say, two out of every twenty having four leaves. These are to be hidden all over the house, something like the search for the shamrock.

Hoping I have not troubled you too much, I remain, ROSEBUD.

Another stunt that is sure to make lots of fun is a potato race, and it seems quite appropriate, too, for the occasion. Get as many as you can to take part in the race, the more the merrier.

If you desire a contest in which the guests may exercise their mental abilities a little, provide each with a blank slip of paper and a pencil. The slip should be headed "Saint Patrick" written in full at the top, and the idea is to form a telegram of twelve words, the initials of which will, when finished, spell the saint's name. The telegrams are handed at the end of ten minutes and read aloud. They are usually found very amusing.

Another feature for the evening might be a quiz contest. Divide your company into two teams, provide your company with cream cheese, and ham upon which a layer of minced pickle are suggested. For the cake, about the only way in which you can give the Irish touch is to have a trefoil cake-indeed made by a thin-smith to simulate the shamrock idea. Make an ordinary white cake and ice it with pistachio icing ornamented with white.

Readers, Send Song for Alice! Dear Miss Grey: In today's edition, a lady asks about causing mischief to keep quiet and not fall. You may tell her that if she makes it as usual and puts it in sealers it will keep perfectly the year round. Do not let it at all.

Did you get the words of the song "Alice, Where Art Thou" yet?

Alice. A-It is good of you to send the hint about the mischief, Alice, and I cheerfully pass it on to the housewife who made the inquiry.

I have the words of the song sent me by several readers of the column, Miss Brown, Beatrice, H. F., while "A Lover of Alice" promises to bring the song, and so to this office and I would like to tell you for a time. So if you will send me your address I shall have pleasure in forwarding you the words of the song, as I have them here, or if you desire the music, please let me know.

THE PROGRESSIVE DRUGGISTS.

For the supper I would suggest cold meats, such as lamb and veal, on platters garnished with parsley or shredded lettuce, potato and Irish salad, pickles, whipped cream and lemon jelly to which a little spinach water has been added to color it green, shamrock cakes, and coffee.

I give you the recipes for the unusual dishes below:

Irish Salad.—Take some fresh beet or spinach leaves and pound them in a mortar. Put the juice that is pressed out in a cup, add a tiny piece of alum and set the cup in a saucepan of boiling water to simmer gently. Add enough of this coloring to a sufficient amount of cream cheese which has been softened with whipped cream to give it a very decided flavor. Put the cheese into balls about the size of a walnut and roll them in finely chopped parsley or cress; place three or four on a fresh crisp lettuce leaves for individual plates. Pour over either French dressing or thin mayonnaise. Serve with saltines.

Shamrock Cakes.—Make a batter of three eggs, half a cupful of powdered sugar, half a cupful of flour and the grated rind of a lemon. Drop with a spoon on a greased baking sheet, dust with granulated sugar and bake in a moderate oven. When finished top with green frosting and sprinkle with chopped pistachio nuts.

RULES FOR HAIR HEALTH.

Do not dye your hair, as tresses that are either bleached or dyed, are generally fearful and wonderful to behold.

Do not ply your hair-brush as if you had a mortal hatred for your pretty tresses.

Do not curl your locks with a red-hot iron as this means singed hair, which is something no girl desires.

Never use a fine comb, as it will bruise the scalp, thereby encouraging the formation of dandruff. Last, but not least, it makes a fine hair splitter. Let me add for the benefit

POINTS ON PILLOWS.

Talking of bed-making and bed-linen yesterday I had no space in which to give you one or two points on the subject of pillows given me by the housekeeper. I had remarked the pure white appearance of the pillow cases, and asked that sort of linen she used that did not allow the stripes of the ticking to show through. She smiled. I protect my pillows as carefully as I do the mattresses. I use plain white cotton pillow cases below the linen ones. I bathe them on, and have them washed about every six weeks or so. You would be surprised to see how much soiled from the heads your pillows escape by this simple and cheap plan. And like the mattresses, the pillows keep like new ones indefinitely. Shams? Yes, I use them to keep the dust off the pillows for I don't like the old way of covering up the pillows by the counterpane. When well put on shams look well, but badly put on they are horrors. There are combination pillows and shams—pretty things too—with hemstitched edge all round all richly embroidered. But personally I prefer a smooth linen pillow case, so have seen that did not allow the stripes of the ticking to show through. She smiled. I protect my pillows as carefully as I do the mattresses. ## BERLIN ON THEIR OWN ICE UNABLE TO WITHSTAND LONDON SCORING MACHINE

Faultless Combination Work of London Team More Effective Than Dazzling Individual Play of Berlin Seven—Score at Half-Time Was 7 to 5—Game Was Lightning-Fast, and Was Witnessed by a Big Crowd.

[BY JINX.]

Berlin, March 3.—The superiority of faultless combination work and team play over brilliant individual rushing was never more prominently demonstrated than at the Berlin arena this evening when the London Intermediates defeated the Dutchmen on their own ice by the score of 7 to 5 in the first of the semi-finals between these two teams. London, the home and home O. H. A. semi-finals between these two teams. London, the home and home O. H. A. semi-finals between these two teams. London, the home and home O. H. A. semi-finals between these two teams.

A Large Crowd.

The big arena was packed to the roof. It was one of the largest crowds that ever attended a hockey game in this city, and it was probably one of the best-played games that Berlin fans have had the pleasure to see in years. Fast at all times, with the players going at top speed and every man on each team working for all that was in him, it was hockey that produced excitement of the highest pitch. The play was comparatively clean, and Referee Caldwell did not have much of a job on his hands to prevent the players from roughing it. Each team was out to play hockey, and the trips to the penalty box were few and far between.

In the second period of the game, the Berlin crowd took to hissing Caldwell, but he did not deserve it. The fans of the Dutch town are hard losers. They were sore because their pets were being wiped off the hockey map by a better team. It was natural that they should vent their spite on somebody. But the reputation of the Berlin official is built on too strong a foundation to totter from any such demonstration on the part of his audience. His work in the game was perfect, and his just what he is, the best referee in the O. H. A.

A Comparison of Berlin.

The Berlin team compares favorably with London in weight. The Berlin players are sturdy young fellows, who have barrels of speed, but a weak knowledge of the game. They have not been fully developed as yet. They have little or no team play. Their work is mainly individual, and had London been playing them with the same individual tactics, the score would likely have been reversed. Berlin would have won by two or maybe three goals. In speed, both teams are about the same. The Berlin forward line has a couple of weak spots, but little fault can be found with the defence. In the nets, the teams are about even. Hainesworth and Wardrop are youngsters with keen eyes, active bodies, and a natural ability to mind the cage. They both are wonders.

Soloman a Star.

Soloman, the left wing man, is the star of the Berlin team. He is a stick-handler and a brilliant skater. His work featured the game. The London players were a little slow in getting wise to him at first, but after a time they held him down in the traps, and he did not get much opportunity to do anything. Boettger, the rover, and Trushinski, the point man, also starred in tonight's game. Both are individual players and fast and dangerous men at all times.

Grannary Scored First.

London scored the first goal. Jimmy Grannary turned the trick. He carried the little rubber disc down the ice in a brilliant zig-zag rush, and, with a brilliant shot, he scored. A minute later, Borland also scored on a nice rush, and the 500 or so London fans who were present nearly raised the roof.

Berlin did not break into the score column until 23 minutes of the first half had been played. Then Soloman shoved one in. However, just before half time, Laurie Gillies and McAvoy went down the ice, playing the "zoom" end there was nothing to it. Another goal for London and the half ended before the teams could puck off, the score being 3 to 1 at that time.

An Easy Goal.

In the second half, McAvoy scored just as soon as the puck had been faced off. It was less than a minute, and it took the heart out of the Berlin team.

Boettger then added one for Berlin, and with the score 5 to 2, Walden was laid out by coming into close contact with the Berlin goal post, using his head to lessen the impact. However, Borland scored for London, and the Berlin crowd looked sick.

ORILLIA FAVORITES IN TONIGHT'S GAME

This Is the Third Time They Have Gone Into Junior O. H. A. Finals.

Orillia, March 3.—Orillia are again in the junior O. H. A. finals with a great chance to land the prize. They have yet to overcome Woodstock, but seem to have a pretty sure thing in this particular series, especially with the Woodstock home games on foreign ice at Stratford.

Orillia have been up in the junior finals for three consecutive years. They have yet to win. In 1911 Kingston Frontenacs won at Orillia 6 to 5, and at Kingston 15 to 6.

Last year Toronto Canoe Club lost at Orillia 5 to 3, but won at Toronto 7 to 2, taking the round by 10 to 7. And that beating was the last one they have been given. They swept clean last year up to that closing contest, and have yet to go under this year.

The average weight of the Orillia Juniors is 145 pounds, while the Woodstock youngsters average 155 pounds, and are the biggest team seen in the finals in years. In addition to weight they have speed. Orillia's average age is slightly over eighteen years, while the Industrial City "Kids" average slightly less than that.

The Junior O. H. A. champions (either Orillia or Woodstock), will play in Toronto against an all-star junior team picked from the O. H. A. at the Arena on Wednesday, March 12. The all-star team will be selected from the clubs of the association other than the champions and will be a supreme test of the strength of the winners. The return game will be played at either Orillia or Woodstock on Friday, March 14.

THISTLES FAILED TO LIFT MALAHIDE

Substituted for London Club, But Could Not Beat St. Thomas.

Owing to the non-arrival of their stones from Detroit, the London Curling Club were prevented from taking part in the contest at St. Thomas last night for the Malahide medal. However, to fill the vacancy, three rinks of the London Thistles substituted, and although they did not succeed in bringing home the coveted trophy, the St. Thomas curlers were made to sweep ice and curl stones every minute of the game. The St. Thomas men won by a total of 9 shots, London securing 45 points to 54 for their opponents.

The London Club will send rinks to St. Thomas on Wednesday night to play the postponed games. The scores last night were as follows: St. Thomas, Thistles, 15 to 9. St. Thomas, Thistles, 15 to 9. St. Thomas, Thistles, 15 to 9.

Total ..... 54 Total ..... 45

ST. THOMAS AFTER MAN NAMED ARMBUSTER

May Be Some Relation to "Fence-buster," and Saints Are Going to Sign Him Up.

St. Thomas, March 3.—Frank Arm-buster, crack batter of Philadelphia, has offered his services to the St. Thomas Baseball Club, and also those of an unnamed pitcher. This battery has performed together in the Virginia and Tri-State League, and are willing to perform for St. Thomas, providing they are granted sufficient salaries. Manager George Ort has the matter in hand.

SKEETERS AND INDIANS LEAVE FOR THE SOUTH

[Canadian Press.] New York, March 4.—The Jersey City and Newark clubs of the International League left New York today for their spring baseball practice. The Jersey City "Skeeters" sailed for Bermuda, where they will have practice games with the New York Americans, and the Newark men sailed for Savannah. There were 23 men in the Newark squad signed, but only a dozen in the Jersey City party.

T. R. & A. A. ARE SENIOR CHAMPS

St. Michael's Beat Them Last Night by Score of 6 to 3, But Lost Out on Round by a Two-Goal Margin—Irish Made a Game Fight to Win.

Toronto, March 4.—It availed St. Michael's nothing to double the score on Toronto Rugby and Athletic Club in the second game of the O. H. A. senior finals at the Arena last night. The figures were 6 to 3. The score of the first game was 7 to 2 in favor of T. R. and A. A., so that the latter are senior champions for 1913 with a score of 10 to 8.

Again were the steel girders in the dizzy heights of the Arena roof called upon to bear more than their intended load. The "standing room only" patrons who were venturesome enough found seats up there in a choking haze of smoke.

Another Attendance Record.

Attendance records tumbled again. The official figures supplied by the box office showed that 6,411 passed through the gates. The receipts were $4,169.75, which is more than was taken in at any other game, amateur or professional, since the Arena was opened. The rink takes 50 per cent, and the remainder is equally divided between the O. H. A. and the two clubs.

Not Much Real Hockey.

Intensely exciting was the game. It was as thrilling an exhibition of courage, stamina and skill as one is apt to see in a lifetime of hockey. The senior championship hung in the balance. Every player was keyed to a high pitch, and while there was plenty of dashing, brilliant play, there was less of expert hockey than has been seen in other senior contests at the big Arena. There was too much at stake, and, as is usual under those conditions, the teams did not play the game. At times the players were almost frantic in their efforts.

Rough at Times.

Deliberate rough play crept into the game at several stages. Fortunately, none of the players was seriously hurt, although several of the goals were attributable to some extent at least—to the presence of some of the players in the penalty box. The penalties were about equally divided.

During the last fifteen minutes of the game both teams slowed down from the terrific pace of the early stages. Two perfectly-conditioned teams went as far and as fast as they could, but there is a limit to human endurance, and it seemed to have been reached. In the dying moments of the gruelling struggle players fell over one another from sheer exhaustion after grim countenances relaxed long enough to smile at one another's efforts to rise.

ALPHAS BEAT ASKINS FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

First Methodist Church Team Won Methodist League Title Last Night.

In the Methodist League game at Simcoe rink last night, the Alphas of the First Methodist Church defeated the Askin Street aggregation in one of the fastest games played this season by the score of 6 to 2, and won the championship of the league. This was the only game played, but the small crowd who witnessed the contest were satisfied. The half-time score was 4 to 2. The stars were McGeech, McKay and Bilbrough for the winners, and Arthur, Howson and Seltzer for Askin Street. The lineup of the teams was as follows:

CHICAGO BOWLERS ARE READY TO QUIT A. B. C.

Object to "Dodo" Ball Being Banned From Turnouts.

[Canadian Press.] Chicago, March 4.—One-fifth of the Chicago members of the American

Bowling Congress stand ready to desert the organization as the Cleveland players have threatened to do, on account of its legislation barring the "dodo" ball, according to reports here last night.

The proposition named as dissatisfied was that indicated by the vote in the city over the loaded ball, and is held to be conservative. The "dodo" vote here was called "secret," but every voter was required to sign his ballot, and is said to have been openly canvassed by some official of the Chicago Bowling Association, who asked him to go on record against the "dodo." Proprietors of some of the leading alleys say it will be impossible for them to bar the ball, as their patrons will not have it so.

Many of the Chicago clubs hold with Cleveland also that the teams instead of the officials should name the city where the tournaments are to be held.

The Thoroughbred Anti-Skid

It doesn't matter which one of the buttons you select for comparison. They are all alike when stacked up against Dunlop Traction Tread in the anti-skidding test. In these "scattered-resistance," "stuck-on-treads" the buttons couldn't possibly be big enough to really prevent skidding without being so big they would destroy resiliency. Ever walk on hob-nail boots? There you have it!

As soon as motorists find these truths out they pass up uncertainties for certainties in tire selection. Dunlop Traction Tread is the one anti-skid you can bank on. Neither the weather nor the sprinkling cart has any surprises for it. Why not have the best that's going? Why not buy your share of safety when Dunlop Traction Tread is passing it around?

Better! Even Better!

Think of any soup in the recipe book—think of your favourite soup—arrange to have it for dinner to-day and make it better than ever before, like this:—

Prepare your soup in the ordinary way, and before you put it in to boil, add a packet of "Edwards"—either the Brown, Tomato or White variety.

When the soup is served you'll find it better and thicker and more nourishing; in short, you'll like your favourite soup so much better that you'll want to improve every soup-recipe in the book by adding "A Little Edwards". You can use Edwards' Soup as a basis for practically any soup you make.

Get a few packets of Edwards' Soup to-day. You'll find they come in useful every time you cook.

EDWARDS' SOUPS

5c. per packet.

Edwards' Desiccated Soups are made in three varieties—Brown, Tomato, White. The Brown variety is a thick, nourishing soup prepared from beef and fresh vegetables. The other two are purely vegetable soups.

Mrs. Stuart Finally Saved By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Her Story Interesting.

Elmo, Mo.—"I think your Vegetable Compound is wonderful for it has helped me. I had four doctors and they said I had female troubles and a tumor and nothing but an operation would help me. I could not sit still long enough to eat, and could sleep hardly any I was in so much misery with pains in my side and back.

"A year ago last spring my doctor gave me up and he was surprised to see me this spring and to see my condition. I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the praise wherever I go for I know I would not be here today or have our fine baby boy if I had not taken it."

THE JUST AND THE UNJUST

By Vaughan Kester

The Prodigal Judge

"He's happened on a good thing in the prosecuting attorney's office, I suppose? It's a pity you didn't strike out for that, Marsh. You'd have been of some use to your friends if you'd got the job."

"Well, when's Marsh going after me?" inquired Gilmore. "I haven't heard him say. He told me he had sufficient evidence for your indictment."

"Yes, of course," agreed Gilmore. "I guess yours is a case for the next grand jury."

"So Moxlow's in earnest about wishing to make trouble for me?" said Gilmore, still placidly.

"Oh, he's in earnest, all right," Langham shrugged his shoulders petulantly. "He'll go after you, and perhaps by the time he's done with you you'll wish you'd taken my advice and made yourself scarce."

"No, no, no," rejoined Gilmore, chewing thoughtfully at the end of his cigar. "All means stay in Mount Hope if you think it's worth your while," said Langham indifferently.

"Can you give me some definite idea as to when the fun begins?" "No, but it will be soon enough. And, by the way, the support of the best element. He can't afford to offend it."

"And he knows you are my lawyer?" asked Gilmore, still thoughtfully. "Of course."

"Isn't that going to cut any figure with him?" "Certainly not."

"Is that so, Marsh?" He crossed his legs and nursed an ankle with both hands. "Well, I don't know. I don't know Moxlow—take him out and forget to find him again. He's much too good for this kind of life. It's a natural. He's about the only man of his age in Mount Hope who isn't drifted into my rooms at one time or another."

"He's a natural. He's about the only man of his age in Mount Hope who isn't drifted into my rooms at one time or another."

"You call yourself a lawyer!" he sneered. "The careful what you say to me!" cried Langham, suddenly giving way to the feeling of rage that until now he had held in check.

But his tone was now one of lazy good nature. "Smash me, then; I haven't the money to pay you."

GOVERNMENT REPORTS

NOTED LABOR LEADER

Etter, of Industrial Workers, Not Permitted to Enter British Columbia.

Blaine, Wash., March 3.—Joseph Etter, a leader of the strike of members of the Industrial Workers of the World at Lawrence, Mass., returned to the United States today, having been taken from a train at White Rock, B. C., last Friday, and deported on an order from Ottawa.

Etter was kept under guard between the trains by immigration officers, who reported that he refused to answer questions. He declared that he was a citizen of the United States on his way to Victoria to lecture, and that he could not be detained. He refused to permit his baggage to be searched.

The order from Ottawa gave no reason for deportation, except that Etter was regarded as an agitator, and as such he was not desired in the country. Etter since his acquittal at Salem, Mass., on a charge of murder, has refused to resign the Industrial Workers of the World, although his family threatened to disown him.

Grand Duchess Olga Triumphs in Struggle To Be Engaged.

St. Petersburg, March 3.—Petulant demands of a high-spirited girl, 17 years of age, seem likely to produce revolution at the Russian court. The girl is Grand Duchess Olga.

When the doctors announced Olga's birth her parents, the Czar and Czarina, did not trouble to hide their great disappointment that the baby was not a boy. But she never has been denied anything she set her heart upon.

It is said now that she has triumphed in her struggle to be the promised bride of her cousin, Prince Dmitri Pavlovitch, against the prolonged and bitter opposition of her mother.

THIRTY ILL FROM BREAD

Baker Used Cottonseed Oil Which Was Contaminated.

Atlantic City, March 3.—When William Grossmiller, a baker, was notified today that one of his patrons had become violently ill from eating bread delivered early this morning, he started an investigation and learned that the cottonseed oil used in making 2,800 loaves of bread and 1,000 pies had been contaminated. He immediately dispatched his drivers over their route to retrieve the goods.

On reports of the drivers 30 of the baker's patrons were found to require the services of physicians. Tonight it was reported that all of those affected would recover.

Investigation Grossmiller learned that the cottonseed oil used instead of butter and lard had been shipped here in a barrel previously used for storing kerosene.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

TELLS REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE WITH ZAM-BUK.

SUFFERED FOR YEARS WITH ECZEMA & ULCERS NOTHING SEEMED ABLE TO DO HIM ANY GOOD. ZAM-BUK CURED HIM.

Mr. J. E. Arsenault, a Justice of the Peace, and station master at Wellington, on the Prince Edward Island Railway, says:

"Four years ago, I slipped in the station and fell on a freight truck, sustaining a bad cut on the front of my leg. I thought this would heal, but instead of doing so it developed into a bad ulcer and later into a form of eczema which spread very rapidly and also started on the other leg. Both legs became so swollen and sore that I could only go about my work by having them bandaged. My doctor said I must stop work and lay up. After six months of this trouble I consulted another doctor, but with no better result. I tried all the salves, liniments and lotions I heard of, but instead of getting better I got worse. This was my condition when I got my first box of Zam-Buk. Greatly to my delight that first box gave me relief. I continued to apply it to the sores, and day by day they got better."

"I could see that at last I had got hold of something which would cure me, and in the end it did. It is now over a year since Zam-Buk worked a cure in my case, and there has been no return of the eczema or any trace of it. It would be impossible to find a case where the sores were worse than those on my limbs, and I think Zam-Buk is a marvellous healing balm or it could not have cured me as it did when all else failed."

WHAT ZAM-BUK CURES. The above is but one example of the wonderful cures that Zam-Buk is daily working. Purely herbal in composition, this great balm is a sure cure for all skin diseases, cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, blood-poisoning, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, cuts, burns and bruises.

Mix two cups of granulated sugar with 1 cup of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes.
Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You will find that this simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else ever used. Usually ends a deep-seated cough inside of 24 hours.
Splendid, too, for whooping cough, croup, chest pains, bronchitis, and other throat troubles. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

This recipe makes more than better cough syrup than you could ever need made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasantly.
Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in gualacal and all the natural pine elements, which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this formula.
This plan of making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful formula has never been equaled.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will

BORDEN'S FIGURES WERE INACCURATE

Opposition Challenges Government's Figures as to Cost of Super-Dreadnought.

Ottawa, March 4. — Resuming the debate in committee on the second clause of the Government bill, providing for the grant of $35,000,000, the Liberals last night renewed promptly the request for detailed information as to the basis upon which Premier Borden's estimate of $68,000,000 for two fleet units built in Canada was made. The details furnished by the Premier and Hon. Mr. Hazen were once more somewhat hazy. The latter read another memorandum, estimating a total cost for two fleet units when built

Good News From the Lumber Camp

Men in the lumber camps have free medical attendance, and while many suffer from piles on account of exposure to cold and dampness, the doctors do not seem to have any cure for piles.

Many letters come from lumber camps in praise of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and here is a sample of how they read: "Mr. William Jones, cook in lumber camp at Prairie River, Sask., writes: 'For a long time I suffered from itching, bleeding piles, and could not sleep nights, because of the intense itching. Two doctors treated me, but the relief was only temporary. I saw Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised in a newspaper and it cured me completely over four months ago. Two bottles me had the piles here at the camp, and were cured by ointment I gave them. After all the treatments I tried I never expected to be cured. I am grateful for it.' Dr. Chase's Ointment is a positive cure for itching, bleeding and protruding piles."

In Canada and fully equipped, as being $66,657,356, with annual maintenance estimated at $6,144,068. This was based on an estimated increase of one-third for building in Canada with 40 per cent. over British maintenance.

Figures Challenged. The correctness of these figures was promptly challenged. Mr. Hazen declared that the information furnished showed that the average cost per ton for a super-dreadnought built in Britain was $433, as compared with $550 per ton in the United States. Hon. Mr. Pugsley pointed out that the United States super-dreadnought Pennsylvania, of 31,000 tons, had just been contracted for at $14,173,000. This was at the rate of only $458 per ton, or $100 per ton less than Mr. Hazen's estimate showed. Thus on this one battleship alone the latter's figures were apparently three million dollars out.

All-Night Session. The Government was asked to furnish detailed information as to the amount included in the Canadian estimate of cost for duty, for labor, for material, etc. Mr. Hazen promised to submit these figures later. He also admitted that on the latest estimate the three Dreadnoughts which Canada proposed to give to Britain would cost, when built in the motherland, about $39,000,000, and not the $35,000,000 specified in the bill.

Half an hour after midnight the House was settling down for a prolonged sitting, with the Liberals still pressing for more accurate data and the Government evidently determined if possible to force the clause through before adjourning.

WAGON OVERTURNED. A spill in milk occurred in front of the Aberdeen school Monday morning when a rig belonging to a wholesale dealer overturned on the street railway tracks. About 100 quarts of milk were lost.

Mrs. W. Marshall, of East London, left this morning for Hensall to settle some matters in connection with an estate.

Mr. George McLean, of Hamilton, who has been ill at his mother's home in East London, leaves tomorrow to resume his duties.

WON'T EXTEND THE ORNAMENTAL LIGHTS

Water Commission Will Not Put Clusters on Dundas and Richmond Streets This Year.

CLAIM STRESS OF WORK

Petition From Ratepayers Asking For Extension Is To Be Left Over For a Year.

Although residents of East London have petitioned several times for an extension of the ornamental lighting system on Dundas street from Wellington to Egerton streets, the water commissioners will not erect the extra lights this year.

A largely-signed petition from residents and ratepayers of Dundas street between Wellington and Egerton streets was sent to the water commissioners two years ago, and after consideration it was decided to erect the lights.

Arrangements were almost completed for the installation of the underground conduits last year when some difficulty arose and the matter was laid over.

Residents Incensed. The residents of the section over which it was proposed to erect the ornamental lights were incensed when they learned that it would be impossible to have them last year, but they were promised that they would be put up as soon as possible.

Now word is given out, on good authority, that owing to a stress of work the water commission has decided to abandon the ornamental lights again this year.

A petition was also sent to the commission from residents and ratepayers of Richmond street, asking for an extension of the ornamental lighting system on that street from Horwood street to the Grand Trunk tracks and from Fullarton street to Oxford.

This petition will also be ignored this year in order that the driveway to Springbank, the completion of a lighting system in Springbank Park, and other things may be undertaken.

It is likely that the question will be dealt with by the East London Progressive Association and by the General Civic League as soon as it is formed.

TO HAVE OFFICES IN NEW DISTRICTS

Express Companies May Have Agencies in Ealing, Pottersburg and Chelsea Green.

A number of call and delivery offices will likely be installed in the new districts by the express and cartage companies to look after the wants of the citizens in those sections. When the arranging of boundaries for the express companies was made, by civic officials, a clause asking the railway commission to request the companies to establish offices in Ealing, Pottersburg, Chelsea Green and Knollwood Park, was inserted, and it is likely that the commission will act on it.

FACTORIES ARE PROTECTED

Some Buildings in New District Are Connected With City's Water Mains.

It is not likely that the water commissioners will be in any hurry to construct new water mains in the newly-annexed districts as the commission has an abundance of work ahead of it this year, and it is thought that the factories in that section of the city are amply protected.

Chelsea Green is well-equipped with water at present, and the factories in East London are connected with city water mains for fire protection.

When the city council inserted a clause in the city of London bill, asking for power to borrow $7,500 to purchase an automobile truck for East London, it was because the aldermen thought the homes in the new districts should receive ample protection, and that it could not be given unless an automobile were secured.

LOOKING FOR SITE

Representatives of American Firm Securing Options in Chelsea Green.

Representatives of a large American Oil Storage Manufacturing Company, which is seeking a place in Canada to locate a branch, were in Chelsea Green Monday endeavoring to secure options on properties.

The company will not ask any concession from the city if it decides to locate in London, and will, it is said, employ about 200 hands when it opens its factory.

COUNCIL BELIEVES SCHOOL TRUSTEES SHOULD HAVE PROPERTY QUALIFICATION

Will Co-Operate With School Board in Memorializing Legislature—Resolutions of Condolence Passed—Miss Grant's Claim Disputed—Teamster's Ask For an Increase in Salary.

The city council Monday night passed a motion to urge legislation requiring candidates for the board of education to qualify within a reasonable time after nomination in order to have their names appear on the ballot-paper, and to require school trustees to possess property qualifications. This motion embodied, in the report of No. 1 committee, was carried without much discussion, but Ald. Rose asked to be recorded nay.

Ald. Richter pointed out that names frequently went on the ballot-papers under the present loose regulations, without the intention of the candidates, who would not stand even if elected.

To Stop Advertising. Another clause in the same report will memorialize the Government to make it an offence under the municipal act for candidates for public office to advertise, and requiring municipal councils to advertise the names of all candidates prominently in the public press every day between nomination and election day, was carried on a close vote, the mayor and Ald. Richter, Moore, Spittal, Johnston, White, and Ashplant voting for it, and Ald. Rose, Stein, Robinson, Saunders, Glass and Bennett opposing it. Ald. Saunders claimed that the bylaw would be unfair to men who were not well known.

Ald. Richter's notice of motion for the investigation by a special committee of the original cost of sub-contract debentures required for, and the revenues from the London waterworks, received its second reading.

Will Welcome Convention. A motion was carried to notify the

WILL REMODEL PART OF THE TOWN HALL

Police Commissioners To Ask That Work Be Done at Once.

The police commission, in its estimates this year which will be sent to the council in about a week, will ask for sufficient money to remodel the town hall at the corner of Dundas and Rectory streets, to accommodate a police sergeant and at least three policemen. The building already contains a cell, and it could, with a small expenditure, be put in condition to house any prisoners who might be arrested in that section.

The necessity of a police station in East London has long been recognized, as it is almost five miles from the central station to the extreme end of the city limits in Ealing.

Work on the remodeling of the building will likely be started early this spring, and if the city council decides to purchase a combination automobile patrol and ambulance, the wagon now in use will likely be stationed in East London.

A New Feature

This "Greater London" section has been started for readers of the Advertiser living in the outlying districts of the city, and will deal with questions of importance to Chelsea Green, Ealing, Pottersburg, Knollwood Park, West and South London.

Anyone having items which they would like to have appear in the paper should telephone them to 3670, or send them by mail.

ASSESSORS BUSY IN CHELSEA GREEN

Are Experiencing Difficulty in Finding Boundary Line.

Five assessors from the city hall were in Chelsea Green this morning putting a valuation on the property on that portion of London. It is said that considerable difficulty is being experienced in determining the new boundary between the city and Westminster Township.

Many irregularities in the new boundary line, or apparent mistakes made when the territory was being annexed, is making it anything but easy for the assessors to do their work satisfactorily.

JUVENILE BRANCH MARKS ANNIVERSARY

Court Jeffery Has Recently Secured Many New Members.

The fifteenth anniversary of the juvenile branch, Court Jeffery, Ancient Order of Foresters, was held Monday night in Society Hall, East London. About 75 members were present in addition to many visitors.

Bro. McPherson, high court junior woodward, acted as chairman, and complimented the court on its steady progress. Eighteen new members were added to the rolls a week ago and on Monday evening six more joined the order.

A vocal and literary program of merit was listened to. Solos by Geo. Holmes, Miss Campbell, Miss Fryer, a recitation by Miss Cora Flagg, a piano solo by Brother Wigley, and a violin solo by Brother Fryer, were all favorably received and appreciated by the audience.

Brother Johnson, past chief ranger, was given a prize by Vice-President Leah for being the most efficient member of the order during the past year. Bro. Dicks and W. Chamberlain were given first and second prizes, respectively, for securing the greatest number of new members.

A vote of thanks was given to the ladies for providing the refreshments.

DRIVES HORSE ALONG TRACK AND KILLS IT

Animal Breaks Neck When Falling Into Culvert—Cruelty Charged.

A farmer while in an inebriated condition tried to drive home via Grand Trunk tracks at Hyde Park last evening, and lost a horse worth $200.

The farmer was driving recklessly in the track when his horse went head-first into a culvert and broke its neck. A case of cruelty to animals may be laid in connection with the matter.

MORE TERRITORY FOR EAST LONDON

Council Decides to Ask Commission to Annex Abattoir and Adjacent Property.

TAXED ON 1911 ASST.

Request Will Be Sent to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board—Three Aldermen Object To It.

East London is to be extended once more, and another place of property is to be added to the area of the city. A petition from the owners of the Dominion Abattoir, asking that their property and all land between it and the present city limits be annexed to the city, was voted on by the city council at a meeting on Monday night, and only Ald. Richter, Saunders and Rose voted against it.

All the land on the north side of Dundas street, between the present city limits and the abattoir, will be taken into the city, but that on the south side will not be touched. This means that the company will receive fire and police protection for the factory on the 1911 land, as there was no factory there at the time. The request to annex that portion will be sent to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board.

During the discussion on the feasibility of annexing the property, Ald. Saunders asked if that was the extreme, and informed that it was, he heaved a sigh of relief, and said it was a good job they stopped or they would have had the Hamilton mountain in the city.

NEW AUTO APPARATUS FOR LONDON EAST

Is To Be Used to Extinguish Incipient Fires in Homes in the Annexed Districts.

East London is to have a motor truck equipped with large chemical tanks, to be used in fighting incipient fires in residential streets in the newly-annexed districts. The truck, which will likely be delivered about the first of July, will be kept in No. 2 hall, at the corner of Dundas and Rectory streets, and will be the first to reach the outskirts of the city in case of alarm of fire should be sent in.

The question of placing a clause asking for $500 in the city of London bill for the purchase of the auto apparatus, came up for discussion at the council meeting on Monday night, and after Ald. Rose explained that it was an impossibility for a horse-drawn apparatus to reach the outskirts of the city in time to check a fire, it was decided to allow the insertion of the clause.

Ald. Richter pointed out that it was not right that money for such an apparatus should be asked for through the Legislature, and that it should come out of the general tax rate.

"The city's debt is being piled up too rapidly," he said, "and while I realize the necessity of this apparatus to protect the homes, I think the money should be taken out of the general tax rate."

Extra firemen for the different halls of the city will be necessary, and it is likely that at the next meeting of the fire and light committee the question of hiring five new men will be discussed.

CHELSEA GREEN TO HAVE A "WHITE WAY"

Globes on Lights Are Being Placed in Position.

Within two or three days Chelsea Green will have the appearance of a "great white way." The globes on the street lights are being placed on the poles today, and an official from the city electrical department states that the power will be used for the first time this week. Ealing and Pottersburg will be granted the power boon at a later period.

POLICE DISLIKE COUNTRY BEATS

Complain About Newly-Annexed Districts Being Lonely and Long.

Members of the police force are anything but pleased with the annexation of Pottersburg and Ealing. "Gee, but it's a lonesome beat, away out there, between two and four bells," said one constable to The Advertiser. "The cool mornings there isn't a thing doing, and when you get out where the houses are scattered it's pretty quiet."

The beat to Pottersburg from the city is one of the longest on the police list.

SERGEANTS ENJOY DANCE.

Teasing, cards and music were the principal amusements of an enjoyable function which the sergeants of Wolseley Barracks held on Monday night. About 20 couples were present.

and kindly disposition. Ald. Rose was the mover, and Ald. Saunders the seconder.

On the motion of Ald. Ashplant, a resolution of condolence in the death of ex-Ald. J. W. Jones was extended to his wife by a standing vote. Ald. Bennett moved that the acting city engineer be instructed to notify his assistant, Mr. Dumford, that his services would not be required after April 1.

Ald. Glass moved an amendment to the bylaw fixing the maximum salary for the city engineer to allow for the higher salary to be paid W. N. Ashplant.

A Claim From Miss Grant.

The recommendation of the finance committee that Miss Mary Grant, clerk of London Township, be paid $42.50 for services in copying the assessment rolls of the recently annexed districts, was referred to Aids. Moore, Rose and Bennett to adjust. Miss Grant asked for the sum of $117 for her work. Mayor Graham was averse to paying her any more than she was legally entitled to. In his opinion she could have made the problems of annexation much lighter from the city's standpoint, and needless expense, including trips to Toronto before the railway commission could have been avoided. Ald. Moore would not blame Miss Grant for the annexation difficulties. Ald. Spittal quoted Reeve Jackson to the effect that Miss Grant had intentionally checked the annexation scheme. Ald. Glass contended that as an efficient and loyal employee of the township, Miss Grant had only done her duty in proffering the city information only when she was required to.

Teamsters Ask Increase.

L. A. Boss and forty other city teamsters petitioned for an increase of wages from $4.50 to $5.00 per day. Their communication was referred to the board of works.

The tender of English & Co., of Toronto, for $90,000 for the Spencer Block, was referred to the finance committee. They expressed their willingness to pay $10,000 on the expiration of an option on the property and the remaining $80,000 when the new city hall was completed, and the city no longer required the Spencer Block.

Adjusting Assets.

The finance committee was given power to confer with the councils of Westminster and London Townships in the matter of adjusting the assets of the newly-annexed districts.

The report of the city engineer on local improvements and garbage collection was adopted.

Bylaws authorizing the execution of an agreement with the London street railway in the matter of making alterations at Oxford and Richmond, Elmwood avenue and Ridout street, and respecting the street railway track allowance, were finally passed. A bylaw respecting "rills received its second reading, but on the motion of the city engineer was not passed, and the question of track allowance was settled, and the company should proceed with the vitrified brick pavement, on which the engineer insisted.

Bylaws authorizing the construction of the sewers on Lyle street from King street to a point 165 feet north, and on Adelaide street from the Hamilton road to Simcoe street, were finally passed.

A communication from the Ancient Order of Foresters requesting a hall for the use of the subsidiary high court convention to be held in London next August was referred to committee.

Meredith & Meredith wrote asking compensation for F. Lewis, who tripped over a hydrant on Princess avenue east and broke his leg a month ago.

Police Clerk Moule's monthly report showed a favorable balance of $100.

More Accommodation Required. Requests for grants of $1,500 to the Women's Christian Association, incidentally complaining of too small accommodation at the Aged People's Home, and $100 to the Convalescent Home, were referred to the finance committee.

On the recommendation of number three committee, no action was taken on the completion of the plumbing of the public lavatory. The engineer was instructed to prepare a report on the comparative cost of heating the building with heat from the Helena Costume Company's plant, and with an independent heating plant.

Ald. Richter asked why the second lot in the street, between the city hall and the Helena Costume Company's plant, was not accepted for firemen's suits. He was informed by the chairman of the committee that there was only a difference of 80 cents per suit, and on the advice of the city engineer, samples, etc., the second lowest tender had been accepted.
