AN EVENING WITH MUSIC

Delightful Concert in Which the Maple City's Talented Vocalists Win Honors.

Excellent Program Provided by the Sons of England—Address by Dr. W. R. Hall.

A very delightful anniversary concert was presented at the Grand last evening under the auspices of Thames Lodge, Sons of England. It was distinctively enjoyable throughout. The assistance of the best Maple City musical talent was requisitioned, and Harry M. Bennett, a Toronto fun-maker, contributed many more or less humorous sketches.

The stage setting was most captivating, and included, in a wealth of bunting and foliage, handsome pictures of their majesties.

Dr. W. R. Hall, in a short and appropriate introductory address, extended the welcome of the Sons of England and their appreciation of the liberal patronage they always received. He gave a brief and entertaining history of the Order and the work it had accomplished.

The program was an artistic and very delightful one, and every accomplished contributor was accorded an enthusiastic encore.

Miss Florence G. Stephenson, contralto, sang with exceeding grace and expression the new patriotic solo, "The Song of the Bow." Being recalled she graciously responded with a spirited contribution of "Old England," which was very heartily honored. Miss Stephenson was presented with a beautiful bouquet.

Miss Lucy McKellar won the audience by her inspiring rendition of "Rule Britannia" and the conclusion of each verse was the occasion of an outburst of applause. Miss McKellar has a most attractive stage presence and sings with charming effect.

Miss H. Edythe Hill, mezzo-contralto, gave a splendid rendition of Althea's "There's a Land," occasioning a very enthusiastic recall. Miss Hill is one of the Maple City's most popular vocalists. Her singing is characterized by exceptional taste and expression.

Miss Gertrude Somerville, always a pronounced favorite, was accorded many hearty rounds of applause. Miss Somerville contributed two numbers, "His Majesty" and "Annie Laurie," to both of which she had to respond. Her singing was exceedingly brilliant and perfect and was keenly enjoyed. An exquisite number was the unaccompanied singing of the quartette, "Sweet and Low," by Misses Lucy McKellar and H. Edythe Hill and Messrs. R. W. Angus and J. W. Wilson. Sol-dom has it proved the good fortune of Chathamites to hear such a portrayal of this rich musical composition as was given last evening, and the audience were not lacking in expressing enthusiastic appreciation. It is earnestly hoped that this talented quartette may favor programs more frequently.

Miss Lillian Pratt, the city's accomplished pianist, played the accompaniment throughout and contributed much by her taste and skill to the enjoyment of the various numbers. Harry M. Bennett put on a number of clever specialties, some of them in costume and all immensely funny. Frank Phelps played his accompaniments in splendid style.

The program—Dr. W. R. Hall, S. O. E. Surgeon.

Humorous Selection—"Buying a House"—Harry M. Bennett.

Solo, "The Song of the Bow"—Miss Florence G. Stephenson.

Musical Absurdity, "Dot Leadle German Band"—Harry M. Bennett.

MURDER AT SARNIA.

MAN FOUND DYING IN RACE-COURSE STABLE.

Two Bullets in His Head and Several Shots in the Woodwork—He is About Fifty Years Old and Unknown.

Sarnia, Nov. 3.—At 7 o'clock last evening John Christie, caretaker at Bayview Athletic Park, just north of the town, discovered a man in a dying condition in the stable adjoining the race course. Word was sent to Chief of Police Sarvis, and an investigation failed to reveal any clue to his identity. The man is about 50 years of age, slightly bald, and wore a heavy black moustache. He was dressed in a good suit of dark tweed and a new overcoat. Two bullet wounds were in his forehead, and three other shots from a 32-calibre revolver had been fired into the woodwork of the stable. There is no mark of identification, and no money on his person. He will be taken to the hospital.

LYNCHEHAUN'S CASE.

British Papers Dissatisfied With His Release.

London, Nov. 3.—The release from custody of James L. Lynchehaun, an Irish fugitive from justice, whose extradition had been asked by the British Government, by Federal Commissioner Moores at Indianapolis on Saturday, on the ground that while Lynchehaun's crime (an attack upon a woman during some rioting) was brutal, it was, nevertheless, of a political nature, was adversely commented upon by some of the afternoon newspapers here. The Globe claims that politics influenced the decision. The paper says: "The next assassin of a President will plead Lynchehaun's case if he escapes across the Canadian line. The Americans will have no cause for complaint if the result throws out of gear the whole machinery of extradition between the United States and Great Britain."

The Pall Mall Gazette remarks: "By the same reasoning used by Commissioner Moores it would always be possible to refuse the extradition of Anarchists guilty of the most dastardly crimes."

BATTLE WITH INDIANS.

Ten of the Red Men Killed and a Number Wounded.

Newcastle, Wyo., Nov. 2.—Sheriff W. H. Miller of Weston county and one of his posse are dead as a result of a fight with Sioux Indians, three miles below Beaver Dam, on Lightning Creek, converse country. The Indians were from the Pine Ridge and Rosebud agencies, in South Dakota, and were violating the game laws of the State. The Sheriff's posse rounded up the Redskins on Saturday. One Sioux opened fire and a sharp duel ensued, in which Posseburg was instantly killed and Sheriff Miller mortally wounded, dying an hour later. His body was brought to Newcastle by the remnants of the posse this morning. Members of the posse report that at least six Indians were killed and several wounded, among the latter being Chief Eagle Feather, who is being brought here a prisoner. A new and large posse has started after the Indians.

Denver, Col. Nov. 2.—A special to The Times from Lusk, Wyo., says: "In a second battle with the Indians Sunday afternoon near the scene of the first, ten Indians were killed and eleven captured. None of the posse was killed in the second fight. There were about 75 Sioux in the band of Indians. It is estimated that 500 men are scouring the country in search of the remaining Indians."

EARTHQUAKES IN PERSIA.

Terrible Loss of Life at Town of Turshiz.

London, Nov. 3.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Simla, India, says terrible earthquakes have occurred at Turshiz, near Turbat-Haidari, in Persia, in which 350 persons were killed and numbers were injured. One hundred and eighty-four carpet factories were destroyed, and only 32 stalls were left standing in the great bazaar. The entire town was practically demolished.

MAULED BY A LEOPARD.

Major Leckie May Lose his Life in Somaliland.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—A well-known Canadian officer, Major Leckie, has been seriously, if not fatally, injured by a leopard in Somaliland. This news is embodied in the following cablegram received yesterday from Lord Strathcona:

"Lord Lansdowne sends me the following telegram from Col. Swayne: 'I regret to inform you that Major R. G. Leckie dangerously mauled by a leopard.' In conveying news to relatives please say how deeply I sympathize, and that I will immediately cable any further despatches received by War Office."

Major Leckie comes from Tarbrook, N.S. He served in Strathcona's Horse, and afterwards in the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles. It is not known at the Militia Department when he joined Col. Swayne's forces in Somaliland.

It is announced from Washington that the Canadian charts which the Alaska tribunal accepted as the standard can be used for the survey work incident upon marking the boundary.

WILL PUBLISH FULL REPORT OF RECENT CIVIC AUDIT

City Council Decide to Make Auditor Macpherson's Report Public—The Matter of Civic Lighting—Other Business Dealt With.

The report of the Government Auditor will be printed in The Planet with the exception of the schedule for 1902. Two hundred copies of the entire report will be printed as required by law, and those desiring copies can secure them from the City Clerk. The Council so decided at their meeting last night, all the members being present.

Ald. Marshall moved that the auditor's report be printed in full by W. R. Baxter to the number of 200 copies, the cost not to exceed $90. Ald. Edmondson asked if it were really necessary to have these copies struck off. The general public would not get any benefit from 200 copies.

Ald. McCog wanted to know what it would cost to have the auditor's report published in the city papers. The public didn't understand about the deficit and a number were under the impression that the funds had been illegally spent. He thought that this report should be placed before the people and he was willing to support a motion to have the report published in the city papers.

Mayor McKeough suggested that the Finance committee should select the portions of the report of interest to the public and have those extracts published.

Ald. McCog said that such a sifting would cause trouble and it would be said that the report had been doctored. It should be printed just as it was received.

Ald. Piggott said that he understood that one of the papers had offered to publish it in full for $100. Mayor McKeough stated that The Planet had suggested that both papers would publish it for $100.

Ald. Piggott thought that the report should be published in full if it could be done for $100. Ald. Marshall said he had consulted The Planet, also the Banner. Each paper would publish the report, carrying the schedule for $50 apiece. He thought the offer quite reasonable. He was of the same opinion as Ald. McCog and Ald. Piggott. The public should know what was in the report. The audit had cost a lot of money and the results of the auditor's labors should not be hid. He had consulted the Finance committee and they had decided to publish the report and to have a recommendation ready at the next meeting.

Ald. Piggott asked why expense could not be saved by utilizing the type set up by the newspapers for printing the pamphlets. Ald. Marshall said that the newspaper type would not be suitable for the pamphlets.

Ald. Taylor suggested that 500 copies of the pamphlets be secured and a copy mailed to each property owner in the city.

Ald. McCog said that the stamps for mailing would cost more than the papers would charge. He didn't think Ald. Taylor's idea was a good one. He thought that the report should be presented to the public in as readable form as possible. There were also many ratepayers who didn't own property and everybody should have a good opportunity to read the report.

Ald. Scullard said that it appeared to be wholly a matter of cost. The city had to print 200 copies. He would favor also publishing the whole report. Several business men had spoken to him and they all wanted to see the report.

Ald. McCog said that he didn't think that the Council should wait but should publish the report at once.

Ald. Edmondson moved, seconded by Ald. Taylor, that the matter be left in the hands of the Finance committee.

Ald. Mounteer moved in amendment that 200 copies of the report be secured as required by law and that the report be published in the two newspapers at a cost not to exceed $50 for each paper. Ald. McCog seconded the amendment.

Ald. Mounteer said that the public took a great deal of interest in the report. Those who wanted the schedule for 1902 could obtain the same at the City Clerk's office, and it was advisable to make this clear in the published report.

Ald. Edmondson said that the Finance committee was the brains of the Council, and he was satisfied that if the matter were left to them they would deal intelligently with it. Ald. Edmondson withdrew his motion and Ald. Mounteer carried.

On motion the Mayor and City Clerk were instructed to sign the contract for the Wilson avenue sewer.

The Minister of Militia wrote calling attention to the unsatisfactory manner in which the Park was lighted. Referred to Property committee.

The Chapin Wheel Company, Limited, wrote asking for fire protection, and also a light on Raleigh street, near their works. Referred to the Property committee.

Col. J. B. Rankin, K. C., wrote on behalf of Timothy McQueen, complaining of the faulty construction of the pavement on William street in front of his hotel. There was a hollow in the pavement and the water lay there until it evaporated. Referred to the Board of Works.

W. W. Mitchell notified the Council that they would be responsible for any damage done to the flags in front of the post office.

The Mayor stated that the only portraits of Dr. Cross and the late Israel Evans were small ones. It would cost $3 to have these pictures enlarged for the purpose of hanging them in the Council Chamber. Referred to Finance.

Ald. Marshall, chairman of Finance, reported in favor of paying W. H. Gonne $26.40 for valuing property for the auditors. Adopted.

Ald. Mounteer reported for the Board of Works in favor of filling in the open ditch in front of the Robertson of Inches property. The report was adopted.

Ald. Edmondson presented the City Engineer's report on the civic electric light plant. The linemen had given various excuses for the lamps not burning. The carbons were poor and the coils in the lamps were not good, had been their complaints. To neither of these reasons could the failure of the lamps be ascribed. The lamps are old and are being continually rebuilt, but the frame work is as good as new. On the night of the 20th he found five lamps not burning on Saint Moore's circuit. On examining the five lamps he found that the trouble lay in failure to repair the lamps and faulty tripping. The trouble could be avoided if the linemen did their duty. A dead lamp on the street night after night should not be tolerated. The linemen can tell by the carbons whether a lamp has been burning or not, and they should then and faulty trimming. The trouble could be avoided if the linemen ceased giving excuses and did their duty faithfully. There was no foundation for the statement that not enough power could be secured to run the lamps up to their limit. The lamps at present on the circuit could be lighted all right, but no more could be put on. In time the plant would have to be enlarged. The report was referred to the Property committee.

Ald. McCog asked if the sidewalks mentioned for would be laid this fall.

Ald. Mounteer said that the contractors were still working and, weather permitting, as many walks as possible would be laid, but some would have to wait over till spring.

J. H. Coburn, solicitor for the Lake Erie R. R., wrote asking if the Council were going to suit proceedings in the suit for the removal of the Colborne St. spur.

This brought Ald. G. G. Martin to his feet. He advised that the railway should get any information they

HOW BAD TIMES OCCUR.

A study of existing trade conditions in the United States appears to make fairly plain the cause of bad times. The formula is somewhat as follows: Given a period of business prosperity and its first result, a considerable amount of unproductive capital looking for investment. Then appears on the scene the financier. He takes hold of a legitimate industry paying good dividends and inflates its stock, disposing of the surplus so as to absorb any unproductive capital lying around loose. Then Labor concludes that a slice of the good things is about due and it puts up wages. Merchants put up prices of stable articles to absorb some of the wages of labor.

Stage second: The high-gear, broad-gauge trust magnate appears on the scene and merges the inflated industries, at the same time inflating the trust stock and cutting down operating expenses, alias sacking a few thousand wage-earners to save money to pay a few dividends on the over-inflation of stock. About this time the stock markets and bucket shops do a thriving trade with the unsophisticated public in juggling the hot air securities and succeed in accumulating a considerable further portion of the Unproductive Capital in the pockets of the kings of finance. Some of the late owners of Unproductive Capital shoot themselves, go into bankruptcy or to jail for embezzlement of more Unproductive Capital to square their losses.

Stage third: Complaints of undigested securities, slumps in the stock market, failure of gold brick trusts to pay dividends. Financial Geniuses proceed to whip-saw the trusts they created so that pretty soon there is a small new crop of multi-millionaires and a large crop of trusts suffering from financial dyspepsia as a result of undigested securities. By that time the Geniuses of Finance have a corner in Unproductive Capital, the industries are struggling to earn dividends on undigested securities, alias inflated stock.

Stage fourth: The trusts commence to bust. Individual industries fail, or dismiss wage-earners and reduce wages. Mercantile houses having stocks purchased at boom prices find they have to cut prices below a living profit and they begin to go into liquidation. Wage-earning competition becomes keen and wage rates are cut to a barely living margin, and those who live on the expenditure of wage-earners feel the pinch all along the line. Result: A few Financial Geniuses are multi-millionaires, unproductive capital has disappeared into their pockets via the stock market or watered stocks and the mass of the people are up against another purgatory of bad times.

GREAT WORK AT THE SAULT.

Toronto Mail.

The Ontario Government will have to ask the gentlemen who burn the ballots to get to work as speedily as possible. Here are some curious figures from the Sault, which seem to render imperative the early lighting of the furnaces:

1902.	1903.
Miscam.	Miscam.
Smith bell Smith bell.
Helen Mines	15 3 23 0
Wawa	26 23 38 5
Michipicoten	19 12 59 12

The peculiarity about these polling divisions is the circumstance that the population has been decreased owing to the closing of the mines subsidiary to the Sault industries. While the population has fallen off the voting strength has nearly doubled, and, strangely enough, the kind of voters who have increased are those who vote for Smith! The operators at the Sault did great work. In the distribution of offices they ought not to be forgotten.

JUST HIS LOOK

A young lad who is attending the Canada Business College here had rather an unpleasant experience on Queen street while going home late Friday evening.

The victim of the joke had been up town all evening with a number of friends. They all walked down Queen street together and when they came to the corner of Richmond and Queen they stopped to have a chat. They were all standing at the first young man thought it would be far more pleasant to sit down. He noticed a far barrel standing near so he made a hand spring and lit on top of it. Imagine his surprise when the barrel head gave way and he felt himself gradually doubling up and sinking into the soft tar.

It took his friends fully half an hour to extract him from his unpleasant position and as a result of the accident a Maple City tailor is about $24 richer to-day.

THE STRENUOUS LIFE

A Great Strain.

No one disputes the fact that we are living in a "rapid" age; it is rush, rush, rush from morning until night, and competition is so fierce that the struggle does not cease until the machine is worn out.

Women, too, even when surrounded by every comfort, become infected by the common spirit, and what with their clubs and many social duties, have no time to give thought to their physical well-being until they are suddenly brought to a sharp realization of the fact that nothing in their lives is so important as attention to correct or rational living.

It may surprise the reader to learn that women are more prone to piles than men, and in most cases because it is difficult to impress upon them the importance of regular movements of the bowels; irregularity means straining at stool, and straining means piles, with the certainty under the usual methods of treatment that the sufferer will "have them always with her;" by "usual methods" is meant the application of salves and lotions, or (as a last resort) a surgical operation.

If there is a complaint which entails more distress and suffering upon those afflicted than piles or hemorrhoids, it is not known to the writer; fortunately, however, these are learning that there is a remedy that effectually cures all forms of piles; it is known as the Pyramid Pile Cure, is in suppository form, is applied directly to the parts, and does its work quickly and painlessly; it is sold by druggists at fifty cents a package, or will be mailed by the makers to any address upon receipt of price.

Mrs. L. M. Joliff, Parisburg, Ohio, says: "I feel it my duty to acknowledge the great benefit I have received from the use of Pyramid Pile Cure. For several months I suffered untold agony from the bleeding piles, and was finally advised by a Columbus doctor to get Pyramid Pile Cure at once, which I did, and one box completely cured me. I advise all sufferers to use it." Write the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their little book on the causes and cure of piles.

ON THE RIVER

Sunday was an ideal day and yesterday was even better. Everybody who owned a horse or could hire one was out. Bicycles were brought into requisition and a few spent the day on the river. Two young men from the city paddled up the river as far as George Marshall's. At least they started to paddle. Above the C. P. R. bridge the electric vapor launch Winkie came along in charge of Captain E. Blake Arnold. The captain cheerfully offered a tow and the two lazy ones were only too glad to accept. As they lolled in the bottom of the canoe watching the landscape slipping past, they considered writing a book on paddling made easy. Along the either bank a couple of lazy hawks kept flying from tree to tree along the top of the boat. A coot, too, became a pilot for the boat and whenever the launch got too close the water fowl would fly for a couple of hundred yards or so, leaving a watery wake.

The launch sent word back, when near Jack Smith's place, that they were going no further. Orders were then given to cast the canoe adrift and the lazy ones paddled up stream a couple of bends to the sand bank opposite George Marshall's. Then the canoe was faced down stream and the two drifted idly in the trees while a solitary king fisher slipped across the river. A few red squirrels, an occasional blue jay and a distant crow relieved the stillness. The far off boats on Lake St. Clair could be heard occasionally tooting. Altogether the day was a perfect one and well till the sun had begun to descend did the canoeists feel the reality of life. The chill air had its effect and then the pair began to move their paddles in unison. Then the little craft shot forward, leaving scarcely a ripple. The canoe is the best of all small water boats. It obeys the will of the master mind and does exactly what its guide wills. Its motion is easy and pleasant.

If buying for cash is a factor towards good buying, if buying for seven stores instead of one is any advantage, if selling for cash only and making no losses or bad debts in selling, if a thorough knowledge of the best goods, best makers and best source of supply counts for anything, then this store is in front of the procession as sellers of fine furs at popular prices. Examine our stock, compare our prices, and remember fur buyers take no chances here. We stand squarely back of every garment we sell and have only one price, the same to everybody.

spent Sunday in town. Mrs. Johnson and sister, Miss Shaw, left to-day to visit friends in Windsor.

Anniversary services were held in the Baptist Church yesterday. Rev. Mr. Norton preached morning and evening, and Rev. Mr. Campbell, of Bothwell, conducted the afternoon service. Miss Rena Langford, of Kent Bridge, rendered a solo in the evening, which was highly appreciated by the congregation.

The young boys of the village were up to their usual pranks during Halloween.

Mrs. Tom Sims, Sr., returned home, after a lengthy visit with her daughter in Chicago.

DROVE AWAY BOTH DISEASES.

Geo. Robertson Cured His Kidneys by Using Dodd's Kidney Pills

And His Rheumatism and Dropsy Departed Never to Return—He Makes a Statement.

Montreal, Que., Nov. 2.—(Special).—The illness and cure of Mr. George Robertson, of 39 St. Antoine street, this city, is further and convincing proof that Rheumatism and Dropsy are both the results of Diseased Kidneys. Mr. Robertson had Dropsy and Rheumatism for five years. He cured his Kidneys by using Dodd's Kidney Pills and both diseases departed for good. Speaking of his case Mr. Robertson says:

"I had been troubled with Dropsy and Rheumatism for five years. I am now well and it is all owing to Dodd's Kidney Pills. Before I started using them I could hardly put my feet to the floor they were swollen so much from Dropsy. My arms used to swell at times so that I could not put my coat on."

"A friend advised me to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, offering to pay for them if they did not help me. Before I had used the second box I felt a great improvement. I took seven boxes in all and I don't know what it is to be sick since."

DRESDEN

Nov. 3.—Mr. M. Mahoney, one of Dresden's best known citizens, visited in Windsor last week, and while there suffered from a stroke of partial paralysis. His many friends will be pleased to learn that he is much better and was able to take the journey home yesterday, arriving last night.

Frank Miller has resigned his position in the Standard office and will enter the sugar factory to serve an apprenticeship in the lucrative work of sugar boiling.

The annual tea of the ladies of the Methodist church was held last night and was highly successful in every respect. The attendance was unusually large, and the entertainment given in the church after the tea meeting was alone worth the price of admission.

Frank Porter, of the Thamesville Herald, was a Dresden visitor on Sunday.

Henry McIntosh, of Chatham, spent yesterday in town.

The season's campaign at the sugar factory commenced in earnest this morning at seven o'clock, when the first beets were put through the slicer. The beets this year are a very good sample and test fairly high, so that the season's run promises to be a most successful one.

Sandy Burns will commence work at the sugar factory to-morrow morning.

The Misses Leak and Abbie Davies are once more able to get around after their recent attack of typhus fever.

Bert Smith arrived home from Detroit last night. He has secured a job in the sugar factory.

Mrs. Haybow and daughter Ida are the guests of Mrs. John Waffie.

Harold Hughes has given up his position with Wm. Budd & Co. and

MUSEUM AT STEPNEY

MUNICIPAL SCHOOL OF SCIENCE IN LONDON'S FAR EAST.

Only Institution of the Kind in the World's Metropolis—Maintained by the Borough Council—Specimens Stuffed and Mounted on the Premises—Object Lessons Are Given to Old and Young.

Science has established a flourishing outpost in London's Far East in the shape of a municipal museum where school classes pay visits, and object lessons are given to young and old alike. The Stepney museum is said to be the only institution of its kind in the metropolis, and it is maintained by the borough council. There is a good collection of natural history exhibits, particularly birds, many of the specimens having been stuffed and mounted on the premises. There are for example, herons, owls, sea birds, puffsins from Ireland and darters from Australia. Each group has its skeleton to show the structure. Entomologists find a large collection of moths, butterflies and beetles, and there is a nest of yellow field ants in perpetual motion under glass. The study of geology and mineralogy is encouraged by numerous examples of stone and metals from the bowels of the earth, such as would have delighted the eye of Hugh Miller, to say nothing of shells and corals from the "vast deep." An accurate knowledge of the different trees to be seen in London may be obtained from stands where the leaves and bark of the oak, elm, ash, sycamore, &c., are displayed and described, and a practical lesson in botany is furnished by a small collection of wild flowers and plants, which forms one of the latest additions to the museum. In connection with the institution the borough council has set up beehives in St.

INTERIOR OF THE MUSEUM.
George's recreation ground, where lessons in apiculture are given. Besides spears, arrows, and other savage weapons the museum contains some curious objects of antiquarian interest, chiefly associated with the ancient liberty of Norton Folgate. A dole or alms box of the year 1800 bears this quaint motto in old English: My son, be afraid not the poor of his alms, and turn not away thine eyes from him that hath need. Let us not thy hand be stretched out to relieve, and shut when thou shouldst give. There is a Welsh cradle in oak of the reign of James I., and an oak linen chest, date 1556, also from Wales, that recalls the legend of Ginevra. From a book kept at a museum it appears that classes from all the schools in the district visit the institution every week in batches of from 35 to 40 at a time. Lectures are given on Wednesdays, chiefly in natural history subjects, and are well attended. The museum, which is situated in Whitechapel High-street, is open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Saturdays, 3 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Sundays and bank holidays, and 12 mid-day till 10 p.m. during the week.

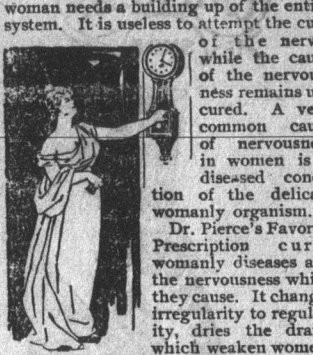

Japanese Brotherhood.
Strange associations are numerous in Japan. Among the most curious are the "Fall Together Society," the "Pauper Brotherhood," the "Society of Protesters," and the "Sea-weed Society," the members of the last community wearing nothing but the most tattered garments. More curious still is the "Society of Self-Annihilation," formerly, apparently, by discontented nobles infected by nihilistic doctrines. The members of this society are bound to possess no private capital, they must look to nothing but their own right arm to support and protect them, and they must be in session every day during the year, their object being to say what they please, eat and drink what they like, sleep when so disposed and concern themselves about nothing which does not affect themselves personally.

Privileged.
"Dear me," said the good looking female visitor to the superintendent of the lunatic asylum, "what a vicious look that woman has we just passed in the corridor! Is she dangerous?"
"Yes, at times," replied the superintendent evasively.
"But why do you allow her such freedom?"
"Can't help it."
"But isn't she an inmate and under your control?"
"No. She is not under my control. She's my wife."

Household Work in Norway.
Girls in Norway must know how to sew, knit and bake before their guardians will permit them to have beaux. Some of them are so eager to acquire these useful accomplishments that they are learned before they can read and write. In this country, in some families, household duties are shunned by girls; they are taught to polish the piano, to sing and chatter French. In many instances they marry fellows too poor to even hire pianos, and too ignorant to speak good English.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

A Few Simple Exercises For Developing Grace of Body—Good Ones for the Back and Legs.

The present ideal of beauty is the tall, graceful athletic girl. We cannot all be tall, at least not in this incarnation, but every girl and woman may become graceful. It is even claimed by physical culturists that a habitually maintained erect carriage and a steady "stretching up" of the body will in course of time add something to the height. Well, it may be so, but this much, at any rate, is certain—such a position, accompanied by habitual deep breathing, will surely prevent the unsightly slumping down of the body and the thickening about the waist that too often accompany the approach of middle age.

First determine that you will stand well. To know when you do this, test your position. Put your heels together and stand with your back against a wall, perfectly straight. One celebrated physical trainer says the whole back of the body, full length, from heels to head, should touch the wall when we stand correctly; that the properly carried human spine should be perfectly straight, without any of the hollowing which the fashionable corset attempts to accentuate. He declares that only by holding the spine perpendicular can the spinal cord be free from uneven pressure and thus send full stimulus to the great nerve trunks. At any rate, the more nearly you can make the back of your legs through their whole length, also your backbone through its whole length, touch that wall the better you stand.

Now for the front of the body. Stand upon one side of a room and approach with a long, free step to the opposite wall. Of course your toes will touch the opposite wall first as you come to it. But now notice concerning the rest of the body. Does your chest or your stomach touch first? If your stomach, then that is all wrong. In the properly developed person the chest stands out forward beyond the stomach and when you walk up to a wall will touch first every time.

The full, round, deep chest is one of the leading marks of beauty in a woman. If you find you have it not, then develop it by holding your chest up and by training yourself to habitual deep breathing. The shoulders themselves have not much to do with elevating the chest. Just draw your lungs upward, and the flabby, spongy muscles around and above the waist will follow.

The deep breathing habit itself will draw your chest upward. Stand erect and hold yourself up. The very

The Death of Some Poets.

The death of any one is affecting, but that of poets seems more so. Campbell, on his death-bed said to his niece, "Come let us sing praise to Christ!" and pointing to the bedside, he added, "Sit here." "Shall I pray for you?" she said. "Oh, yes," he replied, "let us pray for each other." The next day at a moment, when he appeared to be sleeping heavily, his lips suddenly moved, and he said, "We shall see—to-morrow," naming a long-departed friend; and on the next day he expired without a struggle.

Mrs. Browning died in Florence, in the house of the Casa Guidi Windows, and she sleeps in the English burial-ground within the walls of the city. So long a sufferer, her fatal illness was but a week's duration. The "beloved" sank to rest with her beloved ones around her. Her last words, as her eyes opened into the light, were, "It is beautiful."

During Wordsworth's last illness, his wife said to him very gently, "William, you are going to Dora," (a favorite daughter). He made no reply at the time, and the words seemed to have passed unheeded. More than twenty-four hours afterwards, as one of his nieces was drawing aside the curtain of his chamber, and then, as if awakening from a quiet sleep, he said, "Is that Dora?" then quietly breathed his last.

Just draw your lungs upward, and the flabby, spongy muscles around and above the waist will follow.

The deep breathing habit itself will draw your chest upward. Stand erect and hold yourself up. The very breathing itself lifts the chest, as you will notice. It is a good plan to take physical exercises standing in front of a mirror, so you can note the effect.

The erect carriage and constantly elevated chest give a carriage so noble that the woman who habituates herself to this attitude will be noticed and admired in a crowd wherever she passes. Strangers will involuntarily conclude she is "somebody." Pity indeed that the correct carriage is so rare among the sex that a woman who possesses it is instantly singled out wherever she goes.

There are some plain exercises that greatly strengthen and limber the muscles of the back, hips and legs and prevent the body from becoming unwieldy and hippopotamus-like. Here is one: Wearing very little clothing, and that entirely loose and unhampering, lie upon the floor flat upon the back, arms at the sides; then, without using hands or arms any more than if you had none, rise from the floor, first to a sitting posture, then upon your feet, straight up. Maybe you cannot do it at first, but practice will soon give power. Think what you would have to do if you were armless and act accordingly in this exercise. Another excellent practice is while lying upon the back on the floor to raise the legs in the air, first one, then the other, at right angles, gradually bringing your feet over toward your head. By and by you will actually be able to touch the floor above your head with your toes while you lie upon the back.

The exercises indicated in the illustration are for strengthening and making nimble the legs and back. They explain themselves, and there is nothing better for the purpose for which they are intended.

Geronimo and His Daughter.

Geronimo, the famous old Apache war chief, now a prisoner at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, has a daughter who is a pupil at the Mescalero Indian school, in New Mexico. Her name is Lenna Geronimo. She is 13 years old, and she is quite a handsome girl of the Indian type. To her one-time blood-thirsty father the girl is the apple of his eye.

All ten cars were crowded with a mixed set of people, old men with long flowing beards and locks were there, young maids and old maids, (majority of latter), men in khaki color, also of blue and gold, were there in numbers. Numerous trunks and books on Dowielism were received by those lucky enough to be at the G. T. station about ten o'clock this morning.

French Premier to Retire.

Paris, Nov. 2.—The Figaro this morning says it has reason to believe that Premier Combes has quite determined to retire from office, but, being unwilling to compromise the passage of the budget, he will not do so before the Christmas holidays unless compelled to do so by an adverse vote of the majority.

The Use of Gas Coke for Fuel

A great many people do not know the advantage of using gas coke as fuel in furnaces, ranges, coal stoves, or, in fact, in any apparatus that will use coal as fuel. The following letter will give the experience of one of Chatham's prominent business men, who has made a test of the value of Coke as compared with Coal. This letter will explain itself and will be followed by others of a similar nature from other customers. Coke will be delivered by the Gas Company in any quantity promptly. Let us have your order for a trial load.

Chatham, Oct. 31, 1903.
The Chatham Gas Company, Limited,
City.

Gentlemen,—I have much pleasure in testifying to the advantages of using Gas Coke as a heating fuel. I have used it for the past two seasons in my hot water furnace at the house, and find it very economical, and at the same time easy to regulate.

I may say that last winter I made a test of one ton of coal at $7.00 per ton and the same money's worth of coke, and found that the $7.00 worth of coke lasted fully one-third longer.
May say that the weather conditions were fully as severe, if not more so, during the time I used the coke.

Yours sincerely,

(Signed) C. AUSTIN.

WELCOMED HOME.

A. B. Aylesworth Reviews the Alaskan Case.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—Mr. A. B.
Aylesworth, K. C., on the occasion of his welcome back to Toronto by the Canadian Club last night may be said to have distinctly surprised his hosts. Almost every one of the three hundred and fifty diners who crowded the great banquet hall of the King Edward Hotel expected some word of protest, if not some criticism, of the Alaskan tribunal from the man who so ably, if ineffectually, presented Canada's case before it. Mr. Aylesworth, however, did not carry out expectations. His references to the commission which decided against him were of the kindest, and his comments on the finding the most pacific in tone.
He did not, however, retreat from his position that the decision of the tribunal upon the two great issues was not judicial. He plainly told his hearers that, having fought well and been beaten, it was their duty to acquiesce.
Beyond what he gave to The Globe correspondent, who met him in Boston on Sunday, Mr. Aylesworth threw no new light upon the facts concerning the conduct of the case and the decision. He did, however, give a dignified and clear resume of the issue, and declared his admiration for the integrity and ability of all those with whom he had been associated upon the commission.

In contrast somewhat was the eloquent but aggressively Canadian address of the President of the club, Mr.
D. Bruce Macdonald. The audience was appreciative of both, and Mr.
Aylesworth's reception was most demonstrative. The decorations were simple but significant, a huge Union Jack and a Canadian flag having behind the guest table. The tables were handsomely arranged with flowers, and the banquet itself was most successfully carried out.

Mr. Aylesworth and Judge Thomas Hodgins were the guests of the club, and sat respectively on the right and left of the President, D. Bruce Macdonald.

HON. MR. FOSTER'S VIEW.

Canada Heartily Favours the Chamberlain Policy.

London, Nov. 3.—Hon. Mr. Foster, who starts his speeches in favor of the Chamberlain proposals on Wednesday night, gave The Express a long interview upon Canada's attitude on tariff reform. He says that the Cob-denite belief casts an awful blur upon the people's mind. A country has just as much right to make defensive tariffs as to call armies into the field in time of war. That was the Canadian feeling where they were alongside a powerful and well-protected neighbor.
Canada had struggled as best she could, absolutely unassisted from a commercial point of view by the mother country. Canada heartily favored Mr. Chamberlain's scheme.

A Canadian Associated Press representative Mr. Foster said: "Since coming to England I find the need of protection stronger than I imagined.
England, bare-handed, is fighting the whole world, entrenched and armed with sabre and rifle. For the first time in the history of Great Britain she is thinking, and her veneration of Cobden staggers. Judging from the Liverpool meeting I believe the working class of England is with Chamberlain's policy."

The Express says Mr. Foster is quick, clear and direct of speech, and has all the qualities of a man of affairs.

SEPARATE FROM BRITAIN.

Reasons For This Course Will be Given by Mr. Louis F. Heyd.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—At last night's meeting of the Young Men's Liberal Club, Messrs. H. Dickenson and J. Montgomery were elected to the offices of President and Vice-President respectively. Mr. Dickinson's opponent was Mr. B. N. Davis. The former received 41 votes and the latter 13 votes.
Messrs. W. B. Rogers and Louis F. Heyd were the scrutineers. Mr. Heyd, in a few words, told the members that he proposed telling them on a future date
a few reasons why Canada should sever her connection with the British Empire and become an independent nation. Dr.
J. E. Elliott's notice of motion, "Resolved, That in the opinion of this club Canada should have greater power in dealing with foreign countries," will be discussed at the next meeting of the club, when the nominations will be received for the Executive Committee. Mr. James McLaughlin, the retiring President, was tendered a vote of thanks.

CLOTHING DEPT.

Do you Know as Much as You Ought Know About Austin Clothing?

Perhaps you don't know anything about it. Lots of men waste much money and wear unsatisfactory clothes because they don't.

Perhaps you were good clothing, but pay unnecessarily high prices. In either case a knowledge of AUSTIN'S CLOTHING will be profitable to you. We've been years improving clothing. This year's clothing is better than last year's; next year's clothing will be still better, but the clothing now in our stock is the best we know. After years of progressive effort and it is the best anybody knows.

We are intensely particular about fabrics. They must be the handsomest patterns the mills procure, and they must be of reliable quality.

Every suit has the utmost of workmanship in the making that its price can buy.
It would be a revelation to you if you could see as we frequently do the clothing of other stores ripped apart beside Austin Clothing.

It is the inside care and goodness that tells in the shapeliness and wear of Men's Clothing. We found that out many years ago.

We are Enthusiastic About Austin Clothing

Because we know just how many such details in it go to make it better than other ready-made and equal in many respects to custom-made clothing. The clothing will talk for itself if you'll come in and let it. Splendid varieties in every sort of clothes a man wants.

We Start November With a Special Men's Suit Sale Saturday, November 12th.

We place on sale an immense selection of men's suits in high class well tailored nobby effects, all the new things, worsteds, tweeds and serges, worth from $12.00 up to $15.00.

quired nine or ten stitches in the dressing. Mr. Lee's son was hurt soon afterwards by the same horse.
He was attempting to put on the harness and the horse jammed him against the side of the stall and dislocated his shoulder.

Choked Himself to Death.

Montreal, Nov. 2.—Joseph Duplessis, cigar-maker, 30 years of age, a patient in Notre Dame Hospital, who had been brought to that institution on Saturday night from his home at 413 Champlain street, suffering from delirium tremens, choked himself to death yesterday with one of the straps that had been used to secure him to the cot in the hospital, while the orderly who was attending to him was absent from the room.

Joke May Destroy His Sight.

Hamilton, Nov. 2.—John Fox, a laborer, employed at the county quarry near Ry-mal Station, got the loan of a pipe from a young man with whom he was working this morning, and when Fox began to smoke the pipe exploded, seriously injuring both eyes and burning his face.
The pipe had been primed with gunpowder, and Fox is likely to lose the sight of one eye, if not both eyes, as a result of the practical joke. He is now under Dr. Carr's care, who will try to save one of the eyes.

THE ATLAS LOAN.

Examination of Mr. A. E. Ames at Toronto Yesterday.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—For three hours yesterday Mr. A. E. Ames, the senior partner of A. E.
Ames & Co., was under examination before the Master-in-Ordinary in respect to the transactions between his firm and the Atlas Loan Co. The examination when the court adjourned had not been concluded, and it may last for a couple of days yet. Mr.
W. H. Hunter, the liquidator, the National Trust Company, conducted the examination, and Mr. Ames was represented by Mr. D. E. Thomson.
When the court opened Mr. A. E.
Ames was immediately called into the witness box and examined by Mr.
Hunter. Mr. Ames said that he was the senior partner of the firm of A.
E. Ames & Co., which had suspended payment on June 7 last. The suspension had been telephoned to the Atlas Loan Company, and was followed by the suspension of that firm.

Mr. Hunter read an explanation of
A. E. Ames & Co., in which it was stated that Ames & Co. held no shares in that company, but was carrying some stocks for them, and this, coupled with the fact that Mr. Wallace of Ames & Co. was President of the Atlas Loan, led to apprehension and the suspension of the Atlas.

Mr. Ames explained that he was carrying these stocks for the Atlas Loan on speculation. There were a number of securities which were afterwards included in the Atlas account which were not admitted till Mr. Wallace had signed a document relinquishing any claim against the assets of Ames & Company. At this time Ames & Company were carrying nearly $300, 000 of securities for the Atlas Loan or a totally inadequate margin.

"You had some knowledge of the financial condition of the Atlas Loan?"
"Yes, a little."

"You knew that that paid-up capital was $300,000?"
"Yes."

Mr. Hunter pointed out that the liquidators found, looking over the accounts between Ames & Co. and the Atlas, that the Atlas Loan had paid to Ames & Co. $55,819.62 more than the latter had put out for the Atlas Loan. There were also $100,- 000.38 interest charges against the Atlas Loan. The dividends received by Ames & Co. in respect to the Atlas securities was $94,301.05, so that the loss to the Atlas represented by dividends received and interest credited would be $14,797.33.

Mr. Hunter went over a list of securities that had been handed in to Ames & Co. by the Atlas Loan as additional security for margins on different dates. These included 34 Toronto General Trust, 25 Dominion Steel preferred, 200 Metropolitan Bank non-fully paid up on one occasion, 349 2-3 Ontario Bank, 124
Imperial Bank, 400 Metropolitan Bank, 75 per cent. paid, 100 Metropolitan Bank, 50 per cent. paid, 100
National Trust, 16 National Trust,
1 British America, 900 Western Assurance, 40 Canadian General Electric. These transfers were made on the accounts of the Atlas Loan and A. E. Wallace account, and ran on from March, 1902 to January 5, 1903.

Of these stocks the 34 Toronto General Trust and 25 Dominion Iron & Steel were handed in for sale instead of margin.

"What is done with stock handled in that way?"
"It is either held or pledged or partially held and partially pledged."

"As to these shares?"
"In effect I think they were all pledged."

"These stocks are a loss to the Atlas Loan?"
"They are gone."

"The Atlas Loan had certain free securities, they turned them over to Ames & Company, and the latter pledged them. They are then lost?"
"Not necessarily. They are sold."

"Taking these securities at the market price at which they were handed in, I find they were valued at $251,627?"
"I have no means of verifying that or disproving it."

The liquidator finds that these free securities were handed over to Ames & Company and not returned.
"They would have been any time that the indebtedness of the Atlas Loan was paid."

WILL PUBLISH FULL REPORT

desired from the city's solicitor. If Mr. Coursons would agree to remove the spur in a reasonable time, he would consent to all litigation being dropped.

Ald. Peggott said that he understood that the agreement with the railway provided for the dropping of all litigation. He did not desire to see the city incur any further expense in the matter. If the city asked for the removal of the spur, he was sure the railway would do it.

Ald. Martin said it was evident the city wanted the spur removed. He pledged his word that the suit would not cost the city a cent, and if it did Ald. Martin pledged his word that he would pay it. The railway hadn't a five cent interest in the spur. They had played a smart trick on the Council by removing the spur from the centre of the street.

Ald. Edmondson said that the Council had been unanimous for the removal of the spur.

Ald. Marshall suggested that the suit be left in abeyance until he had conferred with the manager of the road.

Ald. Taylor said that two weeks was long enough to wait. There was not room for two wagons to pass on either side of the street.

Ald. Marshall said that 30 days was not long and he would know at the next meeting of the Council.

Ald. Marshall moved that the matter of the removal of the spur be left in abeyance for 30 days and the solicitor be instructed to incur no further costs. In the meantime the mover agreed to communicate with the railway and report to the Council at the next meeting. The motion carried.

Ald. Mounteer said that it was understood that the Lake Erie R. R. should be notified that the Council are determined that the spur must be removed.

A petition was received for an asphalt block pavement on St. Clair street from Head street to Cornhill street. The petition was signed by W. H. Harper, Fred Deloge, Jas. Paul and others. There were enough signatures to enable the initiative to be taken.

Ald. Edmondson moved, seconded by Ald. Taylor, that the initiative be taken for an asphalt block pavement from St. Clair street to Cornhill St.
Carried.

Ald. Mounteer stated that there were various rumors in connection with the Dominion Paving Co. In fairness to the company Ald. Mount-teer stated, as already reported in The Planet that the men had been laid off by the company owing to the illness of their superintendent. They were also tied up for stone. Two carloads, however, had arrived. The first consignment of bricks had also arrived yesterday.

Ald. Marshall had the by-law ratifying the agreement with the Bell Telephone Co., but at the request of the Mayor he held it to give an opportunity of getting the city collector's opinion on it.

A local improvement by-law and a
by-law to extend the time for sale
of land for non-payment of taxes were passed.

Ald. Mounteer stated that while the street was torn up at the corner of Cross street and Queen street, he had asked the Library Board to keep their light burning. He had agreed to see that the Council paid for the extra time the lamp was lighted.

Ald. McCoy said that this was a dark corner and ladies were afraid.
An arrangement that the Property committee could make for lighting this corner would be appreciated.
The matter was left with the Property committee to arrange with the Library Board.

Ald. Marshall presented the city's share of the Administration of Justice for the past quarter, $349.63.
The city's share of the Harrison Hall account, $71.02, was also presented.

Both accounts were referred to the Finance committee.

The account of the Banner, $39.94,

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills CURED.

Read what Miss L. L. Hanson, Waterville, N.B., says: "I feel it my duty to express the benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. A year ago last spring I began to have heart failure. At first I would have to stop working and lie down for a while. Then I got so bad I had to give up altogether and go to bed. I had several doctors attend me but they did me no good. I could get no relief until urged by a friend to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Before I had used three quarters of a box I began to feel the benefit and by the time I had taken three boxes I was completely cured."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure nervousness, sleeplessness, palpitation of the heart, skip beats, and all troubles arising from the heart or nerves. Price 50 cts. box, or 3 for $1.25, all dealers, or Kerosene Emulsion Kills Mites.

Many chicken growers know what a nuisance the chicken mite is, and they will find the following by J. J. Repp of Iowa, interesting:

The mites live and breed in fissures about buildings and feed upon the fowls when they go upon the nest or perch.

Mites may be introduced into a flock by a fowl or other bearer brought from infected premises. Mites may be exterminated by thoroughly spraying the building and its contents with kerosene emulsion.

Kerosene emulsion kills not only the mites, but also their eggs, when it comes into contact with them.

Freight Cost in Britain.

The cost of hauling freight per ton per mile on the London North Western Railway, England's most important line, expressed in cents, is 1.49. On the Pennsylvania railway the cost is .404 of a cent and on the New York Central .416 of a cent. This is true, although the wages of English trainmen are but half the American. An eminent expert attributes the greater cost to the rigidity of the four wheeler English freight wagons, which, he says, are "track murderers and power absorbers."

Coolie Power Car Line.

A curious street car line is that between Atami and Yoshioka, two coast towns in the province of Izie, Japan. The line is seven miles long, the rolling-stock consists of a single car, and the motive power is furnished by a couple of muscular coolies, who push the car along wherever power is necessary.

Another club woman, Mrs. Haule, of Edgerton, Wis., tells how she was cured of irregularities and uterine trouble, terrible pains and backache, by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—A while ago my health began to fail because of female troubles. The doctor did not help me. I remembered that my mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on many occasions for irregularities and uterine troubles, and I felt sure that it could not harm me at any rate to give it a trial.

"I was certainly glad to find that within a week I felt much better, the terrible pains in the back and side were beginning to cease, and at the time of menstruation I did not have nearly as serious a time as heretofore, so I continued its use for two months, and at the end of that time I was like a new woman. I really have never felt better in my life, have not had a sick headache since, and weigh 30 pounds more than I ever did, so I unhesitatingly recommend your medicine."—Mrs. MAY HAULE, Edgerton, Wis. TRAINED FOR FIGHT

LEADERS OF THE OPPOSING FORCES IN MACEDONIA.

Now Boris Sarafoff Came by His Hatred of the Turk—something of a Fanatic and Desperado, He Is a Romantic Figure—Rise of Edhem Pasha, Once a Slave, to Command of the Sultan's Army.

The uprising of the Macedonians against Turkish rule and its disastrous results to the Christians have drawn the attention of the civilized world to the unhappy section of Europe ruled by the Sultan and awakened interest in the opposing forces in that blood drenched land.

Boris Sarafoff, chief of the Macedonian revolutionary league, has been variously described as an unprincipled ruffian and a patriot with the highest motives. He is but a little over thirty years of age, but his power in Bulgaria and Macedonia is so great that he has set the whole Balkan peninsula aflame. He has something of the fanatic and something of the desperado about him, but without is one of the most romantic figures in Europe.

His parents were Bulgarian Christians, and his ancestors, who had lived in the little Turkish village in which he was born for more than 200 years, had always been leaders in uprisings against the tyranny of the Turks. While still an infant he was taught to hate the oppressors of his people, and as a boy he began to train himself for his self imposed task of heading a rebellion which in his youthful enthusiasm he believed would be the means of overthrowing Turkish power and of driving the Turk out of Europe.

He studied at the military academy at Sofia and before accepting a commission in the Bulgarian army served six months in the ranks in order to become familiar with the life and duties of a common soldier. He was an officer for a couple of years and then threw himself exclusively into the advancement of the Macedonian cause. Sarafoff organized the Macedonian league, which has figured so largely in all the Balkan troubles of the last few years and which is responsible for the recent outbreaks. This league is a union of many local committees under the direction of an executive at Sofia, Bulgaria.

Each district committee has a staff of voluntary secret agents, and to these agents is entrusted the task of securing the sinews of war. By various methods the Macedonians have secured arms and equipments for a force said to number 15,000 men. They have collected large stores of provisions in the mountains and claim to be prepared for a prolonged campaign.

But the Macedonians have a terrible foe to reckon with in Edhem Pasha, commander of the Turkish troops in the revolting province. Edhem Pasha has an interesting history. He is not only of Greek origin, but also of Christian parentage, though now he is an enthusiastic and fanatical Mohammedan and a loyal subject of the Sultan. The rise of

MARSHAL EDHEM PASHA.

Edhem Pasha in the service of the Sultan has been remarkable. He was purchased as a slave in his boyhood and sent by his master to the School of Mines in Paris. Returning to Constantinople, he was placed on the general staff and rapidly rose to power. In 1877 he became Grand Vizier and later was minister to Austria.

He fought with brilliancy at Plevna in the Russian war and drove the Greeks out of Thessaly during the Greco-Turkish war. This is the man with whom Sarafoff and his Macedonians must reckon. He is a veteran of many campaigns and is skilled in mountain warfare. Pitted against his Mussulman hordes the little Christian army of Sarafoff seems destined to defeat if not extinction.

Every time some men make a move they are accused of trying to avoid paying rent.

Royal Academy Tragedies.

Buried in the cellars of Burlington House, London, are many pictures—one or two of them huge canvases—that were left undisturbed for years. But when, as a result of almost unprovoked activity on the part of the governing body, inquiry was made as to these derelict works of art, many tragedies were revealed.

In the case of two of the pictures—"never claimed and sent down to the cellars," as the printed record goes—the artists who had sent them to the Academy had walked out of London lodgings and had never been seen or heard of again. In two or more cases the artists—a painter and a sculptor, respectively—had committed suicide between the sending in of the works and the hanging of the same. In a great number of cases the pictures in the cellars bear no trace of the real name and address of the painter. Their creators have sent them in anonymously, and then, finding that the works were not hung, have never claimed them.

The King's Kind Heart.

An interesting story revealing a splendid trait in King Edward's character is attached to a silver inkstand which was long in daily use at Marlborough House, and is now at Buckingham Palace. When Prince of Wales, King Edward one day watched a blind man and his dog vainly trying to cross the road, in the most congested part of Pall Mall. Placing his hand on the man's shoulder the Prince himself conducted the man safely across. A few days later a beautiful silver inkstand arrived at Marlborough House with this inscription. "To the Prince of Wales from one who saw him conduct a blind beggar across the street—in memory of a kind and Christian action." The donor is still unknown.

of Kent, Farmer, deceased.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Revised Statutes of Ontario, Chapter 129, that all creditors others having claims against the estate of the said John Josiah Wal-rath who died on or about the tenth day of October, 1903, are requested on 1903, to send by post prepaid or deliver to W. F. Smith, of the City of Chatham, Solicitor for the Executors of the last Will and Testament and Codicil thereto of the said deceased, their Christian and surnames, addresses and descriptions, the full particulars of their claims, the statements of their accounts and the nature of the securities, if any, held by them.

And further, that notice, that after such last mentioned date the said Executors will proceed to distribute the assets of the deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which they shall then have notice, and that the said Executors will not be liable for said assets or any part thereof any person or persons of whose claims notice shall not have been received by them at the time of such distribution.

Dated at Chatham this 28th day of October, 1903.

Robert Burns.

Robert Burns has often been cited as an instance of unrequited genius. He lived as best he could on a small salary from the excise and died without any solid share of the fame which afterward spread throughout the world.

Persian Newspapers.

Persian newspapers are not printed from type. When the reading matter is ready it is passed to a scribe, who makes a clean copy. From this a beautifully written, fine copy is made by a handwriting expert, and this is finally reproduced by lithography.

Clock Divisions.

We have sixty divisions on the dial of our clocks and watches because the old Greek astronomer Hipparchus, who lived in the second century before Christ, used the Babylonian system of dividing time, and that system was sexagesimal.

Free medical advice.

Men and women suffering from chronic diseases are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., by letter, absolutely without fee or charge. For more than thirty years as chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., Dr.
Pierce has devoted himself to the treatment and cure of chronic forms of disease. Assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, each man a specialist, his success has been phenomenal, ninety-eight persons in every hundred treated being absolutely and altogether cured. Women have especially availed themselves of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter, thereby avoiding the unpleasant examinations, and tedious local treatments considered necessary by some practitioners. Over half a million women have been treated by Dr.
Pierce and his staff for diseases peculiar to women, with unvarying success. Write without fear as without fee. Every letter is treated as strictly private and confidential, and all answers are sent in plain envelopes, bearing no printing upon them. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo,

IN 44 HOURS.

His Robert Bond's Calculated Passage
From Old World to New.

The actual time involved in a journey between New York and London, or vice versa, is best proved by the statement of the time occupied in forwarding the mail, which is subject to no delay, writes Sir Robert Bond, President of Newfoundland. The United States postoffice department issued a statement last year showing the average time which actually elapsed between the mails leaving New York postoffice and reaching the London postoffice, as follows:

Ship.	Line.	Mails	Hours to
Lucania.....	Cunard.....	Landed. Queenston	London ..157.
Teutonic.....	White Star ..	Queenston	..170.
Bismarck.....	Hamburg- American.	Southampton.	170.
New York.....	American.....	Queenston	..172.
Havre.....	North American.	Southampton.	184.

Few will fail to notice, then, that under the most favorable circumstances it requires six days twelve hours to make the journey from New York to London.

By way of Newfoundland it could be made in five days four hours, or a saving of thirty-two hours in all over the present actual running time, with only about seventy-two hours of ocean travel—viz., sixty-seven and one-half hours between the British Isles and Newfoundland, distance 1, 650 miles, and two and one-half hours between Port aux Basques in Newfoundland, and Assey, in North Sydney, distance sixty-five miles.
The time occupied in making the ocean trip is calculated on the Deutschland's best record, attained last year, of 588 miles in twenty-four hours, or twenty-four and one-half miles an hour. If turbine ships could be put on the service with a mean speed of thirty-six miles an hour the time of coming from the British Isles to Newfoundland would be forty-four hours.

A London despatch recently published a sketch that the Southeastern and London, Chatham and Dover Railway Company had ordered for delivery next season a twenty-five knot turbine steamer, 300 by 40 feet, to cover the passage between England and France in forty-five minutes. If successful, it is expected the turbine system will be extended to Atlantic traffic.

It is within the bounds of possibility, then, by the application of the turbine system to bridge the Atlantic via Newfoundland so as to bring the old world and the new within forty-four hours, or less than two days' journey, of each other, or,
by placing on the route such a steamer as the Deutschland, to reduce the journey to sixty-seven and one-half hours.

I have the fullest confidence in the project I have just outlined, and I also believe that if the British shipping men do not avail themselves of this route our farseeing and enterprising American neighbors will do so.

According to Cocker.

Edward Cocker, who lived in the reign of Charles II., is chiefly known to the present generation by the common colloquialism, "According to Cocker," which means in accordance with arithmetical rules. I saw the other day amid the treasures of a private collector a copy of the first edition of Cocker's immortal work on arithmetic, published by "T.
Passenger at the Three Bibles on London Bridge." Only two, or at least three, perfect copies are known to the book collector. One is in the British Museum. This particular copy, its brown morocco pitifully faded, bears on its title page the inscription "Cocker's Arithmetick, perused and published by John Hawkins by the Author's correct copy." It contains what purports to be a portrait of "ingenious Cocker." Experts, however, shake their heads over the authenticity of this work of art. There are many engraved portraits of the epoch, but there was only one Cocker. The British Museum copy has no portrait, and there is too much reason to fear that this embellishment was added by some ingenious owner. Cocker died in 1675.—Liverpool Daily Post.

Impressions While Drowning.

Most of us, I expect, at some time or other, have wondered what it feels like to be drowned. If we have never seen any one drowning, we mean by this that we wonder whether it is at all like what it is represented to be—whether one's whole past life passes before one's eyes like a dream; whether one spends one's last few moments in wishing one had spent more profitably the last few years. If we have seen people drowning, we wonder whether it feels as bad as it looks. Now, I cannot pretend to have been nearly drowned.
Nor can I say what it feels like to sink after a prolonged struggle, in calm water within sight of land. But I can say what it feels like to be quite convinced that one is going to be drowned, and I am happy to know, from personal experience, that the feeling is one merely of disappointment. One is simply annoyed—certainly not angry; certainly not afraid.—Hubert Walter, in Black wood's.

Australia and the Navy.

The Commonwealth Senate at Melbourne on Tuesday passed the Naval Agreement Bill. The agreement, which is based on the conclusions arrived at by the Premiers' Conference in London, is for a Colonial contribution of £200,000 annually for 10 years, and is terminable at two years' notice after the eighth year.
The naval force on the Australian station is to consist of one first, two second, and four third-class cruisers, and four sloops. A branch of the Royal Naval Reserve will be formed in Australia, consisting of 25 officers, 700 men, and four of the ships mentioned above (the other ships being kept in commission), to be manned by 1,600 Australians and New Zealanders, to be paid at Australian rates. The Bill had already passed the House of Representatives.

Though apparently sudden and frequently unexpected, nervous prostration or exhaustion is in reality months in developing, and can always be prevented by one who is keen in detecting the symptoms.

Nervous Prostration

The one feature of nervous prostration which is universal and unmistakable is the indisposition on the part of the patient to attend to the duties of the day. All energy, all ambition seems to be gone and you are unable to throw off the feelings of fatigue and depression.

You are nervous and irritable, cannot rest or sleep, are sensitive to noise and light, suffer from headache and indigestion, find your memory failing and cannot concentrate your mind, are troubled by weaknesses and irregularities of the vital organs, and live in constant dread of paralysis, locomotor ataxia or insanity.

Nervous diseases do not get well of themselves, and hence the necessity of using some such preparation as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to enrich the blood and revitalize the wasted nerve cells.

Opiates may bring temporary relief and stimulants whip the tired nerves to over-exertion, but to make thorough and lasting cures there is no medicine comparable to this great discovery of Dr. Chase.

The extraordinary restorative power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is well illustrated in the case of Mrs. Myles, which is recorded below. Gradually and naturally it forms new tissues and builds up the system until health, strength and vigor replace weakness and disease. You can test this great food cure by noting your increase in weight while using it.

I had a very severe attack of sore throat and tightness in the chest. Some times when I wanted to cough and could not I would almost choke to death. My wife got me a bottle of DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP, and to my surprise I found speedy relief. I would not be without it if it cost $1.00 a bot-

LETTER BOX

SURGICAL ADVERTISING.

Editor Planet:

Dear Sir,—Some time ago I addressed a request to you to refrain from publishing my name or the names of my patients in connection with surgical operations and since that time you have kindly acceded to my wishes in this respect. In last Saturday's issue of The Planet a paragraph was inserted stating that Dr. Stevenson, of Ridgeway, was in the city assisting Dr. Rutherford and Rutherford in a serious operation on Mrs. Barton, of Ridgeway, when the operation was very successful and that she would soon be restored to health. I have waited for another issue expecting that Dr. R. & R. would correct this false statement but they have not done so. So long as Dr. R. & R. think it proper to advertise the illa and misfortunes of their patients, and so long as their patients are willing to submit to such gross violation of confidence, I shall not complain, but when such liberty is taken with the names of my patients I feel it my duty to Mr. Barton and to others who employ me to ask these doctors to confine their advertisements to their own patients.

Absolutely Pure. THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

RIOT AT NIAGARA FALLS.

MEN DRIVEN FROM WORK WITH SHOWERS OF STONES.

Eight Hundred Idle—Militia Called Out Last Night—The Local Police Force Unable to do More Than Look on—One Man Stabbed.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 3.—One of the most serious events in the history of this place is the strike which began on the Electric Power Development Works. About eight hundred men are out, and are likely to stay out some time. Several collisions between strikers and working men, amounting almost to riots, have occurred. The police are helpless in the face of such numbers.

The strike is the result of a reduction in wages by the contractors of from twenty-five to fifty cents a day. The decrease affects the laborers only. The firms interested include the Ontario Power Company, M. P. Davis, Braas & Bros., Gordon Construction, Dawson & Riley, Niagara Construction Company, Barry & McMorde, Jenks Machine Company, and other concerns. Notice of reduction of pay was posted by several of the companies on Saturday.

The men refused to work, but remained near the works, and were joined by others from the Niagara Construction and the Ontario Power Company, and the whole mob marched down upon the works, forcing all the laborers to join them. Dawson & Riley's men had worked in the morning without trouble, and the object of the strikers was now to drive them out. Foremen and others who tried to stop the mob were brushed aside, and the strikers began to shower stones down into the wheel pit. The men below sought shelter in the buildings, and many had to climb out in the face of a pitiless hail of missiles. Drifters, laborers, masons and all had to quit. Many were bruised by the stones, but none were seriously injured.

The mob then returned to the works of the Ontario and Toronto companies at Dufferin Islands. William Young, son of the late Chief of Ontario Police, foreman of the Ontario Power Company, tried to turn them back, but was beaten and forced to run for his life. By this time the strikers were joined by laborers from Braas Bros, contractors at the Canadian Niagara Transformer House, who had been summoned by messenger. The mob remained at Dufferin Islands till noon. At that time it marched down again, stoned the steam shovel and forced the men to abandon it, and drove more men from Dawson & Riley's and the Douglas works.

From early morning the park and frontier police followed the mob everywhere, ready to take anyone in danger of life but utterly powerless to check the movements of the strikers. Many of the strikers carried revolvers, and nearly all had knives and clubs. The main body were Italians, Poles and Hungarians. Very few know any English. Any attempt to arrest the strikers was met with a shower of stones. Young would have resulted in the annihilation of the little police force. The men were very good-natured, but stern in forcing all men to quit work, and to this is due the lack of more serious trouble.

At 9 o'clock a requisition, signed by Detective Depew of Stamford township, and John Robinson and Alex. Gray, Justices of the Peace, was presented to Colonel Cruikshank, commanding the 4th Regiment, to furnish troops to prevent disorder. Captain Coulson of No. 1 Company is collecting men, and will march a force to the works in a few hours. Some companies will pay off their men to-morrow, and trouble is expected then if not before. Manager Symmes of the Niagara Construction Company and Colonel Cruikshank drove through the park after dark. Three men sprang from the bushes and shook their fists, but on being spoken to hid in the bushes again. The whole district is picketed by strikers to prevent men getting to the works. Foreigners are displaying shotguns and other arms, and downtown stores are sold out of revolver ammunition.

Last evening at the village of Niagara Falls South, a drunken Italian striker stabbed a young man named Jas. Hamilton in the face, inflicting an ugly cut. A grave feature of the strike is the fact that every revolver and all small ammunition and knives have been purchased in every store in town today by apparent strangers.

No. 1 Company, 44th Regiment, 40 officers and men, under the command of Captain Coulson, White and Lieut. Harriman, are leaving at 1 a.m. to go on duty at the works.

Frank E. Leblond, timekeeper for the Ontario Power Company, was roughly knocked down with a club. Louis Schmidt, the assistant superintendent on the Ontario Power Construction, was mixed up in a lively melee. Several other men were stoned and clubbed from their posts. During the rioting at Dawson & Riley's wheel pit, where the men in the pit were pelted with sticks and stones, and many were the miraculous escapes from death by the shower of rocks that went down on the men in the pit. At Barry & McMorde's and Battle's cribwork contracts and M. F. Davis' works on the Toronto & Niagara Power Company, similar attacks were made.

Up at the head of the Ontario Power Works the carpenters were driven from their jobs by the foreigners and then the mob gathering strength at every stop, advanced down through the park, calling the men from work as they passed each group of laborers still holding onto their jobs.

A TEST EXPERIMENT.

Peculiar Power Possessed by a New Medicine

Of new discoveries there is no end, but one of the most recent, most remarkable and one which will prove invaluable to thousands of people, is a discovery which it is believed will take the place of all other remedies for the cure of those common and obstinate diseases, dyspepsia and stomach troubles. This discovery is not a loudly advertised, secret patent medicine, but is a scientific combination of wholesome, perfectly harmless vegetable essences, fruit salts, pure pepsin and bismuth.

These remedies are combined in a unique form, pleasant to take, and will preserve their good qualities indefinitely, whereas all liquid medicines rapidly lose whatever good qualities they may have had as soon as uncorked and exposed to the air. This preparation is called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and it is claimed that one of these Tablets dissolved in water will digest from 300 to 800 times its own weight of meat, eggs and other wholesome food. And this claim has been proven by actual experiments in the following manner:

A hard boiled egg cut into small pieces was placed in a bottle containing warm water heated to ninety-eight degrees (or blood heat); one of these Tablets was then placed in the bottle and the proper temperature maintained for three hours and a half, at the end of which time the egg was as completely digested as it would have been in a healthy stomach. This experiment was undertaken to demonstrate that what it would do in the bottle it would also do in the stomach, hence its unquestionable value in the cure of dyspepsia and weak digestion.

Very few people are free from some form of indigestion but scarcely two will have the same symptoms. Some will suffer most from distress after eating bloating from gas in the stomach and bowels, others have acid dyspepsia or heartburn, others palpitation or headaches, sleeplessness, pains in chest and under shoulder blades, extreme nervousness as in nervous dyspepsia, but they all have the same cause, failure to properly digest what is eaten. The stomach must have rest and assistance, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give it both, by digesting the food for it and in a short time it is restored to its normal action and vigor. At the same time the Tablets are so harmless that a child can take them with benefit. This new preparation has already made many astonishing cures, as for instance, the following:

After using only one package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets I have received such great and unexpected benefit that I wish to express my sincere gratitude. In fact, it has been six months since I took the package and I have not had one particle of distress or difficulty since. And all this on the face of the fact that the best doctors I consulted told me my case was Chronic Dyspepsia and absolutely incurable as I had suffered twenty-five years. I distributed half a dozen packages among my friends here who are very anxious to try this remedy.

Mrs. Sarah A. Skeel, Lynville, Jasper Co., Mo. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents for full sized packages. A little book on Stomach Diseases mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

OVERCOAT STYLE...

We are so proud of our New Overcoats that we fear, lest in trying to describe them, we be considered somewhat extravagant in our statements.

In the first place as we make and design our own overcoats, the styles and most of the materials are exclusive.

They are all cut carefully by hand, made in our own workrooms and personally inspected before being placed on sale.

"Almost like getting an overcoat to order," you say. We know of no nearer way except getting it to order.

We follow the fashions as closely as the high class merchant tailor, sometimes get ahead of him. Why shouldn't we? We have every facility he has and many that he hasn't.

One point that we certainly lead him in is the price.

Judge of the style for yourself.
